Congolese Troops Seize Radio Station After U.N. Withdrawal

Kasavubu, Lumumba $52,039 Higher Than Last Year Both Claim Victory

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
United Press International
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Congolese troops took over the Leopoldville radio station today after a sudden withdrawal of United Nations forces. It was not known immediately whether the troops acted for Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu or Premier Patrice Lumumba. The move came after the United Nations announced that it had reopened all airports in the Congo to "normal traffic" and was permitting "normal broadcasting" over the national radio station.

A Ghana officer of the U.N. force rushed excitedly up to a Bolikango aide and cried, "Please get him out of here if you want to save his life. The officer wants to arrest him."

City Budget Of $1,623,000 Submitted For Hearing Today

A proposed city budget of $1,623,000 for 1960-61 was aired in public today before a sparse crowd which had no dissenting opinions. The budget for 1959-60, August through August, was $1,570,961. Following the hearing, Mayor Ed Myatt announced that the first reading of the ordinance to legalize the budget will be read at the meeting next Tuesday. It also is expected that the tax rate ordinance covering the proposed $1.50 rate, which will show a drop of two cents, will be heard the same day. This budget includes the $1,389,850 general fund, library fund, debt service and the like. One question was raised by Lynn Boyd, a visitor, who queried the commission on the status of delinquent taxes. He was answered by City Attorney Robert E. Gordon, who said that suits have been filed against all persons and firms owing $10 or more in city taxes for the past two years. The only other question raised came from a woman who asked about funds for streets. Mayor Myatt, as he has in the past, explained that such funds are an obligation of the people, but that the city enters into such projects, paying 25 per cent of front streets and 40 per cent of side streets. "You work up a project plan with the property owners and come to see us. I'm quite sure that we can then work something out to help you one day or another," said Myatt. The comparatively short but busy meeting opened with an invocation by the Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who was "just visiting." The final reading of the paving contract, which will permit the city to enter into a pact with Ray Boswell Co. for paving of streets, and parts of streets was read by Commissioner James Crawford, accepting the chore as a favor to Mayor Myatt, who is suffering with hay fever. This pact, for $26,828, is above the estimated figure of $23,944.28 prepared by City Engineer Monroe Moore. Of this increase, Moore said, the cost to property owners involved in the paving project will be only $1,000. (See SUBMITTED, Page 3)

27 Dead In U.S.

Hurricane Breaks Up

BOSTON (UPI)—Tropical storm Donna lost hurricane force today and broke up over the Atlantic. The dying hurricane plunged across New England Monday night in a final orgy of destruction after a 3,000-mile rampage, which left at least 144 dead. Donna is no longer a hurricane and has passed out of the United States," the Boston Weather Bureau said in a 2 a.m. EDT bulletin on the storm, which piled up millions of dollars in damage. Twenty-seven of the dead were in the United States where the storm's trail of destruction stretched from Florida through New England. Scores of coastal towns were shattered and thousands of workers waded into the shambles today in a gigantic cleanup job, hampered by fallen trees and power lines and flooded streets and roads. Donna's winds diminished to 50 miles per hour as she swirled past Caribou, Maine, today, considerably weaker than the 160-mile gusts which raked the Caribbean and the Atlantic Coast during the past 10 days. An advisory from the Boston Weather Bureau early today said winds should continue to decrease during the morning. The storm was headed in a northeasterly course after leaving Maine. Florida was hardest hit by the shrieking winds with 11 dead and damage which could exceed $1 billion. Five persons died in New Jersey and New York state and three in North Carolina. Puerto Rico, where the storm struck Sept. 4 two days after it was spawned in the South Atlantic, counted 106 dead, and 10 others died in the Leeward Islands. Donna swept across Long Island Monday, causing record tides that flooded buildings and subways, and then smashed into Connecticut and New England before finally heading out to sea. Electric service was disrupted to more than a million residents

Texans Plan To Protest Oil Reduction Proposal

KILGORE, Tex. (UPI)—Hundreds of East Texans will converge on Austin for a railroad commission hearing, Tuesday, Sept. 20, to protest a proposal that might cut-area oil production in half. John W. Ford, a Kilgore attorney named as spokesman for the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce, said "we plan to flood Austin with protesting citizens. The citizens are fearful of the results of transfer allowable proposals of two major oil companies which could close down over half the 19,000 wells in the East Texas oil field. Separate proposals of Atlantic and Tidewater Oil Companies are docketed for the hearing. Each would permit operators to produce the allowable of several non-marginal wells from one well. Atlantic's plan could shut-in seven wells out of eight on a lease, and Tidewater could permit one well to produce for two others. "Either proposal would be a staggering blow to this area's economy," Ford said, "and in my opinion, both are illegal."

Mystery Sub Paces Russ Ship Baltika

LONDON (UPI) — The British Admiralty disclosed today that an unidentified submarine was sighted Monday "in the vicinity" of the Soviet ship Baltika which is carrying Premier Nikita Khrushchev to New York. The underwater craft was believed by some observers to be Russian—an escort to replace the two Soviet destroyers which left the Baltika after accompanying it from the Baltic Sea into the English Channel. A spokesman said the sub was spotted in the channel, but would not reveal the exact time or location of the sighting. British press photographic planes made numerous passes over the Baltika when it passed Land's End to leave the channel and head into the Atlantic.

Bolikango announced that warrants were out for the arrest of Lumumba and "his accomplices." When he was inside broadcasting, a company of regular Congolese soldiers arrived, surrounded part of the building and set up machine gun positions. Bolikango said they were reinforcements he had called. At another point, he hinted that many of the troops were favorable to Lumumba but that he had won them around. But Bolikango was barred on his return two hours later. This was considered an indication that the troops at the radio station favored Lumumba. Bolikango admitted to newsmen that "we do not have the military situation entirely in hand." Lumumba talked his way out of one arrest Monday. Today, heavy troop guards surrounded his official residence but Bolikango claimed Lumumba was in hiding. A U.N. spokesman said the orders reopening the airports and radio station went into effect this morning. The decision to lift the bans on use of the airports and the national radio came as Lumumba hinted he might seek Soviet support to retain control. It came also as the African republic of Ghana threatened to pull its 3,000 men out of the U.N. force and use them to support Lumumba's shaky government. The United Arab Republic made a similar threat about its 500 soldiers in the U.N. contingent. The U.N. will continue to retain control of the airports and presumably will continue to prevent troop movements which might promote civil strife. The U.N. spokesman said a "cease-fire" was still in effect in the Kasai and Katanga provincial border area, where U.N. truce observers reported everything quiet. Lumumba tried twice to broadcast in the last two days, but was turned back from the building at gunpoint by Ghana U.N. troops on both occasions. Lumumba slipped out of arrest by Kasavubu forces Monday after being held for three hours, and then fired off a series of cables to the United Nations and a number of African governments asking for military aid.

Helium Bill Signed Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today signed a $500 million helium conservation bill. The measure was passed in the dying hours of the session after a stormy journey through the congress. Under the bill, the Department of Interior is authorized to enter into partnership agreements with private companies for construction of 12 helium extraction plants on natural gas lines. The helium will then be transported to underground storage facilities near Amarillo, Tex. Sens. John A. Carroll, D., and Gordon Allott, R., both of Colorado, led the fights for and against the legislation. Finally, however, Carroll agreed to the bill after Allott accepted an amendment postponing the effective date until next March. This will give Congress more time to improve the legislation, Carroll contended. Reports on the bill indicated initial costs might run as high as $255 million; and that over the 25 year life of the act up to $500 million, including interest charges.

Jet-Age Campaigners Make Pitches In Texas

By United Press International
The jet-age presidential campaigners zipped through the West today appealing for votes with two quite different pitches. Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, assured predominantly Protestant Texas that he never would submit to pressure from the Vatican. He was hopeful but not confident that he had stilled the religious issue. Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon moved into the Pacific Northwest asking voters to endorse his "peace without surrender" theme and the "national maturity" of the Eisenhower administration. Kennedy told the Greater Houston, Tex., Ministerial Association Monday night that he would resign the presidency before he would violate his conscience or the national interest on any issue, including birth control, divorce, gambling and other matters on which the Catholic Church holds strong views. Under sometimes critical questioning, the Democratic nominee said he would tell his church it was acting improperly if it ever

Study Of Situation Proposed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Security Council members today considered sending their own subcommittee to the Congo to try to make sense out of the constitutional tangle caused by the feud between rival factions in the African country. The council was not scheduled to meet today but there was a possibility a session might be called on short notice for this afternoon or this evening to hear rival delegates sent by Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu. The nine-nation African group of U.N. members, seriously worried about the anarchy and bloodshed that independence brought to the Congo, scheduled a session to discuss the plan for a subcommittee investigation at the scene. Lack of instructions from the foreign offices of one or more of the major powers was understood to be a faction delaying council action. As far as could be determined, no delegation had come up yet with a proposed resolution on what direction the Security Council should take next. The council met for only 15 minutes late Monday. U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, immediately proposed adjournment on the ground the council could do nothing with the situation so confused.

Defense Department Checks On Defectors

By CHARLES CORDRY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department is conducting its own inquiry into the case of two U.S. code clerks who defected to Russia. Named to head the investigation was Lt. Gen. Joseph F. Carroll, Air Force inspector general. Carroll is a former FBI agent who helped break up the Roger Touhy gang in Chicago and once served as assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Two congressional investigations already have been announced. A House armed services subcommittee will start closed-door hearings Thursday and the Complete brake service, wheels balanced, Bear equipment used. Pampa Safety Lane, 411 S. Cuyler. Adv.

Teacher Reception Planned Monday

House Committee on Un-American Activities begins an inquiry Friday. The department said Monday that Bernon F. Mitchell, one of the turncoats, admitted before being employed by the National Security Agency (NSA) that he had engaged in "abnormal sexual practices" while in his teens. But, it added, the investigators concluded this aberration was a thing of the past and was not grounds for turning him down for employment as a mathematician in the agency where he was cleared for access to certain secret material. Mitchell was 28 when he was hired in 1957. Like William H. Martin, the other defector, he had served three years in the Navy and received an honorable discharge. Adv.

Authority Calls Election

The board of directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority yesterday in Plainview called for an authority-wide election Nov. 22 at which time voters in the 11-member cities will be asked to approve a repayment contract between the authority and the federal government. Most member cities are expected to call an election on the same date to ask voters to approve a water purchase contract between individual cities and the authority.

Vaccines Won't Keep

is maintaining huge stocks of polio vaccine which represent potential protection against this dread disease for millions of children and adults. "In spite of the fact that little vaccine is being used at present, we feel a continuing obligation to be prepared for sudden increases in demand resulting from threats of epidemic." Beesley explained that vaccine not used within a six-month period must be destroyed and then replaced with fresh stocks at the drug companies' own expense. "During the past five years we have had to destroy the incredible total of more than 14,500,000 shots of outdated polio vaccine, vaccine which was produced with costly and painstaking care," he said. "This may or may not be 'good business,' as that term of normality is used, but it is the kind of obligation which, as a pharmaceutical company, we accept."

Drug Firm Official Cites Operation Costs

By NORMAN G. CORNISH
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A major U.S. drug firm told Senate investigators today it had to destroy an "incredible total" of more than 14,500,000 shots of polio vaccine which became outdated. The disclosure came in prepared testimony by Eugene N. Beesley, president of Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, before the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee. The group is headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn. Beesley cited the destruction of the polio vaccine, covering a period of five years, as an example of the unusual costs which drug companies have to bear. "Ethical pharmaceutical manufacturers accept a greater burden of responsibility than most other manufacturers," he said. "At this moment, for example, Lilly

U.S. Files Race Suit In Memphis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government today filed a civil rights suit in Memphis, charging that businessmen in Haywood County, Tennessee, have used economic pressure to prevent Negroes from registering to vote. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers announced filing of the complaint in U.S. district court at Memphis against 27 individuals and two banks. They were charged with violating the Civil Rights Act of 1957. The action was the first suit of its kind brought under a section of the Civil Rights Act barring the use of economic intimidation or coercion for the purpose of interfering with the right to vote for candidates for federal offices. Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

In a push-button cold war, the Soviets apparently have punched the button labelled "Berlin". The heat is on the divided city again in a move which seems more than coincidentally timed with Nikita Khrushchev's arrival for the opening session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

Berlin is one of the oldest of the cold war problems. When Khrushchev steps ashore from the Soviet ship Baltika in New York next week, it will be almost a year to the day since his last U.N. appearance in which he demanded "general and complete disarmament" within four years.

It was also in September of last year, during a temporary cold war thaw, that President Eisenhower and Khrushchev announced in a joint communique they had agreed to reopen negotiations on Berlin "with a view to achieving a solution in the interest of the maintenance of the peace."

That hope went back into the deep freeze at Paris last May. September anniversaries on the Berlin question go back at least 10 years.

On Sept. 14, 1950, the United States, Britain and France found it necessary to warn the Soviet Union that they would "treat any attack against the Federal Republic (of West Germany) of Berlin from any quarter as an attack upon themselves."

On Sept. 20, 1955, the Soviets announced they were granting "sovereignty" to East Germany and turning over to the East Germans control of traffic to and from West Berlin, except for U.S., British and French military.

The 1950 and 1955 dates established the pattern which has been in effect ever since and is the key to today's developing emergency.

Once again, by interference with Western traffic to West Berlin and by demanding special passes for West Germans seeking to enter East Berlin, the Communists are attempting to assert their control over the entire city. But there is a difference, and perhaps a healthy one.

The Allies have reminded Khrushchev and East Germany that they too, can retaliate. The first step was to impose restrictions on East Germans seeking travel to the West. The next might be a boycott on goods shipped to trade-hungry East Germany.

Can't Match His Stride

A would-be burglar ran a foot race with a Pampa policeman early Monday morning and won, but not before the officer chased him through dark areas, over fences, and in a hide-and-seek run between buildings.

Patrolman Jerold Clark was making a routine check of the Utility Oil Supply building at 501 W. Brown when he spotted a pane broken in a window of the firm's office. Clark flashed his spotlight on the area and the intended burglar suddenly raced from the shadows of a large elm tree, heading through the gates of the nearby Gulf Oil property.

Clark did not have time to radio for help, so he set out after the man alone.

The race was in complete darkness and the man with burglary in mind took a tumble just before he scaled the fence, but Clark took a fall at the same spot and the fleeing man sped on into the darkness and freedom.

Thieves Take 3 Watches

Thieves again have taken advantage of an unlocked door in a Pampa home to gain entry and make away with their loot. Police Chief Jim Conner said today.

Mrs. Nina Sponemore, 1200 Hamilton, notified police that sometime between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. Sunday, three women's watches were taken from a dressing table in her home, and that entry had been gained through an unlocked rear door.

Chief Conner noted that this is the second time in the past month that such a burglary had been reported, and cautioned residents to be sure doors of their homes are locked before leaving.

"If residents will lock their doors when they leave their homes they will be helping protect themselves and, at the same time, helping us in the elimination of these deeds," said the chief.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Miss American 1961, a brown-haired, 18-year-old Michigan beauty, donned her crown in New York today happy that if she had to be Miss America, it was this year and not next.

Nancy Anne Fleming of Montague, Mich., only a few months out of high school, said she still plans to enter Michigan State University after her reign is over next year to study home economics and journalism.

She said she felt missing out on college this year was better than having college interrupted once she had started.

Miss Fleming was chosen, over 53 other contestants at the annual pageant in Atlantic City, N. J., Saturday night.

The new Miss America is 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 116 pounds and measures 35-22-35. She succeeds Lynda Lee Mead of Mississippi, Miss America 1960.

Along with the title she won a $10,000 scholarship and the expectation of earning up to $30,000 for appearances and modeling in the next year. The scholarship and the travel were foremost in her mind at her lavish coronation ball. But after the year as Miss America is over, she said she would go back to being Nancy Anne Fleming.

"One year in the public eye is enough for any woman," she said. But she admitted, "It's going to be a little difficult to come down to earth then."

Miss America is the oldest of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Fleming. Her father is Michigan representative for a Pennsylvania manufacturing concern.

Dear Abby...
Abby Advises To Find "A Live One"
 ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 51 years old and have had a few dates with a widow woman who is a little bit older. I tried to put my arm around her and she stopped me—saying it wouldn't be fair to her husband who has been dead for 21 years. I don't expect her to forget him altogether as I wouldn't want my wife, who has been dead for 9 years to forget me, but my questions is, hasn't she waited long enough? Also, should I keep trying?

BART: DEAR BART: This woman is living with a memory, and apparently she likes it that way. If you are looking for a nice sisterly companion, she'll do. But if you have other ideas, you'd better find a live one.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you said some of the new hair-do's looked like an "unmade Army cot". There are five of us guys here on Guam who want to know how YOU would know what an unmade Army cot looks like.

SNOOPY: DEAR SNOOPY: My husband was in the Infantry in World War Two, and he described it to me.

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting a baby soon. If it's a boy I would like to name him after my husband, whose name is Bill. The only trouble is that there are so many Bills in our family already. My father's name is Bill and my small brother's name is Bill. My husband's father is also Bill and there are three cousins named Bill. All the Bills are not called Bill. There is "Little Bill" (my Bill) and "Billy Boy" (my kid brother) and "Big Bill" (my father-in-law), so I would appreciate your opinion on this matter. Thank you.

PAULA: DEAR PAULA: If you want to name your baby after your husband, go ahead and name him "Just Plain Bill". Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: The TV set is our problem. Now don't get me wrong. We have a TV, too, and we enjoy it, but when somebody walks in, we turn it off. When we drop in on our friends they have their TV going full blast and no one makes a move to turn it off. So you try to talk over it and that isn't easy. Your friends have one eye on the TV and one ear on what you are saying. This sometimes goes on for 2 or 3 programs. How can we handle this problem without hurting anybody's feelings?

STILL FRIENDS: DEAR STILL: Call in advance and make a definite date to visit friends—then you won't run the risk of conflicting with their favorite TV programs. People who "drop in" have no right to expect undivided attention.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Parents And Teachers Role In Child's Life Pointed Out In PTA Devotional

"The Book of Wisdom or God's Chosen Word" was the topic of Mrs. B. J. Spradlin's devotional at the first meeting of Hopkins PTA held Thursday evening. "The Bible is the story of man's complete ruin in sin and the perfect remedy in Christ," said Mrs. Spradlin. "Our school teachers and parents are interested in helping our children acquire more knowledge. We should also help them acquire more wisdom." She reminded members that as parents and as teachers "we should never leave out the most important book, the Book of Wisdom—God's Holy Bible."

In the business meeting, Mrs. Monroe Finney was elected president to succeed Mrs. C. H. Williams who has moved from the community. The new vice-president is Mrs. J. M. McCracken. Mrs. H. L. Harrington reported that the PTA's goal for this year is Savings Stamps. "They will be sold to the students through each room," she announced. Superintendent Harry L. Garrison introduced the teachers: Mrs. B. B. Palmer, first grade, Mrs. Jerry Jacobs, second grade, Mrs. Ida M. Fuqua, third grade, Mrs. Marguerite Cleghorn, fourth grade, Mrs. Paul Keim, fifth grade, Mrs. Bill McGowan, sixth grade, and Mr. T. J. Adkins, seventh grade. Other guests introduced were J. M. McCracken, president of the school board, Howard Brown, vice-president, and Monroe Finney, a member.

The fourth grade won the room award by having the most parents present at the meeting.

Mrs. B. B. Palmer won a cake that was given as a door prize.

"Back To School" Party Given By Miss Kim Wilson

A group of school friends met Saturday evening for a "back to school" party given on the patio at the home of Miss Kim Wilson, 2145 Chestnut.

A Scavenger Hunt and dance comprised the evening's entertainment.

The evening was climaxed by the lighting of candles on a birthday cake to celebrate the hostess' thirteenth birthday. The white sheet cake, decorated with pink roses, was centered with a teenage, pony-tail figurine listening to a miniature record-player.

Guests attending were Misses Karen and Kerrick Warner, Doris Jones, Janie Leverich, Molly Gunter, Frances Holt, Jane Hendrix, Carolyn Tribble, Sandra Biard, Linda Cox, Sandra Bowen, LuRae Nation, Cheryl Ammerman, Cheryl Doster Paula Sealey, Sandy Jones, Judy Robinson, Julie Hofsess, Sandy Tompson, Leslie Watkins; Jane Wells, Suzanne Johnson, Sandy Tompson, Leslie Watkins; Also, Billy Kuhn, Price Dostier, Fred Vanderburg, Danny Walker, Louis Cleveland, Mark Westbrook, Bill McKinney, Dwayne Sanders, Greg Dalton, John Fite, Jim Thompson, George Cree, Richard Fatheree, Bud Jack, Dean Evans, Bill Henry, Keith Griffith, Phil Davis, McDaniel, Sam Williams, Bill Henry, Keith Griffith, Phil Hall and Hank Henry.

Young Group Has Hamburger Fry

Episcopal Young Churchmen met recently for a Hamburger Fry in the home of Bobby Fugate, 1830 N. Faulkner, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fugate, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ragsdale as hosts.

The party was formed around a beatnik theme. After being maneuvered into teams by a "count down" and the call of "Itsy Bitsy Yellow Poles Do Bimini," a Scavenger Hunt was held with Team II coming in as the winner.

Hamburgers, baked beans, potato salad and cold drinks, homemade chocolate ice cream and German Chocolate cake was served. Members and guests attending were Fred Tinsley, Katy Ledrick Sheila Earnest, Paulett Hinton, Curtis Scoggins, Drake Ward, Patti Bridges, Sharland Reeves, Mike Wise, Diane Reid, Judy Watkins, Marieka Lang, Johnny Elder, David Fain, Dan Foster, Billy Ragsdale, Richard Ellis, Sandy Neel, Peggy Ragsdale, Timmy West and Kathy Dailey.

Recent Bride Is Feted At Shower

Mrs. Douglas H. Luedecke, nee Sami Sue Cook, was complimented with a post nuptial shower Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. R. Campbell with Mmes. Carlton Nance, Hugh Shotwell, Frank Shotwell, Chet Henry, Chester Thompson and J. M. Fitzgerald as hostesses. Mmes. Hugh and Frank Shotwell presided at the guest register. The honoree was presented with a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Sam B. Cook, bride's mother and Mrs. Earnest Luedecke, "bridegroom's" mother, wore corsages ages fashioned from white carnations.

The refreshment table was covered with a pink linen, gold-thread cloth centered with an arrangement of pink Asters and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Carlton Nance presided at the punch service; Mrs. Fitzgerald served cake. Approximately 60 guests attended or sent gifts.

FIRST HINGED TAU—The world's first cargo plane with a swing tail is being built by Canadair in Montreal and is expected to go into service in 1961. Purpose of the turbo-prop's unusual feature is to allow straight-in loading of the plane's 33 tons of cargo. Company officials say this cuts loading time from five hours to one hour.

Campaign In Quotes

Vice President Richard M. Nixon (on NBC-TV, Meet The Press): "I believe that it would be tragic... for this election to be determined primarily, or even substantially, on religious grounds."

"I have no doubt whatever about Senator Kennedy's loyalty to his country and about the fact that he would put the Constitution of the United States above any other considerations."

"I believe that he as a member of Congress has followed this standard. I believe he would follow that standard as president. I don't believe, in other words, there is a religious issue as far as Senator Kennedy is concerned."

"We are stronger militarily, economically, overall in science, over-all in education (than the Soviet Union)."

"I think that as far as defense spending is concerned that we would all agree that we have to spend what is necessary. This doesn't mean that we give the services a blank check."

"The moment you in effect have the federal government paying our teachers in whole or in part, in our public schools, you inevitably give to the federal government the power to set standards for teachers and to control what is taught — to tell them what (to be) taught."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (statement issued in San Diego, Calif., in response to Nixon's suggestion to fix a cut-off date on debate of religion): "I wish we could cut off debate on this subject right now. I think we'd all be better off. How could we possibly improve on the Constitution?"

(Also at San Diego: "We lack the invulnerable retaliatory capacity necessary to insure successful deterrence of growing Soviet strength when our country faces its greatest military peril since Valley Forge.")

Integration Move By Two Cities

TEXAS CITY (UPI)—Lunch counters in most department and variety stores in Texas City and La Marque today were opened for the first time on a non-segregated basis.

Integration of the lunch counters in the two neighboring cities was announced by the Rev. J. Allen Smith, pastor of the La Marque Presbyterian Church and chairman of a ministers' committee. The committee, made up of both white and Negro ministers, held a series of conferences with store managers in both cities to work out the integration plan.

'K' Claims Popularity As Speaker

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is being bombarded by radio messages from the United States asking him to make public appearances while in New York, including some television dates, Tass news agency reported today.

Tass said "numerous" messages were being received by the Baltika, which today left the fog-bound English Channel and entered the open Atlantic on its way to the United Nations session starting Sept. 20.

The dispatch did not name any of the message senders or say whether the premier has decided to accept any invitations. But it concluded that Khrushchev "has still more matters to attend to" in New York than his assembly appearance.

A Tass correspondent aboard the Baltika said the weather had turned "fine and sunny" and that Khrushchev and other Communist leaders aboard "are working and feeling fine."

"Fresh breeze from the ocean was felt," said the correspondent. "The sharp wind tears white flashes of water from the ocean."

White Deer, Miami, Shamrock Hope To Retain Win Skeins

White Deer's Bucks will face Le-fors Friday night on the Buck field in quest of their third win this season.

This is one of the five games in the area and rates top billing following the Bucks' sloshing past Canadian last week, 14-0, in ankle deep mud. It set back the hopes of the losers for a possible unbeaten year, and solidly established the Bucks as a threat to all teams they encounter this season.

Perryton Rangers of Class 5AA after an opening victory over Gruber, seek win No. two in a clash with Canyon on the last named field. This one has been awaited with eagerness by both squads and should prove interesting.

Another contest of interest this week is the Canadian-Shamrock tilt on the Irish field.

Coach Grady Burnett's Canadian crew, smarting from the shut-out at White Deer will be out to regain winning stride, and will be seeking a dry field so that its passing attack can function with more accuracy than it did last week.

Shamrock, which leveled two old foes in two outings, is showing far more form than was expected.

Coach Bill Hines of the Miami Warriors, with a hustling eight-man unit going for him, expects to have his tomahawks at full strength for the tussle with Mo-beerie.

Miami has easily won its first two starts, its latest victim was Lakeview, (28-0) the club that stepped down from 11-man play at the end of the 1959 season.

McLean, looking 100 percent better against Wheeler than it did in its opening clash with Shamrock, tries winless Groom on the Groom field.

Just what Coach Cliff Bradshaw did to shake up his Tiger unit after the fiasco with the Irish has not been fully aired. But it worked and that's what counts — he got the victory he was looking for and may have a rougher team for the opponents from here on out.

The sixth game sees Wheeler on the road to Erick. This one Wheeler hopes to win to set it for the coming clash with Canadian, Sept. 23.

Quarterback Woes Hit Steers; Cotton Is Out

By United Press International

Coach Darrell Royal is worried today his Texas Longhorns may have to open their football season this weekend with a makeshift quarterback.

Royal wasn't the only coach around the Southwest Conference singing the blues, but he may be warbling the loudest.

Mike Cotton, the Steers' top signal-caller, was on the sidelines with a pulled muscle in his right leg. It was injured Saturday in a conditioning scrimmage, and Royal said the injury wasn't responding to treatment.

Reserve quarterback Roger Rienstra definitely will miss the opener against Nebraska because of a badly injured hand.

"I didn't realize how serious (the quarterback) situation was until now," Royal said. He added that unless Cotton comes around quickly, he may have to return James Saxton, a reserve quarterback in 1956, to the helm from his present spot as right halfback on the second unit.

Meanwhile, at Arkansas, Coach Frank Broyles said a fight for offensive center has developed between Billy Gramlich, a senior, and sophomore Jerry Lineberger and Brend Shinnell.

Gramlich was considered a sure bet as the starter after spring training, but didn't participate in heavy contact until last Saturday. All three are recovering from injuries, and Broyles said it will take a "couple of games" to determine who will get the job permanently.

The Razorbacks will practice in Fayetteville through Thursday, then leave for Hot Springs for drills on Friday before their opener Saturday with Oklahoma State at neutral Little Rock.

Coach Jim Myers, whose Texas Aggies open this weekend against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, wasn't a bit optimistic after Monday's workouts.

"They didn't even practice like they planned to play football anytime soon," Myers said.

The Aggies boned up on Tiger offenses, and brushed up their aerial attack with quarterbacks Powell Berry and Ronne Brice working the patterns.

Picket Line Guests Trip The 'Expert'

The "expert" lost in a tight fit with "those other two" in the first picket line of the year.

Society Editor Doris Wilson finished with seven winners, as did Jim Lacy, the managing editor. The pro (how) posted six correct.

Doris had two good reasons for her selections, she said. She'd heard the boys on the teams she selected were good to their mothers, and thought their uniform colors were "just darling."

Lacy, though, went down the line with "form selections," to gain a tie.

Doris had Big Spring, Shamrock, McLean, Miami, Odessa Berger and Arlington Heights in the victory column, while Lacy won with White Deer, Miami, McLean, Palo Duro, Stinnett, Perryton and Monterey.

The fellow who is supposed to know, on the other hand, won with Miami, Palo Duro, Eastern Hills, Stinnett, Perryton and Monterey.

Thursday the Picket Line will be published for this week's games. We'll have two new opponents, and hope we can come off better against them.

Q-Backs Due Film, Ysleta Data Tonight

Films of the Big Spring - Harvester tilt and scouting reports on Ysleta's Indians will be the features of the Pampa High Quarter-back Club meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the High School cafeteria, Sharon Haralson, president of the club, announced.

Another feature of the night will be selection of a honorary five-man coaching staff from the quarter-backs' ranks. Also to be discussed is arrangements for a charter but to Ft. Worth and the Arlington Heights-Harvester tilt, Sept. 24.

Women's Golf Tournament Pairings Listed; Play Set

Pairings for the Pampa Ladies Golf Association Tournament were announced yesterday by Mrs. Melvin Watkins, an official of the association.

Mrs. Watkins said that some of the matches were expected to be played today, but that a majority will be contested Thursday when the association will meet for luncheon and Panhandle Day activities.

All flights are match play except the championship bracket which will pit Lila and Shirley Austin, Jean Duengel and Mary Crocker in medal play.

Colville Grabs Mixed Loop Lead

Harvester Bowl's Mixed League action last week saw J. L. Colville pulled to undisputed possession of first place with an 8-0 mark.

Triple Tire and Team No. 9 took team scoring honors with 674 and 1896.

Bob Gault posted highs of 233 and 572 for men participants, while Marge Bourland had a high single game of 193 and Ruth Blumer a 482 series to lead the women entrants.

Curfman Seeks Weight In Line

Coach Babe Curfman said this morning that he may make some changes in his starting lineup for Friday night's contest with the bulky Ysleta Indians.

"We're seeking left in the forward wall. We plan at least two shifts, at present, and there may be more," said Curfman.

Randy Matson and Corky Godfrey, two of the heavier ends, may bet the starting call, the Coach pointed out.

Matson, the Harvester kick-off specialist, looms as a replacement for Jimmy Boyles at strong end, while Godfrey may get the call over Roy Dyer at wide end.

"We'll know more about it after practice this afternoon," said Curfman.

Yesterday, the team worked on some "new stuff" and brushed up on its offense.

One of the sparklers of the initial contest was Gerald Been. This is the boy who forced two fumbles on kickoffs with two-tooth-rattling tackles, and Curfman said he'd use for more work.

"Any boy who hustles as that kid does deserves a chance to play, and he's going to get it," said the coach.

DEFEND WORLD TITLE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australia will rely upon a relatively new team to defend its world amateur golf team championship at the Merion Golf Club, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 28 through Oct. 1.

Bruce W. Devlin is the only veteran of the 1959 team.

Dick Stuart carried the load for Pittsburgh by blasting his 20th homer in the fourth inning with a man aboard. He added a single and a triple and Smoky Burgess had three safeties to lead the Pirates' 16-hit attack on four Giant pitchers.

Haddix was aiming for his first shutout of the year when Jim Davenport singled and Orlando Cepeda doubled to ruin his bid in the ninth inning. Starter Jack Sanford was tagged for his 12th loss as the Pirates beat the Giants for the seventh straight time.

Spahn handcuffed the Cardinals with seven hits and moved within one triumph of his fifth straight 20-game victory season. The win elevated Milwaukee to one percentage point in back of second-place St. Louis in what may be shaping up as a battle for the runner-up spot in the NL.

Class AA Games Pair Strong Units

By United Press International

A clash between two high-scoring Central Texas powers, Gatesville and Hamilton, highlights this week's Class AA schoolboy football slate.

The two teams, neither of which received much pre-season notice, have bowled over two foes in impressive fashion with Gatesville running up an 81-8 margin over Lampasas and Waco Midway and Hamilton piling up a 100-12 edge over Goldthwaite and Glen Rose.

Their emergence on the scene shares the spotlight with the already-touted prowess of another Central Texas entry — Taylor, which has brushed past Gonzales 53-18 and Belton 38-21.

Taylor tackles Lockhart this week, but should have little trouble building up its scoring average.

Brady, the 1959 state finalist which was awarded the state title after Stamford was declared ineligible, also is coming along. The Bulldogs get a real test this week when they meet Winters.

Other top games this week include Stinnett at Dalhart, Navasota at Bellville, Edna at Bay City, Pearsall at Freer and Sinton at Robstown.

KNICKS PLAYER RETIRES

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Gardner, backcourt star for the New York Knickerbockers, has decided to retire from the National Basketball Association after five seasons. He has notified the Knicks. He will devote full time to his insurance business in Minneapolis.

BILLS DROP PLAYER

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League have released veteran linebacker Sam Palumbo. Buffalo coach Buster Ramsey said, "Sam is a fine boy, but he's lost the speed necessary for pro ball."

JUDAS' COMPULSION—Actor Rip Torn brings the stimulation of psychoanalysis to his role of Judas in the "King of Kings." In preparation for the betrayer's role, Torn consulted one of the original students of Freud on what—besides the infamous 30 pieces of silver—compelled Judas to betray Christ.

Campaign In Quotes

By United Press International
Sen. John F. Kennedy (to Greater Houston, Tex., Ministerial Association):

"Whatever issue may come before me as president — on birth control, divorce, censorship, gambling or any other subject — I will make my decision in accordance with what my conscience tells me to be in the national interest and without regard to outside religious pressures or dictates. And no power or threat of punishment could cause me to decide otherwise.

"But if the time should ever come — and I do not concede any conflict to be even remotely possible — when my office would require me to either violate my conscience or violate the national interest, then I would resign the office.

"Because I am a Catholic and no Catholic has ever been elected president, the real issues in this campaign have been obscured — perhaps deliberately, in some quarters less responsible than this.

"If my church attempted to influence me in a way which I considered improper, I would reply to them that this was an improper action on their part — one to which I could not subscribe.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon (to President Eisenhower before departing on a 15-state campaign swing):

"The Nixon-Lodge ticket hopes to be able to conduct this campaign in a way that will meet the high standards you have set for political candidates in 1952-1956.

(To Indianapolis Rally): Voters must base their presidential selection on whether the candidate is "qualified by experience and background to keep the peace for America without surrender and to extend freedom throughout the world."

lke, Herter May Speak To U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter both are expected to address the United Nations in a move to counter any propaganda offensive by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President and Herter discussed strategy Monday. Officials said they may agree eventually on a plan calling for Herter to address the U.N. General Assembly on Sept. 22, the day before Khrushchev appears, and for Eisenhower to speak after the Soviet premier leaves New York.

Herter was reported to be drafting a major foreign policy speech.

Liquor Charges Against Three

Three persons have entered not guilty pleas to charges placed against them in Gray County Court by Clyde Crain, liquor control board investigator.

Octave Evans of Amarillo, was charged with possession of beer in a wet area for Sunday sale, and his bond was set at $500.

The other two, Roy Edwards and Linda Edwards, both of 704 Malone, were charged with liquor sale without a permit, and possession of liquor in a wet area for legal Sunday sale, respectively. Each was placed on a $500 bond.

Kotara was arrested by State Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthorn at 12:20 a.m. yesterday on Highway 60, west of Pampa.

Another drunk driving not guilty plea was received in the case of Thomas C. Phillips of Skellytown. Phillips was arrested at 3 a.m. Saturday at Hobart and Wilks by city police. His bond also was set at $500 by Gray County Judge Bill Craig.

Nine Negroes In Houston Schools

HOUSTON (UPI)—A total of nine Negroes have now entered Houston first grade classes since integration began last week.

Three Negro children were admitted Monday to the schools. They were Anthony C. Massie, who entered Kashmere Gardens School, and Susan Denis Ross and Burnell Elaine Ross, who went to Betsy Ross Elementary School.

Negro first graders now attending previously all-white grade schools include four at Kashmere Gardens, four at Betsy Ross and one at MacGregor.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fidel Castro's Cuba is inviting the United Nations to give the United States a hotfoot, and this may be merely a Cuban prank or a bit of global Communist strategy.

U.N. members. The other 19 are committed this year to Chile. They urged Cuba to wait until 1961.

United Press International reported that Castro stood pat for 1960 and was believed to be expecting Communist and some Asian-African help in defeating Chile. The election of Cuba would be more than merely painful to the United States, and it would do more than merely slip a Security Council ace up Nikita Khrushchev's sleeve.

The election would signify and identify a voting bloc in the U.N. Assembly which surely would have to be counted as anti-American, pro-Communist and menacing to the free way of life. The attention of U.S. citizens abruptly would be directed to the United Nations. Many and perhaps a majority of Americans surely would be astonished by what a close-up of the United Nations disclosed.

It would disclose a membership of 97 nations. There were 51 original members in 1945. Citizens here and elsewhere might be even more astonished on reading the fine print identifying some of the nations with which the United States maintains a United Nations co-partnership, each being, in the assembly, precisely equal in privileges to speak and to vote.

Treat Mom -- Protect Baby

A new service is now available to busy Pampa mothers. It is the Baby's Diaper Service, 916 W. Wilks, owned and operated by Lance Kenner. The service is as near to you as your telephone — just dial MOhawk 5-4512 and a representative will call on you to explain how this new service operates.

Baby's Diaper Service is not a luxury. It is as necessary to a modern family with young children as prepared cereals, strained baby foods and vitamins. Washing and drying of diapers at home is a never-ending task. No sooner is the fatiguing, time-consuming drudgery of laundering one day's diapers completed than the next day's work begins. Of course, Baby's Diaper Service eliminates all this drudgery. That's why mother needs our service.

Castro Will Lead Delegates To U.N. Meeting

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro will head the Cuban delegation to the forthcoming session of the United Nations General Assembly, the Cuban government announced today.

He will be accompanied by Foreign Minister Dr. Raul Roa and the head of Castro's agrarian reform program, Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez.

Roa denied earlier today that Russia has submarine bases in Cuba. He said the United States was the only nation with a naval base on Cuban soil.

In a speech to a student mass meeting, Roa referred also to the coming session of the U.N. General Assembly in terms suggesting that Premier Fidel Castro may attend.

Informed U.N. sources said Castro's decision to head the Cuban delegation to the assembly probably would be announced later today.

Roa emphasized the fact that a number of national leaders "from Khrushchev to Nasser" plan to be present during at least part of the assembly session.

He also hinted that Cuba may play a part this year in urging Red China's admission to the United Nations. India, the Asian aggressor's customary sponsor, has announced that it will not repeat its appeal for the admission of the Reds.

October Draft Quota Is 450. AUSTIN (UPI)—State Selective Service officials today announced an October draft quota of 450 men, all of whom will be inducted into the U.S. Army.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director, said the October call compares with a September quota of 406 and is part of a national call of 9,000 men. Some 2,000 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in October.

The October call will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on Oct. 1, with the exception of volunteers or draft delinquents, Schwartz said.

TWO WORKERS DROWN. LAREDO (UPI)—Amador Flores and Federico Gutierrez drowned Monday at a sewer lift station near the Rio Grande. They were working on a line that goes 30 feet underground and apparently slipped and fell into five feet of water, where their bodies were found.

Residents of the drydock area were said to have been "advised" to "take a week's vacation" during the unloading.

Informed sources said a special gang was recruited at the longshoremen's hiring hall to handle the round-the-clock job of unloading the 4,000-ton Russian cargo.

Huge crates concealed part of the shipment, while other items were shrouded in canvas. The sources said, however, that visible outlines identified such items as field guns, ammunition and military vehicles.

NOT A LUXURY — Diaper washing creates a never-ending task for mother. She needs our-diaper service. Not only that, but with Baby's Diaper Service, 916 W. Wilks, mother will have more time for keeping the house tidy, preparing meals and caring for baby. This leaves mother more rested, less irritable when dad comes home each evening. So you see, dad Baby's Diaper Service, too.

Ward Catalog Being Sent Out

Montgomery Ward is distributing its biggest catalog since 1949 to local customers and more than 6,000,000 customers across the nation. A G. McComas, manager of the Montgomery Ward store announced today.

The new Fall and Winter catalog has 1,194 pages and weighs 3 1/2 pounds.

Prices for the fall season average about the same as a year ago, McComas said, although there are some up and down variations among the 100,000 merchandise items listed in the new catalog.

Call us for service, Baby's Diaper Service, 916 W. Wilks, MO 5-4512. Let us show how we can save you money and time.

Methodist Lay Leader Named

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—R. Howard Berg, Melbourne, Fla., today began his four-year term as president of the Methodist Church's General Board of Lay Activities.

Berg, among other officers elected by the 41-man board Monday, succeeds Ray H. Nichols, publisher of the Vero Beach, Fla., Daily Record, as head of the group which supervises the church's program of lay activities.

Too Late To Win

"Is it too late to win against Communism?" That enormously potent question is the title of the lead article in the September issue of The Reader's Digest. And the article is condensed from an address made by a true authority—Dr. Charles Malik, former President of the United Nations General Assembly. Dr. Malik begins by briefly citing what Communism has accomplished. It started from zero only 43 years ago, and now controls one-third of the earth's people. It has a superb political organization, skilled to the limit in the techniques of penetration and subversion. Its home country, the Soviet Union, is the second most industrially advanced state in the world. It had no nuclear weapons 10 or 15 years ago—now it has them in abundance. It is always on the offensive, whereas the West is "always on the defensive, always reacting." It has been more effective in presenting its ideology to Asian and African minds than has the West.

So it goes, down a list of Communist triumphs of one kind or another, and a list of Western defeats or losses. In each instance, Dr. Malik asks if all this was inevitable, and if the West was powerless to prevent it. And here he makes a striking statement: "If you believe that they were inevitable—that all these developments could not have been helped—then you are already a Marxist." It is his position that none of the events he describes were inevitable—that all of them could have been prevented or reversed, had the West had the courage, determination and decisiveness to act. And he is equally convinced that we can learn from our errors and weaknesses and, in the immediate future, reverse the trend of the immediate past. Specifically, he states: "Four

Why Our Stand On Unions

We recently had an editorial explaining why we take the stand we do on tax-paid schools. Now we think it might be timely to explain why we take the stand we do on labor unions. The reason for taking the stand on labor unions that we do is the same as the stand we take on tax-paid schools.

Briefly, our stand on labor unions is that we know of no employee who believes it is right and just and fair to do, as an individual, the things that the labor unions require him as a member of the union to do or be a party to.

We know of no worker, as an individual, who would insist that the man below him did not have a right to learn the trade the worker was working at without his consent. Nor would he believe it was right for him to oppose the employer paying another worker whom the employer believed produced more, a higher wage without his consent. Nor would he object to a slow worker working for a lower hourly wage than the efficient worker receives. Nor would he insist on the employer paying for work that already had been done and added nothing to the wealth of the world.

Nor would he believe he was entitled to a job if he did not render as much service as other workers were willing to do the same job for. Nor would he, if there were no unemployed workers available, quit the employer without giving notice of his desire to quit, unless the employer had violated his part of the contract.

Nor would he try to strike and stop other people from working and buying from the employer who had paid him as much as any other employer would pay him. Why was he working for the employer, if he had not been receiving as much as other employers would pay him.

Nor would he insist on those who did not want to join a union being obliged to join the union in order to get a job. Nor would he think it was right for him to force another man to help contribute to elect an official or to pass a law that any mem-

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Cuff Notes: You read a great deal these smuggy and self-improvement week days about the American child and adolescent and its built-in aversion to reading. If a personal note may be intruded, I think I have found a way, although in my own case there never has been such a problem. The young around me read themselves blind. For 10 years we had a library in a study. Its shelves remained as they were, new books came and went, but the basic contents remained fairly stable. When we moved we duplicated the shelving and amount of library area and, suddenly, the morning after moving found the living room mountainous with 44 cartons of books. The first job was to empty these and, therefore, the books went into the new shelves higgledy-piggledy, without order or system. They went in to be classified, mated and sorted some other time. Result: confronted with a new vista the young are constantly saying: "I didn't know we had that. I want to read it." All they needed was a rearrangement of a pattern they were so used to, it didn't stimulate them.

As this is being written, Fidel Castro seems to be on his way to at least temporary removal while, as his own doctor says, he achieves "complete rest—mental and physical." He has designated his younger and more communistic brother, Raul, to be the Cuban leader in his place. Hoping to get a more intimate picture of this in Cuba, I visited three of the more noisy and arguing Cuban restaurants. The accepted notion, by Cubans for and against Fidel Castro at this moment, is this: Raul is not man enough to hold leadership against the cold, ruthless, monolithic ambitions of Che Guevara. "The could and probably will push Raul down inside four weeks," one Cuban told me. "Che has pointed himself toward take-over from the beginning. Raul is a colorful man, he is naked force."

Even pro-Fidelists admitted ruefully that in a power struggle between Raul and Che the win would fall to Che, whom they describe as a formidable, silent, patient, immovable shape of ambition. The story of Che's influence from the beginning to the present has not even started to be told. One said, "Nor has the true story of what happened far back when Fidel was in Mexico City. It is this: he was there seeking backing, seeking friends and encouragement. He was in a sense in exile, but not really. He was biding and hiding. One day he was invited to the Soviet Embassy. He went in. He remained exactly three hours. When he came out his problems were solved. He had pledges of what he needed. Some say he even had a party card in his wallet. They and he. But the story is that they did sign him in exchange for material and help. Card or not, he came out with more than he went in with. THAT is true."

"The foolish thing," said another, "is this country's hedged talk of watching to see if bases are being secretly built on the island. Who needs bases? It is perfectly plain that Russia has mobile missiles. So have you. A ship bringing crude oil or other essentials to Cuba could bring mobile missiles. You are that close to reality. Mobile missiles could hit New Orleans, Florida, parts of Texas. Obviously, you could retaliate, even obliterate. You have missiles, too, and vast fleets of planes, as well as a huge Navy. It is no flight or cruise to Cuba. A step is all. The aggressors would fire their missiles to here. But, meanwhile, they would have destroyed important parts of our country. Never believe a madman is fully cured. An id saying, amigó, un tonto es una pistola viva. A fool is a live pistol."

Meanwhile, also as this is being written, two young American mathematicians with jobs in deep, vital security and access to the most profound security secrets, have been missing since June 24th, when they left on a vacation to California and Washington State—and flew, instead, to Mexico, and there—vanished.

We would like to hear from such a worker that believes it is right to do things in groups that he believes to be wrong for him as an individual to do.

We, of course, believe most union men are sincere. We believe they err in the belief that if one man works and produces more than another does, it reduces the other's standard of living. They do not seem to realize that man's wants are not fixed; that the minute he has one want satisfied, he has many more; and these wants are only satisfied by labor intelligently applied to natural resources. Anything, therefore, that interferes with the free and natural division of labor—as do all labor unions that we know of—where each man can best use the talents that God gave him, greatly reduces production. Nor do they understand that wealth produced must be distributed in order to benefit the owner. It cannot be hoarded. It does not trickle down but must be distributed by its owner as quickly as possible in order to give him happiness and make his wealth increase and give him the pleasure of accomplishment.

The Allen-Scott Report

ROBERT S. ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

NEW CRISIS OVER WEST BERLIN SEPT. 20 OR NOV. 1—SECRETARY HERTER BELIEVES WASHINGTON — September 20 and November 1 are dates circled in red on the calendar of Secretary of State Herter. He believes that Russia is planning to spring its new West Berlin crisis on either one of those dates. That's the report that Secretary Herter made in a special White House foreign policy briefing last week.

In an unannounced meeting with President Eisenhower and his cabinet, Herter revealed that diplomatic reports from Moscow are forecasting that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to force a pre-election showdown over West Berlin. He reported U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson is warning that a new crisis could challenge this month if West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer goes through with plans to have the Bundestag meet in West Berlin on September 20. Herter told the cabinet that Khrushchev bluntly informed Thompson in a private talk that Russia wouldn't stand for a meeting of West German lawmakers in West Berlin, and that the Soviet leader threatened military action to prevent it. Thompson reported that Khrushchev didn't appear to be bluffing.

Questioned about the policy that the U.S. should follow, Herter said he was recommending full U.S. backing of Adenauer. He argued that cancellation of the West Berlin meeting now would be interpreted by Khrushchev as a sign of weakness by the West. Herter pointed out that Thompson's report stressed that Berlin is still the weapon Khrushchev is holding in reserve to try to wring new cold war concessions from the West. "If we just once show a sign of weakening," said Herter, "Khrushchev will move to cut West Berlin off from West Germany and force us out."

UN BOMBHELL — Linking Khrushchev's coming appearance at the United Nations with his plans for a new showdown over West Berlin, Herter said he believed the visit of the Soviet leader will bring the following developments: Khrushchev is coming to the United Nations ostensibly to talk disarmament; however, he is expected to use the UN as a forum to prepare for the new Berlin crisis.

Khrushchev is expected to announce "new evidence of western espionage and war preparations" in West Berlin and demand an immediate Big Four conference to discuss the "new dangers." When this new summit proposal is rejected by the Western powers, Khrushchev is expected to issue a new ultimatum for the withdrawal of U.S., British, and French troops from West Berlin.

Herter recalled that at the time of the Paris summit collapse, Khrushchev declared that he would insist on a Berlin settlement within "six to eight" months. He said he doubted that Khrushchev chose that time interval at random. "The minimum period in which Khrushchev insisted a Berlin Settlement should be reached ends on November 1 or just a few days before the presidential election," Herter pointed out. "I'm deeply concerned over intelligence reports that Khrushchev believes that our government will be momentarily paralyzed by the election and won't be able to react with military force during that period. If those reports are true, there is real danger that Khrushchev will use the elections to move against West Berlin." In closing the meeting, President Eisenhower revealed that he planned to issue another statement soon warning Khrushchev against any miscalculation of U.S. determination to use force to defend West Berlin.

DIPLomatic BOUCH—Khrushchev wants to include Japan on his forthcoming itinerary and is now angling for an invitation from Tokyo, according to the State Department. His objective is to embarrass President Eisenhower, who was forced to cancel his good-will visit to Tokyo because of anti-government rioting. The Soviet leader has informed the Japanese Government that he would like to link a visit to Japan with his North Korean jaunt in October. That trip will be followed by a visit to Africa. Khrushchev intends to stop in the Congo where, as a result of the Soviet's all-out support of the new Congolese government, he hopes to win a warm welcome from Premier Lumumba.

Communist China now claims the princely semi-autonomous states of Hunza and Nagar, located in the northernmost tip of Pakistan. This is the information that Kir (King) of Hunza has passed along to U.S. diplomats in Pakistan. Russia is shipping literally thousands of "magic lamps" to the Congo. The kerosene lamps convert heat into electricity for radios by using a thermoelectric generator.

The Nation's Press

THE DEFECTION (Chicago Tribune)

The Pentagon has announced its belief that two agents of the top secret National Security agency, missing since June 24, have "gone behind the iron curtain." They were traced to Mexico and then to Cuba, which, under Castro and his pals, has become a soviet operational base in this hemisphere. The defense department says that the missing men, Beron Mitchell and William Martin, are junior mathematicians who possessed no secrets of consequence about weapons or defense plans. It was stated that they were employed "in limited areas of communications statistical work," and that information in their possession "could in no way be prejudicial to the securities."

The National Security agency, among other things, handles diplomatic and military coding and decoding problems. It may be, as the Pentagon contends, that these men could provide little use to the communist espionage apparatus. Nevertheless, some curious remarks of Premier Nikita Khrushchev during his American tour last autumn "come to mind. Khrushchev boasted to Victor M. Carter, his official guide in Los Angeles, that his spies had broken secret American intelligence codes. He said of Allen Dulles' Central Intelligence agency, "You are wasting your money. You might as well send it (secret information) directly to us instead of the middleman, because we get most of it anyway. Your agents give us the code books, and then we send false information back to you through the code. Then we send cables asking for money, and you send it to us."

Comparisons are being made between the disappearance of the Americans and the flight behind the iron curtain in 1951 of two British diplomats, Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean. Maclean served in the British embassy in Washington and later presided over the American desk in the foreign office. In 1959 Burgess was sent to Washington as second secretary in the British embassy, but within a few months, after acquiring a reputation for heavy drinking, reckless motoring and anti-British talk, he was recalled to London as "generally unsuitable."

Within three weeks he decamped with Maclean, having told friends that Washington had proved "absolutely frightful," because of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's anti-communist operations, which, said Burgess, had produced "a terrible atmosphere." Vladimir Petrov, a soviet diplomat, who defected from communism in Australia, testified three years after Burgess and Maclean fled to the Soviet Union that the pair were soviet spies who had been recruited while at Cambridge university.

The Pentagon asserts that Mitchell and Martin were given intensive security checks before being employed by the secret agency. It states, however, that it was recently discovered that one of the men had been under psychiatric care. This provides another parallel to the Burgess-Maclean case, for Maclean underwent the same treatment after a personality collapse a few months before he fled.

It might seem that American secret agencies could find some patterns of personality and behavior in these apparently related cases which would help them to avoid hiring the wrong men. Bothered personalities and behavior that invites blackmail are commonly the attributes upon which Communists work to produce defections.

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 13, the 257th day of the year, with 109 more in 1960. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1788, the U.S. States Congress authorized use first national election to be held "the first Wednesday in January next."

In 1851, doctor and bacteriologist Walter Reed, was born. In 1909, Oskar Straus' opera "The Chocolate Soldier" opened at the Casino Theatre in New York.

In 1943, Generalsissimo Chiang Kai-shek was elected president of the Chinese Nationalist government.

In 1955, the Federated German Republic and the Soviet Union established their first diplomatic relations since the end of World War II.

Thought for the Day: American writer H. I. Mencken said: "Time is a great leazer, even in the field of morals." Dental Floss: Americans use about 120,000 miles of dental floss every year. It's enough to reach halfway to the moon or to circle the earth more than four and one-half times at the equator.

Pennsy Strike Ends; Trains In Operation

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The strike paralyzed the railroad giant Pennsylvania Railroad was for the first time in its 114-year history.

Along its 10,000 miles of tracks in 13 states, passengers boarded trains they had not seen or been able to use since Sept. 1 — when

The vanguard of 72,000 railroad employees idled by the walkout returned to ready the line for full resumption of service, passenger and freight, later this week.

Wheels of "pilot" trains were clearing tracks of accumulated rust and signals were being checked late Monday following the signing of an agreement between two unions and the railroad at 4 p.m., which officially ended the strike.

But there was a price to pay. James M. Symes, chairman of the board for the line, estimated the total loss at $4 million with the railroad losing $40 million in revenue and the employees $14 in wages.

Both sides declared themselves satisfied with the final agreements, which puts the nation's largest railroad back in business.

Michael J. Quill, international president of the Transport Workers Union, said he was "delighted with the settlement" and called it the possible "turning point" for up-to-date labor relations on the nation's railroads.

The settlement, directly affecting 15,000 TWU members and 5,000 members of the AFL Systems Federation, makes provisions for the first severance pay in the railroad industry and assures the unions protection in the line's "farming out" repair work, and in matters of job classification and work rules. A fourth issue, described by the company as jurisdictional between the two unions, will be handed on a job-to-job basis when it occurs.

Footman Says He Quit Meg Over Salary

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret's ex-footman said today he quit his job because she paid him so little he was forced to borrow from the butler.

The footman, David Payne, 28, said his salary was $15.40 a week — before deductions. The average British wage is about twice as much.

"It was a prestige job, you know," he said after his financial plight came out in court Monday. "But you have to pay for that these days."

Payne, who faced a jail term for failure to make payments for separate maintenance to his wife, managed to stay free only because he produced in court a $228 loan from the butler — Thomas Cronin, who quit Margaret's household last month after a row with her husband, Anthony Armstrong-Jones.

The former footman said his salary from Margaret left him with only $5.18 a week spending money after taxes and maintenance payments to his wife.

Six 4-H Club Members Dead In Car Crash

RIPLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Six teen-agers en route to a 4-H Club meeting were killed near here Monday night when their station wagon crashed at high speed into the side of a tractor-trailer one-half mile from their destination.

The victims, all students at Gilmore High School, were James Scyoc, 17, the driver of the station wagon, Phyllis Miller, 13, Judy Morris, 13, Linda Smith, 13, Sharon Utt, about 15, and Linda Thompson, about 15.

Sheriff W. C. Chancey of Jackson County said the accident occurred on a curve on U.S. Route 21 when the Scyoc youth apparently lost control of the vehicle and it spun off the road. As Scyoc attempted to regain control the station wagon bounced into the side of a Keystone Transfer truck operated by James H. Smathers, 41, of St. Albans, W. Va.

Smathers suffered only a bruised knee. He told Coroner Dr. C. R. Kessel the force of the impact sent the station wagon rolling over an embankment. It was demolished.

Ambulance driver E. J. Parsons called the crash "the worst I've ever seen."

Chancey said the teeners' "never knew what hit them."

New Hurricane May Be Forming

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The San Juan Weather Bureau said today a "constant watch" is being kept on a squally area in the Lesser Antilles to see if it shows signs of developing into a tropical storm.

The easterly wave and squall area was found near the island of St. Kitts in the path that Hurricane Donna took in her journey across the South Atlantic last week.

The Miami Weather Bureau said Monday night conditions around the wave, where top winds were reported at 30 miles per hour, "look favorable" for development of the season's fifth tropical storm. Velocities of 39 miles per hour — gale force — are required for tropical storm designation.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although some reaction was to be expected after the recent sharp market advance, the subsequent drop exceeded that of an ordinary technical correction, according to the Investors Advisory Institute.

In view of the severity of this decline, it says, a fourth testing of the 596 support zone by the Dow-Jones industrial appears quite likely.

The institute says, in fact, that some important components of the Dow have already dropped below previously recorded low points.

J. W. Sparks & Co. favors purchase of Universal Match Corp. at the market. Resistance to downside pressure, plus an ability to rebound in above average fashion during favorable market periods suggests the stock may well be a market leader in the very near future, Sparks says.

John H. Lewis & Co. has several "interesting buys at this time": International Tel & Tel, Emerson Electric, Litton and General Telephone.

Joseph E. Granville of E. E. Hutton & Co. reports that tax selling has begun early this year and will extend mostly between September and November. The removal of this pressure, he says, will set the stage for an exciting rally in the December - January area.

CHANNEL TRY FAILS

FOLKESTONE, England (UPI)—An English father-daughter team failed Monday to swim the English Channel from France to Dover.

Dr. Hiram Badderley, who hoped to be the first man to swim the distance on his back, gave up after 8 1/2 hours. His daughter, Susan, 16, was in the water 15 hours and 40 minutes.
