WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some tinkering with the U.S. Constitution would be appropriate any time now to cut pressure groups and bare-knuckled political minorities down to size.

This could be accomplished by devising another method of electing presidential electors. Any numerous religious, racial or occupational minority in any state is, under the present system, a potential election-day balance of power.

The objective of electoral college reform would be to give back to the voters the presidential election and the party platforms. Such reform was proposed in the Senate in 1956 with the endorsement of 51 senators.

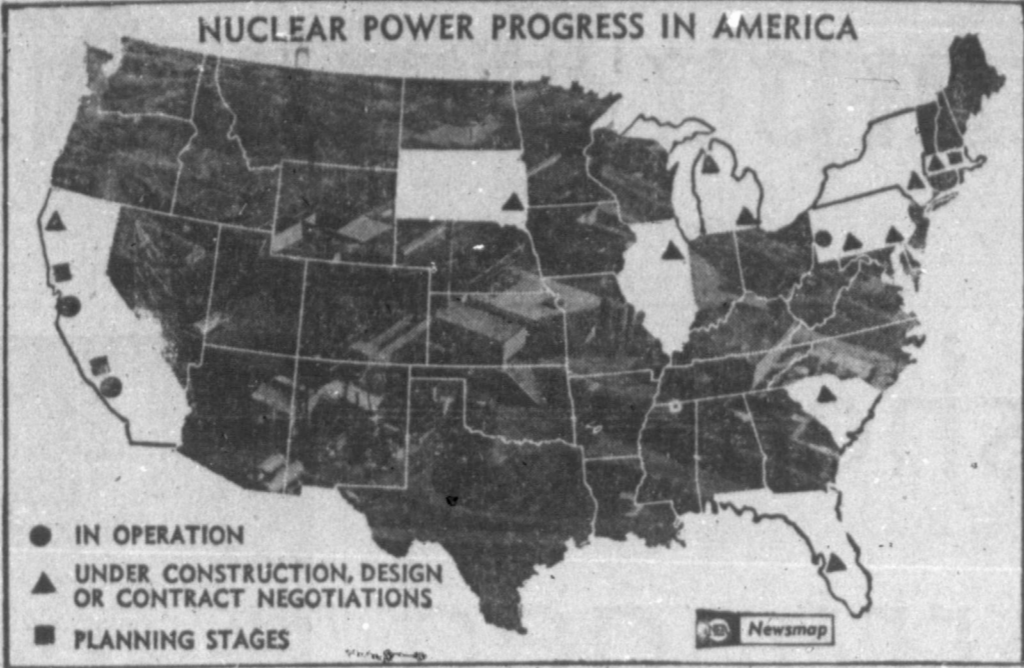

At present, a state's entire electoral vote goes to the candidate who gets a plurality or better of that state's popular vote, no matter how close the vote may be. The reform proposed in 1956 would permit each state to choose between two methods of allotting electoral votes on the basis of popular votes cast:

1. The state's electoral vote would be divided on a percentage basis among the three presidential candidates receiving the most votes.
2. Each congressional district would vote for one elector of its own and for two at-large for the state. That is, electors would be chosen exactly as members of the House and Senate now are chosen.

This was a compromise proposal combining in one package two alternative proposals which long had been pending in deadlock. Supporters of both proposals joined in support of the compromise. Senate approval seemed assured. Thereafter, a favorable two-thirds House vote would have enabled submission of the proposed amendment to the states for ratification.

A weak spot was alternative No. 1 which seemed to invite third or splinter parties into every state although supporters of No. 1 insisted it would not have that effect. No. 2 unquestionably would discourage splinter group politics and surely would yank the rug from under pressure group minorities. The objective of the reform proposal was to distribute the electoral vote more equitably between the major parties in relation to popular vote returns. The overall advantage would be to the smaller of the two major parties, the Republican party as of now.

A shift of less than six-tenths of one per cent of the 1948 vote from Harry S. Truman would have thrown that presidential election into the House and, probably, into deadlock. If the proposed amendment had been in effect in 1948, the electoral vote would have been: Truman 258

STATE OF THE ATOM—How close is the nation to making the atom its prime power source? Newsmap above shows there are three nuclear power plants in operation. Last year they produced 65,000 kilowatts of electricity. But this was only a tiny fraction of the 112 million kilowatts generated by steam and 12.5 million by water. A handful of other plants are in design or construction stages in nine states (California, South Dakota, Illinois, Michigan, Florida, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts) and will be joined by more and more in the 1960s. Unless there is a breakthrough in technology, however, the prediction is that nuclear power will still constitute but a small part of the nation's total electrical output for the rest of this century. Data from Edison Electric Institute.

Importance Of Recent Stock Price Decline Said To Be Exaggerated

NEW YORK (UPI)—Where do about a recession in the near future, we go from here?

That's the question asked by the small investor following last week's extension of the September decline in stock prices, featuring the worst daily shakeout in five years.

Last week's action dropped prices through the 600 level in the Dow Jones industrial average, a level that had resisted selling drives on three separate occasions this year.

Most market experts concede that the decline to new lows is important from a technical point of view, but they add that this importance can be exaggerated.

Sidney B. Lurie of Josephthal and Co., said the breaking of the 600 level primarily reflects what has been obvious for some time—namely the fact that we are living in a difficult period.

The noted security analyst said the whole post-war concept of common stock ownership now is under severe test. He pointed out that it is becoming more apparent every day that we are faced with a long term bear market in price times earnings ratios and a bull market in yields—both of which spell downward price pressures. "For the first time in a generation inflation no longer is a market factor," he stated.

In addition, Lurie noted that the heretofore buoyant business economy has lost its zest and still is searching for a major stimulus. The daily business news has not offered much encouragement, and many economists are talking dig a hole.

Tattoo Miscue Fails Forger

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — One thing worse than a two-bit tattoo artist is one who can't spell.

Sheriff's Deputies A. D. McCurtley and Luke Bockemuhl picked up a 19-year-old boy Tuesday as a forger suspect. They noted a tattoo on his arm which said "The jockey's wild."

"It's supposed to be 'The jockey's wild' but the guy I went to didn't know how to spell it," the youth explained. "And I paid him a quarter, too."

Odessans Found Shot To Death

ODESSA (UPI) — Donald D. Dickerson, about 28, and Georgia Robb, about 30, were found shot to death in Odessa late Monday night.

Police were investigating the double-slaying today. Dickerson had been shot three times in the upper chest and the woman died of a bullet wound in the heart.

(less than a majority); Thomas E. Dewey 221.4; State's Righter Strom Thurmond 38.6; Progressive Henry A. Wallace 9.4; others 1.8. Under the proposed plan, in such circumstances, the Senate and the House together would choose the president, each member casting one vote.

The actual 1948 electoral vote was: Truman 303; Dewey 189; Thurmond 39. Truman polled 49.3 per cent of the 1948 popular vote.

This proposal looked like a sure winner in the Senate until minority group leaders got the word. They put the pressure on and the 51 senators committed to the proposal began to melt away.

Public In Favor Of Debates By Two Candidates

By United Press International

The judges of Monday night's Nixon-Kennedy debate—the American voters — won't make their final decision known until Nov. 8, but today they appeared overwhelmingly in favor of staging face-to-face encounters by the two presidential candidates.

A survey by United Press International indicated a split as to whether Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy came across better in their hour-long meeting.

But all of those interviewed appeared inclined to agree with Matthew M. Butschek, 34, of Dallas, Tex., who said the debates were "the best thing that has ever happened in a presidential campaign."

Thomas Hogan, 31, a Denver, Colo., insurance salesman, said "I think both candidates made good appearances, presented their ideas well. Of course, you will be swayed by your political affiliation."

Those who picked a winner of ten favored the opposite candidates for identical reasons.

"Nixon did very well," said John Walton Lawson, 59, of Wilmet, Ill. "He did a whole lot better than Kennedy. He was more sincere and seemed to have more confidence."

"Sen. Kennedy seemed more sure of himself," said Mrs. Margaret Riley, 52, of Pittsburgh, Pa. "They both appeared sincere and both fine men, but Mr. Kennedy seemed to have a slight edge over Nixon."

"Accountant Earl Vetter, 33, of Los Angeles, said, "A display of two such facile young men as prospective presidents of the United States was frightening to me. While the debate was dramatic in its form, its content displayed a surprising lack of evidence of the bold new leadership which we all concur the country needs."

A resident New Yorker, Jason Bacon, 26, said, "I was very im-

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

While Fidel Castro lives it up in New York's Harlem and publicly demonstrates his affection for world communism with a bear hug embrace for Nikita Khrushchev, news from Cuba tells of mounting troubles for the bearded dictator at home.

Cuba swiftly is going broke. And in the Sierra Maestra where Castro launched his own revolution against President Fulgencio Batista, more and more men are demonstrating their willingness to risk a Castro firing squad for the chance of toppling him from power.

In the economic field, Castro has turned almost totally to the Communist nations in his efforts to become financially independent of the United States.

Hand in hand with Cuban diplomatic recognition of Russia, Red China and the Communist satellites, have gone barter trade deals whereby in exchange for Cuban sugar, tobacco and other exports come arms from Czechoslovakia and Russia, machinery and even whole factories from Poland and East Germany.

Meanwhile, imports from the United States fall to less than half their previous figure and will fall still lower.

But Cuban seizure of American properties valued at nearly a billion dollars and action whereby the government becomes Cuba's sole exporter and importer do not produce dollars.

The result is an increasingly serious shortage of foreign exchange, and dwindling of consumer goods and mounting inflation.

Seized properties in the hands of amateurs have failed to produce profits. Purchasing power has dwindled as taxes increase and inflation mounts as government printing presses grind out pesos.

In Cuba any criticism of Castro is considered counter-revolutionary and for him who commits such a crime the results can be even among the workers upon whom Castro depends for his strength.

TURTLE ERROR—Playing no shell game, young Vic Boyett is in dead earnest as he goes underwater in pursuit of a turtle at Florida's Silver Springs. An expert swimmer and diver, Vic keeps himself in ice-cream money by catching turtles. He sells them to a reptile institute, which is a tourist attraction at the Springs.

OLYMPIC FORM—This official Olympic shirt donates part of its purchase price as a contribution to the games in Rome. Bearing the embroidered emblem of the Olympics, the shirt is done in a blended cotton that's crease resistant and easy to wash and wear.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT—Thirteen-year-old Jan Johnston, the coxswain of the Australian 8-with-Cox rowing team is on a dock at Lake Albano, Italy. The team was practicing there for the big events in nearby Rome.

THAT'S HIS STORY—A fish story, of course, but young Chris Larsen has a good one. He's flashing his toothless smile over the catch he made in the 12th annual Children's Summer Fishing Rodeo in Miami Beach, Fla.

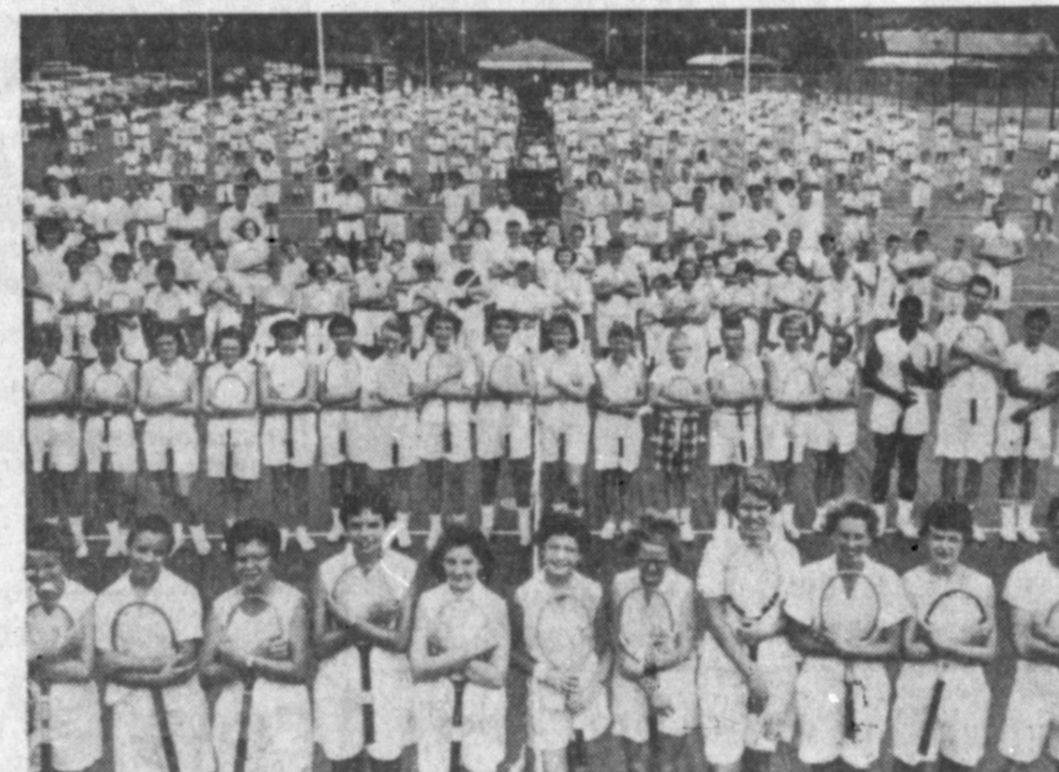

FREE WHEELING—Strapped into the cockpit of his stripped-down racing car, driver Arthur Arfons is set for a dry run at Akron, Ohio. The odd-looking auto is powered by an aircraft engine, and Arfons' goal was to drive it over the salt flats at Bonneville, Utah. He hoped to break John Cobb's 1947 speed of 394.194 mph.

HELP WANTED—If you're up to date on water safety, you know that Jo Haynes, of Whitehaven, Tenn., is a damsel in distress on the Mississippi River. She's demonstrating the U. S. Coast Guard's small boat distress sign, in which arms are slowly and repeatedly raised and lowered. When Jo signals, every river boat speeds to her rescue.

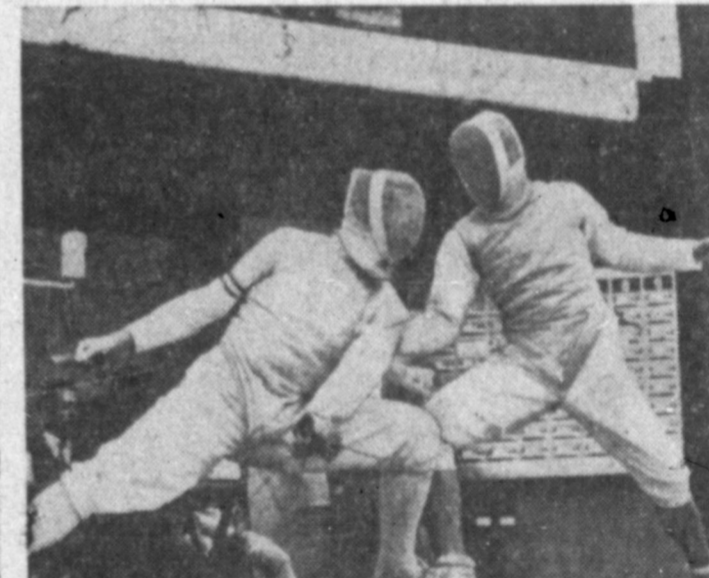

FORCE PLAY—As Bill Skowron (14) hits the dirt, K. C. 2nd sacker Jerry Lumpe fires to first trying to complete a double play in the 2nd inning of the 1st game of a double header in New York. The Yanks took the opener with 1-0.

TENNIS, EVERYONE?—What a racket they're raising at Springfield, Ohio, where this gang of kids lined up for instruction in the city's tennis program. There may be a future champ or two among the youngsters, who received lessons in fundamentals before entering local tournaments. Dr. Howard Dredge founded the program.

A HOUSE IS NOT A HOLE—Okay, so there's a house rolling down the fairway. But it takes more than a mere house-in-the-way to disconcert this intent golfer who's concentrating on his tee shot at the Englewood, N. J., golf course. Uprooted to make room for a new highway, the house was being towed across the links to its new location. It never was really in anyone's way on the links.

LIMBERING UP—Members of the Japanese Olympic rowing team did a little jiu-jitsu before rowing practice. The rowing events of the Olympics were held at Lake Albano, at the foot of Castel Gandolfo Hill in Italy. That's the location of the Papal summer residence.

COME WHO MAY—And it looks as if all Paris has turned out to sun themselves at close quarters. Bathers are virtually sitting on each other at the Deligny swimming pool. Located on the banks of the Seine River, the pool is one of the largest in the French capital, and every available inch of space is being utilized.

Letters Tell Success Story Of No-Roach

Housewives all over America write unsolicited letters of thanks to the manufacturers of Johnston's No-Roach. Every day, letters like this one come in. Dear Sirs: I am writing out of relief and gratitude. When the other families moved away from our multiple-dwelling building, I was besieged by hundreds of ugly roaches and other bugs. It was impossible for us to rid, so we just had to stay and fight the pests. I tried every spray I could find. None was effective. I do a lot of entertaining and was preparing myself for the humiliation of having a friend find roaches in my kitchen, with all the resulting poor reflections on my reputation as a housekeeper.

I saw a No-Roach advertisement, that it was a brush-on liquid that stayed effective. So I tried a bottle. A miracle! Here at last is a product that lives up to its name. There are no dead roaches left lying around, no odor, no danger to pets or children. I can use food and dishes around the kitchen without worry! It is my pleasure to recommend your fine product to all women in the same predicament I was in. I'll testify that Johnston's No-Roach really works!

NO-ROACH is inexpensive, easy to apply.

EXPERTS AT THE JOB — Modern machines such as the stitching units above, being operated by D. W. Hawthorne, left, and Gene Tollison, owner of Acme Mattress Co., at 817 W. Foster is just as near as your telephone. Call MO 4-6621 and an Acme man will be glad to discuss your needs.

Acme Mattress Company Gives One-Day Service On Quality Mattress Repairs, Renovating, Styling

Has your old mattress let you down? Then have it reconditioned at Acme Mattress Co., 817 W. Foster. You get same-day service when you call Acme and have them rebuild your mattress. It will be as good as new at a price far less than it would cost you to buy a new one. Sometimes a mattress does not have enough padding to suit the particular taste of an individual. Acme can add padding to suit your taste in one day. Acme also specializes in custom work. The workmanship at Acme is the best. Acme has been serving Pampa for more than 25 years and it has all the modern equipment to do the job quickly and efficiently. A call to MO 4-6621 will bring the Acme truck to your door in the morning and it will return in the afternoon with a like-new mattress. You'll scarcely know it has been gone and you'll get the good night's sleep you've been missing. You can save $30 on an Acme convert your old mattress to an orthopedic, adding cotton and a new covering so that you'll never feel the springs. Or you can have your cotton mattress rebuilt into an innerspring for as little as $19.50. A simple reconditioning job on your mattress will cost only $12.50.

"You Get What You Want." Acme also will make oversize mattresses to your specifications. At Acme you may choose from the very latest patterns in mattress covering, plus the latest coil springs — 130 coil through 312 coil. Acme is also a good place to buy your roll-away beds, bed springs and Hollywood sets. The work at Acme is priced to suit your budget and Acme passes many savings on to its customers. Come in to Acme and let Gene Tollison, owner and operator, show you how Acme operates. The phone number is MO 4-6621.

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nearest major support lies in the 525 area of the Dow-Jones industrials around 50 points below current levels according to Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. This does not necessarily mean, he says, that the market will immediately recede to that zone and it is conceivable that it may stop somewhere in between. Gilbert feels that the 525 area is the only level which stands out as a strong one but that averages are capable of fairly wide fluctuations in the interim.

Standard & Poor's says to buy for action" on the idea that 1961 earnings could rebound to about $4 or $5 a share, now that airliner losses have been written off. Thomson & McKinnon points out that some chartists who had regarded the lows of the Dow-Jones industrials as the "magic 600" prior to last week's break, are now referring to the same area as the "tragic 600", terming it a formidable obstacle to any further rally. Bache & Co. recommends a switch out of American Can Co. since that firm's earnings have stood still for a decade. The house continues to like Van Raltee, strong recently on the basis of an 80 per cent stock dividend and a slight boost in the cash rate.

HOPE FOR THE WORLD — Bright ray of light glimmers on the water as the SS Hope heads under the Golden Gate Bridge and on to San Francisco. The wartime hospital ship USS Consolidation has been rechristened and refitted as the first of a projected fleet to carry medical help and knowledge from the United States to other, less fortunate lands. The vessel has 250 beds, surgical and clinical facilities and classrooms where medical, hygienic lessons will be taught.

Weather Planes To Fly Test

MIAMI (UPI) — Reconnaissance planes will fly into a squally area 1,700 miles east-southeast of Miami today to determine if the season's seventh tropical storm is developing. The San Juan, P.R. Weather Bureau reported Tuesday night an easterly wave with top winds of 45 m.p.h. had been discovered in the South Atlantic. Forecasters said they had little information on the area and would send aircraft to investigate its chances of development.

Soviet Rejects Protest Notes On Travel Ban

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviet Union today rejected a Western Allied protest over Berlin travel restriction imposed by the East German Communists. In notes to Britain, France and the United States, the Russians said East Germany has sole authority over travel by West Germans in the divided city. The note referred several times to Western "occupation authorities" and the "international agreements" which the East Germans have refused to recognize. The reference to travel by Germans indicated the Soviet Union still recognizes Allied rights to travel to and within Berlin. The note, carried by the Communist East German ADN news agency, replied to one from the Big Three Sept. 12 protesting an East German demand that all West Germans entering East Berlin have special visas. Despite Communist threats, hundreds of East Berliners twice crossed the border to hear American evangelist Billy Graham's "Crusade for Christ." Several hundred East Berlin students pierced the Iron Curtain Tuesday night and stepped into free West Berlin to attend the point Tuesday night when the General Committee voted 12-7 to shelve for another year a General Assembly debate on a Soviet move to seat Communist China in place of Nationalist China. Khrushchev was sure to take the issue directly before the General Assembly where he counted on an expanded membership — from 82 to 96 — and some changed sympathies to get him a better vote than last year. In 1959 the assembly vote was 44-28 against debating the issue. The Security Council was summoned to meet today to consider membership applications from two more African states — Mali and Senegal; Of the 14 nations admitted to membership last week, 13 were African. The 14th was Cyprus. The General Assembly scheduled two plenary sessions today to continue the general debate in which the main differences dividing the world have been pinpointed by such speakers as Eisenhower, Khrushchev, President Tito of Yugoslavia, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, and Castro. B-58 Bomber Training Corridor Of SAC Located Over Pampa OFFUTT AFB, Nebr. — Super-sonic B-58 bombers of the Strategic Air Command soon will begin flying periodic training missions over three newly designated air corridors that terminate at Amarillo.

The flights will be flown by SAC crews of the 43rd Bomb Wing, Carswell AFB, Texas.

Pampa is located in the corridor which runs from Ponca City, Okla. Other corridors are from Philip, S.D., and Grand Junction, Colo.

Routes for the supersonic bombers have been approved by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The B-58 missions will provide operational training under all weather conditions and may be made at any time during the day or night.

The Convair-built bomber will surpass the speed of sound only at altitudes between 35,000 and 50,000 feet. Training flights at lower altitudes will be flown at subsonic speeds.

In announcing the flights, General Thomas S. Power, SAC commander in chief, said, "SAC will do everything possible to cause minimum annoyance to citizens along the routes. I hope everyone will realize the necessity for training crews under all types of situations, approaching as nearly as possible those which would be met under combat conditions. In every case, the safety of local residents and of our crews will be the paramount factor in our operations."

Sonic booms are merely thunder-like sounds that are heard when a shock wave is generated by an aircraft flying at supersonic speeds.

In special tests where airplanes have dived from 35,000 feet to 25,000 feet at supersonic speeds, scientists have measured pressures no greater than five pounds per square foot on the ground. Even when produced under these test conditions, a sonic boom is far too weak to cause structural damage.

On The Record

County Rangeland Seeding Needed, Says SCD Head

There is still a need for several thousand acres of range seeding in the Gray County Soil Conservation District. This includes rangeland that needs to be reseeded and retired cropland that needs to go back to grass, according to Felton Webb, SCD supervisor.

Due to the amount of rain received in Gray County this year, the range grasses have increased in size and vigor. Webb, who ranches east of Lefors, said, "I believe this is the best year we have had for grass in at least ten years". Too, in looking at our rangeland, there are a lot of the better grasses such as Little bluestem, Indian grass, Sidecoats grama, and Blue grama going to seed.

Most of the seed used for range seeding in this area comes out of Oklahoma and Nebraska. This year, this does not have to be the case. Many ranchers in the Gray County SCD have good stands of grasses that could be harvested for the seed. This will provide a better seed supply in Gray County, and seed that would already be adapted, the chances for a better stand of grasses is increased.

The supervisors of the Gray County SCD urge you to harvest this seed if you have a good seed source on your ranch. There is always a friend or neighbor who will have a need for the seed, if you don't plan to do any range seeding.

Many ranchers in this area have sprayed brush or sage in the county this year, reports William Brooks, work unit conservationist at Pampa. They have deferred this rangeland to allow proper recovery of the grasses and, as a result, will have a good seed source, Brooks reported.

Although seed harvesting time is another full month to six weeks away, now is the time to make plans to harvest. If any rancher wants information on how or when to harvest, the Gray County SCD board of supervisors urges him to contact any of them, the personnel of the Soil Conservation Service, or the county agent for this information.

Southern Education Panel Picked

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — Five Southerners, among them two long-time educators, were named Tuesday to a commission on higher education of the Southern Regional Education Board.

Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, a SREB chairman, announced the selections. He said he would name one or two more commission members, perhaps by the time it holds its first meeting, expected in January.

The commission is to define the goals of higher education in the South and to report back to the SREB. It also is to arouse public study such problems as financing and qualities of instruction.

The five appointed were: Dr. Colgate W. Darden Jr., former president of the University of Virginia, former governor of Virginia, and currently a member of the President's commission on national goals.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, former chancellor of Vanderbilt University and president of the University of Alabama, now a consultant in several foundations.

Marion B. Folsom, native Georgian who is former secretary of health, education and welfare.

Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution.

H. H. Dewar, a San Antonio, Tex., businessman and former vice president of the Texas Commission on Higher Education.

Importance Of Reading To Form Topic
For Woodrow Wilson School PTA Meet

Woodrow Wilson PTA will meet for the first time this year on Thursday at 2:15 p.m. in the school auditorium to hear a discussion of "Reading—Why, When, Where, Who, and How." Mrs. E. L. Henderson, president, will preside during the business meeting.

Three Pampa Teachers, Mrs. Kenneth P. Walters, Miss Pearl Spough, and Mrs. Jim Goff will answer in a panel discussion such questions as: Why is reading important? When does a child begin to learn to read? Where does a child develop his reading skill? Who is responsible for the development of the skill? How is a child taught to read, and how can parents help in this learning process?

Mrs. Walters, who is counselor at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, will discuss from the viewpoint of junior high, senior high, and college the vital importance of reading skill. She will also speak of the need for reading speed and how it might be developed.

A first grade teacher at Woodrow Wilson School, Miss Spough will explain the teaching method now used, and how phonetic and context clues are combined in teaching a child to read. She will explain how a child is prepared for reading, and at what age this preparation begins.

Miss Spough will explain that the new approach to reading which is being used in Pampa schools gives more opportunity and even encourages assistance from the home.

Mrs. Goff, who teaches third grade at Woodrow Wilson School, will outline the objectives of reading development during the grades three through six.

Following the panel discussion there will be an opportunity for parents to ask questions.

Mrs. Walters, Miss Spough, and Mrs. Goff have been associated with Pampa schools for many years. They have each attended summer reading conferences held in Canyon and other cities where they have had opportunity to learn, study and discuss what is expected of a child in certain grade levels. At these conferences teachers glean fresh ideas about what to teach and how to teach, as well as how to analyze the reading problems of individual students.

Mrs. Charles Wade, vice president and program chairman of Woodrow Wilson PTA, will introduce the program.

Debbettes Initiate For New Members

LEFORS (Spl) — Four rushees of the Debbettes Club were initiated into the club on Friday evening following a football game. The new members are Jeanne Atkinson, Linda Montgomery, Renee Boyd, Alma Clemmons.

A slumber party in civic center followed the initiation ceremony.

Members present were Misses Linda Poarch, Leann Pafford, Judy Lane, Jan Atkinson, Mary Barron, Sandra Elms and Mrs. Mayo McKnight, sponsor.

To remove a dark film from an aluminum pan, fill with hot water to one inch above the ring, add one or two tablespoons of cream of tartar, and boil ten minutes.

Swansdown Puff Is Beauty Aid

By ALICIA AHART
Beauty Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the very best helps to a beautiful skin is the powder puff that's made of swansdown.

There are many reasons for this. It fluffs the powder onto the skin rather than rubbing it in. Thus it neither spreads grime nor creates wrinkles. (A soiled powder puff is the origin of a good many skin troubles.)

It enables you to fluff on lightly and swiftly two dustings of powder which create a beautiful veil for the skin. Women who use an eye-brow pencil will find that the swansdown puff gives the penciled brow a far more natural look since it removes any trace of hardness or artificiality.

Many women regard the swansdown puff as a fluffy piece of frivolity, pretty to look at but expensive out of all proportion. Actually, it's a very sound investment. It looks fragile and is really very durable. It's both long-lasting and washable.

To wash a swansdown puff, fill a basin with soapy warm water and gently swish the puff to and fro. Don't rub or squeeze it. Let the water out and rinse the puff in several clear waters.

Now give it a brisk shaking over the basin. Clip it by the ribbon to a spring-type clothespin hook and hang it on the shower bar to dry. It should, of course, be washed as soon as it shows signs of soil.

Christmas Ideas Traded At Club

LEFORS (Spl) — A program on "Christmas Ideas" was presented at Lefors Home Demonstration Club meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. B. D. Vaughn.

An unusual idea was suggested by Mrs. Charles Roberts: "Give an American Flag for Christmas." She stated that about half of the flag-owners bought their own; 24 percent inherited a flag; and 22 percent received them as gifts. "Surely there are newly-weds or young people on your gift list who don't yet own a flag," she said.

Mrs. Roberts presided over the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. O. O. Bishop. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Jack Thacker.

Plans were made for Achievement day which will be Oct. 27. It was also announced that work day would be held in the park on Tuesday at which time supper will be served.

New officers for the year are Meses. A. M. Dickerson, president; C. C. Wells, vice president; A. T. Cobb, secretary; Charles Roberts, treasurer; and B. J. Diehl, council delegate.

A game, directed by Mrs. Walter Elliott, was won by Mrs. Jeff Davis. Refreshments were served during the social hour to Meses. A. T. Cobb, J. A. Rollins, Jeff Davis, Walter Elliott, B. J. Diehl, A. M. Dickerson, B. J. Thacker, Charles Roberts and the hostess.

Dear Abby...
Decline Shower Invites Designed "To Soak"
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am fed up with invitations to baby showers, wedding showers and all the other kinds of showers for people I wouldn't know if I saw them on a bus. This has happened to me several times, and I am sick and tired of being told to buy a present for someone who wouldn't recognize me on the street. I am not poor, but I'm not rich, either. I enjoy buying gifts for people I know, but I am fed up on —

BEING TAKEN

DEAR BEING: The solution is simple. When you are invited to a shower that gives you the impression that you are being soaked — turn it down.

they would please meet Jim they said no. Abby, he's the nicest boy I've ever known, but he refuses to see me without my parents' permission. And they refuse to meet him. What should I do?

HEART-BROKEN

DEAR HEART-BROKEN: You must accept the decision of your parents even though they are very unfair to condemn this young man and to refuse to meet him. The fact that he will not see you without your parents' permission proves he has character. Ask your parents again; perhaps they'll realize they are wrong and reconsider.

DEAR ABBY: A girl who works with me recently got a letter from a man she just met, and it was signed, "TRULY YOURS". Now this girl is no kid, but she went fluttering all over the place, showing the letter around like it was a big deal. Isn't it true that most business and formal letters are signed "YOURS TRULY"? Then don't you think "TRULY YOURS" should also be considered impersonal and businesslike? She took it to mean the man was "truly HERS", which is ridiculous. The girls at the office want your opinion.

THE GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: A formal and impersonal business letter IS signed "Yours truly". But his letter was signed "Truly yours". So, maybe he meant business. Pull in your claws, girls.

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIRGO:

You feed your face three times a day whether you are hungry or not. Why not throw your soul a bone once a week and go to church?
