Rayburn Set To Expand Rules Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sam Rayburn shouldered aside a conservative challenge to his leadership today and affirmed his intent to assure the Kennedy legislative proposals a fair test by expanding the House Rules Committee.

The veteran Texas Democrat, locked in a power struggle with Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., since the start of the 87th Congress, late Wednesday gave up trying to reach agreement with the Virginian.

Rayburn announced that Smith's 12-man committee, which controls and sometimes has blocked the flow of legislation from other committees to the House floor, would be enlarged to 15.

Two of the three new seats will go to loyal Democrats whose votes can be counted on when needed for controversial Kennedy proposals as aid to education and housing. The third new seat will go to a Republican.

The committee last year, under firm control of Smith, Rep. William M. Colmer, D - Miss., and its four Republican members backed congressional action on major bills in both fields.

"I think we should have committees and rules under which the House can work its will," Rayburn said. "I think we will."

In the Senate, meantime, liberals and Democrats are pushing their drive to make it easier to curb filibusters sidetracked on 50 to 46 vote.

This cleared the way for the Senate, at last, to get down to business. The House still must affirm the settlement outlined by Rayburn.

State Senators Ready To Approve Pay Hikes

By PAT CONWAY
AUSTIN (UPI)—State senators were expected to agree today to a House-approved bill giving lawmakers $4,800 annual salary plus $12 for every working day.

The measure was whisked into the upper chamber Wednesday after House members stamped it with a 113-26 vote of approval.

The bill also includes money for the operating expense of the current 57th session of the legislature until the current fiscal year ends Aug. 31.

Sponsored by Rep. B. H. Dewey of Bryan, the measure calls for transfer of $2,650,000 from the cigarette tax fund and the drivers license fees fund to a special legislative fund for contingent expense.

House approval of the bill also made legislative employees happy. Their salaries are also paid from the contingent expense fund.

Senators dithered through a 35-minute session awaiting quick passage of the pay bill, but the bill was delayed by two amendments and the Senate recessed. The House rejected both changes.

By a 97-45 vote, they turned down Rep. Ray Bartram's proposal to set the annual salary at $3,200. The New Braunfels lawmaker reminded members that the base pay for public school teachers is $3,200.

Bartram told lawmakers that voters passed a constitutional amendment two years ago providing medical benefits for the aged, but the money has not been appropriated.

"When we have taken care of those needs, then I think it will be time to take the maximum pay," he said.

The constitutional amendment authorizing the annual salary said lawmakers "may" be paid up to $4,800 a year.

Rep. Frank McGregor of Waco lost 79-52 on an amendment that would have killed a section of the bill that covers lawmakers' salaries from the time they are elected until they take office when a new legislature convenes. Rep. Malcom McGregor of El Paso accused McGregor of Waco of trying to knock some members out of their salary for two months.

Previously, lawmakers have been paid $25-a-day for each day they served.

House Speaker James A. Turman, who was elected at Tuesday's opening session, pushed House organization and permitted members to draw for priority numbers to introduce legislation.

Rep. Max Carraker of Roby drew No. 2, allowing him to initiate the first legislation. House Bill No. 1 was the pay bill that was passed.

Senate calm was broken momentarily when Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville refused to join in a resolution praising Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

The resolution received voice vote approval with Hudson's name deleted from the names signed to the resolution.

"I don't believe in eulogizing Johnson," Hudson said. "There are other senators who don't like him, but I'm the only one not afraid to say so."

Says Administration Honored Its Commitments In Final 'Message'

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said in his message to Congress today that the United States has "forged ahead" under his administration but that many problems remain to confront President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"We have honored our commitment to pursue and attain specific objectives," the President said of his eight-year stewardship as chief executive.

But he added he was not "implying that all is well — He noted in this connection the Berlin, Cuban, African and Laos situations abroad."

Confidence Lack Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House is keeping quiet but men close to President Eisenhower are irritated over what they consider business-dampening pessimism in the camp of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"Some statements of confidence on their part would be worth billions of dollars to the economy," snapped one of Eisenhower's most trusted fiscal advisers in a private conversation.

This official said that the Budget Bureau has "worked hard" to keep the current budget out of the red despite sagging tax revenues, and to draw up a balanced budget for fiscal 1962, which starts next July 1.

The new budget — Eisenhower's last and one which Kennedy is expected to amend widely — will restate Eisenhower's deep conviction that government should live within its means, shunning budget deficits except in the direst circumstances.

It will speak of tax cuts only in a general way and reaffirm Eisenhower's belief that reduction of the national debt should come before general tax relief.

Officials said the new budget, which will go to Congress Monday, would envision a surplus for fiscal 1962 of about $1.5 billion, with a 4 1/2-cent-a-gallon tax on motor and aviation gasoline and jet fuels. The tax on gasoline is now four cents a gallon and it is due to drop to three cents July 1. Jet fuel is untaxed.

Higher postal rates, to wipe out the post-office's $750-million annual operating deficit.

Eisenhower said his administration had honored its pledges — both in aims and ideals and in specific objectives — as he set them forth at the start of his administration.

It was then that he said he was not "implying that all is well — that all problems are solved."

"For progress implies both new and continuing problems and, unlike presidential administrations problems rarely have terminal dates," he said.

Of the problems abroad, he referred to "the continuing Communist threat to the freedom of Berlin, an explosive situation in Laos, the problems caused by Communist penetration of Cuba" and the problems in Africa.

"These areas, in particular," he said, call for delicate handling and constant review.

After listing the "several conspicuous problems" at home, Eisenhower concluded: "Our goal always has been to — (See MESSAGE, Page 4)

Missile Critics Scored

By DARRELL GARWOOD
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today disputed President-elect John F. Kennedy's space advisers and said the so-called "missile gap" between Russia and the United States shows every sign of being "fiction."

The President defended his space, missile and defense programs in a farewell State of the Union message to Congress in which he urged resistance to over-riding on defense.

"We must not return to the 'crash-program' psychology of the past when each new feint by the Communists was responded to in panic," Eisenhower said. "The 'bomber-gap' of several years ago was always a 'fiction,' and the 'missile gap' shows every sign of being the same."

A special Kennedy task force submitted a report Wednesday suggesting that the United States might have to switch missiles for its man-in-space program, possibly causing a delay of a least a year in putting an astronaut in orbit.

The report to the president-elect said the man-in-space program is ailing. The United States trails Russia in missile development and there is an urgent need for a single military space command.

In his message, the President said in regard to space: "Americans can look forward to new achievements in space exploration. The near future will hold such wonders as the orbital flight of an astronaut, the landing of instruments on the moon, the launching of the powerful gigantic Saturn rocket vehicle, and the reconnaissance of Mars and Venus by unmanned vehicles."

Kennedy's task force said a Titan missile may have to be considered for launching a man into space instead of an Atlas as now planned. The United States plans to try to put a man into orbit by the end of this year.

Proposed City Charter Changes To Be Discussed

Proposed changes in the Pampa charter will be discussed next Thursday, at the first in a series of breakfast meetings to be held throughout 1961 under sponsorship of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Don Beaman, chairman of the committee, said today members of the committee which drew up the proposed charter will attend the breakfast, scheduled from 7 to 8 a.m. Jan. 19, to explain the proposed changes and answer questions. The meeting is open to the public and reservations can be made by calling the chamber of commerce, MO-4-4321.

These breakfast meetings, to be held every two weeks, will deal with local, state and national affairs, Beaman said. The first meeting will deal entirely with the discussion of the proposed charter, which comes up for a vote of people Tuesday, Jan. 31.

There will be no attempt to influence the people one way or another in their voting," Beaman said. "The only purpose is to bring information to the public which will help in making a decision. A charter commission members the breakfast will be glad to answer any questions."

Beaman said the second breakfast of the year Feb. 2 will deal with state affairs and a digest of news confronting the current legislative session at Austin. At a 10 a.m. breakfast national affairs will be discussed.

Street Light Breakers Active

Pampa street lights last night continued to be the target for rifle practice despite efforts of police to put a stop to it.

More than 40 street lights have been shot out in the last three or four nights.

While police were out patrolling streets for the rifleman, five more calls came in from various sections of the city.

Police believe the shots are being fired from a car. Last night's depredations were committed in various areas including the 1200-block of Wilks, Somerville and Gray, McCullough near Barnes, Huff Rd. and Crawford at Sumner.

"So far we have no definite clues," Police Chief Jim Conner said today. "But if this continues we'll catch up with them."

Norse Princess To Marry Today

OSLO, Norway (UPI)—Norway's Princess Astrid marries a divorced commoner today despite some resentment among Norwegian subjects and Lutheran churchmen.

The attractive princess, who will be 29 years old next month, will be wed to Johan Martin Ferner, a 34-year-old clothing merchant in Asker Church. The ceremony will be performed by Trondheim Bishop Arne Fjellbu.

President Sets Farewell Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will make a farewell speech to the American people on nationwide television and radio next Tuesday night, the White House announced today.

The President will speak from his White House office at 9:30 p.m. 9:30, three days before relinquishing his post to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"This will be the last of his reports to the people," the White House said. "It will include some of his thoughts and conclusions after eight years in the White House and some of those things he has on his mind before relinquishing office on the 20th."

Georgia U. Suspends Negro Students For 'Own Safety' Following Riot

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—The University of Georgia's first Negro students were suspended and sent home "for their own safety" early today because rioting demonstrators stoned a dormitory and battled openly with police.

Charlayne Hunter, 18, and Hamilton Holmes, 19, were suspended by the university at midnight. In Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver was preparing to take that action himself to "protect them, against threats to their lives."

The two Negroes, who had just finished their first full day of classes at the university without incident, were taken to their homes in Atlanta by state highway patrolmen. Miss Hunter was weeping, and Holmes appeared angry.

Police were forced to use tear gas and a fire hose Wednesday night to break up the wild demonstration that led to the suspension. Vandiver issued a statement early today "admonishing all citizens of this state against violence or overt acts of violence."

Wednesday night's riotous demonstration that resulted in the arrest of at least 12 students and 9 adults appeared to have been carefully planned, and it included quite a large number of adults. The first batch of demonstrators unfurled a large white sheet on which was written in big letters: "Nigger, go home."

"A mighty yell went up as several students marched in front of Miss Hunter's dormitory with the sign."

Within minutes, large rocks began to slam against the dormitory screened windows. One window was broken and a screen pierced.

About 30 policemen were on duty but could not control the rock throwing.

The situation at the girls dormitory rapidly got out of hand and beyond the control of Athens police. Mayor Ralph Snow told newsmen that Col. William Trotter, head of the State Patrol, turned down his request for help, saying the order had to come direct from Vandiver.

It was apparently at this point that the local officers were ordered to break out tear gas bombs and call for a fire truck.

The stifling gas sent hundreds of demonstrators scattering, and one fire truck hosed down the remaining rioters.

Red-Inspired Riot Picture Here Tonight

The film "Operation Abolition," which depicts the Communist-inspired student riots in San Francisco last spring in objection to the House Un-American Activities Committee, will be shown at 7 p.m. tonight in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

The film is sponsored by the John Birch Society which, after the showing of "Operation Abolition," will make a film presentation of the society's program. The film on the Birch group will start at 7:45 p.m., and those who have already seen "Operation Abolition" are invited to come at this hour, according to Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, a John Birch Society chapter head.

The society's program, according to Donaldson, is to give active resistance to domestic socialism and imperialistic communism.

The entire program is open to the general public and no admission will be charged.

WTS Sets Aptitude Tests Date

CANYON (Spl) — College aptitude tests will be given here at West Texas State College Feb. 25 for high school seniors of the area who expect to enter college following graduation.

Deadline for applications for the test is Feb. 4, when they must be received in Waco by the state director for the testing program. Applications must be sent to Alton Lee, registrar at Baylor University, who is state director.

Scores on the tests are now required for admission to West Texas State and more than 500 other colleges and universities. Students of the Panhandle area may take the test at WTS, even though they plan to attend colleges elsewhere in the Southwest.

Applications may be obtained from the principal's offices at the student's high school, and are mailed to Waco. The state director sends a list of eligible students to all colleges in the state which are testing centers. A fee of $3.00 is required.

One other testing date in the spring has been set for April 22. Application deadline for that date is April 1.

Income Tax Information

Deadline for paying the last installment on estimated Federal income tax returns for 1960 is Monday, Jan. 16, according to Wiley E. Davis, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service of Pampa.

Taxpayers who filed an estimated return and have a payment due Jan. 16 should have received a notice by mail.

This declaration, he added, should be marked "amended" and filed with the same IRS District Director who received the original declaration. (A blank amended declaration is printed on the back of the payment due notice which the taxpayer received by mail.)

Full details are in IRS Document 5111, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax."

Three Youngsters Burned To Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three young children, apparently left alone, were killed early yesterday when a fire swept their two-story house.

Firemen found Sharon Shorter, 4, and her brothers Kirk, 5, and Malcolm, 7, stretched out on the floor of an upstairs bedroom. The badly burned youngsters were pronounced dead at a hospital.

Fire officials said the children's mother, identified by neighbors as 24-year-old Jean Shorter, was not home when the fire broke out.

The blaze gutted the first floor of the brick home in the south-east section of the city and badly damaged the second floor. Firemen could not determine the cause of the fire immediately.

They said the blaze apparently started in the living room, spread to the rear of the first floor and then through the ceiling to the second floor where the children were sleeping.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

XXVII

He awoke out of a sound sleep to hear Logan saying, "Wagner! Bart Wagner!" and Bart tried to force his eyes open. Logan finally touched his shoulder, and Bart awoke and swung to a sitting position. "At least you know how to wake a man up," he said.

"I got shot at once in a cow camp by touching a man first. That was down near San Antonio when I was ridin' watch on a trail herd. I went over to this fellow—

"Did Mrs. Lewis come home?" asked Bart.

"Rode through about 10 minutes ago. Said she traded horses somewhere up on the plains so she could get home tonight. Said she was expectin' you."

Bart pulled on his hat. "You told her I was here?"

"Well, no," said Logan. "You didn't say I should, and I—"

"Good," Bart stood up. "Have you seen the black lately?"

Logan squinted and scratched his ear. "No, sir. No, sir, can't say that I have, right now. I'll send the kids lookin' though."

"Never mind. You know where Jones's camp is?"

"Yes, sir. You got the makin'?"

Bart gave him the sack of tobacco. "You go up to where you can keep an eye on Jones. If a party leaves his camp and heads toward the JB, come and tell me immediately— pronto!"

"Yes, sir."

"If you do your part, I'll see you get a whole box of cigars. If you don't, I'll wring your neck."

Bart found his saddle and the feedbag on it. He poured a tight rein on himself. At the back he counted, against the starry sky, five saddle horses tied to the corral. He pulled in slowly, got close to the door, and listened.

"I think the'd look better standin' on the table," said Murphy's voice, and Bart recognized the heat in his taut voice.

At that moment he hit the floor with his foot and his shoulder, charged in with a six-shooter in each hand.

He held one .44 on Jones, the other in the general direction of Stud Murphy.

Catherine stood barefooted on the table.

Bart said softly, "Step down from the table, Catherine."

Jones's voice was hoarse, almost choked. "This is none of your business, Wagner!"

"It is now," said Bart.

Catherine fled behind the curtain. At that moment Stud Murphy drew his six-shooter to cover Bart, but did not fire, and Bart kept his one .44 aimed at Jones. "Tell him to drop it," he said.

Some hope flickered in Jones's eyes—a hope that his consuming desires might not be frustrated after all. He said, "He can pull the trigger as quick as you can."

Bart smiled tightly. "But not quick enough. Before I die, I'll pull mine. And you'll die too. Tell him to put it up."

Jones's mouth worked, and Bart guessed he was having quite a battle with himself.

"Murphy has a gun on your back."

"I figured he would have. He could put five bullets in me, but 'd still be able to pull the trigger."

"I'm willing to bet you can't."

"That bet is easy to call," said Bart. "I'm raising you—your own life. It's up to you."

Jones stared at him for a long time. He looked into the black hole of the .44 pointing at his heart.

Brush Up On Your Income Tax; Jan. 17 Is Deadline For Some

WASHINGTON (NEA) — With the Christmas mail rush past, you can expect a federal income tax form in the mail any day.

This means it is time to start thinking about tax deadlines. The most important deadline is April 15th—the due date for all individual income tax returns for 1960.

To help you meet the April 15th deadline, this newspaper later will bring you NEA's 20th Annual Income Tax Primer. The Primer has a series of articles explaining questions which puzzle the average taxpayer. Each article will have questions and answers on problems of interest to most taxpayers and illustrations of what to do and what not to do when filling out your return.

An amended declaration of estimated tax can be filed by using the reverse side of the bill received from the district director. Unless your estimated tax payments and withheld tax exceed the above percentages of your final 1960 income tax, you may be subject to a 6 per cent underpayment plus tax withheld are equal to or more than either:

(1) The final tax shown on your 1959 return, or

(2) A tax computed by using your 1959 income and your exemptions for 1960.

There is a way to postpone the Jan. 17 deadline. If you file your final return for 1960 on or before Feb. 1, 1961 (Feb. 15, 1961, if a farmer) and pay in full any tax shown as due thereon, this will have the effect of satisfying the Jan. 17 deadline.

Bride-To-Be Was Well Shod

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Clifford Marshall Hall and his bride, Susan, are away on their honeymoon trip so the bride's father figured its safe today to tell what happened.

It was a cold, wet day in Dallas last Saturday and Susan arrived at the Lovers Lane Methodist Church with just enough time to check her veil and pat the skirt of her satin and lace wedding dress.

H. G. Twyman, her father, offered his arm and with the first notes of the wedding march, they began down the aisle. Then the bride suddenly became aware that her dad was making a kind of gasping noise.

"Suzy," Twyman said he whispered, "You forgot to take off your galoshes."

according to figures released today by Postmaster O. K. Gaylar. Total 1960 receipts were $999,008 compared with $205,511 in 1959, Gaylar said.

Addison Trial Set At Dallas

DALLAS (UPI) — U.S. Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson Wednesday cleared the way for uranium promoter John Milton Addison's trial to be held in Dallas Monday by rejecting a defense motion for a change of venue.

Addison is charged with mail fraud, conspiracy and violation of Federal securities regulations.

Defense attorneys Lester May and Lamar Holley argued before Davidson that an impartial trial in Dallas would be impossible because of the tremendous amount of adverse publicity he's received here.

Six other persons have been indicted with Addison and will also stand trial at the same time.

ATTENDING CLINIC — Joe Newman, left, and Eddie McGarraugh, two of Perryton's more active 4-H Club members, are in Chicago for the 10th annual Chicago Grain Clinic and Tour which is sponsored by the Chicago Board of Trade. Joe is the son of Daniel A. Newman and Eddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McGarraugh, prominent Ochiltree farmers.

40 Drown As Emigres Ship Sink

ALGECIRAS, Spain (UPI)—A vicious Mediterranean squall that struck with little warning apparently caused the sinking of a tiny ship carrying families of Jewish emigres to Israel Wednesday.

The captain and 2 crewmen were the only known survivors out of 40 Jewish men, women and children and 5 crewmen aboard the ship "Piscus" when it foundered off the Moroccan coast.

The 3 survivors were picked up by a fishing boat after clinging to a life preserver for hours and taken ashore to Alhucemas, Morocco.

Authorities refused to allow them to speak to anyone and the details of the sinking remained shrouded in mystery.

Rescue ships had picked 22 bodies from the sea before darkness interrupted the search Wednesday night.

British naval forces at Gibraltar said they were not notified of the accident until 10 hours after it had happened, indicating more may have been rescued if the Royal Navy had been called earlier.

The three survivors were identified as Francisco Morilla, 38, the captain, and crewmen Christobal Moya, 34, and Miguel Sanchez Castro, 36, all Spaniards.

The ship was reported to have been a converted yacht flying the Honduran flag.

It had picked up the Jewish passengers in Morocco and was headed for Gibraltar, a regular clearing point for North African Jews emigrating to Israel.

add to the spiritual, moral and material strength of our nation. I believe we have done this but it is a process that must never end.

"Let us pray that leaders of both the near and distant future will be able to keep the nation strong and at peace, that they will advance the well-being of all our people, that they will lead us on to still higher moral standards and that in achieving these goals they will maintain a reasonable balance between private and governmental responsibility."

Reviewing specific programs and policies of his administration, the President pointed to instances in which he said Communist imperialism was held in check while action was taken to strengthen the economies of free world nations.

"These vital programs must go on," he said. "New tactics will have to be developed, of course, but the underlying principles should be constant."

Kennedy, Hoover Discuss 'Advice' In Brief Meeting

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Two men of destiny, one representing the past and the other the future, met briefly Wednesday night.

The past, though old, still appeared vital, energetic and deep in wisdom. The future was young, smiling and confident.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, 43, and former President Hoover, 86, met for eight minutes at a reception given for Hoover by Florida banker Loy Anderson.

The former President was here for the ceremonial naming of a dike in his honor in nearby Clewiston. The President-elect and his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, dropped in to pay their respects.

"Hello, Mr. President," Hoover said on meeting young Kennedy. "Glad to see you."

"Well, sir, do you have any advice for me now that we're starting these new responsibilities?" the President-elect asked.

"Every ex-President" always is ready to give a new President advice," Hoover chuckled. "You'll hear from them all." Then he added: "You'll have to decide what is good advice."

So small are atoms that two billion would fit on the point of a pin.

School Panel Rehires Apple

PERRYTON (Sp) — The regular meeting of the Board of Education, Perryton Independent School District was held Tuesday night in the superintendent's office.

School Tax Assessor - Collector Vance Apple was rehired by the board and given an increase in salary. Apple will begin his ninth year in office Feb. 1.

Apple's salary was set at $7,200 plus $6,000 for office and other expenses.

The board members discussed plans for accepting applications to fill the position of athletic director. The resignation of Joe Ogden, present director of athletics, will become effective Feb. 1.

U.S. Aids Laos Farmers In Fight Against Rebel Communist Units

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — "If the rebel Communist troops are defeated in war-torn Laos, it may be because of prosaic volunteer agricultural, medical and health teams working with dirt-poor farmers."

No missionary said this. These are the unusual conclusions of some case-hardened military observers in Washington.

Their reasoning? This is an Asian guerrilla-type war. Victory doesn't go automatically to the side with the most and best equipped troops. Witness China. Witness Indochina.

Victory goes to the side with the will to win that captures the loyalty of the farmers and rural villagers. Guerrillas win or lose, live or die, as they're able or unable to be fed and be protected by the farmers, as they are able to recruit farmers' sons for their forces and use the farmers as an everywhere present spy system.

In guerrilla wars, farmers are the key to victory. Once guerrilla fighters lose the support of the farmers, they can be easily wiped out.

Loyal Laotian military forces are stronger than the China-backed Red units. Their weapons are as good. They have sufficient supplies and equipment. The United States will continue to keep them supplied as well or better than the Red Chinese supply the Communist fighters.

So the race now is for the loyalty of the farmer.

The Laos farmer isn't interested in communism. He isn't interested in the government either. He's poor. He barely ekes out a living. His health is bad. He can neither read nor write. His loyalty is to his family, his tribe, his area—not to the nation. He'll swing to whoever shows an interest in him and his problems.

The Communists know this. For six years now they have trained

Nation Faces Basic Poser, Johnson Says

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson said Wednesday night that the United States is going to have to answer a "very basic question" in the next four to eight years.

Johnson, who spoke at a dinner honoring Secretary of the Navy-designate John Connally, said the question was "whether a free society is equal to the challenge that faces us."

"If we can't do it," Johnson said, "there's another system knocking at our door. The next few years are going to hold the answer."

It Takes Money To 'Have A Ball' At Inauguration Of The President

By JERRY BENNETT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Living it up at the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy may be as expensive for some people as a round-the-world cruise.

Like conventions, vacations and long weekend holidays, the Jan. 19-20 inaugural festivities will be as costly or inexpensive as you want to make them. But to do it up in high style, according to Capital socialites, the cost can run as high as $5,000.

This small fortune covers new ball gowns and cocktail dresses for Mrs. and Misses to attend the round of receptions: the ball, concert and parade tickets; a room in a better downtown hotel; food; tips; transportation and miscellaneous expenses.

Fashion designers estimate that the chicest new inaugural wardrobe will cost about $3,000 each. However, they say that a woman can spend as little as $300 and still be presentable.

Tickets will cost the big spenders nearly $1,500. Whether a person actually shells out this much depends on two things — whether he has that much money and is invited to all the events.

Only tickets for the symphony concert, parade and reception for Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will be put on public sale. Events like the Inaugural Ball, Hollywood Gala and Young Democrats reception and dance require either an invitation or application to the Democratic party for permission to contribute your money.

Most expensive event is the Gala, a big variety show staged by Frank Sinatra. Box seats for the event cost $1,000 apiece. A whole box of 10 seats costs $10,000. All other tickets sell for $100.

The Inaugural Ball, which will be actually three enormous dances held in different parts of town at the same time, will cost box seats $80 apiece. People who don't mind sitting at ground level can get by for $25. The President and Vice President and their families will attend all three dances.

The young Democrats dance and reception will require an $8 donation to get in the door. The Governors and Distinguished Ladies receptions are free but require invitations. Cocktail parties and receptions will also be held by various state societies.

All is not lost, however, for Democratic enthusiasts who are neither rich nor influential. They can still attend the Vice President's reception for $5, go to the concert for $5-$15 and sit down at the parade on bleacher seats ranging from $3-$25. There will also be free but crowded standing room.

Visitors will find Washington food prices about the same as in any other metropolitan city. Meals here cost as much as $15 for a steak dinner or as little as the regular hot dog stand and cafeteria prices. How much you spend on liquor is strictly up to you.

But the best news for big and little spenders alike is the hotel room situation.

Polly Shackleton, co-chairman of the inaugural housing committee, says that there will be plenty of room for everybody because of last minute cancellations and numerous hotel and motel facilities.

The Washington metropolitan area which includes nearby Virginia and Maryland counties, has about 130 hotels, 187 motels and 44 guest houses for 56,000 potential guests.

But to prevent people from reserving rooms and then not showing up, the hotels are not taking reservations for less than three days. Many are also requiring a $20 down payment for each of the three days. The average price for a room with twin beds in the larger hotels is about $30.

Mrs. Shackleton explains that her committee will find housing for anyone who requests it. But she says that it won't do you any good to specify a particular hotel. You'll have to take what is available.

One woman who didn't know this wrote the committee asking for a room on the same floor of the hotel where singer Frank Sinatra will be staying.

Scout Meeting Set For Tonight

The Santa Fe district Boy Scout meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the commission room of city hall.

Dr. George Snell, district scout commissioner will explain to the local commissioners a program for re-registration in their units.

The Santa Fe district includes

Gray, Carson, and Roberts counties.

pingency to the popular meat and tomato sauce mixture:

If you are planning to serve spa- ghetti next time you entertain, try this scheme to make the dish worth talking about—as well as a delicious treat.

- American Blue Cheese Spaghetti
(Eight servings)
- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1/2 pound ground pork
 - 1/2 cup chopped celery
 - 2 onions, finely chopped
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1/4 cup olive oil
 - 1 can tomato paste
 - 2 cans tomatoes
 - 1 clove garlic
 - 1 tablespoon salt
 - 1 cup crumbled American blue

cheese (about 4 1/2 ounces)

1 pound spaghetti

Brown beef, pork, celery and onions in butter and olive oil in heavy pan. Add tomato paste, to- matoes, garlic, and salt. Bring to a boil, then cover pan and simmer mixture two to three hours, stir- ring occasionally. Add cheese and continue cooking just long enough to melt cheese slightly. Meanwhile cook spaghetti until tender in boil- ing, salted water to which 2 table- spoons of salad oil have been added. Serve sauce over spaghetti and, if desired, sprinkle additional amounts of crumbled American blue cheese on top.

Potato Fondue Is Unusual 'N Quick

Here's a way to serve potatoes that is quick, easy and unusual— Potato Fondue. Here's how:

POTATO FONDUE
(Makes 4 servings)

- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 cup cold milk
- 1 envelope Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes
- 1 1/2 cups light cream
- 1 cup seasoned bread crumbs

1/4 cup finely chopped water- chopped parsley. Combine water and salt in medium-size saucepan; cover, bring to boil. Remove from heat. Add butter and milk immediately, then Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes. Stir gently with fork or wire whip until liquid is absorbed, whip briskly. Combine potatoes with light cream, seasoned bread crumbs and chopped onion; blend well. Pour into well buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Sprinkle chopped parsley on top. Bake in a moder- ate oven (350 degrees F) for about 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Dear Abby...
Toss Up For Who's The Dumbest!
 ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I work in a tavern and have met lots of men. The one I love I met here four years ago. He says I am the only girl he's ever loved and if it weren't for his children and his religion he would get divorced and marry me. His wife is a nagger and doesn't appreciate anything he does for her. He spends almost every night with me. How dumb can she be not to catch on? She keeps having one baby after another just to hold him. How can I get her to give up? Print this, she might take the hint.

JEALOUS HEART
 DEAR JEALOUS: It sounds like a good-humored, wholesome contest with a healthy objective. Go along with them and wish them luck — and may the biggest loser win!

STANDING PAT
 DEAR STANDING: How dumb can YOU be? You're not taking the hint yourself. Your boyfriend's wife isn't having all those babies without some help from her husband. Obviously she has no intentions of giving up. Why don't you?

DEAR ABBY: My wife has needed to go on a diet for years but she kept putting it off. Suddenly she announced that she and a man who works with her are going to have a weight-losing contest. Whoever loses the most weight in six weeks has to take the other one out for a steak dinner. Just the two of them. I trust my wife but I don't like the idea of her going

Fashion Position Least Of First-Lady's Hopes

By GAY PAULEY
 UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Being a fashion leader," said Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy, "is at the very bottom of the list of things I desire."

But today, the 31-year-old wife of the president-elect was the nation's No. 1 clothes horse, no matter how reluctant she may be to fill the style setter's role. Mrs. Kennedy, whose clothes spending became an issue during the campaign, by a "landslide" vote topped the list of best dressed women of 1960.

Twelve women made the list, compiled each year from written ballots sent to some 2,000 fashion editors, designers and society leaders. The list is compiled by the New York Couture Group.

Mrs. Kennedy told reporters the day after her husband's election that she had no desire to be a fashion leader. But the committee which "analyzed" the ballots said she led the voting by an "overwhelming majority." It is Mrs. Kennedy's first appearance on the list.

The 11 other women are: Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes of Paris, a brunette usually dressed by Christian Dior. Audrey Hepburn, the small, brunette actress who is a steady customer of another French fashion house Givenchy. Mrs. Norman K. Winston, born Rosita Halpenny of Oklahoma, now married to a real estate and building tycoon. Donna Marella Agnelli, wife of Giovanni Agnelli, of Turin, Italy, an automobile manufacturing executive. Mrs. Loel Guinness of Paris and Palm Beach, Mexican-born wife of a Britisher. Mrs. Patrick Guinness, the daughter of Mrs. Loel Guinness. Princess Alexandra of Kent, a cousin of Queen Elizabeth and one of Europe's most eligible females. Mrs. John Barry Ryan, III, New York, a former fashion magazine editor. Mrs. David K. Bruce, Washington wife of the veteran diplomat who is slated to be next U. S. ambassador to the Court of St. Jameses. Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, of Paris and New York, wife of the Greek shipping magnate.

Brazilian Work Topic At Hi-Land

The Women's Council of Hi-Land Christian Church met Wednesday evening in the church, 1622 N. Bank for mission study.

Slides were shown in the mission work done in Brazil by David and Beverly Bayless with narration by Mrs. Harold Starbuck.

A business meeting was conducted by the Women's Council, following the program.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attending were Meses. Starbuck, Ray Mason, John Malloy, Edwin East, Leo Wheeler, Sam Stone, Dorothy Davis, R. C. Taylor, Carl Summers, W. R. Whitsell and a guest, Mrs. Lula Darnell of White Deer.

Give Yule Gifts Tender Attention

ALICIA HART
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Those gifts that looked so shiningly beautiful under the tree on Christmas morning won't stay that way unless they're given some care. Leather handbags, costume jewelry, perfume and hoisery all need attention, not careless handling.

Leather handbags should be stored away in boxes, not tossed any old way into a closet. And when they're not in use, keep them stuffed with tissue paper. Costume jewelry should be placed carefully in one compartment of a jewelry box. If you throw it in with other pieces, it will scratch. Guard chains will break and stones will come loose.

Perfume should be used. But keep the bottle tightly closed and away from light. This means you can't display it proudly on your dressing table. If it came in a lovely bottle, transfer the perfume to an atomizer and keep the bottle on display.

Those pretty stockings with decorative motifs need tender care. When you sud them out, wear nylon stretch glove-mitts to protect cobwebby hose from possible snags on rings or fingernails. After rinsing, blot them in a towel and hang them carefully over a dry terry towel to dry.

Airlines Say Red Ink In Wild Blue Yonder

By ROBERT J. SERLING
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's airlines report that some red ink mopped up their wild blue yonder in 1960.

A year-end summary by the Air Transport Association (ATA), representing the U.S. scheduled airlines, reveals that enough airlines lost money to bring the industry's estimated net profit (after taxes and interest) down to $4 million. That is not much higher than the airlines earned in the late 1940's when traffic and revenues were only one-fifth of 1960's totals.

It also represents earnings per dollar of sales down to less than one-half of one per cent, the lowest level in 12 years. Safetywise, ATA reported a passenger fatality rate of 0.82 deaths per 100-million passenger miles for the 12-month period ending Nov. 30. This compared to a 0.78 rate in 1959. But the ATA figure did not include the Dec. 18 collision of two airliners over New York, killing 128 in the worst aviation disaster in history.

The collision jumped the domestic fatality rate to 1.08 deaths per 100 million passenger miles, although the combined domestic-international rate was 0.86 — the ninth consecutive year in which the rate has been below 1.00.

Other highlights of the ATA summary: —Air freight continued to mushroom with a 9.4 per cent gain over 1959. —The domestic trunk carries hauled 45,700,000 passengers in 1960 compared with 44,500,000 last year; local service airlines carried 5,600,000 passengers — a 400,000 increase over 1959; the international and overseas airlines jumped from 4,700,000 to 5,300,000. —As of Dec. 1, the airlines were operating 453 jet-powered planes, 207 of them pure jets.

Hoover Says Nation Should Mend Morals

CLEWISTON, Fla. (UPI)—Former President Hoover appealed to Americans today to mend their morals to preserve the nation's strength.

In an address prepared for delivery at a ceremony dedicating the Hoover dikes his administration ordered built around Lake Okeechobee here as protection against hurricanes, Hoover touched only briefly on the national scene.

He said the new administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy "is faced with one of the greatest challenges of our whole history."

But, said the 86-year-old former President, "our country has met and solved equally great crises in the past 185 years."

"This nation, founded in strength, will not decline or fall if we remedy the slump in morals with its trait of crime and corruption," Hoover said.

He added that he is convinced that all Americans "earnestly

Injured Star Sparkles

St. Joseph Nips Rated St. John

By United Press International
 They call Jack Egan "the horse" at St. Joseph's Pa., but if the rugged 6-5, 195-pounder played baseball instead of basketball, they'd call him an "Old Oriole."

Whatever they call the Bethlehem, Pa., cager, it doesn't match the pride of St. Joseph's Coach Jack Ramsey, who saw Egan, playing despite an injured knee, lead the Hawks to an upset victory over fifth-ranked St. John's 74-71, Wednesday night.

AFC A Tabs 2 Coaches

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A man who felt he was "not equal to the occasion" and another who experienced "the greatest moment" of his life are the top coaches of 1960.

Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Warren Woodson of New Mexico State University were named by the American Football Coaches' Association Wednesday night as the year's best mentors.

Warmath, the first small college coach to be so honored, it was a trying moment. He was visibly shaken, muttered a word of thanks then admitted he was "sorry... I'm not equal to the occasion."

In other top games, Duke saved face by edging Virginia, 92-89; Army surprised Villanova, 64-49; Georgia Tech defeated Georgia, 69-66; and New York University stopped Temple, 70-67.

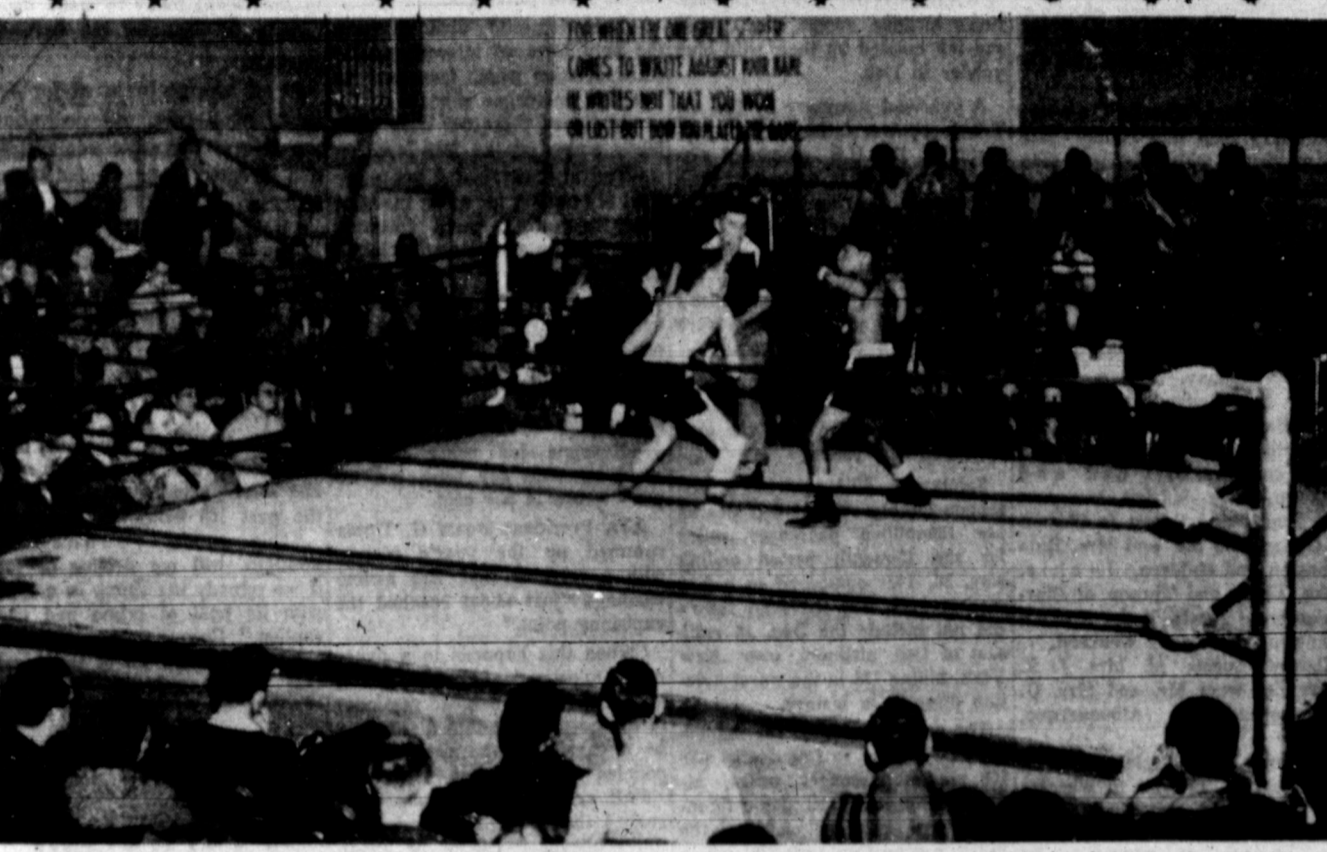

Egan scored 20 points, including a clutch three-pointer with two minutes to go to pull out the triumph for St. Joe's. The Hawks led 40-30 at the intermission but had to withstand St. John's rally to win.

Willie Hall hit a field goal for St. John's with 2:27 left to cut the Redmen deficit, 65-63. Then Egan, using his brute strength and soft touch, put the Hawks ahead for good with a three-point shot.

Vince Kempton, 6-8 center for St. Joe's, was the game's high scorer with 21 points. Tony Jackson's 19 points topped the losers.

Art Heyman, sophomore sensation for Duke, scored a basket with 12 seconds to go to give the Blue Devils their overtime triumph over lowly Virginia.

The victory kept Duke's Atlantic Coast Conference record intact at 4-0 and made its overall mark 12-1. The loss was the sixth in seventh AAC starts this year for Virginia and its 11th defeat in 12 outings this season.

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
 Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa's district Golden Gloves tournament, highlighted by five TKO's jumped off to a leather-swinging opening last night in the Optimist Boys Club with Pampa, Berger and Perryton establishing themselves with impressive victories.

Action will resume 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and finals have been scheduled for Saturday. There will be no bouts tonight due to the Pampa High School football banquet.

Pampa's Optimists and Perryton seemed headed for a two-team battle for team honors in the pee wee division after last night's fights in which Pampa won five and Perryton four. Other pee wee results were Hereford, 3; Berger and Lefors, 2 each, and Dumas 1.

In the high school division, Pampa, Berger and Hereford each won two matches while Perryton captured a single bout; Berger won the only two open matches.

Headlining the pee wee dominated opening night were two fights which came back-to-back in the 65-pound division.

In the first, Dale Finney of Lefors pounded out a close win over Ronnie Babione of Hereford in an old-fashioned toe-to-toe battle.

Neither batter gave any ground during the first two rounds but Finney came charging out of his corner in the final round, connected on two rights that bloodied Babione's nose and wrapped up the win.

With the fans barely settled in their seats after the match, Lefors' D. D. Lofton and Ken Eisenman of Perryton hooked up in three rounds of the most furious fighting any two 65-pounders could dish out.

Eisenman seemed to have the upper hand in the first two rounds in which the two mighty mites exchanged blow for blow. The Perryton lad, who took a little hop each time he fired his left, ran into one of Lofton's rights late in the second round and Lofton won the tight decision on the basis of a slight edge in the last round.

In the only TKO in the pee wee (under 105 pounds) division, Mike Babb of Berger lowered the boom on Mike Cline of Lefors at 57 seconds of the first round.

Once the 25-bout card moved into the high school and open divisions, the TKO's began raining, with four of the final six bouts failing to go the route.

Jim Reeves of Perryton started the knockout parade when he stopped Harry Miller of Liberal, Kan., at 1:15 of the third round in a 126-pound high school fight with a pair of good rights to Miller's head and body.

Then, 147-pound Zike Clements, evidently in a hurry to get home to Hereford, took only 55 seconds of the first round to dump Berger's Arthur Friend. Friend started strong, but repeated lefts to his head left Friend in a dazed condition before the bell could sound and the fight was awarded to Clements.

In another TKO, Berger Joe Janeway gave strong indications of contending for the 135-pound title when he decked Rodney Hopkins, Liberal, for a three-count in

Palmer Is San Diego Favorite

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, the man with the golden touch in 1959 and the "Babe" of Babe Ruth in his opening outing in 1961, starts the long road back today in the $20,000 San Diego Open golf tournament.

The brilliant National Open Masters champion, unshaken by what happened last week in the rich Los Angeles Open, rates a one of the favorites in the surked show here on the Mission Valley course.

Even the sharp showings of Bo Goaly in winning the last two PGA events — at Coral Gables, Fla., in December, and at Los Angeles this week, failed to dampen the enthusiasm here for Palmer.

It was at Los Angeles that the last hole needing a par five for a one-under-par 78 for the first round. Then he hit two "honors" over the right field fence followed by two more over the left field barrier, taking eight penalties strokes. He finally stomped off the green with a seven-over-par and sickenen 12.

While Palmer and Goaly rate the favorites' roles, a couple of home town professionals name Billy Casper and Gene Littler considerable attention. Once in the "brilliant careers" these two great pros has either man won on the home course when Littler was an amateur I beat most of the top pros in a country to win this event in 1951. Thus qualifying for a shot at the big jackpot in the Tournament of Champions when he turned pro.

Among the greats shooting for the $20,000 loot will be Art Wallace of Pocomo Manor, Pa., who made fast finish to collect some of the second place money at Los Angeles; defending champion Mike Ouchak, Grossinger, N.Y.; former National Open champion Lloyd Mangrum and Jack Fleck and PGA champion Jay Hebert.

NCAA Session Draws To Close; 'Red Shirt' Amendment Passes

By DECK FONTANA
 United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A relative calm pervaded the windup session of the 55th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today as the 18-member council met to knot loose ends before the spotlight shifts to Miami, Fla.

The NCAA's Rules Committee meets in Miami Friday to consider changes recommended by the American Football Coaches' Association.

At a hectic meeting Wednesday, the NCAA approved a constitutional amendment aimed at ending "red shirting," a practice where an athlete is held back for one or more seasons while gaining maturity.

The NCAA ruled that a student must complete his athletic competition within five years after matriculating for a four-year course.

But a recruiting amendment which came under heavy fire from West Coast schools, was tabled by a vote of 120-84 after spirited discussion.

The amendment would have required student athletes to sign a pre-registration certificate or "letter of intent" with the school of his choice on or after June 15. After the signing, no other member institution could approach the athlete.

In other activity, the NCAA approved four new college bowls, including one for the families of 16 football players killed in a plane crash.

Pee Wees Open Play

With defending sixth-grade champion Austin idle until Saturday, the Kiwanis-Optimist pee wee basketball league opens today with six games on tap, three each in the fifth and sixth grades.

With all games starting at 6 p.m., tonight's fifth-grade schedule finds Houston at Travis; Wilson at Mann and Baker at Lamar.

For the sixth grade, Travis will be at Houston; Mann at Wilson and Lamar at Baker.

Monterey, Tascosa Vie Tonight

With only one game separating the first and last place teams in the topsy-turvy District 3-4A race, Amarillo Tascosa and Lubbock Monterey take a day jump on the other six teams with an important game in Lubbock tonight.

Tascosa, 2-1 in conference play, fell to rebounding Plainview, 53-42, Tuesday to ruin its unbeaten district record while Monterey succumbed to Palo Duro, 69-52, for its second loss in two games by eight points or less.

Then, on Friday, Berger — 53-49 Amarillo victim Tuesday — comes to Pampa with a 2-1 conference slate. Pampa, after a seven-game win streak, has lost two district games in a row and now stands 1-2.

Amarillo, perhaps rounding into the form that earned them previous season honors as the team to beat, now is 1-2 and meets Lubbock also 1-2; tomorrow and the loser will be all but eliminated from contention.

In the other game, Palo Duro (2-1) and Plainview (2-1) get together in Plainview in a first place battle. After Plainview's surprising 53-42 win over Tascosa Friday, the Redmen must rate as contenders and will be first place with at least two other teams with a victory.

In individual scoring, Berger's Vernon Welch is the district's top point producer with 59 points in

First Place At Stake Tech Hosts Aggies In SWC Headliner

By United Press International
 Shortly before Texas A&M battles with Texas Tech in one of the two Southwest Conference basketball games on tap Friday, you can be sure Aggie coach Bob Rogers will say just three words to his twin defensive terrors: "Go-sic-em."

Pat and Don Stanley, the 6-3 senior twins from Buna, are two of the big reasons the Aggies have the best overall record in the league so far and are on top of the conference standings with a perfect three game record.

They are considered two of the finest defensive performers in the conference, and always draw switch-off defensive assignments against their opponents' top scorers.

And both are potent scoring threats, capable of taking up the slack if the other team manages to put a lid on the Cadet ace marksman, Carroll Broussard.

"Those two boys have a lot of natural ability and there's really not much to say to them before a game," Rogers said. "So, go-sic 'em usually gets the point across."

The University of Texas, deadlocked in second place at 2-1 with Tech and Rice, is considered a heavy favorite against Baylor and could move up to a first place tie with Tech and A&M if the Raiders manage to whip the Aggies.

Arkansas plays Rice at Fayetteville and Texas Christian and Southern Methodist square off at Fort Worth on Saturday night.

The A&M-Tech game will match two of the three top scorers in the league—Broussard and Tech's Del Ray Mounds. And if the Stanley twins can keep Mounds under wraps, it could help Broussard overtake the Raider warrior and move up on Steve Strange of SMU, the overall leader.

Broussard has the top scoring average in conference games at 30 points even, with Strange in second place with a 24.7 average. But in all games Strange leads with 272 points, Mounds is second with 253 and Broussard at 239.

PAT CARTER... in top five

At the coaches' annual banquet Wednesday night, Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Warren Woodson of New Mexico State University were named the outstanding coaches of 1960 by their fellow mentors.

Warmath, whose Gophers were UPI national champions and Big Ten titlists, was honored as the top major college coach while Woodson, whose Aggies were unbeaten in 11 games, was named top small college coach.

Harvester Grid Banquet Unfurls At 7 P.M. Today

J. T. KING... featured speaker

King Football, or rather King and Football, make a one-day inroad on the basketball scene at 7 p.m. today when the annual Harvester and Shocker Football banquet unfurls at the Robert E. Lee Junior High School cafeteria.

J. T. King, head Texas Tech football coach who was scheduled to arrive in Amarillo by plane this afternoon from the NCAA convention in Pittsburgh, will be the featured speaker at the grid feed.

Other highlights tonight will be the crowning of the 1960 football queen and the presentation of the "Fighting Harvester" award.

King, the newest member of the Tulane. King did such a good job with recruiting in Texas for the Louisiana school that 14 of Tulane's top 22 players were from the Lone Star State.

After Tulane compiled a 9-1 mark in 1948 for the best record at the New Orleans school in the last 21 years, King returned to Texas to coach, first a year at Texas A&M, then to his alma mater in Austin.

Joe Fischer, ticket chairman for the Harvester-Football Banquet, said today that tickets may be purchased at the door for tonight's banquet. Ducats are also on sale at Malone's Pharmacy, Richard's Drug and Highland Barber Shop. All tickets are $2.50, according to Fischer.

Perryton Opens Hunt For New Grid Coach

PERRYTON — Perryton High School was in the market today for a new head football coach after the Perryton School Board officially accepted Joe Ogden's resignation at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Perryton Keg Tournery Set

PERRYTON (Sp) — The Perryton Woman's Bowling Assn. will hold its second annual City Tournament Jan. 21-22.

Twenty teams are entered in the team event which will be bowled on Jan. 21. The doubles and singles events will be bowled on Jan. 22, with 36 entered in singles and 18 teams in doubles competition.

Individual trophies will be presented to the winners in each event as well as a trophy to the all-events winner. The awards will be given at the annual bowling banquet, slated in March.

Squad prizes for the high game and high series will be awarded for each shift of the tournament.

Molinas Loses Legal Fight With NBA Loop

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Molinas' seven-year battle to get back into the National Basketball Association ended in apparent failure today.

Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman dismissed Molinas' $3-million damage suit against the NBA Wednesday and upheld the league's lifetime ban against former Fort Wayne Piston star who was suspended on Jan. 10, 1954, after admitting he had gambled on his own team.

The 28-year-old Molinas, an attorney who also serves as player-coach with Hazelton of the Eastern Basketball League, may now appeal the federal court's decision but did not say whether or not he would.

The league (NBA) was justified in determining that it was absolutely necessary to avoid even the slightest connection with gamblers, or those who had done business with gamblers, in the future," Kaufman said, in reaching his decision.

Molinas had sued for reinstatement, charging that a lifetime suspension for mere "technical violations" of the league rule against gambling was unreasonable. He also charged the league had blackballed him by refusing to allow NBA players to appear in exhibition games against him. The charges, Molinas claimed, added to restraint of trade in violation of federal anti-trust laws. Kaufman, who heard the case without a jury, ruled against Molinas on all counts, however.

Syracuse Nips Hawks; NBA Battle Tightens

By United Press International

The St. Louis Hawks lost Wednesday night, 123-128, to Syracuse but have little to fear from the other three members of the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

The Hawks have only 13 losses, compared to 26 for the Cincinnati Royals, 27 for Los Angeles and 25 for Detroit.

But tonight, Coach Paul Seymour's team faces the Eastern Division's runner-up Philadelphia at Philadelphia.

While St. Louis was losing in Syracuse, the New York Knicks beat Los Angeles on the Lakers' home floor, 109-104, and Detroit pleased 5,437 hometown fans by downing Cincinnati 126-122.

The Nationals got tremendous scoring to beat the Hawks, as dauntless and ageless Dolph Schayes hit 35, Dave Gambee, the Oregon State alumnus, poured in 25 and Dick Barnett scored 24. Speed-demon guard Hal Greer hit 23.

Clyde Lovellette had 31 for the Hawks and Bob Pettit scored 29.

Gene Shue took scoring honors in Detroit's victory with 32, followed by Mississippi State's Bailey Howell with 25. Oscar Robertson had 29 for Cincy.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor was high man in the league for the night, however, with 39. He also totaled 28 rebounds, New York's Richie Guerin had 29 points.

In all, 18 players Wednesday night scored 20 points or more in three games in the point-consistent NBA.

Tonight's games: Syracuse vs. Boston at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Cincinnati vs. Detroit at Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Texas Legislature Open

The El Paso Herald-Post is in the habit of running a salutation to each session of the Legislature. It reads something like this: "The Legislature is in session again, God save Texas."

From all reports, it is going to be a long, bitter and fatiguing affair. Everybody will be expected to support the appropriation measures and vote against the taxes to pay for them.

The governor has said he will veto a sales tax or income tax. One of his commissions — off-hand we can't remember the name of this one — has advocated a payroll tax to be shared by employer and employee, except in the case of the self-employed who pay the whole freight themselves.

Free (With) Enterprise

Quite a lot of politicians talk glibly about their support of free enterprise. But if you examine what they say, they are trying to put across the idea that they should be free to do as they please with YOUR enterprise.

The Direction Counts

We must stress again the fact that the study of liberty is a study which devotes itself not to ends but to means. The matter has been mentioned before in this space, but it apparently requires re-iteration.

In the minds of some who first begin to grasp the outlines of our belief, we are visionary and crackpot. And the reason, at least in part, for this out-of-hand criticism relates to a misconception of the objective we have in stating our convictions as we do.

In the minds of some of these people our aim is to cause others to live in a world in which every one would be compelled to subscribe to our point of view. This is so far removed from either our purpose or from probability as to be deserving of nothing but the most cursory brush-off.

The study of liberty is a study which confines itself to the methods to be employed to obtain the ends INDIVIDUALS desire to obtain for themselves.

The study of liberty does not propose to tell others what those ends should be. It presumes that individuals will always be able to devise targets for their own energies and abilities.

Let us suppose that you believe education is a good thing. Let us further suppose that you are interested enough in education so you would like to do something about it. That is to say, you want to make a contribution along this line, either insofar as your talents or your money is concerned.

Up to this point we could applaud your aim. Your target is fine. What you hope to accomplish is good. We are all for you. We are for you because, like you, we favor education, and we would like to see you fulfill your dearest ambitions.

Now we get to the all-important question so far as liberty is concerned. HOW do you propose to further the cause of education? It is the how of it that fascinates us.

For we will NOT support your intention and your target if you believe the best way for you to assist in the educational field is for you to attack other citizens in the region who don't happen to agree with you — so that you can force them to provide either the money or the students or the buildings or anything else, so that you can fulfill your desire.

This is not to say that we object to your target. But it is to say that we would object to the METHODS you might seek to employ in order to reach your objective. By all means, favor education. But leave the rest of the people free to join with you or not, voluntarily. If you seek to further the cause of education on a voluntary basis, we will back you to the hilt.

The American Way

As Viewed By DR. ALFRED P. HAAKE SOCIAL OR SOCIALIST? (EDITOR'S NOTE: Alfred P. Haake, Ph. D., is a noted economist, public relations consultant, author and lecturer.)

Half a century ago Christianity was entering another of its many shifting eras making its development from the time of the Apostle Paul who, almost 2,000 years ago, was already aware of man's tendency to worship the creature rather than the Creator.

Change in emphasis and implementation of purpose can be found in the increasing efforts to bring Protestants under a common denomination, without seeking that unity through the lowest common denominator. It seems that we are to achieve through organization what Christ has failed to accomplish through re-birth of human souls.

In a conversation about 15 years ago a young steel mill executive, attending an economic conference of the Federal Council of Churches said in effect — "It seems to me that we are going at this thing the wrong end in. Instead of trying to christianize the world through laws, regulations and organizations, we ought first to make Christians of ourselves and help others to improve themselves. Then we'll get good laws and institutions as the fruit of our efforts."

A prominent clergyman in the group reproved the young man saying, "The Church and religion have their place to be sure, but we must be practical about these things."

It seemed clear then to this writer that the layman sought solution of the problems in spiritual forces acting through reborn people — while the clergyman favored secular programs and legislation as the way to correcting our socio-economic evils. It does look as though he was encouraging us to worship the creature rather than the Creator.

A labor official, highly regarded by leaders in the organized corporate Protestant Church, speaking to a group of university students, is recorded in the Congressional Record as having answered the question, "Do you believe in God?" by saying: "We do not believe in God. We believe man is God."

Liberty, then, is a direction to be taken and not a goal to be reached. Perhaps a goal appears in the dim and distant future somewhere. Of this we cannot be sure. But we are certain that if people will begin to use METHODS which reject forever the concept of using force — even legalized force — to obtain whatever objective is sought, we will move forward into a better world than the one we have.

It is not the goal which intrigues us. For we do not seek to constrain others; rather, we seek to restrain ourselves. And it is the direction TOWARD liberty which draws us on like a magnet, not the supposition that the world could ever be either perfect or free, in a perfect sense.

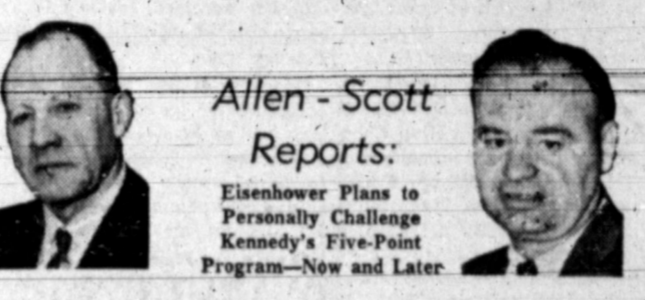

The World Council of Churches, in Amsterdam in 1948, solemnly revealed inadequate understanding of capitalism and its relation to the national mores that frame our economic and political system, with its insistence of a middle ground policy between capitalism and communism. As a matter of fact, capitalism is not a system at all, but a process of mechanical production, saving, investment in more and better tools for still more efficient production. Our real comparison should be between communism as a religion and the form of Christianity under which our American capitalist process has made us the most prosperous nation in the world.

Russia uses capitalism not less earnestly than do we, but frames the process within a system of state socialism control, rather than the freedom of choice and respect for private property in our system. The sinister seeds of collectivism are being planted in corporate coercion of church members to a common program of secular efforts to spread Christianity. In spite of all goodness of intention, this leads us toward ultimate substitution of government for God.

The danger is not merely in organization and concentration of power, but the use of both for secular ends. It may be that ancient biblical history is being repeated in modern terms. And it may be that Providence will find a modern way to remind us of the God we are forgetting.

In 1943, because of the meat shortage, the Office of Price Administration ruled that standard frankfurters would be replaced by "victory sausages" consisting of some meat and an unspecified amount of soybean meal or some other substitute. Thought for today: British author Robert Burton said: "No rule is so general, which admits not some exception."

Allen - Scott Reports: Eisenhower Plans to Personally Challenge Kennedy's Five-Point Program—Now and Later

WASHINGTON — President-elect Kennedy is sending Vice President-elect Johnson as his personal emissary to Mexico to confer with President Adolfo Lopez-Mateos on the Explosive Cuban situation.

The meeting is scheduled for mid-week at Acapulco. Johnson is flying there from Washington Wednesday or Thursday.

Congressional sources close to the two Democratic chiefs say Johnson will sound out the Mexican president on proposals designed to isolate the Red-dominated Castro regime.

Foremost among these plans is the formation of an inter-American sea and air patrol under the Organization of American States. Purpose of the patrol would be to prevent Castro from exporting his Soviet-type revolution to other Latin American countries.

Johnson, a personal friend of the Mexican president, plans to stress that Cuba is not just a United States but a hemisphere problem.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is going to personally challenge President-elect Kennedy's five-point legislative program.

He will propose to Congress alternative legislation to Kennedy's proposals for medical care for the aged, increasing the minimum wage, aid to depressed areas, housing, and federal aid for school construction.

This militant plan to lay down the gauntlet to Kennedy was revealed by President Eisenhower during a private White House meeting with Republican congressional leaders.

The President told the GOP legislators that he plans to sound his challenge in his State-of-the-Union message and in a series of follow-up public statements that he will make after leaving office.

Rome's Reputation For Noise Costs Millions Of Dollars

ROME, Italy — Two weeks have gone by since the New Year came to Rome, but the memory lingers on.

And it will continue to linger, I am sure, for as long as I live. For New Year's Eve in Rome is like nothing else on earth, and when the celebration comes as a complete surprise, as it did to me, it is made doubly memorable.

There's none of this shaking of hands, hugging and kissing, and drinking of toasts for Romans when the hour of midnight strikes on New Year's Eve.

That's for gentler races, more conservative people. Rome greets the New Year in a manner calculated to shatter the ears of Father Time and under the safety pin on the diaper of the baby ushering in the year to be.

On the stroke of midnight every window of every house, apartment, villa and palace in Rome is thrown wide open — and everything old, useless and not wanted is hurled out.

The Seven Hills resound to the clatter as princes and paupers, bankers and bootblacks, octogenarians and toddlers, give the toss in a city wide housecleaning at midnight.

The higher a man's dwelling the better, for height increases velocity, and velocity increases the crash. The overall effect is that of being emptied on the world.

During the hour or so that it takes the Romans to empty their dwellings of the broken, the chipped, the faded, the abandoned, the streets are a no-man's land.

Everyone remains under cover as the household barrage pounds the city. Cars are locked in garages or driven to deserted areas. Scooters are brought indoors. Valuable landscaping covered. Cops take refuge. It is worth a man's life to venture forth, and only a few foolhardy do.

There is no limit to that cascades from the windows. Anything that will go through a window goes. Wobbly dining room tables, three-legged chairs, wine bottles by the thousands, cups, saucers, plates, old pillows, cheese graters, mattresses, broken beds, old clothes, pictures, bird-cages, books, book shelves, rugs, empty cartons, rickety sofas, and worn-out shoes.

No one is certain when the custom of cleaning house on New Year's Day will end.

RED FOSTER ARRIVES MOSCOW (UPI) — Veteran American Communist Leader William Z. Foster arrived here Wednesday for medical treatment he said he could not afford in the United States.

Kennedy Set Press Parley For Jan. 25

PALM BEACH (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy decided to put his first press conference as Chief Executive live television Jan. 25, five days after he takes office.

Kennedy made the basic decision to put at least some of his news conferences before the public via instantaneous TV and radio some time ago, and agreement with the network started immediately after the inauguration was announced Wednesday night by his secretary, Pierre Salinger.

Not all of Kennedy's meetings with reporters will be telecast immediately. The president is to have a TV conference roughly every five weeks interspersed by conventional question-and-answer sessions filmed as they are now under President Eisenhower for showing.

The decision to go on the air with White House press conferences was not without conditions, however, Salinger said.

networks had set aside the 25 time period of from 6 to 7 p.m. EST over all major and TV networks.

First Sunny Week Of 1961 Proved Boon To Texas Agriculture Men

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Wheat prospects continue very favorable in the Panhandle and eastward with only one or two counties indicating a need for surface moisture. Grazing conditions are improving with the return of more favorable weather.

The continuing cold has retarded plant growth and both farmers and ranchmen would like to see an extended period of dry, open weather. Field work has been delayed for weeks in the coastal, eastern and south central areas. Farmers have been busy doing tasks such as fence building, repairing buildings and equipment and storing equipment which will not be needed for some weeks ahead.

The service pointed out that generally conditions are very favorable for spring crops, land preparation, and grazing. The farms and ranches of Texas will hum with activities, delayed in some areas for weeks, if weather conditions remain favorable, the service said.
