Highway Terrorist Gang Captured By Authorities

Speaks To U.N. On Red China

Chiang Envoy Sees A Revolt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Angfu F. Tsiang said today the Chinese Communist regime is the greatest menace to peace in the world and predicted that mainland China will revolt against the ruling authorities.

He called the Soviet Union the greatest colonial power of the 20th century and said the Soviet type

Khrush Is Ready To Go Home

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is ready to return to Russia, probably by early next week, sources reported today. But there are indications he wants to come back in March for another U.N. summit on disarmament with the new president of the United States.

There were hopes the Soviet leader would reveal some of his intentions at a U.N. correspondents association lunch today when he was scheduled to make a short statement and then answer questions from reporters. Soviet sources said Khrushchev planned to spend the weekend relaxing at Glen Cove, N.Y., where the Russians have a palatial estate, and then "he will wake up his mind early next week" on when he is going home. The Kremlin boss, who arrived here on Sept. 19, had said two weeks ago that he planned to stay (See KHRUSH, Page 3)

Rogers Talks On Helium Measure

Some 100 persons who attended the Congressional Action Breakfast at the Coronado Inn this morning heard a detailed report on the Helium Conservation Bill from its sponsor, Rep. Walter Rogers. The congressman said that 12 plants will be constructed in the hands of sites not yet selected. Work on this project is expected to begin next year. Specifications are in the preliminary stages and full details for construction will be announced later in the multi-million dollar program.

Don Beamon, chairman of the national and Legislative Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the breakfasts, introduced the speak-

First Call On Hale

Sheriff Bus Dorman of Wheeler County told the Daily News today that he intends to make "every effort" to return Elton E. Hale and his accomplice to Wheeler to stand trial for rape of a 15-year-old girl and robbery of the girl's mother.

Dorman said he and Texas Ranger Bill Henslee are trying to contact Ranger Jim Nance at Sierra Blanca, and that they hope to go to Kingman, Ariz., to interrogate Hale's partners who are being transferred to Kingman from Yuma today.

"After we talk to them we'll go on to California to talk to Hale and officials there. I don't know exactly what all they want them for there, so I don't know for sure if they'll release them to us," said the sheriff.

Beat, Robbed, Raped In Texas Wednesday

LANCASTER, Calif. (UPI)—Highway police captured Elton E. Hale, 42, today and the barrel-chested ex-convict confessed he was the leader of a gang of highwaymen who posed as policemen to rob, rape and terrorize motorists in several Southwestern states.

Hale told sheriff's deputies it was he and two other men who beat and robbed of $1,000 eight persons in four cars Wednesday near El Paso, Texas.

Mrs. Forrest Crenshaw, 25, was raped during the robbery and her baby threatened with death.

Hale admitted he used a flashing red light and a siren on his auto-just as had executed kidnapper Caryl Chessman to his victims in Texas, Arizona and California.

He had been operating his "red light bandit" routine since May, sometimes alone and sometimes with two other men, he said.

Hale identified his partners in the highway gang, sheriff's deputies reported, and both were arrested by Yuma, Ariz., authorities early today.

Yuma County sheriff Pete New- man said they were L. J. Minor,

Second Debate To Be Trifle Livelier

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After much negotiation and argument between political camps and harassed network officials, the scene was set for the second "great debate" on television tonight.

And judging from their recent speeches, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, were likely to be appreciably more combative than they were in their first encounter.

Both candidates flew into town during the night and will meet over nationwide television for one hour starting at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

Their first debate was broadcast from Chicago Sept. 26 and two more joint appearances are to follow, Oct. 13 and Oct. 21.

Tonight's debate will originate in the National Broadcasting Company's studios here at WRC-TV. It will be carried on TV simultaneously by NBC, the American Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The Mutual Broadcasting System will carry the debate on radio.

Because Nixon did not appear to his best physical advantage in the first debate, the vice president's campaign associates approached tonight's show with utmost care and extensive preparation.

According to NBC officials, the Nixon staff objected to the use of what the industry calls "cut-away" camera shots—a close-up picture of one candidate while the other one is talking.

The network insisted that such shots are necessary to facilitate lens changes to vary the picture seen by home viewers. The Nixon people finally relented Thursday on the understanding that the cut-away or reaction shot would not be used "indiscriminately."

Broadcasting industry officials predicted tonight's audience would be even larger than for the first debate when an estimated 73.5 million viewers tuned in.

Because of the large audience and the resultant political impact, representatives of both candidates seemed to be taking a much more

Red China U.N. Seat Bid Appears Doomed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States today mustered a majority in the U.N. General Assembly against a determined Russian effort to win a seat for Red China and the Communist bloc appeared headed for another defeat.

Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang scheduled a second address in as many days to the assembly while American and Soviet delegation members campaigned in the corridors for the neutral nation vote on the Red China issue.

Observers predicted that in the final vote—probably tonight after long arguments—the United States will have approximately 50 votes, more than the absolute majority needed, and a safe margin allowing for expected abstentions.

Mobutu To Ask Ratification Of Lumumba Ouster

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu today was reported considering a special session of the Congo Parliament to ratify the ouster of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Maurice Mpolo, one of Lumumba's closest associates, resigned Thursday as minister of sports in the cabinet set up by the Russian-backed Lumumba.

Reporters from the provinces said many deputies and senators of Lumumba's parliamentary delegation also were ready to withdraw their support.

Lumumba's slim majority already had been wiped out by the mass defection of 29 deputies and senators who accused him of trying to establish a dictatorship by terror.

Mobutu, who seized control when the power struggle between Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu threatened to plunge the Congo into anarchy and civil war, was reported ready to authorize the reopening of Parliament if an anti-Lumumba majority was assured. Mobutu had "neutralized" Parliament as well as the political leaders.

State Fair Opens Tonight In Dallas

DALLAS (UPI)—The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Flower Drum Song" and the State Fair Horse Show open tonight to herald the 75th anniversary State Fair of Texas.

The biggest event to open the fair Saturday will be the Southwest's 55th "Big Game," the grid-iron meeting of Texas and Oklahoma universities in the Cotton Bowl. Attendance is expected to be a capacity 75,504.

Castro Uses Reports Of Eastern Cuba Invasion To Increase Enlistments In 'People's Militia'

By MATTHEW T. KENNY United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime today capitalized on reports of a 27-man "invasion" of eastern Cuba spur enlistments in its people's militia.

A bitterly anti-American attack over the government control of radio said the reported landing in Oriente Province should help make up the minds of Cubans "who have not decided to join the militia and prepare to fight."

The pro-government broadcast demanded firing-squad execution of persons of any nationality who "dare to invade a peaceful country and try to raise a foreign flag...the blood-stained imperialist flag of the department of state curs."

The broadcast's anti-American tone resulted from government reports that three of the invaders were Americans and that the landing force carried an American flag and a U.S. Army drill manual.

A government announcement early Thursday said the invaders had landed Tuesday and that its Cuban leader was killed and two others captured in a clash with Castro soldiers Wednesday. It said troops were chasing the other 24.

The government's invasion talk started a buzz of rumors about other landings in Cuba, including a "big one" in Las Villas province near the reported center of guerrilla activity in the Escambray Mountains.

Castro himself, with his brother Raul and Argentine-born Maj. Ernesto (Che) Guevara, were said to be taking a personal interest in the anti-guerrilla operation in the Escambrays, which was said to be supported by tanks brought in from behind the Iron Curtain.

(In Washington, the State Department indicated belief that the so-called invasion of Oriente was a put-up job.

"I certainly am impressed with the ingenuity of the Cubans in arranging a delegation with an American flag waving at its head," said State Department spokesman Francis W. Tully Jr. ("They neglected only one thing, and that was to have them (the invaders) rush up a hill yelling 'Charge!' But it does have its comic-opera aspects.")

TRAIL RIDE TO FAIR — No, this isn't a scene from "Wagon Train," it's the Shawnee Trail riders plodding along to the 1960 State Fair of Texas, opening in Dallas tomorrow. More than 100 horsemen and 12 wagons are riding down the historic old cattle trail from Lake Texoma to Dallas in a four-day re-enactment of the trail rides of early-day Texas.

Emergency Declared In Strike City

NEW YORK (UPI)—A state of emergency was declared in Schenectady, N.Y., today as negotiators for General Electric Co. and the International Union of Electrical Workers met with federal mediators here to seek an end to the six-day violence-marked walkout.

Schenectady Mayor Malcolm Ellis issued the emergency order after 11 persons were arrested today in the picket-line clashes at the GE plant where workers went on strike Thursday.

A city spokesman said efforts were being made to contact Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for National Guard help should the violence increase.

Ellis and City Manager Arthur Blessing said all police have been called out but were unable to cope with the situation. The city fire department was alerted to augment the police force.

The officials said the moves were being made in fear of serious violence at the plant where about 3,500 pickets-massed to prevent non-strikers from entering.

About 30 non-union employees crashed through the lines this morning but witnesses said 100 others were pushed back.

Indian Summer For Most Of State Today

By United Press International

Texas got more Indian Summer today with temperatures expected to climb into the low 90s following Thursday's third consecutive day of squally weather that brought enough hail to make it look like winter in some parts of the Fort Worth area.

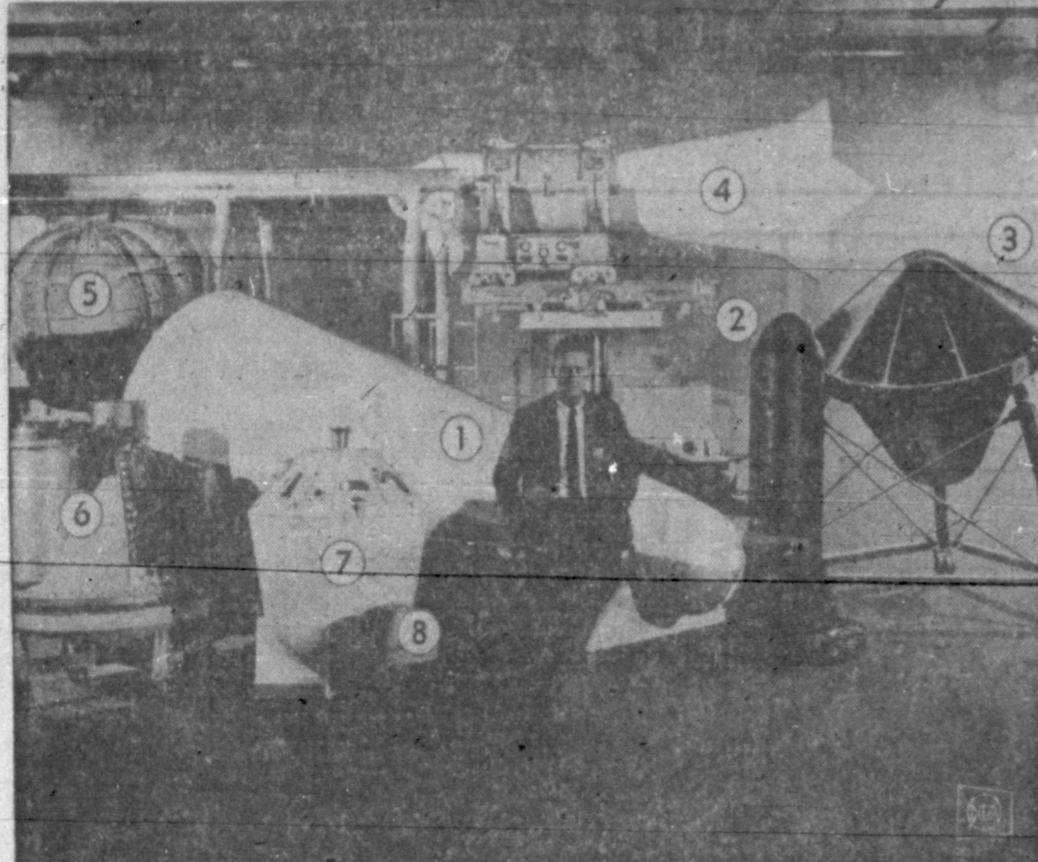

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast scattered thundershowers in Northeast and South Central and Southeast Texas today. The mercury was expected to rise only to about 35 degrees in the Panhandle and fall to the 40s in that area tonight.

Skies were clear across much of West Texas and the Panhandle this morning and it was partly cloudy to cloudy along the upper and extreme lower Gulf Coasts.

Thursday was another hot day with Laredo and Presidio recording highs of 99 degrees. Alpine posted the low this morning of 41.

A thundershower swept through the Fort Worth area late Thursday afternoon, carrying marblesized hailstones that covered (See INDIAN, Page 3)

Principled Winner Will Give Away $80,000 Won In Football Pool

LONDON (UPI) — Raymond Smith said today he would give to charity the $80,000 he won in a football pool because "I would rather work for what I get."

Smith, 30, won the money by putting up 70 cents and picking eight ties out of 55 games last Sunday. The soccer pools have become a national pastime in Britain and most people enter them almost automatically.

But when Smith found out he was a winner—and a big one at that—he had what he called "second thoughts."

He and his 29-year-old wife, Joan, put their heads together and talked the whole thing out. To keep the money—it is tax free—would have meant a new house and car, education for their two children (a boy 3 and a girl 1), new clothes, travel, all the things they had only been able to dream of.

Khushchev To Appear On TV

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will appear on a local television station Sunday "live," unrehearsed and with no time limit on the question-and-answer session.

David Susskind, moderator of the WNTA-TV program "Open End," said Khrushchev had wanted to have questions submitted in advance, but that the Soviet premier finally agreed to undergo impromptu questioning.

National Telefilm Associates, owner of WNTA-TV, said the Khrushchev interview would be made available to other radio and TV stations via tape.

Social Security Disability Law Is Changed

By: DAN JOLLIE, Field Representative Amarillo Social Security Office

Q: What is the new rule on the disability law?
 A: The age 50 requirement has been eliminated. Benefits can now be paid to disabled workers regardless of their age.
 Q: I filed for benefits several years ago - but did not have enough credits to get benefits. Is there any change on this?
 A: Yes, you may now be able to get benefits. Come in and talk to us.
 Q: I'm getting benefits. My wife and I have been married 18 months now. Do we still need to wait three years for her, to file?

A: No, the requirement has been reduced to one year. Have your wife come to file.
 Q: I heard I can get disability benefits with only six quarters of coverage. Is this correct?
 A: No sir, it is not. Five years of work out of the 10 years before the disability began is still required.
 Q: I'll be 62 in December. When should I file?
 A: Anytime from now till then. Folks should file a few months (not more than three) before the month of retirement age.
 Q: Did that $1800 earnings rule pass?
 A: No, it did not. However persons on the social security rolls can earn considerably more than $1200 in a year and still get social security benefits. This does not begin through until 1961. The $1200 rule still applies for 1960.

Fire Prevention Week To Start Here Sunday

Fire Prevention Week in Pampa across the nation begins Sunday, and Mayor Ed Myatt today urged all residents of the city to join with the fire department and the Fire Prevention Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in "making our people fire conscious."

victims in at least three southwestern states.

Detective Sgt. D. E. Ellsworth said Hale during three hours of questioning admitted robbing about 100 motorists during his time spree.

"I'm not a smart man," sobbed Hale shortly after his confession, deputies reported. "I'm sorry I brought this bad thing on my children."

Hale is the father of six children aged from 6 months to 22 years.

He lived with his wife, Thelma, at their Livermore home. Deputies said an expensive watch recently gave his wife was stolen from a highway robbery victim.

Hale and his son were booked on charges of kidnaping, robbery, rape and unnatural sex acts. A detective from Modesto was on his way to this Los Angeles area community to question them.

Patrolmen Frank Wilson and Earl Beavers said they noticed the license plate of Hale's 1960 Plymouth as one wanted by authorities and trailed the auto for about five miles.

They did not close in immediately in order to give other patrolmen time to establish a roadblock, however, before getting to the roadblock Hale pulled his auto off the side of the road and got out with his hands in the air.

They found $350 in cash on Hale as a woman's wrist watch which was in a jacket pocket. Its wrist had been broken "as though had been torn from a wrist," deputies said.

An automatic pistol was found in the car's trunk, but Hale had no weapons on his person, Wilson said. Also found in the auto was a portable spotlight such as used in the highway robberies and rap-

Hale told authorities he had served a 10-year term in the Arkansas State Penitentiary for a little rustling and a two-year term for burglary.

Modesto authorities got on Hale's trail just this week when a traveler's check taken in one of the highway robberies was cashed at service station and the attendant looked down the license plate number of the man who cashed it. The auto belonged to Hale.

U.N. membership will increase 99 by the end of the day when Nigeria is admitted.

The Security Council met concurrently with the assembly this morning to recommend admission of Nigeria which attained independence from Britain on Oct. 1. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter considered the meeting so important he attended it personally.

In addition to the China question the Assembly also must deal with Russia's demand to debate disarmament. There were reports Nikita Khrushchev planned to address Saturday's assembly session. Disarmament is debated but he has not yet been listed as a speaker.

Firms Conduct Safety Course

A "Safety in Lifting" training course is being conducted today in the Celanese Co.'s recreation hall for employees of Celanese and Cabot Corp.

The traveling school, a team of safety experts from the Wire and Rope Division of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., is now in its second year of touring industrial plants throughout the nation.

Its purpose is to fulfill the goal of all safety men — a zero accident rate in his plant.

The instructors teach the proper use of slings in lifting operations and the prescribed maintenance procedures to extend sling life. They also check on safety principles allied with heavy lifting projects.

Main feature of the school is a working model of a doublehook crane. On this model, J&L instructors can duplicate all lifting operations of a standard crane. Other visual aids, including models of equipment posing special lifting problems, color slides of typical lifting situations and displays of equipment such as eyebolts, cable guards and wire rope slings, also are used in the instruction.

Chief Winborne, in announcing Monday's parade, said that the two junior high school bands and the Pampa High School band will form the parade which also will include fire fighting equipment of the city.

The parade will be formed in front of Pampa Junior High School and will be routed over Cuyler to Foster, down Foster to Somerville and over Somerville to Browning and back to the starting point.

Lindy Houck, chairman of the school posters display unit, said today that arrangements for use of Legion Hall have been made and that the posters will be shown in the hall Saturday, Oct. 15.

In attempting to bring the story of the danger of fire to everyone, Neef also noted that three films have been ordered and that these will be available at the chamber office for use by clubs, schools and other organizations.

until New Year's, but no one was certain whether he was being Soviet leaders, however, have called a news conference for Monday or Tuesday and it is expected to be his customary farewell meeting with newspapermen.

There was no indication whether he planned to return — on the Baltika, the Russian ship on which he arrived 18 days ago, or fly back in a TU-114 Red jet.

Khrushchev wants to return to the U.N. General Assembly for another heads-of-government meeting to take up the disarmament issue, he told British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, according to Western sources.

Khrushchev, who met Macmillan Tuesday before the British leader left for home, was reported to have said there was no point in discussing disarmament as long as Eisenhower was president. He called for special session of the General Assembly attended by national leaders, including Eisenhower's successor, John F. Kennedy or Richard M. Nixon.

Khrushchev figured that after the Jan. 20 presidential inauguration, it would take the new American leader until March to acquaint himself with the situation. By then, Khrushchev said he would be ready to talk.

Macmillan, the sources said, rejected Khrushchev's plan out of hand.

Khrushchev insisted that the disarmament issue was so important, only the heads of governments should negotiate on it.

intense interest in plans for tonight. The Nixon staff was determined that the vice president would have the benefit of better makeup and lighting than on Sept. 26 when many viewers thought Nixon looked unwell.

Kennedy used no makeup in Chicago and was not expected to do so tonight. The Democratic candidate has a heavy tan while Nixon still shows some paleness due to two weeks in the hospital because of an infected knee.

Kennedy and Nixon will face a panel of four newsmen, chosen by lot from reporters who have been covering the Nixon and Kennedy campaigns. It will consist of Alvin Spivak of United Press International, Hal Levy of the Long Island newspaper Newsday, Edward P. Morgan of ABC and Paul Niven of CBS.

Unlike the first show, the debate tonight will not have opening statements by the two candidates but will consist entirely of questioning by the panel.

The "Buy American" policy applies mainly to the offshore procurement program, scheduled to spend $457 million during the current fiscal year. But Glass said he didn't think this could be cut by more than $20 or $30 million the first year.

The new buying policy also applies to purchases and sales by military exchanges and command headquarters overseas.

In all cases, the directives order that American products should be favored over foreign items when other factors are equal.

Chuches Aiding Flood Victims

NEW YORK (Sp) — Suffering in the Punjab region of India, where floods following unprecedented heavy rains have left three million people in desperate need, is being alleviated through shipments of vitamins, cod-liver oil, milk, antibiotics, and blankets from the Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches of America.

Much of the aid is going to Rohtak, a town in the stricken area two-thirds of which is submerged under five to twelve feet of water, and to five hundred other inundated villages which can be reached only by boat.

Dr. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church-World Service, overseas relief agency of major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches, has announced that approximately $10,000 in money and supplies had been allocated to the Punjab.

Revival To End In Local Church

The Rev. F. M. Perkins, a Florida evangelist, will conduct the final service of the revival he is preaching in the Church of God in Christ at the 9 p.m. Sunday service.

The Rev. J. N. Haynes, pastor, said the public is invited to attend.

Seven 'Rules For Prayer' Announced

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Many sensitive people recoil from the suggestion that there are "techniques" in prayer. They say that prayer should be spontaneous, "from the heart," as natural as breathing.

Spiritual directors agree that spontaneous prayer has great value, and that it is appropriate for any time, place or circumstance. But from the time of Jesus until now, they have also insisted that there are rules to be learned and disciplines to be practiced in prayer.

Outlined below are seven specific suggestions that have been commended by many saints and scholars through the ages:

1. Pray each day at the same time. No matter how many spontaneous prayers you may offer during the course of the day, you should also have a fixed, regular time for private prayer. Treat it as the most important appointment of your day, and don't let anything intrude upon it or crowd it out.

2. It is helpful to have an habitual place, as well as a regular time, for prayer. It may be any place you find convenient, so long as it affords complete privacy.

3. The posture you assume in prayer does not matter to God, but it may make a great difference to you. You can stand, sit, kneel or lie down to pray. Kneeling is a physical act of humility which helps many people to prepare psychologically for prayer. An uncomfortable position may be a distraction, but one which is too comfortable—for example, lying in bed—is likely to lead to drowsiness rather than concentration.

4. Prepare for prayer with a brief period of devotional reading. This helps you to make the transition from the hectic world of daily routine to the quiet mood of prayer. It enables you to focus your attention on God, which is both the precondition and the purpose of prayer.

5. Pray as long as you want to—and no longer. Jesus warned that long-windedness is not a virtue in prayer, and the model prayer he gave to his disciples is far advanced in the spiritual life, only 47 words long. Until you may find it difficult to sustain a genuine mood of prayer for longer than 5 or 10 minutes at a stretch.

6. Pray whether you "feel like it" or not. It is your will, not your fleeting emotions, which you offer to God in prayer.

7. Do not be ashamed to offer "selfish" prayers, or to seek God's help in "little" things. Jesus included in his sample prayer a petition for bread, which is about as mundane a request as you can make. But you should not let selfish petitions dominate your prayers.

What other types? Spiritual directors have identified four—adoration, thanksgiving, confession and intercession.

Adoration is simply lifting up your heart to God and saying in whatever words you find most meaningful that you acknowledge Him to be worthy of your utmost love and obedience.

Thanksgiving is counting your blessings and confession is asking forgiveness for your sins. Intercession is asking God's help for others.

Bi-State Gospel Sing At Hobart

HOBART (Sp) — Hobart will be host Saturday and Sunday, to the 31st annual Oklahoma and Texas Gospel Singing Convention with some 3,000 persons expected to attend.

There will be two sessions Saturday, one at 2:30 p.m. and the other at 7 p.m. Scheduled for Sunday is a long session from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

At least a half dozen professional quartets will be on hand for the two-day event, president, Elmo J. Hudgens, Pampa, said. Included are Stamps Baxter, Kingsmen, Sooner State, Campbell Family and the Sentries.

The Sentries, a male quartet from Oklahoma City, also will sing on the courthouse square in two programs Saturday, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., in cooperation with the chamber of commerce to advertise a special fall retail trade promotion, chamber manager George Ogden announced.

All sessions of the convention will be in the gymnasium, north of the city route of S. H. 9, in the high school area. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday with the Hobart chamber in charge. The concessions stand in the gymnasium will be open during the convention.

Other officers of the convention are H. C. Nelson, Vernon, Texas, first vice-president; Andy Lynch, Rocky, second vice-president; and Rosa Bearden, Pampa, Texas, secretary-treasurer.

The convention is open to the public. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken.

New Banking Program Aids Poorer Nations

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thundersing oratory in the United Nations all but obscured an historic event recently.

This was when the new International Development Association (IDA) launched a new concept in global banking—a concept in which an underdeveloped nation can be helped without the taint of charity; in which an aid recipient can become an aid provider.

The event, which may lead to more-range benefits than all the shouting in the U.N., grew from an idea conceived by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., four years ago.

At that time Monroney was in Bangkok, Thailand attending an international parliamentary union conference. He was struck by two things. First was how proud the Thais were of a dam they engineered and built themselves, with their own money and with funds borrowed from the World Bank at commercial rates.

The second was how indifferent and maybe even a little belligerent and chagrined, they were about a new multi-million dollar highway built with U.S. military aid funds.

Monroney for the first time got a close-up of how people in underdeveloped areas react to aid on a charity basis.

As a result, he initially proposed enlarging the scope of the World Bank so it could make more money readily available for worthy projects which might not "pay out" as rapidly as required for normal World Bank loans.

In July, 1958, he submitted a resolution to the Senate calling for a study of a development association which could make loans for a longer period at lower interest rates, and with both hard and soft currencies.

From that resolution, the IDA developed and was supported by 14 countries. West Germany became the 15th recently and the development fund automatically reached the $650 million required by its $1 billion charter to start operations.

Under the charter, 17 industrial countries subscribe to shares with 100 per cent hard money. Fifty-one underdeveloped nations are permitted to subscribe with only 10 per cent of their shares in hard money—the rest in their own soft currency.

These soft-currency nations now can borrow from the fund for capital projects which people can use and feel immediately—housing, and waterworks. The pay-out period for loans on these types of projects is usually too long and the interest rate too low for commercial institutions.

Monroney saw that one of the basic problems in international financing of such low-risk projects was to get soft currency into international use.

Minister Views The United Fund

By WOODROW ADCKOCK
Pastor, First Methodist Church

There is no better way to give expression to responsible citizenship and civic pride than to support by the United Fund. When we support the United Fund Campaign we give expression to the following great American principles:

1. Local people can take care of their local needs.

2. We can all share with the unfortunate in great areas of distress.

3. We invest in our own community when we support our character building agencies.

4. We become better persons when we practice the stewardship of giving.

5. A healthier and happier city is created by all of us being good neighbors in the expression of concern for each other through the United Fund.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—There has been a revival in silver demand that is causing some concern in government circles.

With industrial demand for the white metal running three times ahead of domestic production and demand for silver coins rising steadily, the U.S. Treasury has seen its general silver fund drop sharply. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1960 this fund was cut by more than 65 million ounces to just above 137 million ounces.

At present rates of disposal this general fund silver would last less than three years, according to Groseclose, Williams & Associates, Washington financial analysts.

In a study of the silver situation the company brought up the question of how would the Treasury meet its coinage needs when its general fund is exhausted.

The Treasury's viewpoint is to draw upon its monetary reserve silver. This is the silver (1,677,000,000 ounces as of June 30) held to secure silver certificates outstanding.

Such certificates, at least those of $5 denomination, would presumably be replaced by federal reserve notes, Groseclose, Williams said. Substitution of federal reserve notes for $1 silver certificates would require additional congressional authorization.

The company said there would be several objections to this policy. Under a monetary directive laid down by act of Congress in 1934, public policy is to increase silver stocks in the monetary system until they equal one quarter of the total.

The proponents of liquidation of the silver monetary reserve rejoin that this directive is obsolete, the study said, and there is little point in maintaining silver as a constituent reserve in a system founded on gold.

However, the company declared, the fact is that with diminishing gold reserves of the United States, any physical asset of high liquidity and universal marketability serves to bolster the monetary system.

Certainly, it added, to replace this silver with government bonds, which would be the case if federal reserve notes were substituted, would only be "another act of inflationary mayhem."

CAMPAIGN QUIZ

Q—Who were the "Locofoccos"?

A—Radical wing of the Democratic party in New York state (1835). For a period of time, term was applied by the Whigs to any Democrat. Name was taken from a built-in lighter at its tip. When regular, or Tammany Democrats, put out the lights at a New York City meeting in 1835, meeting proceeded by light of candles and the locofoccos of the dissident members.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

B. GENE GRACE, Pastor
Barrett Baptist Chapel

"Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed, blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed."

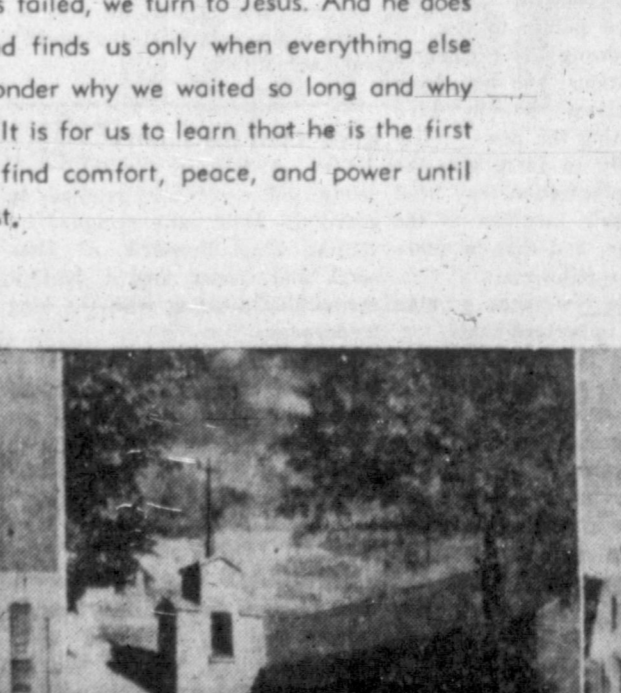

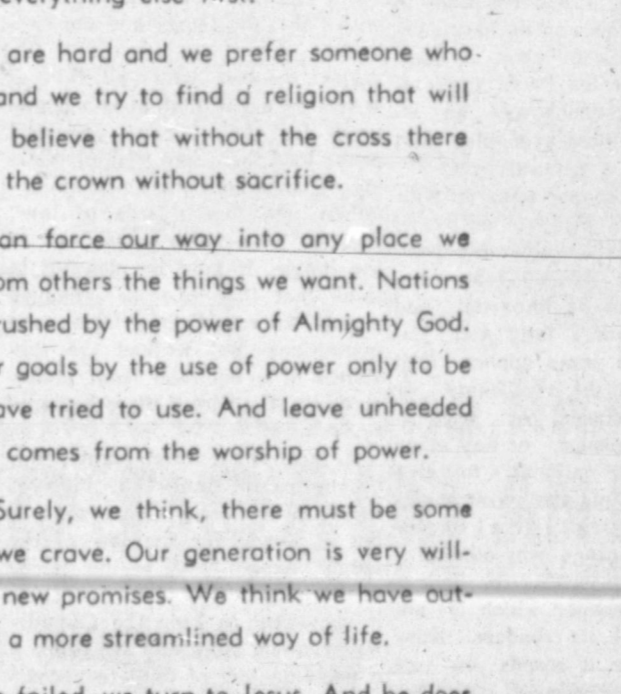

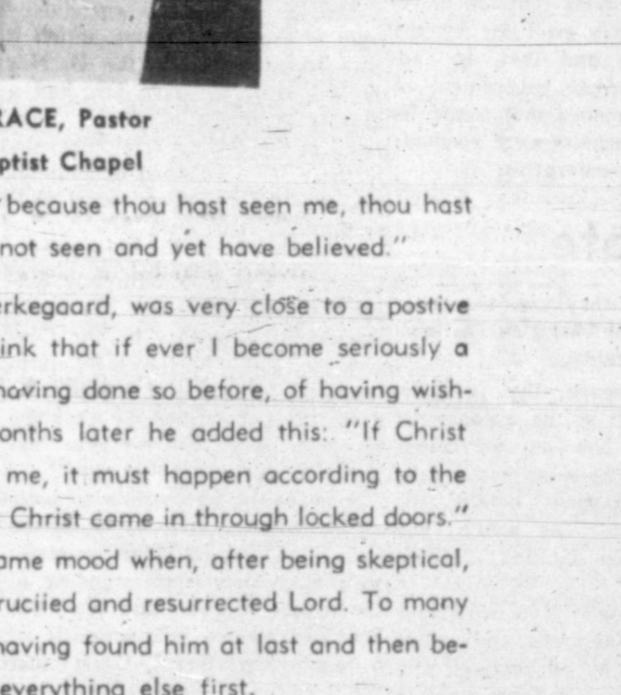

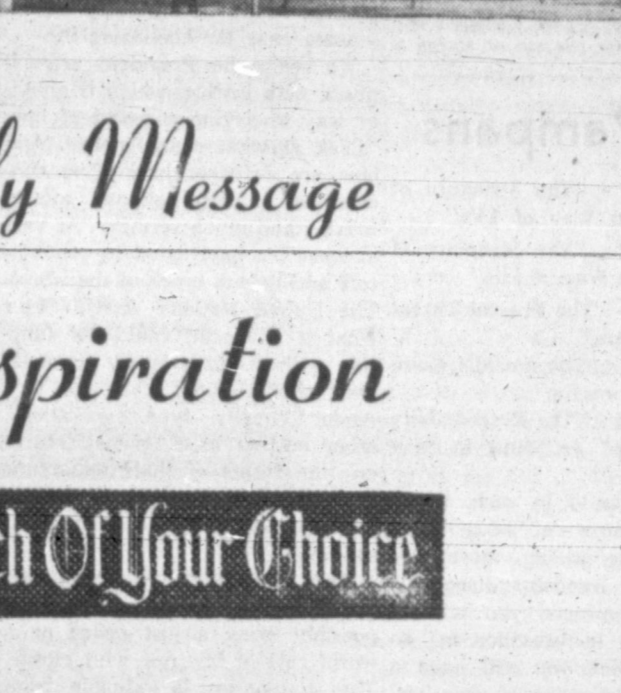

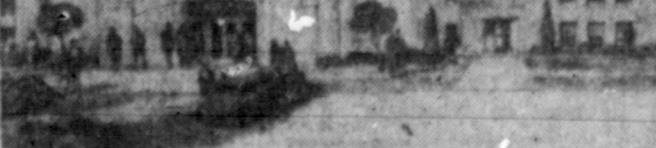

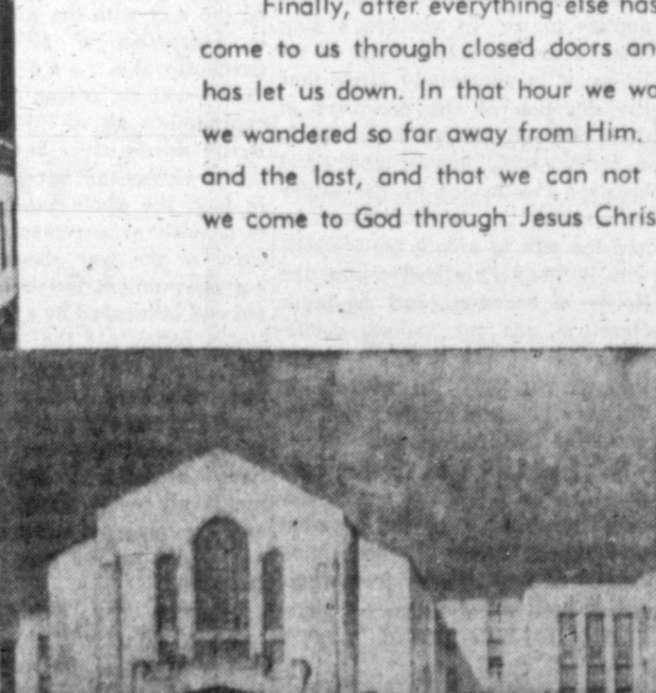

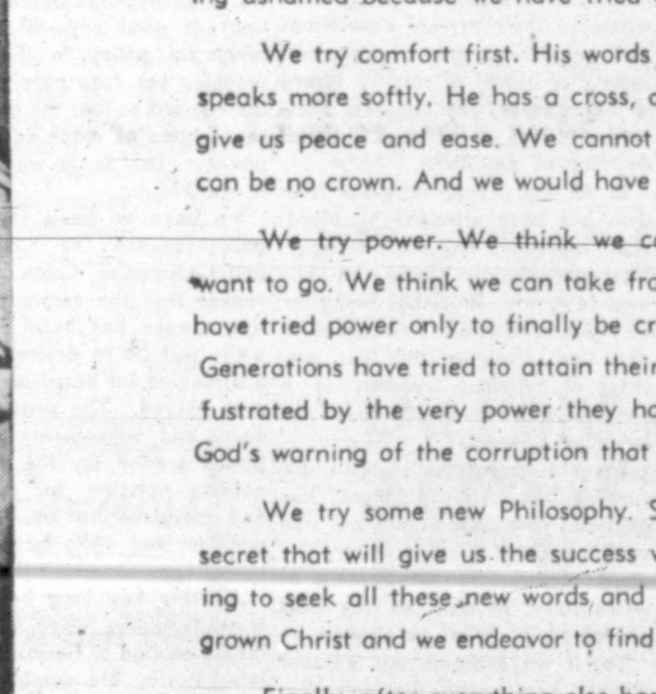

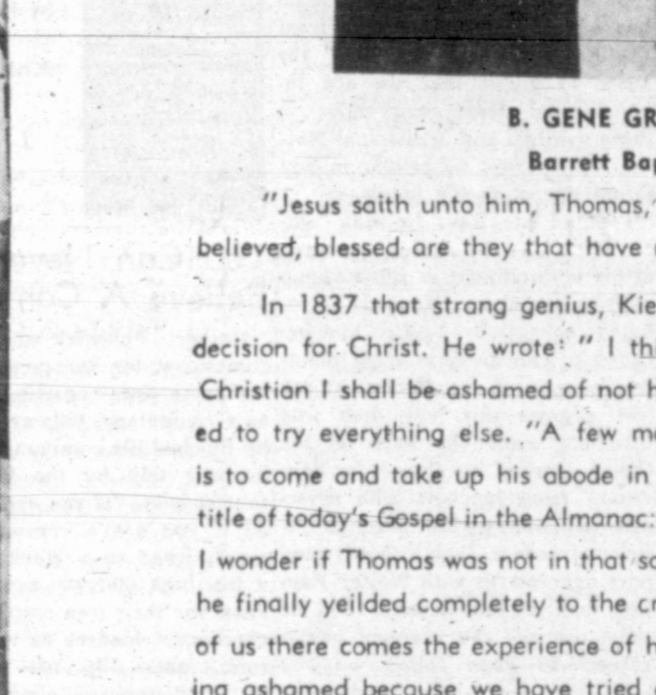

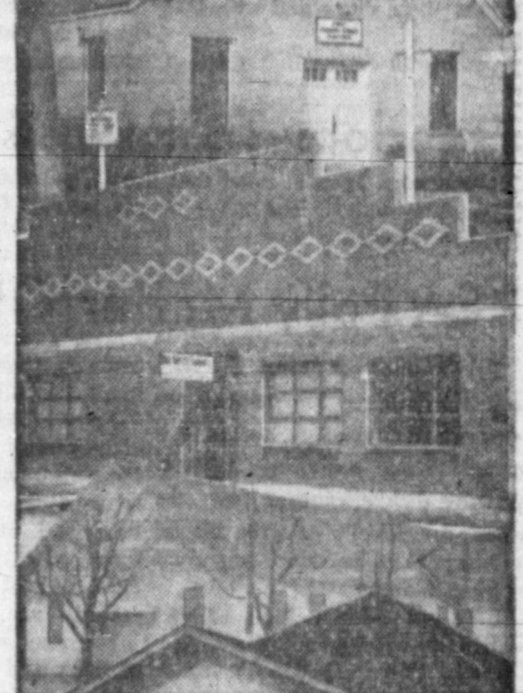

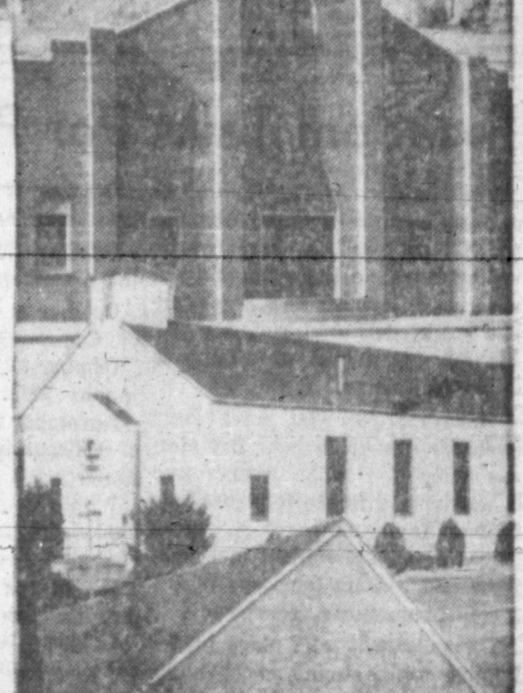

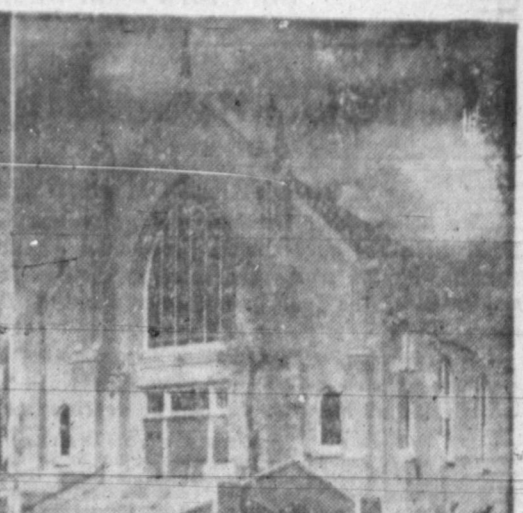

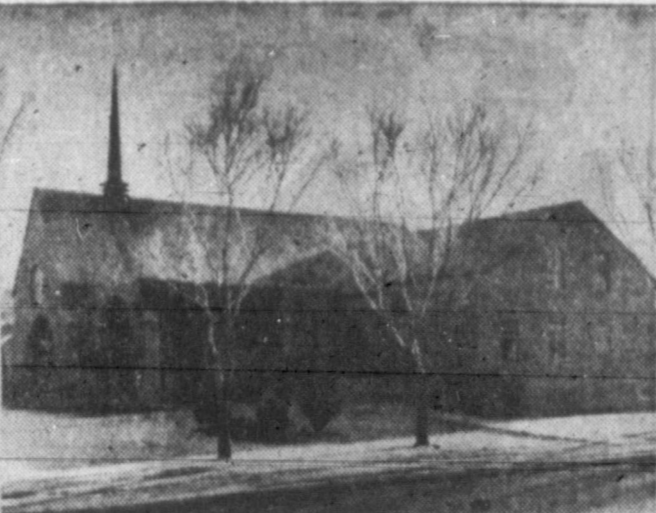

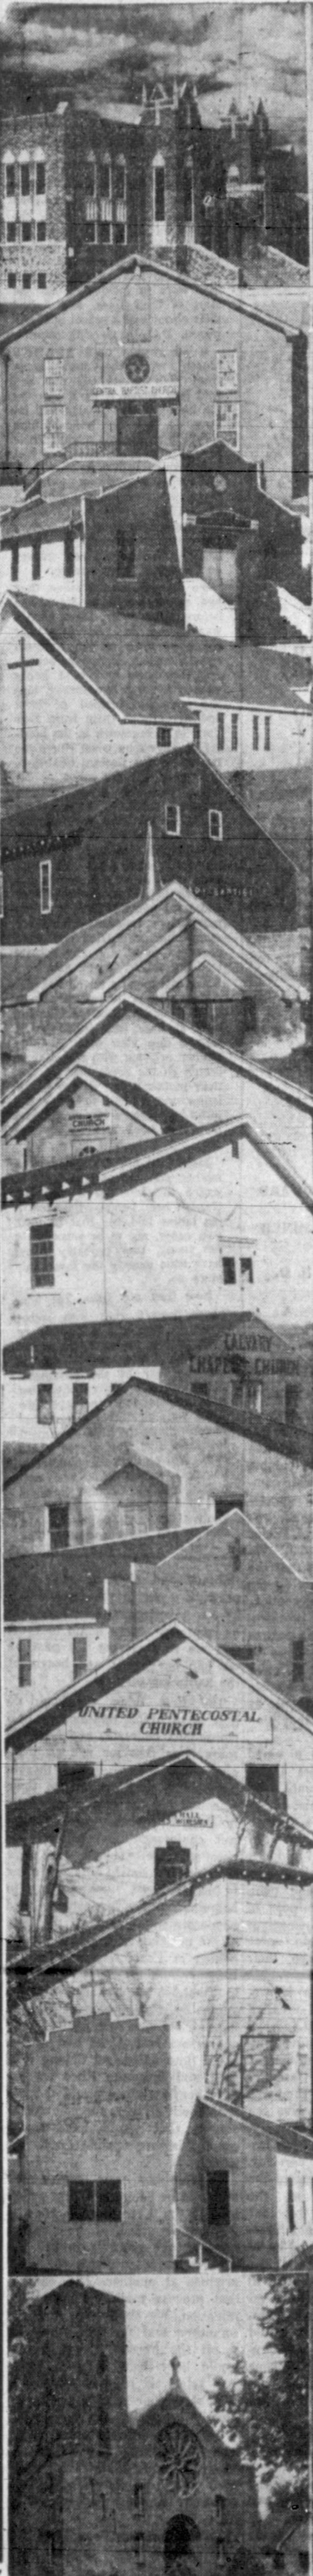

In 1837 that strang genius, Kierkegaard, was very close to a positive decision for Christ. He wrote: "I think that if ever I become seriously a Christian I shall be ashamed of not having done so before, of having wished to try everything else." A few months later he added this: "If Christ is to come and take up his abode in me, it must happen according to the title of today's Gospel in the Almanac: Christ came in through locked doors." I wonder if Thomas was not in that same mood when, after being skeptical, he finally yielded completely to the crucified and resurrected Lord. To many of us there comes the experience of having found him at last and then being ashamed because we have tried everything else first.

We try comfort first. His words are hard and we prefer someone who speaks more softly. He has a cross, and we try to find a religion that will give us peace and ease. We cannot believe that without the cross there can be no crown. And we would have the crown without sacrifice.

We try power. We think we can force our way into any place we want to go. We think we can take from others the things we want. Nations have tried power only to finally be crushed by the power of Almighty God. Generations have tried to attain their goals by the use of power only to be frustrated by the very power they have tried to use. And leave unheeded God's warning of the corruption that comes from the worship of power.

We try some new Philosophy. Surely, we think, there must be some secret that will give us the success we crave. Our generation is very willing to seek all these new words and new promises. We think we have outgrown Christ and we endeavor to find a more streamlined way of life.

Finally, after everything else has failed, we turn to Jesus. And he does come to us through closed doors and finds us only when everything else has let us down. In that hour we wonder why we waited so long and why we wandered so far away from Him. It is for us to learn that he is the first and the last, and that we can not find comfort, peace, and power until we come to God through Jesus Christ.

Freedom Talks For Pampans

The National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has taken upon itself a very worthwhile project in the sponsoring of a series of lectures on "Americanism" to be delivered by Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of Lubbock Christian College.

Those of us who have been fortunate enough to hear Dr. Mattox know him to be a man who is well versed in the fundamentals of our American heritage, knowledgeable on the subject of economics and wise in the ways of the socialist-communist conspiracy.

The talks will take place in the Pampa senior high school auditorium these dates and with these subjects:

October 17 - "The Structure of the American Way of Life"

October 17 - "The Structure of the American Way of Life"

October 24 - "The Present Threat of Communism"

October 31 - "The Socialist-Communist Relationship"

November 7 - "The Responsibility of Citizenship" or "How to Save America"

With the world in such a turmoil, with those of us in the United States seeing more and more of our freedoms disappearing, we recommend you take in Dr. Mattox's lectures for a clearer understanding of your heritage as well as those elements challenging your liberty.

Freedom To Refuse

One must keep in mind that liberty and the right to say no, are inextricably united. The slave cannot say no. Only the man who is free can refuse.

REA Folly Matter Of Record

Partisans of the Rural Electrification Administration co-ops are exceedingly touchy when it comes to any criticism. They especially dislike charges that the co-ops are directly enjoying special privileges in certain important economic areas.

Here are certain facts that should be widely understood:

Private electric companies, when they borrow money for financing, pay the going commercial rate — about four and one half to five per cent. Under the existing law, the co-ops borrow from the government at two per cent — even though the govern-

A Most Important Vote

This is the time of year and the year United States citizens give considerable thought to voting.

Voting is a continuous process throughout life. Every time a service or an article is bought on a free market, a vote is cast. Fewer and fewer services and goods are being bought on a free market.

About the nearest thing left to a free market vote is one's reading matter. If it is not delivered by mail it is a free market.

The daily newspaper probably is nearer a purely free market than magazines or books because fewer of them go through the mails.

The reading matter one buys is one of the most important votes man makes. It has a lot to do with his thoughts, beliefs and way of life.

If he buys magazines and books that attempt to make a sale by pleasing his vanity and flattering him, thus retard his learning to think and reason. He thus is voting in a way to kill a successful life. He is voting for a dreary, lonesome life with little pleasure resulting from the accomplishment of acquiring understanding as rapidly as possible.

A success is possible for all, if we measure success by the amount one uses the talents God gave him by learning to want to do what one ought to do.

The vote one makes daily in selecting his daily newspaper probably has more influence on promoting goodwill and prosperity than any other voting most men do. This is so because more people do more reading in a daily newspaper than in any other medium.

There is, however, a great difference in daily newspapers. None of them is perfect, but some are trying to be useful to present and future generations, while others cater to transitory appetites without any regard to the ill effect of what they advocate in the future.

A newspaper, like a person, must be able to be useful to others, must have convictions, and express them and want them tested so they will harm no one. If they

The Nation's Press

FACADE FOR THE JUNGLE (The Wall Street Journal)

This newspaper believes that the Connally Reservation is a useful protection of U.S. interest, since it permits this country to determine when an issue before the World Court is primarily an American domestic matter and hence beyond that Court's jurisdiction.

But whether one likes or dislikes the Reservation, it seems to us President Eisenhower, in addressing the American Bar Association, made a curiously unconvincing case for abolishing it.

We seek, the President argued, peace with justice, which is another way of saying a world of law. "Look at what peace means. And how are deficient in making concessions" in international affairs won't stand much scrutiny. At vast expense we have tried to rehabilitate and defend much of the world. The United Nations itself, for what it is worth, could not function without its primary financial and other support from the U.S.

As for Connally-type reservations, other nations have put strictures on the terms of their adherence to the World Court, but no one seems to demand concessions from them.

More importantly, abandoning the Connally Reservation could not possibly bring a just peace or a world rule of law one whit closer. The stipulation is valuable from the point of U.S. interests; its removal would be of zero value from the point of view of advancing peace.

The issues of peace and war, we may be very sure, lie far deeper than anything like this. The world's peace is threatened by the militant Communist conspiracy which never hesitates to violate any treaty or precept of international conduct when it suits its purposes. We can and must resist Communism, but we can't have a world of law unless we can have a world of peace.

Because of these realities in the world situation, the United Nations has never been able to live up to the reason for its existence. Declaring unity among the nations could not bring actual unity when one powerful nation seeks only the tragic unity of Communist dictatorship.

That is even more specifically true of the World Court, which it was hoped would be the U.N.'s judicial arm. We have just had a glaring example of Soviet "justice" in the Powers trial; obviously there is no common denominator between the Soviets' legal philosophy and our own.

At one point in his speech Mr. Eisenhower himself indirectly emphasized this difficulty. He noted the debt the writers of our Constitution owed to the legal tradition and traditions of Britain; in fact, the Constitution as we know it could have been written "except for this great heritage."

So it would be possible to have an international court including the U.S., Britain and other countries with a common understanding of the nature of man and law. But how can anyone talk seriously of a functioning World Court that could embrace such nations along with Cuba, the Congo and the Kremlin?

The trouble with all this, it seems to us, is that people sometimes let their desire for real peace lead them into wishful thinking. Thanks to Communist imperialism, the "world rule of law" that we have today is the law of the jungle. It may be pleasant to think that this can be changed simply by establishing forms and institutions. But without the substance of a common legal understanding, the forms must be empty.

If, fact, worse than empty. For to the extent that U.S. involves itself in a World Court that is but a facade for the law of the jungle, it puts itself at the mercy of the jungle. That is why we think it necessary to keep the Connally Reservation. And why we think it peculiar sort of folly to encourage the delusion that an international fiction can alter the world's start actualities.

KING CONFUSES COP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A young police officer detailed to guard the hotel suite occupied by visiting King Frederik of Denmark and Queen Ingrid had a memorable meeting with the king Wednesday.

When a man opened the door of the royal suite, the policeman asked: "Sir, could you help me with some information? I want to know what the king looks like."

"Young man, I am the king."

NOT SO LUCKY

HONOLULU (UPI) — Twenty dice players thought they had a perfect spot for a game when they picked a vacant building which was undergoing remodeling.

They were arrested for gambling shortly after the game began in the future headquarters of the police department.

Talk Of Religion Fearfully Avoided In This Country

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The ridiculous truth about religion in the United States is that the pulp it holds a rigid monopoly on religion which is protected by public opinion and the press. Individuals who dare to examine the popular religions and to state their reasons for skepticism are hounded and ruined for "Hate-Mongering." In most cases they really are guilty of Hate-Mongering, because it seems impossible to compare A's religion with B's without arousing hatred. However, the haters, not the mongers, are at fault here.

In no other "educated" country except Soviet Russia, is religion so fearfully avoided. It is no credit to the intelligence and composure of the North Americans that we impose on ourselves a taboo which in Russia comes from the Kremlin; that we lack the sense to admit that we are incapable of free controversy in these spiritual and intellectual matters. We permit no candor in any forum except in the pulpit.

I pitted the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale in the recent spectacle of his embroilment in some vague expression about Kennedy's religious obligations. I pitted him because he ran away uttering plaintive squeals of repudiation. At my last glimpse this holy man was thrusting home the bars on the Oaken doors of his church for Sanctuary from lynchers who persecute all who try to practice religious freedom. Jack Kennedy may pose arm-in-arm with Walter Reuther and Frank Sinatra, but he must not pay the slightest public respect to Pope John.

All journalists learn early that whatever their private convictions and speculations may be, they will incur the ill-will of mighty forces if they express the slightest reasonable doubt of the most difficult doctrine of any faith.

In all ages, real religious freedom has been attended by bloodshed, ostracism and other ferocity. That undoubtedly would be our own fate, too. But, that being so, why don't we confess to ourselves and God Almighty that our present religion of religious freedom is a sham to spare us bloody noses and business reprisals?

We are so fearful of open discussion that the word "bigot" has derived from our fault an evil meaning which is not inherent. The word means "One obstinately or intolerantly devoted to his own church, party, belief, or opinion."

Yet if we examine our general conduct as a people, that definition applies to us. To venture a step afieled from the sole subject of religion, it is shamefully clear that the devotion of the members of the Roosevelt cult to their idol is a remarkably hateful and cruel bigotry. The longer he lies under his stone in the "shrine" which he had the gall to ordain for himself, with his dog, Faia beside him, the Holier he becomes. And the more Heretical are the leaking disclosures out of the archives which impugn not only his honesty in ordinary personal matters but, toward the end, his sanity.

But I promised, to venture only thus far, so I will not try to discuss the bigotry of the element now called "Liberal" whose intolerance of any dissent from their social and political code is comparable to Hitler's own "impatience."

How better can the total spiritual faith of a true-believing Member of a religious sect be described than by the term "bigotry"? He must be "obstinate" if he

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — It won't mean much to people who start sending their kids away to school (and summer camps, too) when the youngsters are 8 or 9 years old. But I lived with a nice pair of girl twins for 18 years and two months, gave away the 11 days they were in incubators at the start of their lives, and I find their absence at a school in Washington, D.C., a piercing event.

It all started back around March, when they came home from high school one day and said how would it be if we sold the house in the country and let them do their last year of high school in a boarding school? Their mother and I, in all truth, had long wanted to live in New York and avoid commuting, sleet on highways in winter, the purchase of fuel oil in ever more costly and apparently greater quantities and such impediments of suburban life. We needed new gutters on the house, what's more.

We did sell, we did move, they had seven weeks in Manhattan before going away. Much of this was passed in revisiting their childhood town on the Sound and in buying clothes for school. And then their mother, a hardy woman looking like fragile lace and composed instead of steel and iron, drove them from New York to Georgetown in the howling moments when Hurricane Donna hit the Eastern Seaboard. She made the 225 miles or 236 miles, whatever it is, without slowing, skidding, or making any tricks or maiming any individuals. When she got to Washington she stopped at a curb, turned to her girls and said: "I don't know what it is on your minds, but I have earned a double scotch and I am going to have it before moving one suitcase, driving one more mile to hearing one more anecdote concerning any current teenage singer. Thank you."

And she found a haven and did. They were of the somewhat puritanical opinion that the teaching staff at their new school would take a dim view of a certified mother arriving with the air of scotch on the September air, but their mother said: "If any of the ladies would like to drive 250 miles through a hurricane, let them try it. I rest on my defense."

Instead of being abashed by a mother who had swung a tippie of scotch to clear her nerves and steady her hands, the teaching ladies told her that in their own cases not to be reported to us young, they probably would have done exactly the same only more so.

Now they are gone. The telephone doesn't ring with treble hysteria over a new sweater or skirt or boy or letter, nor scrubbed young men dressed to the nines appear at the apartment door with a patently hollow but seemingly terribly sincere: "How ARE YOU, SIR?" No feistions of lingerie make the little apartment look like flag day at the yacht club. No scatters of ointments, unguents, bobbie pins, nail varnishes, combs, ribbons, lipsticks and hair sprays are to be found. Their room and bathroom are shining and clean and tidy. The military and civilian, and the prestige given to the communists by our government. These mistakes have now come home to roost and we must forget the past as we join our hands and hearts in the battle for survival.

The first thing we should do now is to break relations with communist countries and begin to give some hope that we are on their side and not the cronies of their masters. Khrushchev needs a summit conference to bolster his prestige. We should not give it to him but should make it clear to all that we have nothing in common with gangsters and wholesale murderers. At the time of the uprising in Yarkuta, the rebellion in East Germany or in Hungary, and the more recent one in Tibet, if we had shown some sympathy and encouragement to the patriots who rose against the oppressors and if we had at the same time unleashed Chiang Kai-shek and Syngman Rhee we believe conflagrations would have broken out over the communist empire that would have swept away this unspeakable cruel tyranny.

At long last, our government seems to be adopting a firm policy toward the Kremlin. We hope it will remain steadfast. To compromise at one point is to be put under greater pressure to compromise at another. The end of that process would be Soviet domination. We shall have to resist sometime and the longer we put it off the harder it will be. It would have been easy 15 years ago, relatively easy 10 years ago. It is harder now and it will be infinitely harder in the future. Already appeasement voices are heard advocating any degree of compromise necessary to avoid war. That is a policy of surrender and we will have no part of it.

The Great Debate Fell Flat As A Bad Souffle

By HENRY McLEMORE

The Great Debate was the flattest thing I have seen since my wife cooked her first souffle.

It had all the excitement of a stopped Ferris wheel, all the drama of a husband catching the 8:30 bus to work, and all the fire and light of a dormouse in a snug corner.

Never have I seen two men on such good behavior. They looked and acted as if their mothers had just bathed and dressed them, gave them final warnings to be perfect little gentlemen, and sent them out with reassuring pats on their heads.

They sat straight up in their stiff chairs like little boys at dancing class, and when called upon to speak stood as stiff as little ramrods.

I felt like yelling to them to loosen their collars and start acting like real, live candidates instead of two puppets waiting for someone to pull the strings, or oversized toys wound a bit too tight.

As for politeness — well, Miss Emily Post, who died just the day before the Great Debate, would have been proud of them. Each acted as if they had read Miss Post's books through a hundred times, and were determined to get A-plus on manners.

When one was speaking the other stared straight ahead as if he were a mummified railroad crossing watchman gazing up the track for a train. They didn't act real — that's what they didn't do.

Even when one made mild criticism of the other, the criticized one never changed expression. He might just as well have been listening to a new method of grafting rose bushes or have been posing for a picture to be entitled, "Whistler's Mother's Frozen Uncle."

The Great Debate was unreal. Neither man talked nor acted the way he talks and acts in real life. Of course, the setting didn't help. Two hard chairs on a big stage. A backdrop as blank as a glacier. No audience at which to direct their remarks save those of us in our living rooms hundreds and thousands of miles away.

If that was a Great Debate, then I wonder what the ones that go on around my house all the time would be called. They have fight and fire. The opponents towels are folded in perfect oblongs. The shower curtain is dry and hanging inside the tub instead of hanging outside and dripping water. The pictures hang straight on their walls, the bed covers are taut and smooth. The room has all the warm invitation of a public clinic. It lacks that most magic and, to a father, I guess, mystic ingredient — young girls who have a sense of humor. I miss them. I miss them terribly. All the things that have driven us high mad in the past: late sleeping, stopping around, radio hammering away, phone ringing endlessly, staves of clothes and cosmetics, insane discussions about gawky, lank young singers, all of these have vanished and I admit to loneliness of a special and aching kind.

Norman and Arthur and Barry and John and William and Guy and Pat are off to their schools and colleges. No mail comes, no doorbells sound. It is like a desert island and I hate it.

bristle, accuse, counter-accuse, and offer simultaneous rebuttals. There is shouting and naming and the debaters show magnificent scorn for the other's point of view.

None of this Alphonse and Gaston stuff that we had on the Great Debate.

None of this complimenting the other on his or her sincerity, none of this mouse-like quiet when the other is speaking.

Fine ringing phrases like, "You're nuts!" "You talk like a crazy person," and "What do you take me for, a boob?" ring through the house.

It puzzles me how any undecided voter could have had his mind made up by the Great Debate.

It was a tea party with no tea, a prissy little affair from start to finish.

I kept wishing Matt Dillon would stalk in and lay down the law.

The Doctor Says:

DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

I continue to receive many fascinating, informative letters from subscribers.

Miss Nancy Myers of Kansas City, who signs herself a "leal reader," mildly rebukes me for recommending mineral oil salad dressing for people who are watching their weight.

She correctly calls my attention to the capacity of mineral oil for dissolving fat-soluble vitamins. She fears that use of the dressing may produce a vitamin deficiency state.

While it is my own feeling that the slight amount used in the ordinary diet have little significant effect on the total economy, I yield the theoretical point to Miss Myers, particularly in view of her kindness in furnishing me with what she calls "a zero dressing for salads."

Here are the ingredients of "Zero Salad Dressing":

- One-half cup tomato juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, dash of black pepper, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 1/4 teaspoon horseradish, garlic to taste, if desired.

Combine ingredients in a jar with a tightly fitted top. Shake well before using.

We've just tried Miss Nancy's recipe. It's so good, I've decided not to argue with her.

I've received several letters inquiring about the causes of, and treatment for, hair loss by female subscribers.

Curiously enough, this problem recently was investigated by members of the American Dermatological Assn.

A questionnaire sent to 170 members revealed the fact that more than half had noted increased balding in female patients.

Loss of hair was particularly observed in women past the age of puberty. Although the report closes with the statement that nothing is known of the cause or treatment of this embarrassing condition, I venture the opinion that much of this type of hair loss is due to the injury inflicted on hair roots by permanent waving and related insults to the human scalp, conducted in the name of beauty aids.

With which statement, I retire to my bombproof shelter.

Series, All Even, Moves To Yankees' Playground

By LEO H. PETERSEN
NEW YORK (UPI) — It won't be four straight like in 1927, but the New York Yankees began thinking in terms of five today, now that they again are looking like old "Murderer's Row."

They are only even with the Pittsburgh Pirates going into tomorrow's third game of the 1960

Yanks Act Like Pros

By RUDY CERNKOVIC
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — One thing about the New York Yankees — win or lose they act like old pros when it's all over.

It's not that they don't take defeat as hard as the next club, or feel the joy of victory any less than the next guy. It's just the manner in which they deport themselves in either case.

Take Wednesday, for instance, when they lost the opening game of the 1960 World Series to the Pirates. 6-4. There was very little alighting in the dressing room and hardly anyone seemed downcast. Instead, the club's two top hitters — Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris — heaped praise on the Pirates, and simply vowed "we'll get 'em."

Thursday, after they had virtually run the Pirates off the field by a score of 16-3 with Mantle blasting two homers, they simply sat around their dressing quarters in a quiet sort of way. Mickey seemingly least affected by it all.

When told that his second homer — a mighty blast that cleared the ivy-covered center field wall — was the first ever hit out of the park at that point by a right handed hitter, Mantle simply shrugged. "I really had to reach for that ball."

The home run gave Mantle 13 such blows in World Series competition, placing him only two behind Babe Ruth. It also gave him five runs batted in for the game, equalling a record set by former Yankees Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey in 1936 and Ted Kluszewski of the White Sox last year.

Bob Turley, the beneficiary of the lusty Yankee hitting — they got 19 hits in all — was a little more talkative, but in a typically restrained Yankee way.

"It's great to go ahead with such a big lead," he said, motioning toward Mantle.

Then, he went into an account of his pitching pattern.

"I threw only a few curves in the last four or five innings. But my fast ball was sinking nicely and kept moving around."

Elston Howard, the Yankees' handyman who got two hits in their big seven-run sixth inning, sat by calmly dressing while reporters crowded around Mantle and Turley. Finally, one writer turned to Howard and said, "You know, you made the record book?"

"That so?" replied Howard.

Texas Frosh Win Twelfth

AUSTIN (UPI) — The University of Texas Shortorns chalked up their 12th consecutive Southwest Conference freshman football win Thursday night by coming from behind to beat the Baylor Cubs 20-6.

The Shortorns dazzled the Cubs with two fourth-quarter touchdowns to provide the victory margin. Texas' freshmen suffered their last setback at the hands of the 1957 Texas Christian Poly-wogs.

The Cubs scored first when quarterback Dean plunged over from the one in the first quarter. Texas tied it just before halftime when quarterback Duke Carlisle scored from one foot out.

Fullback Olen Underwood of Channelview churned 11 yards for one of the last-period Texas scores, and halfback Alan Baum of Austin skirted end for six yards and the final Shortorn tally.

World Series. But the way that they evened the count at 1-1 Thursday when they bombed the Pirates, 16-3, at Forbes Field, put them back solidly in the favorites' role.

The bookies quoted them 8 1/2 to 5 to win the Series chiefly on the strength of the manner in which they humiliated the Pirates.

Furthermore, they were 7 1/2 to 5 choices to beat the Pirates in the third game at Yankee Stadium Saturday with Whitey Ford going against Wilmer Vinegar Bend Mizell. Both are lefthanders and Yankee Stadium is supposed to be a pitching paradise for south-paws.

It has been for Ford, although his record this year was only 42-9. But he has been the Yankee clutch pitcher for years, especially in the Stadium.

Mizell, a fast-baller, had a 14-8 record. Thirteen of those wins came after the Pirates obtained him from the St. Louis Cardinals in May. But he never has pitched in Yankee Stadium where late afternoon shadows become a problem, especially for the left fielders.

Because he has heard so much about those shadows, manager Danny Murtaugh, whose Pirates flew here Thursday night, ordered a 1:30 p.m. EDT workout today.

"I want my players to see the stadium as close to game conditions as possible," Murtaugh explained, adding that his boys would do all right "shadows or not."

Murtaugh, far from down hearted, refused to say whether Gino Cimoli, Thursday's starter in left, or Bob Skinner, who started Wednesday's game which the Pirates won, 6-4, would be out there.

He did say, however, that if Ford pitched for the Yankees, right handed hitter Hal Smith would catch instead of Smokey Burgess, "a left handed swinger."

Also, Murtaugh would put Dick Stuart, a right handed hitter, back at first base instead of Rocky Nelson, a southpaw, if "Stuart's jammed finger is okay."

Vinegar Bend said he was impressed with the Yankees' power, but he didn't plan to change his pitching style very much.

The crew cut Alabama native said he was "always impressed with Mickey Mantle" and he found no reason to change his mind. After the Mick smashed two Stuart, a long-ball hitter although not as good defensively as Nelson, played in Wednesday's opener, but that finger, injured at the season's end, bothered him in the late innings, so Nelson took his place in Thursday's Pirate slaughter.

Stengel didn't know "what my lineup will be for Saturday's game."

"I went with my veterans yesterday and we did all right," he observed. "I just might go with them again."

To go with as many veterans as he could Stengel switched his catcher, Yogi Berra, to left field, put Elston Coward back of the plate and Gil McDougald at third base instead of Cleis Boyer.

"I ain't saying I'm going to do the same thing tomorrow, but I might," Stengel said.

There is one thing Casey said he was sure of.

"My guy with the bad legs will be in center field."

That's Mickey Mantle, who hit two home runs Thursday, one of them a tape-measure job, to lead the Yankees to their one-sided triumph.

Stengel said he thought he could get Mantle out along with the rest of the Yankees "if I have my stuff."

"A good pitcher always helps himself," he observed. "Wildness has been my biggest problem in the past, but I believe I have licked it now."

The Pirate fans were quick to agree. Mizell won 13 games for the Bucs and lost only five during the regular season after coming here from St. Louis. He did show a streak of wildness once, last Sunday in the 9-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. His overall 1960 record is 14-8.

The 30-year-old hurler observed that this is his first World Series start as well as his initial appearance on the mound in Yankee Stadium.

"The closest I ever got to the Stadium was on a subway when we were on our way to the Polo Grounds to play the New York Giants," he said.

Mizell said he wasn't nervous about pitching against the Yankees "but I might be tomorrow. Saturday's a long time off."

Underdog Harvesters Pull For First Victory

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK — Pampa's Harvesters (0-4) and Lubbock's Monterey Plainsmen (1-2) collide in "The Battle of Bruises" at 7:30 tonight in Jones Stadium in a District 3-4A contest.

The Plainsmen, whose two defeats have been of the one-point variety, have at least three starters hobbled by recent injuries but still will be a touchdown favorite over the visitors from the Panhandle because of the big weight advantage.

Monterey will field a starting offensive unit that averages 171 pounds as compared to 157 for the Harvesters. Defensively, Lubbock weighs 175 pounds per man to Pampa's 156.6, a difference of almost 19 pounds per player.

Definitely out of the game for Monterey is Guard Joe Johnston and Halfback Winston Clark, both starters last week. Johnston is down with the flu and Clark will be on crutches for at least a month with a leg injury.

Fullback Butch Thompson, the Plainsmen's leading rusher with 193 yards, may not start against the Harvesters due to a painful elbow injury. His replacement is James Cochran, a 175-pound defensive starter to date.

Elsewhere in the Lubbock school's backfield, Halfbacks Ronald Bandy and Joe Viney are on the black and blue list. Bandy is the Monterey speedster, but a hurt leg may slow him up a bit; for Viney, the Pampa game marks the first time he has played since he got hurt in the Plainsmen's first game, a 14-0 win over Poly.

Pampa's injury-riddled corp will have two starters missing from the game tonight. Quarterback Roy Don Stephens is out with a torn knee cartilage and may have to give up football completely. The decision to play has been left up to Stephens but the team doctor said yesterday that Stephens faces a good chance of permanently injuring himself if he continues to play.

Also out of the Monterey game will be End-Randy Matson, a 190-pound sophomore, who broke his foot in the Tascosa game last week and will be idle for at least three weeks.

Halfback Sherrill Miller has a charley horse but should start; Wingback Jimmy Crouch is out for three weeks with a shoulder separation, and End Jimmy Storms has a leg injury.

The game has taken on all the aspects of a Red Cross meeting but the 4,000 anticipated fans are expected to see close ball game. Monterey has averaged 209.7 yards per game while allowing its opposition 126. Pampa ranks third in the district in defense with 196 yards and has averaged close to 200 yards per game with the ball.

James Ellis will open at quarterback for the Plainsmen and can be expected to throw the ball all over Jones Stadium. He has thrown 34 times — 25 against Midland last week — and has 212 yards gained through the ozone. His favorite target is Bandy who, despite being half-lame, is the team's leading pass catcher with 107 yards.

Butch Crossland will guide the Harvester's fortunes at the man under slot in place of Stephens. He's not the passer that Stephens is but he is expected to move the ground attack well.

In the patched-up Green and Gold backfield will be Robby Robinson (163) at halfback; Lucky Dunham (135) at wingback and powerful Steve Dobbin, (158) Pampa's leading scorer with 12 points, at fullback.

The very probable starting forward wall and weights for Pampa will be Jimmy Storms (147) end; Charlie Geise (173), guard; Duke Green (190), center; Dickie Wills (150), strong guard; James Webb (165), tackle; Jimmy Boyles (149), strong end; Jerry Glover (154), wide end.

For Monterey, John Cummings and Jerry Shipley will open at ends; Jim Ray and Clive Lankford at tackles; Tommy Ashton and Larry Ferrell at guards and Dale Harris at center.

In the Plainsman backfield will be Ellis, Bandy Viney and Cochran.

There's nothing like perfection. Mickey Cissell, the Arkansas fullback with the talented toe, has a new pair of shoes ... and Baylor beware.

He'll be wearing them when the Razorbacks tackle the Bruins Saturday at Fayetteville in the Southwest Conference's headline clash, a game that could go a long way in deciding the championship.

Mickey is Arkansas' extra-point kicker. He's the team's leading scorer so far this season, because he's missed only one of his nine attempts. That's not good enough.

He worked out in the new shoes Thursday. The one on his kicking foot has a square toe.

"I'm through missing them now," he commented.

Frank Broyles, Arkansas coach, put the team through a light workout stressing offensive blocking, punting and kickoff returns.

At Waco, Coach John Bridgers polished up his defense in an effort to keep the slippery Porker backs from knifing through.

Texas, which tangles with Oklahoma at the Cotton Bowl, worked on kicking and passing again. Coach Darrell Royal cut the practice short so the team could watch the Texas-Baylor freshman game, which the Shortorns won 20-6.

Royal said he would start the same 11 men he opened with against Texas Tech.

Southern Methodist flew to Washington to do some sight-seeing before their game with Navy at Norfolk, Va., Saturday.

Coach Jim Myers sent his Texas Aggies through a light workout and said "the spirit was the best I have seen in a long time." He had particular praise for right halfback Jack Estes.

Texas Tech, which meets TCU at Fort Worth, tapered off with a light dummy scrimmage. Coach DeWitt Weaver said halfback Dan Gurley, who lives in Fort Worth, will be able to see "limited action." It will be Gurley's first game this season. He has been sidelined with a hurt leg.

Mizell Feels Pirates Still In Series Race

By ALBERT AUVIL
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Pittsburgh's pitching choice in the third game of the World Series in Yankee Stadium Saturday, is optimistic about the Pirate's chances.

"I think we'll win the Series," the hard-throwing left hander drawled. "If we don't, I sure will be disappointed."

Vinegar Bend said he was impressed with the Yankees' power, but he didn't plan to change his pitching style very much.

The crew cut Alabama native said he was "always impressed with Mickey Mantle" and he found no reason to change his mind. After the Mick smashed two home runs and drove in five runs in the 16-3 victory Thursday.

However, Mizell said he thought he could get Mantle out along with the rest of the Yankees "if I have my stuff."

"A good pitcher always helps himself," he observed. "Wildness has been my biggest problem in the past, but I believe I have licked it now."

The Pirate fans were quick to agree. Mizell won 13 games for the Bucs and lost only five during the regular season after coming here from St. Louis. He did show a streak of wildness once, last Sunday in the 9-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. His overall 1960 record is 14-8.

The 30-year-old hurler observed that this is his first World Series start as well as his initial appearance on the mound in Yankee Stadium.

"The closest I ever got to the Stadium was on a subway when we were on our way to the Polo Grounds to play the New York Giants," he said.

Mizell said he wasn't nervous about pitching against the Yankees "but I might be tomorrow. Saturday's a long time off."

Orange '11' Easy Choice

By GARY KALE
United Press International

Georgia shoots for higher national ranking in an intersectional clash with three-beaten Southern California Friday night, while Syracuse and Mississippi, the top two football powers, lead Saturday's action among the rated teams.

The Bulldogs of Georgia received a smattering of votes in this week's United Press International ratings on the basis of their second comeback victory after an opening game loss to Alabama. Last season, Georgia closed with a fifth place rating and coach Wally Butts' crew is a five-point choice to improve its current position at the expense of the Trojans.

Syracuse, keeping its No. 1 ranking intact with a close 14-4 triumph over Kansas last week, is an overwhelming choice to make Holy Cross its 20th straight regular-season victim.

Ironically, it was Holy Cross that defeated Syracuse in the Orangemen's last regular season loss back in 1958.

Mississippi, piling up 94 points in its victories over Houston, Kentucky and Memphis State, is a three-touchdown favorite over Vanderbilt in a southeastern conference contest.

Iowa's third-ranked Hawkeyes rule a one-point favorite over Michigan State in one of four Big Ten games involving top-ranked schools.

Illinois, ranked fourth, is a four-point choice over fifth-place Ohio State, Minnesota's ninth-ranked squad is a seven-point pick over Northwestern, and seventh-ranked Purdue is five over Wisconsin.

Navy, which won a No. 6 slot in the ratings because of a last-minute field goal over Washington, is a two-touchdown choice over Southern Methodist.

Washington gets a chance to snap back against Stanford in a nationally-televised game and are favored by 15 points.

Missouri, the nation's eighth ranked team, meets the Air Force Academy in a battle of undefeated giants. Missouri topped the service squad last year on its home ground, but is a half-point underdog in the rarified air of Academy territory.

The 19th-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks put their undefeated string of three on the line against unbeaten Baylor and are a five-point pick in this Southwestern Conference tilt.

Down Plainview, 14-8

PLAINVIEW — Sparked by the two scoring sprints of Halfback Dickie Hafley and some fine second half defensive work, the Pampa Shockers downed Plainview's Bullpups, 14-8, yesterday in Plainview.

The win was the first for the Shockers of Coaches Norm Phillips and Deck Woldt, and brought Pampa's record to 1-3.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hafley exploded for a 63-yard touchdown sprint midway in the second period. The conversion was good but an offside penalty nullified the play.

Plainview took the second half kickoff and marched the length of the field to score its only TD of the day, then ran over a two-pointer to edge ahead of the Shockers, 8-6.

The Shockers were not to be denied. Pampa took the ball on its own 27 and pushed downfield for the winning score with Hafley hitting paydirt from 16 yards out on an end run to the left side. A pass from Harry O'Neal to Bryon Prigmore added the two conversion tallies.

The stout defensive work of Jack McNeil, John Pierce, Jon Osborne, O'Neal and Travis Tucker stopped Plainview's late drive on the Pampa 30 when the Shockers intercepted a desperation pass.

Woldt singled out the work of Jack Criss, playing cornerback for the first time. "He did a real fine job," Woldt said. "His heads-up defensive play saved the day for us in the latter part of the game."

Gilbert And Sullivan Reach 'Opera' Status

THE MUSIC WORLD By DELOS SMITH

United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — A phenomenon which has been overlooked and one which gives you use when you think about it is a success Gilbert and Sullivan have as operatic stage compositions of the accepted masters of opera, such as Verdi and Puccini.

Something has given. Times have changed. Here are G. and S. "The Mikado" and the "Merry Widow" which was first staged in 1907 and is the oldest opera still extant, and Dallapiccola's "The Prisoner" which is one of the newest.

This is the first time a grade-A professional opera troupe has made G. and S. part of its standard fare and got away with it.

But if Wednesday night's season opener on NBC-TV is an indication of what's to come, I'd say that Perry's guests should pay to get on Perry's crew, led by Goodman Ace, director Dwight Hemion, Choral director Ray Charles, choreographer Hugh Lampert, set designer Gary Smith and Michi, the costume girl, gave all of Wednesday night's guests excellent material and they all were shown to best advantage.

It used to be that a typical G. and S. audience contained numerous relicts from the Victorian era—in attitudes if not in the actual flesh. It would be overwhelmingly an audience of specialists who knew both the inner workings of every barb and the precise way in which the original performers had delivered the barbs.

Avalon, Fabian Scored After 'Como' Showing

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—They tell me Perry Como is going to spend more money than ever this season to get guest stars for his show.

Goodman Ace, director Dwight Hemion, Choral director Ray Charles, choreographer Hugh Lampert, set designer Gary Smith and Michi, the costume girl, gave all of Wednesday night's guests excellent material and they all were shown to best advantage.

Shelley Berman, a fine comedian and no singer, was presented in a production number that allowed him to do a medley of his hits. The hits were all famous tag lines from his comedy vignettes and they were integrated into a special song - and dance number that could have bombed but instead succeeded in excellent style.

Special guest star Ethel Merman never shone more brightly on TV than she did last night. First, she came on cold to sing, "Everything's Coming up Roses," and put it into the bleachers. Later, Merman sang Como's big hits while Como sang Merman and we had a relaxed, charming, appealing interlude. I also liked the little electronic tricks with which Como opened the show. They were nicely paced, handsomely mounted and apt. It was a premiere that gave us forward-moving TV.

Buh-Buh-Bing Crosby sort of moseyed in Wednesday night and bent a few warm notes around our little old earlobe-buh-buh-buhs and patted our memories gently under the chin and treated our eyebuh-buh-buh-balls to some crisp looking sets.

Bing teamed with Rosemary Clooney, Carol Lawrence, Johnny Mercer and three of the Crosbys — Dennis, Phillip and Lindsay—to reel off familiar old standards with his usual ease of manner.

Pleasant sounds came our way in a number of medleys that saluted our best-known composers, including Mr. Mercer, but the mounting of these segments didn't display much ingenuity.

Free Bus Rides During Strike

MIAMI (UPI) — City investigators, checking for violations of the unusual ground rules covering the Miami bus strike, report they found no evidence of the drivers accepting tips.

The drivers have been on strike since Saturday. Since Tuesday, however, they have been driving their regular routes, with tape over the meter boxes and no charge for rides.

The companies agreed to pay the gasoline bills if the drivers would accept no fares or gratuities. They said the truce agreement was costing them $24,000 daily in unpaid fares.

Wednesday's findings on the tipping controversy, announced by City Manager M. L. Reese, assured bus riders of no charge riding today.

The bus companies had threatened to end the truce because of the tipping reports.

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

It's All Pontiac! on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.
