"Law is even more basic than a written constitution, which after all can be no more than a heroic endeavor to set forth these underlying values and principles in an enduring codification."

VICTIM REMOVED — A policeman and rescue workers remove an unidentified victim, still strapped to his seat, from Boston Harbor after an Eastern Airlines Electra prop jet crashed into the water on takeoff from Boston. Of the 72 persons aboard, 61 have been listed as dead or missing. Officials say it was one of the worst crashes in commercial aviation history in America.

Great Debate' Series To Be Less Austere

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Network officials today promised a "more comfortable and less austere" setting for Friday's nation-wide television debate between Sen. John Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Preparations for the second meeting of the two presidential candidates, which will be held in NBC's studios here, have taken into account criticisms and suggestions growing out of their Chicago appearance Sept. 26.

Then the two men sat in chairs on a makeshift set backed up by a simulated brick wall. For Friday's debate, there have been changes, mainly designed to make the setting more comfortable.

Clues Sought In Crash Of Jet Airliner

BOSTON (UPI)—Efforts to raise three engines which may reveal the cause of an Eastern Airlines crash that killed 81 persons Tuesday night were made today. Officials regarded the engines as the most important pieces of evidence in the light of a theory that a huge flock of starlings may have caused the tragedy.

Final arrangements on what it will look like were to be worked out today between NBC officials and representatives of the two candidates.

Friday's show, which will be televised from the WRC-NBC studios in Washington starting at 7:30 p.m. EDT, will follow the same general lines of the first debate. Four reporters will ask questions.

Elwood R. Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, said all evidence so far indicated the startings-ehoked-gines and caused a "flame out" at sent-the silver airliner plunging into Boston harbor. Eleven persons survived the accident. Six of them are hospitalized in critical condition. All but three of the dead have been identified.

The four are Alvin Spivak, United Press International; Hal Levy, Newsday; Edward P. Morgan, ABC, and Paul Niven, CBS.

Like the Chicago show, the cameras will switch occasionally from the speaker for a reaction shot of his opponent. Unlike the Chicago show, there will be front shots of the panelists to show their faces.

Spy In Sky' Promised After Success Of Courier

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force promised today to follow the successful Courier memory satellite with the launching of the "meddler future" of a Samos spy in the sky.

Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, Air Force ballistic missile chief, said at a hearing-unforeseen difficulties a Samos satellite would be sent soon from Point Arguello, Calif.

The satellite Wednesday recorded from one earth station the text of the U.S. Constitution and then radioed it back to the ground. Sending at the rate of 350,000 words a minute, Courier took less than two seconds to transmit the 10,000-word document.

U.N. Takes Up Question Of Admitting Red China

U.S. Had Fought To Postpone Discussion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—General Assembly President Frederick H. Boland today called up the question of United Nations membership for Communist China for discussion at the afternoon U.N. session.

East and West have clashed bitterly on the subject and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev threatened at one point to lead the Communist bloc out of the United Nations if Red China is not seated.

The United States has led the fight to postpone discussion on the seating of Red China for another year and was expected to win again by an ever-narrowing majority. It has blocked consideration of the question in previous years.

A reshuffling of the speakers' list in the annual policy debate left room for consideration of the China representation question today.

Russia's demand to oust the Chinese Nationalists and give the seat to Peiping was to have been considered at Wednesday night's session but a parliamentary wrangle caused a postponement.

In a session lasting until after midnight the leaders of five neutral nations withdrew their resolution calling for an immediate meeting between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

It was a victory of sorts for the United States which sent Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to oppose the idea of a meeting between the two men who might be "here today and gone tomorrow."

But the neutralists led by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru went down fighting and they had more than a measure of support from the new African nation members.

The wrangling got so intense (See QUESTION, Page 4)

New Officers Nominated By Chamber

E. Roy Smith, vice president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, has been nominated for the presidency of the organization. E. O. Wedgworth, chamber manager, said today.

The nominating committee also recommended Gordon Lyons, district supervisor of Southwestern Public Service Co. for the vice presidency, and Lucian Young, manager of White Stores Inc., for the financial director's post.

Installation of the new panel of officers will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Coronado Inn. Charley Young, manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, will conduct the installation rites.

New officers already named to their posts are: Advisory Board: Floyd Watson, Aubrey Steele, E. L. Henderson, Jack Edmondson and Arthur Teed. Returning members are Jaka Osborne, Ray Duncan, H. O. Darby and C. R. Hoover.

Retiring advisory board members are Bob Clements, Cameron Marsh and Joe Tooley.

Yankees Swamp Pittsburgh, 16-3

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Mickey Mantle hit two home runs and the New York Yankees exploded with seven runs in the sixth inning today to crush the Pittsburgh Pirates, 16-3, in one of the most one-sided games in World Series history.

The triumph evened the 1960 series at one victory for each team. The classic now shifts to New York with the Yankees favored to win.

Today's 13-run victory margin was just one short of equalling the most lopsided score in series annals. The worst trouncing was the Yankees' 18-4 victory over the New York Giants in the second game of the 1936 classic.

Mantle's homers brought his series total to 13, only two short of the immortal Babe Ruth's record of 15.

Elston Howard and Bobby Richardson each equalled a world series record by collecting two hits during the Yankees' sixth-inning uprising.

In all, the Yankees collected 19 hits and the Pirates 13 to break the old record of 29 hits for a single game by both clubs.

Mantle drove in a total of five runs to equal another series record held by Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and Ted Kluszewski.

Bob Turley, the Yankees' burly right-hander, coasted to the fourth world series victory of his career behind this powerful support.

A crowd of 37,368 at rain dampened Forbes Field watched the Yankees make a rout of the game in the sixth inning.

Fidel Ready To War With U.S.

By NORMAN G. CORNISH
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A former henchman of Fidel Castro says the Cuban premier once told his top followers that it might become necessary to fight the United States.

This was the sworn testimony of Capt. Manuel Rojo del Rio, one-time aide to the Cuban general staff and commander of Castro's parachute troops.

Rojo, who defected from Cuba late last year, made the statement before the Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The testimony, taken behind closed doors in January, was made public today.

Rojo said Castro talked of the possibility of future military action against the United States at a staff meeting in his Sierra (See FIDEL, Page 4)

Attorney Joseph Welch Dead At 69

BY ANNIS, Mass. (UPI)—Joseph N. Welch, 69, New England lawyer who gained fame in the Army-McCarthy hearings six years ago, died today at Cape Cod Hospital.

Welch, whose dry humor devastated courtroom opponents, suffered two heart attacks. He first was stricken Sept. 8 at his Cape Cod home. His wife was with him when he died at 10:24 a.m.

Welch was a "lawyer's lawyer" who was catapulted to fame on coast-to-coast television. The publicity led to an important role in a hit Hollywood movie and later the role of host in a TV series of mystery shows.

Scientists Set To Turn Electronic Ear Toward Outer Space For Sign Of Life

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Science Foundation is getting ready once again to turn a giant electronic ear toward outer space to listen for possible signs of life.

The first try earlier this year at the Green Bank, W.Va., listening post reported only the usual maze of natural radio waves already known to scientists.

Dr. Geoffrey Keller, director of the foundation's astronomy program, said scientists at Green Bank would make some equipment changes before the new attempt.

Keller said the technicians were trying to put together a "more sophisticated" receiver in the probe for life sounds among the planets.

He could not say just when the next attempt would be made, emphasizing that the Green Bank staff also was tied up on other scientific projects.

The giant radio-telescope has been in operation at the West Virginia site for the past 18 months. The outer space signals are picked up on an 85-foot "dish" and recorded visually on paper.

Keller said most of the natural signals are radio waves resulting from the temperatures created by hot gases whirling around the sun and other planets.

Kennedy Plans Speech On Cuban Situation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—

Involving a crowd estimated by police at some 125,000 persons.

A number of teen-agers among them—some of whom can vote if they are at Kentucky's legal age of 18—set up a running, howling, screaming demonstration that engulfed Kennedy's open convertible and cut off the rest of his motorcade.

At a rally which some 25,000 of the throng attended, Kennedy drew cheers as he saluted the city for carrying out in 1956 the (See KENNEDY, Page 4)

Demo Split In South Aids The GOP Cause

ATLANTA (UPI)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia attended church services in Hot Springs, Ark., during the recent Southern Governors Conference and heard a sermon delivered on anti-Catholicism.

Farris Bryant, Democratic nominee for governor of Florida, attended a news conference and told reporters he could not "intelligently, morally or physically" campaign actively for the national Democratic ticket.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi attended a White Citizens Council rally and told a segregationist audience the South should get behind independent electors in the Nov. 8 presidential election in a show of repudiating the liberal platforms of both parties.

All this means that danger flags are flying for the regular Democratic party in Dixie in the final weeks of the presidential campaign.

Although organized third party sympathies are very limited in this year's campaign, family fighting within Democratic ranks in the South has caused a surge of hopes in the Republican organization.

West Virginia Gov. Cecil Underwood, a Republican, says the GOP has a chance to take most of the states in Dixie and will do "at least as well" as four years ago.

In 1956 President Eisenhower captured 105 electoral votes in the 16-state area of southern and border states covered by the Southern Governors Conference. They were Delaware, Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

The Democratic ticket, headed by Adlai Stevenson, won 51 electoral votes in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The most seasoned politicians are unwilling to bet their all on which way the South will go, but here are some of the issues that are concerning the voters:

Religious — Dixie is still predominantly Protestant, and Sen. John Kennedy's Roman Catholic faith will have some bearing on voter preference. But there is about as much of a campaign on to neutralize this issue as there is to promote it.

Racial — Only the similarity of both party platforms on civil rights is preventing a more pronounced upheaval in conservative southern ranks.

International — Southerners are openly concerned as perhaps never before in the nation's foreign affairs. Almost to a man, southern governors have named America's dealings with Russia and world communism during the next four years the most important issue of the 1960 presidential race. They put it far ahead of the civil rights dispute.

Forgey Faces Death For Rape

DALLAS (UPI)—Charles Lewis Forgey, 21, a vacuum cleaner salesman, faced death in the electric chair today for kidnaping a 23-year-old stenographer and raping her.

Forgey was convicted of the crime Wednesday by a jury of seven men and five women which deliberated slightly over an hour.

Defense Attorney Robert H. Stinson said he would ask for a new trial. He may base it on a question the jury asked of Criminal Dist. Judge J. Frank Wilson.

The judge was asked how long Forgey would have to serve on a 99-year or life sentence before being eligible for parole. The Court of Criminal Appeals has reversed convictions when it has been proven that jurors discussed the pardons and paroles system.

Domestic Help Earnings Must Be Reported

There are still some housewives in the Panhandle who are not reporting household help for social security purposes, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

"As little as $4 per week in cash earnings totals more than 23 a calendar quarter and should be reported to the director of Internal Revenue. Geldon stated reporting is easier than many housewives think. Upon request, Internal Revenue Service mails a report form each calendar quarter as a reminder. The housewife enters the worker's name, social security number and total cash earnings. She puts a check or money order in the pocket to cover the social security tax and mails the sealed envelope to the address already printed on it.

The tax rate is 3 per cent for employee and 3 per cent for employer. No detailed bookkeeping is required. The fact that a household worker is also reported by another employer makes no difference in reporting responsibility.

Proper reporting establishes social security credit for retirement, survivors, and disability insurance benefits for the household worker and her dependents, Geldon said.

Redstone, Polaris Shots Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States scored a double-barreled success Wednesday with its Polaris and Redstone rockets, the latter warming up for a mission in the Mercury man-in-space program.

The Redstone flew more than 200 miles over the Atlantic Wednesday night in a routine military "qualification" firing.

Later this month, a Redstone is scheduled to loft an instrumented but unarmed Mercury capsule on a test flight at about the same range.

The Navy sent a Polaris hurtling more than 1,000 miles to test its warhead arming and fusing mechanism — one of the final steps before the missile becomes combat-ready within the next three weeks.

Ed Railsback Succumbs To Heart Attack

Ed Railsback, 1906 N. Nelson, died of a heart attack about 4 p.m. yesterday while on a fishing trip at Lake Lugert, near Granite, Okla. When he complained of feeling ill, a fishing companion drove him to a hospital in Granite, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Funeral services will be held 3 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church, with Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor, and the Rev. Thurman Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. Railsback, a meter man, had been employed by Phillips Petroleum Co. since 1928.

He was married to Lorena Izard on Oct. 19, 1929, in Waco. In 1928, he moved to Borger and went to work for Phillips Petroleum Co. He was transferred to Keller, Tex. in 1936 and to Pampa in 1944.

Mr. Railsback served as deacon of the First Baptist Church and also as chairman of the board. He was past master of McLean Masonic Lodge; past patron of the McLean Order of the Eastern Star; and was class teacher for the Everyman's Bible Class.

Survivors are his wife, Lorena, at home; two sisters, Mrs. J. D. Partain of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. K. Bone of Stephenville; two brothers J. J. Railsback of McLean and Fred Railsback of Bay City.

Pallbearers will be Paul Crossman, Claude Wilson, Bob Alford, Bob Clements, Calvin Whatley, Ed Anderson, L. L. Stovall and L. J. Zachry.

Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Forger Gets 2-Year Sentence

Keith Kase, alias William Louis Watkins, a native of Huntington, Ind., and now a prisoner of the State of Texas Department of Corrections, received a two-year sentence yesterday when he appeared before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court and pleaded guilty to passing a forged instrument.

This penalty is in addition to a seven-year term Kase is now serving in the state prison at Huntsville on another forgery conviction.

The term is effective Feb. 5, 1959 and it makes the fifth time Kase had been found guilty of the charge.

He was returned here recently by Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols, and is now in Gray County jail awaiting return to Huntsville.

Maestra hideaway before he overthrew the Batista regime.

"When our revolution ends," Rojo quoted Castro as telling his officers, "we shall attack the Dominican Republic. If necessary, we shall fight the U.S.A."

Rojo said he later overheard a comment by Castro's brother, Raul, which went a step beyond this.

He said Raul boasted that Cuba would move against "all the dictators in Latin America and ultimately against the United States."

Rojo also claimed in his testimony that: —Castro has "secret camps" in which guerrilla troops are being trained to foment and lead revolutions in the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Paraguay, Haiti, Panama "and even Spain." —Castro wanted to plant a secret agent inside the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) "to find out what was being planned against Cuba."

South Africa Votes On Status

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—The opposition rolled up an impressive early lead today against Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's attempt to change South Africa to a republic, but an electronic computer predicted the white supremacist would win.

More than 1.5 million whites voted Wednesday in a referendum to decide whether South Africa shall retain Queen Elizabeth II of Britain as its chief of state or replace her with an elected president.

Under the country's apartheid laws, none of the 11 million non-whites was permitted to vote. With half of the 156 constituencies reporting, the vote in favor of retaining the monarchy was 511,264 as against 375,851 for a change.

been accounted for, but identification may take some time since many of the recovered bodies were badly mutilated.

Authorities said the engines will be examined to determine if there are dead birds inside. Quesada said he counted between 100 and 200 dead starlings on the runway from which the plane took off. He said it appeared the birds had been sucked into the turbo-prop air feed, causing the engines to fail.

Hubbard Rites Today

Funeral services for Carolyn Dawn Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hubbard of Amarillo, will be held at 4 p.m. today in Duenkel Carmichael Funeral Chapel with David Parker of Amarillo, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating.

The infant, born Sept. 29, died yesterday 4 a.m. in the Dallas Children's Hospital.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Brenda Diane and Janet Darlene, both of Amarillo; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hubbard of Wheeler; and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. West of Skellytown.

Interment will be in Memory Gardens.

Scout Open House

A Boy Scout open house is to be held in Pampa Junior High School beginning at 7:15 tonight.

The meeting to inform interested youths of Scout activities will be conducted by Parks Brumby, Wayne Irving and Roger Farrow. Scoutmasters also will be present to give information on troop meeting dates and various activities of their units.

The open house program is being conducted in schools throughout the city in an effort to increase Scouting activity here.

Ex-Students Elect Officers

LEFORS (Sp) — Eddie Clemmons has been elected president of the Lefors High School Ex-Students association.
Other officials of the group are: Bill Sims, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Jordan, secretary; Mrs. Billie Kendle, treasurer; and Mrs. Calvin Lacy, Jack Chisum, Mrs. C. E. Fenno, Mrs. Eddie Clemmons and Joe Martin, committeemen.
The oldest class represented at the homecoming last Saturday night was the one of 1932; the 1954 class had the largest representation.
Mrs. J. M. McPherson, the former Geraldine Dunn, was elected queen of the exes, while Bill Sims was king.
Allen Cumberledge of Austin, traveled the longest distance to attend the event — 484 miles. Sims, Orvil Hall and Melvin Bigham had the largest families, and Mrs. R. H. Barron, formerly Icis Porterfield, had the most grandchildren.
A band concert by the Lefors Pirate Band, opened the musical portion of the program, followed by solos by Miss Betty Williams and Bill McGowan, choir and music director, "The Four Flats," a quartet from Pampa High School also entertained.

CARIBBEAN CAPSULE—Uncertain state of relations between the United States and Cuba has put the spotlight on the huge U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. Strategists consider it an important link in the chain of bases guarding the Panama Canal. (Others are in Puerto Rico and Trinidad). U.S. has used Guantanamo as a training and refueling base ever since the signing of a treaty with Cuba in 1903. It was an important convoy gathering point and anti-submarine base in World War II.

COMING FRIDAY — Ernest Tubb, celebrated country music star, will be in Pampa Friday night, under the auspices of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, to play for dancing at the National Guard Armory. The dance is open to the public and starts at 9. Admission is $1.50 per person. Tubb will be assisted by his band, The Texas Troubadours, who have been appearing with him several years.

Prince Due to Complete Dallas Tour

DALLAS (UPI) — Belgium's Prince Albert was scheduled to end up his two-day tour of Dallas today and fly to Washington for a meeting with President Eisenhower.
Prince Albert, 26, and his attractive Italian-born wife, Princess Paola, 23, are heading a 28-member economic mission from Belgium studying American industry.
The royal couple was honored Tuesday night at a reception dinner in one of the swank

Japan Offers Aid To Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Japan has offered Mexico machinery and technicians for construction of the planned deep-water port at Matamoros on the Texas border, Tamaulipas State Gov. Norberto Trevino Zapata has announced.
The governor said the Japanese offer was made to help the far eastern country stabilize the balance of trade with Mexico, now three to one in this country's favor.
Today, the group planned to tour the State Fair grounds, where the largest state fair in the nation opens Saturday, visit the Dallas Trade Mart and the city's industrial district.
Business and civic leaders briefed the group Wednesday on progress in Dallas, one of the fastest growing cities in the nation.
Mayor R. L. Thornton told the Prince that "Dallas isn't better than your own cities; it's just younger."
First homestead in the United States was granted to Daniel Freeman on Jan. 1, 1863. It was near Beatrice, Neb., and the site was made a national monument in 1936.

TYPHOON KILLS 14

MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Kit caused 14 deaths in southern area of the Philippines, unofficial reports said today. The typhoon with center winds of 90 miles-per-hour, was moving toward the northern part of Luzon island and the Manila area.

MARRIAGE POSTPONED

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress May Britt and Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. have postponed the date for their marriage from Oct. 18 to Nov. 13. A spokesman for the blonde Swedish actress said Wednesday the delay was caused by complications in connection with Miss Britt's divorce from Edwin J. Gregson.

Five Big States Hold The Answer As Candidates Split Votes Of 45

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
CHICAGO — (NEA) — Vice President Nixon and Senator Kennedy, driving toward the halfway line in their race for the Presidency, appear so close today that neither lays claim to a single one of the five big battleground states from New York to California.

This interim verdict — that the fight is yet to be won — derives from this reporter's talks with men in both camps who see the critical daily battle reports, and from spot checks with veteran appraisers in many major states along the campaign trail.

high-placed Democrat, given the same necessity, chooses Nixon.

Only in California does any qualified judge see a clearly marked lead — and that for Nixon as the home-state contender facing a man with somewhat divided support. Yet even here the consensus is that any gap is narrowing and that the choice is in fact open.

Beyond the Big Five, the most balanced judgment suggests Nixon may have a fairly definite lead in some 25 states, while Kennedy seems to be ahead in the remaining 20.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's possible 20 could bring him 130 of the needed 269 electoral votes, against 186 produced by the 25 where Nixon is rated the leader.

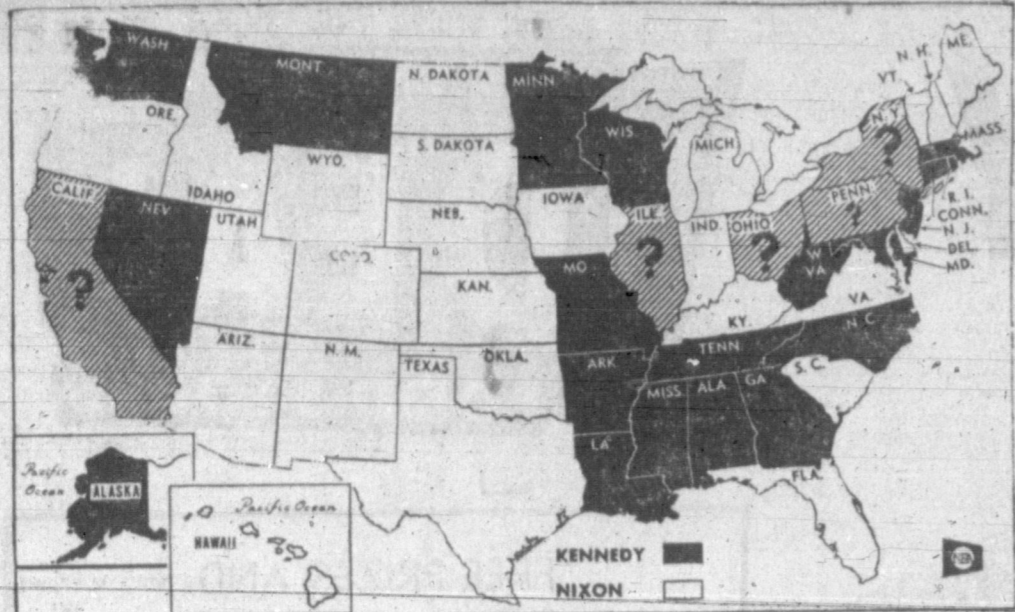

The indicated 25 for Nixon include Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Texas, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii.

Against this array Kennedy may be able to pit Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Washington and Alaska.

Gets Life As Habitual Criminal

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Eugene Castillo, 34, of San Antonio, was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday as a habitual criminal by District Judge John Onion Jr. A jury deliberated 90 minutes before returning a guilty verdict. Castillo was charged with hijacking a jewelry store in southside San Antonio last June 30. Judge Onion said that Castillo had prior convictions for burglary in 1934, 1950 and 1955.

Improved Air Service Sought

DALLAS (UPI) — Pleas from Lawton, Okla., Little Rock, Ark., and Paris, Tex., for better air service were heard Wednesday by Civil Aeronautics Board examiner Herbert K. Bryan.

The CAB hearing is one part of a massive case in which the CAB is to decide what airlines and routes will best serve cities in the southern tier of states.

The hearing began Monday. A letter was introduced at the hearing from a Laredo business-

FUNERAL SERVICES

AUSTIN (UPI) — Funeral services have been scheduled for Friday for Dr. John Tipton Lonsdale, 65, Director of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas, who died Wednesday at his home. Dr. Lonsdale had been director of the bureau since 1945.

FIRE KILLS MAN

HOUSTON (UPI) — A 31-year-old Houston man died Wednesday night in a fire that destroyed 60 per cent of his home. Chester Odom was burned to death in the fire that started from unknown causes.

SHIVERS COMMENTS

AUSTIN (UPI) — Former Gov. Allan Shivers observed his 53rd birthday Wednesday with a few political comments while practicing his golf game on the deep carpeting of his offices. The former Democratic governor said the "Nixon-Lodge platform and thinking comes a lot closer to being Democratic than the Kennedy-Johnson platform and thinking."

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc. entered the vanadium business only last February, and already is the nation's third largest producer of the vital raw material.

The company's vanadium products are being used all over the world, with substantial shipments already having gone to Japan, Sweden, Belgium, France, Italy, Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Uniquely, Kerr-McGee's high content vanadium is being manufactured as a co-product with uranium which has been processed in the company's Shiprock, N.M. mill since 1954.

The company explained that the vanadium is obtained from the same ores, mined in the Lukachukai Mountains, from which it has been extracting uranium. Both the vanadium and uranium use the acid-leach solvent extraction process for recovery — in fact they are processed together up to a certain point.

The final processing is done through a separate circuit for each product. The end product of uranium, yellowcake, is packaged in steel drums and sold only to the atomic energy commission. Used vanadium pentoxide, sold to steel producers and chemical companies, leaves the mill in small like-like pieces of metal.

The company said its Shiprock vanadium is produced in a very high state of purity, adding that shipments have been made which had a vanadium pentoxide content in excess of 99.8 per cent. Such high purity material was unknown as a commercial product until this year.

Vanadium was named nearly 100 years ago after Vanadis, Norse goddess of beauty, but steel makers know it for its utility rather than its beauty, the company said in its employee magazine.

V. L. Mattson, general manager — minerals, said that although the present era is commonly referred to as the atomic age, we actually are still living in the iron age. History, he added, probably will refer to it more specifically as the alloy steel period of the iron age.

The fatigue resistance given to steel by the addition of relatively small amounts of vanadium contribute greatly to the continuous performance of heavy equipment, he declared.

Automobile springs have been strengthened the past 20 years by the addition of vanadium, and the huge forgings from which the shafts and rotors for large electric generators are made all contain vanadium.

Mattson also noted that aluminum-vanadium alloys show great promise in the aeronautical field. The strength-to-weight ratio of high purity vanadium metal "is excellent," he said, and its use in space vehicles is almost certain.

While vanadium occurrences are common in many rocks throughout the world, there are relatively few deposits of commercial significance. In this country virtually all of the vanadium has come from the Colorado Plateau.

FOR SMOOTHER SANDING

Before sandpapering any wooden surface in preparing it for a coat of varnish or enamel, always wrap the sandpaper around a small block of wood, with a piece of cloth between the wood and the paper. This prevents the abrasive from cutting unevenly.

Crap-Shooting Lawyer Seeks Appeal Point

AUSTIN (UPI) — Defense Attorney Charles Tesser of Dallas rolled a pair of green and white dice on the counsel's table Wednesday in the State Court of Criminal Appeals in an effort to win a point and a new trial for a convicted gambler.

Tesser's client, B. H. Chamberland of Amarillo, was sentenced to two years in prison by a jury after a raid on a game in the back of a Potter County restaurant on April 8, 1959.

Tesser contended that Asst. Dist. Atty. Jesse Owens gave unsupported testimony in a closing argument.

"The prosecution told the jury that hundreds of women and children would go hungry because their husbands and fathers were trying to beat a 60-40 split," Tesser said.

"If the odds were according to the book, there was a 50-50 chance of winning," Tesser said. "My client should receive a new trial because of the admission of the inflammatory argument without evidence to back it up."

GLENN SCOTT OF SW BELL TELEPHONE ... demonstrating new 'phone technique

Space Transmission Of Telephone Calls Demonstrated To Rotarians

Telephone scientists are looking to outer space to make our world smaller. Members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday saw a demonstration of how long distance telephone calls might be transmitted between this city and Istanbul, Anchorage or any point in the world via a satellite orbiting 3,000 miles above the earth. This demonstration was a highlight of a talk on space age communications given by Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Using miniature equipment, Scott showed how Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists bounced telephone calls off a satellite orbiting in outer space in a special experiment known as Project Echo. "Bell scientists believe a system of about 50 satellites in random polar orbits at a height of 3,000 miles could provide communications facilities between the United States and all areas of the world," he said. "About 26 transmitter-receiver stations which would work in pairs would be located throughout the world to provide the ground terminals for the system. They might also be used to transmit live television programs to any point in the world."

GROWING UP — Young men and women in the United States today average about two inches taller than their forebears at the turn of the century. They are also heavier, says an Agricultural Dept. report, which contains various studies of heights and weights of American adults during the last 100 years. One example: In 1883, only about four per cent of young men entering Amherst and Yale stood six feet or more. In 1956, over 30 per cent did.

Killer Boasts Of Drowning Judge, Wife

MIAMI (UPI) —Hired killers weighted a prominent judge and his wife with heavy chains and dropped them alive into the Atlantic Ocean five years ago, the Miami Herald reported in a copyrighted dispatch today. The newspaper said the Florida Sheriffs Bureau has tape recordings obtained by undercover agents telling, in the killers' own words, how Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife were murdered in 1955. The killers were in the pay of a person who had a grudge against the judge, the Herald said. The 58-year-old judge and his wife Marjorie, 57, disappeared from their home at Manalapan the night of June 15, 1955. The Herald said authorities hope to use the tape recordings to solve the mystery.

Weighted With Chains The Herald said the killers told how they took the couple bound and gagged in a small boat. The Herald's story said: "Both the judge and his wife then were weighted down with heavy chains. 'I said, ladies first, and pushed her in,' the paid killer boasted. 'She went down with a few bubbles.' 'Then we shoved the judge in, but he was such a good swimmer that even with the chains he was able to make himself float,' the recordings say.

"The killers moved their boat alongside the judge, hit him on the head with a hammer and he went under." The Herald said undercover agents obtained the tape recordings by gaining the confidence of the killers, and recording their boasts. Three Men Held Authorities in Titusville, Fla., were known to have questioned three men this week in the Chillingworth case. The three are Floyd A. (Lucky) Holzapfel, Joseph Peel Jr., former West Palm Beach attorney, and his business partner, Donald Miles. Peel and Miles are charged with conspiracy to murder Holzapfel, who was arrested on a Dade County fugitive warrant. Peel and Miles were released under $25,000 bond each in Titusville. Authorities brought Holzapfel to Miami for questioning. The Herald, in a copyrighted interview with Holzapfel, quoted him as saying: "I never saw Chillingworth. I didn't kill him. I wouldn't know him if he walked in the door. It'll be a damn dirty shame if they execute me for the Chillingworths. They might come home in the next week."

Brevard County Chief Investigator Ralph Clark said Miles signed a statement admitting he and Peel paid $5,800 to another man to kill Holzapfel. The man

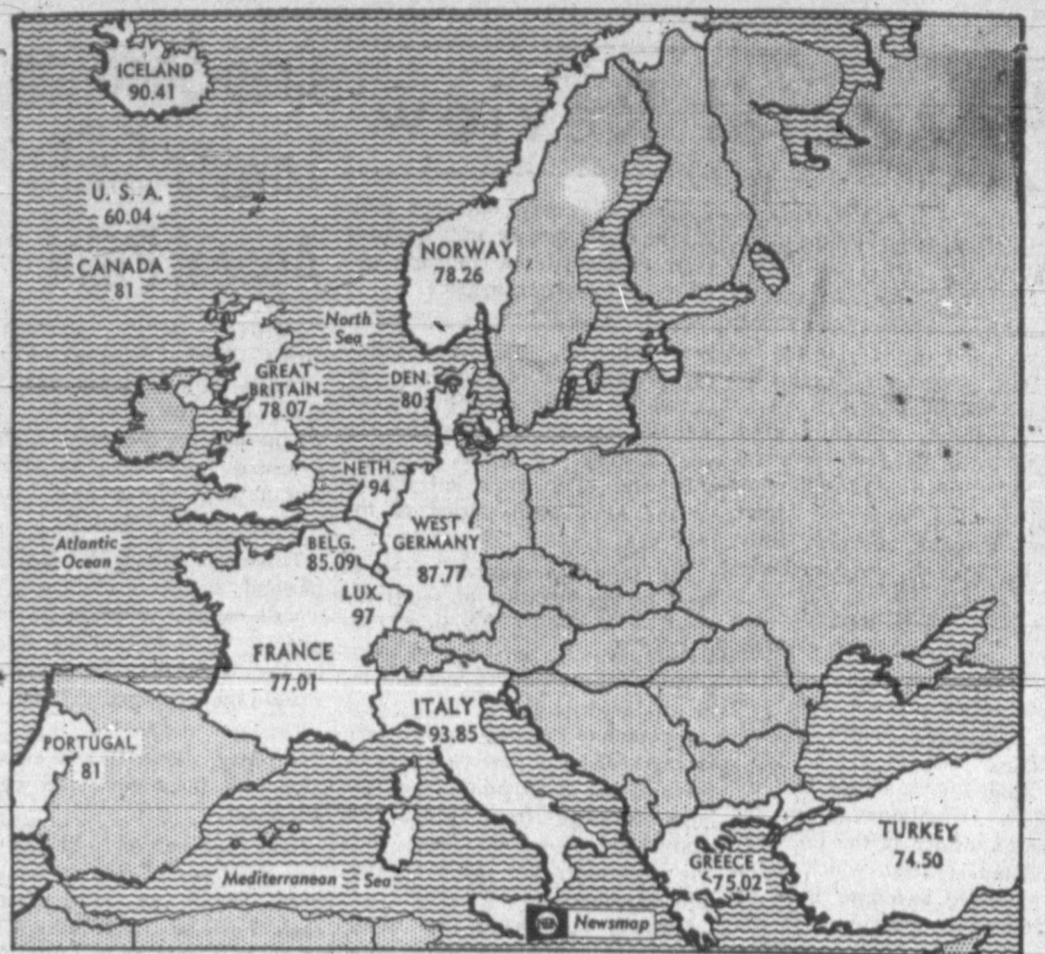

Nixon Gets Chance To Speak On Civil Rights In South Today

By United Press International GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon, charging his Democratic rival has ducked the civil rights issue in the South, had the opportunity today to demonstrate in Dixie what he termed his own "straightforward" stand on the problem. The vice president scheduled a midday speech in Nashville, Tenn.—his eighth campaign venture into the normally Democratic South—before flying to Cleveland for an evening rally and then back to Washington to prepare for the second TV "great debate" Friday night. Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy had an appearance in the border state of Kentucky—at Covington—where he could answer Nixon's charges that he has failed to "squarely face" the civil rights issue in the South. Before the Covington address, Kennedy planned to rest and work on a speech on Cuba he will deliver in Cincinnati tonight. His staff took the unusual step of announcing in advance the topic of the speech, which they described as "important."

Wednesday night—the candidates were greeted by almost uncontrollably enthusiastic mobs—Nixon in Philadelphia by the biggest crowd of his campaign, and Kennedy in Louisville, Ky., by the wildest reception of his campaign. Hits Kennedy Stand In Philadelphia and earlier in New York City — both with large Negro populations—Nixon hammered at the civil rights stand of Kennedy and Democratic vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson, a Texan. The vice president said the Democratic candidates held differing views on the matter. He said Kennedy stated his civil rights position in only one of 10 southern speeches. He flatly challenged the Massachusetts senator to speak out on the issue in Dixie. When he delivered the speech, Nixon left out about half the civil rights statements contained in his advance text distributed to newsmen. This caused a possible controversy. Among the parts left out was a quote attributed to Johnson in which the senator said he was not a civil rights advocate. Klein Explains Deletion Three hours after the speech was delivered and nine hours after the advance text was given to reporters, Nixon's press secretary Herbert G. Klein said the quote had not been used because the vice president discovered it was from a Drew Pearson column and was not complete. Kennedy touched briefly on civil rights Wednesday morning on il rights Wednesday during his campaigning in Louisville. A crowd of about 25,000 in Court House Square cheered when the nominee congratulated the city for its 1956 compliance with the Supreme Court's school integration decision. "An example was set to the nation and to the world," he declared. In his main speech, to a $50-a-plate Louisville fund-raising dinner, Kennedy charged that Nixon was "reluctant to admit around election time that he is a Republican." Kennedy said the GOP nominee after supporting administration programs for years, now has repudiated the Republican agriculture secretary, the Republican Treasury secretary's tight money policy and the Republican interior secretary's freeze on new water projects. "The next thing you know, the Republican truth squad will have to follow him around," Kennedy said. This drew laughter.

Intensive Search For Highwaymen, Rapist

EL PASO (UPI) —The pretty young mother screamed in terror, but there was nobody to help her fight off the leader of three highwaymen who cackled sadistically and threatened to bash in the brains of one of her three children. He raped her in the desert 60 miles east of El Paso then tied her up and threw her, sobbing and in shock, back in the midst of four car loads of tourists "that had been stopped on the highway, beaten and driven into the desert, and robbed of some $1,000. Forrest Greshaw, the 25-year-old woman's husband, was tied with the other five men, two women and their children, aged 7, 2 and 1. Even so, one of the highwaymen kept a gun trained on his head during the attack. They were made to lie down and covered with old clothes and the men with their heads in pillow slips. Today, hundreds of highway patrolmen, deputy sheriffs and police in many small towns throughout West Texas, New Mexico and federal agents along the Mexican border maintained roadblocks and widened the search. "We'll Get Them" "If they are still traveling in their car, we'll get them," El Paso Chief Deputy Sheriff Mike Sullivan said. The highwaymen stopped their victims Wednesday morning on U.S. Highway 180-62, and drove them off into the desert, one by one. They fled in their own car, and took along a station wagon belonging to Clarence A. Lemmons of Grier, S.C. It was found abandoned late Wednesday night on the El Paso side of the International Bridge which leads to Juarez, Mexico. "We think they abandoned the car there to throw us off," Sullivan said. "I don't think they're across the river (in Mexico)." The highwaymen had a flashing red light and a siren on their car, and posed as police to stop their victims. In several instances, the leader of the gang, described as a "big, dark man" pistol-whipped the victims without cause and "cackled while he was beating" them. Sullivan said he thinks the men may be the same ones that stopped two women and a 12-year-old girl between Shamrock and McLean, Tex., on Sept. 29. In that crime, a big, dark man tried to rape one of the women, but she pleaded pregnancy, and he raped the little girl. Two of the victims of Wednesday's assaults planned to stay in El Paso for several days hoping police will pick up the men so they can identify them.

Fourth Government Branch Hid In Mist

By WALTER ROGERS
11st District Representative

Actually all Americans are familiar with the triangular structure of their Federal government: legislative, executive, and judicial. We are of this famous separation of political power with the confidence and belief of seeing it benefit American democracy. It operates as a tripod, with each leg checking and balancing the other while supporting the whole. Yet about a century after this classic system first established, a fourth element began to assert itself as a finely new force within the traditional government.

This force has gathered together the combined authority of legislative, administration, and adjudication. It lives, for the most part, outside the three old branches and exists in a sort of blurred world which often offends our taste for simplicity and clarity of movement. We have come to know this force simply as the independent agency, creature of a complicated and abundant life.

The profound Constitutional question which these agencies have raised are with us even today. I do not desire to deal with them in detail at this time. Whether the doctrine of separation of powers is threatened by these agencies is, in fact, an important and largely fruitless line of inquiry. Let me simply say that many other of man's efforts, good and bad are bound up in them. Our first task which I intend to follow during the coming weeks — is to seek understanding of this form of government.

First of all, it must be said that presently no one has been able to devise a precise definition of independent agency. Most of us think of such bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, or the Federal Trade Commission. Yet there are more than a dozen other groups functioning with degrees of independent authority beneath the supervision of the Executive branch. The Veterans Administration would be an example of this since they are answerable to the President. The present day Department of Health, Education and Welfare is made up of agencies which were previously of this sort. The way among them all given rise to a certain unsatisfactory legend concerning "bureaucracy" and reminds me of an rhyme which goes like this: The Walrus and the Carpenter were walking close at hand: They kept like anything to seven quantities of sand: I saw seven maids with seven tops Swept it for half a year, De you suppose, "the Walrus said, "That they could get it ear?"

"I doubt it," said the Carpenter, and wept a better tear. Despite this certain amount of confusion, the independent agencies almost always intended to provide in a phase of American life which had previously baffled attention by each branch. It is admitted, for example, the radio and television industries would be in utter chaos were it not for the FCC. And it is true despite the rather obvious imperfections which have been seen in this agency from time to time.

For our purposes it is possible to distinguish between the agencies which regulate in major fields, such as the FCC, and the agencies which administer certain activities of public interest, such as the Federal Reserve System. We will take each of the major regulatory agencies separately in later weeks. We must first place these in perspective with a brief and all look at the agencies as a whole.

Total appropriations for independent offices for this year total nearly 10.5 billion dollars, and a recent count shows that they employ almost 300,000 people. The Veterans Administration accounts for about half of both figures. The emphasis in a majority of agencies is upon the administration of a certain public affair, as with the Battle Monuments Commission: the performance of a service, as with Federal Home Loan Bank Board; or the protection of a public interest such as the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All these agencies differ in their degree of "independence", but all are similar in their tendency to expand. Their boundaries of jurisdiction are as clearly defined as the area they supervise, but also as changing and as intricate. And as we examine some of the more important ones in the next few weeks, I will attempt to point up examples of similarity and difference as they arise. At present it is probably sufficient to generalize by saying that the independent agency supposedly fulfills a need which government forever appears to be discovering and perpetuating. I cannot resist tracing for you the history of a body which has been variously known as the National Screw Thread Commission and the Interdepartmental Screw Thread Committee. This organization was founded in 1918, abolished in 1933, and resurrected in 1939. Today it operates within the Department of Commerce in what must be a constant effort to standardize the threads of the nation's screws.

CAMPAIGN QUIZ

Q—What U.S. president conducted his entire election campaign without mentioning the name of his opponent?
A—Republican Herbert Hoover. He never once mentioned the name of his Democratic opponent, Alfred E. Smith, in the 1928 campaign.

Q—Who was the first president to be inaugurated in the city of Washington?
A—Thomas Jefferson, in 1801.

Name It 'National' -- Take It To Washington

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It is becoming increasingly difficult in this age of the organization man for two people to have lunch together without forming a national association, a national committee, a national conference, a national council, a national bureau, a national federation, a national institute, a national league or a national society of some sort. The procedure apparently is to draw up a set of by-laws during the entree, elect officers over coffee and dessert, and then go out and hire a Washington representative.

At any rate, there is almost no branch of business, professional or social life in America that does not now have at least an office in the capital. A few occupy entire buildings.

I got to wondering about the purpose of some of these groups the other day as I was trying to the National Clean-up Paint-Fix-up bureau.

There are, I discovered, at least 200 national something-or-other listed in the directory, not including the government agencies whose names begin with "national." I didn't try to count them all for fear of eyestrain. A person adept at conclusion-jumping might leap to the assumption that the reason for opening an office here is to look out after certain legislative interests. But what sort of legislation would interest the National Association of Baby Sitter Registry?

Could it be trying to lobby against socialized baby sitting? Some of the groups would appear to overlap. What business, for instance, do the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the National Science Teachers Association have that the National Education Association couldn't attend to?

There would, in fact, seem to be a lot of room for consolidation. One suitable merger might bring the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy together with the National Committee against Mental Illness.

Some groups, of course, have no common ground. The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union naturally wouldn't join hands with the National Association of Wine Bottlers. But I see no reason why the WCTU couldn't link up with the National Committee for Prevention of Alcoholism. here. Does this mean that urban culture is on the rise? For that matter, what is uriculture?

The National Institute of Urban Culture maintains two offices

Dilly Casserole Bread Takes Contest Honors

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A batter bread, flavored with dill seed and baked in a casserole, Tuesday won the $25,000 prize in Pillsbury's 12th Grand National Bake-Off for a farmer's wife from Crab Orchard, Neb., who has "been trying to get into the Bake-Off for years."

Mrs. Leona P. Schueller, a grandmother, but - baked 99 other rivals with an original recipe titled Dilly Casserole Bread is "so simple that anyone can make it", according to Mrs. Schueller.

The new winner experimented to attain moistness by adding cottage cheese to an old dill bread recipe to produce her Bake-Off entry.

Bake-Off contestants from 34 states, among them two from Hawaii, received more than $100,000 in prizes, including their trips to Washington and the General Electric ranges and mixers which they used.

Mrs. Schueller collects "gobs of recipes" and has submitted entries to every Bake-Off for the past five years. She usually bakes once a week and "likes to make things people enjoy", but has no personal preference in recipes.

A previous contest try earned her third place against all male entrants in a cattle judging competition in Chicago.

Asked if she had a secret ambition, she replied, "Yes - I'd like to play in a band."

Presentation of the $25,000 award was made by Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States.

DILLY CASSEPOLE BREAD
 Pillsbury's Best 12th Grand National Recipe and Baking Contest Recipe Adapted by Ann Pillsbury.

1 packet active dry yeast (or 1 cake compressed yeast)
 1/4 cup warm water
 1 cup creamed cottage cheese, heated to lukewarm
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
 1 tablespoon butter
 2 teaspoons dill seed
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 1 unbeaten egg

2 1/4 to 2 1/2 cups Pillsbury's Best All Purpose Flour

Soften yeast in water. Combine in mixing bowl cottage cheese, sugar, onion, butter, dill seed, salt, soda, egg and softened yeast. Add flour to form a stiff dough, beating well after each addition. Cover. Let rise in warm place (85 degree to 90 degrees F.) until light and doubled in size, 50 to 60 minutes.

Stir down dough. Turn into well-greased 8 - inch round (1 1/2 or 2 pts.) casserole. Let rise in warm place until light, 30 to 40 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes until golden brown. Brush with soft butter and sprinkle with soft butter and sprinkle with salt. Makes 1 round loaf.

Non-Coffee Drinkers Swing To Instant Product In New Jars

Some facts of interest to the homemaker may be found in a report just released by Maryland Club Coffee. In a study of food habits made by the Market Research Corporation of America, the question of what food item is served most frequently in the home was asked. It was found that coffee is the item most often served; it being served by 97 per cent of the families in the United States at least thirteen times a week.

And instant coffee, which has created a new market among people who drank little or no coffee previously, now accounts for over 33 per cent of the total coffee consumption.

This growth of consumer demand for instant coffee is of particular significance to Maryland Club. New Instant Maryland Club Coffee is currently being introduced in a revolutionary new jar. The new jar, created for Instant Maryland Club

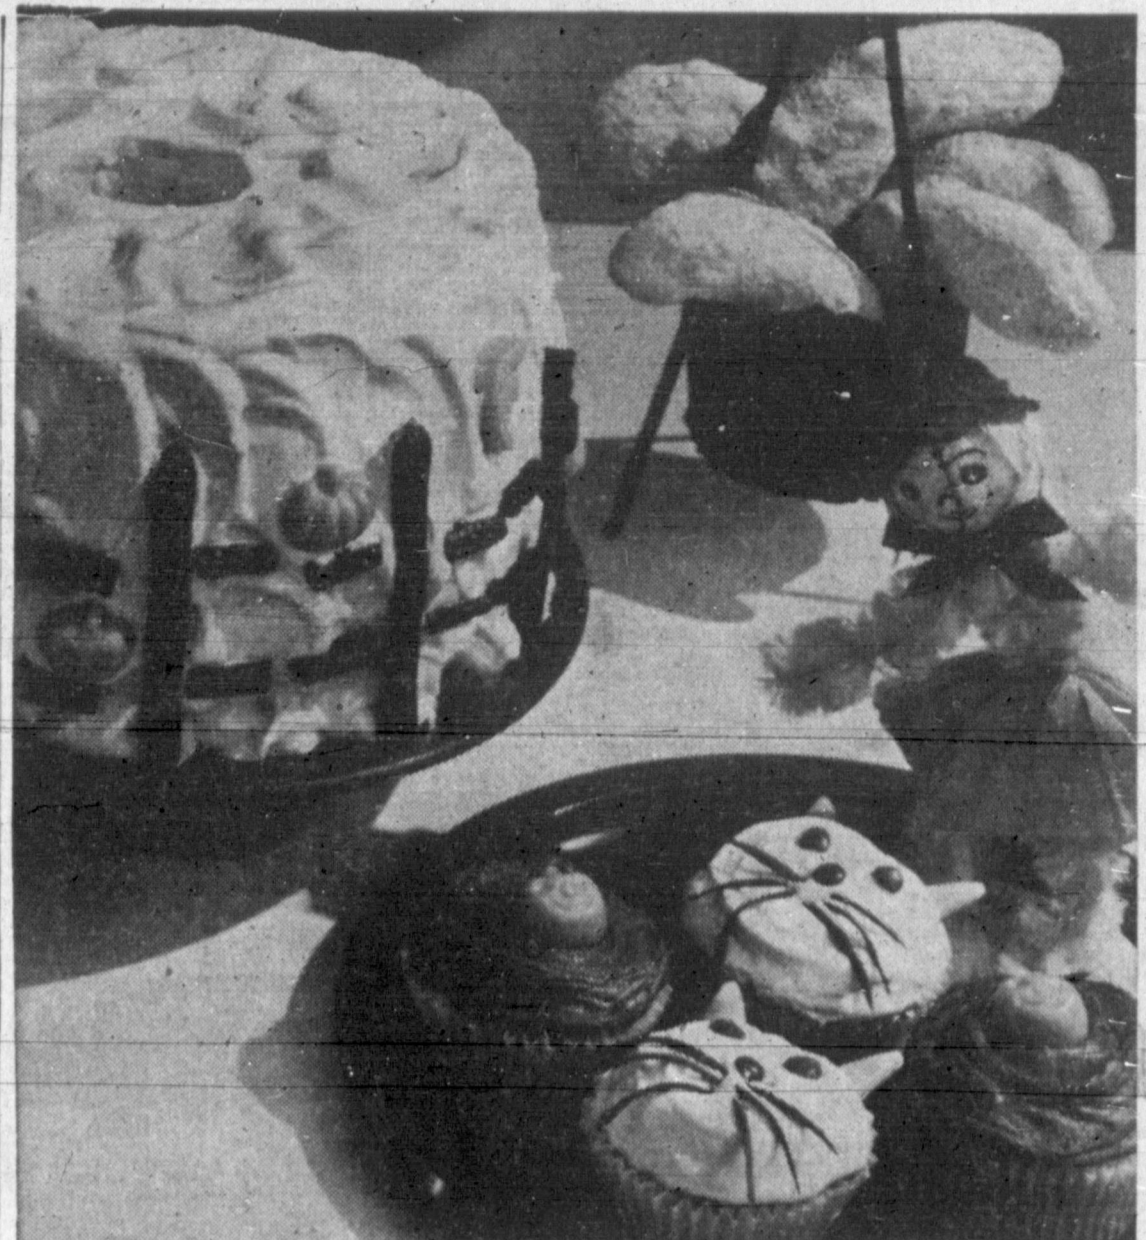

Coffee, represents the first major change in instant coffee containers since the product was first introduced in this country.

The striking, slimmer body of the jar is aesthetically pleasing as well as functional. It is easier to remove from the shelf and allows firmer gripping in subsequent handling. The smaller circumference gives the jar added height making it immediately recognizable on the shelf. Everything, from the gold and brown foil label to the convenient "twist-off" lid, is color-keyed to give Instant Maryland Club Coffee a uniquely chic appearance.

Maryland Club has long been associated with high fashion as a result of its presentation of original creations by the country's top designers in its consumer advertising. The introduction of the new instant coffee jar represents another fashionable "first" in Maryland Club Coffee's highly successful marketing history.

HOME-MADE BISCUIT MIX
 You can make your own biscuit mix to keep in the refrigerator for quick biscuits, muffins or gems. Recommended proportions are 8 cups sifted enriched flour, 1/4 cup baking powder, 4 teaspoons salt, 1 cup lard for soft wheat flour or 1 1/2 cups lard for hard wheat flour. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Cover closely and keep in refrigerator until needed. It may be kept at least a month.

PEACH AND CHUTNEY
 Serve chutney-filled cling peach halves hot or cold with chops, oysters or meat salads.

WITCHES, GOBLINS and such may howl on Halloween night - - but their howls will change to cries of delight when they see tempting treats like these, all made from Pillsbury's Orange Angel Food Cake Mix. P.S. They're fun to make, too!

You're right in expecting better taste from MARYLAND CLUB... and your expectation is richly fulfilled in this new and luxurious blend of rare, flavored coffees. But it's not vintage-type coffees alone that give this modern instant coffee an old-fashioned richness of flavor... it's also special blending and deep, deep percolation that make Instant MARYLAND CLUB the most distinguished coffee of our time

... the coffee you'd drink if you owned all the coffee in the world.

Beef Flavor Enhances That Of Vegetables

A recipe for cooking pot - roast, using the basic method of braising, and adding vegetables is suggested by Reba Staggs, expert in meat cookery.

MOM'S POT-ROAST
 3 to 4-pound beef blade pot roast
 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
 3 tablespoons flour
 3 teaspoons salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 teaspoon leaf thyme
 1/2 teaspoon savory
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 cup vinegar
 3 medium onions, sliced
 6 carrots, whole
 6 stalks celery, cut 3 to 4 inches long

Mix together flour, salt and pepper. Dredge pot - roast in seasoned flour. Save remaining seasoned flour for gravy. Brown meat on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add thyme, savory, water and vinegar. Cover tightly and simmer 2 1/2 hours. Add onions, carrots and celery and continue to simmer covered for 45 to 60 minutes, or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy, if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

NOTE ON KABOBS
 For kabobs (meat, vegetables and fruit threaded on skewers) for broiling choose food of approximately the same size so that it will cook in the same length of time. Meat suitable for kabobs includes cubes of lamb, cooked ham, tender steak, frankfurters and luncheon meat. Among vegetables are tomatoes, mushroom caps, green pepper cubes, precooked or canned tiny potatoes and onions. Pineapple chunks are also a popular addition.

This Way With Left-Overs Is Always Good

Shepherd's Pie makes a good luncheon dish, easily and quickly prepared. Reba Staggs, home economist, points out it is equally substantial for supper or dinner. With its taste - tempting blend of meat, vegetables and gravy, it is also one which most youngsters will enjoy.

SHEPHERD'S PIE
 2 cups diced cooked beef, veal, lamb or pork
 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
 3 tablespoons flour
 1 1/2 cups meat stock or bouillon
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes

TIME SAVER
 Separate ground beef during cooking with a potato masher when making chili, browning meat for casserole dishes, etc.

Melt lard or drippings and blend in flour. Add meat stock or bouillon, stirring constantly until thickened. Season. Add meat cubes and peas and pour into a casserole. Tube or spoon seasoned mashed potatoes around edge of casserole. Place in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until potatoes are browned. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Junior Music Clubs Convene To Name New Officers For Year

The Youth Melody Makers Club met recently in the home of their counselor, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, to elect new officers and complete plans for the Junior Music Convention to be held Saturday in Robert E. Lee Junior High School. Officers elected were Miss Johnnie Mitchell, president; Miss Joyce Prock, vice president; Miss Sue Ann Thompson, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Susie Fillman, reporter.

The club is composed of junior and senior high school piano students of Mrs. Yoder.

Attending the meeting, in addition to those mentioned above were, Misses Loretta and Joretta Baird, Beverly Langley, Jane Prock, Jo Hubbard, and Mrs. Chester Thompson.

Refreshments were served during the social hour following the meeting.

The Junior Melody Makers Club, composed elementary school age group of students of Mrs. Yoder, met recently in her home for an organizational meeting.

Dear Abby...

Thanks Expressed For 'Dear John' Letter

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Regarding your attitude about "Dear John" letters. You are wrong. It's better to write a fellow and tell him you want to break up with him than to let him come home expecting to find things as they were, and be disappointed.

I should know. I wrote a "Dear John", and when the fellow came home, he thanked me for it.

Why don't you ask the boys in the service if they would rather have a girl string them along by mail, or tell them the truth and break it off so the boy can find himself another girl?

DIANE

DEAR DIANE: Many boys in the service are in places where it is impossible to find themselves another girl — and those boys live for letters from the girls they left behind. If a girl has promised to keep that promise.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 19 and away at school. She writes that she is going with a man who teaches Judo. We are good Christians. Are we wrong for wanting her to go with people of her own faith?

K. H. V.

DEAR MRS. K.H.V.: JUDO is short for JIJITSU—the art of self-defense without weapons. Better check the man's spiritual weapons.

DEAR ABBY: The other morning I went out to get my mail and

I saw my neighbor standing in her yard watering her flowers. I said, "Good morning, Mrs. —." She looked straight at me, turned her back and went into her house.

The next day she called me up and asked if I wanted some fresh vegetables from her garden. I thanked her and refused politely. I feel very hurt. I am not a gossip. I need friends because I am a lonely widow. Do you blame me?

"SNUBBED"

DEAR SNUBBED: If your neighbor deliberately "snubbed" you, I doubt if she would have called the next day. Perhaps she did not see or hear you. Or possibly she had something weighing on her mind and her thoughts were miles away. You should have accepted the vegetables and dropped the grudge.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column about the 21-year-old girl with 3 babies who is trying to decide whether to divorce her husband because he isn't ready to settle down yet. Well, I had exactly the same problem. I've been married for two years and have two babies, and I am in the middle of getting a divorce for the same reason. I am 19 and my husband is 19. What hurts most is that the two babies are the ones who will suffer. I thought I was ready for marriage at 17, but how wrong I was! (By the way, we ran away and got married which is the worst mistake a girl can make.) I hope you'll print this, teen of 17 from rushing into marriage. It might keep lovesick teen of 17 from rushing into marriage.

Undefeated Miami Warriors Lead Area Gridders Into Action

One of the two undefeated area teams will be idle tomorrow night, but the other — Miami — will be favored to win its sixth straight eight-man game when it plays Booker for the second time this season.

Miami's Warriors downed Booker, the first time and they are picked to repeat the win when the two clash tomorrow night in Miami.

White Deer (5-0) has an open date this weekend after bouncing previously-unbeaten Shamrock last week, 42-12. The Bucks meet unbeaten Stinnett, Class-A's top team Oct. 14 in Stinnett in a game which will decide the District 5-A champion — and possible state title holder.

Lefors has the unfortunate task of playing Stinnett's Rattlers tomorrow, and White Deer partisans will be watching the game with more than casual interest.

The Bucks defeated Lefors, 38-0, earlier in the year and Buck supporters expect Stinnett to try to top that margin for psychological reasons.

As far as the Miami-Booker game is concerned, the Warriors' easy handling of Darrouzett last week has stamped Miami as the district choice.

The Warriors held a 12-0 half-time lead and exploded in the second half to win going away, 44-6, with Darrouzett's lone score coming late in the fourth quarter.

Warrior Coach Bill Lines is hoping that Quarterback Gerald Anderson can repeat last week's showing when Booker comes to town.

Against Darrouzett, Anderson threw three touchdown passes and scored three others in turning the game into a rout.

Anderson will be aided greatly by Tom Hollis who gained 85 yards last week but had two touchdowns called back, Paul Thompson and Tuck Seitz.

Miami linemen who will see extended duty will be Don McLaughlin, Randy Day, James Strong, Dennis Burnett and Mark Arrington.

With Quarterback Ken Wellington at Claude last week, meets Wellington at McLean tomorrow night in its last game before it enters District 2-A play where the Tigers are defending champs.

ham ready for extended action, after being out of the first three games because of a dislocated shoulder, McLean will be the favorite to win.

The Tigers' scoring punch will come from Wellington and Danny Woods. Against Claude, Watson scored on plays from 11 and 3 yards out to spark the upset.

Class AAA Perryton, trying to forget its 31-0 licking at the hands of Philips last week, faces a tough Dumas foe tomorrow at Perryton.

The Rangers will have to receive above-average performances from backs Raymond McGarrah, Tim Wright and Butch Cook to stay in the ball game with Dumas.

Canadian, which fell to Stinnett, 46-0, two weeks ago and then was upset by Panhandle, 14-0, last week hosts Spearman in a non-conference tilt.

The Wildcats were favored to win District 2-A but have had rough sledding to date and have a 1-4 record. The only win was over Wheeler in the opening game.

Coach Grady Burnett probably will start a backfield of Terry Brown, quarterback; Delayne Stephenson and Ron Summers at halfbacks and Sparky Eckles at fullback.

The Wildcats line is headed by Center Glen Hostutler and Tackle John Rodgers.

Wheeler, fresh from a 16-16 tie with Estelline, meets Boys Ranch tomorrow at Wheeler.

The Mustangs, of Class B, will have their work cut out for them against the Ranchers and will have to rely on Halfbacks Jim Jolley and Baker to pull out the win.

Groom, 32-0 victim of Gruver last week, is idle tomorrow night.

Bucs Go For Second Series Win

NY Waits For Pirates In Stadium

By JOHN CARROLL
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The New York Yankees, down one game to the Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series, sounded the rallying call "beat 'em here today and then get 'em good in the Yankee Stadium."

Elston Howard, who gave manager Casey Stengel some solace by hitting a two-run pinch homer in the ninth inning of Wednesday's opener, predicted the Pirates would have a lot more trouble hitting in the Bronx ball park than they do in Forbes Field.

"The background here is great for hitting," Howard said in the quiet confines of the New York clubhouse after the Yanks had lost 6-4. "Yankee Stadium will be a lot tougher on the Pirates. Those shadows kill you."

Bobby Richardson, who along with shortstop Tony Kubek figured in Wednesday's "who's covering second" incident that helped Pittsburgh to a three-run first inning, was happy the "bad" game was over.

"So our 15-game winning streak is over... we'll start a new one with the second Series game," he said confidently.

He admitted he and Kubek "got our signals mixed up" on the costly first inning play that came on a delayed steal by Pirate centerfielder Bill Virdon. Virdon wound up on third, the Pirates wound up with three runs and the Yankee catcher Yogi Berra nearly wound up the goat.

The official scorekeepers first charged Berra with an error, but an hour after the game made a correction and pinned the tag on Kubek.

"I just threw at the bag on that one. It's up to the infield to cover. I don't know what happened. You'd better ask someone else," Yogi said.

The interrogation shifted to Richardson and he was willing to share the blame with Kubek.

"I guess both of us (he and Kubek) thought the other would take the bag," he said. "Something like that doesn't happen very often."

Kubek said:

"The scouts told us (Dick Groat would hit the ball every time on a play like that and we were playing him in to hit right."

But the foul-up at second base didn't have Stengel as heated as the Yankees' opening day pitchers. Although not mentioning him by name, loser Art Ditmar caught a bit of Stengelese fire.

BOB SKINNER, BOB FRIEND AND DICK STUART... big three go for Pirate's second victory

Turley Is Crucial Second Game Choice

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The brash Buccaneers of Pittsburgh, now 6-5 betting favorites to beat their old tormentors, the New York Yankees, sent out 18-game winner Bob Turley today in hopes of seizing a 2-0 stranglehold on the 1960 World Series.

The Yankees called on Bob Turley, a nine-game winner who isn't the star he used to be, in hopes of winning the second game of the Series and going home to New York for the next three games all even.

Turley was the man who saved the Yankees' World Series bacon in 1958 when he won two of the last three games and saved the other as the Yankees came from behind to beat the Braves.

But Turley has only a 9-3 record this year and isn't firing the bullets of 1958. Friend, with an 18-12 record, was the Pirates' second best pitcher this year behind Vern Law, who was the winning hurler in the 6-4 Pittsburgh victory Wednesday.

That win changed the betting odds on the Series from 7-5 favoring the Yankees to 6-5 favoring the Pirates. Today's game was even money.

Goets With Turley

"I've gotta go with Turley because I want (Whitey) Ford for the third game when we play in New York on Saturday," Stengel explained.

"I had thought about giving (Jim) Coates the second game starting job but that went down the drain when I had to call on him for relief yesterday."

Manager Danny Murtaugh, who led the Pirates to their first National League pennant triumph in 33 years and ended a 35-year World Series drought for them with Wednesday's victory, did not agree with most of his players who figured that they have the Yankees on the run.

"They'll take a lot of beating," Murtaugh predicted. "If it hadn't been for that catch by Bill Virdon, they might have beaten us yesterday."

The tobacco-chewing former major league second baseman said he definitely had decided to start southpaw Vinegar Bend Mizell in the third game Saturday. Friday will be an off day for travel.

The last time the Pirates won a World Series game was back in 1925 when they beat the Washington Senators and Walter Johnson. They had been in only one Series since then, up to this year. That was in 1927 when they dropped four in a row to the Yankees.

"Well, at least that can't happen again," Murtaugh grinned.

Murtaugh not only lauded Virdon, but also the pitching of Law, his 20-game winner, and relief ace Elroy Face and the play of shortstop Dick Groat, the National League batting champion, and second baseman Bill Mazeroski.

Law held the Yankees to eight hits and two runs before he tired in the eighth. Murtaugh took him out after he yielded singles to Hector Lopez and Roger Maris. That's when Face took over, and although touched for a two-run homer by pinch-hitter Elston Howard in the ninth inning, managed to close the door on the Yankees bid for a come-from-behind triumph.

BILL VIRDON... all in the game

Buc Star Says Catch 'Enjoyable'

By RUDY CERKOVIC
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Bill Virdon said "it was not my greatest catch but it certainly was the most enjoyable."

Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh said Virdon's tremendous catch of Yogi Berra's 425-foot fly ball to right center in the fourth inning was the key play in Pittsburgh's 6-4 victory over the Yankees in the opener of the 1960 World Series.

"Yogi whaled the daylight out of that ball," said Murtaugh. "But Bill got us out of a big inning."

Virdon, once Yankee property, took off when Berra smacked a pitch from Vernon Law with two men on. Roberto Clemente "accompanied" Virdon and they collided just as Virdon made a one-handed catch.

"I had a bead on the ball all the way and yelled to Clemente," Bill said. "If I hadn't got it I knew Clemente could have it."

Virdon said he suffered a slight spike wound on the right leg in the collision.

Despite the handicap of having his right thigh heavily taped because of an injury, Virdon also turned in the first Pirate run with his speed. The leadoff batter drew a walk in the first inning, stole second, took third on Tony Kubek's error and scored on Dick Groat's double.

"It was a delayed steal," Bill said. "I went after the motion of the pitcher (Art) Ditmar."

Groat, who had two hits, said Elroy Face's relief pitching, Virdon's catch and Bill Mazeroski's two-run homer, were the high points of the game. Law allowed back-to-back singles to Hector Lopez and Roger Maris with none out in the eighth. When Face came in from the bullpen with Mickey Mantle waiting at the plate, Elroy struck out the famed Yankee hitter with a fork ball and got Berra out on a fly to right.

Murtaugh walked to the mound after Moose Skowron came up to bat. "Danny told me to strike out Skowron," Face said. "So I got him swinging out on a high fast ball."

Face threw only 14 pitches in the eighth inning.

TCU Victory Preps Hogs For Baylor

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

Coach Frank Broyles is having trouble with Arkansas fans' at Fayetteville...but he doesn't mind too much.

"I can't get the people up here to quit playing the TCU game (which the Razorbacks won 7-0)," he said. "I am trying to make them forget TCU and start getting ready for Baylor."

"This is a make-or-break game for us, and for Baylor, too."

Broyles plans to have one change in his starting lineup—Jarrell Williams will start against the Bears in place of his twin brother, Darrell, at halfback.

"We alternate them—for they are twins all the way—in ability, too," Broyles said.

Baylor Coach John Bridgers said he doesn't plan to make any shifts, although maybe he ought to start the second team instead of the first.

"The first team got beat at Baton Rouge (against LSU), but the second team won," Bridgers chuckled.

Baylor worked on offense again Wednesday with the first two units giving special attention to timing drills, then broke off into a review of defensive techniques against Arkansas patterns.

Broyles wasn't too happy with the Porkers' workout. He said too many players were making errors on offensive assignments.

He pointed out Baylor lines up in the basic 5-4-2 and 6-3-2 defensive formations, but then shifts into many variations which tend to mix up blocking assignments.

"All we can do is work harder and try to get the boys to think about these defenses," he said.

The Hogs begin to taper off today, and will do little more than loosen up Friday.

Coach DeWitt Weaver had Texas Tech polishing up some new offensive plays for TCU. He spent a lot of time passing, and said quarterbacks John Lovelace and Glen Amerson were hitting their targets well. Dan Gurley, Tech's standout halfback who has missed the first three games with a leg injury, was running full speed or pass defense, and is expected to be in action against the Frogs.

Texas spent considerable time on its punting, a weak spot so far this season and blamed by Coach Darrell Royal for the Steers' opening loss to Nebraska.

Starting center Bill Laughlin rejoined the team after a short bout with strep throat, and Royal said he would be ready for Oklahoma Saturday in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas A&M Coach Jim Meyer promoted tackle Joe Eilers to the starting lineup for the Houston clash, and said quarterback Ronnie Briece looked great in lengthy passing drill.

Snappy Workouts Gear Pampa For Monterey

After three days of extended work, Coach Babe Curfman planned to send his Pampa Harvesters charges through a limited non-contact drill this afternoon in preparation for tomorrow night's game with Lubbock Monterey in the Hub City.

The game will be played at 7:30 in newly-renovated Jones Stadium on the Texas Tech campus.

Curfman was pleased with yesterday's brisk two and a half hour workout but still wanted the Harvesters to put on pads today.

"With as much practice as we need, we can't miss a day," Curfman said. "We'll go through our game aspects but there'll be no hitting."

Yesterday, the Harvesters worked on kick-off and punt returns, pass defense and blocking assignments in what Curfman called a "good" drill.

Curfman was not worried about the Harvesters' being mentally ready for the game.

"These boys have been 'mean' this week," Curfman said yesterday. "Some of them have been running all over the field looking for someone to hit."

Curfman's words were borne out in yesterday's snappy workout. More than once Harvesters coaches had to remind boys that it was a non-contact drill as an aggressive blocker would floor a defender with a teeth-rattling block and get up and hit another man before Curfman could make his whistle heard.

The burly coach took time to single out Butch Crossland as one of the best defensive backs he had ever seen in high school football.

"Crossland makes tackles on the line and the next play, he's on the other side of the field on a tackle in the secondary," Curfman said. "He seems to know where the ball is and—even better—he likes to play."

And, with injuries riddling the Harvesters' front-line starters, Crossland will get his chance against Monterey. He's slated for double duty: quarterback in place of Roy Don Stephens who will be sidelined with a bum knee, and defensive halfback.

Another big loss to the Pampa hopes was the news that big Randy Matson, the 6'3" 189-pound end, will be out for at least three weeks because of a broken right foot.

Matson broke the appendage on the first play of the third quarter against Tascosa last Friday night and his absence will be felt against Monterey.

Others in sweat suits yesterday were End Jimmy Storms, who ran into a blocking sled last week and whose leg injury has not healed properly; Wingback Jimmy Crouch who still is out with a separated collar bone; and Sherrill Miller who has a charley horse.

Miller and Storms, however, should be able to play extensively tomorrow night.

Hard-Luck Plainsmen Ready For Harvesters

LUBBOCK — It'll be unofficial "Monterey Win Night" tomorrow when the luckless Monterey Plainsmen host Pampa's Harvesters at 7:30 p.m. in Jones Stadium.

Monterey, smarting from two consecutive one-point losses, will be out to win their first District 3-4A contest and it can't think of a better place to start than with Pampa's winless team.

The Plainsmen, district co-champions in 1959, have been getting a taste of their own medicine this year. Dubbed the "Cardiac Kids" last year when they won four games — three in conference action — by one-point margins, they have now lost to Odessa Permian, 7-6, and Midland, 14-13, in successive games.

Last year, Monterey beat Midland, 7-6; Pampa, 7-6; Tascosa, 28-7, and Borger, 22-21.

The Plainsmen do have one victory to their credit, a 14-0 win over Fort Worth Poly. However, despite two losses, the Hub-City crew has rolled up 869 yards in total yardage while holding their three foes to 378 yards.

Primarily a running team, Monterey can — and will — throw the ball often. Quarterback James Ellis has thrown 34 times and completed 16 for 212 yards and is the team's total offense leader with 275 yards on 56 plays. Against Midland, Ellis threw TD heaves of 29 and 38 yards to speedy Halfback Ronald Bandy, who — naturally — is the team's leading receiver with 107 yards.

On the running side of the ledger, Fullback Butch Thompson, 185 pounds, is the top rusher with 193 yards on 53 carries or 3.8 yards per carry.

However, to date, Monterey has had trouble scoring when it moves the ball deep in opponents' territory. Against Permian, the Plainsmen moved within the 20 five times before they scored. And, in the Midland game, Monterey was inside the Bulldogs 10-yard line three times — and never scored.

Defensively, the Plainsmen have been hard to run over. Sparkplugs of the line have been Clive Lankford, 175-pound tackle; Dale Harris, 190-pound guard, and a 205-pound mountain that goes by the name of Tommy Ashton.

The Plainsmen came out of the Midland game in fairly good shape. Bandy saw only limited action last week due to a bad knee, and Halfback Winston Clark turned up with a bad ankle. However, Joe Viney, starting halfback who missed the Midland game because of a leg injury, was pronounced ready this week and will be starting in Clark's place tomorrow night.

Monterey worked hard this week to curtail the powerful running of Pampa Fullback Steve Dobbins, whom Coach Bill DuBose feels is the man to be stopped if Monterey is to start its district slate on a winning note.

Parachuting Fan Misses

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Fireman Jack Heatherington, 30, made a pretty good stab at becoming the first baseball fan to crash a World Series game by way of a parachute leap.

He failed by a stone's throw, landing on the roof of a warehouse across the street from Forbes Field just a few minutes before the start of Wednesday's Series opener.

The fans in crowded Forbes Field gaped in disbelief as they saw Heatherington leap from a light plane, and watched his pink parachute open and drift across the ballpark to the rooftop across the street.

Heatherington, of nearby McKeesport, Pa., a fireman by profession and parachutist by hobby, told police he had bet that if the Pirates won the pennant he would parachute into the ballpark in a World Series game.

He lost the bet. He didn't see the game. And it cost him $100 to obtain his release from police custody—the price of the bond he posted for a hearing today.

Potent Wogs Top Fish, 12-0

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The talented Texas Christian freshman football team, led by the standout defensive play of center Kenneth Henson of San Angelo, drubbed the Texas A&M fish Wednesday night 12-0 before 25,000 fans, the largest crowd ever to see a college freshman game in Fort Worth.

Fast Nag Cops Race

By United Press International

Ruff Acres Farm's Alerted Girl finished second in the $16,550 Home Bred Handicap on the Atlantic City race track's closing day, but still walked off with the top prize.

P. & W. Stable's Anna Dee, who defeated Alerted Girl by a nose, was disqualified by the stewards for brushing Alerted Girl twice in the stretch. Alerted Girl was awarded the victory and Anna Dee was placed second.

Alerted Girl, in scoring her fourth triumph in 17 starts this year, paid $3.80 for $2. Bill Hartack was the winning jockey.

At Belmont Park, Big Effort gave it just that in defeating Warlike by a head in the Cedar Creek Purse. Pepper Patch, a 30-1 shot, finished third, almost two lengths farther back.

Big Effort was clocked in 1:38 1-5 for the mile test and paid $4.70.

Daily News, Caudill finished up his stand in good shape, picking 28 winners for a respectable .878 average while sport editor Arthur Mayhew was a close second with 27 winners for a .843 mark. Wilson could muster only 23 winners to finish out of the running.

This week's picks are much harder. Wedgeworth's upset is SMU over Navy; West likes Arizona over Florida; but he refused to stick his neck out in the big game; Concordia vs. St. Procopius. Mayhew, a Tech graduate, sees TCU down from last week's losing effort to Arkansas and a upset victim of the Red Raiders.

Two Lee Teams Travel For Important Games

Undeclared Rebel 7th, Houston Vie

Robert E. Lee's seventh grade Rebels, the only undefeated team in Pampa schoolboy circles, will be shooting for its third straight win when they travel to Borger tomorrow for a 4 p.m. game with Borger Houston.

Last week, Lee disposed of another Borger team—Austin—by a 16-12 count and rolled up ten first downs to Austin's four. The game was marked with long runs, with Pampa and Borger each reeling off 65-yard touchdown gallops. Lee's other win was over Pampa Junior High's seventh grade, 24-0.

Coach Joe Perryman shaped up his defense this week in anticipation of a rugged game. He said his blocking in the Austin contest was the best of the year.

Perryman singled out Halfback Lewis Meers as the man to watch in tomorrow's contest. At 132 pounds, Meers runs hard and is a tough man to bring down.

Other probable starters for the Rebs are Terry Bird, right end; Wayne Hill, right guard; Bill Quarrels, right tackle; Steve Martin, center; Dan Patterson, left guard; Jimmy Robertson, left tackle; and Nolan Ellis, left end.

In the Rebel backfield, Kenneth McWilliams will direct the team at quarterback; Larry Daniels will be a fullback and Gary Crossland and Meers will be at the halfback posts.

KC Hires Gordon

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — It took Joe Gordon just two days to find another job as a major league manager.

Gordon, who resigned Monday as manager of the Detroit Tigers, signed Wednesday to manage the Kansas City Athletics the next two seasons. The A's finished last in the American League this year.

Gordon apparently knew he had the Kansas City job for the asking. General manager Parke Carroll revealed the club wanted to hire him last year when he appeared on his way out at Cleveland. But Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane rehired him then in a surprise move.

Gordon demanded a three-year contract with the Athletics but settled for a two-year agreement when Carroll pleaded that "the club is in the process of being sold."

Lee Eighth Seeks Win At Dumas

With a double motive for victory, Robert E. Lee's Rebels — eighth grade variety — traverse to Dumas tomorrow for a "must" game with Dumas' eighth graders at 4 p.m.

The Rebels are 0-2 for the season and need, for morale purposes, a win. Also, Dumas was the only team to defeat Lee last year in conference play.

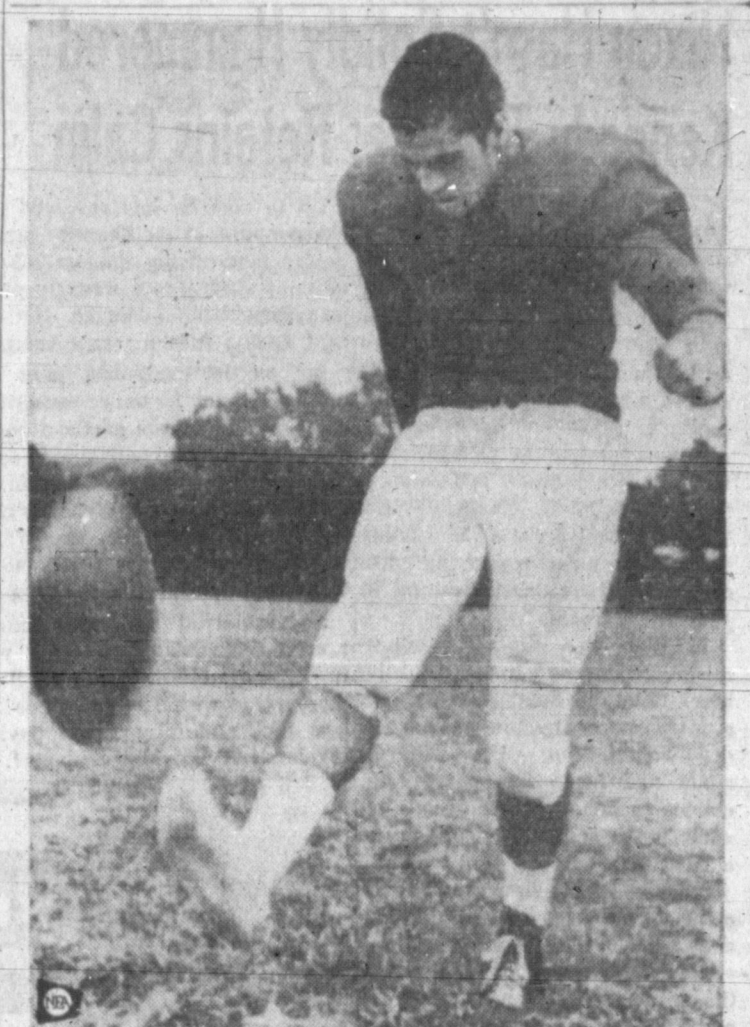

Lee was shut out, 20-0, last week by Borger Austin and blanked 6-0 by Perryton in its first game. In the Austin game, Coach Bill Kennedy had both his fullbacks hurt early in the game and had to rely on a halfback to run at the full slot.

But, Kennedy said yesterday that his injuries had mended and that "we plan to bring this one home."

The Rebels hope to find their scoring punch this week with a backfield of Quarterback Johnny Robinson and Halfbacks Ronnie Klein and San Williams. Operating at Fullback will be Terry Criss.

The starting Lee lineup will average 129 pounds per man.

BAREFOOT BOY — Tony Crosby, University of Texas freshman gragger, boots the football high and long with his stocking foot. The unorthodox kicker meets the ball with toes turned up so the sole of the foot makes contact. It could set a whole new trend in kicking — if his foot can hold out.

Pampa Leads In Punting

Although blanked 20-0 in their opening conference game with Tascosa, Pampa's Harvesters ranked first in punting and high in four other categories according to official district statistics released today.

Pampa, due to the talented toe of Roy Don Stephens, paced five other district opponents with a 36.6 average for five punts.

In other classifications, the Harvesters were second in pass defense, allowing only 25 yards in their opener, and third in rushing (175), third in rushing defense (171), and third in total defense (196).

Otherwise, Borger's Bulldogs, district favorites of 3-4A, dominated the first week's statistics.

Coach Gene Mayfield's Bulldogs lead in rushing with 319 yards and total offense with 346 yards after one game. Individually, Glenn Wooley of Borger tops the list in total offense (147), and rushing (124). Phillip Hardin, another member of the explosive Borger backfield, leads in scoring with 12 points.

Lubbock Monterey and Tom S. Lubbock are not included in today's figures because neither played district foes last week.

Nixon Hasn't Solidly Hammered Kennedy To Date; Retains Calm

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Enroute with Nixon (NEA) — Vice President Nixon, entering the critical campaign month, holds thus far to a surprisingly soft attack in a presidential struggle ranked among the toughest of the century.

A past master in politics, contesting another expert in Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Vice President presses for winning votes in the quiet, reassuring tones of the family counselor sitting in your living room.

In a border city's uncompromising noontime sun, in the black mud of South Dakota, in a Midwestern stadium on a cool, dewy night, the GOP nominee again and again lets pass the chance to mount the smashing assault most politicians look for in a hard test.

But as he talks simply and earnestly to big, responsive audiences around the country, Nixon serves a higher strategy: to gain the trademark of popular trust and the mantle of national leadership by the only means he believes will work for him. Other paths seem blocked, and even the one he has chosen is strewn with difficulties.

He must combat a determined but unmeasured band of anti-Nixon voters, some critical of his earlier campaigns, some unable to explain their disenchantment.

As President Eisenhower's heir, must present himself both as conservator of the Republican record and builder of a new one.

He must display his party label and yet crook a beckoning finger at the millions of Democrats and Independents he needs to win.

He has to promise forward motion without seeming to take the same route as Kennedy. To this end, he seeks to shove his rival out of the middle of the road and onto the left shoulder.

Nixon believes he can surmount all these hazards if he can continue to sharpen the already widely accepted image of himself as a man who can "handle" Nikita Khrushchev without leading the free world to either war or surrender. And in somehow suggest that Kennedy's pursuit of that aim he must somehow suggest that Kennedy's 43 years are a generation apart from his own 47.

Up to now he has reserved his sharper attacks on Kennedy largely for fund-raising dinners where he talks strictly to a strongly partisan Republican audience. His recent Boston speech was a sample.

But as the campaign gains intensity, Nixon is under mounting pressure from these partisan quarters to cut loose with some Sunday punching. Charges are flung that he's "me-tooing" Kennedy and trying to "tip-toe" into the White House. Thus far the GOP nominee has resisted these demands.

No impartial observer dares predict Nixon's strategy will finally pay off in victory. But most agree with him that it is his best tack and is currently paying dividends in wide voter support.

Nixon works an 18-hour day at grueling speed, hopping thousands of miles a week by plane to make his case for leadership with thousands of American voters.

The available evidence to date indicates he is running up a heavy score, which could pile up to victory proportions.

Standing in a city square amid a shouting, confetti-tossing crowd, his ski-slope nose and thinning black hair drawing the warm response of the familiar, Nixon begins with disarming irrelevancies:

"Our plane was late. We had a little weather up there and had to circle. . . Pat says I need a haircut, but I haven't time. . . I see you beat your football rivals 29 to 0. . . Those are mighty nice campaign signs you've got out there. . ."

The talk is small; the purpose is big. To identify with his audience, to establish a kind of personal good neighbor policy, to dissolve some of that anti-Nixon feeling and to clear the way for the major thrust: his eight years with Mr. Eisenhower as a foreign policy consultant, adviser, traveler; and his four hours with Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow. Of the Soviet Premier, Nixon says:

"I know this man. I know the type he is, and his colleagues. They understand strength. They have only contempt for weakness."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

A glimmer of hope has appeared that order might eventually emerge from chaos in the Congo. This glimmering emerges from two sources—the Congolese capital of Leopoldville and from the United Nations in New York.

From Leopoldville comes word of steadily mounting defections among the followers of sometime Premier Patrice Lumumba. A trickle swelled to a stream with a report of the wholesale defection of 29 of the 44 senators and deputies from Lumumba's own eastern province.

They denounced him as a Communist attempting a dictatorship by terror.

Last July 1 when the former Belgian Congo emerged as an independent state and Lumumba as its premier, the capricious former beer salesman and embezzler held his office only by the slimmest of margins brought about by a shaky coalition.

Of 137 votes in the Congolese House of Representatives, Lumumba received 74.

The coalition long since has disappeared and the mounting opposition to Lumumba assures that he no longer could obtain the necessary majority in Parliament.

There remains another step. This was proposed by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru in his attempt before the United Nations General Assembly to moderate the chilling winds of the cold war. No leader should be imposed on the Congolese people, he said. Rather, he should be a man selected by the Congo's own Parliament.

The United Nations, he said, should work toward a revival of Parliament as quickly as possible.

With a successor to Lumumba legally elected by Parliament, last ground would be cut from Soviet claim that Lumumba remains the legal premier of Congo.

It was on the basis of this claim that the Russians attempt to by-pass the United Nations and send aid direct to Lumumba, who had proved their willing stooge.

It also formed the basis of the attack upon Secretary of State Dag Hammarskjöld and of the demands that he resign.

It also was the basis of the charge that Hammarskjöld supported colonialism by failing to use U. N. troops to keep Lumumba in office.

The charge was so obvious, false, and Hammarskjöld's neutrality and determination not to interfere in the internal affairs of a state were so well known that the Russian charge received serious support only from the Communist bloc.

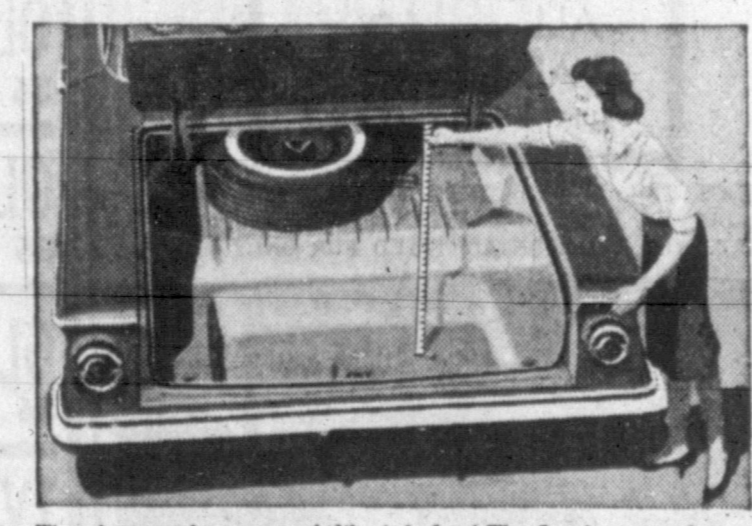

TOMORROW THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. A car so right for you in so many ways that once you compare it with the rest of the crop you'll agree nothing else near the money measures up to it.

We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to expect. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot—to form a deep well for holding things you used to leave home. Packing's easier, too—the loading height is as much as 10 1/4 inches lower.

27-Man Invasion Force In Clash With Cubans

HAVANA (UPI) — The Cuban government announced today that a 27-man invasion force, including three Americans, landed in eastern Cuba Tuesday and clashed 24 hours later with the Cuban military.

The announcement said the leader of the invaders was killed, two others were captured and Cuban soldiers were chasing the other 24 in the rugged country of Oriente province.

The communique charged the invaders came from the United States and that they carried an American flag which was captured in Wednesday's encounter.

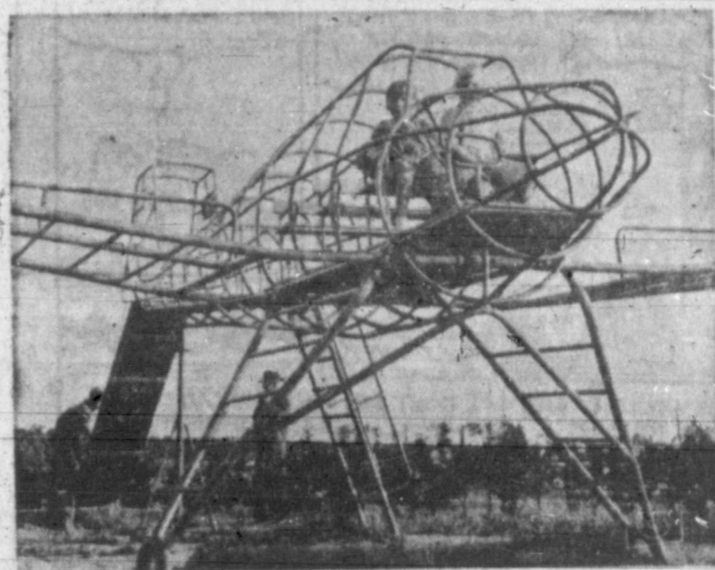

"The rest of the group will not be able to escape the pursuit of the revolutionary army and the peasant militia in that zone," the communique said.

It was in the mountains of Oriente that Fidel Castro launched the revolution that ousted the regime of Fulgencio Batista on Jan. 1, 1959.

The government said the 27-man expeditionary force landed at Navas Bay, between Moa and Baracoa, at the extreme northeastern tip of Oriente. The communique did not say how they landed, whether by boat or plane.

Army troops and members of Castro's "people's militia" were rushed to the area and engaged the invaders at a place called Hiram de Nibujon, the government said.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy were in Ohio this week for another shot at the state's 25 electoral votes.

The consensus is that the big state still is to be won and that the issues, in addition to those which are key questions everywhere, are religion, unemployment, and party organization.

Both candidates drew record crowds in Ohio last week and left leaders in both parties predicting victory. But the party leaders advised the candidates they had better come back into Ohio as often as possible.

Voter registration is at a record high. This indicates Ohio will cast more than four million votes for the first time on Nov. 8. It is impossible to tell party strength on the registration figures because voters do not have to give their party when registering and because registration is not statewide.

Both parties, however, see advantages for them in the big registration.

Democrats point out that registration is up in the big cities, usually Democratic areas.

Republicans feel the Democrats hit their peak two years ago when organized labor made its biggest drive to get out the vote against a right to work proposal. Persons who registered two years ago are still on the rolls and did not need to register again this year.

Was Hot Issue

The right to work issue was the hottest issue in Ohio in many years. It was credited with bringing out a big labor vote which defeated the issue and swept Democrats into control of state governor for the first time in 10 years.

But with all the heat the right to work issue created, the vote was 365,000 less than in 1956 when President Eisenhower carried Ohio by 800,000 over Adlai E. Stevenson.

It is agreed generally that the persons who voted for Ike in 1956 but stayed home in 1958 when the right to work issue and state offices were at stake were Republicans and independents. Republicans feel that if they get those voters out again they will win. They have worked hard to stir these groups in the small towns where organization work is not publicized as much as union political activity in the cities.

The religious question raised by Kennedy's Catholicism has received a lot of attention.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, a Catholic supporting Kennedy, said he found it an issue "everywhere." In his visits to county fairs, Lausche, winner of six of seven statewide races, reported he found the people reluctant to talk presidential politics. He said he felt there was a bigger percentage of voters still trying to make up their minds than usual at this stage of the campaign.

Issues Outlined

The question has been discussed in a number of Sunday schools and in sermons. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, devoted about half of his two Ohio speeches to the matter.

Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman said he found religion more of an issue than anticipated. But he predicted its importance as a factor in the election would become less and less as the election drew near.

Unemployment likely will be a big issue in some areas, especially in the steel cities such as Cleveland, Youngstown, Warren, and Lorain—all traditional Democratic.

The farm issue is not a hot one in Ohio, although the state has a sizable number of farmers. Ohio farmers consistently have voted against various government farm programs and controls.

There have been several surveys of voter attitudes but most pollsters, including the Scripps-Howard newspapers, are waiting until mid-October before beginning their surveys.

The Cleveland Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, said it found that young persons registering to vote favored Kennedy and the older people liked Nixon. A survey the newspaper made in supermarkets showed the women favoring Kennedy.

Working Hard

The Cincinnati Enquirer found many young couples putting government fiscal policy at the top of the list of issues which would determine their vote. The Enquirer also found many residents of Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia who have moved into Ohio's industrial cities ready to jump from their ancestral voting habits to Nixon because they would not vote for a Catholic.

The state organizations are working hard for their party candidates. The Republican organization was for Nixon all the way. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was the first big state governor to support Kennedy. The Democratic Party in Ohio has about three warring factions but each of them seems to be trying to outdo the others in their support of Kennedy.

Both candidates will return to Ohio several times. Buckeye voters have never hesitated to cross party lines, never elect all state officials from the same party. The state voted for Eisenhower twice but went for President Truman over New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1948 by 7,000 votes. In the last 12 presidential elections, the state has split evenly between the two parties.

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR More space... more spunk and wagons, too!

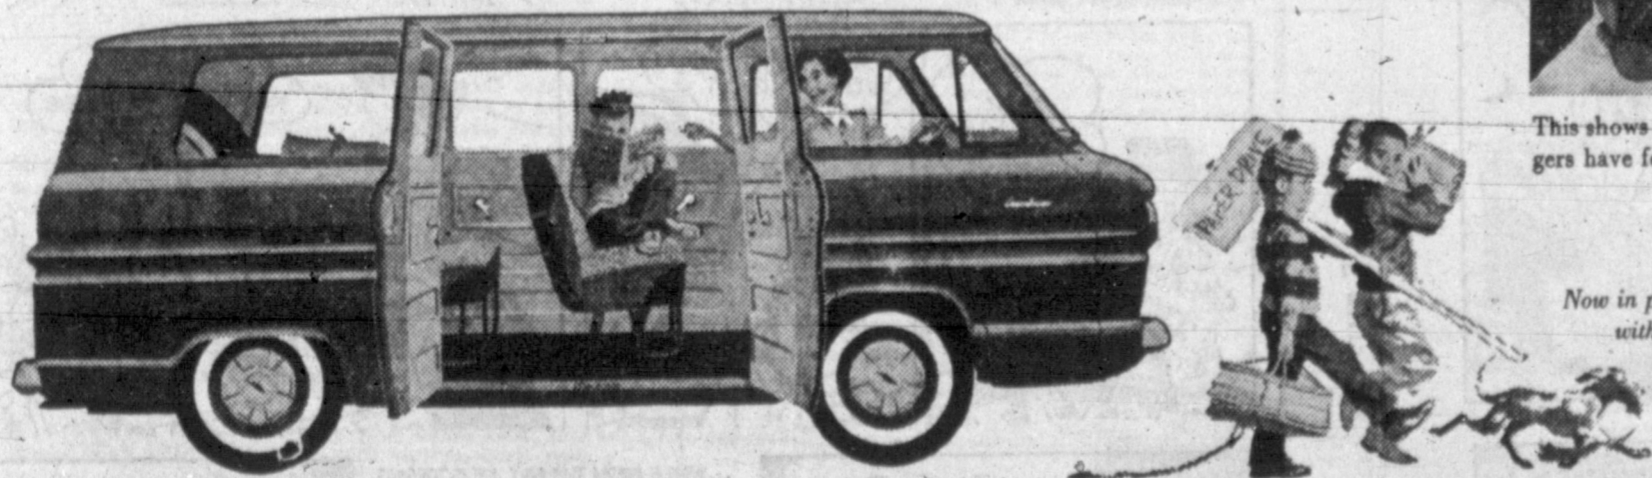

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON. Like all Corvairs, it's powered by a dependable air-cooled rear engine.

This sporty CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE gives you almost 12% more luggage space up front plus a longer range fuel tank.

You're looking at the handsome CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its Body by Fisher for more equal distribution of heat front and rear.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room for people and things as ordinary wagons (shown with optional-at-extra-cost third seat in position).

More room—more for you, more for your things. More dependable operation. Smarter, smoother styling. More miles per gallon. Wagons.

Corvair for '61: a complete line of complete thrift cars from Chevrolet.

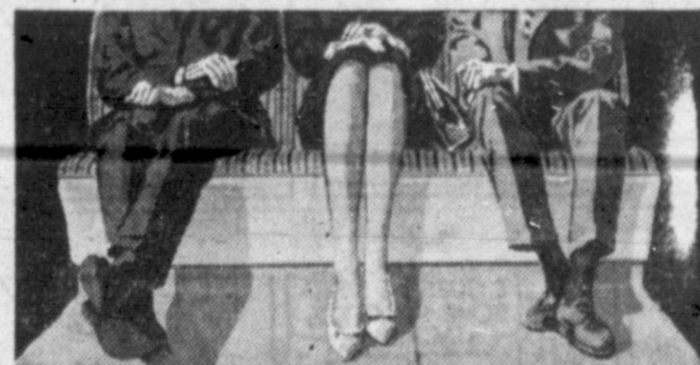

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon... quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner... a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other U.S. wagon going!

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

For 1961 Corvair put the spare tire in the rear in coupes and sedans—where it doesn't take up an inch of luggage space in the front compartment.

This shows you for sure who remembers that middle-seat passengers have feet, too. It's Corvair's practically flat floor.

UNITED NATIONS, (NEA) — "Nikita Khrushchev was ordered to kill the United Nations by the same men who ordered him to torpedo the Summit meeting in Paris last May."

The man who made this statement is one of the leading Western experts on communism who has studied every move made by the Soviet Premier since he came to the U.N.

He is convinced — and this is also the consensus of other U.N. experts on Russia — that nothing short of the resignation of Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld would make Khrushchev relax his pressure on the U.N. This, of course, would mean the West's capitulation and complete Soviet domination of the international organization.

Who are the men in the Kremlin who give Khrushchev orders? Who runs Russia while the Soviet Premier acts the role of communism's traveling salesman, giving balcony interviews and strutting like a pouter pigeon?

According to the Soviet experts Russia is now run by a triumvirate of the Communist Party's Central Committee members consisting of Mikhail Suslov, Frol Kozlov and Anastas Mikoyan.

However, it is 58-year-old Suslov, a dogmatic Stalinist who is said to have the support of Red China's Mao Tse-tung, who is emerging as the leading man in the Soviet hierarchy.

The new Kremlin alignment doesn't mean that Russia and China are any less the rivals in the struggle to control world communism. It simply means that those who advocate a "hard" line against the West enjoy, for the moment, ascendancy in both camps.

It was Suslov who last July announced Russia's new foreign policy which calls for the "encirclement of the West" and the destruction of the United Nations and all other international organizations which Russia cannot dominate.

Officially Khrushchev is still the "glavari," chieftain of the Kremlin junta that runs Russia and the East European satellite nations. But he no longer appears to command control of the Communist Party's Central Committee. He has been forced to bow to the demands of his opponents and go for a tougher line in foreign policy.

A Soviet official with whom I discussed Khrushchev's erratic behavior at the Summit meeting in Paris said:

"I know that the West will interpret Khrushchev's adamant position as a sign of strength, an act of courage. This will not be the first time the West completely misread events in Russia. Khrushchev is no Stalin. He is not the master of the Soviet but its public relations man."

KHRUSHCHEV 'WORKS' A RECEPTION: The salesman's some new bosses in the home office.

SOMEONE IN THIS AREA WILL WIN NEXT WINTER'S HEATING FUEL

Just tell us why you prefer to heat with —

GULF GULFTANE in 25 words or less!

HURRY! LAST DAYS TO ENTER!

LP-GAS BUTANE PROPANE

"Dependable, clean, and efficient." This is a brief but accurate description of Gulftane LP-Gas. But you can describe Gulftane fuel even better—and you have up to 25 words to do it! And a chance to win a winter's supply of Gulftane fuel!

No cost to enter—no obligation. Here's how—and good luck!

Tips to help you win

- There just isn't any fuel cleaner, more modern than Gulftane LP-Gas. It's healthful, even heat—no fumes, soot or oily film to cling to walls, woodwork and curtains.
- To heat with Gulftane LP-Gas for a whole winter, simply light your automatic heater, turn one knob, set one dial—and forget it.
- Also, Gulftane gives you oceans of hot water because modern gas water heaters deliver three times as much 160° F. hot water as the larger electric water heaters.
- All these advantages can be yours with Gulftane LP-Gas wherever you live. You have your own fuel supply to keep you snug and happy, even in "lines down" weather.
- It costs only pennies a day to heat with Gulftane fuel. There's no better way to enjoy clean, healthful, automatic heating without fuss or muss.
- If you think Gulftane is LP-Gas, bottled gas, propane or butane, you're almost right. The difference is the guaranteed quality, purity and dependability of Gulftane fuel.
- No other kind of fuel will heat your home, cook your meals, heat your water, dry your clothes, burn your garbage, warm baby chicks, and power your tractor. Why should anyone use anything but Gulftane LP-Gas?

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

- Complete this sentence: "I would like to heat my home with Gulftane fuel, because . . ." in 25 words or less. If the rest of the family wants to help you—fine. But only one entry per family.
- Obtain an official entry blank from your Gulftane distributor, or clip and use the one below. Before midnight October 22, 1960, mail to The Milton Co., P. O. Box 390, Okmulgee, Oklahoma, the official contest judges.
- The decision of the official judges will be final. Entries will be judged on the basis of originality, sincerity and aptness of thought. All entries become the property of Warren Petroleum Corporation, producers of Gulftane LP-Gas, and none can be returned. Incomplete or illegible entries will not be considered.
- A sealed envelope containing the name of the winner will be opened on Nov. 5, 1960. Everyone is invited to attend the official announcement of the winner's name.
- The winner will receive enough Gulftane fuel to heat his home for six (6) months (October, 1960 through March, 1961). Because home heating requirements vary, all contestants agree to accept our estimate of the gallons required to heat an average home in this area.
- This contest is subject to all Federal, state and local regulations and is open to any adult resident of the continental United States, except those employed by Warren Petroleum Corporation, its branded distributors, its advertising agencies, and members of their families. The prize is not transferable.

It was the view of the Russian official that the Soviet Premier was ordered by the Presidium to torpedo the Summit — just as he has now been ordered to destroy the United Nations.

That Khrushchev is not a free man to act as he pleases is best demonstrated by the fact that he continues his wrecking activities at the U.N. even though he has alienated whatever support he had among the neutral nations of Africa and Asia.

"Imagine Stalin taking a slow boat to New York and then spending weeks clowning at the U.N."

IMPORTANT 1/4 INCH

the Western diplomat mentioned earlier.

The fact is that Khrushchev has been either on vacation or traveling abroad since last May.

He still intends to go to North Korea to convince the Reds there that Mao Tse-tung, the "revisionist" who forced him to adopt a tough policy toward the U. N., is wrong while he, Nikita, has always been right. He then has to go to Peiping to convince his "best friend and ally," Mao, that all talk of their disagreement is merely the invention of "capitalist warmongers" who want to split the Communist camp.

In this connection Western analysts are now taking another look at the appointment of former Premier Vyacheslav Molotov as a minor official of the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna. Do Khrushchev and his mentors in the Presidium want Molotov out of Russia while the Soviet Premier is skipping all over the globe?

Molotov is the last surviving Soviet leader who worked closely with Lenin, the founder of Russian communism. He still has prestige in Party ranks. He took advantage of Khrushchev's absence abroad in 1957 to organize a conspiracy against him. At that time Khrushchev, by coralling the Central Committee, was able to turn the tables on Molotov and purge him from the Kremlin.

Did Khrushchev fear another Molotov-Suslov conspiracy during his absence which would deprive him even of the limited authority he now has?

Whatever the answer, the consensus of experts is that Khrushchev is no longer a free agent to act as he pleases.

He will continue to peddle peaceful coexistence to befuddle the West but he will have to bow to Suslov's and Mao's line of the "encirclement of capitalism" if he is to retain his job as the Red peddler.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prentice-Hall, Inc. says that the downward break in stock prices to new lows is probably laying the groundwork for a pretty smart year-end rally following the heavy bout of tax selling and switching that's already started.

Whether such a rally will mark the start of a new upturn, or merely be a temporary reversal in a major bear market, will depend largely on business in 1961, the publishing firm feels it recommends a conservative policy at least until after the November election.

Chartcraft, Inc. reports that the chart pattern of Anken Chemical is very bearish and shows excellent short sale possibilities. The stock already has given a "sell" signal at 43, it says.

Multi Bedroom Public Housing

It used to be that "public" housing was quite a controversial issue. We used to hear loads of debates on the issue and not too long ago some substantial moves were underway in various parts of the nation to get the government out of the housing business.

But like most efforts to oppose socialism, they are conducted by persons who are primarily involved in making a living. However indignant a person may be at some obvious evil performed by government, in the end he can't give too much of his time to the opposition. He has to resort to earning a living, and the amount of money he can contribute even to defend his own business or his own way of life is sharply limited by his own private means.

Not so with the professional fulminators in government who are always at an advantage. Government operates wholly outside of economic reality. The trained bureaucrats can take their time and simply by means of attrition can starve out the indignant and protesting free man.

We were reminded of his housing business the other day, for we received a news clip from a Milwaukee paper showing that the government was going ahead in that city at least, to spend some thing like $5.5 million in the construction of some 382 units of low-rent housing for large families.

The particular part of this news release which caught our eye was the fact that this "low-rent" housing, to be furnished persons of small income, is going to consist of "182 one-bedroom units, 28 two-bedroom units, 104 three-bedroom units, 48 four-bedroom units and 20 five-bedroom units." So far as the story went, nothing was being planned in the six-bedroom category.

This omission is strange, when one considers the present inducements to unwed mothers to produce numerous offspring. Clearly, the unwed mother is in the category of low income, and thus would be among those eligible for admission to federal housing projects. And since these unwed mothers receive an income from the taxpayers based wholly upon their unit production, it seems a little short-

Why Worry

The amount of time consumed by persons worrying about their lack of achievement in this world, if harnessed to productive effort, would probably bring them more rewards than the lack of achievement about which they worry.

Do We Want To Change?

The older we become, the more likely are we to be completely set in our ways. This is true of us individually and also true of us as a nation. Right now there are probably hundreds of thousands of Americans who sense that things in this nation are far from correct. Yet these same folks, aware of impending catastrophe, are as apt as not to resist any possible change in their day-to-day affairs which might make it possible for the catastrophe to be prevented or at least postponed.

It is not that no way lies open for Americans to take, out of the mess they are in. It seems, rather, that Americans are bound and determined NOT to admit that any way exists for them to correct the errors of the past.

It is almost as though we were afraid to seek a way out. Our attitude is not one which could be attributed to a person frantically rushing about trying to find a solution to the problem. Our attitude seems to more closely resemble that of a person who wishes justification in the errors he knows he has committed. Our thought leaders seem to be saying:

"Sure, we led you astray but you must admit that you couldn't have done any better." Or perhaps they say: "Please help us to establish that however badly we have fouled up affairs of this nation, it wasn't our fault. Although we were wrong, we want it clearly understood that we are not guilty."

This is probably an understandable psychotic impasse when we are confronted with a realization

What's The Issue In 1960 Campaign

Every presidential campaign is fought around one major issue.

In the past it has been slavery, free silver, trust-busting, war, peace and depression.

The 1961 campaign is no exception.

With the campaign well along, and with both candidates in full cry, and crossing and re-crossing the country like longitude and latitude, it has become clear that the outcome will be determined by how America feels about High Fashion.

The farm problem; the missile race; international diplomacy, all have had to take a back seat to which of the candidates' wives spends the most money on clothes, and is the better dressed.

Is Jackie Kennedy hurting this nation in the eyes of the world by spending a reported $30,000 a year for clothes?

Is Pat Nixon no longer the cloth coat wearer of eight years ago, but a woman who has a fur in her closet?

Jackie struck a strong blow for her husband's chances when she said she didn't spend anywhere near thirty grand a year on her wardrobe — that she would have to wear sable underwear to spend such a sum.

Mrs. Nixon countered by appearing in public with a run in her right stocking, and is said to be planning to buy her winter wardrobe at a fire sale in some doubtful state.

If she does this — rumor has it — Jackie will throw away her Paris gowns and dress from a mission's barrel.

Mrs. Nixon is reported to be working hard on a flower sack dress to wear — before television cameras on election eve, and Jackie is said to be saving up feed sacks like mad to make herself an evening dress.

Both wives are too proud to ask the public for flour and feed sacks, but it is pretty well known that would appreciate any extra ones that you aren't using.

My wife believes that Jackie is making a grievous mistake by dressing down to suit the electorate. "If I were married to a millionaire whose father had all the millions Papa Kennedy has," she says, "I would spend thirty thousand a year on clothes. Not only would I wear sable underwear — I'd have chinchilla wash cloths, baby leopard dust cloths, ermine slippers, and solid gold collar and cuff sets."

Of course, she would, and my chances of ever being President would go right out the window. This country likes presidential candidates who were born in bungalows at the very best, and whose wives cut out their dresses on the dining room table.

No one knows just why this is. It has never been proved that dowdiness went hand in hand with sweetness and homemakerly ability.

The first candidate's wife to prove — by appearance and a show of the family budget — that she dresses on thirty cents a year, not thirty thousand, will carry her husband to victory in a landslide. Or so it appears.

ties can be dreadfully in error and frequently are.

Our confusion here, which tends to establish that the voice of the people is the voice of God (vox populi, vox dei) is going to have to be abandoned totally or we will continue in the direction we are pursuing. And this direction, followed long enough, will wreck our lives individually and insofar as the nation is concerned.

There's still another fallacy to be reckoned with here. This is the conclusion reached by many a person that governments CAN provide citizens with some kind of benefits. This is NOT true. Governments can never provide anything for anybody they do not first take from someone else. Governments are instruments of universal plunder and brigandage.

Nor is the form of government a modifier of this fact. Governments have nothing. And when people vote in order to cause the government to provide them with something, they are really voting to compel the government to attack the people in order to pick up the money which the government can then use to do the providing.

Until these three facts are generally known and thoroughly believed, we are going to continue in the direction of placing more and more reliance and dependence on our government. And this is the route to ultimate destruction of our private affairs and our affairs as a nation and a people.

JOKER SPOTTED IN MOLOTOV PLAN FOR ATOMIC AID TO NEW AFRICAN STATES — RED CHINA AND EAST GERMANY

WASHINGTON. — It is now clearly evident why Vyacheslav Molotov was recalled from "exile" in Outer Mongolia and sent to Vienna as Russia's representative on the International Atomic Energy Agency.

His job is to enable Red China and satellite East Germany to get vital atomic materials and technical assistance from IAEA — of which neither is a member.

At the very first session attended by Molotov, he proposed: this in a resolution.

Characteristically, this Kremlin scheme was carefully secreted in a sonorous declamation about making atomic aid available to the newly-independent and undeveloped African states that have not yet joined the international agency.

But close scrutiny by the U.S. delegation, headed by Atomic Commission Chairman, John McCone, uncovered the hidden Red China-East Germany "joker."

It consists of two words — "other nations."

Under this innocent-sounding provision, it would be possible for the Iron Curtain bloc in the IAEA to demand highly desirable atomic materials and technical assistance for Red China and East Germany.

Molotov admitted this was the intent when bluntly challenged on the matter by McCone.

"These two great nations should receive such help from this organization if they ask for it," contended Molotov. "There is no reason why it should not be given to them for peaceful purposes. That is what IAEA is for."

McCone agreed IAEA's function is to further the peaceful use of atomic energy, but voiced strong doubts about the peaceful intent of Red China and East Germany.

With the support of other Western delegates, the U.S. representative blocked Molotov's attempt to secure an immediate vote on his proposal by having it referred to a committee for "further study."

However, this ominous issue is far from settled. That was made clear both by Molotov and Professor Vasily Yemelyanov, McCone's Soviet counterpart.

THE REAL BOSS — Yemelyanov's tough stand is deemed far more important than Molotov's. That is because it is Yemelyanov who is doing the really significant talking and negotiating at the IAEA conference.

In a report to the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, headed by Senator Clinton Anderson (D., N.M.), Chairman McCone stresses that Molotov's attitude and activities in Vienna clearly indicate he was sent there primarily to do this hatched job for Red China and East Germany.

Except on this matter, it is Yemelyanov who is carrying the Russian ball. On all other questions Molotov is either silent or not even present at the deliberations.

McCone cites as a graphic illustration of Yemelyanov's dominance his strenuous opposition to the U.S. demand for inspections to ensure that nuclear reactors are used solely for peaceful purposes.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — RUMINATIONS OF A MAN WITH A COLD, A FEVER AND A BELLIGERENT SPIRIT: There has to be something wrong with a civilization in which it is so costly for a man to die that his heirs have to sign over to the government his entire estate, including land, buildings, rare paintings, sterling silver and the like, all in the name of "death duties" . . . Also, once such items are in possession of the acquisitive government, no matter what their fates, the government owns them and kicks back nothing . . . A peer died in England a few years ago and in the estate to the government assigned to cover "death duties" was a painting valued at $10 and described as "by unknown artist" . . . Now it develops that Rubens painted it and it is conservatively worth $50,000 . . . Will Great Britain give back the difference to the heirs? Of course not . . . No, will any state government in this country ever remove toll fees from bridges and super-highways even after these useful structures have long since been paid for by exacted fees from the traveling public . . . A century hence, if humanity and the bridge last that long, it will still cost 25 cents to cross the Triborough Bridge in New York or 50 cents to scoot through the Lincoln Tunnel.

Speaking of traveling, I suggest to historians of our age, 1,000 years hence, a minor fact worth attention. The Lehigh Valley Railroad has good trains, perfect trackage, excellent equipment . . . It is, however, discontinuing passenger service because of lack of patronage . . . What kind of people were we, future historians might well ask, that ruined, neglected and abandoned clean, smooth and pleasant transportation facilities to crowd into motor buses that stank, stalled in traffic, cluttered up already crowded highways and were vulnerable to sleet and snow in ways that trains were not . . . I'm serious, really, people going to and from Allentown, Easton, Bethlehem and so on are shoving themselves into buses rather than using the relaxing, comfortable trains.

Any doctor, including one who just qualified for a license last June, probably will be able to explain to me why such things are, but he won't get far . . . Drying my ears after a shower the other morning, a sudden jet of blood from the side of one of them suggested a ruptured blood vessel . . . My alarmed wife, who happened to be dressed, ran out into West End Avenue and two houses away located a doctor . . . He came, looked at what was happening, took a seat on the edge of the tub, got out a form and a pen and said: "What is your name?" . . . How old are you? . . . Where were you born? . . . How often has this happened before? . . . What is your profession? . . . What is your profession? . . . What is your profession? . . . I finally said: "Look, I can bleed to death while you compile a dossier on me. Let's staunch this first and then I'll spend the day with you giving you the intimate details of my life." . . . "Oh, I must have the record first," he said. . . . Chalk away another doctor in my life . . . I will treat myself before I will even consult that one again . . . Why must doctors go into this vast nonsense when it is perfectly obvious that the patient needs emergency treatment, after which they can get all the facts their strange little hearts desire? . . . Another version happened to a friend of mine who had a mild heart attack . . . The doctor treating him filled out a questionnaire running to 76 items, one of which was: "Have you ever been divorced and, if so, did you initiate the action?" . . . What has that to do with a heart attack?

Are we a sick nation or are we just terribly different from all other human beings? . . . Having nothing else to do the other afternoon, I went into a newspaper store and kept count of the number of magazines featuring sex themes in their table of contents . . . These themes ran from how to recognize true frigidity to how to overcome sexual shyness, and so on . . . The magazines ranged from the top magazine for women to the top condensed magazine, with variations in between . . . The score: 37 magazines, 33 with articles on sex themes . . . I'm not saying it is wrong or immoral or anything else, I'm only saying that it betrays a definite mental immaturity . . . No other nation has this preoccupation or devotes so much newspaper to the theme . . . What is our problem, Mr. Anthony?

LIQUOR TAXES

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas Liquor Control Board agents collected a total of $153,158 worth of excise taxes at Texas ports of entry during August, the board said today. The board's total included $81,201 at El Paso, $26,996 at Laredo, and more than $12,000 each at Hidalgo and Brownsville.

Fair Enough

The Government Is Not The People

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Wall Street Journal says: "Few Americans, we suppose, would disagree with this statement: 'The U.S. government is not the enemy of the people.'"

That triple-jointed negative almost hides its own meaning, but in simple Americana, the WSJ means to argue that the U.S. government is not the enemy of the people.

That proposition is a mistake which I will now refute. In the first place, however, be it understood that "the government" is not the country, but the country's political management. It consists of a gang of politicians who, by the time they have achieved power in Washington, have lost their natural respect for the rights of people as human beings and their own sense of honor as individuals. The bureaucracy, in descending scale, is an auxiliary of the management. Owing its living and its powers to the management, this monstrous mass obeys the management's evil design against the people. This truth is seen in terrifying clarity whenever an unfortunate citizen oversteps himself against the management or the president and may find himself carried by the Internal Revenue Service. He is a citizen alone, but the management has literally thousands of fly-cops, accountants, cowed and servile informants hidden in the counting rooms of banks, and swarms of lawyers to throw into action against him. The government does not worry. It sleeps well.

But the victim must hire his own lawyers and accountants and pay for court records at as much as $4 a page. He is ruined. His earnings stop and his assets are seized by order of the government's own judges who are, in the main, low fellows, with the politician's loyalty to the machine which put them on easy street for life. So the government destroys its critic and the warning is plain to all others.

Very brief association with the management in Washington creates within the politician a second self, sordid and utterly dishonest, which lives by a code of rules and morals repulsive to his normal, personal self.

Thus we find even Senator Barry Goldwater, an amazingly decent man in his private self, at friendly ease with Jack Kennedy even though he has accused Kennedy of complicity in conduct which ought to be forbidden even the bleak civility of a soundless movement of the lips in a capitol elevator. Goldwater ought to despise Kennedy. But this immoral condition permits members of the management as such to commit flagrant crimes without inner shame or public embarrassment.

I am confident that this will be put down as vitriolic, scurrilous, insensate temper, but I have developed a serene contempt for the servile, irresistible hankering for royalty which always unnerves Americans in the presence of a president.

This was worst in the case of Roosevelt II, but three Presidents who have reigned since I came of age have thrown my country into wars which were none of our business and in each case Congress, as part of the managerial apparatus, gave overwhelming consent. But the people certainly were unwilling because they resorted to a maze of excuses to escape the draft. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau were conspicuously indispensable to the home front in the first war, but nobody was more ferocious in hounding applicants into the ranks in the second.

The government is an immoral institution, for it commits outrages which would be criminal, if they were done by individuals. The repudiation of gold by Franklin D. Roosevelt was a colossal swindle, which, on appropriate scale, would have been statutory fraud by George Speilvin. Social Security is another, in which the people are forced to buy annuities of uncertain value on the seller's term and subject to constant upward revision of the price.

The members of a whole nation are guilty of the crimes of the general management, as Eleanor Roosevelt said of the German people when she wanted to punish them for Hitler's misconduct. By the same process, Walter Reuther's subjects are personally guilty of the crimes of the UAW for the UAW is government imposed on 300,000 faceless men. The also the national U.S. management is imposed on a baby who is born today.
