French, Algerians Sign Cease-Fire But Expect Blood Bath To Continue

WOUNDED ALGERIAN — The French and Algerians have signed a cease-fire but scenes like the one above are expected to continue for some time in strife-torn Algeria. The Secret Army Organization, made-up of renegade French soldiers, has pledged to continue its resistance to formulation of a Moslem government in Algeria. ## 49th Division's Commander Forbids More 'We Want Out' Demonstrations

FORT POLK, La. (UPI)—Maj. Gen. Harley B. West today forbade members of his 49th (Texas) Armored division on active duty to hold any more "we want out" demonstrations.

West said demonstrators have started speaking contemptuously of President Kennedy and Congress.

"This activity has brought discredit upon the Army, this post and this division and is to the prejudice of good order and discipline," he said.

"Continuation may possibly incite riot or breach of the peace. As of this date, no more gatherings or meetings will be held either in civilian clothes or uniforms."

West said troops at Fort Polk may write their congressmen and senators, but they must do so in the privacy of their barracks and "use respectful language."

There have been at least four "we want out" meetings at Fort Polk, all in front of the enlisted men's service club. The attendance has ranged, by official figures, from 50 to about 200.

The first meetings, West said, were quiet and orderly. But more recently, the demonstrators have started to talk about the President and congressmen.

West said that no soldier has been punished for taking part in the four meetings already held, nor will any be taken. He said this is the case despite the fact that various units have had their own "spies" at the rallies and some soldiers are under surveillance.

Orders against more demonstrations were read at reveille today to all troops at Fort Polk. They include the approximately 5,000 Texas National Guardsmen in the 49th, plus about 6,000 reservists and national guard troops from other states brought in to raise the 49th to division strength. President Kennedy called the 49th to active duty last October because of the Berlin crisis.

"Each of you are reminded that all of us are in the Army under the law of the United States, which specifies a year of active duty," West's statement to his troops said. "The world crisis still exists. We are needed until other troops are ready to take our place. No one, not even the president, can at this time, be specific about a release date earlier than 14 Oct. 1962."

"Until such time as we are properly released, we should, must and will soldier with dignity, honor and respect for our country and its flag and be fully prepared to execute our assigned mission, either sudden or deliberate."

Recall Petitions' Filing Date Due Jaycee Decision

Officials of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce said today they would decide at a board meeting at 7 a.m. tomorrow on just when their recall petitions would be filed with the City Commission.

The petitions are complete and have been checked, a spokesman said, but the decision on when to file them won't be made until tomorrow morning.

"We haven't decided whether they will be ready for filing with the commission when it meets tomorrow or to hold them over for a week. That decision will come in the morning," the spokesman said.

The petitions carry at least ten per cent more than the required number of signatures, according to Jaycee officials, for a recall election on the entire city commission including Mayor E. C. Sidwell and Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Newt Secret, Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort.

The petitions first were placed in circulation on March 1 when the Jaycees announced the action was being taken because of disagreement with the present city commission's policies in conducting city government.

Subsequently the Jaycees said they planned to drop out of the controversy and leave it for the voters to decide the issue at the recall election.

Textbook Meet Is Scheduled By School Board

Pampa Independent School District board of trustees will hold a public meeting tonight to hear a report of the local textbook committee which has been selecting books for use in Pampa schools.

The meeting is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the school offices at Pampa Junior High School, 126 W. Francis St.

President, Congress Applaud Cease-Fire

Hope Dims For Downed Plane

CLARK AFB, Philippines (UPI)—The Navy and Air Force pressed on today with the search for a missing American airliner although there was little hope that any of the 107 persons on board would be found.

Maj. Gen. Theodore R. Milton, commander of the 13th Air Force, said he saw virtually no possibility that any survivors would be located after four days of searching by planes and ships.

"I would not be surprised if the search is called off tomorrow," he said.

Twenty six flights were airborne at dawn today from Guam. Others took off from the Philippines to continue criss-crossing a 50,000-square-mile area of the Pacific.

The missing four-engine Constellation, whose passengers included 93 U.S. Rangers en route to South Viet Nam to help in the fight against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, vanished last Thursday en route from Guam to the Philippines. It was chartered from the Flying Tiger Airlines.

Milton noted that all the searches had to go on was the position from which the plane sent its last radio signal. He said the search has been concentrated around that position.

The Navy expressed fear the airliner may have exploded in flight. A Navy announcement from Guam, released Sunday through the U.S. Naval Station at nearby Sangley Point, said there was "credence given to the possibility that the Liberator tanker T. L. Linzen may have seen the missing aircraft explode in-flight."

The announcement said the Linzen had received a distress signal but that a thorough search of the area yielded negative results.

The tanker had "sighted" a "bright light, enough to light the ship's bridge at 1:30 Friday morning." The light was followed by "two falling red lights" described as "one dropping fast and one dropping slow."

Tourist Clinic Is Scheduled For Tomorrow

Pampa will be the third stop tomorrow in an eight-city Tourist Clinic being conducted by the Texas Branch of the U. S. Highway 60 Association this week.

The clinic opened this noon in Higgins and will move on to Canadian tonight.

Pampa's Tourist Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will host the meeting here at 12 noon tomorrow in Poole's Steak House.

George Kleeburg, committee chairman, said today the clinic, which will last one hour and 15 minutes, will be open to the public. However, he said businesses which serve the touring public are especially urged to be represented at the luncheon.

Principal speaker will be Herbert L. Schall, executive vice president and general manager of the Oklahoma State Chamber of Commerce.

From Pampa the clinic sessions will move to Panhandle, Amarillo, Hereford and Friona.

Food Rationing Starts In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—Food rationing began in Cuba today for the first time in the island's history.

Under a decree by Premier Fidel Castro, tight controls were imposed at 12:01 a.m. on the sale of rice, beans, meat, fish, milk, potatoes, butter, cooking oils, and other foodstuffs, most of which constitute the staples of the Cuban diet.

Castro, in announcing the move last Monday, blamed the shortages of what he called the "Yankee imperialist blockade."

French-Algerian Settlement Is Said 'Historic Accomplishment'

By DONALD MAY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and congressional leaders have lauded French President Charles de Gaulle for his leadership in achieving a cease fire in Algeria.

A statement issued Sunday by the White House welcomed the French-Algerian settlement as "an historic accomplishment" brought about by vision, statesmanship and accommodation on both sides.

Man Killed In Pistol Accident

A 28-year-old Pampa man died yesterday afternoon shortly after he accidentally shot himself while cleaning a revolver.

The victim, John Robert Pettit of 534 N. Davis, was visiting his mother, Mrs. Buddy Day, on the Leslie Dorsey Ranch, 8 miles north of Alameda when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Day told investigating officers her son arrived at the ranch early Sunday morning for an all-day hunting trip. She said about 2 p.m. he returned to the house and said he was going into the basement to clean some guns he kept there.

Officers said Mrs. Day told them she heard a shot and ran into the basement where she found her son slumped across a cot near a trunk in which he kept a gun collection.

McLean Constable J. D. Fish was summoned to the scene along with the McLean ambulance service. Pettit was rushed to Highland General Hospital in Pampa where he died at 5:20 p.m.

Big 3 Powers To Try Again On Test Ban Treaty

GENEVA (UPI)—The Big Three nuclear powers today agreed on an intensified new effort to end the test ban stalemate.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin accepted a long-standing Western suggestion for a three-nation subcommittee within the general disarmament conference to try to resolve the deadlock.

British and American official spokesmen immediately welcomed the Soviet move.

Zorin told a news conference Russia would like to have France on the subcommittee. But he said the Kremlin was willing to go ahead without her if President Charles de Gaulle persists in his refusal to send delegates here.

A British spokesman said: "We welcome today's statement by Mr. Zorin. Both we and the United States have made it clear to the Russians that we would welcome their participation in such a committee."

A U. S. delegation spokesman also expressed pleasure at Zorin's acceptance, in effect, of a Western proposal first advanced in January when preparations were being made for the 17-nation general disarmament conference here.

The American spokesman warned, however, that the United States would not accept Russia's loosely-controlled test ban draft as an acceptable "basis" for the new round of discussions.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI)—The cabinet of President Arturo Frondizi resigned today less than 12 hours after a sweeping Peronist victory at the polls.

The collapse of the government was believed due to an army demand that the government immediately nullify the outcome of Sunday's elections, in which Communist-supported Peronists won control in 10 provinces.

Peronists Surge Back To Prominence In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentina's military leaders moved today to nullify elections in 10 provinces where supporters of former dictator Juan D. Peron were elected Sunday.

Informed sources said the secretaries of the Argentine army, navy and air force decided at an emergency meeting to tell President Arturo Frondizi to proclaim federal intervention where the Peronists won power.

Under the Argentine Constitution, intervention would nullify the results of the elections and prevent the Peronists from taking office.

Peron had urged from his exile in Spain that Argentinians dem-

Soviet 'Voters' Rubberstamp Candidates

MOSCOW (UPI)—An estimated 137 million voters Sunday cast ballots for a single slate of Communist-approved candidates for the Soviet parliament.

Based on past performance, more than 99 per cent of the voters are expected to approve the hand-picked slate, including Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. Results probably will be announced Tuesday.

or over-streamed to the polling booths all day Sunday under cloudy skies. The booths opened at 8 a.m. and closed at midnight.

At stake were about 1,400 seats, divided roughly evenly between the two houses of the Supreme Soviet—the Soviet of the Union and the Soviet of the Nationalities. Khrushchev was a candidate in the Kalinin district.

The candidates were selected by Communist-run organizations such as trade unions, collective farms, sports clubs, political clubs and cultural groups. While the candidates have no competition, they nevertheless campaign vigorously in the weeks preceding the election.

The government and the Communist party always are anxious for maximum participation by Soviet citizens. Elections are considered a form of indoctrination and a concrete manifestation of solidarity with the government.

Organization Is Key To Looking Well-Groomed

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One girl in every class invariably looks so neat and trim that she's the envy of her classmates. But unfortunately, they attribute her immaculate appearance to some intangible gift and shrug it off with such comments as "some people are just born that way."

They'd do better to uncover the fallacy in their thinking. For the difference between the well-put-together teen and her careless classmates can be summed up in the simple word: organization.

She's achieved her trim look by mastering the trick of keeping up with her clothing care on a weekly basis. No accumulated basketful of torn stockings, ripped-off buttons or broken zippers for her. She mends as she goes!

Repair and upkeep of clothing can't be labeled "fun" by any stretch of the imagination. But it can be less tiresome when handled with a reasonable amount of regularity. An hour or so every Saturday morning should be ample time to take care of the previous week's damage. And the surest way to avoid that "nothing to wear" panic is to establish a weekly session with needle, thread and a wash basin of suds.

You can bet your boots that the gal who always has that "band-box" look never got it by putting away torn, damaged or dirty clothing. She wouldn't have that poised, groomed appearance if she'd reached for a favorite sweater on a busy morning only to find it lacked a button!

Why not reserve a section of the closet shelf for the things which need attention before they can be worn again? And deposit your soiled clothing in your own personal laundry bag. This way, wearables and unwearables won't get mixed up.

Your jewelry shouldn't be overlooked, either. It's worn to dress up your clothes and it won't if it isn't clean.

Most jewelry can be washed if care is used. One-piece, prong-set pieces or strung jewelry can be completely immersed in suds, but anything with a paste setting is better wiped with a sudsy cloth so that the stone won't loosen.

Artificial pearls can be washed very successfully if handled gently to prevent puncturing the "skin" of opalescent material.

Your possessions will last longer and you'll be as well-groomed as you've always wanted to be if you organize your cleaning and repairing instead of letting these chores become so monumental through neglect that you can't bear to face them.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone at our bridge club roared over the letter in your column from the wife who complained because, in 37 years of marriage, her husband had not had 37 baths. I wasn't laughing, because I am married to a man something like that. He will bathe, but he won't wash his head because he thinks that too much water will cause him to lose his hair. I have yelled myself hoarse about how a clean scalp will help him to KEEP his hair, but it does no good. You know how terrible an unclean head can smell! Well, he has a big nose, but can't smell a thing. I usually end up by saying, "O.K., so go down and sleep with the dog." And he does. What should I do?

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: Any woman who can tell her husband to go down and sleep with the dog, and get away with it, has no problem. But her husband has. When he writes to me, I'll tell HIM what to do.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law is a pleasant enough person. She is a good mother and housekeeper, and my son seems to be satisfied with her. But she is a "me" and "MINE" person. She says, "MY house, MY children, MY car and MY everything." Don't you think she should be thoughtful enough of her husband's efforts to say "OUR" instead? She reads your column.

DISGUSTED MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR DISGUSTED: Yes, but don't be too critical. Her personal performance is more important than her possessive pronouns.

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem. There are six of us brothers and sisters. Last NOVEMBER we gave our parents a beautiful golden wedding anniversary party. They had their pictures in the newspapers and it was a big social event in town. This APRIL our oldest brother will be 50 years old and his stupid wife wants to give him a big 50th birthday party. According to our calculations, he was born five months after our parents' marriage. Don't you think she should forget his 50th birthday party idea?

THE FAMILY

DEAR FAMILY: Not all birthdays and anniversaries are celebrated on the exact date. If your brother's wife were to give the 50th birthday party some time during the "golden year," it would serve the purpose. (Silence, too, is golden.)

Tax Bill May Be Revamped To Grant Less Relief To Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee will meet today to consider several amendments to the administration tax bill amid signs that the measure may be revamped to grant less tax relief to business.

A showdown vote on the bill is expected in the House Friday.

Informed sources reported that Democratic strategists were willing to subject the measure to belated surgery in order to avoid a floor fight.

Center of probable controversy was the provision to provide an 8 per cent tax credit on income-producing equipment and tools by corporations, business proprietors, farmers and other self-employed persons. The effect would be to cut the net cost of such equipment by $8 for every $100 spent and thereby induce industry to modernize.

Some Southern Democrats, however, feel there would be too great a loss in revenue as a result of the $1.8 billion in tax relief that business would realize.

Other congressional news: Poll Tax: Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped for at least a preliminary vote today in the parliamentary maneuvering over a proposal to abolish the poll tax as a voting requirement in federal elections.

But the Montana Democrat conceded that "it looks doubtful." The Democratic leadership hoped for a showdown this week in the deadlock over the measure.

Trade: AFL-CIO President George Meany said the labor federation endorsed the administration's trade revision bill with "special enthusiasm." Meany said the AFL-CIO favored the bill to grant the President broad tariff-cutting powers because it would result in increased benefits for the labor movement and the nation as a whole. He said the measure correctly contained adjustment benefits for workers and businesses that would be adversely affected by foreign imports. But he asked that these benefits be increased.

Retiring members of the board of trustees are Ted Friemel, Guy Blackwell and Austin Crowell.

The three candidates receiving the most votes will be elected for a three-year term of office.

Canadian Couple Hurt In Accident

A Canadian couple was taken to Worley Hospital with injuries received in a car-truck accident at 8:40 a.m. today at the intersection of Francis and N. West Streets.

Investigating officers said a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Houston Douglas McAdoo, 62, of Canadian, collided with a pickup truck driven by Sidney White Jr., 211 N. Nelson.

Officers said the McAdoo vehicle was traveling east on Francis St. and White was driving south on N. West Street when the accident occurred. The pickup truck was struck in the right side by the left front fender of the McAdoo auto.

Both drivers told officers the intersection light indicated green.

Mrs. McAdoo, 63, a passenger, and her husband were both admitted to the hospital for observation. Their conditions are reported as good.

No citations have been given and police are still investigating the accident.

Total damage to both vehicles was estimated at $750.

A crowd which had gathered to watch the drilling of the well was caught by the fire, the reports said. Many leaped into a nearby river, but the fire heated the water to near boiling point and they were scalded.

Capital Has A Space Problem Of Its Own

The Lighter Side
United Press International
By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some of the good folks in Lt. Col. John Glenn's old home town have started a campaign to build a monument to commemorate his space flight.

Pursuant to this cause, Rep. Tom V. Moorehead, who counts the townsmen among his constituents, held a news conference Tuesday, to announce plans for the project.

I stopped by Moorehead's office to attend the briefing because I am heartily in favor of any monument that isn't located in the National Capital.

Monument building in Washington has about reached the saturation point, so that any one, regardless of how worthy, creates space problems of the non-astronautical type.

Eventually, I suppose, we will be able to hitch monuments to rockets and boost them into orbit. But that is a long-range solution.

Fortunately, there is still plenty of room for memorials in New Concord, Ohio, where the proposed Glenn monument would be located. Therefore, I would like to do my bit to help the project along.

The new concordants hope to finance the memorial through public contributions, and I'm afraid I can't be of much assistance in that field.

I do, however, have a suggestion to offer which could cut the cost of the monument insofar as the expense of designing it is concerned.

My economizing idea stems from a controversy that arose here some time ago over the design submitted for a proposed memorial to President Theodore Roosevelt.

As originally conceived, the center piece of the TR monument would have been an oval shaped work of abstract sculpture from the far-out school of art.

However, its ultra-modern lines offended many congressmen and kinsmen of the late President. They protested that the monument would resemble a "celestial sphere" or a "globular jungle gym."

So great was the outcry, the memorial commission finally abandoned the design and replaced it with a more conventional plan featuring a statue of Roosevelt on the verge of shouting "bully!"

It seems to me that this turn of events presents a splendid opportunity to the villagers in New Concord. What they should do is latch on to the discarded Roosevelt design and use it for the Glenn memorial.

A "globular jungle gym" might not be very symbolic of Roosevelt's charge up San Juan Hill, but I can't think of anything more appropriate for commemorating the conquest of space.

Considering the circumstances, I imagine the celestial sphere blueprints could be obtained for a song, say a couple of choruses of "I don't know what it is, but I like it."

Vitolo warned that the federal government would use its constitutional powers to prevent the Peronists from attempting to restore Peronism even on a provincial basis.

Cubs Win Sixth Spring Contest

United Press International
Stop laughing—the Chicago Cubs may yet prove that brains can win over brawn in baseball.

The Cubs have been the butts of countless dugout jokes because of owner, Phil Wrigley's novel "board of directors managerial system." They limped home seventh in 1961, the first year of the experiment, and they lost their first three exhibition games this spring.

But all that wisdom Wrigley's nine coaches have dispensed must be taking hold because the Cubs have won six straight games and their 6-3 spring record is second only to the New York Yankees' perfect 8-0 slate.

The Cubs stretched their winning streak to six games, with Sunday's 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox at Scottsdale, Ariz., and once again it was rookie outfielder Lou Brock who showed the way. Brock, who hit .361 for St. Cloud in class C ball last season, had a triple and four singles in five tries to raise his spring average to .432.

Don Cardwell turned in his second one-run, four-inning performance of the spring to win his second game for the Cubs, who breezed with a 6-1 lead into the eighth inning when the Red Sox scored four runs off Jim Brewer.

The Yankees spotted the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 lead and then scored six runs in the fifth inning to pave the way for a 10-3 triumph. Cletis Boyer homered for the Yankees, whose pitching was handled by Jim Coates, Robin Roberts, Al Downing and Jim Bouton.

Minnie Minoso singled with two out in the fifth-inning to drive in the run that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-4 decision over the Milwaukee Braves. The Cardinals had taken a 6-2 lead on Bill White's grand slam homer in the top of the ninth but the Braves staged a counter rally to send the game into extra innings.

The Detroit Tigers rocked 21-game winner Joey Jay, making his first spring appearance, for nine runs in the first two innings and went on to beat the Cincinnati Reds, 12-4. During the two innings Jay was ripped for eight hits, including a triple by Bill Bruton and a homer by Norm Cash. He also walked four batters in the second inning. Seven walks—five of them off

Chuck Estrada—helped the Los Angeles Dodgers defeat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1. Johnny Podres was tagged for eight hits in five innings but received credit for the win.

Johnny Wyatt, Dan Pfister and Diego Segui combined for a three-hitter to pitch the Kansas City A's to a 3-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Former Pirate Gino Cimoli delivered a game-winning two-run double off Bob Friend in the fourth inning.

The Philadelphia Phillies' Jim Owen, Frank Sullivan and Jack Baldschun pitched seven-hit ball to produce a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets, who lost their fourth straight game. Roger Craig went eight innings for the Mets and has allowed two earned runs and six hits in 13 innings.

Don Lee was tagged for a three-run first-inning homer by Gene Woodling but pitched six capable innings in the Minnesota Twins' 6-3 decision over the Washington Senators. Bill Tuttle also homered.

Felipe Alou drove in two runs with a triple and a single and also scored two runs to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 4-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. Jim Duffalo, Mike McCormick and Bob Bolin pitched a four-hitter for the Giants.

A strong wind and "high sky" at Apache Junction, Ariz., turned the game into a farce as the Los Angeles scored seven unearned runs in the 11th inning to beat the Houston Colt 45s, 14-8. Bob Aspromonte and Jim Pendleton homered.

The Cleveland Pipers, off to a slow start in the second half of the American Basketball League race, finally have taken over first place in the Eastern Division.

The Pipers, first-half division leader, scored their fifth straight victory Sunday by defeating the Chicago Majors, 111-102, behind Johnny Cox's 24 points and John Barnhill's 22.

The loss dropped Chicago into third place in the Eastern Division as the Pittsburgh Rens moved into second with a 118-104 triumph over the New York Tapers.

Walt Mangham scored 33 points and Chuck Curtis 30 for the Rens. Dan Swartz led New York with 24 points.

The San Francisco Saints downed the Kansas City Steers, the Western leaders, 123-121, in overtime. Whitey Bell's two free throws were the margin of victory. Kenny Sears topped the Saints with 33 points while Bill Bridges led K. C. with 30.

Loyola Might Be NIT's Darkhorse

NEW YORK (UPI)—The spectacular speed and sharpshooting of Loyola of Chicago has provoked fears among rival coaches of a new "dark horse" in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Loyola made its first tournament appearance in the quarterfinals Saturday night and bounced Temple, 75-64, in a manner that impressed a crowd of 12,308 and Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton, in particular.

Dayton, which trounced Houston, 94-77, in the first game on that doubleheader program, is Loyola's opponent in the semifinals next Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

"I'm afraid they're too quick for us," Blackburn lamented after watching Loyola's fast break and jump-shooting offense. "We're certainly not going to try and run with them Thursday night."

Before Loyola and Dayton clash in the semis, however, the two other quarterfinal games must be cleaned up Tuesday night. In these, St. John's plays Holy Cross and Bradley, meets Duquesne. This will be the first tournament start for seeded Bradley and St. John's.

Holy Cross advanced to the quarterfinal round by edging Colorado State University, 72-71, and Duquesne beat Navy, 79-58, in a Saturday afternoon twin bill attended by 14,038.

Tebbetts Might Be Tossed In Frypan

(EDITORS NOTE: This is another in a series of dispatches on the 1962 prospects of the major league baseball clubs.)

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Birdie Tebbetts has jumped from the front office to the field—and maybe into the frying pan—in an attempt to get the Milwaukee Braves back to the top of the National League.

He could do it, but the odds are against it.

For the lacks outfielders, relief pitching and the speed which Tebbetts claims was the major factor in the downfall of the Braves since they won two pennants in a row in 1957 and 1958.

Tebbetts, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, began the 1961 season sitting in Milwaukee's front office where he was being groomed to take over as president of the club. Things reached such a stage, however, late last season that Tebbetts was pushed into the breach as field manager to take over for Chuck Dressen.

Birdie claims he knows why the Braves have gone down hill since 1958.

The first thing he has in mind is a change in the entire pitching rotation so that all the young hurlers will get a chance. His second project is to make the Braves a running ball club again.

To start with he has designated the veteran left hander Warren Spahn, who will be 41 next month, as his only regular starting pitcher.

"All the rest will be used to start and in relief," Tebbetts says. "Spahn is getting along in years and never has been too effective in relief."

"So he's the only starting pitcher we've got."

It's no secret, however, that Lew Burdette, another veteran at 35 who won 18 while losing 11 last season; Bob Buhl (9-10); Carlton Willey (6-12) and Bob Shaw, who was 12-14 with Kansas City will get starting spots.

"But they will be in the bullpen, too," Tebbetts explains. "I'm not discounting any of my pitchers from being starters except (Don) McMahon. He'll be used strictly in relief. All the others will be starters and relievers except Spahn."

The Braves have some young pitching of promise, including Don Nottebart, 6-7 with the club last season; Bob Hendley, who was 5-7 with the Braves; Ron Piche, who won two and lost two with the Braves after posting a 14-7 record at Vancouver; Tony Cloninger, 7-2 with Milwaukee and 5-3 with Louisville.

One of the Braves problems of last season would be solved if catcher Del Crandall recovers from the right shoulder injury which sidelined him most of last season. Crandall, considered the top receiver in the National League played in only 15 games last season, and then rookie Joe Torres took over, hitting .278. Torres came along fast, but he doesn't have Crandall's teadying influence behind the plate.

The Braves have an outstanding infield with Joe Adcock (.285 with 35 home runs and 108 runs batted in) at first; Frank Bolling (.262 with 15 homers and 36 RBI's) at second; Roy McMillan (.220 with seven homers and 45 RBI's) at short and slugging Eddie Mathews (.306 with 32 homers and 91 RBI's) at third.

There isn't much in the way of infield reserves. Lou Klimchok, the ex-bonus player of the Athletics and two rookies, Tommie Aaron and Mickey Sinnerud, are the leading candidates to back up that starting quartet.

After Hank Aaron the Braves outfield doesn't appear too strong. There are Mack Jones, a .326 hitter at Louisville; Lee Mays, who batted .271 with the Braves; and two rookies—Howie Bedell, .327 at Louisville and Len Gabrielson, .278 at Louisville.

Warriors Can Sweep East Division Playoff Tonight

By United Press International
The Philadelphia Warriors can sweep the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division semifinal playoff by beating the Syracuse Nationals tonight in Philadelphia.

And the Detroit Pistons can clinch the Western Division semifinals with a victory over the Royals Tuesday night in Cincinnati.

If that should happen, it would make this year's semifinal series one of the quickest in NBA history. Both series are best-of-five.

The Warriors, with rookie Tom Meschery giving a big hand to Wilt Chamberlain, made it two straight over the Nationals Sunday with a 97-82 victory at Syracuse. Meschery hit 8 of his first 12 shots to help Philadelphia gain a 54-43 halftime lead.

Chamberlain took it from there with an outstanding defensive performance in addition to a high-scoring total of 28 points. Meschery had 26 and Paul Arizin 24. Johnny Kerr was high for the Nats with 18.

At Detroit, the Pistons took a 2-1 lead over Cincinnati by winning, 118-107. A 38-point third period put Detroit in front after the Royals had taken a 48-48 halftime lead.

Repeat Is Seen For NCAA Title

United Press International
It's just like the experts said even before the start of the season: Ohio State and Cincinnati are heading for the final in the NCAA basketball tournament.

To which Wake Forest and UCLA chorus a loud, "Says who?" These four teams advanced to the national semifinals Saturday night with victories at four different sites. Next Friday night at Louisville, Ky., Ohio State meets Wake Forest and Cincinnati plays UCLA. The survivors clash Saturday night for the championship.

Ohio State and Cincinnati were ranked 1-2 in the nation all season long by the United Press International Board of Coaches. It seemed inevitable that they would meet in the NCAA final for a repeat of last season's showdown, which was won by Cincinnati in overtime, 70-65.

Now only the inspired Deacons from Wake Forest and the fast-breaking Bruins from UCLA stand in the way of that "dream" match. And no one can blame Coach-of-the-Year Fred Taylor of the Buckeyes and Ed Jucker of Cincinnati for casting a few apprehensive thoughts about these two upstarts.

Jerry Lucas & Co. reached the NCAA semifinal for the third straight year by defeating Kentucky, 74-64, at Iowa City. Cincinnati crushed Colorado's Big Eight champions, 73-46, at Manhattan, Kan.

Wake Forest, which had won its two previous NCAA games in overtime, did not need an extra period Saturday to beat Villanova, 79-69, at College Park, Md. and UCLA drubbed Oregon State, 88-69, at Provo, Utah.

All-America Lucas, whose scoring average during the regular season was "only" 22.5 points per game, took a few more shots than usual and scored 33 points in the victory over Kentucky. Larry Pursiful led the Wildcats with 21 points.

At Manhattan, Kan., Cincinnati's Paul Hogue played more than half the game with four personal fouls and managed to score 22 points in the easy win over Colorado.

Wake Forest had trouble during the first half with Villanova, twice wasting away a 10-point lead and falling behind at halftime, 44-42.

But Len Chappell and Bob Woollard dominated the backboards and Bill Packer took charge in the backcourt and boosted the Deacons to victory. Chappell scored 22 points, Woollard 19 and Packer 18 as Wake Forest compiled a 46.4 shooting percentage.

UCLA cut loose with its fast break right at the start and swiftly opened a 23-10 lead against Oregon State. The Bruins were on top, 44-30, at halftime and at one time led by 25 points. John Green led the Bruins with 23 points and Walt Hazzard had 17.

Dayton and Loyola of Chicago reached the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament at New York. Dayton drubbed Houston, 94-77. And Loyola beat Temple, 75-64, in an evening doubleheader. In an afternoon first round twin bill, Holy Cross edged Colorado State University, 73-71, 70-58.

Mount Saint Mary's of Maryland won the NCA A(Small) College Division tournament with a 58-57 overtime victory over Sacramento State at Evansville, Ind.

Prairie View A&M of Texas won the NAIA tournament at Kansas City by beating Westminster (Pa.), 62-53.

Lee, Pampa Junior Highs Start Grid Practice Today

Pampa and Lee junior high's engage in another session of annual head-knocking starting today.

Illegal Golf
LONDON (UPI)—James II of Scotland ruled it unlawful to play golf during the month of March, 1457, because he claimed Scottish men could put their time to better use practicing archery.

Both eighth and ninth grade teams at Lee and Pampa junior high will don the pads at 2:30 p.m. for their initial day of gridiron workouts.

Pampa high school's crop of sophomore hopefuls finished up their phase of spring training Friday afternoon with the juniors and seniors due to report April 30.

Score Still Having Hopes Of Comeback

United Press International
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—These last five have been rough years for Herb Score but they still haven't robbed him completely of his hope.

Back there in the spring of 1957 he was only 23 and he could throw a ball through a piece of armor plate. "He had won 20 games the previous season and the Cleveland Indians wouldn't take a million bucks for him.

Then he fired that fast ball toward the plate and Gil McDougald of the Yankees smashed it straight back against his face.

They feared for a while that Score would lose an eye. He beat that rap but never again has he been the same. The man they thought might become one of the all-time greats had a 2-3 mark the following year and, when he won only 9 against 11 losses in 1959, the Indians gave up on him.

Score was traded to the Chicago White Sox where, in 1960, he won only 8 against 10 defeats. When he started off with only one win against two losses last season he was sent down to San Diego and even there could do no better than seven wins against six defeats.

Gun shy, they said. Now, facing another spring in which he still is regarded as a question mark, Herb doesn't know the answer himself.

"If I'm gun-shy," he pondered, "I don't know it. But frinkly I don't know what it is. I've done everything possible but I just can't seem to locate the plate. However, I've got it down to where I'm wild high, not all over. But I don't know what happened."

There was, in his scrapbook of the golden days, a series of pictures showing him in action against the Yankees. Score thought he detected something different, although he couldn't quite put his finger on it, so he brought the pictures to camp this spring and showed them to Manager Al Lopez.

"I think he may have hit on it," Lopez says hopefully. "Studying the pictures, we found out that he was leaning too far back when he wound up for his pitch." This stemmed, Lopez feels, from an elbow injury suffered the year after that disastrous blow off McDougald's bat. Score was pitching at Washington when he hurt his arm.

"To favor the elbow, he went to slinging the ball and developed a bad habit that's going to take time to cure," Lopez explained. "He wasn't breaking his elbow because he was afraid of hurting it again. So he was leaning back farther and slinging the ball instead of whipping it.

"To my way of thinking, he's not gun shy," Lopez added. "That unconscious catering to his elbow was what ruined his control, because I've seen him slap down those hard line drives and make the putout at first base. Of course, he's not throwing as hard as he used to but, then, he doesn't have to because he has one of the best curve balls in the league.

"He still throws plenty good enough," Lopez added. "If we can iron out that control, maybe he'll be all right. I know one thing for sure. I certainly hope so."

Fall Democratic Campaign, Appearances Set Stage for President's 1964 Drive

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is already beginning to set the stage for his re-election drive—still more than 2 1/2 years away.

Active planning and organizing is underway on a far-ranging campaign schedule that in more than two months, from September to election eve November 5, will take him from one end of the country to the other...

ILLINOIS—Representative Sidney Yates, Democratic Senatorial candidate against Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, also has categorical assurances from the President of all-out support.

WISCONSIN—Governor Gaylord Nelson has a similar promise for his campaign against Republican Senator Alexander Wiley, seeking his fifth term.

NEBRASKA—Governor Frank Morrison, whom the President fondly calls "the election miracle of 1960," already has had two planning talks with him on campaigning in the state.

IDAHO—Senator Frank Church also has discussed an election-campaign trip with the President, and while plans are still tentative, the state is definitely on his itinerary.

NEVADA—So is this state. Senator Alan Bible rates high in the President's books, and is slated for a hearty boost from him.

COLORADO—Senator John Carroll will need all the help he can get for a second term, and the President has promised to give him a hand.

PENNSYLVANIA—Two campaign trips are slated, in the populous eastern and western sections. The President already has promised Senator Joseph Clark and Philadelphia's former Mayor, Richardson Dilworth, the party's gubernatorial candidate.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

One of the most interesting battles now being fought in the United States is between the makers of household goods and the makers of products with which to cover household goods.

It is a throat-to-throat, death-to-death battle. It is tougher than Dempsey against Firpo. It is rougher than Yale vs. Harvard, in the days when Harvard thought muscles were as important as horn-rimmed glasses.

I am covering this battle as a husband and householder. And I am losing. I don't like that. There is no such thing as a good loser.

To get back to my subject: namely, people who buy things and then buy things to cover them up.

I buy a toaster for my wife. It has the pure lines of a toaster by Cellinie. The advertisement says so. A decoration for the home. So pure, so sweet, so clean, that it will provide just the touch that your drawing room needs.

Then my wife reads of a beautiful, plastic, hand-painted cover for toasters. She goes down and buys it. I have put half my life savings into a dream toaster only to find it covered by a cover that is prettier than a toaster.

The same goes for blankets. I go for virgin wool, moth-proof.

Bid For A Smile

Q—Did we want to see the rehabilitation of western Europe after World War II? A—No.

Q—Where we in on the first meeting to discuss the Marshall Plan? A—Yes.

Q—Why didn't we join the party and keep the soup boiling? A—Well, we just didn't.

Q—Did that prove to be a mission made in England, loomed in Wales, bullet-proof blankets—a and then my wife buys blanket covers.

Improbable Quiz Dept.: Gromyko On The Pan

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To take? A—There is a school of thought to that effect.

Q—Let's change the subject. Mr. Gromyko, at the time of the Korean War, why did we let the United Nations support this vicious initiative of the United States? A—Well, we didn't show up for the vote.

Q—Why not? A—Well, hindsight isn't foresight.

Q—Well, thank goodness we have China holding down that part of the world, what an inspiration she is, with her great leap forward. A—Well, I wouldn't say that China is doing any leaping. With three years of floods, drought and famine, they have had to pull in their horns on industrial growth, and we withdrew the bulk of our technicians in 1960. Right now they're working to avoid mass starvation.

Q—Well, let's go to an easy country. How about our friend in the Middle East? A—Er, which one?

Q—Why, Egypt of course. When the Americans turned down the Aswan Dam, they opened the door for us. A—Yes, we thought so at the time. But Nasser is really not very helpful. He keeps a lot of our fellows in jail.

Q—Well, we've got one friend, Castro. The importance of Castro is his leadership in Latin America. A—Well, unfortunately he's been kicked out of the Organization of American States.

Q—Well, we've always got the U.N., with our allies in the Afro-Asian bloc. Tell me now how we got our troika in? A—I hate to tell you. We didn't get our troika. The Afro-Asian bloc was most unco-operative.

Q—Well, we've always got Berlin. A—I suppose so, but so have they. I mean they're very serious about Berlin. The West has its disagreements, but not on this.

Q—Really? This is somewhat discouraging. Bu hen, they can't take Tiov and Gagarin away from us. A—Certainly not. You know of Colonel Glenn?

Q—Oh, yes. But wasn't this Madison Avenue propaganda? A—It will be difficult to follow that line. A number of people were looking.

Show, 'The Indiscriminate Woman,' Was Unnecessarily Racy Material

Television In Review
By RICK DU BROW
United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—NBC-TV Wednesday begins its study of "The Indiscriminate Woman," a one-hour special for the ladies about promiscuity, with the suggestion that "parents may wish to have their children occupied elsewhere."

The narrator who made this remark didn't say anything about banning men, so I decided to stay, figuring we'd somehow be involved.

Well, it was pretty racy stuff, all right—unnecessarily so.

Although a few statistics and an expert were introduced to give the drama a documentary tone, the show never allowed its studious aspects to interfere with the blatant sex aimed at the millions of soap opera fans who tuned in during the afternoon.

At one point, the indiscriminate woman of the drama (Carol Lawrence), who has a fiance, yields to a comparative stranger in a lengthy suggestive scene. One meaningful glance by her would have sufficed and been more tasteful. I fail to see where the elongation of such a scene added to the social significance of the program.

Miss Lawrence played a disturbed young woman who indulges in fleeting affairs to escape inner conflicts. As the show begins, she is giving the heavens to one of these fellows (Alex Davion) because her honest-and-true fiance (Dane Clark) is on his way over.

Clark enters and sees Davion's pipe on a table.

"Somebody must have left it," he says with undeniable logic.

Carol lies her way out of the situation, and Clark begs her forgiveness for suspecting her. You can see why women love these Purex specials. "Oh, honey, I'm dumb," he says.

That night, Carol is waiting for Clark, but Davion, who portrays a crude, cynical woman-chaser comes instead. She knows that he knows what kind of woman she is and he knows that she knows. It's like that. Approaching her, he says:

"Look at the figures. One out of four (women) admits cheating on her husband."

How's THAT for a sweet nothing to whisper into someone's ear? Well, it's one way of dramatizing statistics.

The elongated scene follows. And later, after Davion has left, Clark returns. Carol tells him the truth, and he belts her—the most justified act of violence I've ever seen on television.

But Clark never learns. He decides to stick with her. Fade-out. Apparently he never read H.L. Mencken's remark that "The great secret of happiness in love is to be glad that the other fellow married her."

So far as significance is concerned, the show skimmed crucial points. It portrayed only the crisis scenes of the three principals in the apartment. Miss Lawrence told an analyst about her childhood problems—but her everyday life at the time of the crises, the basic facts about what she did on the outside, was ignored.

I'm sure the fast-growing, so-called "fourth network"—Na-

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, March 19, the 78th day of the year with 287 to follow in 1962. This is the day the swallows—traditionally return to the Capistrano mission in California.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1917, labor won a major victory when the Supreme Court ruled that an act, providing for an eight-hour work day on the railroads, was constitutional.

In 1920, the United States rejected the Versailles Treaty, providing for a League of Nations.

In 1942, all men in the United States between the ages of 45 and 64 were ordered to register with Selective Service for non-military duty.

In 1945, members of the Norwegian underground embarked on a program of organized sabotage against German occupation troops in their native land.

A thought for the day: French novelist Marcel Proust said: "Happiness is beneficial for the body but it is grief that develops the powers of the mind."

Lenten Message

By The Venerable Stanley Hamilton Atkins, Archdeacon, Episcopal Diocese of Milwaukee
Written for UPI

George Herbert, the English poet and mystical writer, used to talk of the "dear feast of Lent." His point is well taken. Lent is a time for growing. It is also a time for self-denial, for examination of conscience and for diligence in religious duties: But what is the purpose of all these things?

Their purpose is to help us grow: To grow in self knowledge and to grow in knowledge of God. That is why Lent can be such a happy season: That is why Herbert thought it should be called a "feast." Anything that brings us nearer to our Lord must be a happy occasion.

Then why don't we have Lent all the year around? That is a good question! But it overlooks a simple fact of human psychology. We are a part of a universe which follows cycles of change.

The seasons of the year follow one another; night follows day and the great stars and planets obey similar laws.

Men and women need change. Furthermore, we need special seasons and occasions to impress special lessons upon our minds and hearts. So Lent comes around once more to remind us that we must not keep our gaze fixed only on the plains, and the dusty road that we tread.

We must lift our eyes to the hills. Lent teaches us to aspire to great things for God, and for our fellows and for ourselves. It is the yearly challenge to break the chain of habits that are mediocre, or worse, and to spend ourselves generously in the service of Christ. May this be a lent of victorious accomplishment for all of us!
