Johnson Entry In Senate Race Livens Politics

O'Daniel Is Not Talking About Running

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—A red-hot three-way contest for Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel's U.S. Senate seat was assured today with the entry of Rep. Lyndon Johnson into the race.

You can still get even money here that O'Daniel would seek re-election, but he isn't saying. At Washington he said he wasn't losing any sleep over Johnson's jump into the race.

Already in the thick of campaigning are George Peddy of Houston and former Governor Coke Stevenson of Junction.

Johnson, 39, an eleven-year veteran of service in the House from the 10th Texas district, made the plunge into the race yesterday, saying it would have been easier for him to have sought re-election to the House.

"Word has reached me that men who have never supported me urged that I stand for re-election," Johnson said. "The fact is, they fear that I will win. They don't want me in the Senate. That helped me to decide."

Those words indicated that Johnson will make an aggressive race. He is a hard campaigner who believes in meeting as many people as possible and making as many speeches per day as time and strength permit. He will open his drive for votes at a rally in Austin May 22. He said he hoped to cover most of the state.

Johnson ran O'Daniel a close race in the special senatorial election in 1941. He was regarded as one of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's closest advisors. He served in the Navy during World War II.

Johnson said that by July 24, date of the first Democratic primary, he would see to it that the voters would know one of two things:

"You'll know how every candidate stands on every issue; or you'll know he's scared to tell you for fear of losing your vote."

There were already two candidates in the field to succeed Johnson in Congress from the 10th district. They were Creekmore Fath, 32, attorney and former aide to Interior Secretary Krug and State Senator James A. Stanford. Others were expected to announce.

Driver Slain Near Midland

MIDLAND, May 13. (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Raymond Shook, 46, of San Angelo and Lubbock, was found shot to death early today in his car 24 miles south of Midland.

The man's pocketbook was missing and officers believed robbery was the motive.

The body was brought to the Ellis Funeral Home here. A brother, Melvin Shook of San Angelo, was en route to Midland.

The brothers were in the automobile tire business, operating stores in Lubbock and San Angelo.

The shooting occurred on the Midland - Garden City highway. Officers from the sheriff's office here were at the scene.

Long Chrysler Strike Feared

DETROIT, May 13. (AP)—An $8 million "kitty" being raised by the CIO United Auto Workers for their Chrysler Corp. strikers today gave the auto industry reason to fear a long walkout.

The big corporation's 75,000 production workers who walked off the job yesterday morning to enforce union demands for 17 cents more per hour were set for a long siege on the picket lines.

"The strike of the Chrysler workers is solid," declared Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer and acting president who is directing the walkout. "They are set for the duration. The Chrysler workers will win."

Some observers estimated the strike might last as long as two months.

Funds Frozen
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 12. (AP)—The new government of Jose Figueres froze today the funds and valuables of persons accused of misusing properties in the two previous administrations.

"We and our children are hungry," they cried. Another 800 paraded before the Coburg city hall demanding an "end of the hunger government."

Senator Plans Trip To Texas

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel says he plans to go back this week to Texas—where Rep. Lyndon Johnson is the latest candidate to announce for O'Daniel's job in the Senate.

While he is in Texas he may say whether he will seek re-election, O'Daniel said last night.

A reporter roused O'Daniel at his home here to ask about the Johnson announcement.

O'Daniel yawned over the phone. "You can see I'm not losing any sleep over it," he said.

O'Daniel said he hoped to leave here Friday for Fort Worth. He said he had no speaking engagement, but wanted to "check up on a few things."

He was asked if he would decide after making the check whether he would run again.

"I've already known for a long time what I am going to do," he said, adding that during his visit of about a week he might disclose his plans.

O'Daniel said he could not "understand why more people don't get into the race." He added that he had said on previous occasions that "the more the merrier."

President Sees No Better Peace Hope

Truman Opposes Outlawing Reds

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—President Truman expressed the view today that prospects for world peace have not increased as a result of the American-Soviet exchange of notes. He said the fundamentals have not been touched.

He also told a news conference he is opposed to outlawing the Communist Party in this country because he believes this would be entirely contrary to our principles.

The President, responding to questions on the United States-Russian exchange, said Secretary of State Marshall had stated this country's position clearly yesterday and he of course supported Marshall's statement.

Marshall ruled out any conference with Russia on general world issues in which other countries are interested and called for Soviet agreement to settle specific problems in the United Nations.

Mr. Truman was asked if his position had changed since he recently said his faith in peace had been somewhat shaken. The President said it had not. He added later that peace prospects had not been increased by the diplomatic exchange with Russia because fundamentals had not been touched.

Asked if he is willing to meet Soviet Premier Stalin here, he said yes and asked: How many times do I have to say yes?

His views on the Communist Party, on which Republican presidential candidates have differed, were given when asked to state his views on the Mundt bill. That measure would require, among other things, registration of Communist Party members.

Mr. Truman said outlawing the party would be against our principles. He said splinter parties do no harm, and if there is any conspiracy to overthrow our form of government there are other ways of dealing with it.

He said he expects to send to Congress tomorrow a message on the farm problem, but has no message in mind on U. S. aid to rearm Western Europe.

To a question whether the U. S. would recognize a Jewish state in Palestine, he said he would cross that bridge when he came to it.

The President said he will not release a report on the loyalty investigation of Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the Bureau of Standards. A House committee has demanded the report.

Congress, Mr. Truman said, has no power to compel confidential information from the executive branch. The courts have so ruled many times. He said he would veto any legislation requiring such records.

The President repeated today that it is still difficult to get men to take important federal positions. He made this statement in explaining why he had not yet found a man to fill a vacancy on the Maritime commission.

He said he had his own reasons for delaying the promised appointment of Mariner Eccles as vice chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Texas Schools Are Given More Funds
AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Checks totalling $9,060,793.05 (M) were en route to Texas school districts today.

The amount represented a $6 per capita apportionment of the available school fund. It brought the total paid thus far on the $55 per capita allocation to $46.

Hoffman Hits Help For Reds
WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The United States will shut off economic aid to any European nation which supplies war machinery to Russia, ERP Director Paul Hoffman said today.

"We will tell them they must stop it or we won't furnish aid," Hoffman said. "The economic cooperation administrator was before the Senate Appropriations Committee to ask further funds for the European Recovery Program."

Senator Cordon (R-Ore) asked Hoffman what he intended to do to "control the translation of our goods and money" into war machinery for Russia?

"If it is true," said Hoffman, "that we are furnishing aid, and if a country is shipping such commodities, (to Russia), they have got to stop it or we won't furnish aid."

Hoffman gave the senators assurance, too, that ECA will ship abroad only those goods "which can wisely and safely be spared."

State Water Meet Is Called Success
WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Texas spokesmen in a three-state Rio Grande water parley here said late yesterday that a compromise had been worked out, but gave no details.

Spokesmen from New Mexico and Colorado did not go quite that far, however. They said a "very satisfactory" meeting had been held with Army Engineers.

Officials of the three states are trying to iron out differences on the proposed Middle Rio Grande Flood Control and Reclamation Project in New Mexico.

SHOWDOWN MAY COME

Dixie Pondering Civil Rights Move

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The Senate's Southern Democrats ordered a pow-wow today to decide whether to risk a civil rights showdown now.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), called a forenoon meeting of the Dixie lawmakers as the Senate cleared the decks for a test vote at 2 p. m. (CST). The vote was scheduled on a motion to return to committee a bill which has raised the civil rights issue ahead of schedule.

The bill seeks congressional approval of an education compact entered into by 15 southern states as the first step toward creating a series of regional universities.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.), has moved to send the measure back to the Judiciary Committee for further study. He contends that under the constitution such pacts do not require approval of Congress.

Morse has announced that if his motion is defeated, he will call up an amendment intended to prevent segregation of Negroes from white students in the proposed regional schools.

He also has threatened to tack the rest of President Truman's civil rights program to the compact bill. It was that program—calling for anti-lynch, anti-job discrimination and anti-poll tax legislation—which touched off the rebellion of Southern Democrats.

They have promised a filibuster whenever any of these measures are brought up.

Belgians, Dutch Have An Alliance
BRUSSELS, Belgium, May 13. (AP)—Belgium's defense minister says a military alliance exists between this country and The Netherlands and that both are working closely with Luxembourg. The three nations compose the Benelux Customs Union.

The Belgo-Dutch agreement implies the closest possible military collaboration between the two countries, the minister—Col. Raoul de Fraiteur—told newsmen yesterday.

Evicted Ohio Family Takes Hotel Suite

DAYTON, O., May 13. (AP)—A $50-week laborer, his wife and four children set up housekeeping today in a $12-a-day hotel suite after they were evicted from their home.

Charles Bremer, 32, announced he would bill the city for half the hotel cost. Bremer said the decision to move into the hotel last night followed a futile five-month quest for lodgings.

Removed from their rented house which had been sold, the parents and four children—ranging in age from one to five—began a day-long hunt for help.

Last night, Bremer said he "gave up" and applied for a room at the hotel. The management, which said Bremer and his family would be treated as any other guests, assigned them to a two-room suite.

Bremer said they would remain in the hotel for five days "or until the city does something about finding us a place to live."

Bremer, employed as a grinder in a local manufacturing plant, said he had appealed to every social and relief agency in the city. None, he added, could answer the question:

FIRST LOAD CUT IN YOUNG COUNTY

Start On Texas Wheat Harvest Points Attention To Drouth-Stunted Condition

A start on harvesting the nation's estimated $45,484,000 (M) bushel winter wheat crop pointed attention today to the crop's drouth-stunted condition in Texas.

The season's first load was early Black Hull variety, cut on a 450-acre field in Young County, Tex., yesterday by Elmer E. Hennig of the Ingleside community.

Activity swung today 60-odd miles west to Haskell County, where County Agent F. W. Martin said combining started today. Haskell produced the nation's first wheat last year.

Harvesting in Young County was expected to begin again the first of next week. Both Young and Haskell Counties are in that general North Texas-Oklahoma section around Wichita Falls, where the U. S. winter wheat harvest annually begins.

A survey by the Wichita Falls Record News of Texas counties in the area referred to prospects as bleak. An Amarillo authority, F. M. Pharris, comparing conditions with those in the Panhandle and South Plains, said "Most of the wheat crop in Texas is going to be made in the area around Wichita County."

Pharris, assistant manager of the Producers Grain Corporation at Amarillo, said there was urgent need of rain throughout the Panhandle.

A report from Lubbock said only about one-quarter of the total acreage of wheat planted on the South Plains last year, was planted in 1948 because of a lack of moisture, and that extended drouth has badly damaged what little wheat was planted.

A record crop came off Texas wheat acreage in the Panhandle last year. That section produces 80 per cent of the state's wheat.

Hennig averaged about 12 bushels to the acre in his cut yesterday. He hauled the load to Olney where it tested 60 pounds per bushel with a moisture content at 14 and one half per cent. He said he was offered $2.12 a bushel and would decide today whether to sell or store his load.

Wheat was quoted in Wichita Falls yesterday at $2.15 a bushel compared with $2.40 last year.

Soaking rains followed by cool, dry weather were cited as speeding the harvest in Young County. Although prospects were far below normal in North Texas because of generally extreme dry weather.

ON US 80

Mesa Addition, Courts Popular

Public acceptance of Mesa addition has been enthusiastic, A. McNary, developer, reports. Only about 25 lots remain in the tract, south of US 80 highway and adjacent to the municipal airport terminal. These are conventional sizes—50x140 and 60x140 feet. The entire area is on three feet of good top soil and the terrain is perfectly level. One house is being started now, and soon, said McNary. It is hoped to have water piped into the area. Other utilities are handy. Prices of the lots are extremely economical and modest down payments can close a trade. Immediately to the north of the addition and on the highway is the Hitching Post trailer camp, equipped with electricity, sewage, gas and water facilities. Popularity of the camp is increased by the tile-finished restrooms and showers, which have caused many patrons to volunteer that they are the best they have seen in this area. Germicide lamps—to keep air free from odors and germs, are to be installed. McNary provided the Hitching Post because he felt there was need of a place where trailer houses could be up and know that they had all the conveniences and sanitary arrangements to make living comfortable. There are cafes, stores, etc. in reasonable proximity to the camp. McNary invited the public to drive out US 80 west and inspect the camp and the new addition and to make inquiry about both.

Heavy Clothes Need Cleaning Before Storing

Persons who are storing heavier clothes in favor of summerlightweights are failing to insure the long life of their garments if they do not have them cleaned beforehand.

A concern which proffers the best in that type of service is Hartley Brothers Cleaners, located at 116 Main street. The establishment is owned and operated by D. G. and J. W. Hartley. The latter boasts some 16 years experience in the dry cleaning business.

Two day service can be assured on both types of material and Hartley's maintains a pickup and delivery service for those who cannot call at the shop. Not only all types of clothing but drapes and blankets can be made to look like new at Hartley's. The concern also maintains an excellent hat blocking department. Alterations in suits, trousers and dresses are accomplished at Hartley's. All work of that type conforms to specifications, of course. Buttons will be sewed on garments, if ordered. Business hours of the concern are from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Soft Water For Home No Longer Luxury; It's Handy, Not Costly

Soft water for bathing, shampooing, dishwashing, laundering and cooking is not a home luxury any longer...not with the soft water service provided by the Big Spring Culligan representatives. The local Culligan Soft Water Service, located at 505 East Sixth street, offer consumers a service that requires no expense on the part of the customer for equipment. They install their equipment in a convenient place in the home, and the customer then pays only for servicing the equipment from time to time as needed.

An average family can maintain softwater service for only a few cents a day at current rates. The Culligan people also point to savings in soap bills as one of their chief selling points. Many customers have reported savings of as much as 80-cents of their soap-dollar. All of the service is performed by trained service men who handle the work rapidly and easily. Once the Culligan equipment is installed, unit changes, which are required at regular intervals, take no longer than two or three minutes each time. The equipment in the home requires a very small space. Further details of the Culligan Service in Big Spring can be obtained merely by telephoning No. 535.

More than a billion baby chicks in southern states are shipped each year to fans in every corner of the United States, with trifling loss of life, according to Railway Express. Mondays through Fridays and from 8:30 a. m. to 3:00 on Saturdays. Business telephone number of Hartley's is 420.

JUST LIKE FAMILY

U.S. May Soon Have Budget Troubles

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—The government has more money in its treasury than ever before in its history. At the same time many tax experts are predicting that financial trouble for the nation may be just around the corner. The reason, according to the experts, is as simple as Mama's household budget troubles. For instance, they say Father may have a good salary when he and Mother make out the family budget for the coming year. They decide they can afford T-bone steaks twice a week. Despite the cost of T-bones, it appears there will be enough left of father's paycheck at the end of the year to buy mother a new evening gown. During the year father's salary is cut, unexpectedly. Nevertheless, the family has become accustomed to T-bone steaks and continues to eat them.

Besides, there have been unexpected doctor bills, and mother already has purchased her dress, charging it. So the family has to borrow money and go into debt to pay its bills and balance the budget. The Brookings Institution of Washington, which describes itself as an organization to aid constructively in the development of sound national policies, has just completed a study of the government's budget situation. Lewis H. Kimmel, the economist who wrote the report, says government finances are similar to household finance in this way:

Income must equal spending to balance the budget. Otherwise the government goes further in debt. There is no doubt this year's income will be greater than the year's expenses. Looking ahead to 1952, however, Kimmel sees this possibility: National income may drop about 12 per cent (to around $175,000,000,000 (b) a year) under 1947's national income. Federal, city and state expenses may continue at a high level because of demands for defense, education and other programs. Kimmel says the "probable" total of all government expenses may be around $43,000,000,000. This means 24.8 per cent (about

PETE GREEN PREPARES DRAFT

City Heads Receive List Of 12 Traffic Proposals

City commissioners Wednesday received a list of 12 recommendations for new traffic regulations involving streets in the main business district, certain residential areas and the City park.

The recommendations were prepared by Police Chief Pete Green. A copy was presented to each commissioner by City Manager H. W. Whitney, and a thorough study will be made during the next two weeks.

The police chief asked that traffic signals be installed at the Second and Scurry and Third and Nolan intersections and recommended that left turns be abolished at Third and Runnels, Main and Third and Third and Scurry intersections.

Green also requested that U turns be prohibited at Fifth and Main and at Sixth and Main, that no parking be permitted on either side

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

It doesn't take an artist to arrange pleasing color combinations in the garden, only average good taste and some consideration. Most mistakes are made through carelessness.

One of the worst combinations we say this spring was Forsythia blooming against a red brick wall. That was a distinct clash of color, at least to us, but the owner seemed very proud of it. We believe she considered the Forsythia bushes as specimen plants, and did not even think of the wall as a background, she saw only the bushes.

Last month we chanced upon an entirely different effect through careful planning and arrangement of colors, single Kerria Japonica underplanted with Anchus tinctoria. This single Kerria is daintier than the double and is somewhat like Rosa Hugonia, but deeper gold. Does not have to be dodged and is not subject to mildew, lovely with blue.

Another terrible combination was a red hen scratching in a bed of lavender Verbena! But this was counteracted by a Blue Jay sitting in a Dogwood tree. There is so much to see—and to do.

Insects are on the rampage and must be dealt with as soon as noticed. Mites and red spider are best controlled through the use of nicotine sprays, or, can often be washed off plants with a strong stream of water from the garden hose. Some growers use dusting sulphur on Azaleas, Camellias and Verbenas.

Rock garden plants should be trimmed after blooming, some of them will give a little blooming later, if the dead flowers are removed. Anyway, it makes the garden look better. Stick small annuals in where something has died, or bloomed out.

Rock gardens are ornamental enough without using artificial figures of gnomes, giant frogs, and little Colored Boys fishing. Such things detract from the planting.

If you plan to move your house plants outside, avoid strong winds. They like a partly shaded, protected place. Many of them can be plunged into the ground, pot and all. Some will need new soil.

Spray Gladioli for thrips with rotenone or pyrethrum spray. Prune shrubs that have bloomed, except the berry-bearing kinds.

Madonna Lilies should be worked lightly (do not injure roots) then have an inch or two of leafmold or peatmoss mulch to retain moisture through the growing season. Perennials can be mulched with peatmoss, grass clippings, or straw. Leafmold is good on the plants that do not require an alkaline soil.

Lodge Building To Be Dedicated

Jean Lawless, president of the Rebekah Assembly and Boyd Howard, past president of Rebekah Assembly, will visit the lodge on dedication of the lodge building, May 30 it was announced Tuesday evening at the Big Spring Lodge 284.

Jayhawks Seek Sixth TC Victory Sunday

Howard County Junior college's Tri-County baseball league game with the Knott Billies will be played on the Bombardier school diamond west of town at 3 p. m. Sunday, Hawk Coach Harold Davis announced this morning.

Longhorns Need Win To Escape League Cellar

The Big Spring high school baseball Steers will seek to remove themselves from the District 3AA cellar in a game here Friday with the Midland Bulldogs.

A win over the Canines would put them in a deadlock with the Midland team and enable them to go ahead of Abilene, if that team should lose to Lamesa.

San Angelo currently is setting the league pace with eight wins in 11 starts but must edge by Sweetwater Saturday if it hopes to remain there.

Odessa, # half game in arrears of Angelo, is idle until Tuesday, at which time it plays Big Spring at home.

The race ends on May 21.

WHY FEEL OLD AT 40, 60 OR MORE

Why be the victim of the older years? If you are not the best you can be, you are not able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vision, vitality and mental powers, there is a method that may change your whole outlook on life. Why not try and regain the pleasure of being young once again? Why be discouraged—why not remember the words and seek a much stronger man? Many men are obtaining remarkable results with Calcium Tablets. Women, too, find Calcium helpful.

The tremendous demand for this formula has warranted a drastic price reduction. Get Calcium immediately before you are dropped at the new REDUCED price.

Locals Defeat Del Rio, 12-6

Pat Stacey leads his Big Spring baseball Broncs back into the village tonight for a three-game home stand.

The Hosses, who last night completed a successful road trip by winning their 5th recision in seven starts at the expense of Del Rio, open up shop with Pepper Martin's San Angelo Colts in an 8:15 o'clock engagement this evening at the park.

Martin's club has been the chief tormentor of the Capuses to date. The Colts broke even in two exhibition games with the locals and then clipped them two in a row last weekend in San Angelo.

Sherwin Cox, who stopped the Steeds cold last Saturday, is apt to twirl against Big Spring. Stacey may send either Gerry Rodriguez or Bert Baez to the hill.

Carpenters have been busy on the local stadium since the team departed and the roof on the new section of the grandstand is virtually completed.

Oil has been added to a section of the parking lots outside the park, too, which will help to settle the dust that has been so much of a handicap in the early games.

DEL RIO, May 13.—The Big Spring baseball Broncs cut loose with a 16-hit attack of two Del Rio pitchers to win a 12-6 decision here Wednesday night.

The triumph was the sixth straight for the Capuses over the Cowhounds and enabled the Big Springers to stretch their Longhorn league lead to a game and a half over Ballinger and Odessa, who are now tied for second place.

Ballinger split a double header with Sweetwater last night to lose a half a game to Odessa, which won from Vernon.

Manager Pat Stacey of the Broncs shifted his lineup somewhat, moving Ray Vasquez into the leadoff spot. Ace Mendez, who had been in the No. One spot, was dropped to seventh place in the batting order.

The Steeds broke loose with a three-run uprising in the sixth round to come from behind and grab the lead. In the eighth, they tallied six more to put the decision on ice.

For the second night in a row, Bobby Fernandez paced the Big Spring attack. He had four hits, including a two-baser.

Jake Matos, who was relieved by Larry Shaw in the sixth, received credit for his first victory of the season.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Texas university, Rice's Owls and the SMU Mustangs will all give the Baylor Bears a busy time in next season's Southwest conference basketball wars according to Bill Henderson, the coach of the Bruins, here for the Kiwanis club dinner a couple of days ago.

All of Henderson's starters the past season, including the capable Jackie Robinson, will return for the 1948-49 season. However, opines Henderson, the three aforementioned quintets will be better and any one of the four could slip through to the title.

Rice and Texas will return strong varsity clubs while SMU is bringing up a powerful freshman team headed by Jack Brown, the former Crozier Tech star.

Henderson does not think his school's frosh squad will strengthen his squad to any degree. Those who saw his Bruins operate last season, however, think he doesn't need any help. His starting troupe was one of the greatest in the history of the conference, if not the greatest.

RALPH BEARD TOPS IN ESTIMATION OF HENDERSON

Henderson saw basketball players from one end of the nation to the other during the past season. Who does he think is the best of the lot? Ralph Beard, the Kentucky wizard, who wants to join the Phillips 66 team, conquerer of Kentucky in the Olympic playoffs. Big Alex Groza of the Kentucky team gave the Bruins a world of trouble but Henderson prefers Beard for all-around play.

How about Kentucky, often called the greatest collegiate cage team in history? They beat us twice last season, says Henderson, but we would like to play them again. We still think we could do something about their game.

KNUCKLE BALL ALONE EARNS RAMSDALL JOB WITH BUMS

Willard Ramsdall, the former Big Spring baseball hurler who is now with the Brooklyn Dodgers, gets a nice sendoff in the current (May) edition of Pic magazine, now on sale at the local newsstands.

Creator of the piece, which has been labeled "Another Subway Series," is Dave Camerer, who says Pop held an interview with Branch Rickey of the Dodger front office in which the Mahatma made inquiries into the caliber of Ramsdall's fast ball.

Ramsdall thereupon cleared all doubt in the high lama's mind by admitting that he didn't own a fireball, that instead he depended exclusively on his knuckler to see him through.

That amazed Rickey more than somewhat but he proceeded to sign Willard, perhaps because of the man's utter confidence in himself, as well as his record in organized baseball.

If Ramsdall is sent down from the Bums, it will be due to the fact that no catcher on the Brooklyn staff can hold his stuff.

Leo Durocher, the Brooklyn skipper, may feel he would rather do with one less pitcher than have all his catchers sporting broken thumbs.

BOXERS MAY FIGHT IN ODESSA ABOUT JUNE 1

Dallas and Beaumont are putting on a lively race to see which can reach the Texas League cellar first. It now looks like a dead heat.

Athletics Continue To Move Along At Head Of American Loop Parade

By The Associated Press

Connie Mack's collection of draftees and hand-me-downs is showing up the rich major league clubs with a 10-game win streak. His Philadelphia A's are upholding the old theory that you can't buy a pennant.

While Tom Yawkey of Boston Red Sox was writing checks for some $350,000, Mr. Mack was busy scanning the draft lists. By the studious avoidance of any large outlay of cash, the venerable old gentleman has acquired quite a ball club.

And they've been winning quite handsly, too, although they did have to struggle to achieve an 8-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns last night. Three hits and four walks added up to six runs for Philadelphia in the second inning, to the delight of the crowd of 21,763.

Dick Fowler, the starter, faded in the seventh and Mack had to follow reliever Bob Savage with Lou Brissie who worked two hitless innings. The A's thumped loser Cliff Fanning and five successors for 10 hits.

Rain washed out the Yankee Stadium meeting of Cleveland and New York with the Yanks leading 3-1 in the home half of the fourth. The postponement nullified a three-run homer by Joe DiMaggio off Gene Bearden in the first inning.

Detroit staged two big innings to down Washington, 14-9, although Hal Newhouser was knocked from the box for the fourth straight time. Dizzy Trout, third of four pitchers, notched the win over reliever Marino Pieretti.

Sherry Robertson, Washington right fielder, wrenched a knee severely when he slipped while chasing a fly in the eighth.

Bobby Doerr's three-run homer in the 10th inning enabled Boston to grab a 6-5 win from Chicago in dramatic fashion. Cot Deal, who pitched to only two batters, picked up his first major league win at the expense of Earl Harrist.

Rain idled half the National League, the New York at St. Louis and Boston at Chicago games. However the Pittsburgh Pirates were able to get in a game with the Phillies which dropped them a half game back of the Cardinals.

Bliz Donnelly of the Phils handed the Pirates their first shutout of the year, 5-0, allowing only three hits. He was in control all the way with the help of Johnny Blatnik, the rookie outfielder, who had a perfect four-hit day. Ernie Bonham was the loser.

Hank Sauer unloaded his seventh homer, a three-run blast in the last of the ninth, but it wasn't enough. His Cincinnati Reds bowed to Brooklyn, 9-7, in a night game.

Joe Hatten, the first of four Dodger pitchers was the winner over Johnny Vander Meer, but Leo Durocher had to whistle to the bullpen for Hugh Casey to end it in the ninth.

Joint Action Against Cycle

Management and labor will do well to get their heads for an unprecedented amount of cooperative effort if the inflationary spiral is to be deterred from its latest surge. If not, disaster may lie around the corner.

There is seldom a day that one does not see or hear of a new wage demand. This is not particularly surprising, and it required no gift of prophecy a year or so ago to foretell that this was on its way. Labor had fallen into the fallacious notion that increased wages would solve everything, when, in fact, they solve nothing if not accompanied by increased efficiency and productiveness. With few exceptions, labor must admit, in all honesty, that as scales have increased, efficiency per worker has declined or done no better than remain static. Thus, to assume that granting of labor demands at the moment will be a panacea to all economic ailments—and particularly to labor's—is foolish.

But labor is not alone, nor by any means the sole bearer of responsibility in the cycle. Management cannot come into court blameless. There are too many instances of sharp rises in prices which were not justified by increases in costs of raw materials and labor. Conscience and obligation have taken a beating time and again. Some in management have become so obsessed with the profit motive that greater profit has become more important than democracy and humanity. Of course, the ideal situation is for management to seek to make more available for less on a fair margin. Departure from this begets trouble.

And trouble—from both sides of the fence—is what we have. Effective effort in avoiding more and more of it must come from both sides of the fence.

Hope Offered In New Try

Whether anything will come of the latest overture to negotiate some points of difference with Russia remains to be seen, but the administration is to be commended for its attitude of willingness to try.

Happily, it has been made clear that this move does not necessarily mean any intention of altering fundamental policy of firmness. By stressing this point, the U. S. makes sure that the Soviets are not deluded into assuming we have reached another point of hesitancy and vacillation, or that we are ready to experiment with appeasement.

Quite the contrary, for Ambassador Smith has made it plain in reiterating his statement to the Russian government that the U. S. position is one of willingness to explore the possibility of amicable settlement of any issue, but that the U. S. is determined to go ahead with its plan to assist in the rebuilding of Western Union, including the blocking of Russian expansionism in that area.

Now this does not necessarily mean that there is nothing left to talk about. Indeed, there are many basic issues, particularly those involving peace treaties, which may be negotiated. If a spirit of sincerity develops in these conversations, it may offer an avenue of settlement of these basic treaties.

Should that be accomplished, there is the possibility, as Secretary Marshall contends, of the United Nations really functioning. If not, nothing has been lost but words.

Reds Must Do Talking

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Further elucidation of the American bid for "decent and reasonable" relations with Russia shows that Washington didn't propose any conference but merely restated American policy and added that the door is always open for discussions.

In short, if the Russians have any special proposals there can be discussions between the two governments. However, highly-placed American officials say that if the Muscovites have no proposals, there seems to be no ground for conversations.

President Truman himself took a hand in the clarification Tuesday. He said the statement made to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov by American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith represented no departure in American policy. The present international policies will be vigorously and firmly prosecuted. On the other hand, America wants to make it unmistakably clear that she has no hostile designs with respect to Russia.

Now this doesn't mean that the United States wouldn't be pleased to have Moscow initiate conversations, for she would. Still it is well that the matter be cleared up lest anybody get the wrong notion that America is hitting the appeasement trail. Furthermore, European nations are watching this development eagerly and some show an inclination to be over-optimistic.

Since Molotov has chosen to construe the American move as an invitation, it is possible that a meeting of some sort might develop. Apropos of this, there appears to be no thought in Washington that it might be staged between President Truman and Marshal Stalin, although the former has said he would be glad to see the generalissimo in America.

The value of such a conference is, of course, problematical. It might have the virtue of further clarifying the positions of the two governments. Still it must be said that the post-war allied conferences in Europe not only haven't helped matters but have made them worse.

As indicated in yesterday's column, the only thing which would help relations between the democracies and Russia very much would be Soviet abandonment of a policy of world revolution for the spread of communism. That is the crux of the whole trouble.

The Nation Today—

Rail Unions Are On Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, May 13. —At this point the three railroad unions, which threatened to strike, are on pretty much of a spot.

The big question for them is now what do they do? The three unions—engineers, firemen, switchmen—marched steadily uphill to the point where they called a strike.

After all that buildup—it got the country into a kind of crisis mood—they had to call off the strike. The railroads wouldn't give in to them. And the government took over the roads. It did more. It got a court order forbidding a strike.

The railroad no-strike order is only temporary. It ends May 19. The unions could argue then against the court's issuing a permanent no-strike order. But it's not even clear they'll do that.

Since the unions have not been given what they wanted, they still want to argue or bargain for it. But with whom?

The railroads are sitting pretty. Their attitude can be "Take it or leave it."

Although the government has seized the roads, the companies actually are running them.

And the court order is protecting the companies against a strike.

Secretary of the Army Royall doesn't seem in any hurry to talk business with the unions, either. Royall, who took over the roads for the government, told reporters as much yesterday.

Months ago President Truman appointed a board of fact-finders to look into the dispute. The board recommended:

That the unions take 15 1/2 cents an hour, like the other 19 unions, and drop some of those demands for 23 changes in the rules.

Now, one of the union leaders says, the unions have agreed to settle for 15 1/2 cents an hour but want more rule changes than the President's fact-finders had recommended.

The companies have issued a statement saying they'll accept the fact-finder recommendations.

That's pretty much a "Take it or leave it" proposition. The railroads can thus sit back and let the union leaders try to find a way out.

So, all in all, the unions find themselves in a lot worse bargaining position than before the deadline for the strike they called off.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Anderson Won Over Italy To U. S.

By DREW PEARSON
(ED. NOTE—Clinton Anderson, retiring secretary of agriculture, today receives the Brass Ring from Drew Pearson, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round.)

WASHINGTON.—Several editors have said some nice things about this columnist in connection with winning the Italian elections. However the real man who won the elections stepped out of the Truman cabinet this week and went back to New Mexico to run for the United States Senate.

For Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson had not made a certain, vital decision regarding farm policy at the end of the war, starvation and communism both would be rampant in Italy today.

Few people know about that decision. It came at the end of the war when American farm leaders had visions of farm surpluses and falling prices. Wanting to avoid a farm slump, the killing of little pigs and the plowing under of cotton, farm leaders urged less production.

But Secretary Anderson said no.

This was a tough decision to make. For if Anderson was wrong, it meant that he would be cussed out by farmers for years to come. Carefully he read the reports of David Houston, secretary of agriculture under Woodrow Wilson, for guidance. Houston gave him none.

Nevertheless, Anderson finally demanded that farmers increase, not decrease production—which is the big reason why we have had enough grain to feed Europe.

NO PICTURE FARMER

Clinton Anderson has been one of the most refreshing and variegated personalities in the turbulent Truman administration. Once when asked by the March of Time to pose with a pitchfork, he said: "I'm an insurance man, not a farmer." Actually he has a cattle ranch back in Albuquerque, has made a lot of money at insurance, voted against all insurance measures in the House of Representatives.

Though wealthy, he has made some of the most effective speeches in Congress championing labor and blasting lush business profits.

FDR was one of his idols, and the Anderson library on the late President is one of the best in the country.

Coming to New Mexico from South Dakota because of lung trouble, Anderson first worked for the Albuquerque Journal where he uncovered the first tip on the Teapot Dome scandal. This was the fact that the then secretary of the interior had received a $25,000 stallion from Harry Sinclair. That started the train of circumstances which finally upset the Teapot Dome lease, brought two resignations from the Coolidge cabinet and sent both Fall and Sinclair to jail.

Later, Anderson went into insurance, became the biggest individual insurance man in his state, then was elected to the House of Representatives. Now Anderson is going home to run for the upper branch of Congress—the U. S. Senate.

Though Anderson says he was a better congressman than cabinet member, actually he did an outstanding job as secretary of agriculture.

SOLVING SOAP SHORTAGE

Not only in regard to grain, but sugar, copra and cotton was he most farsighted. During the first months after the war, the world, desperately hard up for soap, received no coconuts from the Philippines. Plenty still grew there, but weren't being harvested. So Anderson induced the Army and Navy to send small boats up Philippine rivers and trucks to inland plantations—until enough copra was carried out to solve the world's fat and soap shortage.

The end of the war also found the U. S. Commodity Credit Corporation with 7,500,000 bales of surplus cotton. Not only was the taxpayer likely to be stuck for this cotton, but the surplus had a depressing effect on the market.

Anderson conceived the idea of selling it to Japan and Germany for the manufacture of textiles. Both countries needed a nonwar industry, and textiles were the best answer. Anderson sold Japan and Germany the cotton; the American cotton farmer benefited. Europe and Asia got badly needed clothing.

SUGAR SALESMANSHIP

One of Anderson's greatest triumphs was his purchase of two Cuban sugar crops at the same time. Sugar then was scarce, and in order to keep prices down, he wanted to buy both the 1946 and 1947 Cuban crops. But the Cubans said no, and Agriculture Department emissaries got nowhere with them.

Finally Anderson himself went to Cuba, called on President Grau San Martin.

"This is a situation where Cuba can win the good will of the United States for a long time," he told

In Hollywood—

Report On Bogota Did Not Fore A Revolt

By Walter Lippmann
AFTER testifying in a secret session of a Congressional committee, Admiral Hillenkoetter, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, allowed himself to be interviewed in order to show that he had warned the State Department of the Bogota uprising. This would not have been edifying even if the admiral had proved his case. But in fact his own evidence disproves his case.

The key intelligence dispatch, dated March 23, which he says was withheld from the State Department by a representative of the department in Bogota said: "Have confirmed information that Communist-inspired agitators will attempt to humiliate the Secretary of State and other members of the United States delegation to the Pan-American conference upon arrival in Bogota by manifestations and possible personal molestation."

This was in no sense a warning of what happened in Bogota. No attempt was made to humiliate the Secretary of State; there were no manifestations against the Secretary of State upon his arrival in Bogota, and he has not been subjected to personal molestation.

The fact is that what Admiral Hillenkoetter predicted did not happen, and what did happen was not predicted by Admiral Hillenkoetter.

A "warning" that Secretary Marshall was going to be molested can hardly be construed as a warning that there was going to be an uprising against the Colombian government.

It was like the warning that there was going to be Japanese sabotage at Pearl Harbor; which led General Short to take measures against something which did not happen rather than against that which actually did happen.

It seems reasonably certain, not only from the uprising in Colombia but from the condition of the conference before it was interrupted, that the Administration, though it had warning of trouble, had not made a successful diagnosis of the trouble. It seems to have fixed its attention on the "Communist-inspired agitators," and not on the deep and violent popular unrest which was boiling up just under the surface.

President Grau said he agreed, but that Cuban workers were afraid the price of U. S. wheat, lard, etc. would go up, so they would find themselves paying more while sugar sold for the same low price. So Anderson proposed an escalator clause by which the price of sugar would increase if the cost of American lard and wheat increased.

The president of Cuba agreed. In 72 hours Anderson had closed a deal which other emissaries had not been able to sign in six weeks. That is one reason why the price of sugar has remained so stable.

Most people think that running the Department of Agriculture is a matter of putting out booklets on soil conservation, boll weevil and how to preserve vegetables. But it isn't. And in these days where crop shortages can cause communism, the U. S. A. has been lucky to have as secretary of agriculture a farsighted statesman.

U. S. Needs Spirituality

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

America has been dying spiritually for a generation, Rev. Bernard C. Morris says.

Morris, who left the Salvation Army recently after 21 years as an officer, is now an Evangelist and heads a movement called Texas for Christ, Inc.

"America's ideals," he told us, "reached a peak during the administration of Woodrow Wilson and have been going down steadily ever since."

To prove this, the 42-year-old Morris paints a bleak picture. "We now have five million criminals in America and eight million mental defectives. All mental hospitals in the country are crowded and prisons and reformatories are overflowing. There are two million chronic alcoholics. Seventy million Americans drink."

"This is the most drunken nation in the world. In 1946 our people spent eight billion, 770 million dollars for alcoholic beverages and drank another 18 million gallons of illegal liquor."

"If you will add to our national liquor bill a $17 billion annual crime bill and add to that $10 billion for gambling, $7 billion for movies and recreation, $5 billion for tobacco and another $2 billion for cosmetics, you have more than $40 billion."

"In contrast, we generous Americans spent for churches of all faiths, for all private and benevolent institutions, for all charities and character building agencies of the Community Chest and for the American Red Cross—the sum of $3 billion."

"Eighty seven percent of our population does not go to church and 70 million Americans do not belong to any church. The divorce rate is appalling. Some one estimates there are more bad maids than college girls."

"We now have a murder every 40 minutes and a major crime every 22 seconds.

The conditions that exist in America now caused the fall of Rome and the fall of France. I agree with Woodrow Wilson, who said: A nation cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually."

Pushing Doorbells

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, May 13. —"If you push enough doorbells, you'll sell enough brushes."

This is the simple sales formula on which Alfred C. Fuller, the original Fuller Brush man, has built a gigantic house-to-house business.

Fuller, now 63, started in the basement of his sister-in-law's house in 1905. He made the brushes on a $15 second-hand machine in the afternoon and evening, peddled them the next morning.

He doesn't have to push doorbells himself anymore. He's so wealthy he doesn't even have to answer the door himself when a Fuller Brush man rings his doorbell to try to sell him a brush.

But this year some 7,000 Fuller Brush men across the nation will push approximately 43,750,000 doorbells to sell housewives nearly $30 million worth of brushes.

Today the Fuller Brush man has become a familiar figure on the American doorstep. Red Skelton has just made a movie about him and the Saturday Evening Post featured him this week in one of its "Men at Work" series.

What's he like—this door-to-door salesman who has taken the place of the oldtime itinerant peddler and knocks more often than the postman?

The brush company recently polled some of its 7,000 dealers and came up with this picture: The average Fuller Brush man is 40 years old, has a high school education, sets his own hours, earns $70 a week. He has been married 12 1/2 years, has a boy and a girl, owns a 5 1-2-room house and a low-priced car 7 1/2 years old with 52,500 miles on the speedometer.

The Fuller Brush man works five days a week, pushes 25 doorbells a day, gives free to every prospect a vegetable scrubbing brush that costs him three cents. He has at least 2,000 families in his district, calls on them three or more times a year, sells to one out of every two housewives who come to the door.

The door is his big problem. He isn't allowed to put his foot in it, but once he gets past it he generally figures he's in—physically and in a sales sense, too. He then has 135 items to sell—from nail brushes to furniture polish.

In one out of 25 cases the Fuller Brush man isn't a man at all. He's a Fuller Brush lady. The percentage of women salesmen rose during the war.

Where Glamor Gang Hangs Out

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK—Sightseeing: Friend of mine who's seen all the important topography of this big burg—Statue of Liberty, Grant's Tomb, The Bowery, etc.—asked for a few hints on what else to see, where the glamor gang, the sports crowd, where the usual run of celebrities might be treed in their off-time moments. So—here's what I suggested:

Drop by the Algonquin at lunch time. It's about the only West Side hotel which has retained its cozy theatrical flavor throughout the recent dizzy wartime rush. As a luncheon and dinner hangout, it plays host to all sorts of literary and thespic lights, from Moss Hart and George Kaufman to visiting celluloid fascinators. It's comfortable, the staff is courteous, and what's more, a visitor stands a chance to get in.

If you want to mix your celebrity chasing with a spot of damp goods, try the bar at the Stork. The Cub Room of that premises of course is the jealously guarded sanctuary of the regulars and glitter gang, but they have to traipse by the commodious bar to get there.

S'west May Gain A Sports Power

Plans for the establishment of a U. S. All Academy, comparable to the Army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis, at Randolph Field in San Antonio have conjured up some of the rosiest dreams Texas sportsmen have had in decades.

The actual project could by no means be termed a subconscience romp. It's very real—so real that Secretary of Air Symington has approved a bill by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) which calls for the establishment of the school at the sprawling Texas air base and for the expenditure of $2 million dollars for the enlargement of present facilities. Approval of the proposal is also expected soon from the Department of Defense.

It takes no imagination to recognize that such a move would create a new athletic power of national importance in the Southwest, drawing talent from the entire U. S. A situation is created that offers many possibilities.

What of the Army-Navy game? For years one of the nation's football classics, the colorful clash of the two service academies has been the exclusive privilege of the East. It is inconceivable that a new academy of equal rank could be left out of such a rivalry. Certainly military leaders will recognize that the service championship must be decided by a playoff of the three service teams if harmony is to be kept under the new unified command.

This will open the gate to allow at least one of the service football contests with all their pomp and color to be played in Texas—not to mention battles in other collegiate sports. Presumably, either Army or Navy would play Air Force in the Lone Star State every year. A three team setup would assure each section a major game as an annual affair—a definite advantage over playing on a home and home basis.

What of a new major conference in the southwest? It's no secret that the University of Houston, second only to the University of Texas in enrollment and with the largest private endowment of any institution in this section of the country, has its eye on sports glory. And it has the lever to vault upwards even though it is now in athletic oblivion.

Texas Tech, continually snubbed by the Southwest conference, is another school which presents a strong argument. Give the Raiders framework on which to build prestige and they will draw the talent.

Tulsa university already has a football reputation. Oklahoma A&M suffers from lack of competition in a minor loop. Hardin-Simmons shows signs of climbing. All these schools offer possibilities.

The proposed Air Force academy would give prospects for a new conference a big boost. Yes, it may not be long before "Yay-y-y Air Force, Fight—Fight—Fight!" may be ringing through the autumn air.—ADRIAN VAUGHAN.

Twenty-one is about the most exclusive restaurant in town. It still maintains a doorman, speakeasy style, and no one who isn't known is permitted entrance. If you manage to wangle entrance, though, you'll see the biggest concentration of fame, talent and wealth in any modern saloon.

Sports hotabes—participants, owners and writers—make Toots Shor's saloon their regular watering spot. A typical evening would see Leo Durocher and Laraine at one corner, Joe DiMaggio and his gang at another, Bobo Newsum and various lesser practitioners of the many arts stashed elsewhere in the joi-I mean restaurant.

Sardi's is famous for its Italian dishes and it's the favorite eating and greeting headquarters of playactors. Vincent Sardi has retired but there's another Vincent Sardi on the job: Junior, that is, a real chip off the old menu.

You'll gander the international set, so-called, at El Morocco. Lindy's always is awash with the strictly Broadway mob—song writers, cafe comics, newspapermen and sister-looking Runyon characters. Reuben's, caterers to the stayouts of all celebrity stripes and a normal four A. M. will find every table loaded with faces you'll recognize; except, of course, the face of the Statue of Liberty, which you've probably seen anyway.

End of Tour.

North Sterling Ellenburger Test Indicates Commercial Production

A new Ellenburger oil field in north-central Sterling county has been indicated by Humble No. 1-B Ellwood estate, 14 miles north of Sterling City.

That prospecter ran a 45-minute drillstem test at 7,962-80 feet. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes. It was estimated at four million cubic feet per day.

No fluid flowed at the surface and recovery was 2,900 feet of 47.1 gravity oil, and 450 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. No formation water was developed.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure during the test was 400 pounds, and shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes, was 2,950 pounds. The project was being drilled deeper to 8,000 feet and another drillstem test was to be taken.

Humble No. 1-B Ellwood is in the C NE NW section 56-18, SPRR, four miles north-northeast of the

O'Barr Tie-In Seen Thursday

City water department employees may tie in a new well supply in the O'Barr field of northern Glasscock county Thursday.

Pipe has been installed and power lines run to a new well which has been completed and awaits test. Together, it is hoped they will boost the supply to the pipeline capacity of about 2,000,000 gallons per day.

Consumption has averaged out at about 3,500,000 gallons per day this month, although it has exceeded four million on two days this season. Lake supplies are being pumped at maximum pipeline capacity of 1,500,000 gallons per day and without replenishment have a reserve of something like four to five months. Other sources, the city park, sections 17 and 33, have fairly constant rates of production, and the O'Barr rate is being fluctuated from less than a million to nearly two million gallons a day, depending on the demand curve.

Community Plan Of Blue Cross Well Accepted

Best response yet experienced here has greeted the current enrollment in Blue Cross under the community group plan, W. R. Derr, district manager, said Thursday.

Under the community group plan, individuals and families which would not have opportunity under employ group plans to participate may enroll. Those who work in groups of five or more employees are to enroll through their employe units, Derr said. Prime objective of the community service is to reach individuals as small business men, farmers, miscellaneous laborers, etc.

Derr estimated that the campaign, which concluded Saturday, has attracted 250 enrollments. The community enrollments are held only every six months, he said and there may be no enrollment in-between times.

Eclipse Photos May Aid Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Guided missiles in any future war may find their marks more precisely because of findings from the week end eclipse of the sun.

The National Geographic Society has steered clear of any such interpretation as in describing as "thoroughly worthwhile" the results of its carefully planned study over a 5320-mile arc stretching from Burma to the Aleutians.

But a prime objective was to turn up data to recheck world maps—for both navigation and aviation. One thing bothering guided missile experts is the inaccuracies they fear may exist in some of their charts.

For instance, a previous eclipse showed Capetown, South Africa, to have been mislocated by a full mile.

Weather blotted out Saturday's eclipse at five of the seven observation sites arranged by the National Geographic. But the other two—at Bangkok, Siam, and Rebuton Jima, off the northwest tip of Japan, reported good luck.

Expeditions in Wu-Tang, China; Tengan, Korea, and Mt. Adaglak on Adak Island in the Aleutians reported heavy cloud cover. Doubtful results were reported from parties at Mergui, Burma, and Mt. Moffett, Adak.

Nevertheless, Dr. Lyman J. Briggs, chairman of the society's research committee, said the Rebuton Jima and Bangkok observations seemed to assure that scientists will be able to tie together the geodetic triangulation networks—or map-making guides—of greater British Asia and Japan, and possibly Korea as well.

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Man-made lakes threaten to blot out important links with America's prehistoric culture.

Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts Jr., of the Smithsonian Institution said yesterday. He told the National Park Service Advisory Board swift action must be taken to prevent the nation's system of river basin developments from destroying important archeological sites.

The threat is especially serious in five areas, Roberts said. One—Buggs Island in the Roanoke River between Virginia and North Carolina—is the only known site in the eastern part of the United States of the Folsom type of culture which extends an estimated 10,000 years into the past. This is the earliest known form of man on the north American continent.

Success Assured For YMCA Drive

On the basis of incomplete returns, the YMCA membership campaign was assured of success Wednesday.

Returns through Tuesday evening showed a total of 209 new members for the organization, including adults, teen-agers and those below 12 years.

Mrs. H. W. Smith and Joe Blum, team captains, said that many of the workers said they still had contacts to make before the campaign would be considered closed, although Tuesday brought the final report meeting.

A complete report is to be made at the meeting of workers and the board of directors Tuesday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. Cecil Collins. Judge Collins is president of the YMCA.

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The average U. S. government worker now makes $2,839 a year.

The Civil Service Commission said today after a study of federal pay scales in effect last July. Bills are pending to give some 1,300,000 federal employees a raise, but Congress has not yet approved the proposed increases.

The commission reported 80 percent of the federal job holders make from $1,500 to $3,500 a year, 3 percent get less than $1,500 and the remaining 17 per cent earn $3,500 or more.

It noted that the $2,839 average 1947-48 salary was a boost over the 1946 figure of $2,680.

If Congress approves the proposed pay raises the workers would get $468 more if paid by the year or 25 cents an hour more, if employed on that basis. The pending measure also would increase postal service wages $385 a year with its hourly workers getting 30 cents more.

Contract Awarded For New Bridge Across Colorado

Contract was awarded Tuesday by the state highway department for construction of a bridge across the Colorado in southwestern Scurry county.

The bridge will be on state route No. 350, the road which eventually will connect with Big Spring.

M. E. Worell, Abilene, and Worell and Watkins, Hillsboro, were successful bidders at $76,878 for the bridge which will replace the swinging bridge across the river.

One significance seen in the contract is that it will fix the route from Big Spring to Ira, in southwestern Scurry county, along lines already secured. Half of the diagonal road in Howard county has been topped, but the highway department has not let contract on the other half. Presumably the Ira bridge deal fixes an eastern point which would remove the obstacle from completing the Howard project.

This would carry the route diagonally across the northwest corner of Mitchell county and in proximity to the Coleman Ranch and Sharon Ridge Oil pools. From Ira to Snyder, the routing is a matter of conjecture.

Stanolind No. 1 Mabee, northwest Martin wildcat 660 feet out of the southwest corner of tract 87, lease 258, Briscoe county school land, plugged and abandoned at 13,416 feet in Ellenburger, topped at 12,310 feet. It had no shows but picked up water in the Ellenburger.

Humble No. 1-B, Ellwood, north Stirling county test, prepared for a drillstem test below 7,980 feet in unannounced formation after a packer failed on the initial try.

The wildcat, located four miles north-north west of the Plymouth explorations, is in the northwest quarter of section 56-18, SPRR. Sun No. 1 Ellwood, section 26-15, SPRR, southern Mitchell county, progressed past 6,712 feet. Texas Co. No. 1-H TXL, western Sterling county venture seeking lower Permian pay, was in permian dolomite at 3,773 feet. Location is in section 13-31-4s, T&P.

Texas No. 1 Scharbauer, northwest quarter of section 26-20-2s, T&P, Midland county was at 4,828 feet in anhydrite, and Gulf No. 1 E. Bryant, northwest quarter of section 36-39-3s, T&P, was at 8,590 feet in lime and shale. Sun No. 1 Schattel, section 186-97, H&TC, Scurry county, was at 4,260 feet in lime.

Lions club members—except the lame, blind and halted who are not in the show—got a preview of their celebrated Negro minstrel Wednesday.

FOUR OTHERS INJURED

Lamesa Woman Is Killed In Mishap

Mrs. Geneva Bernice Morris, 16, Lamesa, was killed and four others injured, one critically, in a car mishap in the city park 11:00 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Morris' neck was broken when she was tossed from a convertible coupe which smashed into a culvert just north of the museum building.

Leonard Jack Mayfield address unknown, had a critical skull injury and doctors at Cowper-Sanders hospital, where victims were rushed, despaired of his life. Mayfield had been a short-time employee of a carnival which put into town over the weekend, and efforts to locate his home had been unsuccessful at noon Monday.

Mrs. Ruth Parks, Lamesa, sustained a fractured jaw and severe lacerations, and her brother, O. T. Taylor, had broken teeth and severe gash under the chin. Winston Menges, other member of the party, had a broken nose and lacerations about the leg.

Police surmised that occupants of the car were pitched out of the car by the sudden impact with the concrete culvert shoulder.

The body of Mrs. Morris was at Nalley Funeral home pending arrangements.

Survivors include her husband, Herschel Morris, reportedly enroute here from San Antonio where he is assigned by the Army; her mother, Mrs. Ida Nelson, Lamesa; a half-brother, J. W. Brown, Lamesa; three sisters, Della Audine Willman, Millersville, Texas; Lillie Lorraine Willman and Dottie Marie Willman, Lamesa; and one brother, J. C. Willman, Aspermour.

Burial may be beside the grave of her father and brother, William Walter Willman, Sr. and W. W. Willman, Jr., who were killed May 27, 1947 north of Stanton in a highway mishap. They were buried in Evergreen cemetery in Stanton.

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—The Agriculture Department figures the 1947-1948 orange crop dropped below last year's record of 113,980,000 boxes—but through no fault of Texas.

Figures released yesterday by the department showed Texas with an estimated crop of 5,800,000 boxes this year and five million last. The national crop was estimated at 19,960,000 boxes, well above the 1936-1945 average of 83,488,000, although below the record.

One of the two leading orange states—California—showed a slight decline from 53,760,000 boxes of oranges a year ago to 47,100,000 boxes this year. On the other hand, Florida had a production upswing from 53,700,000 boxes last year to 56 million for this crop year.

Simpson Accepted In Naval Reserve Training Program

Donald C. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson of the Luther community, is one of those who has been selected for Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Now in Texas Tech, Donald likely will transfer in the autumn to some college with the naval reserve program—possibly the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, N. M. Last year he was in Howard County Junior College following his graduation in 1946 from Big Spring high school.

From the 24,117 candidates who completed the Navy's aptitude test for the program, only 1,786 were selected as principals and 560 as alternates, the Eighth Naval district announced.

The NROTC program gives successful candidates four years of college education at government expense. Regular courses leading to bachelor or higher degrees are augmented by naval science subjects, two summer cruises and one summer period of aviation indoctrination, according to the Navy announcement.

COLLEGE STATION, May 12. (AP)—The conference meet this week and then the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles is the schedule for Texas A&M College's quarter-milers who are claiming the National Mile relay Championship.

The Aggies are undefeated. They have won every mile relay in which they have entered, and that includes record times in the Texas and Kansas Relays and two other meets.

The Drake Relays time was the best — 3:15.2 — but the Aggies are capable of doing better than that.

When Don Cardon, Ervin Bildeback, Ray Holbrook and Art Hardden get together for a lap elite, the aggregate time may drop very close to 3:12.0.

Holbrook several times has been clocked in 47.6 while running the third lap. Hardden has made it in 47.9, and has not been pushed in bringing the baton across the finish line first.

Cardon, who joined the team in time to help with a 3:15.6 record in the Kansas Relays, has clocked off a 48.8. Bildeback, No. 2, has run at 48.3.

'GARDEN NEEDED' Polio Vaccine Is Being Developed

MINNEAPOLIS, May 11. (AP)—New York bacteriologist said today science now has the means of developing good "seeds" for a vaccine against infantile paralysis—but lacks a proper "garden" in which to grow them.

Dr. Herald Cox of the Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Co., Pearl River, N. Y., said that a technique is in hand for purifying strains of infantile paralysis virus to the point where they could conceivably be used to produce a protective vaccine—but no satisfactory laboratory means has yet been found to grow the viruses in quantity.

He said monkeys offered the best bet to date for growing "polio" virus, but that the quantities produced were relatively small compared with those of influenza virus produced in fluids within a hatching hen's egg. So far, it has been impossible to grow polio virus in a hatching egg.

"Our solution to polio will come," he told a reporter, "when we can grow the polio virus in sufficient quantity in animals other than the monkey—possibly in the chick embryo within the hatching egg."

"If we could grow infantile paralysis virus, in its various strains, in a readily-available material like the chick embryo, we'd really have something practical in the way of a vaccine material."

"Monkeys not only produce relatively small quantities of virus, but they are expensive and sometimes difficult to procure and maintain for research."

"The principle of any vaccine is to inject either a dose of living, modified active virus or a dose of completely killed virus so that the body will build up resistance against a subsequent attack of the usual form of the disease."

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—North Field, Vernon's airport, began to clean up today after high winds last night demolished a hangar and an office building and damaged six light training planes.

No immediate estimate of damage was available. No one was injured. The storm, described as a "strong, gusty wind," hit the airport at 7:30 p. m.

Vernon escaped damage. Some limbs were ripped from trees. The Santa Rosa Roundup was not interrupted by the storm.

At Wichita Falls, 60 miles east of here, lightning struck a residence, causing a fire. Damage was estimated at $8,000. No one was at home at the time.

Funeral Is Set For T. C. Keith

Funeral for T. C. "Tom" Keith, 51, former resident of Big Spring, has been set for Thursday afternoon in Monahans.

Mr. Keith died Tuesday at 10 p. m. in Breckenridge, where he was visiting when he became ill. He had resided here for several years and operated a grocery and ice sub-station at Ninth and Main until declining health forced him to retire.

Burial is to be in Monahans. Mr. Keith was a native of Eastland county, where he was born Dec. 3, 1896.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mabel Keith; one son, Albert Keith; two daughters, Bernice Keith and Patsy Ann Keith, all of Monahans; his mother, Mrs. Lilly Keith, Monahans; two sisters, Mrs. S. M. Bruce, Coleman, and Mrs. G. G. Crowell, Rising Star; four brothers, J. E. Keith, Breckenridge, A. W. Keith, Monahans, H. P. Keith, Arabia, Okla., and Ray Keith, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Springfield, Ill., May 11. (AP)—Four-year-old Edward (Mickey) Londrigan didn't want his tonsils taken out at the hospital because he wanted to play prize fighter at home with his new boxing gloves and trunks.

But he agreed to go after his mother, Mrs. Estelle Londrigan, told him jokingly that the doctor wanted to enter him in a boxing match against other children at the hospital.

Later, when Mickey—minus tonsils—came out of the anesthetic, he apologized to his mother: "I don't remember a thing. I don't even remember who it was that knocked me out."

AUSTIN, May 11. (AP)—Sinclair Prairie Oil Co. will soon start vacuum-cleaning the last drops of oil from two Texas leases.

Permission for this last-resort method of extracting oil was granted by the Railroad Commission yesterday. Sinclair will use vacuum pumps to stimulate production from their M. C. Bruce lease in Stephens County and from the L. P. Moren lease in Young County.

Horse Trainer Says Citation Looks Better

BALTIMORE, May 13. (AP)—As the other four horses didn't have enough to worry about with Citation and Saturday's Preakness Stakes, word comes up from man who should know that Calumet colt is looking sharp today than when he won the Kentucky Derby.

While old Baltimore slowly itself into the proper frame of mind to entertain the annual preakness thousands, Calumet trainer, Jimmy Jones, said three-year-old star was ready all comers.

"His training perfectly, worked out as sharp as a tack yesterday," Jones said as he lured his helpers around barn "at Pimlico with special attention to the Bull Lea colt many the will go on to become the six triple-crown winner in the history of the American turf."

"He is acting better than he is all spring, and I think he is coming up to the Preakness a better horse than he was in the Derby."

That's slight consolation for owners and trainers of the other four who appear just about ready to plunk down $1,000 tomorrow morning at the entry box. Anxious more or less, to see if what they heard about the Derby is true.

None of the three-year-olds expected to challenge Citation against him in Louisville's weeks ago.

King Hanck's Better Self, the in the Wood Memorial, is on de as is Bovard, Sylvester W. L. rot's Maryland hopeful, Salmasdi, William Hells' Santa Anita D by winner, is due on the ground at any moment.

The last of the quartet is V can's Forge from the stable Coenelius V. Whitney. This colt, the son of an import english turf star—Mahmoud—third to Bovard in Pimlico's Survivor Stakes Monday.

The expected small field poses a problem for the Maryland Jockey Club which is pondering whether to ask the Maryland Racing Commission about restricting betting.

At the Derby only win bettors was allowed after Citation had caused minus pools at Havre de Grace, Md., and Churchill Downs. Citation is expected to start Sunday at around 1 to 10, and considered such a short-prime favorite that many bettors will prefer to plunge on place or show tickets, even to collect 10 cents the dollar.

If most of the money is slapping on the favorite, the track does take in enough on that particular race to pay off the tickets.

Kings' Funeral Held At Merker

Funeral for Mr. and Mrs. Lola Ray King, Big Spring, victims a plane crash in California, was held in Merker Wednesday at p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. King had left week ago today in their plane for visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Dye, Sacramento, Calif. and crashed approximately 48 hours later in the rugged San Bernardino mountains.

Both Mr. and Mrs. King (she was the former Rogene Dye) were reared in the vicinity of Merker. A large number of friends from Big Spring were present for the last rites. Military services were conducted for King, who had been stationed here during the war. Mr. King had been employed at Herter's and after his discharge from service, he had joined the Coast Petroleum Corp.

Success Assured For YMCA Drive

On the basis of incomplete returns, the YMCA membership campaign was assured of success Wednesday.

Returns through Tuesday evening showed a total of 209 new members for the organization, including adults, teen-agers and those below 12 years.

Mrs. H. W. Smith and Joe Blum, team captains, said that many of the workers said they still had contacts to make before the campaign would be considered closed, although Tuesday brought the final report meeting.

A complete report is to be made at the meeting of workers and the board of directors Tuesday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. Cecil Collins. Judge Collins is president of the YMCA.

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The average U. S. government worker now makes $2,839 a year.

The Civil Service Commission said today after a study of federal pay scales in effect last July. Bills are pending to give some 1,300,000 federal employees a raise, but Congress has not yet approved the proposed increases.

The commission reported 80 percent of the federal job holders make from $1,500 to $3,500 a year, 3 percent get less than $1,500 and the remaining 17 per cent earn $3,500 or more.

It noted that the $2,839 average 1947-48 salary was a boost over the 1946 figure of $2,680.

If Congress approves the proposed pay raises the workers would get $468 more if paid by the year or 25 cents an hour more, if employed on that basis. The pending measure also would increase postal service wages $385 a year with its hourly workers getting 30 cents more.

Lions club members—except the lame, blind and halted who are not in the show—got a preview of their celebrated Negro minstrel Wednesday.

The minstrel, featuring 40 men and 20 women voices along with a variety of specialty numbers and in-between-acts, is set for May 27-28 in the city auditorium.

Ten Lionesses were guests of the club Wednesday and joined with male members of the chorus in unreeling bars from three melodies. Dan Conley gave an interpretation of a specialty as did Rex Van, director of the show and once a member of the Black Crow team of Moran and Mack.

Bob McEwen reported that program sales were coming along nicely and that pre-show advertising and publicity was stacking up nicely. John Dibrell said that ticket distribution was ready to start and prizes for in-between-act functions were listed.

Bill Dawes, president, said that plans were to fill the auditorium two evenings for what club officials believe will be a smash-hit minstrel—the first here in years.

Modest Bachelor Gives University Million Dollars

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 11. (AP)—University of Michigan students—present and future—are the recipients of more than $1 million left them by a modest 79-year-old bachelor.

They have seen him strolling around the campus for 11 years. Most of them knew only that his name was Mr. Smith and that he lived in a small room in the Michigan Union, center of campus activities.

The donor was C. C. Smith, once a prominent Detroit attorney, who died March 4, leaving more than $1 million in cash and securities.

University President Alexander Ruthven and the Ann Arbor Trust Co. were named co-administrators of the estate under terms of the will revealed yesterday.

Smith specified that his fortune be used by the Michigan Board of Regents to establish a fund—without name—"for gifts, loans, scholarships and rewards of merit for University of Michigan students."

He suggested that deserving students should not be chosen by examinations, but should be picked after private inquiry and close observation.

The wealthy attorney arranged to move into his campus room in 1937, saying he was tired of living in the "big city" and wished to spend his later years among students at the school from which he graduated in 1896.

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—One hundred Texas feed men met here today with two main purposes in mind.

First, said Lorne F. Van Stone of Houston, president of the Texas Feed Manufacturers Association, they want to start an effort in their industry to "promote quality and produce better feed nutritionally."

He said nutritional feeding is a science that produces butter, meat, eggs, milk and poultry at the lowest possible cost.

Second, Van Stone said, the association members want to "provide better service to the feeder in making his investment more productive."

Archeologist Hits Man-Made Lakes

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Man-made lakes threaten to blot out important links with America's prehistoric culture.

Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts Jr., of the Smithsonian Institution said yesterday. He told the National Park Service Advisory Board swift action must be taken to prevent the nation's system of river basin developments from destroying important archeological sites.

North Sterling Ellenburger Test Indicates Commercial Production

A new Ellenburger oil field in north-central Sterling county has been indicated by Humble No. 1-B Ellwood estate, 14 miles north of Sterling City.

That prospector ran a 45-minute drillstem test at 7,962-80 feet. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes. It was estimated at four million cubic feet per day.

No fluid flowed at the surface and recovery was 2,900 feet of 47.1 gravity oil, and 450 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. No formation water was developed.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure during the test was 400 pounds, and shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes, was 2,950 pounds. The project was being drilled deeper to 8,000 feet and another drillstem test was to be taken.

Humble No. 1-B Ellwood is in the C NE NW section 56-18, SPRR, four miles north-southwest of Sterling City. It will be 1,980 feet from the south and 600 feet from the east lines of section 42, block 2, H&TC. The operator plans to test for production in the Wichita Albany section of the permian, which was tapped five miles south of Sterling recently. The Plymouth No. 1 Reed is two and a half miles west of Plymouth No. 1 Frost, the Ellenburger discovery at 8,360 feet, and bottomed at 8,364 feet.

O'Barr Tie-In Seen Thursday

City water department employees may tie in a new well supply in the O'Barr field of northern Glasscock county Thursday.

Pipe has been installed and power lines run to a new well which has been completed and awaits test. Together, it is hoped they will boost the supply to the pipeline capacity of about 2,000,000 gallons per day.

Consumption has averaged out at about 3,500,000 gallons per day this month, although it has exceeded four million on two days this season. Lake supplies are being pumped at maximum pipeline capacity of 1,500,000 gallons per day and without replenishment have a reserve of something like four to five months. Other sources, the city park, sections 17 and 33, have fairly constant rates of production, and the O'Barr rate is being fluctuated from less than a million to nearly two million gallons a day, depending on the demand curve.
