Eugene Dennis, Ex-Communist Leader, Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) - Eugene Dennis, 56, former head of the U.S. Communist party who was downgraded a year ago, died Tuesday night of lung cancer. Dennis, who served several jail terms for his activities, had been ill ever since he lost party power and had returned last week to Mt. Sinai Hospital for treatment, party spokesman said. Grev-haired and tweedy looking. Dennis was a dogged follower of whatever line Moscow laid down no matter how ridiculous his self-reversals made him look He devotedly backed Stalin after World War II, going so far as to say that criticism of the Russian dictator constituted slander. But after Nikita S. Khrushchey rose to power and made his "destalinization" speech in 1956, it took Dennis only two weeks to change his public position in 'Daily Worker" article.

Dennis was born on Aug. 10, 1904 in Seattle, Wash. He was christened Francis Xavier Waldron after the saint, but he changed his name to Eugene Denafter joining the Communists.

officially in 1926 in Seattle after today over the "Lavon affair." working at various jobs as a laborer and joining the "Wobblies, the nickname of the International Workers of the World.

May Establish Coalition Rule

HAVANA (UPI) - Foes of Premier Fidel Castro, heartened by President Kennedy's State of the Union speech, were said today to be planning to form a "coalition government" in the mountains of central Cuba.

Informed sources said anti-Cas troite leaders were confident the militiamen who have been cordoning off rebel positions in the Escambray Mountains for weeks would never be able to dislodge them from their mountain strongholds.

Travelers from central Cuba said skirmishes between the militia and the rebels occur almost nightly, but reliable sources said Castroite forces were making no effort to advance into the moun-

Official secrecy veiled details of casualties inflicted by the nightly clashes.

Government authorities hav been moving militiamen into the Escambray area from all over Cuba, and there have been recurrent reports that a government offensive was imminent.

There have been some indications that the government is having trouble with its own forces. Travelers arriving here said few of the soldiers seen in the streets of towns in the central province of Las Villas carry arms, suggesting that the Castroites are placing most of their dependence on the militia - perhaps because they are more certain of its loyalty than that of the army. New regulations requiring Cubans employed at the U.S. Navy's big Guantariamo base to carry special police passes went into effect Tuesday.

Although there were no immediate reports of interference with E. L. Green Jr., who is district Mr. Danny Ashford, Mrs. R. A. THE HUNGRY ONES—At a pancake and waffle eating contest in New York, Ann Grossman, 2½, and tiny David Berube were short on size but long on appetite. The youngsters are shown going to town in the individual style that made them the two winners of the event.

IT'S THE SMALLEST—A two-cell jailhouse, probably the smallest in the world, is this cramped-for-space hut. It's the only jail in Cahuita, Costa Rica. The town has a population of only 1,500, so it is unlikely that this jail is ever too much in demand.

PLEASURE—Two of the tots at an orphanage in Pubwon, South Korea, are expressing their appreciation of gifts of food, clothing, toys and money from the people of Keene, N. H. A fellow townsman, Lt. Horace D. Verry, who is stationed in Pubwon, appealed to them for help.

what may be the world's largest single plastics installation,

125-foot exhaust system. Newly completed in Byesville,
Ohio, the system will be used to remove corrosive fumes from the zinc and tin plating lines of a steel plant. A quarter inch corrosion-resistant plastic sheet is used.

PICTURE NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

FATAL STEP — Actor Tom Wheatley, appearing on Broadway in the dramatic hit. "All The Way Home," barely had time to get married. He and dancer Evelyn Scott did it in Connecticut in the afternoon, then Wheatley rushed to carry his bride over the threshold of theater where he works.

THE ELUSIVE TYPE—Indian-born artist Miky D'Angio seems to be playing peek-a-boo amid her paintings in Rome, Italy. She is having a little fun in her studio, for Miss D'Angio is an artist with a sense of humor. She sometimes resorts to imaginative techniques in her work, as well as in her play.

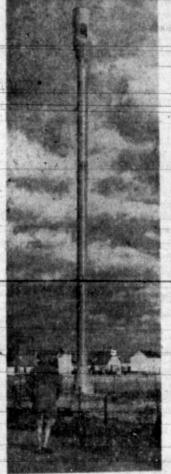

REFLECTIONS ON THE UNIVERSE—As it is mirrored in a nearby puddle, this huge apparatus is the antenna of a new radio telescope designed to listen in on the universe at Nancay, France. Moving on a horizontal axis, the antenna, 130 feet high and 250 feet across, will receive radio waves from distant galaxies in the cosmos.

GOOD NEWS—After wearing a cast for three years, Paul Bradshaw, 5, a victim of agonizing juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, learned that the cast was to be removed at home in St. Paul, Minn. The dread disease hit the lad after a fall from his rocking horse when he was two.

LIGHT AS A FEATHER—Afighting on a lamp post, this lordly seagull is monarch of all he surveys along the beach in Nice, France. From his perch on the Promenade des Anglais, the bird can scan the nearby Mediterranean for tidbits and easily swoop down for a hearty meal.

warning tower — A modern warning device for rural areas, this 38-foot-high air raid siren tower at Garching, Bavaria, is one of many erected under West Germany's civil defense system. It is driven by compressed air and controlled by the civil defense offices.

IRISH STYLE—In Dublin, designer Donald Davies is making these knickerbockers for the sporty Irish set. Girls are wearing them for golf, tennis, cycling and just about every other outdoor sport. They are made of hand-weven, hand-dyed Irish tweeds.

DUET—Paco, a cocker spaniel, is at the keyboard as his owner, soprano Eleanor Steber of the Metropolitan Opera, rehearses at home in Port Jefferson, Long Island, N. Y. The dog assumes this position whenever Miss Steber sings—and she goes along with it for a while.

HERE'S HOW—They seem to be playing a complicated version of a child's game, but these men and women are attending to serious business. They are in an underground shelter at Fiskerton. England. Busy at giant plotting boards, they belong to the Royal Observer Corps, a key organization in Britain's civil defense operations. Housed throughout the country in underground shelters, they keep track of radioactive fallout in event of nuclear war.

ARTISTIC TOUCH—Displaying his talents, a youthful native student models the head of a woman at an academy in Leopoldville, Congo. Despite the violence and political upheaval there, the academy never closed its doors. It's run by monks of Order of St. Luke and gives aris courses.

It's academic, Babbidge said, because-

-Federal expenditures for socalled sponsored research currently exceed $1 billion a year.

-The college housing loan program is now operating at an annual level in excess of $200 mitlion. Federal loans for students flow to institutions at the rate of some $60 million a year. And federal fellowships provide something like 35 million a year for graduate students.

'Whatever else they may signify, these figures indicate that the federal government IS playing a significant role in higher education," Babbidge said.

"The real debate centers not around the if or the whether, but around the what and the how. What is the appropriate role of the federal government, and how should it proceed? These are the live issues.

If the future federal role in higher education is to be sensibly
