Bell Employes Hear UF Story

Employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today received the story of the United Fund, its goals and the agencies benefitting from Mrs. Libby Shotwell of the Pampa Chapter, American Red Cross. The remainder of the company staff will receive that information Friday afternoon from Lloyd Watson.

Mrs. Shotwell and Watson are members of the Speaker's Bureau of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund. This is the newest unit of the organization now conducting a campaign to raise $68,746, this year's goal that will assist the seven agencies who aid the needy and conduct programs of benefit to all residents of Pampa and Lefors.

Among other speakers in the organization who have spoken in various business places and plants throughout the area are: The Rev. William West of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church; The Rev. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church; Dale But and Sam Begert.

Another firm's employees who have received the story of what the United Fund does is White's Stores Inc. This group was informed in a session at the store Monday night.

This is just a part of the stepped tempo of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund. The volunteer workers are stressing the fact that this is a "one time" effort by all organizations; there is no such thing as having a solicitor for funds visiting a merchant or plant "every time you turn around," said John

The dinner-dance was arranged by the Aviation Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in a meeting yesterday. It will be held in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn, beginning at 7 p.m. Reservations may be obtained by phoning the chamber office, E. O. Edgeworth, chamber manager.

The Aviation Committee plans to have buses and autos to meet the incoming group at the Perry Field from where they will be taken to their hotels. At 8:30 p.m. Wednesday buses and cars will pick up the fliers and take them back to the airport from where they will leave for Childress 9 a.m.

Boston Plane Crash Kills 61

11 Survive Ill Fated Electra Jet Flight

BOSTON (UPI) — A "top secret" military document was recovered today from the wreckage of an Eastern Air Lines Electra which crashed Tuesday with loss of 61 lives.

State police said they believed the papers were in the possession of Air Force Maj. Sylvester Koenigs of Otis Air Force Base, one of 11 survivors. Police said the papers were found among quantities of luggage which was still being recovered.

Out of 72 persons on the plane, 61 were dead or missing.

Strong criticism of the Federal Aviation Agency came from Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., who has sought to curb Electra flights since a March 17 crash at Tell City, Ind., in which 63 persons died.

"It is well known by those charged with air safety in Washington, including FAA Administrator Elwood Quesada, that structural deficiencies found in the airplane have not been corrected," Hartke said.

By late morning, Eastern said only seven of the 61 victims still were unaccounted for. Three bodies, all of men, were brought up by divers today from the sunken fuselage section of the turbo-prop plane.

Heavy lifting equipment on a Coast Guard buoy tender lifted the tail section during the night.

The wreckage hanging over the ship's side in Winthrop Bay was clearly in view of departing air travelers in today's brilliant sunshine.

The main fuselage section lay deep in the bay and additional heavy lifting equipment was needed to bring it to the surface.

Most of the survivors were in the tail section that comprised the lounge and a few rear seats of the luxury airliner.

It was the fifth crash of a Lockheed Electra in the past 20 months.

Cause of the crash was not known immediately. Eyewitness and survivors' reports conflicted as to whether the plane exploded when it hit the waters of Winthrop Bay, an inlet of Boston Harbor.

As twilight turned to darkness, a nearly full moon flooded the sea of death and destruction. Bodies still strapped by safety belts floated on plane seats. Debris and wreckage bobbed in the water chilled by death.

Among the missing were Pilot C.W. Fitts of Atlanta and co-pilot M.J. Callaway. Two stewardesses, Joan Berry of Prentiss, Miss., and Patricia Davis of Jacksonville, Fla., survived.

The passengers included 15 Marine recruits headed for boot camp at Parris Island, S.C., and a group of Philadelphia area shoe industry men returning home from a convention here.

The crash was the first involving passenger fatalities at Logan Airport since the air terminal opened in 1923.

Tom Keyes, 16, who was doing his homework in his waterside home, said he heard a boom that sounded like a plane breaking the sound barrier.

It was not until he heard fire engines that he ran outside. "People were yelling and screaming. People were floating all over the place. There were some without heads. It was just terrible."

The CAA at one time had imposed speed limitations on Electras because of structural deficiencies. CAA head Elwood R. Quesada said his agency did not plan to ground or curtail Electra flights because of Tuesday night's crash.

"There doesn't seem to be any relation between this crash and any structural problems with the Electra," Quesada said.

Federal aviation authorities probed the debris today in an effort to determine cause of the crash. The plane had been scheduled to stop at Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., and Greenville, S.C., before arriving at Atlanta.

The plane rose 300- or 400 feet off the runway, banked sharply to the left, and dropped like a stone into the water. One of the rescuers quoted a survivor as saying the plane flew into a flock of seagulls on takeoff.

Skin divers and Coast Guard helicopters teamed up with police, firemen and volunteers in removing the dead and the living from the water.

West Texas Scoured For Robbers, Rapists

EL PASO (UPI) — Three "spotlight bandits" robbed four carloads of tourists and raped at least one woman in a lonely part of West Texas before dawn today.

The men were reportedly armed with a shotgun, a .45 caliber service pistol and a .22 caliber rifle. They got about $1,500 from the victims and left them tied up in their cars.

All the robberies took place about 50 miles east of El Paso on U.S. Highway 180-62. After robbing the first carload, the gunmen tied up the victims and ripped the ignition wires out of their car. They then went back to the highway. (See SCoured, Page 3)

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates won the opening game of the 1960 World Series today when they shut off a desperate ninth-inning rally by the New York Yankees to win, 6-4 on some daring baserunning and Bill Mazeroski's two-run homer.

A crowd of 36,676 at Forbes Field watched relief pitcher Elroy Face induce Hector Lopez of the Yankees to hit into a game-ending double play after Elston Howard had hit a pinch two-run homer that narrowed the Pirates' lead to two runs.

Face's relief job saved the victory for starter Vern Law, who was knocked out of the box in the eighth when the first Yankee batter hit singles. Face pitched his way out of that jam but ran into trouble in the ninth when he yielded a leadoff single to Gil McDougald and Howard's pinch homer.

The Pirates, who stole fewer bases than any team in the National League this season, threw the favored Yankees off balance in the first inning when they stole two bases during a three-run outburst that drove out New York starter Art Ditmar.

Then, after the Yankees narrowed Pittsburgh's lead to 3-2 with a run in the top of the captured near U.N. grounds with bomb

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 22-year-old man was captured early today trying to sneak into the sealed-off United Nations grounds with a makeshift bomb in a drunken plan to kill Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"I was only after Khrushchev, nobody else but him," Richard Hogan told newsmen after his capture.

He is insulting the United States—making us look like small people," he said. "I lost a lot of buddies in Korea."

Hogan was carrying a soda bottle filled with inflammable liquid—when he was caught trying to crawl over a fence bordering U.N. territory. No United Nations meetings were in session. It was the first bomb incident known to be directly connected with Khrushchev since the Russian leader arrived here Sept. 19 for the U.N. General Assembly session. There have been a number of false bomb alerts, however, and a crude cardboard box bomb exploded Sunday in Times Square seriously injuring a 73-year-old man.

Hogan, a laborer, was charged with carrying and possessing a deadly weapon with intent to use and carrying and possessing an explosive substance with intent to use against person or property.

Hogan told detectives he had finished work Tuesday at 4 p.m. and spent the rest of the afternoon and evening in a series of bars in Queens and Manhattan.

In one of the bars, he said, he saw a television program about Khrushchev's activities, and said to himself, "Somebody ought to put him away."

Hogan said he decided to see "if I could make it."

"I'd consider myself a lucky guy (to assassinate Khrushchev)," he said. "I would have gotten rid of a big headache."

He denied making the bomb, a 12-ounce bottle filled with an inflammable liquid with an 11-inch piece of blue cloth set in place as a fuse. He said he had found it.

Police believed the liquid was gasoline.

Hogan was spotted approaching the U.N. grounds by patrolman William Fisher, a member of the extra-heavy security detail that has been posted around the glass-walled U.N. headquarters since the start of the General Assembly session.

As he was about to climb the fence, police said Fisher shouted at him and told him to raise his hands. The Molotov cocktail fell to the ground.

A temporary U.N. security officer, Herbert Thompson, also had noticed Hogan and ran to the fence to halt him.

Police said Hogan has a record for drunkenness and that he told them he was placed in Bellevue Hospital for drunkenness in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

MIAMI (UPI) — Passengers is grateful for free rides on Miami buses threatened to spoil their own good fortune today by leaving tips for the drivers.

The fare boxes were taped up Tuesday after striking employees and bus company officials agreed to a plan to keep the buses running until their contract dispute is settled. But William D. Pawley, owner of the transit company, stipulated that drivers not be allowed to accept tips.

Pawley charged the drivers were putting their caps upside down on the dashboards as a sort of open invitation to riders to donate. He proposed the company collect full fares and donate them to the United Fund.

The expectant mother who continues to work while she waits for her baby to arrive has the dual problems of fatigue and appearance with which to cope. Many women tire easily during this time and many others feel that they look far from their best. About the only way to handle both problems is to set up a schedule that allows for definite rest and grooming periods. Then stay with the schedule. If a professional hairdo once a week makes you feel pampered, then have it. Take advantage of a shower (left) when you come home from the office. It will make you feel daisy-fresh. Follow it up with a rest period (center) with your feet propped up. This is a necessity if your feet and legs tend to swell. It's also a morale booster. Clear skin, shining hair, light make-up and attractive maternity clothes all combine (right) to keep a girl looking and feeling her best during the months of waiting.

Good Grooming Proves Essential For Mothers

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

Many expectant mothers prefer to continue working. For some it's an economic necessity, for others a way of keeping their minds off the minor discomforts of pregnancy.

But whatever the reason, holding down a job, being alert and interesting in the evenings, and running a smooth household while you're waiting for your baby can be an awesome task.

Reading At Different Grade Levels Discussed At Wilson PTA Meeting

"Importance of Reading" was the program topic for Woodrow Wilson PTA meeting held Thursday in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Kenneth Walters, Mrs. Jim Goff and Miss Pearl Spough discussed the importance of reading at different grade levels.

Mrs. Walters discussed reading at the junior high level and listed four ingredients as necessary factors in reading well: 1) ability to see clearly printed words; 2) recognition of words; 3) comprehension of what the author is trying to prove; 4) reactions as to what the child has read. She stated that fashions change, but reading is expected of all. "TV and radio are here, but what one gets from reading is so much more. Reading is the tool which unlocks all other subjects." She advised that to learn speed in reading, a child must also learn speed in understanding.

Miss Pearl Spough, first grade teacher, discussed the topic from this level. "A child usually learns to read when he is around 6 1/2 years of age. He learns from noticing symbols, signs, and ear training from TV ads, highway signs and objects around them in the home and school. He learns, also, how to read by phonics or word sounds."

Mrs. Goff, third grade teacher, explained that reading is printed talk, to encourage the child that the book is like someone talking. Syllables and listening skills develop into reading skills and from this interpretation of meanings, the ability to read to others."

Mrs. E. L. Henderson, PTA president, adjourned the program with the thought that "An ounce of good example is worth a pound of nagging."

Dear Abby... Any Takers For Golden Opportunity?

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband. You may think it is funny, but they are being bought every day. I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own, a very comfortable home and a good allowance to do as he pleases and no questions asked. I want a man between 20 and 40 that doesn't drink. I own 4 houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank. I am lonely and there is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work if he doesn't want to and he can sleep as late as he pleases. I am sick of pretending to be hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and a junior in high school. I wore braces on my teeth in my freshman and sophomore years and now the dentist tells me I have to "keep them on for another year."

DEAR ABBY: When a couple plans a double-ring ceremony, does the girl buy the man's wedding band or does he buy one for herself when he buys one for her?

Congolese Seeking Red Infiltrators

LEOPOLDVILLE—The Congo UPI—Congolese authorities today took steps to root out foreign Communists who infiltrated the Congo during the hectic days of Lumumba's regime and block further penetration by Red agents.

Officials ordered a census of the European population of Leopoldville and instructed all hotel residents to leave identity documents with hotel clerks for checking. Strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu expelled the Russian and Czech diplomatic staffs on Sept. 17 after he stepped in to end the power struggle between President Joseph Kasavubu and Lumumba. He also ordered all other Communists to get out.

It was feared, however, that some Communists ignored the order while other Red agents have begun infiltrating the country. Mobutu warned last week that the Communists are coming back. He cited the arrival of a correspondent from a French Communist newspaper to back up a warning.

Former Lumumba supporters in parliament called on Mobutu to authorize the reopening of the legislative body in order to restore democracy and normalcy. The Parliament was "neutralized" by Mobutu along with the political leaders last month. The deputies said that reinstitution of Parliament would make necessary any roundtable conference by the warring political and tribal factions.

The defection of 29 of the 44 senators and deputies from his eastern Province had wiped out a slim majority which put Lumumba into power. It appeared likely Parliament would approve Kasavubu's dismissal of Lumumba as premier and thus nullify the rug under Soviet and other Communist claims that it is still the legal head of government.

The senators and deputies announced their repudiation of Lumumba Monday, denouncing him as Communist and accusing him of trying to set up a dictatorship.

Kremlin Calls For Rally Of Red Leaders

LONDON (UPI)—The Kremlin has invited leaders of 20 Communist parties around the world to meet in Moscow next month. Communist sources reported here today. Ostensibly, the occasion for the international rally is the November anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution. But in effect the Communist meeting is to debate the serious conflict between Moscow and Peking over differences on Communist ideology, the sources conceded.

The world conclave of Reds is expected to pass judgment in the dispute which will either heal the rift or lay open the conflict in the Communist camp. The invitations are said to have gone to Red China, all the Iron Curtain countries, the main European Communist parties including the Italian and French, and to the parties in Asian nations. Preliminary information is that most of the invited leaders have accepted or are about to accept the Soviet invitation. But there is no firm indication as yet whether Red China—party of the second part in the conflict—will be represented, or by whom.

Budget

(Continued From Page 1) estimate and expenditures were up $600 million. Budget Director Maurice H. Stans blamed Congress for $2 billion of the shrinkage in the surplus. He cited its refusal to enact higher postal rates and certain excise tax increases, and passage over a presidential veto of a $746 million annual pay boost for civilian government employees. Congress also boosted appropriations above administration requests for research. In some cases, notably defense procurement and exploration of space the administration went along with the increases.

Forced Meeting Of Ike, Nikita Suggested By Neutral Leaders

By BRUCE W. MUNN United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Neutral leaders today sought to force an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting through pressure of world opinion, but their hopes appeared dimmed in the rush of the United States and the Soviet Union toward more cold war collisions.

A five-power neutralist resolution calling for an "urgent, first step" meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev came up for General Assembly debate and vote as the two big powers marshaled forces for a showdown tonight on the question of a United Nations seat for Red China and Russian charges of United States "aggression."

Whether the neutralist resolution is approved or not, Eisenhower and Khrushchev have rejected a meeting in advance unless each meets conditions the other deems unacceptable. Sentiment was growing, led by Australia and Britain, for a Big Four summit conference next year, instead.

But Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, admitting that "nothing much could happen," pressed ahead with an appeal before the world parliament an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting that might bring a "slight opening of the door" toward a cold war settlement.

Yugoslavia, the United Arab Republic, Ghana and Indonesia, co-sponsors with India of the resolution, joined "with all our might and main" in trying to win assembly approval. A victory would be tantamount to having the world parliament itself recommend a meeting.

The neutralists opposed Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies' refusal to attend the assembly.

The Soviet premier showed his mellow side Tuesday night at a Soviet Embassy reception attended even by Dag Hammarskjold, the secretary general who only on Monday had been denounced by the Russian leader because "we don't trust him."

Tuesday night Khrushchev jostled with the Swedish diplomat and even put his arm on Hammarskjold's shoulder. The Communist bloc attack on Hammarskjold appeared to be abating.

Khrushchev discussed the Berlin crisis — a subject not yet in the forefront at this three-week-old General Assembly — and promised there would never be another Red "blockade." But he warned again Russia would sign a peace treaty with East Germany, precipitating a new Berlin crisis.

The diplomatic jockeying was leading up to a session of the 98-nation assembly tonight when a final vote is expected on an American resolution shelving for another year the question of a seat for Red China.

Eleven nations were scheduled to speak. Russia was fighting hard for Peking, mustering support from neutral nations. But observers predicted the United States would carry the night with 50 votes, three more than the majority needed.

Spats, Yes! Splits, No!

Russia, Red China Not In A 'Deepening Rift'

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor

The West should regard with considerable skepticism the talk of a deepening rift between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Disagreements, yes, but disagreements frequently occur within any family without any final break. So, with the U.S.S.R. and Red China, the disagreements do not necessarily mean an impending split between the world's two greatest Communist powers.

It is noteworthy that most of the "news" regarding the Chinese and Russian differences has come through Communist "leaks."

To this, then has been added so-called evidence drawn from Red China's silence on Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations, and on his notable lack of support for his plan for world disarmament in four years.

There also was Russia's marked lack of enthusiasm for China's border quarrel with India.

Special emphasis has been placed on the ideological quarrel between Khrushchev and Red China party leader Mao Tse-tung. UPI correspondent Henry Shapiro, a close observer of the Moscow scene for 25 years, sees little of substance in the Khrushchev-Mao quarrel.

Both, he points out, are dedicated Communists who might disagree on methods but never on the final objective.

It might well be that there is a personal rivalry between the two for prestige within the party. The U.S.S.R. relatively stable after a little more than 40 years, disagrees with Red China's haste because it believes that time is on its side.

Therefore, it could sympathize with Red China's designs on Indian territory but disagree with the rough-shod methods.

It could agree with Red China's demands on Formosa but heartily disagree with any precipitate action which might unleash a war.

But for the world to believe that deep differences separate the two, simply works to the advantage of both Red China and the U.S.S.R., carrying as it does the possibility that it will lull the West into a false sense of security.

For the moment, Khrushchev needs a friendly China at his back, and China needs Russian industrial know-how. In addition, there are far greater worlds still to be conquered by communism than either could gain by turning on each other.

Employment Gain Indicated

AUSTIN (UPI) — Both employment and unemployment decreased in Texas in August, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

The TEC's monthly labor market report said the decrease in unemployment to 176,700 a drop of 3,000 over the month, was caused mainly by withdrawals of young workers from the job market.

"The dearth of job opportunities discouraged additional youngsters from entering the labor force and led others to retire early from seeking work," the commission reported.

Durable goods layoffs brought a decline in manufacturing employment. Total employment dropped 23,600 to an estimated 3,504,100 during August.

Harvest activities employed 231,300 extra hands on Texas farms and ranches. That total was one-fifth lower than last year because of the lateness of the cotton harvest and the extensive use of mechanical harvesters in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, the TEC reported.

EXERCISING THE FRANCHISE—The percentage of the population 21 and over who actually went to the polls to cast a ballot in the 1956 presidential election is given for each state on the map above. Connecticut was tops with 78.2 per cent. Mississippi was lowest with 22.09 per cent.

Politicians In Michigan Truck Winner Forecast

RAYMOND R. COFFEY, United Press International

TROIT (UPI)—Ordinarily it's double at all getting a political prediction to predict a landslide victory for him and his party in an election.

in Michigan even the canes are a little hesitant to predict the outcome of the Nov. 8 election, and in their hesitancy to lie the truth of the current political situation in the state.

coming election in Michigan appears to observers at this time to be a tossup, with the Democrats perhaps holding an edge in the races for state offices.

U.S. Senator and the Republican holding an advantage in the presidential contest.

Troit Free Press political editor Ray Courage, who recently predicted a doorbell-ringing turnout in a dozen communities, summed up the situation this way:

the presidential race in Michigan is a tossup." Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon or John F. Kennedy so far has made significant gains. And one or the other of the four voters interviewed decided.

at the state level, Courage predicted the races for governor and senator showed into the back of the presidential contest that "if either candidate for governor is making headway, Swainson (the Democrat) will benefit from a pleasing personality, a meant-to-be mothered look and his war injuries."

Two big factors in the election in Michigan are:

1. Six-term Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams is stepping aside.
2. Historically Michigan has gone Republican in presidential elections, with the GOP carrying the state for Thomas E. Dewey in 1952 and President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956 even when Democrat Williams was winning big at the state level.

Nixon and Kennedy would appear to agree with the tossup assessment. Both have campaigned in Michigan and have promised to come back in the pursuit of Michigan's 20 electoral votes.

The question of Kennedy's religion has popped up in a small way in some outstate areas that are generally Protestant and generally Republican anyhow. But it would not appear to be a major issue here since, for example, both of Michigan's present U.S. senators are Roman Catholics and the late Frank Murphy, also a Catholic, had no trouble getting elected governor.

One thing that could harass Kennedy in heavily Democratic Wayne County (Detroit), where civil rights is a major issue with the large Negro population and with organized labor, is the fact that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is his running mate for vice president.

The first reaction of Gov. Williams and other Michigan delegates to the national Democratic convention to Johnson's selection was anger and disappointment. Some delegates even muttered about being "betrayed" and "double-crossed."

Just before leaving for the convention Williams had said Johnson could "add nothing" to the ticket in Michigan.

But now that they have him, Williams and other Democrats say they like him. However, up to now they have not called upon him to campaign in Detroit or Wayne County.

Democrats freely and a most universal grant that not having Williams at the top of the state ticket this year will hurt them. Or, as a top-ranking Democratic organization official put it, "with out him the outcome won't be as certain as it would be with him."

The candidates for governor this year are present Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, a handsome, baby-faced young man of 35 who lost both his legs to a land mine in World War II, and Republican Paul D. Bagwell, 47, a Michigan State University professor who lost to Williams in 1958 and who, like his opponent, has a physical handicap. Bagwell's legs were crippled in a boyhood bout with polio and he gets around with the help of canes.

Dallas Urges Expansion Of Air Service

DALLAS (UPI)—A group of Dallas businessmen urged the Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday to expand and improve air service to 60 cities in the Southwest area.

Andrew DeShong, secretary of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce's aviation committee, headed the group of 18 businessmen and four technical experts testifying before the CAB.

He said they wanted at the present to give only the "broad picture" of Dallas area needs.

"We don't have to ask for specific services until we submit our brief to the examiner next year," DeShong said. "We want to show how large the economy of Dallas is and what are the needs of the area."

The extended CAB hearings, which will run through Friday in Dallas then move to Amarillo, is being conducted to determine many air routings in the vast Southwest region.

The CAB has suggested that local service airlines assume routes now served chiefly by Continental Airlines in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Red Explains The 'Optimist'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hungarian Communist party leader Janos Kadar told this story Tuesday night at the Soviet reception:

"What is the difference between an optimist and a pessimist? An optimist studies Russian and a pessimist studies Chinese."

Most of the people around him chuckled. But Nikita S. Khrushchev apparently did not think it was funny, and he did not laugh.

PAINT THE ENDS

If lumber must be stored for any length of time in a damp place, paint or varnish the ends of each piece to prevent the absorption of moisture which can cause the wood to swell or warp. Moreover, if the wood becomes damp and is painted before it has dried out, the pressure of the escaping moisture may cause the paint to blister.

By LYLE C. WILSON, United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If there is to be a "new Nixon" in this presidential campaign, the unveiling may be expected in about a fortnight.

Tuesday, Oct. 18 would be an appropriate date. That would be precisely three weeks before election day. Oct. 18 would be appropriate because Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes that the three weeks immediately preceding an election are the weeks that count the most.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was another politician who believed elections best could be won with a late start and a fast and furious finish. That is Nixon's campaign theory, emphatically so. Therefore, it would be logical for the drama critics of the current political play to await the last act and the final curtain.

Much of the special political correspondence that gushes out of this city by telegraph and airwave is variously unsympathetic with the Republican party and with Republican candidates.

That has been true for a great many years, firmly so since Franklin D. Roosevelt began exposing the news men and women of Washington to his extraordinary charm. The old timers had been accustomed to Calvin Coolidge's news conference rigidity and then to Herbert Hoover's chill discomfort when faced by the press.

The press corps and the columnists were rooting for FDR almost 100 per cent in the 1932 campaign. They liked his banter and informality and a lot of them, too, liked that short paragraph at the end of the 1932 Democratic platform which promised prohibition's repeal. So, when FDR took office on March 4, 1933, the political writers and commentators were prepared to like him, and they did.

For a great many diverse reasons the pundits also grew to like FDR's political party, its breathless, free-swinging performance and the over-all handling of a great domestic crisis in the affairs of the United States.

No-Roach Really Works

A housewife really has to be a detective these days to investigate just why she can't seem to get rid of troublesome cockroaches.

Although the chlorinated hydrocarbons — DDT, chlordane, and lindane — still are effective against the American roach (this is the large roach which breeds in the open and in some localities is called the fathead bug), these chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides are no longer effective against the resistant German roaches. The German roach is the small gray roach, generally no longer than a finger nail, which frequents kitchens and indoor locations. This is the little roach which is giving such trouble now all over the country.

The only insecticides which are effective against this resistant roach are those of the organic phosphate family which have been derived from the nerve gases developed by the Germans during the Second World War. The most effective and least toxic of these organic phosphate insecticides is malathion and it is this chemical which is the active ingredient in NO-ROACH. NO-ROACH is the most effective insecticide against these now nearly ubiquitous roaches. When a housewife uses NO-ROACH, she does not have to move dishes or breathe harmful sprays, and in using malathion, formulated to make a long lasting coating effective for months, she is much more likely to be completely satisfied with her purchase than if she buys any insecticide containing the ineffective chlorinated hydrocarbons. 8 oz. bottle only 89 cents — Pint $1.69.

Nixon 'Uncorks' On Kennedy's Farm Plan

By United Press International

The hopeful wait of Republicans and the wary wait of Democrats is over — Richard M. Nixon has taken off the gloves.

The GOP White House contender abandoned his relatively mild jabs Tuesday night and let go with some bare-knuckle upper cuts at the farm program of his Democratic opponent, John F. Kennedy.

Nixon left no doubt that he would keep up until election day the slugging which some concerned Republican campaign strategists have been hoping for.

The vice president had a chance to continue his hard-hitting tactics today during a series of crucial appearances in New York City. The Empire State's 45 electoral votes could tip the election.

Kennedy continued today what he conceded was a "long, tough, uphill fight" for Indiana's 13 electoral votes.

After a speech in Indianapolis Tuesday night, the Massachusetts senator said he was "under no illusions" about his chance in the one-time center of the Ku Klux Klan where his Roman Catholic religion could cost him votes.

Nixon capped a day of campaigning in New Jersey Tuesday with the slashing attack on Kennedy's farm program before a widely enthusiastic crowd in West Orange.

The GOP nominee charged that the plan would boost food prices by 25 per cent and hike the cost of living at least 6 per cent. He said it would curtail beef and pork supplies to less than the World War II—wartime levels.

Nixon said it would abolish the equivalent of a million farm jobs and throw out of work another million persons who serve farmers and handle their products.

The vice president also hit hard at another issue important in heavily populated New Jersey — civil rights.

With former Negro baseball star Jackie Robinson standing beside him, Nixon told a predominantly colored audience at a housing development in Newark: "I talk the same throughout America. On the other hand, our opponents talk out of both corners of their mouths because they don't agree on this issue."

'Shadow Of Capitol' Slum Area Fades As 'Town Houses' Emerge

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This being fine autumn weather, and both of us being in need of a little exercise, I invite you to join me for a walk in the sun.

Our stroll will take us into a residential neighborhood conveniently located near the U.S. Capitol. For years, it has served as a model slum.

The location was not necessarily convenient for the slum-dwellers but it was convenient for advocates of slum clearance legislation. At congressional hearings, they could illustrate their testimony merely by pointing out the window.

A witness who had remembered to renew his poetic license could refer to the slum as being "in the shadow of the Capitol." Actually, the shadow of the Capitol doesn't extend beyond the Capitol grounds.

But all of this is changing now, as we shall discover during our walk. The slum area east of the Capitol is rapidly filling up with well-heeled ex-suburbanites, for whom the joy of commuting has paled.

By investing small fortunes, in the renovation of rundown dwellings, they become the proud owners of "town houses," complete with drafty hallways, bosky basements, and staircases that would intimidate a mountain goat.

Meanwhile, the slum area southwest of the Capitol is the scene of the nation's largest urban renewal project, which is costing large fortunes, including a sizable chunk provided by us taxpayers. It is to this area that we direct our footsteps.

Leaving the $100 million new House Office Building sinking slowly into the national debt, we first make our way along a row of empty brick houses which are soon to be torn down.

Juvenile street gangs already have started the demolition work by shattering all the window panes. In a further effort to be helpful, they have shattered the street lights as well.

Even in the daylight, the ghost street is creepy and we are relieved to emerge upon an open plain which looks a little like those pictures taken in bombed-out sections of Berlin after the last war.

Some 5,000 buildings in a 556-acre tract have been razed, and block after block either is heaped with rubble or stripped of all signs of habitation. In the midst of this desolation we find a new apartment building advertised as "the ultimate in gracious contemporary living."

Its tenants, who are the pioneers of redevelopment, already have been waiting 18 months for the city to grow back around them. We leave them to their lonesome vigil and tramp on to the waterfront.

Once the most picturesque part of Washington, which brought in lobster and clams and other ocean fruit, the wharf is now a depressing tangle of incomplete bridges and freeways. We end our journey there because we haven't the heart to continue.

Some day, we are told, this will be the showplace of the capital, but the way it looks now, a reminder the slums would be an improvement.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—In spite of the severe decline in the stock market, the performance of the domestic oil shares has been encouraging, Purcell & Co. notes.

The oils have moved steadily downward against the general trend of the market for the past two years, Purcell says, but much of the decline was due to the fact that these companies were highly valued for their formerly strong growth characteristics.

"While these stocks have been devalued as growth issues by the market, their earnings have been up to a greater degree, and many now appear to be oversold," the firm points out. "On the whole their near term outlook is favorable especially when compared to the entire economy."

Lucien O. Hooper of W. E. Huton & Co. says some of the privately circulated Washington news services are discovering that the economy is in a mild recession now instead of facing a "possible mild recession" in 1961. "They are trying to guess the end of it, and come up frequently with the second or third quarter of next year."

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis recommends Hammerrill Paper, a major producer of business and printing papers, for long-term capital appreciation. The advisory service reports Hammerrill is beginning to benefit from the substantial capital expenditures made in the past few years. "Additional facilities to be completed by the end of 1961 will widen materially Hammerrill's profit potential."

TOKYO (UPI)—Burmese Premier U Nu left Peiping for Rangoon Tuesday after signing the border agreement between his country and Communist China, the New China news agency reported.

Belgium Royalty Doesn't Follow Congo Problem

DALLAS (UPI)—Belgium's young royal couple—Prince Albert and Princess Paola—said today they have been so busy "learning and selling" during their tour of the United States they haven't been able to keep up with the Congo situation. The wavy-haired 26-year-old prince and his attractive Italian born 23-year-old wife arrived in Dallas Tuesday night at the head of a 28-member economic mission. "This is all new to me," the prince said. "I hope to learn something of the business world and do what I can to help my country."

The mission is on a tour of seven U.S. cities. The party flew to Dallas from San Francisco, and leaves Thursday for Washington and a meeting with President Eisenhower. "We've been at such a fast pace the last few days, I've had to inquire as to the activities in the Congo," Prince Albert confided with a smile. He said he felt the Congolese people could work out their government problems alone. A Belgium government spokesman said the mission is to relate experiences of specific Belgian industries of individual companies in preparing for the European mass consumer market. He added the tour will help point out problems and possibilities for American manufacturers interested in expansion—whether through wholly-owned subsidiaries or joint ventures.

It's The Law In Texas

State Laws Protect Trademark Owners

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Our government has tried to encourage enterprise by rewarding good work. It does this by protecting a good name through our trademark laws.

From the time the clock starts your radio until night when you switch off the electric light, you surround yourself with things which you buy by their advertised brand names.

A trademark may be a word, emblem, or other device. Brick makers of old Egypt the lamp makers of Athens, and English helmet makers used them.

In a market, a trademark sets off one maker or seller's goods from those of others.

You may be first to "think up" the idea of using a given trademark to identify certain goods.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

To watch Nikita Khrushchev in action is to watch a man who enjoys his work.

As he sets about either to destroy the United Nations or to revamp it in his own image, his is the figure of a small boy turned loose with a large red crayon on a freshly whitewashed fence. His look frequently is an impish one which dares the world to stop him.

So, as he raises the price for world disarmament, beats upon his United Nations desk, or insults a world leader, he looks about him for the effect he is creating.

Last weekend, after a name-calling tirade, unprecedented in United Nations history, and as he stalked from the United Nations headquarters for a pleasant week on Long Island, he spotted United Press International correspondent Henry Shapiro whom he long has known in Moscow.

He said to Shapiro: "You asked me if I would speak about China. Are you satisfied?"

It was the session in which he raised the threat of Communist withdrawal from the United Nations if Red China continued to be refused a seat.

All this should be buffoonery. But Khrushchev, who does not hesitate to illustrate a point with crudities, is no buffoon.

This is a man who fights a deadly game with gutter tactics. This is a man intent upon demonstrating his status as world leader. He is intent upon furthering the image of Russia as the true friend of dependent and underdeveloped people. Equally, he is intent upon holding up the United States as the reactionary power which seeks to extend colonialism and hold new nations in bondage.

Those who have observed Khrushchev at close range over a long period see nothing unusual in his extraordinary performance at the United Nations.

Shapiro puts it this way:

"The outbursts and balcony appearances are largely a function of the Khrushchev personality. That is how he behaves everywhere and all the time. His heckling of Macmillan was almost an automatic reaction. He cannot sit still and his noises may indicate either approval or disapproval. He is shrewd enough to realize that most of the time he makes good mileage and grabs the world headlines."

For Khrushchev, as with the rest of the world, great issues are at stake.

His ideological quarrel with Red China may not go as deep as "leaks" from Communist spokesmen have indicated. Yet certainly a succession of defeats for him as personal leader of the Soviet U. N. delegation scarcely could add to his prestige in the Communist world.

Failure to favorably impress the new African nations certainly would represent at least a temporary setback to Communist expansionist aims. In that field at least, so far he has not seemed impressive.

It's All Pontiac!
on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR!
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

Bucs Try For First Series Win

Two Hope To Better Babe Ruth

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Babe Ruth couldn't do it, but Mickey Mantle and Dick Stuart both think they can.

Ruth failed to hit a single home run at Forbes Field during the 1927 World Series between the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates. Only two homers were hit in that entire series, both by Ruth, but in Yankee Stadium.

Mantle doesn't think it should be so difficult to reach the fences here, however.

"It's a lot like Yankee Stadium," he said, taking a good look around the ball park. "That left field fence isn't too far away and that right field wall is the same as the stadium's except it's a little higher."

Only Mantle, with his tremendous power, can see it that way. "I played here twice before," said the switch-hitting Yankee center-fielder, "and I hit one over the right field roof the first time."

The homer Mantle referred to was a blow that traveled more than 500 feet. He hit it during an exhibition game against the Pirates in 1957 and is one of six men, including Ruth, ever to have cleared the right field roof at Forbes Field.

Stuart, Pittsburgh's right-handed strong boy, said he wasn't interested in getting into "any tape measure contest" with Mantle although he feels the fences aren't too far away to faze him either.

"I got my share of homers this year" (23) and I can tell you that no one ever gets any cheap ones here," Stuart said.

Boudreau Quits As Cub Manager

CHICAGO (UPI) — Luckless Lou Boudreau, who took over the managerial reins of the Chicago Cubs last May 4 from Charley Grimm, resigned yesterday after being refused a new three-year contract.

Boudreau will return to his old job of radio commentator for the Cubs, replacing Grimm who has been elevated to a Cub vice president.

Cub Owner P. K. Wrigley announced the departure of Boudreau after a conference in which Boudreau reportedly stated he would continue as the Cubs' manager only if given a long-term contract.

But, before the SPCA starts a campaign to run the two Pampa Shockers out of town, let it be said that the Bullpups—football variety—are Plainview's 'B' team, a team the Pampa Shockers meet at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Plainview.

Spartans To Face Iowa '11'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Iowa, upset winner over Northwestern last Saturday, was a one-point choice today to beat dangerous Michigan State Saturday in one of the top games on this week's college football program.

Illinois, ranked fourth in the nation this week by the UPI Board of Coaches, one rung behind Iowa, was made a four-point choice to beat Ohio State in another leading Big Ten Conference showdown. Ohio State is ranked fifth.

Top-ranked Syracuse, meanwhile, is such an overwhelming choice to beat Holy Cross that oddsmakers are not quoting a point-spread. Second-ranked Mississippi is picked to defeat Vanderbilt by at least 20 points and Navy, which climbed to sixth in the ratings this week following its upset victory over Washington, is a 13-point choice over Southern Methodist.

Seventh-ranked Purdue, which humiliated Notre Dame, 51-19, is a five-point favorite over Wisconsin in their Big Ten meeting, the Air Force Academy is a ½ point pick over eighth-ranked Missouri, and 18th ranked Arkansas is a five-point favorite over Baylor.

NCAA Bans UT-Sooners Television

DALLAS (UPI) — The NCAA turned down Tuesday an offer to telecast the Texas-Oklahoma football game this weekend in the Cotton Bowl as a public service without commercials.

The NCAA said it didn't make any difference about the commercials. Oklahoma has been banned for an indefinite period from taking part in televised games and barred from participating in post-season games.

The school was placed on probation because of an alleged fund for recruiting athletes. An Oklahoma City accountant is reported to have records of the fund, but refuses to turn them over to the NCAA.

Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA in Kansas City, indicated the school would remain on probation until the NCAA gets the records.

Brothers Top Boxers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two brothers were listed among the top 10 men in one boxing division today by The Ring magazine ratings for the first time.

The brothers are Gene and Don Fullmer, both middleweights, of West Jordan, Utah. Gene, recognized by the National Boxing Association as world champion, is 29. Don, who broke into the ring's top 10 for the first time today, is 21. He is now ranked ninth among the world's 160-pound contenders.

Ace Law Called Upon To Stop Potent Yanks

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, striving to wipe out the bitter memory of 1927, called on ace righthander Vern Law to try and give them the jump over the New York Yankees today in the opening game of the 1960 World Series.

Casey Stengel, hoping to duplicate what those Yankees did 33 years ago when they swept the Pirates in four straight, countered with Art Ditmar.

"I have faith in the guy," explained the Yankee manager, shooting for his eighth World Series victory in 10 tries. "After all, he has won the first game of important series for us all season."

The Yankees were favored at 11 to 10 in the opener and 7 to 5 for the Series.

Like Law, Ditmar is a right hander. But his record is not as impressive as the Pirate hurler, a Mormon who does not drink, smoke or swear.

Ditmar, according to Yankee pitching coach Ed Lopat, "has about the same stuff, but he doesn't have as good control as Law."

Ditmar won 15 games and lost nine for the Yankees as Stengel won his 10th American League pennant in his 12 years at the Yankee helm.

Law pulled a tendon in his right ankle during the Pirates' pennant

Hawks Down Cincinnati

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Larry Foust grabbed a rebound and rammed it in with one second left Tuesday night to give the St. Louis Hawks a 110-108 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in an NBA exhibition basketball game.

Cincinnati, which trailed most of the way, rallied in the closing minutes and almost pulled the game out of the fire. Arlen Bockhorn deadlocked the score 108-108 in the last 30 seconds with a 20-foot jump shot.

Giff Hagan, the former Kentucky star, jammed in 25 points for the Hawks, and Phil Jordan was high with 20 for the Royals.

GETS THE JUMP — With Coach George Wilson just a blur in the background, Glenn Davis whizzes after a pass in a workout with the Detroit Lions football team. The Olympic gold medalist hurdler doesn't have to prove his speed; however, he must show he's able to handle huge professional linemen.

base instead of the right handed, Stengel decided to go with hitting Dick Stuart. But Stuart, al-Cletis Boyer at third base. Boyer though not as good a fielder as tailed off in his hitting toward the Nelson, hits the longer ball, and end of the season and Casey had Murtaugh said "I just might go him on the bench, revamping his infield with Gil McDougald."

Defense Is Key In Big Contest

By BRYCE MILLER United Press International

So far, the Arkansas-Baylor spotlight scrap in the Southwest Conference has been called every way but one—a scoreless tie. And if you think that possibility is out in left field, take a look at the facts.

Professional oddsmakers have given Arkansas a four-point edge over the Bruins. But many of the dozens of "armchair experts" who week-by-week make predictions on top collegiate games, figure Baylor will be the unbeaten team to tackle Texas for the title.

To date, Baylor has the best ground defense in the conference. It held Colorado and LSU to only 84 and 80 net rushing yards. In the air, the Bears held Colorado to 57 yards and plucked off three interceptions. The figures aren't so impressive against LSU, which completed 11 passes for 138 yards, but most of that was in the last quarter when Baylor had gone ahead 7-3, throttled down its own attack and loosened its defenses to try and ride out the victory margin.

Arkansas ranks behind Baylor and Rice in ground defense. But it's there when needed, as TCU can testify. The Porkers clamped down in the second half against the Frogs and gave up only 28 yards net rushing.

In the air, Arkansas allowed TCU only 54 yards in five out of 13 tosses, and picked off two.

In three games, Arkansas has allowed only one touchdown—Baylor none in two.

Southern Methodist concentrated Tuesday on its defenses against Navy star Joe Bellino and his bag of tricks. Coach Bill Meek also spent time on defensive fundamentals and downfield blocking.

A leg injury kept right end Pat Neill on the sidelines, but he is expected to be ready for the game, Saturday.

The Ponies were idle last weekend and Meek planned a light workout today to brush-up on offensive patterns. SMU flies to Norfolk, Va., on Thursday.

At College Station, Ronnie Brice, second string quarterback, put on an impressive passing show in Texas A&M workouts. Two halfbacks, starter Jim Murphy, and second stringer Babe

Upset By Navy Earns Coach Top UPI Honor

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Any Navy coach with a perfect record against Army (1-0) is already a success, but Wayne Hardin seems to be just starting to build a career.

No coach in the country ever stepped into a tougher spot than the red-haired, then 32-year-old Hardin occupied when he replaced Eddie Erdelatz last season after Erdelatz had rejuvenated Navy gridiron glory with his "teams named desire" for nine years.

But Hardin is carrying on Erdelatz' success story and his latest triumph, a 25-14 upset of Rose Bowl champion Washington, the nation's third-ranked team, last Saturday today earned him honors from United Press International as "college football's coach of the week."

Craig, the team's top punter, were in the hospital with flu and Murphy was considered a doubtful starter against Houston.

Texas, preparing for its Cotton Bowl bout with Oklahoma, ran through light drills and was briefed on more scouting reports of the Sooners. Center Bill Laughlin missed the practice with strep throat.

Coach DeWitt Weaver worked Texas Tech on patterns to protect the passer against TCU's rugged line. He moved sophomore guard Charles Edgemon, who was injured in an automobile accident Aug. 31, up to the first team. He said Edgemon has "developed fast" since the accident.

At Fort Worth, Coach Abe Martin said his quarterbacks—Donald George and Sonny Gibbs are improving their passing and the receivers are "finally learning how to catch." Elmer Brown, TCU trainer, said all hands would be ready for Saturday's battle with Tech.

Plainsmen Strong, Pass-Minded

Pampa Scout Says Monterey 'Tough'

Tough! If Assistant Coach Deck Woldt had to sum up Lubbock Monterey — Pampa's Friday night foe — in one word, tough would come about as close as any.

Woldt told about 50 assembled members of the Harvester Quarterback Club Tuesday night in the high school cafeteria that while the Lubbock school's team isn't as big as some of foes the Harvesters have faced this year, they have a rugged defense and have the potential to score the big play.

With a starting offensive unit that averages 175 pounds, Monterey has defeated Fort Worth Poly 14-0 and lost to Odessa Permian, 7-6, and Midland 14-13.

"Monterey keeps the game close," Woldt told the Quarterbackers. "Their defense is good and they've beaten everyone statistically in offense. While they're offense minded, they're not as good as last year." (In 1959, Monterey tied Amarillo for the 3-4A title.)

"But, if I had to make a comparison with Tascosa, I'd say that they (Tascosa) are a stronger team defensively. (Tascosa blanked Pampa, 20-0, last week.)

Woldt singled out several Monterey players as the best the Harvesters have seen this year. Among those was Ellis, the Plainsman quarterback.

"Ellis is the best passer we've seen to date," Woldt said. "He can thread a needle with the ball but he doesn't like to run too much."

"Against Permian, he threw 25 passes and completed 11 and ran 65 plays in all. He threw 20 passes against Midland — and completed 7 — in running 85 plays which is a lot of plays to run in one game," Woldt continued.

Monterey runs off the straight-

ANGLING HABIT — Sister Adelgunda went on the first fishing trip in her 70 years and came up with this handsome catch taken from Bear Creek Lake, near Marianna, Ark. Sister Adelgunda caught eight. The others were landed by 11 other nuns blessed by beginner's luck.

Mac truck to go through. However, Rascosa worked its trap play to perfection and this play led, one way or another, to all three Rebel scores. Also, the game might have been different had Pampa made three crucial first downs it missed by inches.

Whether it was evident at the game or not, Tascosa's Esposito looked like triplets as time and again he broke through to smear Harvester ball carriers for big losses.

Late in the game, a Pampa team composed mostly of sophomores and juniors sparked by Randy Haralson and Gerold Been would the ball real well against Tascosa.

In other business at the meeting, a sign for the Pampa Quarterback Club was paid for by passing the hat and a motion to have the Club play a football game between themselves during Pampa's open dates died for lack of a second.

Treasurer O. B. Worley was one of the two volunteers for the game — but only if he could play lone-some end.

Quarterback Elmer Wilson, a member of the Pampa school board, made a motion that the Quarterback Club become the Harvester Booster Club and, thus, support all athletics.

The motion was tabled until next Tuesday's meeting. A. E. M.

Brown Ends Torres' Dream Of Title Shot

HOUSTON (UPI)—Ring-wise Joe Brown, the world lightweight champion, knocked out Mexico's sensational titanic teen-ager Raymond (Battling) Torres in the fourth round Tuesday night and spoiled Torres' hopes for a title scrap in the near future.

Even before the end came on a wicked right hook at 2:24 in the fourth, there was little doubt that Brown was in complete control of his 108th professional fight.

Brown, 34, weighed in at 137 and the 19-year-old Mexican tipped the scales at 138.

For awhile, it looked like a game of cat and mouse. Torres came out in the first round with a flurry of lefts, but Brown had no trouble in keeping out of danger.

Then Brown began to toy with Torres in the second round. He dropped his guard several times in an obvious move to try to get Torres in close. And after a relatively mild third round, Brown appeared determined to get the fight over with.

A crowd of 6,500, many of them Torres fans from as far as 1,000 miles away, watched Torres land a glancing blow to Brown's chin. But it didn't appear to bother the champion, and he attacked.

Brown rammed home a right, left, right combination that dropped Torres to the canvas and the referee counted him out.

Next month, Brown plans to defend his title for the ninth time against Cisco Andrade in Los Angeles. He has been guaranteed $40,000 or 40 per cent of the gate.

In a pair of semifinal bouts Tuesday night, Mexico's heavy-weight champion, Alfredo Zuanzi, scored a technical knockout over Dave Rent of England, and Art Hayward of Houston won a split decision over Hector Ramirez of Monterrey, Mexico.

Lee, Reapers Attempt To Break Loss String

Rebs Host Dumas 'II' Tomorrow

Robert E. Lee's ninth grade Rebels, hoping to rebound the victory train, will be out to do just that when it hosts Dumas' ninth graders at 4 p.m. tomorrow at Harvester Park.

The Rebel's one-game winning streak was shattered last week in Borger when Borger Austin scored two quick touchdowns with less than two minutes to play to defeat Lee, 34-30.

Lee's record now stands at 1-2. The Rebels lost their opener to McLean 26-0 and then snapped back for a 14-6 victory over Perryton.

Lee's hope will be pinned on Larry Gregory, Rickey Stewart and Donnie Rexroad to do the Rebel's scoring.

In the Borger game, Gregory racked up two touchdowns — one on a 60-yard run — and a conversion to pace Lee. Stuart and Rexroad supplied a touchdown apiece to finish out the scoring against Borger.

Coach Lester Ramsey also polished up his defense in anticipation of another wide-open game tomorrow. Led by defensive stalwarts Ronnie Oler and Kenneth Reimer, the Rebel's defensive alignment should be stronger this week. Two late lapses cost Lee the ball game last week and Ramsey worked this week to iron out those mistakes.

Gene Mayfield, likeable young me, Mayfield said. "You can look at our films and see that we haven't intentionally run up the scores on any team we've played. But perhaps, Mayfield will be luckier the rest of the season. Maybe his name won't come up on the dartboard at the Amarillo writer throws at each week to see who's he's going to columnize against."

Will be at center; Myron Aftergut, pulling guard; Phil Woodring, left end; Frank Osborne, right guard; Gerald Rascoe, tackle; Reimer, strong end, and Mike Bridges, wide end.

Art's Gallery

Coach Babe Curfman and his winless Pampa Harvesters will have their work cut out for them Friday when they travel to Lubbock for a game with Lubbock Monterey.

Monterey was ranked as high as sixth in some 4A football polls before being upset by Midland, 14-13, last weekend when a Monterey conversion try went astray. And Coach Bill DuBose's men, co-champions with Amarillo last year, will be out to make their 1960 3-4A debut a winning one.

Curfman, in order to upset the Plainsmen, must come up with some form of consistent offensive attack. The Harvester backfield of Fullback Steve Dobbin, Quarterback Roy Don Stephens, Halfback Sherrill Miller and alternating Wingbacks Billy Cooper and Lucky Dunham have shown occasional streaks of brilliance. However, fumbles and pass interceptions at key times have hurt the Pampans.

Pampa Needs Two Good Halves

In its opener, Pampa and Big Spring were tied 6-6 at halftime but fell, 14-6; against Yaleta, the score was 19-12; Arlington Heights only held a 7-0 lead at the midway point and romped to a 23-6 score by the end of the game; and last week, Pampa and Tascosa were 0-0 through almost three quarters before the Rebels exploded for three touchdowns within four minutes to win 20-0.

This may be just "one of those years" for Curfman and his crew: even the schedule is working against him. Pampa has six more conference games — and four of them are away. They have to meet conference favorite Borger on the Bulldogs home field.

Borger Coach In Tight Spot

RESIDUAL MATTER

Bauxite, the aluminum ore, is said to be the residual matter left behind after centuries of weathering of aluminum bearing rock and contains large quantities of aluminum oxide.

Winless Pampans Hit Road

Pampa Junior High's Reapers, narrowing the score each time, travel to Borger tomorrow to face one of the neighboring city's toughest teams — Borger Austin — at 4 p.m.

Pampa and Borger represent both ends of the extreme. The Reapers have lost both their games — 42-8 to McLean and 22-8 to Perryton — while Borger has won both their outings, stopping Phillips and then Lee of Pampa, 34-30.

The Reapers have been working this week to bolster their offensive might which has only netted them 16 points in two games. Last week against Perryton, Pampa gained only 66 yards — all on the ground — as against 279 for Perryton. Still, it wasn't until the second half that the junior Rangers broke the game open after an 8-3 halftime deadlock.

"Sparkplug of the Reaper attack is the do-everyting quarterback, Kenny Hebert. The Pampa field general saw at least three drives killed last week with untimely fumbles; however, Hebert did provide the Reaper thrill of the day when he ran back a Perryton punt for 80 yards and the only home score.

FBI Names 'Most Wanted'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Donald Leroy Payne, a rapist and child molester, was placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals today.

The 42-year-old fugitive has a history of vicious sex attacks on women and children dating back 23 years. He is currently sought for the rape of an 18-year-old girl and perversion committed against a 12-year-old boy in Houston, Tex., in July 1959.

Payne, whose nose is misshapen from an accident, has been described by a judge as a dangerous criminal "who would not hesitate to kill." The FBI cautioned that he should be considered "armed and dangerous."

In the Houston rape attack, Payne gained entry to his victim's residence by posing as the manager of a dance troupe offering her a job. He assaulted her after threatening to strangle her if she resisted or cried for help. Payne served his first penitentiary sentences in New Mexico for the rape of a 15-year-old girl and sex perversion against a woman victim.

Payne, who is white, was born at Haskell, Okla., July 19, 1917. He stands 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighs about 140 pounds. He has a slender build, ruddy complexion and brown, receding hair.

He has a large scar on his right index finger, another on his forehead, a birthmark on his right elbow and a tattoo of two hearts, a wreath and the word "Christine" on his right forearm.

Texas Heart Association Support Given

The continuing battle against diseases of the heart and blood vessels received added support today with an announcement by T. D. Harvey M. D., president of the Gray County Heart Association, that more than $63,000 has been awarded by the Texas Heart Association to 10 heart research projects to be conducted in Texas during the next 12 months.

Funds contributed previously by the Gray County Heart Assn. have been added to those raised by other associations throughout the state to make possible these grants by the Texas association. At a recent meeting, the Gray County unit contributed an additional $100 to this program. The research work is to be conducted at six Texas medical institutions.

"These research awards bring to nearly $107,000 the total that the association has provided for this purpose in Texas since July, 1958," Dr. Harvey said. "In addition, eight awards totaling over $45,000 have been made to research investigators in Texas this year under the national research support program of the American Heart Association. This brings to $108,000 the total which will be spent in Texas to underwrite an intensive scientific attack on diseases of the heart and circulatory system."

"The Gray County Heart Association is glad to be a part of the vital research program of the state association," Dr. Harvey continued. "In this way, we are discharging one of our major obligations to a generous public which has contributed to the Heart Association through the United Fund."

Much of the research to be undertaken under the state and national grants is of fundamental, long-range character, seeking to clarify many little-understood biological mechanisms which have a bearing on the way the heart and blood vessels function in health and disease. Some projects are concerned with the chemical, metabolic and electrical processes involved in heart muscle contraction—the pumping action through which the body is supplied with blood. Other projects will explore such subjects as the nature of blood clotting, the role of various glands in maintaining or raising blood pressure, and the way the kidneys function (damage to the kidneys is often associated with cardiovascular disease). All the projects are vital links in the chain of research, Dr. Harvey noted.

Henry Hull Has 'Bug' Problems, But Doesn't Ask Psychiatric Aid

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Henry Hull stomped off the set of his new movie this week shaking his head over method actors—and everything else.

The 70-year-old veteran of 50 years in show business can't understand the "psychoneurotic" "problems" bugging the sweat-soaked set of performers.

"I have some problems myself," he growled.

"They are Japanese beetles and cutworms on my Connecticut farms. I don't know what to do with them. But I'm not going to a psychiatrist. Maybe I ought to send the bugs to a psychiatrist."

The grizzled Hull is a sharp contrast to the mumbly brand of dedicated actors deeply mired in the "creative art of acting." He hits a stentorian note even in casual conversation. And his thoughts run from everything to the fact that his ancestors first came to America in 1624 to his explanation for the demise of Broadway shows.

He also selected the three best roles he's ever played—in movies, the theater and television.

"My best parts were always those of unreconstructed rebels," he said in a booming voice.

"In movies it was my role as newspaper editor in 'Jesse James.' In the theater it was Jeter Lester in 'Tobacco Road.' And the TV thing I ever did was 'Mr. Fincley and the Bomb.'"

"All people are subconscious nonconformists. But they're clubbed into being good little citizens and learn to follow orders. Well, not me. I'm still a rebel and I always will be."

Hull illustrated his point by banging on the restaurant table with such force a clutch of club women nearby called for a waiter.

"I remember 25 years ago some government inspectors from Hartford came to my farm to destroy my crop of currant bushes. They thought some kind of insect bred in the bushes causing an elm blight.

"I ran them right off the place with a shotgun, and they never came back. But they ruined the currant crop in the state before they found out the bushes were not responsible for the blight."

Hull, who made his first picture 44 years ago in Ft. Lee, N.J., visits Hollywood rarely, claiming "I'm a dyed-in-the-wool easterner and I've had my farm in Old Lyme for more than 30 years."

He's currently starring with Vincent Price in "Master of the World."

Lions Broom Sale Monday

LEFORS (Spl) — The Lefors Lions Club will conduct its yearly broom sale Monday, with the organization being divided into two groups, and the winning unit to be treated to a barbecue chicken dinner by the loser.

This was decided during a board of directors' breakfast in the Civic Center earlier in the week. John Archer and R. E. McDonald were chefs for the affair.

Monday night the club met with 40 members present. At that time it was decided to conduct a membership drive this month. Joe Tooley, Lions Club District governor, was the featured speaker.

Mrs. Jane Simpson and the McLean Women's Quartet also were a feature of the program.

Members attending the breakfast included: Archer, McDonald, Ray Chastain, club president; Warren Wall, David Robinson, Aubrey Carlton, B. J. Thacker, Walter Elliott, Alex Swann, Boyd Beck, Jeff Stubblefield and Floyd Chitwood.

Guests for the morning affair were Linda Robinson, club sweetheart; Carl Barber and Joe Clark.

Does A Mad Dame Design Male Clothes?

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sartorially speaking, most American men, including y'r ob'd't s'r'v'nt, give the appearance of having dressed in a hurry in a dark room.

On us, the "Ivy League look" looks like poison ivy. When we strive for the "continental look," we usually wind up looking like the wrong continent.

We are, in short, constitutionally unable to look well-tailored, regardless of where we buy our clothes. And I, therefore, am not bullish about the latest attempt by John Bull to imbue us with the "British look."

Nevertheless, when the new "London line" styles were introduced here by the British Menswear Guild, I was there. I was lured to the unveiling by a press release which promised us "a natural, more virile look," which is just what we need.

The exhibit was opened by the Earl of Cromer, British minister of state in Washington, who snipped a ribbon, and by Gerald Abrahams, chairman of the guild, who explained what the British were up to.

The "London line," Abrahams said, "is designed not only to make a man look younger and richer, but to make the men of America even more handsome than they are — if this is possible."

Well, now. This is certainly a laudable objective and right in keeping with our traditional "hands across the sea" policy. But my first impulse was to make like Paul Revere and ride off to warn my countrymen of an impending catastrophe.

The cause of my alarm was a line in the press release which asserted that "turn-ups will be seen less and less." This sounded innocent enough until I found out what the British meant by "turn-ups."

The British, I discovered, are trying to do away with our trouser cuffs!

As soon as I uncovered the plot, I sought out Abrahams and confronted him with the evidence. He admitted that such a trend was in the wind.

Many British tailors, he said, regard the cuff as unfunctional, like the vermiform appendix, and feel that it should be removed.

"But if you take off our cuffs," I wailed, "what will we use for ash trays?"

Abrahams seemed pained by the thought that anyone would use part of his pants as a repository for cigarette cinders. However, he assured me that the anti-cuff policy will be optional in this country.

The Guild, I gathered, may enforce a stiff off-cuffrule in the mother country but is prepared to be lenient with the former colonies.

Apart from their cufflessness, I generally admired the British styles, but I don't know how they would look on us Americans. I rather fear they would make us look like the intersection of Madison Avenue and Saville Row.
