Khrushchev Reports to Russ Says U.N. Chief Serving West

By ROBERT J. KORENGOLD
United Press International

OSCO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that the new disarmament proposals submitted to the United Nations by the West "are an illusion for the future."

Khrushchev spoke to 12,000 jammed into the Lenin Sports Stadium for a report on the 25-day visit to the U.N. General Assembly in New York. The speech also was broadcast over nationwide radio and television networks.

These proposals," Khrushchev said, "show that the Western powers still refuse to approach the solution of the disarmament problem—that they are unwilling to use disarmament to cover up the policy of the arms race."

Khrushchev said that the first session of the 13th General Assembly was marked in the eyes of the struggle of the new, progressive with the old, the old, which was impeding the growth and development of the world.

He also stressed that it was not only worthwhile but essential that the General Assembly, from which he returned only last Friday. He said participation by heads of state government should become standard procedure.

Khrushchev called again for a change in the structure of the United Nations.

Houk Replaces Stengel As Yankee Pilot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, a war hero who never rose in the major leagues than first string catcher, today was named to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the New York Yankees.

Houk, a coach under Stengel for past three years, received a year contract for a salary estimated between $25,000 and $30,000.

... aide now chief

As compared to the $85,000 salary Stengel received for each of the past two years.

The 41-year-old Lawrence, Kansas, who rose from private to major league in the rough-and-ready ranks of World War II, was notified of his appointment last Saturday shortly after Stengel met with Yankees Del Webb and Dan Topping and received word that he was out.

Houk, a tobacco-chewing prodigy of the Yankee organization was third string catcher for the Yankees off-and-on from 1944 to 1954, is 29 years younger than Stengel, who was not fired because of his age.

The announcement of Houk's appointment was made by Yankees president Dan Topping, who said the contract was for one year.

"I wish to make it plain there will be no interference from the office," Topping said.

Not Color Blind

DALLAS (UPI) — As a cab driver, Ted Lane gets all kinds of fares. But the attractive gal he picked up Wednesday still has him wondering.

Here's how Ted tells the story: "I picked up this fare at the Baker Hotel. She's a real nice looking brunette, y'know. Dressed in brown. She's got these two packages under her arms.

"She says 'let's go to White Rock Lake.' We get there and she says 'just drive around the lake.' After a couple of minutes, she tells me to tilt the rear-view mirror.

"Then she says, 'let's go to Love Field (the airport).' When we get there, she gets out dressed in blue."

Hearing Sought In U.N. By Fidel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today that Fidel Castro may fly back to the United Nations to press his charge, supported by the Soviet Union, that the United States is preparing to invade "at any moment."

The accusation, made in a memorandum to the General Assembly Wednesday, appeared certain to spark a full debate despite an already crowded agenda.

It overshadowed the heralded disarmament debate which started in the main political committee Wednesday with statements by the United States and the Soviet Union. Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki was the only speaker listed for today.

By taking his case directly to the General Assembly instead of putting it first before the 11-member Security Council, Castro assured himself of a wider audience.

Several Latin American sources said they thought Castro would leave it up to his foreign minister Raul Roa, to present the Cuban case but others pointed out that when Castro left New York last month he said he planned to return before the end of the session.

The Soviet Union quickly seized on the Cuban charges, delighted to have an issue with which to counter forthcoming arguments on Communist oppression in Hungary and Tibet.

Lumber Co. Safe Rifled

Safe crackers spent much of last night and early this morning hammering away at the safe in the Lynn Boyd Lumber Co. office, 805 S. Cuyler, but obtained nothing for their efforts since they failed to reach the money drawer.

Ranger Bill Henslee, Police Chief Jim Conner and Patrolman Robert Crouch investigated. Henslee said that the robbers "apparently were unprepared for their task since they used an axe, hammer and other tools belonging to the firm in trying to complete the job."

Henslee said a hole 20 inches by 30 inches had been chipped in the back of the safe and that a tire tool had been used in an attempt to turn back the "dogs" which secure the safe door, but that it had been dropped inside the safe.

Crouch, reporting on the investigation for Chief Conner, said the would be robbers "shimmied up a light pole beside the building, stepped on to a meter box and then to the shed roof from where they dropped down inside the yard."

The office door was not locked, Crouch said, since the large doors on the outside were locked, and once the persons involved were inside the yard they had easy access to the safe.

Kennedy Files Retort To GOP

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy charged today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's 13-point "white paper" accusing the Democratic nominee of inaccuracies "repeats some of the most glaring errors Mr. Nixon has made in this campaign."

In issuing a long point by point rebuttal, Kennedy said "while I take this opportunity to set forth the facts, the total record of Nixon—misstatements, slurs and distortions could not possibly be answered in a single white paper."

Where Is Floyd Watson Today?

If you've any question about the whereabouts of Floyd Watson today, you can rest assured he's mixing efforts to further the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign with his duties as vice president of the First National Bank of Pampa.

One of the more hustling type of fellows in this area, Watson has been hiking hither and yon to boost the fund and seek financial support for it from people throughout

Highwaymen Are Charged

Armed robbery charges have been filed by Gray and Wheeler County authorities against the "red light" bandits who rampaged through Texas and the Southwest recently and who are now being held by California authorities on charges ranging from armed robbery to rape and perverse sex acts.

Ranger Bill Henslee and District Attorney Bill Waters said that "robbery with fire arms" warrants had been issued for Elton Hale, the gang leader; LeRoy Coates and E. J. Minor, and that a warrant charging rape was issued for Minor.

A fourth man, Jord Hale, a relative of the gang leader, also is charged with a June 20 robbery in Gray County. In this incident he was accompanied by Minor.

Henslee said that it was improbable that the men would be returned here for trial, since they are to be formally charged in California today on the various counts that state has against them.

Season Opener In State Hits Below Freeze Mark

By United Press International

The coldest weather since last winter shoved deep into South Texas today on the heels of heavy rains that have sent rivers surging to flood stage and threatened to force even more families to flee their homes.

The frigid Canadian air was being shoved along by brisk northerly winds. It had all but stopped the rains and tornadoes that have plagued the state for the past week. Skies over the entire state were beginning to clear.

The Weather Bureau said it would begin to warm somewhat tonight and Friday when the winds shift into the south and gentle gulf breezes begin to spread across the state.

The cold front tumbled temperatures across the northern half of the state as much as 20 degrees in some parts.

Amarillo and Childress recorded the lowest temperatures in the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. with 33 degrees; Dallas had 38; Brownsville had the highest minimum with 64. Laredo had Wednesday's high — 88 degrees.

Official U.S. Weather Bureau rainfall recordings for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. showed: Brownsville .31, Corpus Christi .38; Victoria .37, Houston .12 and Galveston .60.

As the Panhandle and the rest of North Texas chilled, much of the state's south portions were under flood threat from four rivers turned into raging torrents by a week of heavy rain. Four inches fell at Odem, near Corpus Christi Wednesday in less than an hour and sent 50 families fleeing to higher ground.

Among cities under flood threat were Gonzales, Victoria, Goliad and Galveston.

Big Absentee Ballot Roster

A record absentee ballot roster has been compiled by Gray County Clerk Charles Thut's office, with some 120 ballots already forwarded to points throughout the world, and another 30 awaiting notarized application so that they may be sent out.

That, who has been in the county clerk's office for 35 years, said that in his memory "this is the most controversial presidential election; we have ever had, if the absentee ballot list is any criterion."

Seventeen persons placed their votes with Thut yesterday, the first day for such voting which will be concluded Nov. 4.

Candidates Meet During Dinner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy met with a grin and a gag Wednesday night at the annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner, then turned serious to express hopes that the religious issue of the 1958 campaign would not be revived.

Guero and Corpus Christi. Sections of Victoria and Corpus Christi still had water covering low-lying sections after earlier cloudbursts.

The cold air had just about stopped the showers by nightfall Wednesday night with just a few showers along the gulf coast.

Victoria recorded 7.98 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ended at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The San Antonio River was expected to crest at Goliad today between 35 and 40 feet, the Department of Public Safety said. Flood stage at Goliad is 28 feet. Lowlands around Goliad were expected to be inundated.

First Frost Hits Pampa

The first frost of the fall season hit the Pampa and Panhandle area last night as forecast, but it didn't do too much damage.

Foster Whaley, Gray County agent, said after a tour of the county early today that it may have done some damage to the record setting cotton crop, "since it came about 10 days too soon for those farmers, but it's too early to tell."

Two area farmers were of the opinion that milo could have been benefited by the frost.

Roland Dauer of south of Pampa, said, "I can't see where it has hurt the milo crop. However, it could have harmed the cotton."

Amos Harris, who has a farm some four miles south of Kingsmill said "It's too early to tell. I believe the frost may halt the growth of milo and cause it to mature and if so it will benefit the growers."

The temperature fell to a chilly 28 degrees early this morning, but slowly climbed into the 40s after daybreak.

Nixon Outlines Plan To Boost U.S. Economy

Disciples Of Cheap Money Hit

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed a 12-point program to foster the nation's economic growth.

He included in it plans for possible "tax adjustments if necessary" to forestall any inflationary crisis and for creation of a national economic council which would have the same stature in its field as the National Security Council has on defense.

Nixon attacked "cheap money dogmatists" whose proposals to cut interest rates he said could provoke a gold crisis and spurned the idea "that the worth of a government program is to be measured by the number of federal dollars spent on it."

To guard against the threat of inflation, he said he would set up "an early warning economic intelligence system." He said that with this system the economy could be protected "through flexible use of fiscal and credit policies, including tax adjustments if necessary."

Nixon also pledged that if he is elected president, he will "convene working sessions for each major critical industry... to analyze the (automation) problem as it is unique to that industry and develop a program for assistance in dealing with it."

The Republican candidate reaffirmed his insistence that the Eisenhower administration has moved forward in every economic field since it took office in 1953. But he said "modern challenges require that we quicken our advance and utilize our resources more fully."

Nixon unveiled his overall program, which included a number of points he had made individually in past speeches, in an address prepared for delivery before the National Association of Business Economists meeting.

He said his program recognizes "the spirit of individual enterprise in 180 million Americans" and "rejects the false and simple theory of the opposition that Americans somehow can be governed into perpetual prosperity."

Nixon hit in several ways at the program of his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, particularly at Democratic demands for a "clear" election day.

Foreign Policy Talk Set By Ike

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—President Eisenhower resumes his "non-political" speaking tour today with a trip to San Francisco to ride in a ticker-tape parade and deliver a foreign policy address.

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, a Republican, planned a big welcome for the President.

He planned to take a helicopter from his quarters at the Eldorado Country Club to the Palm Springs airport and fly by jet to San Francisco. His motorcade through the city was timed to take advantage of noon-hour crowds.

The Chief Executive was scheduled to discuss international problems tonight at a dinner meeting of the Commonwealth Club, a business and professional men's group.

But informed sources said he would shy away from any mention of the election-year controversy over defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands off the Red China coast.

Banquet To Honor Pampans

Two outstanding Pampans will be singled out for recognition Tuesday night at the annual Chamber of Commerce membership banquet. The annual awards will be given on the basis of contribution to youth and on activities connected with civic development.

Winners of the awards last year were C. P. Buckler (civic) and Warren Fatheree (youth).

Chamber manager E. O. Wedgeworth announced this morning that dinner reservations still were being accepted, but that tickets are expected to be depleted by late Friday. The seating capacity at Robert E. Lee Junior High cafeteria is 425, and no more reservations will be taken than can be accommodated.

The banquet will begin at 7:30. Special entertainment for the event will be furnished by the Pampa High School A Capella Choir and dinner music will be provided by the Milliron Combo.

Wedgeworth said that approximately 75 guests from neighboring communities are expected to attend the banquet.

Sen. Byrd Will Not Make Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Democratic patriarch of Virginia, is expected to let the Nov. 8 election go by without naming his choice in the presidential contest.

Friends of the conservative Virginian said today that he intends to continue sitting out the campaign unless some unforeseen development causes him to change his mind.

Both Sides Discuss Possibility Of Extending Debate To Two Hours

NEW YORK (UPI)—TV experts from the Kennedy and Nixon camps were expected to meet with network officials today to discuss extending Friday's national broadcast debate from one to two hours.

But the Democrats charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon was using a "tricky device" in recommending the extension in order to avoid Sen. John F. Kennedy's proposal to hold a separate fifth television debate closer to election day.

The Democrats said they wanted a late debate added to the schedule to challenge statements issued by the GOP candidate, such as the "white paper" Wednesday which charged Kennedy with 13 inaccuracies and distortions. They said that Republicans were afraid Kennedy was winning the debates and did not want any more of them.

Friday's debate, scheduled to be carried live from ABC studios in New York on ABC, NBC, CBS and Mutual radio, will be the fourth in the historic series.

J. Leonard Reinsch, Kennedy's TV adviser, said he was ready to meet with Fred C. Scribner, Nixon's TV expert, and with network officials to talk over the possibility of extending the time of the fourth debate.

The lack of time to make such a change and the networks' commercial commitments at the "prime" viewing time, however, do not make the extension a certainty.

Nixon turned down Kennedy's proposal to hold a fifth debate within 18 days before the Nov. 8 election day on grounds that he could not fit it into a tight schedule.

Demo Boasts

ANGLETON, Tex. (UPI) — Former Secretary of State Tom Reavley said Wednesday night Richard Nixon's refusal to meet Sen. John Kennedy in a fifth television debate is a "clear admission that Kennedy has bested Nixon."

He told a Democratic rally that "Nixon is a study in evasion." "Ask him what time it is and he replies that it is day time, and then gives you a devotional against darkness and sin," Reavley said.

Chief Executive and predicted an "immense" turnout.

Eisenhower rested up Wednesday in this desert resort area after a busy 49-hour Midwest swing that kicked off his 6,728-mile cross-country trip.

He planned to take a helicopter from his quarters at the Eldorado Country Club to the Palm Springs airport and fly by jet to San Francisco. His motorcade through the city was timed to take advantage of noon-hour crowds.

The Chief Executive was scheduled to discuss international problems tonight at a dinner meeting of the Commonwealth Club, a business and professional men's group.

But informed sources said he would shy away from any mention of the election-year controversy over defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands off the Red China coast.

Russ Expelled Americans Flying Home

ZURICH, Switzerland (UPI)—Two American tourists expelled from the Soviet Union in the latest Russian anti-spy campaign left for the United States by air today.

Mark Kaminsky, 28, of Jefferson Township, Mich., and Harvey Bennett, 26, of Bath, Maine, were scheduled to arrive in New York this afternoon.

Kaminsky and Bennett said Soviet agents shadowed them during their 2-hour stay in Zurich. They said they would not feel "safe" until they touched American soil once again.

Kaminsky was sentenced to seven years in prison by a people's court in Kiev for alleged espionage. Instead of serving the sentence, the Michigan school teacher was deported. Bennett was detained for seven weeks as a material witness.

Both men insisted they were just sightseeing and not guilty of "activities incompatible with those of a regular tourist," as the Soviets charged.

The two men took in the sights of Zurich Wednesday. After weeks of strain and nervous pressure, Kaminsky and Bennett seemed more at ease strolling up and down Zurich's Bahnhofstrasse, one of the most famous shopping centers in Europe.

Finch-Tregoff Jury Is Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A jury began its first full day today of deliberating on murder charges against Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his young paramour, Carole Tregoff.

The state asked the jury of 11 women and one man hearing the retrial to return a verdict of first degree murder against the lovers for the slaying of the wealthy surgeon's wife.

Such a verdict carries with it a mandatory sentence of either life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber under California law.

The jury finally began its deliberations late Wednesday after listening to 90 witnesses in nearly 17 weeks of trial. After meeting for less than two hours, the jurors were locked up in hotel rooms for the night.

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Piggyback operations have enabled the freight forwarder to become a potent third force in freight transportation, still pretty much dominated by railroads and trucks. Piggybacking goes back to Civil War transport, but as a commercial service it was first introduced in 1884 when the Long Island Railroad moved farmers' produce in wagons into New York City on eastern Long Island. There is a flat rate of $4 for the wagon, two horses and a driver. Demand for this service died in the century ended, however, and it wasn't until 1953 that the roads brought it back in an effort to recapture traffic lost to motor carriers. Now 55 railroads Commerce Commission to use it. Sidney B. Lifschultz, head of Lifschultz Fast Freight, explained that traditionally forwarders have rendered an expedited service for less-than-carload shipments, with trucks for pick-up and delivery at the beginning and end of the movement and railroad box cars for the long haul.

Now with piggyback, he added, they can handle van loads of a single shipper and provide door-to-door service without the delays of loading and unloading at their terminals.

There are roughly 100 freight forwarding firms with total annual revenues of more than $500 million.

Lifschultz said freight forwarding is a service industry and the services provided give the shipper fewer headaches and lower costs than those he would encounter if he had to depend on several handlers to achieve the same results.

But piggybacking is only the beginning, as the forwarding industry seeks newer and better ways to serve its customers, he said. He added that he fully believes we will see an exciting speed-up in rail freight schedules in the next few years.

Boy's Ranch Record Cited

Only 42 out of 1,500 boys at Boy's Ranch have "gone bad" in the last 21 years, Pampa Rotarians were told yesterday. The speaker was Ray Noblitt, retired Clarendon businessman who makes speaking engagements on behalf of Boy's Ranch.

At the present time there are 261 boys at the ranch, and Noblitt said that it was his hope that facilities could be expanded in the near future to accommodate many more.

There are presently 12 boys from Pampa at the ranch and the speaker pointed out that this was a positive good to the Pampa community.

Noblitt thanked the Pampa club for its contributions which presently figures about $1,100 per year. Club visitors and guests were Jim Stull, Miller McNabb, Maurice Teed, Charles Linehart, Bill Waters, Lay Leath, Gene Snyder, J. B. Watkins and Congressman Walter Rogers.

Americanism Seminar Will Continue

The third in a series of five Americanism Citizenship lectures will be given at 7:30 p.m. Monday by Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of Lubbock Christian College, in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School auditorium.

Dr. Mattox' topic will be "The Present Threat of Communism". Don Beaman, chairman of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization, said.

The seminar, originally scheduled for Pampa High School auditorium, will be held in the Lee auditorium for the remaining lectures, since a wide screen is available and is better suited for showing films linked to the talks, Beaman said.

Some 350 persons attended Dr. Mattox' lecture last Monday night to bring the estimated attendance for the first two talks to about 750.

Congo Leader Clamps Down On Papers, Army

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Leopoldville Provincial President Cleophas Kamitatu closed the capital's newspapers today and gave strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu 48 hours to get his army under control.

Kamitatu threatened civil mobilization and police action if Mobutu failed to restore order in the beleaguered city which has been hit by a rising crime wave and acts of terrorism.

The ban on newspapers and other publications in the Leopoldville province began today and Kamitatu said it would last for one month.

Kamitatu set a curfew because of a series of rapes and murders by Congolese soldiers during curfew hours. He said one Senegalese woman and her 10-year-old daughter were raped Tuesday night.

"very easy credit and artificially low interest rates at all times and under all circumstances."

He said Democratic "cheap money dogmatists" were "practically inviting foreign banks and investors to pull out the billions of dollars that they now hold here on deposit or in short term paper."

"If such a sequence of events should ever develop... a totally stupid and unnecessary gold crisis would be brought on which could have disastrous consequences, not only for America, but for the entire free world," Nixon said.

As he has before, Nixon said "we must attack featherbedding in all its forms" including bureaucratic waste and "the make-work mentality still surviving in some quarters of labor."

Nixon's attack on the Democratic monetary proposals was part of a fourth point aimed at keeping "our money honest."

The eight other points were restatements of proposals he already has made.

Nixon and Kennedy shared the speaker's platform for the first time outside these debates when both appeared Wednesday night at a dinner honoring the memory of Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for president in 1928.

Khrush

U.N. secretariat. He wants the secretaries instead of one, each to represent one of the three major blocs—the Western, Communist and neutralist.

He accused U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld "serving the monopoly capital of the United States."

Khrushchev said that if the heads of state attend an extraordinary session of the General Assembly, which he said "is necessary to summon in March, April next year, (and) agree in principle on the solution of the question of general and complete disarmament," a smaller group could work out the details later.

Khrushchev warned that the Soviet Union has atom-powered submarines armed with rockets. He said he was serving notice on the U.S. military about this connection with a report he said the Pentagon had issued in December to send American submarines armed with missiles and nuclear weapons to the shores of the Soviet Union.

However, he said, "we are confident that the time will come when the relations between our states, between our peoples, between our governments will improve."

Thirty-year service awards will be presented to Curtis C. Griffin and Jerry F. Nelson. Annette Altman will receive a five-year award.

A. R. Watson, executive vice president, will present the awards, and guest speaker for the evening will be Melvin Munn of Pampa.

The employees being honored this year have a combined service of 865 years. The top awards, for 35 years service will go to Lex R. Ray and Thomas J. Wixom of Amarillo.

Westinghouse Union Near Agreement

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—An air of hopeful optimism surrounded negotiations today between Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

The possibility of an early agreement in the contract dispute followed an announcement Wednesday by Al Hartnett, head of the IUE Westinghouse Conference Board, that the union had submitted a "substantial revision" of its demands.

Federal mediators are conducting talks with both sides under a one-week contract extension which the union approved last Friday, shortly after the old pact expired.

Nearly 40,000 employees at 28 Westinghouse plants across the nation are covered by the contract, now set to expire at midnight Friday when the union again will be free to call a strike.

Beef Burgers Will Win Party Food Election

That period of waiting during the tabulation of election returns is the best possible time for having a party. Informality is the keynote with friends and campaigners lining up for a snack at the buffet table between precinct reports. Speculation may run high on which candidate will win, but there is no question about the people's choice in food. Beef burgers grilled at the table, a tangy tomato sauce, relishes, cake and coffee make up a ticket that gets every vote.

Frozen beef burgers appeal to homemakers campaigning for convenience foods. Handy two-ounce patties of fresh ground beef are shaped, wrapped in individual zip open jackets, and quick frozen to maintain quality. They are packed 24 in a three pound carton or in 10 party bags. They will be found in the frozen foods case wearing the brand name with the two most trusted words in meat.

Keeping a supply of beef burgers in the freezer is meal insurance for the busy homemaker. The burgers need not be thawed before cooking. This means they can be grilled to order without worrying about running short or having leftovers. They're so simple to fix the family can cook their own on mom's night out or make a single sandwich for a midnight snack.

After-The-Game Appetites Sated With Delicious, Apple-Stuffed Pork Chops

APPLE-STUFFED PORK CHOPS IN FOIL FOR AFTER-THE-GAME APPETITES

When cooler weather brings on hearty appetites, add tart autumn apples and herb-seasoned stuffing to roasting pork chops, and be prepared for compliments from your family.

Prepared stuffing makes it so easy to get just the right flavor accents because all the measuring is done for you when you buy ready-to-use, packaged stuffing. Besides tasting so good, stuffing can save you money, too, by stretching four pork chops into more substantial portions, as in this recipe for a Saturday night main dish.

STUFFED CHOPS IN FOIL

4 thick pork chops
1 1/2 cups packaged herb-seasoned stuffing

3 tablespoons butter, melted
1/4 cup chopped unpared apple
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
Aluminum foil
Skewers
Salt and pepper

Trim excess fat from pork chops. Salt and pepper meat. Moisten stuffing and add melted butter. Toss with apple, celery and onion. Tear off 2-foot length of foil. In center of foil, stand chops on edge, fat side up. Run skewers through center of chops spacing them about 1/2-inch apart. Spoon stuffing between chops and around outside of chops. Fold foil over and seal securely. If foil becomes punctured, wrap in second layer of foil, avoiding puncturing. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) for 1 1/4 hours. Makes 4 servings.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie Made With Honey Perfect Complement For Fall Dinner

Russet leaves, red apples colorful football banners, and orange pumpkins! These mean autumn is here — autumn with its brisk mornings and cool evenings and in between its round of vigorous activity for all, at home, at school, at work, inside and out. And for mothers autumn means the need for preparing hearty meals, hearty from soup through dessert. Tops among the desserts suitable for autumn dinners is that symbol of autumn, pumpkin pie itself.

Pumpkin pie with its spicy, rich, smooth, honey-sweetened filling placed in a graham cracker crust and further enhanced with a topping of whipped cream sweetened with honey is at once a food and a treat for every member at the family table. Honey will make it a real treat for all by imparting honey flavor and aroma to the dessert; honey will also add nourishing vitamins and minerals to make the filling even more substantial. Here is a tested recipe to try.

HONEY PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST:
GRAHAM CRACKERS (1-23 cups)
1/4 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1/4 cup soft butter

Crush the graham crackers very fine. Blend in the sugar and soft butter. Press the mixture into a heat-resistant deep 10-inch pie dish. Bake at 375 degrees F. 10 minutes.

FILLING:
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
3 eggs
1/4 cup honey
2 cups cooked pumpkin
1/2 cup whole milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 pt. whipping cream

Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Beat egg yolks and combine with honey, pumpkin, milk, salt and spices. Cook in top of double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Beat egg whites until frothy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until they stand in peaks. Fold the egg whites into pumpkin mixture. Turn into graham crust and chill for several hours. Top with whipped cream.

Apple Harvest Time Reaps Fine Desserts

It's apple harvest time in Virginia! The air is sweet and sharp with the perfume of millions of apples ripening in one of the world's finest apple-growing regions.

Good Virginia cooks are getting out their favorite apple recipes as the fruit reaches autumn perfection and abundance.

Among the first varieties to ripen is the Stayman, known as "the apple growers' apple" among experts. It isn't advertised as much as some apples, but it is a favorite in the apple country.

MRS. GRAVES' APPLE PUDDING

Cover the bottom of a baking dish which has a cover to fit, with 3 medium sized Virginia apples (Staymans preferred) which have been peeled, cored and sliced. Pour over them 1/2 cup granulated sugar mixed with 1/2 cup hot water and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Cover with this batter:

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 stick butter
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Mix together well the sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Cut

American has led the way in protecting the fruit of man's mind. Our literature, drama, scholarship, and vast media of public information prosper because of our copyright law.

Are you an author? An artist? A playwright? Or are you thinking of going into such work? If so, find out about copyright law. It protects you — against copying, but not against independent reproduction of a similar work.

A copyright enables you to sue him in the federal courts for damages and collect — if someone copies your work or any substantial part of it without permission.

The most important single thing about copyrights is this: Do not publish anything until you find out what kind of a copyright notice you need. If you publish without proper notice, you lose all rights in the work.

As long as your book is not published, you own the script. The common law protects your rights in it the same as in any other property. For an unpublished book you need no added legal safeguard. You cannot register its copyright.

But you may copyright such work as a plan, lecture, sermon, or art work, though it has not been published.

A book's copyright may be registered in the author's name or anyone he selects, such as the publisher, who can better guard the copyright or grant proper consent to quote the book under a contract between himself and his publisher.

Here are some other kinds of work you can copyright: Poems, newspapers, maps, photographs, dramatic and musical composition. A copyright is good for 28 years. You may renew it once so as to

Nationwide Rail Strike Threat Eased

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The possibility of a nationwide railroad strike before 1962 appeared removed Wednesday by a labor-management agreement to submit work rules disputes to a 15-man presidential commission.

The agreement to set up the commission was hammered out late Monday and made public Tuesday. Representatives of the major eastern, southern and western railroads and the five brotherhoods of operating employees signed the agreement.

The commission is scheduled to make its report — which will not bind either side — by Dec. 1, 1961. In the meantime, while it is investigating labor-management differences over work practices, it also will try to mediate the issues.

Both sides accepted the commission as a temporary substitute for strike and lockout delay procedures in the Railway Labor Act. Consequently, industry and union spokesmen said a nationwide strike before 1962 appeared to be impossible.

The spokesmen also ruled out the chance of a work stoppage involving non-operating employees. These workers earlier this year reached new contract terms keep it in effect for a total of 56 years.

You may apply for a copyright at this address: Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. Note briefly the kind of work you wish to copyright.

which run until Nov. 1, 1961. That also is the expiration date for the present wage agreement covering the 250,000 operating employees.

Agreement to set up the commission was announced by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell. To bring the commission into being, he had met four times with a 12-man committee representing both sides.

The study group will begin its inquiry, possibly with public hearings, between Jan. 1 and Jan. 15. President Eisenhower is to appoint the five public members of the commission, one of whom will be the chairman. Management and labor each will appoint five members.

Leforians Visit Fire Station

LEFORS (Sp) — some 75 persons visited the Lefors Fire Station as a climax to Fire Prevention Week Saturday and Sunday, to view posters prepared by school pupils and fire prevention miniatures that were prepared by P. F. Blankenburg, fire marshal.

Also taking part in the two-day affair were Fire Chief John Archer, R. E. McDonald, Fred Cullen and J. E. Montgomery.

Coffee and donuts were served by Mrs. J. J. Archer, Mrs. R. E. McDonald, and the Misses Oweida Jernigan and Linda Montgomery.

The department held its regular drill last Thursday night, with classroom stress on combustible materials.

CAMPUS DEDICATION — Two new dormitories were dedicated at West Texas State College, Canyon, during "Mom and Dad's Day" last Saturday. An addition to the Student Union Building also was dedicated during the day-long program. The dormitories were named for two of the college's original faculty members, Ferdinand Guenther and Maty E. Hudspeth. The picture above is that of the interior of the patio of Hudspeth Dormitory. (West Texas College Photo) but not yet permanently established or recognized." Khushchev shrugged off the announcement as one that should occasion no surprise since, he said, President de Gaulle himself also had given de facto recognition to the Algerian rebels.

This the French would heartily deny, but even so it might have been dismissed as just another Soviet pinprick had not Khushchev followed it up with these words:

"The Soviet people always are in sympathy with colonial peoples. We will always render them the utmost aid possible—the aid which will be useful to them in attaining their freedom."

This week, Khushchev's words were being translated into action. The Soviet trade union newspaper Trud announced that 120 young Algerians would be invited to the Soviet Union for technical training in factories. It also disclosed that a Soviet ship was loading at Odessa with machine tools, automobiles, tractors and combines for Algerian refugees in Tunisia.

To rub more salt in French wounds, it was disclosed that Algerian orphans would be transported to the Soviet Union to "recup-erate" in Communist youth camps. A spokesman said the relief program was necessary because of "atrocities of the French colonialists."

It is noteworthy that the program comes under the sponsorship of the Soviet trade unions and does not yet bear the official Soviet government stamp.

It indicates that Khushchev is not yet ready to push his African policies to the point of an open break with France.

De Gaulle has said he will sever relations with any nation which recognizes the Algerian rebel regime.

A break with France now would include a summit conference in the spring and some progress toward settlement of the Berlin agenda for coming months. These issues.

Hawaii, Alaska Citizens Get First Vote Nov. 8

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Snow-filled Alaska and sun-spangled Hawaii mark another political milestone Nov. 8 when their citizens get their first chance to vote for president as residents of the 49th and 50th states.

The first new members of the union since 1912 may go separate ways and give three electoral votes to each presidential candidate. Political soothsayers presently give Sen. John F. Kennedy the edge in Alaska and Vice President Richard M. Nixon the edge in Hawaii.

As many as 180,000 persons — whopping 85 per cent of registered voters — may go to the polls in Hawaii. About 50,000 Alaskans are expected to vote.

Alaska was admitted to the Union in 1958 and Hawaii in 1959. Before that residents could vote only in territorial contests in presidential election years.

In the island state of Hawaii, 2,000 miles off the California coast, voter ratio in the 1959 state election was 52-48 in favor of the Democrats. Yet that election marked a GOP resurgence after a five-year Democratic trend. The Republicans named the governor, lieutenant governor and one of two U.S. senators and captured control of the state Senate.

Nixon's August tour of the "Paradise of the Pacific" plus four previous visits, as well as his help in the statehood fight, were cited as strong factors in his favor.

About 30 per cent of Hawaii's "melting pot" 600,000 population is Catholic. The religious issue has been played down by newspapers, politicians and commentators.

Meanwhile, 2,000 miles to the north, the 49th state of Alaska will go Democratic if the August primary election is any indication. Democrats rolled up lopsided margins over the combined vote for competing Republicans. Alaska's governor, two U.S. senators and lone congressman are Democrats.

Kennedy became the first presidential candidate to campaign in Alaska, and in an Anchorage speech pushed for resources development. This, with special attention to power development, is a major issue in Alaska with its sparse 215,000 population.

Also of major importance to the state at Russia's back door is defense spending. Alaska's economy depends on defense money more than any other state and proposals to close Ladd Air Force Base near Fairbanks did nothing to enhance GOP chances.

Drying Out In Spinner

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—A 28-year-old barber was found creaming inside a revolving electric drying machine in a do-it-yourself laundry.

Ames S. Culpepper was taken to Erlanger Hospital with mass bruises, second degree burns and severe cuts on the head. He was unable to give an account of the story to police, who are trying to determine how he got into the dryer and who put in the quarter that started it.

A nearby resident heard screams and notified police this morning. Officers found Culpepper's shoes in a washing machine and Culpepper spinning in the dryer. They said he had been in a tavern across the street a few hours earlier.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alan C. Poole of Hemphill, Noyes & Co. believes that a further rally is forthcoming but that some time next year investors will have an opportunity to buy many stocks below their 1959 lows.

Even if we have seen the market lows, he feels there will still be ample opportunity to buy stocks.

Poole says there is nothing yet in the fundamental picture to indicate an appreciable rise in stock prices while there are still many uncertainties existing which could lead to lower prices.

According to Purcell & Co. Earnings are expected to approximate the $1.77 earned in 1959 when the stock sold in the high 30's.

Reynolds & Co. continues to regard Beckman as one of the more interesting growth situations in the instrument field. Net this fiscal year is expected to range between $2.75 and $3.00 per share, up from $2.24 in fiscal 1960 and $1.30 in 1959.

The Fitch Survey reports the shares of Sinclair Oil do not seem to reflect adequately the company's basic strength and profit potential. The indicated earnings improvement, Fitch says, should contribute to better market action.

With the electronics stocks having encountered a much overdue correction, Hartzel's appears at this time to be one of the more attractive in the group for appreciation and moderate income, ac-

Dear Abby... Abby Leads Dog's Life After Canine Advice

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You goofed! How could you advise parents to get a small boy a miniature French poodle? Poodles are expensive to buy and only a millionaire can keep a poodle properly manicured and clipped.

breed dogs all my life and, if I were to recommend the ideal dog for a child, I'd say get him a cocker spaniel, beagle or schnauzer. French poodles are too high-strung, noisy and ornery.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd have told Mrs. J.L.T. that apartment dwellers have no business having dogs. A few goldfish or tropical fish would do just as well.

DOG BREEDER (BATON ROUGE, LA.) DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I read your advice to buy a miniature French poodle for a 7-year-old boy.

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who knows anything about pets will tell you that the best pet in the world for a child is a dachshund. They are odorless, hairless, affectionate and sturdy.

FRISKEY'S MASTER (HARTFORD CONN.) DEAR ABBY: I hope Mrs. J.L.T. didn't take your advice and rush out to buy her 7-year-old son a miniature male poodle.

DEAR ABBY: I agree, every child should have a pet. But why a French poodle? Our boys had white mice. Their mice gave them much pleasure and there was no work involved for me.

LIKES WHITE MICE (SAN ANTONIO, TEX.) DEAR ABBY: for a couple of dollars and a trip to the dog pound, Mrs. J.L.T. can get a first-class dog. Yes, I mean an ordinary mongrel.

DEAR ABBY: I've raised a and houseguest feted at morning coffee.

LEFORS (Spl) - Mrs. J. M. Carpenter of Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Bob Fish, was honored with a coffee on Friday morning.

Picket Line Prognostication

C. F. Kitto, owner of the Pampa News Stand, and B. M. Behrman, owner of Behrman's Shoppe, take their shots at the not-so-infallible "expert" this week along the Picket Line.

Last week, Dr. Joe Donaldson and Floyd Imel both chalked up higher percentages on the 39 new weekend and things may change for the better. In upsets this week, Kitto likes SMU over Texas Tech; Behrman sees Nebraska upsetting Colorado and Mayhew is the only one who likes Monterey over Amarillo.

Bucks, Warriors Top Area Action

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

White Deer's Bucks, brought to earth with a resounding thud last week when powerful Stinnett stopped them, 29-6, will regroup their forces tomorrow night to meet Gruver, another strong team, at 7:30 p.m. in White Deer.

In other area games, unbeaten Miami (7-0) hosts Mobeetie in a District 11-B eight man contest; Clarendon comes to Canadian in a 2-A game; McLean travels to Memphis in another 2-A fray; Groom hosts Claude and Perryton goes to Wellington, a 2-AA game.

Unbeaten Lee Hosts Phillips '11'

Robert E. Lee's seventh graders will find themselves in a very enviable position at 4 p.m. tomorrow when they host Phillips' seventh at Harvester Park.

In fact, they hold a double distinction: they are Pampa's only undefeated team and have won the most games of any team in city circles this year with a 3-0 record.

Lewis Meers, 132-pound halfback, is the Rebs' sparkplug in the backfield. He scored once against Houston and added four points on conversion runs to pace that win and he has consistently played top offensive and defensive ball in Lee's three games.

BY A FINGER-TIP — Clarence Peaks, (26), barely scores a touchdown for the Philadelphia Eagles from the one-yard line in a game with the Detroit Lions. Yale Lary, holding Peaks' head, got to him too late and the referee signals a touchdown.

Borger, Lubbock Tilt Tops 3-4A Schedule

Borger's Bulldogs, currently ranked sixth in the state in the UPI poll of high school coaches, hosts a question-mark Lubbock Westerner team Friday night in the top game of District 3-4A.

Borger is 6-0, 3-0 in district action, and Lubbock is 2-0 in conference battling but only 3-1-1 in season play. However, the Westerners of Coach Buddy Brothers have improved tremendously since early season and may give Borger its toughest battle to date.

The district's three leading scorers will be in the game. Borger's Paul Hardin and Gleen Woolley lead the point parade with 56 and 50 points, respectively, while Lubbock's Max Gatlin is third with 38 tallies.

In other 3-4A games this weekend, Monterey, 19-12 upset victim of Palo Duro last weekend, travels to Amarillo to face the Sandies who are also 2-0 in district play; and luckless Plainview travels to Palo Duro.

Pampa Tops 3-4A Pass Defense

Pampa's Harvesters may be winless in District 3-4A play, but you couldn't prove it by the official district statistics released today which show that Coach Babe Cuffman's crew lead seven other teams in pass defense.

In three losing 3-4A efforts, Pampa has allowed only 97 yards through the air lanes, for a respectable 32.3 yards per game. In other categories, however, the Harvesters don't fare as well.

Borger's undefeated Bulldogs have rolled up the most total offense with 1,037 yards but have played one more game than Amarillo and thus are second in yards-per-game average. The Sandies with 694 yards in two games average 347.0 to Borger's 345.6.

Individually, Paul Hardin of Borger is the district's leading scorer with 36 points and Kent Twing is second with 24 points, 18 of which came last week in Amarillo's 31-0 win over Pampa.

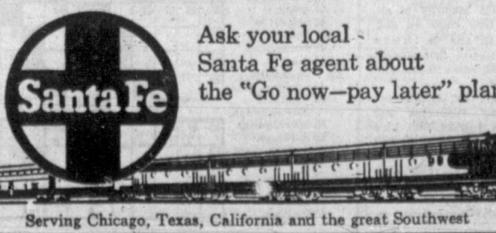

Pampa's Steve Dobbin ranks sixth in rushing with 196 yards and seventh in total offense with the same 196 yards. Butch Crossland and Roy Don Stephens both broke into the top 10 in punting this week. Crossland has averaged 33.4 yards on five punts to rank eighth and Stephens has a 29.4 average on 12 boots and tenth place.

Pro & Con Government

While Harvard Business Review comes forward with the news that 73 per cent of the nation's business executives favor space research instead of a tax cut, Fortune Magazine gets into the act to proclaim that there is overemphasis on the importance of government spending in the economy and little in the way of evidence to show that private industry and private spending cannot substantially do the same thing without the attendant evils of any governmental program.

But in closer contrast to the Harvard Business Review, Fortune brings out (Business Roundup) that government spending is speeding up; that the total of federal, state and local spending has been rising about $5 billion per year in the last three years; that it will begin going up at the rate of about $8 billion per year to the end of 1961 according to present forecasts, and conceivably will climb even higher thereafter.

And in a well written editorial called "That Starved Public Sector" the Luce publication includes some dandy observations. "In the first place, it is simply not true that the public sector of the American economy is being starved for resources. In the second place Darlington, former State Department employee) and Lippman (Walter) have subtly confused a discussion by equating 'public needs' with government activity and have greatly underrated what private enterprise can do in meeting those needs. Finally, the critics have overlooked the basic difference between coercive government activity, and private activity, which gives free play to the choices and options of individuals and groups. In the process they have misjudged the nature and functions of government in a free society."

"What the advocates of more public spending have forgotten is that all this massive government activity depends on the private economy, and that this economy makes an enormous contribution to 'public needs' and to 'public purposes' through its production of consumer goods and services and through the process of private investment."

"We don't know how that could have been better said. It is encouraging, in the midst of so much pro-governmental dependency, to find a few clear-thinking writers coming forward to express the facts relating to this nation's economy."

Those businessmen who seem to feel that space research is important are not on record as favoring private research in this field, rather than governmental research. Nonetheless, the business executives queried have agreed that however the research is conducted, it should be done in favor of pure science and the obtaining of knowledge, with military or political objectives strictly secondary.

If the Harvard magazine is correctly mirroring the attitude of businessmen, then we hope those same men will pay strict attention to some of the observations in the August issue of Fortune.

In this particular issue there are a few telling statements, among them: "Fortune argues that corporations must have but one chief aim: maximum long-term profits for stockholders. This provides a clear measure of managers' efficiency and, in the long run, managers concerned with profit will inevitably deal justly with stockholders, customers, employees and society at large." This is in answer to the oft-repeated charge

Lord Acton Revisited

Dr. F. A. Harper reminds us, in view of the current political scene, that Lord Acton's most famous utterance ought to be reviewed again, this time within its own context.

The good doctor of economics has a point.

Many are prone to utter Lord Acton's phrase, "Power tends to corrupt and absolute power corrupts absolutely," without much in the way of recognition as to why the learned man made the statement, nor the thoughts in his mind at the moment of utterance. The occasion for the statement was a letter to Creighton in 1887. Acton, one of the most famous historians of all time, and a great Cambridge scholar who, it is claimed, read nearly 25,000 books in his lifetime, was a profound student of liberty. Indeed, it is claimed by researchers that he was "the author of the greatest book on the history of liberty never written." For Acton was too honest a student to state as final certain historic points which seemed to him to be in doubt.

It is claimed his knowledge of the history of liberty was second to none and his integrity was such that he could not bring himself to gloss over a single instance of the invasion of liberty.

It is in this vein that his famous statement appears in a paragraph of his letter to Creighton: "But if we might discuss this point until we found that we nearly agreed, and if we do argue thoroughly about the impropriety of Carlyle's denunciations and Pharisaism in history, I cannot accept your essay that we are to judge Pops (Acton, incidentally, was a Roman Catholic) and King unlike other men, with a favor-

I am constantly reminded, mostly by my Republican friends, that the religious issue is unimportant in the present presidential campaign; that people in 1960 will vote according to whom they believe the better man, disregarding his religious affiliation. I think many of the Catholic people also believe this, as I know a number who plan to vote Republican because they are Republicans and wish to support their own party, disregarding the fact that they will be voting against a Catholic.

It has been my experience as a non-Catholic constantly to come in contact with people who frankly admit they are planning to vote for Richard Nixon for president, not because they believe him to be the better candidate, but because his Democratic opponent happens to be a Catholic. This view is taken, I believe, not because they are malicious and mean, but because they are uninformed and fearful.

The very churches that have fought bitterly with each other and even within their own ranks throughout the years have finally become united, not by their mutual love for God, but by a common bond of prejudice and fear. In essence, the churches waging war against the Democratic nominee, John Kennedy, because of his faith are now doing what they are accusing the Catholics of planning to do; that is, they are mixing government and religion.

I have never agreed with the stand taken by the Pampa Daily News on public schools. I strongly favor public schools and think we have the greatest system in the world. However, as I see more and more hate, intolerance and fear evidenced daily, I must concede that although I have not lost faith in our public school system, there is something lacking. There is some room for improvement in a system from which people emerge as high school graduates without enough knowledge of our U.S. Constitution, Bill of Rights, and two party system of government to know that it would be impossible, even if he desired, for a president to force his religious views upon the people.

I have the highest regard and utmost respect for my Republican friends who are planning to vote for Richard Nixon because he represents what they believe in. I even respect the views of former Democrats who plan to vote for the Republican nominee because they believe him to be the better man (I must confess in all honesty it is something of a chore to maintain this feeling toward former Democrats); but I find it completely impossible to respect the opinion of anyone who says he will vote one particular way because of religion, whether it be a Republican Catholic voting for Kennedy because he is a Catholic or a Democratic Protestant voting for Nixon because he is not a Catholic.

My well-informed and unprejudiced Republican friends would not have the religious issue enter into the presidential campaign, but the fact is, it has. Closing our eyes to it is not going to make it go away. I personally believe John Kennedy is the better man with the better platform. I believe this, not because I wish to prove how tolerant I am of the Catholic Church, but because to my way of thinking his sincerity, leadership, and intelligence have been demonstrated repeatedly, most notably on the TV debates.

I do not expect everyone to agree with me. Being a firm believer in the two party system, I am glad there is a Republican party (misguided though it may be). But the one thing I cannot feel tolerant toward is intolerance itself as applied to religion.

Mrs. Ramona Smith 1336 N. Russell Pampa, Texas

with unholy things, our own is always pure and saintly. "Alas, in the interests of full candor, it would pay the sincere seeker after truth to always reexamine the mote in his own eye. It is the proclivity each of us has to wield power over his fellows which causes the evil. And distance or strangeness in no way mitigates the offense.

"Liberty, that essence of man's life by means of which he is a self-correcting, self-controlling, self-responsible being, is always an individual essence. Power held by some over others, regardless of the supposed reason or the supposed justification for this power, is always destructive of the actual ends we seek.

"It is not enough to say: 'That other government is bad; that other organized church is evil.' It is the evil within our own hearts and minds, within our own grasp in our own government and our own church, which stains our purpose. Only by self-discipline, never by the discipline of others do we earn the liberty we cherish."

Nixon Discusses World Affairs With Lodge

The Allen-Scott Report

ROBERT S. ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

EISENHOWER TO BE OFFERED ROYAL AMBASSADORSHIP OF 'PEACE AND GOODWILL' - IF NIXON WINS

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has a unique international job ready and waiting for him when he quits the White House in January.

Vice President Nixon is preparing to announce that if elected he will name the President as special ambassador for "peace and good will," and that the President has agreed to undertake this unprecedented mission.

In this exceptional role the President would visit key countries throughout the world to exchange views with their leaders on such crucial problems as disarmament, economic development, particularly for undeveloped nations, cultural exchanges and the peaceful use of the atom.

On the basis of these personal discussions, the President would make recommendations to Nixon for possible far-reaching policy decisions.

The President would also be available to present his findings to Congress.

When and where Nixon will disclose this significant plan is still undecided.

Former Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall, campaign manager for Nixon, has suggested the announcement be made during one of his TV debates with Senator John Kennedy.

That is favored by Hall because of the huge audiences that have witnessed these encounters.

Nixon's proposal to make the President a special "peace and goodwill" envoy fits squarely into his retirement plans, as he and Mrs. Eisenhower contemplate going abroad next summer.

To friends, the President has expressed the desire to "make a leisurely trip around the world." He is particularly eager to visit Japan, which he was prevented from doing earlier this year due to Communist-inspired riots. The present Japanese government has again invited him.

When not traveling, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will divide their time between their Gettysburg farm and Washington, where they plan to lease an apartment. The President will set up an office in Gettysburg. Under a law passed by Congress several years ago, former Presidents receive a $25,000-a-year pension, plus $50,000 annually for office rent, clerical hire and postage.

Widowed First Ladies receive $10,000 a year.

POLITICALS — The Nixon-Kennedy TV debates are proving a bonanza for Republican campaign finances. National Chairman Thruston Morton has told Nixon, that, since the debates started, more than $1 million, in contributions have poured into the GOP chest. Despite Mrs. Jackie Kennedy's enforced absence from the hustings, she will be heard in a number of carefully selected voting centers. The Democratic standard-bearer's wife has made recorded speeches in French, Italian and Spanish, which she speaks fluently, and they will be broadcast in select communities in New England, New Orleans, Chicago, Wisconsin, Texas, New Mexico, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego.

THE LADIES — The wives of U.S. diplomats and other foreign service officials have finally done it. After years of talking about it in embassies and legations through-

IMMORTALITY

Indian Libertarian, Bombay By CHRISTOPHER N. FINNEY

The belief in immortality is one of the very cornerstones of theism. The belief in prayer is another. When people stop believing that the world can be altered for good or ill by praying to the deity, religion will lose a great deal of its holds upon the human mind. When they cease to think that their souls are destined to eternal damnation or eternal felicity, religion will no longer be an important factor in their intellectual and emotional make-up. Men do not worship God because he created the Universe millions of years ago, but because they believe that he answers prayers and grants petitions now, and will save them or damn them at some future date.

Ever since primitive man fashioned, out of the shadow of his own consciousness, those nebulous and ghostly phantoms that have become the gods of the world's religions, men have believed that the human body is inhabited by an indwelling spirit that animates it during life and leaves it at death. According to some creeds, this "spirit" or "soul" enters the body of another human being or an animal, while others affirm that it departs to Valhalla, the happy hunting ground, or, in the case of the Christian religion, Heaven or Hell. That the belief in the immortality of the soul has its origin in the fancies of untutored savages is a fact about which there can be no two opinions. The writings of the great anthropologists, Tylor, Frazer and others, all testify to the same end. Moreover, it is a belief that is almost universal. It is embodied in varying degrees in many diverse forms, in the faiths and folklores of men the world over.

The belief in immortality, then, originated in the childhood of the human mind, and for many centuries went unquestioned. It was only when the belief began to wear a little thin that those who held it began to put forward the quasi-philosophical arguments that are now advanced for its retention. This life, we are told, is a school for character, one in which we prepare for another existence beyond the grave. We must therefore assume that life in the next world will be similar to life in this, and that the "training" we receive now will stand us in good stead in the future life. If this life and the next one are not lived under the same conditions, then the one cannot satisfactorily be a preparation for the other.

What kind of existence, then, are we to look forward to, in the next world? While I write I have beside me a little book by F. Addington Symonds entitled Know Your Faith which, according to the blurb, gives "authentic information about Catholic beliefs and practices. . . and has received the official imprimatur." In it I read that in the next life "there will be no need for food or for the procreation of children, nor will sleep be required." Moreover, we have it on the authority of the Gospel of Jesus that in Heaven, people "neither marry, nor are given in marriage" (Luke 20:35).

The natures and personalities of all of us are formed in relation to a specific and quite definite environment. If our environment were different, then our ideas and personalities would be correspondingly different. Yet the most important factors in our lives here are absent in the next world. Human life without reference to sex, the family, birth, the desire and necessity for food and sleep is not merely impossible, it is unthinkable! If Christianity be true, and this world is a preparation for the next, then we are all in the position of a man studying French in order to address an audience that understands only Chinese.

Yet all this leaves out of consideration one of the most mischievous delusions that has ever beset the human mind, and one that is inextricably bound up with the Christian belief in immortality—the doctrine of Hell. The dogma of eternal punishment is found in the Bible, and has always formed part of the teachings of the Roman Church and most Protestant sects. For centuries, Catholic and Protestant alike, depicting in sordid detail the sufferings of the damned in Hell. Father Furness, writing in a booklet designed to be read by children said:—

Perhaps at this moment a child is going into Hell. Tomorrow go and knock on the gate of Hell, and ask what the child is doing. The devils will go and look. Then they will come back and say—the child is burning. . . . Go in a millions years and ask the same question, the answer is just the same—it is burning. So if you go for ever and ever, you will always get the same answer—it is burning in the fire.

Lest it be thought that this kind of intellectual sadism is confined to Catholics, I give the following from one of the most eminent Protestant preachers of the second half of the last century. Charles Haddon Spurgeon, as an example of the mental degradation that can result from an acceptance of the Christian belief in immortality:—

In fire exactly like that which we have on earth thy body will lie, asbestos-like, for ever unconsumed, all thy veins roared for the feet of pain to travel on, every nerve a string on which the Devil shall forever play his diabolical tune of Hell's Unutterable Lament.

John Calvin, the "Pope of Geneva," asserted that unbaptized infants were destined to eternal fire, and an English cleric declared that Hell was situated in the Sun, and that sun-spots were multitudes of the damned. For hundreds of years (fantastic and horrifying ideas like these ran riot, doctrines which, to borrow a phrase from G. K. Chesterton, no self-respecting modern Christian would be seen dead with in a field.

Although many studies are being pursued under the direction of the Bureau of Mines and the medical staffs of the United Mine Workers' Union, both for the prevention and relief of these conditions, only symptomatic treatment is available for those who have already been afflicted.

By providing himself with a portable tank that furnishes an instant supply of oxygen, it is quite possible that our correspondent will be in a position to ward off the majority of attacks before they come on and rapidly put an end to those "smothering spells" that convert the night's rest into a nightmare.

Henry In Heaven On Floating Delicatessen

By HENRY McLEMORE

S. S. QUEEN FEDERICA (AT SEA) — This lovely vessel, on which we are bound for Naples via Gibraltar and Palermo, is listed at 21,000 tons.

That's not counting the food on board, of course.

Add the food, and I am sure the Queen Frederica would tip the scales at close to 250,000 tons.

I have already eaten a ton of food myself, and we have been at sea only two days. Mary has eaten a half a ton, and Megan almost as much. By the time we reach Naples the Navy will be bidding me for their blimp fleet, and my wife and daughter will have to be lifted over the side in a cargo net.

The Queen Frederica is a floating delicatessen, a marine restaurant, whose kitchens are a cornucopia from which flows everything from ambrosia to zamzam—the latter being one of the few concoctions I haven't tried.

The menus are as big as circus posters (almost) and take longer to read than a 99-year lease on a skyscraper. Everything that flies, swim, jumps, or grows under or on top of the ground is listed.

But that isn't all. Every item is cooked ten different ways. Takelobster, for example. It can be broiled, broiled, steamed, baked, in half a dozen "a la's." Raw, too, alive and kicking, I imagine.

It's amazing how fast a man faced with all this food included in the price of his ticket, can change his eating habits.

At home I have an egg, bacon and toast for breakfast at nine o'clock, and eat steadily for two hours.

I start with a treeful of fruit, a flagon of juice, warm up with country ham and eggs, insulate that with a waffle or pancake, and then go on to a last bit of broiled steak, a minute steak, and a touch of lamb hash.

The thing to do when breakfast is finished — or so I have heard — is to take a turn around the promenade deck, with the bracing air blowing in your face. The trouble with me is that by the time I finish breakfast there isn't time enough for a turn on the deck before the luncheon gong sounds. And I don't want to be stuck up on the deck when that happens.

At lunch I usually take the chef's suggestion for the day, and he is quite a suggester. Nine courses I par for him, and the only reason he doesn't suggest ten courses is so that passengers can finish in time to be on time for the high tea that is served at five in the afternoon.

I am already having trouble dressing for dinner. The salt air, or something, has shrunk my dinner clothes.

Dinner is my most substantial meal of the day, as it should be when one is faced by a long night of dancing, sleeping and walking about the deck under the moon.

I will not describe my dinners, but will only say that Balshazzar, Lucullus and Diamond Jim Brady would be proud of me.

I eat things under bell, not under bell, jellied, roasted, stewed, braised, skewered, and sauteed. And finish with an assortment of desserts, some roughly the size of the Gizeh pyramid.

For the first two hours of dancing I am a bit heavy on my feet, but by midnight I am as light as a feather, and can hardly wait to get to our stateroom for a bowl of fruit.

Electronic Larynx Set For Sale To Voiceless Folk By Phone Firm

A new voice for the thousands of voiceless people in the United States — an electronic larynx is being introduced in this area by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The electronic device was invented by scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories to provide a substitute for the sound of the vocal cords for a person whose human larynx has been removed or paralyzed.

This new electronic larynx looks much like a modern electric shaver. The user holds it against the outside of his throat while operating it. The electronic larynx transmits sound waves into the throat cavity replacing those normally produced by air passing over the vocal cords. Speech is produced by forming words with teeth, tongue and lips, just as in normal talking.

The electronic larynx is small and compact, weighing only seven ounces," Joe McDonald, manager for Southwestern Bell here, said. "This small, unobtrusive size also is an advantage to the user."

Southwestern Bell will make the electronic larynx available to laryngotomized persons for $45. McDonald said this price is the cost of manufacturing the device by Western Electric Co., manufacturing unit of the Bell System.

"We are not trying to make a profit with the electronic larynx," McDonald said. "The Bell System has pioneered in this field of making artificial larynges available at non-profit costs since 1926, as we are doing with the electronic larynx."

Some 20,000 persons in this country are without the power of speech as a result of paralysis or surgical removal of the human larynx and must depend on either esophageal speech or an artificial larynx to talk.

"Many of these people can learn esophageal speech," McDonald said. "The electronic larynx is not intended as a substitute for esophageal speech."

"For this reason, we strongly urge all laryngotomized persons to consult their doctors before decid to purchase the device," he added.

The electronic larynx is produced in two models — one has a high pitch to simulate the female voice and the other has a lower pitch for men.

The electronic larynx is designed to fit the hand and has a thumb switch control which enables the user to vary the pitch of his voice over a half-octave range in order to produce more natural inflections of speech and to emphasize words and phrases. The speech volume is equivalent to a normal talker speaking at a conversational level.

"Most people can learn to talk with the electronic larynx after a relatively short period of practice, generally about an hour or so," McDonald said. "Further practice enables the user to learn the operation of the pitch control to produce a more natural sounding speech."

This device uses Bell transistors and is powered by self-contained mercury batteries. Battery life ranges up to several months, depending on the amount of use.

The electronic larynx is essentially trouble-free, the manager said. Each new unit carries a one-year guarantee against manufacturing defects. After the guarantee period has expired, Western Electric will repair the unit at a small, non-profit cost.

McDonald said telephone company representatives will be trained to demonstrate the electronic larynx to interested persons.

GULF GULFTANE in 25 words or less!
LP-GAS BUTANE PROPANE

HURRY! LAST DAYS TO ENTER!

"Dependable, clean, and efficient." This is a brief but accurate description of Gulfane LP-Gas. But you can describe Gulfane fuel even better—and you have up to 25 words to do it! And a chance to win a winter's supply of Gulfane fuel!

No cost to enter—no obligation. Here's how—and good luck!

Tips to help you win

- There just isn't any fuel cleaner, more modern than Gulfane LP-Gas. It's healthful, even heat—no fumes, soot or oily film to cling to walls, woodwork and curtains.
- To heat with Gulfane LP-Gas for a whole winter, simply light your automatic heater, turn one knob, set one dial—and forget it.
- Also, Gulfane gives you oceans of hot water because modern gas water heaters deliver three times as much 160° F. hot water as the larger electric water heaters.
- All these advantages can be yours with Gulfane LP-Gas wherever you live. You have your own fuel supply to keep you snug and happy, even in "lines down" weather.
- It costs only pennies a day to heat with Gulfane fuel. There's no better way to enjoy clean, healthful, automatic heating without fuss or muss.
- If you think Gulfane is LP-Gas, bottled gas, propane or butane, you're almost right. The difference is the guaranteed quality, purity and dependability of Gulfane fuel.
- No other kind of fuel will heat your home, cook your meals, heat your water, dry your clothes, burn your garbage, warm baby chicks, and power your tractor. Why should anyone use anything but Gulfane LP-Gas?
