Code Clerks Defect To Soviet Union

Integrated Texas Schools Will Not Forfeit State Aid, Declares Wilson

Cite U.S. Espionage Activities As Reason

MOSCOW (UPI)—Two missing junior mathematicians employed by the United States National Security Agency turned up in Moscow today and announced to a news conference they had defected to the Soviet Union.

Federal Court Order Voids Legislation Passed In 1957

AUSTIN (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson today said that a Texas school district under federal court order to integrate should not lose its state aid to schools.

His ruling means the Houston public school district will not lose $6 million in state aid when it integrates Wednesday with the first grade.

No Record In Holiday Traffic Toll

By United Press International

American motorists put a show on the road during the Labor Day weekend—a show that killed more than 400 persons, but failed to reach the record levels that had been feared.

With the count perhaps not complete at mid-morning, but with only a few recorded fatalities of the weekend holiday—remaining untold, a United Press International compilation showed:

Dead in traffic, 411; drowned, including 14 in boating accidents, 104; dead in other mishaps, 82. The overall total was 597.

California led the states in highway deaths with 40, followed by Texas 28, Pennsylvania 24, New York 21, Illinois and Kentucky 19 each, Ohio 18, and Michigan and North Carolina 14 each.

A National Safety Council spokesman in Chicago said the toll was "tragically high" and yet the overall record was "especially gratifying because there are 2 1/2 million more cars on the road today than last year and 20 million more than in 1951.

"We are delighted that our estimate of 460 traffic deaths was too high; we wish it could have been 100 per cent too high."

Wilson held that when a school is ordered by the federal court to integrate, it is not the school board's fault, and thereby it is not bound by the 1957 law passed by the state Legislature that says that if the school integrates without the approval of voters in that district, it will lose aid, accreditation, and its officials can be fined for violation of state law.

However any school district which integrates against the wishes of voters when it is not under federal court order may still face the penalty of loss of state funds, the legal opinion said.

"The act does not attempt to limit the power of a federal court," Wilson said, "in a statement at a news conference. "We do not pass on the constitutionality of the act."

Wilson said, if anything, his opinion today "should help uphold the act" when a federal court is called upon to rule on the constitutionality.

"Neither is it necessary to pass on whether this particular order abolishes the dual system," Wilson added.

"It would be very harsh indeed," Wilson said, "for a school district to be punished for something they were compelled to do by federal court order."

Wilson said his ruling in no way abolishes the dual system of public schools in Texas, and still leaves the state law on the books.

The legal opinion was sought by Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education. Edgar (See AID, Page 3)

City Ok's CRMWA Contract

The Pampa City Commission today approved a proposed contract with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority presented by A. A. Meredith, executive secretary of the authority, who told the commission that an early approval of the pact would speed efforts to get the project under way "considerably."

The commission's approval still hinges on the election which will be held here after a date is established by the authority and later by the city.

Meredith pointed out that there were a few changes in the pact, but it was noted that City Attorney Robert E. Gordon had met with Meredith and made the alterations to simplify the reading.

The new pact increases the last estimated cost of the project to the city some $8,000.

It also proposes that a proposed rate of 13.52 cents per 1,000 gallons of water be assessed the city under a 50-year agreement. There also is a minor amount charged for maintenance, but the set figure was not announced.

Meredith told the commission that he had met with Fred Dornly of the Reclamation Bureau and that Dornly told him it would be possible to get the project started by July 1961 if the 11 cities involved set early election dates for entering into a pact with the authority.

Mayor Ed Myatt told the commission that since the changes are minor and that anything the group could do to speed things from this end would set up procedures, he believed that the panel should not delay action. Commissioner James Crawford then proposed that the commission adopt the pact and he gained unanimous agreement.

The Rev. Harold Starbuck, pastor of Highland Christian Church, went before the commission near the end of the meeting to seek permission to erect tents at 1500 N. Hobart for a revival which will start Sunday.

Erection was under way when the pastor was informed the tents were being placed in a fire zone. He asked if it would be possible for the commission to grant special permission to place them in the zone. However, he was informed that this would be a violation on (See CITY O.K.'s, Page 3)

Texans Die On Road As Predicted

Traffic Toll 28; 46 Die Violently

By United Press International

Labor Day victims died on Texas highways just about on schedule during the long holiday weekend.

A United Press International survey for the 78-hour holiday, which ended at midnight, showed 46 persons died violently. Five persons drowned, 13 were killed in knifings, shootings and miscellaneous accidents, and 28 persons died in traffic accidents.

The Department of Public Safety had predicted that 29 persons would be killed in traffic, and there is a chance that this figure might yet be topped.

Several persons were critically injured and any deaths resulting from an accident during the holiday period would count against the Labor Day death toll.

The worst accident in Texas happened Saturday, just a few hours after the death watch began. Six persons were killed near Lufkin when a car sped around a pulpwod truck and smashed headon into an approaching vehicle.

There were several accidents in which two or more persons were killed.

Mrs. Albert Duke Miller, 37, Fort Worth, and Robert Lee Todd, 31, of Paris, were killed Monday in a two-car crash near Bogota on U.S. Highway 271.

Louis Johnson, 33, Midland, died Monday from injuries he suffered Saturday in a two-car collision near Midland. Two children are (See TEXANS, Page 3)

Congo Premier Fires President, Vice Versa

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Premier Patrice Lumumba's government formally tried to fire President Joseph Kasavubu today and warned the United Nations and other countries not to help him.

A communique issued after an all-night meeting was Lumumba's answer to Kasavubu's radio speech Monday night firing the Premier. But who will go and who will stay still is uncertain.

Kasavubu promptly won the backing of President — Premier Moise Tshombe of the secessionist Katanga province. Tshombe read a statement to a hastily-summoned news conference in the Katanga capital of Elisabethville, saying that Kasavubu's action in dismissing Lumumba was "perfectly constitutional."

He added that by Lumumba's appeal for the constitution of a "popular government" he "had shown beyond doubt the Communist objectives which had been the aim of his politics during the past two months."

The United Nations, meanwhile, closed every airfield in the Congo, but diplomatic sources said four Russian planes succeeded in taking off for unknown destinations Monday night and early today.

Later, U.N. forces blocked Leopoldville airport by parking trucks and placing oil drums on the field.

With Kasavubu and Lumumba struggling to strip each other of power, the showdown struggle threatened to catch U.N. troops in the middle of an all-out Congo civil war.

The cabinet communique called for a session of parliament to approve its action. In the meantime it said the government would assume Kasavubu's functions. Deep-seated ideological and political differences between the two men, simmering since before the Congo gained independence from Belgium June 30, exploded into the open Monday night when each ordered the other ousted from office.

It appeared that the man who could control the deeply divided Legislature and the wavering loyalties of the unruly Congolese army would emerge the winner but would inherit a country near anarchy.

Kasavubu called on the United Nations to take over internal security.

The U.N. command rushed reports on the situation to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in New York. It was possible Ham-marksjold would call a new Security Council session to determine what the 16,000-man international force in The Congo should do.

Lawyers Become Nixon Boosters

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign headquarters announced today the formation of a "Lawyers for Nixon-Lodge" committee to work for election of the GOP presidential ticket.

Creation of the new group was announced while Nixon continued to recuperate satisfactorily in Walter Reed Army Hospital from a knee infection. He expects to leave the hospital next Saturday.

U.S. And Canada Aircraft To Be Grounded For Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every 000 U. S. airline flights normally would carry some 37,000 passengers, 310 Canadian airliners would haul 3,000 passengers and 31 foreign airliners would enter or leave the two countries.

No missiles or live ammunition will be fired during the drill. The SAC bombers — acting the part of attacking Russian planes — will fly pre-designated paths known to the defenders so that NORAD could tell friend from foe in case Russia launched a real raid during the maneuvers.

The B-52 and B-47 planes will make simulated nuclear bomb attacks on U. S. and Canadian cities, using electronic counter-measure tricks they would employ to fool Soviet radar in wartime.

More than 300 Strategic Air Command B-52 and B-47 bombers and the fighter planes, missiles and sea-going forces of the U. S. Canadian North American Air Defense Command will participate in the "Sky Shield" war games.

All commercial airliners and private planes in the United States and Canada will be grounded from 2 a. m. to 8 a. m. Saturday to clear the airways for the military aircraft. During these hours, almost 1-

Ole Earl's Death Ends Long Dynasty

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI)—"If anything happens to close this big mouth," bellowed the sweaty old man as he plucked at his suspenders, "God help Ole Earl Long."

Long died of a heart attack Monday and a way of political life died with him.

Earl Kemp Long, who was 65 Aug. 26, was a three-time governor of Louisiana and a congressional designate when he died under an oxygen tent in a hospital.

His body was to be taken to the state Capitol in Baton Rouge today to lie in state in the rotunda of the skyscraper building his brother Huey built. The body will lie just a few steps from the spot where "Kingfish" Huey was assassinated in 1935.

Funeral services for Long, self-styled "last of the red-hot papas," will be held in First Baptist Church in Baton Rouge at 2 p. m. Wednesday. He will be buried in Winnfield, site of his "pea-patch" farm home.

Long's death followed by only nine days his greatest political victory. He won a seat in Congress when most observers thought he was politically dead.

But the victory cost him his life. He refused to cut down on his vigorous campaign, stumping in five or six places a day. His doctor revealed after Long's death that what Long said was a "touch of poutine" on his 65th birthday, the eve of the congressional primary election in the Eighth District, was actually a heart attack.

The one that killed him Monday — officially termed ironary thrombosis after an autopsy—was his third. He suffered his first while chasing a pig on his farm 10 years ago.

Long had been in the hospital since election night and last weekend predicted he would be out by today.

The raspy-voiced Long's turbulent career reached its highest pitch last summer when he went on a giddy tour of mental hospitals and cavorted with strip-tease dancers.

But he hacked and coughed and popped his suspenders and told the stern voters of his hill country that "I never done nothing you ladies would be ashamed of" and they applauded and elected him to Congress by 6,000 votes.

Brazil, Argentina Attacked

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuba strengthened its ties with the Communist camp today by a series of diplomatic and economic rebuffs of the West.

On the diplomatic front the Cuban government flatly rejected "energetic protests" by Argentina and Brazil against remarks made by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a television broadcast last Thursday.

In his reply Roa also attacked Brazil and Argentina for having approved the "declaration of San Jose" which condemned Sino-Soviet penetration of Latin America.

On the economic front the government followed up its recognition of Communist China and suspension of relations with Nationalist China by seizing the Nationalist-operated Bank of China in Havana Monday.

Cuba Further Ties Self To Red Camp

S. D. Yoh said that there had been no attempt to stop it. In another move aimed at tightening the government's hold on the sugar industry, the basis of the Cuban economy, the regime sized Luis Mendoza & Co., Cuba's second largest sugar brokerage firm.

The Mendoza company, which also operates a string of sugar mills, was accused by sugar workers of taking part in "counter-revolutionary" activities, according to well informed sources.

They said that the charges stemmed from financial difficulties in four of the company's mills, three in Havana and one in Lajas Villal province. The sources said the mills were overdue on payments to planters who, in turn, said that they could not afford to pay field hands and that banks were unable to finance the mills.

Although the seizure was anticipated, it touched off a run on the bank by resident Chinese depositors. Head of the bank Raymond

Kennedy To Tour Texas

HOUSTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's two-day whirlwind tour of Texas beginning next Monday will include a major speech in Houston's 12,000-seat air-conditioned coliseum.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, is scheduled to arrive at El Paso where he will spend Sunday night before starting his Texas tour the next morning.

Prior to his arrival in Houston, Kennedy is scheduled to speak Monday morning at El Paso, at noon in Lubbock, and at mid-afternoon at San Antonio's Alamo Square.

Following the Houston appearance, he will proceed to Austin where he will stay Monday night. He will make a 6 a.m. address in Austin before going on for appearances at Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, Dallas and Texarkana.

The Houston rally will be open to the public with some 12,000 seats and standing room positions available on a "first come first served" basis, party officials said.

Other matters brought before the commission included a request for rebate from Frank Rapstine, developer of Mesilla Park, on water lines he placed in the area. This amounts to some $13,000, and the commission promised definite action on the problem in its meeting next week.

It also approved payment of $17,030.75 to Lubbock Pavers for the recent sealing of city streets; held the second reading of ordinance 545 on street paving and set Sept. 27 as the bid date for four-inch water pipe fittings.

said in a letter to the attorney general that the federal courts received a complaint against Houston's segregated schools in a case filed Dec. 26, 1956.

The court ordered the Houston Independent School District to integrate on Oct. 15, 1957 but gave it time to make "necessary arrangements," Edgar said. Then, last month, Federal Judge Ben Connally ordered immediate "grade-a-year" integration beginning with the first grade.

While the case was still on trial, the Texas Legislature had passed a law which stated "no board of trustees nor any other school authority shall have the right to abolish the dual public school system . . . unless by a prior vote of the qualified electors residing in such district the dual school system is abolished."

As a result the Houston Independent School District held an election in which a majority of qualified electors voted not to abolish the dual public school system for white and Negro students, which made Houston the nation's largest segregated system.

Their sudden appearance in Moscow recalled the case of two British diplomats, Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean, who dropped out of sight in 1951. They stayed hidden until 1956 when they announced their defection at a Moscow conference. They still live and work in the Soviet Union as editors in the foreign languages publishing house.

Martin told newsmen that both were studying Russian and preparing to enter a university.

He charged that the United States regularly reads secret communications of Italy, Turkey, France, Yugoslavia, the United Arab Republic, Indonesia, Uruguay and other nations.

(The Pentagon in Washington said the two were employed in limited areas of communications statistical work and had no access to classified information about American weapons or defense plans.)

Mitchell said he and Martin had conferred with a U.S. congressman before defecting, discussing with him the danger of reconnaissance flights over or near the Soviet Union.

He declined to name the congressman, saying "he can name himself if he wishes."

They said, however, that the U-2 flight had nothing to do with their decision to leave the United States.

Martin said he had been told by a high NSA official that an American plane shot down by the Russians over Armenia in 1958 had "deliberately violated the Soviet border."

Both refused to divulge how they reached the Soviet Union.

"That is our affair and irrelevant," Martin said. "If we indicated our route, it might hinder someone else in the future from taking the same route."

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Donna, packing winds of 125 miles an hour, stayed well out to sea today and showed no inclination to head toward shore.

"I think there is an excellent chance it will move on up east without affecting Florida," said Walter Davis, supervising forecaster for the Miami Weather Bureau.

At 11 p.m. e.s.t. Donna was centered at latitude 20.4 north, longitude 67.4 west, or 900 miles east-southeast of Miami and 173 miles northwest of San Juan, P.R. She carried top winds of 125 miles per hour and was moving west-northwest at 14 miles per hour.

Constable Prevents Race Riot

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (UPI)—Sixty whites and Negroes, mostly from Dallas, got into an argument over the use of a beach at Grapevine Lake Labor Day afternoon and a constable was credited today with preventing a riot between the angry crowd.

Constable Lloyd Tillery, of Grapevine, said when he arrived at the beach the whites and Negroes had squared off and armed themselves with clubs and stones. They were shouting curses at each other Tillery said. There were no injuries and no blows were struck, Tillery said.

Tillery said today his presence calmed the crowd, preventing what looked like a sure battle between the races.

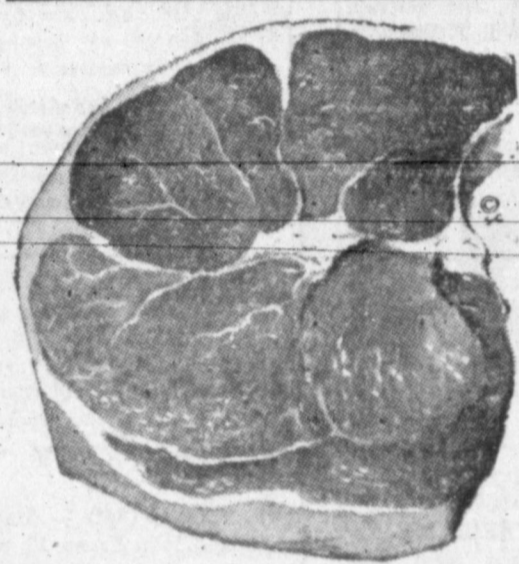

He arrested three Negroes and four whites and dispersed the mob on the crowded beach. The seven were taken to a justice of the peace, lectured and released.

The trouble developed when the Negroes arrived and attempted to launch a boat on the beach, packed with whites on holiday outings. The whites protested. The Negroes said they had as much right to use the beach as anyone else. And that's when the situation almost got out of hand, Tillery said.

But, Tillery said, the result was more noisy than violent.

Skipping Breakfast Starts Chain Reaction To Unpleasant Events

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise
Beauty Editor

Teen-agers who make a habit of skipping breakfast aren't doing themselves a favor. Breakfast is largely a matter of habit, a good habit. It literally breaks the longest fast of the 24-hour period, providing you with food you badly need.

When you skip it, unpleasant things start to happen. You tire easily; you become irritable; your mind doesn't work as well. This isn't a very good start for the day.

If you habitually skip breakfast because you're short on time and nearly always late to class, get up ten minutes earlier. This ten minutes will be time enough for you to have a glass of orange juice and a piece of toast. Or, have a glass of milk and a banana. But don't think you can get by with nothing or just a cup of coffee.

The girls who skip breakfast are usually the ones who consume snacks later in the day, ending up with blotchy or pasty skins as a result. Clear skin and a trim figure depend, to a large extent, on what you eat and on three sound meals each day.

When your mother urges you to eat breakfast, don't just decide that she belongs to the Stone Age. After all, she's been through the whole thing ahead of you and has probably picked up a couple of tricks on the way.

way will shy away from this one. With this make-up, Paris models wore exaggerated shingle cuts which were a sort of mish-mash of the worst of the 1920s and the 1930s. There are hooks of hair on either large and curly enough to sustain a hat with ease.

New York hair stylists are, of course, busy modifying this look. It's easy to predict that women will modify it even further so that it will wind up something like the cap cut of a decade ago.

There never has been a political campaign in which hair played such an important part. First, John Kennedy had his thatch pruned. Next, Jacqueline Kennedy came under fire for thick and casual mane. She has been criticized for wearing such a shaggy hairdo.

It's quite clear that Americans have a strong notion of the appearance that the candidates and their wives should present and don't mind saying so.

It will be interesting to see if Mrs. Kennedy yields to pressure in this matter or if she stands pat. (Absolutely no pun intended here.)

At least, it's refreshing to see that candidates have fine heads of hair rather than the shining pate usually associated with politicians. Surely, it won't be a major campaign issue. Meanwhile, it provides some fun.

GRAPE SAUCE FOR LAMB

A tasty sauce especially good with lamb roast or lamb chops is made by adding 1 teaspoon lemon rind and 1 teaspoon lemon juice to 1 cup of grape jelly and heating the mixture, stirring constantly, until the jelly melts. Two or three tablespoons slivered toasted almonds may be sprinkled over the top for added goodness.

MATURE PARENT Revival Plans Council Topic

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

I once knew a little boy who was an only child. Unhappily he mistreated any other youngster who came to play with him.

If his guest showed interest in Henry's fireman's helmet, Henry would grab it away and put it on himself. When his discouraged visitor ran outside to play with his tricycle, Henry would run after him and, shaving it off its seat, mount it himself and start pedaling furiously around the yard.

Again, the moment the visitor approached his rope swing, Henry wanted the swing. Rushing from his tricycle, he'd shove the other child aside and place himself on the swing. Then, adding insult to injury, Henry would demand admiration.

"Look at me!" he'd yell. "See how high I can go. Look at me!"

Was Henry a Bully? No. He was just lonely and so eager for friends that he couldn't give himself time to make them. Fearful that his guest might never return, he had to use every moment of another child's presence to demonstrate his own desirability as a companion.

He grabbed his helmet, his tricycle and swing away from his visitor, not because he was mean and bullying about sharing his toys at all but because fear of losing the visitor's interest forced him to concentrate on the most impressive possible display of his own skills with his toys.

That lonely children will express their over eagerness for friends by behavior that resembles bullying is a fact that I commended to the Mrs. D. who writes:

"As our five-year-old is an only child, we know that he needs other youngsters. But he so bullies them that the neighborhood kids have stopped coming over. I have tried to tell him that he can't keep his friends if he isn't nicer about sharing his toys with them. But when I bring up the subject he gets so upset that I haven't the heart to go on..."

You can't share your toys so long

At a meeting of Hi-Land Christian Church Ladies Council, held recently in the home of Mrs. Bill Brown, plans were discussed by Mrs. R. C. Taylor for the 2,000-man tent revival, which the church will host for a two-week engagement.

Opening prayer was lead by Mrs. Sam Stone with a devotional, "Living Faith" given by Mrs. Taylor. The following topics comprised the program: Phillipine Canada and Kansas Bible Colleges, Mrs. Edwin East; Mrs. Lee Wheeler reported on Central Christian College, Pacific Bible College and Platte Valley College; Mrs. Ray Mason discussed Dallas Christian College, Dakota Bible College and the Grundy Institute; Mrs. Stone spoke on Minnesota Bible College; Coleg-School.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attention in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. W. R. Whitsett, Harold Starbuck, Dorothy Davis, Adrian York, Bill Horst, J. D. Malloy, Jim Murray, Lula Darnell and Will T. Winslow.

as you think you'll never get another chance to prove your ability to use them.

But if someone assures you that you will get another chance, your need to rush through a parade of your social qualifications may be reduced, if, rather than threatening you will friends, your mother declares they will return, your need can be just toys instead of equipment for anxious self-justification. Try it, Mrs. D. Maybe this is the kind of comfort your lonely little boy needs.

QUICK AND EASY

"Minute steaks," dipped in French dressing, then browned quickly in lard or drippings, may be served on toasted hamburger buns for a quick and easy main dish at supper or lunch.

YOUNG IDEAS
from Patty Ponder

① I'm tall and big-boned and think I look like a horse. Is there anything I can do to seem smaller and more feminine?

② If your bones are large, you'll always be a big girl, but you can turn this into an asset.

Learn to carry yourself well and to move gracefully. Choose simple, well-cut clothes and concentrate on glorious off-beat colors—muddy greens, saffrons, smoky shades of lavender or brilliant amber browns.

Keep your hair attractively styled and always clean and well-groomed. Ditch your hands and nails. Never wear scuffed, run-down shoes—and don't depend heavily on flats to make you seem smaller. They'll only leave you looking clumsy and low-slung.

Cultivate a quiet sense of style—be proud of your height, your strong sturdy frame, and you'll be very close to becoming a beauty.

Hazel Mayo Circle of Hobart Street Baptist Church met recently in the church.

The program theme was carried out as an eye-examination in an Optometrists' office with the following members participating with a report, Mmes. Phyllis Keyser, Leslie Gist, Virginia Potter, Myrtle Brock, Eula Foran, and Faye Dyer. Mrs. Letha Mosley was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Joan Simpson was hostess during the social hour.

Attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. Katie Doggett and Mildred Stephen.

Dear Abby... Bare Facts On Shorts In Public

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You have just set women's rights back 50 years! Your answer to "EMILY" advising her to "obey" her husband and not wear shorts in public was about as narrow-minded as any answer I've ever read from you.

Since when do women let their husbands tell them how to dress? Emily said she wore shorts before she was married and her husband didn't object, but as soon as they were married he put his foot down. Why the change of heart?

DEAR AGNES: A man feels a "pride of ownership" in his wife that he didn't feel toward a girlfriend. Giving up wearing shorts in public is a small sacrifice for a wife who really cares for her husband.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to Emily in regard to her wearing shorts in public was a good one. A man who would allow his wife to display herself in public isn't much of a husband. I think most men feel the same but haven't the nerve to lay down the law. Thanks, Abby, for letting people know that one husband doesn't want his wife wearing shorts in public, and also for agreeing with him.

ANOTHER HUSBAND

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is going to have her 15th birthday party and she has invited six girls. Do you know of any games they could play after dinner?

MRS. D. D. S.
DEAR MRS. S.: Invite six boys.

DEAR ABBY: I recently moved to a small town where everybody knows everybody else's business. I have told everyone that I am a widow because I have two children, but actually, I have never been married.

Recently a man I used to know found out where I was and came here and moved into my house. I have been telling everyone he is my brother. I detest this man because I am trying to live right and forget the past, but he says if I don't let him stay he will tell everyone about my past. What must I do?

SCARED
DEAR SCARED: Throw him out even if you have to call the police to help you. It would be better to have your past revealed than to allow such a bum to live with you.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Certain Failures Of Congress Blamed On Rep. Smith's Cows

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democrats and Republicans have been blaming each other for the failure of Congress to pass certain bills at its late lamented session. But Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., puts the blame on Rep. Howard W. Smith's cows.

Before we examine Thompson's complaint further, it might be helpful if I drop in a few words of background on Smith. You probably are aware that this tall, courtly Virginia gentleman is chairman of the House Rules Committee. But there may be a few Americans who haven't heard about his corollary feats as a husbandman.

Toward the end of each congressional session, the Rules Committee invariably has on its shelf several bills which are highly prized by some House members but highly distasteful to Smith.

Supporters of these measures put a lot of pressure on Smith to call a committee meeting for a vote on whether to send them to the House floor. At such times, Smith has been known to disappear for a few days, explaining upon his return that he had been tending to something down on the farm.

On one occasion, he blandly told a search party he had been absent because his barn had burned down. Since then, the closing days of Congress have been referred to in some quarters as "barn burning time."

One of the congressmen who have been left to fiddle around while Smith's barn burned is Thompson, a New Jersey Democrat. In a statement issued today bemoaning the chairman's agrarian pursuits, Thompson described Smith's cattle as "the most powerful herd in America."

"As long as Congressman Smith is out of Washington attending to his herd—and exercising a pocket veto of desperately needed legislation—the House Rules Committee cannot function," Thompson said.

Therefore, he added, "his herd shares with the conservative Republican-Southern coalition the responsibility for holding up a great deal of the most legislation of the past several Congresses including the present 86th Congress which has just adjourned after being almost completely frustrated."

Thompson said that while thinking of possible ways to keep Smith in the capital he had hit upon the idea of moving the cattle to Washington. He said suitable pasturage could be found on the grounds of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, a government-owned mental institution located near the Capitol.

This, he said, would enable Smith "to look after his cows without undue strain or hardship" and to "combine his public role as chairman of the House Rules Committee and his private role as herdsman."

"I'll give Thompson credit for being a thinking man, but his plan could backfire. Smith might do down to his farm at a crucial time and stay until the cows come home."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (to a Labor Day rally in Cadillac Square, Detroit):

"With an average rate of growth in this country, every working man in the last eight years would have received $7,000 more than he has received from an education or a new house or a rainy day or his old age. . . . For the last eight years we have had a government frozen in the ice of its indifference . . .

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Take your choice:

For many weeks, with some help from Moscow and Peiping, there have been reports of a growing rift between the Soviet Union and Red China, mostly over Nikita Khrushchev's declared policy of co-existence with the West. One report has it that Russia is concerned especially over Red China's friendship with East Germany whose deputy premier and Red Party boss, Walter Ulbricht, long has been known as a Stalinist and therefore an opponent of co-existence. The conclusion is that a mounting Russian fear of China might lead to Russian willingness to make concessions to the West.

Another report has it that Red China soon may make some new pronouncement dealing with her reported ideological dispute with the Kremlin. This pronouncement might emphasize again Communist China's close ties with the Soviet Union, but would come at a time when Red China also ardently is wooing Soviet-oriented Communist neighbors such as North Korea, Outer Mongolia and Viet Nam.

There appears to be no doubt "We must recapture the spirit of Franklin Roosevelt and start moving forward to finish the unfinished business before this country."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is in Walter Reed Hospital recovering from a knee infection.

Henry Cabot Lodge (to a New York City news conference):

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's "visit to the United Nations doesn't worry me. If it's for propaganda purposes, there is no better place to deal with propaganda than the United Nations." (To a meeting of GOP community leaders):

that Red China and the Soviet Union each has a definite idea about how the teachings of Marx and Lenin should be interpreted. There also appears to be no doubt that any hope of a break between the two in the foreseeable future is groundless. Each has too much need of the other.

The Almanac

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 6, the 250th day of the year, with 116 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1620, 149 Pilgrims sailed from Plymouth, England, aboard the Mayflower for the new world.

In 1860, American civic and social worker Jane Addams was born.

In 1899, Secretary of State John Hay proposed his open door policy with reference to China.

In 1901, President William McKinley was shot and critically wounded by an anarchist while attending the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, N.Y.

In 1914, the first Battle of the Marne took place in France between Allied and German troops, resulting in a German retreat.

Thought for today: American civic and social worker Jane Addams said: "Private beneficence is totally inadequate to deal with the vast numbers of the city's disinherited."

Polite Indian Wars Resume

DUNN, N. C. (UPI) — The Harnett County Indian wars resumed—politely—Monday.

Most of the 75 Indian families in the east-central North Carolina county agreed last week to give up efforts to enroll their children in the all-white high school at Dunn if the school board would promise to build them a high school of their own.

But two Indian girls ignored the compromise and a court order and went to class Monday with the white children. Nobody bothered them.

The Indians in the county, mostly Cherokees, have been trying for six years to have the county build an Indian school in Dunn. They now must send their children on a 70-mile daily round-trip bus ride to an Indian school in neighboring Sampson County.

Teachers refused to issue books to the two girls who entered the white school Monday. But one of the girls, Juanita Chance, said the white pupils eagerly shared their textbooks.

Juanita and Emma Jean Chance, cousins, telephoned a taxi at lunch time and had food delivered to them.

The Indian parents, meanwhile, appeared before the county school officials asking once again for their children to be admitted to the white high school.

Willie Crafton Jones, spokesman for the Indians, told the board the parents were prepared to carry their fight to court as early as next week if the assignments were not made by Friday.

State Sen. Robert Morgan, attorney for the school board, said, however, the board could not act on the applications, since the time for appeals and reconsideration had passed.

B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Colo. & Stetson believes that we are in a bear market which at best will be a long 1948-49 type trading range and at worst will be not so good. The former rosy glow of the electronics looks a bit sea-green, he says, while forecasting a possible major disaster ahead for those who think the stocks are good long term investments at 50 times earnings.

Bache & Co. reports that Aldens has been consolidating for weeks now and seems poised for a short term move. A breakthrough of the 52 1/2 level would be a buy signal for trading accounts, Bache says.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Value Line Investment Survey reports that the low point in the seasonally adjusted rate of housing starts probably will be passed this quarter.

The improving supply of funds for individual home loans ought to stimulate both the resale and the new home markets by the closing months of 1960, it said.

The investment advisors said there appears to be a sufficient demand for new homes to support a recovery in housing starts in 1961. By the mid-1960's, it said, a more rapid increase in family formations will probably bring in about 1,500,000 new units a year—an average rate as high as the 1959 peak.

Yankees Rebound As Orioles Divide; Pirates Keep Lead

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

The Pittsburgh Pirates whisked past the Labor Day milestone with an iron grip on the National League pennant but those Baltimore Orioles are still fighting for their lives in the American League chase.

The two front-runners split their Monday doubleheaders—the Pirates thus maintaining their 1/2-game lead and the Orioles managing to hang onto their slender one-game lead. The Pirates undoubtedly can clinch their first pennant since 1927 by winning only 11 of their remaining 22 games but the Orioles' hopes of a quick finish were dashed when the New York Yankees bounced off the floor with a pair of victories.

The Pirates fanned their pennant hopes by routing Warren Spahn and beating Milwaukee, 9-7, in their opener. The Braves won the nightcap, 7-1, but even a victory tonight in the third game of the series will do little more than keep their mathematical chances alive. A Milwaukee defeat would be the signal to bring on the undertakers.

Hector (Skinny) Brown preserved the Orioles' lead when he pitched a three-hit, 3-1 triumph after the Washington Senators downed Baltimore, 4-0. The Yankees, rebounding after three consecutive losses to the Orioles, scored a pair of 3-2 victories over the Boston Red Sox to gain one full game.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored a 2-1, 10-inning win and played a 4-4 10-inning tie with the Chicago Cubs; the Cincinnati Reds ripped the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-2, and the Los Angeles Dodgers lost the first game of a two-night doubleheader to the San Francisco Giants, 12-8, but won the nightcap, 4-3, in other National League games.

The Kansas City Athletics ripped the Chicago White Sox, 8-7, and the Cleveland Indians scored a 4-2 victory after losing to the Detroit Tigers, 4-3, in other American League games.

Don Hoak's two-run homer,

Dick Groat's two-run double and Dick Stuart's three-run homer enabled the Pirates to score seven runs in the fourth inning of the opener and deal Spahn his eighth loss. Bob Buhl came back with a seven-hitter and Chuck Cottier hit three doubles to earn the braves a split.

Brown struck out 11 and walked only one batter to win his 11th game for Baltimore. Ron Hansen homered off Pedro Ramos in the fifth to break a scoreless tie and the Orioles added another run on a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Jackie Brandt. Chuck Stobbs and Hal Woodeshick combined in a five-hitter and Harmon Killebrew and Reno Bertoia hit two-run homers for the Senators in the first game.

Mickey Mantle's key double and Jim Coates' one-hit relief pitching for five innings won the first game for the Yankees. In the nightcap, Joe Demaestri drove in his second run of the season with a ninth-inning single to break a 2-2 deadlock and complete the sweep for the Yankees. The Cardinals went into a tie for second place when Stan Musial's infield grounder with the bases filled drove in the decisive run of their first game. The second game was called because of darkness with the score tied at 4-4 after 10 innings.

Bob Purkey breezed to his 16th victory behind a 17-hit Cincinnati attack that included homers by Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Billy Martin.

San Francisco made it four in a row over Los Angeles as Willie Kirkland hit a three-run homer and Jim Marshall drove in four runs in the first game. In the sixth game, Roger Craig tossed a six-hitter to bring his season's record to 7-1.

The Athletics scored seven runs in the first inning but had to fight off late White Sox rallies before knocking Chicago four games off the AL pace. Charlie Maxwell and Norm Cash homered to lead the Tigers to their first-game win but the Indians blasted Paul Foytack for four runs in three innings of the nightcap and won behind a five-hitter by Barry Latman.

Topples Briggs In Playoff

Seamster Wins Top O' Texas

Stamford Still Rough Despite Loss Of Title

By United Press International

Coach Larry Wartes' Stamford Bulldogs should be playing for the fun of it this season since the Texas Interscholastic League took away their 1959 state Class AA crown and made them ineligible for even district honors this season for using an ineligible player last year.

But, the perennial West Texas powerhouse seems off and running for another good season, apparently bent on being in position to say "we could have won it again."

The Bulldogs whipped a good Quana team 29-14 last week despite heavy losses by graduation and should make an even more impressive showing this week when they play at Burkburnett.

Stamford probably won't get through the season unscathed, because cropping on its schedule three weeks away are the Class AAA state title favored Sweetwater Mustangs. But right now, that appears to be the only game the Bulldogs may lose although AAA Graham also lies ahead.

Elsewhere on this week's 136-game Class AA card are some standout contests such as Belton at Taylor, Freer at George West, Rusk at New London, Talco at Cooper, Sunray at Tulia, Shamrock at Lefors, Childress at Seymour, Lancaster at Waxahachie, Bowie at Lewisville, Wharton at Columbus, Karnes City at Pearsall, Sinton at Beeville, Refugio at Robstown and Raymondville at Mercedes.

The Taylor-Belton clash looms as perhaps the No. 1 feature in the light of Taylor's 53-18 romp past Gonzales last week. Belton, always a AA power, has graduated into AAA this season.

BOY, YOU DESERVE IT — Don Seamster, winner of the Top O' Texas Open, receives congratulations from Bobby Briggs, right, whom he topped on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff. Seamster, of Berger, came from out of the pack to the Briggs just when it appeared the Victoria star had the title tucked away. (Daily News Photo)

Labor Day Just That For SWC Grid Units

By United Press International

Labor Day was full of labor for Southwest Conference football teams and another tough round of practice sessions was on tap for the squad members today.

Coaches continued to make a number of shifts in their lineups, but most of them said it didn't mean too much this early in the season.

Frank Broyles at Arkansas, for instance, said the shifts he is making are only "for practice reasons."

"For instance, right end Jim Gaston was moved to left end to substitute for Les Lettlinger, who has a strained knee," Broyles said.

He has the Porks scheduled for a scrimmage Wednesday and again Saturday, but won't say what the lineups will be. In fact, he doesn't want to comment on the progress of his team much at all. He says, simply, that the drills are "going according to RUIDOSO, N. M. (UPI)—Tonto Bars Hank, owned by Milo and C. G. Whitcomb of Sterling, Colo., won the $10,000 All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs Monday with a two-length victory over Three Deep.

Three Deep was seventh entering the stretch but came on with a rush that caught Rebel Cause by a neck in the last 10 yards. A total of $44,286 was wagered on the one race, with a total handle of $259,292 by a crowd of 7,000.

Bill Meek and the Southern Methodist Mustangs opened drills Monday against plays they anticipate when they meet the Missouri Tigers at Columbia on Sept. 17. Jim Crowe of Houston was moved up to No. 2 left tackle and Buzzy Foster of Waco advanced to the No. 3 right end post on the basis of motion pictures of Saturday's intrasquad game.

Showers dampened, but didn't stop, the practice sessions of the Rice Owls and the Texas Aggies.

Rice mentor Jess Neely made his first position change, switching sophomore reserve guards Ken Simmons of Colorado City and Johnny Nichols to end. He sent the Owls through their first punting drills of the season with Roland Jackson, Jerry Candler, Gary Poage and Dale Baker doing the booting.

At Texas A&M, Coach Jim Myers put the Aggies through a full-speed contact session for two hours.

The Texas Longhorns went through a pair of hard scrimmage sessions, and a couple of minor injuries were reported. However, the top 22 squad members kept their positions. David Russell and James Sexton, second string halfbacks, were sidelined with a sprained ankle and a bruised shoulder, respectively, but neither were considered seriously hurt.

Most of the personnel shifts made by Baylor Coach John Bridgers involved sophomores.

Bridgers called the drills "by far the best of the fall."

DeWitt Weaver of Texas Tech praised a pair of sophomore linemen in Monday's drills. They are end Dennis Grimes of Seagraves, whom Weaver called "exceptionally aggressive," and guard Nathan (Sonny) Armstrong of Sweetwater.

53rd YEAR TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1960

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Sports Writer

Sometimes you have to do it the hard way.

That was the way young Don Seamster reacted yesterday after he took down the 24th renewal of the Top O' Texas golf tournament.

Don came from, as horse race folk say, up the race-track, to overcome medalist Bobby Briggs in a sudden death play-off. And he did it by putting the pressure on the Victoria fellow with a five-foot putt on No. 1 green.

Briggs, at that point, was faced with making an eight-foot. He took his time, eyed the ball from all angles, walked up and tapped it, but the ball was off and the title went to the Berger burr head.

It was a tough one for Briggs to drop. He took the lead at the halfway point, lost it to Ben Lane Jr., at the 54-hole marker, but came on again to take over as the players began to straggle in from the long grind.

Seamster, on the other hand, came surging home with a 67 to overcome what had been to others an insurmountable handicap.

The playoff hole was lined with fans as the young stars trudged to the tee. Seamster was down the middle with a long drive and Briggs slammed one into the short rough on the left of the fairway. Seamster took a fine second shot that left him just off the green, while Briggs was just a bit off on the left side of the green.

Seamster took his time and chipped up to where he could hit his putt and take the title, while Briggs was left with the eight-foot putt he could not get down.

The tournament, according to observers, was the best ever conducted at the Pampa Country Club.

It attracted players from all over the state, and drew several from Oklahoma and one, A. D. Pritchard, from New Orleans.

Pampans had their thrills during the tournament. For a time Max Hickey had a chance to take it all, but the likeable fellow sagged in the final few holes.

Malcolm Douglass, the tournament chairman, also had a chance to take the top prize, but he had a bit of trouble in the latter stages and his chance to get it all slipped away.

Johnson Loses Decathlon Lead

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

ROME (UPI) — C. K. Yang of Formosa opened a 128-point lead over Rafer Johnson of Kingsburg, Calif., in the Olympic decathlon competition today with a 14.6-second clocking in the 110-meter hurdles which opened the final day's events.

Johnson, the world decathlon record-holder, started the day with a lead of 4,647 points to Yang's 4,592 compiled in Monday's first five events of this grueling test.

However, Johnson could do no better than 15.3 seconds in the hurdles and lost the lead to the 27-year-old Yang after six events. The lithe Chinese athlete received 923 points for his performance in the hurdles; Johnson earned 740.

This was consistent with his performances thus far in the contest to determine the "world's greatest athlete." Yang had an edge in the speed tests; the American was superior in the tests of strength.

The discus, pole vault, javelin and 1,500-meter run still were to be contested today.

Johnson, who set a world record of 8,683 points in the U.S. trials at Eugene, Ore., July 8 and 9, sought to become the sixth straight American to win the Olympic decathlon crown.

The decathlon was one of 15 gold medals to be decided on the 13th day of the Olympiad.

In the unofficial team standings, Russia began the day with a lead of 3,514 points to 3,554 for runner-up United States.

Vasily Kuznetsov, the Russian ace who held the world record before Johnson, appeared out of the running.

Johnson lost the first two events to Yang Monday but gained the lead on the strength of his shotput and surpassed his figures of his world record all-around performance in both the high jump and 400-meter run.

The "up again, down again," United States fortunes were "up" again Monday when the U.S. won three gold medals in boxing, enjoyed a 1-2-3 sweep in the 110-meter hurdles and saw Wilma Rudolph win her second gold medal of the Olympics. At day's end, the United States and Russia were even with 21 gold medals each.

Cassius Clay, skinny-but explosive hitter from Louisville, Ky., led the U.S. boxers with a victory in the light heavyweight division while Eddie Crook of Fort Campbell, Ky., and Willie McClure of Toledo, Ohio, also won gold medals.

Pott Tips Kroll In Dallas Open

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Young Johnny Pott, who doesn't believe in practicing on the tour, decided today not to leave the golf tour after all in the wake of his Dallas Open golf tournament victory—the first in his four years as a pro.

The former Louisiana State star from Shreveport pulled out today for next weekend's Salt Lake City Open with $3,500 prize money. In his pocket and that rare confidence that comes only with triumph.

The 24-year-old Pott had to go three extra holes to win a sudden death playoff from veterans Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Bo Winninger of Odessa, Tex., after the trio tied with five-under-par 275s at the end of regulation play.

Earl Stewart Jr., the host pro at Oak Cliff Country Club, wound up fifth with a 278 after a final round 35-70.

Deaths Mar Southern 500; Baker Wins

DARLINGTON, S.C. (UPI) — Buck Baker, who has finished out of the top 10 only four times in 11 Southern 500 mile stock car races, won his second Monday in an event marred by dispute and death.

Three persons—two mechanics and an inspector for the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing—were killed when two cars slammed together and one of them knocked down part of a pit retaining wall.

Baker, who won the big stock car classic here in 1953, was declared the winner in a confusion-racked finish which saw the checked winner's flag apparently given to Rex White who, E. A. Baker, is from Spartanburg, S.C.

Congress Did Quite A Bit, Rayburn Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker Sam Rayburn Saturday branded as nonsense Republican charges that the Democratic controlled Congress achieved little at its short, pre-election session.

"We accomplished more in three weeks than in any similar period except during the first 100 days of President Franklin Roosevelt's administration," the veteran lawmaker told UPI in an interview.

Republicans charged that the post convention session which wound up Thursday was "futile." They said the leadership of presidential candidate John F. Kennedy and other Democrats was "fruitless."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, described the session as a "resounding failure and disappointment to the American people." GOP House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana called it "a goose egg."

Rayburn struck back, saying it was "nonsense to call this a do-nothing session."

Indian Artifact Search Readied By UT Experts

AUSTIN (UPI)—In less than a month University of Texas archeologists begin their fall season of digging for Indian artifacts with everything from a bulldozer to a pocket knife.

"Sometimes we even whittle down a stick to use for delicate scraping," explained Edward B. Jelks, who is in charge of field excavations and laboratory research.

The University of Texas this week received a $35,000 contract from the National Park Service to finance their race to salvage relics before they are covered by waters from six Texas dams.

The main archeological interest is at the McGee Bend Reservoir on the Angelina River near Jasper. Field crews spent the fall of 1956 and 1957 unearthing Indian artifacts at ten locations there, and this will be the last opportunity to finish the job before the dam is completed.

"All but one of the Indian villages and camp sites there are pre-historic, and they are important because they serve as a connecting link between the Texas Caddoan Indian culture and the Indian culture of the Gulf Coast area," Jelks said.

In previous work in the area archeologists found a number of burials that included some copper ornaments, stone work and pottery. The copper apparently was transported from pre-historic mines in the Great Lakes area, Jelks said.

He also found a flute made of a bone from a long-legged bird, probably a crane.

L. F. Duffield will head a six-man field crew in the McGee Bend area, and $12,500 of the federal funds are to finance their work over a two-month period.

Most of the artifacts are close to the surface, Jelks said, and can be unearthed with spades and trowels. But in one instance,

Mental Patient Fatally Stabs Hospital Aide

CAMBRIDGE, Minn. (UPI)—Authorities considered possible charges today against a mental patient accused of fatally stabbing a psychiatric aide in a short-lived escape attempt.

Robert Pierce, 21, of Minneapolis, Minn., was held in the Isanti County Jail in the stabbing death of Myron B. Brown, 66, a Cambridge State Hospital employe.

Authorities said Pierce stabbed Brown in the back, abdomen and chest late Saturday night before fleeing with Gerald Rolfe, 29, of Freeport, Minn., Arthur Hardesty, 14, of Big Lake, Minn., and Gary Peacock.

Peacock returned to the hospital shortly after the break-out. Pierce and Hardesty surrendered to Sheriff Lorne Erickson after a night in a cornfield. Rolfe traveled alone after the escape but was captured when a farm resident saw the pajama-clad mental patient wandering through a field.

Pierce was believed to have stolen the knife at the hospital. Superintendent Dr. Galen H. Adkins said Pierce apparently became angry when Brown refused to give him keys to a disciplinary cottage Pierce shared with 100 other patients.

as far as Kennedy is concerned, The nominee lost his voice during primary campaigning. And a sinus ailment affecting his throat reduced him to passing written notes to his colleagues in the Senate for several days a couple of weeks ago.

McClosky's personal concern with Kennedy's vocal well-being was portrayed Friday at Bangor, Maine, when the candidate was while discussing federal assistance-straining his voice somewhat while discussing federal assistance for New England's ailing economy.

Baritone Trains Kennedy's Voice For Long Grind

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Boston baritone is giving Sen. John F. Kennedy vocal training to preserve the Democratic presidential candidate's vocal cords through the election campaign.

David Blair McClosky, 58, an associate professor of voice and speech at Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts, has been traveling with the nominee on campaign trips as sort of a keeper of the delicate cords.

"It's all a matter of breathing, of relaxation," McClosky told newsmen. "With campaign speeches several times a day, Kennedy must use his voice like a singer, breathing from the diaphragm, taking care with his timing."

McClosky's role is a serious one

News Briefs

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)—The Dixie Aluminum Co. plant here was shut down permanently today, President Brett D. Holms of Rome, Ga., said the aluminum products company will cease operations and liquidate assets.

JACKSON (UPI)—Jessie Williams, 33-year-old Negro hotel

porter, was charged today with murder in the fatal shooting of his wife, who told him, "I'm not afraid of that toy pistol."

Police said Williams, replied, you can call it a toy if you want to," and shot his 25-year-old wife, Georgia Lee, in an argument Sunday.

Williams' mother-in-law, Christine King, was arrested on charges she stabbed him in the chest shortly after the shooting in her home.

New! MEAD'S COUNTRY STYLE ENRICHED BREAD

-in the new 'STAY FRESH' BAG!

Yes... a loaf of bread that's made from an OLD-TIME recipe... and it comes to you in a modern setting... the new Polyethylene 'STAY FRESH' bag!

This re-useable bag will not only keep the remaining slices of bread moist and fresh... but you can use it, later, for storing fruits and vegetables and other foods in your refrigerator!

"MY! HOW CONVENIENT!"

Just take out the slices you need... twist the end of the bag... and the rest of the slices will stay fresh... until it's eatin' time again!

SOFT TWISTED, TOO!

Here is flavor and taste that you and your family will enjoy... and SOFT TWISTING gives it a smooth, soft, even texture, too!
