

Texans To Cast Votes Tuesday In Senate Race

By United Press International
 A four-hour election in Texas Tuesday opens an off-year election in which both voters and candidates will try to distinguish themselves for the national elections of 1962 and 1964.

Texas has a field of 65 contestants in its special election Tuesday to fill the Senate seat formerly held by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. If no candidate polls a majority of the vote, a runoff must be held within 30 days between the two leaders.

Because a single Republican is among the major contenders, the GOP is showing cautious hope of electing a Republican for the first time since Reconstruction years.

Plot Causes Tight Watch On Kennedy

PALEM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Security precautions around President Kennedy and his family were tightened substantially Saturday as federal agents kept tabs on at least four Cubans involved in a threat to assassinate the family.

One law enforcement official said protective arrangements for the Kennedys had been increased "very much" on this Easter weekend. The President and his wife will appear in public Sunday when they attend mass at a Catholic church in the area, but their three-year-old daughter, Caroline, absent of a reportedly planned Castro, probably will remain in the family.

Yourtesy July rarely attends church with her parents. Details of a death threat investigated by federal and state law enforcement officers were known to have located a Cuban man and woman plus two of their associates believed to be involved in the threat.

The Cubans, believed to be connected with intelligence operations of the Castro regime, were kept under quiet surveillance somewhere in the area of the Palm Beaches—Palm Beach, itself, where the Kennedys have a winter home, and the more populous West Palm Beach. The suspects show up in the proximity of the President or any member of his family Sunday. United States Secret Service agents and local police were prepared to close in late Saturday or early Sunday morning, either get the Cubans out of the area or take them into custody.

The geographic scope of the federal investigation was difficult to determine. A Secret Service agent assigned primarily to the protection of Caroline was involved in an automobile accident early Saturday at Ft. Lauderdale. Agents and officials of the federal service declined to discuss the incident.

The agent, Lynn S. Meredith, was driving on North Federal Highway in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., shortly after 8 a. m. when his vehicle was rammed in the back by a car driven by a 23-year-old woman from nearby Boca Raton, according to Ft. Lauderdale police. The woman's car rammed into the back glass front of the Public Gas Company office and she was hospitalized for painful injuries. Police said the agent was not hurt.

Egg Hunt Postponed

Jerry Sims, Pampa American Legion post commander, announced the two Easter Egg Hunts, planned for white and colored children, for today, have been postponed until Sunday afternoon, April 9, at 3 p. m.

The hunts were postponed because of wet grounds, Sims said. Next Sunday, however, the hunts will be held. The hunt for white children will be held one-half mile west of the hospital on Kentucky street.

The hunt for the colored children will be held near the Carver school.

Gray County Democrats Propose Change In State Ballot System

Gray County's Democratic Executive Committee today became one of the first, if not the first, official Democratic bodies in Texas to take steps calling for a change in the state's voting system.

The committee went on record yesterday in letters to State Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo and State Representative Grainger McIlhenny asking them to lead a movement in the State Legislature at Austin to "use the X (check) voting system instead of the present scratch system" in electing public officials in Texas.

The letters, signed by 12 precinct chairmen in Gray County, read in part as follows:

"It is our belief we should want to vote 'for' instead of 'against' that which we favor. The frame of mind of the voter should be positive instead of negative.

"Also, as a matter of experience, we believe the intent of the voter would be more readily determined. The ballot would be easier tabulated and quicker to count. The special senate race (next Tuesday) is a fair example of what we mean.

"We would appreciate your introducing a bill to change the method of voting."

The letters to Senator Hazelwood and Representative McIlhenny were signed by the members of the Gray County committee.

Ott Shewmaker of Pampa, precinct 7 chairman, said last night the committee also has petitions available for interested citizens who feel the same way about the Texas voting system.

These petitions can be signed or obtained for circulation by contacting any Gray County precinct chairman, Shewmaker said.

Pampa To Elect Mayor, Commissioners Tuesday

Pampa voters will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a mayor and four city commissioners.

They also will go to separate voting places to cast their ballots in a special senatorial election.

The candidates and the voting places in the city election are as follows:

- For Mayor — E. C. (Gene) Silvers, John H. Saunders, For Commissioner Ward 1 — Lloyd Simpson, Paul Crossman, For Commissioner Ward 2 — E. E. Simmons, James D. Crawford, Jr., Neel Secret.
- For Commissioner Ward 3 — Leon Holmes.
- For Commissioner Ward 4 — Carl F. Thomas, L. J. Flaherty, D. L. Jones, L. P. Fort.

There will be four voting places in the city election, which will be separate from the polling places in the senatorial balloting.

The four city polling stations and the presiding judge for each are as follows:

- WARD 1 — City Hall, DeLoe Vicars.
- WARD 2 — N. Fire sub-station, 17th St. Mrs. Harold Wright.
- WARD 3 — Ward's Cabinet Shop, 223 S. Starkweather, Mrs. Earle Taylor.

Old Jerusalem Shrines Attract Many Thousands

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Thousands of Easter visitors from throughout the world made pilgrimages to holy shrines in Old Jerusalem yesterday amid street demonstrations by Arab youths shouting, "long live Hussein and Nasser."

The surging marchers, waving pictures of Jordan's King Hussein and United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, noisily punctuated the solemn preparations by a mob of 10 thousand Holy Week pilgrims for a joyous Easter Sunday.

But the tourists and pilgrims watched the demonstrations undisturbed. And as if in anticipation, the sun broke through leaden skies to end a week of cold, rain and harsh winds.

The teenage Arab demonstrators, estimated at about 300, marched about a half-mile through Jordanian Jerusalem and proceeded to the Damascus Gate where they entered the walled Old City to disband.

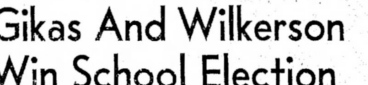

Small similar demonstrations were held earlier in the day inside the walled city and at Ramallah, to the north. They followed broadcasts from Cairo of the text of recent Nasser-Hussein pledges of mutual friendship and cooperation.

There was rejoicing among this desert kingdom's predominantly Moslem population as well as the Christian visitors as Easter began.

The heaviest rainfall in recent years had ended a three-year drought bringing promise of good crops and good business.

Gikas And Wilkerson Win School Election

John Gikas, co-owner of the Coney Island Cafe, and R. D. (Jimmy) Wilkerson, part owner of the Builders Plumbing Co., were elected yesterday to fill three-year terms as trustees on the Pampa Independent District School Board.

Gikas and Wilkerson won over D. E. Holt, oil well contractor, seeking re-election, and Ott Shewmaker, insurance broker.

Recipient of the one write-in vote in yesterday's school board election — J. R. Martin, 408 N. Nelson — said he didn't get to the polls himself.

But, he did have a statement for the press. "I would like to thank all those who voted for me."

Out of a total of 2,010 votes cast in yesterday's balloting at the polling place in Pampa Junior High School, the returns showed the following:

- Gikas, 1194
- Wilkerson, 1066
- Holt, 985
- Shewmaker, 609
- J. R. Martin, 1 (write in)

The polls closed at 7 o'clock last night and the clerks had completed the tabulation by 7:25 p. m.

The presiding judge handed the returns to Supt. Knox Kinard, who had been awaiting the result of the vote count in his nearby office. Kinard then released the returns to newsmen.

Officials said the 2,010 total vote yesterday was a fairly heavy vote, although considerably lighter than the 3,300 ballots cast in last year's school election.

Gikas and Shewmaker will succeed E. L. Green Jr., present school board president, and D. E. Holt, who was running for reelection in yesterday's contest.

In addition to Gikas and Wilkerson the new board will be made up of Warren Fatheree, Elmer Wilson, and Dr. Ray Hampton.

The new school board members will be sworn in at the final meeting of the old board Monday, April 10. At that time the election results will be canvassed, the new members will take office, and the board will be reorganized.

Gikas has been a Pampa businessman for 15 years. He is married and lives with his wife, Joyce, and three children at 1301 Mary Ellen.

Wilkerson is married and resides with his wife, Virginia, and two children at 810 E. Browning. He has been in business in Pampa for 15 years.

It's Spring Again But, Rain Looms

By United Press International

Spring returned to all of Texas yesterday in time to provide clear, sunny skies and pleasant warm temperatures for Easter.

A bright sun in the Panhandle melted an unseasonal blanket of snow which fell Thursday night and Friday morning.

Temperatures moved into the 60's in all sections by noon, and climbed toward the 80's in southern portions of the state.

The only freezing temperature Saturday morning came at Junction, which recorded a low of 28 degrees.

For Pampa and vicinity the forecast was for continued warm weather throughout today with a possibility of showers late tonight. No important change in temperatures. High yesterday 65. High today 65.

Man In Space ...

Launching Of Space Pack Under Study

CHICAGO (UPI)—The research brains that brought the pioneering monkeys Able and Baker back from space now are tackling two more sophisticated bring-down projects.

One is pointed eventually at bringing down gently a mighty bank of missile "hardware," the 100,000-pound-plus Saturn booster now under development.

The other is development of a short-sleeved, working rocket that will bring down to more earthly figures the cost of studying problems man faces in space.

Alton D. Anderson, director of research for Cook Technological Laboratories, told about the studies — one well along, the other awaiting a government green light — in a conference room in the research establishment in suburban Morton Grove.

The Cook labs were the birthplace of the Rube Goldberg type recovery package that brought the first recovered Jupiter missile nose cone back to eager Army search parties in 1958 and gave the two space monkeys a gentle ride to immortality in 1959.

Cook wasn't dealt in on the current Mercury astronaut program designed to put a man in space and bring him back. But it has kept a talented hand in space-perfecting recovery systems for the Atlas and Thor, manufacturing components for many rockets and fabricating the triple-nosed, Cree missile used in deceleration tests at supersonic velocities.

Newest member of the Cook rocket family is the Chicago ILL. four-stage slim-jim 81 feet tall and 31 inches in diameter. Anderson said the rocket, which so far exists only on the drawing board, will send a 100-pound payload orbiting around the world at a 200-mile altitude and transmitting data for at least a year.

"Raymond Fredette, associate director of the laboratories, said the rocket would be built using only off-the-shelf components already proven in government weapons systems.

Cook can assemble the rocket at launch site at a comparatively low price of $400,000 each in lots of 10, Fredette said. The cost of the Scout, the so-called "poor man's rocket," has been put at between $500,000 and $900,000.

Anderson said contracts now are being written with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) under which Cook will study the "paraglider concept" of bringing a missile booster back from space and setting it down — not at sea, but on land.

The concept envisages use of a parachute so modified that it becomes, in effect, a glider with maneuverability — a device with control lift as well as control drag, a recovery vehicle that can set a multi-ton booster down on a prepared, designated landing spot.

"The study is pointed toward the recovery of Saturn," Anderson said. "Out of it we hope will come analyzed concepts — concepts that will point the direction for hardware design."

If the study shows the idea to be feasible, Anderson said, the next step will be design of a recovery system incorporating it and modification of the booster to carry the system.

Why recover the Saturn booster? One reason is to permit examination of the spent booster to learn how to build the next one better.

"But the best reason is to enable us to use the booster, or at least parts of it, again," Anderson said. "Each Saturn will cost many millions of dollars. Hundreds of millions will be spent in development before the first one is fired."

'Bee' Title Won By Girl

PERRYTON (Sp) — After one hour and 50 minutes and 55 rounds of spelling Sherri Harten was declared champion of the Ochiltree County Junior Spelling Bee held Tuesday night in the High School Auditorium.

Sherri is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harten. Last year which was the first time for her to enter a spelling bee, she was the fifth grade champion.

In second place was Susan Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Griffith. Susan was the Junior Spelling Bee champion last year. She then went on to win the County Championship and was entered in the Spelling Bee at Amarillo.

Susan and Sherri are both sixth graders at Perryton Junior High School.

Susan misspelled "comparatively" which Sherri corrected and then went on to correctly spell "botany."

Sherri may now, if she so desires, enter the Senior Spelling Bee, for grades seven and eight, to be held Tuesday, April 4, in the high school auditorium, starting at 7 p.m.

Shio's Hiacker Still Has Hopes For Rebellions

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Former Portuguese army Capt. Henrique Galvao, who made headlines when he hijacked the luxury liner Santa Maria last January, today is living in a one-time school for wayward boys, and awaiting a chance to try to overthrow the current regime in Portugal and Spain.

"We are awaiting the opportune moment when we can renew our revolutionary operations which will end either in the liberation of our countries (Spain and Portugal) or in our death in combat," he told United Press International on one of his appearances outside the villa.

He refused to say who rented the two-story centrally-heated building where he and his 29 followers currently live. Funds evidently are sufficient to maintain a cook and four servants to serve meals and keep the country house clean.

All Galvao would say was that the money "comes from Brazilian volunteer contributors who also are financing our revolutionary plans." He said that the contributions were raised by "committees of hospitality."

Galvao often leaves the barbed wire enclosed "Educandario" Sao Paulo to lecture on behalf of the Iberian liberation movement. But most of his 29 followers, who fear reprisals against their families still living in Portugal, remain within the grounds which used to house the state agricultural correctional school for orphans and juvenile delinquents.

One woman, a former waitress aboard the Santa Maria, who feared that she would be punished because she treated Galvao well during his brief command aboard ship, is among the followers. She was described as handsome and approximately 45 years of age.

Most of the followers except Galvao, his chief aide, Jorge Sotto Maior, and ranking officer Miguel Urbano Rodrigues, were described by the few persons who have entered the school as reticent to talk of their experiences.

Rocket, Intended To Check High Radiation Perils, Fizzles Out

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Valuable biomedical samples, including human tissue that had been in space before, burned up high over the Pacific when Discoverer XXII failed to go into orbit late Thursday.

Scientists and engineers today studied bits and scraps of information radioed back from the satellite before it plunged back to earth to try to determine exactly what happened.

Launched with a new precision guidance system, the 81-foot rocket appeared perfect when it streamed from its pad here and disappeared into an overcast sky.

A recoverable capsule in the satellite's nose carried samples of human joint tissue that had been aboard either Discoverer XVII or XVIII both of which were recovered by high-flying planes off Hawaii.

Also aboard were human bone marrow, gum tissue and gamma globulin along with heart and brain tissue from an unhatched chick. There also was inside the 300-pound capsule radiation-monitoring instruments, non-infectious virus, earth spores and six different kind of algae taken from streams in Yellowstone National Park.

Object of the experiment was to check radiation hazards in the lower area of space through which the first U.S. astronaut will ride.

The official Air Force announcement of the failure of the satellite to achieve orbit only said it was due to a "mechanical malfunction." Officers would not expand the statement.

R. L. EDMONSON ... New Superintendent

Edmonson Gets Top School Job

R. L. (Jack) Edmonson formally was elected superintendent of Pampa schools late Friday at an executive meeting of the Pampa Independent District School Board.

Edmonson, a member of the Pampa school system for the past 15 years, was given a two-year contract at a salary of $12,000 a year.

The school board also re-elected some 23 teachers in 11 elementary, junior and senior high schools to serve again beginning with the school term in September of this year.

Edmonson began his service with the Pampa schools in 1946 as assistant principal of the senior high school. Next he became principal of junior high, and for ten years was principal of the senior high school. The past year he has served as assistant superintendent and will step into the full superintendent's shoes July 1 when Knox Kinard, present superintendent goes into retirement.

Supt. Kinard said last night the principals of the 11 schools in the Pampa system were elected last year on two-year contracts.

"The first need is to bring the present fighting in Laos to an end," the President continued. "We think that this can be achieved if all interested governments, including the Soviet Union, use their influence to bring this about."

The White House did not make available immediately its translation of the Russian note, but Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the USSR had informed Great Britain that it took a positive attitude toward a cease-fire. Tass said Russia thought the two chairmen (Britain and Russian) of the Geneva control commission for Laos should issue the cease-fire request.

He accused his Democratic opponents of such things as voting Republican 100 per cent of the time, apologizing for the party platform and running out on the minimum wage.

Blakley carried his campaign to a string of East Texas cities, and his headquarters announced that "optimistic reports flooded the Blakley camp as election day drew near."

"A tremendous swing to Blakley has taken place throughout the campaign," said Manager James Blundell. "Texans have united behind Senator Blakley and when they do that they are unbeatable."

Wright lashed out at Wilson for using "frantic last-minute advertising in the newspapers to claim that he is the only reliable Democrat in the race who can win."

"I'd like to remind the people of Texas that in Congress this state's representative must be present and speak for himself; he can't send in a Hollywood-prepared movie," Wright added.

Wilson said he had received endorsement from 26 Texas newspapers and voiced high confidence he would win in a run-off.

"The majority of Texans with whom I have talked in eight weeks and 20,000 miles of campaigning have demonstrated that they believe as I believe," Wilson said. "They will confirm this belief when they go to the polls on next Tuesday."

Parker Rites Set Monday

Man Electrocuted In Borger Mishap

BORGER, Tex. (UPI)—A 23-year-old fireman was electrocuted Saturday when a model airplane he was guiding by a stainless steel control line came in contact with a high voltage power line.

The victim was James Lee Vaughn, who died at a Borger hospital about five hours after the accident, despite efforts of physicians to massage his heart.

When the plane came in contact with the power line, 13,000 volts surged through the control line to Vaughn.

Vaughn, who lived at Fritch near Borger, was employed as a fireman in Amarillo.

U.S. Flies To Aid Russian Scientist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy Saturday dispatched two transport planes to the Antarctic in an effort to evacuate a Russian scientist who is seriously ill with stomach ulcer.

The Russian is Leonid Kuperov, who arrived in February at America's Byrd Station on the South Pole continent as part of an exchange program. He has been in serious condition since March 23.

Founder Of John Birch Society Requests Official Investigation

BOSTON (UPI)—Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, sent a telegram to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee Saturday asking for an official investigation of his organization.

Welch, in a telegram to Sen. James O. Eastland, chairman of the subcommittee, pledged that members would testify openly and "unlike our Communist enemies, none of our members will plead the Fifth Amendment."

(In Washington, Eastland said he had received Welch's telegram and would submit his request for an investigation to a vote of the subcommittee at its next meeting.

The senator said that because of the Easter recess of Congress he did not know when the subcommittee would next meet but that he would call a meeting "as quickly as I can.")

The request for an investigation came after the Justice Department reported in Washington that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy was concerned about the ultra-conservative John Birch Society.

The society is named for an American missionary killed by the Chinese Communists shortly after the end of World War II. Founders of the society regard him as the first victim of the cold war.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., vice chairman of the Senate subcommittee said he would raise be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The last election in Pampa was on Jan. 31 when voters went to the polls in record numbers to vote on a proposed city charter. A total of 4,482 votes were cast in that election.

Election officials said yesterday it is doubtful if this total will be exceeded in the Tuesday city election, although it was possible, they said, that a larger vote than usual would be counted because of interest in the senatorial contest.

A. O. Pierson Rites Yesterday

Funeral services for A. O. Pierson, 801 Lefors, were held at 2 p.m. yesterday in the Lutheran church with the Rev. A. Bruns, pastor, officiating.

The body was shipped to Clifton Funeral Home in Clifton, where burial services are planned for 4 p.m. today in Norse, according to Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mr. Pierson died Friday at 10:20 a.m. in Highland General Hospital following a brief illness.

Face Behind The Voice

Mrs. Emmett Gee, 417 Hill has been secretary 8 years in the United Fund office located in the basement of City Hall. It's her voice you hear when you call there.

All Not So Peaceful On 'Civil War' Front

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI) — At 4:30 in the morning on April 12 Maj. Gen. U.S. Grant III is supposed to lift a shot of honest French brandy to his lips to commemorate the start 100 years ago of the American Civil War.

Where he takes that shot—at the Francis Marion Hotel in downtown Charleston or at the officers' club of the U.S. Navy base about 10 miles upriver — may decide whether we start the whole thing over again.

Things are not peaceful on the Civil War front. North and South are snarling at each other. Will the hot-tempered Southerners secede? Will the Yankee shopkeepers fight? We can only wait and see.

It was precisely 100 years ago on April 12 that Confederate Gen. Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard ordered cadets to open fire on the Yankees in Ft. Sumter in Charleston harbor. That started the fracas.

The Civil War Centennial Commission thought it a fine way to commemorate the anniversary by meeting in Charleston for a re-enactment of the firing.

Trouble was not long in developing. New Jersey's commission withdrew after charging that Mrs. Madeline A. Williams, a commission member and a Negro, would not be given equal accommodations in Charleston. Other states followed suit.

President Kennedy interceded to have the affair moved to the Charleston naval base on the Cooper River where all facilities are integrated. New Jersey voted Tuesday to come to Charleston, but snapped that "where Mrs. Williams is not welcome, we are not welcome."

State Rep. Nat Cabell of South Carolina advocated rolling out "The unwelcome mat" for New Jersey delegates, anyway. The South Carolina commission of defense contracts on the BSS announced yesterday it will attend B70 programs.

Inspection May Reveal Winter Homes Damage

NEW YORK (UPI) — The wise homeowner, even as he draws a sigh of relief that snow shoveling chores are over, will make plans for an early inspection of his property to see what damage winter may have done.

True, though it may seem, the old proverb about "a stitch in time" is one the homeowner should heed. An annual spring check-up of the house exterior may reveal the need for major repairs in a few cases but, for the most part, it will turn up only minor fix-up jobs which the home handyman can tend to before they grow into major projects.

A simple check-list for such an exterior inspection tour is offered by the home improvement specialists of Allied Chemical Company's Barrett Division. Basic points to be checked include:

—Foundation: Check for cracks and repair them with a pitch base waterproofing cement that can be applied with pointing tool, putty knife or trowel. Check shrubbery around foundations and trim. Branches of foundation plantings can cause damage by working their way under wood shingles or siding. Check for deteriorating mortar joints covered with white crust. This crust, called efflorescence, indicates moisture in an old wall and it can be removed, after leaks have been repaired, with a 10 per cent solution of muriatic acid. Pitch base waterproofing cement will prevent recurrence.

—Window and door frames: Check for loose putty around window panes and replace where needed. Check framing over doors and windows for deteriorating caulking. Touch up discolored rusting shutter clips and hinges with quality metal paint.

—Siding: Look for cracks, splits and decay in wood siding. Exterior paint requires repainting about every four to five years and should be checked for cracks, blistering or peeling which are indications of damaging moisture on the inside of wood siding.

—Hardware: Check metal hardware such as chain link fences, mail boxes and flagpoles for rust and corrosion. Aluminum protective coating can help retard rust and corrosion.

DEATH PENALTY STAYS

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—The Vermont House voted down a bill to abolish capital punishment Thursday by a 158 to 82 vote.

One opponent of the measure, Merrill Perley of Enosburg, Vt., said it would be in effect "a license to kill with impunity."

Former State's Attorney Ernest W. Gibson III of Brattleboro, argued, "Human life is a divine gift, and neither the state nor mankind has the right to take it away."

Belgium's Queen Fabiola Shows Off Latin Charms; Makes Serious King Laugh

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Queen Fabiola may well rate in history as the savior of the Belgian Throne. Thanks to her smile and straightforward manner she has helped the monarchy to overcome one of its most serious crises.

The gracious, 32-year-old queen is the monarchy's best public relation agent. The chances are that she and her husband, King Baudouin, will figure as the most popular royal couple Belgium has had in its troubled history.

Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon became Baudouin's wife and Belgium's fifth queen last Dec. 15 in dramatic circumstances.

The nation was torn into hostile factions. The wound of the Congo disaster was bleeding profusely. The Socialists stood against Catholic, Flemings against Walloons, with ominous signs that Baudouin might be toppled from his throne.

Baudouin and Fabiola were hardly off on a honeymoon to Spain when riots and strikes exploded at home. They were to grip Belgium for five dramatic weeks. The couple returned to hear shouts from the Left that the monarchy was too costly for little Belgium.

Undaunted, Fabiola went about her role of royal bride as if nothing had happened.

While Baudouin worked hard in his office trying to calm political passions Dona Fabiola took charge of the household.

She and Baudouin returned to Laeken Palace without advance notice from Spain while the huge, drafty halls were full of crates. Baudouin's father, ex-King Leopold and his wife, Princess de Rethy, were moving out to Argenteuil Castle, and the first few days the newlyweds were less than comfortable.

They called off all ceremonies that usually follow a royal wedding. Baudouin and Fabiola decided it would be a great service to the monarchy to play host to diplomats while Belgians were rioting against the government's austerity program.

ADLAI SEES CONFEDERATION

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson said in a television interview recorded today that he sees "no other solution" than a form of confederation for the Congo.

Stevenson, who appeared on the recording session with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, said the United Nations force is essential in the Congo until some solution to the crisis is found.

He said Congolese leaders are "groping" for a confederation system in their talks. At present, the Congo is technically a centralized government, ruled from Leopoldville, but it actually has at least three splinter governments, in Katanga, South Kasai, and Oriental provinces.

Lawyer To Ask Another Trial In Coors Case

GOLDEN, Colo. (UPI)—Defense attorney William H. Erickson plans to seek a new trial for Joseph Corbett Jr., 32, convicted in district court here this week for the murder of wealthy Colorado industrialist Adolph Coors III.

Erickson said he did not know when he would file the motion for a new trial. Dist. Judge Christian D. Stoner gave the defense 30 days in which to take such action.

Erickson said that if Stoner denied the request for a new trial, he would appeal the conviction to the Colorado Supreme Court.

Corbett was tried and convicted of first degree murder. A jury of eight men and four women returned the guilty verdict against Corbett late Wednesday, after 18 hours of deliberation.

He was sentenced to life in the Colorado State Penitentiary. The state charged that Corbett layd and killed the millionaire brewer on Feb. 9, 1940, in an abortive kidnap plot to collect a half-million dollar ransom.

FIRE KILLS 12

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Mass funeral services will be held today for 12 members of a single family who died when fire destroyed their rural cabin. Mr. and Mrs. Axe Whitehead, their nine children and the woman's father died in the fire, which authorities believe may have been touched off by lightning.

A MESSAGE FROM "YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD" PHARMACY HOW TO BECOME A PHARMACIST.

The practice of pharmacy requires much professional training. To obtain a license, a pharmacist now is required to attend five years at a college of pharmacy, serve an apprenticeship and pass a state examination to prove knowledge.

OPERATING A PHARMACY IS NOT EASY. Careful buying is needed. With more than 4,000 different medicines in our prescription department and thousands of other health-aids and sickroom needs, our problem is to have what you ask for. We must not stock too much of a product, or potency and freshness will be gone when you buy it. And, we must keep informed about new products and immediately get them so we can fill any physician's prescriptions.

OUR PRICES MUST BE COMPETITIVE We must earn a profit to stay in business, but it must not be greater than that of any other reliable pharmacy. Our prices are always fair.

A GOOD PHARMACY OFFERS SERVICE. We must earn the preference you show us by making us your pharmacy. Therefore, we try our best to be courteous, dependable and helpful. We gladly deliver, offer charge service and informed answers to your questions.

AND...WE LIKE PHARMACY Despite its long working hours, there is nothing we would rather be than a pharmacist. Each night we know that the products and service we provide has helped others to live a healthier, happier life.

Kennedy May Surpass Eisenhower Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will lick President Eisenhower the first time around in the spending arena.

It isn't even going to be close. Eisenhower was the U.S. spending champ. This made him and others unhappy because General Ike entered politics as a government economy man.

Eisenhower spent an average of $71.5 billion a year during his two White House terms. He took office committed to the proposition that government spending should be held to about $60 billion annually. His next-to-last presidential budget proposed that the federal government spend $79.6 billion in the current fiscal year. The final Eisenhower proposed $81.5 billion.

President Kennedy proposes now to hike that figure to $84.9 billion. Pressure groups, the cold war, wasteful government operations and other factors tend always to compel government to spend more, not less, each year. It is apparent, therefore, that some years of truly big time spending lie ahead. The figures will be in the middle and upper $80 billions and, perhaps, they will break through into the $90s. Kennedy inevitably will spend more in four years than has any other president and, if he is a two-termer, he will leave office the spending champ with a fat margin over Eisenhower.

The expiring and next fiscal years will be deficit years in which the U.S. Treasury will borrow $4 or $5 billions—make it $6 to be on the safe side. That will put the Federal Reserve System just that much further into the business of financing government—which is the duty of the taxpayers—instead of financing business and industry, which is the duty of the Federal Reserve.

It is this process in which the Federal Reserve System deals with the Treasury debt that causes inflation. When the process is under way, the Federal Reserve System properly is described as an engine of inflation. The process is described as the monetization of the national debt.

AUTOMATIC OIL FIELD CONTROL — Mobil Oil Company's newly installed electronic control system enables Engineering Supervisor N. E. Bourland to dial a number, flip a switch, and automatically test, shut down or return to production some 50 oil wells in 3,400 acre section of a huge West Texas oil field, six miles northwest of Snyder. One of the world's most efficient and fully automatic methods for producing and gathering oil. The new system makes possible reduced maintenance and operational costs, more control of oil wells, and additional recovery of petroleum gases.

New Mobil Oil Automatic System Installed in West Texas Field

One of the world's most efficient and fully automatic systems for producing and gathering oil has been installed by Mobil Oil Company in a huge West Texas oil field.

By simply dialing a number on the central electronic control panel, 50 wells in a 3,400-acre area can be shut down, returned to production and tested, either individually or automatically in sequence.

All test and production data complete with well number, time and date, are automatically printed at the control center, furnishing a complete and permanent record.

The unique system already has enabled Mobil to (1) substantially reduce its maintenance and operational costs by trimming the number of tank batteries from thirteen to one, (2) provide faster and more complete control of producing wells, and (3) recover and sell additional amounts of petroleum gases.

The electronic supervisory control and monitoring system is located on Segment 2 in the large SACROC unitized pressure maintenance project in Scurry County, six miles northwest of Snyder in Texas. Current production from the automated portion amounts to over 79,000 barrels per month. The central console, connected by telephone lines to eleven remote field stations, enables the operator to constantly monitor the (1) automatic transfer of oil to the pipe line, (2) operation of all central tank battery equipment, (3) changes in the status of any well, and (4) oil production volumes.

Algerian Rebels Announce Peace Meet Cancelled

PARIS (UPI) — The Algerian rebels today announced they will cancel peace talks with France, scheduled to start next Friday in Evian where extremists assassinated the mayor with two bomb explosions.

A rebel spokesman in Tunis did not refer to the bomb murder of Mayor Camille Blanc but said Switzerland would be informed the talks were off because France had torpedoed them in advance by offering to talk with rival rebel groups.

The spokesman said Taieb Boulharouf, Algerian rebel representative in Switzerland and Rome, would leave Tunis shortly to inform Swiss authorities of the decision. Switzerland was being informed because the rebel peace negotiators planned to base there. He said France had not been informed officially.

Boulharouf was one of the rebel emissaries who made arrangements for the ill-fated peace conferences in Evian. A French resort town across Lake Geneva from Geneva.

Soon after the mayor Evian was killed, the French government and rebel authorities said the tragedy would not affect the peace talks. But the rebels said they would cancel the talks if France went ahead with plans to talk with rival rebel groups.

Certain alarm conditions such as high fluid levels in tanks or extremely low flowing pressure will cause the system to use a built-in ability to "think" and then automatically take the proper corrective action.

Mobil Oil Company, an operating division of Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc., states that with continued successful results, consideration may be given for construction of five more similar projects in Segment 2 of the SACROC unit.

Major Gold Find In Brazos River Area Discounted

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI) — Printed reports that a major gold strike had been made in the bed of the Salt Fork of the Brazos River in Stonewall County appeared today to be richer in rumor than in fact.

Abilene attorney Bob Ford, president of the Cortez Mining Corp. said:

"I am positive this is not a big gold strike."

The Cortez firm is conducting a copper mining venture in the area and Ford said, "the main hope is the feasible mining of its copper contents."

He added that wherever copper is found, there always are traces of gold, silver and zinc, but that they are not believed to be present in any appreciable amounts in the Cortez properties.

One of a dozen assay reports did show a high content of gold and silver, but the others indicated presence of these precious metals was negligible.

"The most optimistic assay showed enough gold to be worth $138 a ton, silver worth $178 a ton, and copper worth $202 a ton," he said.

It was these figures which had been reported most widely and which caused some excitement over possibility of a major strike in the area where legend had Spanish missionaries mining both gold and silver from the river.

AROUND THE WORLD

WELL, IT'S LIKE THIS—Palmer Buesser is a rainmaker deluxe as he demonstrates the ravages of soil erosion to his sixth grade science classmates at New Glarus, Wis. A coffee pot and perforated can provided the cloudburst as Palmer showed how rain could wash away valuable topsoil.

SOME PUN—An "out to launch" sign dominates the scene as newsmen and photographers take a break for lunch at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. The men were covering a missile launching at the site and the cameras "stand guard" atop their tripods.

GONE TO PIECES—All broken up over a party, Mr. and Mrs. Lee-Pope look like Mr. and Mrs. Humpty Dumpty after the king's men got through with them. Actually, the couple dressed as human mosaics for an artists' costume ball in St. Louis, Mo. They appear authentic in their strange garb made of bits and pieces.

LOG TIRED—Draping himself wearily over a log, this old grizzly bear seems completely pooped. Who wouldn't be knocked out after an afternoon of kids growling at you and photographers sticking cameras in your nose? It's a rugged life at the zoo in Chessington, England.

LEGGING IT—Pants stride dramatically into the high fashion picture as Aurora Battilocchi introduces this radically-styled evening dress in Rome. Its transparent black organza is formed into puffy trousers that were inspired by harem pants. The dress is worn with an orange cape.

PUP-POOSE—A pup in East St. Louis, Ill., is making like an Indian papoose as it clings to its mother's back. The two animals were dozing in the early spring sunshine, and possibly thinking of warmer days to come.

IRON CURTAIN'S NEW LOOK—An Austrian soldier patrols the border between his country and Hungary, near Schattendorf, Austria. The Communists recently gave this section a new look by replacing the old four-foot barbed wire fence with one more than seven feet high. It ends with eight rows of bare wires strung on a "V" form.

GETTING A BOOT—Leisure fashion gets a boot in this style borrowed from the picturesque little gnomes of fairyland. Short suede boots, gored at each side for fit and comfort, are made to underscore the slimmness of stretch pants.

THING OF THE MOMENT—Somebody left his hat, and the somebody was Pope John XXIII in Rome. The hat is resting on the sea of the pontiff's auto, after Pope John left the car for a visit to several churches in The Eternal City.

UNDERGROUND BEAUTY—Pretty cave guide Louise Hurley is cooling her feet in a stream in the 100,000,000-year-old Meramec Caverns, at Stanton, Mo. Jesse James and his gang used the caves for a hide-out back when the West was still wild.

CHAIRING SPACE—No, it is not some crazy compact car. A store owner in Monroe, Wis., placed that chair in a parking space to hold the spot for an urgent delivery. He had been waiting for a coal delivery, and he used this method of making sure the coal could be unloaded whenever the truck arrived.

IT'S AN HONOR—Maestro Vincent Lopez presented Margot Moser, co-star of "My Fair Lady" with a citation commemorating the fifth Broadway anniversary of that hit musical. Watching the presentation at the Taft Hotel, where Lopez has played for 20 years, is Kathleen Murray (right), who is appearing in "Leave It to Jane" off-Broadway.

WATER WAY—On their way to school, youngsters were ferried through the streets of Wayne, N. J., by rowboats. The town was flooded by raging waters from the swollen Passaic River, and only the schoolkids enjoyed this unusual transportation.

Actor Shuns $100,000 Offer For 5-Day Job

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — There must be a reason why a man would refuse $100,000 to do a five-day job, and then agree to work for absolutely nothing.

The man is actor Montgomery Clift. The job is his latest movie role.

But Clift has no reason at all.

"I don't know why I turn down the money," Monty said, pacing his dressing room floor. "It sounds like a lie, but it's the truth. I really don't have a reason."

Not only did the high-strung performer back away from the hundred grand, he also turned a cold shoulder to $300,000 for a larger role in the picture, "Judgment at Nuremberg."

"There's a reason for that," he said quickly.

"I'm getting too old to play dull parts. That's why I refused one of the leads in the picture. Even for the larger role the salary was a ridiculous. This industry is being milking by people who shouldn't be milking it."

"Without mentioning any names, it was clear that Monty referred to some of his costars who are earning as much as half a million for their chores before the cameras.

Clift's role took five days to shoot and will be seen on screen for seven minutes. He chose this bit part (that of an emasculated German during the Nazi regime) because, in his own words: "It is one of the most moving roles I've ever read."

"Small as my part is, I cut down on the dialogue. An actor can be much more articulate with pantomime than he can with words," he said.

"If you can say something without words you say it more eloquently. Pantomime illuminates in a split second what words can never express."

One of Hollywood's great non-conformists, Clift has made less than 20 movies, and appears to be in no hurry to make more.

"Most actors work for the sake of working," he explained. "I look for a part — something more meaningful than just a series of obstacles. If the part has a fundamental ladder to climb then it interests me."

"I really don't enjoy acting. I like preparing for a role and finding the truth. Once I'm finished, acting it out is just self-punishment."

Mont stopped his pacing to snap his fingers. "I've got to get back to New York," he said.

Barbara Eden, playing a beautiful stowaway reporter adds charm and confusion to all the zany doings aboard Lieutenant Pat Boone's Navy LST in "All Hands On Deck," the color-comedy opening Thursday at the Capri for seven fun filled days. Co-starred in this attraction is Buddy Hackett who wins fresh laurels on the heels of television fanfares as the "new" comic of the year.

Prop Man 'Thing' Saver—Has What Script Demands

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Morris Goldman is a junk collector on short notice. He once found that television and movies can be a tough row to hoe," said Edelson, who spent a dozen years on the radio series, "Vic and Sade," which actually was a satire of soap operas. He also took part in such shows as "One Man's Family" and "Woman in the House."

"In radio the dialogue was so important," he added. "But in television it's subordinated to action and other factors — visual. On radio we used to be able to leureure our parts from the scripts while smoking or drinking coffee — but you can't do that in TV or pictures."

"I'm not saying that the actors and shows weren't good. As a matter of fact, most of the soap operas were very well written."

Although many of the soap opera veterans have found the going rough in the "outside world," only a few of them actually are falling by the wayside. And some, like Edelson, are branching out into other fields successfully.

"Les Tremaine and his wife are doing TV and Carl Svenson is getting a lot of work in westerns," noted Edelson, who also is making a mark for himself in Hollywood as a TV actor and writer.

He has cut the mustard on Dick Powell's "Zane Grey Theater" and "Bringing Up Buddy" and has written a story for Rod Serling's "Twilight Zone."

Goldie is particularly valuable on the set of the American Broadcasting Co. television show "The Roaring 20's." He uses in this series many of the props he used in making gangster movies in that era.

"I made most of the Jimmy Cagney movies," he said. "Public Enemy" and things like that, and "The Spirit of St. Louis," a lot later."

Goldie is custodian of 63 automobiles of ancient vintage which show up frequently in the TV series.

"They're worth their weight in gold," he said. "Most of them run too. You'll see them chugging around the lot."

"The Roaring 20's" draws a lot of mail from people who spot anachronisms.

"Everybody's an expert in their own field," said Goldie during an interview. "The grocer knows the grocery business and he catches it if we have the wrong merchandise on the shelves. Doctors write in, too, if they spot the wrong type of hypodermic needle, or an instrument bag that wasn't used during the time the show is supposed to be."

Errors of this type are surprisingly few, according to Goldman.

"We have a heavy shooting schedule six days a week," he said. "and sometimes things do slip through, but not very often. One of our worst mistakes was when we showed a French television screen draped with pretty girls," he said. "They seem to feel that I should reserve that sort of action for their mother and them."

Forsythe, whose show is now in its fourth season, is the father of Brook, 7, and Page, 10. He also has a son, Dall, 17, by a previous marriage. He is married to former musical comedy actress Julie Warren.

"Fortunately my wife has spent all of her life in show business," he said. "She takes these pretty girls as a matter of course."

He said that the girl who portrays his daughter in the TV show also has caused his daughters to ask questions.

"When the show started my daughter, who is 13 years old. Now she's a very attractive daughter at 17 and my real-life daughters sometimes feel I think more of my stage daughter than I do of them."

Forsythe said he has never had the slightest trouble with the pretty actresses on his show.

"I pick each one," he said. "It's in my contract and I like it. When an actress tries out for a part I have her read lines to me."

Old Soap Opera Actors Discover TV Often Tough

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — How have the old soap opera actors fared since the recent demise of their great era of melodrama on radio?

Many devoted two decades or more to the daily heart-wrenching serials which lightened the yoke of millions of housewives with the dramatization of the troubles of fictional busybodies.

"Most of the old soap opera people have stuck to radio—because they had to," said William Edelson, whose tenure on the sob-shows spanned the last 20 years.

"Mostly, they're doing commercials now. There isn't much else they can do."

In effect, many of these players whose radio families were so dear to the hearts of housewives now are orphans in the entertainment world.

"Any actor who put much time into the old soap operas has found that television and movies can be a tough row to hoe," said Edelson, who spent a dozen years on the radio series, "Vic and Sade," which actually was a satire of soap operas. He also took part in such shows as "One Man's Family" and "Woman in the House."

Bachelor Father Star Finds Real Daughters Are Puzzled

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Spending your working hours being chased and kissed by beautiful girls is a wonderful way to make a living but sometimes it causes complication at home.

TV Show Makes Life Lot Easier For Actor Ewell
NEW YORK (UPI)—Every week in a New York City television studio a three-member panel subjects itself to a gentle form of brainwashing to win $1,000.

When associate producer William Stein of the CBS-TV show, ironically named "To Tell the Truth," is convinced that they go on stage to play their wits against a panel of experts. The contestants' object is to keep the panel from guessing which of them is the person whose identity is announced at the beginning of the show.

If they lie successfully, their total prize of $1,000. Two hundred and fifty dollars is knocked off for each inquisitor who guesses correctly. Currently the panel includes Don Ameche, Polly Bergen, Tom Poston and Kitty Carlisle.

Stein is a high powered man who can take a photograph, answer a telephone and write instructions for the contestants simultaneously.

"Anyone with normal intelligence and proper coaching should be able to lie on this show," said Stein.

He coaches, rehearses and gently badgers his charges into perfecting the game of deception until the moment they go on stage.

"Children and elderly people can assume someone else's identity most easily," he said. "People in their middle forties sometimes have trouble because they have so many other things on their minds."

In the course of coaching a contestant, he pointed out — that it was to the "show's advantage" that the contestants beat the panel.

"That this was one program "on which show people can look brilliant but not be smart at all."

—that Polly Bergen could be "sneaky" in asking off-beat questions.

—that the contestants should answer with assurance, whether or not they knew the answers.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — George Montgomery has returned to Manila to make his second Philippine background film for Warner Bros. It will be called "Samar." The first picture, "The Steel Hook," soon will be released.

Children's Social Growth Can't Be Forced, Harvard Expert Says

NEW YORK (UPI) — Are you teaching your child to be a lonely member of a lonely crowd? You do this by forcing a child to be more sociable than he himself cares to be.

It sounds paradoxical, but Dr. Robert W. White of Harvard University makes this point in a report in the Teachers College Record, a journal of Columbia University's Teachers College.

Dr. White, chairman of Harvard's Department of Social Relations, cautions that social virtuosity doesn't have to begin the first year at nursery school or even necessarily during the next several years.

Remember that children develop social interests in their own way and in their own time and no amount of adult pressure accelerates social growth, Dr. White said.

Another myth deflated by the expert is the belief that social growth occurs only in social situations. Much of it, according to Dr. White, occurs in a child's imagination or in the reading of books.

Learning to become a social participant is more than knowing a set of social tricks.

Dr. White said the ability to chatter at a tea, play canasta pleasantly, smile cordially at cocktail party are "all things it is nice to know."

But he added, "certainly it cannot be our whole goal to produce an unspecialized pleasantness, a bland oil that merely serves to lubricate social gatherings."

"What we really want," he said, "is that children should become interested in each other. We want them to enjoy being with others, to take pleasure in companionship."

The expert warns that adult over-zealousness can block the normal development of a child's social growth. When you force a child to socialize just for the sake of developing social sense faster, you very often invite the child to develop defenses against social participation.

"The child learns to be present in body but absent in spirit," Dr. White said, "just as he used to in the old-fashioned disciplinary school."

The expert said that the idea that everything he measured on the yardstick of social contact has taken hold of educators as well as parents.

He contends that in many schools the teacher does not care so much what the children learn so long as they interact with each other while learning.

Dr. White hopes that adults soon will get over the "wide-spread compulsion to hurl children into each other's company."

He reminded that a child often imagines — in the privacy of his own mind — things he would like to do before he actually does them.

He said that most accomplishments occur first in fantasy and that a child's social accomplishments are no exception to the rule.

Reports Of Laos Fighting Probed By Two Leaders

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Premier Boum Oum and defense chief Gen. Phoumi Nosavan flew hurriedly to southern Laos yesterday to make a personal check of reports invading Communist forces had scored major victories there, the authoritative sources said.

The sources said Phoumi met earlier this week in Thailand with Adm. Harry D. Felt, U.S. commander-in-chief in the Pacific and made his hurried trip after two secret Cabinet meetings.

Persistent reports in Vientiane have said Communists, including invaders from North-Viet Nam, captured the town of Kham Keut 145 miles east of here in a victory that threatened to cut Laos in two at its narrow waist more than a week ago.

Since then Information Minister Bouavann Norasing said "violent fighting" for control of the town took 80 lives on Thursday. Informed foreign sources here believe the figure was exaggerated.

Reports from Kham Keut have been sketchy for eight days, giving rise to reports it had fallen to the Reds.

Two Texas Firms Near Agreement On Merger Plans

DALLAS (UPI)—Directors of Chance Vought Corp. and Ling-Temco Electronics, Inc., have approved in principle a plan to combine the companies. The merger plan is subject to approval by stockholders of both firms.

The agreement climaxes a drive by Ling-Temco begun late last year to acquire control of Chance Vought and follows by a few hours an announcement that Chance Vought had reshuffled its top management.

The name of the combined company will be decided after special stockholders' meetings to be held late in June. It is understood, however, that Ling-Temco would be the surviving corporation.

The companies would have equal representation on the board. Robert McCulloch, now chairman of Ling-Temco, would become chairman and chief executive officer. G. K. Johnson, Chance Vought president, would become president of the new combination. James J. Ling, now president of Ling-Temco, would be chairman of the Executive Committee.

F. O. Detweiler, Chance Vought chairman, would not remain with the new company, the announcement said.

Terms of the agreement call for Chance Vought stockholders to receive for each share held a $43.50 convertible debenture bearing 5½ per cent interest, a five-year warrant to purchase 1.5 Adm. Harry D. Felt, U.S. commander-in-chief in the Pacific and made his hurried trip after two secret Cabinet meetings.

The debentures would be convertible into common of the new company at a ratio of 1-1.4 shares for each debenture for five years and at a lesser rate thereafter.

The Lighter Side... Machine Gives West Inferiority Complex

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House labor subcommittee has been holding a series of hearings this month on man's conquest of machines, and vice versa.

In general, the testimony touched on the progress—if "progress" is the proper word that man has been making toward rendering himself obsolete with instruments of his own creation.

Machines already can do most things better than we can, except invent better machines. And that probably will be the next step.

Being a homo sapiens myself, about the only comfort that I could derive from the hearings was the fact that all of the witnesses were of the human variety.

If Congress ever starts calling in machines to testify, which is not as far-fetched as it might sound, then we members of the human race might as well hang up our uniforms.

One of the witnesses was John Diebold of New York, a 34-year-old management consultant who is alleged to have invented the word "automation." In fact, I understand he has confessed to the charge.

Diebold said the machine age really came of age, so to speak, with the development of electronic computers, which for the first time, provided instruments with "brains."

By the time that Diebold got through outlining all the things that computers can do, or soon will be doing, I was nursing a king-sized inferiority complex. And subcommittee Chairman Elmer J. Holland (D-Pa.), seems to feel the same way.

"I was just wondering, sitting here, are you going to do away with Congress?" Holland inquired. "And also with those news reporters down there—do away with them?"

"You have me a little afraid. Maybe we are not going to need any Congress. You will just put it in that machine."

Holland soliloquy left me with mixed emotions. Or, putting it another way, I agreed with 50 per cent of his fears.

There are times when I feel that a machine that would do away with Congress might not be a bad thing. But any talk of doing away with news reporters is carrying things too far.

As I visualize it, Congress could be replaced by two big computers with Remington-Rand representing the Senate and IBM standing in for the House.

Then, if someone felt in need of legislation, he would merely press a button and out would come a new law. Or, if the legislation happened to be against the national interest, a light would flash and the machine would register "tilt."

All a government bureau would have to do to get an appropriation would be to pull the handle and pick up the money as it came down the slot.

Only two things that I can think of stand in the way of computer legislation.

In order to function properly, a lawmaking machine would have to have a built-in lobbyist. And some kind of safety device would be needed to keep it from filibustering.

Wisconsin GOP's In Need Of Funds

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Wisconsin Republicans Saturday were urged to attend a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner here April 10 to cure the party's financial crisis.

The Wisconsin GOP publication "Facts" said the Republican party "as we know it may go out of business within the next two weeks."

"The truth is," the publication said, "is that we are completely out of money."

'Fate' Moves Spring Sport Into Winter

Pampa's Harvesters face the rather gruesome task of playing four District 3-4A games this week, a rough schedule by any measure and doubly rough because of the inexperienced pitching staff that Coach Deck Woldt possesses.

Far from out of the conference race with a 1-1 record after falling to Plainview, 1-0, Friday afternoon in one of the finest high school games we've ever witnessed, nevertheless, this week will be all important to Pampa's hopes for an early run for the title.

Had Woldt been able to play his usual three games per week which at that is a tough load — he might have given Monterey and Lubbock a try. With Mike Clark and Jerry Glover alternating, Pampa has as good a 1-2 pitching combination as any in 3-4A, but there is a limit to how much these two strong armed right-handers can do, especially inside of six days.

Perhaps one of the biggest handicaps to the Harvesters this spring has been the weather. But, when all the teams north of Plainview have been burdened with canceled games, especially Borger which got in only one non-conference game before finally opening its district season yesterday in Plainview.

For those who noticed the schedule, baseball concludes in District 3-4A on April 28th, after losing the whole month of May, or at least the better part of it.

The early ending of 3-4A baseball in relation to the rest of the state puts a real handicap on the eventual winner. Last year Monterey wrapped up its season two weeks earlier than the rest, and after winning bi-district, fell in two straight games to Midland in regional. Midland played right up to the regional game and kept its playing edge into the playoffs whereas Monterey had lost some of its earlier sharpness.

Why has baseball been forced up a month; actually been forced back into March and early April when the weather is far from ideal?

Some coaches say the reason is that the school officials want to leave May open for track meets and the usual hustle-bustle that accompanies the end of school.

But, by the strangest coincidence, all eight members of District 3-4A will stage their football spring training in May.

Now, despite rumors, we are not anti-football. We enjoy nothing better than a well-played football game. But, to shove baseball into a makeshift, snow-shortened two-month season is a little too much to take.

In District 2-4A, football spring training comes in February and is over by March 1st. For those playing basketball, it gives a slight disadvantage, but of the Harvesters varsity cagers, only one boy would have been missing for football.

Now, by some quirk of fate, should Pampa win the baseball crown, the boys who would have to miss football spring training to concentrate on baseball playoffs are: Butch Crossland, probable starting quarterback; Mike Stewart, starting wingback, along with Jerry Glover, John Arthur, Dee Wright and Marcel Rake, among others.

On the other hand, take those Harvesters who play baseball exclusively, not because they are "afraid to play football" but because they have an honest desire to play baseball as their favorite sport.

On this list you have Mike Clark, Larry Stroud, Ab Cullender, Keith Gregory, Gerrel Owens and Butch Frazier, just to name the starters.

Is it fair to these boys, who are just as much a representative of Harvester athletics as the football or basketball teams, to make them play four games a week — or even three games a week — in cold weather, and makeshift schedules just so football can have a nice warm month to work out? The answer is too obvious.

At any rate, we think it's more than coincidence that District 3-4A spring training all comes in May; more than that, it's a shame.

Finstierwald Seizes Stroke Lead In Azalea Tournament

Wind Fails To Hinder Pacesetter

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI)—Dow Finstierwald of Tequesta, Fla., conquered high winds and the tricky Cape Fear Country Club course Saturday with a four under par 68, grabbing the first round lead in the $12,000 Azalea Invitational Golf Tournament.

Jim Ferree, a former Wake Forest College golfer now playing out of Crystal River, Fla., turned in a three under par, 69, one stroke back of Finstierwald.

Frank Boynton of Orlando, Fla., Tommy Jacobs of Esmuda Dunes, Calif., were tied or third place with 70s in the opening round of the 13th annual classic.

Four other golfers were under par at 71 and Charlie Farlow of Greensboro shot a par 72 round. There was no other par or sub par round.

Finstierwald will try to hold his lead Sunday in a 36-hole final round. The 36-hole closing play combination as any in 3-4A, but there is a limit to how much these two strong armed right-handers can do, especially inside of six days.

Harvesters Play Dons

Pampa Coach Deck Woldt said late Saturday that tomorrow's tentatively rescheduled game with Tascosa in Amarillo had been postponed until later in the season.

The two teams were supposed to play Saturday but wet grounds at the Tascosa park prevented the game.

Pampa (1-1) will resume conference play on Tuesday when they travel for a game with Palo Duro (0-3) in Amarillo.

Sports In Brief

Moon Shot Triumphs

LAUREL Md. (UPI)—Moon Shot rallied in the stretch Saturday to win the $11,420 Capitol Handicap and give jockey Herbert Hinojosa his fifth winner of the year.

A crowd of 16,110 was on hand as Laurel race track opened its 28-day meeting and saw Hinojosa turn in a brilliant day in the saddle. Three of Hinojosa's victories came in a row — with Earful ($3,80) in the third, Lido Girl ($4,20) in the fourth and Etruscan Night ($8,80) in the fifth.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association and the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills, N.Y., Saturday announced preliminary agreement to hold the U.S. national tennis championship this year at Forest Hills.

There had been speculation that this year the championships, which have been held at Forest Hills for many years, might be moved to California.

Minnesota Twins Shutout Futile Yankees

By United Press International

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Washington manager Mickey Vernon Saturday named two rookies and three veterans to his five-man staff of starting pitchers.

Vernon picked rookies Ed Ho-Buhl and Joe McClain, and veterans Dick Donovan, Hal Woodeschick and Bonnie Daniels. Woodeschick is the long southpaw in the quintet.

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (UPI)—Al Cicotte and Mickey McDermott, American League castoffs, pitched four-hit ball Saturday as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, at the Redbirds' minor league base.

Bill White walloped a two-run homer off Elroy Face in the first inning to pace St. Louis to a 3-0 lead and a nine-hit attack twice.

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Brilliant relief pitching by lefty Tom Borland gave the Boston Red Sox a 9 to 8 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday. For good measure he also drove home the winning run with a double.

Borland came to the relief of starter Ike Delock with one out in the sixth inning. After yielding a run-producing single to Richie Ashburn, first man to face him, he didn't allow another hit. He struck out five and walked only one.

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Bob Buhl became the first major league pitcher to go the distance twice in spring training as the Milwaukee Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday, 6-3.

Buhl, who also pitched nine innings against the Washington Senators last Sunday, allowed eight hits. The Braves collected 11 hits off John Buzhardt, Ken Lehman and Jack Baldschun, including a home run by Lee Maye.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics hammered Frank Lary and rookie Joe Grmzda for 13 hits, including a tape measure homer by Andy Carey, and beat the Detroit Tigers 11-2, Saturday.

Rookie outfielder Jay Hankins had three hits for the A's, including a double. Leo Posada had a pair of hits and Haywood Sullivan doubled and singled and drove in two runs. Ken Johnson, Bill Kunkel and Ed Rakow, pitched for the Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday.

It was the 15th defeat in 22 exhibition games for the defending American League champs. Ramos, working the first seven innings, held the Yankees to five singles. Kaat allowed one more in the final two frames. The victory gave the Twins a sweep of the two-game spring series.

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Consecutive home runs by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson off rookie righthander Bill Ortega in the eighth inning gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday.

It was his second homer of the day for Robinson, who slammed one off Johnny Podres in the first inning. Podres, the first of four Dodger hurlers, was struck on the left wrist by a Pinson smash and left after the first inning.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Pedro Ramos and Jim Kaat combined to hand the New York Yankees their first shutout of the spring Saturday in pitching the Minnesota Twins to a 4-0 victory at Al Lang field.

English Import Stars As OU Tracksters Win

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—Neal Lawrence Wagner and Robert Groszek in one of the day's top races.

Quarter miler David Mills of Purdue churned a brilliant 46.5 on the first leg of the distance medley which the Boiler-makers won in a record time of 1:06. Mills had fine help from Randall Mount with a 1:36.5 half mile; Robert Monroe with a 3:11.7 three-fourths mile and George Harvey with a 4:11.3 mile.

Arkansas' Jackie Nelson, a native of Nevada, Mo., broke the other record with a 9:17.2 in the two mile. It erased the 9:21.4 by Tom Oakley, also of Arkansas, set last year.

Missouri and Kansas State each broke two records.

The Missouri marks were 3:13.3 in the mile relay and 17:40.3 in the four mile relay. The mile quarter was anchored by a 46.7 quarter mile by James Baker. Other members were Morris Patterson, Gregory Pelster and Robert Hanneken.

Rex Stucker of Kansas State clipped the 120-yard high hurdles in 14 seconds flat for one of the best performances of the meet. The other K-state record was 7:41.3 by the two-mile relay team of Robert J. Adlow, John Mc-

Lindsay, the only double winner, took the discus with a toss of 167.3.

Both the Sooners and the University of Missouri won four events, but Oklahoma added four second places to two for Missouri to take team honor. No official point total was kept.

Moore Defends Crown

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Able, in the 13th round to win the title only about three years, he aggressive Davey Moore, who won and in their rematch Aug. 19, won the right to a title bout last the featherweight title here, de-1959, he scored an 11th round technical knockout.

Since then Moore has defended his title only once, decisioning Kazuo Takayama in 15 rounds at Tokyo last August.

The 27-year-old Moore, who makes his home in Springfield, Ohio, was a strong favorite to retain his title but the 3-1 odds were at his 21-year-old opponent. "I'm not lulling the champion into his get two arms, he's equal to me in potential. 'Cats Easily Sprint To San Angelo Title

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI)—Abilene Christian bettered the National collegiate record for the mile relay in a blazing 3:08.8 Saturday and swept to the team championship in the San Angelo Relays.

A foursome of Dennis Richardson, Pat McKennon, Olympian Earl Young and Bud Clanton clipped three-tenths of a second off the old eight-turn mile relay mark of 3:09.1 set in 1958 by Texas.

Texas, with a 3:08.7, still holds the record around seven turns.

Eight meet records were broken or tied in ideal, sunny weather that saw Abilene Christian take the team title with 42 points, and saw Baylor's ace weight man, John Fry, unanimously named as the meet's most outstanding performer.

Fry set two of the records, a discus throw of 159 feet, 9 3/4 inches, and a shot put performance of 57 feet, 7 1/2 inches in an outstanding individual show.

With Fry leading the way, Baylor finished second for team honors with 36 points. Southern Methodist scored something of an upset in shading the University of Texas, 25 to 24, for third place.

Pole vaulter exte Elkins Country Club course against the Mustangs to their first strong finish by setting a meet record of 14-9 in the pole vault, 1.206. In the playoff, Houston whipped A&M by three strokes.

Blancas posted a four-round total of 291 to win individual honors by two strokes over A&M's Dicky Doble, although Blancas soared to a 76 in Saturday's round over the par-72 course.

Frank Beard of Florida was third at 294, and Sam Carmichael of Louisiana State fourth at 295.

Behind Houston and Texas A&M in team medal play were North Texas State, fourth with 1,227; the Saturday morning preliminaries that had in turn equalled Texas' Ray Cunningham's 1956 effort, and in the low hurdles, with Cooley's 22.7 equalling his own mark set two years ago.

Abilene Christian took the team title on relays success. The bon events counted double points, letting the Wildcats pickup 27 of their 42 points on wins in the 440 and mile relays and a second place spot in the sprint medley.

Two high school divisions also completed Friday and Saturday, amid tumbling records. Midland copped Division I with 49 points to 26 for Del Rio and Snyder. Ozona won Division II with 41 1/2, while Sonora was second with 33 1/2.

Schools in Class AAAA and AAA competed in Division I, while Division II included schools in Class AA, A and B.

Frank Beard of Florida was third at 294, and Sam Carmichael of Louisiana State fourth at 295.

Behind Houston and Texas A&M in team medal play were North Texas State, fourth with 1,227; the Saturday morning preliminaries that had in turn equalled Texas' Ray Cunningham's 1956 effort, and in the low hurdles, with Cooley's 22.7 equalling his own mark set two years ago.

Abilene Christian took the team title on relays success. The bon events counted double points, letting the Wildcats pickup 27 of their 42 points on wins in the 440 and mile relays and a second place spot in the sprint medley.

Two high school divisions also completed Friday and Saturday, amid tumbling records. Midland copped Division I with 49 points to 26 for Del Rio and Snyder. Ozona won Division II with 41 1/2, while Sonora was second with 33 1/2.

Schools in Class AAAA and AAA competed in Division I, while Division II included schools in Class AA, A and B.

Masters Field Loaded

JAY HEBERT
...PGA Kingpin

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The largest field ever, paced by defending champion Arnold Palmer, PGA king Jay Hebert and nearly all of the other top names in the world of golf, is entered for the 1961 Masters Tournament which gets underway here Thursday.

Ninety-two of the world's finest professional and amateur golfers will tee off in the 25th renewal of what has become one of the greatest tournaments in the golfing world. Tournament officials, figuring the prestige is more important than the money, won't even try to estimate the purse but last year Arnold pocketed $17,500 for his winning 6-under-par 282 for the four-day, 72-hole tournament.

A total of 99 golfers received invitations to the tournament. But five of these, including the famed Bobby Jones who sired the Masters, no longer compete. The veteran Paul Runyan cut the field further by his refusal to play in protest against the fact that the field will be cut to the low 40 scorers and ties after 36 holes. And Art Wall, the 1959 Masters champion, is being forced to miss out again, for the second straight year, because of an injury.

A knee infection prevented Wall from defending his title last year. This time a pulled muscle under a rib has forced him to the sidelines.

Palmer, who swept nearly every golf honor in sight in 1960, is a heavy favorite to defend his title and win a third Masters' championship. However, the powerful Pennsylvanian will have to overcome a Masters' jinx — nobody has ever won two Masters back-to-back.

South Africa's Gary Player is being boomed as a serious contender for the 1961 title. Player finished seven strokes back in a tie-for-sixth place last year but is the leading money winner on the 1961 tour. If Player should win, he would become the first foreigner to do so in the 27-year history of the Masters.

Cougar Ace Signs Pact

BOSTON (UPI)—Gary Philips, the University of Houston backcourt ace drafted on Monday by the Boston Celtics, was signed Saturday to a 1961-62 contract with the National Basketball Association Eastern Division champions.

FLIPPANT—Ken Strawn flipped his sports car in a race at Cedar Hill, Tex. The little car rolled across the track after it failed to corner, but the driver walked away from it.

Carry Back Uses Blazing Stretch Run For Victory

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida-bred Carry Back, in a remarkable exhibition of courage, sidestepped staggering Crozier in the stretch Saturday and came on again to win the $115,100 Florida Derby before a roaring crowd of 26,655 at Gulfstream Park.

Calumet's Beau Prince was third in the field of seven colts and one gelding.

Carry Back, owned and trained by Jack Price, an Ohioan who retired to horse racing, thus became King of the eastern three-year-olds and also turned back two California invaders in the Florida Derby.

The almost black-brown little colt also became only the second home throughbred product to win both of Florida's big races for sophomores, Hialeah's Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby. Florida-bred Needles did it in 1956 and went on to win the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes.

As favorite of the big crowd, Carry Back paid $5.20, $3.00, and $2.50 across the board. Crozier, owned by Fred Hoper, paid $3.30 and $2.50 and Beau Prince received $2.90 for show.

Despite the California invaders — Ronnie's Ace and Game — the presence of the feared Calumet colt Beau Prince, the Florida Derby was just another duel between Carry Back and Crozier. Carry Back beat the Hooper colt by a head in the $100,000 Flamingo and it was the same margin at the wire despite the switch to 1960 champion Bill Hartack for Crozier.

Third Seed Grabs Easy Net Victory

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)— Roy Emerson of Australia, recovering his accuracy in the last set, advanced to the finals of the Good Neighbor tennis championships by downing Luis Ayala of Chile in 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Emerson, of Brisbane, will face West Germany's Wolfgang Spuck in Sunday's finals. Stuck, eighth-seeded, knocked off unseeded Jerry Moss of Miami Beach 6-4, 9-7 Saturday by capitalizing on Moss' errors.

The third-seeded Emerson had rough going in eliminating Ayala, considered one of the world's best clay court players and seeded fifth here. After dropping the first set, Ayala used his lob shot to win the second and then broke Emerson's service in the third game of the third set to go ahead 2-1. But Emerson, whose volleys were erratic in the first two sets, used them to pull even in the fourth game and permitted Ayala to win but one more game in the deciding set.

GRID DRILLS OPEN

CHICAGO (UPI) — Five Big Ten schools will begin spring football practice next week and the other five will open a week later, all winding up with spring games on May 6 or May 13. Opening practice Monday will be Illinois, Northwestern, Ohio State and Purdue, all with spring games scheduled on May 6. Indiana will begin drills on April 6, Thursday, with its spring game on May 6.

Battle Boston Today

Hawks Fly Past LA, 105 to 103

ST. LOUIS (UPI)— The St. Louis Hawks defeated the Los Angeles Lakers, 105-103, Saturday to win the seventh and final game of the National Basketball Association playoff and gain the right to meet the Boston Celtics for the championship series.

With 10,116 cheering fans looking on, the Hawks — led by Bob Pettit with 31 points — came from 13 points behind in the first quarter for their victory.

The Hawks, who were leading at halftime, momentarily lost the edge in the waning moments of the third quarter. But scrappy Si Green put the Hawks ahead to stay when he dribbled the length of the floor and scored on a layup, to give St. Louis a 76-77 margin.

The Hawks never lost the lead again. The Lakers, old hands at battling back in the series, made a last determined effort in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter as Jerry West scored three field goals and Elgin Baylor added another.

With Jensen back in the lineup, the Sox have another righthanded swinger to take some of the heat off Malzone.

Malzone Feels Own Average Will Climb

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Frank Malzone of the Boston Red Sox, who plays a lot of third base on a pair of flat feet, feels that his batting average should be boosted 15 or 20 points this season because of the return of Jackie Jensen.

With Jensen back in the lineup, the Sox have another righthanded swinger to take some of the heat off Malzone.

'Olympics' Field Set

PERRYTON (Sp) — The Service Club Olympics, sponsored by the YMCA of Perryton will be held April 7 at 6 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. A buffet supper will be served prior to the Olympics.

A traveling trophy will be awarded the club making the highest number of points. This trophy will have to be won four times by one club before it becomes their permanent property.

Each service club has elected a chairman to lead their teams. The Olympics Chairmen are Omar Truax, American Legion; Frank Tyk, Jaycees; Frank Covington, Kiwanis; Joe Ogden, Lions; Alton Garner, Rotary; and John Robinson, VFW. Mr. Jack Maxey was elected as General Chairman of the Olympics.

The various games will be scheduled throughout the evening and each man will be able to enter two events. Events scheduled for the olympics are free throws, dart throws, golf putting, shuffle board, table tennis, volleyball, gin rummy, bridge, chess, checkers, canasta, dominoes (42), liars contest, horseshoe and attendance.

Hot-Hitting Texas Junior Sparks Horns Toward Title

DALLAS (UPI) — If Lew Brazelton continues to hit the ball at his present pace, it'll be hard to dislodge Texas from the Southwest Conference baseball championship.

Glover, Gregory Star Despite Initial Loss

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW — Joe Ferguson, a 250-pound behemoth, put the United States one up in the missile race here Friday afternoon as he launched a small white sphere 350-feet over the left field wall in the first inning to give the Plainview Bulldog's a narrow 1-0 victory over Pampa's Harvesters in a District 3-4A baseball contest.

Coupled with Ferguson's blast—his first of the year—was a near-brilliant pitching job by the Dog's Austin Winter who chilled Pampa on three hits—two by streaking Keith Gregory—struck out seven, didn't walk a man and only faced 23 batters in the errorless seven-inning game that lasted a quick one hour and 15 minutes.

The loss went to Jerry Glover, who deserved a better fate. Glover gave up five well-scattered hits, two of them to Ferguson and two to centerfielder James Bryant, and struck out four. He was never really in trouble except for the one pitch to Ferguson, a low inside fast ball that was still gaining altitude as it sailed over the left-field fence.

For Pampa, the defeat was its first of the season after reeling off four straight wins and left them 1-1 in 3-4A play, an identical record with Plainview.

The game had originally been scheduled in Pampa Friday, but a near-foot snowfall prompted the change of sites and, evidently, a change in fortune for the rampaging Harvesters.

Pampa went down in order in the first and was two down in the second before Gregory — who is harder to put out than a four-alarm fire with a water pistol — dumped a single into short centerfield; however, he died on first as the next Harvester fanned.

Plainview got a brief rally going in the second when a walk and single to center by Bryant put two on with one away. But Glover bore down and struck out the next man and forced the last Bulldog to ground out.

With one away in the fourth, Pampa first baseman Larry Stroud racked a screaming double off the right field wall to give hope to the PHS cause, but he never moved another step as the next two Harvesters grounded out.

Plainview put two men on the home fourth with two away on a single by Billy Carthel and a line-shot double by Bryant but Glover, rising to the occasion, fanned Andy Taylor to retire the side without damage.

Pampa placed only one more runner on in the fifth as Gregory slapped a Texas League single over short but Mike Stewart's attempted sacrifice forced Gregory at second and Stewart was out a moment later when he was trapped off first base on Glover's flyout to centerfield.

The Harvesters never generated steam after the fifth, going down in order in the sixth and seventh while Plainview managed two walks in the sixth in a short-lived rally.

GAME NOTES — Ferguson is the same mountain that hit a homer off Kippy Williams in Pampa last year, that homer reported to have been in the neighborhood of 400 feet — which is a pretty good neighborhood.

The facilities at JayCee Park here, once the home of the Plainview Ponies of the West Texas-New Mexico, Southwestern and Sophomore Leagues, is still one of the finest high school facilities in West Texas. The field was in good

Netters Face Rough Slate

Pampa's Harvester tennis team, 2-1 in dual matches this season, face a rugged slate this week in preparation for the Sandie Relays tennis tournament Friday and Saturday in Amarillo.

The Harvester netters play Borger here tomorrow, go to Dumas Tuesday and then hike to Borger Wednesday for another match with the Bulldogs.

In the Sandie Relays, Pampa will be facing Lubbock Monterey and Lubbock, the two strongest teams in District 3-4A, along with top Class 3A and 2A schools.

Monterey, Westerners Capture Doubleheaders

LUBBOCK (Sp) — Tom S. Lubbock's Westerners kept in a tie for the District 3-4A baseball lead here Saturday afternoon by sweeping a doubleheader from two Amarillo schools, downing Amarillo, 12-4, in the opener and defeating Palo Duro, 6-4, in the nightcap.

The twin wins gave the Westerners a 3-0 mark, identical with Lubbock Monterey as the Plainsmen defeated Palo Duro, 9-2, and Amarillo, 6-1, in two other games played here today.

In the Lubbock-Sandie game, the Westerners exploded for nine runs in the second inning on five walks, three errors, four hits and a wild pitch as 13 men came to the plate.

Fred Hamrick went all the way for Lubbock while Bobby Diggins (1-3) was tagged with loss before Jim Carrigan came in to relieve him in the fourth frame.

Against Palo Duro, Lubbock trailed, 4-3, going into the sixth inning before a walk, a misfired sacrifice, a bunt single, a double and a squeeze play netted the Westerners three runs and the victory.

PLAINVIEW — Borger's Bulldogs, weathered out in their first two attempts to open their District 3-4A season, got their belated play off on the right foot here Saturday afternoon by defeating Plainview's Bulldogs, 11-9, in a free-swinging contest.

Air Board Not To Yield Right To Probe Crashes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Alan S. Boyd of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) declared Saturday "it'll be a cold day in July" before his agency relinquishes its authority to investigate air crashes.

In an exclusive interview with United Press International, the big, balding and blunt head of the CAB sharply rejected proposals that the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) take over the job of investigating air accidents.

Former FAA chief Elwood R. Quesada originally made the suggestion. He told a congressional committee the CAB was too busy with airline economic matters to concentrate properly on accident inquiry.

Quesada said the job belonged to FAA and proposed setting up an independent investigating unit within that agency.

The current head of FAA, Najeeb E. Halaby, has said he hasn't made up his mind yet on Quesada's proposal. But Halaby hinted he might support the idea, commenting that the Navy "runs its own boards of inquiry and does a pretty good job."

Boyd made it clear that the CAB would fight this. He pointed out that FAA operates the nation's air traffic control system and formulates all air safety rules—both of which could play a part in an air crash through possible inadequacies.

"In effect, if the FAA could investigate crashes, it might be both prosecutor and defendant in the same accident," Boyd asserted. "This obviously would be an unfair procedure."

Boyd also was asked about a proposal by the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) to have all interested parties in a crash confer with CAB investigators before a final accident report was written.

"I'm against it," Boyd said. "I very much admire the aid dedicated pilots, manufacturers, airlines and other people give us in a crash investigation. But I think they're here to help gather facts but they aren't here to determine the probable cause of a crash. That's our job."

Boyd defended the CAB against charges that it takes too long to decide various cases before it.

"There are improvements which can and will be made," the chairman said. "But you can't eliminate due process of law and that's what our administrative procedures and hearings are based on."

Padre Isle Resort Bill Postponed

AUSTIN — A Texas Senate subcommittee report on a bill to establish a national park on an 88-mile strip in the center of Padre Island has been postponed until after April 11 when a hearing on a U.S. Senate Padre Island bill is scheduled.

Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville, a subcommittee member, said he had reached an agreement with Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, co-author of the bill, to delay the report until after the Washington hearing. The subcommittee report was to have been made Thursday.

Hudson said he thought it would be a good idea to wait and get the trend of thinking in the U.S. Senate on Padre Island before submitting the subcommittee report.

The U.S. Senate bill, introduced by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, calls for an 88-mile strip to be dedicated as a national seashore and does not provide for roads to or through the area.

Congressmen Joe Kilgore of McAllen and John Young of Corpus Christi also have a bill in the House which limits the development to 65 miles and calls for access roads and a road through the area. Mineral rights would be reserved to the state and private owners under the Kilgore-Young bill.

A Texas House bill dedicating an 88-mile strip has been cleared by the State Affairs Committee and will be up for floor action in the near future.

UN Troops Fly To Threatened Congo Province

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The United Nations Saturday began airlifting 800 Indian U.N. troops into Katanga to deal with stepped-up tension following the capture of Lumumbist-occupied Manono by troops of Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

The Indians, who had been kept under wraps since their controversial dispatch here last month, were flown into the big Kamina base, a former Belgian installation 210 miles southwest of Manono.

It was believed the Indians would be transferred into North Katanga from Kamina to head off feared new clashes between Baluba tribesmen and victorious Tshombe troops.

Despite the airlift, no new clashes were reported from the North Katanga area around Manono where a mixed force of Tshombe's African troops and white European mercenaries last Thursday ousted Baluba rebels.

Lumumbists had set up Manono as a rebel state capital.

A Katanga Interior Ministry communique said that Nigerian U.N. troops were sheltering several leaders of the Baluba tribesmen who fled when Katanga forces took over Manono.

A U.N. spokesman said Saturday that a total of seven Balubas were killed and two Katangese troops wounded in the fighting for Manono.

The key Manono airfield was now reported under guard by a joint force of Nigerians of the U.N. command and troops from Tshombe's army.

U.N. forces in Leopoldville said the United Nations forces had no intention of trying to push the Katanga forces out of Manono.

The Indian U.N. troops previously had been confined to limits at their camp between Leopoldville and the Ndjili Airfield. They had not been used on Leopoldville patrols because of the hostility shown on these arrivals by Congolese authorities.

Vice President Johnson Starts First Foreign Mission Journey

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson left Saturday on his first overseas mission for President Kennedy—a trip that will take him to Africa and Europe.

G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, was at the airport to bid Johnson farewell. Williams returned recently from a tour of Africa.

Kennedy has announced that he will rely on Johnson to serve as often as possible as a U.S. goodwill ambassador abroad and to undertake overseas inspection missions on his behalf such as former President Eisenhower employed his vice president, Richard M. Nixon.

So small are atoms that two billion would fit on the point of a pin.

George Carter and Bill D. Moyers, officials of the newly created Peace Corps, and Romeo J. Champagne of New Hampshire, were also at the airport.

His first assignment will be to attend independence ceremonies of Senegal, the former French African colony, as Kennedy's official representative.

En route home, he will visit Paris, Geneva and Spain. At Paris, he will obtain first hand information on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; in Geneva, he will discuss progress of the nuclear test ban talks with Russia, and in Spain, he will inspect American military bases.

All of these activities are being carried out at the request of Kennedy. There also was a possibility Johnson might stop at other African points as well as Senegal.

Before leaving by jet from Andrews, Md., Air Force Base at 1:50 p.m., the vice president told newsmen he was looking forward to a "purposeful trip."

His schedule called for him to stop briefly in San Juan, Puerto Rico, before proceeding to Dakar, the capital of Senegal, for the independence ceremonies Monday and Tuesday.

No exact timetable for the rest of his trip was set although Johnson said he expected to return to Washington Friday.

In Paris, he planned to confer with U.S. Ambassador James M. Gavin, the former U.S. paratrooper commander, and Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of the NATO military forces.

During his Geneva stop, the vice president expected to meet with Arthur Dean, U.S. representative in the nuclear test ban negotiations. The talks have been stalled by the Soviets since they were resumed March 21.

He was accompanied by Senate Republican whip Thomas H. Kuchel of California and Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee which approves State Department funds. The wives of all three also travelled with them.

New Segregation Woes Bared By Civil War Centennial Chairman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The meeting of the Civil War Centennial Commission Saturday complained that President Kennedy's order to transfer its national assembly from Charleston, S.C., to a Navy base to avoid racial segregation has led to new segregation troubles.

Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III, commission chairman who reluctantly acceded to Kennedy's request, said the Navy's regulations will make it necessary to separate the married couples attending the white delegates.

Delegations from several northern states said they would boycott the meeting, scheduled for April 11-12, unless the restrictions were lifted.

Grant said the switch means that some delegates might have to sleep aboard ships anchored at the naval base during the night of April 11.

"The last-minute change of the meeting place, made to conform to the White House policy regarding desegregation, has caused us to be confronted with the matter of supplying ample facilities," he said.

The grandson of the famous union general and president asked those who plan to attend the two-day meeting to let the commission know immediately by telegram. Reservations for meals and rooms will be necessary, he said.

Grant, apparently irked by the White House order, said delegates also will be required to show a pass at the entrance to the base for security reasons.

He said that women attending the meeting would be housed in nurses' quarters and in the base hospital in twin-double bedrooms and wards. Men will be assigned to officers' quarters and enlisted men's barracks, he added.

The assembly was scheduled for Charleston so the delegates and others attending could participate in the re-enactment of the firing on Fort Sumter on April 12, 1861, that marked the start of the Civil War.

Rebel Employee Loses Job Right

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — An employee who criticized the company for which he worked as a "cheesy outfit" deserved to be fired, the appeal tribunal of the Minnesota Employment Security Commission ruled Saturday.

The tribunal found the worker had complained because the employees were "given only a turkey for Christmas" and told the general manager that the firm was a "cheesy outfit."

The remarks, the tribunal said, violated the "standards of behavior which the employer has a right to expect of his employees, and were such as to create discord among the other employees."

Former Athlete Dies In Illinois

LITCHFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Funeral services will be held Sunday for Alford Blankley, one-time Olympic dash star who died Thursday.

Blankley, 78, of Litchfield, once held the world record for the 50-yard dash. After participating in the Olympic Games at Athens, Greece, in 1906, Blankley turned professional and toured the world for several years before returning here to become a mail carrier.

Wives of Segregationists Banned From Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The meeting of the Civil War Centennial Commission Saturday complained that President Kennedy's order to transfer its national assembly from Charleston, S.C., to a Navy base to avoid racial segregation has led to new segregation troubles.

Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III, commission chairman who reluctantly acceded to Kennedy's request, said the Navy's regulations will make it necessary to separate the married couples attending the white delegates.

Delegations from several northern states said they would boycott the meeting, scheduled for April 11-12, unless the restrictions were lifted.

Grant said the switch means that some delegates might have to sleep aboard ships anchored at the naval base during the night of April 11.

"The last-minute change of the meeting place, made to conform to the White House policy regarding desegregation, has caused us to be confronted with the matter of supplying ample facilities," he said.

The grandson of the famous union general and president asked those who plan to attend the two-day meeting to let the commission know immediately by telegram. Reservations for meals and rooms will be necessary, he said.

Grant, apparently irked by the White House order, said delegates also will be required to show a pass at the entrance to the base for security reasons.

He said that women attending the meeting would be housed in nurses' quarters and in the base hospital in twin-double bedrooms and wards. Men will be assigned to officers' quarters and enlisted men's barracks, he added.

The assembly was scheduled for Charleston so the delegates and others attending could participate in the re-enactment of the firing on Fort Sumter on April 12, 1861, that marked the start of the Civil War.

Kiwianians Hold Easter Program

The good Friday and Easter themes were dominant in Friday's regular noonday luncheon program of the Pampa Kiwanis Club in the Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church.

Scripture selections from St. Matthew 27 were read by Earl Cooper. John Waggoner gave the prayer. Joe Whitten sang "The Holy City" and an address, "The Man Who Lives Forever" was given by Mert Cooper. Earl Cooper read a poem, "Obedience" The benediction was given by John Waggoner.

The program Friday was in charge of Melvin Munn, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's Key Club.

If electricity came in packages, and you bought them in a store, chances are you'd carry home TWO packages for every one you bought ten years ago.

Because electricity does so many things — from daily household tasks to entertaining to heating and cooling — so well, you are using more than ever before. Twice as much as in 1951. So, your electric service bill is higher.

But the unit cost was never lower. Reddy's average wage for each hour that he works in your home is lower than ever before — 21% lower than 10 years ago.

Cancer Crusade Opens Tomorrow

AUSTIN — The 1961 Cancer Crusade opens officially tomorrow in Texas as Governor Price Daniel issues a proclamation designating April as Cancer Control Month.

Erik Jonsson, Chairman of the American Cancer Society Crusade in Texas, will also introduce to the Governor the 1961 Texas Cancer Family, the Jack E. Walsh's of Lubbock. During the brief ceremony, Governor Daniel will present Mrs. Walsh the Sword of Hope symbol of cancer control.

Mrs. Walsh, who underwent surgery for cancer seven years ago, is now completely recovered. For the Crusade this year she represents the more than one million Americans who have been saved from cancer.

The Governor, in the proclamation, points out that 21,000 new cases of cancer will be diagnosed in Texas alone in 1961, numbering among them people of all ages, including many children. Of the 12,000 Texans who will die of cancer, he said, 4,000 could have been saved.

6,624 Poll Tax Receipts Issued In Gray County

AUSTIN — Gray County issued a total of 6,624 poll tax receipts, of which 1,504 were exemptions, for use during the 1961-62 calendar year, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported Tuesday.

A total of 2,013,519, of which 1,682,117 were paid and 331,402 were exemptions, was issued by the 254 counties of the state, Calvert said.

Harris County issued the largest number of receipts, 274,766. Dallas County was next with a total of 117,189.

Persons over 80 years of age and who live in communities under 10,000 population don't need exemptions to vote.

Junior Firemen Receive Training

LEFORS (Spl) — The Junior Fire Dept. Boys recently met in the fire station for their regular meeting.

Peg O' Pampa

PAMPA HAS BEEN a bustling place this week with two big conventions. The Rotary Convention and the Federated Women's Clubs Convention. Lots of planning and preparation always topped off by a successful convention. Pampons know how to do things right! E. E. Shelhamer was chairman of the Rotarian's big event. He is such a capable person. Adrienne Foster introduced the speaker at the Rotary-Ann's luncheon, looking very chic with a flower-trimmed cloche. Sandy Williams brightened the event by presiding so well. Many of Pampa's women loaned their talents to the success of the Federated Women's Clubs district convention. Icie Harrah co-ordinated things, while Harlene Rose and Peggy Dohar served as chairman and co-chairman. Leith Curry's marvelous artistic talent went into the decorating and were the talk of the convention. Mary Johnson worked out the program. It takes a lot of people to stage such a thing. Others involved were Ethel May Clay, Vi Stanfield, Mrs. Emmett Osborne, Jean Roots, Alice Federer, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Betty Brown, Joan Osborne, Greta Arrington, Jewel Nance and Mrs. J. B. Townsend.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHT. Did you know that Mrs. Tom Rose Sr. was chairman of the FIRST district convention of the Federated Women's Clubs in Pampa 31 years ago. It was known as the 23rd district then. Now her daughter-in-law, Harlene, served as chairman of the first meeting for the newly-organized Top O' Texas district just concluded.

PAMPA'S RED CARPET is out, also, for the biggest recognition day activities for Girl Scout leaders ever held here. The all-day affair is on the docket for Tuesday in the Coronado Inn. With more than 125 women from the surrounding 10-county area expected. Working energetically on plans for the event is Vera Andis, chairman. While Zee Holloway, Jane Kadingo and Pat Ramsey are assisting her. The morning program will help the leaders better understand the children with whom they work in the troops, with the excellent panel of Doris Vendrell, Essie Mae Walters and Evelyn Milam. Climax of the day will be a ceremony honoring all the leaders for the wonderful work they do with our young girls and they really deserve it!

HERE AND THERE. . . and round-about town. . . have any of you wondered why pretty Kay Howell nearly shoveled up all the snow in Pampa last week? Seems Kay, with that special "Cloud Nine" abstraction that comes to a bride-elect, lost her diamond in the snow. . . but the tale has a happy ending. . . the lost was found. . . the lucky fellow is Jimmy Crouch. . . just an observation. . . Kay's pixie-like roommate, Marlene Burroughs, is cute as a bug. . . spied Jewel Walker the other day looking very chic with a short, just-sort-of-waved type hairdo. . . heard Betty Finkelstein had a luncheon bridge recently that was real nice. . . noticed dark-haired, always pleasant Lorene Harmon driving by the other day with her little counterpart—daughter Teresa. . . both have the most beautiful eyes! . . . noticed teenager Elizabeth Graham leaving the basketball banquet with her handsome escort. . . Elizabeth looked lovely in a white dress with pink flowers and a pink rosebud corsage.

NOTICE OF IMPORTANCE. . . a heart seminar, sponsored by the Hutchinson and Gray Counties Heart Associations and District 23, Texas Graduate Nurses' Association, will be held on April 8. . . a Saturday, in the Pampa Country Club. It will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 4 p.m. . . Dr. R. M. Bellamy and Dr. T. D. Harvey of Pampa as well as Dr. Joe Arrington of Lubbock and Dr. Paul Ellis of Dallas will present Anatomy and Physiology, Cardiovascular Diseases and Nursing Care of Cardiac patients. . . it will also be a refresher for all registered nurses in the area and teaching for all hospital personnel concerned with nursing care. . . with heart disease so prevalent in our country today, we think this is a wonderful thing. . . and so grand that Pampa will be the host.

POTPOURRI. . . Dorothy Hampton really goes all out when she makes her mind to do something. . . she had never been in an airplane before, so, instead of taking a short hop, she really went at it in a big way. . . she flew to Japan to see her daughter, Mrs. C. P. Mapes, stopping for two days in Hawaii to see the sights there. . . it is a wonderful experience for her how we would love to see Hawaii! . . . by the way, Dorothy is quite an accomplished bridge player, too. . . have you noticed how chic Marian Osborne is looking these days? . . . Betty Diamond is bursting with pride these days over son Randy's part in rescuing Rocky Nichols who got stuck in the mud. . . Sue Foster has been named best pledge by her sorority, Chi Omega, at Southern Methodist University. . . Adrienne and Jack are so very proud of her, as they should be! . . . one of Pampa's most attractive young women is Mildred McKinley. . . she always looks so neat and her hair is always lovely! . . . how many of you saw the article in December 1960 issue of Reader's Digest, entitled "Where Are The Ugly Ducklings?" it is simply wonderful. . . and should be on the "must" list of the parents. . . especially those with girls in the pre-teen period. . . it would make for good discussion at some of the women's club meetings. . . one of Pampa's sparkling young bride-elects is pretty Sandra Caldwell. . . understand her wedding is only a few weeks away. . . oh, young love! . . . spied attractive Betty Peoples strolling along the street in downtown Pampa the other day. . . noticed Mary "aim picking up husband, Paul, toward the end of the day. . . believe their big event is due in a month or two. . . and no one could be more excited about the expected baby than Paul! . . . isn't it wonderful? . . . Atha Wilks looked so smart and chic the other day in a gorgeous, tall-crowned black hat that looked like she was going to attend something in the Methodist Church. . . or was just coming from a party. . . the new youth-center director L. Douglas Halley, looks real handsome. . . wonder if he is married! . . . if not, the single gals of Pampa should take notice!

SPRING IS HERE, officially. . . but it sure doesn't seem like it as we are writing this column. . . one consolation is that sunny days should be upon us soon. . . and then the kiddos can't really romp and play. . . LAST MINUTE tidbits picked up before closing off the column. . . Kathryn Steele gave the most delightful review at the El Progreso guest day this week. . . and she looked so charming. . . there is no one like Kathryn! . . . you should have seen the amount of luggage the women brought to the Federated Clubs convention! . . . you'd think they were to be here for a month. . . but, really, it takes a lot when you want to look your best at all the meetings and they all did!

IT'S ABOUT THIS TIME every year that the Publicity Books become about the most important party of a PTA unit's business. . . we heard that Austin PTA has a lovely one this year. . . saw Melba Martin, Austin president, out the other afternoon getting the chairman's signatures on reports to be included in the book which is quite a work of art done by Cleto Trimble. . . we're glad that they are now collating them Publicity Books instead of scrapbooks. . . sounds prettier! . . . wasn't that a clever way, Doris Sears concluded the Lee PTA meeting the other afternoon with the quote "PTA is a wonderful thing. It keeps the parents off the streets at night."

It's all, Peg

Miss Allene Pearce Becomes Bride Of Robert J. Turnbo In Chapel Rites

Miss Allene Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Pearce, 1428 Hamilton, became the bride of Robert J. Turnbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Turnbo of Pampa, with wedding vows exchanged on Mar. 30 at 8:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Chapel with Dr. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church officiating for the exchange of double-ring vows. . . Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a champagne beige wool suit designed with bell sleeves and trimmed with a natural mink collar. A beige straw hat trimmed with muted brown silk roses complemented her dress. She wore a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. . . Miss Kay Pearce attended as maid of honor wearing a beige silk Shantung dress with matching hat and a corsage of yellow roses. . . Bob Thornton served as best man and Harold Malone seated the wedding guests. . . Miss Carolyn Jelinek provided the traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Jerry Nichols as he sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." . . For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Pearce chose a brown silk Shantung sheath topped with a matching jacket complemented with a beige floral hat and a brown slipper orchid. Mrs. Turnbo, mother of the bridegroom, chose an off-white lace sheath with matching hat and a yellow slipper orchid.

Hobby Club With Mrs. L. F. Batson

The Friday Hobby Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. L. F. Batson, 1914 N. Faulkner, at which time new officers were elected as follows: Mmes. James Russell, president; J. M. Foster, vice president; L. F. Batson, secretary; treasurer: Bert W. Mitchell, reporter. . . The afternoon was spent smoking pillows and making French poodies. . . Mrs. Batson served refreshments during the social hours. . . Attending in addition to the one mentioned above were Mmes. Bill Larkin, Arthur Griggs and Kathy Russell. . . The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. C. Patton, 708 N. Nelson.

Delightful Reviews Highlight Party

El Progreso Study Club presented Mrs. N. Dudley Steele, guest reviewer, at its Guest Day Tea held Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. . . Mrs. Steele gave excerpts from Jean Kerr's humorous book "The Snake Has All the Lines" followed by a dramatic adaptation from Victoria Lincoln's novel, "The Angel in the Air" and concluded with lines from Eddie Cantor's book "The Way I See It." . . Mrs. Harold Wright introduced the afternoon's guest, Mrs. Steele. . . Preceding the program, members and guests were served refreshments from an attractively appointed Spring Time Table. Favors were frilly bonnets made of pink and white tulle trimmed with tiny forget-me-not blossoms tied with green ribbon. . . Mrs. John Gill, president, presided at the punch service. . . Members and guests attending included: Mmes. Walton Bailey, John Gill, Cameron Marsh, Knox Kinard, H. A. Gilliland, Tom Perkins, Bernard Johnson, Elmer Fisher, George Taylor, Claud Drew, F. J. Wilemon-Jones Say Nuptial Vows

Miss Alleen Wilemon and George N. Jones, son of Mrs. Clara D. Jones of Denham Springs, Ala. and the late Dr. Thomas W. Jones, were united in marriage on Mar. 24 in a double-ring ceremony performed in the East Side Baptist Church in Borger by the Rev. M. Glenn. . . Mr. and Mrs. Grady W. Jones of Borger were the couple's attendants. . . The bride was graduated from Goshen, Ala. high school and from the Modera School of Business. . . Mr. and Mrs. Jones plan to make their home in Pampa where he is self-employed.

BSP To Name City's 1961 Woman of Year

The First Lady of the Year in Pampa will be named and honored next Sunday afternoon at a three o'clock reception to be given in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Sponsoring this event are the Exemplar, Rho Eta and Upsilon Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, an international organization of women which is undertaking this widespread recognition of women leaders, community by community, women who have contributed most to community development in one phase or another. Beta Sigma Phi members are not eligible for the award.

Pampa ladies so-honored in the past have been Mrs. W. R. Campbell in 1945; Mrs. Carl J. Wright, 1946; Mrs. Huey Laycock, 1948; Mrs. James Massa, 1949; Mrs. Arthur Teed, 1950; Mrs. Dick Hughes, 1951; Mrs. Rufe Jordan, 1952; Mrs. H. H. Hicks, 1953; Mrs. Jack P. Foster, 1954; Mrs. Raymond Harrah, 1955; Mrs. A. D. Hills, 1956; Mrs. R. H. Nensiel 1957; Mrs. Inez Carter, 1958; Mrs. Roy McKernan, 1959; and Mrs. Dona Cornutt in 1960.

In Pampa, the organization has three chapters. Internationally, the sorority has chapters in the United States, the territory of Hawaii, Canada, England, Scotland, Japan, Arabia, Australia, Guam and Greece.

Germany, Finland, Austria, Saudi Arabia, and Mexico. Beta Sigma Phi has many claims to recognition itself, in cultural and community service. Although primarily concerned with cultural and social developments, in peacetime as in war, members have given generously of their abilities, time, effort and money to aid their respective communities and nations.

Women, everywhere, according to BSP, are giving their efforts and talents to community development. It is for this reason that the organization believes recognition is due the First Lady of the Year in every community. Who will be Pampa's First Lady for 1961???? Right now only a very few people know. One thing for sure, she will be a self-made lady, who has helped Pampa grow into the community it is today.

Her name will be released to the general public on these women's pages for the first time next Sunday and a few of the highlights of her life will be depicted in picture form.

Metanet Meets For Work On Sun Flower Quilt

Metanet Quilt Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wayne Phillips, 418 N. Sumner. Members and guests worked on a Sun Flower quilt preceding the luncheon served at noon.

Mrs. Nelse Robinson, Mrs. Billy Tidwell Jr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers were welcomed as guests.

Mrs. J. C. Longan, president, conducted a brief business meeting.

It was reported that Mrs. Jake McGuire was out of town due to the death of her grandmother in Colorado City and that George Hamlin was in the hospital. Door prize was won by Mrs. J. B. Jones.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. J. B. Jones, 1018 S. Hobart on April 13.

Members attending were Mmes. Forrest Cloyd, J. B. Jones, Wayne Phillips, Margie Hausman, Earl O'Neal, George Phillips, Gene Tolison, George Hamlin and J. C. Longan.

Mrs. Moxley Has Circle Meeting

Lillie Mae Hundley Circle of Hobart Street Baptist Church met Tuesday morning at 9:30 with Mrs. E. J. Moxley, 113 S. Wells.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. J. B. Fife for missionaries and the ill members of the church.

In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Ed Foran, Mrs. H. C. Willie conducted a brief business meeting.

Mrs. A. B. Clark presented a Bible lesson on stewardship.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Members present were Mmes. J. B. Fife, Bill Simpson, E. J. Moxley, H. C. Wilkie, I. H. Woodward, J. J. Alexander, A. B. Clark.

PLANS JUNE VOWS

Miss Carolyn Ann Harvey

Wedding plans have been announced by Miss Carolyn Ann Harvey of Lefors, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harvey and Lee R. Blankenburg son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foster of Lefors. The date has been set for June 3 in the First Baptist Church of Lefors. (Photo, Smith Studio)

Instruction School Planned By Council

A School of Instruction, sponsored by the City Council PTA, for all incoming officers and committee chairmen, will be held Tuesday morning from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. in Lamar School. . . Instructors for the different courses will be Mmes. Carlton Nance, James Lewis, Paul Turner, Don Cain; J. A. Sears, E. A. McLennan, Ray E. Wilson, Gerald Hogsett, W. C. Puryear and Tom Braly. . . The purpose of the school is to acquaint all new officers and chairmen of their respective duties which they will assume with the opening of schools next fall. . . A nursery will not be provided for this instruction course.

Top O' Texas Garden Club Makes Plans For Spring Installation Fete

Plans for the Top of Texas Garden Club's Installation Luncheon were made at the club's meeting held Tuesday at 1:30 in the home of the president, Mrs. Jamie Deal, 2144 Chestnut.

The luncheon date has been set for May 23 at which time Mrs. H. H. Boynton will be the guest speaker.

During the club meeting, plans for landscaping the grounds around the Pampa Youth and Community Center were discussed with Mr. Bruce of Bruce Nurseries.

Mrs. Tom Patton, project chairman, reported that the planter box, which the club had been asked to plant, had been filled with plants and placed in the East Entrance of City Hall.

It was also announced that W. G. McComas, Montgomery Ward store manager, had donated rose bushes for the Perryton Parkway flower garden. Plants were made for planting in the flower beds at the Courthouse Annex.

Mrs. Patton presented a talk on "Greenhouse Gardening" during the meeting.

Mrs. C. K. Templeton Sr. of Pawhuska, Okla., Mrs. Guy White of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. G. N. Massey and Mrs. Guy Ritchy, both of Pampa, were welcomed as guests.

Refreshments were served during the social hour from a table appointed with a green cloth covered with lace and centered with an Easter centerpiece.

Mrs. Fred Hinkley will be hostess for the April 11 meeting at 1:30 in her home, 501 N. Nelson.

Members attending were Mmes. H. H. Huntley, Kaneth Osborn, Tom Patton, O. M. Prigmore, R. E. Anderson, Jamie Deal, J. S. Hawley, Fred Hinkley, Helen Knox, Rhuel Samples and L. B. Robertson.

John P. Stephens Feted-On Birthday

John P. Stephens, 324 Roberts, was honored with a Surprise Coffee and gifts on the occasion of his 63rd birthday this past week by the members of the Coronado Inn staff.

The cake, presented to the honoree, was beautifully decorated and baked by his son-in-law, E. C. King.

Mr. Stephens, retired after 40 years with the Gulf Oil Co., is now employed by the Coronado Inn.

State Prexy Speaker At Business Meeting

Mrs. Harry S. Griffiths of Austin, state president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke to delegates at the Top of Texas District convention on Thursday in Lee Junior High School.

The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. W. W. Adcock, pastor of the First Methodist Church followed by a selection of songs presented by the Acapella choir of Pampa High School directed by Hugh Sanders.

After ten months of the Top of Texas District being in existence, Mrs. Griffiths complimented the club women for the work they have done in different departments. She pointed out that the ESO Reading Course now offers eight different subjects from which to choose.

She suggested Finland as her choice of countries to study for several reasons: "The main one being that they repaid their war debt to us at the end of World War I."

Mrs. Griffiths urged every clubwoman to visit the library during Library Week which begins April 14.

She asked members to encourage good television programs rather than criticize the bad ones. She re-emphasized that "nothing good is ever accomplished without enthusiasm."

Mrs. Griffiths informed the group that she had been invited to attend and to open the Trades Fair in Finland and that she would like to go with her.

In outlining activities for clubwomen next year, she said that she would like more emphasis placed on United Nations Day. She would also like for the Endowment Fund for the Federation Club headquarters in Austin to be completed.

During the business meeting, a

JUNE VOWS

Miss Barbara Loretta Matney, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Matney, 817 W. Kingsmill, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Loretta to Jon Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daniels, of Belvedere, Ill. Wedding vows will be solemnized on June 10 at two o'clock in St. Matthews Episcopal Church. (Photo, Quall's Studio)

Courtesy Resolution was passed expressing appreciation to the clubwomen of Pampa for a successful convention.

Shamrock's invitation to hold the 1962 convention there was accepted. Winners in the Vogue Style Show, held during the Thursday luncheon, were Miss Sheila Donelson of Stratford, first; Miss Elaine Yarbrough of Wellington, second; Miss Evelyn James of Borger, third in the student division.

In the Club Women's division, Mrs. Earl Atkinson of Lefors placed first; Mrs. John Bookout of Hartley, second; Mrs. Mack Bush of Wellington, third.

Special guests at the Thursday luncheon were Mrs. Jefferson Davis Atwood of Roswell, N. M. and Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, past state president.

Committees, not previously mentioned before in connection with the convention planning were those of the Platform-Arrangements with Mrs. V. J. Jamieson in charge and the Fine Arts Committee headed by Mrs. Carl Hills, Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Aubrey Steele.

Also included in the convention business was the approval of two resolutions: instruction of foreign languages in the primary grades of our public school; a resolution commemorating the Texas Civil War Centennial; 3) a resolution excluding atheistic teaching in Texas Public Schools.

Miss Prock To Play For State Meet Of Federated Music Clubs In McAllen

Miss Jean Prock, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Prock, 2319 Mary Ellen, and piano student of Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, will be performing in two important musical events in the near future.

On April 7 and 8, she will play at the State Federated Music Club Convention in McAllen, representing this district. She will appear both on the Friday evening program, playing the third movement of the Haydn Concerto in D Major and also Playera by Grandos. On Saturday she will play the Beethoven Sonata in F in the Junior Day concert.

Accompanying her to McAllen will be her parents and Mrs. Yoder who will play orchestral parts of the Haydn and Beethoven numbers on a second piano.

On April 23, Jean will perform with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra in the concert, which will be presented by student winners in the recent Symphony auditions held in February. She earned this honor by placing first among 29 contestants in the younger division. The contest selection for this group was the Beethoven Sonata.

Jean has been an outstanding piano student for the past five years. She has earned each year an International Certificate in the National Piano Auditions, for the preparation of 20-piece programs, with ratings in the superior bracket. She has also won cash prizes in the Recording Competition sponsored also by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

She has participated for several years in the Amarillo Symphony Auditions, and has also taken an Miss Jean Prock, talented Miss active part in the musical activities of her church and school. Jean is a member of the Stephen F. Austin school band this year.

"Finland" Forms Program Tonic For Civic Culture Club Tuesday Meeting

"Finland", one of the most northern, independent nations in the world was the program topic given by Mrs. Carl E. Axelson at the Civic Culture Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. C. Houchin.

Mrs. Axelson described Finland as "a land of wooded hills, rocky fells, rivers, marshes, archipelagoes and still blue lakes dotted with islands."

"Sited as it is on the Great Northern peninsula, it was long a battleground in the struggle between Russia and Sweden," Mrs. Axelson stated. "And it later years, Finland has had an almost constant struggle for its own independence."

"Today," she said, "Finland is a progressive nation of hard-working people... a nation proud of its independence and determined to keep its independence."

"It main wealth," the speaker told the group, "is there for all to see: the forest, 55 million acres of it. Finland's economy is based on wood; wood is used for fuel, as building material, and it is, above all, the raw material of the country's chief industries."

"The wood-working industry employs more than one fourth of the labor force not counting the loggers."

"All other industries depend largely on raw materials imported from abroad." "Finland and the Scandinavian countries have paved the way for modern design in furniture, glass and ceramics," she concluded.

dew tell!

Doris E. Wilson Pampa News Women's Editor

As the last piece of luggage was stored in car trunks and cars carrying delegates sped away from the portico of the Coronado Inn into the teeth of an approaching blizzard...

Planning for a convention, no matter how large or small, is a Big Chore. But just like planning for Christmas, though it is done with love and enthusiasm, you can't help but feel glad when it is over!

We don't have an official statement from Icie Harrah, convention co-ordinator; nor Harlene Rose and Peggy Daniel, convention chairmen to whom the largest responsibility of convention planning fell, but we imagine it would be this bit of advice...

This early and long-range planning was partly the key to the success of the convention, we are sure; plus the whole-hearted cooperation and enthusiasm of convention chairmen and their committees...

Another of the convention highlights was Dr. Richard Crews, as the Thursday morning breakfast speaker who scored a big hit with the ladies with his down-to-earth philosophies mingled with a bit of poetry...

Here's just a sample description of the table decorations for each affair: the district board luncheon, the banquet, the breakfast, and the luncheon.

On Wednesday night, the banquet scene was formed with pink Easter Egg trees formed from fluffy pink Kleenex studded with white eggs tipped with a gold bauble.

The breakfast decorations were in turquoise and featured kites and hyacinths down the center of the table placed on ruffles of fans...

For the luncheon, the Pink and Fluffy Easter Egg trees were brought out again and this time huge butterflies lighting on fluffy pink Kleenex tissue flowers were added.

When you stop to think of how large the Starlight Room is, you can then imagine how much decorating it took to make anything show up...

The way the decoration committee worked was a marvel!! As soon as one function was over, those decorations were whisked off the tables, carried down the corridor, across the lobby, down another corridor to Room 113...

At the Thursday luncheon, we had the pleasure of being seated next to Mr. W. B. Sims of Wellington, whom we had met at the Texas Federation of Music Clubs at its meeting here last October.

When a man and woman are walking together, he doesn't hold her arm when they cross a street. He OFFERS her his arm.

Manners Make Friends

Clean ivory or plastic piano keys with a soft, damp cloth and a very small amount of mild, white soap suds. Rub keys gently and dry them thoroughly. Avoid letting moisture collect between keys.

Mrs. Jack Cullison, president, presided and made announcements of coming events. Mrs. R. E. Warren, county missions chairman introduced the extension members and guests...

A panel composed of Mmes S. Skinner, Bob Callahan, Lloyd Ray, R. C. Brown, and Charlie Thomas discussed America and its many needs for the gospel of Christ today.

Mr. Don Turner, soloist, sang "How Long Must We Wait" at the close of the program.

Dismissal prayer was led by Mrs. E. B. Avis. Forty-eight ladies were present.

The troop will meet next on April 6.

Uncle Billy Frost was absent from the party on Thursday afternoon (Editor's Note: after Mrs. Norris told us this, we got Uncle Billy on the phone just to see why he was absent and learned that his "trick" knee had given away on him when he was downtown on last Tuesday, and that he had fallen. That plus the inclement weather made it seem feasible to stay at home.

Mrs. T. C. Nicholson and Mrs. Chester Nicholson had as guests over the last weekend, Mr. T. C. Nicholson's son and family, the Raymond Nicholsons of Moline, Ill. The Illinois guests also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nicholson in White Deer and with his niece, Mrs. Don Hickman in Pampa. Thanks to Mrs. Bessie Nicholson for this news item!!!

Mrs. Katie Vincent entertained her daughter, Mrs. Joe Vincent and granddaughter, Nancy Vincent of Dumas on Tuesday.

The brother of Mrs. C. G. Miller, who has been a patient in a hospital in Bethany, Okla., passed away last Saturday after a long illness. The Seniors extend their sincere sympathy to Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. J. L. Bain of Clarendon visited with her son and family, the J. L. Bains and also with Mrs. C. S. Boston, 2226 Chestnut. Mrs. Bain is a friend of Mrs. Lillian Brunelle.

We're going to have a brief vacation from column writing next week, but we'll be here again on April 18. Love, Mrs. Norris.

The couple are students at West Texas State and plan to continue with their studies after marriage.

Mrs. Gilleland Is Hostess To Circle

The Grayson Tension Circle of Highland Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Ira Gilleland, 409 Lowry for Bible Study.

The business meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. L. F. Karlin. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Ray Jackson followed by a discussion of plans for the church's revival.

Mrs. Morris Belote conducted the study of Genesis followed by discussion. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attending were Mmes. Harry Muns, Eunice Hunt, R. E. Stroud, Ray Jackson, Mrs. Minnie Parker who was welcomed as a guest.

Ask The Designer

By GAILE DUGAN

Dear Gaile: The news I've been reading about the new Paris clothes worries me. I don't like this idea of short, full skirts, I happen to love sheath dresses. I buy several new ones each season and have no intentions of giving them up, come what may. But I hope I'm not going to have a hard time to find pretty, becoming sheaths. Are they really going out? — Mrs. A. J.

Dear Mrs. A. J.: Stop worrying. The sheath is always with us in some form. It has become a fashion classic, like the shirtwaist dress but because so many women do love it. However, I wanted an expert opinion on this. So I discussed the problem with a famous California designer, Mr. Blackwell. He believes that girls should be girls and the clothes he designs display the feminine figure beautifully. This is what he has to say:

"Absolutely not! They're not out and they're not going out. The fitted sheath is elegant if it is expertly cut and properly fitted. It isn't a simple matter to cut a sheath so that its lines are subtle.

"My advice to you is to put your money into sheaths this spring. But do buy the very best that you can afford."

Dear Gaile: I am planning on using one of the new pink shades for my new spring suit. Which shade would be most suitable for my dark blond hair, blue eyes and fair complexion? Also what color for accessories and jewelry. Would accent it best? The suit jacket will have a circlet collar and I wonder if that is becoming to a person with a neck that is a little on the thin side, like myself. Also, I'm planning to buy a mink stole. What color mink should I buy? I'm short, only 5'1". — Mrs. E. C.

Dear Mrs. E. C.: I have turned the first part of your fashion question over to designer Abe Schrader for his expert opinion. (He specializes in proportioned clothes for petite women. And he says:

"I think that a suit in hot pink will be a wise selection if you plan to buy more than one suit this spring. Since you are fair and petite, she should look lovely in hot pink. I'd like to see you accessorize it with a paler pink pearl and crystal necklace and matching drop earrings.

Altrusa Members Hear See Intricate Workings Of The Abstract Business

J. C. McCollough, regional vice president, Texas Title Ass'n., was program guest at the Altrusa Club of Pampa dinner meeting Monday evening in the Coronado Inn. The program, planned by Jay Flanagan, Public Affairs committee member and introduced by Mrs. Ray E. Wilson, chairman, was entitled "Under All Is The Land" and concerned the intricate business of the importance of real estate purchasers protecting themselves with mortgage and title insurance.

Special guests were Mrs. Willie O'Neal of Panhandle, Mrs. Roy McIlhene, Miss Norma Briden, Mrs. Jack P. Foster's mother, Mrs. Ada Brown of St. Louis, Mo. Preceding the meeting, new members were initiated into the club by Mrs. Irl Smith, information committee member assisted by Mrs. B. M. Behrman, chairman.

Using symbols to illustrate their professions, Mrs. Smith welcomed Mmes. Viola Jordan, Dona Cornutt, Coyle Ford, Larlor Wilkerson in a ceremony assisted by Mmes. Clay Coston, F. A. Hukill, Lorene Locke and Vera Lard. Mrs. Mary Musgrave Hutchinson, who was unable to attend, will be initiated at a later date. During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Clyde Vanderberg, president, delegates to the Altrusa International Convention to be held in Denver on July 23-27 were elected. Mrs. L. L. Harkins, incoming president and Mrs. Lorene Locke, incoming vice president, were named as delegates with Mrs. Irl Smith and Mrs. W. F. Yeager named as alternates. Mrs. Vanderberg also urged as many members as possible to attend the district workshop to be held in Lubbock on April 22.

The information quiz question asked in three parts by Mrs. Behrman was won by Mmes. Locke, Mary Martin and D. E. Robinson. Mrs. Marian Osborne was winner of the door prize.

The dining tables were appointed with maps of Texas, fashioned in styrofoam with Daisies and white tapers placed in a blue-ribbed base by Mrs. Roy Kay.

Hicks, spiritual life; Aubrey Steele, student work; Gerald Marlar, youth work; G. F. Branson, publicity; Kermit Lawson and Lee Harrah, membership; Bob Echols, Carlton Nance, Glenn Radcliff, nominating; John Brewer, supply.

During the business meeting the current president, Mrs. Lawson, announced that the Pampa district meeting would be held in McLean on April 10 beginning at 9:30. Mrs. Colville reported on the WSCS annual meeting in Vernon.

Preceding the program, Mrs. Arthur Bluhm sang "If You Know the Lord" and "God Bless America." Mrs. Colville introduced the guest speaker Rabbi Arthur Bluhm of Amarillo, who discussed "Source of Christian Beliefs," in which he said "we all seek the same God even if our approach is different."

The Rev. W. W. Adcock closed the meeting with prayer. Circles Three and Four were hostesses during the social hour.

CAPPING SERVICE — New Red Cross Gray Ladies received caps and certificates of membership at a Spring Coffee held Wednesday morning in the City Club Room. Participating in the ceremony were Mrs. Jack P. Foster, Red Cross Gray Lady chairman, Mmes. Mary B. Walker, Mary Wharton, Ann Taylor, new Gray Ladies, Mrs. Dorothy McMurtry, registered nurse and Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Red Cross executive secretary. (Daily News Photo)

Three Capped In Gray Lady Service

Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Mrs. W. L. Walker and Mrs. A. A. Wharton received their caps in a capping service at a Spring Coffee held Wednesday morning in the City Club Room. Certificates were presented by Robert Blackburn, field representative from Amarillo.

During the social hour, which preceded the capping service, Mrs. James Lewis and Mrs. Mack Harmon, hostesses, presided at the refreshment table, which was attractively appointed in an Easter motif.

Dr. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, gave an inspirational talk of encouragement to the new Gray Ladies urging them to spend as much time doing this service as possible "for the more you work, the more pleasure you will receive for yourselves."

Mrs. Jack P. Foster, Gray Lady chairman, announced that Mrs. James Lewis had been selected as the Gray Lady chairman for 1961.

Mrs. James McMurtry, Red Cross Nurse, assisted with the capping ceremony.

Gray Ladies attending were Mmes. W. R. Ladd, Roy Kretzmeier, Mable Winters, Jess Beard, Ola McAfee, E. N. Franklin, Eleanor McNamara, W. J. Woodard, Lynn Boyd, F. A. Hukill, Louise Sewell and A. D. Hills.

Dear Abby... Can't Teach Old Dog New Tricks!

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a milkman for over 30 years. All he has ever been able to talk about are the women on his route. He says he knows more about some of them than their husbands do. He's the kind of person women like to sit down with and tell their troubles to. When other milkmen have been home for hours, my husband is still out listening to these mixed-up women. He says it is all in a day's work and I should be more understanding. I'd like your views.

NOT UNDERSTANDING

DEAR NOT: Clergymen, and marriage counselors do not deliver milk by the quart, and milkmen shouldn't be collecting tears by the bucket. But if this has been going on for over 30 years, it's too late to change him.

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old boy came home from the barber shop with a MOHAWK. His hair was shaved all over except for a strip in the center. Now I have had it! I put up with the D. A., the Swan, the Swirl and the Bull, but this is too much. Don't you think a barber should have a note from the mother before going ahead with those foolish hair-cuts? I ought to make my boy wear stocking cap until this grows out.

DISGRACED

DEAR DISGRACED: Don't blame the barber. He was only following your son's instructions. If you can't rely on your boy's judgment, send a note with him, call the barber in advance, or go along and supervise.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I became a widow but I would still like my mail addressed MRS. H.W. SMITH (not my real name). I have been told that I should drop my husband's initials and use my own. Why? I still feel proud of my husband's name and want to continue to use it. Even the receptionist at the doctor's office corrected me and said in the future I should use MRS. MARY SMITH. I want to do the correct thing. What is it??

CONFUSED WIDOW

DEAR CONFUSED: You may continue to use your husband's name. You are STILL Mrs. H. W. Smith.

DEAR ABBY: We have a girl in our room at school (8th grade) who has all the boys after her, but she is getting a bad reputation. She wears her hair in a pony tail and we have told her that she will be bald-headed before she gets to high school because that style makes your hair fall out if you keep it that way long enough. Also, she rolls up her skirts at the waist to make them shorter, and we could mention other things, too, if we wanted to be catty. How can we let her know she is losing friends without giving her the idea

PERENNIAL COAT DRESS — A good breakfast should include a serving of fruit rich in vitamin C, enough protein to keep hunger away until lunch, a glass of milk, and bread or cereal to round out energy needs.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Stark, former Pampa residents, now making their home at 2406 S. Roberts in Amarillo, were honored by their children upon the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Mar. 26th. Hosts were Andrews R. Stark of Independence, Mo.; Mrs. W. E. Gillespie, Lewis R. Stark, Douglas M. Stark, Warren O. Stark, Willis L. Stark, Lowell M. Stark, all of Amarillo, Mrs. A. R. Sanchez of Houston; Mrs. W. D. Powers of Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Stark have 18 grandchildren. They were married Mar. 22, 1911 in Dodge City, Kan., and moved to Pampa in 1926, where they resided until they moved to Amarillo in 1957. Mr. Stark has been a carpenter and building contractor for 45 years.

NOTED HAPIST — Rene Coates, best known for her role as harpist in the movie, "The Ten Commandments," will accompany the First Baptist Church choir when it presents the "Seven Last Words," by Dubois, at this evening's worship service at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Coates, a graduate of Julliard School of Music in New York, has made a concert tour of Europe and played for the International Harp Festival in Israel. A resident of Amarillo, Mrs. Coates is a member of the Amarillo Symphony. She also was soloist for the Roger Wagner Chorale on Capitol Records.

★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

Beautiful furnishings and inspired color schemes do not necessarily make a home. They make a good start but only a start—not the completely desired look.

This look is achieved only when the family's personality shines through. Books, magazines, flowers and the loved possession of those who live there turn a beautiful house into a home. Make your house work for you to reflect you and yours. Beware of the stage setting look that is beautiful but cold and devoid of the little things that complete the picture after the actual decorating is finished.

Dear Polly: My kitchen floor is blue with white, gray and black speckles. Kitchen set is blue and gray. Cupboards and wood trim are walnut. I am undecided on pink or yellow for the walls. One wall will be papered one of those colors with curtains to match. Which color do you suggest? What accent color for toaster and mixer covers, flower pots and so on? I want a cozy look.—Mrs. C. G.

Dear Mrs. C. G.: Don't get confused in your attempt to be cozy. White walls would show off your walnut cupboards. Curtains could be blue, white and yellow plaid gingham. This fabric might be quilted to make the covers for small appliances but plain, clear plastic would be my own choice. Paint your flower pots black. I do hope they are filled with blooming red geraniums.

Dear Polly: I would like advice on decorating my teen-age boy's room. The rug is light gray and the door opens into a pink hall. What colors for walls, cafe curtains and bedspreads? I would like to paint the furniture. What color do you suggest? —Mrs. G. E. M. Jr.

Dear Mrs. G. E. M.: Olive green and gold would be smart (and not feminine-looking). Paint the walls light gray and make curtains of olive, gold and gray striped denim. Paint the furniture dull black and use gold corduroy spreads on the beds. For a dash of gaiety, paint one chair Chinese red.

Dear Polly: We are refurbishing our living room in traditional style. Drapes, which cover one wall, are white and gold damask. Carpet is brown. Could you suggest colors for walls, sofa, two matching arm chairs and an occasional chair? —Mrs. J. K.

Dear Mrs. J. K.: White or dull gold walls could be used in your living room. My choice would be white. A dull gold textured fabric might cover the sofa. Use brown cotton velvet on the two chairs. Then pep things up with green-and-white stripes on the other chair. A large green plant or two, brass lamps and an important piece of green glass would also look well.

TOOTHBRUSH HAIR

For a really clean hairline, try rubbing your shampoo into the front, sides and back with an old toothbrush each time you wash your hair.

Violet Society Planning Show

The first African Violet Show to be staged in Pampa is being planned by the African Violet Society for April 22 in the First National Bank Bldg., 107 Ballard. The doors will be open to the public from 12 noon until six o'clock. The theme will be planned around "Violets At the Top of Texas."

Mrs. V. N. Osborn, general chairman, states that all amateur growers in the Pampa area are invited to bring their violets and other house-plants to the show anytime between the hours of 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. on the day of the show. "The entries will not be judged this year by African Violet judges, but each person attending will be allowed to vote on the violet he thinks is the most outstanding." A number of gifts, pertaining to the growth of violets, will be given to those who attend the show in appreciation of their attendance.

Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. C. C. Matheny, president of the African Violet Society, suggest that all growers of African violets and houseplants begin to groom plants in preparation for the show.

Serving on the committee are Mmes. Osborn, chairman; Holly Gray, schedules; Joe Shelton, staging and properties; Norman Walberg, entries; R. F. Dirksen, classification; K. W. Bunch, hospitality; C. C. Matheny, sales table; P. V. Rowe, educational exhibit and Thelma Bray, publicity.

BEAUTY TO WED — DENVER (UPI)—Marilyn VanDerbur, Miss America of 1958, said Thursday she had decided to marry her football hero after all. Miss VanDerbur, 23, daughter of a Denver undertaker, said she and Gary Nady, 26, a former University of Colorado football star and now head coach at Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa, will wed in June.

Nady and Miss VanDerbur became engaged in 1959, while she was completing her studies at Colorado University after a year's tour as Miss America.

Blossom Into A Beauty This Spring With Routine

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
This time of year can be a dis-surprising one for beauty-conscious women.
Fashion photos of lovely models, chic in new spring costumes, make us aware that while we may feel like spring, we look like winter.
The combination of cold winds and overheated rooms has taken its toll of our skin and hair and lift them dry and lifeless.

But cheer up! A planned beauty routine will restore the soft, fresh look that is so much a part of springtime.
Might as well start at the top,
for your hair is your most conspicuous beauty asset. If it has become dry and brittle during the winter months, give yourself

Do you really know how to brush your hair? Correct daily brushing treatment, you'll find that will add to its health and beauty. Third sudsing is needed to remove. Let your head hang down and the oil.
You'll feel your scalp tingle.
After the rigors of winter, your entire body may tend to dryness.
Your hair should be washed just so make each bath a beauty treat-as often as it needs it, whether it ment. Soak in warm soapsuds for be twice a week or once every ten a while before you begin to wash.

Then, using a brush and plenty of sudsy lather, give yourself a good, all-over scrubbing. Bath oil in the water will help, too.
Dry yourself thoroughly with a soft, thick towel, and then use body lotion for lubrication.
Even when you wash your hands, get all the softening action out of 53rd

YEAR
it that you can. Massage the lather and warm (not hot) water over each finger and over the wrists, now, to a planned beauty program,
Dry carefully, pushing back the cuticles with the towel. Then finish with an application of hand spring frock.

Local Artists To Exhibit In Amarillo

The Amarillo Legal Secretaries Association, a non-profit organization, is sponsoring the First Annual Invitational Exhibition of Paintings of outstanding artists in this area the first showing of its kind ever attempted in Amarillo.
The exhibition will be held in the Federated Women's Club, 2001
Wolflin Circle, on April 9 from one to six o'clock p.m.
Exhibitors from Pampa will include Mmes. Billy B. Davis, Raymond Harrah, Howard Johnson,
Misses Ruth and Helene Huff.
The purpose of this exhibition is to foster a closer relationship between artists in this area and the general public and to raise money for a Legal Secretaries Scholarship Fund. The Association hopes to make this an annual affair so that these goals may be perpetuated.

Each artist who has accepted an invitation to exhibit will enter one painting, and a prize of $125.00 will be awarded to the exhibitor of the painting selected as outstanding by the jurors for the exhibition: Professor Emeritus Isabel Robinson, Professor Chris Gikas and Dr. Wm. E. Laur.
Entries have been received from Amarillo and from numerous other cities and towns in the area. The exhibition promises to be varied as to subject matter, style and media, with oils and water colors predominating. The exhibition should be of special interest to art students of high school age for the opportunity it will offer to view many different styles and techniques.

Some of the paintings will be for sale, but this is at the option of the exhibitor.
Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students under 16 and service men.
The Federated Women's Club is just to the east of Wolflin Village in Amarillo and can be reached by turning east from Georgia Street to Wolflin Avenue.

Contest Winners To Perform For Treble Clef Club

Treble Clef Club will present instrumental and vocal winners in the University of Texas Interscholastic League Contest, which was held recently in Amarillo, at the clubs' meeting Tuesday evening at 7:45 in the City Club Room.

Representing Pampa Junior High School will be a clarinet quartet and two instrumental solos, which were instructed by Homer Krueger, Pampa Junior High band instructor.

Robert E. Lee Junior High Band, under the direction of Joe DiCosimo, will be represented by a French Horn quartet and a clarinet quartet.

Pat Overton and Russell Veale, Lee 9th grade choir members, will sing the solo which won them a
No. One rating at the contest.

Three instrumental solos will be presented by members of the Pampa High School band under the direction of Bill Tregoe. The vocal department, directed by Hugh Sanders, will be represented by a sophomore boys quartet with solos
by Jerry Nichols, Mary Alice Combes and Jean Holman.

Hostesses for the social hour will be Mmes. G. O. Hall, Calvin Whatley, Misses Jane Cheyne and Florza Young.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all his productions, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Tower For The U.S. Senate

To the voter who identifies himself with the currently popular category of "conservative," there is only one thing more frustrating than to find himself without a political candidate whom he can support — and that is to find he must make a choice between two of them.

"Which is the more consistent?" he asks himself. "And which will be more effective if he does win?" The incumbent Sen. Bill Blakley, we believe, would do credit to Texas in the U.S. Senate. Fundamentally, he is a conservative — again, using the currently popular phrase. There is nothing in his record to suggest a serious flirtation with hot-eyed liberalism.

John Tower has a burden as conspicuous as a hump on his back. He is a Republican. In his own words, he has "no influence at all with Lyndon Johnson or Sam Rayburn."

John Tower says he believes with Jefferson that the best government governs least. He says he believes in private enterprise, right-to-work laws, a gradual reduction of our controlled agricultural economy, the Connally amendment which preserves the nation's right to keep domestic issues out of an international court.

He says he is opposed to federal aid to schools, compulsory health insurance, admission of Red China to the U.N. He favors reduction of foreign aid when it is not clearly shown to be vital to the national security of our own country.

"I believe in a federation of states as the Constitution of the United States intended and not in a highly centralized bureaucracy in Washington," Tower says.

It is impossible for a Republican to be elected to the Senate? Is the state a helpless vassal to a political party which is not even remotely similar to the party that

No 'Free' Medicine

Socialized medicine seems so simple and easy, so inexpensive and, above all, "socially just." It seems that way, that is, to those who haven't bothered to get a true picture.

"Socialized hypochondria" is what they call the results of "free" medicine in New Zealand. Here are some items, taken from an article in the Industrial News Review, about the government medicine program as it operates in Great Britain:

It has cost four times what its Socialist proponents said it would. It isn't free. Four-fifths of the costs come from taxes, mostly income taxes. In addition, in a nation where salaries are from 50 to 75 per cent lower than in the U.S., each employe pays $1.50 a week and the employer contributes $1.20 for each of his employes.

THE BASIC EVIL OF UNIONISM

U.S. Attorney Robert Kennedy, the President's brother, is said to have sought his particular post in the federal government because he is determined to successfully prosecute Teamster Union Boss James Hoffa.

"Jimmy" Hoffa is presently under indictment. Certainly, his activities and associations have alarmed the entire nation. If federal prosecutors can produce evidence of wrongdoing by Hoffa & Co., the country will not be displeased.

With equal certainty one can say that good Americans welcome all efforts to root out corruption in unions. It exists all right, for ample evidence was laid on the record in the course of the McClellan Committee hearings in which Robert Kennedy served as special counsel.

David McCord Wright, distinguished American economist now teaching at McGill University in Canada, has well explained that point. "Even if there were no racketeering," Mr. Wright has written, "no violence, no goon squads, no sit-down strikes—even if every pension fund were honestly and intelligently administered—even if every union leader were a personally honest and high-minded man—there still would be a need for restraint upon union action."

Basically, the need for restraint is not caused by corruption but by the threat of power held over a citizen by a vast organization. A union is a state within a state. No free Republic can preserve its democratic processes if it has in its midst a hard-core disciplined organization that wants the powers of government with none of the responsibility.

There are yet other reasons why restraints must be imposed on Big Unionism. Mr. Wright cites how unions "destroy independent management, cut down capital formation," and so on. Indeed the unionist philosophy is one that regards rather than advances an economy. If one reads the speeches and papers issued by union leaders, one quickly sees that they are against rapid growth, incentives, merit pay, and technical change.

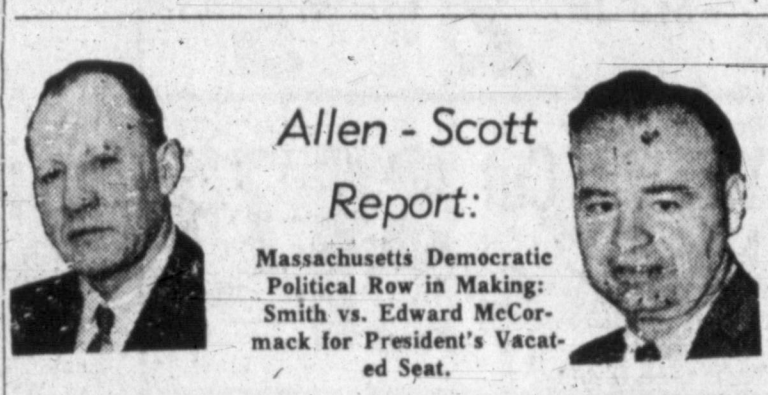

Unions are a monopoly in the United States. Many of the monopolistic unions contain corrupt elements. But even if this corruption were eliminated, there would still remain the basic problem of monopoly. And the union monopoly is one that demands increasingly higher pay without any corresponding hike in productivity. The unions insist on featherbedding and stultifying work rules that retard industry after industry. In short, they are a negative force in American life.

A truly wise U.S. Attorney General would realize that, important as prosecution of hoodlum elements undoubtedly is, a bigger problem confronts the nation. That problem involves the legality of monopolistic powers.

The Attorney General of the United States owes it to the people to look into the deeper issues of excessively concentrated union power.

People complain about the high cost of medical care. But what price can be placed on a child's arm, for instance? Is a refrigerator, for example, worth more to a parent than that his child have a straight, healthy limb? Is his washing machine worth more? How much is a child's health worth compared to the living room carpet? No doubt doctors' rates are excessive in some instances. By this late date they must know that to make such charges is only to add strength to those forces that are demanding socialized medicine.

I've Been Wanting To Meet You—

ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — A spectacular Democratic political row is shaping up in President Kennedy's home state.

From increasing backstage indications, Senator Benjamin Smith, close friend of the President and hand-picked choice for his Senate seat, has decided to run next year, and will be opposed by Massachusetts Attorney General Edward McCormack, nephew of veteran House Democratic leader John McCormack, who headed Massachusetts' delegation to the Los Angeles convention and was floor manager of the President's forces there.

Smith, little-known politically before being appointed to the Senate, has never run for office. In direct contrast, young McCormack was re-elected attorney general last year by a majority second only to the whopping $12,000 by which the President carried his home state.

Because of these factors, Smith had not been expected to be a 1962 candidate. Conjectures were rife that "Bobby" Kennedy, well-known brother of the President and U.S. Attorney General, would seek the remaining two years of his term.

But now Smith is evincing strong intentions to do that. He has hired a press assistant, and is mailing 300,000 copies of a weekly newsletter to Massachusetts voters. State leaders have been informed Smith is available for all the speaking engagements he can take care of outside his Senate work.

Popular and a proven big vote-getter, he has notified Smith, through mutual friends, that he contemplates running for the Senate next year and "welcomes a primary battle."

Representative "Tip" O'Neill (D. Mass.), good friend of both sides, is adding another filip to this explosive backstage situation. "I'm told," says O'Neill, "that Ted Kennedy plans to run for governor."

Edward (Ted) Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, is an assistant district attorney in Boston. Like Smith, 28-year-old Ted has never run for office. He was active in his brother's presidential campaign, as "coordinator" in northern California — which the President carried, although the state went to Nixon when the absentee ballots were counted.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK — There was mention made here recently of the fact that American college students unlike college students in Europe, Asia and Latin America, were a docile group not given to wild demonstrations against political authority of which they did not approve.

Not so his Italian counterpart. His Italian cousin won't take nothin' from nobody, as demonstrated in Naples the other day when a sudden, unexpected strike halted a host of Italian commuters.

I remember a parlor car on the way to Washington some years ago before I took to the flying machines and a conductor was being fairly nasty about things in general. Ma-be he'd had a fight with his wife that morning. A lean, tiny little man with a mustache like a broken brush stood it for three minutes and then let loose.

"You work for me as long as I paid for my ticket and I did," he roared in the voice of a bull. "Now get your manners back in control and leave these people alone or I'll be the blackest day of your life!"

The bully subsided like a punctured balloon and scuttled out of there. Women, at least, gave the little bantam rooster more than admiring glances, but he ignored them and resumed reading his newspaper.

Another time a dining car waiter was being surly and slamming china down on his table. This time a lady — and I mean a lady — stood up, took a plate in both her hands and slammed it down on the table and it smashed into small pieces.

"When children in my house behave stupidly I stop it instantly," she said. "I don't intend to take it in a public dining car for which I'm paying. Now get my breakfast, bring it here and put it down without a sound, a scowl or anything else."

He said, "Yes, MA'AM," and thenceforward was smiles and attentiveness.

Two small explosions, among several I've been fortunate enough to witness, are tiny evidence that when a citizen gets his dander up he also gets courtesy and service. All it takes is a personality willing to be individual and unwilling to be pushed around.

My own detonations take place at the counters of airlines ticket offices at airports when planes are delayed in departure or arrival and you get that sickening, toothpaste gleaming, double-talk from a mouthful of well-tended teeth. Male or female, I don't much care: when it happens I yell and out loud and am not one who is embarrassed by public notice.

Humus is decayed vegetable or animal matter.

Hankering

ROME, Italy — Ever since Megan was born two years and ten months ago I have made daily entries in a massive logbook entitled "The Education of a Father."

Every time I learn something new I write it down. The entries for March, 1961, are: Shuffle, never walk in a dark or dimly-lighted room or hall. Proceed as slowly as if you were 175 years old. All toys have sharp edges, and all toys hate the human shin. This is especially true of a toy automobile, probably the most painful machine ever invented.

A girl's foot grows faster than a miser's bank account. Remember: never buy her a shoe that fits. It won't fly the time she gets out of the store. Children do not hold grudges. They can't wait to play in the afternoon with children who have bitten or whacked them over the head in the morning.

A father's head, when he is in bed, looks exactly like a footstool to a little girl. I have tried putting on a hat in the morning but it doesn't fool Megan a bit. A bandage is a mark of distinction, the Medal of Honor of childhood.

Naked dolls are prettier than dressed ones. (Please remember I am quoting from a child's logbook.) There is no such word as privacy in the child's dictionary. The word quiet is omitted too.

Accepting a gift is with a sullen look as if she were being handed a spoonful of medicine. This is doubly true when the donor is someone who owns gracious, full-of-courtesy children. A cereal that is loved and lapped up one morning is very likely to be hated, despised, and pushed away the next. This is known as Grantham's Law, and is named after little Sarah Grantham who demanded 365 different breakfast cereals each year.

Many things a normal small girl does stretches the meaning of the word normal to the breaking point. One's own child never, never starts the fight that starts the crying. Make it a practice from the start to blame the other child or children. It is one's only defense against other parents.

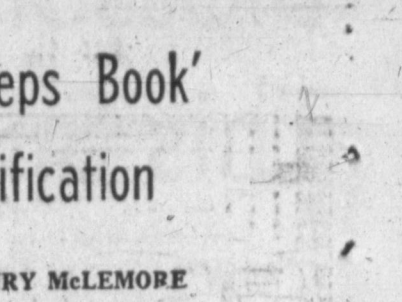

Pulling the stopper out of the tub is far from a sure way to get a small girl out of the tub. She likes a dry one as well as a filled one. If you like a graveled living room floor, the easiest way to get one is to have a gravel walk. The small girl will do the removal from walk to living room free of charge.

One of anything is never enough. Six shovels, ten buckets, five watering cans, and six pairs of rubber scissors are needed. Covers were made to sleep on top of.

One's own child never, never starts the fight that starts the crying. Make it a practice from the start to blame the other child or children. It is one's only defense against other parents.

FELLOWSHIP TOUR (Christian Economics)

A Christian Freedom Fellowship tour through Europe and the Holy Land is scheduled to leave New York City on Wednesday, July 26, 1961 via the Queen Elizabeth and will return from Europe by air on Thursday, August 31, 1961. A minimum of 30 acceptances is required and no more than 100 can be accommodated.

Combining the finest international travel advantages and an unusual opportunity to fellowship with a team of outstanding Christian statesmen, this first Christian Freedom Fellowship tour will feature daily devotional hours and lectures to economic and political problems, maximum sightseeing excursions and pre-arranged world leader interviews.

Leaders include Dr. Howard E. Kershner, who will lecture on "American Civilization"; and John A. Huffman, Jr., tour expediter; who will look after all group and personal travel details.

The itinerary will include England, France, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Switzerland and Germany and will be under the expert arrangement of "Wionna World Travel Service, Inc.," one of the nation's foremost agencies specializing in Holy Land itineraries.

We invite you to send in today for your free, illustrated Christian Freedom Fellowship Tours, Brochure, and to make your 1961 vacation a "dream trip of a lifetime" which will count for God. Address your inquiries to Christian Freedom Fellowship-Tours, Room 1327, 250 West 57th Street, New York 19, New York.

Oil Industry's Expansion Dips, Report Reveals

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Unhealthy conditions in the domestic oil industry "produced the disappointing results in finding new petroleum reserves in 1960," the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America declared today.

Alvin C. Hope, San Antonio, Tex. oilman, pointed out that total U.S. liquid petroleum reserves were expanded by only 188 million barrel barrels, but that crude oil reserves actually declined slightly in 1960.

"Although we had a slight net gain in total reserves of crude oil and natural gas liquids," he said, "this was the second worst showing since World War II. If we are to provide adequately for the future, we need to do better than this."

Hope said a sharp slow-down in U.S. oil exploration and development and the resulting small increase in domestic petroleum reserves "is further evidence that imported oil is taking a disproportionate and harmful share of the U.S. oil market."

"This gives emphasis to the need for re-examination of the tandatory import program with the objective of substantially reducing imports," he said. "The purpose of this program is to maintain a healthy, expanding industry fully capable of meeting our petroleum requirements for economic growth and our defense needs."

He said the reserves report "was not an indication that we do not have adequate oil in this country," but was "evidence of inadequate industry efforts to find and develop our petroleum resources."

He pointed out that the domestic industry actually found more petroleum for each well drilled in 1960 than it did in 1956, the peak year in total wells drilled in the United States.

However, the 9,635 wildcat wells drilled in untested areas in 1960 represented an exploratory drilling rate 26 per cent below 1956, Hope said, while total wells last year were 20 per cent below the 1956 record.

He said the domestic oil producing industry should be "intensifying its exploratory efforts in keeping with our growing demands for energy," and concluded:

"Exploratory funds come primarily from sale of crude oil. Despite rising consumption of petroleum products, domestic crude oil production was 100,000 barrels daily less in 1960 than in 1956. The crude producer not only has contended with declining production, but a constantly worsening cost-price squeeze as well.

"The costs of all elements entering into the finding and producing of oil, such as wages, oil country tubular goods and oil field machinery, have increased steadily, whereas crude oil prices have been in a steadily downward trend.

"If we are to find and develop adequate oil for our future needs, the domestic crude oil producer must be assured of a fair share of the domestic market and a reasonable price for his product. The alternative is further deterioration in our industry and in our abilities to meet future requirements."

National Safety Council Ranking Won By Phillips

Employees of 11 major operating divisions of Phillips Petroleum Company and Phillips Chemical Company, a wholly owned subsidiary, have won top national safety Council ranking for outstanding safety achievements during 1960.

Two of the awards are for first place, recognizing that Phillips employees' frequencies of disabling injuries per million man hours worked were the lowest among like units of all companies competing in the Council's 1960 safety contest. Two other Phillips units are receiving second and third place awards in their divisions, and seven citations for special safety achievements are going to other company units.

Achieving first places in their fields are employees of the drilling division of the Phillips production department and employees of the western district of the natural gasoline department. Second place among all refining operations was won by the Sweeney, Texas refinery, and third place in the petroleum section by the producing division of the production department.

Since 1953, Phillips drilling and producing divisions have each ranked every year in the top three places of their sections in the Council's safety contest, together totaling seven first-place awards in the eight years.

Employees of Phillips Chemical Company's cactus and Goulet plants are receiving awards from the Council for completing the year with no disabling injuries.

Five certificates of achievement are being presented to Phillips employee groups for improvement in disabling injury frequency rates. They are the sales and the research and development departments, the exploration division of the land and geological department, and the Okmulgee refinery.

The company as a whole, as well as the divisions cited, established a frequency record of disabling injuries well below the industry average for 1960.

'Gun' Proves Key Weapon For Industry

NEW YORK — A 26-foot-long gun that shoots new life into oil wells at depths up to four miles is an important weapon in the search for petroleum resource.

Known as a perforator, the gun sends as many as 180 steel bullets crashing into underground rock strata at a single loading. The object, according to an article in Petroleum Today magazine, is the opening of channels through which trapped oil can flow.

Perforators may weigh nearly a ton. They are lowered down the casing of an oil well, then triggered from the surface by a professional perforator "gunner" under the direction of a geologist.

The bullets are fired individually, crashing through the steel well casing, through cement, and into the rock strata. The shots must be placed precisely; sometimes the rock target deep underground is only a few inches thick.

The perforator is used in both new and old wells, the American Petroleum Institute publication reports. In both cases, the giant gun can make possible the recovery of oil from wells that would otherwise have had to be abandoned.

Bolsheviks has been an Olympic Game since 1928.

Wright Promoted By Oil Well Firm

DALLAS — Appointment of Billy E. Wright as U.S. Steel Oil Well Supply Division field representative at Andrews, Tex., was announced today by R. E. Dickson, Central Midwest Area manager of the division.

Wright was employed by "Oil-well" in March, 1952 at Wichita Falls, Tex. He was transferred to Pampa, Tex. in May, 1953, becoming field representative at that location in September, 1957. In November, 1960 he was transferred to Big Spring, Tex., where he was located prior to his present appointment.

A World War II veteran, Wright served in the U.S. Marine Corps from August, 1946 until March, 1948.

Texaco Appoints Division Chief

H. E. Christensen has been appointed Assistant to General Manager, Domestic Producing Department of Texaco Inc., and will be located at Houston, it was announced by H. O. Woodruff, General Manager of the Department.

Christensen, who was graduated from the University of Colorado in 1928, entered the service of Texaco as an instrument man at Ardmore, Oklahoma, that year. He was promoted to geologist at Tulsa in 1929.

Shoreline Petroleum Properties Are Sold

DALLAS — Producing Properties, Inc., Dallas, Texas, today announced that it had acquired all of the Oil and Gas Properties and non-producing acreage of Shoreline Petroleum Corporation of San Antonio.

According to Robert J. Bradley, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Producing Properties, Inc., the transaction involved a consideration in excess of $18,000,000. He further stated that independent engineers estimate that approximately 13,000,000 net barrels and 70 billion net CF of gas were added to the reserves of Producing Properties, Inc. in this acquisition.

The stockholders of Shoreline Petroleum Corporation today approved the sale of substantially all of the assets of that Company in a meeting in San Antonio. Bradley added that while both companies have approved the contract together with the transfer of a very substantial amount of cash, a actual transfer of the properties cannot be concluded until customary title examination has been completed. This is expected to occur within the next two to three months.

The properties involved consist of 260 net oil and gas wells located in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Illinois, New Mexico, Colorado, and Wyoming, plus approximately 55,000 acres of undeveloped leases.

Currently, Shoreline's properties are producing 2200 net barrels per day and from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

No changes in personnel or location of offices will occur until actual transfer has been made some time during the next two or three months, according to Bradley.

Thornton Huddle, President of Shoreline Petroleum Corporation, stated that its wholly owned subsidiary, Viking Drilling Company, (a San Antonio, Based Drilling Contractor) was not included in the sale and would remain in business, with the same management and operating personnel. Bradley indicated that for the present, at least, the Geological and Land Departments will remain in San Antonio although it is quite possible that the Accounting Department would eventually be transferred to Dallas. Shoreline has 105 employees, which will bring PPI's total to approximately 325.

LP-Gas Trucks Fuel Tax Break Right Asserted

The generally lighter weight of LP-Gas-using trucks should free them from the higher fuel tax proposed by the Administration to finance highway construction.

Using a survey of approximately 12,000 LP-Gas fueled trucks to demonstrate the point, Arthur C. Kreutzer, counsel for the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association, asked the House Ways-and-Means Committee to drop LP-Gas from the list of "special fuels" that may face heavier taxation. Kreutzer who was a witness before the Committee on March 21 also suggested that the one-cent tax decrease slated to go into effect July 1 for LP-Gas and other special fuels be permitted.

The highway finance proposal now before Congress is aimed at raising more tax money through levies on heavy vehicles and their fuels. The Administration reasons that these trucks are the prime users of the interstate highway system.

From a recently completed survey LPGA found that 87.8 per cent of the LP-Gas fueled trucks used by the industry itself and 84.6 per cent of the trucks used by LP-Gas marketers' customers weigh less than the 26,000 lb. (loaded weight). That figure is the one picked by the Administration proposal as the breaking point between light and heavy vehicles.

Kreutzer also pointed out that many vehicles using LP-Gas are local delivery fleets which are not extensive users of the new road network.
