Though the consciousness of the worth of his deeds is the noblest reward of virtue for a wise man, yet that godlike virtue longs, not indeed for statues fixed in lead, or triumphs with their fading laurels, but for rewards of a more stable and lasting nature. —Cicero

All judging is being done in the main area of the community building, Recreation Park. There is no admission charge.

Highlight of today's activities will be the Exhibitors Barbecue at 7 p.m., which will be held in the sales barn at Recreation Park. The annual event is sponsored by the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association. Free tickets will be furnished to all exhibitors of the stock show.

Included in the calendar of events for the rest of the show, tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. will be the FFA Livestock Judging Contest, with 45 FFA Livestock judging teams throughout the Panhandle competing. Myron McCarter, associate agriculture professor at Panhandle A&M College, Goodwell, Okla., will act as contest judge.

At 1 p.m. will be the judging of the Hereford Breeding cattle, with Otis Kimbell, Alpine, doing the judging.

Mayor Says Jaycee Action Is A 'Sorrow'

Mayor E. C. Sidwell's prepared statement, read at today's called meeting of the City Commission, follows:

"It was only a few weeks ago that I had the honor of addressing the Tri-District Convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce which was held here in our city. "I was asked to give the welcome address by the local president of the Jaycees, Mr. Bennie Shackelford and after seeing all the young men present, together with their wives, I was very elated and confident that our future business world would be in the hands of competent people. When I say business world, of course,

The judging Livestock Banquet will be held at 5 p.m. in the Senior High School cafeteria, sponsored by the First National, Citizens Bank and Chamber of Commerce. Tuesday will be the Hereford Breeders Banquet at the Starlight Room, Coronado Inn.

The last day of the show is Wednesday and at 9:30 a.m. the Junior Livestock sale will be held in the community building at Recreation Park followed at 1 p.m. by the Hereford Breeders sale.

The called meeting of the City Commission at City Hall this forenoon to discuss "situations that have arisen and, if necessary, to take action to clear them" proceeded peacefully and without incident.

The session, which opened and closed with prayer by Fr. William West of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, lasted exactly one hour.

Approximately 150 to 175 persons crowded into the Palm Room of City Hall in an air of expectancy that there might be along with City Manager John Kooztz, Assistant City Manager R. B. Cooke, City Secretary Edwin Vicars and City Attorney Bob Gordon.

Mayor Sidwell opened the meeting by reading a prepared statement after which he discussed a chart on the platform and stated that the cost of city government in Pampa had been continually rising since 1950. He also outlined some of what he termed the "many problems facing the city." These included, he said, problems in the water, sewer, and tax departments as well as street and highway problems and the increased burdens to be brought upon the taxpayers in the not distant future through the need of sanitation and filtration plants. The mayor went into several facets of the problems with which

Soviets OK Disarmament Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has accepted a U.S.-British proposal to begin disarmament talks in Geneva with a foreign ministers' meeting, officials said today.

Informed sources said the Kremlin notified the United States Sunday that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko would attend the 18-nation disarmament conference opening in Geneva March 14.

The Kremlin message also said Gromyko was willing to meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home before the formal opening of the conference.

Rusk tentatively plans to leave here for Geneva on March 10. Diplomats said he hoped to meet with Lord Home next day. A meeting with Gromyko could take place on March 12.

said material incentives might be the cure.

In a speech opening a Communist Party Central Committee meeting in the Kremlin, Khrushchev listed lagging production in meat, grain and dairy products in many Soviet farming areas—including his own prize project, the virgin lands, Moscow radio reported.

Khrushchev hinted greater rewards for collective farm peasants may be in the offing. First reports of Khrushchev's speech gave no indication that the premier spoke about the American decision to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere or about the Western rejection of his bid for an 18-nation disarmament summit in Geneva.

The situation in Kazakhstan—home of the virgin lands plan—is causing "serious concern" through had utilization of possibilities. Specifically, he said, grain production fell short in 1961 by nearly 25 per cent; meat production was one-sixth below the goal and milk producers missed their target by 10 per cent.

Khrushchev listed the farm failures after claiming "American imperialists are most of all alarmed precisely by the fact

U.S. Soldiers Roll Toward West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—American soldiers rolled toward West Berlin today, behind a fleet of East German snowplows.

The first unit of a 1,500-man U. S. Army battle group traveling the 110-mile autobahn through East Germany to Berlin bogged down in midday in a snow and ice storm.

West German truck drivers arriving here said East German snowplows were clearing the highway ahead of the convoy. But it was believed, the East German Communist leaders ordered the highway cleared more for their own traffic than out of any desire to help the Americans.

The U. S. movement was another demonstration of Western access rights and came at the same time as the opening of a three-day maneuver to test the city's defenses.

About 175 soldiers in 25 jeeps and trucks began a week-long movement to the city along the 110-mile highway through the Soviet zone from West Germany. The Russians sent automobiles cruising along the highway to observe the movement.

In West Berlin, 1,200 combat soldiers in cold and snow moved into the Grundwald forest for a 72-hour exercise to test American defense plans. Armored cars and helicopters took part. Tanks stood ready to go into action.

West African Jungle Is Scene Of Tragedy

DOUALA, Cameroun Republic (UPI) — A chartered American-built airliner crashed and burned in a West African jungle swamp Sunday night, killing all 111 persons aboard in commercial aviation's worst single plane disaster.

Control tower officials at Douala airport said there were "absolutely no survivors" when rescue crews reached the scene of the crash about a mile and half off the end of the main runway.

The plane was en route from Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, to Luxembourg by way of Lisbon when it went down in a storm two minutes after takeoff. The 101 passengers and 10 crewmen were mostly South Africans and Rhodesians. Three persons with British addresses were among the victims. There were no Americans aboard.

The worst previous commercial air disaster for a single plane was the crash of the KLM Royal Dutch airliner in the Atlantic off Ireland on Aug. 14, 1958 in which 99 died.

The plane, a four-engine, propeller driven DCTC plunged into its death dive within two minutes after leaving the runway in a violent storm.

It crashed about a mile and a half from the end of the runway but the area is so treacherous that rescue workers could not get to it during the night.

At daybreak, when other planes were able to fly over the area, they reported no sign of survivors. Most of the passengers were South Africans, Rhodesians or Europeans. All the crew were British.

Caledonian Airlines, which started operations last December, had leased the plane from the Belgian Sabena line. It was being operated as a charter flight for Trans-African Aircoach Co.

In London, Max Wilson, majority stockholder in Caledonian and a director of Trans-African, said he received reports that "the plane is a complete wreck and the wreckage is scattered over a wide area."

Wilson said reports indicated the plane either exploded before crashing or burned after hitting the ground.

The DCTC was Caledonian's only plane. Wilson said it was in "tip-top condition" and had flown only 30 hours since its last check by Sabena technicians.

It was the second major flight disaster in three days. A Boeing 707 Astrojet operated by American Airlines crashed in New York Thursday, carrying 93 persons to their deaths.

Commission Discusses Problems In Quiet Meet

The called meeting of the City Commission at City Hall this forenoon to discuss "situations that have arisen and, if necessary, to take action to clear them" proceeded peacefully and without incident.

The session, which opened and closed with prayer by Fr. William West of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, lasted exactly one hour.

Approximately 150 to 175 persons crowded into the Palm Room of City Hall in an air of expectancy that there might be some exciting developments. Nothing of this nature happened.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell and Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Newton Secrest, Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort were seated on the rostrum

Mayor E. C. Sidwell announced today the regular weekly meeting of the City Commission will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday in City Hall. The mayor said since no regular business was transacted at today's called meeting, it would be necessary for the commission to meet again tomorrow.

When he asked for comment from other city commissioners, Commissioners Fort, Holmes and Secrest said they had none. Commissioner Simpson spoke briefly and said he thought the mayor had outlined the problems very well and that they deserved support.

Only three persons spoke from the floor. They were Paul Crossman, Ott Shewmaker and Frank Carter, 1324 Frederic. Crossman spoke in defense of the water department which he said was a utility that was making good money for the city and pointed out that consumers outside the city were paying one and a half times the water rate of consumers inside the city.

Shewmaker wanted to know if the costs of Pampa city government had gone up any more than the three per cent national rise in costs.

Mayor Sidwell said that to go into details on that question would require lengthy discussion and since the meeting today was looking at the situation on an overall basis, he invited Shewmaker to Yarborough's visit here Wednesday will be his second trip into West Texas this week. He campaigns in Big Spring and Midland Monday at coffees, receptions and organizational meetings, leaving the area Tuesday for speaking engagements in Fort Worth.

Buck Team Is Honored In Celebration

A rousing welcome was given the White Deer Buck basketball team, state class A basketball champions for 1962, this morning in front of the white deer statue in downtown White Deer.

Headlining the festivities were plaudits extended from prominent dignitaries and civic leaders in the towns of White Deer and Skellytown.

Felix Ryals, school tax collector, was master of ceremonies. Included in the list of prominent figures were Robert O. Eastham mayor of White Deer; Ervin "Buck" Lavake, president of the White Deer Lions club; Barnard Shield, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; E. A. McCreary, president of the Skellytown Lions club; Ray Schultz, superintendent of the White Deer schools and Lawson Shaw, principal of White Deer high school.

Each pointed out the team's tremendous determination throughout the course of the past season and the good sportsmanship exhibited, especially in the state tournament in Austin.

Shaw in turn introduced the Buck coaches, head coach Wayne Tipton and assistant coach Don Simmons. Coach Tipton, in his first year at the helm of the Bucks, then in turn introduced the members of the state championship team, pointing out each of the boy's overall team play which made it possible for White Deer to win the title.

Some 400 people attended the enthusiastic welcome.

Terrorists Rock Algiers With Explosions

ALGIERS (UPI) — Rightwing terrorists rocked Algiers with 135 bomb explosions in a two-hour pre-dawn barrage today, blowing up automobiles, stores and apartments.

Gunfire was heard during the explosions, which at times reached the rhythm of an aerial bombardment.

Every quarter of the city was hit and fires broke out in a number of places but police said casualties were relatively light. Police said the attack was aimed at Moslems and pro-French Europeans in an attempt to sabotage an impending cease fire between France and the Algerian rebels.

Moslem and Jewish stores and apartments bore the brunt of the attack.

Police said they arrested three teams of plastic bombers, including 13 Frenchmen.

Security forces and firemen raced through the city from one trouble spot to another, sirens blaring. Residents crowded onto balconies and into streets in their night-clothes trying to find out what was going on.

Police sources said the areas worst hit were the St. Eugene section on the west side and the Rue Robigo district on the edge of the Moslem Casbah. No public buildings were bombed.

Security forces carved the city up into small heavily-patrolled sectors, banned traffic, searched cabs and pedestrians.

The fires were brought under control quickly. Police said the shots were fired mainly by jittery troops.

French and rebel officials are expected to open the final phase of their negotiations, perhaps at the Lake Geneva resort of Evian Tuesday, and announce a cease-fire shortly.

But the action of the rightwing European terrorists today made it clear that this would by no means end the violence in Algeria.

So powerful and open has the OAS become in Algeria that 11 Italian newsmen who had received OAS death threats left Algeria en masse Sunday night.

A 12th who had been threatened Nicola Caracciolo, 30, correspondent for the Milan newspaper "Il Giorno" and the son of a Neapolitan prince, remained. He told French officials he intended to stay in Algiers "whatever happens."

The Italian newsmen said OAS agents had told them that unless they left Algeria one of their number would be killed today "as an example."

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER
Senior Citizens Center

I think I shall start my column this Thursday evening with a poem written by one of the Senior Citizens. I think it is worthy of publication, and since I did not promise not to reveal her identity, I hope Lillian Brunelle, one of our Senior Citizens, does not mind. Here it is:

Altrusa girls are wonderful,
They work from morn till night;
To bring a smile to someone's face; to make the heart feel light.
To help those whose steps are feeble and who's eyes are dim of sight;
To lead those who stumble on
the path of right.
May God endow them in His care and guard them with His light.

If Altrusa girls were not here,
The sun would shine less bright.
Mrs. J. L. Love said she was very sorry to miss the birthday party, as it happened to be on her very own birthday this month.
She has been ill but is feeling better. We are glad to hear it.
Mrs. Joe Mullins has a case of flu and was unable to be out and Uncle Billy Frost was ill with a virus. We hope for them a speedy recovery.

We were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Shireman, Mrs. Bessie
Sowell out and to hear that Mrs.
Polly Kreimeier, one of our Red Cross Gray Ladies, is home from the hospital. Mrs. Reeves is also home. Mrs. Georgia Barksdale Chamberlain, who has been ill with pneumonia in Worley Hospital, expects to be released Saturday.

Mrs. Louise Sewell and Mrs.
Mae Flavin called at the hospital after the Senior Center meeting and found Mrs. Emma Tubbs also still in the Worley Hospital. The ladies report that both Mrs.
Chamberlain and Mrs. Tubbs are improving and hope to be home soon. Mrs. Tubbs suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. W. R. Ronne is in Amarillo visiting with her sister, Mrs.
Joe Williams.

Mrs. Bessie Nicholson spent last week in town with Mrs. Barbara Roop.

Mrs. Willie Ragsdale of Groom spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Collins, 613 Bruno.

We had a nice visit with Mrs.
Clara Blythe and talked mainly of the weather. Her former home is in Denver, Colo. She does not think it gets very cold in Denver
but says the cold penetrates here.
But I understand it has been colder than usual in Colorado as well as in Texas and all over this winter.

M. L. Chandler was with us again after his illness. He says he is going to take off for Houston one of these days for a visit with his two daughters and a granddaughter who lives in Houston.

Mrs. L. A. Canipe and Mrs. Sam
Smith of Dallas returned home
Thursday after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moseley and other relatives here and in Amarillo.
Mrs. Canipe and Mrs.
Moseley are sisters; Mrs. Smith is a cousin.

Sixty-six Seniors braved the cold wind Thursday and enjoyed the birthday party. The Altrusa Club was hostess. Cake, and ice cream were served. Six members were present who had birthdays in March and they had their pictures taken. The table centerpiece was beautifully fashioned, as usual by Mrs. Roy Kay, of glads and jonquils in Spring colors. The cake was also decorated in a Spring motif by Mrs. Emily Coston. The lovely centerpiece, given as a door prize was won by Mrs.
Doe Dumas. Mr. R. H. Dilley also won a door prize.

Will close with a cute joke from the Fun Foundry: Two boy scouts were hiking through the woods. Suddenly one stopped and sighed sadly, "What's the matter?" asked his friend. "Nothing," he said, "But I do wish we had Emily Post with us." The second scout was puzzled, "Why?" he asked. The reply was "Because I think we took the wrong fork." See you next week, Love, Mrs.

Wagner.

Dear Abby...

If He Must, Be Glad
It's Soap And Water

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Tell "ONLY HIS WIFE," whose husband took a bath about once a year, that I will be glad to change husbands with her. I have one who is a real nut on cleanliness. He shows every morning, and if we go out that evening he showers again. Then, no matter what time we get home, before going to bed,
he takes another shower.

I have had 26 bath towels, 16
pairs of socks, 14 pairs of shorts and 7 pairs of pajamas in the wash in one week! Please don't get the idea that I am sloppy, because I am not. I'm for cleanliness, too, but a person can overdo the immaculate bit.

MR. CLEAN'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Hang on to your super-immaculate husband. Moderation is, of course, ideal in all things, but if your husband must go overboard on one, be glad it's soap and water.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think this is too silly to answer, because we want to know and cannot find it anywhere. Do Eskimos

Founders' Life Reviewed At PEO

Mrs. Lou Belanger reviewed the book "The Life of Virginia Alice Cotter Stockard" by Dr. Helen Troesch at the meeting of Chapter CS, PEO, held Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. R. L.
Ratliff, 1915 Evergreen.

"Dr. Stockard was a remarkable woman, who crusaded for education for women and established Cotter College in Nevada, Mo.," Mrs. Belanger said in review. "She had an intense desire for education and was very devoted to God. Cotter College remains as the evidence of her faith and hard work as it has grown through the years to be one of the finest Junior Colleges in the Midwest."

Mrs. John Gill presided at the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. William E. West, president.
The courtesy committee announced that Mrs. G. R. McConnell was at home after recent surgery.

Mrs. Ratcliff gave the devotion.
It was announced that the next meeting will be Mar. 13 in the home of Mrs. Hupp Clark, 1119
Mary Ellen.

Sixteen members were present.

Springtime Scent Takes Grayness From Bleak And Cold Winter Day

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Right about now, most women could use a lift for the spirit.
And usually, the budget doesn't permit much at this time of the year. Christmas bills have been paid but there are matters of winter fuel, doctor bills, the usual household repairs, linens to be replaced, really essential clothing (like snowsuits) to be bought, again!

But the lift can be a small thing, calculated to take the gray-ness from a winter's day. Something that looks to and anticipates spring. What better than a cologne in spray mist form, one that suggests flowers of the earlyblooming variety?

For the fragrances we loved during the months past begin to seem heavy now. This makes such a cologne doubly welcome. And knowing this, one beauty house has brought us just such a spring-like cologne in a bottle the color of spring leaves.

Matched to it in scent is a feathery light dusting powder with big, fluffy puff in brilliant green.
This new duo hints at everything leafy, woody and sunshiny.
The aura of this scent about you will tell you clearly that spring is indeed on its way.

Best part of it is the price for either is suited to a small midwinter budget. So have your spring fling without feeling guilty.

Army Taking Dim View Of Hunger Strike

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—The Army has taken a dim, but light-hearted view of a hunger strike allegedly being staged here by New Hampshire reservists who want to know when they will get off active duty.

One spokesman labeled it as nothing more than a "malted milk and hamburger kick" after pay day—with reservists eating off post until their money runs low.

Maj. Jim Corey, Ft. Bragg information officer, said the post did not know how many—if any—men were actually engaged in the hunger-strike. He said no man was required to eat in a mess hall, nor had any filed a written protest with post authorities.

Members of the 197th Field Artillery Battalion had written New Hampshire newspapers saying they were on a hunger strike because the Army had not told them their date of release from active duty.

Corey said the post could not specify the date because the Department of Defense was the responsible agency.

Commission

Carter said he thought the current recall movement of the Junior Chamber of Commerce stemmed back to the slashing of funds in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

This was a reference to the cutting by the commission of approximately $8,000 from the BCD budget this year.

"That's when the fire started," Carter said.

Immediately after Mayor Sidwell read his prepared statement, Mrs. Ken Dunn, a Pampa housewife who had started a one-woman campaign, which grew into a 17-petition volunteer drive on the part of others, to counteract the recall petitions of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, presented Mayor Sidwell with petitions carrying 381 names, expressing a vote of confidence in the commission. James Morgan presented a petition from the colored people of Pampa, also expressing backing for the commission.

There was no word from the floor from members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who have insisted all along that their recall movement to oust the mayor and all four city commissioners, did not stem from the commission's request of City Manager Koontz that he resign.

The request was made by the commission at last Tuesday's regular meeting. The recall movement got under way the following day. Petitions for the recall election have been in circulation since Friday night.

The Jaycees announced last night that more than enough signatures had been obtained in Ward 4 for a recall election on L. P. Fort. Ninety-three signatures would be required.

Doug Halley, Jaycee recall publicity chairman, said today petition circulators are now concentrating on the signatures necessary for a recall on the mayor and other three commissioners.

He said there were no further figures to be announced on the petitions today.

Commissioner Fort said after today's meeting he refrained from making comment today because there was no attack made on him.

"They didn't shoot at me, so I didn't have to shoot back," Fort said.

The commissioner said his stand is still the same and that he is not backing down in any way.

U.S. Has Nuclear Power Plant In Antarctica

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has put the first nuclear power plant in Antarctica into test operation.

The Atomic Energy Commission said a controlled, self-sustained reaction was begun Sunday in the plant, which is located at McMurdo Sound, main support base for all U.S. scientific activities in Antarctica.

At full power, the reactor will provide 1,500 net kilowatts of electricity for the McMurdo station. The nuclear plant will need refueling only once every two years and will sharply reduce the need for fuel oil, which is costly to transport to Antarctica.

Khrushchev

To support this claim of "abundance" and to counter the farm report the premier gave an impressive recital of industrial successes.

Khrushchev turned sarcastic when he noted that Georgia had fulfilled its tea quota.

"This is good," he said, "and the Soviet people thank you, comrade Georgians. But I doubt whether anybody will thank you for the fact that the task for the first three years of the seven-year plan for the production of meat has been fulfilled 85 per cent and for milk, 74 per cent."

Western diplomats were looking particularly for some indications as to whether Khrushchev will attend the 18-nation disarmament conference convening in Geneva March 14.

This is the first time in two months Khrushchev has had a chance for a major policy statement. He returned only recently from a vacation on the Black Sea.

The non-scheduled flight had originated at Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, on Africa's east coast, and was headed for Luxembourg, via Lisbon, Portugal.

The crash occurred just three days after an American Airlines jet went down in New York taking 55 persons to their deaths. That was the worst single-plane disaster in U.S. commercial aviation history.

Mayor

"I am quite sure that the publicity given us may have some bad aspects; on the other hand I have stated repeatedly that this Commission is dedicated to doing a job for all the people.

"This special meeting has been called for one purpose and one purpose only; and that is to extend to every citizen of Pampa the sincere and personal invitation to appear before your elected representatives to seek a secure accurate and full information on any matter pertaining to your city and its government—information concerning all problems—and what we are trying to do about them.

"In that way and that way only, the people can be correctly informed and they will not have to rely on mere rumor or gossip.

"We have repeatedly solicited advice from sources within and without our Chambers.

"We have asked for conferences between ourselves and other interested agencies, pointing out our most urgent problems and asking for their consideration.

"Time will not permit that we go into all details about problems facing us, but they are many.

"They will require deliberations of the highest degree for a sound solution.

"Let us not approach our problems in a half-hearted manner with fear and trembling, but realistically and with a resolute endeavor to find the solutions that are best for all of us.

"Economically, we have had some recent disappointments; a part of our dilemma we have brought on ourselves.

"I agree with a statement I read recently by one of our neighbors that nobody can destroy America but the American people.

"I firmly believe that no one can destroy our great city but the Pampa people.

"For approximately 30 years I have been engaged in business within its boundaries.

"I assure you that our companies, as well as our personnel, are striving for the overall betterment of our city and its people.

"Our path has not been easy but we have continued to grow. We are optimistic about the future.

"We do not offer great promises; we do make this pledge—this Commission is dedicated to individual responsibility; that we shall on all questions, deliberate, debate and vote our convictions as free men."

Fine Crop Of Pro Prospects On 'Dream Team'

So Versatile Any Coach Could Weld Into A Unit

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA)—The pros can hardly wait.
Coming off the collegiate boards summa cum laude is the greatest group of basketball prospects in history.
They comprise the 1962 All-rived the same year, at least not since the 1955 crop — Tom Gola, Dick Ricketts, Maurice Stokes and Jack Twyman — which offers the only possible challenge.

Basketball has progressed to the point where it's passe to pick an all-star team by rigid position. You simply take the five best men

NEA BASKETBALL ALL-AMERICA

FIRST TEAM:

Player	School	Age	Ht.	Wt.	Home Town
Jerry Lucas	Ohio State	21	6-8	223	Middletown, O.
Terry Dischinger	Purdue	21	6-7	190	Terre Haute, Ind.
Bill McGill	Utah	22	6-8	200	Los Angeles, Calif.
Chet Walker	Bradley	21	6-8	200	Benton Harbor, Mich.
Len Chappell	Wake Forest	20	6-8	240	Portage, Pa.

SECOND TEAM:

John Rudometkin	USC	21	6-4	205	Santa Maria, Calif.
Dave DeBusschers	Detroit	21	6-3	225	Detroit, Mich.
Paul Hogue	Cincinnati	21	6-8	235	Knoxville, Tenn.
John Havlicek	Ohio State	21	6-5	205	Lansing, O.
Jack Foley	Holy Cross	22	6-5	180	Worcester, Mass.

HONORABLE MENTION: Leroy Ellis, St. John's; Hubie White, Villanova; Gary Roggenbuck, Dayton; Art Heyman, Duke; Jimmy Rayl, Indiana; Bibby Rascoe, Western Kentucky; Don Nelson, Iowa; Jerry Smith, Furman.

America basketball team, as announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association and picked by the scouts of the National Basketball Association, who make it their business to recognize the best.

These are the five deemed the finest ever:

Jerry Lucas, Ohio State; Terry Dischinger, Purdue; Bill McGill, Utah; Chet Walker, Bradley; Len Chappell, Wake Forest.

Basketball has had a plethora of supermen, starting with George Mikan and going down through Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson.

But never have so many available because they're so multi-talented any coach would find it easy to weld them into a unit.

Let's see how the scouts feel about this year's selections individually:

LUCAS — Probably the finest all-around college basketball player in history. He has everything. Size, speed, shots, desire. His only possible weakness is a tendency to pass up a shot because he's selfless. If Cincinnati, which has territorial rights, can change his mind about playing pro ball, he probably will be a corner man.

DISCHINGER — Only one drawback. He had the poor luck to come along the same time as Lucas. Otherwise he'd be basketball's No. 1 man. He's a tremendous shooter, with tremendous moves for a big man. He could use more heft to battle the boards, but that freewill isn't going to dissuade Chicago from making him its top pick.

McGILL — The country's leading scorer by far. He has an amazing repertoire for a big guy (he's the tallest of the five). The pros rate him just fair in other departments, like rebounding and defense. But collecting points can cover a lot of deficiencies. He also has good speed. The New York Knicks are intensely interested.

WALKER — The relatively pygmy of the bunch, at 6-4, but he'll rebound with any of them; they call him Chet the Jet. And he's a good scorer, particularly around the basket. His outside shot is adequate. Like a lot of college kids, he needs to work on his defense. But the basic equipment is there, and the disappointing St. Louis Hawks may nab him as a rebuilding hub for next year.

CHAPPELL — The strong boy of the bunch. Nobody shoves him around. Sole weakness is slowness of foot, but he overcomes that with hustle. He also has a surprising touch from the outside for a big man. Wears contact lenses on the court. With his size, he can play either the pivot or the corner. If the Knicks pass him by, Syracuse will grab him.

Only a shade behind them are five more drool-evoking prospects who'd look good on anybody's team — or anybody's All-American:

John Rudometkin, USC; Dave DeBusschers, Detroit; Paul Hogue, Cincinnati; John Havlicek, Ohio State; Jack Foley, Holy Cross.

Basketball has never had it so good. And neither have the scouts.

Matson Could Set New Shot Put Mark

Randy Matson, the record-setting shotputter on the Harvester track team, is apt to break the indoor mark in the college division if he keeps up at his present pace.

Matson tossed the shot 55 feet, 10 1/4 inches in the Ft. Stockton meet to set a new record there and then eclipsed the meet record in the Snyder Relays Saturday with a heave of 58 feet 8 inches.

Matson broke the Pampa High School record in the first meet and then improved his own mark in the Saturday tourney.

Gary Gubner of New York University set the indoor mark in college shot putting with a heave of 63 feet 10 1/4 inches set in the Millrose Games recently. True, Matson is throwing a 12-pound ball and Gubner was tossing a 16-pound ball, but Matson bettered his initial mark by almost three feet in the meet Saturday which is a tongue-in-cheek indication that he could surpass Gubner's mark in the next two meets.

Matson also has won the discus throw in both the Harvesters' meets and, establishing a new school record in the process, eclipsing the old mark set by Randall Clay in 1946 of 159 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Another record holder on this year's track squad is Bill Martin, who tied his jointly-owned record in the high jump in the Ft. Stockton meet at 5 feet 10 inches. Martin tied the school record last year which was originally set in 1955 by Don Hinton.

School records:
100-yard dash — Alvin Thyger-son, 9.6 seconds, 1958
220-yard dash — Thyger-son, 20.9, 1958
440-yard dash — Harold Lewis, 51.0, 1955
880-yard dash — Bill Hughes, 2:02.4, 1961
1,600-yard dash — John Campbell, 4:32, 1945
440-yard relay — Lewis, Ed Dudley, John Darby and Walker Bird, 43.1, 1954
880-yard relay — Lewis, Dudley, Darby and Bird, 1:31.8, 1954
High hurdles — Ed Dudley, 14.5, 1954
Low hurdles — Dudley and Darby, 19.2, 1954
High jump — Hinton and Martin, 5'10", 1955, 1961 and 1962
Broad jump — Darby, 22'10", 1954
Pole vault — Kent Mitchell and Bill Connor, 11'8", 1960, 1961

Campbell Winner At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Joe Campbell, a stogie-puffing young pro from Pendleton, Ind., today had the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open golf championship as his first tournament win of 1962.

He shot 67 and 69 rounds on par-72 Baton Rouge Country Club course Sunday for a 14-under-par total of 274 for 72 holes, two strokes better than Bob Rosburg, Portland, Ore. First prize was $2,800.

Next in order of finishing were Doug Sanders and Mason Rudolph at 277, Wes Ellis Jr., 278, Gay Brewer Jr., Howie Johnson and Dave Hill 179 and Arnold Palmer, Bob Goalby and Jack Nicklaus 280.

Campbell set a tournament record for the course, bettering Sam Sneed's 275 in 1953. Palmer holds the all-time tournament mark of 266, set when he won the Baton Rouge Open last year at Sherwood Forest Country Club.

The chunky Indiana pro, whose last major win was in the 1961 Beaumont Open, shook a five-way tie with his 67 in Sunday morning round. He started playing with a 36-hole total of 138, identical with scores of Hill, Rudolph, Sanders and Don Massena.

Massena's ballooned to third and fourth rounds of 76 and 75 Sunday. Massena's Rosburg streaked from a second-round tie for 13th place with a 67 and 68.

The New York Boxing Commission, however, made Jones, who is unbeaten in lightweight competition, the No. 1 challenger and ordered Johnson to face him to be recognized as the champion in New York.

Europe and the British Empire will concur with New York. However, California still recognizes ancient Moore.

Chips Are Down As Tech, Ponies Finish

United Press International

All the chips are down this week as Texas Tech and Southern Methodist roll into Tuesday night's final Southwest Conference scheduled program neck and neck in the run for the title.

No other club has even a remote chance. So the outcome will depend entirely on how the two deadlocked contenders fare in their final tilt—SMU against Arkansas at Dallas and Tech against Rice at Houston.

Should they both win—and they are favored to do so—although Tech has a rugged task against a Rice team that so far this season has withstood all assaults on its own court—Tech and SMU will wind up co-champions. In fact, that is also true if they both should lose.

But, there still would remain the matter of deciding which team would represent the conference against the Air Force Academy in the NCAA playoffs a week from tonight in Dallas.

If the deadlock persists, Tech and SMU will meet on a neutral floor—TCU's new Meyer Fieldhouse in Fort Worth—Friday night to settle the NCAA issue.

SMU will be riding the crest of a seven game winning streak which propelled the Mustangs from deep in the ranks to the top of the heap with crucial road victories over Tech, Texas and Baylor to go with similar away-from-home triumphs over Arkansas and TCU. SMU's three losses came at Rice and A&M and at home against Tech.

The night SMU started its big streak, Tech lost a home game to TCU, then lost the one at home to SMU in addition to howling earlier to A&M on the road.

Tech last week knocked Texas A&M out of contention with a 69-49 victory at Lubbock, while SMU stayed in the running with a 69-52 triumph over Baylor at Waco. Other action last week saw Texas nip Arkansas 61-60 and TCU beat Rice 75-73.

There'll be other games Tuesday night, too. But, all eyes will be on Dallas and Houston. Texas hosts TCU at Austin and A&M entertains Baylor at College Station.

Then, Thursday night TCU and Texas play a makeup game at Fort Worth to close out the regular season.

There'll be some sideline interest this week in the performance of the individual scorers since SMU's Jan Loudermilk doesn't boast an insurmountable lead with his 20.2-point season average and 21.1 conference race average.

TCU's Phil Reynolds has the best chance of overtaking Loudermilk, but Arkansas' Tommy Boyer and Jerry Carlton also are outside possibilities.

A major mine disaster is one in which five or more men are killed.

.22 Expert Is Dead At 92

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Adolph (Ed) Toepferwein, 92, who is still remembered for his fantastic marksmanship exhibition in 1906 with 22-caliber rifles, died Sunday.

Toepferwein fired alternately with three 22-caliber automatic rifles at 72,500 2-inch square wooden blocks flipped into the air by assistants. He missed only nine of them.

He quit shooting after 10 days because he had used up all the 22-caliber ammunition available in the San Antonio area. Many of his shooting records still stand.

Toepferwein represented the Winchester Arms Co. for more than 30 years as an exhibition shooter. His wife also was an expert and they traveled on exhibitions for 45 years.

His wife died in 1945. That same year he retired.

Liston Is Almost Ready For Bout

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Tom Bolan of Championship Sports, Inc., disclosed today he expects to complete negotiations Tuesday with Sonny Liston for a title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson because:

—Liston of Philadelphia agreed over the weekend to take 12 1/2 per cent of all the net fight receipts without appealing to the National Boxing Association for mediation.

—Only one minor detail about a possible return bout remains to be cleared up.

Bolan said Liston had notified him through attorney Morton Witkin of Philadelphia that he would accept the 12 1/2 per cent despite last week's stormy statements to the contrary.

Last week's big Sonny declared he would not fight Patterson unless he received 20 per cent of all net receipts. However, a day later Sonny modified that assertion and said he would leave it up to the National Boxing Association to decide what percentage he was entitled to.

Unfortunately for Sonny, no one in the NBA seemed much interested in establishing a precedent by serving as mediator between Liston and Championship Sports.

Johnson Will Defend Title Against Jones

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Harold Johnson, holder of the NBA version of the lightweight crown, will meet Doug Jones of New York in a 15-round bout for almost the whole title at the Philadelphia Arena on May 12.

The fight will not be seen on television within a 100 mile radius, promoter Herman Taylor announced.

Johnson won the NBA version of the crown by knocking out Jesse Bowdry at Miami on Feb. 7, 1961, in a contest ordered by the NBA to determine a champion after the crown was lifted from Archie Moore for failure to defend it within the allotted time.

Europe and the British Empire will concur with New York. However, California still recognizes ancient Moore.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The American Tradition

While the world is being bombarded with fantastic claims about Communist accomplishments and Russia's ability to wipe out the human race, it is refreshing to read the following remarks by Burl S. Watson, chairman of Cities Service:

"It is in the American tradition not to be satisfied with less than maximum achievement. At the same time, it is well to remember that economic progress is never one of uninterrupted flight forward. Rather it is the sum total of advances, pauses, and even some slipping back."

"Since the turn of the century, the United States has experienced a financial panic (1907); a stock market crash (1929); a subsequent 'depression'; and, along the line, less violent reversals generally styled 'recessions.' In this period of time, however, living standards reached the highest levels ever achieved.

"So great has been our agricultural and industrial advance that our productive capacities are producing one-third of the world's goods."

"We have the natural resources needed for a bigger job. We have surplus industrial capacities. We have a trained manpower. We will do this bigger job, in work and sacrifice, we meet every challenge with faith in America. As for anyone who finds himself faltering in that faith, let him look at the record."

Crime Increases In USA

Crime is on the increase in the United States.

Cost of tracking down criminals, arresting them, trying them and possibly punishing them has increased every year. In the 10 years between 1950 and 1960, as J. Edgar Hoover sees it, serious crimes in this country increased 88 per cent while population rose 18 per cent. Thus, in the past decade crime has grown five times faster than population.

There are more laws on the books now than ever before. There are more policemen. There are more jails. There are more courts, more judges. Crime is now costing the American people an average of $128 per person, per year.

The area of major increase is among juveniles. According to Mr. Hoover, of all arrests reported in 1960 to the FBI, 14 per cent of those occurring in cities and 15 per cent of those occurring in rural areas involved youths. Young people in cities accounted for 62 per cent of all arrests for automobiles theft, 51 per cent of all burglaries, 49 per cent of all larceny, 28 per cent for forcible rape and 8 per cent for aggravated assault with 5.5 per cent for murder.

In rural areas the same pattern appears. Fifty-two per cent of arrests for automobile theft concerned juveniles, 41 per cent of the burglaries, 33 per cent of the larceny, 13 per cent of the robberies, 10 per cent of the forcible rapes, 8 per cent of the aggravated assaults, and 5.5 per cent of all murders were committed by young people age 10 through 17.

As a rule, there are fewer crimes committed in rural areas than in large metropolitan areas. Why should there be such a growing crime wave and why should so much of it be traced to juveniles? Mr. Hoover had some observations to make here, too.

"For one thing, there is a steady decline of parental authority. Moral standards, too, have declined in the home and the community. Because of adult delinquency, young people are not being given the proper guidance."

Fiber Glass Pole? To Be Or Not To Be Is Question

By HENRY McLEMORE

I wasn't around when slavery had our nation split in two, but now I know what it must have been like.

It must have been much like today when, once again, the United States is divided into two camps, this time over the fiber glass vaulting pole.

Never have so many been so excited, agitated and downright mad over the means by which a man gets over a crossbar.

On one side are those who think the fiber glass pole is as legitimate as buying a dozen eggs from a grocer.

On the other are those who believe that the fiber glass pole is a fraud and a cheat and that its use is as illegal as dynamiting fish. This side says, with clenched fists and fangs bared, that the only proper way to vault is with a bamboo or metal pole.

Right in our neighborhood brothers are opposed to brothers on the vaulting pole question. Husbands are lined up against wives, and one family down the street is so bitter about the matter that three of its members (bamboos) are sleeping in the yard rather than be under the same roof with the others (fiber glassers).

The storm raging over the vaulting pole is easy to understand. It is a major problem, and must be settled. Pole vaulting is important. A study of history will show that nations who ignored pole vaulting, who didn't care whether they had a man who could clear 14, 15, or more feet, did not last.

Many attribute the decline of the Roman Empire to the neglect of pole vaulting by the rulers. The same is true of the Medes, Alexander the Great despised pole vaulting—and where is his empire?

Before I am muzzled by Washington, I would like to put in my few cents' worth on the pole vault question.

I take a strong stand—one which can easily bring down both camps on my head. I am against the fiber glass pole, the metal pole, and perhaps the bamboo pole.

I am for the same sort of pole that was used by the first man to vault in a track meet. If it were home-made, then every man since then should have used the same type. In other words, I am against progress. Against it, on the grounds that improvement in equipment makes for records, not athletes.

Golfers of today should use gutta-percha balls, or ones stuffed with feathers, as golfers once did—and hickory shafts. Tennis players should use the same old racquets of years ago. Baseball players should bat the ball of Double-day's time.

Then we would really know who were the greatest champions. The records in the book would mean something.

This is likely to be considered a backward step by many, but progress can get tiresome.

WELFARE STATISM IN ENGLAND (The Freeman) REGINALD JEBB

The great social drift in England during the past forty years has been toward a kind of totalitarianism. This fact is all the more depressing when it is realized that outstanding books written by widely read authors, have appeared here during this period, showing in somberest colors the consequences of the trend. The drift, nevertheless, has accelerated. Three books come to mind, two of them works of fiction. Hilaire Belloc's The Servile State (1912), Aldous Huxley's Brave New World (1932), and George Orwell's 1984 (1949).

Belloc's book was critical of "capitalism," which word he used in a special sense, not as an equivalent to "the free market economy" but as descriptive of the kind of interventionist state which existed in his England. "Capitalism" — in this sense — was under constant attack by Socialists. The result of this onslaught, Belloc foresaw, would not be the Cooperative Commonwealth of socialist fantasy; it would be a state in which the mass of men were reduced to serfdom.

Both Belloc and Huxley anticipated a generally accepted serfdom. Freedom would not be exchanged for tyranny in the harsh sense. There would be plenty of bread and circuses. Even in Orwell's horrific picture of the future, the majority were adequately fed and cared for, and those outside the state's detailed supervision were too weak and degenerate to cause the rulers any trouble. They simply did not count.

It is this ready acceptance by the people of the loss of freedom that is the most alarming feature of these three books, for even though the hero of 1984 rebels against the intolerably subservient conditions imposed on him, his rebellion ends in a mad ecstasy of submission.

Why is it that these three remarkable books have had little or no influence on the course of events? They are not mere guesses at the future, brilliant but founded on nothing more solid than the imagination of their authors. The Servile State reads more like the solution of an algebraic problem than a prophecy, and Huxley can point, in his recent revision of Brave New World, to developments that bear out his original thesis. All three books are confirmed by events.

Perhaps the answer to the question of their small influence is to be found in the appearance of the Welfare State. The lure of irresponsible ease and a rise in the so-called standard of living have blotted out from the minds of the big proportion of the population the price to be paid for governmental ordering of their lives. Because a large measure of freedom is still left to them and because the immediate prospects appear to be pleasant, they do not trouble to look at the hard logic of common sense. Neither the gloomy forebodings of thinking men nor the actual financial crises that the country has been undergoing affect them.

This insensitiveness to cause and effect is increased by the propaganda both of governments in power and the political parties of the Left. Governments invariably seek to enlarge the area of their influence, for the appetite for power, once acquired, is insatiable. But the propaganda of the Left is more sinister and nauseous. It sets out to assume a high moral purpose — protection of the weak against the heartlessness of the Right — and on this plea it proceeds to press for centralized control, so as to be able to distribute wealth as it thinks fit. This is a useful vote catching device and at the same time lightens the bonds restraining individual freedom. Yet it is difficult to find a single politician who condemns the principle underlying the Welfare State as it is organized in England.

England is wealthier today than it was a generation ago. Motor cars, television sets, washing machines, refrigerators, and a host of other modern inventions have come into the possession of millions who never dreamed of such amenities before. There is a superficial prosperity in many parts of the country. People have been led to attribute this progress to the Welfare State, ignoring the advance of technology, the aid given by the United States, the mortgaging of the future, and so on. But they do not realize — or at all events do not admit — either the insecurity of what has been built up or the loss of vigor and penetrate into the store, the system involves.

If we leave the display window and penetrate into the store, the picture is very different. Here we find anxiety, discontent issuing in litigation and strikes, the growth of a wholly materialistic outlook combined with an almost total absence of thrift. We find, too, the professions, notably the medical profession, becoming bureaucratized, business interfered with and slowed up by red tape, taxation increasing, and prices rising. All this not only clouds the minds of those receiving benefits with a dread of their impermanence, but also encourages irresponsibility, which grabs at what it can while the going is good. That adds to the general economic insecurity, weakens human morality and, hence, increases crime and governmental restrictions to combat it.

Clearly with this burning of the candle at both ends — state subsidies at the one end and lack of personal effort at the other — the system is bound to break down, and our three prophets will have been vindicated. The longer it lasts, the less virility will remain to effect a recovery.

Poland Granting Credit, Machinery to Red Countries Out of U.S. Aid, Patman Joint Committee Learns

WASHINGTON—Poland's Communist boss Gomulka is operating an extensive and curiously-financed foreign aid program of his own among Communist and pro-Communist countries.

For every four dollars of aid received from the U.S., the Communist dictator has granted one dollar in economic credits to Yugoslavia, Ghana, North Korea and North Vietnam.

Specifically, he has extended $100 million in short and long term credits to these four nations while receiving $400 million in food shipments and industrial credits from the U.S.

Those are the shocking aid figures gathered by the Joint Congressional Economic Committee, headed by Representative Wright Patman, D. Tex., in its investigation of trade policies of the U.S. toward the Communist bloc.

In addition to extending these vast credits, the Joint Committee's study shows that Poland supplied Communist China, Cuba and Yugoslavia with complete industrial plants and heavy machine tools some very similar to those purchased in the U.S.

Industrial plants including a sugar refinery are being furnished Cuba under a four-year trade agreement that Gomulka signed with Castro's Communist regime. Heavy machine tools and rolled steel goods are being sent to hard-pressed Communist China.

Poland is supplying complete industrial plants including one that turns out rolled steel products to Yugoslavia in exchange for industrial consumer goods.

NO YARDSTICK — Except for bits and pieces of information gathered by U.S. Intelligence agents, there is no way of accurately determining the type of U.S. industrial equipment being transhipped to other Communist countries.

In testimony before a special House subcommittee probing the sale of strategic materials to the Communist bloc, Secretary of State Rusk said the U.S. was given firm assurance from Poland that none of the U.S. equipment was being trans-shipped.

However, under cross-examination by committee members, Secretary Rusk admitted that the U.S. had no way to check on these assurances and had to take the word of the Communists.

Gomulka's Warsaw regime has vigorously backed Moscow this picture is very different. Here we find anxiety, discontent issuing in litigation and strikes, the growth of a wholly materialistic outlook combined with an almost total absence of thrift. We find, too, the professions, notably the medical profession, becoming bureaucratized, business interfered with and slowed up by red tape, taxation increasing, and prices rising. All this not only clouds the minds of those receiving benefits with a dread of their impermanence, but also encourages irresponsibility, which grabs at what it can while the going is good. ## The Doctor Says:

EARLY DETECTION OF CANCER IS A SURVIVAL ASSET By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — How sure are you doctors that all this fuss about cancer detection does more good than harm? My wife is no more nervous about herself than most women I know but she hardly has a peaceful day for all the worrying she does about cancer. If any one we know or read about gets cancer or is operated on for cancer or died of cancer, she frets for days and sometimes weeks. Then, just about when she's ready to snap out of it, along comes other bad news.

A — I'll agree that you can't get something for nothing, that everything you do in life is costly, one way or another. Maybe your wife is worrying more than she should. But look at the other side of the scales. For example, the most recent figures on five-year survival rates for breast cancer revealed an over-all per cent of 62 to 74. But it rose to 92 per cent in those women who consulted their doctors within one week after the tumor was noticed.

Won't you agree that an improved chance of from 62 to 92 percent is worth a lot of fretting? Or, to put it another way, what would you give to be told you had only one week to live?

Q — What can be done to stop black-and-blue spots from appearing? I seem to get a bruise mark from the slightest injury. Some times the bruise appears when there's been no injury of any kind that I can recall.

A — The medical name for what you've been observing is purpura, which is just a fancy way of saying black- and- blue spots. The tendency to develop purpura is characteristic of many system disturbances, some of great importance. You had better consult your doctor for a complete examination including a thorough survey of your blood.

In general, most purpura are the result of some type of hypersensitivity that affects the walls of tiny blood vessels (capillaries). When these capillary walls give way under strains they would normally sustain, blood escapes into the local tissues and you see the familiar discoloration. This discoloration is not a "skin disease" but a skin manifestation of some more basic condition which has caused weakening of the vessel wall.

Among these conditions are deficiencies of vitamin C, rarely observed in the well-fed American adult; the presence of rheumatic fever, also rare in the adult; and, most often, hypersensitivity to some foreign substance such as an industrial product or a drug. Since this hypersensitivity may also cause destruction of the blood platelets, it can be life-threatening.

Hence you must see your doctor for identification of the cause at a time when the condition can be relieved rapidly by ACTH and "cured" by elimination of the provocative agency.

Q — My little girl has St. Vitus dance. What is this disease? And what can be done to cure it?

A — St. Vitus dance or chorea is a manifestation of rheumatic fever. In it, the nervous system is involved in addition to, or in place of, joint involvement. Usually the attack is self-limited and is over within a few weeks without inflicting any permanent damage on the nervous system.

Like the ordinary attack of rheumatic fever, it may be associated with damage to the heart. This can be lessened and maybe prevented entirely by eliminating streptococci from the throat with sustained doses of whatever antibiotic your doctor prefers in this condition.

Little Ralph came to Montreal from his home in Labrador, where he had never seen a colored person. One day when he was out walking with his Uncle Tom they happened to pass a colored woman, and the little fellow asked:

Little Ralph — Say, uncle, why did that woman black her face? Uncle Tom — Why, she hasn't blacked her face. That is her natural color. Little Ralph — Is she black like that all over? Uncle Tom — Why, yes. Little Ralph — Gosh, uncle, you know everything, don't you!

Pegler Says:

Overseas Weekly Needs To Be Investigated

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The government of the United States has slipped out of the control of Congress and the people when a President may suppress the record of history which is not his own private property but the property of the nation. We arrived at that condition just after Pearl Harbor when Roosevelt issued an order for an inquiry in terms which concealed his fault in leaving the fleet exposed to the attack that cost the lives of about 3,500 American youths.

The late Father Daniel A. Lord, of St. Louis University, immediately sent me a page from a St. Louis newspaper containing that order on which he had written in pencil many shrewd comments detecting cunning frauds. The worst one was the proviso that the commission to investigate the disaster was limited to derelictions by officers in Hawaii. Civilians in Washington and the entire Pantheon were immune. Thus Roosevelt prevented investigation of General George Marshall, his chief of staff.

Now we are confronted again by the devices which Truman and Eisenhower, a Democrat in all but party registration, both practiced in concealing information from Congressional committees by self-serving Executive orders.

It was not thus under Calvin Coolidge. After he had succeeded Warren Harding he refused to cloak in immunity the Attorney General of the Harding Administration, Harry M. Daugherty. The subject was the fraud roughly known as the Teapot Dome Case. Daugherty took off for Miami Beach and holed up in a new hotel which is now about the oldest of that great mass of gaudy luxury, vulgarity and extravagance. With a bankroll of $100 for expenses I tore after him to hound him to the ends of the earth, money no object. For days running I called on him at $8 a trip for taxis. I then proposed that because Mrs. Daugherty was ill, I stand off in return for his promise to notify me when he was leaving and give me the numbers of his Pullman space. About

This was the principal enemy of General Edwin Walker, who was transferred by the Pentagon for patriotic expressions to the men of his command. This paper has been a stench for years. It is mysterious, to be sure, but a reasonably good reporter could expose it in a couple of weeks. I can surmise why President Kennedy punished General Walker instead of using the normal authority of his office to obliterate this disruptive force. Is it the same reason which Truman obeyed in protecting certain colleges from Joe McCarthy's exposure? The yelps are the same that have been heard throughout the career of the House Committee on Un-American Activities all the way from the time of Martin Dies, of Texas, to Francis Walter, of Pennsylvania, the present chairman. Again the familiar cry of "fear" is heard. Well, who's afraid of what?

President Kennedy can't prevent an expose by the House committee or Senator Eastland's committee, however. So the puzzle here is why those committees don't send their own investigators to Germany and show up the Overseas Weekly without calling on any generals to injure themselves.
