Pampa Safe Carted Off

Police late last night still had found no clues that might lead to the identity of burglars who broke into the Pampa Clinic, 1022 N. Hobart, Friday night and hauled off a safe containing $578 in cash and checks and several hundred dollars worth of narcotics.

Floods Recede; California Has Disastrous Fire

By United Press International

A near heat wave began drying out the water-logged Midwest Saturday while tinder-dry southern California battled a disastrous forest fire.

Levees were holding along flood-swollen streams from Missouri across Illinois to Indiana and it appeared that the worst might be over for the three-state area.

Authorities began typhoid inoculations to prevent an epidemic from contaminated water supplies in several areas. Officials began totaling damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

However, much of southern Illinois remained a fetid lake, fouled by the swollen bodies of drowned livestock, bobbing alongside floating petroleum tanks and grain bins torn from their moorings by the flood waters.

At water-battered Carmi, Ill., James Roper, district conservation director, reported, "It looks like we have things under control." The Little Wabash River crested at 38.55 feet and was holding steady.

Nearly half of White County, surrounding Carmi, remained under water, but police, civil defense workers, guardsmen, reservists and volunteers apparently won their battle to save the Granny Twittle levee. Had it let go as the Dog Town levee did, another 100 families would have been homeless.

The Big Muddy River was falling at Murphysboro and Mount Carmel, Ill. Centralia, Ill., which lost its water and sewage disposal plants earlier this week, began cleaning up.

Sandbags held back waters of the White River at Hazelton and Elmore, Ind. The only danger spot remaining in Missouri was at Bridgeton, where levees appeared to be holding.

Prayers for rain were offered in parts of southern California where a forest fire destroyed 1,000 acres of brush and timber and at least 29 homes in the Hollywood Hills area Friday night.

Laos Peace Parley At Stalemate

GENEVA (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk met for an hour Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko but failed to budge the Russian from his demand that the Pathet Lao Rebels be seated as equals at the Geneva conference table.

It was the first direct meeting with the Russians by the new secretary of state. Gromyko held to his position and the Geneva conference remained stalled for an indefinite period.

Rusk met later with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and with the French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. They also met with Gromyko, but the official word was "no progress—yet."

The informal sessions were developing into a marathon assault on the Soviet foreign minister.

Lord Home had tea with Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Marshall Chen Yi and explained Western objections to the Soviet proposal for seating the rebels. Then he said he would try to see Gromyko again.

Russia was making the most of the situation with a series of broadcasts and editorials accusing the United States of stalling and charging Rusk with trying to "sabotage" the conference, harsh words which boded ill for the Geneva meeting.

Another complication arose when the vanguard of a delegation from the royal Laotian government arrived and announced it would not attend the Geneva conference until a cease-fire is verified in its homeland.

That situation is expected to be eased when official word arrives from Vientiane that the warring factions in Laos signed a formal cease-fire today in the communist-held village of Namdote to supercede the shaky truce in effect since May 3.

Representatives of the neutralist bloc led by Prince Souvanna Phouma and the Pathet Lao blocked by Red Prince Souphanouvong already were in Geneva and were being winned and dined by the Communists.

Major Problems Not Yet Solved By State Solons

AUSTIN (UPI)—In two weeks and one day the regular session of the 57th Texas Legislature will be history, but the space it will command in the textbooks still depends on what lawmakers do in those last 15 days.

The big issues of the session are still undecided, but reports from the mansion indicate Gov. Price Daniel is still hopeful that the House and Senate can compromise and avoid working overtime in special sessions.

Taxation, loan shark control and legislative redistricting depends now upon action by the Senate.

Texas' record $2.5 billion state budget is in the hands of a House-Senate Conference Committee.

Their action will depend on what the tax picture looks like.

The House still has a couple of tax bills left for consideration and action is expected Tuesday on the 4.5 per cent corporate income tax that members have avoided like the plague so far.

The other levy is Rep. Bob Eckhardt's tax aimed at the big pipeline companies.

The legislative lull was broken partially this week when Sen. Bob Baker finally passed his bill to give the University of Houston full state support. The measure had the Senate tied up in a filibuster for more than a month.

Threatened filibusters are still pending. Sens. Frank Owen of El Paso and ...

Clean Up Week Starts Tuesday; Help Asked

Pampa's bid to retain its title of World's Cleanest Oil Town will begin Tuesday with the opening of the Clean Up, Paint Up and Fix Up campaign which runs through May 31.

Kay Fancher, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said his committee is cooperating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and city officials. The senior and junior chambers are handling the educational part of the campaign.

The city is handling details of the pickup.

The Cleanup Campaign will open Tuesday in Ward 4 where city trucks will be picking up trash and debris in the area south of Rham St. and west of S. Barnes on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The trucks will move into Ward 3 on Friday. This area is east of S. Barnes and south of E. Foster. The cleanup crews will also work there on Monday and Tuesday, May 22 and 23.

Ward 2 cleanup has been set for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 24, 25 and 26. This area includes the territory north of E. Foster and east of Mary E. Ellen.

The final three days — May 29, 30 and 31 — the cleanup trucks and crews will be in Ward 1, west of Mary Ellen and north of Rham St.

Sound trucks will be operated through each ward a day or two in advance of the coming of the cleanup trucks. The sound trucks will be manned by Junior Chamber of Commerce members who will advise residents of procedures to follow in placing their trash for the pickup trucks.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell has issued a proclamation proclaiming Cleanup week and urging Pampa residents not only to clean up their premises but to use the two-week period as a concerted effort to paint up and fix up.

City officials and the two chambers are handling details of the pickup. (See CLEAN UP, Page 3)

Talmadge Plans Move To Amend Senate Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., will try to change the federal aid-to-education bill to make sure the government cannot cut off funds to segregated schools, it was learned Saturday.

He has drafted a 11-word amendment to the $2.5 billion program of school construction and help for teacher's salaries. He plans to introduce it soon after the Senate takes up the measure Tuesday.

The bill, as drafted by the Senate Labor and Education Committee, provides that the government cannot exercise any control over the public school system during the three-year aid program. The Talmadge amendment adds the phrase "or withhold any funds which would be provided under the act."

A subcommittee heard a Roman Catholic spokesman say that Congress should provide federal funds to help private schools buy laboratory equipment and teaching materials that are now provided for public schools.

Raymond F. McCoy, dean of the graduate school of Xavier University, Cincinnati, made the request as spokesman for the National Catholic Welfare Conference during a hearing on extension of the National Defense Education Act. It drew immediate opposition from Protestant spokesmen.

Southerners said Talmadge's amendment would be certain to pick up Dixie support, especially among senators who fear the bill opens the way to speedier integration.

At least one senator, and probably more, has turned against the bill because the government moved to close all public schools in Virginia as long as the ones in Prince Edward County remain shut.

The Prince Edward affair has heightened apprehension among Southerners that President Kennedy is seeking means to speed integration and that the education bill might be one vehicle.

Pampa's Concert Campaign Again Ends In Sellout

Community Concert Association's membership drive, concluded yesterday noon, has repeated its performance of last year with a "sold-out house" for the artists, who will appear here during the concert season next autumn and winter, according to Ted Gikas, membership drive co-chairman.

"Countdown for the membership quota began at 9 a.m. yesterday with 66 seats remaining to be subscribed. At zero-hour, 12 noon, all seats were sold-out," Gikas said last night.

At a Community Concert board meeting held late yesterday afternoon additional artists' appearances were added to the concert entertainment fare.

During the coming concert season, subscribers will have the opportunity of seeing Fred Waring and The Pennsylvanians in a production entitled, "Let Freedom Sing!," a concert spectacular saluting the sights, the sounds and the spirit of America; Jose Greco and his Spanish Ballet in a Variety Show; David Bar-Illan, a young pianist of unusual attainment; Berl Senofsky, distinguished violin soloist, who has appeared with the world's greatest orchestras and the first violinist to win the coveted Queen Elizabeth of Belgium International Concours since Oistrakh and Kogan.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor of Greenville, Community Concert Association representative, who has been in Pampa for the past week assisting workers with the membership drive, has expressed appreciation for the enthusiasm of the workers and the interest of subscribers in helping to bring such outstanding artists to the city. "I have been impressed with the people in Pampa," she said yesterday. "They are friendly and pleasant to work with. The success of this membership drive is due to their enthusiasm and interest."

C-C's Roundup Termed Success; Women's Team Tops In Contest

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce annual Membership Roundup resulted in raising $2,150, including new members and renewals, and pushed the total of 1961 membership dues paid in to more than $15,000, according to Lucian Young, finance director of the chamber.

The five-day drive, which ended at 5 p.m. Friday, was described by Young as being, "very successful."

The contest conducted among the 20 five-man teams during the week ended with first place going to Team 13, the lone women's team in the drive, captained by Mrs. Nina Spoonmore. The team rolled up 440 points. Other members of the top team were Ida Sallee, Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mrs. Peggy Gray and Mrs. Georgia Mack.

Second place team was No. 13, captained by John Gikas, with 340 points. Other members were Ray Duncan, J. E. Gunn, Remond Linville and Joe Fischer.

Team 2 finished in third place with 280 points. Members were Lucian Young, captain; Ott Shewmaker, Jack Miller and Paul Brown.

In fourth place was Team 12 with 220 points. The team members were Benny Shackelford, captain; Melvin Jayroe, Eddie Polnac, Earl Barnett and A. J. Carubbi.

The high individual solicitor in the drive was Mrs. Spoonmore, who captained the winning team. Even though many cards still remain to be worked the drive was closed for contest purposes, Young said. Workers who still have cards out are urged, he said, to continue their efforts until all persons have been given an opportunity to invest in the Chamber of Commerce program to build a bigger and better Pampa.

As soon as tabulations can be completed, Young stated, a detailed report on the campaign will be given showing new members and their business affiliations.

Young was high in his praise of the campaign workers who gave of their time to make the Membership Roundup a success. He said the work will continue until all contacts have been made.

Death Takes Actor Gary Cooper

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gary Cooper, who accepted cancer like the strong, silent outdoor type he symbolized for three decades, died Saturday six days after his 60th birthday.

"It's God's will," said the lanky "yup" and "nope" Academy Award winner when he knew the end was near.

At his side when he died was his wife, Veronica, his daughter, Maria, 24, a priest, Msgr. Daniel Sullivan, and his doctor, Rex Kennamer. Death came at 12:27 p.m. pdt (1:27 p.m. cst) at his home where he had been confined for three weeks.

"He had a great will to live, or he might not have survived this long," Kennamer said.

Actress Mrs. J. Charles Davis—then a western heroine billed as "the beautiful Marilyn Mill"—got Cooper his first acting job at the request of her father, who was a friend of Cooper's dad.

"I didn't want to be bothered," Mrs. Davis said, "but dad insisted and the next day there was this boy, Frank Cooper, at my doorstep. I was amazed.

"I never saw so much humanity before in one piece," she said.

First to arrive at the Cooper home when news of his death came was producer Bill Goetz and his wife and Mrs. Jimmy Stewart, whose husband told the world of Cooper's illness April 9 in an emotional tribute at the Academy Awards presentation.

Police officers who stood by the Cooper home through the day said the body would be taken out the rear of the house with police cruisers escorting him to the mortuary.

Last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered to Cooper—a recent convert to the faith—last Thursday. At that time the whole world knew he was dying.

He had known for months, but never said a word.

The crisis came Friday night, Kennamer then told United Press International.

"It is just a matter of hours now. There is no hope at all."

Uruguay Accused Of Cuban Invasion Role

MIAMI (UPI)—Havana Radio Saturday attacked what it called the "reactionary oligarchy" of Uruguay and accused that nation of joining a Yankee plan for a new invasion of Cuba.

The radio was particularly bitter over Uruguay's plans to recognize a Cuban government-in-exile headed by Jose Miro Cardona, head of the Revolutionary Council which sponsored last month's invasion.

"Recognition of this counter-revolutionary government is one of the Nankee plans to prepare direct aggression against Cuba with the backing of Latin American regimes," the broadcast said.

It retorted that Uruguay would break relations with Cuba "as the first step in this plot." Eight other Latin American nations already have severed relations with the Castro regime.

The broadcast claimed that Bolivia, Ecuador and Brazil previously rejected the Yankee effort to get them to recognize the Miro Cardonal group.

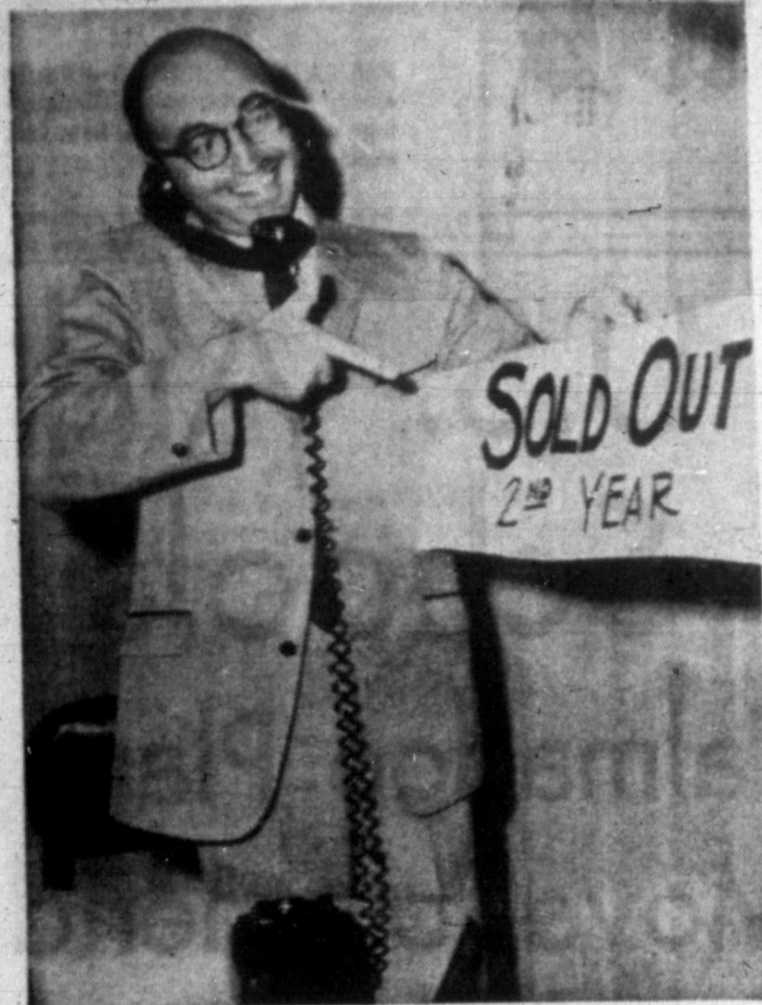

Other Cuban developments: Havana radio renewed its appeal for expansion of the "big brother" network of informers to defend the Fidel Castro government against subversive plots. A broadcast asked for 500,000 new informers.

A UPI dispatch from Havana said Cuba and Yugoslavia had signed a major trade agreement whereby Yugoslavia will send lead, copper, cement and steam engines to Cuba for sugar, coffee, alcohol, manganese, molasses and fruit juices.

Traffic Problem In Urban Areas Termed Serious

NEW YORK (UPI) — A New York real estate executive advocates a federal long-term loan and research grant program as a solution for the nation's commuter transportation problems.

Urban traffic congestion and the breakdown in commuter transportation systems are threatening the economic health and vitality of America's metropolitan areas.

And, according to Morris Karp, president of Realty Equities Corp. it has reached a point where it no longer is a problem whether or not private railroads make a profit but whether our cities can afford to see them "not" make a profit.

Writing in the company's monthly newsletter, Karp said that as our suburbs grow the problem of getting the people to and from work is becoming more difficult because of snarling traffic congestion and completely inadequate rail transportation systems.

The situation can only get worse, he declared, noting that by 1970 expectations are that three out of four Americans will be living in metropolitan areas.

There are an estimated 500,000 commuters today, the bulk of which reside in the most critical areas—New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. And, Karp said, Washington, D. C., Los Angeles and Cleveland soon will become hopelessly clogged with auto traffic unless better rail facilities are developed.

The commuter problem stems from the huge growth in population, suburban and new metropolitan areas, and from technical and financial problems which have faced the commuter railroads.

These lines must have crews and equipment available to handle the heavy rush hour traffic, then see much of it lie idle for the rest of the day. For example, the eight commuter roads serving New York have lost many millions of dollars in recent years, and thus are unwilling to sink money in new equipment. As a result, facilities are aging and service deteriorating.

tors' wives. And, there will be lots to eat and sherry, tea and coffee to drink.

One of the highlights will be a few remarks by Lady Bird herself—perhaps some of her travel experiences—and an appearance by Johnson who will drop in to say hello.

Mrs. Johnson is drawing up a guest list to include many of the wives of ambassadors from the strange far-away countries and spouses of Capitol Hill's leading committee chairmen.

Vice-President's Wife Turns World Traveler

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson, wife of the vice president, is keeping her campaign promises.

So much so that she is giving her predecessor, Pat Nixon, a run for her money as a world traveler and a public figure on the Washington scene.

Since Inauguration Day, the second lady of the land has almost circled the earth with her husband on goodwill and factfinding missions. Only a few weeks ago she went to Senegal in darkest Africa with Johnson to celebrate that country's new independence.

The petite, vivacious Mrs. Johnson is off again on a tour with her husband, this time to Southeast Asia, a current trouble spot in the cold war.

Mrs. Johnson set the pace for women to help promote the Kennedy-Johnson ticket long before the election when she was one of the first to spark the political campaign on the female side.

On the campaign trail she was often asked "how do you visualize your role as second lady?"

She boiled it down very simply: "To aid Lyndon all I can, to help Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy in any way she sees fit and to be a more-alive 'me.'"

The gentle, soft-spoken Texas woman, who is a business as well as a political success, has more than lived up to her pledges. She has taken on many of the social and civic duties which normally would fall in the bailiwick of the first lady. But since Mrs. Kennedy has shied away from many of the public demands, Mrs. Johnson has stepped into the breach.

She had appeared on numerous occasions at luncheons and receptions as the guest of honor when Mrs. Kennedy was first asked and sent her regrets.

She had supported various civic and charitable causes through public appearances and use of her name.

The black-haired, dark-eyed, always-smiling Mrs. Johnson also has a weekly chore. Every Tuesday, she presides as the vice president's wife over the Senate ladies' get-together.

In addition, she meets with a group of women to study Spanish. Her energy has proved as unbounded these days as it was during the rigorous campaign.

One of her big goals, which she expressed often, is to promote friendships between Americans and friends in the diplomatic corps from foreign countries.

She is one of the few women in Washington who has done much to make the hands-across-the-sea an every day reality in the nation's capital.

When she went to Africa she made it a point to learn all about the people she would meet and the customs she would encounter so she could be an understanding, better representative of this country.

Mrs. Johnson also made sure her official schedule would not be so tight that she could not go out to the villages and meet the natives, most of whom had never met an American woman before.

In addition to all of her outside activities, Mrs. Johnson manages to keep her household running smoothly and to lovingly watch over her two daughters, Lynda B. and Lucy Baines, 13.

Mrs. Johnson, who wears elegant suits during the daytime and colorful rich evening gowns on formal occasions, does a lot of entertaining herself when she is not globe-trotting.

One of her big parties when she returns will be a reception on Friday, June 9, for the wives of publishers and editors attending a two-day conference sponsored by United Press International in Washington.

The setting for the party will be the red-rugged, historic old Supreme Court chamber at the Capitol which was the scene last Monday of the congressional reception for astronaut Alan B. Shepard.

Mrs. Johnson is planning to mix the convivial with the educational. On the social side, she will have a Navy combo to entertain the edi-

"The contributions of individual residents of Pampa," Chairman Francker said, "is just as important to the work of these groups. The success or failure of the campaign depends on what all of us do during these two weeks."

Fancher pointed out that ultimate results of the campaign depend both on the degree of improvement in the community and also the amount of participation by the citizenry.

Among projects that individuals can do, Fancher stated, are cleaning all rubbish from front and back yards, planting new grass in bare spots, trimming hedges, painting exteriors of homes, mending fences, clearing vacant lots of rubbish and planting them with flowers, planting trees, cleaning out all rubbish, old papers from basements, attics and garages, and repairing sidewalks.

"If all our people get in there and work," said Fancher, "then Pampa stands a good chance of being among the world's cleanest cities."

Felton K. Webb Burial Services Scheduled Today

McLEAN (Sp) — Funeral services for Felton Kirk Webb, 38, prominent rancher of the McLean community will be held at 3 p.m. today in McLean Methodist Church with the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church of Pampa officiating. Rev. J. B. Stewart, the local pastor will assist.

Mr. Webb died Friday at Highland General Hospital. He was born Dec. 11, 1922 on a ranch just north of McLean. He was a veteran of World War II, serving as a corporal in the Marine Air Corps, was a member of the McLean School Board, and a member of the Gray County Soil Conservation Board of Supervisors. He was Past Master of the McLean Masonic lodge number 889. The ranch home is 12 miles north of McLean.

Mr. Webb was married to Miss Thelma Burns in Boston, Mass., Oct. 11, 1948. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery under direction of Lamb Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife, Thelma, two small sons, Kirk and Billy; his mother, Mrs. Mary Webb of Canadian, a sister, Mrs. Betty Jean Eoff of Rogers, Ark., and his grandmother, Mrs. Lallie Webb of Mobeetie.

School (Continued From Page 1) would quiet these fears and make the bill acceptable. Southern sources, however, said it would not lure extreme conservatives such as Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., or Strom Thurmond, D-S.C.

The amendment is the absolute reverse of the much-better known Powell amendment which has quietly been junked by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., the author. The Powell amendment, which has figured in previous aid-to-education battles, provides that no segregated school can get federal help.

Problems (Continued From Page 1) Paso and Jep Fuller of Port Arthur are ready to talk against senatorial redistricting. Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio said he will fight the sales tax.

The key vote of the week may be the House stand on the corporate income tax. If there is a strong showing of support for the measure, it could mean that the opposing sides are close to compromising and solving the state's problems in perhaps only one special session.

The last time the two-time Oscar winner saw his movie friends was April 23 when he was visited by the Sam Goldwyns, Danny Kaye, Jimmy Stewart, Mel Ferrer and Audrey Hepburn.

Maria told a friend shortly afterward:

"I am not having any dates with anyone. I'm not going to leave the house. I want to spend every minute I can with my father."

Cooper told his wife shortly before his death:

"It is God's will."

Under Sedation

But at the end, under heavy sedation to cut the increasing pain, he was unaware of being near death, Kennamer said.

Cooper knew he was dying for several months, but kept a brave front.

First knowledge that he was in grave condition came April 9 when he cancelled an appearance to tape a Dinah Shore TV show.

The world learned of Cooper's crisis on April 17 over nationwide U.S. television—when actor Jimmy Stewart came near tears accepting an honorary award for the star at the Academy Awards.

A friend said: "Coop was simply a wasted frame—except for his face, which merely was drawn. He never was a heavy man, and he's lost weight steadily for the last month."

In that time he was confined first to his study, where he spent much time reading and watching the TV newscasts telling of his condition.

But three weeks ago he was confined to the bedroom of his modern, Bermuda-style home in the exclusive Brentwood section. Ever since then, neither his wife nor daughter have left the home at the same time to make sure that one of them was always with him.

"Daddy had a tremendous will to live," said Maria.

Annual Hospital Sessions Opened

DALLAS (UPI)—The 32nd annual Texas Hospital Association convention opens today in Dallas for a four-day round of meetings and exhibitions.

Officials said Saturday some 3,000 delegates and guests were expected for the affair.

Bruce Alger, Texas' only Republican congressman, will be the top speaker Sunday night at a dinner session. Alger will discuss "Freedom — Don't Take it for Granted."

It was understood the funeral was planned tentatively for 10 a.m. Monday.

Senator Blakley Forced To Cancel His Pampa Visit

Aaron Sturgeon, Pampa attorney and Gray county campaign manager for Sen. William Blakley, announced last night that the senatorial candidate in the May 27 runoff election will be unable to visit Pampa Wednesday as originally scheduled.

Sturgeon said he received a telegram from Senator Blakley which stated he would have to return to Washington Tuesday when the Senate begins debate on the federal aid to education bill.

Blakley said in his telegram he regretted that he had to cancel the Pampa visit.

Sturgeon said Blakley had advised him that he will go to Washington to oppose the bill and fight for a substitute plan to retain local control of education.

Director Makes CD Assignments

Various Civil Defense jobs were assigned volunteer workers in Pampa's new Civil Defense unit at a meeting in the County Court House Friday night.

William Leonard, defense director, appointed committee chairman. They were as follows: Henry Gruben, communications; V. E. Wagner, transportation; Libby Shotwell, Red Cross, food and shelter.

Fire, police and city officials were represented, and assigned to various city duties. The Junior Chamber of Commerce was assigned as auxiliary police in case of disaster. The Pampa National Guard Unit was also represented.

Foster Whaley, representing the Gray County Extension service, explained the functions a community should take in case of an atomic attack. Jack Williams, a representative of the Soil Conservation service, gave a brief talk on the Civil Defense program and its design in case of natural disaster.

During the 1960 fiscal year, more duck stamps were bought in Minnesota than in any other state of the Union.

Letters Dropped, Auto Takes Off And Hits Another

Mrs. Patricia Johnson, 1200 S. Dwight, stopped her car shortly before noon Saturday to deposit some letters in the island mail box in front of the postoffice on E. Foster St.

As she reached out of the car window some of the letters missed the box and fell to the street.

She got out of her car to pick them up.

While she was picking up the letters, the car took off, minus a driver.

Before Mrs. Johnson could catch up with it, the auto had taken a right turn and headed for a car parked at the curb in front of the postoffice.

Police said damage to the Chevrolet stationwagon the runaway car hit was slight.

JAMES GUY LOTT
... claimed by death

James Guy Lott Burial Services Scheduled Today

Funeral services will be held in Breville this afternoon for James Guy Lott, 69, former District Highway Engineer in Amarillo, who died Thursday night in an Amarillo hotel.

Mr. Lott, an engineering graduate of Texas A&M College was born in Beeville, Texas. He was commissioned in the Army Engineers Corps in 1917 and served in France during World War I. He was discharged with the rank of captain in 1919.

Mr. Lott was employed by the Texas Highway Department in 1919 and served for 37 years prior to his retirement Oct. 31, 1956. He served as district engineer for the Abilene, El Paso and Tyler districts before moving to Amarillo as district engineer in 1940.

While head of the Amarillo district he became well known in Pampa. He was always a booster for better highways and was closely associated with Pampa and our many highway projects. He was a diligent worker for the Pampa-Perry highway and was instrumental in seeing its completion. While working on this project he instigated a plan whereby the interested counties would pool their available Farm to Market funds and dedicated them to Highway 70. Later this was used as a model plan in other areas of Texas for the development of state highways.

As a result of his outstanding record in highway construction the Panhandle Chapter of the Society of Professional Engineers named Mr. Lott "Engineer of the Year" for 1955.

After retirement Mr. Lott continued to make Amarillo his home and highway building his hobby. He was an honor guest at the opening of the Hobart St. underpass which had been one of his planned projects.

Dramatic Rescue At Texas Grain Elevator Tops Heroism Awards

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A dramatic helicopter rescue of a teen-aged laborer from atop a burning grain elevator in Texas and the saving of a hospital patient from a possible fatal plunge in Alabama were among 23 acts of heroism cited Friday at the spring meeting of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Three of the heroes honored lost their lives trying to save others and two medal winners were young boys who succeeded in rescue attempts despite physical handicaps.

Eleven states were represented in the latest citations bestowed by the commission, with five medals being presented to residents of Texas. There were four winners in Pennsylvania; three in Virginia; two each in Georgia, North Carolina and New York State; and one each in West Virginia, South Carolina, Oklahoma, Ohio and Alabama.

Monetary awards totaling $8,000 also were granted by the commission in 17 of the 23 cases reviewed. The money will be used for educational and other worthy purposes.

The latest awards brought to 4,417 the number of medals presented by the commission and boosted to more than $5,700,000 in cash given out since 1904.

The helicopter rescue took place July 19, 1950 in Brownsfield, Tex., when a 100-foot grain elevator caught fire following an explosion of grain dust inside the storage area.

Charles Phillip Reeves, 17, a laborer, became trapped inside the head house which rose an additional 50 feet above the top of the elevator. An Army helicopter was brought into play in an effort to get the youth down safely.

Donald Ethington, 28, a power-line foreman, arrived on the scene and volunteered to attempt the rescue. As the whirlybird hovered dangerously over the burning grain elevator, Ethington was lowered 90 feet by cable to a window of the head house.

He managed to reach the badly burned Reeves and loop a rope around the victim's body. Both were hauled free of the burning structure. Upon reaching the ground, Reeves was taken to a hospital where he died of burns 16 days later.

The Carnegie commission recognized Ethington's bravery by presenting him a bronze medal.

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., on the night of April 22, 1950, nurse Shirley C. Wharton, 22, was making the Key Club from the high school. The Key Club has undertaken as one of its projects to assist the instructors in this program.

To be admitted to the class, youth director Doug Halley said, a child must have a doctor's certificate and may register with the Red Cross office or Mrs. Halley Hatfield, Exceptional Children Water Program Chairman, phone 5-2857.

Exceptional Children Club has purchased water wings for each participant as an aid and safety precaution in an effort to help them overcome fear of the water.

The children, Mrs. Hatfield said, participated actively in the water therapy program and seemed to respond well to the instruction.

her rounds in a local hospital. When she checked the room of Lewis D. Blaich Sr., 71, she discovered the patient was not in his bed and that a window of the room was open.

Mrs. Wharton looked out the window and saw Blaich standing on a 42-inch wire ledge about 50 feet from ground level. Under the heavy sedation, the man apparently had become confused and crawled out onto the ledge.

The nurse lowered herself onto the ledge and inched along more than 10 feet until she reached Blaich; talking to him all the time so as to not excite him.

With the help of other hospital personnel, Blaich was pulled back through another window to safety.

A 16-year-old schoolboy from Hamlet, N.C., became a medal winner for saving the lives of two soldiers whose automobile had become stalled on railroad tracks as a freight train approached.

G. Edwin Richardson noticed the soldiers' plight and deliberately rammed his car into the stalled vehicle, pushing it off the tracks. The young motorist then flipped his car into reverse and jumped clear. The car backed off the tracks just as the train roared over the crossing.

The posthumous awards went to the families of Joseph P. Simon, 13, of Ithaca, N.Y.; Raymond E. Beaven Jr., 32, of Norwalk, Ohio; and Ivan B. Garrett, 38, of Columbus, Ga.

Driveaway Auto Concerns Faced With Lean Days

By ROBERT IRVIN

DETROIT (UPI) — The sometimes bitter fight between the railroads and the trucking industry for the new car shipping business has all but squeezed out a third competitor—the drive-away companies.

For years the driveaways were known as the "meal ticket" for vacationers who liked to take cross-country jaunts and get free transportation. But now the firms are having a run of hard luck.

No longer do the companies make a prosperous living by picking up new cars from Detroit factories and delivering them to distant points by means of vacation drivers who get free transportation. Of the two dozen driveaway firms that did a thriving business in Detroit seven years ago less than half now remain. And these report that business is down at least 30 per cent over a year ago.

The driveaway owners attribute their troubles mainly to auto freight reductions.

But another factor cited frequently was the industry's decision to decentralize. With more assembly plants around the country, there is less need for new cars shipped from Detroit.

The combination of factors has meant that the driveaway companies do almost no business these days with the Detroit car factories. Most of their business is limited to arranging for shipment of used cars bought in Detroit for sale in distant cities.

"Most of our business is in used cars, and it's slow at the present time," Dick Newton of AAA Nationwide Driveaway said. "Although business in the last month is down 40 to 50 per cent, we look for an upturn this summer."

Newton said his firm seldom handles new cars any more. "Every so often we get a brand new Lincoln or Cadillac, but none of the other makes which have plants scattered all about."

Chemical Production In Russia Not Keeping Pace With Needs

NEW YORK (UPI)—Russia's largest chemical producer, its output pated at about 30 to 40 per cent of the U. S. production. But while the present Soviet seven-year plan probably will not reach its goal, Russia's output at its present rate of growth could overtake ours by 1980, the publication said.

The Soviet growth rate averaged 15 per cent from 1950 to 1958, according to their statistics, while the U. S. chemical industry grew by 5 to 6 per cent annually during the same period.

In 1959 and 1960, Chemical News noted, Soviet chemical output grew 10 and 12 per cent, respectively, as anticipated, but this is well below the average annual gain needed to reach the 1965 goal.

Should the Soviet industry gain at an annual rate of 10 per cent for the next five years, the 1965 goals will be only about two thirds fulfilled and chemical production will be equal to about half the U. S. output.

Chemical News said progress has been slowed by several ma-

Prospects Seem To Be Improving For Auto Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—E. F. Hutton & Co. says looking beyond a possible auto strike later this year, the economic air seems to be clearing and a more favorable environment for auto-sales developing.

The firm says industry output in the first quarter is scheduled some 25 per cent ahead of the first three months, indicating an earnings upswing at mid-year. Exclusive of the possible strike, year-to-year comparisons for the first six months, according to the firm.

The brokerage house says schedules of production for the second quarter currently indicate gains of 37 per cent for American Motors, 45 per cent for Chrysler and Ford, and 10 per cent for Studebaker-Packard and General Motors.

Kidder Peabody & Co. says if over the remainder of the year, W. R. Grace Co. earnings could exceed the previous $3.50 a share estimate, and this, coupled with the company's chemical strength, could result in a higher market appraisal of Grace's stock.

Alex G. Fedoroff of Hemphill, Noyes & Co. says First Charter Financial should share fully in the future growth of California, a fact which should be reflected in increased earnings and price appreciation for the stock.

Robert Wagner Turns To Free Lance Acting

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Robert Wagner, "If the producers want an actor, they'll buy him on the open market. It's an entirely different picture business."

Wagner, now a free lance actor after 12 years under contract to 20th Century Fox, is working at Columbia Studios in "Sail a Crooked Ship," a farcical story about larceny at sea.

"Things sure happen to this guy," said Bob about his character in the picture.

The poor chap is a fulltime loser, adds Wagner, reeling some spaghetti onto his fork during a luncheon break.

"He gets hit in the face by some beer which is tossed out of a porthole as he walks by," Bob complained with a wince which almost made you feel the splash.

"And, later in the picture, he's sunk while sailing a lifeboat."

Bob also gets knocked on the head during the film, probably making him the bane of his insurance company's existence.

Wagner owes Fox one more picture and when that's done, it's doubtful he'll perform exclusively for that studio.

"I wouldn't want to get tied up in term contracts anymore," said for problems, the most important of which are inadequate production, particularly of synthetic organic chemical products; use of much obsolete technology; inability to develop and commercialize new chemical processes as rapidly as needed and lack of sufficient mechanization and automation.

Because of these difficulties the Soviet plan relies heavily on the purchase of chemical plants and know-how from abroad.

Practically all new production of the synthetic organic chemical called for in the plan is to be based on two raw materials—oil refinery gases and natural gas, according to the report.

But, it added, the rapid development of processes utilizing these materials has been a weakness of Soviet research and technology.

The treasurer of the United States is appointed by the president and the appointment confirmed by the Senate.

Wagner, "I played a variety of things at Fox, but I don't think they would experiment with me on something like this," he said. "I was never in a picture at Fox that lost money."

But, now that he's on his own, Bob intends to take varied parts, roles that will place him in the same category with Burt Lancaster.

"I want to operate like Burt Lancaster," he said. "He's got a variety of things going for him. After this farce, I'm going to play a doctor in 'The Internes' which is a long way from getting beer in my face."

Even though a kisser bathed in suds might sound easy to some people, Bob says it's all work.

"It's hard stuff to play and the approach is different," he claimed, "you have to watch it so you don't go overboard, or the situations wouldn't look legitimate."

Stock Traders Marking Time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says the stock market is apparently marking time and is digesting the previous rise in order to establish a base for its next upswing.

He says he would reiterate that subject to some further congestion there will be, a test of the all-time highs, and the establishment of new peaks.

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the April 17th high in the D-J industrial average could still be tested, but major technical indicators such as the short interest ratio and others suggest that it would not be surprising if the average failed to see 700 until possibly on a summer rally.

Another Effort To Lift Treasure Ship Scheduled

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A fresh attempt will be made this summer to find the sunken steamer Rio de Janeiro and a fabulous treasure which it may or may not have carried.

The fortune-hunt will take place in San Francisco Bay in the shadow of Alcatraz Federal Prison.

It was on Washington's Birthday 60 years ago that the Rio, inbound from the Orient, crashed into a rocky ledge while groping through sponge-thick fog in the Golden Gate.

The steamer went down within hailing distance of the San Francisco shore. But the fog was so thick that word of the wreck didn't reach the city for two hours.

Of the 211 persons aboard, 128 were lost. Periodic diving, drilling and digging have failed to yield a trace of the vessel or its cargo.

The U.S. Department of Commerce ruled officially that the ship was carrying nothing more valuable than Japanese sake. But persistent rumors of sunken treasure have continued through the years.

The owner of an Oakland diving school, Al Mikalow, is the latest to fall under the spell of the Rio's mystery.

Mikalow plans to start diving this summer for what he's positive is a treasure-seeker's dream of gold and jewelry.

"Here's what I know," he said. "There's $75,000 in gold coins in the strong room. There's $46,000 in $20 gold pieces, with an estimated value today of between $2 and $4 million.

"And there's at least $37,000 worth of passenger's jewelry, insurance companies paid off on that much."

Mikalow based his optimism on the ship manifest for the Pacific Mail Steamer, a voyage from the Far East to Honolulu. The manifest for the Honolulu-San Francisco passage went down with the ship.

Mikalow's taking the word of William Madeira on the $75,000 in gold coins. Madeira, a retired postal inspector who lives in Woodside, Calif., claims to have seen the coin put aboard the Rio in Honolulu. He was an assistant postmaster there at the time, and said he went aboard the ship to road the gold coins.

"Madeira said he also saw a 'couple of million' worth of Chinese silver.

TRAVELERS SPEAKER — William G. Martin, Tyler, Texas, supreme counselor of the United States and Canada United Commercial Travelers Association, will be the guest speaker at the United Commercial Travelers meeting, 7-30 p.m. Monday, in the First Christian Church auditorium. Secretary of State H. G. Gribble, also from Tyler, will be guest speaker on the evening program. A free barbecue dinner will be served to members and guests.

Campaign Opens To Reduce List Of Unemployed

Texas has joined with the other 49 states in beginning a "Hire Now" drive, according to R. L. Coffman, administrator of the Texas Employment Commission.

This nationwide effort, which is designed to stimulate employers to hire now through their local public employment service offices was "kicked off" on May 10 and has the endorsement of Governor Price Daniel. Coffman pointed out that the "Hire Now" campaign is nationwide in scope, with particular emphasis being given to the major metropolitan areas. Over 10,000 state employment service personnel located in 1,800 local offices throughout the nation will participate with management, labor, and veteran organizations, community groups, and federal, state, and local governments in promoting the drive.

Coffman said that during the past four weeks there had been a marked uptrend in employment throughout Texas. He also pointed out, however, that although unemployment is dropping seasonally, it still remains considerably higher than at this same time a year ago. He said that all 51 local offices of the Texas Employment Commission are putting all available personnel behind this concerted drive to place more people on jobs and to convince Texas employers that they now have a better selection of workers to choose from to fill needed jobs than they will have when the upswing in the economy reduces unemployment to normal levels.

Pampa Historical Society Hears Story Of Famed Plains Battles

Sixty members and guests of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society heard Mrs. Walter Irwin of Amarillo re-create Thursday night at Lovett Library the scenes of valor and heroism in which her famous father Billy Dixon participated at the Battles of Adobe Walls and Buffalo Wallow in 1874.

The site of the Adobe Walls engagement lies in Hutchinson County east of Stinnett. William Bent had established a trading post there in the early days, but by 1840 he had abandoned it to return to Kansas. In 1864, Kit Carson and 396 men in his cavalry troops successfully defended themselves against several thousand Comanches and Kiowas in a battle lasting all day — the largest Indian fight ever waged in the Texas Panhandle.

The second battle of Adobe Walls took place June 27, 1874 during which Billy Dixon, Bat Masterson, 26 other men and one woman — Mrs. William Olds, battled between some 700 warriors led by Quanah Parker, who was starting a drive to rid the country of buffalo hunters.

Mrs. Irwin related that her father's proudest day was in Dec. 1874 when General Nelson Miles presented the Congressional Medal of Honor on Billy Dixon and the four other survivors of Buffalo Wallow for their bravery.

Dixon was married to Miss Olive King in 1864 and made his home near the battleground of Adobe Walls. He planted the first orchard of 200 fruit trees in Hutchinson County. He died March 9, 1913 in Cimmaron Co., Okla. and was buried at Texline, but on June 27, 1929 the 55th anniversary of the battle, his body was removed to rest at Adobe Walls. The Panhandle Plains Historical Society has erected a large granite shaft to mark the site.

Mrs. Irwin's program concluded with a question and answer period and several pictures related to the battles were displayed.

It was announced that Tracy D. Cary, president of the Pampa Society has been appointed associate editor of "STRIPES," the quarterly of the Texas State Genealogical Society. Acknowledgement of the gift of several new books to the Society's historical collection was made to Miss Grace Webster of Amarillo, Mrs. Carmie Heflin, Mrs. Willie Guill, and Luthie Fruit. Guests of members attending included: From Amarillo — Mrs. Woodson Coffee, president of the Amarillo Genealogical Society; Mrs. W. T. Brothers, and Mr. Walter Irwin, From Claude — Mr. and Mrs. Jones R. Christian, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nelson. From Phillips — Mrs. Muri Howard, Miss Vanessa Howard, Miss Laura Love, and Miss Janice Drake.

Misses Mary Patton, Inez Clubb, and Roy Riley; Mmes. W. R. Ewing, Mona Blanton, L. B. Haggard, Jay Leath, M. B. Smith, L. P. Clarke, Burl Lewter, Mary E. Cary, LeRoy Jacobs; Messers. Joe Shelton, J. M. Patton, Pernal Scoggin, L. H. Kirkendall, Leo Blankston, and LeRoy Jacobs all of Pampa.

Wyatt Earp, Famed Westerner, Helped Hugh O'Brien Get Rich

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD, (UPI) — There are only six bullets in a western revolver, and Hugh O'Brien figures six years is about the limit for a successful television horse opera.
After completing his tenure in "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp," the actor said, "It's time for me to get off the horse while the getting is good."
"I'll miss Wyatt. I'm grateful for all he's done for me. And I hope I did him justice, too."
Playing the famed western lawman for a half-dozen years has made the square jawed actor one of the wealthiest young men in Hollywood. Thanks to the popularity of the series, Hugh has had the wherewithal to invest wisely, establish himself as an actor and

To help celebrate the Capri Theatre's First Anniversary, "Pepe," starring Cantinflas, the sensation of "Around The World In 80 Days," has been booked for a seven day engagement starting Thursday. The picture is photographed in Cinemascope and color and co-stars Shirley Jones and Dan Dailey with 36 guest stars making their appearances. In the title role of "Pepe," Cantinflas is seen as a loveable, garrulous peon ranch-hand who, through his love for a horse becomes comically entangled in Hollywood's movie making.

Robert Preston Voices Distaste For Video Acting

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "I wouldn't star in a television series if starvation was staring me in the face."
That's what Robert Preston thinks of TV.
He can afford to think that way. Preston is sitting on top of the entertainment world with his choice of Broadway shows and movies, thanks to his spectacular success in "Music Man."
"There is no joy in a TV series, just money. And I can always make a living appearing in summer stock," he said.
"But the public thinks you're dead if you don't show up in television once in a while. So I try to appear a couple of times a year to prove I'm still alive."
"I limit myself to 'live' appearances — shows that can't come back to haunt me."
Bob's only experience with a weekly television show occurred several years ago in New York, when he agreed to replace Ralph Bellamy in a detective show for six weeks while Ralph took a vacation.
"I played his brother, a guy named 'Pat,'" Preston said. "And after three weeks on the show people on the street were calling me 'Pat. Always before it was Bob."
"It was a terrific revelation to me. In a matter of a few weeks I'd begun to lose my identity to the character I was playing."
"Never again. A series can ruin you for other roles and restrict your availability in the eyes of producers."
Preston, sitting set-side at Warner Brothers Studio for the screen version of "Music Man," was a study in barely harnessed energy. He had the look of a man waiting for the stars' gun in the 100-yard dash.
"I'm very happy to be playing the 'Music Man' role in the picture, but it was tough and got to a while," he said.
"At first they asked Cary Grant to play the part, but he told them he thought I was the only man for the role, and if I didn't get it he wouldn't even go to see the picture."
"Frank Sinatra wanted the part badly. I for one couldn't quite picture him playing Professor Harold Hill, who certainly wasn't from Hoboken, New Jersey."
Preston has director "Teek" Da Costa and producer Meredith Willson to thank for his celluloid version of the role he originated in Broadway. They insisted that Bob was the only actor for the part.
"The movie follows the stage production very closely," Preston said.

Danny Kaye Goes Big For Flying

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Comedian Danny Kaye doesn't claim to be any Alan Shepard, but the funny performer has gone in for flying in a big way.
In fact, the bushy-haired clown has planked down more than $50,000 for his own twin engine airplane.
Kaye has been taking lessons for more than a year and has been given a private pilot's license which allows him to skipper twin engine aircraft of a limited size. And, that's what Danny has been doing lately, flying from one part of the country to another.
"I'm no hero though," said Danny, recalling a recent cross country flight he made. "We got into Montgomery, Ala., and the weather was bad. So, I said, 'This little bird wants to stay on the ground.'"
"We stayed there for a day and I took a commercial airliner out." It was a relaxed Danny, lounging around his beautiful mahogany decorated dressing room discussing flying like it was a routine golf game.
Danny says golf helped him become a flyer, if you can imagine anybody being inspired by a little round ball.
"I used to play golf," he said between work sessions for "On The Double."
"But, I took a whole year off and knew I wanted to do something besides play golf. There was nothing stimulating about the game."
"I went to ground school for the sense of accomplishment was months and finally took a test for my license," he explained. "How- ever, I bought my airplane before I got the license and had about 150 hours flying time prior to getting the ticket. I think the minimum flying time before you take a test is 40 hours, but I waited until I was ready."
Now that he's a confirmed flyer, Danny spends more time in the air and less on putting greens. "No more golf," he said with a smile. "I got this to keep away from people. I don't find myself talking about makeup and show business with those fellows. They speak to me like I work in a hanger."
Danny's personal accomplishment as a flyer means much more to him than the fact that he now has easily available transportation.
"It was very stimulating and I got the sense of accomplishment was months and finally took a test for my license," he explained. "How- ever, I bought my airplane before I got the license and had about 150 hours flying time prior to getting the ticket. I think the minimum flying time before you take a test is 40 hours, but I waited until I was ready."

Little Leaguers To Greet Feller Tuesday

Baseball Season Will Be Opened At Signal Event

By JIM EASTERWOOD
Daily News Sports Editor

The Pampa Little League program — which has mushroomed to substantial proportions since its birth in 1954 — will officially open here Tuesday night at Optimist field. Starting time for the program ceremonies is 6:20 p.m. "We expect it to be the biggest opening game celebration in Pampa's Little League history," said John Conway, program director.

Accord Reached On Scholarships For Gridsters

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Southwest Conference ordered a flexible limit of 100 football scholarships and 20 basketball scholarships for member schools Saturday at the annual spring meeting of conference faculty officials. The near-unanimous decision of the eight-member conference meeting stressed that the aim of the limitation rule is to strike a yearly average among the schools. Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs described the rule as flexible and not ironclad. "The conference did not desire to fix a definite limitation which says a school cannot have more than 100 football scholarships," Grubbs said.

The idea, he said, is to set a "status quo" for the conference. The 100 football scholarships and 20 basketball scholarships represent the average number of scholarships conference schools have been adhering to for several years.

The conference fathers also acted to limit ticket sales by student athletes. In a unanimous decision, it was agreed that athletes will be issued no more than two complimentary tickets "or the regular price thereof" for any football game, and that these tickets must be plainly stamped "complimentary—not for sale."

Violation of the rule will cause forfeiture of ticket privileges and possibly other penalties. Grubbs said the decision to limiting the number of football and basketball scholarships was not unanimous. However, it required at least six affirmative votes to pass.

In other conference decisions: —Dr. Delbert Swartz of the University of Arkansas was elected to a two-year term as S.W.C. president, succeeding Dr. Henry D. Hardt of Texas Christian University. —Dr. Chris Droneman of Texas A&M was named S.W.C. vice president. —Basketball and baseball schedules for next season were approved. —Radio rights to the 1961 season were sold to Humble Oil and Refining Co.

Several thousand fans—including some 1,000 little leaguers — are expected to be on hand to see former major league pitcher great Bob Feller throw out the first ball. Feller, who won 266 games in his star-studded career with the Cleveland Indians, will also give a brief speech prior to the opening Pony League game between Pampa Hardware and First National Bank.

Conway said that tentative plans call for a parade through downtown for Feller, provided the husky, six-footer arrives in Pampa before 4 o'clock.

"He's flying here from Houston," Conway said, "and we're not sure he will make it in time."

Parade or not, the mere presence of the former strikeout king is expected to lure thousands of Pampans to the beautiful $125,000 Optimist Park.

Other highlights of the opening game include: A speech by Bob Izzard, news commentator for KGNC-TV of Amarillo, and recognition of numerous guests.

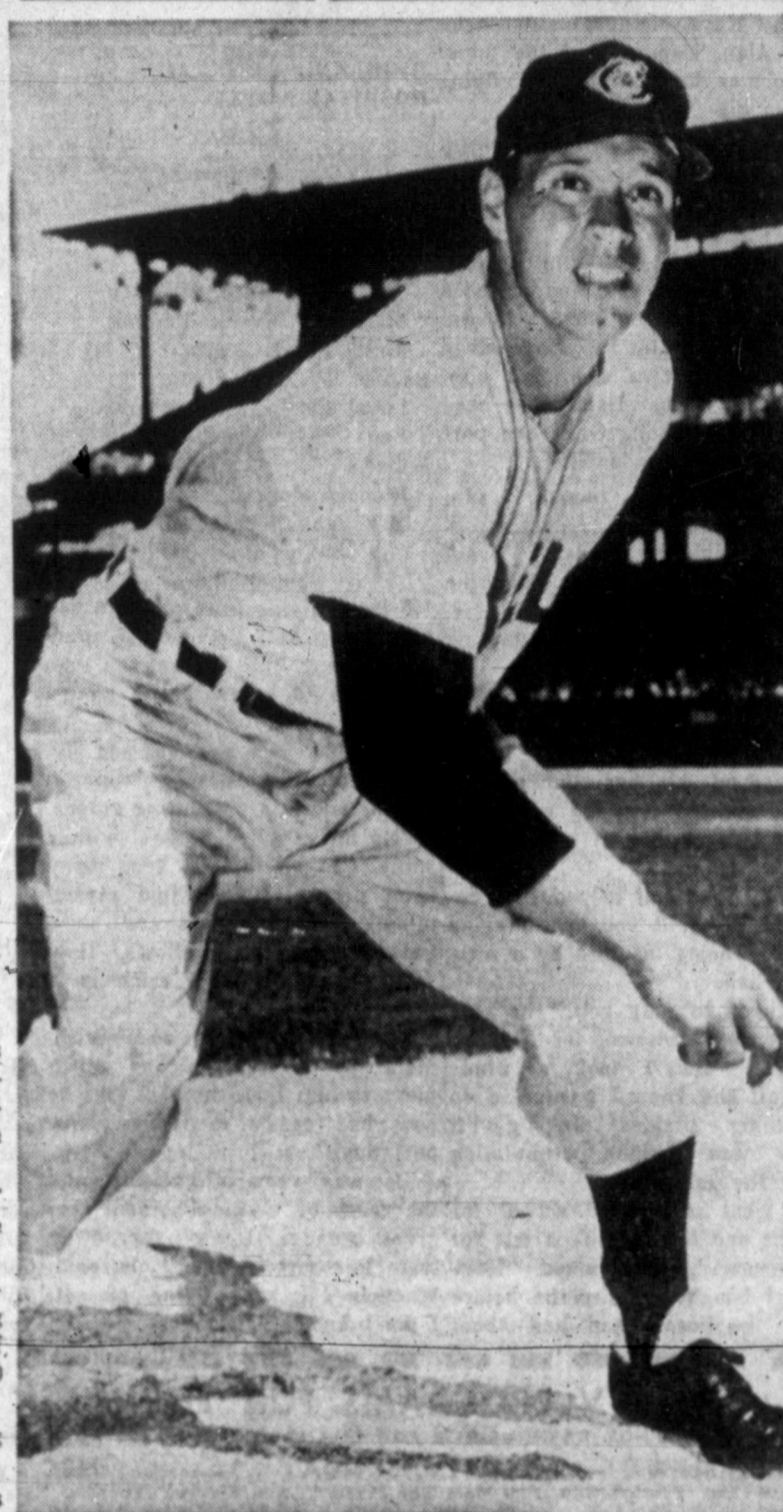

The guest list reads like a "who's who" of outstanding Pampa citizens: E. Roy Smith, president Pampa Chamber of Commerce; "Red" Wedgeworth, manager Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Benny Shackelford, president Pampa Jaycees; John Koontz, city manager; Ricky McClosky, president Pampa Junior Optimist Club; Ben White, president Lefts Optimist Club; Homer Hollars, president Evening Optimist Club and Henry Gindorff, President morning Optimist Club.

Marlan, executive director Quivira Girl Scouts; Brantly Hudson Jr., scout executive Adobe Wells Scout; Doug Halley, youth director Pampa Youth and Community Center; members and sponsors of Kit-Kat Club, Pampa High School, Lt. Gov. Harry Castle of Optimist District 7, and Louis J. McBea, regional director of Little League, Plainview.

Special guests introduced will be Mrs. Inez Carter and M. K. Brown.

Preceding recognition of the guests, will be a flag-raising ceremony, held in conjunction with the playing of the National Anthem by the Pampa High School band. Band director is Bill Trego. Participating in the flag-raising will be four Eagle Scouts: Jim Shellhammer, Sam Williams, Frank Osborne and John Neslage.

Rev. Art Bruns, pastor of the Lutheran Church, will give the invocation. Following the introductions of (See SEASON, Page 11)

Austin's Penny Baker

Water Ski-Jumper Takes To The Air

By BILL CLAYTON
United Press International

What do you do when water-skiing gets de old hat and you hold a national record for soaring over a water-ski jump?

You go higher in the air.

Penny Baker of Austin, young water skier who has helped bring sometimes-arid Texas into the national water-ski picture with more moist states, has tried the latest thing in water sports—kite flying.

"It's not real hard," Baker explains.

All you do is strap on a kite as big as you are, have a friend rev up the motorboat, and skim along on your water skis until the air lifts you from the water to the heights. And then pray you don't hit an air pocket.

"Kite flying is more dangerous than difficult," Baker says. "It takes only a few tries, if you are a good water skier, to get the kite to work. A heavier person works better. There's no limit to the height you can go, except for the length of the rope."

Baker usually uses a rope 150 feet long. Although that length is arbitrary, it happens to represent the national record length he has reached in water ski jump competition last year.

But a 150-foot rope doesn't let him get up that high.

"I trail behind the boat quite a bit, so that means I only go part of the way up in the air," Baker says.

And what does a man do to prevent the air currents from dashing him to the water?

"You lean," Baker says. "You are up there holding the handle of the kite like you would a chin-ning bar. You pull down on the right or left side to go one way or the other."

"And you have to be careful that the kite doesn't sail off with you like a regular kite—slipping to one side. Also, if the wind goes out of your kite, that's bad."

Kite fliers dread air pockets because there's nothing between the skier-flier and the water for protection.

"I got into an air pocket one time, and dropped to the water before I knew what was happening," Baker says. "But I didn't get hurt."

Pole Position Won By Sachs In '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Lead-footed Eddie Sachs Saturday rocketed to the second fastest qualifying speed ever and became the third driver in history to win the pole position for the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race two years in a row.

The crash on the northeast turn occurred when a car driven by Chuck Hulse, Downey, Calif., got into trouble and spun. Cars driven by Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, and Al (Cotton) Farmer, Tucson, Ariz., were immediately behind and also spun to avoid hitting Hulse.

All three cars hit the wall but they did not collide with each other. All were expected to be qualified later.

General Kirby Smith's surrender on May 26, 1865, officially ended fighting of the Civil War in Arkansas.

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — The State Bureau of Investigation Saturday issued warrants for the arrests of three North Carolina State College basketball players and the student at Los Angeles, Calif., State College on charges of violating the state's bribery laws.

The players charged were senior Stan Niewierowski of Brooklyn, N.Y., junior Anton Muehlbauer of Brooklyn and junior Terry Litchfield of Louisville, Ky. The Los Angeles student was identified as Lou Barshak of New York City.

Announcement of the warrants was made by Walter Anderson, director of the S.B.I.

Anderson said Muehlbauer has been charged with shaving points in a game against George Washington Dec. 3, 1960, Georgia Tech Dec. 17, 1960 and North Carolina Feb. 15, 1961. He is also charged with throwing a game against Duke University Jan. 7, 1961. Niewierowski is charged with shaving points in the North Carolina game Feb. 15 and throwing the Duke game of Jan. 7.

Litchfield is charged with shaving points in the George Washington and Georgia Tech games.

Barshak is charged with being the contact man in the bribes. Muehlbauer is in custody and Litchfield is under house arrest at the college's infirmary here. Police in New York City have been asked to arrest Niewierowski and hold him for extradition. Los Angeles police were asked to arrest Barshak.

Anderson said Muehlbauer received a total of $1,250; Niewierowski received $1,250; and Litchfield received $1,000 in the bribery.

He said however, that Litchfield had to refund his money because the game didn't turn out right.

Anderson said that unlike the players in earlier bribery cases in New York City, the N.C. State players will get no immunity for testifying.

"There is no immunity under North Carolina law," he said.

The S.B.I. director said that each charge is a separate offense carrying a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Anderson said that the state of North Carolina is asking for a $3,000 bond for each.

He said he had statements from Muehlbauer and Litchfield admitting their part in the fix.

The first contact between the players and Barshak was made after school started, while all four were playing at a Catskill Mountain resort, according to Anderson.

No direct connection was made between Saturday's disclosures or the current investigation going on in New York, but Anderson said he believed there was a connection.

He revealed that the contact for each game was made about an hour before game time, but declined to say how contact was made or how the payoff came.

State beat George Washington and Georgia Tech and lost to Duke and North Carolina games were both away from home and were telecast regionally on Saturday afternoon.

Anderson said the throwing of the Duke game brought a $250 bonus to Muehlbauer and Niewierowski. A full and complete investigation is continuing.

The first inkling that the players might have been bribed was noticed by the coaches at N.C. State who said they "felt" the team was not giving its full effort. They called in the State Bureau of Investigation.

Muehlbauer and Niewierowski withdrew from school in early April and Litchfield was expelled Saturday.

Niewierowski has signed to play professional basketball with Chicago in the new American Basketball League.

Optimist Colts To Hold Tryouts Today At 3 P.M.

Tryouts for the Optimist Colts—a Pampa amateur baseball team—will be held today at 3 p.m. at Optimist Park, announced Newt Secret, co-manager.

The Colts, known last year as the Road Runners, are scheduled to open their season June 4 by hosting Spearman.

Secret, ex-minor-league player, pointed out that all boys who tryout must have completed high school. Henry Stephens is the other team manager.

Longhorns Win Over A&M, 15-5

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Longhorns resumed their winning ways Saturday to whip Texas A&M, 15-5 behind a four-homerun attack and 14-strikeout pitching of Tom Belcher to take a stranglehold on the Southwest Conference baseball title.

Texas moved its record to 11-2 in conference play and will meet Baylor in two make-up games at Waco next week. Baylor holds a 9-4 record and must win both games to force a playoff.

Phillies Win In Night Contest

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Art Mahaffey, never beaten by St. Louis in his brief major league career, brought a halt to the Philadelphia Phillies' 10-game losing streak Saturday night with a seven-hit, 3-1, victory over the Cardinals.

Cagers To Play Colo. Champs —

Rugged Schedule Faced By '61-62 Harvesters

A rugged 30-game schedule, including two games with a Colorado state champion and resumption of the Top 'O Texas basketball tournament, awaits the 1961-62 Pampa Harvesters, according to the schedule released Saturday by Coach Terry Culley.

One of the highlights of Pampa's non-conference schedule will be a two-day invasion of Colorado where the Harvesters will play Lamar, winners of the 1961 Class AA state cage title. Lamar has four starters returning and Culley scheduled the series to toughen his forces before the rough district 3-4A race opens in early January.

Culley also revealed that the annual Top 'O Texas tournament would be resumed this year, with Pampa, Dumas and Lawton, Okla., and Elk City Okla., entered in the two-day affair set for Dec. 29-30. The Harvesters also will play a doubleheader with Phillips and Dumas next year with San Angelo of District 2-4A entering to round out the four teams.

Other non-conference games this winter include two contests with Fort Worth Birdville, winner of District 5-4A for two years in a row, and always-tough Hobbs, N. M. All four games will be played here.

In announcing the schedule, Culley said that basketball spring training would end Thursday night with an intra-squad game between next season's cage aspirants. The varsity-exes game is being dropped this year, but Pat Carter and Allen Wise, two graduating seniors, will play in the game to round out the squads.

Actually, there will be two games Thursday night. The first one is set for 6:30 p.m. with sophomores-to-be and potential Shockers playing two quarters. At 7:30 p.m., a regular game-condition scrimmage will be unveiled free to the public. Both games are at Harvester Fieldhouse and there will be no admission charge.

Culley has divided 1/2 his teams into two equal squads from the 20 boys who have been working out since April 18. In four practice scrimmages to date, the two teams have split, and Culley is hoping for a good game Thursday.

Members of the "White" team will be Bob Neslage, Ronnie Chase, Gary Sikes, Pat Carter and Gordon Balch, with Dwight Thompson, C. E. Cantrell, Larkin Miller and Gary Davis as reserves.

For the "Green" team, Culley will start Lloyd Balch, Allen Wise, Harold Burgess, Darrell Doss and Wayne Kries. Keith Swanson, Larry Clifton, Charles Price and Jim Story will be first line substitutes.

Also, expected to play in one of the two games Thursday night are Richard Rexroat, Guy Cloud, Eugene Madrid and Bobby Price.

Tigers Rip Yanks, 8-3

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rick Colavito drove in four runs with two homers and two singles and Phil Regan pitched a five-hitter Saturday to pace the Detroit Tigers to an 8-3 victory over the New York Yankees and stretch their American League lead to 4 1/2 games.

Colavito, who charged into the stands Friday night to protect his father from an abusive fan, went after Yankee pitchers as if they had taken a couple of punches at his mother. He ripped starter Bob Turley for two singles and a homer in four tries and then connected against reliever Danny McDevitt for a game-clinching three-run homer in the ninth.

The outburst, Colavito's biggest of the season, raised his homer total to seven and his batting average 28 points to .263.

Orioles Clip Tribe, 4-1

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Big Jim Gentile collected his 11th homer of the season to cap the Baltimore Orioles' scoring in a 4-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians Saturday as Hector Brown gained the victory with help from Hoyt Wilhelm.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Minnie Minoso belted two home runs Saturday to pace the Chicago White Sox to a 10-1 rout of the Kansas City Athletics.

Eight of nine White Sox starters got at least one of 12 hits off four Kansas City pitchers. Billy Pierce worked eight innings for the White Sox and drove in two runs with a pair of singles toward his first victory of the campaign. The White Sox southpaw gave up eight hits and the Athletics got another off reliever Frank Baumann in the ninth.

Littler Cards 67 For Colonial Lead

By ED FITE United Press International

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Little Gene Littler charged the leaders and par with a five-birdie assault Saturday that boosted him into a one-stroke lead at the 54-hole mark of the $40,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament with a 209.

The 30-year-old Californian fired a three-under-par 33-34-67 over the rugged 7,048-yard Colonial Country Club course to lift himself out of a tie for fifth place and a stroke to the good over big Bill Casper and Arnold Palmer, who were at even par 210 for the three rounds.

Meanwhile, burly Mike Souchak, the halfway mark leader, saw his game collapse after a spectacular eagle on the opening hole and faded to a 38-35-73 to wind up in a tie at 212, one stroke behind Doug Sanders, who had a 34-33-67 for a 211 Saturday.

Palmer and Casper started the wind-marred day with 141s, two strokes back of Souchak, and each chopped a stroke off par Saturday. Palmer had a hot 32 front nine, but a pair of bogeys cost him a 37 coming home for his 60 while Casper birdied the 16th and 17th to help offset a double bogey tragedy on the 13th and 14th for a 34-35-69.

Littler, who birdied the river-bordered fifth hole, stepped up the pace to a red hot heat as he neared the turn. He birdied four out of five holes starting with the ninth, including three of them in a row, to go five under for the day and push himself three strokes ahead of Casper.

But misfortune befell him after that. His second shot caught a trap on No. 14 and he bogied that hole, then his tee shot did the same on the short, par 3, 16th and he blasted out 12 feet past the pin and missed for another bogey.

Littler, often called "The Machine," has won but $3,884.75 in 10 tournaments this year, but was out of action through February and March due to a rib injury. His best previous finish has been a tie for 10th.

Pirates Club Redlegs, 13-5

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pirates banged five Cincinnati pitchers for 16 hits and a 13-5 victory Saturday, but may have lost the services of starting pitcher Joe Gibbon.

Gibbon, a lanky southpaw, was struck on the head by a line drive off the bat of Gordon Coleman during a four-run rally in the fifth inning. He walked off the field under his own power and was taken to Presbyterian Hospital for X-rays.

Mays's Bat Ruins Braves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Mays resumed his epic slugging against the Milwaukee Braves Saturday by hitting two home runs, one of them a grand slam, to propel the league leading San Francisco Giants to a 8-5 victory.

The great centerfielder, who clouted four homers in one game at Milwaukee's county stadium April 30, tied the score at 4-4 in the third inning with a bases-loaded shot that carried 420 feet over the centerfield barrier. Then he sent starter Bob Buhl to the showers with a two-run blast in the fifth inning, which cracked a 5-5 tie.

Alspaugh, Cunningham, Lead Texas To SWC Track Crown

By KYLE THOMPSON United Press International

HOUSTON (UPI)—University of Texas trackmen, paced by sprinter Ralph Alspaugh and hurdler Ace Ray Cunningham, regained their lost glory Saturday by winning the 46th annual Southwest Conference track and field meet over defending champion Baylor.

A field featuring one of the strongest assembled in recent years shattered four official conference records and bettered four others in wind-assisted efforts.

In the overall team picture, it was the Longhorns' Cunningham and Alspaugh—who came through to lead Texas to victory over the slightly-favored Bears from Baylor.

Texas finished with a total of 68 1/2 points to 60 for Baylor. Next was Southern Methodist with 38 1/2, followed by Rice at 37 1/2, Texas Tech 20 1/2, Texas A&M 20, and Arkansas and Texas Christian 12 1/2 each.

The Longhorn freshman crew dominated the frosh meet throughout, winning with 91 overall points to Texas A&M's second-best effort of 56 2-3 points. SMU was next in the freshman meet with 44 1/2, followed by Texas Tech with 25.

Texas had to go to the 16th and final event—the mile relay—to clinch the varsity championship. In one of the most exciting finishes of the day, the Longhorns were trailing the field at the halfway point in the mile relay with Baylor in the lead.

But anchorman Alspaugh of Texas, starting the final lap well back in fifth place, pulled into fourth at the first turn and went ahead of Baylor's Glynn Fields just before the finish line to take third place.

Baylor's strongman John Fry set conference records both in the discus and shot put. His shot put toss of 56 feet, 11 1/4 inches Saturday bettered his win record of 56-8 of Friday in the prelims. Friday he tossed the discus 172 feet, 5 1/4 inches to better Darrow Hooper's record of 170 feet even set in 1952.

Southern Methodist established the other two official records Saturday with the Mustangs' pole vaulter, Dexter Elkins, clearing at 15 feet, three-fourths inch, to better his own record of last year of 14 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Jim Parr of SMU also established a record in the 880-yard run with a time of 1:49.9. The old mark was 1:51.6 set by Joe Villarreal of Texas in 1958.

Alspaugh's 9.2 second time in the 100-yard dash bettered the official world record of 9.3, but he had a wind in excess of nine miles an hour which kept his time from counting as a record.

The Texas speed specialist also equalled the world record with a time of 20 seconds flat in the

Amarillo Outfielder Paces TL Batsmen

By United Press International

Amarillo Gold Sox outfielder Dick Bernardino rocketed into the batting leadership of the Texas League among regulars this week with a healthy .387 average and took over the home run domination as well.

Bernardino went on a hot hitting streak during the week, pulling his average from .350 to .387, banging five home runs to boost his season output to 10, and knocking in 13 runs to maintain his leadership in that department at a season total of 35.

The triple crown leader was four percentage points ahead of the Rio Grande Valley's Jose Tartabull at .383. There was a big gap between the two pacesetters and the next bracket of hitters, with Austin's Tommie Lee Aaron at .345, San Antonio's Don Davis at .340, and Amarillo's Mike Mathieson at .330.

Fred Koenig of Tulsa boasted a .438 batting average and Victoria's Jim Fridley was clouting .412, but Koenig had played only 12 games and Fridley 13.

Tartabull held the top spot in two departments—doubles with 10 and stolen bases, 10. Mathieson was the league leader in triples, with four.

San Antonio's Jim Schandavel

and Marshall Renfro of Victoria were the top pitchers on the basis of three victories, and no defeats. Three pitchers had four victories apiece—Paul Toth of Tulsa, Henry Hemmerly of Austin and Richard LeMay of the Valley Giants. Toth and Hemmerly each had one loss and LeMay had three.

Amarillo continued out in front in the team batting category with a .272 average, 10 percentage points ahead of the Valley.

Varietas Study Club Entertains With Spring Luncheon In The Inn

The Varietas Study Club closed its current club year with a Spring Luncheon on Tuesday afternoon in the Quivera Room of the Coronado Inn with Mrs. Sherman White, H. T. Hampton and C. L. McKinney as hostesses.

The dining table was appointed with a sweeping array of garden flowers.

Mrs. White welcomed guests. Luncheon invocation was given by Mrs. McKinney.

Following luncheon, Mrs. H. H. Bratcher, outgoing president, conducted the installation ceremony for incoming officers; Meses. Joe Z. Weaver, president; Lee Harrah, vice president; Dow King, secretary; W. A. Wagoner, treasurer; Luther Pierson, parliamentary; S. C. Evans, librarian.

She compared each officer's duty to that of an individual flower. "The flowers combined make a lovely bouquet just as the officers combined together form an effective club." As each officer was installed, a flower was presented to her.

Mrs. Bratcher closed the service by reading the following prose from "The Texas Club Woman": "A lot of members are: Like wheelbarrows, not good unless pushed;

Some are like canoes, need to be paddled;

Some are like kites, if you don't keep a string on them, they fly away;

Some are like kittens, content when petted;

Some are like balloons, full of air and ready to blow up;

Some are like neon lights, keep going off and on;

But some are like a good watch, open-faced, pure gold, quietly busy and full of good works.

Mrs. Weaver, incoming president, presented a gift to Mrs. Bratcher as an expression of appreciation for her service to the club as president.

MY, MY! what a busy time of year for us all... all sorts of activities underway... seems so many groups are having end-of-the year projects or drives... so we can all collapse around the first of the month to enjoy a leisurely summer season... maybe! those of us with youngsters interested in the summer camping programs don't always find it quite so responsibility-free... and then there are the vacation Bible schools... oh, well... don't know what we'd do with our time if there weren't all these activities... and all of them so worthwhile.

A mother is the strongest educator, either for or against crime. — Mary Baker Eddy.

THIS IS THE WEEK for salesmanship, with two big drives in progress... Lucian Young is a busy man heading the Chamber of Commerce drive... which is keeping a lot of the men of our community on the go... but let's not forget the women working on the drive... seems they have shown up the men a time or two... Nina Spoonmore is heading the women's team... bet they make a good showing this year, too... hope their drive is a big success... Pampons owe quite a debt of gratitude to our Chamber which does such a marvelous job of keeping Pampa an up-and-coming, progressive city... and we can't forget the Community Concert Association membership drive... another important community service in bringing such fine entertainment for the enlightenment and enjoyment of the adults... not to mention the wonderful educational advantage for our children... especially since we're so far from a large city where such opportunities are more readily available... the kick-off dinner was wonderful... not only good food, but fine entertainment with several vocal numbers by talented and handsome Dr. Neely Joe Ellis... everyone applauded Connie McDaniel when she arose for her part of the program, in appreciation for the time she has spent... especially as she has so many other commitments at this time... and Connie looked so stunning in a bright red dress... Leith Curry was chic, as usual, all in black with interesting white ornaments in her black hair... Eleanor Braly was especially attractive in a blue suit... and we couldn't keep our eyes off of the gorgeous silver medallion, centered with a large green stone, that set off Ruth Nensiel's black ensemble... and Bessie Lewis looked like a breath of spring in a blue and green print suit... there are a lot of workers involved in this drive, as well as the Chamber drive... laurels go to Mrs. R. A. Mack who is working in both drives... both the same week... don't see how she does it... might not be so bad, though... if you could sell both memberships to one contact... still is a big undertaking though!

All women are mothers of great men... it isn't their fault if life disappoints them later. — Boris Pasternak.

REFLECTIONS ON SPRING... don't you just love to sniff the air at this time of year to savor all the different flower scents... delicious!... at least to those of us who don't suffer from hay fever or like ailments... now what made us think of that?... we must take time to peek at Jewel Castleberry's garden... it is always gorgeous... and now that the roses have started to bloom it should be especially eye-catching... she always has such marvelous roses... one of these days we're going to ask for her secret... some one was telling us of two other fine Pampa gardeners, whose yards are always lovely at this time of year... Mrs. Frank Mitcham, 1105 N. Starkweather and Eva Swann, who, we understand, is in the hospital with pneumonia... spied inimitable Uncle Billy Frost, 98 years young, on his knees in his yard on Charles Street the other day working with his flowers... we just love to drive under the "bridge of trees" on Charles... another Spring event was the style show Kay Howell's Girl Scout troop presented last week... grand training for the girls... understand Kay's fiance, Jimmy Crouch, with James Gallimore giving a helping hand, installed the scenery for the event... Kay is a busy girl these days... planning for her June 2nd wedding, working on the Community Concert drive, helping to prepare scenery for the annual spring dance recital, planning for a camp-out with her Girl Scout troop, being honored with showers, as well as carrying on with her duties as Girl Scout district director!... spring was heralded yesterday with a flower show by the two garden clubs of Pampa... sorry, it is too late to give details... maybe, next week Dovie McCoy is busy these days, too... planning for the Girl Scout Day Camp she will direct... and Max and Bunny Hukill are busy anticipating their up-coming vacation to Arizona with their children... will be a family camp-out trip... that type of trip is such grand family fare... one that each member of the family always remembers with nostalgia... especially the children.

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. Edwin Hubbell Chapin

POTOURRI!... heard some talk of hopes for a new auditorium for Pampa... for which we would give three cheers... what a recommendation it would be for outside groups coming to Pampa to have an adequate place in which to perform... and so many more people could enjoy such things as the community concerts and the AAUW-sponsored plays for children and the dance recitals, ad infinitum... hope we hear more about it... spied Charlie Thut and Jack Back chatting over coffee together this week... wonderful to hear that former Pampan, Johnny Campbell was highest ranking student to take the bar examinations recently... and it will be nice to welcome former Pampons, George and Jessie Newberry back to town... understand Betty Henderson is rather breathless these days with PTA activities and the concert drive... always-pleasant "Mac" Hubbard is preparing to attend the meeting of the National Council of United Presbyterian women at Purdue University... believe Clarice Nutting will accompany her... should be a wonderful experience for them... congratulations to Elaine Ledbetter who has been elected to the executive council of the National Science Fair... she has done wonders for Pampa in this field... and almost always has a student winning some honor in the area fair... the bridge tourney at the Coronado Inn last week was quite an event... the place was teeming with bridge enthusiasts!

If you would reform the world from its errors and vices, begin by enlisting the mothers. — Charles Simmons

IN CLOSING... saw Homer Hallor the other day proudly introducing his grandson around the city hall... the little fellow is as cute as a bug... and the spittin' image of his granddad!... Fred and Ted Curtis have about adopted Elaine Myers' children... are always doing such nice things for them... the other day Fred fondly presented the children with a table and chairs... handmade, that are 45 years old... what a wonderful thing to do!... my best to you,

Linda Harper Repeats Vows With J. B. Topper

Miss Linda Joyce Harper became the bride of Jon Bruce Topper with wedding vows repeated on April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of God.

The Rev. J. S. Mullen, pastor, officiated for the exchange of double-ring vows said in a setting of white gladioli, palms and candelabra.

Miss Harper is the daughter of Walter Harper of Lamesa and the late Mrs. Harper. Mr. Topper's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Topper of Wheeler.

Mrs. Billee Laramore provided the traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Miss Cheryl Teague as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always." Gary Laramore, vocalist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt for the benediction.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Tom Teague, was gowned in floor-length Chantilly lace over net fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, tapering sleeves, which ended in petal points over the hands.

The bouffant skirt of Chantilly lace over net and taffeta was designed with a panier of tulle inset with appliqued rows of Chantilly lace.

Her elbow-length veil of Illusion tulle was edged deep with Chantilly lace and draped away from a tiara of pearls.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses showered with white satin streamers tied in Love Knots. Her only jewelry was a heart-shaped diamond pendant, a gift of the bridegroom.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Irene Marchman served the bride as maid of honor and Miss Pat West was bridesmaid. They were dressed identically in sheaths of orchid cotton satin with silk organza overskirts. Each carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Don Gallaher attended the bridegroom as best man. Bill Hammer served as groomsman and assisted Wilburne Tyler with ushering wedding guests to their seats.

James Fleming carried the rings to the bridal pair. Miss Deborah Joi Kyle, as flower girl, wore an orchid silk organza frock over cotton satin fashioned with a bouffant.

scalloped organza overskirt.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Topper chose a Dior Blue peau de soie sheath with matching accessories complemented with a corsage of miniature white roses.

RECEPTION

A reception was held immediately following ceremony in the dining hall of the church. The bride's table was appointed with a lace cloth over orchid centered with the bride's bouquet.

Miss Shirley Wilson presided at the punch service. Miss Donna Batreau served from the all-white three-tiered cake, which was separated by columns and topped with a miniature bridal pair and encircled at the base with an orchid satin and lace ruffle.

For a brief wedding trip, the bride traveled in a pale pink brocade cotton sheath topped with a jacket and complemented with patent accessories. She wore a white roses corsage taken from the center of her bride's bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 429 Powell.

Mrs. Topper was graduated from Pampa High School in 1959 and is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Topper was graduated from Wheeler High School in 1957 and is employed by Cabot Corp.

Among the out-of-town guests was LaRue Harper of Carlsbad, N.M., brother of the bride.

Surgical Theme Forms Installation Of Twentieth Century Culture Officers

New officers for Twentieth Century Culture Club were installed at a Spring Luncheon held Tuesday afternoon in the Cibola Room of the Coronado Inn.

Mrs. Leslie Hart, as installing officer, used as a theme "An Operation Room, Chief Surgeon and His Staff" as the following officers were installed: Mmes. Philip Gates, president; R. E. Dobbins, vice president; E. E. Shelhamer, secretary; Michael Wilson treasurer; J. D. Merchant, parliamentarian; N. Dudley Steele, reporter; L. J. Zachry and J. W. Edminister, Council of Clubs representatives.

Mrs. Hart also charged members that "recovery depends on the entire staff and since we are all surgically prepared, we should be 'up and at 'em.'"

Luncheon appointments featured floral arrangements of pink carnations in apothecary jars flanking a sweeping arrangement of pink carnations in a footed vase.

Each guest's place was marked with a prescription container, filled with candy pills and directed "to use the second and fourth Tuesday for energy and enthusiasm." Small capsules, labeled "dope," listed the names of each incoming officer.

Mrs. Merchant closed her year as president with the quotation "Coming together is a meeting; working together is progress; staying together is success."

Mrs. Gates presided during the closing session as the 1961-62 budget was presented by Mrs. Wilson and committees for next year were appointed.

Plans were discussed for a Club Breakfast as well as entertaining

Weightlessness Also To Apply To Fabrics

By GAY PAULEY
UPI WOMEN'S EDITOR

NEW YORK (UPI)—Space scientists speak of weightlessness. So do the fabric scientists. Increasingly, the fabric industry is stressing the featherweights for a variety of reasons.

The American woman, used to counting pounds on the scales, now counts the ounces in her closet. The growing number of air travelers, for whom every ounce counts at the baggage counters, is asking for lightweight clothes. There is the comfort feature in a nation where all seasons call for lighter clothing because of central heating in almost all homes and offices. And, technology has made possible fabrics which the industry at one time did not dream possible.

only three ounces to the yard. The wool challis in spring collections averaged four ounces; the ones coming up for fall and winter will range from four to six ounces for dress and blouse cuttings.

There has been a drastic reduction in weight of men's suits, both in wool, the synthetics, and the blends of wool with man-made fibers.

Industry sources said that 12 and 14 ounce fabrics used to be the rule for men's suits. Now, the stress is on a year-round mid-weight of 10 to 11 ounces.

For spring and summer, fabrics weigh only six to six and one-half ounces. Some of the summer suits are so light the manufacturers are putting a heavy lining in trouser cuffs to hold the pants down.

Some of the synthetic fibers are "blown up," to get more coverage without added weight. Air is "lofted" into the polyesters and acetates so the surface covered is greater than it would be without the treatment.

"It's like the principle of whipped butter or whipped egg whites," said a spokesman for Eastman Chromspun. "They all weigh the same, but look like a lot more."

El Progresso's Officer Installation Highlights Spring Luncheon In Club

El Progresso Study Club held its Spring luncheon Tuesday in the Pampa Country Club with members of the social committee, Mmes. Bob McCoy, J. F. Curtis, Glenn Radcliff, Veri Hagaman as hostesses.

An arrangement of red and white tulips and spirea centered the luncheon table.

Following luncheon, the installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. John Gill, outgoing president for Mmes. Jess Clay, president; Glen Radcliff, vice president; Charles Lanehart, secretary; D. W. Burton, treasurer; Veri Hagaman, reporter; J. F. Curtis, parliamentary; and J. G. Lyons, federation counselor.

Mrs. Gill compared the club with a bouquet of flowers, beginning with an empty vase, she stated that "some vases are an object of art, but most have a purpose. Only after an orderly arrangement of flowers is placed in the vase can it fulfill its usefulness."

Mrs. Kermit Lawson placed greenery in the vase as Mrs. Gill pointed out that the leaves represent club members. As each new officer placed a flower in the vase, Mrs. Gill charged them with duties of their office and said, "Officers can carry on all the work of the club, but affairs would run more smoothly with the aid of efficient committees." After calling upon members of the four standing committees, yearbook, social, membership and telephone to place flowers in the vase, Mrs. Gill noted that the arrangement was completed and thus the usefulness of the vase was fulfilled.

Mrs. Gill closed the ceremony by saying that El Progresso Club, symbolized by the bouquet, "can be a delight and fulfill its functions if all members work together harmonizing as well as the flowers in the vase."

Dear Abby... Work Should Be Planned Then Plan Should Work

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you get a wife to be more "organized"? I realize that a woman has a lot to do with two school-aged children, but she has help one day a week and her own jalopy—and still nothing seems to get done. She washes, irons and cleans whenever she "gets around to it."

My wife is a "do-it-tomorrow" expert. I had Christmas cards printed last year and she never got around to addressing them. She was so late in sending a "Get Well Quick" card to a friend, it arrived the day he died. She is a wonderful woman, with good intentions, and she knows her faults, but she doesn't know what to do about them. Can you help me?

HER HUSBAND DEAR HUSBAND: Haphazard housekeeping is inexcusable. If your wife has an "organized" friend, she should enlist her help in making out a work-day schedule. (The friend would be flattered.) She should plan her work.

Brewer, Ruby Stanton, Imogene Clarke, Tommy Jordan, and Mr. Harley Lewis.

and then work her plan.

DEAR ABBY: I belong to a card club that has been in existence for about nine years. We have gotten along fine and always had a good time.

About a year ago we asked a relative of one of the members to substitute. Since then she has come to every game. It makes it very difficult because we always end up with an extra player.

We would like to keep her as a substitute, but how can we tell her? The last time she came, she played all the time and one of our regulars sat out. We don't want to hurt her feelings but what can we do?

THE CLUB DEAR CLUB: Whoever invited her to come as a substitute should tell her in a friendly way that she is a substitute and not a regular member. (Perhaps she doesn't realize this.) Now is the time to call a spade a spade, before she gets squatter's rights.

DEAR ABBY: Exactly how do you kiss a boy? My mother says it will come naturally, but in case it doesn't, do you have any hints? Do you stop breathing? Also, when kissing a relative, do you make a "smack" sound? Is this supposed to happen when kissing a boy? Last but not least, do you move your head or your lips? And what do you do with your nose? I am 13.

NEVER BEEN KISSED DEAR NEVER: You do NOT stop breathing. You do NOT make a "smack" sound. And all you do with your nose is breathe through it.

The miracle of the bud and the seed is never lessened by repetition and each time it happens, we sense the spiritual foundations of man and his-universe."

Mrs. Cundith continued, "The most fragile seed of life is the magic seed of Love. Love is very fragile and needs tender care. It requires fertile soil in which to grow and reach maturity. It needs tears of laughter and humility in which to strengthen. A stem of faith, branches of truth and leaves of hope, help it to reach heavenward."

"Let us, then recapture our faith in the power of love that it may blossom and fruit in the months ahead."

How To Value Freedom

We have, through the years, laid a certain stress on the importance of a philosophy of freedom. Some of our friends are apparently disconcerted by our use of the word philosophy in this connection. The term seems erudite, scholarly, abstract.

"Why do you keep talking about a philosophy?" we are asked. "Don't you know most people are not able to reach such intellectual heights? Come on down where we are. Talk in terms we can all understand."

In essence, it frequently seems that our readers are saying in effect: "What good is philosophy, anyhow? That may be the language of savants but what we want is the language of the streets where we live. Give us some concrete answers to our problems and don't bother us with the subtle nuances of conflicting verbiage."

To which we must reply with a little what will take to be a small comfort. We will submit that everyone has a philosophy of freedom. It may be valid or invalid to a degree or lesser degree, but everyone does have such a philosophy, all the same. It is impossible to live without it.

We were to argue that it is possible for a person to change his eating habits, there would surely be little in the way of solid objection. Or if we were to suggest that people could sleep long hours, or short hours; could work long hours or short hours; could be rich or poor depending upon many variables, we would find major agreement.

But if we were to suggest that men could decide not to eat at all, or not to sleep, surely an uproar would ensue. Or if we insisted that everyone could be rich regardless of any and all variables to be applied, we could rightly be accused of irrational argument.

And we suspect, this is the view many people take of philosophy. They suppose that a proper area of philosophic discussion would be to debate whether or not man can exist without sleeping. Perhaps some philosophers would like to assay this problem. Not us.

We would set forth the proposition that every human being capable of rational thought already

The American Way

By GEORGE PECK THE MacARTHUR-KOREA STORY

Rosalie M. Gordon has just written another of her informative pamphlets. You will recall some of her previous pamphlets which included, "How The Reds Won," which outlined the lesson to be learned from American - Soviet parleys; "Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives," which carried a report of an American Bar Association special committee exposing the subversive measures to which the Communists resort; "Nine Men Against America," the story of the strange decisions at which the United States Supreme Court arrives; and "What's Happened To Our Schools," an expose of why and how our public schools have been undermined and perverted.

The pamphlet which Rosalie M. Gordon has now added to the list of illuminating documents she has given us is The MacArthur-Korea Story. It was published officially on April 11, 1961—perfectly timed on the tenth anniversary of General MacArthur's "firing" by former president, Harry Truman.

At first blush, readers of this column may feel that we should "let sleeping dogs lie," that now ten years later, what does it matter whether Truman was right or wrong in dismissing the outstanding hero of World War II in the Pacific area. But, Miss Gordon in the opening paragraph of her pamphlet, gives sound reasons for turning the calendar back ten years.

"Water over the dam? Would that it might be so. But from Truman's action of that day and the events leading up to it, there stemmed lessons and consequences which today we cannot ignore. The story is so often garbled, slanted, purposely involved in the telling, is in itself a spectacular segment of recent American history. But more than this, we learn only from the past, provided the past is presented in its true and revealing light."

"Today's 21-year-old college student was only 11 years old in 1951. Today's high school student was in the second or third grade. Such is the manner of teaching history in our schools (with a few notable exceptions) that today's students, together with too many of their elders in their thirties and even forties, have only a vague and distorted notion of the facts surrounding that historic event."

"The winds of controversy still swirl about the head of the man who, without doubt, was one of America's greatest generals. He bore calmly and with the old soldier's stamina and reserve the continuing blasts of those who had to strike out against him. Deep within the recesses of their little minds was perhaps the unconscious realization that he epitomized a dauntless American spirit which they had sullied and corrupted with the oily salve of the appeaser. . . . But it is a spirit which cannot be killed — not so long as the light of fact and truth is there for those willing to see and be guided by it."

The author reminds her readers of the nasty manner in which Truman gave MacArthur the gate. He just couldn't wait until the General received official notification—he released his thunderbolt to the world and MacArthur experienced the mortification of being apprised of his dismissal while attending a luncheon at the American Embassy in Tokyo, by an aide who had heard the announcement on the radio.

Miss Gordon makes it cry clear that she or no one—including General MacArthur—himself—disputes a President's right to remove a general from his command; that in our republican form of government, the civilian authority unquestionably ranks above that of the military. But she does deplore Truman's method of removing a staunch and proven public servant.

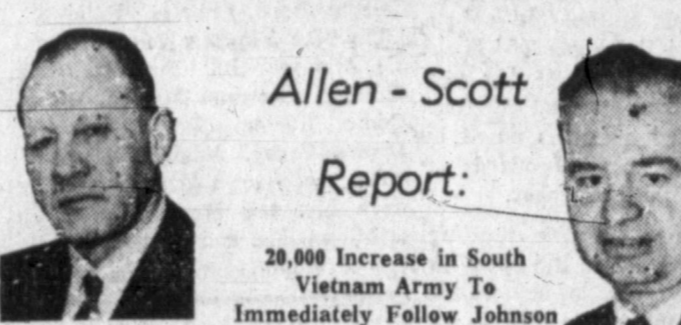

So long as the Communists hold these 13 countries captive and offer no plan to give them liberty, they have no credentials for acting as the champions of self-determination. The only self-determination they have allowed was for the benefit of the ruling inner circles in Moscow and Peking.

While they have been holding a tight clamp in 13 once-free nations and trying to widen their oppressive grip to hold still others, the traditional colonial powers have been giving independence to their territories.

You will not find one state, however, that has been set free by Russia or Red China.

They are the great imperialists of the late 20th century. Many of the emerging peoples do not understand the peril. The unhappy progress of events in today's trouble spots suggests that they do not have long to discover this truth so vital to their own security and independence.

Nikita, You're A Genius—

Allen - Scott Report:

20,000 Increase in South Vietnam Army To Immediately Follow Johnson Understanding with Diem

WASHINGTON — The U.S. is undertaking an immediate 20,000 increase in the South Vietnam army.

These additional troops will cost the U.S. an estimated $50-million. They will give President Ngo Dinh Diem an overall military strength of 170,000 to combat the steadily intensifying threat from Communist guerrillas and the powerful Red armies in adjoining North Vietnam and Laos.

Some 12,000 guerrillas, trained, equipped and supplied by North South Vietnam. North Vietnam has a well-armed army of 300,000.

Current U.S. military and economic aid expenditures in South Vietnam are at a rate of 1200 million annually. Since the establishment of the pro-Western Diem regime in 1954, the U.S. has spent more than $1.8 billion there.

That is approximately six times the $300 million poured into Red-ruled Laos.

President Kennedy is also considering other military measures recommended by Lieutenant General Lionel McGarr, head of the Military Advisory and Assistance Group (MAAG) in South Vietnam, and approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Foremost among them are:

—Supply South Vietnam with 40 helicopters and U.S. pilots and crews to operate them until natives can be trained.

—Fighter planes and U.S. pilots to give urgently-needed air support to anti-Communist ground units fighting in difficult terrain where ambushes are frequent.

—Small, speedy naval vessels to patrol South Vietnam's long coastline to prevent Communist infiltrations from North Vietnam and Red China.

In approving an immediate 20,000 increase in South Vietnam's army, President Kennedy reversed a decision of his predecessor.

NEXT RED SHOWDOWN—Last September, General McGarr strongly urged such action, warning that Communist offensives were looming in Laos and Vietnam. He asked for an increase of 30,000 troops, and was fully backed on that by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

President Eisenhower shelved this urgent request on two grounds: It was too expensive, and the South Vietnam army did not need reinforcements.

President Kennedy, in discussing the matter with Democratic congressional leaders, explained, "It's very clear that the Kremlin is preparing to make South Vietnam the next major East-West testing area. This showdown will come in a few months. We must either get ready to meet it, or get out now."

Cliches Of Socialism

By LEONARD E. READ President of the Foundation For Economic Education

"The welfare state is the best security against communism."

This proposed defense against communism is not new, though we hear it afresh in 1961. It has circulated in various shadings since "the cold war" began. A similar excuse was used to finance socialist governments abroad with American earned income under the give-away programs that by now aggregate more than $78 billion: "Socialism is a good cushion against communism."

Such terms as communism, socialism, Fabianism, the Welfare State, Nazism, fascism, state interventionism, egalitarianism, the planned economy, the new deal, the fair deal, the new frontier are simply different labels for much the same thing. To think that there is any vital distinction between these so-called ideologies is to miss the really important characteristic which all of these labels have in common.

An ideology is a doctrinal concept, a way of thinking, a set of beliefs. Examine the above-mentioned labels and it will be found that each is identified with a belief common to all the others: Organized police force — government—should control the creative and productive actions of the people. Every one of these labels—no exceptions—stands for a philosophy that is opposed to the free market, private property, limited government way of life.

The latter holds that the law and its police force should be limited to restraint of violence from within and without the nation, to restraint and punishment of fraud, misrepresentation, pre-emption—in short, to invoke a common justice. According to this way of life—the libertarian ideal—men are free to act creatively as they please.

Under both the Welfare State and communism, the responsibility for the welfare, security, and prosperity of the people is presumed to rest with the central government. Coercion is as much the tool of the Welfare State as it is of communism. The programs and edicts of both are backed by the police force. All of us know this to be true under communism, but it is equally true under our own brand of welfare statism.

Just try to avoid paying your "share" of a TVA deficit or of the farm subsidy program or of federal urban renewal or of social security or of the government's full employment program.

To appreciate the family likeness of the Welfare State and communism, observe what happens to individual freedom of choice. Under either label (the ideology is the same) freedom of choice to individuals as to what they do with the fruits of their labor, how they employ themselves, what wages they receive, what and with whom they exchange their goods or services—such freedoms are forcibly stripped from individuals. The central government, it is claimed, will take over. Full responsibility for ourselves is denied in order to make us dependent on whatever political regime happens to be in control of the government apparatus. Do these labels mean fundamentally the same thing? As an exercise, try to find any meaningful distinction.

Our planners are saying, "The Welfare State is the best security against communism." The Russians could say, with as much sense, "Communism is the best security against the Welfare State."

We call the Russian brand of governmental coercion "communism." They, however, refer to their collective as the "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics." The Russians call our brand of governmental coercion "capitalism." In the interest of accuracy and clarity, ices and beverages.

Italian Ambassador and Signora Brosio; after six years in Washington, are being transferred to Paris, and the whole diplomatic corps is in a tizzy of farewell parties for them. This outpouring of esteem and affection is doubtless very gratifying to the Italian diplomat, but it must be fatiguing. At one party for them this week, every diplomat in Washington showed up, plus most of the Supreme Court, members of Congress, and countless other officials. Four bars and three buffets were inadequate for the hungry and thirsty throng. . . . Feature of a lavish dinner by Turkey's new Ambassador Usakligil was bowls of giant caviar flown from his country especially for this party. Turkey has magnificent caviar, but it's scarce and is not exported. It's available only for special occasions such as this official dinner, which was attended by a number of government and private bankers. All were out-spoken in their enthusiasm for the superb caviar.

Hankerings

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME, Italy — With the award of the Lenin Peace Prize to Fidel Castro, one wonders more deeply than ever how the United States is ever going to find a common ground on which sensibly to discuss international affairs with the Russians.

How in the name of common sense are American statesmen, diplomats and economists going to adjust their thinking to that of men who, in solemn session, no doubt, award a peace prize to Castro?

A country that would make such an award is either crazy, or is living in an entirely different civilization than ours. To ask our leaders, or the leaders of England, France, or Canada to see eye to eye with men who think as the Russians think is to ask the giraffe to see eye to eye with the hedgehog. The level of their vision is miles apart.

How would one go about preparing an American diplomat to share a common ground with his Russian counterpart? Brainwash him? That wouldn't be enough. He'd have to have his brains — the American-type brains — knocked clean out of his head.

The more one thinks of Russia's awarding Castro a peace prize, the more one is inclined to take a pessimistic view of any good's ever coming from Geneva conferences, or cease-fire talks, or chats on neutrality and to-existence.

On what grounds did Russia choose Castro for the Lenin Prize? I wish Pravda would list the reasons, for there would be some, even if nonsensical ones.

Was it because he has executed hundreds of his countrymen, thus ensuring a certain sort of "peace" to them forever?

Was it because he has silenced freedom of speech, silenced all voices of dissent, thus making the air of Havana more peaceful?

Certainly it wasn't because of his "peaceful" harangues over the air waves, or the peace-disturbing cries of pain and anguish he has caused to come from the jails and dungeons of Cuba.

There is nothing funny in the award of the peace prize to Castro. It reveals a state of mind in Russia that dampens any hopes of ever bringing about a world of good will with that country. There's a defiance of decency in the award, a kick in the face for man's ideas of what constitutes right and wrong.

If I were an American dealing with the Russians in any of the critical areas of the earth, and heard the news of Castro's "honor," I'd be sick at heart. I'd be tempted to admit defeat, to pack my bags and go home, and tell the world that nothing in my background or training provided any hope of my ever being able to reach an honorable compromise with such people.

Another in a long list of unbelievable acts by Russia. It isn't as if that country has only recently lost its reason. . . . Many men, all far wiser than I'll ever be, have very decided notions on how to deal with Russia. I hope that at least one of them is right, but when something like the Castro award comes along, it makes me have my doubts.

The Doctor Says:

DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

Q—"I am 23 years old and the mother of a 2-year-old boy. I am husky and strong and made both the basketball and hockey teams while I was in high school. But I was unable to nurse my son and when we put him on a cow's milk formula he broke out with a terrible rash on his face that lasted for months, even after we put him on a goat milk formula. I'm going to have my second child in a few months and I don't want to go through that experience again. Is there anything I can do to increase my milk supply? Is it true that I can get hormone shots like those given cows?"

A—I don't know about hormone shots to increase milk secretion in cattle but I do know there is no generally approved product for use in humans. However, a recent study in the Journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics may furnish a much simpler and happier solution to the writer's problem. Briefly stated, a team of doctors from the University of Mississippi Medical School observed the effects of changed frequencies on mother's milk production. What they discovered was just about the opposite of what you might have predicted. "When the number of feedings and the total nursing time were decreased, significantly less milk was obtained by the baby."

"But when the number of feedings and the total nursing time were increased, the amount of milk obtained by the baby did not change for 48 hours, but then it rose to the control level observed at the beginning of the study"—that is to say, before noting the effects of decreasing the number of feedings and the total nursing time.

From their studies, the doctors recommend that mothers who wish to increase their milk supply should feed their infants two or three extra times each day. I hope my correspondent will take heed of this fascinating study. Indeed, the more you think about the results, the surer you are that they're correct in their conclusions. I rather imagine any experienced "wet nurse" could have predicted the outcome in advance.

Higher Tariff Urged To Curb Oil Imports

WASHINGTON — A higher tariff is the "fairest and most practical" way to restrict oil imports, the Oil Import Administration was told at hearings Friday.

Clarence H. Thayer, a senior vice president of Sun Oil Co., made the point as he emphasized that his company believes that importation of crude oil should supplement and not supplant domestic production.

Until an adequate tariff program can be instituted to replace a quota system, Thayer strongly urged that:

The importation of foreign crude oil should be restricted to those companies which directly process the oil imported.

The sliding scale concept should be removed from the formula for computing oil import allocations.

The factor of the historical level of imports should be recognized in determining future oil import quotas for the historical importing companies.

The present overall level of oil imports should not be reduced through the device of changing the base system — or by any other means.

Expanding on Sun Oil Company's basic position on the oil import issue, Thayer said:

"Sun Oil Company believes that the importation of crude oil should supplement and not supplant domestic production.

"If, under this policy, it is determined that crude oil imports should be restricted, we feel very strongly that the fairest and most practicable method is through the imposition of a higher rate of tariff.

"We favor the tariff method as a means of regulation because we feel that it would preserve freedom of action and opportunity for all those wishing to engage in the business of importing oil. Further, 500 la Marina is roughly 150 miles from the U.S. border, and due north of the famous Tampico oil zone.

Gutierrez Roldan said the new well was discovered in a zone which was not identified as oil-bearing.

"The lightest oil ever found in Mexico" was brought in at the Tamulipas State site, Gutierrez Roldan said, and the same type of light, low-residue oil is flowing at another discovery well in nearby Hidalgo State, at a rate of 500 barrels a day.

The Pemex chief said that "the new fields represent a great hope for increasing our reserves."

Gutierrez Roldan also disclosed that consumption of gasoline and other fuels in Mexico has "increased substantially" during the first four months of 1961.

He said that this indicated "Mexico has resumed her march of progress after the recession during the second half of 1959."

OKLAHOMA CITY — The Board of Directors of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., today initiated action to redeem the entire issue of the corporation's Prior Convertible Preferred Stock.

June 15, 1961, is the date fixed for redemption and the redemption payment per share will be at the rate of $25.50 plus an accrued dividend of $2.2375 from April 1, through June 15, for a total of $27.7375.

Holders of the Preferred Stock have the right, however, expiring June 12, to convert their shares in the Common Stock of the corporation at conversion prices of $67.63 per share through May 5, and because of the two-for-one Common Stock split at that date, $33.81 per share thereafter.

FRANK B. ELLIS ... Oil Meet Speaker

Texas Oil Group To Hear Defense Aide Tomorrow

AUSTIN — Frank B. Ellis, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization in Washington, will be the featured speaker at the annual men's luncheon of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association in Midland tomorrow.

Approximately 600 oilmen are expected to attend the statewide meeting which opens today and runs through Tuesday.

Ellis, named to his high security post by President Kennedy in March, is charged with the surveillance of the mandatory import program established by Presidential Proclamation in 1959.

Among his chief duties is the evaluation of price increases under the mandatory program to determine "whether such increases are necessary to accomplish the national security objectives of the proclamation."

Ellis' role in the mandatory program is of special interest to Texas oilmen who have long contended the present program falls short of its announced objectives of maintaining the health and emergency productive capacity of the domestic industry.

As a member of the National Security Council, Ellis is responsible for advising the President of the nation's nonmilitary defense preparedness and emergency readiness programs.

In announcing Ellis' appearance, Tipiro President John Hurd called attention to the forthcoming imports hearing in Washington before Interior Department officials next week.

"We are looking forward to a review and possible strengthening of the mandatory program, and Mr. Ellis' viewpoint should provide independents an improved perspective concerning future developments."

Heatflame is the first winner in a national competition started this year by the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association. The award was donated by H. Emerson Thomas of Westfield, N. J., a past president of LPGA and an industry consultant.

Presentation of the Thomas Award was made at the LPGA convention in Chicago.

Other features of Heatflame's safety record were its continuing safety training program and low personal injury experience.

During the contest year the Suffolk operation's 17 employees working at its bulk plant and driving its 13-vehicle fleet sustained but two minor, non-time-lost injuries.

Marvin G. Eley of Windsor, Va., is Heatflame's manager.

Fundamentals In Child Raising Pointed Out By Health Expert

NEW YORK (UPI)—The subject today is love—and common sense in the child-raising arena. The authority is Dr. Maurice E. Linden, director of the mental health division of Philadelphia's Department of Public Health.

In a report in the current "Consultant," a publication for doctors, Dr. Linden cites principles of mental health which can be taught to parents.

Now Dr. Linden states his fundamental principles of love and common sense in short maxims. For example:

- Do strengthen spiritual values, but reduce to a minimum their being dependent upon fear of reprisal.

- Do not try to remove from the environment all things such as comic books, horror stories that are out of harmony with our best intentions. It is not possible. Instead, strengthen the child's ability to make good choices.

- Do not let leadership of the family default to the mother alone.

- Do not stifle all aggressive drives in children.
- Do not substitute rigid discipline for understanding.

- Never threaten children with mutilation or bodily harm as punishment or discipline or even for fun.

- Do prepare children for extraordinary coming events such as the birth of a brother or sister, surgical operations, moving to another home.

- Do not expect or depend solely on social agencies, doctors or ministers to solve the ordinary problems of child-rearing. Responsibility for solving problems of growth and development cannot be delegated. It rests ultimately with the parents.

Now Dr. Linden says the alternative to following such principles is to allow the children to grow up with problems in character formation—for instance, chronic lack of trust, disrespect for authority, feelings of inadequacy, a profound sense of guilt, deep feelings of terror or impending doom.

"There is little doubt now that the greater the appropriate leadership and good example-setting on the part of parents, with an affectionate appreciation of the child's potentials, the more secure and well integrated the child's ultimate personality will be," he said.

Included in the report distributed by a pharmaceutical firm (Smith Kline and French Laboratories) are other rulers of child raising requiring a bit more explanation.

Consider toilet training. As Dr. Linden sees it, the task should not be overdone or underdone.

"Find a middle road between leniency and strictness, between indifference and over-emotionalism and between beginning too early or too late," he said.

Important elements of character are laid down in the toilet training experience: A sense of values, prudence, reliability, altruism, stability and dependability.

Excessiveness in toilet training in any direction, for example, may produce analogous excesses in character formation.

What about sex questions a child might pose?

Dr. Linden said such questions should be answered—but not over-answered.

"Wholesome attitudes toward sex and love require that a child's natural curiosity in such matters be satisfied in keeping with his needs, his level of understanding

'Immortal Status' Science Theme

The immortal status of the children of God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Mortals and Immortals." Scriptural selections will include the following from Romans (8): "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 519): "Human capacity is slow to discern and to grasp God's creation and the divine power and presence which go with it, demonstrating its spiritual origin. Mortals can never know the infinite, until they throw off the old man and reach the spiritual image and likeness."

Motorists Crossed Up In Gotham

NEW YORK (UPI)—The city's traffic department has pulled a fast trick to eliminate the zig-zag driving habits of many New Yorkers.

Alert drivers had learned that the fastest way to drive across Manhattan Island without stopping for a red light was to drive two blocks cross town, then two blocks up or downtown, then two more blocks cross town, and so on. It's a matter of time to hit the green lights and avoid the red ones.

This nugget of driver intelligence was a tightly held secret used by cab drivers and a number of private car owners who noticed the facility of the cabs in getting across the traffic-jammed city.

But this week the Traffic Department purposely but quietly changed the timing of the lights. The aim was to test whether cross town traffic would move faster if a driver could reach all green lights by staying on one cross town street instead of zig-zagging.

Many of the "in-the-know" drivers found themselves getting across town a lot slower than the "hicks" who stayed on one cross town street. The department is not sure yet whether it will stick with the new system.
