Rio Grande Land Group To Appeal Riparian Ruling

LAREDO (UPI)—Land owners in the Lower Rio Grande valley are preparing a motion for rehearing a case in which the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals ruled that owning land along the Rio Grande does not automatically entitle the owner to the river's waters.

The Fourth Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio ruled against riparian owners on March 29 in the case of state of Texas vs. Valmont Plantations. The case originated in Hidalgo County.

George D. Byfield, Laredo attorney who represents riparian interests in separate litigation in Webb county on water rights, conferred recently with Harry Hall, of the law firm of Strickland, Wilkins, Hall and Mills, of Mission, the leading counsel for the riparians in the Lower Valley.

Byfield reported they are preparing a motion for rehearing before the Court of Civil Appeals, which is the first step toward appealing to the State Supreme Court.

These parties in the Valley are anxious for the riparian claimants in Zapata and Webb counties to file an amicus curiae (or friends of the court) brief in the appeal to the Supreme Court, Byfield said.

He said lawyers feel there is no question but what a writ of error will be granted and the Valley case will go to the Supreme Court.

Russian Now Listed Among Greats Who Were First In World Feats

By United Press International Soviet Maj. Yuri Gagarin joined history's great explorers yesterday by becoming the first man to orbit the earth in a space ship and return safely.

Gagarin soared into the list of great explorers in a feat ranking with Christopher Columbus' discovery of America and Ferdinand Magellan's 25,900-mile cruise around the world.

Magellan's expedition took almost three years. Gagarin circled the earth in about 89 minutes and went 187 miles into space.

Just a little more than 57 years ago, Wilbur and Orville Wright made the first successful flight in a heavier-than-air, mechanically propelled airplane.

On Dec. 17, 1903, Orville Wright rose from the base of Kill Devil Hill, four miles south of Kitty Hawk, N. C., to the then-astounding height of 120 feet in 12 seconds. His brother reached an altitude of 852 feet in 59 seconds later in the day.

On May 29, 1927, Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, an air mail pilot, left Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in a monoplane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," and made the first solo non-stop flight across the Atlantic from New York to Paris. The historic trip took 33 hours, 21 minutes and 39 seconds.

Bible Stories Are Re-Lived In WMU Program Presented At First Baptist

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met recently in the church for a Royal Service program entitled "His Heralds Will Proclaim" which concerned missionary work in Gaza, Jordan and Lebanon. Meditation music was played by Mrs. Douglas Carver preceding the program, which was opened by Mrs. Harold Craddock leading group singing of "Come Women, Wide Proclaim" and "O, Zion Haste."

A short business session followed conducted by Mrs. Owen Johnson, WMU president.

It was announced that a WMU Leadership Course will be taught on April 19 from 9:30 until 2 p.m. and members are to bring a sack lunch.

It was also announced that the Girls Auxiliary Banquet and Houseparty is planned April 14 at 5:30.

The program following concerned Bible stories re-lived today; the first of which was "Road to Jericho" in which Mrs. Mike Porter told of people and the land along the road until arriving at Ajloun, Jordan. Mrs. John Gikas took up the story at this point and told of the work being done at the Southern Baptist Hospital in Ajloun.

The second Bible story was "The Borders of Tyre and Sidon" with Mrs. Paul Turner and Mrs. Henry Stephens relating stories of Baptist work in the villages.

The third story was "Down to

Easier To Make Women Cry Than To Make Them Laugh: Female Comic

Woman to Woman
By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedienne Nancy Walker has a theory to explain why so few females become famous comics.

"It's easy to make a woman cry," the co-star of the Broadway musical "Do Re Mi" said. "But it's very hard to make a woman laugh — especially if you're a woman, too."

"I see it this way: Women don't like to see another woman make a clown of herself. To be funny in a womanly way is all right. That's why Bea Lillie and Fannie Brice were so great."

Miss Walker said the trend lately has been for comedienne to try to copy male mannerisms, to act hard, to be what she calls "clown funny."

She has a hunch this makes women in the audience uncomfortable. The two men identify themselves with the jokes and they prefer that the comedienne be human—not a fool or buffoon.

"I started out in my career as a clown," Nancy said. "That's why I'm so happy I've been able to switch to being 'womanly funny.'"

"It's nice to get letters telling me my performances are nice or likeable instead of just funny," Nancy describes herself as completely womanly and not the rowdy, cowering gal she used to portray on stage and in films. She's married to vocal coach David Craig, but the real star of the family is neither Nancy nor her husband.

"It's my daughter Miranda," said Nancy.

"She's seven-and-a-half and has decided to be a nurse and ballet dancer because acting is so easy. That's what she thinks after seeing my performance. She wasn't impressed with me as a comedienne either. Miranda thinks I'm more fun at home!"

Nancy feels that in life and on the stage, it's always easier to make people cry than laugh.

"Maybe misery is closer to the surface," she said. "Or it may be that people expect to cry at a tragedy."

"But a comedy, they sort of sit there and dare you to make them laugh."

Browning Meat for Braising

Pot-roasts, Swiss steaks, "birds," chops and other cuts cooked by braising should be browned slowly in order to retain the attractive brown color during cooking.

Medical Auxiliary To Meet Tomorrow

District Three of the Woman's Medical Auxiliary to the Texas Medical Association will convene tomorrow in Amarillo.

Luncheon in the Amarillo Country Club will feature as guest speaker, General Jerry Lee of the Amarillo Air Force Base. An honored guest is to be Mrs. Ramsey Moore of Dallas, state auxiliary president.

Following luncheon a tour of Amarillo homes is planned for delegates and guests. A dinner-dance is planned for tomorrow evening in Tascosa Country Club.

During the business portion of the district meeting, Mrs. M. McDaniel president of the Top of Texas Woman's Auxiliary, will be installed as the Council Woman for District Three in 1961-62. Mrs. Paul Spring of Friona is Council Woman-Elect.

Also participating in the business session will be Mrs. Joe R. Donaldson, Western Regional vice president and a member of the nominating committee and Mrs. Julian Key, who serves on the Recruitment Committee.

"THE BOY FRIEND" Stars—Renee Goates and Dr. N. J. Ellis, who had starring roles in Amarillo Little Theater's production of "The Boy Friend" last fall, will provide the entertainment for Twentieth Century-Cottillion's Fashion Dinner to be held Monday 7 p.m. in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn. Male guests, as well as feminine guests, are invited to attend and view the fashions which have been planned with both masculine and feminine guests in mind. Business and sports wear attire will be shown by Dillie Hare's Men's Shop and around-the-clock fashions for women is being coordinated by Wright's House of Fashions. Ticket information and reservations may be made with Mrs. Ralph McKinney, Mrs. Ellis, or any Cottillion member.

Braised Steak Retains Flavor

Round steak is one of the most popular main dishes in many homes. Less tender than steaks cut from beef loins or ribs, which can be broiled, round steak is cooked slowly in moist heat to make it very tender.

STEAK FROMAGE

1 beef round steak, cut 1/2 inch thick

1/4 cup flour

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

1/4 teaspoon garlic salt

3 tablespoons lard or dripping

3/4 cup water

1/4 cup chopped onion

1-3 cup grated cheddar cheese

2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Cut steak into 8 to 10 pieces. Pound to 1/4 inch thickness. Mix together flour, salt, pepper, and garlic salt. Dredge steak in seasoned flour. Sprinkle any remaining flour over steak. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water and onion. Cover tightly and simmer 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Sprinkle cheese and parsley over meat. Cover and simmer 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese is melted. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

When broiling steaks or chops, remember that thick cuts should be broiled at least 3 inches from the heat, thinner steaks and chops 2 inches from the heat.

Dear Abby... Old Enough To Know Better!

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I am pregnant. I know you get lots of letters like this, but I feel my problem is special because my boy friend is a real finik. I mean the whole bit. He works in a library for $180 a month and his idea of a good time is to read a good book over again, listen to long-hair music or play chess.

What happened to me is not his fault. I take all the blame. He wants to marry me, but I can't see myself married to him. I am too old to start raising a baby. (I am 41 and he is 32.) Can he force me to marry him because I am going to have his child?

NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: He cannot force you to marry him. Even though he is far from your idea of the "ideal husband," under the circumstances thank your lucky stars and grab him. The life of an innocent child is at stake. You were "young" enough to get into this fix — now be adult enough to face up to the responsibilities.

DEAR ABBY: I am through giving my wife presents. Every time I give her something she says, "What have you been up to now?" What makes women act like that?

PETE

DEAR PETE: Experience.

DEAR ABBY: My 11-year-old daughter has been invited to several birthday parties. I have always driven her there, stayed during the party and then driven her home.

The mother of a girl, my daughter's age, took it upon herself to remind me that the invitations do not include mothers. She said it made a lot of extra work for the mother giving the party. I always

RUTH MILLETT

The worst thing about family "togetherness" is that it doesn't leave any room for "apartness." And yet, every member of a family needs some apartness to grow in.

Children especially need apartness. But how are they going to get it, the way grown-ups born in on all of their activities and insist on being companions?

Does junior get a chance at school to work out his problems? well, hardly. At the first sign that he's not "applying himself" or is failing to "adjust" to the other children, or is becoming a "disturbing influence" in the class room, mama is asked to have a conference with the teacher. Junior's problem or shame becomes mama's.

Do all these youth activities give him a chance to develop leadership and initiative and have a little private project entirely away from his family? You bet not. Even the Boy Scouts now have the fathers hiking besides their sons, and Little League is a family affair, with all more concerned about a game than the poor kid who made the team.

Even the play on school playgrounds is now so well-supervised that a boy can't settle a score with a bully, and any game a home-room teacher can't participate in is considered too dangerous for a schoolyard.

And that is how it goes until he's through school and out on his own. With all the togetherness, he just can't find a time or a place where he can be with kids his own age without a bunch of adults pushing and prodding and prompting him.

Japanese Family System Makes Life Tough For Competitors

NAGOYA, Japan (NEA) — Japanese textile manufacturers utilize more than low hourly labor costs to make life tough for their American competitors.

For example, in this booming industrial city 225 miles from Tokyo, the textile mills incorporate what one manager calls the "family system" to keep and maintain a steady supply of labor on the job.

By exploiting this system to its finest degree, the Japanese manage to offset high transportation costs, paid to bring raw cotton from the U.S. or Mexico and return the finished products to overseas markets.

The Anjo mill of Kurashiki Spinning Co., located within an hour's drive of Nagoya, exemplifies the "family system" of operation. The mill, about 10 years old, is equipped with the most modern machinery of American, German and Japanese design. Its spinning frames of 190,000 spindles and 967 automatic looms operate at high speed, insuring maximum efficiency and low cost production of cotton and blended yarns and gray goods.

The plant itself covers 58 acres and is landscaped to look something like a college campus which, in a way, it is.

But its most important asset is the unique personnel policy for its 240 men and 1,800 women employees which Suehara Yasuda, the mill's manager, labels a "family system."

About 90 per cent of the employees live in company dormitories on the mill grounds — a working condition no longer tolerated in the U.S. The mill runs three shifts a day and operates round-the-clock six days a week. Compare that to the U.S.'s generally accepted 40-hour, 5-day work week, even if applied to two shifts.

Anjo's employment officers, to recruit the work force, go into surrounding rural areas and sign up farm girls, whose average age is about 17, upon their graduation from the equivalent of junior high school.

Since the girls are minors, their parents' consent must be obtained. The parents, as well as the girls, sign the labor agreement, guaranteeing its observance.

Along with job training and steady work, the girls then are offered three years of advanced schooling. In the U.S., this would be the equivalent of senior high school instruction in domestic science. At the Anjo mill, it's what manager Yasuda calls training to be a good wife. "Wives are more important than jobs or wages," he says.

The courses include home management, cooking, dressmaking, social studies, Japanese, English, music, penmanship, dancing, swimming, flower arrangement, the tea ceremony and etiquette. The last three courses are considered essential for Japanese womanhood, both old and new styles.

Girls who work on the first shift from 5:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. get three hours of study after lunch. Girls on the second shift from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. study in the morning before going to work.

The third shift from 9:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. is made up of older employees with longer service. There is no regular school shift for them but they can take special courses at a night school before going to work. The gross pay for each of these girls is 13,500 yen a month ($37.50). This includes base pay of $26.40 and allowances of $11.10 a month for lodging in the company dorms.

Employees who live at home near the plant get this in pay. But there is a deduction of about $5 a month from all employees' pay for the mid-shift meal furnished by the company, so the net pay is equivalent to about a dollar a day.

The employees do have a union at the plant; they pay 15 to 30 cents a month in dues and elect the local's officers. A grievance committee meets monthly with management at the plant.

The union now is asking for a $7 monthly wage increase. Wage negotiations are conducted by union representatives and top management in Nagoya rather than at the plant.

After a year's service, employees are given seven days vacation with pay and a 10-day annual summer leave at 60 per cent of pay. Medical services are paid for by the management.

Under this family system, the company can't fire a girl after she's hired but she can quit if she has her parents' consent.

The average employee works about three years, then gets mar-

A SERMON WALKING

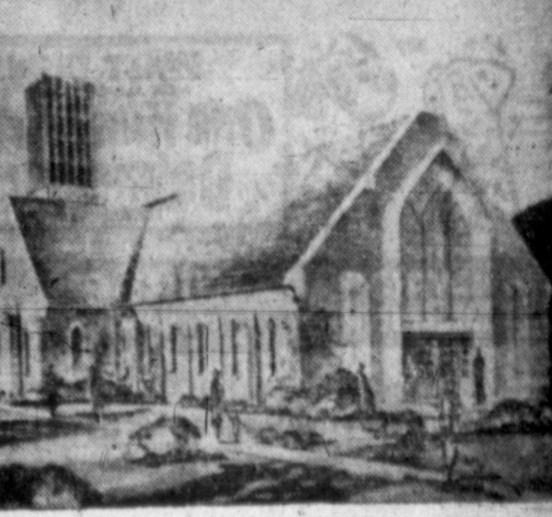

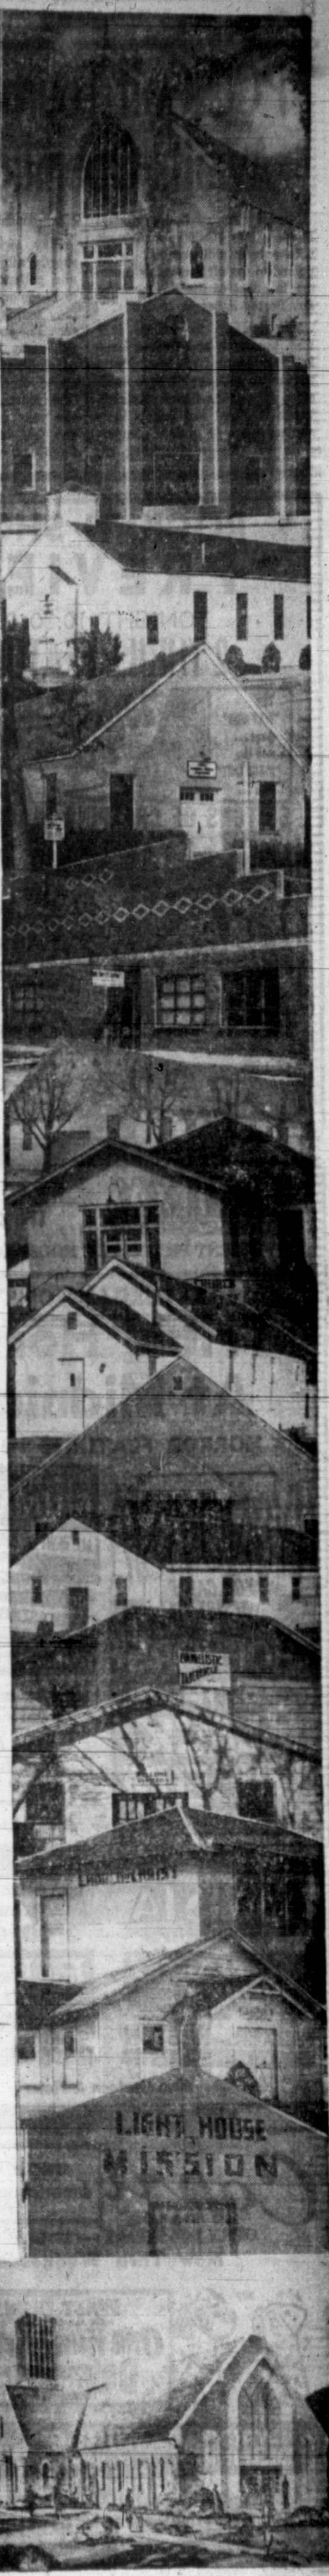

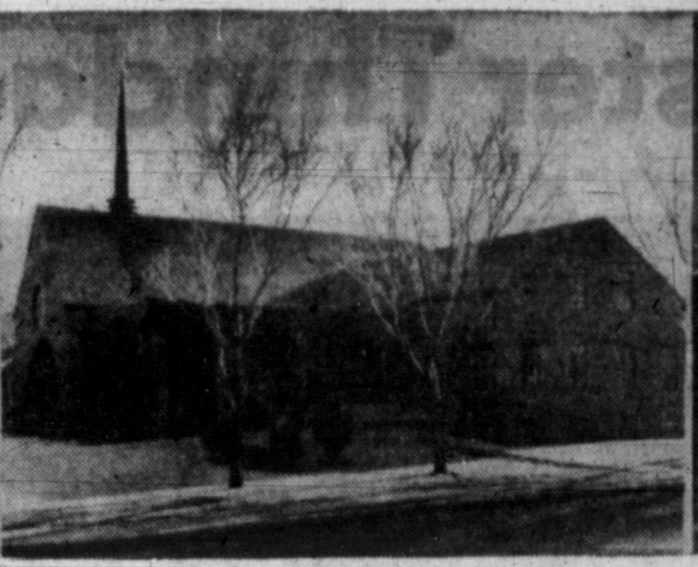

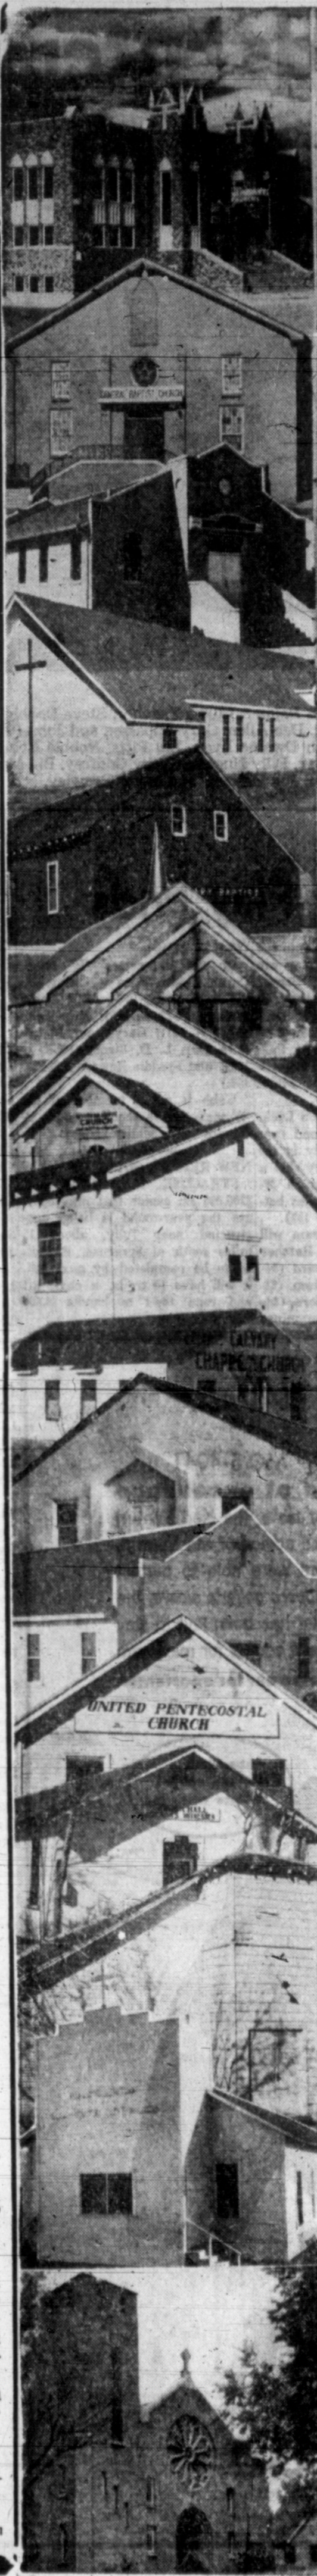

One of the greatest needs of our day is for Christians to live their religion. The story is told of a committee of prominent citizens who were waiting in one of the railroad stations in Chicago to greet one of the greatest men of all time. When he arrived, he greeted them in three languages. A big bear of a man, six feet-four inches tall, with bushy hair and a walrus mustache, he listened quietly while the reception committee told him how honored they were to meet him, and how the important people of the city were anxious to entertain him.

Suddenly with flash cameras flashing and secretaries taking down every word, he asked to be excused. Walking rapidly through the crowd to the station platform he came to an old woman who was struggling with heavy baggage. Stooping down he scooped up her bags with his great hands. Telling her to follow him, he maneuvered her through the crowd and on out to her coach. Wishing her a pleasant journey he returned to the committee. "Sorry to have kept you waiting gentlemen," he said to the astonished group. "I was just having my daily fun."

That man was Albert Schweitzer, the great philosopher, musician, doctor and missionary.

Perhaps the most wonderful part of the story is the reaction which it brought about. One of the reporters said, "First time I ever saw a sermon walking."

Any life will make an impression upon the world when time is taken to demonstrate in a simple way what Christian life ought to be. Works are worth little if they are not supported by deed and action. But life in action will turn the world toward Jesus.

PCC Golf Tournament Awaits Opening Play

Pampa Country Club's annual Men's Club Golf Tournament with entries still coming, was poised to tee off tomorrow morning in quest of the title won by Dr. Foster Elder in 1960.

The deadline for entries is 7 a.m. tomorrow and Grover Heiskell, tournament chairman, said that more golfers still were needed to fill out the flights. Heiskell hopes to equal last year's tournament when 81 golfers competed in six flights, including the championship flight. Play will begin tomorrow shortly after the deadline closes and golfers will shoot for positions tomorrow and the match play tournament will begin Sunday. The second weekend of play will come April 22-23 and the concluding weekend's action is slated April 29-30. The tournament is the first of the year at PCC and the only one that is restricted to club members only, Heiskell added.

Harvester Thinclads Enter District Meet

AMARILLO—Pampa's Harvester track team, 17 men strong, goes for broke here at Dick Bivins Stadium tomorrow when the District 3-4A track and field meet opens for a one-day stand.

Coach Dwaine Lyon planned to take a full complement of PHS thinclads to the district meet, but hopes for qualifying many for the regional track meet in Odessa, April 15, were slim. Pampa, which barely avoided a shutout last weekend in the Amarillo Relays when it picked up 1-3 of a point, probably will take a back seat to Tascosa, Palo Duro and Monterey in the three-way fight for the 1961 3-4A crown.

Tascosa, with strength running through its entire squad, is expected to grab off the title here, but Palo Duro and Monterey could push the Rebels for the title with luck.

The Harvester's main hopes will rest on Steve Dobbin and Billy Cooper. The senior duo was elected co-captains of the 1961 PHS team Wednesday and the pair would like to spring a few Pampa surprises tomorrow.

Lyon feels Dobbin might qualify for regional in the 100-yard dash if late performances mean anything. Dobbin ran a 9.9 in a quadrangular meet Wednesday against Clarendon, Shamrock and Perryton and last week was clocked in 9.8 under a little windier circumstance.

Although he has the fifth best time in the district in the 220 with a 21.8, only the first two places advance to regional and Dobbin's chances are slim in this event. Cooper, the hurdling, pole-vaulting senior, ranks as perhaps Pampa's best bet to enter regional. Cooper picked up Pampa's point fraction last weekend in the Amarillo Relays with a fourth-place tie in the pole vault.

Cooper has leaped 11'6" — tying a school record — at least twice and Lyon feels that the same distance here tomorrow could send Cooper to regional.

Billy Hughes, over his bout with bronchitis, will be making his first appearance in meet activity in almost three weeks but will be facing two of the state's top men in the 880-yard dash in Tascosa's Arvil Flippin and Chuck Frawley. Frawley has the state's best time in the 880 with a 1:54.9 turned in at the Mustang Relays in Andrews on March 31.

By events, Harvester's entered are:

100-yard dash — Dobbin and Travis Tucker.
220-yard dash — Dobbin, Robbie Robison and Ralph Palmer.
440-yard dash — Corky Godfrey, Dickie Hafley, and Howard Reed.
880-yard dash — Hughes, Jimmy Hoyler and Jimmy Crouch.
1 mile run — Curtis Fletcher.
180-yard low hurdles — Bill Pitts, James Webb and Cooper.
120-yard high hurdles — Pitts, Webb and Cooper.

440-yard relay — Tucker, Dale Mercer, Palmer and Robison.
1 mile relay — Dobbin, Palmer, Robison and Godfrey.
Shot Put — Danny Mathis, Carl Clark and John Brown.
Discus — Mathis, and Webb.
Pole Vault — Cooper, Tucker and Dale Fletcher.
High Jump — Bill Martin and Keith Pierce.

Regional Awaits Two Winners

District 3-4A Golf Play Ends

AMARILLO — Pampa's Harvesters will be fighting at least four "tigers" with a short stick here tomorrow morning when the final 18 holes of the District 3-4A golf championship roll underway at Ross Rogers Country Club here. Four teams are ahead of the Harvesters at the end of 36 holes, 18 of which were played in Lubbock and the last 18 in Pampa, and only the top two will enter regional competition at Odessa on April 22.

Leading the golf pack is Tascosa, which has put together a 309 and a 308 for a 617 total, eight strokes better than runnerup Borger (322-303 — 625). Following Tascosa and Borger in the top five are Palo Duro (322-314 — 636), Monterey (318-327 — 645) and Pampa (331-319 — 650).

Other team totals going into the final 18 holes of district play are Amarillo (327-327 — 654); Borger 'B' (341-317 — 658); Monterey 'B' (332-347 — 679); Tascosa 'B' (342-338 — 680); Lubbock (351-335 — 686); Pampa 'B' (356-344 — 700); Palo Duro 'B' (368-364 — 732); Amarillo 'B' (376 — 357 — 733); Plainview (372 — 370 — 742). Individually, Borger's Don Lackey holds a five stroke lead over Tascosa's William Whitley in the battle for medalist. Lackey shot a 72 at Pampa to give him a 36-hole total of 147, five strokes better than Whitley (77-75 — 152). Pampa's 'A' division team will be composed of Johnny Hatcher (77-80 — 157); Bobby Howard (84-79 — 163); Leonard Hudson (82-79 — 161); Brian Prigmore (84-84 — 168) and Chester Cummings

Large Amarillo Crowd Expected To Hear Welch

AMARILLO (UPI) — Robert Welch, head and founder of the controversial John Birch Society, will address an expected capacity audience in Amarillo's 2,600-seat Municipal Auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Welch will come to Amarillo from Phoenix, Ariz., where he is scheduled to speak Friday night. Tickets at $1 apiece will be sold at the auditorium door on a first-come, first-served basis.

He will speak in Dallas Sunday night. Welch's address will specifically concern the problem of the Communist conspiracy and how to destroy it.

The John Birch Society brought its movement to Amarillo during the summer of 1960. At present, there are about 16 chapters in Amarillo, each with 12 to 20 members, according to Brig. Gen. William L. (Jerry) Lee, U. S. Air Force, retired.

Lee, former commander of the Amarillo AFB, is volunteer regional coordinator for the organization in Amarillo.

At one time, much controversy arose in Amarillo over rumored reports of an alleged list bearing the names of at least five Amarillo men who were accused of being Communists or leaning toward communism. That was in March.

Lee at that time informed the Amarillo Globe-Times that if such a list existed, it was not a product of the John Birch Society.

"And as far as I know, none of our people had anything to do with it," he said.

"As far as I know, there are no Communists in Amarillo."

He said some people in Amarillo may be unknowingly used as dupes of communism. The bulk of the society membership in Amarillo is composed of doctors, dentists, insurance men and real estate men, though by no means do all members of these professions and businesses subscribe to the movement.

Crew Of Sinking Freighter Saved

BOSTON (UPI)—The 35 crew members of the sinking freighter Marine Merchant abandoned ship in the stormy Gulf of Maine early today. All were rescued.

The tanker SS Esso Raleigh picked up 26 crew members of the Marine Merchant after they struggled through mountainous seas in a small life-boat to the side of the rescue ship.

Cities Service Men Are Honored For Safety Mark

Present from Bartlesville to help the Cities Service men commemorate their record were W. G. Osborne, Guy Duren and E. H. Parker of Brownfield, Texas.

Included in the group honored for their safety record were Ray Walker, Bill Turner, Dennis Stillwell, Marvin Silyman, Jim Russell, Jim Prewitt, Alden Myler, Bobby Murrell, M. D. Milligan, Frank McCraw, Gene Locke, James Kennedy, Charles Keener, L. C. Isom, Don Huston, Mose Hughes, Crawford Hughes, Frank Hogsett, Albert Hite.

Rabbits Needed By Area Firm

A new industry is in the making in the Texas Panhandle.

The Commercial Rabbit Fryer Production Assn., an organization for the buying and processing and marketing of rabbit meat in the Golden Spread area, is in need of 1,000 live rabbits per week, according to D. H. Blackwell of Amarillo, in charge of purchasing and marketing.

The organization, Blackwell said, has made arrangements with the first state-approved processing plant in Amarillo to process the rabbits which will allow the marketing of rabbit meat throughout the state.

Blackwell said individuals interested in getting into the commercial or meat production of rabbits are invited to write Commercial Rabbit Fryer Production Assn., P. O. Box 3245, Amarillo, for further information.

Telegraph Chief Fears 'Take-Over' By Bell Company

NEW YORK (UPI) — Western Union Telegraph Co., said Wednesday it fears that a substantial part of its business may be taken over by the Bell Telephone system. President Walter E. Marshall said Western Union already faced "intensive competition" from Bell.

"We have already had at least preliminary indications and in some instances notices of proposed substitution of (Bell) facilities for those now leased from Western Union," Marshall said at a stockholders meeting. He said Western Union has asked the Federal Communications Commission to investigate the Bell service to see whether its purpose and effect is to create a monopoly in the private wire field.
