OVERTHROWN — El Salvador President Jose Maria Lemus, shown here with his wife and seven children, was said to have fled to Guatemala after his government was overthrown in a bloodless coup d'etat. The new ruling Junta promised the people "absolute liberty," saying political prisoners will be freed and refugees invited to return home.

Crisis At Hand In France Over Algerian Independence Rally

State Insurance Law Change Not Approved

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Board of Insurance commissioners today voted unanimously to leave automobile insurance rates at their present level until their next meeting in June 1961.

The board rejected by a 2-1 vote a motion by chairman Penn Jackson to make the merit rating system of automobile insurance optional. Members W. W. Strain and Ned Price voted against Jackson.

There was a question whether it would be legal to make the plan optional.

"I have told you for a year and a half that the approach is legal," Jackson said to Strain. "You're the only one that has questioned this legality."

The board's action on rates affects collision, liability and medical protection insurance for private passenger automobiles.

Strain, in a formal statement, said he was against abolishing the controversial merit plan that was adopted Jan. 1.

"To return to the 1959 method of making rates would mean that 70 per cent of the insured public would pay over 30 per cent more for their automobile insurance in 1961," he said.

Jackson revived his pending motion, made last week, that the board leave rates at their present level until more statistical information could be obtained on the plan.

He indicated he would seek an attorney general's opinion on whether it would be legal to make the merit system optional.

Jackson contends that the statute authorizing the board to adopt a merit system leaves the board free to make the plan either optional or mandatory as it now stands.

"If it was optional policy holders would have choice," Jackson said. "Gov. Price Daniel says he wants the inequities removed from the merit plan and that's just what I'm trying to do."

Jackson also favors eliminating accidents where neither driver is at fault from the point system in the merit plan. No action has been taken on his stand.

Earlier this month, the board rejected a staff recommendation to raise auto rates 13.3 per cent beginning Jan. 1, 1961.

TAKES OVER STAGE — With a reputation as a pub-crawler preceding him to New York, Irish playwright Brendan Behan, right, takes over the stage at the Cort Theater where a performance of his play "The Hostage" was under way. The playwright invaded the theater after an afternoon of quaffing champagne from a water tumbler, then drinking a quart of milk to underscore his intention to avoid strong drink.

Chaos Over Riots, Red Meddling

By ANTHONY AUSTIN
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—Bloody riots and Communist threats of intervention in the bitter six-year-old Algerian war threatened today to plunge France back into the chaos that toppled the 4th Republic.

Scores of leftist and right-wing demonstrators were injured and more than 500 were arrested in riots in eight French cities Thursday.

In an effort to halt the widespread violence and strife that have reached crisis proportions, President Charles de Gaulle planned to make a nationwide radio broadcast next Friday to rally Frenchmen behind his "middle of the road" approach to the Algerian question.

A series of statements emanating from Moscow and other quarters hinted possible Communist military assistance for the Algerian rebels whose war against France enters its seventh year Tuesday.

Moroccan Crown Prince Moulay Hassan said in London that "in three weeks or a month, a new, very grave factor will intervene in the war in Algeria, and this new aspect could change the whole nature of the struggle."

Diplomatic observers seemed to feel this was a warning that Red Chinese "volunteers" might be thrown into the fight on the side of the rebels.

In Tunis, an Algerian rebel "government" source said "Chinese assistance is in the course of being prepared; it will be put into effect in six months' time at the latest."

The Communist publications Pravda and Ivestia said Thursday in Moscow that the Soviet Union, which only recently granted the rebels "de facto" recognition, is ready "to help in any way to give aid to the Algerian people in their struggle for independence."

Authoritative French sources said they doubted either the Soviet Union or Communist China was prepared to send "volunteers" and that pressure is being put on France in advance of a new United Nations debate on Algeria.

Kasavubu Gives Mobutu Backing

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Congo President Joseph Kasavubu threw full support behind strongman Joseph Mobutu today in what is turned into a power struggle with the United Nations command.

Kasavubu, in a statement Tuesday night, said the Congo army which has been criticized harshly by U.N. officials actually prevented a "bloody civil war" by its raids on the African section of Leopoldville last weekend.

Mobutu bowed to U.N. demands pulling his troops out of the city capital. But he emphatically denied that his soldiers were to blame for the wild disorders and sex attacks that terrorized Leopoldville Saturday and Sunday.

The United Nations said the withdrawal was "only the first step" in getting the army back under control.

The colonel blamed "hoodlums" for the lawlessness. He claimed that his troops had proved they could maintain order without U.N. help and said they confiscated nearly a ton of arms and ammunition in raids through the African section.

Kasavubu said the raids were decided on only after gangs of agitators—some disguised as policemen, soldiers or U.N. troops—had started the wave of terrorism.

Borger Woman Killed In Train-Auto Crash

A young woman is dead and a man is in satisfactory condition in a train-auto crash today following a car-train wreck at a railroad crossing on Highway 152 at Skellytown last night.

Miss Jo Ella Taylor, 19, of Borger, was the victim of the accident, and her companion and driver of the car, Gary Evan Elmore, 20, of Shattuck, Okla., underwent surgery today, but his physician said shortly after the operation that "He is doing all right at the present."

Elmore suffered fractures of the knee, ankle, pelvis and ribs, and received numerous bruises.

The car was struck by the front of the engine which was pulling a string of cars and traveling at approximately 10 to 12 miles an hour.

Motorists in the car directly behind the Elmore auto said the car was struck across the crossing, but that the engine hit the car and strewn wreckage of the vehicle more than 100 feet along the track.

Investigating State Highway Patrolmen Standley Schneider and Vernon Cawthon said that it had been determined that the engineer was blowing the train whistle and that a switchman was on the front of the train with a burning flare. Exactly why young Elmore did not see the engine was not determined since the officers had not been able to talk to the youth as of press time today.

Miss Taylor is survived by her mother, Mrs. Henry Romine of Shattuck, Okla.; her father, Joe Taylor of Pampa, and one brother, Bob Taylor of Borger.

Prelude To Break

HAVANA (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal leaves for home today, terminating top-level diplomatic contact between the United States and Cuba as a possible prelude to a complete break in relations.

As Bonsal packed his bags, Cuba's revolutionary regime put the country on a virtual war footing to coincide with its charge that a U.S. supported "invasion" could be expected shortly.

The military, reported heavily equipped with Communist tanks, artillery, rifles, machine guns and probably jet planes, was put on alert.

Cash, Cigarettes Lost In Break-In

The sheriff's department today is investigating a break-in last night at the Auction Cafe on Price Road, in which the burglars took an undetermined amount of money and cigarettes.

The military, reported heavily equipped with Communist tanks, artillery, rifles, machine guns and probably jet planes, was put on alert.

Car Slashes Into Crowd; Five Killed

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bette Gillespie, 25, said today she blacked out just before her car touched off a rush-hour accident in the Loop which killed five persons and injured three others.

Miss Gillespie, daughter of a former alderman, said she was trying to stop for a red light Thursday night when "I blacked out and woke up in the hospital."

Witnesses said her car leaped a curb and struck two persons, then smashed into a truck. The impact sent the truck's trailer careening into another car which hurtled into a group of pedestrians on another corner and then plowed into a parking lot.

The dead were identified as Corby Alward, 50, La Grange, Ill.; Carl Matre, 61, Des Plaines, Ill.; Leslie Miles, 63, West Chicago, Ill.; Carl Berggren, 38, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; and Harold Murphy, 40, Glen Ellyn.

Walter Christenson, 40, driver of the truck, said "I heard a crash and heard someone shouting 'Get out of the way!' Then (See SLASHES, Page 3)

Students Paint Window Murals At 'Trick Or Treat' Headquarters

Students of both junior high schools and the senior high school have joined to prepare UNICEF headquarters, on Ballard across from the First Methodist Church, with window murals for the annual trick of children to gather funds for underprivileged children overseas.

All the windows of the vacant store building are being prepared under the art instructors of the three schools, Mrs. Russell Neef of Pampa High School; Miss Roy Riley of Pampa Junior High School and Mrs. Eugene Olds of Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

The idea, originated by Bob Black of the Department of Education, the First Methodist Church, has brought swarms of volunteer students and, in some cases, entire classes into the project.

Black and the Rev. David Mills, pastor of Lamar Christian Church, and chairman of the UNICEF drive here, are assigned to the UNICEF panel from the Ministerial Alliance.

All the window designs have been originated by the students with the exception of the UNICEF theme murals which have been prepared by the instructors.

The murals will depict the Halloween theme with witches, pumpkins and the like. Bats and other Halloween symbols are being used as fill ins.

This will mark the eighth year children of Pampa have substituted "trick or treat" night for the UNICEF campaign. Last year youngsters took in over $1,000 and (See STUDENTS, Page 3)

Sell-Out Audience Hears Rise Stevens

By BILL HALEY
Special Review To The News

Rise Stevens, popular star of opera and the movies, opened the 16th Community Concert Association season here in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium last night.

Thanks to a hard-working, hard-selling drive committee of last spring, a capacity audience, astir with the gentle flutter of expectation, awaited her appearance.

Miss Stevens, one of the costliest items in the concert association's brochure, was anything but a disappointment. The grandeur of her opening bow accurately forecast what the remainder of her performance bore out — that she is indeed something special. Her stage presence, besides being singularly handsome, was a study in controlled mannerisms and dramatic skill. Every movement, every change in facial expression was carefully conceived to explain and dramatize the music rather than to draw attention to herself.

If her dramatic technique was rich and varied, so were the colors and sounds of her voice. At one time it was moose, at another it would shriek like a child, again it would scold in the manner of the cabaret girl "Carmen," perhaps her most celebrated role. Besides these, Miss Stevens was able to display many other vocal effects which are difficult to describe; for instance, in Bernstein's "Rabbit Top Speed" it was impossible to tell precisely whether she was singing or talking. That she was able to do all these things in good taste and without affectation is obvious. (See SELL-OUT, Page 3)

Scouts Plan Get Out The Vote March

Boy Scouts and Explorers of Pampa and Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, some 6,500 strong, Saturday will renew their campaign to get out the vote by hanging reminders on door knobs throughout Pampa and the council area.

The project is sponsored by the Scouts and Freedoms Foundation Inc., of Valley Forge, Pa., and will be conducted throughout the nation as it was in 1952 and 1956.

The reminder to vote cards are strictly non-partisan, and residents receiving them are asked to place them in their windows as a signal that they intend to vote.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, said of the project:

"Through this project organized boyhood can exert a far reaching influence among parents, relatives and neighbors in producing a record vote and thereby strengthen our nation. The sincere appeal of an enthusiastic Scout can often accomplish results impossible to the adult."

Car Hits Cow; Driver Uninjured

A 14-year-old boy bounced an auto off a wandering cow last night, sent the bovine scurrying back to its pasture and damaged the front end of the car, but escaped injury to himself.

State Highway Patrolman Standley Schneider said the boy, Wayne Lyles, 421 S. Barnes, was driving west on the Borger Highway when the cow walked in front of the car. The Patrolman, in reporting damage to the vehicle, said it wasn't possible to determine how badly the cow was injured since it had ran back into the pasture area ironing on the highway.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Russian and young stepdaughter had been out taking a walk.

The other Russian left this country at the request of the United States after his contract with the United Nations ran out in March, 1959. He was Kiril S. Doronkin, former film editor of the U.N. secretary's radio and visual division of public information. In January, 1959, the U.S. mission to the United Nations asked the secretary general to fire him for his activities in obtaining aerial photographs of the Chicago area.

Doronkin was named a co-conspirator but not a defendant in the indictment handed up Thursday by a federal grand jury in Chicago.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The Man of the Week: French Premier Michel Debre.

The place: Paris.
The Quote: "France is in the first ranks of those who want an alliance of the free world everywhere and closest solidarity among the European nations."

To emphasize that view, the first German troops in 20 years entered France this week—this time as friendly allies to train at French bases, not as jack-booted invaders.

They arrived the day after a French-West German agreement was signed under NATO auspices to give the Germans maneuver room on French territory.

The advance detachments came without much opposition or notice from the French, though undoubtedly most Frenchmen had troubled thoughts about the presence on their soil of latter-day representatives of their traditional foe of the past 100 years.

It was one of the little ironies of life that the agreement bringing the Germans to France was signed by Michel Debre, who had fought them bitterly during the World War II occupation.

It was during that occupation and the subsequent liberation that Debre became closely allied with Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the strong-willed leader who almost single-handedly pulled France back to greatness—and has plans for even more greatness in the future.

In the process, De Gaulle has begun to run into opposition. As always, Debre has been his man in the middle, under the Constitution of the Fifth Republic, much of the real power in France lies with President de Gaulle. But the office of premier, held by Debre, remains technically the implementing job.

It was a premier that Debre signed the Franco-German agreement on troop training because it represented De Gaulle's policies.

It was a premier that Debre journeyed to Bonn in recent weeks for secret discussions with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to reassure him about France's intentions in the NATO alliance.

It was a premier that Debre stood up in the National Assembly earlier this week and fought back an opposition vote of censure over De Gaulle's plans to obtain for France an independent nuclear striking force.

It will be as premier that Debre will have his cabinet implement the orders switching generals if De Gaulle decides to go through with his reported plans to stage a major shakeup of the high command because of opposition to his policies in Algeria.

Now 48 years old, Debre is a native of Paris, with all the charm, brilliance and urbanity usually associated with that cosmopolitan city. He is married and has four children.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gerald M. Loeb of E. F. Hutton & Co. believes that in the past decade the policy of sitting with high grade popular issues proved successful, but doubts whether "it will pay off" in the future.

In the foreseeable future, he says, profits will be derived from a capital gains policy of buying and selling stocks on a six-months to a year basis rather than buying and holding.

The favorites of next year, Loeb predicts, will most likely come from "those issues currently unpopular, with interest in these stocks by institutions growing and market literature on them at a minimum."

Hemphill, Noyes & Co. feels that some good investment values are currently offered in distilling stocks. Many of them are selling around their lows for the year with their biggest selling season upon them.

American Viscose Co.'s own operations are doing poorly this year and earnings, even counting the last dividend check from Chemstrand (now sold to Monsanto Chemical), aren't expected to cover the present $2 dividend rate according to Bache & Co. with the outlook for the company uncertain at this point, Bache feels the shares are probably better sold than held.

Thomson & McKinnon reports that the initial stage of a market recovery will be led by top quality stocks like U.S. Steel, Jersey Standard, GE, Westinghouse Electric, American Telephone. The better percentage gains, however, might be made by those willing to concede the strong potentials of such as Western Union, Universal Match, AMF, North American, Grumman, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Pan American, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide and Parke Davis.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. doubts that the strong market upsurge of Wednesday, Oct. 26 is the beginning of a new uptrend line.

What They Are Saying:

By United Press International
Sen. John F. Kennedy:

(Speeches in New York City):
"My chief disagreement with Mr. Nixon and the Republican Party is that I don't think they have the vaguest idea of the kind of times in which we live."

"This great country deserves the best in leadership—that will set before the country the unfinished business of this society."

"I ask you to join us in sweeping the Republicans all the way back to California."

"If you can persuade the American women to change their fashions as fast as Mr. Nixon changes his opinions, your business (the women's garment industry) would be going full blast."

"Never has so little been done with so much. The harsh facts of the matter are that millions of Americans' income has not kept up with rising costs—and standards of living have declined."
"Mr. Nixon offers you higher prices, smaller real incomes—and an increase in the job-price squeeze. But I don't think the American people are going to accept his offer."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon:

(Speech at Muskegon, Mich.):
"If America does get into a recession, and I am positive there is no real reason for it, it will be because Sen. Kennedy and his spokesmen talked us into it."

Criticized Kennedy for a "despicable effort" to convince Americans that they are about to suffer a recession. "This effort now emerges as a key tactic in the windup of the campaign, the most negative campaign in American political history. It is a despicable tactic and it is irresponsibility of the win-at-any-price variety."

Charged Kennedy is "one of the most irresponsible persons I've ever seen. He is an all-time expert at seeing only the hole in the doughnut."
Accused Kennedy of "whining about our weakness and alleged loss of prestige."

"The time has come for America and the free world to work even harder to carry the message of freedom into the Communist world... to remind all the world... that these Eastern European people who walk in darkness shall one day be delivered out of bondage."

FOR ALLEY WORK

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Police chief G. J. Ruppenthal ordered bicycles for the police force Thursday because "it's easier to slip up on a criminal with a bicycle in an alley than with a noisy automobile with its bright lights."

William McKinley was the last Civil War veteran to become president of the United States. He was in the army at the age of 18.

People Asked To Stop Riots In Caracas

CARACAS (UPI)—Leaders of Venezuela's principal political parties appealed to the people Wednesday night to put a stop to the rioting in which five persons have been reported killed and at least 63 wounded this week.

The city was quiet—under heavy guard by troops and police—after day-long riots Wednesday in which a bank and at least one store were looted and the store was set on fire. Losses due to fire and theft were expected to run to more than $400,000.

Col. Anibal Sanchez Gomez, chief of the Caracas police, said 150 persons had been arrested since the riots began several days ago. Sanchez said parents were being called to account for the "irresponsible" behavior of the Communist-led students who made up the bulk of the mobs.

Credit Eased To Promote Yule Buying

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board has eased credit in two actions designed to assure a plentiful supply of money for consumers and businessmen in the pre-Christmas shopping season.

The board Wednesday announced the two technical moves liberalizing rules governing bank reserves. They will go into effect Nov. 24 and Dec. 1.

The board estimated the changes would pump into the 6,200 commercial banks belonging to the federal reserve system about $1.3 billion of new reserves with which to provide the public with cash and to make loans.

The board estimated its action would enable the banks to make up to $2.1 billion in new loans as well as provide the extra amounts of cash demanded by merchants and shoppers during the holiday season.

Egg-Splattered Nixon Campaigns In Illinois

By United Press International
Vice President Richard M. Nixon took his midwestern whistle-stop campaign into Illinois and Iowa today leaving a series of ugly incidents behind him in Michigan and Indiana.

Soil Men To Discuss Training

A leadership training discussion meeting which will feature an address by W. S. Gibbs, president of the Texas State Soil Conservation District, will be conducted from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Gray County Courthouse Annex, east of Pampa on U.S. Highway 60.

Other speakers will be Curtis Schaffer, chairman of the county Soil Conservation District, who will talk on "What is and Why Have a Soil Conservation District?"; Thomas D'Spain, of the Dnley County Soil Conservation District; Clyde Zyback, secretary of the Wheeler County Soil Conservation District.

He will speak on "How to Organize and Use Resources of a Soil Conservation District." Glenn W. Phillips, of the Lipscomb County Soil Conservation District and the Great Plains Conservation Program; Harry Reimer, of the Ochiltree County Soil Conservation District; and Virgil Brock, chairman of the Hemphill County Soil Conservation District.

She is survived by her husband, J. G. of the home; two sons, Evert of Pampa and Melvin of Chico, Calif.

Interment will be in the Minco cemetery.

Divorced and widowed men are the most likely victims of homicide in the United States, according to a survey.

He is "downgrading America" and "selling America short." His goal was a grip on Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes.

President Eisenhower goes on nationwide television tonight to make his first major campaign speech on behalf of the GOP ticket. Eisenhower will speak from a Republican dinner at Philadelphia—a GOP effort to capture Pennsylvania's vital votes.

Nixon was splattered by eggs and tomatoes, heckled during his speeches and worried by a derailment scare Thursday. The incidents were the most unpleasant either candidate has encountered in the campaign.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said "harsh profanity" was shouted at Mrs. Nixon at one stop in Michigan. He said: "I can only conclude that organized group tactics are involved in such an occurrence."

The derailment threat occurred Thursday night near Fort Wayne, Ind. A can-shaped, 25-pound fluorescent light transformer was discovered tied to the rails over which the Nixon campaign train was to pass.

Kennedy sought today to turn back at Nixon some of the Republican campaign charges. He hammered at the vice president Thursday during a tumultuous visit to New York City and continued the attack today as he opened four days of stumping in eastern Pennsylvania.

Nixon planned speeches today at Danville, Tuscola, Mattoon, Centralia and Carbondale, Ill., before a major address tonight at Davenport, Iowa. He then will fly to Chicago where he will campaign Saturday.

Ike In Televised Speech Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower goes on nationwide television tonight to "make his first major campaign speech on behalf of GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon."

The Chief Executive was scheduled to leave at 4:10 p.m., EDT, for Philadelphia where he will deliver the address before an estimated 1,200 persons at a dinner sponsored by the Pennsylvania Nixon-for-President Committee.

The speech will be carried at 10 p.m. in the eastern time zone by the American Broadcasting Company TV network. It will be seen at various times elsewhere in the country.

Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, who was described as the highest-ranking Soviet espionage agent ever captured in this country, is now serving a 30-year prison sentence. Abel has continued to deny he was a spy.

The indictment charged that Hirsch and Melech met with "an individual" in Chicago, Newark, N.J., and New York several times in late 1958 and early 1959, and paid sums of money, presumably for information. It was not made clear whether one or more persons were involved, and the "individual" was not named in any of the encounters.

They also were charged with conspiring to violate the law requiring foreign agents to register with the State Department.

If convicted, they could receive fines of $25,000 or 25-year jail sentences, or both.

Hirsch, a medical artist who has been using the name John Gilmore, was described by a physician friend as "one of the world's greatest medical illustrators."

Pampan's Mother Rites Are Set

Funeral services for Mrs. J. G. Carmon of Minco, Okla., mother of Evert Carmon, 2132 Mary Ellen, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Church of Christ in Minco.

Mrs. Carmon died of a heart attack Thursday afternoon in her home.

She is survived by her husband, J. G. of the home; two sons, Evert of Pampa and Melvin of Chico, Calif.

Interment will be in the Minco cemetery.

Divorced and widowed men are the most likely victims of homicide in the United States, according to a survey.

First of a thousand happy hours!

Forgive him if he takes the long way home today. For the temptation is always great when the day is fine—and the car is Cadillac—and the name on the title is yours.

The first thing he senses, as he glides out onto the boulevard, is comfort. The car is so generous in its interior dimensions that he can really relax.

And what a wonderful outlook he has on the world about him! Wherever he looks, he finds himself surrounded by a panorama of vision.

Then, as the miles float by, the car's brilliance in motion begins to unfold.

Cadillac's improved power steering, he finds, has taken the last degree of effort out of handling. Its great new engine is a veritable symphony of controlled power and precision. And its new ride is smooth and quiet almost beyond belief.

And the wonder of it is that, if he is like most owners, he'll enjoy more than a thousand such delightful hours before a single year has passed.

In fact, it is doubtful that, in all the world of possessions, there is another that provides its owner such lasting pleasure—in such constant measure—as a new Cadillac car.

Have you thought of someday adding a Cadillac to your happiness?

This is the perfect season—and an early order will assure you a full year with the current model.

Reason enough, we'd say, to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer tomorrow.

Dear Abby... Mother's Sorrow Should Be Eased

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Seven years ago a little girl of 9 died suddenly. She was my only daughter and I haven't been the same since. Abby, I want to ask my husband to let her playmates live with us and need I tell you how I watch them grow, year by year? I can't hold back the tears when I meet them, so I tell them (poor darlings). My husband says he's put so much into this house and feels I'll get over it. I've been trying to forget, but how does a mother forget? He says he wants each me to be strong like a man. Other mothers who have a child, I know I'll be happy if we move - then I won't see her bedroom and the chair curled up in to watch TV in her empty place at the dining table. Please, please, Abby, am I asking too much of you?

DEAR FROM FLATSVILLE: If Mom says no substitutes - then it's no substitutes. If you don't "fill out" in a year or two, write again and I'll "fill you in" with another angle.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a guy who says he would like to have about six kids, but he doesn't care for marriage. He doesn't mean he never wants to get married. He means he thinks he would like to be a father but he wouldn't care to be a husband. (Am I making myself clear?) He says that the women today are just looking for a meal ticket and once they nail a guy they take it easy. If I had the chance I know I could prove to him that I wasn't that kind. How can I get him to marry me?

DEAR ABBY: I am not stacked everyone teases me about it. I says, "No substitutes!" It's very embarrassing situation. I have 15. Have you any suggestions?
FROM FLATSVILLE

A DESPERATE MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: You are not too much. New surround no matter how plain, would rather than the old reminders. I hope your husband will see it my way and consent to move.

DEAR ABBY: I am not stacked everyone teases me about it. I says, "No substitutes!" It's very embarrassing situation. I have 15. Have you any suggestions?

Plug Drafty Spots Ere First Snow Flies

By KAY SHERWOOD
Staff Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If a room in your home is especially susceptible to cold and chilly drafts, investigate new remedies before winter temperatures make you wish you had. Remodeled, enclosed porches, basements converted to family rooms, a "back" bedroom, or a lowest level of a multilevel home are likely to be too chilly for comfort. Some rooms, such as bathrooms or nurseries, may need extra warmth.

To remedy the cause for coolness you have to consider amount of insulation, size of heating equipment and distribution of heat, how much glass is exposed, and the location of the room in relation to the central heating plant and to prevailing winds.

But extensive remedies may not be involved. Snug-fitting storm windows are good insulation and cut down heat loss substantially. Winter curtains, lined or in a heavy material, will curtail drafts around windows.

If the floors are cold, adding a rug and pad will plug up the cracks.

An old home may not have any insulation between ceiling and roof or in the sidewalls. You don't have to insulate the whole house to gain measurable advantages in one room.

Insulation between roof and attic or above the ceiling offers good protection especially to the upstairs

In a room that tends to be too chilly, addition of space-saving electric baseboard heaters is a step toward winter warmth and comfort. Lined curtains and snug storm windows also cut down drafts.

bedrooms which have a last call on the heat.

Regardless of what kind of fuel you use or by what method your home is heated, the most satisfactory solution to a cool area may be the use of supplementary heat. Portable "space" heaters are a temporary solution.

Electrical heating units which are mounted as baseboards, wall or ceiling panels are gaining favor for their safe, effortless, permanent and relatively economical operation. Electric baseboard heaters are installed at floor level on outside walls, usually under window areas.

Installation is quite simple, although a qualified electrician or contractor should do the job. If only a limited amount of heat will turn the trick, low-wattage baseboard units can use 120 volt wiring. But if the units will be the major source of heat in the room contractors will advise 240 volt wiring. Baseboards may be painted to match walls.

Wall and ceiling electric heaters are usually recessed partially or completely. Heated coils warm the air which is circulated by a fan.

A brand new ceiling heater which has just passed its Underwriter's Laboratory tests varies from this pattern. This unit, only two and three-quarters inches deep, is mounted directly on the ceiling (a heavy glass fiber insulation prevents it from wasting heat on the ceiling).

Don't Be Beguiled By A Bargain Be A Perfectionist About Fit

BY ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

It pays to be an absolute perfectionist about your clothes. It takes time, trouble and money, but the results are worth the effort.

Far too often you see women wearing clothes which really do not fit. The shoulders are sloppy, the waistline too long, the hem uneven or dragging. There's really no excuse for this.

Eye yourself critically when you shop. If a dress doesn't really fit, pass it up. Or, if it needs minor alterations, don't decide you'll just wear the dress once or twice before you have the alterations made. Have them made at once.

It's rare thing, for instance, when a dress from the rack has a perfectly even hem. If you're good at sewing, you can handle this matter yourself. If not, have a tailor or seamstress do it.

If you wear a size 12, don't be beguiled into buying a 14 just because it's a bargain. Your bargain may cost you dearly in alterations before you're finished. Buy a 12 that really fits and feel both pretty and comfortable.

Teen-agers who are chubby at fifteen shouldn't be complacent. There's no guarantee that at the ripe old age of eighteen, they'll be slim and shapely. For in most cases, that fat comes from eating, not heredity.

If, at this point, you protest that you eat really very little, I can only suggest that you check on your habits. (The reason that I know all about this is that I was once a teen-ager myself.) You may be shocked to find that you're tucking away some tasty between-meal snacks of hamburgers and malted milks, that you salt away candy bars, for nibbling between classes and that you eat a dinner that would make a truck driver reel.

If these actually are your habits, now's the time to call a halt. You don't need all of this food, you know. You're carrying over eating habits from your childhood, when your mother urged you to clean your plate. Start now to cut down if you want to be slim in your late teens.

If you have ever wondered why a cat is so graceful, just watch one as it stretches. Every muscle gets a good workout. This is one that you can be a copycat about.

Try it the first thing in the morning and discover how much easier it is to get up. Begin by stretching in bed, then stand up and stretch.

World's first surgery in which ether was used as an anesthetic was performed by Dr. Crawford Long, in 1842, at Jefferson, Ga.

Troops Work For Merit Badges

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — Bill Price, deputy sheriff, spoke to members of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 48 at a recent meeting in the IOOF hall. He answered questions about state and local laws. Of special interest to the troop was a talk on election laws and election procedure, since the troop is currently working on "My Government" badge.

The troop has completed the "Baby Care" badge and will baby-sit children on election day. They will wear red and white striped sleeve bands on that occasion.

MATURE PARENT

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE is a small, slender woman. Her son is a big, big boy for 13 years of age.

At summer he behaved well weekends because then his mother joined them at their mountain place. But during the week was a pest.

He ignored requests to wash his meals. Often he was insolent. He swaggered about like a lord of the manor, leaving fishing tackle and swimming trunks wherever it pleased him.

When came the climax. After one muggy evening he announced his intention of canoeing to the island in the middle of lake and spending the night.

She said, "You can't. There's a fall coming up."
"Who's going to stop me?" he asked.

"You?" she said.
"Try and do it," he told her. She did. She walked over to the child who towered over her, struck him across the face, pushed her and she fell down. She got up. She walked over to him again and repeating, "You are going over to the island to die!"

He struck him again. He kicked her down. As she struggled back to her feet she said: "You can knock me down a hundred times because you are older than I am but you are not going to the island tonight."

When she hit him again and he ran to cry.

Only later did she discover that he had broken a blood vessel in her so muscular hand.

It didn't matter. For she'd also seen her child's illusion that she still retains his respect for her.

I am for striking an older child only one reason - to disabuse of his impression that because of his physical strength, he can't enjoy writing about hitting children. It seems to be a generous subject. Whenever I've written about it I have evoked mail that hails me as a fellow

Having A Form Of Godliness

Having a form of Godliness but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. 11 Tim. 3:5

By Godliness we understand true religion in all its parts — love in the heart, light in the intellect, obedience in action. By the word form, we understand that by which anything is recognized — its outward and visible aspect.

The word suggest:

1. That there is such a thing as a form of Godliness.
2. That a form of Godliness may exist without its vital power. Denying the power thereof. This is possible. It is a lamentable fact. It has most alarming consequences.
3. That the possession of a mere form of Godliness does entitle a person to Christian fellowship. From such turn away. He has no sympathy with your sentiments. He cannot enter into your religious experiences and joys.
4. Note that the existence of mere formalists in church is no argument against true religion. The withered form of that lifeless tree does not prove that all trees in the forest are destitute of life and beauty. If the formalist has only a form, there are thousands who possess and own the power of Godliness.
5. Note also, That in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affections, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good. Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God: Having a form of Godliness, but denying the power thereof: From such turn away. (11. Timothy 3. 1 - 5.)

Cool Fall Aids Game

United Press International

Fisherman and hunter alike were helped by changes in the recent fall weather in Texas, and bass fishing and goose hunting may be the bright points in the outdoorsman's calendar.

Freshening weather is pushing bass into more activity. Fishermen have been pulling in good strings of bass in such lakes as Lake Belton and Granite Shoals. The fishing has still not reached the peak of last year at the same time, when a bass fisherman could hardly avoid wetting his line without a catch. Most lakes have been down the past few months.

Some good bass have been caught lately on Falcon Lake on the Rio Grande. Redfish and trout in coastal waters are beckoning fishermen although weather has been discouraging in some areas.

A Canadian freeze has sent most of the geese on their trip southward, and Texas hunters should be the winners.

The season began Wednesday in overcast weather which should serve to keep geese low and in good hunting range. Wildlife biologists from the Game and Fish Commission described conditions as "very good" for geese. Surface water is in plentiful supply, and good food production came out of mild late summer and early fall weather.

A heavy flight of ducks and geese made it to the upper Gulf Coast, east of Galveston Bay, and bird populations in Wharton and Colorado counties increased sharply.

Most of the early-season arrivals were blue-wing teal and pintails. Later weather changes sent down some mallards and more pintails.

Garden Stakes Field Is Ready

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI)—Robert Lehman's Ambipose was added Thursday to the probable field for Saturday's running of the Garden State Stakes, the world's richest race, which could gross $287,970 if all 16 go postward.

Ambipose was vanned from Belmont Park today to begin working out on the Garden State Track. Trainer Tommy Waller said Larry Adams would ride the surprise starter in the mile and one-sixteenth event.

The other definite starters and their jockeys are: Roving Minstrel (Willie Shoemaker), Garwol (Ismael Valenzuela), Itsa Great Day (Bill Hartack), Try Cash (Joe Cufone), Intensive (Howard Grant), Carry Back (John Sellers).

Pampa Plans 'Rocking' Welcome For Explosive Palo Duro Dons Tonight

Shockers Fall Victim To Tascosa

AMARILLO — Pampa's Shockers, despite the one-man gang in the form of Fullback Ralph Palmer, fell to a scrapping Tascosa Raider team, 41-20, here yesterday afternoon.

Palmer, a member of the second unit, scored all three of Pampa's touchdowns, the closest one coming from 25 yards out. His other TD runs were of 83 and 65 yards.

Tascosa jumped off to a 13-0 lead in the first quarter and upped it to 19-0 midway in the second quarter before Palmer took a handoff and scampered 85 yards to put Pampa on the scoreboard. Fullback Harry O'Neal ran over the conversion points.

Then, in the third quarter, the Shockers exploded for two quick touchdowns, one for 65 yards and the second after a Tascosa fumble gave the ball to Pampa on the 25 yard line.

Taking a 20-19 lead into the last period, the Shockers saw their hopes for their second victory of the year go up in smoke as Tascosa scored three times to ice the game away.

Deck Woldt, Shocker coach, said today that he was pleased with the way the second unit moved the ball and laid the blame for the loss on the fact that the Shockers failed to cover punt and kick off returns properly.

Iowa Eyes KU Game

By United Press International

Top-ranked Iowa has waited 51 years to average a series of setbacks by Kansas and hopes to show its half-century of progress Saturday in one of the top college football games of the day.

Back in 1909, Kansas whipped the Hawkeyes, 20-7, to make it three in a row over Iowa. The series was shelved after that year with Kansas holding a 7-2 edge.

Coach Forest Evashevski's Iowans rate a 12½ point choice to win their sixth straight this season. Kansas' record is marred by a 14-7 loss to Syracuse and a 13-13 tie with Oklahoma.

Mississippi's No. 2-ranked Rebels also have revenge in mind against LSU in a Southeastern Conference battle. Mississippi lost regular season games over the past two years to LSU. The Rebels tempered these setbacks by beating the Tigers in the Sugar Bowl. They are expected to repeat by a two-touchdown margin.

Syracuse, the defending national champion, rates a 10-point favorite to make Pittsburgh its 17th straight victim. The Orangemen have beaten Pitt three straight times.

Minnesota, showing surprising strength this season, goes for its sixth in a row against a weak Kansas State team with no odds quoted because of the Gophers' overwhelming superiority.

Bullet Joe Bellino makes fifth-ranked Navy the choice to beat Notre Dame for the seventh time in 34 meetings with the oddsmakers backing the Middle line-mauler and his mates to the tune of a 14-point favorite. The Irish have lost four straight since winning their opener.

Missouri and Baylor, battling for championship honors in the Big Eight and Southwestern conferences, respectively, are expected to keep their perfect records intact. Missouri is 14 over Nebraska and Baylor 6½ over Texas as Christian.

Visitors Heavy Choice To Win In 3-4A Game

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

Palo Duro's "Dancing Dons" come bopping into town tonight and Pampa's Harvesters have planned a little "rocking and rolling" reception when the two meet at 7:30 in a District 3-4A encounter at Harvester Park.

Unfortunately, despite the nickname which comes as a result of all the stunting and slanting it does on defense, Palo Duro also plays football and has the potential of turning the game into a rout should Pampa have occasional mental lapses.

Pampa, which has been the underdog so long it doesn't know what favorite means, again will be in the role as the Dons are a two-touchdown choice to slam the door in the Harvesters' face for the seventh time.

Palo Duro (4-3) and 2-2 in district play is a better team than its record indicates. It beat Dumas, 18-6; Midland, 25-2; Lubbock Monterey, 19-12; and Plainview, 20-8. Losses have been to Borger, 34-6; Lubbock, 14-7 and Fort Worth Carter, 12-6.

In the only comparative opponent, Monterey beat Pampa, 19-6.

The Dons may have one of the best backfields in the district. In the last three games, they have used three different fullbacks, but Robin Byrd, a 159-pound junior, probably is the best of the lot.

At quarterback, Palo Duro will open with Danny Splawn, a senior who is the district's third best passer. He's dangerous on both long and short passes and can throw going at top speed.

But it is perhaps the Dons' wide staff that Pampa will see most of tonight. Floyd Burke, a speedy (9.8) sophomore, stood out in both the Borger loss and the Plainview win and could be the big thorn in the Harvesters' side.

Defensively, Glen Raef, a 173-pounder, is the Palo Duro key. At middle linebacker, he made 14 unassisted tackles against Plainview and was in on several others.

Pampa's winning desires will rest with Fullback Steve Dobbin, who has developed a little more finesse since the Amarillo game. In practice this week, Dobbin was cutting better than at any other time to date. At 158 pounds, he's not going to run over too many defenders and Coach Babe Curfman hopes that Dobbin will duplicate his practice periods in tonight's game.

Quarterback Roy Don Stephens will be ready for full-scale activity tonight, also. Hobbled by a bum knee in recent games, Stephens' passing might make the difference in a close game.

With a well-Duke Garren in the middle of the Harvesters line, Pampa will have almost fifty pounds more than it did against Amarillo. Garren has been idle due to a head injury but has been pronounced well for Palo Duro.

As far as poupage goes, Palo Duro will average 167 to Pampa's 153.3 offensively but defensively, there's even more of a gap, with the Dons' hitting 171 to the home team's 155.2.

Pampa has never beaten Palo Duro — or for that matter, any Amarillo school since they split — and tonight marks the fifth meeting of the Dons and Harvesters.

Officials were hoping for a good crowd for the game — the first time the Harvesters have played here in almost a month — but as of noon today, no tickets had been sold for the contest.

DUKE GARREN — back in action

Quarterbacks To Form Line

The Pampa Harvester Quarter-back Club will form its regular "welcoming line" tonight to cheer the Harvesters on the field for their 7:30 p.m. game with Palo Duro.

Sharon Haralson, president of the Quarterbackers, asked that all the boosters be at the south gate by 7:20 p.m.

"This is our first home game since Sept. 30 and I think we need to show the boys that we haven't forgotten them," Haralson said today.

Probable starting lineups and weights:

PAMPA		PALO DURO
Storms (147)	E	Morton (173)	E
Webb (165)	T	Hudgins (170)	T
Wills (150)	G	Cook (176)	G

Hogs Still Claim SWC Race Open

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

Every year about this time (mid season) someone gets out a slide rule and comes to the conclusion that the title chase in the Southwest Conference isn't over by a long shot.

Of course the Southwest Conference, where upsets are a dime a dozen, wouldn't be the Southwest Conference if this wasn't true.

The year Bob Cheyne, publicity man for the Arkansas Razorbacks, has piled up the figures. Naturally, he's booming the Hogs, and to hear him talk the Porkers were just about got the crown or a piece of it sewed up.

Cheyne's reasoning is that Arkansas, even though it has lost to Baylor, need hurdle only Rice in its remaining four games.

"Mathematically," Cheyne says, "no one is out of the race yet—and six teams are still given a reasonable chance at the crown. Arkansas, at 2-1, is in as good a shape as anyone — including the front-runners," Baylor and Rice.

Arkansas has the favorite role this weekend against A&M and barring an upset could move back on top of the pile with a little help from TCU which plays Baylor.

Frank Broyles, Porker coach, said he didn't think the "crowd noise" at spirited AggieLand would be much of a factor in the game.

Rice jogged through routine recognition drills preparing for Texas Tech with starting guard Rufus King, hobbled since the Florida game, expected to be back in action at full speed.

The Raiders held a dummy scrimmage in shoulder pads, helmets and shorts. Coach DeWitt Weaver said it was doubtful that quarterback Glen Amerson, fullback Charles Harrison and guard Charles Edgemond would make the trip to Houston.

Coach John Bridges said his Baylor Bears "looked sharp" in their final preparation for TCU. He spent time on the ground attack, and finished up with defensive drills and a review of the kicking game. The Bruins were scheduled to rest today.

SMU placed special emphasis on its kicking game in a touchup drill before the trip to Austin against Texas.

Miami, White Deer Top Weekend Area Football

Miami (8-0), clearly the class of District 11-B eight-man football, will be out to extend its victory streak at the expense of Morse, and White Deer (6-1) goes to Sunray for a District 1-A game to highlight area football tonight.

In other area games, Wheeler goes to Texline and Canadian travels to Lefors in District 2-A scraps; Groom hosts Follet and Perryton hikes to Quanah for a District 5-AA contest. McLean has an open date.

The Warriors of Miami waxed Mobeetie, 28-14, last week in their closet game to date but Coach Bill Hines may find Morse a little better to his liking.

Mark Arrington, Gerald Thompson, Tuck Seitz and Randy Day will carry the load of the Miami attack as the Warriors are already looking ahead to bi-district play.

White Deer regained its winning ways after a loss to Stinnett to trounce Gruver, 47-6, and could conceivably finish the season with a 9-1 mark if it follows the form charts. The passing combination of Dickie Hanna and Joe Grange is one of the best in the Panhandle, an attack that mighty Stinnett had trouble halting.

Lefors' Pirates were idle last week and may have all they can take care of in rebounding Canadian, which dumped Clarendon, 14-6, last week.

The brunt of the line work will fall upon Tackle Kenneth Fields and Guard Wayne Timms to keep the Pirates in the thick of the district scramble.

Tangles With Andrade Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown makes ring history tonight with his ninth defense of the championship in a 15-round title bout against Bobby (Cisco) Andrade at Olympic Auditorium.

The champion, whose home is at Baton Rouge, La., but who fights out of Houston, Tex., was a 2-1 favorite to retain the crown he won Aug. 24, 1956, from Wallace (Bud) Smith at New Orleans.

The ninth title defense breaks the lightweight record of eight title bouts set by the late Benny Leonard and equaled by Brown when he knocked out Dave Charnley of England last December in six rounds.

Brown has knocked out six of his opponents in title fights since becoming champion and the smooth-boxing champion predicted he would do the same to Andrade.

Although he is 34, Brown is only four years older than Andrade who has been boxing since 1952 but three times retired temporarily only to return to the ring. Andrade, from nearby Compton, Calif., has been one of the top ten lightweights several times in his career.

Against Brown's knockout punch Andrade pits a record of never having been counted out in the ring. He has one knockout listed against him but that fight with Art Aragon was stopped in the ninth round. California boxing relations call for such victories to be listed as knockouts.

Andrade won the right to a title fight with a seventh-round knockout over Raymond (Battling) Torres of Mexico last July. But Brown put away the Mexican contender in four rounds in a non-title bout less than four weeks ago.

The champion has a record of 109 bouts with 80 victories, 38 by knockouts. He has been knocked out himself four times. He lost 17 fights, had 10 draws and 2 fights were listed as no contests.

Andrade has fought 51 times, scoring 44 victories with 24 of them ending in knockouts. He has been defeated six times and had one draw.

This year Andrade has fought four times and won all of his bouts by knockouts. Brown has fought three times and suffered one loss by a technical knockout to Ray Portilla as a result of rib injuries.

For the title bout, which is not

Royals Top Nats With Late Rally

By United Press International

It looks as if Jack Twyman, last year's second high scorer in the National Basketball Association, is going to take a back seat to rookie Oscar (Big O) Robertson this season.

Robertson, looking none the worse in switching to the pro game, paced the Cincinnati Royals to a 143-140 overtime victory over the Syracuse Nationals Thursday night by scoring 39 points, on 13 field goals and 13 of 15 from the foul line.

The triumph was the fifth in six games for the new-look Royals, who finished in last place in the Western Division last year. Veteran Twyman, runnerup to Wilt Chamberlain in 1959-60, and Phil Jordan added 26 points apiece for the Royals.

Reserve Win Wilfong tied the game 130-all at the end of regulation time and then combined with Robertson to pull out the victory for the Royals.

Dick Barnett with 30 points, 21 in the first half, led Syracuse scorers.

North Zone Dove Season To Open

AUSTIN (UPI)—H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, reminded hunters today that the dove hunt ends in the North Zone Sunday.

He pointed out that dove will be legal game in the South Zone until Dec. 5. Reports from the South Zone were that hunting is fair to good generally. The North Zone hunting has improved since it began, but many birds have moved across to the South Zone.

Far West Political Leanings Hard For Even Pros To Assess

By PETER J. HAYES
United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — In western states it's a brave political pundit who tries to pick a winner in the Nov. 8 presidential election.

A Democratic trend has been gathering momentum in most of the region since 1952—yet President Eisenhower carried all six western states in 1952 and 1956. There have been other maverick leanings:

—In Arizona Democrats outnumbered Republicans 2½ to 1, yet it was twice elected Barry Goldwater, one of the most conservative Republicans in the U.S. Senate.

—Likewise in California, with Democrats holding a 3-2 registration edge, Republicans point with pride to Earl Warren's three consecutive gubernatorial victories in the 1940s, Goodwin J. Knight's election as governor in 1954 and Eisenhower's twin victories there.

—In Washington state, both U.S. senators, the governor, lieutenant governor and state legislature are Democrats; yet in 1958 six of the state's seven congressmen elected were Republicans.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy are vying for 64 electoral votes (269 needed to elect) in the eight far western states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

Despite the Democrats' registered voter bulge.

"I see no reason why Arizona should go Democratic," said GOP State Chairman Richard Kleindienst. "It didn't in 1958 when the rest of the nation did."

Sen. Goldwater's popularity apparently stems from the fact that Arizonans endorse a conservative approach to operation of government. Arizona is the only state that rejected federal National Defense Education Act funds. Also, it has a "right-to-work" law that bans the union shop.

In Washington state neither side is going very far out on a limb to claim victory.

Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson, D-Wash., Democratic chairman, went this far:

"It could go either way right now, but I think we'll take Washington when the time comes."

Republican observers say much the same thing. All agree it will be a close contest for the Evergreen State's nine votes.

Oregon (6 votes) also is generally pegged as a tossup.

In Nevada, Democrats enjoy a 2-1 voter lead, but they by no means are claiming victory. Like its southern neighbor Arizona, Nevada has a strong conservative outlook.

Nevada has three electoral votes.

Idaho is another state where the Kennedy-Nixon outcome is hard to predict. With four electoral votes, Idaho went Republican until 1958 when Democrats captured all major posts except the governorship and one of two seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Alaska and Hawaii will cast their first electoral votes—three each—since being admitted to the union as the 49th and 50th states.

Alaska traditionally has been counted in the Democratic camp, and no reversal of trend is seen in this election.

Du Pont announces the first and only NEVER DRAIN ANTI-FREEZE & SUMMER COOLANT

Telar

Contains patented Color Check to watch your cooling system for you!

Nobody wants to drain anti-freeze—and with Du Pont "Telar", you no longer have to!

"Telar" is the first and only anti-freeze you can safely leave in as long as your car's cooling system is mechanically okay. "Telar" is a summer coolant, too. And it contains patented Color Check to watch your cooling system for you.

Aren't there other anti-freezes you don't have to drain? None! Manufacturers of all other anti-freezes recommend draining.

Why doesn't "Telar" need draining? "Telar" is a patented new formula exclusive with Du Pont. It stands up and stays fresh where others break down.

When mixed with ordinary water, it rust-proofs every engine metal—even the new aluminum alloys—with a chemical armor. This chemical armor is not just a film that can wear off; it becomes part of the metal surface, preventing rust from forming.

How does "Telar" maintain cooling in summer? "Telar" has a higher boiling point than water. "Telar" prevents rust clogging, chief cause of engine overheating; it keeps the cooling system clean and free flowing. It's ideal for cars with air conditioning.

What is Color Check? It's an exclusive feature of "Telar". If mechanical cooling system failure contaminates the solution of "Telar", Color Check tells you so by changing the solution's color from red to yellow. It is the only time you drain and replace "Telar". In Du Pont's five years of tests this rarely happened.

What about cost? "Telar" saves you money. You add it to ordinary water. And it goes in for keeps, not just for one year.

Only $7.00 to $9.00 worth of "Telar" protects most cars completely...

Only $3.00 to $5.00 for compact cars

The Preening Partisans

The peculiar quadrennial delinquency we refer to as a "presidential year" has inspired some observations among news hounds and other pundits which give us a bit of insight on the American attitude toward these affairs.

We have noticed, after the television "debates" between Nixon and Kennedy, that some of the major concern expressed related to the appearance of the candidates. The first time thru, Nixon looked fagged, a little worn and tired. This became a matter of grave national concern.

What Nixon had to say, few remember. Perhaps there is some merit here. He really didn't have much to say except that he wasn't too far away from Kennedy in his views, but that were he elected he could manage things better than Mr. Kennedy.

We are given to understand that after that first television go-round, Mr. Nixon fired his own personal make-up man and placed himself under the tender ministrations of a regular studio make-up artist. Apparently this change in the line-up of his preparation for the big "debate" was satisfactory for his appearance on the subsequent shows was much improved as virtually everyone was quick to murmur with approval. Also in the latest production more effort was expended to find sharp differences but aside from tone of voice, the effort didn't jell.

What did Kennedy say? Well, he wanted it to be clearly understood that he was concerned about America, that he wasn't really too far away from Mr. Nixon's view, but that he could administer things a little better than Mr. Nixon.

Both men tried their best to appear to be relaxed. Both men tried to show how pleasant they were. They grinned and smirked and nodded and tried to ingratiate themselves into the hearts of the voters.

Two big boys were clearly fearful of making the slightest move which might indicate they were a trifle out of sorts, perhaps tired, maybe even a bit bored with the ignominy of a lot of trumped-up issues when, in fact, each one is only trying to be popular.

Minor Threat

If governments confined themselves to the physical protection of citizens, there is so little threat against them that most governments could operate out of telephone booths and there would be small merit to any kind of a political career.

Sleepers Are Awakening

Everybody seems to be getting into the act. All kinds of people are now coming forward with lists of questions to be given to every candidate for every office under the sun.

Actually, this is a healthy sign. It indicates, perhaps, that after long hibernation, some of our sleeping countrymen may be stirring. It's been a long nap from the days of the American Revolution to 1960 . . . very close to 200 years.

Rip Van Winkle Americans, tussling from their political slumbers, are coming forward to ask all kinds of questions and most of them are embarrassing — at least to the contender for high honors.

We know of no question more embarrassing, for instance, than to ask a candidate for office why he thinks he would make a good office holder. This question calls for a soul-searching answer and fairly candid disclosure on the individual's own peccadilloes.

This is never pleasant; even among intimates it can be blushing-bringing. With strangers giving a candidate the cold stare, such breast-baring is personality destroying. But it's an excellent question.

Actually, Americans should concentrate on questions which might possibly embarrass the contender for office. This either completely confuses the candidate and causes him to wonder why he is letting himself in for this kind of treatment, or it helps to toughen his hide, a necessary defensive measure for any human being who wishes to live amid the flying darts of any governmental chamber.

So the questions are all to the good.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK—It is a very small object with a key and two major words on its face. One says "War" and the other says "Peace" and the slot for the key is between them. One man has the key in the locations where this object may be found. Obviously, if one man has the key, one man's judgment is more or less the guiding and implementing factor. He, theoretically, is under orders from a superior or superiors, but in the final clutch, when fractions of seconds may make the difference, there might not be time for superior judgment. It may be entirely up to him.

The object controls whether missiles remain in their cradles, asleep and harmless, or lunge suddenly into the atmosphere, spewing fire and smoke as they race at incredible and virtually unstoppable speeds toward the enemy territory. One such missile can level most of a city. Five such missiles could be the foundation makers for whatever world of the future might survive. The foundations would be a few scarred persons, rubble glowing with the greenish fires of radiation, venomous vegetation and a polluted atmosphere. From these shards and poisons a sturdy few might root a new world.

It is these exact considerations that terrify thoughtful men these days. Think of them individually what you will, men such as Nehru, Sukarno, Nasser and their like visibly tremble when they speak of the horrors that lie ahead if the way of a sure-footed peace is not found and riveted down now. They are impatient men. They sit and listen to hours of specious and often mendacious haranguing and then shake their heads impatiently as though to say: "Why don't you get to the essential, mankind at this moment is at the last crossroads. That is all that matters above anything else."

Even the pudgy opportunist from Moscow pulls up short of the exact spelling out of the final order of doom. He pounds desks, shrieks insults and his bald head flames in irritation. But always he pulls up short of the irrefragable phrase. If he knows nothing else—and actually he knows a great deal, is shrewd, wily and tendingly pointed at times—he knows that 40 years of building in the Soviet Union, of plants and power stations, roads and factories, housing and theatres, stores and shops, all would be crushed down into poisoned dust in less than an hour. It is an overwhelming thought.

It tugs and pulls and shies at the structure that is slowly building and which may become historic—the neutralist wedge being driven between the USSR and the USA. A wedge may grow into a wall, a wall into a huge barrier. Only time and Heaven will reveal that. But he knows that a formidable large and ever more powerful unaligned force is rising to separate the two major contestants and contain them.

All this is hopeful and serves a little to quiet tensions and reduce bluster. But it is plain in every moment of attitude that the unaligned are not at all certain that enough time is left. One sits in a small, shadowed cage of green glass, high in the General Assembly hall, and watches these men. You come face to face with them in halls and they do not seem nearly so large or powerful as they do in print or picture. They are men, with nails that need trimming or hair that needs cutting or even faces that need washing. Their shoes are not always polished, they have headaches like anyone else and sometimes their feet hurt. They are men, no more, no less, subject to the same dreams and weaknesses, the same sublime moments and the same disasters as all men.

I no longer think of them. I think of the object—with its lone key and another mortal man wearing that key and having a frightful decision to make. He is what it all comes down to.

for so long they are not acquainted with what has happened in this nation to arouse them so rudely from their blissful indifference. In consequence, they are looking about frantically for some legal panacea which will remove the alarm bell and let them get back to sleep once more.

But this is precisely what must NOT happen. There is no automatic way whereby we vote for someone and thus solve our problems. Our problems cannot be solved in the political arena. They are of our own making and we must solve them individually, painfully and nonpolitically, each one separately.

Eternal liberty can come only when we are vigilant. And vigilance means staying awake. We are not merely in voting so we can go back to sleep.

Few seem willing to recognize that man is a human being and does not require legislation for him to live at peace with his fellows. Instead, it seems we are relying more and more on force; more and more on pressures, more and more on law and guns and cruelty.

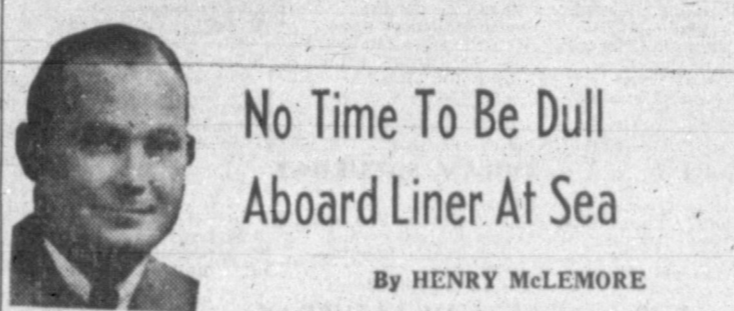

The tone in the campaign today, which is now beginning to take on a bit of volume, is, we believe, sepulchral. Nerves are on edge. People have rubbed each other raw in the toil and sweat of paying taxes and being filled with resentment against each new incursion against individual freedom.

People want to be free. But like Rip Van Winkle they have slept

No Time To Be Dull Aboard Liner At Sea

By HENRY MCELDORE

S. S. QUEEN FEDERICA (AT SEA) — All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

I didn't make that up, but the National Hellenic American Line, which owns this ship, must have. It must be their motto.

Either that, or they don't want any dull people on board, or otherwise — for play the passengers do. All the work done by all the passengers since we cleared New York harbor, wouldn't turn the hands on a wrist watch.

Play starts in the morning and continues until the last foot is too tired to take another step. I haven't learned what the skipper would do if he caught anyone working, but I have heard that the offender would be tossed in the brig and put on a diet of caviar and biscuits.

The Queen Frederica is a playground with a propeller shaft, a recreation room with funnels. We have been on sea four or five days now — I am not sure which, for I have been too busy playing to look at the calendar — and so far I have played at horse racing, bridge, gin rummy, betting in the ship's pool, trap shooting, boxing, fencing, bicycling, dancing, swimming, deck tennis, and ping-pong.

I have also been up at sunrise to see the sun do just that. Ashore this would rate as work, but out here on the bounding deep, as I have nicknamed the Atlantic Ocean, it is wonderful. The sunrise is much prettier than at home. Besides, getting up at dawn, and taking a few turns around the deck reads a man for the field hand breakfast our dining steward insists we eat.

I can't get used to going swimming in a swimming pool in the middle of the ocean. To me it is gilding the lily, pure and simple. There is the ocean, thousands of miles of it stretching in all directions, and to put on a pair of trunks and jump into a pool being carried along on top of all this water seems to be carrying comfort too far.

I feel so strongly about this that I have limited myself to two swims a day.

I'll never know how I managed to launch my fencing career in mid-ocean. Until yesterday I had never held a sword in my hand, yet there I was in the gymnasium, fencing away as if the Three Musketeers had been boyhood playmates of mine.

At long last, however, the country is beginning to wake to the need for counter-subversion training. Reps. A. S. Herlong of Florida and Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, in the House of Representatives, and Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, in the Senate, fought hard in the last session of Congress to win approval for a Freedom Academy. This would be a Cold War training school in which American officials, agents and military men would get instruction in the methods used by communists and how they can be checked. All that American conservatives have learned about communism would be taught in this "West Point of political warfare."

Graduates of this school would know how to organize counter-guerrillas; how to expose the fraudulence of Red propaganda; and how to break up communist fronts in remote lands. They would be the spearhead of free-citizen's resistance to Red totalitarianism. They would understand the means of cracking student riots such as prevented President Eisenhower's trip to Japan. They would be in a position to help restore a free pro-American government to Cuba.

The Freedom Academy bill, which had the support of leading American conservatives, won approval in the U.S. Senate. Unhappily, the bill did not come to a vote in the House. But it is expected that the Freedom Academy bill will be reintroduced in the next session.

The United States needs a counter-subversion training institute. The country should have had it more than 10 years ago. It is unfortunate that it is not operating right now. Much of the mess the U.S. finds itself in Africa, with its foolish and costly dependence on the United Nations — an organization with a staff made up in part of Russian and satellite country personnel — might never have occurred.

A Freedom Academy should be on the "must" legislative list of Congress next year. The country needs trained professionals to help break the power of the communists and their fellow-travelers who hope to subvert America, the stronghold of freedom.

The Nation's Press

NEEDED: A FREEDOM ACADEMY

While the United States is spending vast sums on complex weapons systems, and even larger amounts on utterly wasteful foreign aid, neither type of expenditure is proving itself effective in checking the advance of world communism.

Red Cuba's totalitarian excesses continue to grow in number. Only recently, that island's communist government seized three American-owned banks. On the African continent, Reds dominate the government of Guinea. In North Africa, Red Chinese "technicians" are taking up key positions in the Algerian rebel army that is warring on France.

Against communism's techniques of war by subversion, the United States is almost helpless. The truth is that covert methods are the methods of communism's war planners. They expect to win World War III, not with giant bombs or fleets of submarines but with saboteurs, political agents, and propagandists. To the Red, and propagandist is the heart of the battle.

Tragically, the United States has little with which to fight the reds on this front. Instead of concentrating on building political war forces to resist communism, it has squandered billions on economic aid. Roads have been built overseas in lands that communism came to seize. Dams have been constructed, only for a leftist regime to deny the U.S. credit for them. Scholarships have been given foreign students, only for them to return home to become anti-Western fanatics. It is ironic that Raul Roa, Cuba's foreign minister, was at one time given a Guggenheim fellowship — a grant provided by an American foundation.

At long last, however, the country is beginning to wake to the need for counter-subversion training. Reps. A. S. Herlong of Florida and Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, in the House of Representatives, and Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, in the Senate, fought hard in the last session of Congress to win approval for a Freedom Academy. Earth, Stars and Man (6) Age of the Earth

THE EARTH - HOW OLD?

by Don Oakley and John Lane

THREE EARLY MEASURING METHODS

A MOLTEN WORLD: 20-40 MILLION YEARS.

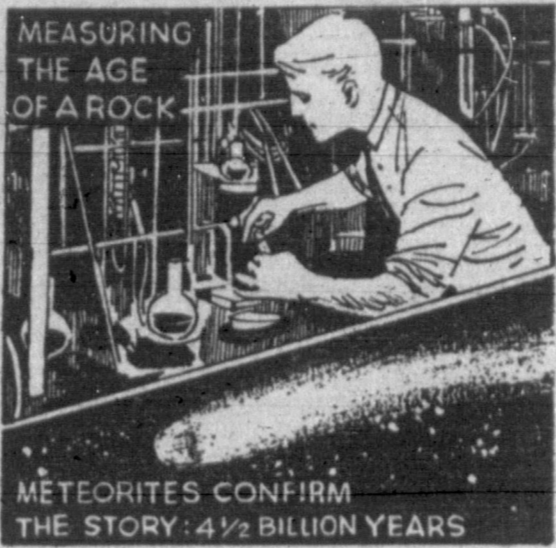

A SALTY SEA: 80-90 MILLION YEARS.

A STRATIFIED CRUST: 100 MILLION YEARS.

THE ATOMIC METHOD

RUTHERFORD'S URANIUM - 700 MILLION YEARS.

BOLTWOOD'S LEAD - 2.2 BILLION YEARS.

In the 17th century, Archbishop Ussher of Ireland set the date for the beginning of the world at 4004 B.C. Another Biblical scholar further refined it to 9 a.m., October 23, of the same year. Pious men felt that the matter was closed, but students of the earth were unconvinced. Now, 300 years later, the real answer seems to have been found.

In the 19th century, attempts were made to deduce the age of the earth by estimating the amount of salt that had washed into the oceans and by measuring the thickness of sedimentary rocks. In 1897, however, the British physicist Lord Kelvin, assuming that the earth had begun as a molten ball, arrived at the figure of 20 to 40 million years as the time needed for it to cool to its present temperature. Geologists felt that this was too low, but had no way of disproving it. Chemists and physicists came to the rescue. Near the turn of the century, the phenomenon of radioactivity was discovered.

In 1902, a young New Zealander, Ernest Rutherford, announced that radioactivity was the spontaneous changing of certain atoms into wholly different atoms at a steady rate. This gave a new way to measure the age of minerals and the earth of which they were a part. His figure of 700 million years as the age of a piece of uranium shook all the previous ideas. But by 1906 this age had been trebled. Chemist B. B. Boltwood of Yale discovered that uranium decays into ordinary lead. He measured the lead content of a sample of rock and found it to be over two billion years old. Scientists have since found numerous other similar "rock clocks" and have doubled the figure again.

New information has come in a dramatic way. Meteorites, possibly fragments of a former planet, have been measured at 4.5 billion years. Since they were probably created at the same time as the earth, they imply that the earth is at least that old.

It is against this tremendous background that the search for the origin of life goes on. The story now turns to the paleontologists and biologists—the cosmic detectives who study the record of living things.

Do You Know The Candidates? Test Yourself With 20 Questions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How much do you know about this year's presidential candidates, and the presidents and presidential elections of the past? Here are 20 questions to test your knowledge. Some are tricky. Score yourself for each correct answer.

Here's how to rate yourself: 100 points—Perfect score. 85 or better—You must have peeked at the answers. 75-80—You're a careful newspaper reader and a whiz on this subject. 40-70—Good. You know as much about it as the average Washington correspondent. 20-35—Average. You're just a casual newspaper reader. 15 or less—You flunked.

HE'S NO STOOLIE

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—One witness was present when burglars entered the Big Hat restaurant and bar and stole more than $220 Thursday—but all he would say to police was "Hello Pete" and "Hello Myrtle."

The witness was a mynah bird, which one officer observed "is not the same as a stool pigeon."

Knock Before Entering!

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

LONDO N (UPI)—When school teacher Dr. Simon Galin wants to go into a classroom he always knocks on the door first.

Dr. Galin told a conference of the National Union of Teachers Thursday it saves him possible embarrassment.

"There may be a couple of school kids making love inside," said Dr. Galin, 69, a lecturer at Hendon Technical College.

"Once when I knocked, I was told to stay outside."

The professor looked back over his long career in the teaching profession and recounted for the benefit of his younger colleagues how students have changed.

"They used to make love in secret," he said. "Then they made love in a corner of the playground. Now they do it in the classroom."

This obsession of modern youth to make love instead of learning impelled him to ask a couple of teen-agers why they could not wait until they left school.

They replied gloomily, "We will be dead in 10 years."

Cuba Now Is Heavily Armed

HAVANA (UPI)—Mounting shipments of arms from behind the Iron Curtain have made Cuba one of the most heavily armed nations of its size in the world, it was reported today.

Reliable informants said arms received from the Reds include tanks and artillery—and probably jet planes—from Russia, 100,000 Czech rifles and "large quantities" of .35-caliber machine guns.

The coastline of Pinar Del Rio Province, west of Havana, bristles with naval gun emplacements. The former American mining area at Moa Bay in eastern Cuba has been closed to civilians and apparently is being converted into a major military base.

The government has ordered a tight military alert to support its charge that a "U.S.-supported invasion" can be expected momentarily. Precautions in force include sporadic blackouts of coastal highways around Havana.

Premier Fidel Castro has not appeared publicly here for nearly two weeks, and his whereabouts are unknown.

Nobel Unit Rules Out Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (UPI)—The Nobel committee of the Norwegian National Assembly announced today that there will be no 1960 peace prize.

The committee met in secret at Oslo's Nobel Institute amid rumors that United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was the top candidate.

The committee gave no reason for its decision, which was announced in a terse communique saying only that it had decided not to award a 1960 peace prize.

USES WRONG WINDOW

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Rine Winston A. Gilchrist, arrested last week for climbing through Isaac Hill's window at the "Evelyn," was freed Thursday.

Evelyn Kowen, 19, Hill's neighbor, appeared in court and she had met the Marine address and telephone number.

The attorney general's office reported Gilchrist had simply climbed the wrong window.
