Filibuster Rule Tops Liberals' 'Battle' Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberal Democrats in Congress, cheered on by some Republicans, marshaled their forces today for fights to smash what they consider the big threats to the Kennedy legislative program — the Senate filibuster rule and the conservative coalition controlling the House Rules Committee.

The outcome of these battles—which could tie up the chambers for days and weeks—largely will determine how much legislation President-elect John F. Kennedy can push through the Democratic-controlled 87th Congress opening at noon Tuesday.

Kennedy has assigned top priority in the new Congress to a hike in the minimum wage, aid to economically depressed areas, government help for schools, medical care for the aged under the Social Security program and stepped-up federal housing programs.

Forty liberal Democratic senators were invited to a meeting to discuss strategy for their attack on the filibuster rule which requires the approval of two-thirds of the senators voting to cut off a talkathon.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., expected to be named assistant Senate Democratic leader, and Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, N.Y., offered compromise proposals on the eve of the conference.

The House liberal Democratic bloc, with about 100 members, arranged a caucus to hear a plan devised by Speaker Sam Rayburn to ensure that the GOP-Southern Democratic coalition dominating the rules committee would not block Kennedy's legislative proposals. All House Democrats were scheduled to meet afterward.

Details of Rayburn's plan were not disclosed in advance. But it was believed to call for a shakeup in rules committee membership that would give the liberal-moderate bloc a one or two-vote margin over the conservatives.

This could be done, informants said, by increasing the committee's membership from 12 to 15 and adding two Democrats and one Republican, or by changing the makeup from the current eight Democrats and four Republicans to a 9-3 ratio.

The rules committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., holds virtual life and death power over legislation through its authority to decide which bills the House can take up. During the last session, the conservative coalition of two Southern Democrats and four Republicans killed two of the five programs to which Kennedy has assigned top priority in the new Congress.

The liberal effort to break the conservatives' stranglehold needs Rayburn's support to succeed.

In the Senate, liberal Democrats, led by Sens. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, hope to change Rule 22 to permit a mere majority of the chamber—or 51 members — cut off filibusters.

Southern Senators who traditionally have used the talkathon to kill civil rights legislation, have vowed a long fight against any (See FILBUSTER, Page 2)

Traffic Deaths At 270

By United Press International

The nation's holiday traffic death toll shot past the 270 mark today and safety experts called on motorists to go easy on the gas pedal during the final hours of the New Year's weekend.

Motorists ended 1960 on a worthy note with fewer traffic fatalities than expected during the early part of the 18-hour holiday. But the first day of the new year saw a drastic increase in the highway toll.

A United Press International count at noon showed these holiday fatalities:

Traffic 270
Fire 32
Miscellaneous 67
Total 374

California led the traffic death count with 38, Texas had 26, Illinois 18, Indiana 12, Wisconsin 14, New York 12, Florida 11, Ohio 10, and New Mexico and Michigan 9 each.

Alaska, Hawaii, Iowa, Maine, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont and the District of Columbia had not recorded a fatality.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, called the spurt in traffic deaths "a discouraging reversal... in what started out to be a comparatively safe New Year's weekend."

Pyle said that Saturday the holiday toll was running at only half of last year's. But Sunday, he said, the count jumped rapidly and was approaching last year's record pace.

Chinese Aiding Laotian Rebels; Strongholds Fall

'New Frontier' Shrinks Kennedy Finding Going Difficult

By LYLE WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's new frontiers have receded somewhat into the distance.

They went, you might say, that way.

The new frontiers which seemed quickly attainable in the disorderliness of a presidential campaign appear now in the light of political and legislative discipline to be more distant and difficult.

The cold political fact is that it is much easier to make a campaign promise than to make good on it. Of this fact the Kennedy strategists are aware.

For example, consider the three-month program which candidate Kennedy promised in a September campaign speech:

"The next President," Kennedy said, "must be prepared in the first three months of his office to send to Congress messages that will deal with (1) wiping out poverty, (2) the problems of full employment, (3) of a higher minimum wage, (4) of better social security for our older citizens, (5) more slum clearance and (6) aid to depressed areas, (7) more help for the marginal farmer and the sharecropper, (8) a concentrated drive on illiteracy, (9) improved distribution of surplus food — and (10) a better economic break for all Americans regardless of their economic status.

The president-elect, of course, could send all of those messages to Congress in the first three months of his office. He is too much of a politician, however, to do so with any expectation of quick action on even half of them. The quickie Kennedy program, in fact, has been halved.

Shortly before Christmas, Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, Speaker Sam Rayburn and others met with Kennedy at Palm Beach. Their program for early legislative action was as follows:

(1) Aid to depressed areas, (2) increased minimum wage, (3) federal aid for school construction, (4) public housing and (5) medical care for the aged.

None of these approaches a new frontier. Four of the projects to which Kennedy has given legislative priority are holdovers from the last session of Congress. The fifth, public housing, has long legislative history.

When Kennedy made his September campaign promises he was thinking of aid to education in terms of federal funds for teachers' salaries as well as school construction. Speaker Rayburn told him and told newsmen that federal funds for teachers' salaries would have to wait.

General Mobilization Eved; SEATO Meets

VENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Laotian government troops lost two important strongholds to Communist-supported Pathet Lao rebels in strategic provinces bordering North Viet Nam, it was announced today. The pro-Western government quoted military reports which indicated that Phong Saly, the provincial capital, was captured by Pathet Lao guerrillas "with the aid of Chinese and North Viet Nam Communist." Xieng Khouang was abandoned "to avoid artillery fire," a government spokesman said.

Premier Prince Boun Oum was reported considering a general mobilization to cope with the latest Communist aggression.

(The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), facing one of its most serious crises, met today in special emergency session to discuss the Laotian crisis.

The urgent meeting of the eight-nation SEATO council of representatives was called by the United States after the Laotian government charged that Communist North Vietnamese troops had invaded Laos to aid leftist rebel forces there.

Brussels Streets Patrolled

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)—Police and army trucks patrolled Brussels today and strong forces of gendarmes were concentrated near the royal palace and Parliament to head off any trouble over the government's economic "austerity" program.

Several hundred strikers gathered headquarters this morning, but no organized demonstrations developed.

The capital was quiet and most streets were deserted in the second day of a new year holiday. All stores were closed, but the railroad stations — strike-bound last week — were open. Streetcars, buses and taxis functioned normally.

Although Socialist strike leaders called for new demonstrations by rank-and-file union members, the public holiday apparently led most of the strikers to remain at home rather than demonstrate in the streets.

Belgium has been plagued for two weeks by strikes, demonstrations and riots over the "austerity" program brought on by the loss of the Congo.

No new violence was reported anywhere during New Year's Day, which was marked by a complete lull in the crisis throughout the strike-crippled country.

City And County Quiet On Holiday; Only 3 In Jail

All in all it was a quiet holiday period as of press time today in Pampa and Gray County.

Police Capt. Dennis Roan said today it was one of the quietest in years. There were only three inmates in the city jail this morning.

One of these men was held for driving while intoxicated. He was the first arrest of 1961 on that charge. The Pampa man, who was arrested while driving on the wrong side of the street on W. Kingsmill about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, will be arraigned in county court tomorrow.

The other man in jail was arrested for intoxication and the third inmate was a juvenile picked up for carrying a pair of lead "knucks."

Captain Roan said Pampa police arrested several persons for intoxication during the weekend who were released on bond for appearance in Corporation Court tomorrow morning.

The Sheriff's Office also reported a quiet holiday weekend and Sgt. E. G. Albers of the Highway Patrol said no serious accidents were reported in his county area.

Dry, Cold Front Sails Over Texas

By United Press International

A dry cold front scooted across a large section of Texas today bringing clear, crisp weather.

Overnight, the mercury dipped to 12 degrees at Dalhart. Brownsville reported the highest overnight low of 53 degrees.

The Weather Bureau said the cold front extended along a line from Tyler to Junction and was moving southeastward.

Most of the state may expect clear to partly cloudy skies for the next 24-hour period with temperatures about normal, the Weather Bureau said.

A U.N. spokesman said Bokavu was still firmly in the hands of the soldiers loyal to the ousted premier who is imprisoned.

Five Gray county officials, a justice of the peace, three constables and four county commissioners who were elected or re-elected to office last November took their oaths of office before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in Pampa today.

They included:
 Ray Wilson, county auditor; Jack Back, tax assessor; Rufe Jordan, sheriff; Don Cain, county attorney; William Walters, district attorney; D. R. Henry, justice of the peace; W. R. Combs, constable; J. D. Fish, constable; J. G. Doggett, constable; Truitt Johnson, James McCracken, Joe K. Clark and G. L. Lunsford, all Gray County commissioners.

Only officials elected or re-elected in the November election were required to take the oath.

In the list, sworn in today there were only two new faces. They were County Commissioners Johnson and Clark.

After the swearing-in ceremony, Judge Goodrich said:
 "Congratulations, gentlemen. You can now consider that you are officially ready to go to work on a new term and a new year."

R. M. Harvey Rites Pend

Interment rites are pending for Roy Matthew Harvey, 61, who died at 6 p.m. yesterday in the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston.

He was born July 15, 1899 in Huntington and moved to Pampa in 1920 from Breckenridge.

Mr. Harvey was employed as plant superintendent for the Coltex Carbon Co. and had been with that company since the boom days in Breckenridge. At one time, he had worked as plant superintendent for the carbon company at Kingsmill.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Harvey of Weatherford; one son, Edward of Carous, Venezuela; one daughter, Mrs. Maurine Jordan of Kansas City, Mo.; two brothers, George of Tacoma, Wash. and Alvin of Lufkin; two sisters, Mrs. Eula Dobbs of Weatherford; Mrs. J. J. Sewell of Fort Worth; and six grandchildren.

The body is to arrive in Pampa on Tuesday, when arrangements will be announced by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

One Blaze Noted By Firefighters

One small fire was reported in Pampa during the weekend. Firemen were called to S. Barnes St. at 5:30 p.m. Sunday when an auto belonging to Jerry Pritchard of Pampa caught fire.

Firemen said the blaze was started by a dragging brake and caused damage to a wheel and rear seat.

Rites Set For Mrs. Parris

Interment rites for Mrs. Ida May Parris, 95, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home with the Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor of Harrah Methodist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Parris, who had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Walker, 859 S. Sumner, since 1940 died Friday night in a convalescent home at Claude, where she had been a patient for two weeks. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Kennedy Readies Quick Action On Agriculture, Unemployment

By MERRIMAN SMITH
 UPI White House Reporter

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy geared today for quick action against the persistent economic woes of agriculture and "islands of chronic unemployment" affecting the lives of up to 22 million Americans.

The Chief Executive-to-be commended to the Congress convening Tuesday an elaborate set of recommendations for speedy movement of stagnant economic areas back into the mainstream of American economic progress by executive action as well as legislation.

He also set up an important meeting in New York next Thursday to draft plans for what he called "the farm crisis."

The economic recommendations came from a special task force headed by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., who submitted a special report to the President-elect here Sunday. Top items in the report, in the opinion of Douglas, were recommendations for doubling almost immediately the amount of food distributed from federal surpluses to destitute families, and rapid congressional action of an area redevelopment bill.

This measure, twice vetoed by President Eisenhower, would provide for low interest loans to attract new industry and encourage the expansion of present plants in areas of high and persistent unemployment and under-employment.

During the New Year's week-end there were other developments at Kennedy headquarters here:

—He exchanged New Year's greetings with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The Soviet leader expressed hope that in 1961 Russian relations with the United States would proceed toward peace and friendship "on a new and reasonable basis." Kennedy responded with the wish that 1961 relations would be "marked by good will and a common desire for peace."

—The name of Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia continued to figure in speculation on Kennedy's choice for secretary of the Army. Despite apparently well-founded speculation in Georgia, Kennedy aides said the President-elect had not discussed the matter with Vandiver. The governor is under consideration, along with others, however, and an appointment was expected before the end of the week.

A. E. Turner Dies After Long Illness

McLEAN (Sp) — Funeral services for Amos Ed Turner, 71, a retired farmer, who died at 9:30 p.m. Sunday in Highland General Hospital, Pampa, following an extended illness, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, in the McLean Methodist Church with the Rev. Mrs. Prestar, who resided 804 E. Campbell, died 5 p.m. yesterday in her home.

She was born Feb. 18, 1889 at Denison and had been a resident of Pampa since 1929.

She is survived by two sons, J. C. and Calvin Hyatt, both of Pampa; one sister, Mrs. Neva Williams of Holbrook, Ariz.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Change In Name Announced By Cities Service

Change of the corporate name of Cities Service Oil Co. (Del.) with holdings in the Pampa area and headquarters in Bartlesville, Okla., to Cities Service Petroleum Company, was announced today in New York by Burl S. Watson, chairman of the parent Cities Service Company.

All domestic and Canadian exploration, production and related activities of the Cities Service system will be conducted under the supervision of Cities Service Petroleum Company.

Robert L. Kidd will continue as chairman of the board and chief executive officer, with J. E. Heston as president.

The consolidation of exploration, production and related activities follows the exemption on Dec. 23, of Cities Service from the Public Utility Holding Company Act to which it had been subject since 1941. Consolidation of Cities Service marketing activities and operation under a single subsidiary was announced on Dec. 27.

Cities Service Petroleum Company will supervise the operations of mineral leaseholds totaling more than 4,500,000 acres in the United States and 644,000 acres in Canada.

The production of crude oil and other petroleum liquids of Cities Service Petroleum Company and its affiliates currently averages 142,000 barrels per day, in addition to the production of 750,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day from a total of 7,900 net interest oil and gas wells.

The company operates directly and through affiliates 15 natural gasoline plants and has an interest in 12 others, as well as underground storage projects, in strategic areas, with a total capacity of approximately 1,500,000 barrels of petroleum products.

Cities Service has a field office west of Pampa, a gasoline plant southwest of the city and its production department has offices in the Combs-Warley Bldg. The Cities Service Gas Co. is located southeast of Pampa.

GROVETON, Tex. (UPI)—Marvin Bauer, a 30-year-old Groveton rancher was in jail today, charged with fatally shooting his two spinster aunts so he could inherit their 1,640 acre ranch.

Bauer confessed to Sheriff Lynn Evans and two Texas Rangers that he killed the women with a .20-gauge shotgun so he could have their Trinity County ranch. The officers questioned Bauer in Houston, where he had gone to visit a cousin after his aunts' funeral.

"He finally broke down and admitted he shot them," Evans said. "He knew everything pointed to him." Bauer was jailed without bond.

The bodies of Miss Lilly E. Bauer, 64, and Miss Hathie L. Bauer, 71, were found Dec. 27 in their house, about 10 miles south of Groveton. Bauer himself reported the deaths to authorities.

attempt to change to filibuster rule. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, GOP conservative leader, has promised to join them on grounds the filibuster is a bulwark against any "wild spending plans" by the Kennedy administration.

Keating's compromise proposal would allow a majority of the Senate to terminate debate. After the Senate had voted to limit further talk, another 100 hours of debate on an issue would be allowed, equally divided between opponents and advocates of the measure.

Mumphrey offered two compromise proposals for curbing filibusters if the majority vote plan could not attract enough support.

He suggested that 60 Senators, or three-fifths of the membership be allowed to cut off a talkathon.

If that idea failed, Mumphrey proposed that the matter be referred to the Senate Rules Committee with instructions to return recommendations later in the session.

Foul Weather Plagues East, Central U.S.

By United Press International
A New Year's Day storm which dumped up to two feet of snow on the Northeast blew out to sea today while a cold wave moved into the northern Midwest.

The storm raced out of the Midwest Sunday and dumped 24 inches of snow on New York's Pulaski-Fulton area and 18 inches on Oswego, near the Lake Ontario shore.

Roads in the north country area were blocked, at that time and snowplow operations were hampered by cars stuck on the highways.

Sections of New England got up to 12 inches of new snow and Pennsylvanians awoke on the first day of the new year to find 9 inches of new snow on the ground at Bradford and 8 at Pittsburgh.

Rain lashed the Eastern Seaboard, sending sheets of water sweeping over shoreline roads. Boston received 1.22 inches, with lesser amounts elsewhere in southern New England.

Highway officials warned sub-freezing nighttime temperatures could cause icy driving along rain-soaked roads in eastern and southern New England.

The coldest temperatures were in the northern Midwest. It was 23 degrees below zero at International Falls, Minn., 13 below at Alexandria and 10 below at Duluth, Minn. It was minus 20 at Fraser, Colo.

Cold Check Artist Held

BIRMINGHAM (UPI) — FBI agents were holding Robert R. Morrison, 55, today following his arrest Saturday at Florence.

Special agent Thomas J. Jenkins, said Morrison was a bad check artist who had operated all over the country for many years.

Morrison was arrested at Florence in connection with a "forged and fictitious" check for $20,000.

The check was deposited in a Tuscaloosa bank and charges were filed against Morrison Dec. 30, a few days after the deposit.

Morrison is a Walker County native and, according to the FBI, has "an extensive record since 1936 involving forgeries and fraudulent checks."

The FBI also said, "Morrison claimed to be a retired Army officer and was transferring his accumulated funds from Omaha to Tuscaloosa in order to set up business. He is alleged to have attempted to cash checks totaling $71,000 during his short sojourn in Tuscaloosa, including a down payment of $5,000 to a real estate firm for purchase of a valuable piece of property."

All In A Lifetime

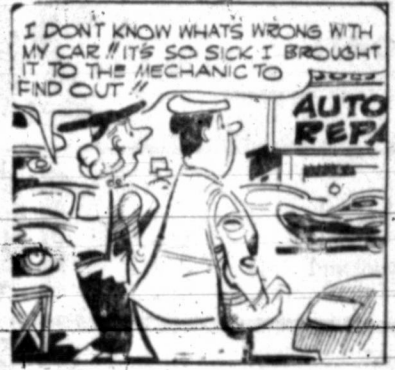

SURE I RUN A BATTERY SERVICE, LADY, BUT YOU'VE GOT TO WAIT A FEW DAYS. SO MANY FOLKS USED THEIR HORNS TO SALUTE THE NEW YEAR THAT I'VE GOT MORE BATTERIES TO RECHARGE THAN I CAN HANDLE BY THE END OF THE WEEK. I CAN HANDLE IT... MAYBE.

MR. STUMPLE! ER... HI-YA, MR. WILSON, SIR? YOU'RE SETTING A VERY CRUDE EXAMPLE FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE. I AM?

INDEED YOU ARE! WATCH HOW I CROSS THAT ICY WALK... VERY CLEVER, SIR, BUT I STILL LIKE MY WAY BETTER.

I DON'T KNOW WHAT'S WRONG WITH MY CAR. IT'S SO SICK I BROUGHT IT TO THE MECHANIC TO FIND OUT.

HAVE YOU DIAGNOSED THE TROUBLE, MR. STUMPLE? I COULDN'T SAY THERE'S ANYTHING ESPECIALLY WRONG WITH IT, MA'AM. I'D SAY...

-IT JUST DOESN'T CARE ANY MORE.

DADDY WILL SHOW YOU HOW TO MAKE YOUR CAR GO!

SEE... YOU PUSH IT LIKE THIS... AND AWAY IT GOES... WHEE!

WAIT, JIMMIE! DADDY WILL GET IT FOR YOU!

SEE? WITH THAT SWINGING DOOR, YER CAT CAN COME AN GO AS SHE PLEASIS!

IT'S WONDERFUL, BUSS! I'M GLAD YOU TALKED ME INTO LETTING YOU MAKE IT!

ARE YIP YIP ARE!

I'M WORRIED JUST LISTEN TO THAT NOISE!

IT SOUNDS LIKE THEY'RE BREAKING SOMETHING DOWN ON PLANET EARTH!

RELAX! I DON'T THINK IT'S ANYTHING SERIOUS.

YOU GOTTA SNAP OUTA THIS, WE MAKE! THAT YOUNG ENGINE IS SOUND TO TURN UP!

WASH, I'M SICK OF YOUR CONSIDERED INFANTILE OPINIONS! JUST KEEP QUIET AND LET ME REASON THIS THING OUT!

AND WHILE I DO THAT, PUT IN A CALL TO OUR PLANT BACK HOME! SEE IF EASY HAS RETURNED FROM HAWAII YET!

IT'S BROUGH ON FOOT, AND TO HAVE MOM AWAY WHILE THE THING'S READY TO BE A STORE FASHION!

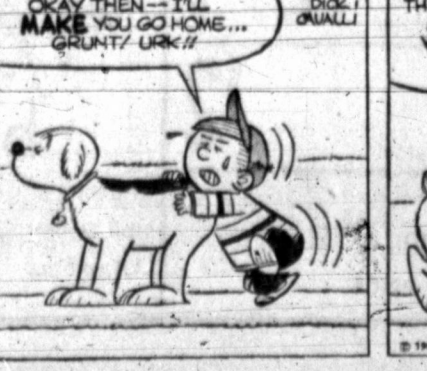

SO JANE'S THE ONLY MODEL EXERCISING? JILL DOESN'T JUST KEEP ENOUGH TO WHAT'S THE MASTER WITH, YOU WILL?

I'M PRACTICING WALKING! MODELS CAN'T LOOK DOWN! WATCH THE LAUNCHING SITE!

YOU HEARD ME, CHIPS - I SAID GO HOME!

OKAY THEN - I'LL MAKE YOU GO HOME... GRUNT! URK!!

THE WORLD LOST A GREAT MIDDLE LINEBACKER WHEN YOU DECIDED TO BE BORN A DOG.

AND HERE'S ANOTHER CALL COMING IN - AN OFFER OF $200 FOR YOUR COLLECTION OF HAND-MADE SPAGHETTI FORKS! WILL YOU TAKE IT, SIR?

OUT OUR WAY

YIKES! THOSE ODDBALLS ARE SELLIN' SUNK LIKE IT WAS CUT RATE GOLD BULLION! MAYBE THAT'S WHY AMOS IS ACTIN' SO SNAKY - HE FIGGERS ON UNLOADIN' THAT OL' CLOCK FOR A WAGONLOAD OF BILLS! ANY TIME HE DON'T YELP WHEN HE TAKES A THIRTY-FIVE-DOLLAR NICK HE'S UP TO SOMETHIN'.

SUSPICION'S JAKE'S MIDDLE NAME

GOSH! I NEVER SAW A HORSE UNHARNESSED THAT FAST BEFORE!

DAGWOOD CAN I HAVE A MINK COAT THIS WINTER?

I DIDN'T THINK SHE HAD THE NERVE

IT'D BETTER GET BACK TO THE LAB AND SEE HOW WORKING IS MAKING OUT BACK THERE IN THE 10TH CENTURY!

MAYBE I SHOULDN'T HAVE SOME OFF AND LEFT THE TIME MACHINE UNDETTACHED, BUT HE ASSURED ME HE'D BE ALL RIGHT

MAN! AM I FRUSTRATED

EVERYTHING TO PUT TOGETHER - NOTHING TO TAKE APART!

IT'S BEAUTIFUL, DEAR, I'M SO GLAD THEY GAVE YOU THE OPPORTUNITY TO MANAGE IT!

SOMETHING I THINK MY PARENTS WILL NEVER GROW UP!

NE'S NOT HURT! HE'S JUST ALL IN!

UNCLE PHIL! WAKE UP! IT'S ME - MICKEY!!!

AND SO THE FOLKS HAD THE HOUSE FIXED UP AND WE MOVED BACK AGAIN!

ALONE, TOO!

THIS IS THE HARDEST PART OF A FATHER'S LIFE!

NO POP! PLEASE DON'T DO IT!

YEAH, I'M KNOSBY! WALKS! WHAT ABOUT IT?

THE FACT IS, I HAVE HIT UPON SOMETHING THAT COULD BE IMMENSELY VALUABLE TO A PRIZEFIGHTER!

Santa Fe Expects Hike in Business During '61

By E. S. MARSH
Santa Fe President

significant pick up in general business conditions with a corresponding increase in freight car loadings and total revenues for 1961 anticipated. Generally favorable future conditions cause the agricultural outlook to be good at this time. The economy of the country continues in full vigor and measurements of industrial activity are expected to start a new upward trend by the second quarter of the new year.

The year 1960 has been helped by a banner agricultural production states served by the Santa Fe. A new all-time record, established in the number of cars of grain handled, due to bumper crops for winter wheat and sorghum grains. Despite this peak in production, revenues and earnings declined appreciably, largely because of the temporary recession in industrial production which became apparent last spring, with the start of declining tonnage in the movement of durable items and raw materials associated with building construction fields.

The interest of meeting demands of a continuing growth of nation and industry by providing improved facilities to perform efficient and economical service. The Santa Fe went forward with its $100-million program for rail improvements in 1960, the standing improvement being the change of line in the transcontinental route between Williams, Crookton, Ariz., opened to service on Dec. 19. The new line incorporates the most modern types of construction for flexible, high speed operation, and produces significant economies along with dependable and efficient service.

Other improvements in the 1960 program included a new freight yard at Brownwood, expansion of facilities at Belen, N.M., to handle eastward perishable traffic, a new combined rail-truck light house and office building at Argentine, Kan., which will be in service shortly after the close of the year, and new equipment made up of 85 diesel freight cars, 1,975 new freight cars, and new baggage cars. Among these are 200 piggy-back cars equipped with two and three deck superstructures for handling motor vehicles. The Santa Fe continues to equip its new freight cars with roller bearings and many with special devices to minimize damage loading — approximately 1700 cars are now available with "lock control" underframes.

While not equaling the record tonnage of 1960, plans for 1961 rail improvements are in the amount of $45-million and include the line change project in Arizona involving 37 miles of new line that will provide greatly increased efficiency in train operation to and from the Phoenix.

Also included will be renewal of 234 miles of main track with continuously welded-rail and new freight cars of various sizes. Additional freight and baggage cars will be considered during the year.

The continuing inflationary spiral together too steep for the best interests of industry and employees. It is the one most serious factor confronting business, government, and employee representatives. Much higher wage costs tax loads with only partial relief from modest increases in productivity are producing a continuation of squeeze on the earnings margin and making it increasingly difficult to find ample funds for all the expenditures on capital investments that would contribute generally to greater efficiency and employment.

The capital expenditure programs I have mentioned are all actual improvements that can be made according to the best management of railroad management to the extent that funds are available. They represent a modernization of the physical plant that is necessary to the conduct of modern transportation; however, there is a less tangible area where there is an ever greater need for modernization — the antiquated government transportation policies which are predicated upon assumptions of the distant past. There are a number of alarming inequities that exist in this outmoded type of regulation, and suitable legislation is needed to remedy them. It is essential that there be a repeal, or extension to the railroads, of the agricultural commodities exemption, which now permits motor carriers but not railroads to haul agricultural products without economic regulation. There must be a removal of the artificial obstacles which prevent railroads from diversifying and engaging in other types of business. Some provision for adequate charges must be made for the use of publicly provided facilities so that the users bear the full economic cost of providing competitive transportation service. Likewise, there is great need in railroad industry for rectifying the present taxation burden and the treatment of depreciation deductions in respect to railroad plant and equipment, so that funds will be available for the continued modernization of the property that is essential to controlling costs and maintaining up-to-date service. Given fair treatment in such matters, I am confident that the nation's railroads will meet the challenge of the '60's and contribute importantly to the long-range prosperity of the nation.

140 Homes Go Up In Pampa During 1960

Pampa building permits for the first 11 months of 1960 totaled $3,473,134 of which $2,322,277 was for the construction of 140 new residences in the city.

Figures for December will run this total perhaps $100,000 higher. The total includes new homes built, residences remodeled, new and miscellaneous permits for garages and small buildings and repairs.

From January through November of 1960 permits were issued for 14 new business places for a construction total of $545,539.

Building Inspector O. E. Payne said the 1960 building total for the city was lower than 1959 because of school construction in that year which boosted the total to $6,553,284.

A total of 477 permits were issued for the first 11 months of 1960 compared to 684 for all of 1959.

Heaviest construction month in 1960 was April with a total of $652,800. This included the building of 31 new homes in April at a cost of $460,400. May was the second heaviest month for home building when 20 new residences were built at a cost of $349,700.

Tips On Driving Enhance Chance Of Staying Alive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Statistics show that highway accidents increase in winter months.

To increase public awareness of winter driving hazards, the makers of one anti-freeze (Preston) sent two auto safety bandwagon teams across the country this fall to promote highway safety.

Here are some of the experts' tips to help you stay alive this winter:

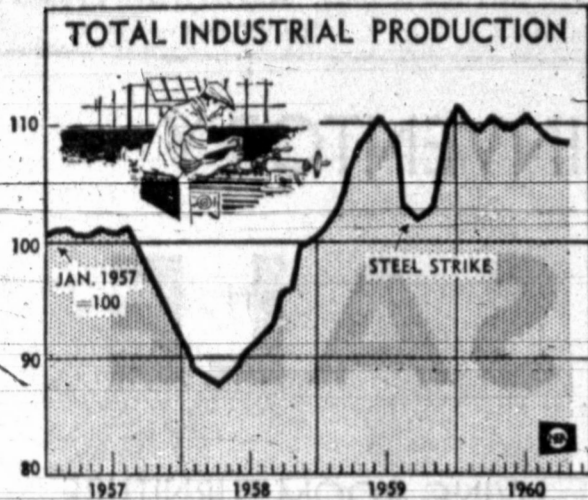

- observe the speed limit — set by law, by road and weather conditions and by common sense.
- don't drink when you drive.
- pass only on straight, level roads when all is clear both behind and ahead.
- be especially careful on icy or snowy roads.
- don't get into races or any kind of driving game. Remember that driving is a serious business and that showing off is foolish — and often fatal.

RABBIT FACTS

St. Joseph — Missouri cottontail with an average of 4 animals in rabbits rear 3.8 litters annually with an average of 4 animals in each litter.

INFANT TOLL

Washington — About 65,000 infants are born dead in the United States every year.

THE WHEELS TURNED—The nation's total industrial production in 1960 was down from a January high. Recovery from the 1958 slump generally continued, though. Information is from Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield resigned Saturday with a blast at Congress for refusing to raise postal rates to match increasing costs. In a report to President Eisenhower, he accused Congress of "failure to recognize its responsibility." He said refusal to boost rates kept the Post Office from eliminating its $544 million deficit. Summerfield's resignation was made by the White House with that of John Hay White as U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain. Both are effective Jan. 20 when the administration President-elect John F. Kennedy takes over.

Imported Cars Market Shrinking; U.S. Firms May Junk 'Compact' Plans

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—The market for small imported cars is shrinking to a point where many American manufacturers are reconsidering plans to introduce small compact cars to compete in the field.

A year ago more than 66 makes of foreign cars were being offered on the American market. This number has shrunk to less than 60 at the present time, and many foreign companies that have "temporarily suspended" shipments to the United States are not expected to resume shipments unless the market takes an unexpected upward turn.

Imported cars no longer offered on the American market include the Riley, Jensen, Wartburg, Taurus, Maito and Gogomobil. Mottis has halted imports temporarily and Vespa currently is without a distributor in the United States.

The U.S. Department of Commerce predicts the number of imports sold in this country in the next year will shrink to about 400,000. Estimates of imported cars sales during 1960 settled at about 500,000. Sales of foreign cars peaked at more than 600,000 during 1959.

All of this, coupled with an expected slump in the overall car market in the United States in the year ahead, has made the American companies wary about plans to introduce smaller compacts to compete with the imports in the American market and elsewhere in the world.

Studebaker-Packard has placed its program for a small compact in a state of suspended animation. It is going ahead with work on an engine for the car but has stopped all work on body components.

S-P has not killed the program but has delayed to see if some other company will blaze a trail and test the ability of American producers to compete effectively in the minicar market now dominated by Volkswagen.

That leaves Ford as the most likely trail blazer. But industry sources said Ford was revising its plans too and there was a possibility that Ford might market its small compact in Canada and European countries to test its sales potential.

General Motors and Chrysler were both looking at the possibilities of introducing a smaller compact, but industry sources said neither had spent any great deal of money on the development program.

Volkswagen is the only small foreign car increasing its sales in the United States. In the first 10 months of 1959 Volkswagen sold 94,782 vehicles in this country, according to Automotive News, and the figure jumped 130,102 in the first 10 months of 1960.

All the others dropped and two of the small foreign cars, Hillman and Vauxhall, were replaced by two sports-type imports, Austin-Healey and Mercedes-Benz, in the eventful first 10 months of 1960.

In other words, the market for small foreign imports is slipping even faster than the market for foreign imports as a whole.

To the American makers this means that even if the market for imported cars holds at 400,000 in the year ahead, only part of this market would be for cars smaller than the current U.S. compacts.

'Big Four' Bowl Classics Dominate Scene

Hogs One TD Choice In Cotton

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — The Arkansas Razorbacks, a band of agile, quick-hitting lightweights, ruled a one-touchdown favorite over the muscular Duke Blue Devils today as the two conference champions met in the 25th annual Cotton Bowl football game.

The host Razorbacks from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast tittists had firm footing and brisk temperatures for their battle before a crowd of around 75,000. Skies were due to be partly cloudy and temperatures in the upper 40s.

The contest was expected to become an aerial duel between Duke's Don Altman and Arkansas' George McKinney on throwing end and with quarterbacks Jimmy Collier and Lance Alworth and Duke's Tee Moorman receiving.

But neither team is expected to sidetrack its potent running attacks, built around the Razorbacks' Alworth and the Blue Devils' Mark Leggett, Dean Wright and Jack Wilson.

Both teams counted heavily upon the return to action of injury-saddled backs and if Albery and Duke's Joel Arrington are fully recovered they might well steal the spotlight from their teammates.

Albery has never been thrown for a loss and despite his power blasts has been jarred loose from the ball but once in three seasons.

Arrington was a whiz as a sophomore and turned in several spectacular jaunts before injuries sidelined him this season. He may be the answer to Alworth, a 9.6 sprinter who specializes in kick returns and the long-gainer.

Olympic Star Adds Awards

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rafe Johnson, victorious in the grueling Olympic decathlon and considered a model of American youth, has added the highly prized James E. Sullivan Amateur Athletic Union Memorial trophy to his collection of honors.

Wilma Rudolph and Jeff Farrell, who also gained fame as personalities and athletes during the Olympic Games, were second and third in the 1960 balloting by a nationwide tribunal of sports authorities.

The award, named in memory of James E. Sullivan, a founder of the AAU, is presented annually by that organization to "the amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Johnson scored a narrow victory in the Olympics over his close friend and UCLA classmate, C. K. Yang of Formosa, with a record total of 8,392 points for the world games. Earlier, at the Olympic trials, Johnson had established the world mark for the 10-event decathlon of 8,683 points.

Johnson, of Kingsbury, Calif., received 233 first place votes of the 635 ballots cast and a total of 1,611 points.

Miss Rudolph, the premier woman athlete of America, was awarded 103 first place votes and 1,079 points for her spectacular successes in the Olympics when she won the 100 and 200-meter dashes and anchored the triumphant 400-meter relay team.

Native of Clarksville, Tenn., she now attends Tennessee State A&T.

Leaf Goalie Eyes Record

By United Press International

Frank Mahovich of the Toronto Maple Leafs admits he is finding it increasingly difficult not to think about Maurice (Rocket) Richard's single-season record of 50 goals — and with good reason.

Mahovich scored a pair of goals in the final period Sunday night to give the Leafs a 4-1 victory over the Rangers at Madison Square Garden.

He now has scored 33 goals and needs 18 more in Toronto's remaining 33 games to crack the Rocket's National Hockey League record.

Frank had plenty of luck Sunday night. On his first goal of the game, which broke a 1-1 tie, the puck bounced off goalie Lorne Worley's glove and into the cage. He scored again late in the period when his shot caromed off the inside of the right post.

Owls Gun For Upset In Sugar

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Mighty Mississippi was a 10-point favorite to upend the anonymous Owls from Rice University today for its second straight victory in the annual Sugar Bowl classic.

The Southeastern Conference champions, looking for their fourth straight post-season victory, were counting heavily on flashy All-America quarterback Jake Gibbs to pave the road to victory.

Rice, with an unimpressive 7-3 record and a share of second place in the Southwest Conference, will field a well-balanced but singularly unengaged team.

Despite the heavy point spread, Rice was figured a good bet for an upset if the Rebels come into the game looking for an easy time.

Although a large crowd is expected to turn out in pleasant weather for the 27th annual playing of the Sugar Bowl, it is one of the first within memory that isn't a sellout.

Owls Gun For Upset In Sugar (Continued)

Mississippi is undefeated but was tied by bitter rival Louisiana State, which fell victim to Ole Miss in last year's Sugar Bowl, 21-0.

Mississippi builds its offense around Gibbs, a rifle-armed quarterback who is also one of the team's leading runners. Most of the ground game is handled by slashing fullback Jim Anderson, halfbacks Bobby Crespi and George Blair serving as chief targets.

The Rice offense pivots around sophomore quarterback Billy Cox, but goes deep. Cox has plenty of backing from sophomore Randy Kerbow and big senior Alvin Hartman. Halfbacks Max Webb and Bob Wayt handle most of the running chores, along with fullback Roland Jackson.

Ohio State Heads Home After Holiday Victory

By MARTIN LADER United Press International

Ohio State, taking heed of an old expression that New York is a fine place to visit but a bad place to stay, lost little time in returning home today with the Holiday Festival basketball championship safely tucked away.

The top-ranked Buckeyes, who twice came close to defeat during the four-day tournament, now must look ahead to the defense of their Big 10 title starting with a home contest against Illinois on Saturday.

Hailed by many as one of the top college basketball teams ever assembled, Ohio State and its superstar, Jerry Lucas, just managed to hold on to an 84-82 decision over St. Bonaventure in the Festival final last Saturday for its ninth victory in as many starts this season. In the semifinal round, the Buckeyes had overcome a 13-point second-half deficit before eliminating St. John's.

North Carolina captured the other major tournament decided Saturday, beating Duke, 76-71, in the Dixie Classic.

St. Bonaventure and St. John's, highly rated in the last United Press International balloting, also solidified their claims as a major power although they had to settle for second and third places respectively in the Holiday Festival.

The fifth-ranked Bonnies, led by their All-American forward, Tom Stith, threw a big scare at Ohio State before accepting their first defeat of the season after nine straight victories. Stith scored 35 points, 26 of them in the second half, as St. Bonaventure gamely fought back into contention after trailing by as many as 11 points in the second half.

But as is usually the case with the Buckeyes, Lucas came to the rescue. He converted three key foul shots in the final minutes of play and set up the basket which eventually proved the margin of victory.

Lucas finished the night with 32 points and 21 rebounds and won the Festival's Most Valuable Player award.

St. John's, third-ranked in the nation, withstood a 34-point performance by Billy McGill to defeat Utah, 73-65. The Redmen led by only 37-35 at halftime, but Kevin Loughery and Tom Jackson got hot in the second half to gain the Johnnies a commanding margin.

Seton Hall topped St. Joseph's (Pa.), 91-83, behind the 36 points of Hank Gunter, to take fifth place in the tournament.

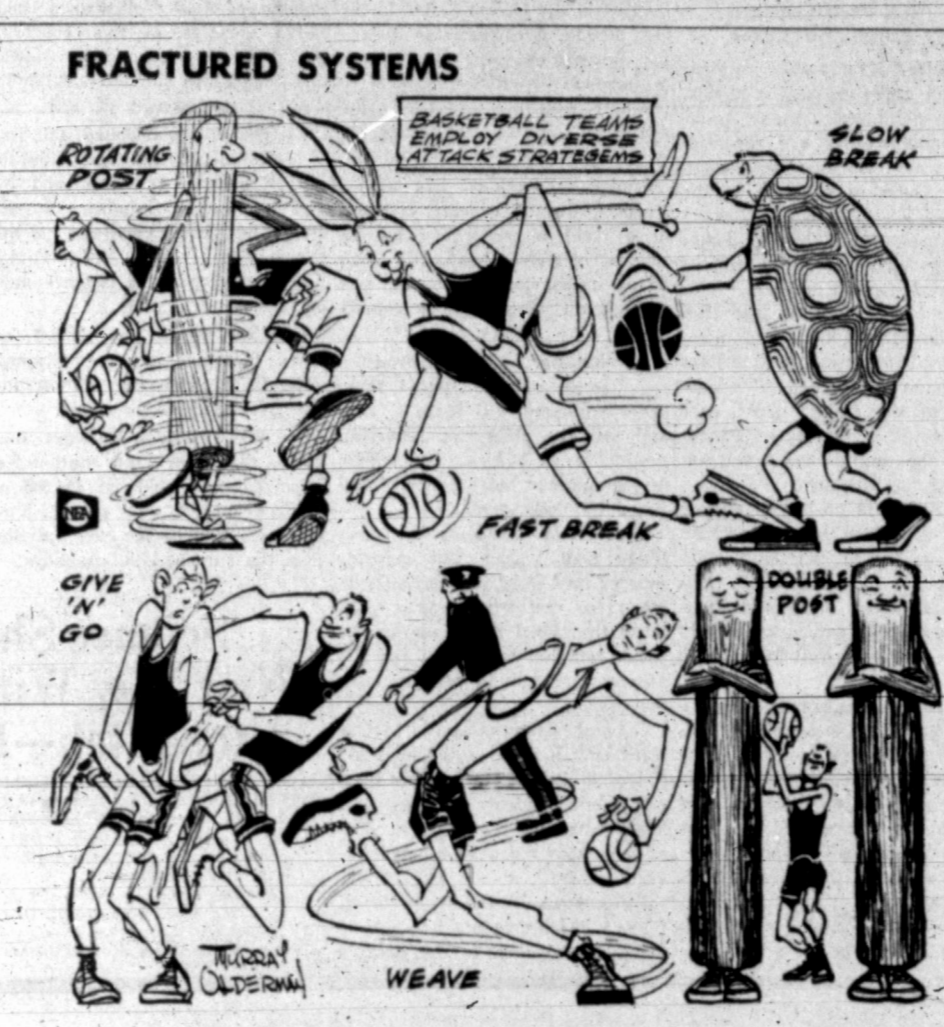

North Carolina won its third Dixie Classic championship in one of the roughest games in the tournament's history. Duke center Carroll Youngkin was ejected from the game early in the second half for roughing under the basket and several technical fouls were called on each team as the fans littered the court with coins and paper.

Control of both backboards proved the decisive factor in the Tar Heels' seventh victory against two defeats. It was the first setback in 10 games for the tenth-ranked Blue Devils.

Doug Moe and Dick Kepley shared scoring honors for North Carolina with 16 points each and Moe was voted the tournament's most outstanding player.

In consolation games, Villanova beat Marquette, 75-70, for third place, North Carolina State defeated Wake Forest, 59-51, for fifth place, and Maryland turned back Wyoming, 84-77.

Elsewhere, Louisville won its 11th straight game by topping St. Louis, 49-47; Northwestern edged Notre Dame, 59-56; Cincinnati beat George Washington, 84-61; Kentucky defeated Missouri, 81-69; Toledo beat Miami of Ohio, 76-68; and Xavier of Ohio overcame Yale, 78-63.

Pampa Opens 3-4A Action

Pampa (7-4), hoping to carry its six-game winning streak of 1960 into 1961, will have a chance at lucky number seven when Palo Duro's Donis help the Harvesters open District 3-4A play here at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

In a pre-season poll, Palo Duro was ranked fourth and Pampa-sixth, but the Harvesters have become the district dark-horse with their recent spurt.

Stiffles LA Chargers, 24-16

By United Press International

Blanda, on the other hand, was more effective — especially on the long pass plays. He completed 16 out of 31 attempts for a net of 301 yards passing.

Blanda's touchdown passes included one for 88 to Cannon, one to end Bill Groman for seven yards and a 17-yarder to fullback Dave Smith which was set up by a 35-yard Blanda-Cannon pass.

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — K. S. (Bud) Adams, who is a successful oilman in his spare time, today had just what he set out to get a year ago on New Year's Day when he signed Billy Cannon, the most sought-after college football player in the nation.

It was Cannon, playing his first season of professional football, and veteran George Blanda who Sunday teamed up to lead Adams' Houston Oilers to a 24-16 victory over Los Angeles in the first championship game of the infant American Football League.

The Houston victory, which saw Blanda pass for three touchdowns and kick an 18-yard field goal, also was a fitting birthday present for Adams, who will be 38 years old on Tuesday.

A record Houston crowd of 32,183 was joined by an estimated 40 to 50 million television fans.

This was the first time this season that Cannon teamed up with Blanda as Houston's chief passing combination. The former Louisiana State All-American only grabbed three aerials, but they were good for a total of 128, including one 88-yard touchdown play.

Although Cannon had the most net yardage as a pass receiver, Blanda mixed up his receivers well to keep the Chargers' defense off balance. Altogether the veteran quarterback completed 16 out of 31 attempts, passing to five different receivers.

Los Angeles' kicking specialist, Ben Agajanian, put together three consecutive field goals for 36, 22 and 27 yards, before the Chargers in the third period were able to penetrate the Oiler goal line.

Los Angeles quarterback Jack Kemp, the AFL's top passer of the season, was shaken up early in the second period when he was hit by Oiler back Julian Spence. Kemp's passing accuracy appeared to be less effective after that, although he completed 21 out of 41 for a net of 171 yards.

Minnesota '11' Puts Top Ranking On Line

By FRED DOWN United Press International

Minnesota defends its national championship in the Rose Bowl and Joe Bellino brings his record-filled Navy career to a close in the Orange Bowl today when the "Big Four" of the annual college football classics are played before crowds totaling more than 320,000.

Minnesota is rated a seven-point choice to beat Washington before 103,000 at Pasadena, Calif., while Missouri is a 6½-point pick to top the Sailors. Bellino's press clippings and all. About 76,000 are expected to see Bellino's farewell to college football in Miami, Fla.

Mississippi, still burning over failing to win the national championship despite an unbeaten, once-tied season, is a 10-point favorite over Rice in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; La.

The parade of football starts for the TV viewers at 1 p.m. EST and continues for about six hours. CBS is carrying both the Navy-Missouri and the Arkansas-Duke games and NBC is carrying both the Mississippi-Rice and Minnesota-Washington games.

Here's how the experts view the games:

Minnesota (8-1) vs. Washington (9-1) — The Big Ten champions suffered only a 23-14 loss to Purdue while the Huskies were beaten, 15-14, by Navy. Minnesota's powerful line, led by Lineman of the Year Tom Brown, is expected to control Washington's fast-striking offense which out-scored nine opponents, 255-102.

Minnesota, employing a straight T- compared to Washington's winged-T, relies chiefly on a crunching ground attack and stubborn defense. Quarterbacks Bob Hivner and Bob Schloredt give Washington the edge at that key position.

Navy (9-1) vs. Missouri (9-1) — Navy has never lost a bowl game in three tries and Missouri has never won one in six attempts. Navy has Bellino, Heisman Trophy winner and brilliant all-around star, but Missouri has a rugged squad in depth and should win unless Bellino is at his greatest.

Navy bowed to Duke, 19-10, and Missouri lost to Kansas, 17-10.

Mississippi (8-1) vs. Rice (7-3) — Mississippi out-scored 10 rivals, 266-64, and was tied only by Louisiana State (6-6) while Rice lost to Georgia Tech, Arkansas and Baylor. Rice defense was the second best in the nation and, Southwest experts contend that several of Mississippi's opponents were not really top drawer.

Mississippi star is Jake Gibbs, one of the country's most talented backs. He completed 66 of 109 passes for 12 touchdowns and also ran for 246 yards.

Arkansas (8-2) vs. Duke (7-3) — Arkansas lost to Baylor and Mississippi while Duke lost to North Carolina, Michigan and UCLA. The latter, a 27-0 drubbing by UCLA, was a national TV debacle which made the Blue Devils eager to make the public forget this "mission" could be important because teams often regard bowl games as "larks" and unconsciously do not extend themselves all the way.

George McKinney leads an Arkansas passing attack that clicked for 12 touchdowns and Duke counters with effective combination of Don Altman and Tee Moorman.

DETROIT MAKES DRIVE, TOPS LAKERS, 116-105

By United Press International

The Detroit Pistons, who only a week ago were battling to stay out of the National Basketball Association's Western Division cellar, suddenly have caught fire and are making a strong bid for second place.

Detroit overcame an early 16-point deficit to whip the Los Angeles Lakers, 116-105, Sunday night. The victory was the fourth in a row for the Pistons and left them just percentage points behind second-place Cincinnati.

Once again it was strictly a team effort for Detroit as three men hit for over 20 points. Bailey, Cincinnati; Detroit; Howell led the Piston scorers with 26 points, Gene Shue had 24 and Shellie McMillon contributed 22. Walter Dukes, who scored 15 points, also was outstanding on the backboards.

Elgin Baylor of the Lakers, however, took scoring honors for the night with 39 points.

Sports In Brief

Former Harvard Head Against HS Sports

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Harvard University President James B. Conant today called for the abolition of state high school athletic championships.

Conant also urged an end to all sports competition between junior high schools.

In an article in the current issue of Look Magazine, Conant said "vicious overemphasis on competitive athletics" has, in many areas, resulted in school athletics taking precedence over classroom studies.

The Buckeyes intercepted a pass by UCLA's Bill Kilmer of the West during the third quarter and raced it back 35 yards to set up the day's lone score.

Four plays later, the board read 7-0 after quarterback Tom Matfe, a teammate of the 5-foot, 8-inch Herbstreit at Ohio State, connected on a nine yard scoring pass to Tulane's Tom Mason and Ed Dyas of Auburn converted.

By United Press International
New Mexico State's defending Border Conference basketball champions face what appears to be the stiffest challenge to a successful defense of their crown in their very first title test: this week.

For the Aggies must face their most formidable rival for the crown on the latter's own court as they move into Tempe Saturday night to meet the improving Arizona State Sun Devils.

If they can whip the Devils there, then they could well face a downhill run towards a second straight championship. A loss would mean a tremendous blow to their hopes although they would get another crack at their foes in mid-February at Las Cruces.

Larry Wilson scored a goal at 39 seconds of the overtime period to enable Buffalo to edge Springfield, 4-3. It was the second goal of the night for Wilson.

Thomas' Jump, Winter Olympics Tops

Scribe Reviews Year's Best Sporting Events

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MIAMI (UPI) — You start the new year with a rush at the Orange Bowl game today with barely enough time for a quick look back at the one just ended.

The beginning, a year ago, you sat in the smoky rafters of Madison Square Garden and watched John Thomas smash the seven-foot barrier indoors. Then it was even higher in the cockpit of a jet to the wintry wonderland of Squaw Valley for the Winter Olympics.

Glittering days, with a ringside seat as Irving Jaffee squared off against skating officials whose red faces had nothing to do with the weather, and the unforgettable gameness of the winning U.S. hockey kids.

The hot tables of Reno and the hot cars starting out cross-country from Los Angeles, Spring and a round of golf with Ingemar Johanson, then the heavyweight champion of the world but a preliminary boy with a putter. More golf in Ireland, scarring the lovely landscape of Killarney, Galway, Limerick and Ballybunion where, they are wont to say, "the next parish to the west is America."

Awed as anyone of the beaten by Arnold Palmer's winning birdie surge at Denver, and winging Sam Snead to see Ingo the Swedish iron man climb through ropes against Floyd Patterson. The madness of the dressing rooms after Patterson became the first ever to regain the title and collecting from both Snead and Palmer on the first tee at Portmarnock just before they teed off to win the Canada Cup.

Shivering in the icy deluge at St. Andrews as Palmer's grand slam dreams were drowned in the "valley of sin" and agreeing with the angry Scots that Snead should have attended the centennial affair instead of flying home for a big cash tournament. Setting a course record in reverse at famed Glenageary and, cheering for Bill Johnston in the heat of Rome for the start of the Olympic Games.

French Open.

One of the most critical problems for Minnesota pioneers was to get iron strong enough to build the plowshares that would turn the tough prairie soil.

1960 Obituary Pages Record Deaths Of Many Famous Persons Over World

NEW YORK (UPI) — A prince and a poet and "The King" met death in 1960 far short of the biblical promise of life of three score years and ten.

Prince Aly Khan, diplomat and lover, aged 48, and Albert Camus, 46, winner of the 1957 Nobel Prize in literature, were killed in separate auto accidents, a few months apart, on the outskirts of Paris.

Clark Gable, 39, the "King" of Hollywood, died in a hospital bed of a heart attack.

Two pioneers and a nearly-forgotten congressman who made history lived almost a full generation beyond the biblical 70 years. They were Dr. William Whitney Christmas, 94, an adventurous physician and the third man to fly an airplane; Elmer Westell, 95, the last survivor of eight men who in 1883 founded the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and former Rep. Norris Brown, 96, who introduced the nation's first income tax bill.

The obituary pages of 1960 drew a remarkably full portrait of a century of history — from Alfred Wilford Stern, 79, the Chicagoan who left for posterity an invaluable collection of Lincolniana, to two U. S. senators in the prime of their legislative lives — Richard L. Neuberger of Oregon, 47, and Thomas C. Hennings of Missouri, 57; and two men closely associated with the birth of the United Nations — Dr. Benjamin A. Cohen, 63, of Chile, and Mr. Oswald Aranha, 65, of Brazil.

In the noted dead is a warm picture of American life — Emily Post, 86, who molded its manners; Oscar Hammerstein II, 65, who wrote its songs; Polly Thompson, 75, who for most of her life was eyes and ears to the Frenchman who invented neon lights.

Other deaths tell the story of wealth and social and technical progress, of political battles, of the entertainment world and of an era of sports that may never be equalled again. Among them were these:

John D. Rockefeller Jr., 86, who gave away an estimated half billion dollars to benefit mankind; Edwin George (Cannon Ball) Baker, 78, who won the first Indianapolis Speedway classic, 51 years ago; Eugene Gifford Grace, 83, who for nearly half a century ruled the Bethlehem Steel Company; Seewell Lee Avery, 86, the stubborn businessman immortalized by a photograph in 1944; Joseph Nye Welch, 69, who won fame at the Army-McCarthy hearings; Mack Sennett, 77, the father of slapstick.

Franklin P. Adams, 78, columnist and wit; Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, 79, who served in Congress longer than any woman; Luis Angel Firpo, 65, the heavyweight who knocked Jack Dempsey out of the ring in 1923 but lost the bout; Boris Pasternak, 70, who refused the Nobel Prize for literature in 1958; Okana Stepanovna Kasenkina, 63, who leaped to freedom from the Russian consulate in New York in 1949; James Montgomery Flagg, 83, the noted illustrator; Dr. Francis Townsend, 93, a pension plan originator; former Sen. Henrik Shipstead, 79, who cast one of two U. S. Senate votes against the United Nations.

Earl Kemp Long, 65, stormy petrel of Louisiana politics; Aneurin Bevan, 62, coal miner who rose to political power in Britain's Labor party; Roy Chapman Andrews, 78, noted naturalist; symphony conductor Dimitri Metroploulos, 64; John Charles Thomas, 69, concert and opera baritone; novelists John Phillips Marquand, 66, and Nevil Shute, 60; actresses Diana Barrymore, 38, and Margaret Sullivan, 48; actor Ward Bond, 57; and Caryl Chessman, 38, red-light bandit who paid for his crimes in California's gas chamber.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, Jan. 2, the second day of the year with 363 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1774, Continental soldiers raised the first flag of George Washington's army at Cambridge, Mass.

In 1788, Georgia was admitted to the Union.

In 1900, U. S. Secretary of State John Hay described his successful negotiations with other governments for a so-called "open door" policy in China.

In 1905, Russian forces at Port Arthur, Manchuria, surrendered to the Japanese in the last big military engagement of the Russo-Japanese war.

Thought for today: English statesman Viscount John Morley said: "You have not converted a man because you have silenced him."

U.S. Taxpayers Spend $16-Billion On Schools

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The start of a new year is a good time for taking stock, in education as well as business. For the sake of perspective, let's take a look at what's happened to U.S. public schools, not only during the past year, but also during the past decade.

The statistics are pretty startling, even to those who have been well aware that our school system was experiencing a phenomenal growth.

Enrollment in public elementary and high schools now stands at a record high of 37,244,000. That's an increase of 1,200,000 students over the past year. Since the 1950-51 academic year, our schools have absorbed an additional 11,438,000 students—which is a lot of kid by any standard you wish to apply.

Although we still have fewer qualified teachers than we need, the record shows that we've done a remarkable job of expanding our professional resources in this field over the past decade.

In 1950-51, we had 927,617 classroom teachers. Today we have 1,408,962.

The increase in teaching staff over the past decade (52 per cent) was larger than the increase in enrollment (44 per cent). So we have made some progress in the direction of reducing teacher-student ratios and bringing over-large classes down to manageable size.

To recruit additional teachers, school districts across the nation have had to raise salaries, steadily and fairly sharply.

According to figures compiled by the research division of the National Education Association, the average annual salary of instructional staff members was $3,126 in the 1950-51 school year. This year it is $5,389 — an increase of $2,263, or 72 per cent. Even when you take account of the rise in living costs, as measured by the consumer price index, teachers have scored a real gain in purchasing power of nearly 50 per cent during the past 10 years.

And their salary level is still going up. The average teacher got a pay raise of 4.5 per cent during 1960.

More students, more classrooms, more teachers and higher salaries add up to a steep rise

In educational costs. In 1950-51, U.S. taxpayers invested $8,520,000,000 on public schools. In 1960-61, the tab will be $16,476,000,000.

AULD ANG SYNE—Former members of Senior Girl Scout Mariner Troop 22, which was organized as a Brownie Scout Troop in 1946 and has had as its leader throughout those years, Mrs. Marion Osborne, who is now executive director of the Quivira Girl Scout Council, met Monday morning at ten in Mrs. Osborne's home, 922 Mary Ellen for a Reunion Breakfast. Seated clockwise around the table are: Miss Becky Skelly, who is attending Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.; Jo Crinklow Fitch, nurse in University Hospital, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Sylvia Grider, Texas University student; Martha Skelly, district director of Quivira Girl Scout Council; Kay Layne, Rice University student; Pat Dial, student at University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark.; standing,

Ask The Designer

By GAILE DOUGLAS
Dear Gaile: It seems to me that no one I know has my clothes problem. I do hope that you can help me. I'm always rushing out at the last minute to buy clothes for this party or that dinner. I never seem to have the right thing to wear and yet I spend a fair amount on clothes. What's wrong? — Mrs. M. J.

Dear Mrs. M. J.: Cheer up. Your is a common problem. You would be surprised if you knew how many women share it with you. I had a chat with designer Vera Maxwell about it and this is what she said: "You've got to learn to be disciplined about clothes. And to take care of them. Begin now to plan your wardrobe around your daily needs. Know what you must have and resist buying a print dress because your best friend has one. This is an age in which you must cherish your individuality. And the easiest place to start is with fashion."

Dear Gaile: I'm a mess. Frankly, I just can't seem to get fitted properly no matter how hard I try. I'm a size 8 on top and a size 12 below. If I buy a sheath, I have to have it almost completely made over and this is expensive. I do buy dresses with full skirts but even they don't always fit on top as they should. Can you help me? — R. S.

Dear R. S.: I think so. Your problem calls for a particular type of dressing which is, fortunately, very easy in this productive country of ours. But let designer Jeanne Campbell of Sportwhirl tell you about it. She says: "There's only one really sound solution for such a problem co-ordinated separates. For you must consider the size of your waistline as well as skirt size and length. You'll find much better fit if you buy a size 8 top and a separate but matching size 12 skirt."

Dear Gaile: I'm disgusted. I own about 20 hats and I hate everyone of them. Not one of them looks well on me and yet, each one looked great when I tried it on in the department store. I love to buy a hat when I want to cheer myself up but I'm getting sick of the whole thing. Can you tell me what's wrong? — Mrs. J. H.

Dear Mrs. J. H.: Yes. You're going at your hat buying in the wrong way. But let's turn this over to Jean Louis, a charming Frenchman who lives in California where he designs clothes for motion picture stars. He has just completed a dozen hats for Vera Miles to wear in "Back Street," so he's an authority. This is what he says: "A nice collection of hats can make a small wardrobe seem twice as large and varied. But learn to study the whole picture when choosing a hat. This is very important. Always stand up in front of a full-length mirror to make sure the hat balances your figure. Also, look at the hat carefully from every angle. If the hat shade lends itself to manipulation, try it on the back of your head, tilted way over to one side or straight across the brow."

Dear Abby... "Ideal Family" Harbors A Wolf!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 22 years. I can pick my next victim ten minutes after I enter a roomful of strangers with him.

He is a handsome, respected professional man. He has a wonderful personality and is such a charming kidder no one would suspect he'd seriously follow up a cocktail party flirtation. Believe me, I know better.

I have covered up for him many times. I've stayed with him for the sake of the children and to avoid scandal, hoping each fling would be his last. He adores the children and suffers no loss of love at home. Everyone thinks we are the ideal family. Can you ever change the spots on a leopard, Abby?

DEAR WIFE: You've confused your animals. Yours is a wolf. "Covering up" for a philandering husband for 22 years is no way to cure him. The wife who raises Cain early in her marriage may not change her leopard's spots, but she can train him before he gets too wild. Better start now. It's later than you think.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married less than a year and already I am having problems. My wife calls me at work. I wouldn't object if she had a reason for it, but she will call me just to "hear my voice." She does this at least once every day. It is very embarrassing, and the guys at work give me dirty looks when they have to call me to the phone. She's a wonderful girl but she is very sensitive. How can I tell her to quit calling me at work without hurting her feelings?

DEAR JUST: Explain it to her exactly as you have explained it to me. Tell her it is embarrassing and an imposition on your co-workers. Punctuate it with a kiss, take her out to dinner and it won't hurt her a bit. (P.S. Why not call HER once a day — at noon, perhaps?)

DEAR ABBY: When I met Rita, exactly one year ago, I new I had finally found the girl I wanted to marry. She works where I work, is quiet, refined, and beautiful in a natural way. Rita is 26 and a widow. I am 28 and also eligible. I love her and she says she loves me. When I asked her to marry me she said yes, and gave me her CHEEK to kiss. Abby, this woman has never let me kiss her on the lips! She says that when a woman gives her lips she should be willing to give herself completely to a man and she is waiting for marriage. She insists she is not cold, but kissing is part of lovemaking and she doesn't believe in starting something she doesn't intend to finish. Would I be crazy to marry her?

DEAR T. J.: You'd be crazy not to. CONFIDENTIAL TO "TERRIBLY INDEBTED": Give back the gifts. The gentleman(?) obviously expects an immediate return on his investment.

World Of Glamour Awaits Girl Crowned Maid Of Cotton

By JOE MCDAVID
United Press International
MEMPHIS (UPI) — Beautiful clothes, world travel and a chance to meet important people — all these await the girl crowned 1961 Maid of Cotton here Thursday night.

Unlike the usual beauty winner who has a brief moment of glory then fades away, the Maid is a "working queen." But it is the kind of work any girl would love. Immediately after she receives her crown following two days of judging, the Maid will fly to New York to prepare for the tour that will keep her on the go for seven months.

She will meet political and business leaders throughout Europe and North America, and will get a jaunt to Hawaii. During the trip, she will model clothes created especially for her by some of the world's top designers. In all, the Maid will have more than 75 new outfits, complete with trunkloads of accessories.

She will appear on television and radio shows and at lunches and banquets. In May, the Maid will return here for a special place of honor in this city's four-day carnival celebration.

The idea, of course, is to give people a see how pretty a girl can look in cotton outfits, and they get their teeth to buy cotton clothes.

Competing in this showdown of charms which began today. Beauty is secondary, the Maid must be pretty, as all the finalists are. But what counts most is personality, charm and how she photographs, since for every person who meets her face-to-face hundreds will see her pictures.

The finalists by states: Alabama — Margaret Moore; Arkansas — Susan H. Hamilton; Little Rock; Tallahassee; California — Patsyette Ralphell Adams, Los Angeles; Florida — Ava Ann Camp, Fort Lauderdale; Kentucky — Lynn S. Evans, Morehead; Louisiana — Eleanor McFerrin

Arts-Crafts Club's Yule Luncheon
CANADIAN (Sp) — The Arts and Crafts Club held a Christmas luncheon in the home of Mrs. F. D. Teas.

Following the luncheon the group went to the home of Mrs. Darrell Wiggins for a gift exchange and program. Mrs. Jim Mitchell gave a Christmas story and two poems. Those attending were Mmes. Paul Wood, Ben Hill, M. H. Smith Jr., Walter Killebrew, Charlie Burton, Ray Morey, Bud Webb, W. E. Ramp, Clo Jhanel, Robert Rogers, W. R. Hess, Jim Mitchell, W. P. Varnell, Darrell Wiggins and F. D. Teas.

Piano Students Are Entertained With Christmas Party In Cafe
Elementary, Junior High and Theory pupils of Mrs. W. H. Fuller were entertained with a Yule-Tide party on Friday evening from 7 p.m. until nine in the dining room of Guthrie's Cafe.

A program of Christmas music was presented by several of the pupils; the youngest of which was Miss Janice Price, pre-school-age daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Price Jr.

Games and contests comprised the evening's entertainment with Fred Tinsley Jr. named winner of one of the guessing games. The door prize, a large statuette of Stephen Foster, was won by Mary Price. Becky Tinsley was winner in a game of constructing a stocking from pieces of red construction paper.

The traditional "mystery animal" was viewed from a box by candle light only. Gifts were exchanged from a tree of pink and silver. Statuettes of composers were given to all pupils present. Refreshments of decorated pastries, hot chocolate and bottle drinks were served to Mary Sue Hasse, Janice Price, Sandra Kenner, Susan Saum, Donna Flynt, Becky Tinsley, Terry Ann Culley, Tommy Francis, Sharon Tisdale, Julie Benton, Debbie Earp, Marty Ratliff, Mary Price, Tommy Dittberner, Cindy Brown, Debbie Allen, Eddie Wilkie, Cathy Wilkie, Gail Craddock, Cathy Nelson, Mary Ika Kay, Fred Tinsley Jr., Mary Bearden, Rowena Ruddick, Nancy Evans, Deborah Evans, Phyllis Atwood, Becky McBrayer and Lissa McBrayer.

Eastern Star Has Christmas Party
CANADIAN (Sp) — The Order of the Eastern Star held a Christmas party recently. Mrs. Arleigh Hobbler, worthy matron, presided at the business session.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Hobbler and Mrs. O. G. Riley. Those attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Hobbler, O. G. Riley, Paul Bryant, Russell Shaw, Mmes. Edith Howard and Ida Mae Conley of Glazier, Mmes. H. H. Marks, Aubra Bentley, Jim Ownbey, Bessie Cudde, Celia Roe and J. W. Sutton.

TALK FOR TEENS by julia ann bartosh
Notice anything happening to you in your late teens? This is the time for you to learn genuine respect for adults; to finally realize that maybe they do know something after all! A real mark of maturity among teenagers is to show that respect. Parents, teachers and adults really taught you what you know. Those who have gone before you are the ones who gave you knowledge. Recognize adults for what they are—friends, not enemies. Don't shun them; seek them out.

Holiday Program Given By PNG Club
CANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. W. R. Hines was hostess to the Past Noble Grand Club in her home recently for a covered dish supper. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Mamie Jordan, chairman. The devotional was given by Mrs. Clara Blue and Mrs. Pauline Rivers gave a Christmas story, "The Shepherd Who Was Left Behind."

Attending were Mmes. Clara Blue, Mabel Teas, Carrie Morland, Mamie Jordan, Ethel Poindexter, Martha Newton, Vonnie Sutton, Mamie Jordan, Ethel Poindexter, Pauline Rivers, Vivian Alford, Esther Bentley and Eva Nix.

For a winter vacation now and for next summer, too, these play clothes are perfect. Sheath swimsuit (left) has beautiful bands of purple, blue and black on turquoise background. Suit is cotton-and-linex. Culottes (center) have styling of a brief dress but allow for action. Sleeveless top has shirt tail cut so that it can be worn in or out. This is a star print on cotton satin. Short play dress (right) in big plaid of lilac-and-white has large lilac buttons marching from top to hem. Cropped top has high square neck. All of these fashions are moderately priced for careful clothes budgets.

For resorts now and the summer months to come, there are these separates by Dalton. Middy top in white wool jersey (left) with navy trim is worn over slim navy skirt. Cashmere cardigan (right) with rose trim gets companion skirt in pleated silk.

Knee-Length Fashions Are In Style For Spa Wear

By GAILE DUGAS
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Some lucky gals will vacation in the south or the tropics this year. And others, who stay at home, will nevertheless be shopping for resort clothes.

Certainly they're not going to wear them out in a snowdrift. But they are canny shoppers and they know that resort fashions always produce some gems that somehow can't be found again at the start of the summer. So they shop ahead.

This year, both groups will find brief play dresses (cut to the knee) swimsuits in weightless fabrics and brilliant colors, trim and slim pants, and of course, coordinated shirts and sweaters.

Synthetics are blossoming in fabrics that look like silk and are being used for both swim suits and really handsome sweaters with a handknit look.

Culottes have come into their own for leisure wear. They never did blossom, as some people seemed to think they might, for street wear. But they look their best for play hours in the sun. They, too, are cut in brief versions about the knee.

Shirts come in patterns big, bold and bright and are worn either as overblouses or tied loosely at the waistline.

Knit swimsuits are more important than ever and are done in prints, stripes and dashing colors. But this year, they've taken on some artful draping. This is not the "evening dress" draping of several seasons back. Rather, there's a suggestion of the cowl neckline or of the asymmetric look.

Mrs. Orrin Gross B&PW President

The gal with minor skin problems will use with pleasure some new beauty aids aimed directly at her. Medicated skin lotion (left) assists in healing tiny blemishes. It should always be used on a clean skin. New liquid base (center) helps to cover blemishes in daytime, works at healing, too. For touch-ups during the day, there's this compact with powder in solid form. It's the first time that a medicated beauty aid has appeared in pressed powder form.

RUTH MILLETT

If TV wants to use child actors on afternoon shows to sell breakfast food and other childish "goodies" to the small fry in the viewing audience, fine and dandy.

But there must be an awful lot of adults who resent having these miniature adults with their piping voices and their studied cuteness trying to sell them such things as automobiles, refrigerators and life insurance.

To begin with, no normal kid looks, acts or talks like a hair-pint TV pitchman. The little girls are all sugar and no spice. And the little boys, with their long hair cut ragged to give them a TV director's idea of the "regular fellow" look, are revolting specimens of childhood.

Average mothers and fathers don't react with "aren't they adorable?" when these little salesmen start making a sales pitch. Instead, they cut the volume down and think resentfully: "If the sponsor has something to sell me why does he send a kid to do a man's job?"

Besides, what the TV industry doesn't seem to understand is that by the time mama and papa have their last child tucked in for the night, they are a bit bored with childish prattle and are ready to be transported to a purely adult world.

Also, their own young ones are such super salesmen that when they sit down for a restful, relaxing evening they don't want somebody else's small fry trying to sell them ANYTHING.

One father has put it this way: "I absolutely refuse to buy anything an 8-year-old tries to sell me — unless it's my own 8-year-old who can't be switched off with the flick of a dial."

The Bob Dillmans Are Holiday Hosts

CANADIAN (SpI) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dillman were hosts to a buffet supper in their home recently.

The table was centered with a tiny white Christmas tree with pink rosebuds fringed by small angels and surrounded by crystal snowflakes. Crystal appointments were used on the table.

Guests were Messrs. and Mrs. Warren Hill, Jim Waterfield, Gra Gilbert Dickens, Buddy Hobdy, Warren Hill, Jim Waterfield, Gray Burnett, R. A. Flowers, J. B. Reid Jr., Dick H. Barton and Dr. and Mrs. Tommie Hendard.

Peelings Fix Flus
Here's a good tip for the home that boasts a fireplace: Burn dried potato peelings and they will help keep the flue and chimney clean.

Facial Facts That Will Help With Problems

ALICIA HART

Every girl longs for a perfect complexion, for flawless skin is a great asset.

Your hair can be carefully styled and made to look beautiful by salon experts. No matter what their size or shape, your eyes can be dramatized with make-up. But although minor skin blemishes can be hidden by cosmetics, it takes a long time to get rid of them entirely.

Any gal with a skin problem will welcome the news that she can now look toward achieving perfect skin all day long even while she is made up to look her prettiest.

Two new cosmetics, liquid make-up and pressed powder, have been developed by a firm already famous for its medicated skin cream. And the maker claims they will protect the skin against blemishes and help heal those that already exist. At the same time, they lend a smooth texture and lovely color to the skin.

Girls' Auxiliaries Honor Mothers

CANADIAN (SpI) — The Intermediate and Junior Girls Auxiliaries of the First Baptist Church honored their mothers with a buffet dinner in the church parlor recently.

The banquet tables were laid with white cloths and napkin holders were red felt Christmas stockings. Each table was centered with a Christmas village scene. The serving table was centered with red candles and gold Christmas bells and pine cones.

The menu was prepared by the Ruth and Miriam Circles of the Woman's Missionary Union.

The program, given by the Junior GA's consisted of a piano Solo by Elizabeth Ann Pundt. The Christmas story was read by Cathy Bucher; special music by Janis Selby, Barbara Clark, Sandra Sumner and Mary Ruthledge.

Guests and GA's present were Mrs. Joe Vernon, Nancy Wheeler, Mrs. Jack King and Karol, Mrs. M. M. Watson and Ethel Siedman, Mrs. Lonnie Selby and Janis, Mrs. J. C. Clark and Barbara, Mrs. Lawrence Puhdt and Elizabeth Ann.

Mrs. Franklin Bucher and Cathy, Mrs. Lester Hodges and Jerri, Mrs. Randy Sumner and Sandra, Mrs. Jack Rutledge and Mary, and Mrs. Loren Blackmore and Mrs. Dale Roth, G. A. Counselors.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Commenting on a recent column addressed to a reader who confessed herself "afraid and anxious with other people," Mrs. T. writes: "I am afraid and self-conscious around other people, too. Lately I've begun to realize that I don't know how to enjoy myself."

"With three little children, I don't have much time, but when I do, have some, I can't use it for myself. If I sit down to read, I have to jump up and start the washing. I've always been like this and am getting sick of it."

We must listen to ourselves when we say, "I am afraid and self-conscious around other people." What we really may be saying is: "This self of which I am conscious frightens me. I don't like it. I am so ashamed of it I can't take it, among other people."

Such a shameful self we could not possibly want to give any pleasure. All we'd want to do is punish it by overworking it. The fact that Mrs. T. is "sick" of this shameful self suggests that she may be getting ready to uncover her real one.

An ashamed self is often one that has been dedicated to what the psychoanalyst, Dr. Karen Horney, called the "search for glory."

When it has failed to attain some glory, some perfect appreciation from others, some perfect kindness toward others, some perfect control of its circumstances, it starts brooding over its failure many memories of failures for us. Gradually it accumulates so many memories of failures for us that we become afraid to take it among other people. To get rid of it and its relentless reminders of our failures we have to renounce its "search for glory."

We can always tell if we are haunted by this glory-seeking self by our reactions to frustration. If we're upset by a neighbor's slight in the supermarket, we can be sure it's our glory-seeking self's rage at denial of perfect consideration.

If our child's poor school mark frightens us, it's our glory-seeking self's fear that he won't reflect credit on our perfect parenthood. If we're haunted by the thought of undone work every time we sit down to enjoy ourselves, it's glory-seeking self that will haul us out of our chair to give, it an irreproachable account of our industry.

Award-Winning 4-H'ers Spend Week
At National Meet In Chicago

Four Texas teenagers who had plenty of room to roam and polish their 4-H skills were far from their native soil recently. As state 4-H winners, this quartet spent an exciting week at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

More than 1,250 4-H'ers from 50 states and Puerto Rico were in the Windy City for the big event arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, some 50 leading business enterprises and the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Lone Star delegation included: Rosemary Hermes, Gainesville, winner in the canning program; Sonny Bentley,

R. Hermes
Burkholder, tractor; Malcolm Osbourn, Valley Spring, swine; and Nick Frank Owen, Bella, dairy.

Nick, 18, a June graduate of Sherman High School, is now working with a herd of 15 animals on the 1,937-acre ranch operated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick R. Owen.

For the last three years, the lad's cows have won the grand championship at the Houston Fat Stock Show. In 1959, Frank won the coveted showmanship award at the Dallas Fair.

These awards top an enormous list for young Owen, a nine-year member of the Friendship 4-H Club. A junior leader, he has been active in other 4-H programs, including electric tractor, cats, hay, beef cattle and swine.

The Oliver Corporation sponsored his award trip.

Osbourne, 17, who owns a herd of eight registered Berkshire sows, won a pair of outstanding awards this year. One Berkshire became grand champion barrow of the Houston Fat Stock Show. The youngster also was declared high individual in the state livestock contest at Texas A & M.

Osbourne has carried at least three major projects—swine, cattle and poultry—on his family's 550-acre farm since joining the Valley Spring 4-H Club in 1958.

Malcolm Osbourn
Nick Owen

He is now vice president of that group and co-chairman of the Llano 4-H County Council. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Osbourn.

Moorman Mfg. Co. sponsored trips for state swine winners. Bentley, who celebrated his 15th birthday on Dec. 3, best summed up his winning tractor project this way:

"On our farm of 2,000 cultivated acres, well running tractors are a necessity. We have four tractors on the farm and dad and I keep them running at least 15 hours a day in plowing season."

As a result, young Bentley won the Wichita county award for tractor maintenance each of his five years in the project. He also has been chairman of the county tractor club.

A junior leader, he completed 35 projects since joining 4-H in 1955, including this year's champion shorthorn steer at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. This animal sold for $1,400.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bentley, are both 4-H volunteer leaders.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. provided Bentley's trip. Rosemary Hermes, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermes.

This young lady's canning project has picked up 57 blue ribbons in Cooke county contests. Her record totals 1,100 quarts of jellies, fruits and vegetables canned for the Hermes family.

Rosemary, who started canning when she joined 4-H six years ago, is currently president of the Lindsay Senior 4-H Club. Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. was sponsor of her trip to Chicago.

Moore's transfer orders arrived from Washington Dec. 23, less than a week after the crash in which 19 Americans aboard the plane and 34 Germans on a crowded street were killed.

Moore, who was not aboard, lent the plane to 12 American students to go on vacation.

The spokesman said the air crash had nothing to do with Moore's transfer. Moore was sent to command the War College at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama.

Scant Prospect Seen For Relief To Independent Gas Producers

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is scant prospect the 87th Congress opening Tuesday will make any move to free independent natural gas producers from federal regulation.

There may be revisions in the 1938 act which could help the industry and speed up Federal Power Commission decisions. But all will fall short of what the producers want: Freedom from utility-type price control when their gas is sold in interstate commerce.

Authority for this is Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., a member of the House Commerce Committee, which handles such legislation.

In a speech at Abilene, Texas, last month IPAA President Alvin C. Hope warned that unless producers are freed from control so they can carry out expanded exploration, there will not be enough gas to guarantee required 20-year reserves.

"The people have not been educated to the need," he said, "and I don't think the temper of Congress has changed sufficiently to pass a bill in the new session. I doubt if a bill is even introduced. I am hopeful but not optimistic."

This was a reference to previous attempts to enact the legislation. The last try, marked by a political pay-off scandal, caused such a public storm that both parties have become skittish about sponsoring new bills.

But this doesn't mean the industry won't be trying. Trade organizations such as the Independent Petroleum Association of America agree to try to force the issue.

In a speech at Abilene, Texas, last month IPAA President Alvin C. Hope warned that unless producers are freed from control so they can carry out expanded exploration, there will not be enough gas to guarantee required 20-year reserves.

"We, he said, 'will soon be below the 20-year supply at the present trend of supply and demand. If a reasonable solution can be found for equitable gas legislation, we will find this gas. If a solution is not found, then all segments are going to have their troubles multiplied.'

Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., of the Commerce Committee, plans no action unless a "new legislative approach" is conceived. Two previous bills vetoed by Presidents Truman and Eisenhower would have exempted independent producers from the Supreme Court's 1954 federal control decision.

Kilgore is certain, however, that such freedom will come. He said that as things stand now the independent producer is giving way to the big producers, thus depriving the industry of the new gas deposits found by the independents.

Humor Tinged Copy When Next First Lady Covered Inauguration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will watch her husband take the oath of office as the 35th President of the United States on Jan. 20, only eight years after she covered the first inauguration of President Eisenhower as a combination reporter-photographer-artist.

Her name was Jacqueline Bouvier then and she was working for the Washington Times-Herald. A warm winter sun flooded the Inauguration day crowd as she moved through the streets, recording her impressions with ink drawings and art work appeared and graphically captured the inauguration day spirit. Her drawings included a woman eating a box lunch, a dancing Indian and a dignified, homburg-wearing diplomat buying a hot dog.

"Jackie" was only 23, but in the year she had been working for the paper, her "inquiring camera girl" feature had become well known in the capital.

It seemed strange that the girl who had been voted the "most beautiful debutante" of 1948 in Newport, R. I. and New York, would become a cub reporter.

But Jacqueline wanted to become a writer, even at $42.50 a week.

As inquiring photographer, she asked some questions which were to become important to her in later years. They included: "Should a candidate's wife campaign with her husband? Do you think inauguration day should follow closer upon election day? How does a candidate's looks influence your vote?"

Among the people she interviewed were Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Washington hostess, two of Mamie Eisenhower's nieces — and the man she later married, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Senate's then most eligible bachelor.

Her camera and note pad recorded the view of Nixon and Kennedy in 1953 when she asked them about the Senate pages. She also asked the pages about the senators.

"I would predict that some future statesman will come from the ranks of the page corps," Vice President Nixon told Jacqueline Bouvier. "I notice that they are quick boys, most of whom have a definite interest in politics."

"I've often thought that the country might be better off if we senators and the pages traded jobs," Kennedy said.

Carson County Raises 35 Pct. Building Fund

LUBBOCK, (SpI) — Carson County, according to the latest reports, has pledged 35 per cent of its goal in the $2,077,000 fund-raising campaign at Lubbock Christian College.

By percentages, Carson County ranks eighth among the 115 participating counties in Texas and New Mexico. County chairman Dee Cumsilage of Panhandle has turned in 33 pledges for $2,455.50 and the entire goal is $7,000.

Working with him as local chairman are Bob Newton of Groom, Cecil Williams of Panhandle, Tom Waters of Pantex Village; Frosty Horner of Skellytown and Sam Denney and Gene Stamps of White Deer.

In the overall drive, $328,171 has been pledged over a two-year period with $75,986 in actual cash. The school needs $300,000 to purchase 229 additional acres for campus expansion. This land option was due Dec. 31, but the school was given a month's extension.

Western Europe Looks To '61 For Turn In Cold War

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Western Europe looks to 1961 as a new turning point in the 13-year-old Cold War.

Western diplomacy hopes for a fresh round of East-West talks at another summit that could determine the chances of "peace in our time."

Disillusioned by the severe setbacks in the Cold War in 1960, European nations approach the coming 12 months with some trepidation.

Diplomatic expectations are that at best a new summit could ease the Berlin conflict and give a push to the deadlocked global disarmament negotiations.

Its failure — or a fiasco such as the Paris summit last May — on the other hand, would threaten serious trouble for everyone, not only in the West but for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev personally, as well.

The Soviet leader has staked his reputation on peaceful co-existence with the West, failure might spell his downfall.

Looking back, Europe underwent a severe political crisis in 1960 which was climaxed in the breakdown of the summit in Paris following the clash between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower over the U-2 incident.

The summit collapse brought to an end protracted Allied efforts to bring Russia and the United States to the conference table.

But contrary to expectations, Moscow, after initial threatening gestures, let it be known that it still wanted a relaxation of East-West tension — Soviet version, though.

The year witnessed the virtual end of European rule and control in Africa after the loss of Franco-British influence in the strategic Middle East.

However, Russia's efforts to capture the eclipsing western position in the African continent met with only moderate success. Khrushchev's table-pounding at the United Nations General Assembly apparently failed to impress the new nations emerging from the tutelage of the European powers.

At the threshold of 1961, European diplomacy turned expectantly to the United States for vigorous leadership in the next, vital moves on the international scene.

It looked above all to President-elect John F. Kennedy for that lead in two major fields: The future relationship with Russia and the Communist block on one hand,

Credit Union To Elect Officers At Annual Meet

LEFORS (SpI) — Columbian Carbon Federal Credit Union members have scheduled their annual meeting in the civic center, 7:30 p.m., Friday.

Charles Roberts, president, announces that the public is invited to attend, adding, "there will be a 14-pound ham given as a door prize."

A string band will furnish entertainment. Refreshments will be served.

A business meeting will be held to elect officers.

Who Should Run Space?

Ralph J. Cordiner, chairman of the board of General Electric Company, has delivered a series of lectures at the University of California on the "Peaceful Uses of Space."

Mr. Cordiner makes a point which is most important. And so gently does he make the point that we are fearful of the importance of it will drift quietly away into the night without being remembered.

Partly do we fear this because Mr. Cordiner used the gentlest of words and the simplest of phrases to make the point.

There are two basic forms of human organization: the free societies, such as the United States, and the regimented societies, such as the Soviet Union.

"No society is completely free or completely regimented, but the distinction is real, and it is profoundly important to the quality of human life.

Then Cordiner goes on to outline what is happening in the space race. And the thread of import woven thru everything he says is that government is playing such a dominant part in space exploration and development that there is a danger private enterprise and private development will be shut out entirely.

Ah, we love him for this observation. For there is such a tendency in so many places these days to presume that the government must do everything that requires "bigness" or "newness."

Getting down to cases, Cordiner suggests that there are really three stages to the development of the space frontier. He refers to them as the exploration area or period, the economic development area or period, and finally the mature economic operation area or period.

Unfortunately for his argument, he would prefer to make things LOOK good for the good for now, and never mind what happens in later years.

Oddly the number of Americans was small who saw that if they must be looked for their own protection they were not being protected just because the government told them that being plundered periodically by billions of dollars a year was "good" for them and for the rest of the world.

The trouble is that the time has come to pay the score. American taxpayers from all walks of life have provided something like $74 billion since World War II for foreign aid according to U.S. News and World Report of December 12, 1960.

So, all in all, the costs have been staggering and the American economy, to no one's surprise, is being staggered.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK—Everybody who ever reached England with as much as two quid in his pocket knows that for a fee he can journey out into the British countryside and amble at will through a dual estate, admiring the Gainsboroughs, the Whistlers, the Queen Anne tables and similar expensive gauds.

We haven't, in this country, lived long enough of acquired enough to be quite that baronial, although Natchez does a bang-up job of bustling you through exquisite examples of ante-bellum architecture, furnishings and works of art.

Now, however, New York City itself is getting into the game and is offering half a dozen or more New York apartments, the owners of which have stuffed the premises with such treasures that it is worth the money to see them.

The downstairs rooms are the ones you see when you take the Manhattan, or East Side Duplex, tours for charity's sweet sake. Each apartment on the list is a duplex and you are shown the foyer, main room and library, if any, while the family huddles upstairs and hopes some slipper-fingered tourist isn't making off with the dynasty horses from China or the smiling, people-like that, have been unused to open their downstairs rooms and treasures to public view and, although no charity executive has twisted my arm to open my New York cave to tourists, it seems to me that it might be a good idea.

There are all kinds of fascinating things to be seen. I might even keep the money, declaring my family to be charity cases. We have a Karl-Prince from Milwaukee, genuine and signed. An academy painting from Madrid, depicting the gory and painful death of a bullfighter in the toradors' chabul under the bullring, while staffs of men of his quadrilateral stand about trying to keep dry eyes. There is a fascinating exact and stimulating painting by a fellow who lives on Cape Cod; paints four pictures a year and frames them himself out of driftwood gleanings. He gets $30 for each and how he lives on $200 a year is part of the eternal mystery.

There is a Mexican primitive, hand-carved by an 85-year-old Indian who speaks no Spanish and was less than awed when $500 told his work would be seen by people in New York.

There are two Goyas, both not convenient to be shown. They depict a scene of the infant Jesus and King Goya delighted in, and these are rolled up behind the 12 volumes of an out-of-date and out-of-print encyclopedia. We might charge an extra fee to exhibit them, in private. Goya prints, of course, not oils.

to stay on in the United Nations and continue to bail that useless appendage out of its difficulties. Also, we will continue to leave our troops all around the world and we'll pay the costs for this extravagance, too.

Thus, the cause of our problems would be assuaged. And the efforts to eliminate the problem will add up to a further curtailment of freedom, except at one or two places where some small measure of pain could be anticipated.

WASHINGTON—National Democratic leaders are considering a spectacular political change that will place all the party's fund raising and campaign activities under the national committee.

They propose to do away with the two congressional committees that for years have separately promoted the campaigns of Democratic Senate and House candidates.

In exchange, the delighted Africans offered young Kennedy expensive gifts—some valued at several thousand dollars. Also, word of the prize gift spread so fast and wide in Africa, that wherever young Kennedy traveled he was met by representatives of tribal chiefs seeking to exchange gifts for one of the tie clasps.

New York City's Decay Placed At Times' Door

If Westbrook Pegler had written these comments on the degeneration of the City of New York they would be discredited on sight by his consistent, sorrowful observations, even though that frame of mind had been supported by the same evidence. The comments I refer to were written recently by Brooks Atkinson and published in the New York Times, which, I think, largely at fault in the decay which Mr. Atkinson views with almost panicky alarm.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN

"After my husband died of cancer, several months ago," writes a widow of Tyrone, Pa., "my son-in-law visited me with my daughter and their three boys. He kept his family and himself in sleeping bags on the dining room floor every night throughout his visit."

"No doubt he feels that cancer is contagious and wants to protect his family and himself. As his action one we should all follow even though my husband's room is shut off."

"Dear Lady, there is not the slightest evidence that cancer is contagious. If your son-in-law doubts this statement, let him visit any large hospital that admits patients with malignant disease. He will see that none of the patients with cancer is isolated, that no special precautions are taken by members of the hospital staff, including nurses and doctors."

"I have a kidney that has dropped 2 1/2 vertebrae and would like to know if it's best just to leave it or have an operation to put it back in place? Would it stay in place if it were sewed back?" asks a reader.
