

Vote Nears On Federal School Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate plunged into debate today on a controversial anti-segregation amendment to the $2.5 billion school aid bill.

Almost certain to figure in the debate was the racial violence in Alabama, where mobs of jeering whites have attacked Negroes and anti-segregationists.

The amendment was sponsored by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn. It would require the government to deny funds to any state with segregated schools.

But despite the racial violence in Alabama, Senate Democratic leaders expected the amendment to be defeated.

The education bill's backers were confident they could kill the Bush amendment in line with their strategy of keeping the measure as free as possible of the civil rights issue.

The Bush amendment is similar to one sponsored in the House by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y. Powell's proposal has been a major block to school bills in the House.

Senate leaders hope they can win approval of the school bill this week. The three-year program calls for $850 million a year in federal grants to states to help build new public schools and help pay elementary and high school teachers.

Other congressional news: Farm: The House Agriculture Committee called Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman and representatives of farm groups to testify on the administration's farm proposals.

Taxes: The House Ways & Means Committee planned to hear testimony on the administration's proposed changes in the tax laws.

Presbyterians Debate Merger

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A proposed merger among four of the nation's leading Protestant denominations meets its first key test today when the United Presbyterian Assembly votes on a unity study plan.

Opposition has developed to the merger which would result in an 18.5 million member church. But officials here at the 173rd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church said the measure to study merger possibilities would be approved after a lengthy debate.

The Presbyterian action was the initial move by a church body group in the proposed union with the Methodist Church, the largest single Protestant denomination in the nation at 9,815,460 members; the Protestant Episcopal Church of 3,359,948 members, and the United Church of Christ, 2,105,746 members. The Presbyterian Church has 3,209,682 members.

On approval by the Presbyterians, the study plan would be forwarded to the Episcopal General Convention which meets in Detroit in September in the form of a request to join in inviting the other two churches to consider the merger plan.

The merger consideration actually started last December when the Rev. Eugene C. Blake, stated clerk of the General Assembly, proposed the churches unite in exploring establishment of a church "truly Catholic, reformed and evangelical."

The Presbyterians do not accept the hierarchy or authoritarian rule of bishops, as do the Episcopalians. The final authority rests with the General Assembly elected by the individual presbyteries.

Possible grassroots refusal of some congregations to recognize the authority of ministers from other denominations was a major obstacle to the proposal.

Porcupine Captured In Pampa

Anybody looking for a pet porcupine? City police captured one yesterday in the yard of Jeff Nelson, 518 N. Nelson.

This forenoon the porcupine, a big one, was crouching in the corner of the cage on Dog Warden Buster Collins' dog-catching truck.

Mr. Porky was occupying the cage alone. Warden Collins said dogs refused to enter the cage with the quilly prisoner.

In fact, the dog warden kept his distance when taking the porcupine into custody yesterday. Sullivan, the warden and neighbors first were able to roll a barrel over him.

Then, while the barrel was tipped up, Collins was able to play cowboy with the porcupine, and toss a rope around his neck. He was finally pulled and coaxed into the dog warden's cage without causing any damage.

Police Chief Jim Conner said today the porcupine was "loaded."

"He has the finest set of quills you ever saw," Collins said.

A porcupine in the Panhandle area is somewhat of a rarity, Chief Conner said, although several have been seen and one or two captured in the past several years.

Daily News Photographer Bob Hale late this forenoon was still trying to figure out a way to get a picture of the unusual captive, but he couldn't find anyone who was willing to take him out of the truck.

Chief Conner said if nobody claims the porcupine, about the only thing left for city officials to do is destroy him.

Murchisons Win Allegheny Rule

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Murchison brothers of Texas have wrested control of the Allegheny Corp. from Eastern financier Allan P. Kirby.

The counting of proxy ballots has been completed in Baltimore. But both sides in the corporate battle of the century agreed to withhold the official announcement of the Murchison victory until the reconvened annual meeting Tuesday.

Informed sources said that the Murchisons won control of the $6.7 billion railroad and investment empire by a margin of more than 500,000 shares.

Expert Claims Russia Sacrificed Up To Four Men In Space Trips

Chicago (UPI) — Three Soviet cosmonauts either burned up in their capsules or were horribly crippled by space flights months before Yuri Gagarin's successful orbit, a missile engineer and student of Russian space technology said.

Robert G. Brown, chairman of the National Telemetering Conference, said a fourth Soviet cosmonaut "probably" went into orbit about four days before Gagarin, but "there seems to be some dispute as to whether there was a space shot at that time."

"Gagarin's flight represents the fifth Russian into space," Brown told a news conference Sunday before opening the three-day technical conference of five major technical societies.

The groups are the American Rocket Society, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Institute of the Aerospace Sciences, the Institute of Radio Engineers and the Instrument Society of America.

Brown said United States space science lags behind the U.S.S.R. in booster rockets, is even with the Soviets in Brown's field of space guidance systems and has outdistanced the Soviets in the caliber of space vehicle instruments.

He said he was "52 per cent sure" Gagarin orbited the earth successfully as announced last month. But he said there were at least three reasons to believe Gagarin was not the first human in space:

—The Russians, Brown said, "do not lack the technology to orbit a man and return him. As early as May 1960, Russia launched a booster and a capsule big enough to carry a man."

—The Soviet "always seem to go for broke" on their space attempts. It has been their history to emphasize speed and sensationalism in their programs.

—"The technical status of the Mercury program was relatively common knowledge, and the Russians geared their accelerated programs to beating Mercury."

Cuban Fund Drive Given Big Boosts

MIAMI (UPI) — Ten Cubans captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion flew to Washington today for negotiations aimed at ransoming 1,200 of their colleagues from Fidel Castro for 500 tractors and bulldozers.

Money already was pouring in to the Cuban Revolutionary Council here.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York sent $5,000. Former U. S. Ambassador to Peru and Brazil William Pawey contributed $25,000.

The Miami National Bank gave $1,000, put up another $25,000 loan and asked the 14,000 member banks of the American Banking Association to put up $1,000 each.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the revolutionary council, estimated $20 million would be needed to fulfill Castro's demand for 500 tractors and bulldozers, in good "condition and with spare parts."

Castro sent the 10 Cuban prisoners to the United States Saturday. He gave them 72 hours to get the negotiations started or return to their Cuban prison, and one week beyond that to complete the negotiations and return.

A spokesman for United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther said in Detroit that Reuther, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower would meet the 10 prisoners in Washington today.

The U. S. government adopted a hands-off attitude. But the Reuther group said it would launch a fund-raising program to buy the 500 tractors. It planned to form a national committee to raise the money.

Reuther said the project was not started in response to a demand for political ransom, but rather out of common humanity.

The 10 Cuban "paroles" were lodged in three rooms in the plush Fontainebleau Hotel over the weekend, heavily guarded by the Border Patrol. They were reluctant to talk to anyone but relatives.

One prisoner, Walto Castroverdes, a 19-year-old paratrooper, spoke briefly to relatives of other prisoners still in Cuba.

He said merely, "There were no wounded. We have been treated well." He would not elaborate.

World Tour Concluded By Johnson

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson headed for home today after an informal conference with Greek Premier Constantinos Karamanlis ended the official part of his 28,500-mile world tour.

Johnson planned to work on a report on the trip for President Kennedy during an 11-hour jet flight to Bermuda where the party was spending two nights and a day before flying on to Washington.

In his 45-minute meeting with Karamanlis, Johnson said they "discussed world development" and Johnson's impressions of countries he has just visited.

He said they also reviewed economic progress in Greece since the Truman Doctrine. The vice president said, "We are very proud of the progress that has been made."

Compromise State Tax Plan Sought By Solons

AUSTIN (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey today was to name the Senate's members on a committee that may be able to solve the legislature's $350 million money problem without a special session.

The five senators will work with representatives on a conference committee instructed to find a compromise tax program that is acceptable to both chambers and to Gov. Price Daniel.

House members Saturday voted 81-55 rejection of the Senate's tax plan that was based, mainly on a 2 per cent sales tax, and called for the joint committee.

Daniel made it clear to lawmakers last week that he would veto a general retail sales tax.

After the House rejected the Senate bill, he said, "There's now a good chance that the job can be completed without a special session this summer, and I shall cooperate in every way possible."

After today, lawmakers have only six more working days to do the job before the session ends. If a special session is needed, Daniel said he would call it after July 1.

Speaker James A. Turman named Reps. Charles Ballman of Borger, George Hinson of Mincoola, Menton Murray of Harlingen, Tony Korioth of Sherman and Charles Wilson of Trinity as House conferees.

Wilson sponsored the House's 2 per cent sales tax. Ballman is chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. Hinson sponsored the governor's tax recommendations in the house. Korioth is a liberal on taxation and Murray a conservative.

Wilson, Ballman and Murray voted for the House's sales tax that the Senate amended. Korioth and Hinson were against the measure. All five voted to reject the Senate's version.

Dear Abby...
Kindly Neighbor Deserves A Break!
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine lives in a hectic neighborhood. Her neighbors come in for coffee every morning even before she has her children off to school. And they stay until they come home for lunch. She never gets her morning chores done. They don't wait to be offered coffee: They help themselves. (She uses 3 pounds of coffee a week, and she is the only adult in her family who drinks it.)

I suggested she hang a sign on her door — "SORRY, NO TIME FOR COFFEE! HAVE WORK TO DO" — but she wouldn't do it. Her husband travels, and when he is home the neighbor ladies are there having coffee with him at breakfast. How can I help my friend get rid of these pests before she has a nervous breakdown?

DEAR FRIEND: Many people complain that they are constantly being "imposed upon" by unwelcome guests, but for some strange reason they never DO anything about it. This leads me to suspect that the "victim" not only secretly enjoys these drop-in pests, but enjoys complaining about them. It's HER coffee, HER time, and HER nervous system. When SHE complains to ME, I will send her a fool-proof pest-exterminator.

DEAR ABBY: I have three sons — 10, 11 and 12. They are active, spirited young boys but no worse than any other boys their ages. They play together and frequently get into mischief. One thing I will say for them, they are tattle-tales. They stick together. When something is broken or some damage is done, I never know which one did it. I hate to punish the innocent ones, so I have to let it go. How can I get the truth out of the boys so I can punish the guilty one?

MOTHER OF BOYS
DEAR MOTHER: I know a mother who had the same problem. When something was damaged and no one confessed, she would punish all of her boys. The next morning the one with the black eye caught the dickers.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18, unmarried and pregnant. I know the boy, but I don't know his address. I know what I did was wrong, but there is nothing I can do about it now. Can you recommend a free

Girl Scout Troop Five Enters Senior Scouting Field, Re-Dedicates Troop

Approximately eight years of diligent work rewarded members of Girl Scout Troop 5 when they received Curved Bar and Senior pins and re-dedicated themselves to Girl Scouting in a ceremony held recently in Girl Scout Little House, 716 E. Kingsmill.

Miss Evelyn McCauley explained the significance of a Curved Bar and how much work is necessary to earn one. She stated that "any girl receiving one is a First Class Scout plus."

Mrs. V. E. Moore and Mrs. John Holt Jr., troop leaders, presented the Curved Bar to Misses Judy Kitto, Evelyn McCauley, Linda Moore, Natalie Skelly, Rita Scholl, Nancy Holt and Barbara Holt.

As part of the program, Miss Skelly outlined what the requirements are to become a senior scout and explained that the troop has selected the General Program field to work on as Senior Scouts.

The ceremony for entering the Senior Scout field was performed with Linda Moore, Judy Kitto, Sandra Airington, Nancy Holt, Rita Scholl, Natalie Skelly and Evelyn McCauley forming a semi-circle before a candlelight table as Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Holt presented each girl with a new Senior tie, cap and pin. The ceremony was concluded with each giving the Girl Scout salute.

Special guests were members of Senior Troop 17, who extended a welcome to the new troop into Senior Scouting. Miss Linda Belmont gave a welcoming speech and asked that the new Senior Scouts re-dedicate themselves to Scouting by repeating the Girl Scout Promise.

A business meeting preceded the ceremony with Miss Nancy Holt presiding as reports were given by Linda Moore, secretary and Rita Scholl, historian.

Miss Airington reported on the troop's summer plans, which will include a train trip to Amarillo and participation in the Council Encampment in August.

Slides were shown of the various events the troop has participated in the past year.

Brave Young Mayor Quells Gun Battle

LAPORTE, Tex. (UPI)—Some Addie, and fled to his parents' say that in another day Harold Pfeiffer might have been a match for Daniel Webster.

He doesn't have the flowery speech the famed old orator had, but when he speaks, his eyes and smile show it comes straight from the heart. Pfeiffer is La Porte's young mayor.

Eddie Thomas, 24, is in jail today, a place he vowed he would never be, because Pfeiffer talked to him like a friend, a father and a Dutch uncle all rolled into one.

He accomplished more with words than 50 policemen could with pistols, rifles, riot guns and tear gas.

Thomas, a Negro who does odd jobs, had an argument with his wife, Mary Lee, 21, late Saturday and stabbed her. Then he picked up their four-month-old daughter, Mary Lee called police. When they went to get Thomas and the youngster, he barricaded himself and the child with a shotgun. There was a terrific gunbattle for more than an hour.

Five persons, four of them policemen, were shot during the fight. Thomas was hit in the leg. "I'll die and go to Hell before you put me in jail," Thomas screamed.

Pfeiffer, 39, decided someone was likely to be killed. He ordered police to hold their fire.

"I want to talk to you boy," he shouted, then put his hands in the air and calmly walked up to the house. "I'm not armed. I just want to talk to you."

Once inside, Pfeiffer said he put his hand on Thomas' shoulder and talked him into giving himself up.

Rites Set For Mrs. Thompson

Funeral services for Mrs. Viva M. Thompson of Miami are planned for 3 p.m. tomorrow in the First Christian Church in Miami with the Rev. E. E. Birdwell, pastor of the First Christian Church in Wichita, Kan. and the Rev. Howard E. Grant, pastor of the Miami First Christian Church, officiating.

Mrs. Thompson, a resident in Miami since 1919, died at 2:15 p.m. yesterday in the home of her son, J. W. Thompson in Miami.

She was born June 21, 1896 in Bethany, Mo. and taught school in Kansas prior to her marriage to R. E. Thompson on Sept. 18, 1919. In Kan. Mr. Thompson preceded her in death on Jan. 13, 1959.

Mrs. Thompson was a longtime member and teacher in the Miami First Christian Church. She was a past worthy matron of the Eastern Star Chapter 98 of Miami and active in OES work until her health failed in 1960. She was a member and active in the affairs of the Child's Study Club and the Home Progress Club of Miami.

Pampa Spotlited In Travel Guide

Pampa's tourist resources, history, and economy are explored in the Mobil Travel Guide for the South Central and Southwestern States, the first American guidebook to report in detail on local-level sightseeing, hotels, motels, and restaurants.

The section on Pampa was prepared by researchers who blanketed Texas, selecting outstanding tourist attractions and personally rating facilities for quality and value.

The Guide notes that Pampa has grown from a little cattle town to "a thriving industrial city." It adds that carbon black and Celanese plants now mingle with grain elevators and meat packing plants. Listing "what to see and do," it suggests fishing and boating at Lake McClellan and swimming at the municipal pool. The Top O' Texas Livestock Show and Top O' Texas Rodeo are cited as annual events of interest.

The Guide to the South Central and Southwestern States describes hundreds of villages, towns and cities. A national board of travel authorities examined more than 2,500 selected motels, hotels, restaurants and resorts, rating each on a star system.

C-C Board Sets Meet Next Week

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors has been scheduled for next Monday at a luncheon in Coronado Inn, it was announced today by E. Roy Smith, chamber president.

Reports will be given by committee chairmen on activities of the chamber during May.

Douglas Halley, director of the Pampa Youth and Community Center, was the principal speaker at the monthly membership luncheon of the chamber in the Coronado today. Halley explained details of the Center's youth program.

Awards also were given to the three winning teams in the recent Chamber of Commerce membership drive and special awards went to the craziest store and clerks in Saturday's first annual observance of "Crazy Day" in Pampa.

The event, according to Lou Troja, chairman of the chamber's Merchants' Activities Committee, was one of the most successful merchandising events in the city's history.

The clean-up work will be concluded in Ward 1, west of Mary Ellen and north of Rham St. on May 29, 30 and 31.

Musial's Hitting Snaps Cards Slump

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cleveland Indians are having a beautiful day today — and if it comes true it will mean the biggest payoff in baseball history. Imagine a World Series played in the two largest parks in the majors — the Los Angeles Coliseum with its 93,000 capacity and Cleveland Stadium with space for some 86,000 spectators. It's a series that would dwarf all others in attendance and gate receipts so you can't blame the Dodgers and Indians for dreaming even if there are still four months of the season to play.

The Dodgers completed a sweep of a three-game series by beating the San Francisco Giants, 3-2, and Athletics, 5-3, the Baltimore Orioles beat the New York Yankees, 3-2, after a 4-2 loss, the Boston Red Sox scored a 4-1 triumph after the Chicago White Sox won the 10-inning opener, 6-5, and the Washington Senators downed the Los Angeles Angels, 6-2, and 7-2.

Carry Back Now One Shy Of Triple Crown

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—With the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness won, game little Carry Back was only one race shy of a triple crown sweep today and an odds-on choice to go all the way by adding the Belmont Stakes to his ever growing list of triumphs. Carry Back once again scored in the closing yards Saturday when he roared through the stretch at Pimlico to win the

In each race Carry Back looked like a beaten horse as he rounded the turn into the stretch. The leaders had stolen away to big leads and overtaking them looked hopeless. Nothing appears to be impossible for this skinny little colt who has been kept in perfect condition. In the Kentucky Derby, Carry Back ran down Crozier, Fred W. Hooper's tough-luck colt which Carry Back also had narrowly beaten in the Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby.

Present plans call for the construction of four new baseball diamonds in Perryton on land which has been obtained for that purpose. The American Community Youth Club will be in charge of building the diamonds.

Two ACYC sponsored leagues may be formed if enough boys sign up to warrant the division into age groups, in which case one league will include boys 9 to 12 years old and an older boys' league will be formed for those boys 13 and 14.

The league for boys over 14 will be sponsored and directed by the local American Legion Post. Booker plans to enter two teams in the program with Waka and Farnsworth expected to enter one team and perhaps one team will be teted from Darrouzett. The league will consist of at least six teams with the other teams to be formed in Perryton.

ACYC President, Larry McLain stated, "There will be no entry fee charged to any boy to play ball in this program."

Boys who wish to sign up to play in this summer baseball program are asked to contact Lewis Sharp, 435-5797 or Larry McLain, 435-5864. Men who would be willing to serve as umpires or coaches should also contact Mr. Sharp or Mr. McLain.

A Pity—But True

The following editorial is reprinted from the Warrensburg, Missouri, Star-Journal: "Americans are a prudent people. Look at the evidence: In a recent poll, 63 per cent of those questioned said the President and Congress should do something about holding down prices and preventing inflation.

"Americans are a good-hearted, people. Look at the evidence: In the same poll, 52 per cent of those who answered said they thought the powers that be ought to get busy and provide more medical care for the aged.

"Americans are a generous people who like to see the fellow get a break. Look at the evidence: In the poll, 48 per cent said Congress and the Chief Executive should boost the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour.

"Americans are people who also like to see themselves get a break. Control Shift

In a free nation, individual men control their own purse strings. When a tyranny develops, the government, by means of taxes, usurps this control.

Growthmanship

We are indebted to Colin Clark, British economist, for bringing to our attention the fact that many people equate economic growth with rising prices. This tendency to look at prices going up as the proof of good times is so palpably false that we marvel at such a belief.

Yet, upon examining the arguments offered by Mr. Clark in a fine new study entitled, "Growthmanship," we are compelled to recognize that such is, indeed, the case.

Scores of people, notably persons in political office, seem to hold to this view. If, they believe, prices continually go up, then it must be true that we are experiencing economic growth.

The falsity of this position can perhaps be best seen in this hemisphere if we examine the economies of Central and South American neighbors.

Here, as Colin Clark advises, is the reduction and absurdity of the claim. Bolstered by periodic reports from the United Nations Economic Commission, Latin American countries have been prone to argue that they have had constantly rising prices since 1880. This point is not in dispute.

But has the constantly rising price level, been indicative of or conducive to a rising standard of living Atlas, it has not.

As a matter of fact, so obvious is the truth, to wit, that standards of living have been falling in many of these countries, that since 1953 such a very slow rate of growth has ensued, which in some places has seemed to represent little more than an advancement to the rear, that the proof is not subject to reasonable doubt. Yet Latin American prices continue to skyrocket gaily.

As a matter of fact, it can be noted in both this nation and the British empire that astonishing growth has occurred in their separate economies in periods where prices continued at a relatively stable pace. During the reign of Queen Victoria this was measurably ascertained.

And in America, during the first twenty years of this century, the same point can be demonstrated. Indeed, there were periods in this country when growth of substantial character occurred and falling prices.

Human beings tend to measure their economic advance in terms of money. Whatever merit this tendency might have is offset by the mischief in high office where inflation is engineered. And today in America, where we are high up on a spiral of rising prices, there is still the general belief in the fallacy.

For instance, when a man buys a house, he believes that all he has to do is to hold that house for two or three years in order to be able to sell at a profit. Inflation may bring him a high price. It is also true in rare circumstances, that because of local conditions which cause either a scarcity of houses or a marked increase in demand for houses, a higher price may be paid without inflation.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

VENTIMIGLIA, Italy — This is one of the most ancient cities in Italy, and was of great importance in the days when Nero was taking fiddle lessons, and before.

There are a thousand interesting facts I could tell you about Ventimiglia if only I could read the brochure graciously given to me by the Chamber of Commerce when I drove through the city gates.

Unfortunately, it is written in the purest of Italian, and I am able to make out only the pictures. They are very interesting. There is one of a fine theatre that was flourishing in 55 A.D., and a giant bath (how the fellows in those days loved their baths), and as extensive a cemetery as one would want, filled with bones of men who were spry in the days of Caligula, Tiberius, and Claudius.

There isn't any picture in the brochure of the hotel in which we have taken lodging for the night, but that was probably an oversight. It belongs right in there with the other ruins. I wouldn't be surprised to see a Roman senator or a legionnaire walk out of a closet and say "Veni, Vidi, Vici," or something like that.

The hotel has a new and flashy espresso bar, though, a juke box loaded with Western tunes, and is filled with tourists, most of whom are headed for France, which lies only about nine miles away. Tomorrow, early, we will cross the border ourselves, and change our lire into francs. It isn't the language difference that is the biggest nuisance in Europe — it's the money difference.

One stays in a country just long enough to get used to the money, and be able to handle it without having to translate it into dollars and cents, and then he moves to another country with a different currency, and he has to become a harassed, calculating machine all over again.

A universal monetary unit would be much more helpful than a universal language like, say, Esperanto. I wish there were such a thing called, let's say, the Frollar. Everybody would use the Frollar and everybody would know what it was worth.

Every time you change one nation's money into that of another, you take a financial licking. Change a dollar into lire and you lose. Change the lire into francs and you lose. Change the franc into marks and you lose. Change the marks into guilders, and the guilders into pesetas, and you keep on losing.

It would be possible, I imagine, to change a dollar bill enough times to wind up with nothing.

The good, sound, universally known, and respected Frollar, would end all this.

The money in France has undergone a change since I was last there, so this isn't going to help any. The chances are it hasn't changed enough, though. The franc notes are the prettiest money in the world, and feel the best, but I remember them as being as big as bed sheets and capable of disappearing in an instant. I hope to find them smaller, and made of leather, and equipped with a safety pin with which to fasten them to the inside of one's pockets.

I hope the Frenchman has changed a bit, too, and isn't quite so eager to part an American and his money. A few years ago he would almost throw an American to the ground and shake the money from his pockets. Now, I hope, they are content only to hold an American by his heels until his pockets yield the last franc.

matter of FACT

These spring days when people are outside more, a popular sport is looking at the skies and predicting the weather by old proverbs. This is risky. But one proverb that makes good sense is, "Thunder in spring, cold will bring." Sure enough, in the middle latitudes, spring thunderstorms are common on the forward side of an advancing mass of cold air — just as the proverb says.

Allen - Scott Report: Justice Dept. May Triple Damages Sought In Electrical Equipment Price Rigging; New Moves

ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is drastically upping the amount of damages it is proposing to seek from those electrical equipment companies convicted of price fixing.

The new total may run as high as $250 million — three times the original $80 million estimate.

And that isn't all that's being planned backstage to crack down on price rigging.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy is drafting a provision that the General Services Administration will include in all contracts of more than $25,000, requiring bidders to certify under oath that they did not engage in collusion. Violators would be subject to prosecution for injury.

The Anti-Trust Division is conducting price fixing probes in numerous cities throughout the country. The FBI is doing much of this investigating.

Recently, Kennedy became so indignant at certain businessmen who refused to talk to these FBI probes that he was on the verge of publicly denouncing them.

But this harsh retaliation was temporarily shelved on the advice of Justice Department and other administration officials. They urged that grand jury action be invoked against recalcitrants.

Particularly under scrutiny is identical bidding on dairy and bakery products, tires, tubes, chemicals, gasoline, electronic devices, aluminum sheets, hose assemblies.

The youthful Attorney General apparently feels very strongly about price rigging.

At one Cabinet meeting he emphatically declared the government could cut costs by $1 to $2 billion a year if identical bidding were wiped out. Asserted Kennedy, "If government purchasing agencies did a better job of policing their contracts, huge sums could be saved."

LOADING THE GUN — The new greatly increased damage claims against the electrical equipment companies are predicated on data compiled by economists of the Anti-Trust Division.

This was disclosed by Assistant Attorney General Lee Loevinger, head of the agency, at a meeting with a House Government Operations Subcommittee. He was questioned about these widely-anticipated claims by Elmer Henderson, committee counsel.

"Have you reached any conclusions on the possible loss to the government that resulted from identical bidding?" asked Henderson.

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is drastically upping the amount of damages it is proposing to seek from those electrical equipment companies convicted of price fixing.

"There is no question about it," declared Loevinger firmly. "It would run into the billions."

FOREIGN FLASHES — Revealing indication on how long that 14-nation conference on strife torn Laos may last: The Red Chinese delegation has taken a six-months lease on the Geneva hotel rooms it is occupying. In direct contrast, the U.S. delegation is leasing hotel accommodations on a monthly basis.

Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin is on a propaganda tour in his own home and, but on an entirely different subject from space. He is traveling in the provinces urging young Russians to volunteer for farming in the so-called "virgin lands." Moscow has said nothing about this latest use of Gagarin, but it came to light in articles in provincial newspapers about his appearances and spiel.

President and Mrs. Kennedy's forthcoming trip to Paris will be followed by a royal visit. The Shah and Queen of Iran have accepted President de Gaulle's invitation and will go to Paris for a state visit at a still unannounced date. State Department authorities are making no secret of their chagrin over West Germany's quiet cut of $250 million in its loudly-touted foreign aid program.

During Chancellor Adenauer's recent Washington visit, he told President Kennedy West Germany would set up a $1 billion fund for foreign aid. That was widely publicized. But last week, Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard informed Secretary Rusk and Treasury Secretary Dillon that this figure is being reduced to $750 million. No explanation was given for the backstage slash.

The Almanac

Today is Monday, May 22, the 142nd day of the year with 223 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening stars are Mars and Mercury.

On this day in history: In 1807, former Vice-President Aaron Burr went on trial for treason. In 1813, German composer Richard Wagner was born. In 1819, for the first time, an American-made steamship, the Savannah, set out for a transatlantic voyage. In 1859, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes, was born.

Thought for today: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle said: "It is a great thing to start life with a small number of really good books which are your very own."

The greenstones found on the Vermillion Iron Range in northern Minnesota are about two billion years old, and among the oldest rocks in the world.

Pegler Says:

Arizona Is New Illinois Minus Snow, Underworld

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

TUCSON — The population of Arizona has risen more than 70 per cent in the last ten years. The Tucson Gas, Electric Light and Power Co. reports that one day's production of electricity last Aug. 2 was more than the average monthly output in 1936. Like the Midwest in 1900, with Germans and Scandinavians, Irish, Italians and Poles storming into the emptiness of the prairie, this south-western region is feeling a strange stir of might.

There is not enough white paper in the world to contain the story of the Indians.

They are here, they have great virtues and they have been victims of many wrongs, but the only proposal looking to "improvement" and redress would obliterate them by de-Indianizing them. That is the word the Great White Father used to describe a brutal experiment in a school at Chilocco, Okla., which imposed iron discipline on Indian children taken far from their families.

They marched in formations, and for mass punishment of trivial individual offenses, whole classes had to stand at attention so rigidly and so long that some of them fainted and were let lie where they fell.

The Indians are Indians still. The Mexicans, or Spaniards, as some of them prefer to be called, have intermarried with Caucasians and though they, too, are set a little apart from the Caucasians by their complexion, commingling is in progress. These dark peoples are developing political force and identity.

Lyndon Johnson cut loose from Texas by calling himself a southwestern American in the 1960 campaign. This was foresight on his part, for the nordic majority of a rather sparse Texas population is losing dominance and politicians are cultivating the dark people.

The Arizona color line is much less severe than demarcation elsewhere so Negroes in Arizona are much happier in this phase of life than Chicago or New York Negroes. Acrimonious New York agitators tried their wiles tentatively and subsided because they found no hateful situation to exploit. There is a strangely amiable society in which elements mix with remarkably little asperity or even rivalry.

Politically, Arizona is no longer a democratic state, although the Udall Brothers, Stewart and Mo, secretary of the Interior and Congressman-elect, are Democrats of radical quality. The Democrats just barely didn't beat Mac Matheson, the Republican who ran against Mo Udall in a special election for the seat Stewart Udall vacated to go to Interior. And the old situation that consolidated Arizona into the Solid South is emphatically past. Senator Barry Goldwater is the individual most responsible for this revolution. He is doing business as a Conservative far beyond Arizona.

And while unions do prosper, there is strong hostility against them among the large element of new citizens. Coming in from the Midwest, South and East and even a few from California to escape the smog, these people have been excluded from jobs by union systems of seniority. They had to go through heartrending delays while their credentials were transferred here from locals.

FATHERS:

Is your family's financial security program as up-to-date as your family? Find out with a FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Every father knows that his family's needs change from year to year. Perhaps there's a new baby... or a new house... or a teen-ager thinking of college. These are just some of the reasons why every father should have a thorough review of his family's security program regularly—whether he needs insurance or not.

What you could lose without one

There are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan. Or, too often, it simply falls behind the times.

For example, the Social Security law has been changed nine times since its inception. And the Social Security benefits your wife and children could get may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs. Then too—you can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the Company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this Family Security Check-Up service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man:

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.
2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.
3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points... whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

Air is free. Gasoline costs money. Here's how you can burn more free air, burn less gasoline to get more miles per gallon as you drive your carburetor clean:

Now Skelly, who sells gasoline, brings you a new Regular gasoline that can help you cut your gasoline costs... just by driving:

When dirty deposits build up in your carburetor's throat, your engine can't get all the air it needs to "breathe" right when the throttle is closed. It may start to idle "rough," to die frequently in traffic. It's a sign you are wasting gasoline.

Needed: More Air...

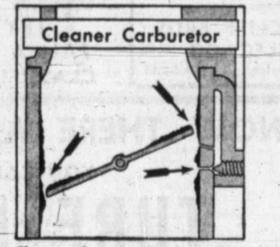

If you simply reset the throttle to let in more air, you also let in more gasoline. The right thing to do is to clean up your carburetor, so your engine can breathe all the air it wants without using extra gasoline.

You can pay from $8.50 to $25 to have your carburetor cleaned—or you can do it yourself, just by driving.

"Unglue" That Dirt:

If your car uses regular gasoline, switch to Skelly Regular with detergent-action KT-3, the special new formulation that "unglues" dirty deposits from carburetor parts. In actual Skelly tests, KT-3 outperformed nearly 40 additives now being offered. It costs Skelly extra to bring you KT-3, but you pay nothing extra to get KT-3 in Skelly Regular Gasoline.

Try KT-3. Drive your carburetor clean. Burn more free air and less gasoline.

- Cleaner Carburetor
- Cleans carburetors 30% better than all additives tested. KT-3 dissolves gum that binds dirty deposits to vital carburetor areas. That lets your engine breathe free — just by driving!
- ... And a Cleaner Engine, Too:
- Skelly Regular with KT-3 also...
 - Cleans 20% better in valve areas
 - Cleans 19% better in intake areas
 - Cleans combustion chambers
 - ... better than all additives tested. Try KT-3 yourself.

Drive your carburetor clean... burn more free air, with NEW Skelly Regular Gasoline WITH NEW STEPPED-UP KT-3
