

FIVE JUSTICES RULE AMERICA, BLACK CLAIMS

NEW DEALERS TACTICALLY APPEAL TO NATION ON AAA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—New dealers, tactically appealing from the Supreme Court to the electorate, hope the nation will reject the constitutional views of the court's majority and eventually follow the course upheld by the minority.

This became increasingly clear today as Roosevelt administration officials from the White House down emphasized again and again that the justices handed down two opinions in the case that wrecked AAA.

Already Secretary Wallace, author of the phrase "America must choose," has appealed to every family in the country to study both opinions.

Continuation of the majority decision continued to be heard from some democrats in congress. Senator Black (D-Ala) said the court has "thrown away the charts" and that the country now is "not ruled by laws but by men—five enough to rule 120,000,000."

Whether the new deal strategy would involve active drive for a constitutional amendment remained undetermined. President Roosevelt was silent on this and most other AAA questions at his press conference last night.

His only decision, he disclosed, is to ask congress to provide funds to pay farmers for performance under existing crop reduction contracts. AAA owes some $283,000,000 on these.

All members of the administration, he said, are studying the two decisions, or opinions of the court. Six judges outlawed, as an invasion of states' rights, the AAA program under which taxes were levied on processors to pay farmers for curbing production.

Eagerly, new dealers watched the reaction in the farm areas. They found it mixed. For example, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American farm bureau federation, said the decision could plunge agriculture into "unhappy conditions unless a quick remedy were found."

Further expressions of opinion are awaited at a meeting of 70 farm leaders to be convened here tomorrow by Secretary Wallace to discuss new agricultural plans.

The whole AAA remained paralyzed. First definite indications of disintegration of its personnel machine came today in guarded hints from some officials that 1,000 to 1,500 employees may be dropped within a few days.

A new proposal was being considered today—the organization of commodity producers' co-operative associations for voluntary production control. Under this plan it was explained, growers of cotton, or wheat or corn, might organize regionally. Voluntary agreements would be obtained from association members to reduce acreages when necessary. Then the government would make outright grants, with no strings attached, to the associations. The associations presumably would use the grants for benefit payments.

Such an association, it was said, might prove practicable now for the south, where the AAA had planned a 33 per cent reduction in cotton acreage for 1936. Federal restriction of the crop was believed definitely out, and some expressions favoring local crop reduction already were received from southern states.

Justices Hung In Effigy on a Campus in Iowa

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 8. (AP)—Iowa farm leaders discounted today the suggestion that the supreme court's decision knocking out the AAA might precipitate a midwestern farm uprising.

But they united in asserting that Iowa farmers, who had more at stake in the decision than those of any other state, will make themselves loudly heard in their demands for a new farm program.

DOUG WILL BE MARCO POLO IN HIS NEW FILM

Refuses to Discuss His Reported Romance

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. is through acting and has "nothing to say" about his reported romance with Lady Ashley of England.

"I'm a producer from now on," the former "Don Juan" of the screen explained in announcing he will not act again.

Arriving last night from Europe on the Aquitania, Fairbanks was asked about his marital plans. "I have nothing to say about that," he replied.

The 52-year-old actor, who used to amaze movie audiences with his athletic feats, said he would spend the next six months producing a new motion picture in California and China.

It will be the story of Marco Polo, medieval explorer and adventurer.

SOIL PROGRAM ADVOCATED TO REPLACE AAA

WALLACE ASKS FARM LEADERS TO HELP HIM THINK

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—The nation's farm leaders, invited to help Secretary Wallace replace the unconstitutional crop control program, searched today for a farm plan which would "pass through the supreme court sieve."

In their preliminary views, some advanced two definite substitutes for the agricultural adjustment act junked by the high court. Many reserved comment pending the conference Wallace has called in Washington Friday.

The proposals: 1. A soil conservation program, recommended by the Iowa Farm Study committee as a long-time plan.

Salient features of the suggestion emphasize farming practices such as crop rotation, soil building and erosion control. Farmers would reduce regular grain acreages, planting instead soil building grasses and legumes.

Benefit payments, sponsors of the plan said, would be based indirectly on the grasses and legumes grown. Farmers who did not produce the required amount would receive no payments.

A surplus control plan, similar in some respects to the McNary-Haugen act, twice vetoed by President Coolidge.

This plan provides for the payment to farmers of an equalization fee derived from sale either in this country or abroad of surplus stocks withdrawn from general markets.

The soil conservation program, which has been developing for several months, seems to offer the best basis for a farm plan that will pass through the supreme court sieve," said R. K. Bliss, agricultural extension director of Iowa State college.

H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, Tex., seconded the suggestion, saying the proposal would "reduce production and save soil at the same time."

The recommendation for a solution based on the principles of the McNary plan came from N. P. Hull, president of the National Milk Producers association.

BRITISH GIVEN 'INSIDE' DATA SENATORS SAY

MORGAN SENT 'DOPE' ABOUT WAR TO ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Senatorial investigators said today J. P. Morgan & Company supplied Great Britain with "inside information" on American governmental activity before the United States entered the world war.

Evidence intended to show this was ready to be laid before Morgan and his partners, appearing again today before the senate munitions committee. Committee members, hoping to enact their drastic neutrality ideas, are seeking to determine whether banking loans to the allies had influence in inducing the United States to join them in war.

Yesterday, the committee disclosed evidence tending to show that President Wilson himself indirectly gave the "go ahead" sign for the first of many American credits to the allies, a shift in neutrality policy opposed by Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan.

Morgan and his associates made plain that from the first their sympathies were with the allies.

"When the government turned itself loose, we turned ourselves loose," Morgan smiled.

The story of the delivery of inside information to the British was contained in a book of cablegrams copied from Morgan records.

One message sent by H. P. Davison, a wartime Morgan partner, to the London office of the company evidently related to the third Lustrania note to Germany asserting "fundamental" rights of the United States. It approved turning the information over to "authorities."

One telegram specifically designated the chancellor of the exchequer as the one to receive the information.

The Lustrania was sunk May 7, 1915. The third Lustrania note was dispatched July 21. But six weeks before that, Davison's cable, sent Through confidential sources I am informed that the president's reply to the German note is unequivocal in demanding that Germany must first of all meet the moral issue, irrespective of facts, as to which, if there be questions, they may be considered in due course.

Some members of the cabinet while in complete accord with the president, are said to be regarding matter most seriously, as issue of note will put matter squarely up to Germany, leaving no alternative to United States.

WHITTENBURG GAME HERE TOMORROW NIGHT TO START AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

BOYS PRACTICE ON SYSTEM OF COURT PLAYS

VISITORS WILL TRY TO AVENGE SATURDAY DEFEAT

Striving to create a system of play that will not develop into haphazard, slam-bang tactics under pressure, the Harvesters will take time tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the local gym to pit their skill a second time against the Whittenburg quintet.

Coach Odus Mitchell is concerned just now with drilling a definite procedure of attack and defense into the team than with any special is, on the whole, as good as any he has ever had. He has both height and speed on the squad, and he plans to use it to advantage.

From now on, the Harvesters will play according to signals and resultant maneuvers on the court. The coach believes that proficiency in making crisp shots and in looping rebounds will come after the boys begin to master their plays, and are able to use them against opponents.

Whittenburg will come to Pampa tomorrow night bent on avenging a 28 to 27 defeat suffered Saturday night. The visitors will feature a zone defense which in times past has completely baffled Harvester teams.

Friday the Harvesters will go to Mobeetie to defend their title won in 1935.

Swimming Coach Takes Fish's Eye View of His Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 8 (AP)—Bob Kiphuth, Yale swimming coach, is going in for the "fish's eye view" in his search for nataratorial perfection.

Kiphuth, chairman of the United States Olympic swimming committee, donned a diving helmet and a weighted vest yesterday, descended to the bottom of the Yale pool and "looked up" at his squad as it engaged in a workout.

Commenting on his trip "down under," the mentor said:

"It's the only way to get a true image and to study accurately the pupil's balance, stroke and actual technique."

Small Gorillas Hold White Deer Bucks To 30-20 Score

Bucks Tower Several Feet Above City Quintet

Battling height and experience, the Pampa high school Gorillas held the White Deer Bucks to a two-point victory yesterday afternoon in the local gymnasium. The final score was 30 to 28. White Deer led 11 to 8 at the half.

The game was the first of the season for Coach Dick Demard's boys. The youngsters displayed promising ability and, with a few more games, should be ready to give excellent accounts of themselves.

Billy Morrow, pint-sized guard, led the scoring of both teams with 12. He looped away his six baskets and came back with four nice baskets in the final stanza. Richardson, White Deer veteran, trailed Morrow by one point. Richardson was the tallest man on the floor, standing about 6 feet 5 inches. Two other members of the visiting team passed the 6-foot mark and the three looked like giants beside the little Gorillas.

Heiskell opened the scoring for Pampa and was followed by Morrow. Enloe slipped in a basket and Morrow duplicated to give the Gorillas an 8-point lead before White Deer registered. Hodges and Richardson started the Bucks away and they went into the lead in the second quarter. Morrow, Enloe and McDaniel tried to pull the Gorillas into the lead late in the game but their efforts fell two points short.

Most of the White Deer points were made on rebound shots, their superior height allowing them to get the ball off the backboard. At that, the Gorillas got a good percentage of the balls, the little fellows finding their jumps well.

Each coach sent three substitutes into the game and they performed exceptionally well. Bouts were few, the Gorillas leading in that department, 7 to 4.

Sports Roundup

PARKS PLAYED IN STAR GOLF ROLE IN 1935

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Eddie Collins told the Boston papers the inside of the big deal between the athletics and Red Sox. It began cooking as far back as July 4 when the Macks paid their second visit to the hub. Mack called on Collins at Fenway park and wrote out a line-up which he said he believed would keep the Beaneaters in the money for some time to come. On the list were several of his own stars. The Sox were hot after Jimmy Fox, but had given little thought to any of the other outstanding A's.

Mack admitted his club owed money. He told Collins if he could get enough from the Sox to satisfy those obligations they could have more than the one man. This put an idea into Collins' head. He went into a huddle with Tom Yawkey and Joe Cronin with the result that Yawkey promptly visited his bank. The deal might have been closed sooner, but for Mack's reluctance to give up Johnny Marcum.

Cronin is scratching his head trying to decide how to line up his remodeled Sox. With Eric McNair on deck at third, Cronin will play short again. That leaves the fleet Bill Werber as the problem. Cronin may convert Werber into an outfielder, but even then he doesn't know where to squeeze him in.

With Roger Cramer and Heinie Manush sure of the center and left field jobs, Werber would have to battle it out for the right field patrol with Skinny Graham. Mel Almada and Dusty Cooke. All five regular outfielders are left hand hitters which may react in Werber's favor.

Favorites Are Knocked off in Florida Tourney

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 8 (AP)—As a match between two unheralded players who knocked off a brace of seeded favorites held the gallery's attention today as 16 netmen fought for quarter final berths in the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament.

Weston Painter, Minneapolis, who eliminated Marcel Rainville, Canadian amateur champion and top-seeded foreign entry, 6-4, 6-2, was booked to meet another Canadian, Jack Reitman, Montreal, who disposed of Carroll Turner, Miami seeded No. 7, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta 1935 winner, faced Carleton Schaffer, Philadelphia; Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., conqueror of Wilmer Allison, National champion, met Jack Behr, New York; J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., seeded No. 2 behind Grant, came up against 17-year-old Enrique Conill, Havana; Hal Surface, Jr., Kansas City, met Russell Bobbitt, Atlanta.

Rice Owls Edge Out Baylor 35-33 In Two Extra Periods

Southwest Battle Is An Endurance Contest

(By The Associated Press.) The Southwest conference basketball title race—if the opening game can be one of endurance—may turn out to be one of endurance.

It took the Rice Owls two extra periods to subdue the scrapping Baylor Bears, 35 to 33, in the conference opener at Waco last night. The game was not a nip and tuck battle all the way through, however. The Owls got off to a quick start and led, 12 to 6, at the half, but they had to fight off a sensational Baylor rally to tie the count at the end of the regular playing time.

Second half play was equally as tough as the first. The Owls slipped into a 26 to 24 lead, and the Owls turned a wild throw by Burba Gernan, Baylor guard into a field goal as the game ended. Still deadlocked at the end of a five-minute extra period, the game continued. Rice made seven points in the second period and then had to fight off another Baylor rally to win by a single field goal.

The Texas Aggies walked over the Sam Houston Bearcats, 30 to 12, in the final pre-conference game at College Station.

Five other conference tussles are on the week's schedule.

Rice will move to Austin to play the Texas Longhorns tonight. The Arkansas Razorbacks will invade the Aggies' court Friday night. Other games were booked for Saturday as follows:

Arkansas and A. & M. at College Station; Southern Methodist and Texas Christian at Fort Worth; Texas and Baylor at Waco.

Basketball Over The Panhandle

The Plainview Bulldogs quintet takes its first conference rivalry, and perhaps the toughest assignment before the district meet Friday night when it engages the Lubbock Westerners in a cage tilt that is certain to hark back to a certain recent Thanksgiving day grid upset.

The Lubbock cagers, who swept their section with a string of victories in the short time they have taken to the cage floor recently, rousing the Shallowater crew, always outstanding in the Lubbock area, with a 48 to 23 count.

The game Friday night was scheduled to be played at Lubbock with a rearrangement brought the match to Plainview with the Bulldogs booked to return the engagement on January 21.

The Bulldogs will play Shallowater at Shallowater tonight. It will be a tough assignment and no doubt will show the Bulldogs the pace they must strike to oust the Westerners.

The Bulldogs have played only two scheduled games this season, both on the home court. Neither contest proved a demonstration of the local quintet's top ability. If they follow true to form of improvement there will be a different brand of work after another game or two.

LUBBOCK, Jan. 7. — Hoping to carry on in basketball with the same speed that marked their 1935 football progress, the Slaton high school Tigers invade Lubbock high school gymnasium tonight for a cage tilt with the Westerners.

Coach Gooder Keyes' Lubbock Westerners, improved nearly one hundred per cent over the team which drew uniforms before Christmas, will give the Tigers the test, and at the same time take one. Lubbock is unbeaten so far this year, having whipped the Meadow and Shallowater quintets by decisive counts. They expect Slaton to give them a tough battle tonight.

Coach Keyes is pleased so far with the work of his three returning letter men—Othie Upton, Murray Venable and Orville Oden—said with his five returning squad men.

Assistant manager, Lucey Brummett, Bruce Chant, Earl Ince and Russell Love. A newcomer to the squad, C. L. Storris, football star, has added height and natural ability to the Lubbock high squad. Oden is likely to play a lot at center, Oden, former center, will play at guard. Venable and Letsinger at forwards, Upton at guard with Oden.

Chant, who scored 20 points Saturday night to lead Lubbock's march over the Shallowater team, probably will start at a forward position tonight in Letsinger's place. At any rate, he will see service.

BORGER, Jan. 7.—The vengeful Bulldogs, sullen under a defeat administered by the Perryton Rangers, tomorrow night journey to the home city of the club that walked off with a 1-point victory in the final seconds of play here Friday night.

Jubilant over the victory in the night's contest the Redbirds will likewise make the trip to Perryton to engage the girls team of that city and hope to score another court victory over the hitherto invincible Rangerettes.
