Dominican Republic Faces Power Struggle

U.S. Link With 'Riders' Denied

Trujillo's Death May Start Navy And Army Strife

Justice Chief's Demands Bared By Bus Official

MONTEGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A Justice Department aide beaten in the May 20 "freedom rider" riot here denied Wednesday the government helped plan the desegregation movement.

Greyhound Bus Co. official testified, however, that U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had told him the government would be "very upset" if the riders did not complete the ill-fated trip from Birmingham to Montgomery.

Planning Board Action Deferred By Commission

Action was deferred at yesterday's meeting of the City Commission on the appointment of a nine-man planning-zoning board, after several names of prospective board members had been submitted.

Naming of the new board had been proposed as part of the program of Koch & Fowler and Grate, Inc., Dallas consulting engineers and planners under contract with the city to draw up a city planning program, based on Pampa's projected growth for the next 20 years.

First report of the consulting engineers was given to the City Commission in March. It had to do with a study of Pampa's population growth and economic base. Next report of the engineers is scheduled for the June 20 city commission meeting.

Under the contract with the Dallas firm, the planning study is being prepared for the city and the Texas Department of Health, financed in part with an urban planning grant from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency under the 1954 Housing Act.

The program is being completed at a total cost of $38,000, half of which is financed by the city and the other half by the federal government.

The first $10,000 payment of the city's share to Koch & Fowler and Grate, Inc., already has been made.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell said it was the opinion of the commission, without formal action, that he would make it a point to see that no project before any action was taken on appointment of planning board members.

Solon Explains Role In Scuffle

AUSTIN (UPI) — Rep. Jim Markgraf of Scurry Wednesday claimed some reports of his scuffle on the floor of the House shortly before the regular session of the legislature ended Monday night were simply in error.

Markgraf issued a statement "about the incident with Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas which said in part:

"One point I especially want cleared up is that I have never used profane language in my scuffle. I did not intend that might profanity was used by some of the members in that incident, but not by me. Further, I did not go back first to apparently hit anyone. I have always maintained that people only resort to fighting when they have exhausted their intelligence."

French Generals Start Sentences

PARIS (UPI) — Former French Gen. Marie Perle and Andre Mayer today began 15-year prison terms for their role in the leadership of the military mutiny in Algeria.

De Gaulle Talks African Problem With U.S. Chief

PARIS (UPI) — President Kennedy and President Charles de Gaulle plunged today into discussions of the problems of Africa and its emerging new nations.

The Algerian crisis makes Africa a vital question for De Gaulle and he was expected to explore all its ramifications with Kennedy.

American sources said the initial contacts between the U.S. and French chiefs of state were proceeding in much better fashion than had been expected, particularly considering the 26-year difference in their ages.

White House spokesman Pierre Salinger refused to be drawn out Wednesday on his statement that a "general agreement" was reached in talks on Berlin. But he confirmed that discussion of the subject had been finished.

The two also discussed the Laos conference in Geneva and other southeast Asia problems, in which French and American approaches differ in major respects, but did not try to reach any conclusions.

The two presidents arranged two more sessions today — one of about 90 minutes each.

Governor Issues Legislative Call

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel officially called a special session of the 57th Legislature Wednesday to begin at 11 a.m. on June 10.

Daniel's proclamation said the purpose of the 30-day session would be to enact appropriations for the 1961-62 biennium, provide sufficient revenue to meet those expenditures and retire the deficit in the state treasury, and to enact improvements in the public schools, including teachers' and from the meeting, attention is being drawn to the wives of the two notables, Mrs. Kennedy, left, and Mrs. De Gaulle, extreme right.

Daniel Urges People To Voice Their Opinions On Tax Plans

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel left it up to the general tax payer to decide how Texas is going to finance state government in the next two years.

He urged the people to talk to their representatives and senators before the special session begins on July 10, and tell them how they feel about a general sales tax and 11 per cent on corporations and other businesses.

Khrushchev To Meet With Kennedy Sunday

VIENNA (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and President Kennedy drew nearer today in the manner of two men walking on eggs.

The pudgy Soviet premier was in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, today, just across the Iron Curtain from the free Austrian capital, presumably conferring with other leaders of the Communist world.

In a brief televised address to a mildly enthusiastic crowd there Wednesday night, he said he did "not want to predict the results of my meeting" with Kennedy.

Before leaving New York for Paris, Kennedy spoke of the United States mission of "peace and freedom."

He also avoided predicting results of his meeting with Khrushchev, telling a French television audience in a pre-recorded speech that his main object was to establish "communication" with the Soviet premier to prevent any "miscalculation" that might lead to big trouble for the world.

Spelling Bee Won By Oklahoma Lad

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Capobianco, a 12-year-old boy from Tulsa, Okla., won the 24th annual National Spelling Bee today by getting all the letters correct in the words "distichous" and "smargandine."

In a short run-off, he defeated another 12-year-old, Mary Lister of Howard, Calif. Mary spelled 24 words correctly, but lost to John's victory means $1,000 in cash plus a weekend trip to New York.

By United Press International

The Dominican Republic faced the prospect today of a no-holds-barred struggle for power in the new era abruptly ushered in by the Tuesday night assassination of 69-year-old Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo.

A behind-the-scenes conflict which approximately pits the navy against the army and the secret police has been raging for about two years and it seemed certain now to burst into the open.

Dominican refugee leaders in New York predicted that Trujillo's death would be the signal for "bloody revolt" in the Dominican Republic.

Of immediate concern to the United States and other democratic nations of the Western Hemisphere was the possibility that Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro might try to move into the vacuum created by the death of the man who had dominated Dominican affairs for more than 30 years.

Sen. George A. Smathers, Fla., urged that two brigades of U.S. Marines be sent to the Dominican Republic at once "to preserve order, to forestall a Castro-engineered coup in that county and to guarantee free elections."

Dominican refugee groups were quick to claim credit for the assassination and to rejoice at the news of Trujillo's death—some of them in statements that had a pro-Castro ring.

Other refugees also exulted in their statements that some of the anti-Castro Cubans who paraded through the streets of San Jose, Costa Rica, with signs saying "Trujillo's finished" and asking "who's next?"

Information about the killing was scanty. The official announcement—issued nearly 24 hours after the event—said only that Trujillo had been assassinated Tuesday night on George Washington Avenue, a waterfront drive, and that a "group of persons" was responsible.

It said no further information would be made public until the government completed its investigation of the case.

From Ciudad Trujillo, NBC correspondent John Hlavacek reported that the generalissimo was slain for motives of personal revenge rather than political subversion.

Hlavacek said Trujillo was killed by seven gunmen led by retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, identified as leader of a band of guerrillas who had fought since 1909 anti-Trujillo guerrillas in the Dominican hills. He said Diaz escaped, although at least one of his men was killed and some of the others were captured.

For the moment, at least, President Joaquin Balaguer and the army appeared to be in control of the Dominican situation.

Air travelers who passed through Ciudad Trujillo Wednesday said the country appeared calm, with no undue military precautions in force at the airport.

Corn planting was practically complete. Only a few acres remained to be planted on the High Plains and in East Texas. Much of the South Central corn crop has been reported cutting badly and has gone about as long as a corn plant without rain, the USDA said.

Harvesting was 30 per cent complete, the USDA said, and yields have been better than expected in spite of dry weather. Harvest of spring vegetables was estimated to total about 6,000 to the Nation. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky said the profits got murky.

Believe the dinner, the Republican National Committee was scheduled to hold the first session of a two-day meeting today.

Six Persons Die As Automobile Runs Into Train

ANGLETON, Tex. (UPI) — An automobile smashed into the side of a moving freight train on the south edge of Angleton, Tex., early today and killed six members of a family who had left home 15 minutes earlier on a vacation.

Dead were William J. Rose and his wife Gypsy, both 35; a son, William J. Rose Jr., 6; two daughters, Eunice Rose, 15, and Ellen Rose, 13; and Manuel Oliver Sr., 68, all of Freeport. Oliver was believed to be Mrs. Rose's father.

A third daughter, Linda Rose, 13, was rushed to John Staley Hospital in nearby Galveston in critical condition.

Investigators said the car hit the train with such force it knocked a gondola car off its wheels and derailed the entire car.

Vacation trip. Train engineer O. A. Whittington of Houston said the accident occurred so fast "I didn't even have time to put on the brakes. I don't think he ever saw the train."

There were no skid marks to indicate the driver of the car even made an effort to stop. The Rose family had left its Freeport home only about 15 minutes before the accident en route to Thunderbolt, Ga., on a vacation trip.

Coffee and other picnic supplies were scattered across the wreck scene.

Authorities said they could find no reason for the accident, at a grade crossing on State Highway 288 just inside the southern Angleton city limits.

He was judged for disturbing the peace and throwing a punch at one of the boys in blue.

GOP Hopes Eisenhower Will Start Campaign 'Fire' In Talk Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican session included reports from committee set up to recommend ways of benefiting from the lessons learned in the Republican defeat in the national election last year.

The committee will conclude its session Friday with the election of a new chairman to succeed Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Sen. William E. Miller of New York, who was expected to have the chairmanship wrapped up, Ray C. Bliss, Ohio GOP chairman, announced last week that he did not want his name presented as a candidate for the chairmanship.

Man Admitted Dual Killing, Court Told

NACOGDOCHES (UPI)—County Atty. Ed Benchoff testified Wednesday that Edward Otho Hagans admitted to him that he must have killed his aunt, Mrs. C. B. Hagans, 71, and her sister, Mrs. Beulah Gibson, 68.

Benchoff is helping prosecute Hagans and his wife, Marie, for the double murder. He took the stand to tell the court about a statement Hagans made on March 22, about a month after the two sisters were found beaten to death.

It was subsequently learned one of them had been shot in the head.

Benchoff said he took Hagans' voluntary statement when he and his wife were returned from California, where they were found staying in a motel.

Asked for money

He read part of the statement, in which Hagans detailed how he and his wife went to Mrs. Hagans home and asked for money. When it was refused, a fight started.

Hagans told the county attorney that he struck Mrs. Gibson and then Mrs. Hagans with a pistol. Mrs. Gibson "scratched me and tore my shirt," he said.

She was old, but she was stronger than me, and she kept on fighting," the statement read.

The statement said that Mrs. Gibson finally fell "when the pistol went off," and Hagans continued to beat Mrs. Hagans "until she stopped struggling."

Police said Mrs. Hagans was beaten so hard that parts of the metal handle of the pistol were embedded in her skull.

Benchoff said Hagans told him that he and wife took money, about $500, from the two women's purses, loaded a television set into Mrs. Hagans car, and fled to California. They were driving the car when they were apprehended by the FBI.

Several police officers testified that Hagans, who lived in Houston and was born in Port Arthur, had a bad reputation, and so did his wife in Lufkin and Fort Worth, where she worked under the name of Mildred Manson.

Dr. Jack Pruitt, a pathologist, told the court that on March 2, he performed an autopsy on one of the women and found her skull cracked under repeated blows, but didn't find the bullet in her head until the body had been exhumed and a second autopsy performed.

Daniel Signs Private Club Control Bill

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. Price Daniel has signed in law, effective Sept. 1, a bill setting up registration and control over private clubs in Texas.

The bills, by Reps. Tom James of Dallas and Homer Koliba of Columbus, assesses a membership fee of $2 per member.

Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline fought the bill in the House, contending it "legalizes the sale of liquor by the drink in Texas."

He accused James of "aiding the cause of the open saloon."

James said there was no basis for that charge.

"The bill deals only with law enforcement," he said. "Here is a way to bring in revenue that will hurt nobody, and at the same time will put a lot of these so-called private clubs out of business."

James said the bill's purpose is to "eradicate so-called private clubs operated as a subterfuge for the sale of liquor by the drink."

PARIS (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was described by one of her friends today as "wonderfully happy" at the warmth of the welcome Parisians have given her on her first overseas journey as America's first lady.

"She's right up there with the angels," said Mme. Herve Alphonse, wife of the French ambassador to the United States, one of those who witnessed Mrs. Kennedy's stunning triumph at Wednesday night's Elysee Palace reception.

With her youth and beauty and a flair for dress—in American-made clothes—that Paris finds irresistible, Mrs. Kennedy quickly captured the heart of the city.

"She is the queen of Paris," wrote one journalist.

"She is beautiful—marvelous."

PARIS (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy said bemedaled generals and white-tied diplomats. Some stood on chairs for a better look at her "happy" at the warmth of the welcome Parisians have given her on her first overseas journey as America's first lady.

Mrs. Kennedy wore a gown of white and pink straw lace, with a demurely high neckline in front and a plunging low-cut back. It had been the hit of a congressional reception in Washington, and the first lady reasoned rightly that it ought to do as well with the French.

There was also her hairdo, fashioned by Parisian hairdresser Alexander. He cut her hair all around by one and one-half inches, thinned out the fringe on the forehead, and topped the whole thing with a round chignon trimmed with diamond pins. He called it the "Gothic Madonna" style.

The effect was electric. Normally sophisticated Parisian society behaved like bargain hunters in a department store basement as they crowded to reach the first lady.

Beautiful French women in bare-shouldered evening gowns and dignified Frenchmen in formal dress, many with the red ribbon of the French Legion of Honor, could have held their own with any subway crowd in New York.

Chic French women yipped in pain as heavy male heels came down on their delicately shod toes.

The hems of a few evening dresses were ripped in the scramble.

President de Gaulle, accompanied by President Kennedy, steered his wife and Mrs. Kennedy to comparative safety behind a buffet table, flanked by husky palace chamberlains in knee breeches. But the crush increased around the table and the smile on Mrs. Kennedy's face seemed fixed in concern and possibly fatigue.

She smiled frequently, however, when people at the party reminded her of her student days in Paris.

Blakley's Defeat Was 'Good Thing,' Democrat Asserts

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (UPI)—Former Democratic national chairman Paul Butler Wednesday night said he thought it was a good thing incumbent Sen. William Blakley, D - Tex., was defeated by Republican John Tower.

"Blakley's record has not been a consistent one in support of Democratic policies and programs," Butler told a group of Antioch College students.

"The real Democrats in Texas, the Democrats who believe in politics and platforms of the Democratic party, did not accept Blakley," Butler added, "and I think a lot of them stayed at home" election day.

New Truce Plan Offered By Reds At Laos Parley

GENEVA (UPI)—The Communist today suggested informally a temporary Korean-type truce line in Laos to counter American demands for unlimited cease-fire inspections throughout the southeast Asian kingdom.

The Reds circulated the idea apparently as a trial-balloon before the 14-nation peace conference on Laos went into another plenary session deadlocked over the cease-fire problem.

The Communist plan would restrict the truce-watching International Control Commission (ICC) to trouble spot-inspections along a "line" dividing the rival royal Laotian government forces and the Pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

The Reds stressed that the truce line would be a temporary measure to guard the peace until the conference here comes up with a permanent solution to the Laos crisis.

They said the plan was not intended to partition Laos permanently—an idea opposed by the Laotians, their neutral neighbors and the western powers.

In Wednesday's session, the first in a week, the Russians refused to give in to Western demands that the ICC immediately be given the power to check reported violations of the cease-fire throughout Laos.

The Soviet Union has rejected all Western demands that the ICC be given wider authority to check complaints of truce violations. The ICC—made up of India, Canada and Poland—requested such authority.

Rotary Club's Scholarship Won By Bill Byerly

Junior Rotarians of the Pampa Rotary club yesterday voted Bill Byerly as that member of their group who best lived up to the ideals of Rotary. The honor was accompanied by a $100 scholarship.

Outstanding high school seniors serve as Junior Rotarians throughout the year and assume the responsibility for the last Rotary program of the school year. Lucky Dunham, president of the high school student council, presided at yesterday's meeting.

Others giving talks about their college and occupation plans besides Dunham were Jim Sheemaker and Byerly.

Radio And Battery Stolen From Car

Police reported today thieves broke into a locked car on the parking lot of the Kisse Ford Co., 701 W. Brown, and stole a car radio and battery, both valued at $91.25.

The theft occurred some time Monday or Tuesday nights but was not discovered until yesterday, police said.

Engineers Plan Session Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Panhandle Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, June 5, at the "Top of The Village" Restaurant, Wolfen Village, in Amarillo.

Reservations may be arranged by contacting Billy G. Grant, Box 511, Amarillo, or by calling Pampa City Engineer Monroe O. Moore.

Speaker for the session will be Engineer John C. Thompson, assistant regional director, Bureau of Reclamation, who will speak on "The Design and Development of the Canadian River Dam."

"This subject should be of vital interest to all Engineers and every fisherman in the area," City Engineer Moore said, "and all engineers are urged to attend and bring one or more guests to hear this informative speaker."

Commerce Secretary Finds Foreign Markets Open To U.S. Goods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Luther Hodges is very probably the only secretary of commerce in U.S. history who, while conducting top-level economic talks with foreign governments, has functioned on the side as a chicken salesman.

He achieved this minor but characteristic distinction when he visited six European countries last month to discuss expanded trade opportunities. As former governor of North Carolina, a state which raises 150 million chickens a year, he was struck by the relatively high poultry prices which he encountered in West Germany.

"I figured out," he said with a triumphant smile, "that we can deliver frozen American chicken in Hamburg cheaper than they can bring one in from a German farm."

Hodges hurried home from Europe to relay this news to U.S. poultry shippers. He has also called the attention of other U.S. industries to markets for American products which he found, largely unexploited, in every country he visited.

"There's a lot of business open over there if we will go after it," he said in an interview. "But I didn't see many American salesmen seeking orders."

This indifference to foreign markets disturbs Hodges both personally and officially. It disturbs him personally because, after 40 highly successful years in business, he is a salesman to the core, and cannot abide the sight of an ignored customer. It bothers him officially because, as President Kennedy's chief adviser on trade, he sees a need for a substantial expansion of U.S. exports to solve the balance-of-payments problem which has caused gold reserves to flow out of this country at a serious rate in recent years.

Pampa Scout Departs For Canoe Camp

Don Curry, 17, left early this morning for Ely, Minn., where he has been appointed to serve as staff guide at the Charles L. Sommers Wilderness Canoe Base, Region Two, Boy Scouts of America.

During the summer months, Curry will guide Explorer Boy Scouts, in groups of 12, in foraging trails by foot and canoe through the Canadian wilderness. His schedule calls for nine days on the trail with three days at the canoe base before taking out another group.

Curry has attended the Canadian wilderness exploration — for four years; two years as an Explorer Scout, last year as an assistant guide and this year has been selected by the Region Two directors in Minnesota as staff guide.

The 1961 Pampa High School graduate has been in Boy Scouting for 10 years and has received the Vigil Badge, one of the highest scouting honors bestowed upon youth or adults. To 21 merit badges, which earned for him the Eagle Scout award, he has added the bronze and silver palms and has spent two years as an Explorer Scout.

His summer assignment is to begin June 7 and conclude on Aug. 22 at which time he will return home preparatory to entering Texas University for his freshman year.

Curry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Curry, 1126 Charles.

Four Are Injured In Paris Attack

PARIS (UPI) — Algerian rebel extremists injured four persons in hand grenade attack on a police post here despite police efforts to keep Paris violence-free during the visit of President and Mrs. Kennedy.

The attack took place in the Rue de Nantes on the northeastern edge of the city.

A policeman and three civilians were wounded by flying fragments when the grenade exploded. All were taken to a hospital, where the policeman's condition was described as serious.

going to be in trouble."

He noted that the Kennedy administration has asked Congress for changes in tax laws to encourage American industry to spend more money on new plants and equipment. "This is an urgent program and we attach great importance to it," he said.

At 63, Hodges is the oldest member of President Kennedy's cabinet, and the only one born in the 19th Century. He is also usually described as the most conservative member of the cabinet, and he accepts this designation with a word of explanation.

"My training in business makes me somewhat conservative in fiscal matters. I won't say that I agree with everything this administration has done and proposed. But basically I'm in accord with the President on his program."

"This country has got to move forward on more liberal lines. Personally, I'd rather not move too fast. But I know that we've got to keep moving."

Being a cabinet officer, he has discovered, is quite a bit different from being a governor.

"As a governor, I could just make decisions," he said. "As a cabinet officer I have to correlate and coordinate practically everything I say and do. It slows you down, and frustrates you a little bit. But I'm philosophical about it. I'm having an exciting time in Washington."

He and Mrs. Hodges, whom he married in 1922, live in a modest apartment off Connecticut Ave. in northwest Washington. They also have a six-bedroom home in Chapel Hill, N.C., which Hodges says is "big enough to hold all seven of my grandchildren at once." The Hodges have two married daughters and a son, Luther Jr., who is at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Korean Turncoat Meted $500 Fine On Traffic Count

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Claude Batchelor, 28, one of the most widely publicized turncoats of the Korean War, declined to plead either guilty or innocent to a charge of manslaughter in a fatal traffic accident today.

His lawyer, Joel Westbrook, said that by pleading nolo contendere (neither way) he hoped to save himself from having his federal parole revoked and having to serve 15 years remaining of a 20-year sentence for collaborating with the Chinese Communists.

Dist. Judge Charles Grace suspended Batchelor's driver's license for six months and fined him $500. He gave Batchelor 30 days to raise the $500.

Batchelor's automobile rammed the back of another car last Nov. 4 and knocked it into a ditch. Mrs. Simona Barrera, 48, was thrown from the other car and killed. Her husband, Pedro, was injured.

Xerophytes are to be found in the desert. They are plants adapted to growth with a limited water supply.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

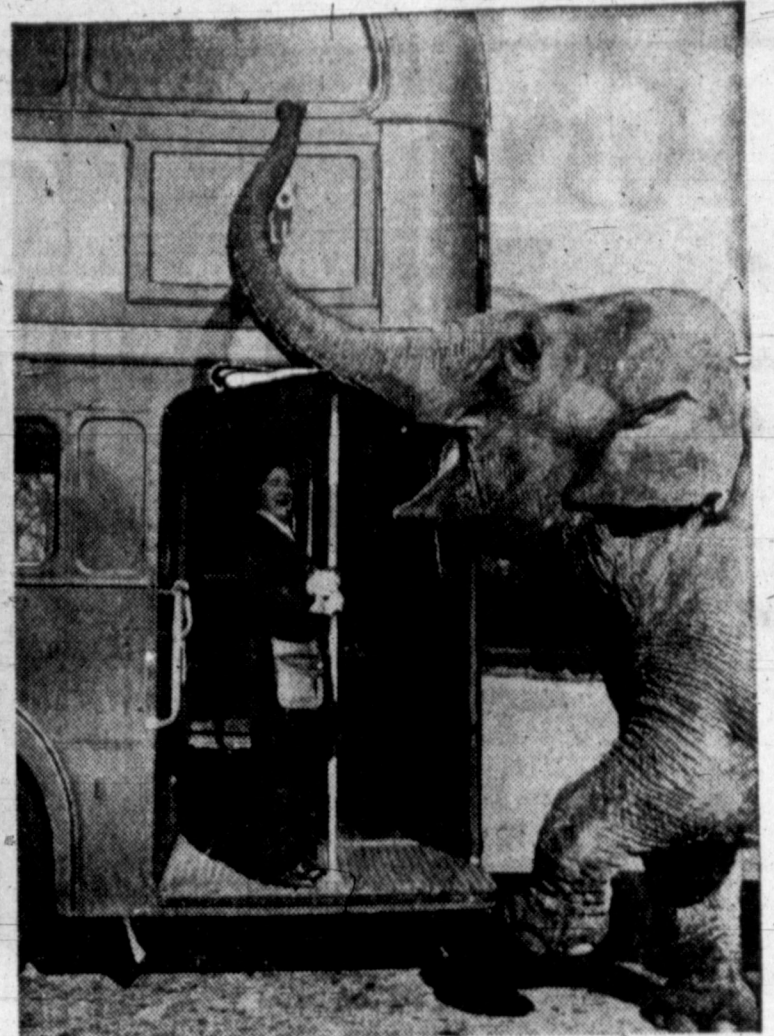

LLAMA'S LITTLE HELPER—Recognizing a llama in need when she meets one, three-year-old Jennifer Lain steps up to feed the newborn fellow at the zoo in Whipsnade, England. Just a day old, the little llama is still shaky on his legs. Jennifer looks like she isn't too sure how close she should get. The llama appears to be a little timid, too. But he couldn't resist such a cute tot. She had him eating out of her hand in no time.

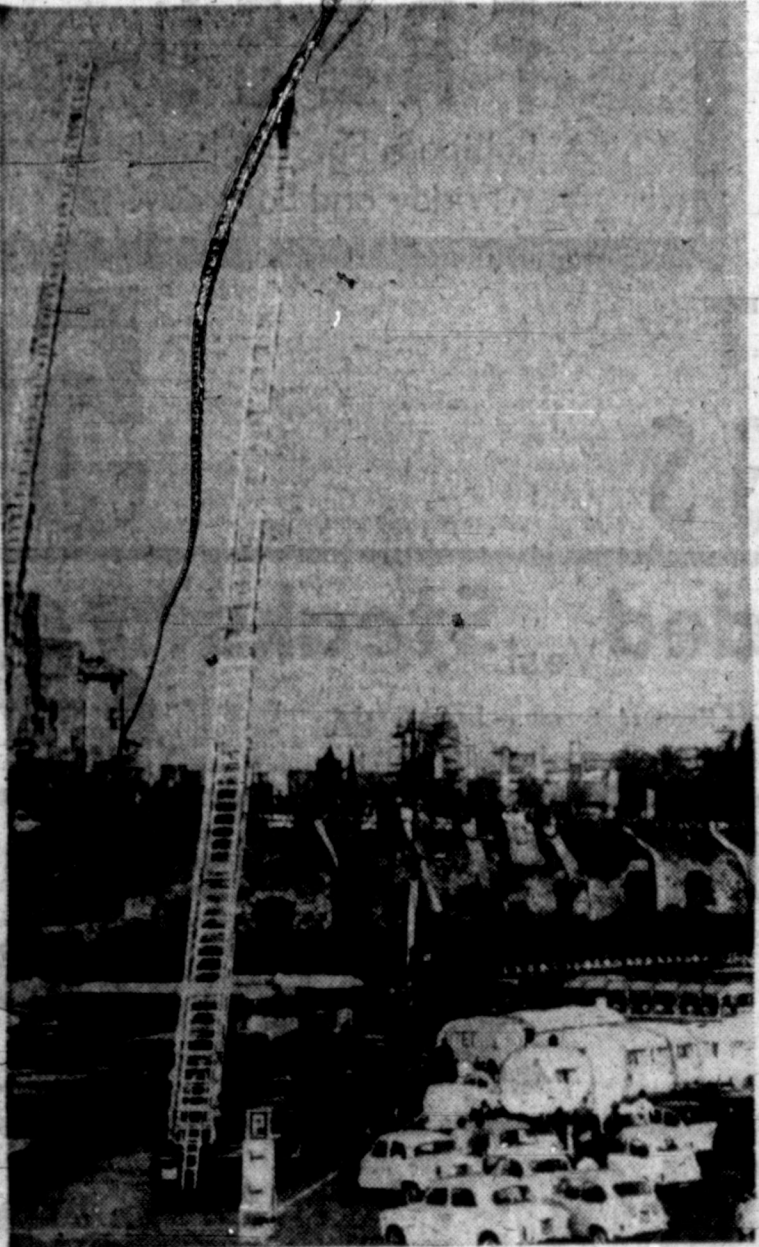

PUTTING ON THE DOGS—Selecting her wardrobe for a world personal appearance tour, glamorous French actress Martine Carol takes her dogs, Dingo and Diana, with her to the couturier in Paris. During the tour, Martine will preside at the inauguration of a new airport in Tahiti.

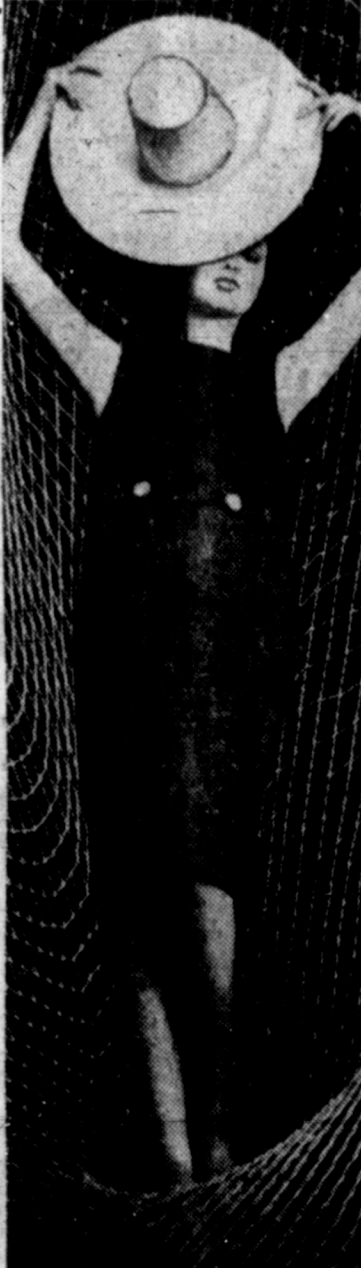

CAN YOU MATCH THIS?—Edwin Aldous, 72, of Dunstable, Bedfordshire, England, lights a cigarette while bending over a model of a house of worship. Aldous is calling attention to the replica of London's historic St. Paul's Cathedral which he created from 5,620 matchsticks.

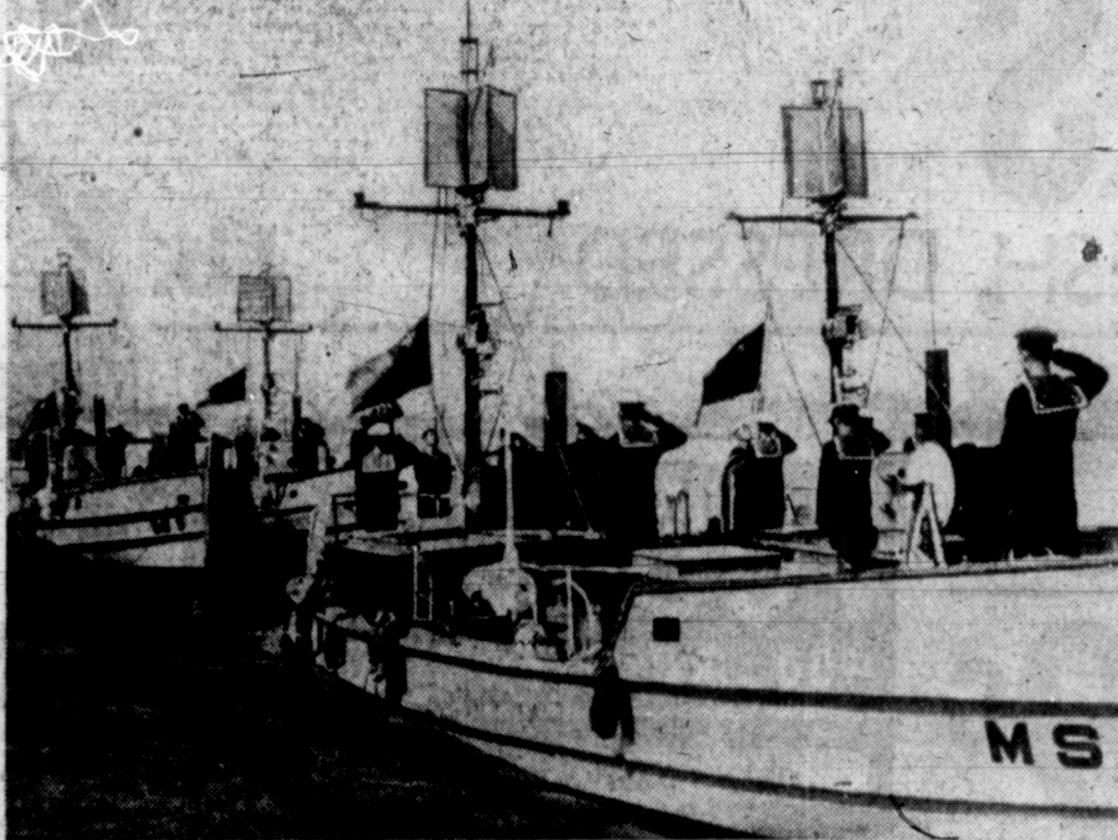

'YOU CAN'T BRING THAT TRUNK ON HERE'—Peggy the elephant seems to be shouting, "Wait for me!" as the bus starts up. Lady conductor Germaine Lavery is amused by the pachyderm, but she is firm about refusing him a ride. This took place at the Chessington, England, Zoo.

A SIGHT TO BEHOLD—Dominating the scene as he stands on an aerial ladder, a fireman enjoys a bird's-eye view of the traditional blessing of motor vehicles and drivers near the Forum in Rome, Italy. Cars, trucks, buses and other vehicles were assembled for the blessing.

NICE CATCH—Netting a prize for a hot weather wardrobe, Pembroke Squire cuts a cool, black pique patio dress for the Cabana summer collection. Sleeveless and collarless, the dress has a belt that loosely circles the bloused back and buttons at the front. Many a fisherman would love to catch a creation like this in his net.

CHANGING CREWS—Sailors of the Nationalist Chinese Navy hoist their colors aboard four of the 10 minesweepers that were turned over to Chiang Kai-shek's navy by the United States. The ceremony took place at Tsoying Naval Base, Formosa. Just minutes before, American bluejackets had lowered the U. S. flags on the vessels, prior to transfer.

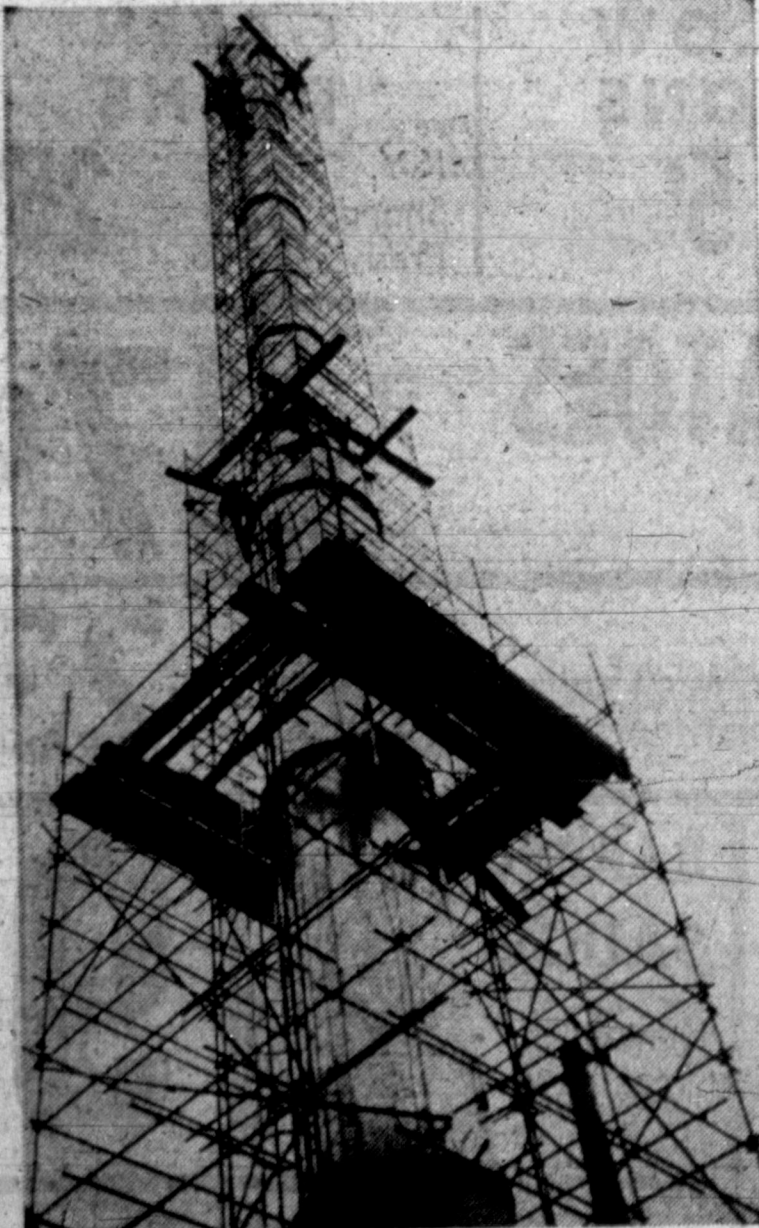

UNDER THE SPELL OF 'OLD MAN RIVER'—A riverfront dreemer finds a refuge on this stretch of the Mississippi River shore in St. Louis, Mo., amid the litter of the busy waterway. Firewood and fuel for a driftwood fancier's imagination, the debris is part of levee's springtime face.

ON THE MARCH—Arms linked and tambourines waving, Kibbutz (collective farm) girls from the Jordan Valley march through the Hulda Forest region near Jerusalem. They were among the 5,500 persons who took part in the annual four-day Route March.

BATTER BEATER—Not only does this three-year-old Boston lad like pancakes for breakfast, he pitches in to help make the batter. Mother's little helper, Liam Fitzgerald, mans the egg-beater with an expert's confidence. He is a real "beatnik" when it comes to a bowl of batter.

FINISHING TOUCHES—Like flies swarming over a fantastic silver missile, workmen finish installation of a 150-foot chimney, the world's highest chimney made of aluminum-clad steel. The final 100-foot section (actually five sections) was lifted into place as one piece. The chimney rises from the Northam Gas Works, Southampton, England, serving the new boiler plant that has been built there.

THE CAT'S MEOW—Reaching for high C, Tony the cat opens his mouth all the way in Cleveland. He is accompanying the lady of the house, Mrs. George Siffles, whose husband is a clarinetist for the Cleveland Orchestra. It's easy to see where Tony got his love for music.

SNOW PRINCESS:

FOLLOWING ROYALTY—Denmark's Princess Margrethe, 21, leads the way while participating in a Red Cross aid seminar near Finse, Norway. At right, the Princess and her team make their way through some of the roughest terrain in Norway. Destined to be queen of Denmark, Margrethe will be first woman to rule her country since 1408.

Coffee For Two, Please—
And Be Sure It's Good!

Set a lighted candle on your coffee table. Near it, place a bowl of fresh fruit, perhaps with a wedge of rich cheese and a few crackers. Then, fill your prettiest china cups with dark, steaming coffee.

In this candle-lit setting, two people share the evening coffee hour at its romantic best. When the cups are raised, the coffee should be the most delicious you can brew. It must be rich in flavor, freshly made and hot all the way through. Happily, there is no reason why your coffee should ever be less than excellent.

Simple rules for good coffee
Coffee-making is easy. But so many people lessen the enjoyment of coffee-drinking by brewing their coffee too long, or cheating a bit on the amount of roasted coffee they use. These things are important. They make the difference when you taste that very first sip.

You may have forgotten—or never known—the rules for good coffee-brewing. It will help to go over them now and refresh your memory. There aren't any tricks. Just follow the simple directions, measure accurately, and you will drink perfect coffee every time you make it.

When you make coffee, start with a clean coffee maker, fresh coffee and fresh cold water. Most important—pay close attention to both measuring and timing. For each serving, use: 1 Approved Coffee Measure (or 2 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee; and ¼ of a measuring cup (6 ounces) of water.

Pointers for Three Methods

Here are some suggestions for each brewing method. If you use a percolator, when perking begins, lower heat, then percolate gently 6 to 8 minutes, no longer. If you use a vacuum maker, when water has risen to upper bowl, stir coffee and water thoroughly. After stirring, keep vacuum maker over moderate heat for 1 to 3 minutes, depending upon strength desired. Do not let the coffee boil. If you use a drip pot, pour in boiling water; it should go through coffee in 4 to 6 minutes. Stir before serving.

A few additional pointers for brewing good coffee are: (1) Use at least three-quarters of the capacity of your coffee maker. For fewer cups, use a smaller maker. (2) Brewing too long makes coffee bitter. (3) Always use the proper grind of coffee for your coffee maker. (4) Never allow coffee to boil. (5) When using a vacuum bottle, fill it with boiling water while the coffee is brewing. This helps to keep coffee hot for a longer period.

Tempting Foods For
Sultry Summer Days

Warm weather calls for tempting easy-made foods. Perfect fare for a hot day combines an attractive fruit plate with pineapple-ginger Gouda dressing with warm Orange Gouda muffins and assorted American-made cheeses. Smoked Edam, Muenster, Pineapple and Baby Gouda, the high protein cheese with 15 per cent fewer calories than most natural cheeses of the Cheddar type.

The weatherman can tell one when to bake muffins. Prepare enough for several days on a cool day. Freeze and wrap the number needed for one meal in foil for storage in freezer. Just before serving pop them into the oven to warm.

To create a salad as colorful as summer itself, combine pineapple slices, cantaloupe wedges, strawberries, watermelon chunks, sugared grapes and thin orange slices on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish, if desired, with sprigs of watercress or mint. Serve with pineapple-ginger Gouda dressing, a heavenly light new combination of canned pineapple pie mix, lime rind, whipped cream, preserved ginger and shredded Gouda cheese, easy made without cooking.

This summer meal is planned around a tray of American-made cheeses. Let guests select their favorites. Be sure to include American-made Smoky Edam, Port Salut, Muenster, Pineapple and Baby Gouda, the calorie-controlled high protein cheese made from partly skimmed milk.

Here are our recipes for Orange Gouda Muffins and Pineapple-Ginger Gouda Dressing:

- ORANGE GOUDA MUFFINS
2 cups prepared fruit mix
3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup shredded American-made Baby Gouda cheese (about ½ Gouda)
2 ½ cup milk

Here's Wedding Cake That Can Be Made At Home With Loving Hands

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here's a beautiful wedding cake that's as easy to make as a layer cake. It stands 8 inches high by 10 inches around. You can bake it in standard, tiered wedding cake pans, available in any department store, or in graduated pans from your kitchen closet. A 10-inch cake pan, coffee cans and smaller fruit cans all make excellent baking tins.

To give a professional finish, decorate edge and base of each frosted tier with a garland of pale pink rose buds. A little cake frosting, tinted palest pink and pressed through decorating tube with fluted tip, does the trick. Top wedding cake with a spray of fruit blossoms or with a tiny cluster of garden flowers.

Cake layers may be frosted individually, then put together with just a light touch-up where fingers touch; or may be placed together, then frosted starting from the bottom layer up.

COCONUT SURPRISE WEDDING CAKE

(Serves 25)
2 packages coconut cake mix
10 cups confectioners' sugar, sifted
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
2-3 cup corn syrup
1 ½ cups shortening
2 tablespoons vanilla
Red food coloring

Prepare cake mixes according to package directions for mixing. Turn batter into floured and greased 4-tiered cake pan set (10x2, and 8x2, and 6x2, and 4x2 - inches). Turn one mix into 10-inch pan. Half fill remaining pans with other mix. Bake in a preheated 350 degrees F. oven, the two smaller layers for 21 minutes, the 8 - inch layer for 30 minutes and the 10 - inch layer for 40 minutes.

Cool 10 to 15 minutes, then turn out on racks to cool further. Mix sugar, salt and 3 eggs. Blend in syrup. Add shortening and vanilla, mixing until smooth and creamy.

Traditional Spring Lamb Makes Debut At Lunch Table With Fresh Vegetables

Spring lamb is traditional for June meals, but for small family it needn't be a leg of lamb. Why not serve lamb chops—a shoulder chop or, if you wish, two rib chops Frenched. Complete your plate with Spring vegetables.

A good seasonal menu would add boiled new potatoes with their red jackets on, or new potatoes with chopped parsley. And for a different vegetable, why not try boiled Spring leeks or scallions, with mushroom sauce. If you were serving this as a company meal, you might make a strawberry shortcake or a rhubarb cobbler for dessert.

MINTED LAMB CHOPS
8 rib lamb chops, Frenched
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
½ teaspoon dehydrated mint
Wipe chops with a damp cloth and place on broiling pan. Combine remaining ingredients in a small saucepan and bring to a boil. Brush chops with marinade sauce and broil under moderate heat for 8 or 9 minutes, depending on how well done you like them. Turn, brush sauce and broil another 8 or 9 minutes. Serve immediately.

LEEKS WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE
1 bunch leeks (about 9)
1 can (10 ½ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 can (3 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms

Trim leeks to about 8 inches in length and cut in two, lengthwise. Immerse in a pan of water and separate leaves to washout any sand. Cook in boiling water to cover until tender—about 5 minutes. Drain well and serve promptly, topped with mushroom sauce. To make sauce, combine soup and mushrooms including broth, and heat thoroughly. Serve over cooked leeks.

The Travers Stakes at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., first run in 1864, is the oldest stakes race in the United States.

Texas Housewife Takes Honors With Beef Recipe

A recipe for "Mustard Baked Beef Ribs" won for Mrs. Pamela B. Ater of Cuero, a second prize in the fifth annual "Texas Experts Recipe Contest" sponsored by the Texas Beef Council.

The prize-winning recipe is as follows:

- MUSTARD BAKED BEEF RIBS
4 pounds beef ribs
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon cayenne
1 teaspoon onion powder
1 teaspoon garlic powder
½ cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons margarine
1 cup beef stock or 2 bouillon cubes

Start oven at 375 degrees S. Cut ribs in strips for easier eating. Rub surfaces thoroughly with mixture of salt, pepper, cayenne, onion and garlic powder. Spread each piece with a coating of mustard. Place ribs in a shallow roasting pan and pour melted fat over the top. Now, add stock and 1 cup water or bouillon cubes dissolved in 2 cups of boiling water. Bake 1 hour and ten minutes or until tender. Baste occasionally. Continue cooking until medium brown and crisp. Serves 6.

MILITARY GRADUATE — Harold Lynn Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cuba 'Fair Play' Group, Seeking Student Recruits, Declared Linked With Commies

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Communist-infiltrated group is actively recruiting members on college campuses and elsewhere in the United States in a pro-Castro organization.

Called the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" (FPCC), the organization plays on American sympathy for the underdog by depicting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro as a misrepresented patriot who is being "bullied" by a big neighbor.

The group now claims a membership of about 7,000, with chapters at 37 colleges and in 23 cities. Although all of its members are by no means Communists, it is heavily infiltrated by Reds.

On April 15, when the United Nations was debating a Cuban charge of "aggression" against the United States, a crowd of about 300 demonstrators marched outside the U.N. building waving anti-American placards and shouting, "Cuba, si; Yankee, no!"

This demonstration was organized by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

The FPCC's orientation also is clear in its propaganda, which is distributed to members through a newsletter and other literature and to the general public in occasional paid newspaper advertisements.

It constantly blames the United States for friction with the Castro regime, and rarely finds fault with anything that Castro has done, including his mass executions.

There is documentary proof that the committee has been infiltrated by members of not one, but two, Communist organizations.

One is the regular Communist party, U.S.A. The other, less well known to the public, is the Socialist Workers Party. The latter is a dissident Communist group that was formed by followers of Leon Trotsky after he was expelled from Russia. It has ties with the Kremlin and in the past has been a bitter enemy of the Communist party.

The fact that these long-antagonistic Communist factions have begun to work together in the FPCC is extremely interesting to authorities who keep a close watch on Red activities in America. It suggests the possibility that they may be moving toward a united front.

The FPCC was organized, "a little more than a year ago," by Robert Bruce Taber, a former television newsman who became a Castro supporter during the early days of the Cuban revolution while the bearded rebels were holed up in the mountains of Oriente Province.

An FBI report submitted to the Senate internal security subcommittee shows that Taber was arrested in Ohio in 1939, and entered a plea of guilty to charges of armed robbery, auto larceny and kidnaping. He was sentenced to 30 years in prison, but was released on parole in 1942.

Taber is now in Cuba, wielding sword and pen for Castro. During the April invasion attempt by anti-Castro forces, he was photographed wearing the uniform of the Castro militia. He also is reported to be working for Revolution, official organ of the Castro regime.

FPCC chapter in Chicago, was Communist candidate for mayor of St. Louis in 1941 and was subsequently a Communist organizer in southern Illinois. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment when congressional investigators asked him in 1957 if he were a member of the Communist party.

Richard L. Criley, leader of the west side branch of the FPCC chapter in Chicago, also has been publicly identified as a Communist party member. The identification was made by Carl Nelson, an admitted ex-Communist, in testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1959.

In Los Angeles, the FPCC chapter is headed by Martin Hall, Benjamin Gitlow, former Communist party leader, has described Hall as a Communist of long standing.

Steve Roberts, West Coast representative of the FPCC, is a well-known Trotskyite who was Socialist Workers party candidate for governor of California in 1946.

Al Saxton, chairman of the FPCC chapter in San Francisco, was a member of the Communist party from 1944 to 1946, according to testimony given to the House committee on Un-American Activities by Ernest L. Seymour, admitted former Communist. As late as 1949, Saxton was listed as a faculty member of the California Labor School, cited by the attorney general as a subversive Communist organization.

An FPCC chapter was organized in Seattle, Wash., early this year by Jack William Wright, who was the Socialist Workers party candidate for governor of the state of Washington in 1960. The secretary of the New York City FPCC chapter is Joanne Grant, who last year refused to answer when a congressional committee asked if she were a Communist. Former Communist Albert Gaillard testified that he knew her as a Communist, working with youth groups in Harlem. She attended the 1957 "World Youth Festival" in Moscow and later went to Red China to meet with Mao Tse-tung.

Suit Seeks To Compel University Of Mississippi To Admit Negro

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi's first school integration suit was filed yesterday in U. S. District Court here in behalf of Negro J. H. Meredith who is trying to enroll in the University of Mississippi.

The suit was filed by NAACP lawyers representing Meredith, who is presently a student at Jackson State College for Negroes. They are asking that he be admitted to the school during the summer term.

Judge S. C. Mize granted a preliminary hearing on June 12 at Biloxi.

Constance Baker Motley, Negro woman lawyer from New York, said the suits asks Mize to issue a temporary restraining order without notice and a preliminary injunction, pending the final disposition of the case.

Named as defendants in the suit are the board of trustees of institutions of higher learning, including Executive Director A. R. Jobe; University Chancellor J. D. Williams; A. B. Lewis, dean of the college of liberal arts; and R. B. Ellis, school registrar.

In New York, a spokesman for the NAACP said the suit left South Carolina as the only Southern state where school integration has not been brought to the courts. The spokesman said Meredith, 28, an Air Force veteran of Jackson, Miss., applied for admission to the June 8 summer session of the University of Mississippi last Jan. 31.

He was informed by the University registrar April 12 that the university credited him with 48 hours of college work, but no mention was made of his admission. Meredith later sent a telegram which was answered by a letter stating that he was not eligible for admission.

The NAACP said the university said he did not have the required letters of recommendation from five Mississippi alumni in his county and had gained his credits at a non-accredited school (Jackson State College.) The NAACP claims the requirement for letters from alumni, who all are white, is unconstitutional.

Woman Formally Sentenced To Die

HOUSTON (UPI)—Dist. Judge Langston King yesterday formally sentenced, Negro fortune teller Maggie Morgan to die July 14, but said afterwards he probably would recommend commutation of the sentence.

Most court observers agreed that it was unlikely the 45-year-old Morgan woman would ever go to the electric chair for her part in the "gun-for-hire" slaying of Mrs. Wilma Selby.

SPACE-COURSE SET

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Another indication that it's later than you think.

The University of Florida is offering this month a short course on the problems of interplanetary travel and nuclear rocket propulsion. It takes a bachelor of science degree or better even to register for the course.

Secretary Rusk Plugs For Funds For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today urged approval of President Kennedy's $4.8 billion foreign aid program as an urgent necessity for the "enlargement of freedom in a decent and tolerable world order."

Rusk told the State Foreign Relations Committee that the cost "may seem large, but we can afford to do what has to be done. What we cannot afford is to fail to undertake the effort — and a sufficient effort."

The secretary postponed his departure for Europe to join President Kennedy so that he could give the embattled aid program a top-level opening plug. Congressional opposition is strong to many of its features.

Rusk especially appealed for Kennedy's request to permit five-year borrowing authority to put loans to underdeveloped nations on a more largely planning and programming basis.

DISCOUNTS BALDNESS CURES

LONDON (UPI)—Philosophy is the only recourse of the balding man, Dr. John Morgan wrote today in Medical Press.

He said no amount of massage or dousing will hold back a receding hairline. It might even speed up the process.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

What are your duties as a landowner toward children who come on your property without permission? In what circumstances do you have to pay when they get hurt?

A landowner has a special duty to trespassing children to see that they do not get hurt on highly dangerous things about his place. You can well expect them to wander on your place; it is up to you, within reason, to see that they don't get hurt.

Must you pay for their injuries? Not, for example, if the child should have recognized the dangers, or if he could look out for himself, but doesn't.

The law expects only what is reasonable to protect the child without excessive costs. In one case a 12 year old girl played hide and seek on a lot the owner was building on. Chasing a playmate, she failed in a jump over a stack of windows and fell and hurt herself. The landowner was not liable, the court held. This trespasser was old enough to have seen and kept out of danger.

As a landowner you need not childproof your place; you have only to use care and guard against dangers the trespassing children aren't likely to know about. Where a child realizes the risk and incurs injuries "in a spirit of bravado," the courts have often held that the owner was not liable.

In another case though, neighborhood children played in a home owner's swimming pool during the summers. In the winter he partly drained it, but decayed leaves and dirt made the pool slippery. Although he fenced the pool off, the owner did not repair a gate that opened on to it. Playing children could see the pool from the street. One day a two year old boy strayed through the opening, slipped into the water, and hurt himself.

This time the court held the owner liable. He should have drained the whole pool, put in the gate, or both. Otherwise the risk was too great: The slippery, partly filled pool was like a "trap," easy to reach, and concealing unusual dangers — dangers that a child was not likely to realize — dangers which the owner could have repaired with ease at a small cost.

Pool owners owe a duty of care to neighbor boys and girls when the dangers are great, and could be avoided by proper care.

(This newsletter, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Vegetable Fondue Has Flavor, Color

Set in a field of flavor and color is Fresh Vegetable Fondue. Fare with a light accent, it features this combination — 2 quarts (1/2-inch) bread cubes; 2 cups (1/2-pound) grated sharp cheese, 1/4 cup of grated onion, and 1/2 cup each of frozen green peas, diced carrots, whole kernel corn, but green beans, and chopped celery. Place the vegetables in a greased 2-quart casserole and pour over the top: 4 eggs (slightly beaten) mixed with 2 cups milk, salt and pepper to taste. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour.

Baruch Declines Credit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bernard Baruch said Wednesday that the author of the phrase "cold war" was the late Pulitzer Prize journalist Herbert Bayard Swope and not Baruch himself who generally has received credit.

"It was he who suggested to me the phrase 'cold war' to describe the new form of conflict in which we were engaged after World War II — a phrase which has become part of the world language," Baruch said in dedicating a room to Swope at the Columbia University graduate school of journalism.

The Homers Feted On Wedding Date

GROOM (Spl) — Mr. and Mrs. John Homer were honored on their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary recently with a surprise dinner in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Britten.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Homer, Christi, Marcia, and Mrs. Charley Hermesmeier.

On Wednesday evening a number of visitors called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Homer. Refreshments were served to Messrs. and Mmes. John Quirk and family; Paul Homer and Susan; Mike Homer and children; Ray Britten and family; Mrs. Charley Hermesmeier and Martin; and the Rev. A. Carlson.

Baruch declines credit for the phrase "cold war" because he was not the author of it.

Miss Patterson Club Speaker

LEFORS (Spl) — A program on "Carpeting" was presented by Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Gray County Home Demonstration agent, to the Lefors Home Demonstration Club, recently in the home of Mrs. M. L. Rippy.

She began the discussion with a short film on "Your Money's Worth in Shopping."

"Get the basic thing you want, make a shopping list, and remember a bargain is only a bargain if you need it," she stated. "The largest single color will be your carpet in the room, choose one that is a basis for harmonizing colors. Carpet increases the apparent size of rooms, makes a room have a furnished look, is easy to care for, adds warmth, comfort, and safety."

Miss Patterson asked each member present to think of the things she wants to cover in club work next year, and to turn the list in promptly.

Mrs. A. M. Dickerson, president, led the group in the club prayer.

Mrs. W. R. Combs was welcomed as a new member.

Attending were Mmes. L. D. Rider, W. R. Combs, Francis Cox, E. D. Vaughn, M. L. Rippy, Carl Barber, A. M. Dickerson, B. J. Diehl, and Charles Roberts.

Married Couples Need To Learn To Talk Love

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third of three dispatches concerning factors contributing to a solid marriage.)

By DR. SEYMOUR YELLIN
NEW YORK (UPI) — A breakdown of communication frequently occurs with sexual problems. The husband or wife is reluctant to bring up the subject to the mate because of a previous psychological conditioning in the area of sex — reflected in such feelings as embarrassment, shame, or anxiety about not living up to a standard of performance.

Now psychologists say that many Americans are deficient in the ability to "open themselves" to other people and to share their deep feelings — their fears, hopes, ambitions, desires.

This is true of both sexes, but perhaps a little more so with men. For example, "a real map doesn't cry or act mushy or gushy."

As a result, many Americans embarrassed to talk in any deep way about love.

This deficiency certainly is a negative factor in creating a happy marriage in our society, where so much emotional gratification is expected from marriage.

Some sociologists have asserted that Americans expect too much in terms of "emotional gratification" from marriage. Perhaps the husband and wife relationship is "overvalued" in our society.

While the marital relationship is very important, we probably place too much of an emotional burden on the marital tie.

It is possible that a better balance might be achieved by relying on several sources of emotional gratification, such as the pleasure and satisfaction we can derive from our work and our associates at work, our recreation, and club and other group relationships.

The effect of children on marital happiness is still not clearly understood. However, the coming of children usually seems to reinforce the existing relationship between husband and wife.

A good marriage becomes even better, but if a marriage is weak, the coming of children tends to weaken it further. In general, children are not the answer to the mate because of a previous psychological conditioning in the area of sex — reflected in such feelings as embarrassment, shame, or anxiety about not living up to a standard of performance.

In recent times in American society perhaps there has been a tendency to put too much emphasis on the parent-child relationship with regard to marital happiness.

It should be remembered that the basic bond is between husband and wife. If they are happy, it is home.

The life which she experiences outside the four walls of her household will be an important influence on the happiness inside her home.

Mrs. Glenn tallied high score for the afternoon and Mrs. Anderson second high.

The As You Like It Club met with Mrs. J. L. Yokley recently. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Ferman Sawyer and Mrs. Marlon McGinty of Plains.

Members attending were Mmes. Clara Yokley, John H. Jones, Helen Tepe, L. S. Hardage, P. D. Moseley, F. D. Teas, J. L. Cleveland, Walter Owens, Tom Hext, E. H. Snyder and Miss Lola Studer.

likely that the relationship between parents and children will be good. Children "come and go." It is the long-term participants in the family.

In the last generation there has been a notion widely prevalent that the needs and interests of the children should come first in the family. Actually, in the event of any conflict, most of the time all members of the family are better off if the needs and interests of the husband and wife come first.

Today's young bride also should remember that marriage and parenthood in themselves will not automatically solve life's problems for her.

High score was won by Mrs. Wright, low by Mrs. Kelley and guest by Mrs. Bartlett.

"I just don't have time to read," said a housewife, mother of two with a mixture of apology and complacency.

And the truth is she doesn't have time for reading — and won't — until she decides that her mind is more important than her house.

For she will spend hours at sewing so that the curtains in her bathroom will cause feminine guests to exclaim and she will wear herself out in an effort to be known as a "perfect housekeeper."

But she has no time left for reading and thinking — so that her mind will be as active as her hands and her thoughts at least as original as her fancy work.

Her house has personality but she is content to let her mind remain as drab and colorless as the draperies she threw out years ago.

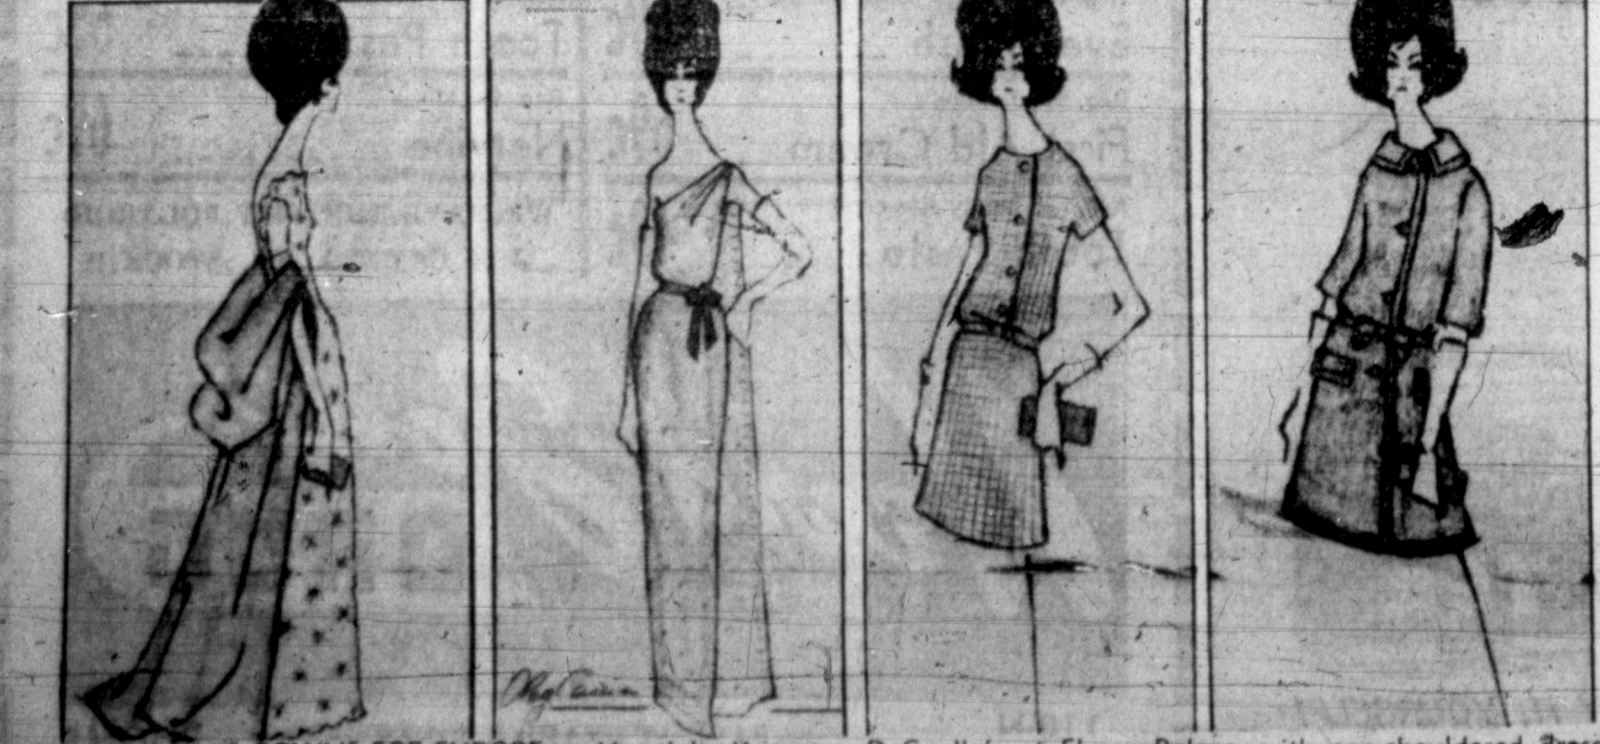

If she hadn't done anything to rejuvenate her house in five years she would be ashamed. But she hasn't done anything to mentally keep pace with her age and the times in longer than that — and she can excuse it with "But I just haven't the time."

The Mature Parent Children Want To Be Acceptable To Strangers

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: So what do you think of a 15-year-old girl who will run out to baby sit for neighbors but doesn't want to lift a hand up her own home? I work all day with my husband in our delicatessen. Is our daughter willing to help with meals when I get home? Not her! It's a fight all the time to get her even to prepare the vegetables. You'd think we were the strangers and the neighbors the parents who do everything for her.

The world's going to feel about them. So they rush out to baby sit for the strangers and mow their lawns to try and impress the strangers as they know they have impressed us.

We should be flattered by this eagerness to test themselves with strangers. Without the trust they feel in us, they would be scared to make the adventure.

ANSWER: No, I wouldn't. What I think is that your youngster treats you exactly for what you are—her parents; those known familiar, dependable people whom she knows she does not have to impress.

I think she is eager, helpful and oh, so nice to the neighbors because they are unknown, unfamiliar and undependable. And that what looks like ingratitude to you is actually a fine compliment to you. I think you have given your child such certainty of your acceptance that she knows she doesn't have to fight for it the way she has to fight for strangers' acceptance.

As you think about what I have said, you will know that it is true. That knowledge is all you need to rid yourself of the hurt you've been feeling at what you have imagined to be this child's ingratitude. Knowing now how deeply you are appreciated, you'll have no problem in making your need for your daughter's help clear and acceptable to her.

You see, there's nothing bad in your daughter's preference for working for strangers to working for us.

What's going on in them is a kind of half-awareness that the strangers belong to the nonhome world, the strange, mysterious threatening world into which they're soon going to have to move without us.

We're sold on them. That they know. But they don't know how

Polly's Quiz

By Polly Cramer

Small children can live in pretty rooms without inflicting permanent or serious damage. How is it done? By using new materials and protective coatings for wallpaper and fabrics.

Recently, I visited a house where the dining table top was white Formica and the chair seats were a handsome white plastic material. Wooden furniture frames were painted a dull black. What more could one ask for in the way of furniture that can take it and still look smart?

Dear Polly: HELP, please! I am in a maze of fabrics, texture, color and harmony. I am redoing my living room. I would like it in orange, brown and yellow. Thus far, the walls are champagne and drapes the same color with a chocolate brown scroll. Covering must be serviceable design. I would like to cover a long couch and two chairs, as I have three children under the age of six. I detest living rooms that look like rumpus rooms and am uncomfortable in anything too formal. Is there a middle way?—Mrs. R.M.J.

Dear Mrs. R. M. J.: Don't let yourself get so bogged down in rules that you won't enjoy your decorating. Yes, there is a middle way between formality and informality. A brown and champagne tweed carpet should look well in your room. Cover the sofa in a textured brown fabric and the two chairs in an orange linen weave. Look into the possibility of having these fabrics silymerized before using them. The slight extra cost is more than made up in the protection received. Have brass lamps with gold paper shades. A few orange and brown pillows on the brown sofa and masses of green growing plants would add to the picture.

Dear Polly: We are building a new home and would like help with the family bath. We are thinking of pink and black or black and white but are at loss as to what it should be. I cannot visualize a black tub. Could you please suggest something striking?—Mrs. N. G.

Dear Mrs. N. G.: I can assure you from my own experience that black bathroom fixtures are hard to keep shiny and bright looking. Why not use pink fixtures with plain white tile on the lower walls and floor? Vanity top could be one of the striking laminated plastics that look like pink marble. Paper the upper walls and ceiling with white paper that has a polka dot design in pink, black and turquoise. White curtains could have black ball fringe and pink towels could have black monograms.

Snead Favored In International

DORADO BEACH, P.R. (UPI)—A wide open battle for both the team and individual championships was forecast today with the start of play in the ninth annual International Trophy and Canada Cup matches.

Sam Snead, who seems to improve with age, and the Australian team of Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson were ranked slight favorites in the field of 64 golfers from 32 nations.

But rated right behind Snead, who turned 49 this week and has won his last two tournaments, were the host pro, Pete Cooper of the Dorado Beach Golf Club, defending champion, Flory Van Donck of Belgium, and Nagle, the British Open champion.

In the race for team honors, the Puerto Rican team of Cooper and little Chi Chi Rodriguez, was ranked right next to the Australians. Both know the 7,115-yard Dorado Beach course like a book, and just as important, both are accustomed to the intense heat and humidity of a Puerto Rico summer.

The heat and humidity is expected to take its toll among the older players before the tournament winds up Sunday.

"It probably won't bother Snead though," said Cooper, who predicted a four round total of 280 would be good enough to win. "Old Sam seems to get better with age and on a long course like this one you just have to pick the old slammer."

GETS GOLF TOURNEY
DORADO, P.R. (UPI)—Argentina will be the site of the 1962 International Trophy and Canada Cup golf matches. Frank Pace, president of the International Golf Association, said the matches will be held in the fall.

BOOTS FOUR WINNERS
NEW YORK (UPI)—The closing day of Aqueduct's 63-day spring meetings Wednesday was a memorable one for 20-year-old Jackie Leonard, who booted home four winners, including Day Glow in the feature event.

Track Phenoms Shoot For 200-Foot Discus; 16-Foot Pole Vault

NEW YORK (UPI)—Next for the phenoms of track and field: a 16-foot pole vault and a 200-foot discus throw.

They're the last of the age-old barriers once believed beyond the "ultimate of human endeavor."

"We may get them in our national AAU meet at New York late in June," says AAU Secretary Dan Ferris. "Other conditions will be perfect if only the weather will cooperate."

The AAU championships will provide two famous re-matches involving men capable of the "impossible"—Olympic champ Don Bragg and young George Davies in the pole vault, two-time Olympic champ Al Oerter and Rink Babka in the discus.

One by one the old "ultimates" devised (and later revised) by former Olympic coach Brutus Hamilton have been surpassed in an amazing onslaught by the world's uninhibited athletes until only those two barriers remain.

Ralph Boston, Tennessee State's spectacular leaper, knocked over one of the last three last Saturday night when he hit 27 feet, one-half inch in the world's first 27-foot broad jump at Modesto, Calif.

Along the way in recent years, the barriers blocking a four-minute mile, a seven-foot high jump, a 10-second 100 meters, a 60-foot shot put, a 400-meter run in 45 seconds, and a 275-foot javelin throw rolled into the discard. Some of those achievements now are commonplace when big time stars get together.

When Hamilton first drew up his ultimates for human endeavor in 1934 all those records were considered beyond attainment. At that time, even a 15-foot pole vault was questionable, the high jump ceiling was under seven feet, and 182 feet, two inches was regarded as the limit for a discus thrower.

Today, Davies, an Oklahoma State collegian, has a mark of 15 feet, 10 1/2 inches to his credit for a world record claim. His acknowledged goal is 16 feet, a mark Bragg has been shooting at for a year.

Babka, second to Oerter in the 1960 Olympic discus at Rome, has equalled the world record of 198 feet, 8 1/2 inches set by Edmund Piatakowski of Poland and for more than a year he has been flinging with a 200 footer as his goal.

"I hope to beat him to it," says Oerter. "If we both are throwing in good form and the wind is right one of us is going to do it. I hope I'm the one."

'Kayo Boxing's Evils' Says Ex-Champ Louis

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Joe Louis is asked Congress today to throw a knockout punch at evil characters who try to turn boxing into a "racket."

The ex-heavyweight champion said nothing in sports could be more timely than legislation to clean up boxing.

He said he hoped a bill by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., will "have a punch and will, in a few rounds, kyo the evils of a great profession."

Louis gave his views in a letter to Kefauver's Senate monopoly subcommittee. He was scheduled to testify before the subcommittee later today.

Kefauver's bill would set up a national boxing commissioner to supervise a federal license system. The boxing czar would be empowered to withhold licenses from shady boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers.

"Perhaps when you are through, people will again refer to the boxing game as the 'manly art of self defense' instead of the 'fight racket,'" Louis wrote Kefauver.

Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champ, testified Wednesday that boxing "has been taken over absolutely" by criminal elements. He agreed with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, who also testified Wednesday, that a federal boxing czar is needed.

Ex-Champ Judged Sane
MAYS LANDING, N.J. (UPI)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton, committed to a mental institution in 1959 after attempting suicide, was adjudged sane Wednesday and able to stand trial in the looting of a novelty store in Atlantic City.

The ruling was made by Atlantic County Judge Paul M. Salsburg after he heard testimony from Dr. Harry Brunt, medical director of the state mental hospital at Ancora, and Dr. Martin Weinberg, a staff physician. No trial date was set.

Locke Earns Tech Letter In Track
LUBBOCK (SpI)—Tommy Locke, former Pampa High School's timber topper, has been recommended for a freshman track numeral at Texas Tech, Athletic Director Polk Robison announced today.

Locke, who won the 180-low hurdles in the 1960 3-A track meet, barely missed qualifying for the state meet the same year with the fine clocking of 19.3.

Locke was one of 31 freshmen awarded letters. Thirty-five varsity awards were also recommended by Tech's spring sport coaches.

Ford, Bolt, Sanders Are Men To Beat

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Doug Sanders and Doug Ford, recent hot money winners, were lumped today with defending champion Tommy Bolt as early favorites in Colonial Country Club's $30,000 Memphis Open which had knocked Gary Player and Arnold Palmer out of the Canada Cup matches.

The temperamental Bolt praised Bob Rosburg, chairman of the PGA tourney committee who had warned Palmer and Player, the two top money winners, they would be fined and suspended if they skipped Memphis to play in Puerto Rico.

Bolt said "no two guys are running our organization." Ford said Memphis "took the right stand."

Jim Gaquin, PGA press secretary said "the players now realize they can't be excused. The PGA contract is binding. Memphis broke the ice by holding firm. If Memphis hadn't won, both sponsors and players would have been in a bad way for future tournaments."

WARRIORS SELL HATTON
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Vern Hatton has been sold by the Philadelphia Warriors to the new Chicago Packers of the National Basketball Association. The Warriors also have asked waivers on Bill (Pickles) Kennedy, former Temple star, who saw little action as a rookie last season.

Amarillo Splits Pair; Still 2nd

By United Press International
San Antonio managed to keep its lead in the Texas League with a narrow 3-2 victory over Valley Wednesday night, but had to come from behind to do it.

Amarillo split a pair with Austin and Ardmore clobbered Tulsa 15-7. Amarillo won the seven-inning opener 7-3, but the Senators bounced back for a 5-2 decision in the nightcap.

The action left the Gold Sox in second place one game back, and Valley in third one and a half games off the pace. Tulsa was five games behind, Austin five and one-half, and Ardmore trailing the pack eight games out.

JETS SIGN MOORE
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Jets of the American Basketball League have signed Johnny Moore, former UCLA scoring star. General manager and coach Bill Sharman said Moore and several other jet prospects would start training immediately for the coming season.

Joe Amalfitano's, infield out with the bases filled pushed over a ninth-inning run that enabled the Giants to end their three-game losing streak. Stu Miller, who pitched hitless ball for the last three innings, won his fourth game while Curt Simmons suffered the defeat.

Joe Gibbon pitched a six-hitter and struck out 10, including Eddie Mathews four times, and also hit one of eight doubles accumulated by the Pirates, who ended a five-game losing streak.

Don Elston's ninth-inning relief helped Bob Anderson win his second game for the Cubs, whose 12-

Garrison Hurls No-Hitter But Still Loses, 5-4

Lady Luck refused to shine Tuesday night on Pampa Hardware in a Pony League game at Optimist Park.

Cree Drilling Company, surviving a no-hitter, 17 strikeouts, and numerous errors, rallied with three runs in the seventh inning to nip the Hardware nine, 5-4.

Lefty Johnny Garrison, a tough-luck pitcher this night, walked in one run before reliefer Larry Steele surrendered the tying run by hitting a Cree batsman and the winning tally on a wild pitch.

Until the seventh inning uprising, Garrison had the Cree hitters eating out of his hand with a sharp-breaking curve. However, his mound opponent, Ronald Curlee (15 whiffs, 5 hits) never let the situation get out of hand, with costly errors leading to the Hardware tallies.

Leading hitters for Hardware were Max Taylor (double) and Scaggs and McWilliams (each had a single).

Louise Suggs, Wright Duel In 'Western'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Veteran Louise Suggs and long-hitting Mickey Wright carried their duel for top honors in the ladies pro golfing ranks into the Western Women's tournament today.

Joined by about 80 other top pro and amateur golfers, the two ladies shot the first of two qualifying rounds today at the 8,741-yard Belle Meade Country Club course.

The tournament opens the summer four for the women on the play-for-pay circuit. So far this spring, Misses Suggs and Wright have won nine of the year's first eleven ladies PGA tournaments.

Those who failed to make the grade scholastically included: Richard Harrison, an end from Lubbock who was redshirted last fall; Ronald Strange, freshman guard from Wichita Falls; Wayne Hullett, freshman end from Mesquite; and Paul Rhea, freshman tackle from Frisco.

Baseball Roundup

Redlegs Nip Dodgers 8-7 For 6th Straight Win

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
Bill DeWitt "studied his baseball" under master trader Branch Rickey and it's obvious that the current general manager of the Cincinnati Reds learned his lessons well.

How well can be judged by a look at the National League standings which show the lightly regarded Reds in a first-place tie with the San Francisco Giants. They've reeled off six consecutive victories and 12 of their last 16 games and it's just about time their rivals began to take them seriously as a pennant contender.

Trades — DeWitt's trades have "made" the Reds. They've transformed the sixth-place bungle of 1960 into a team with a neat balance of pitching and power ably manipulated by manager Fred Hutchinson.

Two of DeWitt's trades bore fruit again Wednesday night when Joey Jay gained his sixth victory of the season and Gene Freese hit his seventh and eighth homers of the year in an 8-7 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Reds needed the victory to remain in a first-place tie because the San Francisco Giants had beat-

Sheldon his first major league victory.

Al Smith and Jim Landis hit homers and Wes Covington had three run-scoring singles to lead the White Sox' 10-hit attack. Frank Baumann yielded 10 hits but went the distance for his third win while Chuck Estrada, an 18-game winner last season, lost his fourth game for Baltimore.

Ken Aspromonte doubled home the tie-breaking run in the 12th and then scored on a single by Leon Wagner to give Ted Bowsfield his first win of the year for the Angels.

Texas Senators Will Cooperate, Tower Reveals

DALLAS (UPI)— Republican Sen. Elect John G. Tower said today that he and liberal Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough have agreed to cooperate in Washington.

Tower, who became the state's first Republican senator since Reconstruction days Saturday by beating William A. Blakley in a runoff election, passed through Dallas on his way to Washington. Tower is from Wichita Falls.

He declined in a press conference at Love Field to credit the liberal Democratic vote for his approximately 8,600 vote margin. He said he'd first have to analyze the vote, but his first impression was that the liberal Democrats "went fishing."

"I think Texas is now a two-party state," he said.

Tower said he thinks that the factors that won the election for him were hard work by his precinct workers and the rural areas.

He said he thinks his best policy in Washington, until he catches on, will be to "keep my ears open and my mouth shut for a while."

Nevertheless, Tower said he had some opinions on current problems. They included:

The John Birch Society's campaign to impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren — "It would be impractical to impeach Earl Warren." He said he disagreed with some Warren decisions.

Cuba — "We can't tolerate that situation. I am opposed to Fidel Castro's proposal to trade prisoners for tractors. We should not submit to blackmail from a petty despot and tyrant."

A summit meeting between President Kennedy and Nikita Khrushchev — "I do not approve. We never seem to come away from these summit things in good shape. We have been too conciliatory in our attitude."

The U. S. attitude toward Russia — "We should have a firm, tough line. We should be unyielding."

The Kennedy foreign policy — "It is too early to evaluate the Kennedy administration in the field of foreign policy."

PLAN BENEFIT PERFORMANCE — A three-act comedy entitled, "Ma Meeker's Frying Skillet," will be presented tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Carver High School auditorium. The play's cast includes 12 members of the Negro City Improvement Club. Ma Meeker, left,

School Issue Involves Sovereignty Of State

There has been a great deal of mail coming into Washington on the controversial "Federal aid to education" issue. Most of it from the southwestern United States is opposed to Federal aid in any form. The issue will come to a head soon, because the measure will be debated in the House of Representatives shortly after you receive this letter. In my opinion, the debate will be heated and extensive. The vote will be very close, and whether or not the measure passes will primarily depend upon amendments which are adopted to the proposed bill.

Several weeks ago I wrote a newsletter on the general subject of Federal aid, in which I voiced opposition to the philosophy of Federal aid to education as a general matter. I again call attention to the fact that there is a great deal more involved in these matters than a question of economics. Whether or not this country continues as a dual sovereignty form of government, with the sovereignty of each separate State fully recognized as such, may well depend on the outcome of measures such as this.

It is my firm belief that our nation, carried on in the original concept as set forth in the Constitution, can stay abreast of or ahead of any other philosophy of government, regardless of the yardstick to be used in ascertaining achievements or attainments for the best interests of mankind.

Our strength lies in compliance with these basic concepts, and to depart from them, in my opinion, develops an erosive process that could be detrimental to a most serious degree. I reiterate my feelings on this subject, because I have received a great deal of mail from people in the District who did not have an opportunity to read my previous newsletter.

There seems to be much evidence pointing to the fact that the good or bad of a proposition must be weighed on economic scales. It is, of course, well to do this; but I would point out that economics could prove to be a false measure.

There are many instances of peoples and communities throughout this nation who preach constantly the advocacy of the private enterprise system and of self-sufficiency, yet who immediately succumb to economic temptations held out through Federal agencies or bureaus.

The primary answer to the question as to whether or not Federal installations or Federal participation in local installations will be acceptable to the community, seems to rest on whether or not the economy of the community will be helped. In other words, economics seems to be the sole controlling factor, without regard to other basic principles which might be involved. Lack of consideration of the other basic principles is usually justified on the ground that assurances have been forthcoming that the Federal government will not undertake to exercise any control. This seems to justify, I guess, because all human beings go through life hoping to get "something for nothing."

The fact is that any assurance that the entity furnishing the money is not going to participate in control, is fallacious on its face. Any entity of government — Federal, State, or local — making grants or loans for any purpose, of your tax money (and that's the only place they can get it) has a corresponding responsibility to control the expenditure of that money and to see that it is not wasted.

Hence, the determination of the basic issue of whether or not the Federal government should participate in any program or in any activities should rest upon the Constitution and the basic principles upon which our government was formed, rather than economics.

If the American people have reached the point where they do not further desire the dual sovereignty form of government as set up in the Constitution, they should have the opportunity to speak and to do away with it. But the question should not be begged

Writer Objects To Sidewalk Cafe On Terrace Of Nation's Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is no doubt but what the spacious Parisian-style sidewalk cafe, terrace that spans out from the west front of the U.S. Capitol offers one of the most pleasing prospects in Washington.

The central section overlooks the nose of Chief Justice John Marshall's neck and on a clear day a sightseer standing at the balustrade can make out the tail of Gen. Grant's horse.

There is some question in my mind, however, as to whether the terrace, idyllic though it may be, would make a proper setting for a

By approaching all of these problems on an economic basis rather than a political science basis. As for me, I vote for the constitutional, dual sovereignty form of government, with full separation of powers.

Our visitors from the Panhandle this week included Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hughes of Pampa, and Mrs. Jewell Robertson of Amarillo. We also had the pleasure of a nice visit with a group of fine young people, the 1961 graduating class from Gruver High School who were accompanied to the Capitol by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chapman.

Court Rejects Gas Proration Suit Rehearing

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Supreme Court refused yesterday to rehear a case in which it threw out a gas proration order on the Normanna Field of Bee County.

But two justices dissented with the court decision on the grounds the full relief sought by Atlantic Refining Co. would require legislation which the legislature has so far failed to provide.

The case grows out of the Railroad Commission proration order for the Slick, Luling, Second Massive, and First Massive pay zones in the Normanna Field on what is called the "one-third, two-thirds" rule of thumb.

The rule means one third of the field's estimated production is divided equally among the wells and two thirds divided proportionately to the acreage of each lease.

The Travis County district court upheld the commission order, but the Supreme Court on direct appeal March 8 as it applied to that particular field, on grounds that it gave a disproportionate production to a lease operated by the partnership of Bright and Schiff.

Tomato Market Hearing Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Small Business Committee today set June 12 for a hearing on marketing practices of tomatoes in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Brooks Robertson, chief investigator of the committee, said the hearing will be held at the Civic Auditorium in McAllen, Tex.

Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okl., will head a special subcommittee to look into the marketing practices, which have caused widespread complaint from growers.

Robertson said the hearings would last at least one day, and maybe a day and a half. He said growers, shippers, packers and brokers would be invited to testify. But he added that no witness list will be made public by the subcommittee prior to the morning of the hearing.

Chief counsel of the Small Business Committee, Everette MacIntyre, will handle arrangements for the hearing. Committee chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., ordered the special subcommittee

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — What I know about economics as a science, an art and a constant could be tucked easily away into a small nutshell and I may even prove it before this piece today is ended. But I came back from Germany with a learned German's words still ringing in my ears: "We are having a terrible time finding enough labor to fill our factories and get the work done. We are having to scour France, Italy, Spain, and other places to attract labor. We offer housing, benefits, anything, to get workmen to come here. We have jobs galore."

Second, the financial pages of two major New York newspapers carried items to this effect out of West Berlin after I got home and, thus, certified what the man was talking about. Germany — West Germany, that is — was so booming that it had an acute labor shortage.

Third, a little story crept out of Washington the other day about a small factory in a small town in Indiana, the directors of which, the lawyers for which and the congressional representative for which all agreed that the factory would have to close its doors for a variety of reasons which I shall detail. The factory makes a product which is also being made in West Germany by a factory created with American money. The German factory can and does make the same product, gets it to the United States in export, pays the duty here and can still sell it for less than the Indiana factory. In addition, the 65 employees of the Indiana factory recently went on strike for the right to form a union and affiliate with a major national union and, in the process of winning that, also won a small wage increase which the Indiana factory was in no financial position to grant. In addition to that, the new federal minimum wage law now puts the final crushing burden on the Indiana factory and it is closing its doors. The little town does not have enough employment to absorb the soon to be jobless 65 employees.

Far better still than the decrease in mortality rates is lengthening of the life span — a whopping 24 years since 1911. Based on expectation of life at birth, persons born in 1911 could look forward to only 46 years of life. The baby born in 1960, by comparison, has a life expectancy of 70.6 years.

That's a gift of 24 years of life, fired in the crucibles of science and wrought on the anvil of the public's greater health knowledge.

Bright Health Picture

Holding promise of even better years to come is an encouraging 50-years-of-health report just issued.

Basis of the findings, which reflect unprecedented reductions in mortality and lengthened life span, is a survey of what happened to a large insurance company's policyholders over the last half century.

Generally, the death rate in 1960 was only about half that prevailing in 1911. Specifically mortality in the 1-to-74 age bracket fell from 13.5 per thousand persons in 1911 to a mere 4.1 in 1960. It was only in such devastating periods as the 1918 influenza epidemic that steady progress was interrupted.

Significant beneficiaries of mortality reduction are those in childhood and early adult life. In the 1-4 age group, for instance, deaths have been cut more than 90 per cent.

Of note are the means by which progress has been achieved. It reflects advances in medicine, public health and the general standard of living. Medical science and an informed public have combined to drastically reduce tuberculosis (235 per 100,000 in 1911; 5 per 100,000 in 1960), pneumonia and influenza, communicable childhood diseases, poliomyelitis and maternal mortality.

Casting a pall over the otherwise rosy outlook are the great killers: coronary and other heart diseases and cancer. The former account for more deaths than from all other causes combined. Malignancies rank second.

Increases have been noted in the incidence of both heart diseases and cancer. Encouraging is the intensive research devoted to these diseases, to the probability that part of the increases may be due to the rise in the average age of all persons, and to more accurate diagnosis and reporting of the afflictions.

Far better still than the decrease in mortality rates is lengthening of the life span — a whopping 24 years since 1911.

That's a gift of 24 years of life, fired in the crucibles of science and wrought on the anvil of the public's greater health knowledge.

Do You Believe In Force?

The Western world has become largely a world which worships a false god. This god is called government.

Beginning with a belief which was sired in ancient Greece and Rome, the western world has placed its faith in LAW. Laws are made by governments. And it follows that the faith in the western world in law has been transferred to the creator of law, the government.

A distinguished economist recently defined freedom as being that area wherein all persons were to be treated equally under law.

This point of view sustains the idea that ANY law, so long as it is universally applicable and equitably enforced, sustains freedom. For example, a tax of 90 per cent of what everyone makes preserves freedom according to this economist. The only kind of tax which would be contrary to freedom would be a tax which excused some and took from others on a graduated basis.

Would you subscribe to this view of the primacy of law? Do you believe that if your government took from parents ALL one-year-old children to be raised by the state, this would be an example of freedom?

Law dominates our thinking in most western areas today. Evidence of this fact abound on every hand. Moves are underway, for instance, to create a world government and everything under the rule of law.

A man high in the "New Frontier" administration proclaims that all areas of human life must come ultimately under the rule of politicians. Only in this way, we are told, will freedom survive.

We know of many who have subscribed to the view that this nation is a nation of "freedom under law."

Even in our own community, we worship law. Most businessmen go running to the government to obtain licenses, permissions, grants, exemptions, favors or privileges. The government is only too happy to grant many of them. This gives government something to do. But does this practice actually enlarge our freedom? Or does it narrow freedom's boundaries?

Sometimes we laugh at the ancient Greeks and Romans for believing, as they did, in so many gods. We chuckle when we read such sober historians as Herodotus telling us that the Persian invasion of Greece could have been foreseen as a Persian disaster if only the Persian leaders had believed the Oracles.

No Greek in his right mind would think of making a journey, observing an enterprise or getting married without consulting an Oracle.

He went to his favorite temple to make obeisance to the gods and to make a contribution, and thus to secure the good services of his deity in helping him accomplish his aims. We are amused by this preoccupation with divine intervention.

But are we much better? Have we in the western world advanced so notably beyond this point with our preoccupation with governments and laws? We, too, have our temples under law which have become central aid or permission granting deities.

Are the two so far removed? Scholars are inclined to note man's tendency to superstition. Is our governmental legal dependency more than a rank superstition in the primacy of force in accomplishing all wonders? We doubt it.

We are told endlessly that there is but one god, But man, while professing such a belief, actually BELIEVES in the force of government. He believes, not in one god but in a multiplicity of laws.

Else how can one explain the preponderance of his time which he gives to things political and the dearth of time he gives to self-improvement and in rejoicing in the facts of life?

Many, at least in the western world, appear to be afraid of life, which they have been told is the gift of god. They devote themselves to efforts which restrain, inhibit and prevent life, while at the same time intoning their faith in that which they fear in practice.

FIRST IN GIVING
MONEY AWAY

Russia may have been the first nation to send a man into space. Even though the evidence is not conclusive, let us concede the Soviet's claim.

But the USA can lay claim to one first that cannot be denied. The evidence is at hand to prove it. Definitely Uncle Sam is the FIRST IN GIVING MONEY AWAY and has been for the past 15 years or so.

Since the end of World War II, the Congress has voted $85.8 billion for "Foreign Aid," in a futile attempt to stop the worldwide march of Communism and buy foreseen as a Persian disaster if only the Persian leaders had believed the Oracles.

Apparently, despite the fact that Communism has continued to march and that the USA has bought no friends with the largesse, Congress continues blithely to appropriate money for "Foreign Aid," thus continuing to pour American tax dollars down a rat-hole.

When, oh when, will this nation awaken to the fallacy of this Great Giveaway and its citizens to serve notice on their Washington representatives to stop this ridiculous nonsense? We hope it will be before our American manufacturers are forced out of business by foreign competition. Being FIRST IN GIVING AWAY MONEY is an enviable FIRST that threatens our national safety, our industries, our workers and our over-all national economy.

Birch Society Membership Costs Aspirant Job As High Salaried Retail Lobbyist

WASHINGTON — Membership in the John Birch Society is apparently a big handicap in landing a job as a high-salaried Washington lobbyist.

That was the sad experience of an aspirant for a $35,000-a-year-plus prize.

Robert Welch proudly told a nationwide TV audience that the controversial organization he heads is booming in membership and funds. But that proved no help to his ardent follower in getting the juicy lobbying job.

Everything went along smoothly until, at the last moment, it was discovered he belonged to the Birch Society. Whereupon he was dropped like a hot potato, even though arrangements had been made to announce his selection at an elaborate dinner for more than 500, including prominent members of Congress.

Details of this extraordinary affair that has backstage Washington buzzing are:

The American Retail Federation, representing large department and other stores throughout the country, has long been active on the Washington scene, particularly concerning legislation, such as the wage-hour bill which it opposed. For twelve years its president and chief executive officer was Rowland Jones, Jr., on-time South Dakota druggist.

A Republican with influential Southern ties, Jones rated high during the Eisenhower Administration. He was welcome at the White House, and during the 1960 election he headed a delegation that assured President Eisenhower all was well with the national economy.

But after President Kennedy took office and Congress enacted his wage-hour bill, the Retail Federation's board of directors decided the time had come to change their "Washington representation."

Jones was informed he would be sidelined. That is, he would be moved into the background and someone else would replace him as the federation's spokesman (lobbyist).

IN AND OUT — The directors named a special committee, headed by a Detroit merchant, to recommend this successor. After weighing a number of possibilities, a dynamic official of a manufacturers' association in an Eastern border state was proposed.

Following an appearance before the full board, he was unanimously approved and preparations were made to announce his appointment as the Federation's new vice president and executive officer. For that purpose it was decided to give a big dinner, which would, also serve as a farewell to Jones.

Some 800 invitations were sent out, including every member of Congress.

But several days before this lavish party, which cost a round $15,000, the board was told that its choice not only was a member of the Birch Society, but one of its high officials.

Crossing European Border 'Easy As Pie'

By HENRY McLEMERE

BEAULIEU, France — I don't know the reason why, but the matter of crossing a frontier in Europe today is as simple as walking through one's front door.

Indeed, it is too simple for some tourists. They are the ones who, quite rightfully, want something to show for having visited France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and the other countries. Now they don't even get an official stamp in their passports to record their progress through Europe.

The border officials just take a quick glance at the passport — half the time they don't even open them to compare the picture with the bearer — and wave the visitor along. This new freedom must be a big help to the souvenir travelers, for with no passport stamp to prove his progress through Europe the tourist must necessarily fall back on ash trays, scarves, pennants, stickers, and pottery plates and pitchers.

It is much easier, really, to cross, say, from Italy into France, than it is to get across the Canadian border. Some people attribute this freedom of movement to the vast increase in the tourist trade; if the old formalities still existed queues ten miles long would be strung out at each customs post.

Others credit the European Common Market, and genuine optimists say credit is due to a new and growing trust among men and nations. Whatever it is, it's a blessing. I remember when, not many years ago, crossing a frontier was a first-class ordeal, and a tourist was tempted to slip across a border through a pine forest on a saddle through the mountains.

All bags had to be unpacked, as if there was an international law against carrying too many socks, too many undershirts, and too many ties into a foreign country. Cameras had their numbers taken down, as did typewriters and binoculars. One was cross-examined about cigarettes, alcohol, matches and, in China, I remember, the amount of explosives being brought in.

It was almost impossible to get a car across a border. The motor number, the exhaust number, and the crankcase number were jotted down, and a full record made of how many wheels the car had, how many tires, and what was in the glove compartment. Now a car is as simple to take across as a pair of spectacles.

The new simplicity of frontier crossing has resulted in a vast increase in the good nature of tourists. Visitors are much, much happier, and do not sulk at all upon entering a new country. Time was, when it took two or three days of cooling off to recover from the examination at a customs platform.

Even the massive gates have been removed — those red and white striped barriers which barred passage from one frontier to another.

Now only one thing is needed — an office where all the small change a man has in his pockets will be exchanged for the small change of the country he is entering. Either small change, or a fair swap in merchandise. Nothing is more useless than a pocketful of francs in Italy, or a handful of lire in England, or a mess of pence in Spain.

Wake up, America, for once this bill becomes law, the federal government will be able to move troops into our communities and enforce the Secretary's orders.

Summoned before a hurriedly-called meeting, he readily admitted this. More than that, he declared he ardently believed in the society's principles and objectives and firmly intended to continue "preaching and working for them."

Re: Administration Omnibus Farm Bill-HB-6400, S-1642.

Please come to the aid of the farmers and ranchers of America and help us defeat this bill before Congress!

We do not want a dictator. We want the privilege to plant and grow and to adjust our own acres to meet market needs in a free, competitive market. Suppose that the horse and mule breeders could have sought and obtained subsidy for their business back at the time tractors were coming into use.

Charles B. Shuman, president of American Farm Bureau Federation, says in an interview with the editor of Farm and Ranch magazine in regard to this bill: "It is the greatest bid for power that we have ever seen in America."

This bill gives the Secretary of Agriculture: 1. Power to establish committees, paying each member $50 per day plus expenses, 2. Power to appoint committees, 3. Power to discontinue committees, 4. And he does not have to accept a single recommendation from these committees.

This Cochran - Freeman bill gives the Secretary the power to move step by step toward a completely regimented agriculture with the imposition of specific controls in acres or in pounds, bales, barrels, cows, sows, and hens.

Mr. Shuman estimates the cost of this program to amount to 3 or 4 times what the Government is now spending on Agriculture, which might reach 20 billion dollars per year. Who will pay this? The consumer and the taxpayer.

Since the Secretary of Agriculture will be given the power to regulate the production of feed and grain, he will be able to force the livestock producer into his political net.

A representative of the National Canners Assn. testified on May 5 before the house Agriculture Committee concerning this bill: "The Secretary's national order will tell each grower how much he can grow for each canner, and how much each canner can buy from each grower. This is complete control over canner and grower, a control which cannot be matched in either Russia or China."

Wake up, America, for once this bill becomes law, the federal government will be able to move troops into our communities and enforce the Secretary's orders.

The locust is a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde character. When he's Dr. Jekyll, the locust is harmless and solitary. But when locusts multiply too quickly, their whole personality changes. Overcrowding and drought create a restless and irritable "Mr. Hyde" locust. He breathes faster and needs more food. Ominously, his wings grow. Swarms of such locusts may weigh 20,000 tons — eating their weight in green food every day.

Of the 1,081,096 wells drilled in the U.S. up to the end of 1959, 1,139,166 were oil wells, 129.51 gas wells, 491,452 dry holes and 36,961 service wells.

State Republican Chairmen Irked At Legislature

HOUSTON (UPI)—Texas Republican leaders accuse members of the 57th Legislature with immaturity and promised to enter GOP candidates for every seat in the Senate and House in at least four of the state's biggest counties.

Joint statement by state chairman Tad Smith of El Paso, GOP national committeeman Albert Fay of Houston and state executive director Paul Ledrick charged the legislature with "lacking the maturity or responsibility required to come to grips with the fiscal crisis in which the Price Danial administration now finds itself."

In addition, James A. Bertron, Harris County GOP chairman and director of John Tower's successful U. S. Senate election campaign, said the Republican party "is now ready to roll."

"It isn't certain in just how many counties the Republican party will have legislative candidates, but rest assured, full GOP slates will be entered at least in Tarrant, El Paso, Harris and Dallas counties," Bertron said.

The joint statement branded members of the legislature as immature and irresponsible for adjourning Monday without having passed a tax bill to finance state operations.

"The legislature, after months of bickering and petty maneuvering, has failed to face up to its responsibility to pass a tax bill to pay for the administration's operations," the statement said.

"Now a special session is necessary which will result in a great additional expense to the people of Texas. All of this is wasteful and unnecessary."

Approximately 100 million acres of the United States have never been surveyed.

Anti-Castro Deal Group Growing, Leader Claims

DALLAS (UPI)—Harry C. Hoover Jr. says the ranks of his anti-tractor movement is swelling by "leaps and bounds" and it is only the beginning.

Hoover, an architect, began circulating petitions Tuesday branding Fidel Castro's proposal to swap prisoners for tractors as an act of treason and blackmail.

"Within the first 12 hours over 2,000 persons had signed, and this is only the beginning," Hoover said. "We feel we will wind up with 10,000 names—and more."

Hoover said it was a movement to let the leaders of the nation hear from the man-in-the-street.

He said there was no organized group behind the petitions—just help from his Sunday school class and neighbors.

He published his petition in a full-page newspaper advertisement, asking persons to come to his office or mail signed petitions to him.

When the petition is "fully" signed, it will be sent to President Kennedy and "every member of Congress," Hoover said.

Summer Gain In Jobs Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department has reported improved unemployment conditions this month in most of the nation's major industrial areas and forecast a continued rise in jobs into early summer.

The Bureau of Employment Security said that five of the 150 major labor market areas moved out of the substantial unemployment category and five other areas showed less severe joblessness than in April.

Seymour L. Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, scheduled a news briefing later in the day to release preliminary employment-unemployment figures for May.

The bureau's report, based on surveys in the major labor markets, showed recent declines in joblessness among workers covered by state unemployment insurance in almost all areas.

It said hiring in durable goods industries and seasonal gains in construction and other outdoor activities contributed to the improvement.

San Francisco - Oakland, Calif., New Haven, Conn., Fort Wayne and Indianapolis, Ind., and the Steubenville, Ohio - Weirton, W. Va., areas all moved from the substantial to moderate unemployment classification.

Lorain - Elyria and Youngstown Warren, Ohio, Flint, Mich., and Erie, Pa., were shifted from the most serious unemployment range of 12 per cent or more jobless to the 9-11.9 per cent category. Utica - Rome, N.Y., improved to the 6-8.9 per cent unemployment group.

Peace Corps Bill Is Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has sent Congress the draft of a proposed bill to establish the Peace Corps.

He said that progress and planning to date has confirmed that there is a "genuine and immediate need in many parts of the world for skilled manpower which the Peace Corps will be able to furnish."

The President also said that the governments and peoples of many developing countries have enthusiastically received the idea.

Kennedy's letter to Congress recalled that he had recommended the legislation in a message last March 1.

The pilot program already set up has announced projects in Tanganyika, Colombia and the Philippines. Others are to be announced soon.

His bill asked Congress to authorize $40 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1. He said it would enable the corps to have between 500 and 1,000 volunteers overseas by the end of 1961 and 2,700 abroad or in training by June 1962.

No Report Ready On Tractor Fund For Cuban Chief

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said today no tabulation of the money raised by the Tractors for Freedom Committee can be made until Cuba formally confirms the tractors-for-prisoners exchange.

"There are piles of envelopes with contributions, but we must wait for Premier Castro to okay the exchange before we proceed to count the money," she said.

She said there has been great response in Latin America to raise funds to buy 500 tractors in exchange for 1,214 rebel invaders.
