

Revised Defense Program Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's top military leaders asked Congress today for an immediate expansion of the armed services and the drafting of men 19 to 25 years of age.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal grimly outlined the recent turn of world events in urging steps to make United States military might match that of Communist Russia.

As Forrestal spoke before the Senate Armed Services Committee, President Truman announced he is preparing to give the Congress a revised defense program.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he can't estimate yet how many additional billions of dollars the program will cost. Estimates from the Defense Department have not yet reached him, he said.

Forrestal said the odds still favor peace and the free nations of the world.

But he asked Congress to approve immediately:

1. An increase in the present authorized strength of the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force manpower by 349,500 officers and men.
  2. Another $3,000,000,000 in cash and contract authority for the expansion. This program would be in addition to $11,000,000,000 already in the budget.
  3. Drafting by selective service of men from 19 to 25 years inclusive. He said this would produce 1,350,000 men but added that only about 220,000 probably would be taken. He estimated 500,000 probably would volunteer.
  4. A permanent system of universal military training which would become fully effective within three years. Forrestal said this would provide some 800,000 men each year with basic training.
- Forrestal said some of the details of the expanded armed services program would be presented later "behind closed doors."
- "Because of the world situation as it exists today, there is certain detailed information which we cannot safely disclose in open session," Forrestal said.
- The president's speech to Congress on atomic energy, about $10,000,000,000 more. This would greatly change the whole matter.
- "If the President shows Congress that this $4,800,000,000 is needed to protect this country—and I believe he has understated the world emergency—it is my belief Congress will sustain his veto of the tax bill."
- In the House voting yesterday, 84 Democrats deserted the administration to join 205 Republicans in support of the measure. Opposing were 64 Democrats, a single Republican and the two American-Labor party members from New York.
- Mr. Truman is widely expected to send his veto message to Congress early next week although he has 10 days in which to act. The tax bill would affect all of the $2,000,000 taxpayers and would remove 7,400,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls completely.

New Funds for Defense Bring Vote-Switching

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports that President Truman soon will propose new billions for defense prompted 'vote-switching' talk today among Democrats who cast previous ballots for tax cutting.

Republican leaders insisted, however, that not enough shifts will occur to uphold Mr. Truman's virtually certain veto of their $4,800,000,000 tax reduction bill.

That measure completed its first trip through Congress yesterday.

The House rolled up a thumping 289 to 67 tally—51 votes more than the two-thirds majority needed to override a presidential rejection.

The Senate passed the bill on Monday by a count of 78 to 110 or 18 votes to spare if the lineup remains the same on the veto test.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who voted for the tax cut yesterday, raised the possibility today of a wide shift of votes, including his own. He told newsmen:

"Reports now are that the President will ask for a large sum of money for atomic energy, about $10,000,000,000 more. This would greatly change the whole matter."

"If the President shows Congress that this $4,800,000,000 is needed to protect this country—and I believe he has understated the world emergency—it is my belief Congress will sustain his veto of the tax bill."

Fair Weather Covers U. S.

CHICAGO (AP)—Fair weather and mild temperatures prevailed over most of the central and eastern sections of the country today, further easing flood fears in the principal river valleys.

Rain and snow fell in scattered areas of the mountain and plains states. The precipitation which appeared headed toward the north central region.

Heaviest snowfall was four inches in Great Falls, while lesser amounts fell in western Utah and over Nevada. The soaking rains which hit drought-stricken areas of California yesterday ended but there were falls in the plains states and in northern Minnesota.

The precipitation in California brought a measure of relief to ranchers and helped late crops, but much more rain was needed to ease the critical irrigation and water problems in the rich agricultural central valley.

The falls measured more than three inches in northern sections.

Temperatures over the southern, eastern and central states remained above normal yesterday. Readings were in the 60's in the Gulf region and in the 70's in some parts of the west central states.

17 Complete First Aid Course

Certificates signifying successful completion of the Red Cross First Aid Course were mailed to 17 women yesterday, Mrs. Paul Hill, executive secretary, announced.

"We wish to thank and commend the women who completed the Red Cross course taught by Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald during the recent ice storm and bad weather Mrs. Hill said.

Many of these women are Girl Scout leaders, who took the course to qualify themselves for camp leaders.

Those receiving certificates are: The Mesdames E. C. Rowden, R. H. Nensel, Harry McDonald, Ralph McCool, D. L. Lunford, J. P. Kurtzwell, Russell Kennedy, Frank Hoggsett, Roy Guthrie, Dan Glaxner, Bob Ewing, Helen Dudley, E. A. Derrberry, D. C. Culwell, Leon Cook, Bob Bowerman, and J. B. Ayres.

Band Clinic Is Scheduled

The annual band clinic for the Pampa school bands will be held Mar. 30 and 31, Orland Butler, director of music for the High School, said today.

The guest conductor for the annual combined concert and during the clinic will be William Lyles, director of instrumental music at Southwest Missouri State College at Springfield, Mo. Lyles, who holds a Bachelor's and a Master's Degree in music from the University of Illinois, will demonstrate some of his own compositions and techniques.

The annual concert will be held at 8 p. m., Mar. 31, in the Junior High School Auditorium. There will be three sections to the program, with three bands participating; a combined band from the elementary schools, the Junior High School Band, and the High School Band.

Charles S. Meech is the director of the elementary band, and Miss Marianna Pierce directs the Junior High School Band.

U. N. Has Had Bad Times in Past 2 Years

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

This is the second anniversary of the first meeting of the United Nations Security Council in Africa.

It is not a day of unalloyed rejoicing and optimism, to speak euphemistically, for things have gone badly during these two years. Still, we are told that while the U. N. is passing through perhaps its blackest days, no responsible leader or delegate shows any signs of throwing up his hands and quitting.

The old League of Nations failed in the main because it didn't do its duty. Some members continued to play power politics, and there were others like Japan and Italy which had aggression in their heads and liberally made war for conquest. Japan's invasion of Manchuria in 1931 established the precedent which inspired Mussolini and Hitler to follow suit, but the league temporized with the Japanese ease and continued to play power politics and finally dismissed the matter by telling the Japanese they were bad lads.

Our new U. N. also has aggression-minded nations among its membership and has become a house divided against itself. We have the Russian communistic bloc on the one side and the democratic bloc on the other and the differences have become so great that the work of the organization has been largely brought to a standstill despite the fact that the majority lies with the democracies. The stalemate has been achieved by Russia's employment of the veto power in the Security Council which alone can take action to prevent or punish aggression.

Because of this impossible situation there is increasing demand from many quarters for a revision of the U. N. charter or, short of that, for the creation of a new organization comprising the entire democratic bloc. This bloc would, of course, include the newly formed Western European Union.

There are those who are afraid of such a step on the grounds that it would widen the breach between the two worlds. Well, they need no longer be afraid for hesitation, because the division already is complete. We have a Communist world and a democratic world, and nothing is going to alter that. What we can do, however, is to strengthen the need no longer be a cause for hesitation, because the division already is complete. We have a Communist world and a democratic world, and nothing is going to alter that. What we can do, however, is to strengthen the need no longer be a cause for hesitation, because the division already is complete.

MacArthur for GOP Nominee Drive Fumbles

By the Associated Press

MacArthur, for President supporters stepped up their western campaign today but ran into a fumble and a fight.

National headquarters in Washington first announced that the general, if elected, will allot at least four cabinet posts to the West.

Later this was revised to say that such a geographical allocation had only been "recommended." The new version did not say by whom.

Ervin Hohensee, executive secretary of the MacArthur-for-President group, said the distribution would be: labor to Ohio, interior to California, commerce to the Northwest, agriculture to the Southwest, and the attorney generalship to New York.

"Other announcements will follow shortly," the statement said. Hohensee declined to tell a reporter whether MacArthur had authorized the statement.

In California, meanwhile, two groups of the allied commander's supporters split over plans to enter his name in the state Republican primary June 1.

One group, the "Draft MacArthur for President Club" planned to circulate petitions today to get the required signatures. Chairman Allen H. Worcester said 53 party leaders, including former Gov. Frank Merriam had agreed to run as MacArthur delegates to the GOP National Convention in Philadelphia.

But Joseph Choate, chairman of the MacArthur for President Club of California, said his group "repudiates any step designed to place General MacArthur in competition with any favorite son in a primary."

The California Republican Party organization is supporting Gov. Earl Warren, also an avowed candidate.

Meanwhile friends of another general—Dwight D. Eisenhower—said he would not be available for nomination on any ticket. (See MACARTHUR, Page 5)

Indignation Mounts Over Ship Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indignation mounted in Congress today over testimony that American warplane engines and other supplies have been shipped to Russia at a time of critical world tension.

Spurred by disclosures before his House Investigating Committee, Chairman Ritzley (R-Okla.) told reporters these moves are underway:

1. A demand on the Department of Commerce for a complete breakdown of all U. S. materials sent to Russia and her satellite nations.
  2. An immediate check into reports that boxes and crates marked for shipment to Russia "are lying all over the New York waterfront."
  3. A full-scale inquiry into the operations of Moore-McCormack Steamship Lines of New York, described by a witness yesterday as the American firm handling all shipments for Amtorg, the official Russian purchasing agency in this country.
- Ritzley said committee investigators are "already on the spot" to go over Moore-McCormack's records. He said they also will check reports that 60 Russian flag ships have been loaded in New York Harbor since Jan. 1.
- Committee members gaped when Carl Anderson, assistant chief of the State Department's international resources division, testified yesterday that the department "has not yet worked out a policy of distinction between shipments to friendly and unfriendly countries."
- Rep. Mundt (R-SD) said that such things as cranes and motors are being loaded aboard a ship at Jersey City, N. J., due to sail for Russia Saturday.
- Mundt said official permission for the shipments had been granted by the Commerce Department and that the man in charge of such export licenses is Herbert W. Parisius.
- Secretary of Commerce Harri-man later issued a statement declaring his "complete confidence" in Parisius.
- Ritzley called another session of his committee for today (9 a. m., CST), with Richard F. Finckle, a former War Assets Administration official, now president of the Alpine Corp., of Washington, D. C., scheduled as the first witness.
- Two witnesses at yesterday's first hearing testified that Finckle sold 30 new B-24 airplane engines to Russia through Amtorg for $4,000 each and 16 to Poland some time after May, 1947.
- Leroy H. Luckey of Dallas testified that he bought the engines originally from WAA and sold them to Finckle.

Conference on Palestine Is Asked by HST

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today he has instructed United Nations Representative Warren Austin to call Arabs and Jews into a truce conference to halt bloodshed in Palestine.

The President told a news conference the United States reversed its original stand for partition of Palestine because partition could not be enforced without American troops.

Austin, American delegate to the U. N., announced the reversal last Friday. He proposed a temporary United Nations trusteeship over Palestine.

Mr. Truman said the United States proposed the trusteeship to provide a government "to keep the peace."

He read to reporters a prepared statement saying a truce must be reached between the Arabs and the Jews "if we are to avert tragedy in Palestine."

Therefore, he said he has instructed Austin to call responsible representatives of the Arabs and Jews to a U. N. Council table to seek such a truce.

"Unless something is done, he declared, "open warfare is just over the horizon."

He said that the United States would be prepared to back a United Nations trusteeship, but when asked if that meant troops would be needed, he replied, "not necessarily. He said he did not believe force would be required to enforce trusteeship."

He said:

"Unfortunately it has become clear that the partition plan cannot be carried out at this time by peaceful means.

"We could not undertake to impose this solution on the people of Palestine by the use of American troops, both on U. N. charter grounds and as a matter of national policy."

The President, under questioning, said the British were supposed to stay in Palestine until August 15 but suddenly decided to pull out on May 15.

Asked about that British decision, he commented that he did not run, the British government.

Farm Inmate Is Shot Down

SUGAR LAND (AP)—A Negro prisoner was killed last night after 200 Negroes went on a "food strike" at Central Prison Farm No. 1 near here.

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System, said "he should not have been shot."

Ellis said Ernest Williams, 22, Bexar County was shot when he tried to escape a jail which had been sprayed into the dining room in which the prisoners were locked.

Ellis said a guard told him Williams was trying to raise a window and get out of the dining room.

"There was no chance for Williams to have escaped," Ellis said. "The window had bars on it. Even if he had raised the window, he could not have gotten out."

Ellis said two cans of tear gas and two cans of sickening gas were sprayed into the dining room as a disciplinary measure. The prisoners had been told in advance this would be done because their conduct was uncalled for, he said.

The prisoners refused to eat their night meal and threw their plates and food on the floor. Ellis said he sampled the food when informed of the trouble and considered it all right.

Announcements Of Rodeo Mailed

The first announcements of the fourth annual Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show to be held August 4-7 have been sent to rodeo enthusiasts throughout the states of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Oklahoma.

The rodeo will be four night shows, with contests to be held in roping events, saddle broncs, bareback, bull riding, bulldogging, and a cowgirl sponsors' contest.

One-half of the entry fees will be added to the purses.

Rodeo officials also announced this morning that the Harding Simmons University Cowboy Band will act as the official rodeo band. This world-famous band acted in this same capacity during last year's show.

SPENDING CHARGE.

One man was fined $10 in the court of Justice of the Peace Charles L. Hughes yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding.

Man Sentenced; Flees Courtroom

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—When the judge said, "Herald Offenkaker, 20, of Newark, gaped: "For goodness sakes, you aren't going to send me to jail are you?"

"Yes, sir," replied Common Pleas Judge Charles B. Holtsberry.

"I'm not going," Offenkaker cried, jumping from his seat and running out of the room where he appeared on a contempt of court citation.

That was yesterday afternoon. Authorities last night sought him to day.

Le Tourneau Gets Aid Certificate

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. G. Le Tourneau received a presidential certificate last night for aid to the war effort and in accepting warned:

"The red forces are on the march" and must be stopped even at the risk of war.

Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of the Army Engineers, presented the certificate of merit "for outstanding fidelity and meritorious conduct in aid of the war effort" to the industrialist and layman preacher.

Le Tourneau operates plants at Peoria, Ill., Longview, Tex., Vicksburg, Miss., and Toconoa, Ga. His plants manufacture heavy earth moving equipment—used extensively in building airfields for the air forces.

Whisky Price Is Back to Normal

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Whisky was back to normal prices in Fairbanks today after a month-long price war which saw a fifth go for as low as 25 cents.

Most dealers slashed prices and patrons swarmed the stores to lay in a supply.

Byron Gilliam, proprietor of one store, climaxed the price plunge when he addressed a mass meeting and charged that old-time merchants were attempting to "freeze out" competition and free themselves from the price war.

He said he would sell 20 cases of whisky at 25 cents a fifth.

Italy Willing to Enter Negotiations

ROME (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman announced today Italy is willing to negotiate directly with Yugoslavia on the question of Trieste and the free territory.

He added that such negotiations could be considered by the Italian government only in the spirit of the British-French-American note proposing return of the area to Italy.

HST Ready For All-Out Coal Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today he will take whatever steps are necessary—and possible under the law—to settle the coal strike.

He made that comment to a news conference when asked about the board he has appointed to determine the facts in the dispute.

The board was appointed, Mr. Truman explained, when the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service failed to get an agreement between the coal industry and the United Mine Workers.

"The President said he is following the law when he asks if he plans any appeal to the coal miners to return to work.

The fact-finding board has until April 8 to make its report. The President said he believes its members will speed their decision.

"After that?" a reporter asked.

The President said when the board reports he will take any action that is necessary.

After the board reports, the government can go to the courts and ask an order halting the strike.

The government was reported drafting new coal saving orders. Federal officials still believe the United Mine Workers chief would call his 400,000 soft coal diggers back to work before the shortage becomes acute. But they were not counting on it.

Instead, they prepared to follow the course in passing and freight cost on coal burning railroads with a similar order to utilities to slow down their plants.

Dismissals and brownouts to conserve power possibly would result. The same actions were adopted in previous mine strikes.

The freight order, effective next Tuesday, reduces shipments 25 percent. The Interstate Commerce Commission set up a priority system giving top transportation rating to foods, fuels, medical supplies and other essential items.

BIES AT 100 YEARS

ROME (AP)—Antonio Marchi, who aided Guglielmo Marconi in his earliest wireless experiments, died yesterday in Bologna at the age of 106, the Italian news agency ANSA reported today.

The dispatch said Marchi died from the effects of a fall several days ago in which he suffered a broken leg.

It's Clue Time for the Panhandle Man!

By ART FRERIK
News Staff Writer

No, it's not Jack Benny and it's not George Washington, but that's all the help we can give. From now on, the identity of the Panhandle man is anybody's guess. But still, to have eliminated two possibilities out of 140 million is a little help, isn't it?

In case you haven't tuned in to KPDN at 8:15 a. m. and 8 p. m., here are the clues that have been given so far:

First clue—basic jungle.

A Texas son with a handy gun.
Give him back his boots and saddle.
He's built no dikes.
But he's dealt with spikes.
And a hundred thousand cattle.

Second clue—

AS LONG AS I LIVE

By Ione Sandberg Shriver

THE STORY: Terror-stricken Ann Burcott is convinced someone in her own household is trying to murder her and make it appear an accident. The household includes her husband (Ivan), her young job assistant (Laurie), Ann's handsome 18-year-old sister (Tommy), Laurie's fiance (Bill), Ann's old friend and houseguest (Ann) and her own son (Ann). Ann first began to suspect that she was being followed when she discovered that someone had waxed the soles of her new shoes, evidently hoping she would slip and fall down the steep staircase at Tophill. The wax was hidden in her own closet, and she was told to get into Cleveland. Ann asks if she'll deliver a package and a note. She writes a letter to Enoch Barton, her attorney, asking him to test the wax for fingerprints. But when she goes to look for the wax, it is gone.

She drew a long unsteady breath and went to the back hall. She opened the broom closet. The closet was crowded but neat; there was a vacuum, brooms and brushes and mops, and, standing against the wall on the shelf above, cans of cleaner and wax and furniture polish. There was a can of floor wax on the shelf and Ann stretched to reach it. She brought it down and tugged at the lid with cold fingers. The lid came off and she looked inside. She wax was more than half used up. This was not the can of wax that had been in her closet.

SHE went back to her room. She held herself under rigid control. She tried to think. Tried to marshal her forces.

Her shoes! Of course. The shoes were still in her closet, in their original box. She hadn't touched them since yesterday afternoon when she'd put them on to go to the club for lunch. The wax would still be on the soles of her shoes.

She went into the closet and got the box. She carried it out into the bedroom, crossed to the chair and sat down. She took the lid from the box, lifted the tissue from the shoes.

The shoes were placed in the box as shoes ordinarily are, turned inward, the bows face to face. Gingerly she lifted them out, turned them over, looked at the soles.

There wasn't any wax on the soles. None at all.

Unbelievably she scratched the leather surface with her fingernail, but there was nothing there. No wax at all nor any trace of wax.

The fear crept insidiously into her body, chilling her. It was one thing to be afraid someone was deliberately planning your murder—but it was something else again to wonder if you were—if you were—

She felt rather than saw someone watching her. She looked up. Laurie was standing in the doorway.

"For heaven's sake, Ann," Laurie said almost querulously. "What are you doing? We've been going downstairs and Rinda's waiting to miss her train. What are you doing with your shoes?"

"RINDA!" Ann said. "Oh, Oh, yes. I—I'm sorry. I didn't mean to keep you waiting."

"Rinda said you wanted to send a package into town," Laurie said. "Where is it?"

"Well, it was the—shoes," Ann said, wondering crazily now how Laurie had been standing in the doorway, watching her. "You know I told you they hurt me. I thought maybe I'd return them."

"Well, then, give them here. Rinda doesn't mind returning them?"

"It's probably horrible of me to ask her but she will be downtown and I've had them a week."

"All right, I'll give them to her. Are Tommy and I supposed to pick up the groceries?"

"If you will."

Laurie left the shoe box under her arm, and Ann sank back in the chair. She felt exhausted, depleted, drained of emotion. The can of wax had vanished mysteriously and now the shoes were gone. But she hadn't been able to think of anything else to say when she'd looked up and found Laurie watching her from the doorway.

If Laurie had been there more than a few seconds she'd seen Ann examining the shoes, looking for traces of the wax she knew had been there yesterday. If Laurie had put the wax on the shoes—except that she didn't dare think a thought like that! Then she reminded herself pitilessly that she could not exclude Laurie. Not yet. Laurie had the same opportunities as had the others; Laurie had possibly a stronger motive because Ann controlled Laurie's inheritance.

But it didn't bear thinking of. Madness lay in that direction.

Madness.

Texas Today

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

A couple of Wichita Falls, Tex., citizens once lived in two states and one territory without moving out of their homes.

They are C. C. Hannah and M. H. Dodson. They once lived at Mangum, Tex., Mangum, Oklahoma Territory and Mangum, Okla.,—all the same town.

Ivan Elmer, Wichita Falls newspaperman, tells their unusual story.

Hannah was born in Mangum, Tex., Feb. 29, 1896. Mangum was a little cowboy settlement of 500 persons between the North and South Forks of the Red River. Sixteen days after Hannah was born, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the South Fork, not the North Fork, of the Red River was the true northern boundary of the state of Texas. Thus, Greer County, of which Mangum was the county seat, was severed from Texas.

By act of Congress in May, 1896, Greer County became a part of the Oklahoma Territory. On Nov. 16, 1907, the Oklahoma Territory was made a state. Hannah and Dodson, who had resided in Mangum, now became Oklahomans.

Elmer says that maps of what are now Texas and Oklahoma were so poor in the early 1800's that when Spain and the United States signed a treaty in 1819 giving all the territory north of the Red River and east of the 100th meridian to the United States, no one knew there was a fork in the Red River.

The treaty, therefore, did not specify which fork was the northern boundary of Spanish territory.

Not until 1852 was the North Fork of the river discovered and several years later a resurvey of the region was attempted, Elmer says, on the belief that the forks actually lay inside of what is now the Texas Panhandle, rather than east of it.

Title to the land south of the Red passed from Spain to Mexico to the Republic of Texas and finally to the state of Texas.

Alarmed at the possibility of losing a million and a half acres of land, the Texas Legislature created Greer County out of the disputed territory Feb. 8, 1860, and set up a civil government in the county.

The Civil War stopped further action and for years the region remained unsettled.

Horse and Mule Members Decline

CHICAGO—(AP)—Old Dobbin and family have fallen to the lowest national numbers in 80 years, but these 1 as 10 going on in the horse world still.

This year for the first time since before 1870 the nation's horse and mule population dropped below the 10,000,000 mark. The Department of Agriculture estimates them at 6,807,000 horses and 2,544,000 mules.

The horse total was about nine percent lower than a year ago; for mules it was eight percent less.

In spite of the drop in numbers, however, the use of horses is increasing. You'll find more of them on city bridge paths, on flat and harness racing circuits, and in use as factories of human and animal medicines.

Most of those which are left still are working the fields, as always. Others are riding the ranges or are on police traffic duty in the cities. These are all on the decline. Tractors have been taking over the fields, airplanes are increasing for range use, and motorcycles are monopolizing city traffic work.

Reds Lack Board For Olympic Action

ZURICH, Switzerland—(AP)—Members of the Soviet sports delegation which attended the winter Olympic games at St. Moritz as observers declared here after the games that Soviet sportsmen would have taken part in the games "if they had been invited."

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, commented later that the Soviet Union had not yet formed a national Olympic committee, and therefore could not have been invited.

If a Russian Olympic committee has been established by the time the International Committee meets in May, the Soviet Union will "without any doubt" be asked to take part in the Summer Olympic games in London, Mayer added.

Frank Buck Named Honorary Ringmaster

GAINESVILLE, Tex.—(AP)—Frank Buck, famous as the "bring 'em back alive" big game hunter, will be honorary ringmaster when Gainesville Community Circus opens its 19th season April 21.

In addition to blowing a blast on a gold whistle to usher the circus season, Buck will speak at a joint luncheon of civic clubs and will lead a parade in which 17 bands will participate.

Texas Farmers Say Severe Freezes Have Wiped Out or Set Back Crops

By ROBERT E. FORD

Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas farmers, surveying their fields after the severe freezes and blizzards of a week ago, found crops wiped out in many instances and severely set back in others.

Wheat alone appeared to survive the blizzards unharmed, but that crop already has been retarded by the series of cold blasts this winter.

Cattle losses were negligible. Early tomato plants in East Texas were wiped out and growth of Rio Grande Valley plants slowed down. Other vegetables were badly damaged.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped major damage from the cold but severe winds last week did considerable harm to cotton and vegetables.

Early tomato plants in East Texas were wiped out by the freeze during the week ending March 13. Texas is the biggest tomato shipping state in the nation, annually supplying one-third of U. S. needs.

Farmers were hurriedly replanting, but the crop will be about two weeks late. Harvest will begin about June 10. An increased acreage was forecast and total supply for the season was expected to be plentiful.

The onion crop was not so hard hit. A. F. Muller, Laredo, Tex., onion grower, said that the bermuda crop of that area would be about a week late, with harvesting beginning about April 20. Texas and Colorado are the leading onion producing states.

Cantaloupes, cucumbers, beans and other tender spring vegetables were practically wiped out in the important commercial vegetable area around Laredo.

The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported from Austin that winter oats in Central and Northcentral Texas were frozen down. Present indications are that the oat harvest is badly damaged by the freeze.

Fruit trees and flaxseed were damaged to widely varying extents.

In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, early cotton may have to be replanted because of high wind this week. Permits for planting (required under the pink bollworm control program) in the valley indicate an increase of 100,000 acres in the crop this year, making an acreage well above the 500,000 mark.

Cameron County Agent Frank C. Brunneiman said at San Benito that approximately one-third of the county's growing cotton crop may be replanted after last week's high winds. With the deadline for planting set at April 1 under the bollworm program, growers were not waiting to see whether their cotton had withstood the wind. He said they were beginning to replant immediately.

When leaves of the plant are bruised, Brunneiman pointed out, the plants' food source is cut off and it starves.

Bright spot in Texas crops this year is wheat.

Farmers expect only half last year's bonanza, but the crop, with a little help from the weatherman, could be the second highest ever.

David Rasco, farm expert for the Amarillo Globe-News, which is in the heart of the heavy wheat producing area of the state, says cautiously that indications point to approximately 50 percent of last year's whopping 124,000,000 bushel harvest.

In this, Rasco is seconded by H. M. Baines, head of the Santa Fe Railroad's Agricultural Department, who also estimated a 50 percent yield compared with last year.

This still would be a heavy harvest. Production in 1946 was 62,915,000 bushels, while the highest ever recorded in Texas before last year was 71,558,000 bushels in 1944.

The area around Wichita Falls on the Red River, including some Oklahoma Territory, has excellent seasoning in the ground. Bob Crocker, government farm official for Wichita and Archer counties, says "subsurface and surface moisture following recent snows and rains are about to melt." The rains are about to melt, with the yield expected to vary little from last year's record crop.

A number of questions, all depending on the weather, will decide the yield in the Texas Panhandle. Acreage there is about the same as last year. Dry weather this fall prevented planting over much of the area and farmers are depending on volunteer stands. These make a good crop only about two or three years out of 10. Moisture there is sufficient for early spring, but more will be needed to make a crop.

The series of blizzards in the Panhandle, which produced 83,000,000 bushels last year, has left the needs of erosion.

H. C. Winburn, head of the Amarillo Weather Bureau, said the top soil in wheat fields is in a mulchy condition, perfect for eroding "dusters." He hopes for a hard rain to repack the soil around the roots.

Throughout the wheat area, the cold weather has retarded growth. In the South Plains, just below the Panhandle, only about 25 percent of last year's harvest is expected this year. The dry fall discouraged planting. For example, of the 230,000 acres in wheat in Hale County, only 20,000 acres were planted, the lowest seeded acreage in more than 20 years, farmers say.

The Plainview Herald said that county farm agents are standing by with a program of cover crops which can be planted this spring in case the wheat is a complete failure.

It must be made clear and manifest to the world that any nation which tries to copy the pattern of action which through Hitler brought so much disaster on mankind must, like Hitler and Germany, face the determination and will of the United States that it shall not happen again.

Golf Pros Begin Firing Today In $10,000 Charlotte Open

The New Mr. Williams

Boston Red Sox outfielder and heavy hitter Ted Williams has his own new look this season. Besides being cooperative with the press and photographers, the Splinter for the first time in the major leagues reported for spring training on opening day. Here a cameraman takes a portrait of the smiling slugger at the Red Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. —(AP)—The spot reserved for the favorite of the $10,000 Charlotte Open Golf Tournament was marked off today and planted firmly on it was Lloyd Mangrum, the lanky Chicagoan.

The mustached Mangrum clinched that distinction when he won the Greensboro Open Sunday and brought his year's earnings to just under $11,000—tops among the pros.

He has won three of the 11 tournaments with a $10,000 prize tag on the winter swing that ends in Augusta, Ga., early next month. The other eight events have gone to as many players.

Mangrum, who came out of the battlefields of Europe to win the 1946 National Open, didn't lessen his chances to be cast as favorite in today's 72-hole event at the Myers Park course by his pre-tourney tuneup.

He unloaded a 64 in a warmup two days ago to tie the competitive course record he set during the 1946 tournament. Par for the 6,400-yard strip is 72.

Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., dentist, won the tournament last year, shooting a 64 in a playoff after deadlocking with George Schoux of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Middlecoff has made it clear in practice this week that he hasn't lost his ability to pummel par. He went around in 65 the same day Mangrum turned in his 64. Another 65 shooter that day was Clayton Heafner, the 200-pound plus Charlotte blonde better.

Among Heafner's other accomplishments at the Myers Park course are an unofficial record of 60, not in competition, and a red hot 30 on the last nine holes in the 1946 tournament. His familiarity with the course and ability to play it well make him a threat to take top money.

Chief amateur threats are Walker Cup teammates Dick Chapman, former national champion from Pinehurst, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio.

Little Ben is home to give an ailing putter a rest. Since he knows what made it all his confidence he can work out the proper cure.

Regarding golf's troubles clinaxed with the Henry Ransom-Norman Von Nida fistcuffs and the inauguration of a czar at the lower Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen, Tex., last month, Hogan said:

"In a competitive game with livelihood at the stakes, tempers are bound to flare now and then. Recently, however, not a punch has been thrown, he says.

Ben is more worried about his putter than he is any troubles of golf anyway.

From tee to green he's never been better. But his putter has

Eleven Teams Are Entered in Softball Loop

Representatives of 11 local business firms and oil companies met last night with city softball league President Frank Leder for the purpose of organizing a softball league in Pampa.

With the large turnout the group decided that two leagues would be formed if five more teams would enter by the next meeting of the teams Tuesday night, March 30.

In the case of the two leagues, games will be played at the Lions Club park and at the Phillips and Skelly diamonds.

The season will begin Monday, May 2, with each team being allowed to carry up to 18 men.

Speedy Foster was appointed secretary of the group.

Teams represented were Cabot Shops, Jaycees, Fire Dept., Ideal Food Stores, Sportsman Shop, Pampa Bus Co., Master Cleaners, Furr Food, Lewis Hardware, Phillips, and Skelly.

Double Main Event on Tonite's Card

Four of the Southwest's top junior heavyweight wrestlers will match holds tonight on Promoter Vic Burnett's weekly wrestling card to be held at the Sportatorium.

Tonight's double main event will bring two newcomers to the local ring. They are Dr. Gil Knutson of Davenport, Ia., and Billy Sanow of Toledo, Ohio.

Knutson will tangle with Ace Jabbot, former Hardin-Simmons University wrestling ace and radio singer, on the evening's first bout and Sanow will tangle with Olan Boynton of Amarillo.

Abbott and Boynton have made numerous appearances in the local ring. Boynton, the Amarillo fighter, has shown his wares here both as a wrestler and as a referee.

Dutch Jones will referee tonight's matches.

Gustafson New Coach At Miami University

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Andy Gustafson, former backfield coach at Dartmouth and Army, is the new head football mentor at the University of Miami.

Gustafson succeeds Jack Harding, who resigned Feb. 16 after 11 years as coach to become full-time athletic director at the university.

The appointment was announced late yesterday by Dr. Bowman F. Ashe, university president, who said Gustafson will report about April 12.

Baylor to Begin Spring Training Apr. 2

WACO, Tex. —(AP)— The Baylor University football squad will start spring practice April 2, with about 65 candidates expected, Coach Bob Woodruff said today.

Grid practice has been delayed because Bill Henderson, an assistant coach, is also coach of the basketball team, which is playing in New York.

Rebels Down SMU 11-5

DALLAS —(AP)— Red Borom's triple play and hit hitting of Oscar Khederian featured Dallas' 11-5 victory over Southern Methodist University yesterday in an exhibition baseball game.

LEADS 3 TIMES

Ted Williams, Boston, led the American league in home runs for three seasons—1941, 1942 and 1947.

Another Chance

Al Flair is built like the Giants' Johnny Mize and had a trial with the Red Sox. He is up from New Orleans to play first base for the Philadelphia Phillies on the strength of batting .308 and leading the Southern Association in home runs and runs-batted-in.

Training Camp Roundup

Injury Hits Reds'
Hank Sauer
SARASOTA, Fla. —(AP)— Outfielder Hank Sauer, whose timely hitting has been missed by the Cincinnati Reds since he was sidelined three days ago with an ankle injury, has been sent back to the training quarters in Tampa for an x-ray.

SARASOTA, Fla. —(AP)— Tex Hughson's question-mark pitching arm gets its first test today when the Boston Red Sox entertain the Cincinnati Reds.

Hughson will have a makeshift Sox lineup behind him. Ted Williams, Vern Stephens, Don DiMaggio and Bobby Doerr are out with minor ailments.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. —(AP)— Murray Dickson is scheduled to open on the mound for the St. Louis Cardinals today against the Philadelphia Phils.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. —(AP)— Manager Zach Taylor says a wildness of the pitchers is hurting the St. Louis Browns' exhibition record—seven losses and three wins.

CLEARWATER, Fla. —(AP)— Richie Ashburn, rookie outfielder, is continuing his fine hitting streak with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Yesterday it was Ashburn's triple in the eighth that gave atic Sea.

the Phils a 3-2 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

LAKELAND, Fla. —(AP)— John Groth, 21-year-old rookie from Chicago, is putting in a stout bid for an outfield berth with the Detroit Tigers.

LOS ANGELES, —(AP)— Versatility may land newcomer Ray Boone a position on the Cleveland Indians' roster—the 24-year-old rookie can both catch and play shortstop.

Weather Hampers Giants
SAN FRANCISCO, —(AP)— The weather on the West coast is proving so disagreeable that Manager Mel Ott is sending some of his New York Giants back to Phoenix, Ariz., to complete their training.

With more rain in prospect, Ott put six players and Coach Red Durocher on a plane last night with the destination, Arizona, sunshine.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R. —(AP)— A couple of rookie pitchers are catching the eye of Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Big Chris Van Cuyk and John Hall both looked exceptionally good in hurling the Dodgers to a 10-1 win over a mixed Montreal-Dominican team yesterday.

Venice is located on the Adriatic in the eighth that gave atic Sea.

MIAMI U's Art Seay Has Eyes Set on Olympic Ring Team
CORAL GABLES, Fla. —(AP)— Art Seay, University of Miami national collegiate heavyweight boxing champion, has his eyes set on making the U. S. Olympic boxing team. If performances of the Guillotine Chopper during the past two years are any indication, Miami will have an Olympic representative in Seay. He has never been beaten in intercollegiate ring competition. Last year he won the intercollegiate crown at Madison, Wis., and will defend his title in the 1948 national meet there, Apr. 1-3. If victorious again, Seay will earn the right to go directly to the final Olympic tryouts.

Hogan Says All Is Serene In Pro Ranks
FORT WORTH —(AP)— Ben Hogan reports that all is serene in the ranks of the golf professionals. The game's little giant also belittles the importance of the tournament lifts that recently got the golfers more headlines than their winnings.

Little Ben is home to give an ailing putter a rest. Since he knows what made it all his confidence he can work out the proper cure.

Regarding golf's troubles clinaxed with the Henry Ransom-Norman Von Nida fistcuffs and the inauguration of a czar at the lower Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen, Tex., last month, Hogan said:

"In a competitive game with livelihood at the stakes, tempers are bound to flare now and then. Recently, however, not a punch has been thrown, he says.

Ben is more worried about his putter than he is any troubles of golf anyway.

From tee to green he's never been better. But his putter has

All-Star Cage Game Tonight
NEW YORK —(AP)— A spectacular, high scoring exhibition is expected tonight when East meets the West in the third annual Herald Tribune fresh air fund all-star basketball game.

A large gathering of pro scouts and coaches will be on hand to give the talented casts a final once-over.

Both squads are big and husky and for once the East will have an edge in both height and weight. The Easterners, coached this year by Navy's Ben Carnevale, average six feet, three inches and 194 pounds. The Westerners, piloted by Notre Dame's Ed (Moose) Krause, average 6-2 and 182.

L. (Amby) Bennett, of the Oklahoma Aggies, was chosen by the Westerners to captain their team and Leland Byrd of West Virginia was picked to lead the Easterners.

That doesn't mean that either will start. Both coaches are jubilant over the wealth of material at their command but are stumped over whom they will select to start. All 12 of the Western aces will participate as will the 11 Eastern stars.

Ken Rollins was to have been the 12th member of the Eastern squad but Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky withdrew his stellar guard. Kentucky competes in the Olympic trials beginning Saturday and Rupp said he wanted to have his player in one piece for that tourney.

Babe Ruth Ends Florida Vacation
HOLLYWOOD, Fla. —(AP)— Babe Ruth planned to board a train here today for New York to end a Florida vacation which began Feb. 5.

"Believe me, I feel like a new man," Ruth said. "I sure did feel bum when I came down here. The sun and rest have given me a new lease on life."

He said he probably will go to the West coast to serve as technical advisor in a motion picture of his life.

Ski Tows Increase
There are an estimated 1,000 ski tows now in use in the United States and the number is growing. There were none known in 1933.

Ski Tow Built
A new ski tow for Syracuse University has been constructed, as well as a new jump, for 884 enrolled in the ski school.

Bowling Increases
There are estimated 10,700 bowling establishments and 76,000 alley beds in the U. S. never been worse.

Hogan quit the tournament trail in fourth place in money earned with $6,227.50.

Sports Round-Up
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK —(AP)— Latest reports from the South seem to confirm the general impression that major league baseball clubs will return to their old training program next year. They forget about the March 1 starting date.

Already managers are squawking that they've had to play too many exhibitions and haven't had time for plain practice. . . . But, strangely the pitchers on most clubs still seem to be ahead of the hitters although they didn't get the benefit of a week's head start this year.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Joe Lapchick, N. Y. Knickerbockers' coach: "Kentucky is the only college basketball team I've seen this year which has five players who are pro material. I'd take all five for the Knicks, if I could get them."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
It's being whispered around that Herman Hickman probably would have passed up the Yale football coaching job if he had listened to friends at West Point, but he went into seclusion to avoid being influenced. . . . And friends say that Sid Gillman, Herman's successor, took the Army post because he was becoming discouraged. Sid is recognized as one of the smartest small college coaches, but he wasn't getting any tumbles from the big colleges. . . . After looking over Phillie pitcher the other day, the Yankees had more praise for Pitcher Robin Roberts, fresh out of Michigan State College, than for the ballyhooed Curt Simmons. . . .

PRETTY PRECEDENT
Another sports "first" will be marked up at Des Moines, Ia., Saturday when the state girls' champion basketball teams of Texas and Iowa clash in an interstate playoff. Mesquite High of Dallas County, Tex., and Kamarar High of Iowa will represent their states and folks say that way believe it's the first such interstate affair on record. . . . More than 7,000 tickets had been sold by last week, proving there's a lot of interest.

Word Migration Is Subject of Course
 AUSTIN — If your porch is a "stoop," and you say "domineer" for minister and "pot cheese" for cottage cheese, then you've picked up your vocabulary from the early Hudson Valley Dutch settlers.

Word migration is being correlated with our country's cultural and settlement history by a University of Texas graduate English class. A new approach to English language study is being made under direction of Associate Professor E. Bagby Atwood.

A course objective is a study of uneducated people's spoken language, in order to trace settlement areas and cultural influences.

He's One, She's 21

Leap Year stuff, of course! Cleveland, Ohio's, Michael Romano, 4, had his first genuine birthday on this February 29th and Mrs. Emelia Stromberg, 88, celebrated her 21st birthday. Above, they display their birthday cakes. Mrs. Stromberg, a great-grandmother, has only 21 candles because each century year Leap Year is by-passed. So she went eight years without a birthday.

FREE COUNTRY
 College officials sorting blanks filled out by students found the usual number of Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, and so on, listed under "Church Preference." But the neatly lettered card of a student majoring in architecture stopped them. His church preference was "Gothic." —Reader's Digest.

Government Plans Safe File Storage
 AUSTIN — (AP) — Plans for a new state records building will go to the next legislature, Gov. Beauford H. Jester says. It would include a fireproof vault for storage of archives now kept in the Capitol, which is not fireproof. There has been a rising tide of complaint in recent years that many valuable records that cannot be replaced, are in danger of destruction. Most departments are "running over" with records for which they have no space, but which they should not destroy, the Governor said. The plan would be to microfilm them and store them in the new records building. There are 10 countries in Central America.

Six Classes Set For Arts Colony

CORPUS CHRISTI —(AP)—Louis Gravette will conduct classes in voice at the Corpus Christi Fine Arts colony, June 1-14. Mrs. Howell Ward, colony president, announced.

He will teach four hours daily during the 12-day session. Voice and water color workshops bring the total to six for the second session of the colony.

The others are piano, directed by Silvio Scionti; oil painting, Frederic Taubes; watercolor painting, Jacob Gellar Smith; poetry and short story writing, Robert P. Trietram Coffin.

SHORT SHIRTS

LAFAYETTE, Ind. —(AP)—Peeking into 2,800 boudoirs, a Purdue university specialist found a male complaint—creeping shirttails.

Miss Frieda Stoll, Purdue clothing specialist, asked 2,800 women in 22 states what qualities they want in the blouses they buy.

For one thing, Miss Stoll reported, they want "generous length of tails."

They aren't that easily pleased, however. "Some of the other 'musts': color fastness, minimum shrinkage, standard sizes, heat-resistant buttons, snap-in shoulder pads and especially well-finished seams and buttonholes.

Plagiarism is stealing another's ideas and passing them as one's own.

Stamps From Three Nations Honor 'Confusion Land'

Rival claims in the Antarctic by Argentina, Chile and the British Empire's Falkland Islands Dependencies are portrayed on these three postage stamps issued last year. The claims of the three nations all overlap one another. To add to the confusion, the U.S. does not recognize the land stakes. The U.S. Board of Geographical Names calls the disputed area "Palmer Peninsula," in honor of Capt. Nathaniel B. Palmer, who explored the mainland south of Deception Island in 1820.

13-Year-Old Shoos Bull From Highway

BARNSTABLE, Mass. —(AP)—A 13-year-old girl caused considerable blushing among full-grown men here when a belligerent Texas steer, accompanied by a cow and a calf, tied up traffic for a half hour.

The bull and family strolled onto the highway and refused to move despite shouts and honking by irate motorists.

Some drivers attempted a round-up, but they quickly returned to their cars when the bull began snorting.

Cars were lined up a mile in each direction before Dolly Van Dusen, 13, came to the rescue. She rode her horse up to the bull and dismounted. Waving her arms in the bull's face, she yelled "scat."

The bull, the cow and the calf marched off and bewildered motorists continued on their way.

And They 'Paddle Their Own Canoes'

AUSTIN — University of Texas girls can paddle their own canoes. Members of women's physical training classes receive special boating safety instructions. In addition to advice to "stick with the beat if it overturns" and "keep low and well-centered in the boat," the girls are admonished to know how to swim before they get into a canoe.

Criminal Rooster Awaiting Appeal

DALLAS —(AP)—Jim, the criminal rooster, only miscreant ever assessed the death penalty by Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg, enjoyed his third reprieve, pending an appeal which may save him from the axe.

The belligerent white rooster was sentenced by Justice Richburg after several residents complained the bird had attacked them.

Justice Richburg intended to auction the rooster, the proceeds to go to the West Dallas Community Center. This plan was altered after scores of readers learned Jim's plight in the newspaper, and sent donations along with pleas for clemency.

Jim was kept in a pen near Justice Richburg's home, but he flew against the wire trying to reach passing children, and his Sargasso Sea.

crowling every morning disturbed neighbors.

Yesterday the bird was taken to the Marquis Park zoo, and turned over to Walton Carlton. Like other animals unable to adjust themselves to society, Jim the criminal will be locked up where he can do no harm.

A large whirlpool region in the North Atlantic is called the Sargasso Sea.

Thermo-regulated roasted for uniform full flavor.

Sleepy Snake

Not even handling by as cute a "snake charmer" as 7-year-old Elaine Bailey can rouse this four-foot bull snake from its winter nap. The sleeping snake was dug up by Elaine's brother near their Hutchinson, Kan., home. It had burrowed two feet underground to hibernate.

J. L. Nance Is New Rotarian

One new member was admitted into the Pampa Rotary Club at its regular luncheon meeting yesterday noon in the Palm Room of the City Hall. He is J. L. Nance, of the Pampa Wholesale Grocery Company.

The Rev. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pampa, introduced the main speaker, the Rev. Edward C. Derr, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shamrock, who spoke on the "Influence of Holy Week."

Rev. Derr was a Navy chaplain during the war, and served with C. B. units and Marines in the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Shirley Norris, wife of the Rev. E. A. Norris, pastor of the First Christian Church of Pampa, accompanied by Miss Charlotte Austin at the piano, sang several spirituals, among which was the haunting "Were You There?"

President Ray Evans distributed 1,200 tickets to members for the Rotary show to be held April 13 in the Junior High School Auditorium. Several hundred dollars worth of quilt program prizes will be given away that night, in addition to the $1,000 worth of prizes for the identity of the "Panhandle Man." Members of the Rotary Club and their families are not eligible for the prizes, Evans said.

Seven members, including three delegates, signed up to attend the 27th District Rotary convention to be held at Big Spring March 28 to 31. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Farris C. Oden, and Mr. and Mrs. Knox Kinard, with the three delegates and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matthews, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans, will leave for Big Spring Sunday.

What Russia Is Reading Reported

LONDON—(AP)—Moscow Radio reports a current best-selling novel in Russia is Ira Wolfert's "Tucker's People," which it said "exposes the social origin of gangsterism and the gangster nature of American monopoly capital."

Upton Sinclair's "World's End" depicting American life during World War I, and the Sinclair Lewis novel "Gideon: Fiendish" which the radio said was "aimed against fascism and its manifestations in America" will soon come off Russian presses.

Mott Helps With Revival Meeting

R. Virgil Mott, director of music and education at the First Baptist Church, has just returned from Seminole, Texas, where he directed music during a week's revival service at the First Baptist Church.

Dr. J. I. Cartledge, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Corsicana, conducted the revival. Forty-eight persons were added to the church, Mr. Mott said.

It's Hard to Get War Out of System

PITTSBURG—(AP)—Joseph Cafardi, a construction foreman, hopes the last relic of World War I has been taken from him.

In 1915, while serving in the Italian Army, he was wounded.

Thirty-one years later he began to limp and a physician removed some shrapnel from his hip. A few weeks ago he began to limp again and a physician found some more shrapnel.

Fred J. Neslage has been invited to attend the National Red Cross convention to be held in San Francisco June 21 to 24. Mrs. Paul Hill, local Red Cross secretary, said today.

Neslage's invitation came largely as the result of his excellent work as chairman of the advanced Red Cross drive concluded the second week in March, just ahead of the regular annual fund drive. He collected nearly double his quota, Mrs. Hill said.

He has also been considered for membership on the Board of Governors, the governing and policy making board for the National Red Cross, Mrs. Hill said.

His Honeymoon Coupe Goes 300,000 Miles

WAYNEBURG, Pa.—(AP)—James L. Johnston has driven his "honeymoon coupe" 300,000 miles without so much as denting a fender.

It was back in 1920 that Johnston bought a new automobile to take his honeymoon. Still in service, the auto is used by Johnston daily as he commutes to work. He has replaced the car's motor twice but the 16-year-old vehicle's body still has a brilliant polish.

Johnston's recipe for safe driving:

"Just use your head and exercise ordinary care, caution and common sense."

Holland Plans Music Festival

AMSTERDAM—(AP)—A musical competition festival will take place in Scheveningen, Holland, from May 19 to 29 organized by the Dutch Radio Philips. There are three divisions: singing, violin, piano.

Musicians from 15 to 30 years old may compete.

The judging committee comprises musicians of 14 nations and includes Yehudi Menuhin, Nathan Milstein, Georges Enesco, Sara Seuderl, Leonard Bernstein, Marguerite Long, Sem Dresden, Berthe Seron and Jo Vincent.

Christendom

The recent War in Europe has accentuated a fact which was too little realized before the war, namely: the relatively small number of people in practically all European countries who showed any interest whatsoever in active Christianity, or were even enrolled in the churches.

In France today there are 500,000 Protestants, mainly Reformed and Lutheran, and 5,500,500 Catholics.

These 6,000,000 Christians live in a total population of 37,000,000, leaving 31,000,000 people avowedly secular or neutral on the subject of the Christian faith.

Belgium has 60,000 Protestants and 2,300,000 Catholics in a total population of between eight and nine million.

In Holland the Protestants, mainly Reformed, number 3,500,000, the Roman Catholics 3,000,000 and the "neutrals" 2,000,000. Great Britain's 40,000,000 people have about 4,300,000 active churchgoers. This number is almost equally divided between Protestants and Roman Catholics.

In Italy about 12 percent of the people attend mass. Perhaps there is no emptier word in the English language today than the term "Christendom!"

PAGE 10 Pampa News, Thursday, March 25, 1948

The committee of Beta Sigma Phi, which is sponsoring the selection of the First Lady of the Year in Pampa, is headed by Mrs. Harry Hight with Mrs. John Rankin and Mrs. Jack Nimmo assisting her. Mrs. Hight, the former Anita Andrews, was born and reared in Pampa and she worked for Drs. Purviance and Key before her marriage last November.

This committee will name secret "nominators" of leading men and women citizens, who will make the selection on the basis of accomplishment during the last year (1947) in any field of community activity.

The 23 members of Beta Sigma Phi in Pampa are not eligible for the award, which will go to a non-member strictly on the merit of individual accomplishment. The international organization's certificate of recognition will be awarded publicly after the final selection has been made within a few weeks.

4-H Club Meets In Science Room

The Junior High School 4-H Club members met in the Science Room yesterday afternoon for their regular monthly session.

After the meeting was called to order the group sang two songs, "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leafed Clover" and "Down in the Valley."

A committee was appointed to plan for a party. The committee consists of Doris Jean Qualls, Margaret Sharp, Geraldine Parker, and Gale Campbell.

The talk for the meeting was given by Miss Ann Hastings, county home demonstration agent. She gave recipes and told the members of the club how to wash a sweater successfully.

20th Century Club Hears Book Review

The Twentieth Century Study Club met in the home of Mrs. R. J. Hagan last Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. C. E. High, in charge of business.

Mrs. Ell McCarley was welcomed as a new member of the club. It was reported that three subscriptions to the Readers Digest would be sent to residence in Latin America and $5 would be sent to the Latin American Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Paul Kashiak, acting as leader in the absence of Mrs. I. B. Hughes, introduced the program for the day, "The Story Hour," with the quotation:

"Books are paths that upward lead; Books are Friends, Come let us read."

Mrs. W. R. Campbell gave a condensation of the book "Webback" by Claud Garner. This is the dramatic story of the struggles of a "webback" to become an American citizen. The webback is a Mexican alien who has entered the United States illegally. The name refers to his usual mode of entry, that is by swimming the Rio Grande.

Like thousands of poor Mexican peasants every year and with the additional urge of his Yankee heritage, Dionisio Molina decides to make his fortune in Texas. He hasn't the price of a visa which would allow him to enter the United States legally so he resorts to the dangerous night crossing.

After he has successfully crossed the river he obtains a job on a land clearing project where mainly webbacks are employed. From that time on, Dionisio suffers from unscrupulous bosses and heart breaking deportations. Unlike many of his compatriots however, he persists in his endeavor, over all obstacles both vicious and physical, not only to make a bare subsistence but also to become an accepted American and to build a life with the girl he loves.

Mrs. Campbell commented on the book saying it was well written and the descriptions were marvelous.

At the close of the formal program the hostess served cake, coffee, mints and nuts to fourteen members.

Good Friday Drama To Be Presented at Christian Church

At eight o'clock Friday evening Charles Thomas will present the "Upper Room" scene from the world famous play "Family Portrait" at First Christian Church.

This powerful religious play, written by Leonard Coffey and William Cowan, had a long and successful run on Broadway. Mr. Thomas who is directing the performance here played in the Broadway production.

The cast of characters for Friday night's presentation will include Mrs. Ida Oberg as Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mrs. Lottie Burton as Mary Cleophas, Mrs. Juanita Buttle as Mary of Magdala and Max Fremell as Nathan. This cast has spent long hours in rehearsal and Mr. Thomas says he feels confident that a really great portrayal of this scene of the play will be given Friday night.

The public is cordially invited to this Good Friday service.

Friday is considered unlucky because it was the day of the Crucifixion.

The Chewnings Are Club Hosts

The Standish Pitch Club met last Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Chewning.

Prizes for high score went to Mrs. Mickey Patrick and Jess Reno; prizes for low score to Mrs. C. B. Chisum and Clyde Frye and floating prize to R. E. Warren, Jr.

Refreshments of cake, fruit jello, chicken salad and olives and coffee and tea were served to ten couples.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held Apr. 1, Frye.

Methodist Church

In keeping with the special services being conducted by Dr. Harold C. Cooke at the First Methodist Church there will be several services of particular sacred significance at the pre-Easter season. One is the Maundy Thursday service this evening at 7:30. The sermon will be on the subject of "Submission to the Will of God." Immediately after the preaching service the sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed. The pastor asks that an invitation be extended to any one or all who wish to participate in these observances.

Tomorrow from 12 to 3:30 there will be the Good Friday service commemorating the hours that Christ hung on the Cross. Seven 30-minute services, beginning on the hour and the half hour will each consist of a meditation and an appropriate musical number. These seven periods of worship will be devoted to Christ's seven last words from the cross.

On Friday night at 7:30 will occur the last of the week night services. At this time the sermon will be on the subject, "The Cross in Retrospect."

The Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, has announced that on Easter morning there will be duplicate worship services, one at 8:45 preceding Sunday 8 o'clock and the other at the regular time, 11 a.m.

CHILDREN'S HOUR

When the children find the convalescent rule "rest and quietness," an hour of quiet game playing with mother, father or an older brother or sister will work wonders in producing contentment. Tattler Quiz, a question and answer game requiring only "yes" or "no" responses, is a new idea for maximum fun and minimum brain strain for teenage convalescents.

Shrimp Ahoy for Lenten Salads

THERE'S no limit to the variety of main dish salads which can be whipped up using one 5-ounce can of succulent shrimp as the basis. Particularly helpful during Lent, you'll want to use the flavorful little shellfish often all spring, for they have eye as well as appetite appeal, and plenty of nutrition for a hungry family. Shrimp are excellent sources of protein, iodine and iron, and combined with vegetables in salads they make well-balanced dishes.

Here are recipes for four favorite shrimp salads:

Shrimp-Stuffed Tomatoes—Combine 1 5-ounce can shrimp (save 4 whole shrimp for garnish) with 1 cup diced celery. Moisten with mayonnaise and season with salt and pepper. Peel and cut 4 tomatoes in 5 sections, petal fashion. Fill center of tomato with shrimp mixture. Place whole shrimp on top; sprinkle with chopped chives. YIELD: 4 servings.

Shrimp Salad Roll—Combine 1 5-ounce can shrimp with 1/2 cup diced celery and 2 hard-cooked eggs, diced. Season with salt and pepper; moisten with mayonnaise. Split 4 salad rolls. Fill with shrimp mixture. Sprinkle with capers. YIELD: 4 servings.

Shrimp-Stuffed Avocado—Combine 1 5-ounce can shrimp with 1 cup grapefruit sections drained; marinate in 1/2 cup French dressing. Cut 2 avocados in half; remove seed, sprinkle cavity with lemon juice. Fill with shrimp grapefruit mixture. Serve with additional French dressing. YIELD: 4 servings.

Shrimp-Stuffed Cucumber—Cut 2 large cucumbers in half lengthwise; scoop out inside and chop. Combine with 1 5-ounce can shrimp (save 6 or 8 whole shrimp for garnish). Moisten with mayonnaise; season with salt and pepper. Fill cucumber shells with shrimp mixture. Place whole shrimp on top. YIELD: 4 servings.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

In a story on the combined vacation and political sightseeing trip recently taken by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his family, a news-magazine reported that by the time the family foursome reached Yellowstone National Park Mrs. Dewey "seemed to be showing some strain."

Any woman who has ever undertaken an extended vacation trip with her family can understand why.

It's strain enough for the average woman traveling with her family, to keep track of everybody's belongings, cope with the annoyance of the head of the family when things go wrong, and keep a weather eye on the youngsters' behavior.

Add to that the strain of having to make a good impression and having to be ready for the photographers whenever they stepped out to do a little sightseeing, and it must have been quite a strain.

FAME VS. ANONYMITY

Remember the time you loaded the children in the family car and set out to show them a distant part of the country? Well, just suppose that instead of being pleasantly anonymous all along the way you had been the wife of a potential presidential candidate.

That would really have been tough, wouldn't it? If toward the end of her trip, Mrs. Dewey was only just beginning to show "some strain," she must be a remarkable woman.

And if she has to go home to rest up after her vacation—as the way you had been the wife of a potential presidential candidate.

Lilac Frills

"When lilacs last in the dooryard bloomed"—or on a lady's bonnet—it was a sure sign of spring. This 1948 season, as in the days of lavender and lace, reveals a pretty plot to make you frankly feminine and flirtatious. The March issue of Charm, the Magazine for the Business Girl, helps you out with a double-page spread of suggested ways to add just the right note of lilac to daytime or dinner-time costume.

Place some Parma violets at the waist or a pale blue or lilac shantung dress. Complement them with a violet cologne. Charm suggests—Or tack light lavender forget-me-nots around the scooped-out neckline of a navy dress; wear velveting to match.

Tie a lilac silk scarf at the neckline of your navy suit. Add a hyacinth taffeta petticoat under your new gray suit—and send your spirits soaring.

Wear a fitted mauve jacket over a swaying sepi skirt; pin a shoot of heather to the lapel of your green suit; top a pastel cotton with a large yellow straw, beribboned in violet. Simple, easy ways to add one magic note of spring.

CUSTARD PIE DE LUXE

When making custard pie—after it's baked and cool—spread whipped jelly over the top. Then add meringue and brown lightly in the oven. You'll be amazed at the delicious flavor a little jelly adds.

Know Your STUFF

About Towel Supplies. Before you shop at mid-winter "white" sales, know your stuff about your towel supplies to insure a balanced plan for linen closet replenishments.

A well-balanced linen closet will boast about six bath towels, six face towels and six washcloths for each person in the household. This supply allows two for the week's use, two in the laundry and two in reserve.

Save good towels for regular bath use and delegate old towels for use as ironing pads or for towels pulled from the top to wrapping up wet laundry. Towels insure even wear. To prolong the life of terry towels, launder them in sweaters or socks. In addition, it's before they become so soiled that wise to have a few inexpensive but rugged towels for rough washing-up after hard work out of doors or around machinery. If terry towels are snagged, never pull the thread out. Clip it neatly at the surface of the are used in rotation. Clean towels, nap, Salvage ravel or breaks for example, can be put on the should be stitched up immediately bottom of the pile and fresh to prevent ruinous tears.

Well Irrigation Takes the Gamble Out of Farming

TOPEKA, Kans.—Well irrigation on hundreds of thousands of acres from Nebraska to the Texas Panhandle is taking some of the gamble out of farming, writes R. L. Foster in the April issue of Capper's Farmer.

"Well irrigation," he points out, "has come to the uplands as well as the valleys. Tapping water in gravel beds is making possible more feed crops, alfalfa and summer pastures that help balance high-plains farm programs."

"Take the case of Tom Cobula of Goodland, Kans. He completed his well last August and plans to turn his wheat farm into a dairy. He expects to irrigate 200 acres. He will keep 40 acres in alfalfa and grow milo maize for silage. His well is 204 feet deep and the lift is 124 feet. His pump delivers 900 gallons a minute. The motor operates on natural gas at 14-12 cents an hour.

"Crop insurance," the story continues, "is the incentive behind the increase in well drilling. Ed Nelson, Geneva, Neb., tired of seeing crops burn up year after year. He drilled the first irrigation well in Fillmore county in 1939 and found water at 87 feet. His turbine pump driven by a 150-horsepower Diesel motor, lifts 2,000 gallons a minute. Last year water cost $1 an acre-foot. He irrigates 100 acres. Over 50 wells have been drilled in his county since 1939. Nelson got 90 bushels of corn an acre when dry land corn made only 18 bushels."

"In southwest Kansas well irrigation is changing the crop scene. Grant county is an active center of irrigation. Besides sorghums and alfalfa, truck crops are watered. Melons and onions were grown in commercial quantities in 1947. Use of underground water is encouraging diversification and offering stability to much of the area once called the dust bowl. Maize made 75 bushels an acre under well irrigation on Gregory Osborn's land in Haskell County."

Texas Panhandle has 6,000 to 7,000 irrigation wells, the story says. Colorado had 3,400 irrigation wells in operation in 1946 and many more were added last year. Good prices and high demand for food are permitting many farmers to profitably install these pumping systems.

Eggs Are Eaten At Record Rate

Consumers are eating eggs at near-record rates reports Capper's Farmer. We ate over 300 eggs per person in 1947—a number second only to the 1946 record of 307 eggs. Despite this, says a story in the April issue of the farm magazine, egg production is picking up fast enough to drop egg prices seasonally. Feed costs are high. So farmers are buying fewer chicks for flock replacement. This may be a year to buy late, light-bred chicks. The year to buy early on range and new-crop grain.

Newspapers Will Carry Advertising

READING, Pa.—Daily news papers will carry the bulk of Y-B Cigar advertising in 1948 "because they put the medicine right on the spot," according to George L. Yocum, president of Yocum Brothers. "No other medium allows the same flexibility as daily newspapers. No other medium goes home every day." It was said.

The Pampa News has once again been selected to carry Y-B Cigar advertising. The campaign began Mar. 24 and will appear weekly except during July and August.

$2 Here Equals Million in China

SHANGHAI (AP)—You could become a millionaire in China for less than two U. S. dollars. Chinese national currency fell to a rate of more than 800,000 to $1 on the black market.

The price had remained steady for more than a week at about 800,000 to one.

Texan Proposes Electors Primary

AUSTIN (AP)—A plan to submit the names of two sets of electors to Texas Democrats in their July primary is "something to think about," Gov. Beauford H. Jester believes.

He made this reserved comment yesterday on the idea put forth by Merritt H. Gibson of Longview, leader of the now-defunct Texas Regular Party.

Gibson's novel plan would submit these two propositions on the July 24 ballot:

"For the nomination of electors pledged to nominees of the Philadelphia Convention."

"For the nomination of electors pledged to nominees of the Southern Convention." (Strike out one.)

These two conventions will be held before July 24, Gibson said, and the voters would go to the polls with their eyes open. Whichever group they select would be certified by the September convention for printing on the general election ballot.

Jester said the plan had merit in that it was "within the party structure" and would be a sort of a primary for electors.

Cows of This Country Are Sissies—Edson

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—And now, stand for an item of international importance:

The cows of this country are sissies.

No, I'm not kidding. And neither is the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, which brought the whole thing up.

Before we meander into the international picture, let's consider the sissification of cows and other barnyard characters.

U. S. Cows — and cows of other agriculturally advanced nations — are highly specialized creatures.

Some do nothing but produce rich milk. Some stand around and grow their T-bones.

Others are bred for their milk, and their milk is used for everything from butter to cheese. Some are bred for their meat, and their meat is used for everything from hamburger to steaks.

Tipsey Gunman Gives Liquor Away

BOSTON (AP)—A tipsey gunman offered bargain prices during a holdup at a liquor store.

While an accomplice held the owner and a clerk in a back room, the tipsey one waited on several customers — practically giving the stuff away.

Tiring of the job, he called the owner to wait on four more and made him refuse payment for four quarts.

The pair fled with $300 after spending half an hour in the store.

Conservation Men Will Tattoo Fish

A lot of Missouri fish are going to sport tattoos put on by an electric machine, according to Capper's Farmer. The Missouri conservation commission says a story in the April issue of the farm magazine, will use numbers on fish to study growth rate and migration. Anglers will be asked to report numbers on fish they catch, tell where they were caught and give length and weight. Accurate information on this last point is important, but the commission should realize that asking it invades the fisherman's constitutional rights.

You and the Farmer Just Don't Agree!

WASHINGTON (AP)—So you think egg and poultry prices are too high? Farmers think they aren't high enough. So they're cutting their flocks sharply.

A special Agriculture Department survey of hatchery operations issued today indicates that 20 percent fewer chickens will be raised this year than last.

If the survey is borne out, consumers will feel the full effects in 1949.

Dam to Aid in Soil Control

An erosion control dam is now under construction on the Ellis Locke ranch about two miles north-west of Miami, the Roberts County Soil Conservation District announced.

The dam is being constructed by a carry-all, which gives a more solid type of dam due to the packing of the wheels. The drainage area has been measured, and the dam has a storage capacity large enough to hold most of the normal run-off.

Hugh Farrell has made application to the district for aid in planning a conservation program on his ranch north of the Canadian River. His biggest problem is draining water from his hay meadow, where it often makes mowing impossible.

The district hopes to obtain soon a drill for drilling grass seed. This method is best for use on old fields that are being retired from cultivation, and the most suitable practice is planting cane or a similar crop with nearly all the stubble left on the ground.

It is possible, however, to plant under conditions other than drilling. Those who are interested should contact the Soil Conservation Service in the Courthouse in Miami.

Cooke County Is 100 Years Old

GAINESVILLE, Texas (AP)—Cooke County is a century old and its citizens opened a series of events which will continue through the county fair in September.

Boy Scouts opened the celebration with a program at the scene of the county's first settlement, Fitzhugh's Fort, southeast of Gainesville.

Scouts were to hike to the scene. Former Gov. Coke Stevenson, who was the principal speaker at a formal program Saturday, spoke briefly at the fort ceremony. A bronze plaque was installed by Scouts as a permanent marker.

At the afternoon program, dances to Fair Park, depicting 100 years of progress, were dedicated. The Gainesville High School Band played for the program, presented at the park entrance.

Cooke County was created by act of the state legislature March 20, 1848.

DANGEROUS HOUSING

HONG KONG (AP)—House collapses during 1947 killed 28 persons, according to a survey by the Hain Sheng Evening Post. Sixty-eight houses collapsed here.

Farm Cleanup Week Slated

AUSTIN—America's annual "farm cleanup week," designed to reduce livestock and poultry losses caused by disease, parasites and injury, was set today for the week of March 29-April 4.

By joining in this cleanup drive farmers can add to the livestock profits and reduce the needless loss of meat and waste of feed, the American Foundation for Animal Health said, in announcing plans for the week.

Several "common sense" clean-up measures were urged:

"Clean and disinfect buildings and pens, particularly those where young animals and birds are to be born or housed."

"Clean up barnyard and lots. Old piles of refuse and manure are often heavily infested with parasites."

"Get rid of old strawstacks; plow under or scatter the straw. Old stacks harbor parasites and germs."

"Drain or fence-off low spots in barn lots. Stagnant pools and mud are breeding places for parasites and insects."

"Pick up nails, glass or other sharp objects which might cause cuts, or be swallowed by livestock."

"Check for protruding nails, broken stalls, or other defects which could injure stock. Wounds are more than injuries; they are openings for infection."

"Move young animals to fresh, clean ground as early as possible. As further protection against disease, have pigs vaccinated against cholera and against erysipelas where permitted by state officials and indicated by the veterinarian."

Some Jumping in The Bean Business

Most Mexican jumping beans move around rather conservatively, writes G. B. Swanson in Capper's Farmer. However, at the peak of their performance when the jittery grub inside is most active—these beans will jump 4 to 7 inches high.

At this stage the "pop" and "crackle" is distinct and can be heard at considerable distance. The United States buys from Mexico a large part of the $10 million annual crop of jumping beans.

Russia Chuckles—And Moves on In

Georgi Zharbin, the Russian ambassador to Great Britain, stood a couple of days ago in London, "there is not likely to be a war for a long time because none of the people of the world want it."

Of course, he was wrong in the first place by thinking that "the people" ever want war. If anybody in the world should know that "the people" don't declare war, nor lay the groundwork for declaring war, it should be a Russian. Russia's "the people" don't want anything at least, not out loud.

While this ambassador was acting like Kurusu on the day that Japan attacked Pearl Harbor when he said "the people" of Japan want peace, Alexander S. Yanyskin, ambassador to this country, was seeking to inject our people with a deadly fluid too — that commonly called malarky. He said, among other equally questionable things, "Russia is a nation that 'has always stood and stands now for peace and international cooperation.'"

Maybe it is that we should get together on the definition of those terms, just like the Russians did together on the meaning of that much-banded word "democracy." Both sides claim it has a patent on the word.

Phonyism has some help, too. Sen. Taylor (Iowan) who got run for vice president on the leftish Wallace ticket, said to the same New York audience:

"We may not be altogether pleased with the attitude your government has taken at London. Mr. Ambassador, but neither are we willing to accept the premise of our money changers and militarists that you are irrevocably committed to a course of wrecking the peace."

Suddenly we might ask "What peace?" Like Henry Wallace on numerous occasions the past weeks, he evades the all-important question: "Is Russia not guilty of aggression when she perpetrated coups upon the peoples of Europe?" If they answered the question, they could not speak of these times of "peace." As a matter of fact, we stand in a position impugnable because she perpetrated coups upon the peoples of Europe. Then, that's certainly not the "peace" that "the people" of the world hope for.

The whole thing, it seems, adds up to the fact that while the American dealers in stupidity and Russian dealers in duplicity hawk their wares, the Kremlin leaders chuckle behind their iron curtains, and move merrily on — into another country.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I see that a noted Hollywood beauty expert predicts a lot of American husbands eat themselves to death, and she blames their wives. She says that so many women are afraid of losing their husbands to other women that they stuff the poor men with food to make them fat and unattractive.

I don't say there isn't some truth in this half-wit, half-idiotist truth. On the other hand, if there's anything more unattractive than a fat husband, it's a thin, irritable husband yowling around the house for more food.

If I may suggest something, I'd say it would be a lot simpler for the wife to forget about her husband's appearance and use her will power keeping her own self lovely and attractive. A wife with

SHOWDOWN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Now that John L. Lewis for the United Mine Workers and Ezra Van Horn for the coal operators have exchanged their annual tokens of love, the public has a little better chance to judge its work stoppage in the soft coal mines on its merits.

The result is not pretty. Lewis and Van Horn accuse each other of failing to negotiate in the good faith the public has a right to expect. Their contract of last July calls for setting up health and welfare fund payments. After eight months of piddling around—many weeks of which Mr. Lewis spent on vacation they have got no place it's no wonder the third trustee for the fund, Thomas E. Murray of New York, quit them in disgust.

Van Horn accuses Lewis of refusing to let their $30,000,000 fund be put at interest. Of refusing to consider insurance risk studies made by private actuaries and Social Security Board. Of refusing to discuss anything except pensions. Of trying to make the coal operators violate the Taft-Hartley Law, of refusing to allow the issue to be settled by the courts.

Basic charge which Lewis makes against the operators is that they are being high-pressed by other industries not to approve any health or welfare payments. Lewis cites the fact that UAW and private unions are now asking for health and welfare benefits in their new third-round wage increase negotiations. Lewis implies that if welfare fund payments can be denied the miners, a precedent will be set for denying them to other

I offer for your historical education a letter from John J. O'Connor, formerly a New York Democratic Congressman who was the only victim of Franklin D. Roosevelt's effort to purge the party of all those who opposed his attempt to corrupt the entire federal judiciary thru his court-packing scheme.

Mr. O'Connor has been angared for years because "news" would be when he challenged the White House circle of political degenerate, some of them morbid fugitives from the slums of continental Europe. He is, nevertheless, a respectable American and member of the bar which he suffered much to protect. His own brother, Basil, or "Doc," carries on the Roosevelt tradition as chief of the American Red Cross, boss promoter of the Warm Springs thing and a trustee of the late Roosevelt's.

Bear in mind that John O'Connor was a Big man on the inside until he fought Roosevelt to preserve the independence of the courts.

Your articles about Henry Wallace are particularly of interest to me because I know the man," Mr. O'Connor writes. "If all the rats in the entourage of the modern piper would only follow him off the end of a dock, a considerable contribution would be made toward restoring the America that was before the New Deal.

"Wallace is not any different today from what he was in 1933 when, as a Republican, he joined with the non-descript New Deal as secretary of agriculture. From there he divided his time between trying to make himself President and expounding un-American and Communist views. His writings concerned chiefly changing our Constitution entirely, getting away with our Supreme Court, and other totalitarian ideas which he often discussed with me, while I was chairman of the House Rules Committee. The simplicity of his approach is a real danger. He wouldn't harm a cat, except to cross-breed them, but what he would do to his own country!"

"I can recall distinctly on several occasions about 1935 telling him he did not have a Chinaman's chance of becoming President because most people who knew anything about him considered him to be a Communist. He would protest, with that strange laugh of his which, at times and for no reason, has endured for as long as two minutes.

"His pretense of idolatrous worship at the altar of Roosevelt in the Planning One is ridiculous. To my own personal knowledge, in the first half of 1940, he was in a conspiracy with others of mentality like his own, to ditch Roosevelt for the third term nomination, but he himself insisted because I was against Roosevelt and all his misdeeds and anti-American ambitions, some of these conspirators kept reporting to me in my Washington office.

"But what I started to write you principally about was those guru letters and his tie-in with Roerich's orgies on Riverside Drive. (This refers to Nicholas Roerich, the Russian-Oriental deity who has forth in a heaven frequented by not only Wallace, but Sen. Robert F. Wagner and Rep. Sen. Bloom of the House Committee on Foreign Relations. The place was not only a mystical temple but an apartment hotel. Bloom has admitted that he had private parties at the headquarters there. As to whether he paid rent there is a difference of recollection between Sol and other old intimates of the lamasery, W.P.)

"During the 1940 Democratic convention," Mr. O'Connor continues, "I had anti-third headquarters in the Stevens hotel, where the big shot New Dealers also were gathered. Roosevelt had promised the vice president to 13 Democrats such as Jesse Jones, Sam Rayburn, Cordell Hull, Senator Barkley and Speaker Bankhead. When he decided to switch to Wallace to make a special appeal a slim figure and one eye chin is a far better guaranty of married happiness than a husband with three chins.

"For years there was common talk about Henry's occult monkey shins, including the fact that he had on the payroll in his office a turbaned Tibetan who advised Henry about killing off the little pigs and blowing down the corker. (Mr. O'Connor may refer to a guru from Houston, Tex., boss of an estoteric cult, who did hold sway in the Department of Agriculture for a time. Of this one, more another day.)

"You may note, by the way, and my name," the letter concludes. "Sincerely yours, (signed) John O'Connor."

A third party has as much place in American politics as does a third party on a honeymoon. —J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National Chairman.

LEWIS' APPEAL
But all this is irrelevant to the Taft-Hartley Law. It provides that no benefits may be paid to employees or their dependents when either employer or employee is not paying into the fund.

In the contract signed by Lewis and the operators last July it was provided that the employer should pay into the fund ten cents a ton royalty on every ton of coal mined. Employees were to contribute nothing. What this amounts to is a ten cents a ton tax on coal, levied by the mine operators. It must be added onto the price of coal and paid for ultimately by the consumers.

Lewis has never come right out and said just what he demanded in the way of benefits. By some strange twist of his dynamic personality, Lewis will not say what is wanted by Chairman John L. Lewis of the U.M.W. appeal for public support in trying to make the mine operators comply with contract terms setting up royalty payment and welfare fund is, therefore, pretty meaningless.

Lewis endeavors to make a great issue out of the point that in refusing to set up the pension plan the way he wants it, the operators are trying to hide behind what he calls the Taft-Hartley slave law. Lewis tries to put the terms of his contract above the provisions of the law.

Dr. Sproul's Final Refusal to Debate the Ethics of Tax-Supported Education

In the last two issues I quoted offers made to Robert Sproul, president of the University of California, to pay him $1,000 if he would attempt to harmonize tax-supported education with the Ten Commandments, the Declaration of Independence or quotations from Jesus. I also published his answers.

In today's issue, I am publishing my last letter and his definite final refusal to debate with Rose Wilder Lane either for $1000 or for nothing the question—RESOLVED that tax-supported education can be harmonized with the Ten Commandments.

The letter to Dr. Sproul and his answer follow:

"February 10, 1948
"Dear Dr. Sproul:
"I am not able to determine from your letter of February 4 whether or not you are refusing to debate, or whether you are objecting to receiving $1000 for the debate, or you object otherwise to the terms.

"I will try and write a proposition that will be understandable to both of us. Will you or you not, either for $1000 or without $1000, debate for not more than a three hour period with any one of the six persons listed in our letter November 18, 1947 with the requirements that opening speeches be limited to ten minutes and questions and answers be limited to one minute without the opponent for an extended time, any one of the three following questions:
"1. RESOLVED that tax-supported schools can be harmonized with quotations from Jesus.
"2. RESOLVED that tax-supported schools can be harmonized and are in agreement with the Ten Commandments.
"3. RESOLVED that tax-supported schools can successfully teach ethics and honesty."

"The Register will pay all expenses of the hall and the stenographic report.
"If you want this proposition put a little more specifically, will you debate, with time limited as above, for nothing or for $1000 with Rose Wilder Lane the question:
"RESOLVED that tax-supported education can be harmonized with the Ten Commandments.
"Very truly yours,
REGISTER PUBLISHING CO.
R. C. HOLLES, President."

"March 3, 1948
"Dear Mr. Holles:
"Your letter of February 10, 1948 makes a definite proposal that I debate with Rose Wilder Lane on the affirmative of the question, 'Resolved that tax-supported education can be harmonized and are in agreement with the Ten Commandments.' The question suggested does not seem to me debatable, and I see nothing to be gained by taking your proposal. I am glad you express opinions on the subject."

More Advantages Than Money
Dr. Sproul would have had other offers, with time receiving $1000. He would have had an opportunity to ask questions of such close reasoners, such practically educated people as Dr. Henry Link, who wrote "The Return to Bell," that has been in some 40 different editions, "The Rediscovery of Man," and "The Rediscovery of Morals." If anyone thinks that Dr. Link is not an educated and at the same time a religious man, let him read any one of these great books. Or Dr. Sproul would have had the opportunity of asking questions of Isabel Paterson, who wrote "The God of the Machine," that Ayn Rand said was the greatest book published in the last 400 years.

Dr. Sproul would have had an opportunity to ask questions of Dr. W. Orval Watts, who was former economist for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and is now editorial director for the Foundation for Economic Education. Dr. Watts is author of several books on such subjects as "Why Are We So Prosperous?" and "Finding Words for Common Sense."

Or Dr. Sproul would have had the opportunity to ask Rose Wilder Lane questions. Mrs. Lane some ten years ago, wrote an article for the Saturday Evening Post telling "that a wonderful public educational system we had. Now she says she was as blind as a mole when she wrote that. Rose Wilder Lane is a writer of such ability that she paid income tax on $85,000 as a professional writer one year. She is the author of "Give Me Liberty" and "The Discovery of Freedom."

Besides having an opportunity to ask such close reasoners, such as:

news behind the news

WASHINGTON (AP)—The make-up men who stand in the wings of the White House cast propose to present an entirely different Harry S. Truman to the audience of voters in the forthcoming presidential campaign. It will be almost a Cinderella-like transformation if he proves responsive and susceptible to their artistry.

Instead of a modest, inarticulate and unemotional candidate, they will introduce on the political stage a forceful, personable and spontaneous campaigner. He will, according to their plans, be a cross between Calvin Coolidge, whose "homey" qualities he possesses in great degree, and F.D.R., whose rhetorical tricks and mass appeal technique he will try to master.

On the basis of a close study of his public and private performances, they believe that they can perform this semimagic. When Mr. Truman reads from a ghost-written manuscript, he is about as compelling and exciting as an entry in a high school spelling book. He stumbles over words which he has not had time to photograph in his mind. He speaks in a drab, flat voice. He rarely raises his face to his audience.

CHARMS — He is a different man when ad-libbing to a small group, as he does so frequently at Capital Hill luncheons, off-the-record meetings with correspondents or visiting businessmen and in intimate friends.

On such occasions he charms his listeners, even as Herbert Hoover could do with a fireplace group. He has an excellent choice of pithy, simple words, and they flow easily. There is a pleasant quality to his voice which is lacking in his formal speeches.

The part which radio and television will play in the national election is partially responsible for this strategy. It is doubtful if Mr. Truman will make a "swing around the circle." Like F. D. R., he will plead that the world crisis is far too serious for him to indulge in extensive public speaking.

Television also necessitates a face-to-face look at his audience. Mr. Truman has made an extremely poor impression on the occasions when he was televised, largely because of his enforced downward stare at the manuscript before him. This bit of political paraphernalia will require him, as well as other candidates, to make a few concessions to the Hollywood atmosphere and spirit of make-believe.

INDISCRETION — The original plan was to unveil the "new Truman" when he spoke before the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in New York on the birthday of Ireland's saintly benefactor.

That important address, which was almost a rewrite of his earlier foreign policy warning before a joint session of Congress, had been prepared and written without benefit of ghost writer, Clark Clifford. So, it was deemed a proven student of history and of morals as the above, questions, Dr. Sproul could have received $1,000 as a reward for his answering a few questions.

In the next issue I will tell why Dr. Sproul turned down the opportunity to be of great service to mankind.

SO THEY SAY
It's 96-cent-per-pound butter, not 4-cent-per-pound steel, that the working man in this country is complaining about.
—President Benjamin F. Fairless of U. S. Steel Corp.

So far President Truman seems to be getting more opposition from the Democrats than from the Republicans. Mr. Truman simply can't win with such a fragmented, broken-down organization.
—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio.

"I am hopeful that the redrafted tax bill will attract sufficient votes to override a veto if one should occur. In fact, I am hopeful that we can pass a bill that the President will see fit not to sign."

Taking the Nation's Press FOR GRANTED
(From 'Togus' Editorial)
There was a time, in this country, when even a whole day of life was not shaken for granted; much less water, thicker, a night's sleep. Now, by reason of uniquely bountiful heritage, we take for granted—too much. We assume. Expect. In fact, now, we take for granted the fine, unpopularity of this possibility.

Unthinking, we accept not only the urgency of food, shelter and clothes but the whole spate of little things that make up a way of life, a pattern of security. We take for granted the protection of our locked front door; a roof to our living room; heat, lights. We expect our children, bursting with vitality and vitamin B, to knock our hats askew with the vigor of wild geese. As breathing, we take for granted the fine, unpopularity of this possibility.

We assume that young husbands will make a successful future for themselves, that older husbands will retire on what, over long years, they have put away. We expect our daughters to have an evening dress. We cheerfully assume that some decent men will get voted into public office. We know that veterans can get a GI Bill and assume that, with it, one of them will start a future U. S. Steel. Another will marry, and produce an Edison, a Carver, and take for granted that we will not be shot, imprisoned, or have our children live to grow up.

What we forget every day, every moment, is our own history. That it was not entirely to give us these luxuries—become necessities that men stayed on at Valley Forge for 22 cents a day; that Lincoln did the fine, unpopularity of this possibility; that over 56,000 men died in prison camps between '61 and '64; that later, half a million men lay in their blood on foreign soil. It was not to guarantee us ice cream and radios that women bare their chests during Indian attacks, were partners in the great pioneering sweep to the West.

It is good to remember what our simple right to vote cost other human beings. Perhaps they had no thought us; they were concerned with making their America. What they made is what we have. To take this heritage, unthinkingly, for granted is a first step to losing it.

If another war comes the government may draft women and children along with the men.
—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, U. S. Army.
President Truman's name should be barred from the November ballots. His no-discrimination program will open the door for a totalitarian form of government.
—Sen. William Tuck (D) of Virginia.
