Khrushchev Pays Surprise Visit To Cuban Dictator

Fists Fly, Tempers Flare

Demos Battle Over Platform

By PAT CONWAY United Press International DALLAS (UPI) — Frayed tempers that have already erupted into one political fist fight were expected to be exercised today on the floor of the State Democratic Convention in a battle over the party's national platform. Arch Conservatives from 12 counties met in a midnight secret session and agreed to appoint a steering committee to lead a fight to "condemn the national platform," at the opening-convention session at 10 a.m. Arch Rowan, Fort Worth oilman and one time political associate of former Gov. Allan Shivers, would not name the committee but said members were from Harris, Dallas, Tarrant, Harrison, Rusk, Gregg, Walker, Crane, Angelina, Upton, Smith and Pecos counties. The heated pace for the convention was set Monday when a fist fight developed between George Polk and Marvin Zindler of the Houston delegation. Polk socked Zindler, then wrestled him to the floor during a subcommittee meeting on credentials, after Zindler accused Polk of being a "propagandist of hate." The Houston delegation had been called before the committee on a charge by state committeeman Billy Goldberg of Houston that some 130 members of the delegation have refused to support the platform and the national ticket. In caucuses Monday night, Harris and Dallas county delegations also voted to push a floor fight to repudiate the platform and anything else the party might sponsor that has a tinge of socialism. The fight was expected between (See TEMPER, Page 3)

Crowds Along Harlem Streets Jeer Nikita

NEW YORK (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia visited Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro in a Harlem hotel today. Pandemonium broke out in front of the Hotel Theresa when Khrushchev arrived in a motorcade preceded by swarms of New York motorcycle police, their sirens screaming. Cuban Agriculture Minister Antonio Nunez - Jiminez rushed hatless out of the hotel with a broad smile and threw his arms around the Soviet premier. Jiminez, dressed in green fatigues and sporting a flowing black beard, pushed past newsmen and security officers to welcome Khrushchev. Secret Service men—apparently both Russian and American—flung newsmen out of the way as Khrushchev stepped from the sleek black limousine and hustled through the double glass doors into the hotel lobby. As the motorcade roared up Park Avenue passersby on the sidewalk jeered and yelled, "Go back to Moscow." It was the first meeting between Castro and Khrushchev. Castro has invited the Soviet premier to Havana as he wrapped Cuba further and further into the Communist fold. The first indication that anything unusual was going on at the Theresa came at 12:10 p. m. when police suddenly began putting up barricades at 125th Street and halted south-bound traffic on 7th Avenue. The hotel to which Castro moved in a huff Monday night over the demands that he pay cash at the Hotel Shelburne is nearly six miles north of the Shelburne. The Khrushchev arrival was so unexpected that bystanders stood dumbfounded. They apparently were too surprised to either boo or cheer. Then motorcades screamed up to the curb, followed by four carloads of security police and four carloads of Communist dignitaries. Newsmen who had been covering Castro rushed forward for a closer look. They ran head-on into the security arrangements and were shoved back so Khrushchev could enter the building.

SAME LOOK — Fidel Castro, top, and Nikita Khrushchev are shown in twin attitudes upon their arrival in New York for the United Nations General Assembly session. Khrushchev in a surprise move today scheduled a meeting with the Cuban dictator in his Harlem hotel.

City Is Queried On 'Preparedness'

The sobering thought of a possible nuclear attack in this area was brought before the City Commission today by Ivy Duncan. She brought this subject to your attention, since it would be a horrible thing to have happen. . . . and we would not be in a position to do anything about saving lives," said Duncan. He suggested that certain steps be taken by the city to insure water and light facilities in the case of such an attack. He noted that shelters erected at the well which provides the city's water and a shelter at the light plant would be needed in case this should ever happen. "What could be done to provide gas for cooking and heating, I don't know," Duncan said. "However, I'm sure that something could be worked out." He also suggested that plastic or rubberized suits be purchased "for those who would have to go outside during the two-week period people would have to stay in the shelters." "It's something to think about and I hope you will seriously consider definite action on this," Duncan said in closing. Mayor Ed Myatt pointed out that Sheriff Rufe Jordan has a complete file of government documents on nuclear attack. "I'm sure that Sheriff Jordan (head of the Civil Defense Administration for Gray County and Pampa) has taken certain measures to be prepared in the event of nuclear attack," Myatt stated. It also was pointed out that the Red Cross has a disaster plan which would go into effect in the event of a bomb drop in this, the eleventh strategic area of the nation. However, it was not made clear what the plan involved. In other action, the city heard a report on the Sept. 12 meeting (See CITY, Page 3)

Mobutu Warns Premier To Remain In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, who took over last Wednesday (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu, who with army backing and an Congolese army strongman who seized power last week, today ordered the arrest of "suspended" Soviet Premier Patrice Lumumba if he tries to fly to the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York. Mobutu said five Lumumba aides would be arrested if they try to go to New York. Congolese soldiers with arrest warrants signed by Mobutu appeared at the Njili airport to make certain that Lumumba and his aides did not board the two commercial airline flights that left this morning. Lumumba had been reported trying to get a plane so he could go to New York to address the United Nations on the Congo situation. But President Joseph Kasavubu gave orders that Lumumba be held in Leopoldville at all costs. It appeared evident that Mobutu

Tito Arrives For UN Meet, Seeks To Help

NEW YORK (UPI)—A smiling Marshal Tito arrived today for the United Nations session and said Yugoslavia wanted to help "alleviate the tensions of the world." Tito arrived aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, along with Albanian Communist Premier Mehmet Shehu, and was greeted by a small crowd of 20 to 30 Yugoslav and Albanian officials. "We come to the United Nations in order to explain our views on the main problems and we wish to contribute in the best way we can in alleviating the tensions of the world," Tito said after debarking. More than 500 city policemen, government and Yugoslavian security agents surrounded Pier 90 on the Hudson River, where the huge liner docked. (See CASTRO, Page 3)

Atlas Ties Mark, Has Miles Left

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — An Atlas missile which tied its own distance record of 3,000 miles Monday could have flown more than 2,000 miles farther had the Air Force ordered it, informed sources said. It was learned the 82-foot rocket, fired only hours after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's arrival in New York City, carried enough fuel to send it 11,000 to 12,000 miles, about halfway around the world. Russia's intercontinental ballistic missiles, reputed to be more than twice as powerful as America's largest, have yet to equal the 9,000-mile standard set by Atlas May 20 and repeated Monday. The longest Soviet shot was reported to be in the 8,500-mile range. Sources said full utilization of the Atlas fuel — liquid oxygen and high-grade kerosene — and a trimming away of 1,000 pounds of test equipment that rode along as a "passenger" could have achieved the greater distance. This indicated the combat range for Atlas, this nation's most powerful war-ready nuclear weapon, has been almost doubled from the original requirement of 6,360 miles with no sacrifice in payload weight. However, the Air Force had 9,000 miles in mind Monday. The rocket's 360,000-pound thrust engines were deliberately shut off, with fuel remaining, to send the 12-foot Mark III nose cone toward its target.

New Members To City Board

Five new members were appointed to the Board of City Development today by the City Commission. They will replace five members of the 15-man unit who will have completed their three-year terms of office in October. New members will be Jerry Sims, Lucien Young, Clyde Caruth, Howard Buckingham and J. C. Roberts. Outgoing members will be Hershel Wilks, Jake Osborne, H. O. Darby, C. R. Hoover and Ray Duncan. The commission made its selection from a 10-man list that was presented by the nominating committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. MOVING? See or call Harris Transfer, 809 Bradley Drive. Evening Of Low Comedy Played In New York

Castro Party Switches Hotels

By ALBIN KREBS United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro moved in a huff to "The Waldorf Astoria of Harlem" early today following a brief camp-out in the United Nations building. Castro stormed out of the Shelburne Hotel, his assigned quarters, over what he called the management's "unacceptable cash demands." He said he would sleep in Central Park or the U.N. rose garden if necessary, and led his bearded entourage of 80 directly to the United Nations to protest New York's "inhospitality." Monday night's fairly incredible string of events was described by U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding as "The Fidel Castro hotel drama in three acts — more a comedy than a tragedy." After consultations with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and other officials, Castro was offered rent-free accommodations at the mid-town Commodore Hotel, but he insisted on going to the Hotel Theresa, six miles away in Harlem. Act I of the "Hotel Drama" began in the Shelburne's Satire Room, when Castro sat down to dinner. He said hotel owner Edward Spatz had been "very troublesome" with demands for money "but we have accepted them because there was no other place to go." He said he was calling it quits at the hotel and would proceed to the United Nations for "suitable lodgings." If the United Nations would not take him, Castro said, "Then we will go any place, even Central Park, because we are used to sleeping in the mountains, in the open air." After Castro left, Spatz said he never wanted the Cubans, but took them in only because U.N. and U.S. State Department officials had "put pressure" on him. Spatz's unhappiness over his Cuban guests was aggravated by the presence outside the hotel of pro-Castro and anti-Castro demonstrators. He was also grieved because the Cubans had brought along their own food, freezers and stoves. "They're peeling chickens up in those rooms now and they're (See CASTRO, Page 3)

United Stand Behind Ike In UN Talk Urged

ENROUTE WITH NIXON (UPI) Vice President Richard M. Nixon called on the nation today and on Democratic candidates for president and vice president to stand united behind President Eisenhower in his presentation before the United Nations General Assembly. The GOP presidential candidate commented on the President's Thursday speaking date before the U.N. in remarks prepared for delivery at a series of speaking engagements in Michigan. The first two speeches were to be delivered in Mount Clemens and Flint. Nixon cautioned that "the regimented Communists will march, lock step, through the United Nations, hanging as desperately together to avoid hanging one another separately. There will be, on their part, no deviation." The Communists, Nixon said, will exploit every distinction "we draw among ourselves," to draw the United Nations "and us" into their web. Hutcheson And O'Donnell Tussle Looms For State GOP Reins

GALVESTON (UPI)—A fight shaped up today for the Republican state chairman's post after Thad Hutcheson of Houston agreed to accept the post again at least through the Nov. 8 elections. There was some speculation that Hutcheson wants to be free to run for the U.S. Senate in case Lyndon Johnson is elected vice president in the November election. Johnson also is seeking reelection to the Senate in addition to running as his party's vice presidential nominee. Opposing Hutcheson for the chairman's post is Peter O'Donnell of Dallas. The Dallas delegation has 80 votes on the convention floor against 57 for Houston. But the Houston attorney, active in GOP circles for many years, is known to have strong support from South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley. He announced several weeks ago that he would not seek the chairman's job this year, but apparently changed his mind and agreed to accept it if elected—provided he could resign after the elections if he so desired. Bruce Alger, Republican congressman from Dallas, was the keynote speaker at today's convention. He assailed Democratic presidential nominee John Kennedy and his running mate, Johnson, as "inept political opportunists." The Nixon-Lodge ticket offered by the Republican party is the "logical choice because of their experience," Alger said. Another convention speaker, assistant GOP national chairman Mrs. Clare B. Williams, predicted that Texas will go Republican in November, but warned party workers not to forget "the shoe leather, the door-to-door canvassing, the basic chores of a winning campaign." The Nixon-Lodge ticket offered by the Republican party is the "logical choice because of their experience," Alger said. Another convention speaker, assistant GOP national chairman Mrs. Clare B. Williams, predicted that Texas will go Republican in November, but warned party workers not to forget "the shoe leather, the basic chores of a winning campaign." W. C. Epperson, 35, was seriously burned at approximately 12:30 Monday afternoon, while working near his home, two miles northwest of Pampa. Epperson and Davey Watts, Rt. 2 Pampa, were attempting to move a section of irrigation pipe when it came in contact with a power line. Epperson received first and second degree burns. He was admitted to Highland General Hospital. Watts escaped with minor burns. Hospital authorities report that Epperson is in fair condition. If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdwe. ### Youth Jailed After Foul Catch Sues

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) — A baseball tradition has resulted in a $70,000 damage suit against the Savannah Pirates of the South Atlantic League.

A youth who said he was arrested for grabbing a foul ball at a game Friday, sued the Pittsburgh Pirates, operators of the Savannah team, and the Columbus, Ga., baseball club, owners of the franchise, charging he was "greatly frightened and was greatly exposed to public disgrace."

at Plainview of Canadian River Municipal Water Authority representatives.

Clinton Evans, who with Fred Thompson represents Pampa on the panel, said that the target date for completion of the entire project, dam, reservoir and aqueducts, is July 1957.

"Approval of $300,000 for preliminary engineering work has been granted by the federal government. When this work is completed, possibly by July 1961, they will follow up with letting of bids in September or October of the same year," said Evans.

During construction of the dam, Evans said some 300 to 500 workers would be employed.

"This, I believe, will be an income boost for Pampa, since I am sure many of the workers will come from this city," Evans declared.

The commission did not set a date for an election with the CRMWA. However, it is believed the date will be set to coincide with the Nov. 22 date the authority has established for its election to enter into contract with the government.

Following Evans report, the commission went into the 1950-51 city budget. The reading of the ordinance (No. 546) was heard and approved after a shift of $5,500 was made from the present budget to the one that will go into effect in October.

This raises the total budget to $1,828,500. The fund was changed from a maintenance fund that was being used for upkeep and repairs of city hall, and specifically concerned doors and casings which have been ordered but have not been received.

Actually, the change means nothing more than a shift of expenditures from last year to the coming year, and in no way creates added cash outlay by the city.

Ordinance No. 547, covering the $1.50 tax rate also was read. The breakdown of funds from this are: 91 cents for the general fund, 50 cents for interest and sinking fund, 6 cents for the Board of City Development, and 3 cents for the library fund.

This $1.50 tax rate represents a 2-cent drop from the $1.52 of last year.

There was a lengthy discussion on funds for street repairs and sealing. $30,000-plus has been established for this, but Commissioner Leon Holmes asked if the commission felt if that amount was enough.

"It isn't a drop in the bucket. If we have another bad winter we're going to be in trouble," said Mayor Myatt. "I can't see any other way to raise the vast amount we need except through a bond election."

City Manager John Koonz noted that the contingency fund could be tapped if the monies set aside for street repairs and sealing were exhausted, but agreed with the mayor that far more money is needed for such work.

"We just don't have the money going to cook 'em," Spatz said before the big walk-out.

Spatz said Castro got mad because he had asked for the second payment on a $10,000 bond against damage to the suites occupied by the Cuban delegation.

Castro said he couldn't raise the requested funds. "I am not going to let myself be robbed because the money I have belongs to the Cuban people," he said. He offered a Cuban bond, which Spatz thought looked "phony."

"I asked for a real bond or money," Spatz said, but he later relented and offered to return the bond already posted and let the Cubans stay at the Shelburne rent-free so as not to embarrass President Eisenhower.

gambit "ludicrous in the extreme."

President Eisenhower plans to visit the assembly for one day only — to make a speech Thursday — and there is a possibility Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will make one later in the session.

Despite Communist hints that Khrushchev would like to meet personally with Eisenhower, there was no indication so far that such a confrontation would come about.

The antics of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro — Khrushchev's special friend in the Americas — stole the limelight from the Soviet leader Monday night.

the conservative faction and the moderate forces of Gov. Price Daniel.

Although Daniel is opposed to many segments of the national platform, he has already told delegates that he believes the Texas stand on the "objectionable" parts should be expressed in the state platform.

The Dallas caucus cheered lustily when the platform was termed "damnable," and booted at the mention of Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, the party nominees.

Bob Payne told the caucus that conservatives had been "betrayed, and betrayed good by Sen. Lyndon Johnson."

and have no way to get it," said Koonz.

The commission also authorized payment of two bills; one to Flex-I-Rod Co. in the amount of $3,742.30 for a bucket machine for use in sewer work, and $452.37 to E. E. McAdams of Austin, for work on the new city charter that is in the preparation stage at this time.

Extension of water and sewer lines was being discussed at deadline time. Commissioner James Crawford brought up the possibility of adopting a new policy that would see the developer of future housing sites paying for the lines instead of the city entering into a pact for rebates or paying for the lines.

Mayor Myatt suggested that City Attorney Robert F. Gordon study the plan and make recommendations at a later meeting.

Socialite Billed On Murder Count

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Harris county grand jury Monday indicted socialite heiress Mrs. Margery North Furlong for murder in the fatal shooting of her third husband last Aug. 9.

Mrs. Furlong, 35, admitted she shot her husband, William Harrison Furlong III, as he broke through a glass door at her fashionable River Oaks home.

Witnesses to the shooting were Mrs. North's two children, Gary Macklyn Green, 13, and Lynsey Harriett Green, 11, both children by a former marriage.

The grand jury began questioning witnesses on Friday, including the two children and a pair of police officers who were working off-duty at the Furlong home shortly before the shooting.

The officers are patrolmen Charles J. Lofland and Glen Schumacher.

Mrs. Furlong never was called by the grand jury.

The Furlongs had been married only six months to the day when the fatal shooting occurred. The marriage had been fraught with domestic strife, Mrs. Furlong told officers.

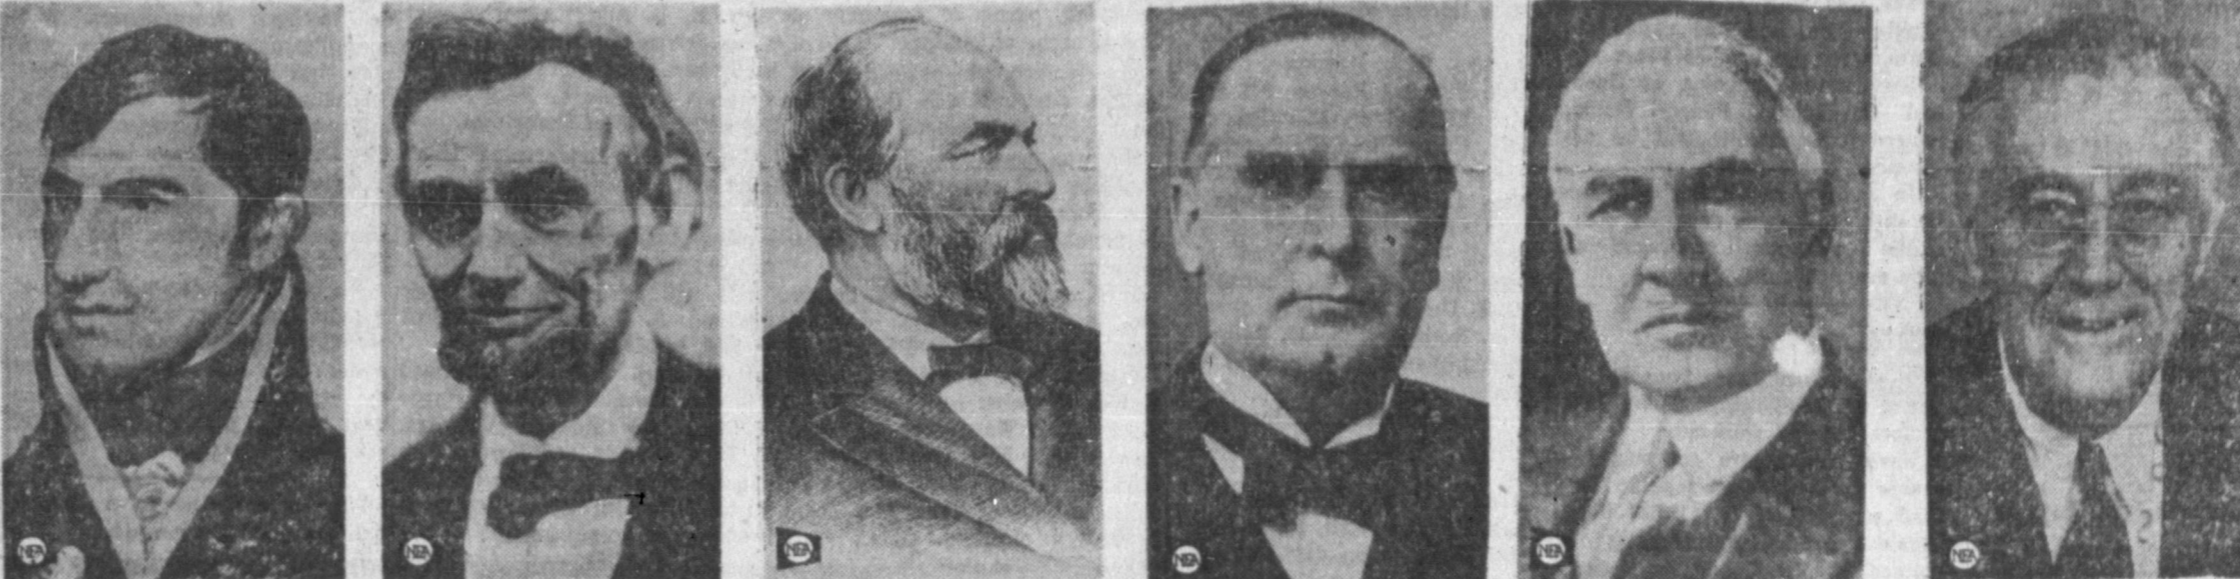

Previously called Kent, Londonberry, Vt., was given its new name by homestead arrivals from Londonberry, N.H.

Next President Faces A Deadly Superstition

Wm. Henry Harrison    Abraham Lincoln    James A. Garfield    William McKinley    Warren G. Harding    Franklin Roosevelt

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If history repeats itself, the man who is elected to the White House this November may very well die there.

Ever since 1840, the man chosen to be Chief Executive every 20 years has perished before he left the office. So far, according to this grim timetable, death has claimed six of our Presidents, three times at the hands of assassins.

The weird, every 20-years jinx started with the man elected President in November 1840, William Henry Harrison. He was a strong man physically, renowned as an Indian fighter. Yet within one month after taking office, Harrison was dead of pneumonia.

Twenty years passed. In November 1860, the United States elected Abraham Lincoln. In 1865 he became the first of our Presidents to be murdered, a tragedy he seemed to have known would befall him the night he went to Ford's Theatre.

Then in November 1880, James A. Garfield became "the last of the log cabin Presidents." He was a preacher, teacher and Civil War general. Less than four months after taking office, Garfield was shot and died of his wound. With grim regularity, the curse continued. In November, 1900, William McKinley was re-elected Chief Executive. Six months after the inauguration, he was shot to death by an anarchist named Leon Czolgosz.

After another generation, the White House "curse" loomed on the political horizon. Warren G. Harding was warned by political writers to beware. He laughed off the deaths, calling them coincidences. In November 1920, Harding was elected, and in 1923 he died suddenly while being treated for pneumonia.

November 1940, brought the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. And just 15 years ago, he fulfilled the "Curse" by succumbing to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Obituaries

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Funeral services were scheduled today for Richard Joseph Adams, 57, an architect famed for his hospital designs. He died of an attack Monday.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — Justice Walter B. Beals, 83, retired Washington Supreme Court Judge and a former judge of the Allied Armies' war court trials at Nuremberg, Germany, died Sunday.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) — Herbert W. Lunn, 61, active in Boy Scout work for 45 years, died Monday.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Joseph Horner Jr., 73, general manager and vice president of Green Bay Newspaper Co., died Sunday night of a skull fracture suffered nine days ago in a fall at his home.

Lengthy Survival
John Adams survived his term of office as president of the United States by 25 years and four months when he died on July 4, 1826; ex-president Herbert Hoover surpassed that record survival.

And just 15 years ago, he fulfilled the "Curse" by succumbing to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Pampa News Women's Editor

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of four letters, which Miss Jean Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rogers, 2239 N. Russell, has written recently to her parents, describing her experiences while teaching fifth grade students of air force personnel at Yokata Air Force Base, Japan)

August 26, 1960

Dear Folks,

I'm trying to keep you up on everything I do, and it is hard because there are so many places to go and things to see. Be sure to save all my letters in one place because I may not have any other record of this year.

School starts Monday (Aug. 22) and we've been working in our rooms, one half day Thursday and a whole day Friday. It certainly has been hot, too. We will teach only till 10:30 Monday, then we have the rest of the day off to get ready for the week. Our principal and the two assistants seem awfully nice.

If I remember correctly, last time I wrote I mentioned that I had a date with Bill and we were going to look at the Japanese country-side. Well, we left about 5:30 and within 15 minutes, we were up in the mountains. I can see Mt. Fuji from my window here on the base. The roads are twisting, little winding ones and the mountains are beautiful. The road wound around a big river. It looks a lot like those in Colorado, except much larger. It ran over rocks and boulders and made that mountain river sound I love. It was the most peculiar color I have ever seen, a sort of a pale green.

While it was still light, a sort of fog drifted out of the mountains and settled in the valley over the river. It was so beautiful that we stopped to look at it several times. On the way up, we saw the Japanese working in their fields; on their way to the bath; resting at home; and all those little things that are so interesting.

We finally stopped at this little Japanese shop on the road. This, of course, is a great lumbering area, and there are little carvings everywhere. When we got out of the car, three Japanese girls giggled at us. They think it is so funny when a man helps a woman out of a car. We shopped around and tried to talk to the girls. They couldn't speak English and we couldn't say much in Japanese, so we laughed at them and they giggled at us.

In a showcase, I saw a Japanese doll family and I pointed to it and said to Bill, "Mama san and Papa san" and the girls almost burst giggling and clapped their hands and said, "Bebe san, too." They were real cute and so eager to help us. Bill bought some little carved faces for me that are really adorable.

We were about to leave, when we noticed a Japanese Inn down the mountain side. It had a veranda with a rail around it, bamboo roof and lighted by those beautiful lanterns. From here we had a breathtaking view of the mountains and the river below us. We sat there a long time, just drinking coffee. Bill ordered the coffee and had a hard time making them understand when they brought the coffee, they served him first. All the Japanese do this, man before woman. The cups were small, but they serve huge lumps of sugar. The cream pitchers were tiny, dainty little things, as are the spoons.

Anyway on our way back, we stopped at some of the villages and looked around in shops. We really had a good time. That was Wednesday.

Thursday we worked one half day at the school, then took the bus to Tokyo. This was a tour for the teachers. We went to a well-known hotel. We all changed into those little slippers and scooted this way and that till we came to a tea room, where we were served green tea, tasted horrible and was oily.

There was a swimming pool surrounded by a garden with those little bridges, a water fall, stone lanterns, etc. Some went swimming and the others of us walked around the garden. Later, we went in to eat.

We sat in this huge room with mats on the floor, low tables and we sat on cushions. We ate sukiaki (see-ah-kee), which is meat and vegetables, beef and bean sprouts, carrots, bamboo shoots, etc. It was very good and also very easy to eat with chop sticks. You are supposed to dip it in raw egg before you eat it, but I couldn't quite go that. The girls were all dressed in Japanese kimono, which were very pretty. Later, the girls danced for us. We had to pay extra for them. One girl was most beautiful. Anyway, we had a wonderful time, but the bus ride home was terrible. The drivers just go hell-bent for leather with the streets all torn up.

Friday we worked in school all day and went to a movie. The base theater is just down from us and very nice. That's all the news for now. Please write often. The letter I got yesterday was such a thrill. I've read it every hour almost since it came. You all, be careful and I love you and think of you often. Love, Joan.

(Tomorrow: Final letter of this series describes the Japanese customs of cormorant fishing.)

If you want to improve your posture, always remember to carry the top part of your body as high as you can. Pull your waist up from you hips. Don't strain, but make a conscious effort. Keep at it, even though you may feel stiff and rigid at first. Soon it will seem a natural and relaxed position.

As a pleasant finishing touch to a shampoo, put a few drops of your favorite cologne in the last rinse water.

Parents Get Ten-Minute View Of Child's Classes

Robert E. Lee Junior High PTA held its first meeting with a "Back To School Night" on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

In each of the ten-minute classes, teachers explained what is being taught. Mrs. Bob Bounds, seventh grade art teacher, said that art appreciation has a long-range goal. "What the child learns now in a well-rounded art course will better enable him to choose well in such things as his clothes, home furnishings and even car designing." She continued, "They are given a variety of things to do in art so that they will find at least one phase in which he may excel."

Mrs. Norman Phillips, seventh grade home room teacher, explained that in civics, the students will study qualifications of voters and for the different offices that are so much in the public eye now. "In the reading classes, each child will be placed in a group that reads, understands and remembers at the same level he does. If a child is not in the first reading class, it does not mean that he does not read only that he does not read as fast as someone else."

A social hour was held in the cafeteria during which homemade pies, coffee and hot tea were served.

Jack Nichols, school principal, extended a welcome to parents on behalf of the student council, faculty and PTA.

Mrs. Tom Brooks, membership chairman, reported that 320 memberships had been paid to date.

Carl Jones, assistant school principal, showed movies to the younger children who came with their parents. Mrs. Kenneth Waters and ninth grade girls assisted in the nursery. Ninth grade student council members served as guides. Each home room president greeted parents as they arrived and helped them find their children's classes.

During an executive board meeting of the PTA held at 1 p.m. in the conference room, delegates were elected to attend the fall workshop in Wheeler on Oct. 11; they are Misses J. A. Sears, Chester Thompson, J. W. Flynt, George Cree Jr. and Derrel Hogsett.

Lee members planning to take the Parent-Teacher Procedure course on Oct. 4 in Presbyterian Fellowship Hall from 10 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. are asked to contact Mrs. J. Parks Brumley, chairman. Each member attending is asked to take a salad for the luncheon; courses cost seventy-five cents each.

Mrs. Sears expressed appreciation to Mrs. Essie Mae Walters, student council sponsor; to Mr. Nichols and the faculty for their cooperation for the Back To School event.

Mrs. Cree reported that the bus to state PTA convention to be held in Austin Nov. 15-18 had been chartered. She also announced that each school is to donate $10 to Exceptional Child classes; that the joint PTA meeting will be held in Lee Jr. High in May; and that each unit's dues to City Council are $30.

Members present were Jack Nichols, Misses J. A. Sears, Chester Thompson, Don Cain, C. J. Howard, J. T. Cornutt, H. V. Wilks, George Cree Jr., Thelma Bray, R. D. Wilkerson, J. L. Chase, Kenneth Walters, Tom Brooks, J. W. Flynt, Derrel Hogsett, J. W. Lemons, and J. E. Hall.

Attending the meeting were Misses Joe Shelton, Holly Gray, V. N. Osborn, Lee Harrah, J. E. Carlson, R. F. Dirksen, Helen Holmes, Thelma Bray, J. C. Coston, Willie Rheodesel, K. W. Bunch, P. V. Rowe, George Ingram, G. Morris, Marie Smith, Boyd Brown and Christol Love.

Growth Of Violets Topic For Society

African Violet Society met recently in the home of Mrs. Norman Walburg, north of the city with Mrs. R. F. Dirksen, presiding at the business meeting.

Mrs. C. C. Matheny, discussing the fertilizing of African Violets, said, "A lack of nitrogen causes the leaves to become light. Potassium deficiency causes the lower leaves to become bronze and the plant to be stunted."

In adding pointers on the growth of African Violets, Mrs. H. E. Carlson advised "Be sure African Violets are not dry, when you apply fertilizer."

Attending the meeting were Misses Joe Shelton, Holly Gray, V. N. Osborn, Lee Harrah, J. E. Carlson, R. F. Dirksen, Helen Holmes, Thelma Bray, J. C. Coston, Willie Rheodesel, K. W. Bunch, P. V. Rowe, George Ingram, G. Morris, Marie Smith, Boyd Brown and Christol Love.

Dear Abby...

In Kneeling To Pray
Chip May Fall

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law won't call me "Ma" like my son does. She made it clear to me that she already has a mother. (I also have a mother but I call my mother-in-law "Ma" and I don't love my own mother any the less for it.)

My daughter-in-law never misses Sunday morning mass, and she calls herself a good Christian, but she tells my son that "old country" people make her nervous, and she doesn't want her kiddies spending too much time around us because they might pick up our foreign accent. How can you knock the chip off the shoulder of a girl like that?

DEAR "MA": You can't—but maybe when she kneels to pray one day it will fall off by itself.

DEAR ABBY: We five children are planning a big party to celebrate our parent's 30th wedding anniversary. We rented a hall, hired the musicians and sold quite a few tickets. This is our problem. Our grandfather died yesterday and we had to tell our parents about this party we were planning. As it would be a great loss of money to us, they told us to ahead with our plans. Now the family says it wouldn't be proper for them to attend such a party so soon after grandpa's death. Should we call it off or go ahead with our plans?

THE CHILDREN
DEAR CHILDREN: Call off the party.

DEAR ABBY: A young lady is going steady with a young man. He has invited her to visit his parents out of state for a week. They plan to drive alone. The trip will require an overnight stop. I say it doesn't look right and may start gossip. Perhaps I am old-fashioned, but it would be helpful to hear your opinion.

"OLD-FASHIONED"
DEAR "OLD-FASHIONED": A young couple "going steady" shouldn't take an overnight trip together unchaperoned.

DEAR ABBY: I have a few words for "Sick of Shoes":

You think you have something to complain about? My husband swears like a parrot, smokes like a furnace and lies like a rug. He never picks up his dirty clothes, drops ashes all over the house and I don't even know how much money he makes. He leaves his shoes in the living room, too. You should get down on your knees and thank the Lord for a man like yours.

SICK OF MEN

'Golden Rule' Merchant Still Looks To Future

By GABE KAIMOWITZ
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — J. C. Penney, just past his 85th birthday, white-haired and mustached, leaned forward in his chair in the executive offices on the 18th floor of the J. C. Penney building.

"My father once said: 'No man can acquire a million dollars in a lifetime and do it honestly.'"

"How I wish he were alive so that I could show him."

For this J. C. Penney is the founder of a chain of retail stores which now number 1,700 and gross nearly 1 1/2 billion dollars annually.

His father was a college-educated Missouri farmer who left his farm and home heavily mortgaged when he died in 1885.

When Horatio Alger wrote his "rags-to-riches" stories, he must have been thinking about a man like J. C. Penney.

In 1885, he was an apprentice clerk earning $25 a year. For reasons of health, he went to Denver where he failed in his first business venture, a butcher shop.

He went to work for the dry goods store of T. M. Callahan and Co. In 1902, with $500 of his own and $1,500 of borrowed money, he opened a store in Kemmerer, Wyo. (pop. 1,000), as a partner in the firm.

"I chose that location over Ogden, Utah (pop. 35,000), because I didn't believe I was big enough for a town of such a large size."

He bought three stores in 1907 when the parent firm dissolved its partnership. By 1910, he had 14 stores; by 1920, 297 and so on.

"Of course this could be done again today," Penney says. "If anything, the opportunities are even greater."

J. C. Penney was 85 on Sept. 16. On that day, his latest book, "View From the Ninth Decade," will be released. This, his fifth book, is the story of his success. The story of his life, "Fifty Years With the Golden Rule" was published in 1950.

His mottoes and observations may seem old-fashioned to some; he justifies them in a chapter called "The Principles Never Change."

At 85, Penney gives no thought to retirement, although his company requires its employees to retire at 60.

"The company supplies adequate privilege and material comfort; many of our employees do not retire into nothingness. Some have even gone into government work."

"I'd like to live for another 15 years — not just to say I was 100, but to see how things turned out with the stores."

Penny personally is not as rich as he was before the 1929 stock market crash which cut sharply into the company's profits. So Penney, a "humble" man in his own words, is "humbler" today than ever before. Surrounded by titles and honorary degrees from dozens of institutions, colleges and organizations, he recognizes that "there are many things money can't buy."

If he has any formula for the attainment of millions, it is "first, make a success in your own field; then recognize your limitations and become part of an organization that is founded on the right principles — honor, confidence, service and co-operation."

Another of Penney's principles is the rejection of "handouts."

"I've never asked favors from the government; all I ask is an opportunity."

Official Clash Over Holidays For Policemen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy stood firm today in his clash with City Hall over ordering Jewish police officers to work on the Khrushchev detail during the High Holy Days.

Kennedy was summoned to Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office Monday and after a 25-minute conference left the mayor's office flushed and scowling.

Monday night Kennedy met for two hours with rabbis protesting the order. The rabbis requested that Jewish police officers be given full time off during the Jewish holidays as heretofore.

Kennedy earlier sent a message to all precincts urging Christian officers to arrange "mutuals" with the Jewish officers so the latter could attend religious services.

There are approximately 1,300 Jewish police officers on the city's 24,000-man force. The department has canceled all days off and invoked emergency measures to protect the many foreign diplomats here for the United Nations General Assembly session.

The Rosh Hashanah holy days begin at sundown Wednesday.

Nasser Lodgings Near Synagogue

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser will live on a Sands Point, Long Island, estate across the street from the community synagogue, while here to attend the U.N. General Assembly session.

Nasser arrives Thursday night at Idlewild Airport and will motor to the 4 1/2 acre estate of the late banana importer Ronald LaVilla.

Jewish high holy days will be celebrated in the synagogue Wednesday and the next day.

PARIS (NEA)—Hungry? Want something different to eat? Would you care to try a lady finger? A crocodile slice? A flambeed leg of tortoise? A whale souffle washed down with palm tree juice?

You can get all these and more here, courtesy of the French Commonwealth nations.

The lady finger, a digit-shaped yam, can be gotten at the "Baobab," "Cannibal," or "Trinidad" restaurants run by Senegalese Doudou (in West Africa) prizes this delicacy as highly as the French do truffles.

Doudou gave up his study of medicine when he couldn't find anything good to eat in the various Swiss, Italian, Chinese, Japanese or French restaurants in Paris. So he went into the restaurant business where he is making a fortune on home cooking, Senegalese style.

The crocodile and tortoise delicacies are served at the "Safari" presided over by Soley Diarra, said to be a son of a witch doctor. He once personally catered to the tastes of Aly Khan and playboy Rubirosa.

At the "Rose Fouge," a cradle of ex-existentialist muse, you'll get the whale and palm tree combo in an "African hut" atmosphere. This is run by Samba, grandson of an African merchant in Dakar.

Silla Ousmane, ex-student of social and political sciences, has found that the way to a man's stomach at the "Samory" may be through a combination of chicken and grilled fish in a thick lemon sauce.

Florence Loses Hurricane Punch

MIAMI (UPI) — A weak low pressure area, the dying remnants of tropical storm Florence, kicked up a few squalls to 35 miles per hour today in the Atlantic about 75 miles off the northeast coast of Cuba.

The Miami Weather Bureau said it did not expect winds to intensify or resume the circulation which characterizes a tropical storm.

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Monday that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will try to pose during the United Nations session as the advocate of policies which the Russian leader actually opposes.

The Republican presidential candidate said Khrushchev will talk about "peace, freedom, independence, anti-colonialism and all the other things the Communists really oppose."

Nixon spoke at a meeting of 250 members of the American nationalities for Nixon-Lodge committee which will wage a campaign for support among 20 million Americans of foreign origin. Later in the day, he will start off on another major campaign swing.

The candidate told the nationalities group that "one of the insidious appeals of the Communists is that they do not come as dictators or conquerors, but as partisans of anything the people want."

Nixon warned the nationality leaders, assembled from various parts of the country, that "an aggressive idea like communism cannot be countered by purely defensive tactics."

He also said the communists believe that the greatness of a nation lies in military strength and industrial production, but that "to us a nation is only as great and only as strong as its adherence to lasting ideals."

Fellas Oust Lady Picket Line Entry

A couple of fellas saved face last week by pushing aside a lady challenger on the Picket Line.

Low Caudill, circulation department manager, and the "x-pert" came off, we believe, rather well since we had only seven losers each during the two days of upsets including the Southwest Conference's "Day of Darkness" Saturday.

Louise Fletcher of the book-keeping department, was going well Friday, but the fall of SWC teams, and a couple of high school teams that went awry as far as she was concerned, shunted the young lady to the sidelines.

Lew lost on Pampa, McLean, Wheeler, Midland, SMU, TCU and Texas.

The "x-pert" lost on Canadian, McLean, Wheeler, Permain, Kentucky, TCU and Texas.

Louise lost with Wheeler, Permain, Ft. Worth Paschal, Birdville, Texas A&M, TCU and Texas, to leave her with a 14-8 mark.—E. H. W.

Dodgers Are Eliminated

Cards Cling To Flag Hopes

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

The St. Louis Cardinals — true to the Gashouse Gang tradition of the club — are still swinging... and hoping.

The odds and the experts insist that the Pittsburgh Pirates are "in" but it's not mathematically certain yet and until it is the Redbirds aren't conceding they're dead birds.

Solly Hemus' fighting crew kept their faint hopes alive Monday night when they pulled out a pressure-packed 1-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers on a sixth-inning homer by Jersey Joe Cunningham. The victory moved the Cardinals to within 5½ games of the idle Pirates and also eliminated the world champion Dodgers from the National League race.

The San Francisco Giants swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 11-4 and 4-1, in Monday's only other big league action.

Bob Miller, making his first start since June 7, received credit for his fourth win for the Cardinals although relief ace Lindy McDaniel rushed to his rescue with one-out and one-on-in-the-ninth. McDaniel struck out Tommy Davis and pinch-hitter Wally Moon to end the game and extend his string of consecutive scoreless relief innings against the Dodgers to 20 1-3.

Cunningham, who hadn't hit a home run since July 31, entered the game when Stan Musial pulled a muscle in his left arm in the third inning and connected for the game-winning homer off Stan Williams in the sixth. It was o'clock when the Quarterback Club conducts its regular meeting in the Pampa High School cafeteria.

Sharon Haralson, president, also announced the club is selling Harvester Booster decals and said that anyone wishing to purchase one could contact her or any Quarterback Club member.

Haralson said that whether or not a bus would be chartered for the Harvester-Arlingtoft Heights game at Fort Worth Friday night will depend on how many people want to attend.

"We can get a 29 passenger bus if enough people indicate they want to attend the game. I think the fare is about $10 round trip," said Haralson.

Eddie Fisher, pitcher recalled from Tacoma, yielded nine hits and had three singles of his own, Willie Kirkland hit two homers and Willie Mays had two singles for the Giants in their opener.

Bob Schmidt's second grand slam of his career won the nightcap which was called after eight innings due to darkness.

Raiders' Polson Leading All SWC Ground Gainers

By United Press International

Texas Tech's tremendous 323-yard rushing output against West Texas State helped place four Raider players among the Southwest Conference's top six ground gainers, including pace-setter Dickie Polson.

Polson, a 5-11, 185-pound junior letterman halfback from Amarillo, romped with the ball six times against the Buffs and gained 109 yards—a phenomenal 18.2-yard average.

And, he was busy elsewhere when he wasn't running. He caught seven passes for 75 yards and one touchdown—also tops in the conference after the first week's games.

In addition to Polson, Tech had fullback Collidge Hunt in second place with 67 yards, quarterback Glen Amerson in fifth with 56 and halfback Jay Dean Bynum in sixth with 48 yards. Sandwiched in at third and fourth places were fullbacks Ray Poage of Texas with 66 yards and Max Pierce of Texas Christian with 52.

Titans Hinge Protest To Game Film

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Titans today banked on game movies of Saturday night's 28-24 loss to Boston as backing for their official protest that the Patriots won on an illegal touchdown.

Harry Wismer, owner of the Titans, has invited American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss and league supervisor of officials Bob Austin to view film clips of the last-minute Boston touchdown that was achieved after "a loose ball was kicked by a Patriot."

New York held a 24-21 lead with seconds left on the clock when a bad pass from center on a punt play caused the ball to bound loose in the Titans' backfield.

Defensive back Chuck Shonta of Boston who the Titans contend kicked the ball during the melee, then picked it up and scampered for the winning touchdown as time ran out.

U.S. Tennis Unit Gains Cup Finals

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The United States Davis Cup team anxious for another showdown with Australia, was another step closer today after routing Venezuela in the American Zone finals.

The team grabbed the final singles Monday to complete a 5-0 sweep. Big Barry MacKay of Dayton defeated Ivo Pimentel, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, after Bernard (Tut) Bartzten walloped Marcus Gambus, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

The U. S. team thus earned a trip to Australia in December to meet the Philippines in the semifinals. The winner, and the U.S. team is favored, will face Italy for the right to meet the powerful Aussies for the cup.

The concluding play actually had no bearing on the inter-American competition.

Game Film On Tap For Quarterbacks

A showing of the Yaleta-Harvester game film will be one of the feature attractions tonight at 7:30 o'clock when the Quarterback Club conducts its regular meeting in the Pampa High School cafeteria.

Baylor Readies Offense For Colorado Air Blitz

By United Press International

Although Coach John Bridgers wishes things were different, his Baylor Bears may have to depend on a better offense as their defense against Colorado in the opener for the Bruins at Waco this weekend.

The attack is shaping up at Baylor. Bridgers has his Bears tuned up with what appears to be a fine passing game mixed with halfback speed. But the burr in the fur is a fretful lack of defensive line depth.

During the final week before the opener against the Buffaloes, Bridgers plans to concentrate on trying to get adequate defensive tackle and end play from his second team. The sore spots were more evident in the annual Green-White game last weekend.

"The Redshirt bunch playing for the Whites ran over that No. 2 line, there is no use denying it," Bridgers said. "And if they can do it, what will Colorado do to us?"

Bridgers was placing particular emphasis on pass defense. Colorado's Gale Weidner is one of the nation's finest. He completed 100 last year.

In the workout Monday, Ronnie Stanley was back in pads and ready to go. He moved back into the No. 1 quarterback post. Buck McLeod, also out several days with an injury, was back ready for action too.

At Texas, Coach Darrell Royal blamed the Longhorn loss to Nebraska on the kicking game and said the 14-13 Cornhusker decision proved that Texas was rated too high in pre-season polls.

"We lost the game on our kicking," Royal said. "Poor coverage of a punt and a bad quick kick cost us both touchdowns, and we lacked poise on a field goal attempt that would have won the game."

"I have contended all along that the high rating was mainly a compliment to last year's fine team. We have too many inexperienced players this year to be favored (in the Southwest Conference race). We're a pretty good football team, but we are far from being an outstanding one."

Royal said the same lineup would probably start against Maryland at College Park on Saturday. He plans to stress pass defense this week in practice.

"Maryland has big strong pass receivers and excellent throwers and their offense will be double tough," he said. "This will be the first real test of our pass defense."

Royal said the same lineup would probably start against Maryland at College Park on Saturday. He plans to stress pass defense this week in practice.

Grid Powers Collide In AA Feature

By United Press International

Taylor and La Grange, a pair of touchdown-happy Central Texas powers collide in the feature event of the Class AA schoolboy football program this week.

It will be one of several in which undefeated-untied teams are matched, but it easily ranks as the No. 1 game in the AA division, if not in the entire schoolboy program.

Taylor was stamped by Gonzales 53-18, Belton 38-21 and Lockhart 52-6, while La Grange has smashed Hallettsville 34-8, Bastrop 79-0 and Caldwell 44-0.

Taylor seems almost a certainty to win its district, but La Grange happens to be in the same district as three other undefeated-untied powers—Katy, last year's Class A champion which has run up a 102-6 scoring record; Columbus, which has a 93-6 record, and Bellville, which owns an 82-2 mark.

All three of these La Grange rivals are among those playing at other perfect record teams this week. Katy plays AAA Cypress-Fairbanks, Columbus meets Schulenburg of Class A and Bellville tackles AAA Lamar Consolidated.

Other similar games send Coleman against Brady, the team which bowed to Stamford in the A finals a year ago only to wind up with the crown when Stamford was ruled ineligible, Mineola against Class A White Oak and Newton against Class A San Augustine.

Stamford, which has won 19 straight and 30 of its last 31 games, plays powerful Sweetwater this week, but regardless of how many more the Bulldogs win they're under suspension this season and it won't count.

Decathlon Star Signs Film Pact

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — World and Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson, who announced after winning the gold medal in Rome that he would never again compete in the gruelling 10-event competition, today turned to a new field — acting.

Johnson, 24, was signed to a long-term acting contract Monday by 20th Century-Fox within 24 hours after his return from Rome. He was immediately assigned to a top feature role in "Journey Into Danger," in which he will be featured with Raymond Massey playing the role of a soldier in a British garrison in Africa.

The Christian church first celebrated Palm Sunday in the 300s in Jerusalem.

Arkansas began working out for Tulsa, and Coach Frank Broyles said if the Razorbacks are to win their second game they are going to have to sharpen their blocking and run harder in the backfield. Defensive coach Jim MacKenzie pointed out two bright spots in the 9-0 decision over Oklahoma State—pass defense in which the Porkers blanked the Cowboys and on goal line defense, where in the one test, the Hogs held on the five.

Coach DeWitt Weaver drilled his Red Raiders in sweat clothes for their debut in the Southwest Conference this weekend against Texas A&M. Weaver said he was concerned that West Texas State, which tumbled 38-14 in the Raiders' opener, was able to run back nine punts and kickoffs for 189 yards.

Arcaro's Riding Brings Polydad Race Victory

The fine hand of master stakes rider Eddie Arcaro brought Polydad the second big victory of his career at Aqueduct Monday.

Polydad, a 4-year-old gelded son of Polynesian, upset the odds-makers with a nose triumph in the $28,000 Nassau County Handicap. Last year at the big "A." Polydad defeated First Landing in the only other stakes win.

Arcaro applied the deft touch midway in the 1 1/4 outing, bringing Polydad up from seventh to a contending fourth place at the stretch approach.

Polydad responded well during the last eighth of a mile and just managed to beat the pace-setting Waltz.

The favored Waltz, however, was disqualified for crossing in front of Talent Show near the rail during the wire dash and was placed third. Talent Show was awarded second money.

Polydad, who had won $41,043 in 12 previous starts this year, added $18,290 to his earnings. He was timed in 1:49 2-5 and paid $14.60.

Vanessas Boy had to fight off a closing challenge by Silky-Satin to win the feature allowance race at Atlantic City by a nose. Cherry Flip was another head farther back in third place in the blanket finish.

Ralph Terry Pins Success To Romance, Slider Pitch

By JACK CUDDY United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Add the sparkle of romance to an improved change-of-pace slider and you get a Ralph Terry who may be mowing 'em down in next month's World Series.

The handsome rawboned Yankee right-hander, who pitched a key shutout against Baltimore at the stadium Sunday, attributed his recent effectiveness today to "Tanya and the slider."

That other single by Jackie

Dark-haired Tanya Simmons of Larned, Kans., is Ralph's fiancee. They'll be married in November. An airline hostess, she flew in from Kansas City Monday to observe her 24th birthday with Ralph, also 24.

"I was really hopin' for a no-hitter Sunday against the Orioles," admits the fast-ball specialist. "I wanted it for a birthday present to Tanya. And I was sure disappointed when Ron Hansen got that single in the eighth."

Robinson walked in the seventh

Brandt in the ninth added but little chagrin to the six-foot-three flinger with the light brown hair. The Yanks won the nightcap, 2-0, and thereby clipped the Baltimore Birdies for four straight games and a four-game lead that ultimately may wrap up the pennant.

It was the second consecutive shutout for the chucker from Chelsea, Okla. He had retired 20 straight batters before Brooks Robinson walked in the seventh Sunday.

Shirley Temple Show Applauded; Dennis The Menace 'Crisis' Looms

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Oh, fudge. "The Shirley Temple Show" made its debut in rich, living color on NBC-TV Sunday night and turned in a smoothly-blended, winning production of Frank Baum's children's classic "The Land of Oz."

Frankly, I was rooting against it. Why? Well, we — the two youngsters, mamma and myself — used to enjoy "Dennis the Menace" together on CBS-TV. After we enjoyed Miss Temple's rival show, I broke the sad news to the kids: They'll have to choose between Shirley and Dennis. This is the time for sacrifice and in NBC's program strategy for the new season, Shirley Temple is pitted against "Lassie" and "Dennis the Menace." The kids went to bed with a difficult decision to make for next week.

I think they'll resolve it in favor of Miss Temple — because it's in color — but I think it's a shame they can't have both. So long, Dennis, old pal.

The "Land of Oz" gave the cast a chance for rousing portrayals of no-goodniks, goodniks and Old Lork Nikidik. Jonathan Winters was wicked as Nikidik; Agnes Moorehead cackled affectionately as Mombi the witch; Sterling-Holloway wore a magnificent pumpkin for a head; Ben Blue did the Scarecrow bit; Gil Lamb creaked and shone as the tin woodman; Arthur Treacher was a buttery butler; Frances Bergen glowed as Glinda the Good. The "magical" stage effects were acceptably produced. Miss Temple starred in a dual role, as Princess Ozma and Tip, the blonde boy. She seemed to enjoy the latter part more. Let's say because it gave her an opportunity to attempt a dramatic role.

The hour moved along with eye-popping attractiveness and spirit. representatives of new African and Asian nations, also Latin America. Bonn feels that analysis of the Khrushchev proposals will show, as before, that what he wants first of all is the removal of U. S. bases in West Germany.

In keeping with its family approach to Sunday viewing, NBC-TV also brought in its new "National Velvet" series Sunday night.

It's "Lassie" all over again if you substitute a horse for the dog, a girl for the boy, Lori Martin stars as the 12-year-old Velvet

Brown, the girl who would give her kingdom for a horse.

The acting, characterizations and production standards are reminiscent of the "Lassie" operation. That is, lots of glop. Velvet isn't allowed to whip the horse while driving down to the wire in a horse race. And the horse isn't allowed to perspire after his exertions.

"The Tab Hunter Show" is a reverse Dobie Gillis.

Dobie tells the viewer of his troubles in getting dates. The new

NBC-TV series, which also made its debut Sunday night, has Tab telling viewers of his troubles in getting rid of the chicks. Personally, I think Tab is bragging, not complaining.

He's a bachelor who lives in a grand beach house that seems to be besieged by lovely, sexy, innocent girls. The setting swings but the plot and dialogue in the opener betrayed lots of rust. Only a bit in which one of Tab's girls turned his car, toaster and power mower into miniature hot rods of a status-seeker than a non-conformist.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the foreign editor's notebook:

Russia vs. United Nations: The Soviet Union is extremely annoyed with United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's handling of the Congo crisis, but Communist diplomats do not imply they want him fired — at least for the time being. When Nikita Khrushchev makes his U. N. appearance, it will be to level sharp attacks at U. N. Congo policy but at the same time to stress the growing importance of the world body.

No matter what actions the Communist bloc may take at the U. N., they have plenty of opportunities to stir up trouble elsewhere.

Western diplomats fear the Soviets may be considering harassing actions in the three 20-mile-wide air corridors to West Berlin. The stage for Soviet interference could have been set by the Soviet charge the Big Three are using the corridors illegally to transport militarists to the city. The Soviets have increased their patrol activity in the vicinity of the corridors.

Another trouble spot is Laos. Unconfirmed reports that Communist-led military units have infiltrated the jungle borders of Laos from Communist North Vietnam suggest that Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung might be trying to make his "invisible presence" felt at the U. N.

The West German government has its own ideas of Soviet strategy. The Germans expected Khrushchev to reveal sensational disarmament proposal to impress

Smugglers Ride Highways

When laws become oppressive there is invariably a rise in the number of lawbreakers.

When laws prevent trade and a free exchange of goods, black markets, smuggling and international crime are organized.

When taxes become so oppressive that people must either starve or break the law, the laws will be broken.

People can be pushed so far. Then the reaction begins.

And whether the pushing comes from an enthroned king, from an entrenched political party, or from an alien ideology, the reaction will always suffice in the end to stifle the pusher.

An indication of where we are in these United States, circa 1960, is found in the increase in "illegal" trucking going on in virtually every state in the union.

Now, what in the world would constitute "illegal" trucking?

If it dealt with the operation of faulty equipment or with stolen vehicles or goods, one could understand it.

But, in point of fact, this is not what is meant when the term is presently used.

"Illegal" trucking today is essentially interstate smuggling of black market operating, in which truckers seek to evade or avoid charges, taxes, fees, fines, assessments and harassments which paralleled the time of the King George III of England, and King Louis XIV of France.

It appears that the American rebellion against excessive taxes and oppressions has been largely forgotten.

Worse! While we intend in no way to make George III or Louis XIV look good, it must be conceded that despite their vaulting ambition they didn't have modern devices at their disposal by means of which they could impale the legalized banditry. We have it on the authority of the Wall Street Journal, which is remarkably effective in this field of information, that federal regulations and exactions, why latory agencies, seeking to cut down or to halt illegal trucking in these states, are having one trade area, the largest in the dickens of a time with the job of the socialist urge of a controlled trucks abide by the letter of the law and hence are coerced into a state of docility and acquaintance returned after a trip to England for purposes of establishing a branch plant in the British Isles.

Our acquaintance didn't particularly want a branch operation in England. Conceivably it could be costly for him, possibly unprofitable for some time to come. Even with this highly likely prospect his plans have matured and the new plant will go in. So will another branch operation in France.

He already has a branch in Western Germany and in Italy.

Why? There is no greater certainty in these places than there is in the U.S.A. and this is readily admitted.

What our acquaintance and many of like mind are beginning to believe is that diversity is the only way to make certain of solvency in the coming years of crisis. The firm which has branches in virtually half the likely places in the world is less likely to lose its footing if times ever get out of joint in two or three trouble zones.

This is apparently the principal reason why Castro's madness seems to be spurring foreign investments rather than reigning it in. Castro is a symbol of what can happen anywhere. But if a person's money is spread around in enough places, some degree of safety can be anticipated since there aren't too many Castros in existence at one time, ever.

As things now stand, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce, private investors have their largest outlays in Canada and Latin America.

Canadian private investments total about $8,329 billion as of 1959,

The Doctor Says:

DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

Since neither political party, at its recent convention, adopted a platform plank promising elimination of the common cold, we may confidently expect a resumption of the "cold war" some time after the final game of the World Series.

I wish I could tell you of the successful development of new weapons to fight the invading virus but we've been so preoccupied with outer space we just haven't had time or energy to get much done in the nasal cavity.

About the only good news I've come across is a somewhat encouraging report of the use of an adenovirus vaccine that does afford protection against a few of the many types of organism capable of producing the most prevalent of all infections.

In case you may have forgotten from year to year, here are a few suggestions that may help to reduce both the discomforts and expenditures imposed by the biggest nuisance of the many nuisance diseases:

Keep arm's length distance from any cold victim whether it's an appealing infant or the love of your life.

If you happen to be the cold victim and you can't crawl into a bomb shelter, try to keep your troubles to yourself. Keep that arm's length distance from your uninfected friends co-workers, fellow students and relatives.

Blow, sneeze and cough into disposable tissues. Wash your hands thoroughly before shaking hands or touching anything, especially eatables, that will be handled by another person.

If it's possible, sleep alone in your room. And make your own bed so no one else has to handle your linens.

To ease your discomfort, place greatest reliance on aspirin. Purchase the drug in bottles of a hundred five-grain tablets by its chemical name of acetyl (as-sel-till) salicylic acid (sal-is-sill-lik acid). Bought this way, you'll get two or three tablets for a cent.

If you want to increase the speed of the drug's action, powder the tablet between a couple of spoons and take it a few hours after you've eaten.

If you want to reduce the drug's irritation, drink a glass of water with a little bicarbonate of soda before you swallow the pill or powder and another glass of plain water immediately after.

If you want to re-inforce the aspirin effect with that of caffeine, wash the pill or powder down with a cup of coffee or tea.

To relieve nasal stuffiness, ask your doctor to recommend nasal inhalants or drops. But do not use either more than three or four times a day. Try to save one dose for before retirement and another for use during the night.

Sleep in a cool room. Sealing the room to prevent chilling and draughts will only add to your discomfort.

Unless your doctor favors a series of injections of the new virus vaccine, don't waste your money on bacterial vaccines composed of organisms that have nothing to do with the cold. Like streptococci, influenza bacillus, pneumococci, staphylococci and mixtures of these organisms.

Don't waste your money on products or shots that are supposed to increase your resistance to the cold.

Don't think that, because an advertised product makes your nose tingle or your chest tingle, it has the slightest effect on the cold virus.

Don't add to your discomfort by taking—or giving—a powerful purgative. You won't blast out a single one of the villains.

And unless your doctor thinks you need to dose with an antibiotic, like penicillin or a sulfa, don't nag him into "doing something."

Remember that the common cold is usually a self-limited disease that, according to a medical witicism, lasts two weeks if it's treated and a fortnight if it isn't.

Highlights of other major military improvement plans, as reported in the memorandum, are:

3-YEAR MILITARY POWER SPEEDUP PROGRAM TO BE REVEALED BY GATES CAMPAIGN BOMBHELL

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Gates is ready to toss an administration bombshell into the presidential campaign.

He is going to make public a 3-year program for improvement of the military power of the Air Force Army and Navy.

The new program, which has the backing of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, provides for the speeding of eighteen major military weapons programs, including some of those being advocated by Senator John Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate.

Secretary Gates' proposed "improvement program" ranges from increasing the number of ATLAS and TITAN ICBM squadrons to 27, to the overseas deployment in 1960 of an additional Army battle group and five Army missile battalions.

The speed-up plan also calls for "pushing the development of a prototype B-70 supersonic bomber by 1963" and "the addition of two atomic powered submarines, each equipped with POLARIS missiles, in 1960."

These and other details of the defense build-up are revealed in a Defense Department memorandum sent to Vice President Nixon and Republican members of the Senate Armed Service Committee.

Entitled "Plans and Programs for Improvement of Present Military Power," the memorandum reveals that Secretary Gates plans to permit the three services to spend the $600,000,000 in additional funds that Congress voted this year. The extra money will be used to defray costs of the new defense speed-up.

The most dramatic defense build-up under the 18-point program will come in the field of long-range missiles.

"There will be a progressive expansion of forces equipped with ATLAS ICBMs to a total of 13 squadrons (instead of 9) by 1963," the memorandum stated. "Squadrons equipped with TITAN ICBMs are to be built up to total 14 (instead of 10) sometime after 1963. The first TITAN squadron will be operational in 1961."

Highlights of other major military improvement plans, as reported in the memorandum, are:

AIR FORCE "Addition of forces equipped with the B-53 supersonic bomber in 1960 with a progressive build-up to three wings in the succeeding year."

"Addition of forces equipped with MINUTEMAN ICBMs in 1963."

Government Takes Care Of Non-Saving Individuals

By HOWARD KERSHNER, L.H.D.

Americans For Democratic Action believe that every citizen has the right to public protection from personal catastrophe resulting from sickness, disability, unemployment and old-age.

What do they mean by saying we all have a right to these things? Presumably they mean that if we cannot pay for them somebody must do it for us. If this were possible, we could all relax and take it easy. The trouble is that too many people think it is possible and are relaxing more and more.

Why thrifflily provide for the rainy day of illness if Uncle Sam will do it for us? Why labor to accumulate a nest egg against accident, misfortune or unemployment if Uncle Sam will provide for these needs? Why save and accumulate for old-age when our generous Uncle promises to take care of us?

The relaxation which goes with this type of program means that too many people are willing to spend their earnings, having a good time and then expect government to provide for them in disaster and old-age. To the extent that government is followed savings decline, capital formation does not keep pace with increasing needs and we are laying the foundation for increasing hardship and more poverty and suffering.

As a part of this program, Americans For Democratic Action believe that every American is entitled to a good dwelling in a good environment provided at cost of rent that he can afford to pay.

Who determines what is a good dwelling and a good environment and if a citizen cannot pay for these things himself, is it the duty of his fellows not only to pay for their own but to pay for his as well? Doesn't ADA know that few American citizens can afford to pay for anything they believe government will provide for them and the more government provides the less they provide for themselves, and the more they want?

If it is once accepted that government is going to provide a good home for all who cannot afford to provide for themselves, government will soon be in the business of providing homes for everyone.

Considering the wastefulness with which government operates, public housing will surely cost far more than private housing and, since we all will be supplying houses for each other through the agency of government, we may be sure that the cost of housing will mount rapidly and, in the end, all of us will have to live in much poorer houses or apartments than we could provide for ourselves if government were left entirely out of it. Such socialist programs give the appearance of success as long as there is a vast amount of wealth accumulated under private enterprise to divide, but after socialism divides and dissipates this accumulation, it will have nothing but poverty and hardship to distribute to its devotees.

In the long run, men and women have a right to no more than they can produce themselves. If they attempt to get more by depressing others, that is violating God's law against coveting and theft, they will so slow the stream of production that much less wealth will be created and all will suffer more severely. That is the history of socialism.

We may disregard it and bring suffering upon ourselves until a wiser generation returns to freedom, self-reliance and the practice of rewarding each man to the full extent of his own production with generous private charity to help those who are unfortunate. That system always produces abundance but the system of robbing Peter to pay Paul has always created poverty. We cannot repeal or change God's laws. We can violate them but we cannot avoid the penalty for so doing. Christian Freedom Foundation, Inc. New York 19, New York

The Word 'Million' Very Impressive

There is something tremendously impressive about "a million". It is a figure to inspire awe, no matter to what it pertains.

No one could disregard a story about someone being stung by a million bees, or a million trombones sounding at once, or a million people jumping into a million bathtubs at one time.

Nor could anyone fail to get a thrill at inheriting a million dollars, a million baskets of quilt scraps, a million sink stoppers, or a million Great Danes.

"A million" has a class that no other amount has, and there's no doubt about it.

That is why I was so thrilled when I read that General Curtis LeMay had urged in a speech that the Air Force be made much, much more powerful, and the Army and Navy practically done away with.

You see, it was the millionth time — that magical number — that an Air Force general had said the very same thing. All that is needed are airplanes and missiles, and the Army and the Navy are so much junk.

General LeMay deserves some sort of prize for making the number of generals who have said the same thing a round million. You know, the way supermarkets, world fairs and railroads honor the millionth customer.

I may send him one myself. What would be suitable? A bag of wild blue yonder suitably engraved? A picture of a four-star Air Force smoking a cigar?

I am far from convinced that the Army and Navy are useless, but even if they are I fail to see why the Air Force is so determined to get rid of them.

The Army and Navy don't get in the way of the Air Force. The Air Force is way to heck and gone up in the sky, and the soldiers and sailors are on the land and on the sea.

HERMETICALLY SEALED PARADISES (The Chicago Daily Tribune)

The Castro dispensation has been around long enough for Cubans to learn that practically any other place would be better. Large numbers who could get out have done so, and they have no intention of returning as long as the beards are around.

In order to check the exodus, Castro has clamped new and tighter travel restrictions on everyone 12 years or older. All travel permits are canceled and only a new pass will authorize departures. This may afford some relief to the United States state department, where Cuban visa applications to enter this country have piled up to such an unprecedented extent that applicants must wait nine months for them, but it is tough on the Cuban people.

It is strange that all of these communist paradises, from the Soviet Union down, find it necessary to erect a high wall around heaven and top it with broken glass to keep the inmates from scrambling. The East Germans are probably the most fortunate of the lot, for the leaky portal to West Berlin allows thousands of them to escape every month. But for the poor Cubans on their island 90 miles is a long swim to liberty.

One-third of Minnesota's farm land is in hay and pastures.

Kennedy Calls On Industry To Produce More

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy has called for greater production rather than a shorter work-week to conquer unemployment and meet the Communist economic challenge to America.

The Democratic presidential candidate made the appeal in a speech prepared for delivery to the United Steelworkers' convention. He also planned to speak before the Chemical Workers' Union here before flying to Charleston, W. Va., tonight for a conference on distressed areas.

Kennedy, who spent Sunday in Washington with his wife and young daughter, told reporters he was encouraged by the public reaction to his first 15 days of campaigning. But he conceded he was in a "very close" race with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He said that while there was "still a great deal of concern" over his Catholic religion, he was gratified that many people were moving on to other issues. He said he was heartened by recent Protestant disavowals of anti-Catholicism.

There are more than 51 million telephones in the United States and Americans make more than 188 million calls a day.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTETH at any drug counter.

1860 Election Ads Like Today's Ballyhoo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you can get security clearance—that is, if you are not harboring any subversive moths—the Library of Congress will admit you to its rare books room.

There you can see what some of the world's great literature looked like before it was translated into paperback editions.

I made a trip to this eerie aerie to inspect a 100-year-old document which the library recently acquired as an addition to its "Lincolnia" collection.

It is a circular put out by Hunt & Miner, a Pittsburgh firm which sold medals, pins and other material for the 1860 presidential campaign.

I was curious to see what political paraphernalia was like in those days and I soon found out. It was like political paraphernalia in these days, only more so.

Presidential button-makers this year are pretty much limited to the Kennedy-Johnson, Nixon-Lodge tandems, except for a few novelty items of the "Stop Castro" ilk.

But in 1860, they could turn their imaginations loose on four teams of nominees — Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin, Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson, John C. Breckinridge and Joseph Lane, and John Bell and Edward Everett.

I noted that even in that bygone era much of the material was designed for women, although women couldn't vote then. For example, and for 50 cents, a lady could decorate her bosom with an "Everett" breast pin, showing "a beautiful and correct likeness" of the candidate.

What more could a lady want, unless it would be a gold-plated medallion showing Lincoln splitting rails?

In addition to selling political jewelry, Hunt & Miner offered the electorate "campaign documents of all kinds for all parties," including volumes entitled "Caucuses of 1860" and "Impending Crisis."

It also had available campaign song books, such as "The Young Men's Republican Vocalist" which retailed for 60 cents, and "Douglas and Johnson Melodies."

Republicans who wanted something more enduring could pick up for six dollars a "full length portrait of Abraham Lincoln elegantly gotten up in the best style of mezzotint, of a suitable size for a parlor picture."

The similarity between 1860 and 1960 was not confined to campaign material. On the Hunt & Miner circular, I spotted this familiar injunction:

"Parties ordering goods c.o.d. must send with order 20 per cent of the amount of bill to satisfy us that the goods will be taken from the express office and paid for."

There was one item on the circular, however, which seemed rather strange. Right in the middle of the Lincoln, Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell pins was advertised a "Prince of Wales breast pin."

Girl Scouts Attend Meet

Approximately 115 Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts from avista, Fritch, Stinnett and Memphis, Berger Phillips, Buenavista, Fritch, Stinnett and Memphis attended a conference, beginning last Friday, at Camp Mel Davis, northeast of Lefors.

The theme of the conference, "Honor the Past-Serve the Future," was used at sessions held throughout the three-day gathering.

Miss Martha Skelly, Girl Scout district director, was in charge of the program. Assisting Miss Skelly with the program were Mrs. Marian Osborne, executive director; Mrs. John Holt, Jr., council president; Miss Marilyn Wells, Mrs. V. C. Moore, Miss Sandra Sullins; Miss Ray Howell, Mr. Ceril Batton and Mrs. Fred Wall.

During the meeting, the girls were shown slides of the 1959 National Roundup, held a birthday party honoring Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting, and attended church services Sunday.

DUTY FIRST
CREDITON, England (UPI) — Sir John Shelley was making a speech to open a new $50,000 fire station here when all 16 firemen had to dash away to fight a blaze. More than a million people visit Mount Vernon, George Washington's estate, every year.
