Kennedy Takes Oath As President

Johnson In Star Role, Too

500 Texas Delegates On Hand To Back Him

By ROY McGHEE
WASHINGTON (UPI)— Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson had star role in the presidential inaugural ceremonies today and was supported by a cast of more than 500 fellow Texans. The Lone Star state sent one of the largest contingents to the inaugural ceremonies. In addition, it supplied two marching units to represent its neighbor, New Mexico.

Texas rolled one of the most spectacular floats in the inaugural parade from the capitol to the White House. It depicted the career of Johnson from his rural Texas beginning to the vice presidency.

Theme of the float—"From the Lone Star State to the Stars of Space"—recognized Johnson's achievements as head of the Senate Space Committee.

It was designed by the Texas State Society in Washington. The word "Texas" was emblazoned across the front below a lighted Lone Star. The float also carried a covered wagon, portraying the old frontier, and a huge globe with space ships thrusting from it skyward, representing the new frontiers. Between the two, was a giant photograph of Johnson, draped in red, white and blue bunting.

Riding the float were three Texas beauty princesses—Marta Miller, reigning Texas cherry blossom queen and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller; Catherine Cabell, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. C. P. Cabell, and Susan Rogers, daughter of Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., of Pampa.

Texas was represented by two bands—one from Johnson's alma mater, Southwest Texas State College, and the other from the University of Texas.

The state college featured a 64-gig precision dance team and a 15-member drum majorette corps, as well as a 74-member musical unit.

The 175-piece University of Texas marching band displayed what it billed as the world's largest drum—"Big Bertha." It took five boys and a four-wheeled cart to handle the 500-pound instrument.

Western showmanship, Texas style, was displayed by the Fisher County sheriff's posse. The 23 western-garbed riders in the posse wore the outsize hats that Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn have made a Texas trademark in the nation's capitol.

President John F. Kennedy

The Destiny of the Nation is Up to Him

Asks New Peace Quest; Pledges Loyalty To Allies

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)— John F. Kennedy took office as the nation's 35th president today with a plea for both sides in the cold war to "begin anew the quest for peace." He issued the summons moments after taking the historical oath that made him, at 43 the youngest man ever elected to America's highest office.

In a 1,300-word inaugural address, delivered on the Capitol steps in the freezing aftermath of a driving snowstorm, the new Chief Executive directed his remarks not only to his countrymen but to "my fellow citizens of the world."

"Let every nation know," he said, "whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

He pledged this country's continuing loyalty to its long-time allies, support of the newly emerging republics, and a special consideration for its Latin American neighbors. Then he added:

"Finally, to those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: That both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

He summoned the world's peoples, both Communist and non-Communist, to a "grand and global alliance" to combat "tyranny, poverty, disease and war."

To the hungry and miserable, the "peoples in the huts and villages of half the globe," he pledged help "not because the Communists are doing it, not because we seek their votes, but because it is right."

To the contending nations of East and West, he said: "Let both sides explore what problems unite us instead of belaboring the problems that divide us. . . . Let both sides invoke the wonders of science instead of its terrors. Together let us explore the stars, conquer the deserts, eradicate disease, win space for man, and make peace for the nations of the world."

"The absolute power to destroy other nations," he said, must be brought "under the absolute control of all nations."

To the nations of Latin America Kennedy made "a special pledge" for "a new alliance" against poverty, aggression and subversion. And in an obvious reference to

The Inaugural Address

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Following is the text of President John F. Kennedy's inaugural address:

My fellow citizens: We observe today not a victory of party but a celebration of freedom — symbolizing an end as well as a beginning — signifying renewal as well as change. For I have sworn before you and Almighty God the same solemn oath our forebearers prescribed nearly a century and three-quarters ago.

The world is very different now. For man holds in his mortal hands the power to abolish all forms of human poverty and to abolish all forms of human life. And yet the same revolutionary beliefs for which our forebearers fought are still at issue around the globe — the belief that the rights of man come not from the generosity of the state but from the hand of God.

We dare not forget today that we are the heirs of that first revolution. Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans — born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a cold and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage — and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today.

Let every nation know, whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty. This much we pledge — and more.

To those old allies whose cultural and spiritual origins we share, we pledge the loyalty of faithful friends. United, there is little we cannot do in a host of new cooperative ventures. Divided, there is little we can do — for we dare not meet a powerful challenge at odds and split asunder.

To those new states whom we welcome to the ranks of the free, we pledge our word that one form of colonial control shall not have passed merely to be replaced by a far more iron tyranny. We shall not always expect to find them supporting our every view. But we shall always hope to find them strongly supporting their own freedom — and to remember that, in the past, those who foolishly sought to find power by riding on the tiger's back inevitably ended up inside.

To those peoples in the huts and villages of half the globe struggling to break the bonds of mass misery, we pledge our best efforts to help them help themselves, for whatever period is required — not because the Communists are doing it, not because we seek their votes, but because it is right. If the free society can not help the many who are poor, it can never save the few who are rich.

To our sister republics south of our border, we offer a special pledge — to convert our good words into good deeds — in a new alliance for progress — to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty. But this peaceful revolution of hope cannot become the prey of hostile powers. Let all our neighbors know that we shall join with them to oppose aggression or subversion anywhere in the Americas. And let every other power know that this hemisphere intends to remain the master of its own house.

To that world assembly of sovereign states, the United Nations, we are committed. (See INAUGURAL, Page 3)

SHE CAN STILL SMILE — Despite the fact that five-year-old Lindora Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wagner, 501 N. Wynne, was recently hospitalized with double pneumonia during which time her physician discovered that she had leukemia, the lovely child still can show a beaming face. Lindora Wagner Fund Is Begun

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Staff Writer

A grief-stricken mother said yesterday, "Of course you have my permission and that of my husband to use our names. You don't have any pride left when you look upon your little girl and know she is afflicted with such a dreadful disease."

Those were the words of Mrs. Keith Wagner, 501 N. Wynne, mother of Lindora Wagner, five years of age, who has leukemia and who must be taken to a blood center shortly to undergo tests and whatever treatment she may obtain for this illness that has brought, in recent years, sorrow to the hearts of many people throughout the world when physicians have determined that a loved one has this disease.

And, to make matters worse, the Wagners don't have the money they need to take their daughter to the Anderson Hospital at Houston, the hospital in which their doctor is attempting to place Lindora.

Abandoned Property Bill On Tap For Legislature

By PAT CONWAY

AUSTIN (UPI)—A Texas abandoned property bill—a measure that set lawmakers to feuding in the last legislature—was on file for introduction in the House today, ready to spark new controversy.

Legislators took a weekend holiday after brief sessions Thursday. The time off will give them a chance to study a stack of financial recommendations made by Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board.

The abandoned property bill, a key recommendation by Daniel in his program to retire the state's $63 million deficit, was sponsored by Rep. Paul Hering, a freshman member from Goliad. Hering's measure dropped into the hopper as lawmakers scurried to beat today's deadline for filing bills under priority numbers of introduction.

Rep. Max Carraker of Roby holds the low number, "two," but so far has not proposed any legislation.

Daniel has estimated the abandoned property bill will permit the state to collect $17 million in unclaimed money held by banks, financial institutions and pipelines.

The state banking industry bitterly opposed the measure in the last session of the legislature.

Daniel said the bill this time is

Jet Bomber Explodes Over Utah; Five Dead

ONTICELLO, Utah (UPI)—A jet bomber exploded in mid-air over a town here Thursday, killing five crewmen.

Forty officers survived a long chute drop of 25,000 feet, and they described as "colder than hell." Then they hiked to a highway and hitched a ride into town. Neither was badly injured.

The commander of the jet, which was on a routine eight-hour mission, was identified as Capt. John P. Marsh, 30, Edgar Springs, Mo.

Missing crew members were: Sgt. David A. Forsythe, Haverhill, Mass.; 1st Lt. Ivan G. Petty, 31, Pekin, Ill.; and Capt. Harold S. Bonneville, Los Angeles.

A maintenance technician aboard the plane as an observer was also presumed dead. He was Sgt. Lionel A. Terry, 25, Athens, Ala.

Fragments of the $8 million jet bomber scattered over several acres of rocky ground 12 miles north of here and one chunk hit a cliff jutting out into a valley. Fires burned for several hours at three separate spots.

The survivors told a doctor who treated them for abrasions that a severe vibration, much like turbulent weather, shook the plane as it winged north from Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex., on a round-trip training mission. One wing apparently caught fire and then exploded.

Listed in good condition were 1st Lt. Thomas A. Stout, of New Orleans, the co-pilot, and 2nd Lt. Jerome R. Celvert, 21, of Phoenix, Ariz., the navigator.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Allen C. Poole of Hemphill, Noyes & Co., is uncertain about the economic outlook and pessimistic about the stock market.

Poole says the business outlook is hardly bright enough to justify a stock market priced within 10 per cent of its all-time high when the economy is in a recession without the ingredients needed to create a rebound similar to 1950 and 1954.

The tools used to reverse the last three recessions—easier money and deficit government spending—must be used with extreme caution in view of the outflow of gold from this country, a situation which is becoming critical, the analyst notes.

He feels that surprisingly high investor confidence may be impaired by the "acute" international situation and the realization that the present recession may not be corrected as easily as previous ones.

While expressing confidence in the long-term, the economist looks for a reversal in investor confidence shortly, perhaps in February or March, and feels that purchasing reserves may be used much more profitably "when investor over-confidence turns to over-pessimism."

Dean, Witter & Co. considers the bank of Hawaii, quoted at least 13 times net-1960 profits, an attractive buy. The firm points to the bank's excellent record of earnings growth.

Goodbody & Co. recommends the purchase of the class "A&B" stocks of Union Texas Natural Gas Corp., currently selling high. The firm says Union Texas around 35 per cent under its 1959 is aggressively managed with outstanding growth prospects, owing to its production of natural gas, L.P. gas and natural gasoline.

McNamara Gets Down To 'Brass Tacks' Early

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Mr. Kennedy's new Secretary of Defense has already made a reputation around the Pentagon.

A man coming out of Robert S. McNamara's office after a 25-minute session was heard to say: "I'd hate to cross that guy. He's just cold enough to do something about it."

McNamara started off like a man in a hurry. He came to work three weeks early. He showed up at 8 a.m. Some of his key deputies followed soon after. He got down to work. He has been there full time ever since.

From the start, McNamara made one thing plain: no interservice bickering. There could be all the arguments anyone wanted—the more the better—before a decision was made. That would make for better decisions. Afterward, there would be cooperation. Or the dissenter would go—or McNamara would.

Whispers began going through the corridors. How long would this admiral last? Or that general?

McNamara made another point clear through the Pentagon corridors. The new Defense appointees would be McNamara men. They were going to be chosen according to his specifications. He was sizing up and picking most of the men personally; he was not delegating the job because he had to work with these appointees.

After a few days, there was also little doubt in the Pentagon that McNamara had little use for a defense chief who sat back and mediated disputes. He wanted to be smack in the middle when the Joint Chiefs of Staff had their arguments.

McNamara intends personally to be in on the military strategy decision making. He didn't quit the Ford Motor Company to be a super efficiency expert in management and procurement. He doesn't plan to go back to Ford afterward; he has cut his bridges.

In his rush, McNamara already has hit out sharply in his private talks against the Washington froth of cocktail parties, junkets and ceremonial visits.

McNamara has been briefed on his first post-inauguration problem—Laos. The picture is very gloomy. He is going through a series of equally gloomy briefings on such other knotty questions as: The serious loss of technically trained men from the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The morale problems that have followed the decisions to hold back sharply on the number of families accompanying servicemen overseas.

Growing Communist power throughout Latin America and Africa.

The serious military weakness of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He is quietly being briefed by worried civilians about the lessening power of civilians over the Pentagon military.

Outgoing Defense Secretary Thomas Gates is offering him a chance to hear a two-hour lecture, complete with slides, which includes all the proposals on unification and Pentagon improvement made in the past several years.

He's being told of the failure thus far to solve the problem of defense against atomic submarines.

He's being warned that if he doesn't immediately pour an extra fifth of a billion dollars into the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile, there'll be a dangerous defense gap.

He's hearing that the Army program for small atomic weapons is being held back by the moratorium on atomic testing.

He's hearing arguments for speed up money for the Air Force's bomber-carried ballistic missile Sky Bolt and the atomic plane.

He is hearing a rash of arguments against unification from the Army and the Navy. He's being told that the evils of interservice rivalry are personality problems and that if he gets rid of the personalities he will have few rivalry problems left.

He's being begged to appoint as few ex-politicians as possible to Defense Department jobs.

to "see what we can do towards obtain toys and housecoats and other bed clothing for Lindora." "We won't refuse anything that anyone offers if it will help Lindora," said Mrs. Windsor.
And at Cabot Corp., two men, Clay Crossland and Joe Achord, are, in a quiet way, talking to fellow employees to see what they can do to aid Lindora.
Still others are seeking to help the family. Cameron Marsh, principal of Pampa High School, informed The Daily News that he and the faculty are "back of this project 100 per cent."
Marsh said that he and the faculty "have chipped in and turned some money over to Mrs. Stephens to aid the Wagner's and if we can do anything more, feel free to call on us."
The PHS principal pointed out that he and his staff have not sought funds from students, nor do they intend to. However, he said, "There'll probably be something along the way we can do to be of assistance and we're ready at anytime."
There are others who are in this project and who are devoting much time to the effort. There's Mrs. Pauline Hurd, for one, who is giving hours to the cause, and there's Merle Cooper, who is striving to raise funds to aid the Wagner's, brighten the days of Lindora, and to see that she has nothing but the very best of care.
Contributions are being accepted by many of the people named. However, to centralize the fund, the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. is establishing a Lindora Wagner Fund, and persons wishing to place money in the fund may do so anytime during banking hours, officials there said.

Striking Tugmen Nearly Cut NYC Transportation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Less than 700 striking tugboatmen today all severed rail traffic to and from New York City and disrupted railroads serving hundreds of thousands of persons in the Northeast in a dispute over the jobs of 62 men.
After a post-midnight negotiating session failed to solve the 11-day strike early today, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said, "I understand they are moving (pickets) into Philadelphia and Baltimore. This thing has tremendously serious implications."
Rockefeller abandoned plans to attend John F. Kennedy's inauguration in Washington and planned to meet again today with federal mediators and representatives of the tugboat men and the 11 railroads involved.
The meeting was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. EST.
The crucial issue remained the Hudson River tug and ferry crewmen's demand for job security and the railroads' desire to cut some crews from five men to three.
"When you get down to it," Rockefeller said, "we're still talking about 62 people."
The strikers sent pickets far up into New York state and Massachusetts in their latest foray and forced the New York Central Railroad to halt all service between Buffalo, N.Y., and Boston early today. The Central also set Erie, Pa., as the end of the line on freight runs that normally run through Buffalo.
The shutdowns severely disrupted food shipments into the nation's largest city, but truck service to haul cargoes normally tugged across the Hudson appeared assured Thursday, State Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter ordered the Teamsters Union to rescind a telegram recommending that members refuse to cross picket lines.

Kennedy Is 35th Man To Become U.S. President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John F. Kennedy will be listed officially as the 35th President of the United States. But he is only the 34th man to hold the job.
The confusion stems from Grover Cleveland, who served two non-consecutive terms, and who is counted twice by official historians.
Break-in Noted At Packing Firm
Sheriff officers are investigating a break-in at the Golden Spread Meat Packing Co. last night.
Deputy Shirley Nickols, who investigated the case, said, entrance was gained by a key or someone hiding in the building after closing time.
An estimated $50 to $60 was taken along with the cash register, according to owner Pete Bond who reported the burglary.
Vandals Raid Dairy Truck
A refrigerated dairy truck parked at 1255 Houston was looted during the night and several dairy products taken.
Investigating officers report the driver, E. L. Waters, found the back door of the truck had been pried open when he reported for work at 5:15 this morning.
Waters estimated that 10 gallons of ice cream, one case of milk, three cartons of cheese and six pounds of oleo were missing.

Boyer Service Set Saturday

Funeral rites for Orin Victor (Jack) Boyer of Lefors will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in the Lefors Baptist Church with the Rev. Luther Berry, pastor, officiating.
The body will be taken overland to Elk City where another service will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Elk City Baptist Church with the Rev. Lewis Hancock, pastor, officiating.
Mr. Boyer, a Continental Oil Co. employe, died 4 a.m. yesterday morning in Highland General Hospital.
Pallbearers will be Bob Bright, Max Mitchell, Dick Bull, Hugh Terry, Jeff Davis and Jeff Steed.

President

Archbishop Lakovos of New York

Archbishop Lakovos of New York, head of the Greek Orthodox archdiocese of North and South America, asked blessings on a new President "so that he may be victorious in all his struggles against evil, violence, injustice and the threat of war."
The Rev. Dr. John Barclay, pastor of Central Christian Church, Austin, Tex., prayed that they "recapture the faith of our fathers and their spiritual optimism that problems are soluble, that what ought to be, can be."
In the benediction, Rabbi Nelson Glueck, president of Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, asked God to guide Kennedy so that "through his leadership hunger may be stilled, hurts healed, hopes sustained."
Kennedy took the oath to execute his office faithfully and "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution" with his left hand on a Catholic Bible, the Douay version, which was owned by his grandmother, Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald.

Mamie Moves Out.... Jacqueline Moves In

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sleeping late on the morning after the inaugural Ball is a luxury that Jackie Kennedy won't be able to enjoy. She'll need an early start to get ready for the moving men.

Vacating her three-story Georgetown home to go to the White House is a thoroughly unenviable task. She must prepare for three moves simultaneously.

Some of the furniture and extensive antiques will go to the White House. Others must be shipped to Glen Ora, the Kennedy's recently leased country estate in Middleburg, Va. The remainder will be marked for storage.

What's more, Jackie hasn't gotten a chance to really get acquainted with either of her new homes. She knows about them only from a brief tour through the White House living quarters with Mrs. Eisenhower.

And to make things even tougher, Jackie has only two days to get everything ready. Beginning Monday, Jan. 23, most of her time will be spent tending to her official duties as First Lady.

So starting early Jan. 21 after the big inaugural balls, Jackie will begin a tour of her 12-room Georgetown home to decide where she wants the furniture to be sent.

The inventory is expected to take a weekend. At the same time, she will finish packing her family's clothes.

The moving men are scheduled to arrive early Monday to pack smaller articles like dishes and linens into big cardboard boxes.

They will list the contents of each room on the outside. This is the first of the moving ordeal that makes Jackie the most apprehensive.

Former Alaskan Resident Describes Life There At 20-30 Club Meet

LEPORS (Sp) — Mrs. Ray Dickerson presented a program on "Alaska" at the 20-30 Club meeting on Monday night held in the home of Mrs. B. D. Vaughn with Mrs. Joe Archer as co-hostess.

In showing colored film Mrs. Dickerson reviewed the annual mid-winter festival and pointed out that Alaskans wear no head-covering in weather 30 degrees below zero. "It is no colder there at thirty below than here at thirty above, because there is no wind."

Mrs. Dickerson worked at a modern hospital in Fairbanks while in Alaska, which was unpainted when she first went there. She told of the coloring of Highland General Hospital in Pampa, and "as a result, the hospital there is identically the same color as Many of her belongings are expensive antique furnishings, heirloom china and cherished paintings. The packers have already been cautioned to be especially careful when handling two paintings of Jackie and the President-elect, antique dishes and stemware and a huge fragile old mirror.

Adele Murphy, a specialist in opening and closing homes for celebrities, will supervise this operation. Mrs. Murphy helped Jackie move into the Georgetown house.

Jackie is expected to keep most of the conventional furniture like beds, tables and chairs already in the 14 White House rooms used by the First Family. But she probably will buy new slip covers to suit her own color tastes.

Any redecorating Jackie wants done will be financed from the annual $500,000 appropriation for White House upkeep.

her own Highland General Hospital," she pointed out.

Mrs. Wayne Sims presided during the business meeting. Roll call was answered with, "my favorite frozen dessert," in connection with the program, "Winter Wonderland."

Mrs. Joe Archer was elected as second vice-president. It was announced that the next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gordon Robinson on Jan. 20. The meeting date of the club has been changed from Monday to Friday.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attending were Mrs. Clois Pinner welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Kenneth Vernon, guest, and the following members: Mmes. J. M. McPherson, Gordon Robinson, E. L. Foshee, Ed Lehnich, Billy Cox, and Leonard Cain.

Volunteer Class Has Study Meet

GROOM (Sp) The Volunteers Workers' Class met recently in the Methodist Church opening the meeting with the topic, "The Result of Prayer" given by Mrs. E. R. Hess and Mrs. J. W. Angel.

Mrs. Angel was hostess during the social hour. Attending were Mmes. John Ray, C. R. Copeland, J. B. Shockley, Pearl Banks, John Farley, E. R. Hess, O. P. Blackwell, L. A. Howard, Fred Burgin, Benton Moreman, Margie Emery, S. K. Roach, J. B. Demic, O. R. Major and a guest Mrs. Opal Stamps of Parr.

MATURE PARENT

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The mother and child remained on the TV screen for several moments. But several moments were time enough. The little boy looked to be about 5 years old.

His mother was one of a group of women bunched together along a New Orleans street to shriek insults at the small, carefully starched Negro girl walking her way to the public school into which the law of this land permits her entrance. As she passed with her escort of U.S. marshalls, the mother of the little white boy shook him, yelling, "Go on, tell the little nigger! Tell her you'll never go to school with niggers! Go on, tell her, tell her."

The small white boy did not obey. Instead he turned, and hiding the sight of his mother's snarling face from his eyes, buried his face in her skirt.

I am not employed to comment on these parents' irresponsibility toward our country.

But it is my job to rebuke parental disobedience to law when it is a perilous example to children, and to warn that children can be deeply scarred by the sight of hate in their mothers' faces.

Any mother who has seen her child shrink from her when she screams at a neighbor's dog or blasts a tardy milkman will know that I tell the truth.

The young know many things that we forget. Children know that the hate we express toward the milkman, the neighbor's dog, the little Negro girl can also be expressed toward them.

They know that so long as such violence exists in us, it can turn us in a flash upon them.

They know what the rest of us have to re-learn the hard way: that hate is no respecter of creatures, white or black, but, like the hungry tiger it is, will leap upon any passing prey.

And so they do not feel safe with hating mothers.

For this reason I sorrow more for the little white boy who could not bear the sight of his mother's snarling face than I do for the little black girl who did not have to hide her eyes.

Emotionally Bankrupt

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've gone with Homer for 7 years. I am 28 and he is 36. Neither us has ever been married, but he was engaged twice. (People say his mother broke them up.)

Homer is an only child and lives with his widowed mother. He's asked me to marry him and promised me his mother's diamond. But she's still wearing it. When we go to dinner we either take his mother with us or hurry home to have coffee with her. When Homer is at my apartment, she calls him and tells him not to stay too late. Last Sunday we were late for church because she made him change suits twice! Do you think he'd make a good husband? He is financially solvent.

LONG ENGAGEMENT
DEAR LONG: He may be financially solvent, but he sounds emotionally bankrupt. I see only one advantage in marrying this man; you will always be able to find him — attached to his mother's umbilical cord.

DEAR ABBY: All my married life (eleven years) I have had to get up first in the morning, light the heaters, and see that everybody else got up, including my husband.

Don't you think that a man who wants to be "the head of the house" in all other matters should be the first one out of bed when the alarm goes off? Also, who should lock up for the night?

AVERAGE WIFE
DEAR AVERAGE: I think the man of the house should lock up for the night. But the wife should be the first one out of bed to start the home fires burning.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person break out in a rash from living in a stucco house? Ever since I've lived in this stucco house (13 years) I have had a skin rash.

The only time it clears up is when I go to the hospital to have a baby, or if I leave town on a trip. When I was away on a trip I stayed in a stucco motel and the rash came back, so I figured it has to be the stucco. Can you help me on this?

"BROKEN OUT" (I'm home now.)
DEAR BROKEN: A dermatologist (skin doctor) can tell you whether you have an allergy, and if so, to what. Give him as many clues as possible, but let HIM diagnose the case.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

ENNIS HILL PASTOR CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

FALSE VALUES

Rom. 9:13
"Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated."

Why would God make such a statement as this? In the eyes of our modern day world, the sin of Jacob was as great as that of Esau. Most of the time twins are very close in their relations to each other, but these twins were extremely different. Jacob was an under-handed cheat, who stole his brother's birthright. Esau is spoken of as a profane person, thinking only of the now. He felt like so many, "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." His faith in God was at a very low ebb. Our world is full of those with the wrong sense of value.

There are many things in our life which are of great value. Many of these things we take for granted. How much value do you place upon your Christian experience, and what place do you give to it in your life? Those who consider their Christian experience the greatest thing in their life will give their all to it. They set aside a definite time for devotion to the church and other things of the spiritual. They make all other things such as vacation, family, pleasure, and all else revolve around this great spiritual value. On one occasion Jesus was asked by his disciples what would be their reward because they had left all to follow Him. Jesus answered by saying, "Varily I say unto you there is no man that hath left houses, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting." Luke 18:29-30.

Some are like Esau who despise his spiritual birthright because they feel it is too demanding, and it will prevent them from doing some things they would like to do. When we come to stand before God the greatest thing we can possess is our Christian experience.

Harvesters Entertain Sky-Scraping Amarillo Here Tonight

Pampa's Harvesters, all but out of the District 3-4A title picture, will be cast in the "spotters" role in Amarillo's tree-top tall Sandstorm game tonight at 8 p.m. today in a game that was designated as "Points For Nothing."

With pledges pouring in and expected this afternoon and tonight at the game, each Pampa player is expected to score against Amarillo.

expected to bring upwards of $3 million to the March of Dimes in its annual campaign.

On the court, the Harvesters, 1-4 in district and 8-10 for the season, will more than have their hands full with the ozone-breathing Sandstorm who'll probably start tonight as Wayne Rivers, 6-5, and Johnny Garcia, 6-1. Coach T.G. Hull will round out his starting five with Louis Ridings, 6-4, and Bob Dibler, a "midget" 5-10, both 1959-60 lettermen.

Amarillo, the pre-season 3-4A pick because of its size and experience, faltered in its first two outings, falling to Lubbock, Monterey, 42-40, and Amarillo Palo Duro, 64-49, but have beaten Borger, 55-49, in a big one; Lubbock, 65-60 and Plainview, 65-55 in overtime, last Tuesday.

A loss tonight to Pampa would be near-fatal to Amarillo's chances, especially if Borger trims Lubbock and Palo Duro down to Tascoas in tonight's feature games.

Pampa, after a rousing 57-46 opening conference triumph over Palo Duro — now tied for the 3-4A lead with Borger with a 4-1 mark. It's liable to be a 10-8 ball game," Colley said yesterday, knowing full well that the big Sandies' rebound strength will force Pampa to make only near-sure shots.

Colley's man-to-man defensive alignment will find Randy Matson, 6-5, on Denny; Allen Wise, 6-3, on Rivers; Gordon Balch, 6-0, on Ridings; Pat Carter 3-10 on Garcia; and Bill Neslage, 5-11, on Dibler.

Good news in the Harvesters camp came yesterday with the restored eligibility of Ronnie Chase, the 5-7 sophomore flash who has missed the conference games to date but was impressive in PHS non-conference games.

Along with Wayne Kries, 5-10 and another soph, the two will constitute Pampa's sixth and seventh men in times of emergency. With the addition of Chase, Colley now has four soph in his top seven players.

Matson, Wise and Carter, three Harvesters in double figures in district play, are expected to carry the scoring load tonight. Of the three, Matson (13.6) and Wise (11.0) have been the most consistent district performers, while Carter (12.4) was held to a 2-point output by Monterey.

In the first game pitting 8-teams, Pampa's district-leading Shockers (4-1) go for their third straight win against Amarillo's Yannigans at 6:15 p.m.

The Shockers, 14-4 for the year, will start Bob Neslage, C. E. Cantrell, Darrell Doss, Chase and Kries.

Pampa Works To Maintain Sandie Jinx

PORTS IN SEURTS... Pampa Harvesters will have one in-jinx going for them tonight in their best Amarillo in a District 3-4A game: they have never lost to the Sandies in Harvesters' history since the portals were thrown open in 1952.

The 28 games between the schools, since 1948, Pampa is a 23-5 edge, with one of the wins coming last year in a sudden-death overtime in Amarillo.

The mark, however, has already been shattered when Monterey defeated Pampa, 61-49, last Tuesday. It was the first time Monterey had downed a Pampa basketball team since the two began playing four years ago.

For those who want to look to the future, Fort Worth Birdville did very well in the bi-district again for the 3-4A winner, losing to Pampa, 57-48; the loss has fallen only once and leading the 4-4A pack.

Elsewhere, Midland is atop 2-4A with a 3-0 mark, followed by San Angelo, 2-1, Abilene, 2-1, Odessa, Permian, 1-2, and Big Spring, 1-2.

An Angelo, boasting a taller line than the one which Pampa defeated two-out-of-three in the playoffs in 1955, was the favorite until Midland polished them last week.

In 1-4A, the El Paso district, El Yuleta is easily the class with a 17-0 record.

Pampa's 10-8 record is misleading when you consider the high-bred non-conference competition the Harvesters faced, more than can be said about the majority of other district teams.

The Green and Gold hold wins over Birdville, Dumas, Seminole, Dress and Quanah, all tied or their respective districts.

At N.M., the only team to hold a two-game set over Pampa, is the district in "New Mexico."

Happy to see that Jim Piersall, whom we believe is the last remnant of the crowd-pleasing baseball year, received a deserved raise around $30,000.

Casey Stengel, former Yankee leader, put it best when he storms criticism surrounded Piersall — he pulled such antics off his behind center field flag poles: "It's not crazy! You don't see a running to third on a base."

Harry Stroud, Pampa High School basketball star, and Ed Lehnich, coach at Lefors, will be among the special honorees at the annual Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame in Amarillo Sunday.

Stroud was an unanimous 11-vote choice at first base last year, although he was rated on bottom.

West Texas State, in the midst of a building program under Joe Bel, former Breckenridge and Amarillo High School mentor, suffered a slight setback with the resignation of Joe Moss, who has gone to the Air Force Academy.

Sumner has it that Moss will be replaced by a high school coach in the Panhandle, one who has coached several successful seasons.

He can only hope that after the death of Floyd Patterson, the champion "tea-party" the champion took around for a solid tender. Perhaps Sonny Liston, who has been knocking on the title for a long time, but thus far gone unanswered.

TKO's Dot Perryton Card

Bouts Resume Today; Finals Set Tomorrow

PERRYTON — Second round action begins at 8 p.m. today in the first annual Perryton District Golden Gloves and Regional Pee Wee boxing tournament after a heated opening night Thursday in which four TKO's and one re-sounding KO were recorded.

Finals are set for 8 p.m. tomorrow. All fights are in the Memorial Building here under the sponsorship of the American Community Youth Club of Perryton.

In the Pee-Wee division, where battles are going for the height of bantam going — the regional title — Perryton's Billy Taylor took a giant step towards the 50-pound crown with a first round TKO over Larry Gilbreth of Lefors.

UH Tumbles Texas A&M

By United Press International

Big Ted Luckenbill pounded through the "Texas A&M" defense like a pile-driver for a pair of easy layups in the final three minutes Thursday night to nail down a 89-85 victory for the Houston Cougars.

It was the last game of the week for a Southwest Conference club, and it gave Cadet ace Carroll Broussard an opportunity to make it tougher for Steve Strange of Southern Methodist to catch up in the league's individual scoring derby.

Broussard, already being boomed in some quarters for All-America honors, jammed in 26 points to run his season total to 321 points and an overall average of 22.9 points per game, and a 29.2 point average in conference play. Strange dropped to second in the overall scoring chase earlier this week with a total of 279 points and a 21.5 point average overall, and a 20-point flat league average.

'Sugar' KO's Contract Suit

NEW YORK (PI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, with another court victory under his belt, plans to fly west Saturday to train for his fourth title fight with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer at Las Vegas, Nev., March 4.

It required only 20 minutes of deliberation Thursday night for a federal court jury to "find for the defendant" — Robinson — in a $75,000 breach-of-contract suit brought by a Philadelphia promoter.

In Crosby Tournament Goalby Uses Blazing Putter To Take Lead

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer may have been the money king of 1960.

But watch out for Bob Goalby in 1961!

Goalby, a former University of Illinois sub-quarterback, now playing out of Crystal River, Fla., won $7,500 for capturing the Los Angeles Open to start this year, and picked up another $500 in the San Diego Open last week.

And, he goes into the second round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur today holding a one-stroke lead over the field after one of the greatest finishes ever seen on a golf course.

Goalby, one over par after 12 holes, went seven under par on the next six with six birdies and an eagle for a great 66 on the course.

"I was just trying to shoot a 70 after I was one over par at 12," said Goalby later. "I figured that was about the best I could do."

"But, man, what a finish! I've never had anything like it before."

Big Bob, even with his fine shot-making, was only one stroke ahead of the crack field. Defending champion Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif.; Dave Hill, Denver, Colo.; Bill Collins; Crystal River, Fla.; and Howie Johnson, Lemont, Ill., each had 67s.

The once-great Byron Nelson had a 76; so did Jack Fleck; Mike Souchak had a 77; Vic Ghezzi and Frank Stranahan, 78; Gay Brewer had an 80, and George Fazio, 81.

Close to the pack, Dave Ragan, Orlando, Fla.; Jackie Burke, Houston, Tex.; Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, had 68s. Palmer had a fine 70 — despite some trouble off the tee.

New Pitt Owner Eyes Stith As Top Prize

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Promoter Lenny Litman set his sights today on St. Bonaventure star Tom Stith as the first "name" player for a Pittsburgh entry in the new American Basketball League.

"We will begin drafting players in April," said Litman who has been assured playing dates in the city's new Civic Arena. "Right now I'm trying to line up Stith. He is in our territory which covers West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and all of New England."

Professional basketball will return to Pittsburgh next season for the first time in 14 years. The Pittsburgh Ironmen operated during the 1949-57 season in the old American Basketball League.

Oscar (Sparky) Adams, Pittsburgh insurance executive, was named by Litman to serve as general manager. Along with selecting players, their immediate task is choosing a coach.

"I wanted Duddy Moore (La Salle College coach) but he turned me down," Litman said. Moore, coach at Duquesne University for 10 seasons before he took the La Salle post, is a native Pittsburgher who would have been a popular choice.

Litman said he was assured by NBA President Maurice Podoloff that he would be given consideration for a franchise.

Sign Without Fanfare Or Trouble

By FRED DOWN

The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates continued to line up their key stars without fanfare or trouble today when 20-game winner Vern Law returned his signed contract in the mail.

Winner of the Cy Young Award as the major league pitcher of the year, Law received a big boost estimated to put him in the $30,000-a-year class. Terms of the contract were not revealed but Law's quick acceptance indicated he had received a substantial increase.

The 6-foot, 3-inch, 185-pound, right-hander compiled a 20-9 record during the National League season and received credit for two victories over the New York Yankees in the World Series. He also started the seventh game of the Series but retired after two innings partly because of an ankle injury suffered in a clubhouse accident the day the Pirates clinched their first flag in 33 years.

Law is the sixth member of the world champions to agree to terms for 1961.

Law was the biggest "name" to agree to terms Thursday but the Cleveland Indians and Chicago Cubs also were active in the pin and ink league.

the Cubs announced the signing of seven players bringing their satisfied list to 32.

Held led the Indians with 21 homers in 1960 and Romano added 16 to a generally weak-hitting attack. Held batted .258 while Romano hit .272 in 108 games.

Romano was drafted from Rochester in November while Lee, a hard-throwing right-hander, appeared in only seven games and pitched nine innings in 1960.

The players signed by the Cubs were Lou Johnson, Ben Johnson, Sam Drake, Nelson Mathews, Walt Bales, Moe Morhardt and Ken Hubbs. Lou Johnson, Drake and Mathews played briefly for the Cubs last season.

Two Big Guns Duel

OPPOSING STARS — Randy Matson, left, the 6-5 Pampa sophomore who is the Harvesters top scorer in district play, will run head-on tonight with Harold Denny, 6-7 Amarillo Sandie senior, 3-4A's high point man after five games with 91 points.

Merchants Keg Tournery Enters Final Rounds

With Panhandle Fishing Tools Spearman nursing a narrow 16-point lead over its nearest challenger, 49 more teams will toe the line tomorrow in the final round of the team event in the third annual Pampa Merchants Invitational Bowling Tournament at Harvesters Bowl.

In last week's opening round, Panhandle rolled a 2,825 total to better its closest foe, Clayton Husted of Pampa, which had a 2,809. Tomorrow, the remaining teams will shoot at Panhandle and at the $150 first-prize money.

Starting times for tomorrow's action are 4, 8:30 and 9 p.m. with nine teams rolling at 4 p.m. and 20 each in the next two rounds.

On Sunday, a full day is scheduled for singles and doubles play. Four sets of singles and doubles play will begin the all-day marathon at 9 a.m., followed by rounds at 11:30 a.m., 2:45 and 7 p.m.

Final registration figures for the two-weekend tournament show 82 teams, 121 doubles and 242 singles participants. Prize money for the winners was expected to top $1,700.

Unknowns Tip DePaul

By United Press International

Revenge is sweet for Western Michigan's virtually unknown basketball team.

The fired-up Broncos from Kalamazoo upset 10th-ranked DePaul, 85-60, Thursday night to avenge an earlier defeat at the hands of the Blue Demons this season.

The loss was the second straight on the road for DePaul, which only this week was dropped from the undefeated ranks by Notre Dame.

Western Michigan, previously beaten 81-60 by DePaul, raised its season record to 6-7 as it stopped the Demons' high-scoring guard, Howie Carl. The 5-9 Carl managed only one field goal in the first half as Western Michigan built a 36-23 advantage.

Bob Bolton's 23 points led the Broncos well-balanced attack. Ron Robinson added 17 points while Carl's 13 topped the losers, who now have an 11-2 mark.

Houston, which topped Bradley from the unbeaten list last week, edged Texas A&M, 69-65, as the Cougars' Ted Luckenbill scored 29 points. The tight contest was broken up in the last three minutes, when Luckenbill drove down the middle for two consecutive layups and Tommy Thomson hit two throws.

Gary Phillips added 22 points for Houston and Don Stanley with 27 and Carroll Broussard with 26 paced the Aggies.

Reapers Win, Lee Stumbles

Pampa's Reapers solidified their grip on first place in the Panhandle Junior High School basketball conference yesterday afternoon and they can thank Borger-Houston for helping them, do it.

While Pampa was chalking up its seventh straight victory to remain unbeaten in district play with a 35-23 win over Phillips, Houston downed Robert E. Lee of Pampa, 40-37, the knock the Rebels from a second-place tie into third place.

Kenny Hebert with 24 points and Gary Davis, 14, paced the Reapers to their victory while Webb had nine for Phillips.

Pampa Eighth fell for the fifth straight time as Phillips applied a 50-17 licking. Richard Crews paced the losers with 6 points while New is had 22 for Phillips.

For Lee, yesterday's loss to Borger-Houston snapped a four-game winning streak but still left them in strong contention for the junior high title as they have yet to play the two leaders — Pampa and Borger-Houston — on Lee's home court.

Gary Sikes, 15, and Rickey Stewart, 12, sparked the Lee attack although Joe Robinson of Borger took high game honors with 17 points.

In the eighth grade battle, Lee, continued on its unbeaten way (5-0), by downing Borger, Eighth, 42-35, behind the combined scoring punch of Charles Snuggs, 9, Robert Howard, 8, Richard Fatheree, 5, and Keith Griffith, 7. Cooper had 12 for Borger.

Score by quarters:

Reapers	12	19	4	26	55
Phillips	6	2	4	11	23
Lee	10	14	6	7	37
Houston	11	10	8	11	40

Close Battles In Pee Wees

Houston continued to roll along the unbeaten trail in the Kiwanis Optimist Pee Wee basketball league yesterday with a 44-19 win over Lamar. Thompson had 19 for Houston while Stevens hit 4 for the losers.

In other sixth grade games yesterday, Mann defeated Austin, 17-10, as Abbott scored 6 points while Kuhn had 8 for Austin; and Baker downed Wilson, 40-30. York had 16 for Baker and Strickland had 15 for Wilson.

In the fifth grade division, Austin nipped Mann, 19-14, in overtime; Wilson edged Baker 14-12; and Houston downed Lamar, 16-9.

Tomorrow's sixth-grade schedule calls for Wilson at Austin; Baker at Houston and Mann at Travis; in the fifth grade, it's Austin at Wilson; Houston at Baker and Travis at Mann.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

XXXIV

Hector pulled himself together. "I was riding the draw on Hackberry Creek looking for steers back in those ravines. I smelled the smoke of cedar wood, and located the smoke about a quarter of a mile away. I took two hands with me and snuck up the draw until we found the ravine."

"Can you tell us what you found?"

"They had a fire going and a cinch-ring in the fire."

"Were there any cattle in the vicinity?"

"About a hundred yards on upstream there were three two-year-olds in a smaller ravine, held back by brush piled across a narrow place. They were all branded LJ."

"Mr. Johnson, can you suggest how that brand might be altered?"

"Yes, sir. We had two hides sent back a month ago from Dodge City with the brands tailored."

"What was the LJ changed to?"

"E-Flower de Luce Hook."

Houston smiled gently. "Mr. Johnson, will you describe that brand?"

"Well, two bars made the L into an E, and a coup' looks at the top of the J make a Flower de Luce."

"What was that last phrase?" asked Willis.

"It's cattle-land for Fleur de Lis, your honor," said Houston. Willis glanced at Browning, saw no objection, and Houston went on. "What did you do with the three men Mr. Johnson?"

"We brought 'em to the LJ and put two of 'em—these here

—into the barn with their hands and feet tied. Then we tried to persuade the other one, Hicks Gentry, to testify against them."

"What kind of persuasion did you use?"

Hector looked uncomfortable. "We—that is, we propped up a wagon tongue and sort of pulled him up by a rope until his feet were off the ground."

"Did Mr. Gentry like that treatment?"

Hector frowned. "No, sir, but—you see—well, we had the rope tied around his neck!"

Houston permitted himself a brief, dramatic smile.

Bart saw a movement closer to the judge's bench, and caught his breath.

Captain Arrington of the Texas Rangers had just arrived in court!

Houston asked, "What happened to Mr. Gentry?"

"We turned him loose finally, and told him to go back and tell Xenophon Jones we meant business!"

Houston's eyes widened dramatically. "Have you heard from this gentleman since?"

"I heard he was found this side of Mobeetie with a bullet in him."

Houston turned. "Your witness, Mr. Browning."

Browning seemed to be at a loss. His questions were largely repetitious; he tried to show that it was a completely normal thing for three men to build a fire in the ravine, but Hector Johnson refused to concede it.

"Call your next witness."

"We rest our case on this witness, oh honor."

Browning stepped forward.

"Three-Finger Halvorson will testify in his own behalf."

Browning established Halvorson's identity and got him to say that he had built the fire to cook a jack rabbit they had shot, and that he did not realize they were on LJ land. They had built the fire on the remains of an old fire, and the ring must have been there, unnoticed by them until Hector Johnson pulled it out of the ashes.

Houston took the witness for cross-examination.

"Where are you employed?" Halvorson glared at him.

Houston said genially, "I said where are you employed?"

Halvorson was silent.

"Your honor!" shouted Stud Murphy. "We object!"

Bart brought his foot down slowly from the wheel hub.

Judge Willis looked up and waited what seemed like a long time. Then his musical bass voice rolled out over the spectators: "Will you give your name, please, if you are appearing in behalf of the defendants?"

Murphy did not answer.

Willis looked at Houston. "I think you'd better proceed, counsel."

Houston repeated, "I asked you, Halvorson, where you are employed?"

"He doesn't have to answer that," Xenophon Jones and Piggie Benson called loudly.

Bart moved forward to the wagon tongue.

Judge Willis knew that murder was in the air, but he appeared as calm and untruffled as a cow chewing beargrass blooms in the shade. "Your name, please," he said.

Jones did not answer.

Houston said to Halvorson, "You know that you are subject to a fine for contempt if you do not answer?"

Small Iowa Town Sets To Shake Embezzlement

SHELDON, Iowa (UPI)—The town of Sheldon, where the most respected business lady in town is accused of embezzling a record-breaking $2 million, shook off its fears today and faced the future.

The town's business leaders said they were not scared and Sheldon was not broke.

Nineteen of the business leaders of Sheldon, a town which has grown rich on corn and soybeans, gathered Thursday night on the second floor of Sheldon's community building. They had to talk loud because a square dance was in full swing downstairs.

There was only one real subject of conversation—Mrs. Burnice Iverson Geiger and the $2,126,859-

10 which she embezzled from the bank where her father was president.

The bank, the Sheldon National, was just down 9th St. and federal bank examiners were busy behind locked doors figuring out how Mrs. Geiger, the assistant cashier, stole the money.

Afterwards, Chamber of Commerce President Mason Skewis issued a statement.

"This is a wealthy community," he said. "It's not a scared town. We're just completely shocked."

"But Sheldon is still doing business as usual. We're not broke. We've had these experiences before and we're ready for more industries to come to town."

On the face of it, these were Chamber of Commerce platitudes.

In reality, they expressed the determination of sturdy Dutch, German and Irish Iowans to win out against shame and disaster.

Their calamity had been brought upon them by a trim, matronly woman who sat with her secret what she had done with the money—in the Woodbury County Jail at Sioux City, 60 miles away.

Mrs. Geiger, 58, refused to let her husband visit her. But she allowed her cell door to be opened to the wife of the second most talked-about person in Sheldon, Harold Kistner Jr., president of Sheldon's Northern Biochemical Corporation.

Kistner, 34, is a man with troubles. His livestock and poultry feed additive firm had mushroomed under the Iowa sun since its founding 14 months ago. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, was its financial adviser. But Mrs. Geiger's arrest and the closing of the Sheldon Bank had put Kistner and his company into a painful spotlight.

Roosevelt, in a brief Sheldon visit, revealed Mrs. Geiger was Northern Biochemical's principal stockholder and had paid for $130,000-plus holdings with cold cash. All of the company's ready money is under federal seal. Saturday the company must meet its payroll.

Demos Attend 'Blow Out' In Spite Of Storm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than 6500 Democrats brushed aside Washington's severe snowstorm Thursday night to turn out for an inaugural gala that featured a glittering array of stars from stage and screen.

The turnout made President-elect John F. Kennedy "proud to be a Democrat" and the Democratic party's bank roll a million dollars richer.

The storm that swept into Washington Thursday delayed the show's start for an hour and 45 minutes. It was 2:40 a.m. CST on inaugural day morning before Kennedy expressed his appreciation to climax a rousing three-hour evening of entertainment.

The cavernous National Guard Armory was about two-thirds filled but the advance demand at $100 a seat made the affair a sell-out. Party Treasurer Matthew H. McCloskey estimated that the gross receipts would range between $1.3 and $1.4 million, providing a net of some more than $1 million to apply to the party's $4 million deficit.

Gene Kelly, an Irishman, and Ethel Merman, a Republican, were the show stoppers in a parade of talent that included Sir Laurence Olivier, Jimmy Durante, Helen Traubel, Ella Fitzgerald, Bette Davis and Milton Berle.

Kelly brought out the Irish in the assemblage with a rendition of "The Hat Me Father Wore" and a spirited jig. He was the only one of the galaxy of stars who returned for an encore.

In expressing his appreciation, Kennedy recalled a saying: "Only in winter can you tell which trees are truly green."

He added: "Only when the winds of adversity blow can you tell whether an individual or a country has courage and steadfastness."

Eisenhowers Will Have Ample Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower leaves office today with a $25,000 annual pension, a $50,000 yearly expense account and free mailing privileges.

But he will have to pay taxes on his pension.

Congress may give him back his five-star general rank. A move is underway to restore the rank, without the usual $20,000 pension, in view of the allowances he gets as ex-President.

Ike's Gone, Russ Happy

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union welcomed the end of the Eisenhower administration today and looked to the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy for a turning point in Soviet-American relations.

Commenting on the inauguration, the trade union newspaper Trud said "the peoples of the entire world look forward hopefully."

"A new page in United States history begins," Trud said. "People expect a new fresh wind, bringing improved relations between the great powers, the United States and the U.S.S.R., leading to mutual understanding and cooperation."

Observers said Soviet policy now would be characterized by watchful waiting until Kennedy has indicated his official reaction to recent Soviet overtures for improved relations.

Reds Attack Pro-Western Laos Force

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Communist-supported rebels attacked pro-Western forces at the strategic road junction of Sala Phou Khoun Monday, it was reported today.

Pro-Western and Communist sources differed as to the outcome of the battle.

Sala Phou Khoun commands the roads linking Vientiane and the "royal capital" of Luang Prabang with the Communist-held Plain of Jars. Its possession is vital to the government campaign to regain control of the plain and its important airfields.

Norasing told reporters that Red backed troops launched an attack on the government garrison at Sala Phou Khoun Monday.

Government reinforcements arrived the next day, he said.

A Communist broadcast purporting to come from Laos claimed today, however, that the road junction had fallen Tuesday after a few hours of what it called "fierce fighting."

Bouavani also told reporters that one of the four Harvard fighter planes supplied to Laos by the United States was shot down six miles east of Sala Phou Khoun Tuesday, the day the Reds claimed they had captured the junction.

Two more armed Harvard trainers were handed over by the Thursday, bringing the strength of Laos' fledgling force up to five planes.

LEVINE'S

Masterful

There are excellent reasons why the 1961 Cadillac so completely dominates the highways of America. The finest Cadillac in a long and distinguished history, it is a motor car which reflects an authority unchallenged by any rival. Stately . . . majestic . . . masterful . . . these are words which convey some small measure of the manner in which it takes command of the road and wins the unstinting acclaim of those who drive or ride in it. Your Cadillac dealer cordially invites you to enjoy a memorable demonstration drive at your earliest convenience.
