EAST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI)—Police were given a free hand today to continue arresting library scofflaws with midnight roundups of delinquent book borrowers again in the offing.

The new three-step plan for replenishing the library's shelves came about after the 14 persons arrested earlier in the week let it be known they thought the police action was a bit drastic.

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) cried foul and said the action smacked of the police state.

Chief John McGinty, City Counsel William Brach and Police Commissioner Lloyd Atkins.

Harold L. Roth, the library director, has signed 39 complaints against alleged library scofflaws.

He said the library had made numerous attempts to get the books back.

Roth said one aftermath of the furor raised by the midnight arrests was a sudden upswing in the number of overdue books now being returned, some of them due back in 1957.

Better Homes, Closer U.S.-Mexico Communities FHA Head's Aim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert C. Weaver, confirmed as federal housing administrator over Southern protests, has promised to work with Congress "toward our common goal of better homes and communities for all Americans."

Weaver, approved by the Senate Thursday night, will be the highest ranking Negro official in the federal government. His annual salary will be $21,000.

After the voice vote confirmation, Weaver issued a statement expressing his gratitude for the Senate approval and the speed with which the chamber acted.

He said, "It will be my purpose to work with understanding and cooperation with all the members of the Congress toward our common goal of better homes and communities for all Americans."

Closer U.S.-Mexico Ties Are FK's Aim

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy said "it is my sincere determination to struggle for greater cooperation between our two governments."

"I received with great pleasure your considerate and cordial message of Jan. 29 on occasion of my inauguration. It is my sincere determination to struggle for greater cooperation between our two governments, as well as among other democratic governments of the world.

"Mexico always will have a warm place in the hearts of Americans, as it has in mine. I assure you reciprocity of my expressions of personal friendship and wish you continued success in your high post.

Man Hurt As Auto Rams Into Train

PERRYTON (Sp) — A Follett man, William George File, 29, was seriously injured in an auto-train collision at the east city limits of Perryton Wednesday night. The accident happened where a spur line to the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. crosses Highway 15.

File suffered several crushed ribs, a broken right leg and multiple cuts and bruises. He was taken to Sanford Hospital.

The accident occurred at 7:25 p.m. as the freight train backed along the spur line to unload cement at the Halliburton plant.

File was driving west on Highway 15 and drove broadside into the boxcar, jamming the front of his car under the train, city officials said. The car was demolished.

Police Captain, Bill Garvin, who was waiting on the other side for the train to pass, reported brakeman C. K. Gibbons on a ladder of the boxcar, apparently waved his light at File before jumping to safety as the car kept going. The crossing has no gates or light signals.

Redistricting Proposal Due Legislators

AUSTIN (UPI)—Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso is expected to file for introduction today a bill to give the state's new congressional districts to Dallas County, and switch one from deep East Texas to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

McGregor's bill would also add two counties to Speaker Sam Rayburn's tiny northeast Texas bailiwick.

And it would cut the size of the sprawling 16th Congressional District—the largest district in area in the nation. El Paso would remain in the district while Midland and Odessa would be transferred to a district with Abilene.

"I've tried to redistrict the state as closely as possible to population and economic similarity," McGregor said.

If the legislature fails to enact a bill changing the state's congressional district, Texas will have a congressman at large until the job can be done. The state earned a new congressional seat in the last census.

McGregor said his plan for congressional districts would average 360,000 persons to the district.

Districts one, three, six and seven in deep East Texas would absorb the territory given up by locating a new member in the Rio Grande Valley.

McGregor calls for creation of a new 7th district composed of Maverick, Zavala, Dimmitt, Frio, La Salle, Webb, Duvall, McMullen, Live Oak, Atascosa, Bee, Karnes, Wilson, Guadalupe, Comal, Gonzales, DeWitt, Lavaca, Jackson, Victoria and Goliad counties.

U. S. Adding To Mystery Of Sputnik
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Defense Department information source today helped shroud the fate of Russia's six-day-old, 7½-ton Sputnik VII.

Air Force and defense sources hinted there had been no difficulty in tracking the Soviet satellite. They said the information ban merely created an appearance of mystery concerning the Sputnik's whereabouts.

The only publicly reported Western observation of the satellite was by the Royal Observatory at Edinburgh, Scotland. This was made possible by information furnished by the Russians.

L. J. Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said the Western "confusion" showed that a spy satellite "can whirl around the earth undetected." The Defense Department refused to comment.

The White House disclosed earlier, however, that the U.S. detected the Sputnik even before its launching was announced by the Russians. Less than a week before the launching, the Defense Department said its system for detecting "silent satellites" was being perfected.

Defense sources said the reason for the information blackout apparently was a belief that America has given too much publicity to Soviet space achievements.

Area-Wide Historical Society Workshop Scheduled For Sunday

An area-wide genealogical workshop sponsored by the Pampa Area Genealogical and Historical Society will be held Sunday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library.

The workshop, which is open to the public, will comprise two historic events, beginning on Feb. 12 — the anniversary of the birth of ham Lincoln in 1809 and the arrival of Jefferson Davis in Montgomery, Ala., in 1861 for inauguration as President of Confederacy.

Beginning with registration at 1:30 p.m. in the library auditorium, the sessions will continue through 5 p.m. led by a panel of expert genealogists and authors in the field of family history research. Speakers will be Rexford Fox of Dumas, former judge of Moore County, former Forest Doshier, compiler, Armstrong County History; F. W. Hagaman, authority aldry-from-Conway; and T. Cary, second vice president of Texas State Genealogical and president of the Pampa organization.

A technicolor film "Our New Archives," a color tour of historical documents in the national depository of our country, will be shown. A display of charts, historical items, maps, and antiques will be view in the auditorium and front entrance display case.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. B. R. Cantrell, George Ingram, Mrs. Clayton, and Mrs. Willie B. Cantrell.

European Nations Open Unity Talks

PARIS (UPI) — Six European nations opened a "little summit" conference here today in an attempt to develop a united economic and political front in their relations with the United States and the rest of the world.

President Charles de Gaulle of France and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, who fail to see eye to eye on many problems, dominated the meeting. Representatives also were present from Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

If it were true that the ladies who do not attend the Thursday afternoon bridge club are the ones who get talked about, then that is pretty much the position of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

It is particularly true of Kennedy. His every action is watched in Europe these days and his words are studied closely.

The French version, given out in Algiers by Jacques Coup depreux, information director of the French administration in Algeria, said the Ilyushin "was not on the international flight plan" and was challenged because it had entered a "zone of French responsibility."

He said three French fighters rose to meet the airliner after it was spotted on radar, and a "warning burst" was fired. The airliner did not reply on the radio wave length used for inter-plane communications, he said, but veered off toward the north, "leaving the zone of French responsibility and was not pursued."

At present the maximum Social Security tax is $144 a year and is paid by every worker covered by the program who earns as much as $4,800 a year.

Existing law will boost these maximums to $184 and $252 on Jan. 1, 1963. If Kennedy's proposals are enacted in full, the maximum tax take would jump to $200 and $300, respectively, on that date for workers earning $5,000 a year or more.

Death Takes Colorful Ex-Senator

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (UPI)—Former U.S. Sen. Millard Tydings, who battled in war and public life, died of pneumonia Thursday night at the age of 70.

The colorful Maryland Democrat challenged President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal policies as too leftist, even for his own progressive philosophy, and won reelection to the Senate in 1938 in spite of a presidential purge attempt.

But when he took on the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., in 1950 over the issue of Communists in the State Department, he lost his Senate seat after four terms. He never wavered, however, in his contention that McCarthy failed to submit "one single solitary bit of evidence."

Home Improvement Hint:

Duck 'Suede Shoe' Boys

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Be- you're planning to fix up your home. He can fleece you out of hundreds of dollars and even talk you into breaking a law that can send you to jail.

Home improvement crooks — to are only a small part of the nation's building contractors — re- the early '50s when several re apprehended wearing that of foot attire. The nickname ck as did the salesman's suc- in swindling homeowners.

Twenty-two officials and sales- of seven home improvement mpanies in the New York area re arrested in January and arged with "suede shoe" swind- Their operations reportedly in- $3,500,000 in loans and $250- in "kickbacks" to homeowntion by the FBI. Convictions carry a maximum jail sentence of two years and a $5,000 fine. Violators are also placed on an FHA "black list" that is circulated to all banks and loan companies that do business under the federal housing program. The list presently contains about 6,500 names.

ROY F. COOKE
 ... brush 'em off

Although the majority of today's housing swindlers take place outside the FHA program, some salesmen still manage to make a lucrative living by violating its rules. The FBI arrested 94 of these violators last year.

One of their favorite swindles is to smooth talk a victim into signing the work completion certificate before the job is finished. This empowers the bank to pay the contractor who then often skips town.

A variation on this swindle is to promise the victim a "kickback" on his loan. This is the gimmick allegedly used by the men recently arrested by the FBI in New York. For instance, the cost of a repair job may be set by the contractor at $750. But the contractor talks the homeowner into applying for an FHA insured $1,000 loan, the idea being that the homeowner can keep the difference to pay off other debts.

The victim then signs the completion certificate in advance, the contractor submits it to the bank which in turn pays him $1,000. The contractor gives the homeowner his kickback.

Only the most naive victims call the police after being swindled like this. For under FHA rules, accepting a kickback makes the homeowner liable for a two-year jail sentence and a $5,000 fine. Commissioner Cooke warns:

"The old story that you can't get something for nothing still holds true. Employ the same care in picking a contractor that you use in choosing a doctor."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

This is the visiting season in the diplomatic big leagues.

From now until spring there will be a steady traffic flow between world capitals as the statesmen get their cards in order for a possible summit meeting later this year.

At the moment, a "little summit" has been in session in Paris. This conference—made up of the heads of state of the six European Common Market nations, including France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg—was aimed at giving Western Europe a United and more powerful voice in coming crucial talks with President John F. Kennedy.

On the eve of this session, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle set up a meeting of their own to remove at least some of the misunderstandings that have sprung up between them.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan already has been to Paris for private talks with De Gaulle at which they undoubtedly aligned their views and policies as best they could.

With these preliminaries out of the way, the parade to Washington will begin, for every world leader of stature is anxious to talk to Kennedy before his administration's policies are fully fixed. They want to take his measures and see what makes him tick. They'd like to be first to plant their own ideas for future action. Among the first to go will be Macmillan and Adenauer. After Hall,

Dear Abby...

Husbands And Wives Take Same Vows

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is probably the silliest letter you've ever received, but I don't know where else to get the answer.

My husband says that in a marriage ceremony, the wife promises to love, honor, and OBEY her husband, but the husband doesn't promise to love, honor and OBEY his wife. I say that the husband and wife take the same vows. Who is right?

BIG ARGUMENT DEAR BIG: In recent years, the word "obey" has been dropped from most marriage ceremonies. But according to Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen (and Judges who perform civil ceremonies) the husband and wife take the SAME vows.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law is killing my son. All she knows about is the can opener. He hasn't had a square meal since he married her, except at my house. She doesn't have a schedule for anything. She washes when she feels like it, and never mends anything. If things get torn or ripped, she throws them away and buys new. When she's home, she's talking on the telephone. When she's not home, she's gossiping with the neighbors. I offered to teach her to cook, sew and keep house, but she tells me she's not the type. Is there any way I can help her? Or should I just leave her alone? My son can't find any fault with her.

young wives that when their husbands start to get out of line to raise Holy Ned. A man will get away with as much as he can. I kept the peace for 14 years, but I lost my husband.

HINDSIGHT CONFIDENTIAL TO "BUD": A very wise man once said, "Remember — on the day of your death, everything you possess in the world will belong to somebody else. But what you are will be yours forever."

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

RUTH MILLETT Failure To Replace Extracted Teeth Causes Further Trouble

(This is the fifth in a series of questions and answers on dental health published by The Pampa News in cooperation with the Panhandle District Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week February 5 through 11.)

My 25-year-old sister has just had two teeth extracted. She says that she's not going to get a bridge to replace them. Since they are back teeth and won't show anyway, I think that she should get a bridge.

Any permanent tooth that is extracted or accidentally lost should be replaced with an artificial tooth. If it is not, the other teeth tend to drift into the empty space, once they are out of their proper position, there is likely to be too much stress on certain teeth when food is chewed. This causes further displacement of the teeth and injury to the bone and to the tissues that attach the teeth to the jaws.

Food is more likely to become packed into the spaces between irregular teeth, and this leads to more decay. Food packed between the teeth also irritates the gums and the bone and may cause the gums to become diseased.

Periodontal disease is disease of the gums and other supporting structures of the teeth. (The word "periodontal" comes from two Greek words that literally mean "around the tooth.") Sometimes this disease is called pyorrhea.

One of the causes of periodontal disease is calculus or tartar, a hard crust-like material that is deposited on the surface of the teeth where the gums and the crowns meet. Calculus irritates the gums. Other irritants are worn-out fillings and crowns, sharp edges of badly decayed teeth, food wedged between the teeth and against the gums and ill-fitting partial dentures or bridges.

Periodic cleaning of the teeth by a dentist, as part of regular checkups to assure proper care of all dental problems, is one of the means of preventing periodontal disease. Proper brushing at home helps avoid the deposit of calculus on the teeth, although brushing cannot remove it once it has formed.

Once periodontal disease has developed, it usually can be cured if treatment begins before the disease is too advanced. Although treatment by a dentist is essential, complete cooperation of the patient in home care is most important if the treatment is to be successful.

Aren't dentures just as good as your own teeth? So why should I bother to take care of my teeth? No, dentures are not as good as natural teeth. They have improved greatly in recent years and we should be grateful that they are as efficient as they are. But we can't improve on nature. Would you ever say that an artificial hand or an artificial leg was as good as a natural hand or leg?

Polly's Quiz

By Polly Cramer

A big headache for many homemakers lies in the problem of what to do about those old-fashioned radiators. As they are, they are no things of beauty. A window seat with solid wood ends and a metal grille front (all painted to match the woodwork) can turn such a radiator into an asset.

Or bookshelves may be needed in a room. If so, build low ones all across the radiator wall. The top will be continuous on over the radiator. Metal grille used in front of the radiator itself can be fastened to the front of the shelf unit.

One of my favorite remedies is the use of floor length cafe curtains made of the same fabric as draw curtains at either side. Be sure to use brass rods that extend far enough out to allow curtains to hang in front of the radiator. This same treatment holds good for covering a window air conditioner.

'World Day Of Prayer' To Be Noted Here

Refutes Teaching Of Jesus Christ Segregation Still Predominant In Majority Of Denominations

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International Nearly every major Christian denomination has asserted that racial segregation does violence to the spirit and teaching of Jesus Christ.

The Christian Century had another idea for making race relations Sunday mean something. Many white and Negro churches have a custom of "exchanging ministers" on this day.

that whites and Negroes would meet each other before the altar on a basis of equality and in a spirit of communion for the first time," the Century said.

This paradox haunts the consciences of many Christians. Their embarrassment reaches a peak on the second Sunday in February, when churches across the land join in the annual observance of "Race Relations Sunday."

The observation, now sponsored by the National Council of Churches, was begun 31 years ago. At that time, segregation was the standard pattern of American life.

The author of an old hymn which is sung in many churches on race relations Sunday evidently had the same idea in mind. The hymn is called, "In Christ There is No East or West," and it closes with these lines:

"Who serves my Father as a son
Is surely kin to me."

A SPECIAL LENTEN SERIES

NEW FRONTIERS IN RELIGION

by noted churchman, Dr. J. Carter Swaim, will be presented by this newspaper. Each article is written to inspire you to increased religious thought during the weeks of Lent.

Two Sermons Announced By Rev. Adcock

The sermon topic for the two morning services in the first Methodist Church, at 8:30 and 10:55 a.m., will be entitled "Peculiar People," the Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor, announced today.

The minister's topic for the 7:30 p.m. worship service will be entitled "The Fault Finders." Music for the morning services will be provided by the Carol and Wesley Choirs and the Sanctuary Singers.

Sunday evening fellowship will begin at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. A planned activity program will begin at 8:30 p.m. at which time the Rev. Mr. Adcock will continue the study of the Bible in Friendship Classroom.

Mrs. Grundy Morrison will present a program to be highlighted by films she photographed in Russia during the meeting of Methodist Men which will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Fellowship Hall.

Two Special Programs Set For Next Friday

Two special programs have been scheduled here next Friday in observance of the 75th anniversary of the "World Day of Prayer."

The first will begin at 7:30 a.m. in the First Methodist Church with the Wesleyan Service Guild as host organization. The second will begin at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church.

In the opening service the program will begin with a complimentary breakfast of coffee and doughnuts. Immediately thereafter, the Business and Professional Women's group of the First-Christ Church, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Crews, wife of the pastor of the church, will direct the service.

The 10 a.m. service will be highlighted by a worship service to be directed by Mrs. Henry Rose of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and a play to be directed by Mrs. Ronald Hubbard, wife of the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, N.M.

Also on the latter program there will be a special choral numbers

Witnesses Convention Opens Today

"Be Taught by Jehovah" will be the theme of the three-day winter convention of the Jehovah Witnesses that will open this evening at the fairgrounds at Albuquerque, N.M.

The program includes the setting of the theme by R. L. Anderson of New York City, after which he will instruct a one-hour ministry course. This course will provide a basis for the weekly ministry schools that are conducted in local Kingdom Halls.

Clarence Newcomb, circuit supervisor will conclude the opening sessions with a Christian service instruction program. Saturday's program will be composed of a discourse on Baptism and the immersion of new members of the congregation. It will be climaxed by a series of instruction on how to aid new members to become ministers.

Anderson will conclude the convention with a talk on "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?" which is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m.

Kaniel Kastanis, presiding minister of Pampa's Jehovah Witnesses, said that 20 members of the local congregation left this morning for the conclave. All services in the local Kingdom Hall, 944 S. Dwight, excepting the Watchtower Bible Class have been cancelled this week due to the convention. The class will convene at 4:15 p.m. Sunday.

W. Pacific To Operate Separately If Santa Fe Obtains Stock Control

Santa Fe and Western Pacific have entered into a formal written agreement for operation of Western Pacific as a separate railroad in the event Santa Fe is authorized to acquire stock control of Western Pacific.

The announcement was jointly made today by F. B. Whitman, president of Western Pacific, and Ernest S. Marsh, president of Santa Fe, simultaneously with a similar statement by the general conference of both roads at a prehearing conference before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C.

"The intent and purpose of Santa Fe in acquiring control of Western Pacific is to continue it as an active and aggressive competitor in the areas which it now serves. To that end, it will be managed and operated as a separate railroad pursuant generally to its own past policies and practices with respect to rates, service, and operation."

The new plan agreed upon, Whitman and Marsh asserted, contemplates the creation of a new corporation as a wholly owned subsidiary of the Santa Fe. The new company which would be called Western Pacific Railway Co. would issue all of its stock to the Santa Fe in return for a number of shares equal to one and one quarter shares of Santa Fe stock for each share of outstanding stock of the present Western Pacific Railroad Co. The new company would thereupon transfer these Santa Fe shares to the present Western Pacific Railroad Co. in return for the conveyance by the latter company of all of its assets of every description.

Rev. Upshaw Notes Topics For Sunday

"The World's Worst Buy" is the sermon topic selected by the Rev. Therman Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, in the morning worship service Sunday. His topic Sunday evening will be "Talking God's Name in Vain."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. Russell Greene West
Pastor
Church of the Brethren

On February 12, 1809, in a frontier community in Kentucky, in a clay-floored log cabin that had no windows and only one door, a wilderness boy was born to humble parents. The name of that boy has become a household word over all the world — Abraham Lincoln! This Sunday we commemorate the birth of this "Great Emancipator" by designating this as Race Relations Sunday.

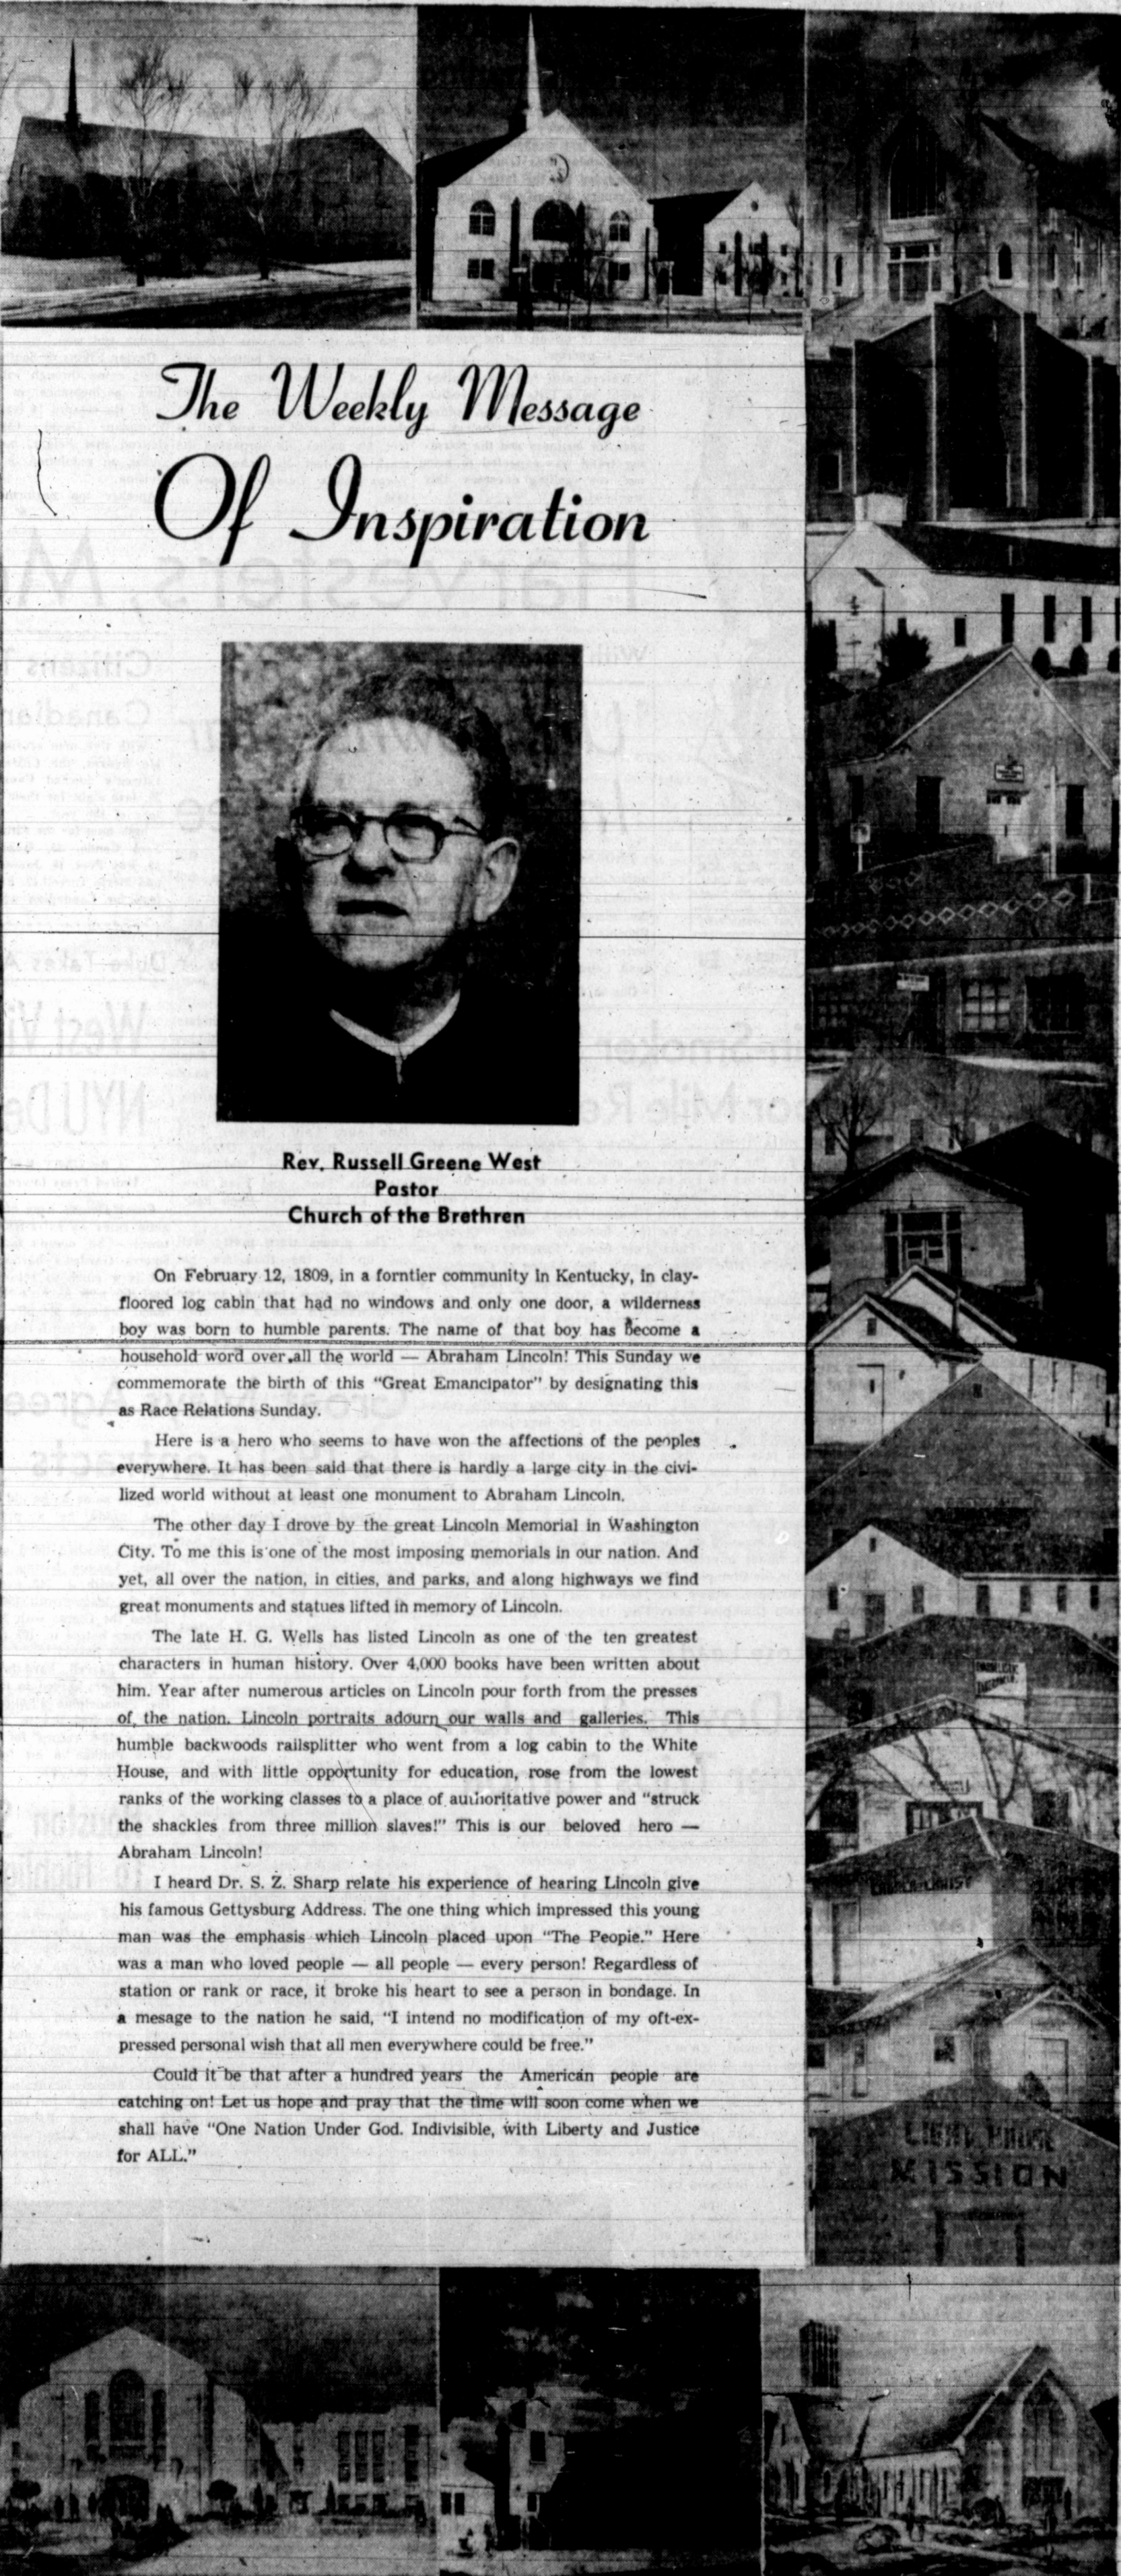

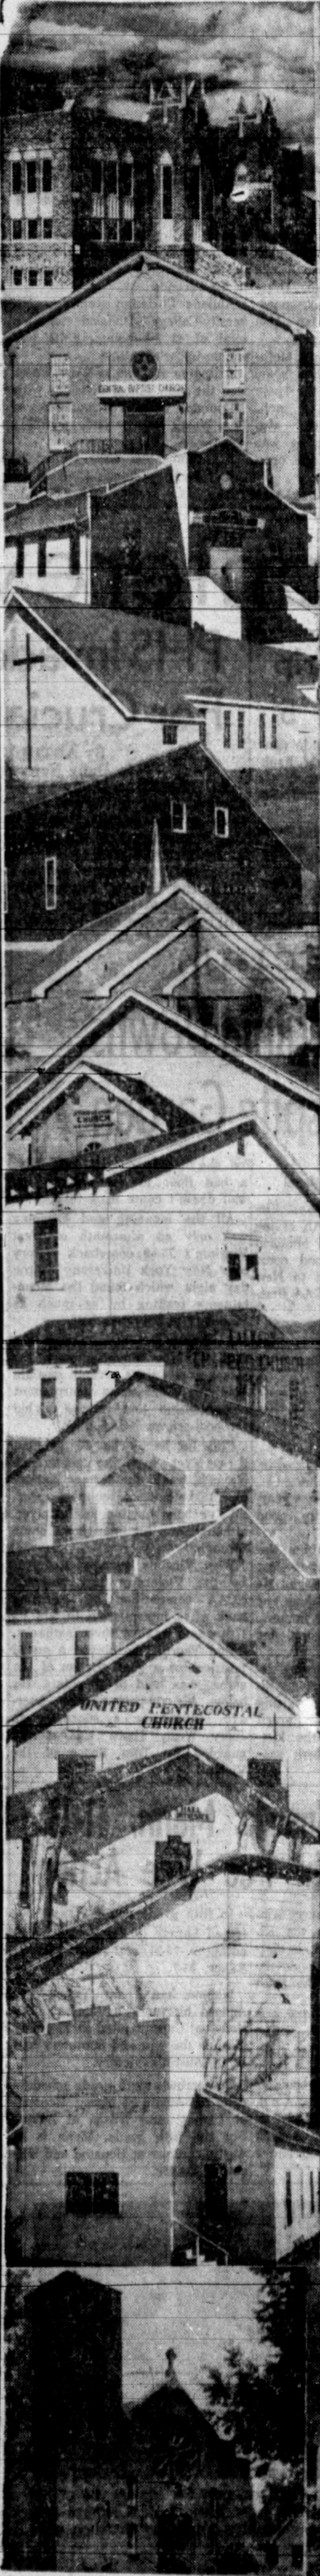

Here is a hero who seems to have won the affections of the peoples everywhere. It has been said that there is hardly a large city in the civilized world without at least one monument to Abraham Lincoln.

The other day I drove by the great Lincoln Memorial in Washington City. To me this is one of the most imposing memorials in our nation. And yet, all over the nation, in cities, and parks, and along highways we find great monuments and statues lifted in memory of Lincoln.

The late H. G. Wells has listed Lincoln as one of the ten greatest characters in human history. Over 4,000 books have been written about him. Year after numerous articles on Lincoln pour forth from the presses of the nation. Lincoln portraits adorn our walls and galleries. This humble backwoods railsplitter who went from a log cabin to the White House, and with little opportunity for education, rose from the lowest ranks of the working classes to a place of authoritative power and "struck the shackles from three million slaves!" This is our beloved hero — Abraham Lincoln!

I heard Dr. S. Z. Sharp relate his experience of hearing Lincoln give his famous Gettysburg Address. The one thing which impressed this young man was the emphasis which Lincoln placed upon "The People." Here was a man who loved people — all people — every person! Regardless of station or rank or race, it broke his heart to see a person in bondage. In a message to the nation he said, "I intend no modification of my oft-expressed personal wish that all men everywhere could be free."

Could it be that after a hundred years the American people are catching on! Let us hope and pray that the time will soon come when we shall have "One Nation Under God, Indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for ALL."

PCC Delays

Shop Opening

The official opening of the new Pampa Country Club pro shop, delayed last weekend due to the snow, today was tentatively rescheduled for the latter part of February or early in March by Hart Warren, PCC pro.

Warren said that two of the pros who were to be here for the opening and following 18-hole exhibition match were leaving the state for the next two weeks on vacations and would be unable to attend if the opening was tomorrow.

Warren also felt the weather might be a little more predictable in March. Warren added that the shop, nevertheless, is open for business and the warming trend was expected to bring out the golfing devotees this weekend.

Dunlap Wins '780-Yard Dash'

SWC Shot Put Record Falls In Fort Worth Meet

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Indoor track and field competition was ushered back into Texas for the first time since 1924 Thursday night at the Will Rogers Indoor Games and the capacity crowd of 7,200 saw the Southwest Conference shot put record bettered and a "weird" 600-yard race.

Officials became confused in the open 600-yard race. The runners were past the finish line before officials got the tape up. Drew Dunlap, formerly of Texas, speeded around the extra lap (180 yards) and won.

Abilene Christian won the University-College Division with a total of 42 2-3 points. SMU was runner-up with 21.

Other top performances included those by Richard Menchaca and John Cooper of North Texas State, winners of the 880 and one-mile run, respectively; Don Deaver of Texas A&M in the high jump (6-5 3/4) and Bill Miller of McMurry in the broad jump (23-11 1/4) and Ian Stewart of Lamar Tech in the two-mile run.

Unknowns Star In Phoenix Tee

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Some unfamiliar names and a few old reliables headed the list today as the second round of the $30,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament got underway on the sun-kissed Arizona Country Club course.

They took advantage of an early start to fire four-under-par 66 on a course that admittedly has been toughened up for the touring pros.

Citizens Trip Canadian '5'

With five men scoring in double figures, the Citizens Bank Citizens' team downed Canadian, 96-59, last night for their 22nd victory of the year.

PHS Invades Lubbock For Crucial Contest

LUBBOCK — Pampa's Harvesters, barely thwarted in their attempt to remove Berger from the 3-4A title picture, take on the heavy task of removing Lubbock Monterey's flag aspirations in an important District 3-4A basketball game here at 8 p.m. today.

This city, dubbed as the Hub of the Plains, will also become the Hub of Basketball tonight as Tom S. Lubbock hosts league-leading Amarillo Palo Duro in a game that will be watched closely by Monterey partisans.

Chain-Smoker Seeks Indoor Mile Record

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Istvan Rozsavolgyi, the chain-smoking Hungarian who has his eye on Ron Delany's indoor mile record, takes a crack at one of the Irish lad's meet records tonight as the headline in the mile at the Philadelphia Inquirer's 17th annual games.

Duke Takes ACC Lead

For, with Monterey (8-3) on a game back of Palo Duro (9-2), a Plainsman victory and a Lubbock upset could conceivably throw the conference race into a three team tie, should Berger (8-3) also win its game tonight with Tascosa in Berger.

Pampa (3-8) also has several things at stake tonight: first, a victory would assure them of a tie for fifth place with Tascosa, the highest Pampa has been since early in the season; and second, a win would erase the earlier 41-49 decision at the hands of the Plainsmen.

However, the Harvesters may have to engineer the upset without the full-time services of Pat Carter, PHS' leading scorer and always-present point threat. Carter missed practice Wednesday with the flu and was not in school Thursday and Coach Terry O'Neil was faced with the possibility of starting three or four sophomores against potent Monterey.

Reaps Lose Lead

But his task of beating the Inquirer meet record of 4:05.8 held by Delany will take some doing on Istvan's part on the 12-lap Convention Hall track. A week ago, he won the Wanamaker Mile in the Millrose Games in 4:06 which makes his assault on the Inquirer mark rather improbable. Istvan, third in the Olympic 1,500 meters last summer, draws his competition from Olympian Terry Five 15-footers are in the vault.

By FRED DOWN United Press International They say Dick Groat looks like a bank clerk but he'll get the "Texas oil royalty" treatment when he steps up to the cashier's window this year.

Willie finished third in the National League batting race last season with a .319 average. He led the league with 190 hits and paced the Giants with 29 homers, 103 runs batted in, 107 scored and 25 stolen bases.

West Virginia avenged a defeat by the Violets in last season's NCAA competition by storming back after intermission to win its 17th game against three setbacks.

Flanking Matson probably will be fellow sophs Gordon Balch, 6-0, and either Wayne Kries, 5-10, or Ronnie Chase, 5-7. The latter pair are staging a heated battle for a starting spot, with Kries taking the edge in scoring (40 in district), but Chase being the better ball-handler and defensive man.

PE-SAVER SIGNS — Signs such as the one in the lower right of the photograph worked wonders in Miami, Fla. Traffic fatalities at school crossings there have been cut to zero, and officials believe the unique signs such as the one above turn the trick.

Dear Crossings' Save Lives Of Miami People

Miami, Fla. (NEA) — In 1957, young pedestrians were injured and pedestrians were injured in accidents at school crossings in Dade County, the nation's largest school district. In 1959 and 1960, the figures were 443 and 475, respectively.

Residents agree with the Herald which labeled these "the miracle at the crossings."

"miracle" results from a program built around a sign and a unique arrangement of the message "Dear Crossing."

All significant schools in the county will soon have them.

Signs connected with the program no reason why it could be used in other communities. The figures to prove the crossings save money.

House Advised To Set Up Probe Committee

By PAT CONWAY

AUSTIN (UPI)— Texas House members today have the unanimous advice of their state affairs committee to create a new investigating committee to probe vice, crime and subversion in Texas.

A resolution to create a new five-member general investigating committee moved to the floor Wednesday night after it received a 21-0 vote of approval in committee.

Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches indicated he would push passage of his resolution on Monday after the measure has been printed and lawmakers have time to study it.

As reported to the floor, the measure is an amended version of Oliver's original proposal that merely urged creation of a new committee.

Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi created the amended version to provide the mechanics to establish a new committee. It gives the investigators wide powers to probe into anything against the welfare of the state.

Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen told the State Affairs Committee the investigative body is urgently needed to guard against breakdowns of law enforcement in Texas. Murray headed the last House investigation committee.

Murray's committee won fame for investigators of uranium promoter John Milton Addison and vice and crime in Beaumont, Port Arthur and Amarillo.

In the Senate Wednesday, Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston pushed a bill through the Jurisprudence Committee to raise the minimum penalty for the sale of narcotics to five years in prison. The present minimum is two years.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas won State Affairs Committee approval on bills to create a

WINTERS OF DISCONTENT—Winters throughout the world have been getting colder since the early 1940s, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. Up till then, average temperatures, when plotted on a graph, had shown a long upward trend beginning in the 1880s. At its peak, the annual mean temperature was about 9 degrees warmer than in 1880. Average winter temperature was nearly 1.2 degrees higher. Scientists are not agreed on the causes, but it appears that now winters are getting to be more like the ones grandpa talks about.

Fighting A Sickness

Gamblers Anonymous Fights To Balk Those Who Prey On Sufferers

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA)—The three men walking into the tavern have not come to make a deal. Syndicates like theirs don't make deals with punks and welchers. These men are here, on a tip, to collect a $7,500 gambling debt from a man who is in hiding.

But before they leave the tavern they will have settled for $300 (all the man in hiding has) and promised a group they've never heard of before—the New York Gamblers Anonymous—to lay off this guy and his family so he can be helped out of a grim addiction that affects 30 million American lives today.

After one year of existence, the New York Gamblers Anonymous, patterned after the first in Los Angeles, has discovered:

Compulsive gambling is as much an addiction as narcotics or alcoholism. And, in some ways, more subversive.

Society makes this illness almost glamorous. This keeps very sick men from seeking treatment.

The formula Gamblers Anonymous (or GA as it is known) has worked out appears to have the possibility of an 80 per cent success rate in combating this compulsive disease.

Gambling in the U.S. today is at least a $40 billion business from sports events to the numbers game. The sometime or social gambler, who can take a bet or leave it, is no problem. But five million Americans are not so casual.

"You get up in the morning," a GA member says, "and you got to play something. Anything. If the horses aren't running, you'll find a bet on cockroaches. On a raindrops down a window. It won't let you alone. If you don't have the money, you get it."

In musical comedies this is the outline of a laugh-a-minute scene. In thriller fiction it's engrossing. In daily news it's sophistication. Society smiles at it.

But in real life, one of GA founders says, it's misery, not only for the gambler but for his family whose food, shelter and security are pawned with little hope for redeeming.

The mechanics of compulsive gambling are considerably more intricate than making a bet. According to Dr. Harry Perlowitz, a psychiatrist who has donated his time to the GA to make what may be the first real clinical study of the illness:

"The roots of the illness go back to early childhood when certain needs were unfulfilled and natural conflicts unresolved, leaving the individuals plagued by guilt.

"These needs and conflicts," Dr. Perlowitz said, "vary somewhat from person to person. The feelings, however, are the same.

"They grow up feeling that they need an immoral or unethical substitute to keep their guilt alive."

The GA provides a meeting place, direction and reassurance for the gamblers that they are not alone and can call on help if their new resolve wavers.

Dr. Perlowitz' group meetings for those who are ready for them let men red is cover their long-hidden feelings and fears. After one year of GA and group therapy, 85 per cent of the participants seem to be able to control themselves.

"Quite frankly," Dr. Perlowitz says, "I was amazed at this result. After all, we don't probe too deeply. Just enough to give them an insight into what drives them."

Now, says one GA member, you would think that it's all rosy and we can solve the whole thing as soon as everybody joins up.

"But," he says, "we've only got 40 or 50 members because a guy doesn't come in until he's at rock bottom, the breaking point."

One man came only after his son's career in Washington was threatened by a demand letter from his father's bookie. Another man's wife committed suicide in despair. Another says grimly: "I'm Harvard, '43—honors, and Sing Sing '54—embezzlement."

But even if a man admits he's sick and ready for help, he's probably in trouble with the law or sometimes worse—hiding out from his bookie, a syndicate, a moneylender.

DICE TABLE AT LAS VEGAS — All this may be surrounded by glamour but for the compulsive gambler it means misery.

Tax Loophole Plugging Plan Startles Unions

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Putting two and two together you get some idea of what President Kennedy has in mind regarding taxation.

For example, the Democratic platform said: "We shall close the loopholes in the tax laws by which certain privileged groups legally escape their fair share of taxation."

In his second news conference, Kennedy said:

"We will suggest (to Congress) a source of revenue with every program (for new spending)." The AFL-CIO research department is out now with its own estimate of how much new revenue the treasury would obtain by means of tax reform to eliminate loopholes. Big Labor estimates the additional revenue at $18 billion. These loopholes, Big Labor contends, are, in fact, special privileges.

Organized labor wants tax reform in the rate areas where business, industry and capital are most acutely interested. Big Labor takes dead aim on the oil industry's 27 1/2 per cent tax depletion allowance, and lower allowances enjoyed by other extractive industries.

The AFL-CIO News tags excessive depletion allowances to the oil and mining industries the most flagrant among all revenue law special privileges. It is significant, however, that Big Labor does not propose outright repeal of the entire depletion allowance but only that portion of the allowance deemed to be excessive.

"The effect of these (special) exclusions and deductions," says the current AFL-CIO News, "both as to individual and corporate taxes is to treat income differently according to its source. That is, income from wages is taxed at one rate, income from dividends at another and income from oil wells at still another."

"The special treatment for capital gains, the special tax credit for dividend income, the continuing existence of tax-exempt interest are but a few examples," the department of research said in citing tax situations Big Labor desires changed.

These tax objectives of organized labor fall generally within the pattern of the Democratic platform to which the Kennedy administration is committed without any qualification whatever. The language may vary but the meaning and intent are the same. Where labor demands repeal of excessive depletion allowances, the platform promises repeal of allowances which are inequitable. Neither is a proposal for outright repeal.
