

Shall We Pray, Fellow Texans?

After Taking Care Of Their Needs Legislators Have Accomplished Nil

By FLETCHER ROBERTSON
Daily News Special Correspondent

AUSTIN — Bookkeeping items: The 57th Texas Legislature has been in business since Jan. 10 and has spent roughly $400,000 for salaries of its members, per diem expenses and other odds and ends.

So far the lawmakers haven't done much of anything, but appropriate $2,450,000 to pay for the session.

Like the El Paso editor wrote: "The Texas Legislature is in session: let us pray."

Lobbying is big business in Austin.

Big companies and organizations spend big money for high-powered representation in the "Third House" of the Legislature.

On the other side of the coin, most of the lobbyists — probably three-fourths of them — work for free. For the most part, they are the people who believe in a "cause" and are willing to spend their time and money to get it across.

However, putting in time in the lobby is not a hobby with the old pros. It's strictly business with them and they demand and get big money. And big expense accounts.

Frances Walker, lobby registrar of the House of Representatives, said about 5,000 lobbyists registered during the 56th session of the Legislature and that she expects as many or more this session. Already about 700 persons have checked in, Miss Walker reported. People come here to lobby for just about everything you can think of. Everything, in fact, from business and labor legislation to blasphemy. That's right: blasphemy. Lowell Davis of Mark, Tex., a railroad telegrapher, has registered as a "blasphemy" lobbyist. However, he didn't say on the form whether he was for it or against it.

Then there's George Corse of Graham, the county superintendent of Young County who wants the Legislature to abolish his job. He also has filed to lobby for a bill to do away with the position.

AFL-CIO labor lobbyists lead the field, Miss Walker reported. Also in the top-number bracket are lobbyists for telephone companies, power companies, the Rural Electrification Association, school teachers, the wine and liquor industry and others.

Lobbyists are not permitted on the floor of the House or Senate while the chambers are in session. But they don't miss many tricks that go on either place. Most of the time they have a good ear tuned in on the proceedings from a seat in the gallery.

Corridors of the Capitol almost always are full of them. So are the lobbies of downtown hotels. They want to be on hand in case a chance turns up to have a nice, quiet talk with a legislator over a cup of coffee, at a night club, or just about anything the lawmaker might suggest. Money is no problem. A good lobbyist wouldn't be caught dead without a big fat roll.

If the predicted 5,000 lobbyists check in for this session, there will be about 27 of them for each of the 181 members of the House and Senate.

Looks like the lawmakers are going to get pressured, and from all sides.

Yep, this is a lobbyin' town. They're jockeying for positions in the big battle that is shaping up between liberal and conservative.

Lefors Optimists Plan Club House And Ball Park

LEFORS (Sp) — The Lefors Optimists neared their goal of a club house and ball park at their meeting, Thursday night in the civic center. A committee was appointed to negotiate with Melvin Wright, owner of the proposed land for a building site northwest of town.

Ben White, president, presided over the meeting, in which the decision was made to furnish refreshments for the Cub Scouts' blue and gold cub scout banquet, Feb. 24, in the civic center. The club is sponsor of the cub scouts. Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, Mrs. Pat Brewer, and Hershel Bogle made up a quartet which furnished musical entertainment for the group, accompanied by Jack Gray on the guitar. Visitors included Arnold Bogle, Terry Sanders, Sidney Gilbreath, Sandra Cotton, and M. M. Pherson.

forces of the House of Representatives. The liberals have a substantial majority and are in the saddle. They elected Rep. James Turman as speaker and were rewarded with all the choice assignments as committee chairmen.

So it's logical to assume that they will try to ram through legislation reflecting the liberal point of view. Such things as big spending bills for welfare programs, a teachers pay raise and on down the line.

But the going won't be downhill all the way for the Turman men. No-sure. They are sure to run head-on into strong opposition. The conservative bloc, headed by Rep. Wade Spilman, who bowed to Turman in the speaker's race, is in there ready and waiting to accept the challenge.

Of course, it's not news to find the House divided against itself. That's the way it always has been. However, the legislators might be a little further apart in their thinking this time. Spilman thinks so. He said:

"It appears to me that the division is a little more marked this time than in years past."

Spilman also gave this brief size up of the situation:

"Ultimately on matters that count, the legislators will vote their convictions and an imaginary line will emerge dividing the two forces of the House. 'I don't subscribe to the idea of resistance for resistance's sake; neither do I subscribe to harmony for harmony's sake. I say, if you don't agree with a bill under consideration, get up and speak your piece. That's what the people of Texas sent us here to do. 'Controversial issues will develop as the session rolls along and the only way they can be settled is by debate here on the floor.'"

Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of Mission, a member of the conservative group, already has indicated the role he will play in the upcoming floor fight. He's a needer from way-back and usually proves his point most effectively in a manner that gets a laugh from Councilmen will be elected to fill posts now held by Eli Radabough and Herman Cates, for two years. A man will be elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of Wayne Wall, who moved away.

Air Force Cuts Fatal Accidents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force reports it had only 110 fatal accidents during 1960, compared with 184 the previous year. The total fatalities involved in Air Force accidents was reduced from 375 in 1959 to 274 last year, the service said. The reduction was achieved despite the pre-Christmas crash of an Air Force transport plane which killed 50 persons, including 30 civilians, in Munich, Germany.

The Air Force said there were 425 major accidents in 1960, compared to 672 in 1959. The reduction in property loss was 19 percent.

'60 Highway Death Toll Is 38,200

CHICAGO (Sp) — The National Safety Council said today that traffic accidents in 1960 took the lives of 38,200 persons and caused 1,400,000 injuries disabling beyond the day of the accident.

It was the highest traffic death toll since 1957, when 38,702 persons met death, the council reported. The 1959 traffic toll was 37,910 deaths and about the same number of disabling injuries as in 1960.

While the toll was rising one per cent from 1959, Americans in 1960 were setting a record-low rate of 5.3 deaths for every 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel. The mileage death rate in 1959 was 5.4.

A two per cent increase in travel in 1960 more than offset the 1 per cent rise in deaths, the safety organization pointed out. Highway travel was a record 715 billion miles in 1960, as compared with 700 billion miles in 1959.

The cost of traffic accidents in 1960 was estimated by the National Safety Council at $6.4 billion. Prop-

Member Drive, Dance Slated By API Group

Plans for a membership drive and annual dance were completed Friday at the regular February meeting of the board of directors of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, Max A. Bolick, chairman, announced yesterday.

The annual membership campaign will start Feb. 15 and the windup of the drive will come with the annual API dance to be held Saturday, March 18 in Coronado Inn in Pampa. Music for the dance will be played by "Snozz" Dunn and his band from Amarillo.

The next regular API meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 23, in Coronado Inn. The program subject will be "Cost Cutting" and a panel representing ten oil producing companies from Amarillo, Pampa, and Borger will discuss cost cutting as applied to deep well-drilling programs, pumping equipment and paraffin control.

Bolick said that since cost cutting is of vital concern to the oil industry, non-members are invited to attend the Feb. 23 meeting and take part in the discussions.

Friday's meeting was the first of the year for the Panhandle API Chapter's new officers. Bolick said. Other officers at the session included Paul Wiley, first vice chairman; Joe Daniel Jr., 2nd vice chairman; Al Knox, 3rd vice chairman; Leonard L. White, secretary-treasurer; M. G. Rogers, board chairman and Fred J. Neslage, board co-chairman.

U. S. Communists Ready To Open Member Drive Among Youths

By RAY CROMLEY

NEW YORK (NEA) — The founding convention of a new national Communist youth movement was tentatively planned for late 1961.

It aims to be a "broad left-wing student, teen-age and working youth organization." It will seek to entice to membership a wide array of young Americans not now Communists. It will attempt to draw into a united front 10 major leftist youth groups. Communist leaders aim at hitting 50 per cent of this membership goal by Labor Day, 1961, the balance within a year.

This information leaked from the three-day organizing conference held in Chicago recently. These meetings set up a national organizing committee and decided on immediate aims.

The new organization will be a successor to the Young Communist League of the 1930s, the Communist-run American Youth for Democracy of the 1940s and the Labor Youth League of the 1950s. Since the latter folded in 1957, the S. Reds have had no national youth organization.

U. S. Communist boss Gus Hall has been watching the effectiveness of vigorous youth groups in Korea, in Turkey, in Latin America. He has noted the effectiveness with which his own Reds were able to influence some college-age young people in the San Francisco demonstrations against the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Hall and his aides

The new national organization will be Communist controlled and Communist directed. Mortimer Daniel Rubin, national youth director of the Communist party, is one of the major founders. So is Jim West, head of the Communist organization in Illinois, and Daniel Queen, youth leader of the Illinois Communist party.

But the Communist party — to attract non-Red youth to a united front — apparently has decided that the organization will be non-Communist on the surface.

The chairman of the national organizing committee for the youth movement is a Mrs. Alva Buxenbaum, 24, born in New Orleans and now teaching in Pennsylvania. She publicly says she is not a Communist. Twenty-one-year-old Marvin Markman of New York was named executive secretary.

But Communists were prominent among those attending the organizing conference in Chicago.

Some 88 delegates registered for the Chicago meeting — 29 from Illinois, 21 from Pennsylvania; 19 from New York, five from Ohio, four from Washington, three from California, two from Minnesota and one each from Michigan, Oregon and Iowa.

Although the official founding of the movement will not take place until late this year, a hard core of activities is planned beginning now. These include:

Publication of a series of pamphlets on the problems and challenges to youth from the standpoint of "scientific socialism," which in Marxist language means communism.

Expansion of the Red-backed magazine, New Horizons for Youth. A $10,000 fund raising drive is scheduled.

An aggressive hard-hitting campaign circuit through college campuses and key cities to pull in leftist youth organizations and youth teaching in Pennsylvania.

throughout the United States. Leaders of the new movement, including House Committee on Un-American Activities, the FBI and military training for American youth. They pledged to fight against American discrimination of Negroes and other minorities and to work for "scientific socialism."

The aims of the proposed youth organization are indicated by the remarks of the keynote speakers at the closed conference sessions:

These leaders in private lauded the achievements of Communist nations. They asserted American youth are demanding a future like the future in the Soviet Union and

Southern States Businessmen's Group Recommends States Rights, Private Enterprise Safeguards

WASHINGTON, D.C. — National goals for the years ahead were recommended Sunday by the Southern States Industrial Council, an organization representing businessmen in 18 Southern states from Maryland to Texas. They include vigorous protection of U.S. national interests overseas and new safeguards for private enterprise and states rights.

A law making it a felony to belong to the Communist Party or to go its work also was favored.

The broad aims of the council were contained in a "Program For the Nation" announced by Quintin T. Hardtner Jr., president of the Council, which has its headquarters in Nashville, Tenn.

Hardtner declared: "Our nation is faced with one of the most dangerous periods in its entire history. The council proposes to reverse the steady trend of recent years toward the welfare state and return the nation to the system which made it great in the first place." He said the council aimed to "strengthen the national economy, to meet the threat of international communism, to protect and preserve our national integrity and sovereignty by submitting a program of action."

In the section of the program devoted to foreign affairs, the council urged that the President and Congress:

"Place the interest of the U.S. above all other considerations in dealing with foreign nations. After all," said Hardtner, "a strong America is the greatest safeguard of freedom in the world."

The council also declared that the U.S. should "protect by whatever means necessary" the property rights of Americans in foreign lands, "commenting that dealing can be no more condoned in nations than in individuals."

Recommended was control of internal subversion by "deporting alien subversives and making it a felony to belong to the Communist Party or to do its work." In endorsing such governmental action, the council said "the whole purpose of the Communist Party is to overthrow our form of government and destroy our way of life."

Hardtner also called for the expulsion of the Soviet Union from the United Nations, saying, "It has been a disruptive influence in the U.N. from the very beginning and is not in sympathy with its aims." He added that the Soviet Union "refuses to pay its share of costs authorized by the U.N."

The organization of Southern businessmen also endorsed a policy of discontinuing all foreign aid "to socialist and communist nations." It took this stand on the basis of the expressed belief that "You cannot buy friends anyway — and why subsidize the cutting of our own throats?"

Hardtner said the council believes all aid to allies should be placed on "a realistic share-the-cost basis" declaring that "allies who are able to do so, should be willing to pay a fair share of the cost of their own defense."

The final foreign policy goals set forth by the council included reversion of the Connally Reservation to the World Court and reassertion of the Monroe Doctrine. In the case of the Connally Reservation, President Hardtner observed that only by keeping it can we be certain to retain our sovereignty as a nation." The Monroe Doctrine he termed "the surest safeguard against further communist penetration of this hemisphere."

In the field of domestic affairs, President Hardtner pinpointed a series of conservative goals for the nation.

"The council believes that the people of the United States are ready to revolt against the socialistic philosophy that has taken such hold on us in recent years," said President Hardtner. He asserted that Americans are prepared to rebel against the idea "that it is the function of their government to take care of them." He expressed confidence that Americans "are ready to return to the independence and self-reliance, the individual initiative and private enterprise that made us great and strong in the first place. The future is up to us."

Specific recommendations of the council regarding domestic affairs touched on labor relations, spending, subsidies and management of the public debt.

Following is the text of the council's recommendations in this area:

"Limit federal expenditures to federal income in time of peace. Federal budgetary deficits, which have occurred in 25 of the last 30 years, have already caused the dollar to lose more than half its value. This must not continue."

"Start regular payments on the national debt. This debt, now amounting to about $290 billion, is the heaviest debt any nation has ever known. It would be a dastardly crime to pass it on to our children."

"Return agriculture to a supply and demand market. This is the only sensible thing to do, and the only way to solve the problem.

"Gradually eliminate all federal subsidies except those necessary to the national defense. Actually, there is no such thing as federal aid anyway; the money must first come from the people to whom it is returned."

"Get the federal government out of competition with private enterprise. All business enterprises owned and operated by the government should be sold. It is the function of government to regulate, not to compete."

"Establish realistic depreciation allowances for plant, equipment and machinery. Only in this way can industry conserve money with which to expand and provide more jobs."

Other specific recommendations for national health were:

"Abolish compulsory unionism. Unions should gain members on merit, not by force."

"Make the antitrust laws applicable to labor unions as they now are to industry and business, and stop industry-wide bargaining. Only by doing so can we stop the forced wage increases, made without regard to increased productivity, and put an end to pricing ourselves out of the market both at home and abroad."

"Stop any further federal intervention in the fields of medical care, housing, prices and wages. Such intervention inevitably leads to the further centralization of government and extension of the welfare state."

"Discontinue double taxation of corporate dividends. It is not fair to tax the same money twice."

"Limit federal income tax rates by constitutional amendment except in time of war. Excessive taxation historically leads to the socialism of the welfare state.

"Restore tariff-making power to Congress. This is provided for in the Constitution and is the only safeguard against arbitrary abuse of power."

"Place exclusive control of the public schools in the State and their political subdivisions. Only by a constitutional amendment to this effect can we avoid federal dictation over our schools, and restore and preserve the principle of states rights, the cornerstone of our form of government."

In summing up the program of the Southern States Industrial Council, President Hardtner declared the organization "definitely believes we shall have to come to it, or something very similar to it, if we are to avoid sliding all the way into socialism and subsequent communism. There is no other way."

AFRO-ASIAN SUMMITTERS — Morocco's King Mohammed V, left, and United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser talk informally during the Afro-Asian "summit meeting." The leaders of the seven nations urged Moslem Algerian reels to seek volunteer aid from other nations. The conference convened in Casablanca, Morocco.

ASKS FEDERAL AID — stamp plan is to be operated. WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. a telegram to the President, James B. Frazier Jr., D-Tenn., zier said the communities in Saturday asked President Kennec state are as badly in need dy to add the coal mining area such assistance as any of the areas in which Kennedy's food dy for the program.

Latest Broadway Find Is Seeking New Fame

By DICK KLEINER
NEW YORK (NEA) — Robert Goulet is Broadway's newest star. But already he's restless while eagerly waiting for the chance to soar in some new theatrical sky. As Sir Lancelot in "Camelot," Goulet's perfect features remind theatergoers of a young Robert Taylor, and his powerful tenor voice is one of the finest vocal instruments on the Broadway scene. He's in a smash hit which will undoubtedly run for years.

And yet—
"Being in a big Broadway show," Goulet says, "is something I've always wanted. But somehow I woke up the morning after opening night and I didn't have the feeling of exultation I had expected. For a week afterwards, I was terribly depressed."

"Finally, I decided it was because I had achieved a goal and had no goal to strive for. So now I have to dream about something else."

Out-Of-State Students Bill Submitted

AUSTIN — Students of Texas colleges and universities from other states of the union would be classified as resident students after a bill in the state one year under provisions of a bill authorized by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville and read Thursday in the House.

Existing law which gives school officials discretionary power to determine whether a student is "resident" or "nonresident" would be voiced by the Pipkin bill when sufficient evidence has been given that parents of students have established residence in Texas.

Students living in adjoining states who attend junior colleges are immediately adjacent to the state boundary line would not be under provisions of the legislation.

The bill was referred to the Appropriations Committee.

Another bill written by Pipkin would provide a procedure for service on nonresidents of Texas involved in water craft accidents was also read in the House, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

ROBERT GOULET ... Camelot's Lancelot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D - Minn., urged President Kennedy Saturday to send Congress either legislation or an executive reorganization plan to set up a "peace agency" in the State Department for cohesive disarmament planning.

Fairy Godfather Ed Wynn waves his magic wand and wonderful things begin to happen to "Cinderella" Jerry Lewis in his music sparking comedy that opens today at the Capri theatre. Released in Technicolor the cast also includes Anna Marie Albergetti, Judith Anderson, Henry Sylvia and Robert Hutton.

Theodore Bikel Is Man Of Astonishing Talents

By DOC QUIGG
NEW YORK (UPI) — Theodore Bikel has reached the ripe age of 36. And what has he done? Please don't ask. Space is endless, in theory, but the theory does not apply to this newspaper.

When Brandeis University dedicated a part of its library to Bikel, it struck off a scroll to him saying, in part: "Citizen of the world, humorist, musician, folk singer, actor, linguist, teacher, raconteur, humanitarian, man of many arts and skills."

The citation is correct as far as it goes. It left out, specifically, that he has been appearing, all in one—as the saying goes — fell swoop, in television, radio, motion pictures, record albums, books, professional photography, and on concert stages large and small.

He also has a plaque in his office saying he has won an award for "exceptional devotion to dogs." The whole thing is compounded with the overwhelming fact that sandwiched into this multi-layered life is a stint he has to do on Broadway six nights and two matinees a week: He co-stars with Mary Martin in "The Sound of Music," the Rodgers & Hammerstein hit musical.

"Last Christmas," said his secretary, "his manager gave him a camera to play with. Theo doesn't play with things; he gets very involved. Last month, when the television program 'Directions '61' put him on a still-picture portrait of New York, they used Theo's photographs. And the magazine 'U.S. Camera' will carry some in its April issue."

Bikel has been editor-host of the ABC-TV religious series "Directions '61" for the last five Sundays with programs dealing with aspects of Jewish life, history and culture. Last Sunday he finished up an examination of Jewish music, and he'll be off the program for a month.

"I have one program more in the series, to be aired in March," he said. "The theme will be freedom and its concept, in all na-

Jim Mitchum Often Mistaken For Father

By JOE FINNIGAN
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Bob Mitchum's son Jim, is getting to look more like the famous actor every day and people continue to mistake the young man for his dad.

The hefty 20-year-old bears almost a carbon copy resemblance to Bob and even has a pair of sleepy eyes like those his pop made famous.

"When I'm driving my car people yell 'Hi Bob' if I pull up to a stop sign," the 6-foot, 4-inch Jim said. "I'm also mistaken for him in restaurants."

Young Mitchum says the resemblance is more apparent now than when he was a youngster.

"One time Dad and I were standing in front of a barber shop together," Jim recalled. "A man walked up to us and asked 'which one of you is Bob Mitchum.' Dad gets a big kick out of this."

Mitchum is naturally proud of his pop and doesn't mind looking like Bob, but he does resent being introduced as his son.

"It bothers me when somebody introduces me as 'Bob Mitchum's son' when I'm out someplace."

Eight in Israel, eight in London, and the last six in this country. His skill with character acting and dialects is prodigious. Two years ago he got an Oscar nomination for his portrayal of a southern sheriff in "The Defiant Ones."

THERE IN SPIRIT — The hopes of Ireland are with this workman who cleans a corn-grinding stone in Dublin. It's one step in manufacture of Irish whiskey, a vital export.

Dad would look away and say, 'Isn't that a weird looking kid,' referring to me."

However, Jim said the line was scuttled because they didn't think of it until after the scene was filmed.

Its probably just as well because mother Mitchum might have some ideas about whether or not her offspring is "a weird looking kid."

HE HAS THE TOUCH FOR MODEL RAILROADING— Superimposed on a picture of the model pike he'll never see, is a photograph of William Frank, of Chicago, Ill. A machinist by trade, he lost his sight as result of an accident in a bomb casing plant during World War II. Refusing to be sidetracked, he designed and helped to build the layout and a day-night lighting effect for the railroad. In addition, Frank has racked up over 12,000 accident-free hours working in wood to help support himself, turning out such things as bowls and lamp bases with aid of home shop power tools. He uses a notched yardstick, a special band saw setup and special face plates for the lathe as aids.

Gas Tax, Postal Rate Hikes Not Probable

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has little chance of leading Congress to raise postage and gasoline taxes, key makers said yesterday.
They said the President will be able to talk the Senate House into blocking a 1 cent per gallon decrease in gasoline tax scheduled to take effect this month.
Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday he supports the million postal rate increase former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed last month as his final economic message to Congress.
The President expressed at that Congress would hike rates that much.
Kennedy also indicated he favored Eisenhower's plea that federal gasoline taxes be raised to 10 cents a gallon. The present

Vikes Land Three Stars

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League Saturday announced the signing of three standout players from Southern universities — Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Francis Tarkenton, Georgia quarterback; and Ross (Rip) Hawkins, North Carolina center.

Mason was signed for three years and Tarkenton and Hawkins to one-year contracts. Vikings general manager Bert Rose said the announcement confirmed the United Press International report of two weeks ago that Mason had signed with the Vikings.

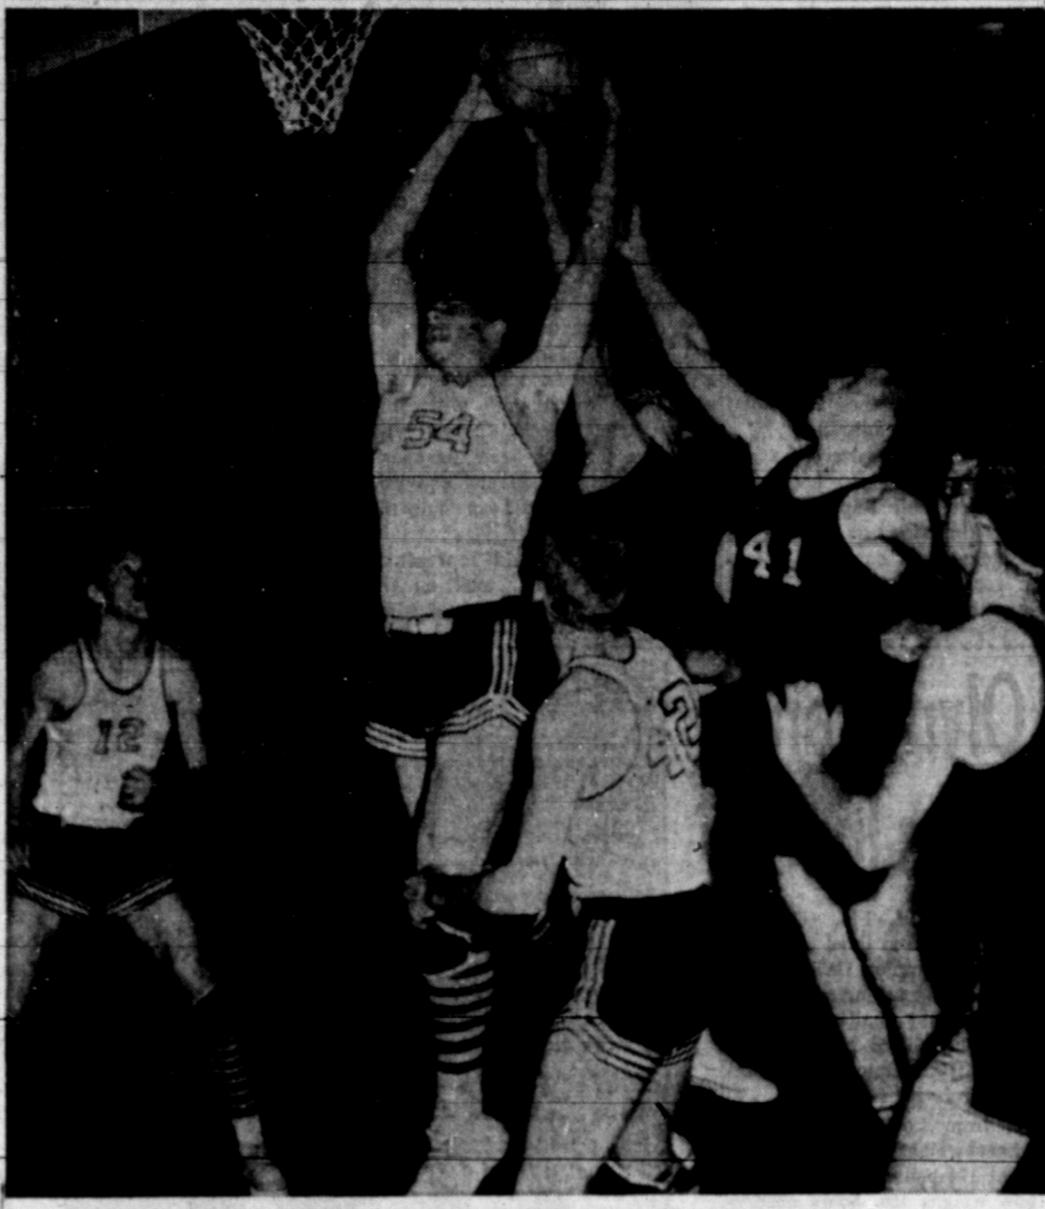

At the time Mason said he was still considering teams in the American Football League and Canada, but Saturday he admitted his contract was signed shortly after he was drafted by Minnesota.

Viking coach Norm Van Brocklin said he would try to keep all three at their college positions with the Minnesota team.

"We expect to try Mason at offensive left halfback, and he should be a strong contender for a starting assignment. Hawkins figures strongly in our linebacking plans," Van Brocklin said.

"And with George Shaw and Tarkenton at quarterback, we'll have the desired nucleus for this key position," he said.

Bob Hudson Keglars and Kewanee were leading their respective team divisions late Saturday night as the 19th annual Men's City Assn. Tournament rolled towards a pin-scattering conclusion at Garden Lanes and Harvester Bowl.

SWC Cage 'Elders' Say '61 Stars Excel

DALLAS (UPI)—Twenty-five years have passed since they were named to the all-Southwest Conference basketball team, but the years haven't added enough speed or points to give the members of that 1936 squad the idea they could stay on the court with this year's boys.

Although their choice of careers was widely varied, all the members of the 1936 quint have achieved success. Poole is an independent oil operator in Houston and owner of the Poole Production Equipment Co. Teammate Elwin Gilliland, 47, is manager of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce.

The third Arkansas representative, Jim Lee Howell, became more famous for his football exploits than his work on a basketball court. Howell recently resigned from his coaching job with the professional National Football League New York Giants.

Track Meet Success Seems Set

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The state's first indoor track meet scheduled next Thursday night in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum shaped up Saturday as a booming success on both the competitive and financial front.

At least two of last season's Olympic performers from this area — quarter miler Earl Young of Abilene Christian and pole vaulter David Clark of North Texas — will be in the big field.

Richard Menchaca, North Texas, Charles Draper, Texas Tech, and Thad Crooks, Texas A&M in the 880-yard run; Drew Dunlap, Texas, and Soc Baglakes, East Texas, in the 600-yard open event; Bobby Bernard, TCU, Bob Swafford, Texas Tech, Calvin Cooley, Ray Cunningham, Texas, and Charles Bode, East Texas, in the 60-yard hurdles; John Cooper, North Texas, Jim Parr, SMU and Simon McNamee, Lamar Tech, in the mile run; Young and Bud Clanton, ACC, Curtis Hart, Texas Tech, Glen Fields, Baylor, George Ledford, Texas A&M, Don Issett, Texas and Jack McCallin, SMU, in the college 440-yard dash; David Hawkins, Baylor; R. E. Merritt, Texas A&M, Steve Guynes, Texas, and Jimmie Langham, SMU, in the open 440.

Ralph Asplough, Texas, Bill Kemp and Roy Smalley, Baylor; Bruce Land, McMurry, Dennis Richardson, ACC, and Andy Anderson, Houston, in the 60-yard dash; John Cooper, North Texas, Denis Moore, ACC, Bob Mellgren, Baylor; Ian Stewart, Lamar Tech, and Jan Ahlberg, SMU, in the two-mile run, and 13 teams in the mile relay headed by ACC, Baylor, Houston and Texas.

In order to do away with preliminaries, the contestants will run against time in heats.

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—William Hyndman and Barbara Williams defeated Willie Turnesa and Barbara Fitton 3 and 2 in a rain-dampened final round to win the National Mixed Foursome amateur golf championship at La Gorce Country Club Saturday.

Bunched Pack Enters Closing Round Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Ken Venturi, Bill Casper and Billy Maxwell, three seasoned tournament campaigners, tied for the fourth round lead Saturday in the 90-hole, $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic with 72-hole scores of 274.

Maxwell, playing at Thunderbird, and Casper, playing at Bermuda Dunes, each had 68. Venturi, tackling the tough Eldorado Course, had a 71.

Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga. shot a 74 on the Thunderbird course Saturday for a 288 total. But Mike Krak, Morgantown, W. Va., and Ronnie Reif, San Diego, Calif., who did not even qualify for the final round of play Sunday, picked off $1,750 each when they tied for the title in the pro-amateur division.

Krak, who had 307 shots on his own, was 61 under par with the aid of 12 amateur partners in a complicated scoring system. Reif, who had 290 on his own, also was 61 under with the aid of his partners. They helped him 64 shots.

The veteran touring pros roared past third-round leader Al Mengert in the race for the big first prize of $5,300 in the pro division.

Ohio State Tops Wolves

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Ohio State's rampaging eagles overpowered Michigan with effortless ease Saturday, 99-58, to extend their winning streak to 18 games.

The win was also Ohio State's sixth in the Big Ten and was the fourth conference setback for the winless Wolverines.

John Havlicek led the Buckeyes in a first-half barrage by dunking 18 points in the first 20 minutes to lead Ohio State to a 45-28 halftime bulge.

ABE SAPERSTEIN ... some good ideas

Abe Feels ABL Will Fill Gap

CHICAGO (UPI)—Basketball needs a shot in the arm to make it more attractive, believes the greatest cage promoter ever, Abe Saperstein, and he intends to make the injection himself.

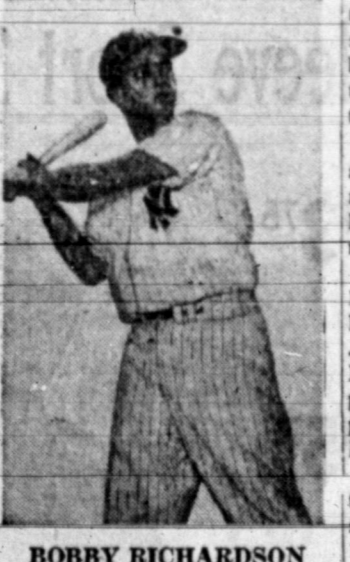

"The game right now needs something," he said, "and it sounds silly, but basketball has been very very kind to me, and a guy would be less than a damn fool if he didn't try to give something back."

Saperstein's plan to enliven the game is the American Basketball League, expected to begin competition in eight cities next season. But the rules will be changed beforehand to make the game more interesting, and if necessary, more rules changes will follow until the game does have popular appeal.

"We want to put a premium on smaller, quicker, players, fast, flashy ones, to make it more interesting," Saperstein said. "Then we intend somehow, somehow, to legalize contact. Now you have contact illegally."

"We want to strengthen the defense, to make points harder to get. To make an achievement fulfillment. Our rules will be designed to make it what it was intended to be—a team game."

Saperstein contended that every other game has regulated itself to balance defense and offense, but basketball hasn't. "The National Football League changed the rules," he said, "and in due time, they found acceptance."

BOBBY RICHARDSON ... money in the bank

Series Play Brings Raise

By United Press International It isn't often that a guy whose batting average dropped from .301 to .252 winds up getting a boost in pay, but that's just what the New York Yankees gave World Series hero Bobby Richardson Saturday.

There's a reason, of course, why the spunky second baseman's pay was hiked to about $20,000—the "mighty mite" from Sumter, S.C., was the big noise for the Yankees in the World Series when he set records by driving in six runs in a single game and 12 runs for the Series.

Slumping Bat Boosts Richardson's Salary

It was no fault of Bobby's that the Pirates took the championship. The salary boost is Richardson's second reward for his Series slugging. He was voted a sports car by a magazine (Sport) last fall as the outstanding player in the Series.

Richardson's $20,000 salary was matched by third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, who signed for that figure—a boost of $8,000 over last year.

COMING THROUGH THE RYE — Randy Matson, with a firm grip on the basketball, carves out a little elbow room and takes a giant step forward after pulling down rebound in Friday's 55-53 victory over Lubbock in Harvesters Fieldhouse. Matson starred in the game, sinking 18 points, three of which came in the last seven seconds to give Pampa the District 3-4A victory. (Daily News Photo)

Harvesters Use Rally To Subdue Westerners Matson Sinks Clutch Goal For 55-53 Win Canvas Caper Coach Grooms Early Boxing Flop Into Olympic Threat

Pampa's Harvesters, fresh from a fading-seconds 55-53 victory over Lubbock's Westerners Friday night, today are looking forward to a Tuesday night return meeting with Borger, the first of a whirlwind three-game road-trip against three of the top four teams in District 3-4A. The Harvesters, although in ninth place with a 3-7 record, will carry the district's best winning streak at present (two straight) into battle, thanks to the Borger's 55 win over Amarillo, Palo Verde's 54-53 victory over Monterey, and Tascosa's 65-triumph over Plainview in their Friday night games. However, if it hadn't been for the clutch play in the waning moments of Friday's game by Randy Matson, 6-5 sophomore, Pampa may well be in last place, looking at seven other districts.

at 33-32 with 1:01 left in the period. Lubbock tried to stall again, but a pass was intercepted and Pampa called time with 55 seconds left. The Harvesters tried to work the ball in and couldn't, so called time with 30 seconds left. Mike Webb broke through to tie up Matson with 17 seconds left, but the taller Matson controlled the tip and Pampa held on. Then Matson connected with seven seconds left, was fouled on the play and put it in for the winning margin. The Westerners brought the ball down court, missed a long shot and an attempted tip-in and that was the game. It was a close contest all the way, with Pampa's largest lead six points. The Westerners were ahead also by six points for their widest lead. Pampa broke to a 7-4 lead and increased it to 11-6, before Buzzy Henderson and Jim Oldham hit baskets to shave it to 11-10 at the end of the first quarter. Webb put Lubbock ahead, 12-11, but Matson hit a hook, Wise a tip-in and Pat Carter another fielder for a 17-12 Pampa margin. Lubbock closed in, but couldn't tie it up until Gary Dement hit two free throws to make it 25-all.

Eichmann Casts Bitter Pall Over Israel

By ALIAV SIMON

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Imprisoned Nazi leader Adolf Eichmann is casting a shadow of bitter memory over all of Israel.

The search for eyewitness evidence to convict the former Nazi leader of responsibility in the slaughter of six million Jews in German concentration camps has reached into every section of this nation, settled to a large extent by survivors of the Nazi slaughter.

Newspapers daily recall to thousands the horrors of the gas chambers which had been at least partially erased in the rigors of building this sunny nation.

In the wake of Eichmann's arrest, in Argentina last May, the education ministry has completed plans to teach the history and significance of the Nazi period in Israel's schools. There was considerable opposition to the move, primarily based on the question of how it would affect youngsters who themselves have never been touched by anti-Semitism.

The history decided, however, that the period cannot be ignored in contemporary Jewish history and can be explained in social, economic, political and psychological terms. The horrors of the camps themselves will be balanced with the heroism of resistance movements in the ghettos and forests of Eastern Europe.

CHAIRMAN — Singer Pat Boone will serve as chairman of the 17th annual observance of National Sunday School Week, April 10-16. The week is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee of New York, an interfaith group.

Eichmann's imprisonment and the trial, now scheduled for March 6, have been police and investigative officers whose work has been intensified and vacations cancelled. All courses leading to police school, until the conclusion of the motions have been cancelled, also, until the conclusion of the trial.

The police bureau gathering documentation for the trial had been scheduled to stop work at the end of the year but has been forced to continue operations because of the continued flow of new documents arriving here from abroad.

Arye Kudovy, director of Yad Vashem, the official agency collecting documents of the Nazi period, said the prosecution is having difficulty in pin-pointing Eichmann's exact role in the destruction of European Jewry because of the linguistic camouflage that veiled the annihilation program.

The word "destroy" appears nowhere in Gestapo orders relating to the Jews. It was not used by Adolf Hitler, Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler, nor by Herman Goering in the letter to SS Gen. Reinhard Heydrich which marked the beginning of the annihilation of European Jewry.

"We have assigned the final solution of the Jewish problem to you," Goering wrote: "This means emigration and evacuation. And we now give you permission to apply this solution to all areas subject to German rule."

Joseph Dillik, of the Jewish documentation center in Paris, has said that Eichmann and no one else was responsible for the murder of six million Jews. Dillik said Eichmann had acted on the basis of hints in orders from top Nazis and exploited the general anti-Jewish atmosphere to plan the extermination.

Yad Vashem is preparing an 800-page two volume dictionary of Nazi terms — largely euphemisms — used in carrying out that plan. Eyewitnesses to Eichmann's operations are sought here, particularly among members of Lohamed Na-Gettant, a collective settlement of former Polish ghetto fighters.

The settlement has established a museum of Hitler-era material, has had special exhibitions of it in relation to the Eichmann trial and has provided material for the prosecution.

Additional material is being received from Poland where a volume of documents and eye-witness

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clark Dodge & Co. sees little prospect of a rise in the price of rubber company stocks in the near future.

The brokerage firm says that except for the brief and slight rise recently of such cyclical stocks as U. S. Rubber General Tire and Goodrich, no sustained advance by rubber issues can be expected without some assist from higher earnings.

Improved earnings are not likely for at least six months, the firm writes. "It is hard to see where these stocks can make a great deal of progress over the near term."

It lists General Tire as a possible exception and adds that Goodyear still has long-term appeal but seems unlikely to capture any real market enthusiasm over the next few months.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne Noel & Co. says the firm undertone that prevailed in the market through Wednesday is a good sign, and the fact that support de-

Clown Who Stole Inaugural Show Tells Why He Joined Texas Group

HUGOTON, Kan. (UPI) — This may come as a shock to some Texans.

But the man aboard a buffalo who joined the Texas delegation and stole the show at President Kennedy's inaugural parade says he couldn't care less about the Lone Star State.

Buddy Heaton of Hugoton, famed rodeo clown, said he had no intention of defecting to Texas—he was just downright cold.

Developed after only a one-day decline suggests that buyoff's are continuing to commit funds aggressively.

Chartcraft picks Heli-Coil Corp. as its chart of the week on the American exchange. Its advice is: buy at the market for a price objective of 43.

Hornblower & Weeks finds American Rubber & Plastics Corp. shares attractively priced at current levels, reflecting the company's aggressive entry into the urethane foam industry which is considered to have outstanding growth prospects, its strong competitive position in the foam rubber business and its able management.

that frigid day in Washington. "And where can you find more hot air than what's put out by a bunch of Texans?" he asked. "I was just trying to keep warm."

Heaton was caught by television and news cameras riding his 1,700-pound buffalo named "Grunter," which he raised from babyhood. President Kennedy was so interested, he called Heaton over to the reviewing stand to ask him about the unusual steed, whether it was a "buffalo or bison" and how long he had been riding it and where he was from.

A Dallas newspaper columnist commented recently that Heaton "probably wants to be a Texan" and that's why he joined the delegation in the parade.

"Not so," Heaton cried. "I stay out of Texas whenever possible. In the parade I just fell in line with the first group that came along because of the cold. Kansans were too far back. Heaton said despite what some people think, riding "Grunter" not too difficult—once he gets the saddle.

"But getting the saddle on is a little rough—something like wrestling with an elephant," he said.

Lost 27 Pounds With Barcentra

Here is another letter from grateful Barcentra user, M. Odell Smith, 929 N. 13th St., Cicanna, Texas, writes as follows: "I lost 27 pounds taking Barcentra and continue to take it as a tonic and feel so much better while taking it. During period of reducing, I took 8 or 9 bottles. I now take it once a day as a tonic and I wouldn't be without it."

Just ask any Texas druggist for a ounce of liquid Barcentra. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to get off ugly fat quickly, easily & without starvation diet, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Mr. O'Keefe, retired, has lived in Pampa a number of years. He has spent the past 12 winters in Truth Or Consequences.

Three widows we know have solved the "after five" problem very well. Mrs. Barbara Rook, Mrs. Nettie Cornelison and Mrs. Cora Long, who have been neighbors for more than 20 years, have been having slumber parties every evening since Christmas. During the day, they stay at home and do their own housework; but towards evening they gather in one of their homes and spend the night together. Sometimes they go for supper and sometimes not. Sometimes they just might spend two or three nights in a row in the same neighbor's house, depending on how the mood strikes them. They spend their evenings visiting and occasionally playing cards. And in the morning, each returns to her own home.

Franklin of Groom attended birthday party on Thursday afternoon; also, Mrs. Willie Ragsdale room. We would like to have of the Groom people to visit us.

Johnston of Lefors, known "granny" to her friends, attended the party on Thursday afternoon and entertained the group with her harmonica. It is just wonderful for one 86-years-old to make as she can. "Granny" Johnson was 86 years old on Feb. 3 her daughter in Lefors entertained with a birthday party for her home. Guests were Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. V. Guthrie, Mitchell Kinsey and Mrs. Meredith, all of Lefors.

Frank J. Herlacker is back with following a trip to Topeka, Kan. M. A. Winegar died Feb. 2, 1959 after a long illness. He was 81 years old. Dew Tell

We are haunted by the thoughts of Gertrude, the big and lonely fish, who is swimming around in the icy waters of the Coronado Inn Fish Pond completely ignored by the saucy little gold-fish that are its only neighbors.

Gertrude's plight was called to our attention by a recent item in Peg o' Pampa when she pointed out that a local, well-meaning fisherman (and we shall mention no names) had tossed his catch surreptitiously into the pond with the supposition, we guess, that "it is better to be a Big Fish in a little pond than etc."

But it hasn't worked out that way. The pond was already inhabited by a school of pretty gold fish who didn't welcome the intrusion upon their privacy by the larger fish.

Instead of warmly greeting the addition of a Big Brother and a Big Sister, the Golden Ones formed a coalition of their own and have worked hard at completely ignoring Gertrude. When Gertrude tries to join their little clique, they will arch their fins, flip their graceful tails and swim off to the other end of the pool.

We are sure there is no fish union and there is absolutely no way that the Coronado Inn Gold Fish could know that our national gold standard is a bit shaky. So we are at a loss to know why the fish should be so snooty towards Gertrude.

What can be done for Gertrude, we are not sure. A companion seems the sensible solution. While we are sure that Stu Kines, the genial Inn Keeper, would not be interested in any phase of fish hatchery business, he might be amenable to the idea of a companion for Gertrude to keep her personality from becoming warped.

World Day Of Prayer Observances Planned

This year marks the 75th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer.

Two observances of this day will be observed in Pampa on Friday, Feb. 17. An early morning service will be held at 7:30 a.m. in the First Methodist Church. The Wesleyan Service Guild hostesses. They will provide complimentary breakfast and coffee following the service which will be presented by the Business and Professional Women's Group of the First Methodist Church under the leadership of Mrs. Dick Crews.

The second service of the day will be at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Henry Rose St. Matthews Episcopal Church will be in charge of the worship service. Mrs. Ronald Hubbard will act as a play using 24 women from the Presbyterian church.

An outstanding feature of the service will be an inter-church service directed by Miss Rosemary Flor, choir director of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Fidelia Yo will accompany and provide music throughout the service. A nursery will be provided for this meeting.

The local Church Women's Council points out that the purpose of World Day of Prayer is to gather together women in every Christian country to pray for peace and to pray for the extension of God's kingdom throughout the world by means of the loving work of women. The offering is used entirely for the international work of the Church Women. Part will be used in the United States for work with Migrant Workers. Part will be used to supply Christian literature to support the literacy program in Africa. Part will go to support women's universities in the Orient and to supply scholarships to these universities. Six of these schools are in India, one in Hong Kong, one in Taiwan, one in Japan and the largest university for women in the world in Seoul, Korea.

In this year of our Lord, 1961, the council continues in its announcement when citizen's committees are forming all over the United States in defense of our American way of life, the Church Women's Council reminds that the basic principles upon which the American government was established were those laid down by the Lord, Jesus Christ. "We have no greater weapon against communism than to extend his teachings and to back them up with Christian concern for His creatures around the world."

The council urges all church women of the community to attend and support the World Day of Prayer on Friday, Feb. 17 at 7:30 a.m. in the First Methodist; at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church.

Concern For Looks
Marks Women's Ages

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. effort to "do something" about herself. At this age she is inclined to be extravagant about clothes, and an easy mark for anything the beauty salons and cosmetic counters are pushing. It's a "I might as well try it, what have I got to lose?" state of mind. But when the middle years pass a woman once again settles down to putting her own looks in proper perspective. She still wants to look as nice as possible—but her looks aren't all-important. So, no matter what the experts say, excessive concern over her looks and clothes doesn't indicate that a woman is neurotic. It's just a good indication of her age.

Little girls are often as unconcerned about how they look as boys of the same age. But once girls reach the teen age, their looks become so important that a too-short haircut or a hairdo that droops, or having to wear a dress that isn't quite right is a major catastrophe. Then they grow up, marry, settle down and lose their preoccupation with a mirror. During the young, adult years a woman doesn't have time to be overly concerned with her looks. She doesn't demand perfection of her face or her clothes. Then come the years of the first gray hairs, the first wrinkles, the first signs of middle age — and once again a woman begins to be preoccupied with her own appearance. She begins to shop more carefully and to set more store by clothes. She begins to spend more time before her mirror, trying out new make-up tricks, new hairdos, new styles — all in a determined

Importance Of Missions Stressed At Meeting

The Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church met in the Educational Building on Wednesday at 9 a.m. Coffee was served by Mrs. Jim White and Mrs. Frank Poster, hostesses for Circle IV.

Mrs. John Nutting, presiding at the business meeting, announced the dates, April 13 and 14 for Spring Presbyterial to be held in First Presbyterian Church in Pampa and appointed committees to take charge.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder conducted the worship service and the dedication of Pledge Cards.

"Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions" was the program presented by Mrs. Berton Doucette. "To American protestants, home missions means such things as inner-city work, the migrant ministry and out-reach to the Indian and Spanish speaking American. It is in reality much, much more," said Mrs. Doucette. "Home Missions is the main business of every local church, church school, every Christian Program. The business of every Christian. The Church of America must be a Missionary Church or we will die."

Mmes. Warren Hasse and Henry Gindorf discussed the theme by commenting and discussing their reactions to the headlines on a bulletin Board "Signs of Change". In the words of an inner city minister in San Francisco, a Sunday School missionary who flies to lonely logging camps and homes in Western Idaho, the religious broadcaster who rides the air-wave, ministers-to-the-moving, and Mrs. Earl Barker and the who travel the long lengths of the Alaska Highway and Railroad, the speakers forcefully revealed the problems facing the Church today.

"In pioneer times, it was the circuit rider who carried the missionary interests of the church to the constantly westward moving population. Today's catcher-of-the-American-on-the-move riders many different circuits", Mrs. Hasse continued.

"The geographical frontiers of the United States have vanished, and the character of home missions has undergone a gradual change. Confusion has come into our thinking and Christians are concerned with the vitality of our witness," Mrs. Doucette concluded with a quotation from 'Impact'. "Christianity is the collision between God and man, and the point of impact of this collision is the Church in Mission".

Mrs. Cornett Is Gabbette Hostess

GROOM (Spl) — The Gabbette Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bobby Cornett for a sewing session. Mrs. Fred Brown, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Those attending the meeting were Mmes. Danny Ashford, Charles Banks, Jack Bivens, Charles Brown, Fred Brown, Dean Burger, George Clark, Billy Fields, Danna Howerton, Kenneth Hunt, Donald Ritter; three guests, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. Arletus Ruthardt, and Mrs. Earl Barker and the hostess, Mrs. Bobby Cornett.

Presbyterian women are studying the Gospel of John in Circle meetings and have joined in a Prayer Covenant with the women of East Asia for the Conference to be held in the Philippines in 1962.

Setting the stage for the World Day of Prayer on February the 17th Mrs. Wm. Dixon and Mrs. A. D. Hills visited Circle meetings in January showing the film "Wider Grows the Kingdom" portraying how the prayers and money of United Church Women have helped less fortunate peoples of other lands.

Ochiltree HDC Chairmen Attend Meeting In Dumas

PERRYTON (Spl) — Mrs. Virtie Fairies, County THDA chairman, Mrs. Clyde Herrington, County Home Demonstration Council chairman, and Lou Jeffers, County Home Demonstration Agent, attended the District I training meeting in Wellington Tuesday.

At this meeting plans were made for the Spring District Meeting to be held April 6 in Dumas. All home demonstration club members may attend this meeting.

County Home Demonstration Agent, Lou Jeffers, reported that approximately 30 women went to Amarillo Thursday and toured several furniture stores.

Mrs. Jeffers emphasized that these are not "buying" tours, but are to inform the women so they would know what to look for when making furniture purchases.

Third PTA Study Course Concerned With Family Counseling Service Need

Dr. Richard Crews, pastor of First Christian Church, opened the third session of the PTA Study Courses, held Thursday in Lamar School, with the question "How Are the Folks At Home?"

He pointed out that in case of divorce in a family, the children are the ones who usually suffer the most from this action. "Divorce is a very commonplace practice now as compared to past history. In our community and others, where there is no counseling service, the ministers are called upon to counsel persons with marital problems."

He asked the group, "Do we need, in our community, a marriage counseling service?" and answered "there is a need for a pre-marital counseling for young people and post-marital counseling service for those needing such services. Trained personnel must be in charge of such service."

Dr. Crews continued "There is no such thing as a perfect marriage because there is no such thing as a perfect person." In conclusion, he stated the two main causes of divorce are "immaturity and selfishness."

Dr. Crews introduced the main speaker, Miss Carol Owens, director of Amarillo Family Service, who stated "Amarillo Family Service has a long history starting in 1908 when United Charities was formed. This included the operation of the first day nursery, first adoption center and first juvenile counseling service."

"At the first," she said, "this service was operated through volunteer workers only. The first paid trained personnel began in 1920. Volunteer workers are not very satisfactory and trained personnel is required. In the depression years of the 1930's, this service was concerned with relief, problems or "family breakdowns. These problems concerned finance, health, in-laws, children and parents."

Miss Owens went on to say "There are only 300 counseling agencies in the United States. In the Amarillo Family Service, there are 19 members working as a board of directors with each serving a three-year rotating term. Board members retire after serving six years. This service was on probation for four years before becoming an agency and it is supported through the United Fund. Their budget for this year is $22,000."

"There is no set fee for services," Miss Owens explained. "Average fee last year was $2.75 for an interview. Average marital counseling time runs about three months with one interview weekly."

Miss Owens concluded by showing a film depicting the actual work of the Amarillo Family Service on one case.

The fourth study course will be held Feb. 16 in Stephen F. Austin School and will be concerned with the topic "Are We Rushing Our Children Into the Social Whirl?"

native of Persia and has long been a popular garden flower. In June, the large, flamboyant blooms are born in profusion above the rough, hairy leaves and there are few perennials, which can equal the Oriental Poppy in intensity of hue.

Did you receive a poinsettia plant for Christmas and now are not quite sure what to do with it? After the poinsettia has finished flowering, the stems should be cut back slightly and the plant stored in a dry cool place to rest. You can cut the branches of your flowering shrubs now if you want blooms indoors early. Just place the branches in water in a warm, light place.

Do you feed the birds around your home during the winter months? If not, you have missed a real treat. Just put some bread, doughnuts, suet, water and table scraps (depending on the type of birds) in your back-yard and watch the birds as they discover the food. Small children will get a great deal of enjoyment during cold, winter days by being allowed to put the food out for the birds and watch from the window as the birds gather to eat. Life is full of beauty and the birds, more than most living things, interpret the beauty of living.

Since Arbor Day was observed locally, we have tried to become a little better informed on the subject of trees. Arbor Day is a day set aside by law in most states for encouraging the planting of shade and forest trees along highways and about public grounds of the state, thus contributing to the wealth and comforts of the people.

Do you know why the bark of some trees is smooth while the bark of other trees is very rough? Many trees such as birch and cherry have elastic bark which can stretch and grow; therefore, stays smooth. Bark that is not elastic, breaks into the ridges or furrows as the trunk of the tree grows. Underneath the bark, the trunk of the tree looks solid, but actually it is filled with small pipes through which sap from the roots can rise. The cambium, or layer of living cells of the inner surface of the bark, acts as a transportation system that carries food from the leaves to all parts of the tree. Thus the trunk is a two-way highway with sap going up inside the trunk and food coming down just under the bark. If the bark is cut through to the wood all the way around a tree, the tree's food supply is cut off and it dies of starvation.

The cambium builds a new layer of wood around the trunk each year. This makes the rings you can see in the tree when the tree is cut down. We can read the life story from the rings in the trunks. A light ring for Spring and a dark ring for summer shows a year's growth. Wide rings show an abundance of moisture and narrow rings show slow growth during dry years or of being surrounded by other trees.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the houses for you and me.
We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,
We plant the studding, the lath, the doors,
The beams, the siding, all parts that be

Unusual Story Behind First Woman Doctor To Attend U. S. President

TOR'S NOTE: The writer is president and executive editor of Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By BOYD LEWIS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ELHAM, N. Y. (NEA) — Now here, Mr. President! I recall an evening with another Dr. Travell. This was Dr. Willard Travell, your doctor's father, now 91, and to whom your Dr. Travell and mine is "Bobby."

Dr. Willard was relaxing after a party in honor of his 85th birthday, a party at which, appropriately enough, I recall he had been given a new tennis racquet. (Was ever confidence in an old man's future better expressed?) He said to me:

"If you tell Bobby that something is impossible, it is just a challenge and a beginning for her."

In how many wildly varied ways has she met the challenge, made the beginnings! Her publications in the medical journals are a record of enterprising and painstaking research. She has made an imprint upon the design of furniture — she persists in the belief that chairs should fit people despite some deer doubted that she must also be a wife and mother and grandmother.

It's a story of a keenly scientific brain concealed behind twinkling good humor, of a soft voice shielding an inflexible resolve.

She has made an imprint upon the design of furniture — she persists in the belief that chairs should fit people despite some designers' efforts to make them look like abstract paintings. She has written her ideas into airplane seating, with a chair in the Electric you can tilt back for a snooze without getting in the other fellow's salad. She spent long hours driving a tractor across plowed ground to make the farmer safe from sacrilegious. She has mushed behind sled dogs in the Arctic to study cold for the Air Force, piloted a tank at Ft. Knox.

Yet all of this — enough lives and carriers for half a dozen people — fails to tell the whole story. The woman in the dog sled and the tank is no more nor less real than the hostess presiding over gracious table in Pelham; the mother of two beautiful daughters, now married and mothers in turn, the one an operatic soprano, the other a painter and sculptor; the wife of my good friend, John W. G. Powell, who turned down offers from three big league baseball teams for a career in finance.

What can we do for our country, Mr. President? We can give you upon the design of furniture — she persists in the belief that chairs should fit people despite some de-

Freeman Bids To Gain Allies For Farmers
By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has begun what he hopes will become a widespread campaign by the nation's farm leaders...

Freeman's move is based on his belief that the Kennedy administration will find it hard to put its new farm plans into effect...

The secretary's concern probably grows out of the fact that city-based members of Congress have been cold-shouldering most farm proposals in recent years...

Freeman apparently has decided that it will be easier to round up the votes of city lawmakers on Capitol Hill if he first builds a greater acceptance for farm programs among the voters...

Freeman recently outlined a three-point Kennedy administration farm program including: Abundant food and fiber production for all Americans...

Success in this, Freeman said, depends in no small measure on the extent to which we can achieve a much broader understanding of agricultural problems...

A recent national poll, he said, showed that the most frequent complaint by the general public was about the increased cost of food...

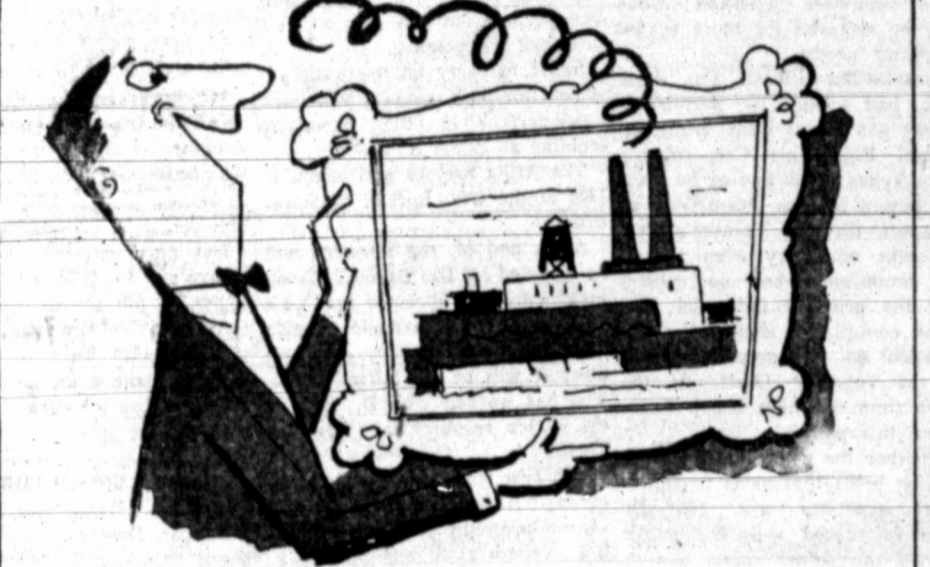

Freeman said he wants farm leaders to join him in becoming 'salesmen for agriculture.'

We must develop recognition on the part of the general public of the contributions made by agriculture to the high standards of living we enjoy...
