

Coal Keeping Fires Burning In Atomic Age

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nuclear power is here, but the television set in your living room probably is a coal burner.

Your electric dishwasher, range mixer and freezer are likely to be humming away on coal, too.

Coal in fact still is keeping most of the home fires burning — and without the delivery of a single sooty black lump.

Electricity is used in nearly 48 million homes across the nation, and 80 per cent of the power is generated by coal. Nineteen per cent is hydro-power, produced by huge dam projects or natural resources such as Niagara Falls. A mere one per cent is made by internal combustion.

"Coal by wire" is the new way in which electricity is being described. It takes a ton of coal to produce 2,000 kilowatt hours of electricity. A total of 165.7 million tons of coal was consumed by electric utilities in 1950, and an estimated 185 million tons will be used to keep furnaces burning washing machines spinning and lights blazing this year.

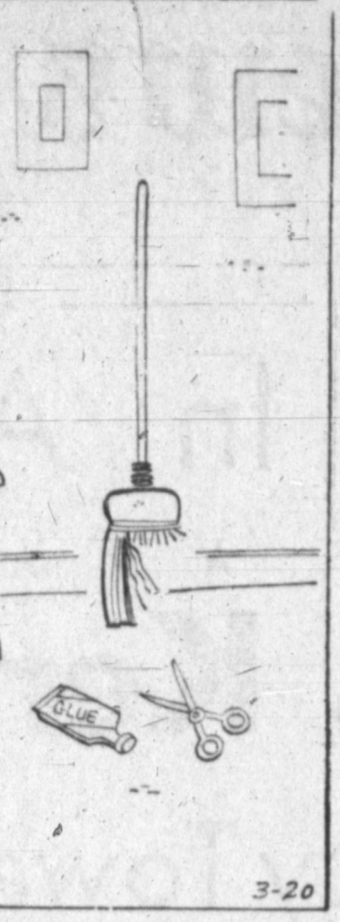

William Shepherd, chairman of the "Live Better Electrically" program policy committee of the Edison Electric Institute and vice president of the Arkansas Power and Light Co., said that this increased remote control use of coal has pepped up the seriously depressed coal industry.

Home use of coal for space heating has shrunk from 100 million tons a year to 30 million tons in only a few years. But at the same time, coal consumption by electric utilities has soared from 99.5 million tons in 1948 to the present hopeful figure.

Shepherd said that the average home owner consumes 3,800 kilowatt-hours of electricity a year — a little more than two tons of coal — just by snapping on lights, TV, radio and other electrical appliances. The addition of electric heating and cooling units could bring the total annual consumption in one residence to 25,000 hours — nearly 19 tons of coal.

Public utility use of coal is expected to reach 475 million tons by 1975, even with increased consumption of other energy producing fuels such as oil, gas and hydro, and the development of atomic power, Shepherd said.

One of the big boons to the coal industry, according to electrical industry spokesmen, is that a home runs on a year-round basis, while the old coal-burning furnaces were used only during winter. This, fact, they said, should help to stabilize coal production on a 12-month basis and keep miners at work all year.

Criminals Don Robes Of Priests In Italy

ROME (UPI) — A man in a priest's robes entered a bank, pulled a submachinegun from under his cassock and said: "This is a holdup. Don't move."

It happened Aug. 20, 1950, in the north Italian village of Bevilacqua. The holdup, which netted the phony priest and an accomplice $747 in cash and $9,600 in checks, was but one of the many instances in which Italian criminals have disguised themselves as priests or nuns.

In a country where Roman Catholic priests are numerous and respected — and where they have a sometimes exaggerated reputation for influence and power — clerical robes have often proved an ideal disguise for thieves, con men and other smalltime crooks.

The disguise is so effective that even the police used it once, but stopped immediately following outraged shouts of protest in parliament.

Two crimes by people posing as clerics were reported in a single day during February in different areas of northern Italy. In Verona Province, a false priest with a French accent toured the countryside by taxi and asked parish priests to contribute money for "secret charity." At least three priests were swindled out of sums ranging from $8 to $16 each.

Police said they thought the man was an old acquaintance who had been posing as a priest since 1950, when he swindled a cloth merchant in a Venice suburb.

The same day, the good-natured owner of a milk bar in Monza near Milan allowed two "nuns" fatigued from alms-collecting to rest and eat a bite at his place.

Shortly after they left, bar owner Carlo Mariani found that his wife's handbag with $800 worth of jewelry had vanished. Passers-by later said they saw the two "nuns" walk quickly round the corner, board a motorcycle and roar out of town.

That, of course, was small-time compared with the $10,468 earned at a single stroke by Romualdo de Fonzo, alias "Msgr. Mariano de Ceva," before he was arrested in Rome a few years ago.

Di Fonzo, then 36, pulled his elaborate confidence game on Marcello Luconi, a clothes merchant in the town of Prato, to whom he identified himself as an assistant to Msgr. Ferdinando Baldelli, president of the Pontifical Relief Organization (POA).

An accomplice contacted Luconi and told him POA had just been donated large quantities of coffee and pepper for distribution to the poor.

POA, he said, wanted to sell the pepper and coffee to finance distribution of spaghetti.

Luconi was interested and "Msgr. de Ceva" sold him the non-existent coffee and pepper.

The fraud was one of many in which self-appointed "priests" claimed influence in big business or politics. In a country where the clergy's influence is in fact considerable — and magnified beyond reality by popular imagination — most of the con men found people ready to believe them.

The one known case of police using a priestly disguise happened in Rome in 1950, when Domenico Nonazzani called a friar to confess his sins and was handcuffed by the "confessor."

The phony friar was a member of the national police who had chosen the disguise to shadow Nonazzani, known as a religious fanatic. Nonazzani was wanted on a warrant for insulting a magistrate who once sent him to an insane asylum.

The "friar" arrested Nonazzani without hearing his confession.

Former WAC In Man's Job

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Frances Lewis is a girl of many talents.

The 31-year-old miss is a former WAC, professional photographer, practical nurse and retail shop manager. Today, she earns her living as a "repairman" specializing in television sets.

She said she first got started in things mechanical after answering an ad for a phone girl in a TV repair shop.

She went from answering phones to checking tubes to dismantling and assembling whole sets. Now she's making house calls, and says she couldn't be happier with what she's doing.

Miss Lewis admits there aren't too many women she can talk shop with, but points out there are enough men around to make the work interesting.

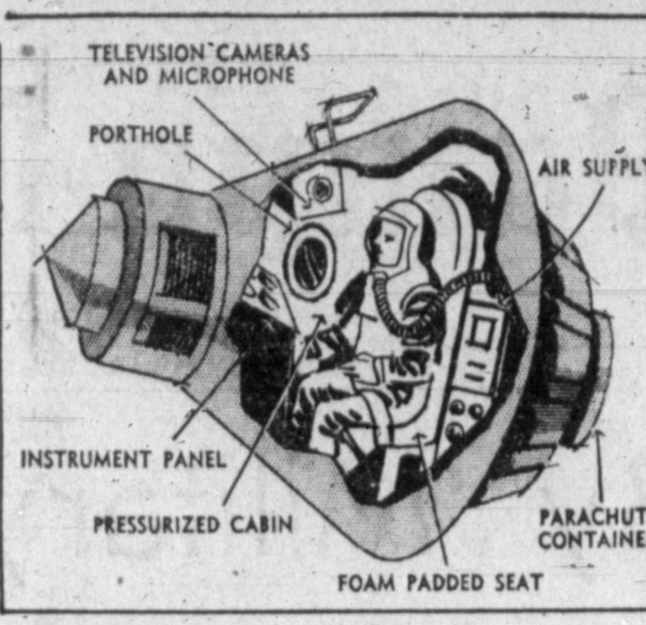

She is convinced the repair business is an excellent field for women. The only disadvantage she's found is that she can't lug the heavy sets around without a helper.

But when it comes to the mechanical details, she says a woman's patience with little things gives her a head start over the men.

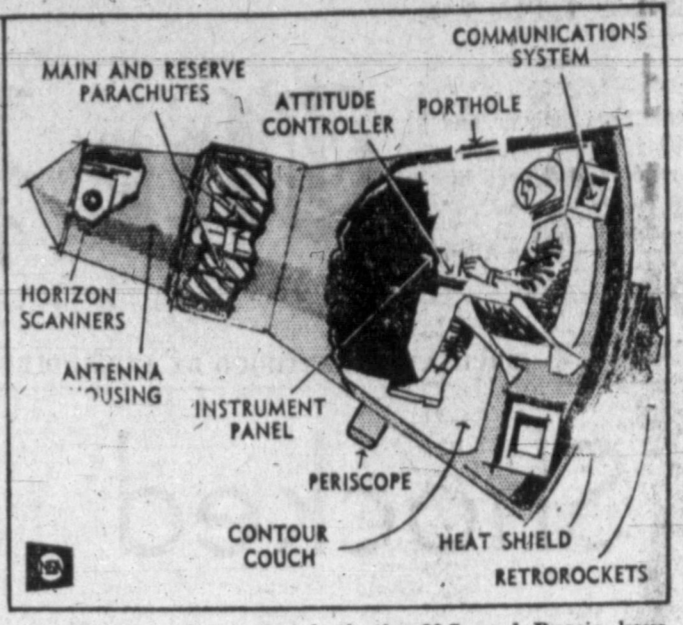

The lady-repairman might have been an automobile mechanic. She likes to tinker with cars, and has rewired her own. But she chose the repair business instead for one simple reason: "I'm too old to get under cars."

Women Convicted Of Embezzlement Taken To Prison

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI) — Two women bank tellers were scheduled to be taken to the Federal women's reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., yesterday to begin serving prison terms for embezzlement.

Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins imposed a year-and-day sentence Thursday on Lucy Fortney, 62, and a 16-year term plus an $8,000 fine on Mrs. Jo Ann Stevens, 25, for embezzling nearly a quarter of a million dollars from the Bank of Shinnston, W. Va.

Mrs. Stevens was charged with looting the till of $224,244 Miss Fortney, an employee of the bank since it opened in 1932, was accused of taking $22,548.

Before the sentence was passed, Probation Officer L. O. Bickel noted that Mrs. Stevens spent a total of $46,000 in stores in the 19 months preceding discovery of the shortage late last year.

Chinese Actress Speaks Thursday Evening To Knife And Fork Club

Li Ling Ai, Hawaiian-born Chinese actress who co-produced the Hollywood Academy award winning documentary film "Kukan" and who has been an instructor in the Institute of Fine Arts in China, will address members of the Top O' Texas Knife & Fork club at its next meeting Thursday evening in Pampa High School Cafeteria.

Miss Li, who received her degree from the University of Hawaii, comes from an old Chinese family. Her mother was one of the first women medical graduates of modern China. Her father was a leader in establishing political reforms before the Red-Chinese era.

Miss Li now resides in New York and is active in woman's club work. She is vice-president and program chairman of the American Oriental Woman's Club, an organization that promotes closer relationships and understanding between East and West.

Tickets will be on sale at Malone's Pharmacy until 1 p.m. Wednesday.

New officers of the club are Dr. S. B. Sybert, president, and Jeff Bearden, Vice President.

U.S. Building Up Force At Guantanamo Bay

Endless Struggle For Cuban Rights Pledged By U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department, speaking on behalf of President Kennedy, retorted swiftly Saturday to an angry message from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on Cuba.

The department announced that Kennedy has decided "not to be drawn into an extended public debate" with the Soviet ruler on details of the Cuban invasion controversy.

But on Kennedy's behalf the department pledged an "endless struggle" for attainment of "fundamental rights" and the "popular will" in Cuba and elsewhere.

In broad strokes, a formal State Department statement laid down firm U. S. general policies on the Caribbean island.

"We reject," the statement said, "the right of any narrow political grouping or any country to arrogate to itself the power to determine the real will of the people." Khrushchev in his message had challenged Kennedy on U. S. assertions for freedom, saying, "what freedom do you mean."

The U. S. statement, read to reporters by department spokesman Lincoln White, said: "Our answer is simple. This nation was committed at its birth to the proposition that the people of all countries should have the right freely to determine their own future by democratic processes and freely to cooperate with their neighbors.

"The people of the United States believe that the right of self-determination is fundamental and should apply throughout the world."

In his message earlier Saturday, Khrushchev said the United States, in its policy toward Cuba, was following "a slippery and dangerous road which can lead to a new world war." The Soviet Premier said it had proven "incontrovertibly that the United States was responsible for the abortive invasion of Cuba."

The U. S. statement said that this government's struggle for human rights "goes forward day by day in every quarter of the globe."

Castro Firing Squads Execute More Cubans

By United Press International

The Cuban government radio station Progreso said Saturday the United States was building up its naval forces in the Caribbean, and warned that intercontinental rockets of the Soviet Union were even more powerful than the fleet.

The broadcast followed an earlier one which hinted the Fidel Castro government would show no mercy toward the 500 Cubans claimed captured in the ill-fated invasion of Monday. It paraded many of them before television cameras in an hours-long television broadcast.

Cuban observers had reported increased U. S. Navy maneuvers in the Caribbean and said it undoubtedly was a warning to Castro not to let his enthusiasm induce him to attack the big U. S. naval base at Guantanamo on the eastern tip of Cuba.

The Progreso broadcast said heavy naval units of the "Yankee armada" were maneuvering to intimidate Cuba. It said President Kennedy should know that "even more powerful is the revolutionary conscience of our people, even more powerful is the preparation of our militias, our rebel army, even more powerful is the courage of the Cubans and even more powerful still are the intercontinental rockets of the Soviet Union."

Much of the broadcast was addressed to United Press International and included a request to tell the secret Swan radio transmitters to send fewer messages of a possible new invasion and "come themselves to invade." It called the invaders "worms and mercenaries."

The broadcast said the swampland is "again ready to receive other contingents"—a reference to the swampy land at Pigs Bay where the anti-Castro invasion force landed last Monday.

Castro firing squads executed many Cubans during the week and Saturday's broadcast by Havana radio hinted that the same fate might befall those captured at Pigs Bay.

Castro said the invasion was "not tipped off by such a warning and that the message undoubtedly was meant to cheer up the anti-Castro Cubans and let them know that help would be coming—sometimes. The messages themselves were thought to be intercepted by Castro's forces."

scathing terms, Khrushchev concluded with an appeal for U. S. Soviet "peaceful existence" and cooperation—as the world's two most powerful nations—in maintaining global peace.

Khrushchev said there was no basis whatsoever for declarations by Kennedy and "other American politicians" that Soviet rockets and other armaments could be used against the United States from Cuba.

"We on our part can refer to concrete facts and not to suppositions; governments of certain countries immediately neighboring on the borders of the Soviet Union on land and on sea are waging an unreasonable policy and have concluded with the U. S. military pacts and have placed their territories at the disposal of the U. S. for American military bases," Khrushchev said.

"At the same time," the Soviet premier told Kennedy, "your military people frankly declare that these bases are directed against the Soviet Union, which is clear to everybody."

"Consequently, if you consider yourself justified to use such measures against Cuba to which the American government has recently resorted, you must recognize that other countries have no less justification to act in the same manner with regard to states on whose territory preparations are actually made which menace the security of the Soviet Union."

secretary Pierre Salinger said. Administration officials differed over who was to blame for the faulty intelligence estimates. Some blamed the CIA but one high source said "the entire government" shared the responsibility.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the CIA all agreed with President Kennedy not to prevent the rebel landings, the sources said.

Kennedy's decision to recall Taylor apparently stemmed from a desire to learn why the anti-Castro expedition failed. It also may shed light on the reason for Communist guerrillas' success at jungle war in Laos.

A brief White House announcement said Taylor, who retired in mid-1959, was asked "to conduct a survey and a review of the organization and capacity of the United States in para-military training."

most tremendous force for peace in the world.

"Lionism," Lovill said, "means putting men together, not for personal gain, but for service. When you can put men together all over the world through international service organizations, eventually world problems will take care of themselves."

"Putting men together everywhere is the key to world understanding," he added.

Lovill pointed out that the Lions International convention to be held in Nice, France, in 1962 will mark the first time the Lions have held an international meet outside the North American continent.

"Right now," he said, "the fruits of international goodwill are showing in favor of the United States in the planning being done in France for that convention."

"While there are Lions in 111 countries around the globe, the Lions in Nice are mapping their program with a special emphasis on pleasing the delegates who will come from America."

Lovill paid tribute to 82-year-old Melvin Jones of suburban Chicago, founder of the Lions.

"He had an idea that has spread worldwide and now is doing much to cement international understanding," Lovill said.

After a Friday night barbecue on the Coronado Inn grounds, delegates started yesterday's final day of the convention with a breakfast given by Pleasant Valley Lions in honor of club presidents and secretaries.

The Saturday forenoon business session was taken up with a report by Cecil Massey of Weatherford, chairman of the Texas Council of Governors; reports of committees; presentation of awards to the district governor's cabinet members and golf and bowling awards, and balloting for district governor.

Sheriff Honored By News Group

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, presented its 1961 award for service in journalism for Texas to Bexar County Sheriff Owen Kilday.

Kilday was presented a plaque by state president Sam Wood of the capital bureau of Newspapers Inc., in Austin. A five-page letter signed by San Antonio newsmen praised Kilday for his 42 years of helping them cover the news as a peace officer.

"I learned early in my career," Kilday told the Sigma Delta Chi convention, "that you better get along with newspapermen. I have never met one who would sell his paper or suppress a story for a price. I appreciate this honor more than any ever paid to me in all my life."

Two Are Killed As Planes Crash

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Two small airplanes brushed together in the air over Tradewinds Airport in this Texas Panhandle city Saturday, killing two occupants of one plane when its tail section was ripped away and the aircraft crashed.

The second plane landed safely and its pilot, Chuck Kimball of Amarillo, a mechanic at the airport and a student pilot, escaped injury.

The dead were identified as Richard C. Wilson, 38, of Eureka Springs, Ark., and Larry M. Gulick, 25, of Mendota, Ill.

Bob Siler, vice president of Tradewinds Airport Corp., said Kimball was flying a Cessna 170 when the other plane, a Cessna 172, diving to get down to the traffic pattern, struck the 170 and rolled its wheels over the top of its wings.

Rites Held For Twin Infants

Graveside rites for twin infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Duke Dunbar Jr. of Borger were held yesterday at 3 p.m. in Fairview Cemetery Baby Gardens with the Rev. Therman Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, officiating.

The identical twins died at 12:25 a.m. yesterday following birth in Highland General Hospital. Mr. Dunbar is a teacher in the Borger public schools.

The infants are also survived by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Duke Dunbar Sr. of Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bynum of Durmont, Ark.

Cuba Victorious In UN Squabble

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations General Assembly dealt a diplomatic blow to the United States and a victory to Fidel Castro's Cuba Saturday by blocking a plan for settling Cuban-U. S. friction within the Western Hemisphere.

The assembly ended an all-night session at 6:02 a. m. by voting 56 to 32, with 8 abstentions, against asked that members of the Organization of American States be requested by the U. N. to help bring about a peaceful settlement of the dispute between Cuba and the United States.

day" proclaiming a state of seige throughout Algeria was issued by Challe, Zeller, Gen. Jauhaud and Gen. Salan.

Salan was believed in Madrid where he has been living in exile with Pierre La Gaillard and Joseph Ortiz, two civilian Colonels who led the 1960 civilian uprising. Both have been sentenced to death by a French court.

The rebels promised the nine million Moslems in Algeria France would "never abandon them."

The coup started just before 6:30 a.m. when the first regiment of foreign leg on paratroopers moved in and seized the summer palace.

Delegate General Jean Marin, ranking civilian-Gaullist representative, was arrested. Supreme Commander Gen. Fernand Gambiez was seized by paratroopers of officers who ignored his stern arguments.

French Public Works Minister Robert Buron, who arrived in Algiers Friday night, was taken prisoner.

Algiers Minister Joxe began sending urgent reports from Algeria.

Transportation, both air and sea, was cut between Algeria and Europe. Phone and telegraph lines were seized. The government postal and telegraph system demanded that employees in Algiers refuse to work for the rebels.

Oran communications lines remained open.

As many as 6,000 paratroopers were said to be involved in the uprising. The first regiment which seized the Algiers summer palace and the communications centers numbered 2,000 men, in green combat fatigue uniforms.

and television audience that the invasion of the Bay of Pigs was a complete failure and none of the invaders could have escaped into the Escambray Mountains.

—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., second-ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the United States will send troops to Cuba only if Russia "actually intervenes with manpower, and arms, and supplies."

Kennedy received Khrushchev's bitterly-worded message shortly before he boarded a helicopter on the south White House lawn to fly to Camp David.

The message arrived at the White House just at the end of the National Security Council meeting. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy took the message with him on the 35-minute helicopter flight to the Eisenhower meeting. But Salinger did not anticipate a reply to the message over the weekend.

Panhandle Votes Paving Bond Issue

PANHANDLE (Sp) — Panhandle voters yesterday approved a $50,000 paving bond issue in a special election to pay the city's portion of an overall $250,000 three-year street improvement program.

The bond issue, representing 20 per cent of the total cost, was approved 169 to 98.

Under the plan, property owners will be assessed $5.08 per front foot and the improvement will proceed on streets after 51 per cent of the voters in each block have approved the plan, city officials said.

The complete $250,000 project will involve the paving of 160 block of unpaved streets in Panhandle over the three-year period.

Actor Finds Reports Of His Death Vexing

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Like some nut who doesn't dig guys on I'm alive man, who's trying to kill me off?"

Robert Denver, the Maynard Krebs of TV's "Dobie Gillis" series, is the guy who wants to know.

People throughout the country have been killing the bananik actor approximately three times a week since January, United Press International receives "frequent" reports that Bob has passed on.

Most common story of his death: "Bob was sitting in the bathtub listening to Rock 'N' Roll music from a radio perched on the side of the tub. The radio fell into the water and electrocuted dear old Denver."

"I tell you it isn't so," Bob insists. "Like I'm alive, man. Real cool and alive."

"These stories about me kicking off are giving me the creeps. So far this year I've had 30 reports that I'm not making the scene anymore. You dig? It wouldn't be so bad if the story came from the same town or something."

"Like then I'd know it was

Raymond Massey To Star In New 'Kildare' Series

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Raymond Massey, who quails at the thought of removing a sliver from his finger, will star in the new "Dr. Kildare" television series.

Massey takes over the role of temperamental old Dr. Gillespie of removing a sliver from his finger, who started in 12 Barrymore, who started in 12 Barrymore versions of the popular splints and poultice polka.

"It's true," the actor said, "I'm not medically inclined, but my father-in-law and an uncle of mine were doctors."

"Personally, I could hardly bear to watch the operations performed on television. That's the reason I never became a policeman. I was afraid someday I'd have to deliver a baby."

The successful movie scribe began in 1938 with "The Young Kildare." Lew Ayres played the title role, later giving way to Van Johnson when Ayres' refusal to bear arms during World War II cooled his box office appeal.

But Barrymore stayed with the series even though his health broke down. He appeared in later episodes confined to a wheelchair.

"I've seen the old movie versions on television," Massey said. "But I won't be playing Dr. Gillespie as Barrymore did."

"The TV show will be different, too. Some of the movies were hardly identified with good old Blair General Hospital. The hospital will be the center of our operations," he said with an unintentional pun.

"Gillespie is a consultant and professor of medicine. Kildare (played by newcomer Richard Chamberlain) is a young intern who is under Gillespie's watchful eye. There will be some clinical scenes, all right, but it won't be one operation after another."

There is only one precedent for a doctor hero in a weekly series. "Medic" proved to be a spectacular success five years ago with Richard Boone in the lead role. It is surprising that copycat TV didn't follow up with another physician hero long before this.

Filmed at MGM for NBC-TV, "Dr. Kildare" will make its debut next September in an hour-long time slot.

The actor is untroubled by the fact that viewers are apt to wonder what Abraham Lincoln is doing in a hospital.

"I must admit, many people think I play nothing else but Lincoln roles," he concluded. "But really, I haven't played Mr. Lincoln that many times."

'Person' Show To Be Televised

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Charles Collingwood reads the papers in his CBS office, he jabs buttons his checked, laped waistcoat, puts his feet on the desk, and causes passersby to think:

"There's old Charley reading a paper; he isn't doing anything so we might as well drop in for a chat while he's not busy."

This is not too good for old Charley. He is very busy. He's doing his homework. Sunday he begins a new 15-minute weekly program—seen in New York only—called "WCBS-TV Views the Press." Since this is a critique, and he has to know whereof he is critiquing, he's got to plow through all New York papers, a good chunk of the big U.S. papers, and a mild chunk of the foreign press—plus news magazines and wire services.

Although this is purely a local program (for the present, at least), Collingwood will be back on the network this summer on a weekly basis in the person of one of the persons on the well-known "Person to Person."

When Collingwood succeeded Edward R. Murrow as host of "Person to Person" a couple of years ago, he converted the show to tape so he could broaden its scope by visiting homes overseas. "And so it happened," he said,

Movie Area Being Wrecked

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A railroad station is being demolished, a Chicago street and an Algerian square flattened and a western town leveled—with nary a bomb dropped on Southern California.

This wholesale destruction is taking place on 20th Century-Fox's back lot preparatory to building the $300 million Century City, a conglomeration of apartment buildings and shopping center.

Bulldozers and wrecking crews are tearing apart buildings and landscaped families to million of movie-goers. Progress, you know.

To old Hollywood hands it is a sad sight.

Among the first to go was a colonial mansion built for Shirley Temple's "The Little Colonel" back in 1934. Since then it has been used in some 35 pictures, including "Pinky," "Sanctuary," "Caddy Long Legs," "The Hunters" and "Carousel."

The studio is draining the "Chicago Lake," prominently starred in a dozen pictures, including "Little Old New York," "In Old Chicago," "Pirates of Tortuga" and "Black Swan."

Battering rams have taken over where cameras once rolled along "that when the program was canceled last winter, in a reshuffle of the Thursday night schedule, I still had eight shows in the bank. And it's embarrassing not to use them. When you invade a person's home with all that equipment and interview him and his family you incur a moral obligation to use it."

"Tombstone Street." Heroes and badmen no longer will shoot it out as they did in "Warlock," "Rawhide," "The Gunfighter" and "The Oxbow Incident."

And pretty girls in starched petticoats have vanished forever from the "New England Street."

It was along this shaded avenue that "State Fair" was filmed, along with "The Foxes of Harrow," "Good Morning Miss Dove" and scores of others. It, too, is being razed.

The colorful back lot has been a mecca for tourists who could relive the adventures of screen heroes and glamour girls. A tour of "The Egyptian Set," "The Stockade," "Washington Square" dredged up memories of stars such as Betty Grable, Tyrone Power, Jennifer Jones, Alice Faye, Marilyn Monroe and Gregory Peck.

Some 20 miles from the Beverly Hills site of the Fox lot is a spacious 2,300-acre ranch with a dozen permanent sets ready for use. But the tourist never got out there.

Finland Presents Paradox In Its Drinking Habits

HELSINKI (UPI) — A sociologist with a bent for the unusual might take the phenomenon that makes Finland both the most teetotaling and the most hard-drinking country in Europe.

With a per-capita consumption of 2.5 liters, or just under three quarts, of alcohol per year, Finland consumes less than any other country in Western Europe.

But in proportion to the actual amount consumed, Finland turns out more alcoholics than any other country on the continent.

Harik Wallgren, a young Finnish zoologist and physiologist, is no expert on sociology, so all he does is pose the question:

"Why has Finland more alcoholics than for example, France?"

Using some data gathered by other researchers and comes he dug up his answer. Wallgren comes up with a theory of his own:

"The greater the percentage of hard liquor in the total amount consumed, the greater the alcoholism rate in comparison with total consumption."

And Finland's liquid diet is more than three-fourths hard liquor.

Using some figures compiled for his study, "Some Social and Cul-

Inexpensive Idea

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — An Idaho legislator thinks he has the next candidate for the name-changing trend which makes state colleges into state universities.

State Rep. Carl Burt of Ada County says there is wide support for making Idaho State College into Idaho State University.

The University of Idaho is the other major state-supported school in the Gem State. "I won't cost us anything," Burt argues.

"Natural Aspects of Alcoholism," published by the Canadian Psychological Association, Wallgren noted that drinking habits vary greatly from country to country.

France, with a per capita consumption of some 17 liters (almost 18 quarts) of alcohol annually, does about two-thirds of its drinking from the wine bottle. The average Italian drinks little more than half of the amount the Frenchman consumes, and drinks an even greater percentage of wine. The Belgian drinks about 7.5 liters of alcohol a year, according to these figures, and becomes makes up about 90 per cent of the liquid diet.

Perhaps, Wallgren theorizes, geography and climate play some role, since Finland, Sweden and Norway, in that order are, Europe's biggest consumers of hard liquor.

Nylon, U.S. Glamour Product Widely Used By Many Industries

NEW YORK (UPI)— Although nylon is best known as a glamour fiber used in stockings, sweaters and rugs, it has all the he-man qualities useful in commerce and industry.

The use of nylon by American industry has doubled since 1950—from 10-12 million pounds to 25-30 million last year.

As an engineering material, nylon is especially useful in the chemical, mechanical and electrical industries where its chemical and corrosion resistance and its insulation characteristics have opened new sales for the plastic.

Nylon parts have high strength and wear resistance and offer high resilience, according to its manufacturers. One of its most appealing features, however, is its frictional characteristics. A nylon part generally requires little or no lubrication when used as a sliding surface.

Evidence of nylon's growing use in industry was seen recently by the entry in the National Metals Show of the Polymer Corp., a industrial plastics manufacturer.

Polymer has pioneered the development of nylon in semi-finished shapes for industry since 1946. Through its research nylon has bridged the gap from textiles to industry, largely through discovery of means for producing it in rod, plate, strip and tubing.

Polymer says it now produces and maintains one of the widest assortments of nylon shapes and sizes to be found anywhere.

Typical industrial uses for nylon shapes are for machining and stamping into gears, cams, valves, washers, rollers, insulating blocks, and general wear parts in machinery.

Representative end uses are as bearing retainers in missile gyroscopes, as gears and cams in electric razors and appliances, as rollers guiding oven doors, or as casters for rolling heavy machinery and furniture.

Polymer noted that nylon also can be manufactured into high strength, corrosion resistant hose.

Humus is decayed vegetable or animal matter.

GE Executives Urged To Appear Before Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., urged top management officials of the General Electric Company to come before the Senate antitrust subcommittee and tell what they know about illegal price-rigging plots.

"I'm sure the men ultimately in command would want to clarify the record," Hart said.

Hart spoke as subcommittee chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., issued subpoenas for 4 of the 16 GE executives who February were found guilty of involvement in a plot to rig prices on electrical equipment.

Among them is George E. Burnes, of Pepper Pike Village, Ohio, formerly general manager of GE's Switchgear and Control Division in Philadelphia. Burnes spent 30 days in jail and was fined $4,000. He will testify Tuesday.

Kefauver also called Clarence E. Burke, of Villanova, Pa., former general manager of the division's high voltage department; H. Frank Hentschel, of Schenectady, N. Y., former general manager of medium voltage; and Frank E. Stehlik, of Gladwayne, Pa., who managed low voltage switchgear.

The subcommittee heard middle echelon executives testify this week that they risked reputation and liberty to engage in the plot because they feared

Defense Lawyers Seek Eichmann Trial Witnesses

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann's defense attorneys said Saturday a drive has begun for witnesses in Germany willing to testify for the accused Nazi mass murderer.

Assistant defense counsel Dieter Wechtenbruch flew to Germany Friday to search out potential witnesses.

According to reliable sources here, he will try to find Wilhelm Hoettle, one of Eichmann's Gestapo aides during World War II. Hoettle reportedly is living somewhere in West Germany.

Wechtenbruch, according to reports, also may try to obtain testimony from Aloisius Cardinal Muench, of Fargo, N.D. Muench was the Vatican representative in Germany in 1946 and Papal Nuncio to West Germany from 1949 to 1959. The American cardinal now is at the Vatican.

Through his many contacts, Muench was reported to have attempted to intervene with Eichmann several times on behalf of Jewish prisoners during World War II.

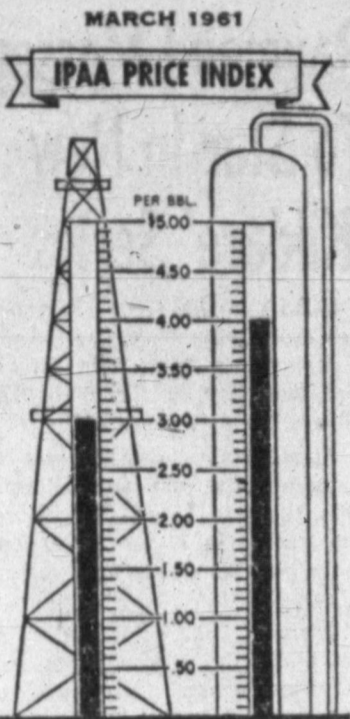

Robert Servatius, Eichmann's chief defense counsel, said that he faces almost unconquerable difficulties in getting former Nazis to come to Jerusalem to identify Eichmann. He pointed out that the Israelis have refused to guarantee safe-conduct and that witnesses also risk arrest when they return to West Germany on the basis of their evidence.

Israeli Attorney General Gideon Hausner, the chief prosecutor, last week said he is willing to accept affidavits from witnesses in West Germany, or testimony given through a commission before a West German judge.

A spokesman of Servatius' office said this latter solution, which would allow for a limited form of cross-examination, is probably what Wechtenbruch would seek to arrange.

Meanwhile, it has become clear that Eichmann intends to denounce as liars all his former aides and associates in the Gestapo who testified against him after the war.

Much of the prosecution's case is based on testimony taken at the Nuernberg war crimes trials

Algerian Revolt Chances Remote, Writer Asserts

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The revolt of the French generals in Algiers is an act of desperation with only the remotest chance of success.

For it is a rebellion not only against Gen. Charles de Gaulle's plan for an independent Algeria, it also is a revolt against De Gaulle himself and to succeed it must topple De Gaulle.

But for De Gaulle, it also is a forceful reminder that the success of his plan for Algeria depends upon the Army.

The indications are today that the bulk of the French armed forces remain loyal to him.

This correspondent witnessed the Algerian referendum last January in which more than 60 percent of the Algerian voters cast their ballot in favor of De Gaulle's plan for Algerian self-determination.

It was carried out under the protective guns of some of the same foreign legion paratroopers who today support the rebel generals.

Along the roadsides, the burned out hulks of automobiles bore silent witness to the violence which has torn Algeria for more than six years and which, in the vent of success for the rebel generals, would be renewed with even greater intensity.

Two elements, both extreme plans.

One element is composed of veteran senior officers who lived through the defeats of France in World War II, and later at Dien Bien Phu in Indochina.

To them, the surrender of Algeria only represents another defeat. Their leader is Gen. Raoul Salan, former high commander in Algeria, who also is reported heading the present uprising.

The other element is composed of hard-core right wing civilians whose chief spokesman in France is Jacques Soustelle, like Salan another former ardent supporter of De Gaulle.

Aligned with Salan and Soustelle are the Algerian "Colons," the European settlers in Algeria who are determined that "Algeria is French."

These were the elements who clashed with forces loyal to De Gaulle last December.

They were quickly crushed, as it may be expected the present uprising will be crushed.

Briton Aims To Attract Travellers

LONDON (UPI) — Despite the fact tourism is now a competitive business, Britain could double its tourist traffic in five years from 1960's total of 1,670,000 foreign visitors, a travel expert contends.

This would entail the country waking up to the travel business and becoming "tourist-minded," said Sir William Mabane.

The newly appointed chairman of the British Travel and Holidays Association told its council that domestic travel trade should find out more about the requirements of foreign visitors and try to satisfy them.

Britain — a late-comer in the business — currently is earning 270 million pounds ($756 million) a year from tourism, but Mabane questioned whether the industry is doing enough to attract visitors.

He called on the home travel trade to divert its main energies to selling travel in Britain to foreign countries.

Mabane thought it "not impossible" that this country could earn money from traffic coming from the continent which would equal the cost of British traffic to Europe in the next few years — but it is "a stirring challenge," he said.

Competition is growing, he added. North America is giving keen competition for traffic from Mexico, Japan, Hawaii and the West Indies. In Europe, Greece and Austria are achieving successes "equal to the urgency of their efforts," he said, and the activities of the established tourist countries are unflagging.

The travel chief said his organization was "relatively starved" when it came to spending on tourism advertising. On a population basis, Ireland is spending 12 times as much per head as Britain.

State's Tourist Industry Drops, Report Reveals

AUSTIN (SpI) — The Texas tourist industry continued its headlong decline during 1960. The Lone Star State lost a million out-of-state visitors last year, according to the 1960 Texas Tourist Industry Report released by the Texas Highway Department.

ORGANIST COMING — The Pampa Chapter of the American Guild of Organists will present Ronald Dawson, organist, in a recital Mon., April 24, at 8 p.m. in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. The public is cordially invited to attend. Dawson is professor of organ at Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas. The program will be "Prelude and Fugue in E Minor" (Buxtehude), "Recitativo Nazard" (Clerambault), "Sonata in E-Flat" (Bach), "Chorale in A Minor" (Franck), "Two Chorale Preludes" (Pepping, Walcha), and "Hymn of Thanksgiving" (Langlais).

Pampa Realtors Join In Marking National Week

The Pampa Real Estate Board is joining this week with hundreds of other boards over the nation in the observance of Realtors Week, it was announced last night by Jim Dailey, president of the local board.

Dailey said purpose of the week is to stress the increasingly important professional services of realtors to persons buying and selling real estate.

The realtors and other civic and city officials are calling for observance of the week to inform citizens of the role of the realtor and the code of ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The code that governs the business standards of realtors, Dailey stated, is based on the Golden Rule and is more exacting in its requirements than state license laws for real estate brokers and salesmen.

"During this week we hope to impress upon the public's mind that a realtor is more than just any real estate broker," Dailey said. "Being a member of the local real estate board and NAREB, he meets the requirements of these groups for demonstrated competence and business ethics before receiving the right to be designated a Realtor."

Water Area Land Sales Bill Okayed

AUSTIN BUREAU — Lands acquired through foreclosure of liens by water improvements districts could be sold at private sales without prior notice under provisions of a bill passed by the House of Representatives.

Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of Mission, author of the measure, said the bill follows the language of the existing water control law.

"I don't know of a instance where the provision for private sale of this property has been abused," De la Garza said. "And water attorneys tell me they have been able to get better prices for lands when they are permitted to be sold at public sales."

De la Garza said he had not asked Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville whether he would sponsor the bill in the Upper chamber, but assumed he would.

Both chambers of Congress were recessed for the weekend today. Only a few committee meetings were scheduled, negotiators privately.

However, the bill stipulates that lands originally acquired by water districts and found to be surplus must be advertised and disposed of by public sale.

He also said none of them was taking place while he was in government service or had anything to do with government service.

He said he grossed $314,700 on a $10,300 investment in two surplus tanker deals.

Promising New Method Claimed For Helping Mentally Stricken

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI) — A group of union musicians donating their time — fill the patients' day.

Some of the patients, before the program was started, hadn't been off the hospital grounds in 18 years. Afterward, some showed such favorable reaction to those around them that hospital authorities were able to move them to an "improved" ward — a big stepping stone to the patient.

"What these people need," Mrs. Brown said, "is the knowledge that someone cares for them. Years ago they were locked-up and forgotten. Our idea is to get them out in the open in society again."

The DAV's national convention adopted a resolution urging state and federal governments to establish rehabilitation centers and use the "Santa Cruz Plan."

The plan was given a big boost last year by Dr. R. H. Felix, director of the U.S. Institute of Mental Health who said, "As your type of program is carried forward in more communities throughout the nation, we will most certainly have made one of the greatest gains in efforts to overcome the problem of mental illness."

Rev. Ed Muegge Jr. of Santa Cruz, national publicity officer for the DAV project and a former chaplain of the California DAV

Patrol Reports 15 Rural Traffic Mishaps In April

The Highway Patrol investigated 15 rural accidents in Gray County during the month of March, according to Sergeant E. G. Albers, Highway Patrol supervisor of the Pampa area.

These wrecks accounted for five persons injured, and a property damage of $6,378.

This brings the total for 1961 in this county to one killed, 30 injured, and a property damage of $16,664.

"Knowing and obeying traffic laws is a must-in-traffic safety," the sergeant added. "If all motorists would obey traffic laws, our accidents and fatalities would decrease sharply."

"For instance, the driver of a vehicle about to enter or cross a highway from a private road or driveway shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on said highway. The driver can safely perform this maneuver by waiting until he can enter the roadway without interfering with other vehicles and accelerating immediately to the normal safe driving speed and blend with the flow of traffic in the area," the sergeant explained.

group, called the plan "as important to the mental patient as surgery is to the physical patient."

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

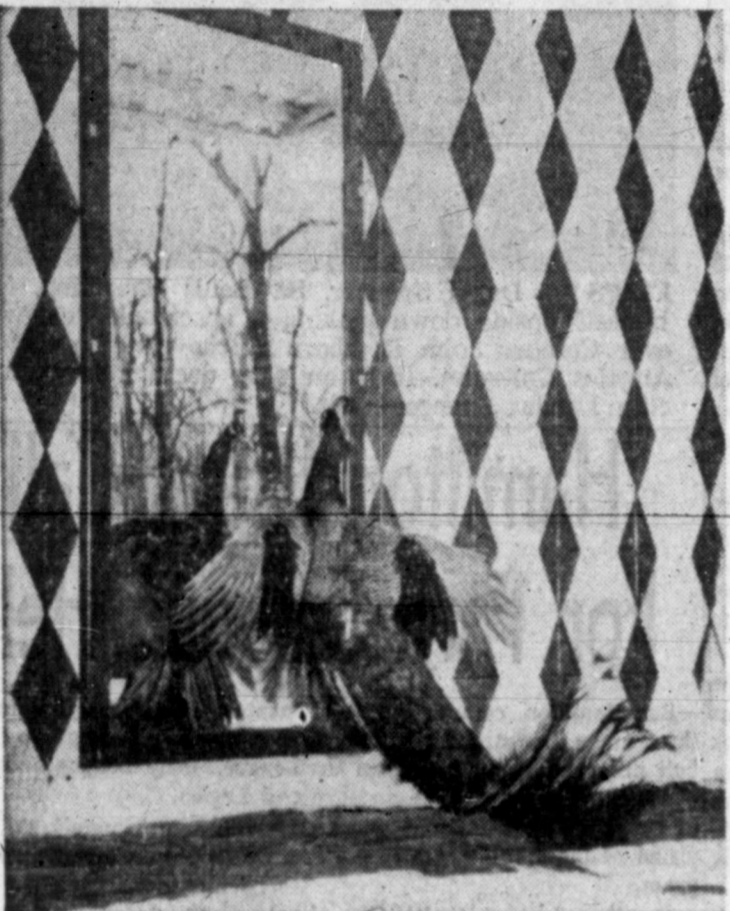

GATHERING THE NEWS—Thomas Tesi pauses for a minute or two in his work to catch up with the latest news. Tom, who has been a refuse collector for almost 40 years, is taking his "news break" on New York's Third Avenue.

READY FOR TAKE-OFF?—Turning a street in Dallas, Tex., into a kind of launching pad, this lumber truck looks about ready to shoot up into space. Actually, it's just waiting to be rescued by a tow truck. When the driver shifted gears to turn a corner, his load of 18-foot-long lumber slid backwards, which threw the truck out of balance and left it in this embarrassing position. At least it gave the people on the corner something to look at.

MAKING A PASS—Normally closed by snow until May, the 5,000-foot-high Col du Pillon Pass is already open for normal traffic. Though snow banks still tower over this small automobile, it is able to climb through the Swiss Alps without any trouble, thanks to early spring weather and the workmen who used giant snowplows to clear a path.

MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL . . .—This angry peacock at the Memphis, Tenn., Zoo is unleashing his fury at his own image in the mirror. The proud and jealous bird spread his wings, pecked with his beak and clawed with his feet, but he found it impossible to destroy his new-found rival.

AIR CONDITIONED—Air conditioned coats for spring wear enter upon the scene in Paris. Light and airy as a springtime breeze, this white wool coat by Lesur of Paris is buttonless and bound in navy blue shantung. It provides pretty topping for the late spring and all summer long. This should solve the problem of what to wear on cool nights.

GETTING RID OF THE SEA DUST—Even with 185 million gallons of water, these pretty mermaids at Weeki Wachee, Brooksville, Fla., have to get on with their "spring-cleaning." The underwater home they are sprucing up is the largest single spring in Florida. The girls seem to enjoy it.

GROUND HOSSESSES GO UP—Ground hoesesses get into the air at last, out it's only a brief "flight" on a cargo lift. The lovely gals, who work at Frankfurt's Rhine-Main Airport, got in some sun-bathing during their lunch hour. Well, they can dream, can't they?

CUPID MAKES HEADWAY—"Hello, Young Lovers" is a song made in order for this young couple as they put their heads together in a romantic springtime interlude. In the middle of the day, Eddie Corse and Erica Bertone turned an ordinary Brooklyn, N. Y., street into a lovers' lane.

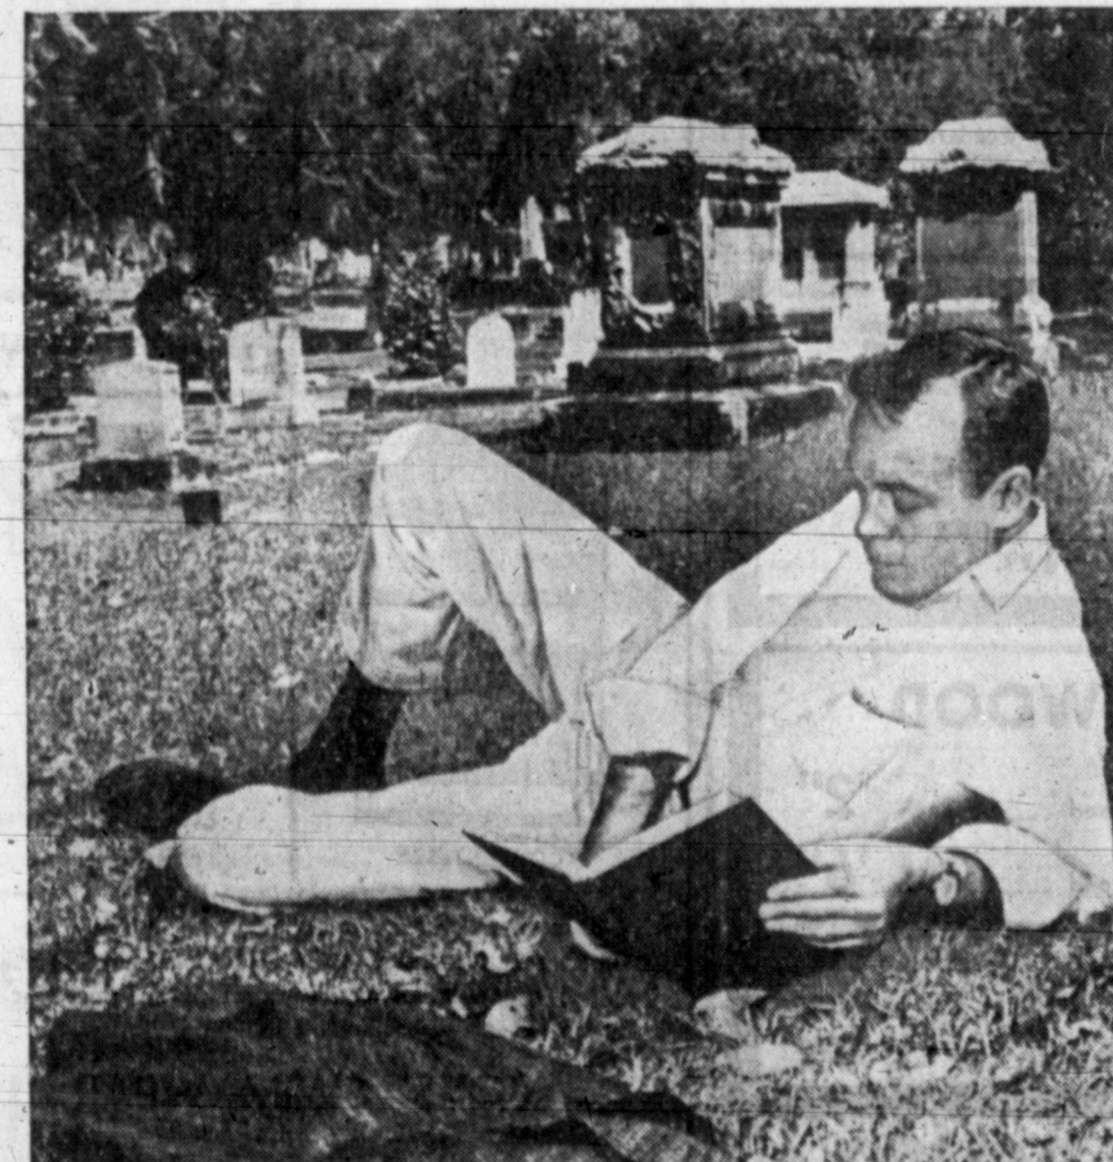

THIS HAT IS FOR THE BIRDS—This alert young parakeet in Rochester, N. Y., sits on her perch while trying out a new hat that was presented to her. She is wearing a stiff-brimmed sailor decked with colorful blooms and green veils. Like any female, she seems unable to make up her mind.

WHO'S AFRAID?—Riding a mighty lioness is easy when the beast is just a statue. Denise de Stefano, 2½, just couldn't resist climbing on the back of the metal mama lion who is giving a bath to her cub. The statue is located at the entrance to Prospect Park in New York.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN—AND BRONZE—No back seat driver is this life-sized-bronze head being carried to the Royal Academy of Art in London by Dr. J. Wilczynski. The head, the work of the doctor's wife, was encased in blankets for its trip to the academy, where it was to be exhibited.

A GOOD PLOT—Buried in a textbook, Florida State University graduate student John Gates likes to study in an old cemetery near the university in Tallahassee. He's been doing it for 18 months and he claims it's much quieter here than in the library.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER—A perfect fit is this sweater, newly-knitted for Amos, a monkey at the Whipsnade, England, Zoo. His friend was a little late with the garment, but there are bound to be some cool-evenings later.

HEADS OR TAILS?—If you take a fast look, you might think this is some fantastic cross between a zebra and a dachshund. But it would have to be pretty fast. One zebra is looking out of its home to see what's going on while the other remains inside.

NTSC Sets New Distance Medley Mark

Texas Athletes Pace Kansas Relays Field

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)—North Texas State blazed a record in the distance medley relay, but Baylor hogged the spotlight by winning five events Saturday in the 36th annual Kansas Relays.

In a day of triumph for athletes from the Lone Star State, Texas Southern set two other records and Howard Payne College of Texas added a fourth in the college division.

North Texas' team of Richard Bothmer, John Spencer, Richard Menchace, and John Cooper blazed the distance medley in 9:49.3, the best time of the season and 1.5 seconds better than the old Kansas Relays record set by Oklahoma in 1958.

Texas Southern broke its own one-day-old record in winning the college quarter-mile relay in 41.0 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than its mark in the preliminaries, and added a second record in relays annals with a 1:26.0 clocking in the half-mile relay.

toward Payne knocked almost eight seconds off the old relays record in setting a standard of 7:32.0 in the college two-mile relay.

Versatile Bill Kemp of Baylor won the 100-yard dash and anchored the Bears' victorious teams in the quarter-mile and half-mile relays.

Kemp's time of 10.1 seconds in the century put him just ahead of runnerup Mike Steel of McMurry (Tex.) College and Ralph Alspaugh of Texas to give the state a sweep in that event.

Baylor's team of Roy Smalley, David Bennett, Flynn Fields and Kemp edged Houston for the quarter-mile title with a time of 40.8 seconds.

The Baylor team, with David Alexander running in place of Bennett, also captured the half-mile relay in 1:25.1.

John Fry of Baylor won the shot put with a 57.3 effort, and Bob Mellgren added a fifth first place for the Bears when he led the field in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Another Baylor athlete, Eddie Curtis, finished in a three-way tie for first place in the high

HAM RICHARDSON stuns Fraser

Richardson Upsets Aussie Star

DALLAS (UPI)—Ham Richardson, an investment banker who plays tennis in his spare time, upset Australian Neale Fraser, the world's No. 1 amateur, Saturday in straight sets to sweep the Dallas Country Club invitational tennis tournament.

Richardson displayed exceptional volleying at the net and broke Fraser's serve frequently as he downed the U.S. and Wimbledon champion, 8-6 and 6-4.

Fraser seemed bothered by the gusty winds which swept the Dallas Country Club court. He came back with two fine lobs in the final game to make it 6-5; Dallaste Bernard (Tut) Barzen, but Richardson forced an error, who overcame Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn in two extended sets, 9-7, 8-6.

Australians Fraser, Rod Laver and Roy Emerson dominated the play and Laver won the singles crown. But, Laver was ousted in Friday's quarter-finals by Holmberg, and Richardson whipped Emerson.

Westerners Corral Pampa, 3-0

Dement Limits PHS To Three Safeties

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK — Lubbock's Westerners, using a different fiddling pitcher, strummed out the same song, second verse here Friday afternoon as they blanked the visiting Pampa Harvesters, 3-0, in a District 3-4A baseball game.

Friday's 3-0 score was identical with the one when the two clubs played at Pampa two weeks ago; however, Pampa collected four times as many hits Friday as Lubbock's Gary Dement allowed four scattered hits to the losing PHS nine.

Jerry Glover was the victim, losing his fourth game of the season and third by a shutout. Glover gave up only six hits — all singles — but four of the hits came in the last two innings to plate two of the three runs.

Lubbock, trying to keep pace with cross-town rival Monterey which defeated Berger, 6-1, also here Friday afternoon, broke a scoreless deadlock in the third inning on a walk, a two-base throwing error by Keith Gregory and a long sacrifice fly by Phil Johnson.

The Westerners got a man on fourth, then erupted for a run in the fifth on a single and an error on the same play and a RBI single by Jerry Don Balch, Lubbock catcher. Lubbock hung up its last run in the sixth on a leadoff single by Ricky Barrett, a stolen base and a run-scoring single by pinch-hitter David Whiteside.

Pampa never moved a man past second base Friday, although Butch Crossland made it to the keystone sack twice; once on a single and again on a walk before dying there.

The Harvesters' other hits were a beautiful bunt single by Mike Stewart in the fourth frame and a single off Dement's glove in the second by Gerrell Owens.

Larry Stroud, Harvester first baseman, set the good crowd buzzing in the sixth inning when he led off with a long drive to the left center field fence that was gathered in by Lubbock's Gary Knowles inches away from the fence.

The loss was Pampa's sixth in nine 3-4A games and left Lubbock with a 9-2 mark in conference play.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI)— Mexico defeated Costa Rica, 6-4, and Panama beat Guatemala, 10-5, Friday night in playoff rounds of the Caribbean amateur baseball world series.

DIRECT HIT — Harold (Babe) Simmons was caught punching Obdulio Nunez on the nose at the St. Nicholas Arena in New York. Nunez, Uuerto Rican middleweight, won in 10 rounds.

National Am Champion Accepts Colonial Bid

FORT WORTH (UPI)—National Amateur Champ Deane Beman and Oklahoma Charles Coe, who came within a stroke of winning this year's Masters title, have been added to the 54-man field for the 16th annual Colonial Invitational Golf Tournament.

The two top amateurs were added for the 1961 edition of the $40,000 tournament May 10-14 by special invitation. Inclusion of the two top amateurs will raise the tournament field to 56 — the first time in history more than 54 players have competed.

It will also be the first time in three years that amateur players have taken part in the four-day, 72-hole classic. It will be the first trip to Colonial for Beman, winner of the Trans-Mississippi and Eastern amateur championships. For Coe, a 37-year-old Oklahoma City man, it will make his seventh appearance in the tournament.

The pronghorn antelope can outrun a man when it is only four days old.

Sports Briefs

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Bill Dewitt, vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, became a grandfather for the first time Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Bell Jr., the former Donna Dewitt, gave birth to a son Saturday in a St. Louis hospital. Dewitt had been in St. Louis during the week awaiting the happy event.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Tennessee-A&I track officials said Saturday they just learned world record broadjumper Ralph Boston has exhausted his eligibility to compete in NCAA meets.

Boston is a senior at A&I and won an Olympic gold medal last year, breaking a decades-old record by Jesse Owens. He has competed in A&I track meets since his freshman year.

HONOLULU (UPI)—Eight-foot swells and 10-knot winds Saturday forced Greta Andersen to postpone until Saturday night her attempt to swim the 26-mile Molokai channel.

The 30-year-old Danish Olympic star had been on Kawakui beach on the westernmost tip of Molokai Island since 10 o'clock Friday night (3 p.m. est Saturday) waiting for the waters to calm.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh team in the new American Basketball League will be known as "The Renaissance" — Rens for short — it was announced Saturday.

Plainsmen Rip 'Dogs In Crucial

LUBBOCK — Iron Man Donnie Bumpass won his third game in six days here Friday afternoon as he twirled a two-hitter to give the District 3-4A leading Monterey Plainsmen a 6-1 victory over Berger's Bulldogs.

The win was Monterey's ninth without a loss while the defeat left Berger (4-3) all but out of the conference race.

Borger tied the game at 1-1 in the fourth inning on a homer by Shortstop Gary Temple but Monterey exploded for five runs in the last two innings to sew up the important win and hand the loss to Bob Connely.

Borger — 000 100 0-1 2 3
Monterey — 001 023 x-6 7 1

PLAINVIEW — Palo Duro's streaking Dons wrapped up their third straight District 3-4A victory here Friday afternoon with a 6-3 win over the Plainview Bulldogs.

Austin Winter was the loser, with six Plainview errors pushing him along to his defeat, while Wayland Daniel picked up the win.

AMARILLO — Amarillo Tascosa upped its District 3-4A mark to 4-4 here Friday afternoon with a 2-0 shutout of Amarillo's Sandies. Both teams collected three hits and committed four errors in the close-fought game.

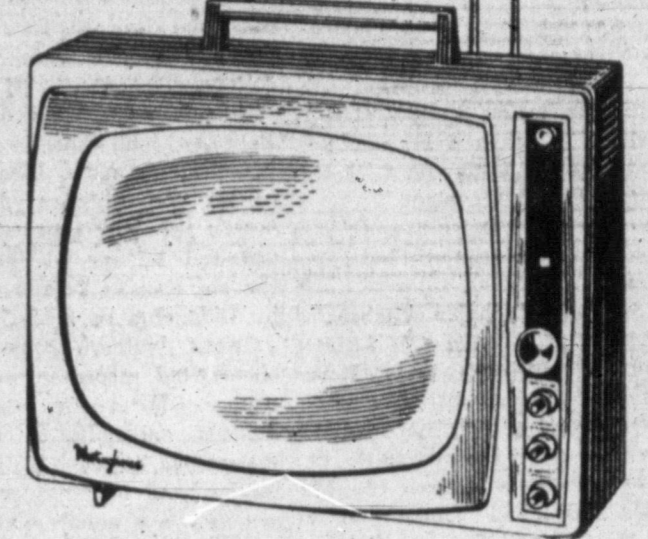

Chris Gibbs was the winner in the two-man duel, with Bobby Diggs absorbing the loss.

WELL, YOU COULD finally get into those last-year's shorts last week for a couple of days and feel comfortable.

INTERESTING NOTES there was a Panhandle Penwomen's meeting held last week. and we heard that one story that was read at the workshop session had the absolutely fascinating title "Chopped Setters and River Bottoms".

NOTE from Rebecca McCann In winter I am stern and strong, my thoughts are cold and high. My intellect is thawing now — Three cheers for Spring, say!

SPRING NOTES as you are aware, rebuds and tulips are blooming. heard that Sandy Williams and Aleith Curry have ordered hundreds of beautiful caladiums to plant in their yards this summer.

NOW HEAR THIS or rather read this... home notes run thusly. Leone and Loyal Davies are building a home and the little bird told us that it will be oriented around Leone's extensive art and craft work.

OTHER NOTES we wish we could be in Tom and Jean Braly's house, at this season, and be upstairs to have a sky view of the tremendous display of lilacs soon to be on view at C. P. Buckler's home.

ONE PROBLEM SOON TO BE ENCOUNTERED by everyone... is well expressed by this: Upon the growing list of those I soon shall have to rise and slay are countless souls who ask me if it's hot enough for me today!

AROUND TOWN Teed and "Doc" Hicks are in Colorado Springs attending a dental convention.

GRANT-CALDWELL

Children's Play Set For Tuesday

"Beauty and the Beast" will be presented by the High School Children's Theater group on Wednesday, April 26, at 4 p.m. The play, written by Jesse Beers, Jr., and produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc., is sponsored by the American Association of University Women. Admission will be 25 cents.

The cast of Pampa High School students are: Sue Price, Lewis Isom, Jim Jenkins, Dian Huff, Mickey Cox, Don Sears, Gordon Balch, Susan White, Wynama Stout, and Beja Lovelless, with Randy Geisler doing the stage set.

Beauty is a beautiful peasant girl that lives alone with her father in a small cottage not far from the enchanted castle of the Beast! She refuses to marry a shepherd named Amos, insisting she is in love with the Beast, whom she saw in a dream, not as the Beast, but as a handsome Prince!

Amos and Beauty's father try to prevent Beauty from going to the Beast, but the Beast hears of Beauty's love and feels he loves her, too. He sends his dwarfed servant with a gift of a magic mirror to Beauty. When Beauty looks into the mirror, she first sees the Beast as the Enchanted Prince whom she saw in the dream, then she sees the horribly ugly Beast. She feels sorrow and pity for the terrible Beast and goes with the dwarf to the Beast's Castle to visit him.

While Beauty is at the Castle, she tries to find a way to release the Beast from his horrible spell. She refuses to leave the Castle even when her father and Amos come to rescue her and kill the Beast. She finally finds the courage to say the words that break the enchantment that returns the Beast back to the handsome Prince.

Mrs. Enloe Has TEL Class Meet

The TEL Sunday School Class of Central Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Enloe, 514 Yeager for its monthly business and social meeting.

Mrs. Pearl Erwin offered the opening prayer.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. E. O. Etheredge, president, Mrs. W. G. Gooding gave the secretary's report.

Mrs. C. G. Miller gave the devotion taken from the sixth chapter of Matthew followed by prayer.

Mrs. Lelia Gomer was in charge of entertainment.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attending were Meses. R. E. Warren, C. M. Tucker, E. O. Ether-edge, W. G. Gooding, Sam Bray, W. O. Grace, Catherine Osborn, Pearl Erwin, Dora Poe, L. A. Baxter, Lelia Gomer, F. M. Burnett, C. G. Miller.

Mrs. Warren, class teacher, gave the closing prayer.

Potatoes are always a good buy. Although they may be fattening, they still make up the bulk of many daily diets. For this reason, homemakers should be good potato shoppers. Choose potatoes that are firm and sound, reasonable clean and free of cuts and blemishes. Also avoid those with green-colored spots because these give a bitter taste.

Dear Abby...

There Are Two Ways To Look!

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to the wife of the man who "liked to look" amazed me. And you call yourself an advice expert! What do you mean, "Just because a man is on a diet doesn't mean he can't look at the menu?"

My husband's hobby was "looking at menus." (He would order occasionally, too.) I finally had to call in a lawyer to get him back on his regular diet. Anyone who says "cooking is harmless" doesn't know the half of it.

DEAR OUGHT TO KNOW

DEAR OUGHT: A man can look at a woman in TWO ways. One is with "lust" — which is wrong. The other is with "admiration." When God created beauty in nature he endowed man with the intelligence to appreciate it. A beautiful woman (unlike the prairie flower) was not "born to blush unseen and to waste her fragrance on the desert air."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that my husband can waltz but not jitterbug, and I just love to jitterbug. Last Saturday night when we were out, my girl friend asked me to jitter with her. My husband said NO, I couldn't. I was so mad I felt like getting up and dancing with her anyway, but didn't.

When we got home I asked my husband why he didn't let me dance with her and he said it was not ladylike for a girl to dance with another girl in public. I say he is wrong, and he says he is right. We have this problem every time we go out. Please put your answer in the paper before next Saturday night because it will save another argument.

LOVES TO JITTER

DEAR LOVES: Your husband is right. Girls dance with other girls only when there are no men to dance with. Either teach him to jitter or slow down to a waltz.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I received a 50th wedding anniversary invitation for a six o'clock dinner and dance. I was so pleased with the invitation until I read in the lower left-hand corner of the card: $6.00 a couple. We will not attend the party, of course. Is this something new? Or have people always made up parties and asked the guests to pay

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Frequently people will get together and make up a "Dutch Treat" or "No Host" party. But they are planned with the understanding that each guest pays his own way. They do send invitations to others and ask them to participate.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE WITH A SNAKE": Don't let him rattle you.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Vows Told

Mrs. E. E. Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Martin, 1120 E. Francis, announce the marriage of their daughter A/3c Julia R. Bronner to A/2c E. E. (Andy) Anderson, son of E. E. Anderson of Springfield, Ill. Vows were repeated on Mar. 27 in an army chapel by Chaplain M. Hall. Ernest Everhart served as best man and Sylvia Craig as maid of honor. For her wedding, the bride wore a Winter White suit with black accessories and carried a white Bible. The couple are making their home at 116th E. 7. in Summerville, S.C.

Mrs. Chapman Is Class Hostess

The Fellowship Class of the First Christian Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Ann Chapman, 2010 Hamilton. Mrs. Teresa Humphreys, president, gave a history of the hymn "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

Prayer was led by Lyda Gilchrist. Thanks from the church choir were extended by Mrs. Chapman for the check given them to purchase music. A discussion of plans to improve the church entry followed, but no decision was made. It was decided to investigate the needs of this project further. The report on the entry was to be given to the Building Committee.

The h devotional, "The Lord's Prayer Has No Idle Words," was given by Mrs. Hortense King. The members then discussed the John Birch Society, with reports given by Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Marie Jones. The meeting closed with "The Lord's Prayer" said in unison by the members.

Refreshments were served to eight members.

Miss Paula Roe Lowe

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lowe of Skellytown announce the approaching nuptials of their daughter, Paula Roe to Jackie Lee Burns, son of Mrs. Florette Burns of White Deer and the late Ivan Burns. Wedding vows will be solemnized on June 17 in the White Deer Baptist Church.

TEL Class With Mrs. Doug Woods

GROOM (Spl) — The T.E.L. Baptist Sunday school class met in the home of Mrs. Doug Woods recently for lunch and a business session. Mrs. Frank Burgin had charge of the business session. Bible study has led by Mrs. Jeff Gray.

Attending were Meses. Pete Fields, Alice Ward, Jim Eschle, Willie Ragsdale, Jeff Gray, Frank Burgin, Mrs. Pearl Robinson of Panhandle and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Wood.

Shabby, canvas awnings can be refurbished with special awning paints in new colors. These paints protect the canvas too.

Fellowship Class Has Social Meet

GROOM (Spl) — The Wesley Fellowship Class of the Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Moreman with Mrs. Walter Fraser as assistant hostess. Game of 42 were played by member.

Guests were Meses. and Meses. E. C. Goodlett, Manuel Ruthard, C. L. Culver, Roy Ritter, Van Earl Steed, S. K. Roach, C. A. Morrow, Nath Helton, Ross Nix, Mrs. Nell Knight and the Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Copeland.

For those who haven't tried an egg shampoo and would like to, this is how it is done. Take a well-beaten egg, pour it over the scalp a couple of times and then rinse. You'll get a more thorough rinse if you don't use hot water. Many use just the egg whites but both yolk and whites may be used although the yolk is harder to rinse out.

Special guests, who participated in the program, were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hambric of Amarillo. "Contemporary Music" was the program theme carried out by Mrs. Lois Fagan. Included in the program was "The Three Fantastic Dances" by Shostakovich played by Bill Haley, who prefaced the selection with his original comments. Mrs. J. I. Duke played Aragon by Longas, which was followed by an ensemble performance of the three Bartok Dances, Bulgarian Rhythm, A Short Canon and Its Inversions, and New Hungarian Folk Song with Mmes. Fagan, W. M. Cooper, Fidelia Yoder and Annabelle Whaley performing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hambric presented "Recuerdos" by Santos and "Brazillera" from the Scarmanouche Suite by Darius Milhaud. In contrast to the contemporary vein the Bach Toccato and Fugue were played on four pianos by the Hambrics, Tracy Cary and Mrs. Yoder.

Auditions To Get Underway Friday

The National Piano Auditions will get underway Friday in the First Methodist Church when Mrs. Few Brewster of Austin, Guild adjudicator, begins the annual hearings. Pampa has been one of the hundreds of cities which are Guild Centers since 1946.

Students of six area teachers will be heard during the five-day period. These include Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, Guild chairman, Mrs. Lois Fagan, Tracy D. Cary of Pampa, Mrs. Willie Boyett and Mrs. Frank Rogers of McLean, and Mrs. H. C. Brannon of Shamrock.

Students will earn various types of certificates and pins according to the amount of work prepared. For two of three pieces, they receive Local Certificates; for four to six pieces, District Certificates. A seven to nine piece program entitles the student to a State Certificate; ten to fourteen pieces a National, while from fifteen to twenty pieces earns for the student an International Certificate and pin.

Attached to each certificate is also the student's Report Card on which the judge writes the constructive criticism which is of value to student and teacher.

These Piano Auditions, which are much like musical "track meets", were set up by Irl Allison in Abilene thirty years ago, and have grown to such proportions that now over 60,000 players are heard by 200 judges. Besides the certificates and pins, there are also available to students, diplomas, medals and scholarships. A Recording Festival and a Composition Test are also sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

Musical Program Given At Chapter

CANADIAN (Sp) — The P.E.O. held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Teas recently with Mrs. Willia Ayers as co-hostess.

The musical program was opened by Mrs. Teas and Mrs. George Earl Tubb playing an organ and piano duet, "Easter Fantasy" by Kholmann. Mrs. Tubb and Mrs. Robert Dillman presented piano duets "Begin the Beguine" and "Stardust."

Mrs. Teas played "The Bells of St. Mary's" on the organ. Frank Carver sang three solos, "If I Loved You", "This Nearly Was Mine" and "M'Appari Tutt' Amor."

Piano solos concluded the program with Mrs. Dillman playing "Younger Than Springtime," "The Most Beautiful Girl in the World," and "My Romance." Mrs. Tubb selected "Night and Day," "To Each His Own" and "Tenderly."

Those attending were Miss Christine Stone, Frank Carver and members Mmes. Malouf Abraham, George Carver, John Glenn, John Isaacs, John Jones, Wm. Karr, Cap Kelley, Jack King, G. B. Mathers, Frank McMord's, Gober Mitchell, Dale Nix, E. H. Snyder, Carl Studer, F. D. Teas, George E. Tubb, Arthur Webb, Lee Witt, Wiley Wright, and Robert Dillman.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. H. M. MORRIS Senior Citizens Center

If this fine weather keeps up the beans and okra that we've planted at our house should be ready for the pot one of these days. . . but to business. . . in between dominoes, Canasta games and delicious refreshments on Thursday at the Center, I was able to get the following news items: . . . MRS. ETTA OWENS of Vantura has been a houseguest in the home of MRS. BULLOCK, 712 N. Somerville for the past week. . . MR. AND MRS. JOE MULLINS attended a family reunion at Childress last weekend. . . there were kin-folks from several counties. . . lots of good food and a good time was had by all. . . MRS. ESTELLE BURKETT of Lubbock was a visitor at the Center on Thursday. She is the sister of MRS. LOYSE CALDWELL. . . word was received from J. B. Montgomery by his daughter, MRS. STANLEY BRANDT, that he is looking fine now after his illness and is staying in the Corner House in Corner, Okla. He says he is missing the Senior Citizens and would be glad to hear from them. As you know, after you've been to one of the parties at the Center that you do miss them very much. Please write him and cheer him up. . . REECE MORTIMER, son of MRS. ANNA MORTIMER, has been chosen TEACHER OF THE YEAR at Permian High School in Odessa by popular vote of the entire student body. The honor was based on his thorough knowledge of his subject; his dealings with his classes; sense of humor; and his true love of teaching. Reece teaches American History and has been with the Odessa schools for five years. . . word has been received that IDA ALLEN is in the hospital at 4302 Willard Drive in West San Antonio. . . MRS. CHARLES THOMAS AND HER SON, CHARLIE, came to the center on Thursday looking for JAY FLANAGAN and they ran into so many old friends it was hard to tear themselves away; but there were so many other friends and relatives to see that they couldn't stay longer. . . a card of thanks has been received from Mrs. E. B. Smith, which reads: "Dear Senior Citizens: I want to thank you all for the lovely rosebud and vase you sent while I was in the hospital. It really gave me a lift. Thanks again. Mrs. E. B. Smith."

Solution To Malnutrition Offered In Talk At Alhambra HD Club Meeting

"Teen age girls are the poorest fed group in the United States," Geraldine Mayes agent, stated in a talk to members of Alhambra Home Demonstration Club at a meeting in the home of Miss Effie Meadows on Tuesday. Miss Mayes went on to say that teen agers, "and especially teen age girls were particularly poor in their calcium intake and in their Vitamin C." "Calcium is found mostly in milk," Miss Mayes stated, "and many teen-agers snack after school and even at night on soft drinks, instead of drinking milk, which means that their bones must supply the calcium stored up in bone marrow for emergencies, resulting in defective teeth and later, in brittle bones, because the body will rob the bones in order to remain reasonably healthy itself. Calcium also has a bearing on regulation of heart beat. "Vitamin C, found in citrus fruits and juices, is the one vitamin that is absolutely essential every day, because it is the vitamin which cannot be stored in the body," the agent stated. "Lack of vitamin C causes damaging of the walls of the blood vessels, and may be detected by gums that bleed easily and by a person's being easily bruised. Most people in this locality lack Vitamin C; people with many children because fruit is expensive and others because of lack of knowledge of its value in nutrition. "Vitamins B are hard to come by because found in so few foods in large quantities, iron is lacking in young men's diets and is found in quantity in green vegetables and in organic meats. Vitamin A, so essential to good vision, comes from green and yellow vegetables. "The fact that American youngsters are wealthy in food amounts but often poor in nutritional value is sometimes due to the fact that a really nourishing breakfast is often skipped, a mid-morning snack of high-carbohydrate cookies or beverages is eaten for quick energy, luncheon is light or hurried, then a mid-afternoon drink leaves another spurt of energy, and the young person is not hungry for a really good supper or often rushes off somewhere without supper. The end result of course is a diet high in calories, and low in nutrition, which makes our well-fed people often undernourished, according to nutritional experts. "In addition to Miss Mayes' study on nutrition, Mrs. J. D. Stockton gave an explanation on phonographic tags, and the manner in which the consumer is often defrauded through false advertising through the mails, as well as through other mediums. "Vitamin claims, estrogens, creams, reducing aids, and home appliances are among the many frauds and gyps perpetrated on the consumer," Mrs. Stockton stated. Mrs. Wood Hardcastle explained how many people, in financing homes, cars, or in securing loans, were deceived by a false claim regarding amount of interest paid. "For example, a loan at 4 1/2 per cent, on which the full interest may be taken out before the loan is turned over may be an actual rate of 9 per cent," Mrs. Hardcastle said, "since the customer would be paying interest on the full amount borrowed, even while paying the principal back by the month!" Mrs. Grady Enoch demonstrated the making of wall decorations from tin cans of four different sizes, using as tools, tin snips and small mouth pliers. The decorations are sprayed before being cut, and are very easy to make, and inexpensive while having a decided luxury look.

Goodwill Club Plans Workshop

Goodwill Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Don Nentiel, 2217 Duncan at which time plans were made for a salad luncheon and a workshop day to be held May 9 in the Courthouse annex. The program, presented by Mrs. Rayburn Newton, concerned "How Worry Affects Our Health." She told the group that worry was the most destructive thing to the human race, that it caused about 70 per cent of the sickness like heart trouble, thyroid trouble and many others. She suggested ways to help prevent worrying such as 1) to figure out what possible thing that could be the worst thing that could happen. Then work to see if it can be prevented; 2) crowd worry from your mind with work so you won't be idle; 3) don't let everyday little worries get you down; 4) look for the good in other people rather than the bad; get to know your neighbors for they are generally nice to know and last, learn to relax even though you may have just a few minutes a day for relaxing. Refreshments were served during the social hour to Mmes. A. P. Coombes, W. E. Austry, Leland Diamond, C. B. Hicks, Lee Jackson, Rayburn Newton, Marvin Rowan, Jack Osborn and Don Nentiel. Mrs. Jim Benskin was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. B. G. Monsing as a visitor.

Moms Vs. Daughters Given In Play Form

"The Trouble With Mothers", a comedy concerning six mothers and the problems they face with their teen-age daughters, was presented at Twentieth Century Allegro's Guest Day Coffee held Tuesday in Lovett Memorial Library.

The play, directed by Mrs. Jack O. Miller, was concerned with six young girls who decide that their mothers do not understand what they go through with homework, managing allowance, boys, clothes, etc. So they draw up a petition challenging mothers to change places with them for just one day. The mothers agreed it would be wonderful to be free from household chores and problems and they, in turn, challenge the girls to step into their shoes. However, when the mothers are confronted with homework in algebra, social sciences, and English, they come to the conclusion that maybe their daughters have more work than they had realized.

The daughters after an hour of coping with fixing meals, caring for whining children and paying bills, decide that maybe their mothers do a little work after all.

At the play's end, the mothers and daughters were more than happy to return to their original places.

Members of the cast were Mrs. Jim Hugg, John Lee Bell, John Gentry, John Cundith, William McComas, Ray Duncan, John Reeves, W. G. Waggoner, Raymond Reid, William Bridges, Carl Hills and Charles Walsh Jr.

Proceeding the program, Mrs. David Price, Allegro president, extended a welcome to guests and members. Mrs. Price expressed appreciation to Mrs. Miller for her work and direction of the play presented.

During the social hour, guests were served from a table appointed with a pastel pink cloth center dwith an open blue hat box filled with pink and white mums. Tiny straw and flowered hats were scattered around the hat-box.

Mrs. Raymond Reid, president-elect, presided at the silver coffee service.

Guests attending were Mrs. Charles Norton, Jere Sanders, H. V. Wilks, Brantly Hudson, James School, Lynn Grider, Harold Gregory, A. D. Hills, Henry Frazer, J. A. Sears, G. W. Dings, E. Pampa Garden Club Receives Word Regarding Two State Honor Awards

Pampa Garden Club met Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah, 2401 Duncan with Mrs. W. N. Osborne and Mrs. Thelma Bray as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Waldon Moore conducted the business meeting and announced that she had received word from state headquarters that the Pampa Club had won two state awards this year; one for the Arbor Day project and one for the pressbook. She stated that she and Mrs. Coy Palmer will attend the state convention in Odessa on April 25-27 and receive the awards. Sears and Roebuck money grants are to be awarded to clubs having suitable qualifications at this meeting.

Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, flower show chairman, distributed schedules for "The Iris Show" to be held May 13 and announced meetings of chairmen.

It was announced that a workshop will be held on May 1 at one o'clock in the First National Bank Annex to make preparations for the Flower Show and plant sale.

The executive committee will select a member to receive the "Gardener of the Year" award at the Installation Luncheon to be held May 15.

An informative program on

Hoe Down

By MR. AND MRS. MILO CARLSON
Pampa Rose Society

Since when, why and how to prune roses are of such importance to rose-growers in the community, we have compiled the following list of pointers, which we are hopeful will be of assistance. All roses should be pruned regardless of type, age, or use. Rose growers agree on that point, but from then on agreement is rare.

When to prune is a most important question for this area since Panhandle weather is so unpredictable. The best advice is after you are sure that all hard freezes are over. We can't guarantee the weather but sometime between Feb. 20 and Mar. 20 should be ideal for this climate; although it is still not too late to do any pruning that you wish to do.

There are two basic rules for determining how much to prune: 1) the weaker the plant the harder the pruning; 2) prune hard for size of flower and light for quantity.

FOR HYBRID TEAS prune to a maximum of five canes. Tip-prune new base shoots at about one foot tall to encourage laterals but do not tip-prune when larger or it may die. When cutting flowers never leave more than two five-parted leaves on each stem. You will have inferior short stemmed blooms later.

FOR FLORIBUNDA ROSES do not prune as severely as the hybrids, more cane can be left and heading back can be light. Too vigorous shoots may be tip-pinned at any time.

MINIATURE ROSES should not be pruned in the regular manner. These roses grow on their own roots and undesirable stalks should be sheared off flush with the ground. New growth will start immediately and bloom in a short time.

SPRING BLOOMING CLIMBERS are best pruned as follows: As soon as possible after blooming, cut off entire plant at ground level and then train new growth as it appears.

Everblooming Climbers should be lightly pruned at about the same time as Hybrid Teas the main canes lightly headed if needed and all laterals must be cut back to two or three buds. Old canes that have produced for several years should be removed one or two at a time and replaced with vigorous new shoots. Remove surplus new shoots before they can rob the plant of needed food.

Prune roses so that new growth buds face to the outside. This is to allow light to the center of the plant for healthier growth. Should plant become too sprawling or more upright growth is desired, you may prune some buds to the center of the plant.

BETROTHED PTA Conference Set In Childress

Miss Barbara Ann Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones, 313 N. Summer, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Ann to William Thomas Covalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Covalt, 300 S. Finley. An early summer wedding is being planned.

The sixth annual Spring Conference for the District 19 Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will convene in Childress on April 24-25. The 1961 conference theme, "As The Twig Is Bent... So Grows The Tree" will be developed throughout the session.

Registration for all incoming and outgoing officers and committee chairmen for City Council and local units will begin on Tuesday at 8 a.m. in the First Baptist Church in Childress.

Workshops of various types and general sessions will be in progress throughout the day with A. L. Cordell as coordinator for the workshops.

Principals from all Pampa schools as well as the assistant superintendent of schools, Jack Edmondson will attend the banquet planned for 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday at which time Mrs. L. C. Shafter, state vice president, will be guest speaker.

The conference with adjourn at 3 p.m. on Tuesday. Mrs. James Lewis of Pampa is president of PTA District 19.

Lord's Prayer Is Topic For Guild

The Wesleyan Service Guild met in the home of Mrs. Harold Wright on Monday evening for study given by Mrs. Irl Smith, Guild president.

"The Lord's Prayer", taken from the book "God's Psychiatrist" by Charles L. Allen, was used for the discussion. The wording and phrasing of the prayer was analyzed so that the full meaning would be more clearly understood.

Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson assisted Mrs. Smith with the discussion and played "The Lord's Prayer" on the piano.

During a short business meeting, new officers for the coming year were elected.

Attending were Mrs. Dama Wood, Roy Kilgore, Aubrey Jones, L. B. Penick, Sherman White, Gladys Turner, Lellie Mae Fowler, Misses Ha Pool, Lillian Mullinax, and a guest, Miss Margaret Wilkerson.

Youth Director Upsilon Speaker

Doug Halley, director of the Pampa Youth and Community Center, was guest speaker at the Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi-Sorority meeting held Monday evening in the City Club Room.

Mr. Halley discussed the Youth Center, which will hold open house on April 30, and the opportunities that will be available to the youth of Pampa through the Center. He stressed that the Center is a family project as well as a community project and that plans are being made for family activities as well as youth activities.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Earl Barnett, president, Mrs. Wiley Davis announced that a tea for incoming presidents would be held May 7 in the City Club Room. Mrs. Barnett announced that the Founders' Day Banquet would be held in Caldwell's Bulletin on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. James Scholl and Mrs. C. S. Youngblood. The serving table was gaily appointed with a centerpiece of tulips and violets with a robin resting in the leaves.

Members attending were Mrs. J. P. Adams, Leo Casey, Betty Cooper, Bill Ellis, Ernest Fletcher, Bill Garrett, Henry Gruben, S. Gene Hall, Brantly Hudson, Bill Jenkins, Max Louvier, R. F. Magnolia Plans Remote Control Of Its Pipeline

Magnolia Pipe Line Company has announced that operation of its 235,000 barrel-a-day, 540-mile pipe line network between Beaumont, Corsicana and Midland, Texas, will be completely remote controlled from its Dallas headquarters by January.

Nearing completion now are 12 microwave relay towers and stations on the 335-mile Corsicana to Midland segment over which radio waves will beam instructions to 8 pump stations on that portion of the line.

Remote control of the 20-inch crude oil line between Mobil Oil Company's huge Beaumont refinery and the major storage terminal at Corsicana was completed earlier with Corsicana, currently the remote control point.

Pipe Line Company President L. H. True said that, by centralizing control of the product movement, Magnolia expects to achieve "substantial savings through reduced operating expenses and more efficient use of the pipe line network."

Oil Leader Doubtful Reorganizing Of FPC Would Help Industry

DALLAS — "President Kennedy's suggestions for reorganizing the Federal Power Commission do not appear to offer any real help to the natural gas consumer or the gas producers," Estill S. Heysler, Jr., Dallas independent producer and president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, said in a recent statement.

"The consumer's need is served by large supplies of gas, but this proposal places a premium on tiny fields with small outputs. It is comparable to putting auto manufacturers back into thousands of blacksmith shops," Heysler said.

"The proposal to exempt all the producers who sell less than two billion cubic feet of gas a year is, in itself, an admission that the law cannot be applied to the production of natural gas. If the natural gas act can't be applied to the producers who produce 10 percent of the gas, then it certainly cannot be applied to the remaining hundreds of producers who produce 90 percent," Heysler said.

Oil Inventories Climbing Higher, Reports Reveals

WASHINGTON — Total petroleum inventories began to pile up in storage last month and were 60 million barrels higher on March 31 than the Supply and Demand Committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America had forecast for that date.

High levels of supply from all sources, lower industrial activity and above normal temperatures acted to reduce demand for fuel oils and caused a 14-million barrel hike in oil stocks during March, a month when petroleum inventories normally decline.

The disappointing showing on the demand side occurred in spite of a $2,000-barrel, or 2.4-percent, increase in first quarter gasoline consumption, compared with a year ago.

Firm Dedicates New Pipeline

ROSWELL, N. M. (UPI) — Transwestern Pipeline Co. of Houston dedicated its $187 million pipeline from the Southwest to California this week and a company official warned the gas industry is lagging behind consumption and must speed up to keep pace with future growth.

W. K. Warren, chairman of the Transwestern board, spoke at ceremonies at the Roswell terminal, the control center for the 2,500-mile pipeline.

"Demand and reserve figures are going to meet head-on in 20 years or less unless more intense exploration and drilling programs are set in motion very soon," he warned.

Oil Industry Told To Be On Lookout For Tax Proposals

CORPUS CHRISTI — Oil men here were warned Friday to be on the lookout for legislative plans, both at state and national levels, which would divert gasoline and other road-user taxes from highway building programs.

H. R. Keeton, market analyst for Mobil Oil Co., Dallas, one of the speakers on a panel that addressed the Public Affairs Conference for Oil Industry People here, said that last year 42 per cent of federal road-user taxes were channeled into the U.S. Treasury's general fund and used "on about everything except highways."

He pointed out that a clamp-down on diversion of federal road-user taxes for non-highway projects would permit the expiration of 1 percent of the current federal gasoline tax, an amount Congress promised would be temporary.

Canadian Operations Curtailed By Coming Of Spring Weather

TULSA (UPI)—Spring weather ends winter operational problems in many oil fields, but it means trouble in the Muskogee area of Canada.

The first signs of spring find long lines of southbound traffic out of the boggy Muskeg in northern Alberta and northeastern British Columbia.

Suppliers Group Elects Officers At Annual Meet

The Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association has elected W. H. Larkin as president of the association and W. J. McWilliams as vice president.

Other business conducted during the four-day session included committee meetings and reports covering such phases of the industry as manufacturing, communications, lien law, finance and labor relations.

State Spending Measure Sent To House Floor

AUSTIN (UPI)—The House Appropriation Committee sent the lower chamber's record $2.5 billion appropriation bill, including $52 million in new spending from the depleted general revenue fund, to the floor for action last week.

Texas Physicians Open Galveston Sessions Today

The city of Galveston, long famous as a medical center, will perhaps be the best medically staffed area in the country, beginning today. Besides the medical personnel of over 1000 connected with the University of Texas Medical Branch, an additional 2,500 physicians will be on hand in the seaside city, attending the 94th Annual Session of the Texas Medical Association, April 22-25.

Leading the entire Southwest in size and scope, the TMA annual meeting this year will feature 234 medical speakers, including 30 guest speakers from throughout the United States. Four speakers this year will come from foreign countries, representing England, Canada, and Italy. Texas physicians numbering 159 will also present scientific talks during the session, in addition to 45 special speakers who will participate in the programs of related organizations meeting in conjunction with the TMA sessions.

The three-day scientific program features two general meetings, 15 refresher courses, ten scientific section meetings on everything from general practice to otolaryngology, a daily scientific film program, and over 185 scientific and technical exhibits.

A total attendance of 2,500 is expected for this meeting. The last TMA Annual Session held in Galveston was in 1956, when 2,377 registered.

Dr. May Owen of Fort Worth, TMA's current president and the first woman to ever hold this position in the Association's 109-year existence, will preside over many of the sessions. Dr. Owen's term expires at the end of this session and Dr. Harvey Renger of Hallettsville, president elect, will take office on April 23.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Texas Medical Association, composed of over 5,700 physicians' wives, will hold educational, business, and social session during the four-day meeting.

Storms Everywhere

Although violent thunderstorms do not occur in Hawaii and are comparatively rare on the Pacific coast, no part of the United States is entirely devoid of electrical storms.

Varied Flora

In the hills of Hocking County, Ohio, may be found intermingled reindeer moss from the far north and flowers from the southland.

"Wasp Waist"

Some kinds of solitary wasps have a narrow stalk joining the front and back parts of the body. This thin stalk in the middle gave us the expression "wasp waist."

Soviet, Laotian Leaders Outline Peace Measures

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union and Laotian neutralist leader Prince Souvanna Phouma said in a joint communique Saturday that "real conditions exist" at present for a peaceful settlement of the Laotian conflict.

The communique was issued here as Souvanna flew to Communist China following a Russian visit that included talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Souvanna was accompanied by his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the leftist Pathet Lao forces in Laos.

The joint communique blamed the United States and its SEATO allies for the "present serious situation" in Laos.

It said, however, that both Prince Souvanna and the Soviet government "are of the opinion that at present real conditions exist to normalize the situation in Laos, in accord with the national interest of the Laotian people and the interests of peace.

The communique listed three "prime" measures to be taken toward a Laotian peace:

—Calling of an international conference as suggested by Cambodian Chief of State Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

—A cease-fire between opposing forces in Laos.

—Re-activation of the "three-national international supervisory commission in Laos."

The three steps are the same proposed by Britain for settling the Laotian crisis.

But the British, with the support of the United States, insist that a cease-fire must come first, and the international commission, composed of Canada, Poland, and India, then be called in to verify that fighting has halted.

Saturday's communique did not indicate any time order for the three proposed peace steps.

It failed also to make any mention of the Anglo-Soviet discussions on Laos which were reported earlier to have resulted in agreement on terms of a cease-fire appeal.

Diplomatic sources said Sir Frank Roberts, the British ambassador, and the Soviet Foreign Ministry, reached accord Friday night on the texts of three documents embodying agreement on solution of the Laos problem.

They said announcement of the agreement, originally expected within 48 hours, has been put off until Monday.

Regular Summer Swim Program Planned In Pampa By Red Cross

Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross will have their regular swim program this summer, according to Joe McDonald, water safety chairman. An Instructor Course in water safety will be given beginning May 1 at the Youth Center at 4 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons with Part 1 and Part 2 being given by Hugh Berger, WSI trainer from Borger. Requirements will be that each person taking the course will be 13 years old and must have had junior or senior life saving. The arrangements will be made through the Red Cross office. Air Service Plea Lost By Roswell WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) turned thumbs down Thursday on an application to give Trans-Texas Airways and Central Airlines temporary authority to serve Roswell, N.M.

Trans-Texas had requested permission to provide temporary service between Albuquerque, Roswell.

The CAB said the service of Continental, a major trunk line presently authorized to serve Roswell on its Albuquerque-El Paso route, appears adequate to meet defense needs until the board reaches a final decision in the southwestern area case.

Beating the Beat

CHISLEHURST, England (UPI) — The local police station announced it plans to close overnight during coming months because there's not enough for its policemen to do between 10 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Money Not Sole Answer To World Rocket Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said yesterday that the amount of money could enable the United States to beat Russia to the moon with the Saturn rocket. He said the only chance of pulling ahead in the space race was the development of a new nuclear or chemical rocket.

The chief executive told a news conference that it would be folly to spend possibly as much as $20 to $40 billion over the next decade on rocket boosters which would still have this country second to the Soviet Union.

On the subject of Laos, Kennedy said he was still hopeful that the British and the Russians would come to some agreement soon that would lead to a call for a cease-fire.

He announced that the United States will offer $40 million in food commodities toward an initial United Nations reserve of $100 million in food to be used in a broad scale U.N. attack on world hunger.

To help the economy, the Veterans Administration will pay a special insurance dividend of $238 million to approximately five million GI life insurance holders beginning July 1.

He is considering sending Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on a special mission to Southeast Asia.

He said he did not think the judgment of the John Birch Society was based on accurate information in judging the threat and tactics of world communism.

He was openly discouraged by the Soviet insistence on veto power in a nuclear test ban agreement. He said this position could seriously harm disarmament efforts, but the United States had no choice but to continue seeking an agreement.

Kennedy said the first project of the Peace Corps would be the dispatch of 20 surveyors, four geologists, and four civil engineers to the newly independent African country of Tanganyika. The Peace Corps contingent is going to Tanganyika at the request of that country to help plan the development of roads.

Maj. Gen. Ted Walker, recently relieved of his Army command in Germany, would be given a full opportunity to present his case before a final decision is made by defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. Walker was suspended pending investigation of charges that he was teaching political doctrine to U.S. troops.

LONDON (UPI) — The Freighter Club said it has more than 300 members who like to spend their vacations cruising the seven seas in cargo freighters.

There's practically no hardship, the club stressed. A typical menu on shipboard includes shrimp mayonnaise, veal cuts milanaise, roast duckling au port, pastry and haddock liver.
