Suspect Being Held In Trujillo's Slaying; Son Heads Regime

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, R. R. (UPI) — The government disclosed the arrest of a suspect in the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo while an estimated 150,000 mourners began filing into the national palace to pay homage to the slain strong man.

The mourners, many weeping hysterically, gathered shortly before burial of the 69-year-old leader who ruled this nation with an iron hand for 30 years. Trujillo was caught in an ambush and fatally wounded by machine-gun fire Tuesday night.

The suspect taken into custody was Huascar Tjada Rienea. Police also seized a priest identified as Father Gabriel Maduro, who was accused of harboring Tejada.

Police sources said Tejada admitted he was at the priest's home on the night of the assassination but he denied any connection with it. Father Maduro denied harboring Tejada.

Retired Gen. Juan T. Diaz, who was said to be the chief plotter, and at least four alleged accomplices, were still at large.

Trujillo's body was taken from his personal residence during the night and placed in the lobby of the flower-filled national palace. At 6 a.m. the palace doors were opened.

The widow sat next to the coffin which was covered with a Dominican flag and flanked by six candles. She was the only member of the immediate family for the Western Hemisphere.

Race Signs Dropped At Bus Depot

By United Press International

"White only" and "colored only" signs were conspicuous by their absence today at the Montgomery, Ala., Greyhound bus terminal waiting rooms where "Freedom Riders" have staged a major integration move.

W. L. Russell, manager of the terminal, said he did not know how long the signs were "going to stay down." He indicated he was ordered to remove them by Greyhound's public relations department in Chicago. There was no indication whether the signal removal step would remain in force after the present furor over desegregation died down in the city.

A federal judge, meanwhile, was expected to decide in Montgomery today in an injunction suit whether police officers in the Alabama capital city interfered with interstate bus travel by failing to protect the "Freedom Riders" attacked by a white mob May 20. City Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan admitted Thursday he did not assign extra officers to the bus station although he knew the riders were coming, but he denied he deliberately failed to offer protection.

In another integration pressure development, 41 jailed "Freedom Riders" in Jackson, Miss., continued an announced hunger strike for the second straight day, declaring they would not eat until the government does something about racial segregation in the South.

Officers in both jails where the riders were being held for attempting to break down bus-and-train depot segregation in Mississippi appeared unconcerned. Some said the riders had been seen munching candy bars and other snacks since the strike began Thursday.

Charles Haynie, a white student at Cornell University, said the hunger strike would continue until U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy sees that "racial restriction" in interstate travel were lifted.

Haynie telephoned his wife in Ithaca, N.Y., and dictated a telegram announcing the strike. She sent it to the attorney general.

Another white Cornell student, Peter Sterling, 20, was released from jail when he paid $197 in fines. He said he had to take final examinations and was planning to be married soon.

Jackson Mayor Allen Thompson said of the strike: "The food will be put out for them and if they don't eat it, that is entirely up to them."

President Kennedy shook hands just as fervently and expressed his appreciation for the dinner, the ballet, and the wonderful moment in the gardens.

De Gaulle invited 75 guests to dine with the Kennedys in the Hall of Mirrors, where President Woodrow Wilson and other Allied leaders signed the treaty ending World War I 42 years ago this month.

After dinner, the guests were joined by 500 others in the small palace theater, one of the gems of French architecture. Republican Guards with burnished gold helmets and drawn sabres flanked the entry. Attendants in powdered wigs served as ushers.

In honor of the Kennedys, in particular the first lady who loves the era, De Gaulle had ordered a three-act ballet presentation in the manner of the French kings.

U. S. And France Agree To Defy Use Of Russian Force In Berlin

Nations Agree 'Rights' Should Be Safeguarded

PARIS (UPI) — President Kennedy said today he and French President Charles de Gaulle agreed that Soviet force or pressure should not be allowed to drive the Allies out of Berlin.

"I think neither General de Gaulle nor I would feel it appropriate to have our statutory rights in Berlin changed by force or threat of force," the President told a press luncheon.

Kennedy stopped short of a flat declaration that the United States would fight to hold the Allied position in the former German capital.

He said, in response to a question, it would not be "expedient at this time" to go into details of his and De Gaulle's position on Berlin.

Kennedy spotlighted the Laos crisis and the deadlock in the Geneva nuclear test talks as major issues to be discussed during his weekend meetings in Vienna with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He said if any progress could be made on these two issues that would "make the trip worthwhile."

Kennedy and De Gaulle have reached a wide area of agreement on the need for high level consultation among the Allies, French sources said today.

They met for two hours this morning in what was to be their final business session, but a change in the programs disclosed that they planned another conference this afternoon.

First they talked privately as they have the past two days. Then they called in their top level advisers, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Premier Michel Debre.

At a public ceremony earlier today Kennedy pledged himself to "strengthen and maintain United States commitments to the defense forces of Europe."

Pair Held For Stock Swindling

ATLANTA (UPI) — An Atlanta couple was jailed Thursday on federal charges of swindling clients of their brokerage firm of at least $1.5 million in funds entrusted to them.

Lodged overnight in the Fulton (Atlanta) County Jail were Carl A. Pruett, 38, president of Pruett & Co., Inc., and his wife, Gertrude, 42. The couple was picked up at their suburban "weekend home" and arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Frank Holden.

Holden set bond for Pruett of $100,000, but cut the bond in half for Mrs. Pruett when her attorney informed him she is ill and expected to undergo surgery "in a few days."

The indictment returned against the couple detailed 11 counts against specific the couple and 20 "overt acts."

It charged the Pruettts, through their company, "did appropriate convert and use funds and securities of customers without their knowledge and consent." A separate company, Diversified Financial Services, Inc., was set up to "hide, conceal and avoid detection of the defendants' appropriations, conversions, and misuses of funds and securities entrusted to them," the government said.

William Green, regional director for the eight state Southeastern district of the Securities and Exchange Commission, said the $1.5 million figure was a "conservative" estimate of losses suffered by the firm's customers.

The case first came to light early last month and the SEC stepped in and obtained a federal injunction preventing the firm from doing further business.

Green said the SEC began its investigation of the company when a customer complained he could not get delivery on some stocks the firm held for him.

The First Methodist Church of Smyrna was one of the heavy losers in the scheme, according to the indictment. It charged that the defendants induced the church to entrust to them $107,142 from the sale of bonds for erecting a new sanctuary, but appropriated and converted the money to their own "use and benefit."

The Pruettts told Holden at the arraignment that they had transferred all their assets earlier in the day into receivership. However, receivership attorney Newell Edensfield said "large stacks of money" were brought in by the federal marshals after the arrest.

Edensfield demanded that the money be turned over to the receivership.

Walter C. Johnson, an SEC investigator, said in an affidavit filed earlier in conjunction with the complaint, that Mrs. Pruett had admitted misusing $1.5 million belonging to 38 of the firm's 700 customers.

Senate Election Votes Canvassed

Gray County Judge William J. Craig announced today the Gray County Commissioners Court met yesterday to canvass returns of the May 27 special senatorial election.

Judge Craig said the results, which have been filed in the county clerk's office, showed John Tower received 2,151 votes and Jim Wright, one write in vote.

The figures are unchanged from the total votes counted at the close of the polls Saturday.

Ike Condemns Demo Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican leaders today elected a new party chairman, prodded by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, to lead the GOP into battle against President Kennedy's domestic program.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York was unanimously elected to replace the retiring National Committee chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

The election of a new chairman was the climax of a two-day GOP National Committee meeting which included a fundraising dinner Thursday night that drew 6,000 party leaders and contributors to hear Eisenhower.

In his first speech since he left the White House Jan. 20, the ex-President summoned the party to war against the Kennedy domestic program. He also offered some implicit criticism and advice to the administration about handling foreign affairs.

He told the $100-a-plate dinner audience that in foreign affairs the nation needs "steadiness of leadership, care and experience in planning, prudence in word, firmness in deed."

In lashing out at the Democrats on domestic issues, Eisenhower said he was "sick and tired of hearing alleged leaders scoff at a balanced budget."

"I am deeply disturbed, as I believe millions of people are, by the indications of sheer recklessness in programs compelling deficit spending on the Federal level," he said.

"A free healthy, competitive economy cannot long exist if it is to be subject to political abuse, bewildered by constantly shrinking dollars and continually fearful of governmental controls."

The former President, who sat at a giant head table with members of his cabinet, Thomas E. Dewey and other GOP leaders, received his biggest round of applause when he said the GOP was against "government by big brother."

The ex-President said his party opposed "the ever-increasing concentration of power in Washington" because it believed the individual was better able to plan his own life and spend his own money.

"We are against the insulting concept of government by big brother," he declared. "Excessive public housing, rampant public power, federalized youth programs are cases in point."

"I look in vain and with deep concern for fiscal responsibility today in public affairs," he said. "As I note the mounting expenditures, I often think how easy it is to buy things when you're spending the other fellow's money."

The governor made no immediate comment. Wednesday night, Daniel went on a state-wide television network and accused lobbyists of pressuring legislators with unethical practices. He said they were to blame for the legislature's failure to solve the state's fiscal problems during the regular session.

"When the governor speaks of 16,000 lobbyists, he tries to take the role of 'Jack the Giant Killer' when everyone in Austin knows he conducts the most effective lobby that is conducted in this capitol city," Hazelwood said.

He said Daniel's estimate that the Senate version of the tax bill, which was killed by the House in the closing minutes of the session, was "grossly unfair." Daniel said the bill hit individuals 89 per cent and business 11 per cent.

Laos Peace Meet Set For Monday

GENEVA (UPI) — The deadlocked Laos peace conference canceled its scheduled session today at the Soviet Union's request.

The British and Soviet co-chairmen of the 14-nation gathering tentatively scheduled another session for Monday morning.

The postponement came as Eastern and Western diplomats predicted that only the weekend Vienna summit meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev could break the conference stalemate.

More Thunderstorms Forecast For Tonight

Scattered thunderstorms threatened the Pampa and upper South Plains of Texas today after a brilliant electrical display lighted the area Thursday night.

A small thunderstorm struck in the Pampa area with high winds, some rain and hail reported. There was no damage resulting from the storm and only .15 inch of rain.

East of Pampa, particularly in Miami and Canadian, the skies appeared threatening but little activity developed other than exceeding high winds and an aerial pyrotechnical display which served to alarm a number of residents.

The storm area moved south from Pampa, Miami and Canadian. Skies were clear to partly cloudy across the state early today, with overnight temperatures ranging from 42 degrees at Doherty to a humid 77 at Corpus Christi.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said more scattered thunderstorm activity was expected in Northwest Texas this afternoon and tonight, with blowing dust in the extreme southwest and widely scattered showers and thunderstorms in the south central and southwestern areas.

Temperatures were expected to remain high through the weekend. Presidio reported 48 of an inch of rain during the 24 hour period that ended at 5 a.m., and Amarillo had .04.

Temperatures Thursday hit a national high of 106 degrees at Presidio, 101 at Lubbock, 100 at Wink and 99 at Victoria Falls. The

Priest Ordered To Halt Games

BEAUMONT (UPI) — A Catholic priest today was under permanent court injunction from conducting games of chance at his parish hall in the nearby town of Groves, Texas.

Dist. Judge Gordon Gary entered the agreed judgment late Thursday against Father B. J. Marino, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Groves, shortly after it was filed by Dist. Atty. Gaie Walley.

Marino was not present at the hearing, but was represented by counsel.

The injunction grew out of a complaint filed by the Rev. Charles H. Johnson, pastor of the Wheatleap Memorial Baptist Church in Groves.

Marino was arrested May 7 during the church's annual bazaar. He said proceeds of the bazaar were to be used to retire the parish debt.

School To Open Summer Session Monday Morning

Approximately 200 high school students were expected to enroll today for the summer school session at Pampa High School, according to J. E. Edmondson, assistant superintendent of schools.

The summer session, scheduled to start Monday, will run for two months.

"It will be primarily for the 8th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades," Edmondson said.

Edmondson said that courses will be taught in English, History, Math and Drivers Education.

Governor Gets Tax Challenge

AUSTIN (UPI) — State Sen. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo challenged Gov. Price Daniel Thursday to debate the state's tax problem on a television panel show with Senate tax conferees.

He also accused Daniel of being the most effective lobbyist in the state.

The governor made no immediate comment. Wednesday night, Daniel went on a state-wide television network and accused lobbyists of pressuring legislators with unethical practices. He said they were to blame for the legislature's failure to solve the state's fiscal problems during the regular session.

Another Wheat Crop Awaiting Harvest Crews

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Ripening fields of wheat stretching across the great plains from Texas to Montana waited today for harvest of another bumper crop to swell the nation's already bursting grain elevators.

The annual spring paradox of a harvest of millions of bushels of wheat while there is already enough in storage to feed the world for years is being reenacted by crews of combine operators across thousands of acres of rolling prairie.

A top wheat expert, Clifford Hope of Garden City, Kan., said today the 1961 crop will "undoubtedly add something to the surplus." He was not ready yet to estimate the harvest total in bushels but is sure it will be "another bumper crop."

In Kansas, the largest single wheat producing state, the crop is estimated at more than 250 million bushels—the third largest in history. There has been some drought in western Kansas but the weather in the central part of the state has been almost perfect for the wheat.

Hope is president of the Great Plains Wheat Inc., an organization dedicated to developing overseas markets for the U. S. surplus. He predicts that 625 million bushels of U. S.-produced wheat will find their way this year to loading docks abroad—mostly in India.

Hope looks with favor on the fact that Communist China is buying wheat from Canada and Australia.

"We're not advocating that the U. S. sell some of its surplus to the Chinese Reds," he explained,

Boxer Offers Learned Treatise To Solons

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate caucus room is located directly above the Senate gymnasium, which is a very convenient arrangement.

If you're trying to locate a politician, you can have him paged in the gymnasium. And if you're interviewed so many star athletes that he has become known as the sports editor of the congressional record.

This week the subcommittee is holding hearings on Kefauver's bill to create a federal boxing commissioner as a means of chastising racketeers out of the prize-fighting ring.

Such is the case, at least, on those days when the caucus room has been reserved by Sen. Estes Kefauver' anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee.

During the past couple of years, the subcommittee has investigated just about every game that is frame in one of the padded leather chairs. I arrived just in time to catch the testimony of Rocky Marciano, who for four years was the heavyweight champion of the world, including Afghanistan and the south side of Chicago.

It quickly developed that Marciano was staunchly in favor of Kefauver's bill, which may explain why he was called as a witness. At any rate, he presented a learned dissertation on the need for some federal regulation of the manly art.

"Under our present system, where each state is autonomous, we sometime have the anomalous situation in which a champion may be a title holder in one state and not in another," Rocky said.

Court Told Eichmann Ordered Death March

BRUSALAM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann sent 50,000 Budapest Jews on a 125-mile death march November 1944, the court tried him for mass murder was told today.

Thousands died on the march, which was stopped only on special orders from secret police chief Heinrich Himmler, the prosecution charged.

Eichmann sat listening attentively or scribbling notes to his man lawyers while the Israeli prosecution presented documented evidence holding Eichmann responsible for ordering the death march. Later the court heard testimony from a former Jewish official who was an eyewitness and a woman who actually took part in it.

According to the prosecution, between 6,000 and 10,000 Jews perished in the march from hunger, disease, cold or shooting by guards.

According to the evidence, the Hungarian gendarmes acted as guards on orders of the Germans. Official Nazi documents submitted to the court named Eichmann as the man who actually ordered and organized the march.

"but the mere fact that Australia and Canada are selling means there will be more foreign markets for our wheat."

Hope said his group will not propose any U. S. sales to China. "One of the largest combine operators, Norman R. Hamm of Perry, Kan., is already preparing for the crop. His outfit, containing 17 vehicles, is moving into Texas where its first job will be at the 8,000 acre Waggoner Ranch at Vernon. Hamm will then work his way north."

The Oklahoma prospects are also good with an estimated 115,296,000 bushels expected to be harvested. A wheat expert in that state, Gerald D. Frazier, said less than 5 per cent of the Oklahoma production in the last two years went into surplus.

Texas is expected to harvest its third largest crop in history — 3,875,000 bushels.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Richard A. Goodson

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

Here today: A wide range of convenient communications services to fit any need

"Not too many years ago," says Richard A. Goodson, who is in charge of Southwestern Bell's Texas operations, "most people probably thought of telephone service as a single black instrument."

"But nowadays it's increasingly common for people to have several phones in color in their homes. And over the years the available communications services have grown from a rather small number until now it takes a whole catalogue to list them all."

From all of the services mentioned by Mr. Goodson during an interview in his office, I've selected four to picture here, because they vividly illustrate his point that a wide variety of interesting and exciting services awaits today's customers.

"These instruments and services—and the technical advances required to make them work—obviously don't just happen," Mr. Goodson said. "The telephone company has a constant research program to make them happen."

As a result of this continuing search for new developments, telephone service grows better year after year . . . and brings more convenience and pleasure into our lives.

CALL DIRECTOR phone is ideal for businessmen, secretaries. You can phone people in your plant or office by pushing buttons, hold conference calls, add another person to an outside call. A secretary can answer calls on as many as 29 lines.

Washington Officials Will Join In Tribute To UPI Publishers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Mrs. Rusk head the list of top ranking Washington officials who plan to attend a reception Thursday, June 8, in honor of United Press International editors and publishers.

Commerce Secretary and Mrs. Luther H. Hodges also plan to be on hand along with Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency, and Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

In addition to high ranking government officials, the Thursday night party will give UPI editors and publishers a chance to meet the official press spokesmen for the White House, the State Department and other agencies whose names are prominent in the news. Among them are press secretary Pierre J. Salinger and State Department spokesman Lincoln White.

The 6 to 8 p.m. EDT reception will be held in the Congressional Room at the Statler Hotel.

Editors who want to get the latest in the Latin American political picture will meet Secretary General of the Organization of American States Jose Mora and his wife.

President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, Walter Heller, also has accepted an invitation to the reception as well as a number of personalities from Capitol Hill.

The scheduled personal appearance of President Kennedy Friday morning will highlight the business sessions of the UPI editors and publishers conference, June 8 and 9. Other guest speakers are Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Another highlight of the conference will be the windup banquet at the Statler. UPI White House correspondent Merriman Smith, fresh from the Vienna summit conference, will be the guest speaker.

rain, the President spoke to the chief officers of Supreme Allied Headquarters at his side today. U.S. Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander.

"I hope in the years ahead that our communal alliance will have greater strength and force than it ever has had, and I assure you that the United States intends to do its full part," Kennedy said.

Kennedy began his day with the visit to SHAPE headquarters at Fontainebleau, just outside Paris, and then returned to the Elysee Palace in the capital for his final conference with President Charles de Gaulle.

The two presidents met in private for a half hour and then called in their chief advisers to approve a final statement on the accomplishments of Kennedy's visit.

Kennedy called Secretary of State Dean Rusk in from Washington. U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson from Moscow and roving U.S. Ambassador Averell Harriman from Geneva to get with him tonight.

They and other aides will help him outline the final strategy for two days of talks with Khrushchev starting Saturday in Vienna.

The fact that Harriman was summoned showed the deep American concern for the way the Soviets have blocked progress at Geneva by refusing even to talk about a workable control and inspection system for the cease-fire in Laos.

The Communists have demanded a political settlement first, and this is what the United States feared before the conference had even started. It seemed certain this would be a major topic at Vienna.

Kennedy and De Gaulle spent a total of 2 hours and 20 minutes together Thursday and high American sources said De Gaulle spent most of the time saying what he thinks about the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

De Gaulle has refused to go along with complete integration of French forces into NATO, a position which has caused a great deal of irritation among Americans for some time.

Official sources gave only the bare bones of what transpired between the two presidents Thursday, but the indications were that Kennedy held off any rebuttal until today.

Governor Blamed For Tax Failure

JASPER (UPI) — E. B. Germany, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, today blamed the failure of the 57th Texas Legislature to enact a tax bill on Gov. Daniel and Speaker of the House James Turman.

In a speech before 100 Co-C leaders from the 12-county southeastern district of the East Texas Chamber, Germany said interference by Daniel and Turman killed the tax bill and forced the legislature into special session.

"Like the governor, I think the will of the people should prevail as was apparently the case until that will was thwarted by the obvious interference of the governor and the speaker of the house in the warning minutes of the session Monday night," he said.

Tower Takes No Stand On John Birch Society

NEW YORK (UPI) — Senator-elect John G. Tower, the first Republican to win election to the Senate in Texas history, said today he would neither endorse nor condemn the John Birch Society.

Tower rose out Sen. William A. Blakley, the Democratic interim appointee, in Saturday's election. He ascribed his victory to better local organization and dissatisfaction with the Kennedy administration.

"Many people in Texas who have a high regard for the President oppose his domestic and foreign policy ideas," Tower told a broadcast audience (on NBC-TV's "The Dave Garroway Today Show").

In response to a question, the 35-year-old former college professor said, "it would be wrong for me to jump to any conclusion about the John Birch Society. Reasonable men might disagree as to what the most effective means to fight communism is; but until I have a chance to study it first-hand I think it would be a little irresponsible for me to either endorse it or condemn it."

Improved Flight Schedules Set Up

In keeping with the growth of Pampa and Amarillo and the increased demand for both deluxe and coach travel, TWA has scheduled a Super G Constellation—Flight 292, to leave Amarillo at 1:05 p.m. This will afford 2-stop service to New York City, using TWA SuperJet Flight 160 from St. Louis, arriving in New York at 9:05 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

Flight 292 offers direct connections at Kansas City to Chicago, and at St. Louis to Indianapolis, Dayton, Columbus, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Washington and Philadelphia.

Comparable return service is offered from New York City—leaving Idlewild on TWA SuperJet Flight 183 at 10 a.m. non-stop to Kansas City, with a direct connection to TWA Super G Flight 203, arriving in Amarillo at 2:04 p.m. Return service is also improved from Cleveland, Dayton, Chicago, Indianapolis and Kansas City. The new schedules went into effect Thursday.

The mature woman whose wedding anniversary falls in late spring or early summer is as anxious as any bride to look lovely for the occasion. Begin with special attention (left) to hands and arms so that you'll look well in a short-sleeved dress. Use plenty of soapsuds and a body brush. Try out new make-up colors (center) after you have carefully removed stale make-up. Trim appearance of this mature woman (right) is no accident. It depends on regular beauty routine.

Mrs. Wiggins Club Hostess

CANADIAN (Spl) — The Arts and Crafts Club met with Mrs. Darrell Wiggins for its final meeting of the season.

A covered dish luncheon was served from a table laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of roses and gold candles.

Placed on the quartette tables were nosegays of blue flowers. Mrs. Charles Burton gave the thought for the day, "Self-Consciousness."

Those attending were Mmes. Charles Burton, W. R. Hext, Ben Hill, Bud Webb, W. E. Ramp, Cleo Jahnel, Paul Wood, W. P. Varnell, James Mitchell, Bob Rogers, Frank Cook, H. E. Meek and Troy Newton.

Wedding Anniversary Date Can Be Glamorous

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
You don't have to be young to be lovely. Even when you've reached middle age or more, you can still find yourself the belle of the ball on a festive occasion. If, for example, your wedding anniversary should fall in late spring or early summer, you've still time to get ready for the big day. Don't wait until the last minute to decide what you'll wear. Plan your clothes as early as possible so that you can be sure to find what you really want. Take a look at yourself in a full-length mirror. Will your arms, throat and neck show to advantage in a short-sleeved dress? Is your hair well coiffed and shining? And last, but far from least, are your feet up to an evening in pointed-toe shoes? If you don't quite make the grade on any of these points, don't give up. Start your beauty program right away. There's time. Try experimenting with new cosmetics, especially if you've used only powder and lipstick up to now. Practice applying your new make-up at home until you can do it skillfully. And be sure to prepare your skin first with daily soapsuds facials. Clean, clear skin is the best foundation for make-up. Should you plan a new hair style or a permanent wave, go to the beauty salon long before the big day. That way, you will be accustomed to your new coiffure and not feel self-conscious at your party. Brush your hair daily, too, and if it is dry, give yourself hot oil treatments before each shampoo. Your daily bath is still your best beauty bet. Each night, have a leisurely soak in a tub of warm water. Then massage your entire body with plenty of soapsuds, using a brush for your arms, back and legs. Use your fingertips to work the lather into your face and neck. After drying, apply body lotion to soften your skin. If your upper arms are flabby, "knead" and exercise them for a few minutes twice a day to firm the muscles. You might even do some "all-over" exercising to reduce other bulges. Before going to bed, gently massage cream over your hands and wear cotton gloves to protect your bed linen. Whether or not you wear a nail polish, give yourself a manicure and pedicure every week. Bath time is an excellent time for your pedicure, for calluses will be softened and can be removed easily with a pumice stone. The effects of a diligent beauty routine will be so successful that you'll want to continue it regularly rather than waiting for another special occasion to come along.

Ten Do's And Don'ts For Weight Watchers

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Don't eat when you're tired, advises the new issue of Diet Treasury Magazine. You may even want to take a short nap before dinner. If you're relaxed, you will eat more slowly and digest your food more thoroughly.

Here are nine other "Do's and Don'ts of Dieting" from this annual all-diet publication:

1. Eat your food slowly. Make everything last longer, and not only will your digestion be better, but you will feel that you've eaten more than you really did.
2. Carry a calorie counter in your purse or your pocket and use it to determine how much you should eat before each meal, while you still have a chance to do something about it.
3. If you must have that between-meals snack, keep fruit and rabbit food (celery, carrots, lettuce, radishes) close by and nibble on these. Their calorie content is very low.
4. If you feel the before-dinner drink is necessary, switch from cocktails to highballs. Avoid mixed drinks at all costs, or your dieting success will be greatly endangered.
5. Don't force yourself to eat when you're not hungry. Take advantage of every opportunity to curtail those calories.
6. Don't keep too much food in the house. If extra fare is available, you may not be able to resist the temptation to dig into it. Plan your menus a few days at a time, and when you go to the market, buy only those things on your list, not a wide variety of delectable items that attract your eye.

7. Don't eat heartily before going to bed. If you must have a midnight snack, try a cup of hot skim milk. This will give you nourishment during the night and may even help you sleep better.
8. Prepare your main dishes at meals in a "gourmet" manner. Using only low-calorie ingredients, learn to get the most out of the least in your cooking. If you enjoy what you eat, you'll forget that you've given up some of your old favorites.
9. Don't get more than eight hours sleep each night. You can't burn up the calories when you're inactive. People on a diet must be up and around and on the go. When you're busy, you won't have time to think about the food you mustn't eat.

For a movie or TV star a trim figure is not just desirable, it's a professional necessity. The new issue of Diet Treasury Magazine carries a feature, "How the Stars Stay Trim," which gives a first-hand report on the methods used by several top-name performers to keep their weight just where they - and their public - like it.

Debbie Reynolds, for example, avoids starches in her diet, always excluding bread and butter and most desserts. Shirley MacLaine finds daily dance exercises a big help in figure control; they become less a chore and more a romp when four-year-old daughter Stephanie joins in. Many show business personalities will eat as they please and gain weigh between movies or plays, says Diet Treasury, then launch into a crash program of diet and exercise just before it's time to step into the spotlight.

But for television stars it's a different story. Dinah Shore begins each day with a workout of reducing exercises. As far as dieting is concerned, she never foregoes any particular food when she wants to lose a pound or two. Instead, she continues to enjoy her customary menu, but cuts down the quantity. "Good psychology," she says.

As for Donna Reed, Diet Treasury reports that this TV star projects her figure always getting eight hours sleep each night and by eating high protein, energy-giving foods.

But even the intentions must be broken once in a while. At times Debbie Reynolds just can't resist French-fried potatoes with a hamburger, and she has a weakness for chocolate cake which can't be cured.

Dear Abby... If He Balks Loose Him Fast!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was widowed four years ago, and up until recently I never accepted any because I was too broken up. I realized I couldn't continue to live with a memory, and my children needed a father, so I started dating. I met a very attractive man who is new in town. He appears to be a perfect gentleman, but no one knows much about him. He seems to be a man of means. I forgot to mention that I am fairly well off. My insurance company just settled an old accident claim, and I was awarded $26,000, and this was in the papers. (I put it in trust for my children's education.) This man told me if I married him I wouldn't have to worry about money. What does this mean? I can't ask him how much money he has, can I? I am not a gold-digger, but I don't want to marry a man I have to support. How can I find out his financial status?

DEAR ABBY: Next Friday we have posture tests and we have to strip down to our underwear for a male doctor we don't even know. Do you think this is right? DEAR BASHFUL: There is nothing wrong with it. Doctors are trained to be impersonal, and there is no need to be embarrassed. DEAR ABBY: Could you please satisfy my curiosity? There are two birds nesting in an umbrella tree where a woodpecker used to make his home through the winter. These birds are different from any I have ever seen. They are bigger than blackbirds. Their plumage is so black it shines like patent leather. They have yellow beaks, and make a whistling sound that causes women to turn around. The whistle sounds like a "wolf" whistle. (You know what I mean. "Wheeee - Wheeeeeooooo"). I am not a bird watcher, but I would like to know what kind of birds they are.

DEAR MRS. V: Tell me what part of the country you live in, and I will tell you what kind of birds they are. I am not a bird watcher either, but some of my best friends are. DEAR CAREFUL: If he is on the up and up, he will not resent your asking him to meet with your lawyer (and banker) and reveal his financial status. If he balks, lose him, fast. A woman is a fool to marry a man who won't hold still for questioning. DEAR MRS. V: Tell me what part of the country you live in, and I will tell you what kind of birds they are. I am not a bird watcher either, but some of my best friends are. Lefors Club To Have Bake Sale

LEFORS (Spl) — The Opti-Mrs. Club is sponsoring a bake sale in Gattin's Grocery, tomorrow. Proceeds will go toward buying Little League uniforms for this summer. The club met recently in the home of Mrs. Chestene Dunn for an election of officers. Mrs. Leonard Cain was elected president; Earl Lane, first vice-president; Mary White, second vice-president; Jimmy Pennington secretary; Chestene Dunn, treasurer; Phillip Earhart, Scrapbook chairman and reporter; George Duncan, telephone chairman; Calvin Lacy, parliamentary; and Francis Cox year book chairman.

On the board of Directors are Mmes. Preston Crutcher, A. W. Chisum and James Gattin, two years; and Manuel Allison, Sidney Gilbreath and Fred Cullon, one year. Regular business was conducted by Mrs. Cain. Mrs. Francis Cox was welcomed as a new member. Visitors were Mmes. Sylvester Torres, Dewey Robbins and Harley Lewis. Members present were Mmes. Calvin Lacy, Preston Crutcher, Chestene Dunn, Leonard Cain, Sidney Gilbreath, George Duncan, James Gattin, and Earl Lane.

Designed for good grooming both daytime and evening, this little white case contains comb and mirror. It is flat and takes up small space in a bag.

There Are Methods Of Keeping Evening Bag From Becoming Burden To Escort

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Stuffing a cosmetic case into an evening bag is a feat successfully accomplished by relatively few girls. The whole thing usually ends up with odds and ends being handed to an impatient escort for pocket storage. The first step in transferring articles from a daytime bag to an evening bag is to make up your mind to be ruthless. You don't need your check book and you don't need your wallet. Tuck some folding money in, to be sure. Take your key from its key ring. Take only your lipstick and a powder case.

Things to be left out of your evening bag are makeup base, eye make-up, eyebrow pencil and rouge. All of your make-up should be so carefully applied that, with the exception of lipstick and powder, you need not remove it during the evening. When you shop for an evening bag, keep this in mind: it can be small and chic but it still should be designed to hold more than a single lipstick.

Rotary Meeting Ended In Tokyo

TOKYO (UPI)—The 52nd annual Rotary International convention—the largest ever held—ended yesterday with an appeal from the new president for members to help others to help themselves. The official attendance of 23,370 was the largest gathering of Rotarians since the 1949 convention in New York City that drew 15,961. It was the first time Rotary International ever held a convention in Asia. Joseph A. Abey, circulation director of the Reading (Pa.) Eagle-Times, was elected the new president effective July 1. J. Edd McLaughlin, a banker from Ralls, Tex., retired as president after serving a one-year term. Nitish C. Lahary, of Calcutta, India, became president-elect for the 1962-63 period, since he was the only nominee for the office. He was the first Asian ever to be elected to the high office of Rotary International. In his final speech as president, McLaughlin said he felt "we have not even begun to realize the enormous potential of Rotary." He said, "this convention has emphasized that the spirit of Rotary has no boundaries." Warren E. Kraft, Seattle, was elected director of Zone 1, of Rotary in the United States. Evald C. Bank, Minneapolis, won the post for Zone 2, and Ben N. Saltzman, Mountain Home, Ark., was elected director of Zone 3. They were the only contested directorships.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst Two tough-minded men in Paris and Vienna are demanding this week that the President of the United States make a difficult decision. That decision concerns Berlin. It is a question that certainly will be uppermost in the mind of Soviet Premier Khrushchev when he meets with President Kennedy in Vienna. It must be uppermost, too, in the mind of President Charles de Gaulle, going as it does to the very core of NATO planning for Western Europe. The Western Allies are pledged to defend the freedom of West Berlin, by arms if necessary. The question that never has been clearly resolved is one of timing. At what point and in what manner will it be decided Berlin's safety is threatened? The question becomes the more pressing in light of U.S. actions in Cuba and Laos wherein, despite clear evidence of Communist penetration and despite clear U.S. warnings that such would not be tolerated, a decision was made against the use of U.S. troops. It may be assumed that only the tough Western stand has prevented Khrushchev from swallowing up West Berlin long before this. On Nov. 27, 1958, he issued his now-famous ultimatum declar-

Ranger Explains His Resignation

BIG SPRING (UPI)—E. J. Banks said Wednesday the reason he resigned last year as a Texas Ranger captain was because the state does not have a uniform policy on gambling laws. Banks has since taken over as chief of police at Big Spring. At the time Banks quit, Col. Homer Garrison, head of the Department of Public Safety, said Banks was under fire because he failed to carry out orders to crack down on gambling in Tarrant County. "We would have had a much easier time controlling gambling in Tarrant County if there had been a uniform enforcement policy for the state," Banks said. "In other words, if the gambling laws had also been enforced in Jefferson County, Fort Bend County, Galveston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Lubbock and Amarillo." Col. Garrison made no immediate comment about Banks' views. There are nearly 650 trade unions in Great Britain.

Two International Conferences Near Failure As 'Big Two' Meet

By United Press International Before departing from Washington for his get-acquainted meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, President Kennedy said: "It is important (for the Russians) to know that our patience at the bargaining table is nearly inexhaustible, though our credulity is limited." As the two leaders begin their discussions Saturday in Vienna, two international conferences of far-reaching consequences are on the verge of failure. One deals with the future of Laos; the other with the ban on nuclear weapons tests.

Failure of the test ban talks would seem automatically to rule out any hope for general world disarmament. The veto replaces the boycott which led to some costly Communist defeats. The Communists were boycotting the United Nations when the world body approved united action against the Red invasion of South Korea. They boycotted the four-power control commission in Berlin and thus opened the way for development of a prosperous West Berlin, a thorn in their side ever since. House Hangs Snap Shots Of Members

Austin Bureau AUSTIN — They hung a big frame containing mug shots of all 150 members of the House of Representatives of the 57th Legislature on a wall in the House the other day. A mug of Gov. Price Daniel also was in the composite, although he is not a member of the House. The governor and speaker James Turman were given top display spots on the frame. Snapshots of 72 children of House members, including nine kids of West Texas legislators, were centered in the picture. The West Texas children and their parents are: J. Collier Adams Jr., 8, and Gary Ruben Adams, 7, children of Rep. and Mrs. J. Collier Adams of Lubbock; Anne Louise McElhany, 20-month-old daughter of Rep. and Mrs. Grainger McElhany of Wheeler; Trent Olen Petty, 4 months, son of Rep. and Mrs. Olen Petty of Levelland; Corinne Quilliam, 5, daughter of Rep. and Mrs. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock. Tower's Victory 'Shot In Arm' For Conservatives, Writer Says

By LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON (UPI) — From the shores of the Potomac, that Texas senatorial election looks like a sort of no-popularity contest. Of the two conservative candidates for a seat in the U.S. Senate, Texans had to decide which man they didn't like the most. The Texans didn't like Sen. William A. Blakley, a Democrat, more than they didn't like Sen. Elect John G. Tower, a Republican. So Tower won. Some republicans are making a big party victory out of that. They are talking about a re-birth of the Republican party in the South. That is what the late Al Smith would have called baloney. Tower's election to the U.S. Senate was more a still-birth than a re-birth of the Republican party in Texas. Candidate Tower practically disavowed his party in his Texas campaign. He chose to avoid identification as a Republican. Instead, Tower campaigned as a conservative, an opponent of Kennedy administration policies. Blakley's campaign was quite similar except that he freely identified himself as a Democrat. Blakley was not accepted, however, as a Democrat in good standing by the New Deal-Fair Deal-Kennedy Democrats of Texas. To the extent that these left-center Democrats refused to accept Blakley, the Democratic party in Texas was split in last week's election. The Republican party in Texas, such as it is, was not so divided and the Republican candidate won, although he had no campaign use for the party label. The election was a state-wide clearly established victory for conservatives in Texas and a shot in the arm for American conservatives, everywhere. It cannot be counted a clearly established victory for Republicans because the Republican party is not conservative. The Republican leadership is mixed with such Republicans as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and northeastern Republicans, generally, in substantial harmony in large areas of national policy with the Democratic administration. The liberal Rockefeller and the conservative Tower have this in common: Neither emphasizes his membership in the Republican party when seeking voter support in their home states. Another thing: Neither Tower nor Rockefeller cares for the Republican policies proclaimed by Richard M. Nixon, last year's party presidential nominee. Nixon is too far to the left for Tower, too far to the right for Rockefeller. Tower's political mentor and leader is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-A. If Goldwater is a Republican, in what party does Rockefeller belong, and vice versa? If the Texas senatorial election is to be counted a Republican triumph, the Republican party must be able consistently, successfully and numerously to elect liberal near-Democrats in the North and East while electing conservative non-Republicans in the so-called Solid South. That kind of a Republican party would not be much more attractive to Southern voters than is the Democratic party from which millions of them now would like to escape. The party which surely would attract Southerners would be a conservative party without the Republican label — one which was independent of labor, Negroes and the racial minorities which dominate the Northeast. The Republican party does not qualify as such. There are more than 1,500 mountains over 10,000 feet high in Colorado.

OH, WHITEY, SIMME A CALL 'BOUT FIVE-THIRTY IN THE MORNIN', WILL YUH?

THEY'LL NEVER GET EVERYBODY HAPPY... YOU CAN GIVE 'EM ALL TH' SAME MONEY, BUT NOT TH' SAME JOB!

TIME'LL COME WHEN THEY'LL HAVE TO PUT ALL TH' LITTLE MACHINES IN ONE ROOM AN' WITH BLINDS ON IT!

I'M SORRY, BAZOO. DADDY WANTS ME HOME TONIGHT!

BUT HE SAYS HE'LL ALLOW US TO SIT OUT ON THE PORCH SWING FOR A WHILE!

YOU'RE KIDDIN'!

AMAZIN'! HER PAPPY HAS CHANGED!

FOR THE WORSE, THAT IS!

I'M GOING TO SPEND THE WEEK END WITH COUSIN MYRTLE IN FULTON, AND LISTEN—I DON'T WANT YOU, THE MOMENT I TURN THE CORNER TO INVITE A LOAD OF HANGOVERS FROM THE GOLF CLUB TO FLAT-FOOT UP HERE FOR A POKER PARTY!

YOU'RE GOING AWAY FOR A TWO-DAY VISIT GOOD!—I MEAN—AH—THIS WILL BE A GOOD CHANCE FOR ME TO FILL MY SOUL WITH SHAKESPEARE, MILTON AND KEATS!

HE FORGOT HOYLE HIS FAVORITE AUTHOR! BEFORE THE CLICK OF HER HEELS HAS FADED AWAY, HE'LL HOIST TH' SIGNAL THAT TH' FORT'S EMPTY!

A DOUBLE HOLIDAY!

GOOD HEAVENS! NO WONDER YOU CAN'T LOCATE A BABY-SITTER WHO ISN'T BUSY—USE THE EXTENSION UPSTAIRS WHERE THEY CAN'T HEAR ALL THIS RACKET!

BOO HEE OOO

UNCLE DICK! DID YOU SEE THE SWIM-SUIT THAT KAREN VAN TORSO IS WEARING?

SWIM SUIT?

OH, YES!

ONE DOES BECOME AWARE OF THE SWIM-SUIT AFTER A WHILE DOESN'T ONE?

The Berrys

MY GOODNESS! IS IT THAT LATE ALREADY?

HI, POP!

DA-DEE!

DA-DEE!

Bugs Bunny

PUT OUT THE LANTERN, BUGS! I'M SLEEPY!

BUT I'M NOT, ELMER! I'M TRYIN' TO READ!

WE'RE GETTING UP EARLY TOMORROW TO FISH AND I NEED MY WEST... THE LIGHT KEEPS ME AWAKE!

OKAY, OKAY!

Short Ribs

I NEED A VACATION!

DO YOU REALIZE THAT I'VE BEEN AROUND AND AROUND THE WORLD TEN TIMES IN THE LAST TWO YEARS?

GOSH, A SCHEDULE LIKE THAT MUST MAKE YOU TERRIBLY NERVOUS.

NOPE, JUST DIRTY.

Wash Tubbs

IT IS VERY SAD TO SEE WHAT HAPPEN TO CUBA EAST!

IS NO LONGER SAFE FOR OUT-SPOKEN FREEDOM-LOVERS LIKE MIRO! HE MUST NOT GO BACK TILL TIME IS RIPE TO OVERTHROW CASTRO!

MY FAMILY, LIKE MOST CUBANS I KNOW, STILL FEEL CLOSE TO AMERICANS! WE WANT NO PART OF THAT RANTING MADMAN WHO SELL US OUT TO THE REDS!

THAT'S WHAT REFUGEES SAY WHO GOT JOBS WITH US AFTER OUR CUBAN PLANT WAS SEIZED, RITA!

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES
 The arrow points to the "Guide-line."
 AD-RIME lines must tie in and rhyme with the Guide-line. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ads — one word in each column starting at the left. You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the Hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing — the two lines are a "jingle." One which can't win. All these firms are true and tried. But you must write original ones. Good luck — and keep trying.

'Read the Following Carefully' for Good Rhyming Words

Get a free ride on the AD-RIME bandwagon. Your line need not be dignified, but must rhyme with "GUIDE", concerning home trade, like:

"All these firms are true and tried."

Though you stride far and wide for merchants better qualified — offerings more diversified, none will serve you with such pride — as merchant friends who here abide; Their interests are with yours allied, — with stores which no one can deride. This true fact should (let us confide) to shopping habits be applied.

Dedication Saturday For Country Club Pool

The new Pampa Country Club swimming pool — nearly doubled in size over the winter — will officially open its season here at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Tom Rose, Country Club president when the pool was being constructed, will snip the red ribbon to officially dedicate the new addition. Malcolm Douglas, present Country Club prexy, will also be on hand.

After the opening formalities, a 30-minute program has been planned.

Included on the agenda is an appearance by the Aquamaids, under the direction of Mrs. Donald George. The talented sextet will give an exhibition of precision swimming and other intricate water movements. Comprising the group are Nora Wells, Jan Lively, Joy Bruce, Martha Lou Kelley, Sammy Kay Osborn and Barbara Osborn.

Highlight of the brief but impressive festivities will be the introduction of the pool's two life guards for the summer — Don Dickey of Phillips, Tex., and Gordon Collett of Belmont, Calif.

Dickey is well known to Pampa residents, having gained all-state honors for the potent Blackhawk eleven in 1958. He's now a promising junior halfback for Coach Bud Wilkenson's Oklahoma Sooners.

Collett, while not a familiar face in this area, is recognized nationally as one of the finest swimmers in the country. A three-time All-American at OU, he has thrice bettered the NCAA record in the breaststroke.

Collett is scheduled to give a swimming exhibition Saturday and there's a possibility he may add diving to the fare.

"We're extremely pleased to have two outstanding swimmers," said Warren Fatheree, pool supervisor. "We feel they will make excellent instructors in our swimming program for both adults and kids this summer."

Entertainment for Saturday's opening will be under the supervision of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly. Fatheree will act as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Dallas Track Meet Planned

DALLAS (UPI)— Dallas plans to hold both an indoor and outdoor invitational track meet next season.

The Athletic Relations Committee of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce voted Thursday to promote the two meets. Plans call for the indoor meet to be held early in February at the State Fair Livestock Coliseum, and for the outdoor meet to be held on April 13.

Collett, while not a familiar face in this area, is recognized nationally as one of the finest swimmers in the country. A three-time All-American at OU, he has thrice bettered the NCAA record in the breaststroke.

'Giant Killer' Haddix Nips Braves

Sam Takes Lead In International

DORADO BEACH, P.R. (UPI)— Slamin' Sammy Snead, playing the best golf of his career at 49, but still moaning about his putting, carried a two shot lead into the second round of the International golf championship today.

Snead matched the competitive course record at heat-swathed Dorado Beach Golf Club in Thursday's opening round with a dazzling five under par 34-33-67. That, added to 52-year-old Jimmy Demaret's 33-40-73, also gave the U.S. a three stroke lead over Australia in the four-round chase for the coveted Canada Cup.

But Sam wasn't too happy — on the surface. "Shucks," he said with a side-long grin that betrayed his inner satisfaction, "after all I three-putted the second hole for a bogey."

It was the only bogey of his round in 85-degree heat as, for the eighth time in his last nine competitive rounds, he broke 70. In the process he won his last two tournaments and it was evident he had his sight on making in three in a row.

When the opening day's play had ended on this lush layout hacked out of a mangrove swamp on the palm-studded shores of the Atlantic, Snead held a two stroke lead over a par-busting trio composed of four-time British Open Champion Peter Thomson, lanky Al Balding of Canada and 5 foot, 4 inch Ben Arda of the Philippines. They all had 69's.

Four strokes behind the front running Snead with one under par 71's came Egypt's Mohamed Said Moussa, Scotland's John Panton and Dave Thomas of Wales. At even par 72 were England's Peter Alliss and long-hitting Leopoldo Ruiz of Argentina.

Pampa Colts To Entertain Amarillo Nine

Righthander Ivan Votien will be on the mound tonight when the Pampa Optimist Colts entertain the Amarillo nine in a semi-pro exhibition game at Optimist park.

Game time is 8:15. Coaches Newt Seacrest and Henry have announced the following lineup:

Raymond Dean, catcher; Tommy Snow, first base; Ruben Strickland, second base, Larry Powers, short stop, Kenny Parker, third base, Roy Don Stephens, left field, Bobby Stephens, center field and Bobby Seitz, rightfield.

Kite flying is the favorite sport on the Maldiv Islands, a British-protected sultanate of the Indian Ocean.

Sagging Sox May Be Sold

CHICAGO (UPI)— Bill Veck, baseball's bounciest club owner, and his financial "angels," Hank Greenberg and Arthur C. Allyn, will decide by Monday whether Veck's ill health and a last place ball club justify their playing "double or nothing" to sell the Chicago White Sox.

Veck, Greenberg and Allyn were the prime investors who paid $2,325,000 barely two years ago for 54 per cent of the White Sox stock.

Now they have for decision whether to accept an offer of about $5 million from Hollywood actor Danny Thomas, and five Chicagoans, attorney Bernard Epton, investment broker Thomas A. Lewis Jr., insurance broker Hamilton Loeb Jr., manufacturer Victor S. Joseph and executive Donald McKellar.

"The thing that has made this more plausible," Veck, the acknowledged leader of the Sox group, said, "is my physical condition."

For nearly two months, Veck has been kept at home under orders of Mayo Clinic physicians, who examined him in April and who have not yet given him, he said, a final report on what ails him, or his prospects for the future.

"I'm supposed to report to them by phone on June 5," he said.

Former Foes To Testify On Boxing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two ex-heavyweight champions, who once battled each other, joined hands today in the fight to clean up boxing.

Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney planned to testify before a Senate subcommittee considering legislation to set up a federal czar to police boxing and cleanse it of underworld influence.

Both said professional boxing today was "unsavory." Both endorsed legislation to require fighters, managers and promoters to obtain a federal license before engaging in interstate bouts.

Their views were disclosed in letters released in advance of their appearance.

Dempsey, now a New York restaurant owner, said he agreed with subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., that the fight game is in a mess.

"Unless something is done through the federal government that will control and regulate boxing," Dempsey said, "the game will die."

Red Sox Shade Yanks; Redbirds Clip Giants

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

They call Harvey Haddix "the kitten" but a better nickname might be "the giant killer."

The first nickname describes the lithe, little left-hander's pitching mannerisms — adequately enough but the second is a far more accurate guide to his value to the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates this year. In fact, it's no exaggeration to say that Harvey is the principal reason the Pirates — despite all their problems — are only three games out of first place in the National League.

Haddix displayed his value to the Pirates again Thursday night when he pitched them to a rain-shortened, seven inning, 8-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The win raised his record to 4-1 and its a record that requires a second look to judge his value to the club.

Here's why. The Pirates are rocking along a little above .500 and having trouble "out-gunning" the heavier-hitting other contenders. They stand only 9-9, for example against Milwaukee, San Francisco and St. Louis — the three teams against which Haddix has compiled his entire record. That 4-1 mark thus represents a difference of six games in the standings — the difference between the Pirates' current contending position and a position that would have the world champions in dire straits.

The Cardinals enabled idle Cincinnati to take a half-game lead by beating the San Francisco Giants 7-6 and the Chicago Cubs routed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-3 in the other National League games. In the American League the Boston Red Sox beat the New York Yankees 7-5, the Washington Senators shaded the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 and the Detroit Tigers played a 4-1 tie in a game shortened in the eighth inning by a thunderstorm.

Haddix survived a shaky first inning in which the Braves scored both their runs to strike out seven and breeze behind a 10-hit attack that included two homers by Smokey Burgess and one by Dick Groat. Lew Burdette was battered for seven hits and five runs in 3 2-3 innings to suffer his fourth loss for the Braves.

The Cardinals routed Mike McCormick with a five-run fifth-inning rally to take a 5-0 lead but wound up fighting for their lives when ninth-inning homers by Felipe Alou and Willie McCovey cut the Giants' deficit to one run. The victory handed the Cardinals' three game losing streak and the loss was the Giants' fourth in five games.

George Altman hit a homer and a two-run triple and Don Zimmer a two-run homer to lead a 13-hit Cub attack that paved the way for Glen Hobbie's third win. Tony Taylor had three of the Phillies' six-hits as Frank Sullivan suffered his sixth loss.

Vic Wertz drove in three runs with a triple, single and two sacrifice flies to pace the Red Sox's 10-hit attack on four Yankee pitchers. Bill Monbouquette went 7 2-3 innings to win his fourth game for the Red Sox while Bob Turley suffered his third loss for New York.

Norm Cash homered for the Tigers and Wayne County for the Athletics before a rain ended the game in the eighth inning. It will be replayed on July 17.

Two Tied In Odessa Pro-Am

ODESSA (UPI)— Two former Oklahoma State College teammates—Bo Winger of Oklahoma City and Dick Turner of San Angelo—fired six birdies each to pace their teams to torrid 11-under-par 61s and share the first round lead in the $15,000 Odessa Pro-Am golf tourney.

The second round of the tournament began today with the same field of 98 teams teeing off. The field will be cut to the 40 low teams and ties at the midway mark tonight.

Winger played even though he is subject to a $500 fine and six months suspension by the PGA because he did not get a release from Memphis Open officials. Odessa amateur Bob French added five birdies to Winger's fine round. Seven of the team's birdies were fired on the back nine.

Turner and his amateur partner Dick Canon of San Angelo held the lead for about two hours before Winger and French tied them.

"It was one of the finest rounds I've had in a number of years," said Turner, who got eight birdies. "I didn't come close to a bogey." His amateur partner got three.

The 98 team field played in near 100-degree temperature. Winds were alternately gusty and light. Teams eliminated today can enter a 36-hole Scotch foursome which runs Saturday and Sunday.

Texas Pitcher Signs 65 G's Bonus Contract

PARIS (UPI)— Floyd Weaver, a 6 foot 4 inch Paris Junior College pitcher with an average of 14 strikeouts per game signed a $65,000 bonus contract Thursday with the Cleveland Indians of the American League.

At least 11 other major league teams were on Weaver's trail. Scout Bobby Goff signed him after Weaver whiffed 21 batters in a game in the National Junior College Baseball Tournament.

The 195-pound sophomore is from Pecan Gap, Tex.

Carry Back To Face 6 Rivals Saturday

Ambiopoise May Be Added For 93rd Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carry Back, the hero of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will face at least six rivals Saturday when he seeks a sweep of the triple crown races in the 93rd running of the Belmont Stakes.

Hitting Away, Bal Musette, Flutterby, Dr. Miller, Guadalupe and Sherluck are also expected to be named for the mile-and-one-half classic before the entry box closes at Belmont Park this morning.

The field may number eight starters if Robert Lehman, a New York investment banker, decides to start his speedy colt, Ambiopoise, who scampered to a 10-length victory in the Jersey Derby at Garden State Park Tuesday.

Lehman admitted he wasn't certain that Ambiopoise could run his best race with only a four-day rest.

"I don't want to hurt the horse," he said. "With that Carry Back in there, it shapes up as a darned tough race."

Carry Back is an odds-on favorite to become the ninth horse in history to sweep the triple crown events. That last galloper to turn the trick was Citation in 1949.

Although Carry Back is a small, skinny colt who doesn't look as if he had the strength to run across the street, he proved in his come-from-behind victories in the Derby and Preakness that he should be able to negotiate the Belmont's "test of the champion."

Jack Price, who earlier this week turned down a $1,200,000 offer for Carry Back, claims that "barring bad racing luck, I don't believe he can be beaten in the Belmont."

Most New York turf experts were willing to agree with the retired Ohio businessman. However, some sentimentalists undoubtedly will back Hitting Away, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and Bal Musette, trained by Max Hirsch.

Fitzsimmons, the 86-year-old dean of American trainers, has saddled six Belmont winners—Gallant Fox, Fairplay, Omaha, Granville, Johnstown and Nashua. Hitting Away could present "Mr. Fitz" with No. 7 if he opens a Just Who... Caught Who?

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Not only did J. R. Tims get his fish... his fish got J. R. Tims.

Joe Tom White, secretary of the Northwest Texas Field and Stream Association, said today it happened during this week's fishing rodeo.

Tims, from Holliday, caught a 49 pound catfish at Lake Kickapoo, and threw it in the back of his pickup truck. Several hours later, after he had driven to Wichita Falls to enter the catch, he grabbed hold of the fish thinking it was dead.

It was just playing possum. "That fish clamped down on Tims' hand, and bit clear to the bone," White said. "He came close to drawing back a bloody stub."

HILLARY RECOVERS KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Sir Edmund Hillary was reported today to have recovered from the slight stroke he suffered leading a climbing expedition in the Himalayas.

Milliron Edges Shelby-Ruff

Milliron Engineering, playing near flawless baseball, edged Shelby Ruff, 7-5 in a Northern League game Thursday night at Optimist Park.

John "Buzzy" Franklin was the winner, whiffing seven. Mark Frankling gave brother John a big boost by driving in three runs on a home run and double.

Supplying the batting power for Ruff was Lynn Engle (2-for-2), Johnny Marsh (2-for-3) and Kelly Taylor (2-for-3).

Ludecke Leads Cree By Bank

Winning pitcher Johnny Ludecke whiffed opposing moundman Herman Watie to insure a 5-6 win for Cree Drilling Company in a nip-and-tuck Pony League game with First State Bank last night at Optimist Park.

Ludecke whiffed seven and allowed five hits, with Watie striking out six and giving up 10 base knocks.

Ludecke, Gary Crossland and Bruce Nutt banged out two hits for the winners with Maynard and Watie providing the big blows for the losers.

Dickinson's 63 Paces Field In Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Gardner Dickinson, showing mediocre earnings this season, paced the $30,000 Memphis Open field today with a blazing 7-under-par 63, one stroke ahead of Don Whitte, the 1959 Memphis champion.

The 130-pound Dickinson, with the title "Hardluck Gardner" because of a recent neck injury and few winnings, played "the best game of my life" Thursday when he turned in his second 63 in a row. The first 63 netted Dickinson more than $400 in the pro-am event which didn't count for the $4,300 first money of the four day main tournament.

Dickinson almost chalked up a new course record when he missed "by a whisker" a birdie 2 on the 9th. Dickinson, of Tequesta, Fla., 31st in earnings at a little over $8,000, birdied the first three holes and when it was over he had added four more birdies. "When I finished, the front nine

Rawls Leads Western Open By 4 Strokes

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Betsy Rawls took a four-stroke lead today into the second round of the 32nd annual Women's Western Open at the swank Belle Meade Country Club.

The 33-year-old veteran from Spartanburg, S.C., carded a 34-35-69 Thursday to pace a field of 82 in the pro-am event on the 6,741 yard par 75 course.

Aggies Sign 2 Track Stars

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Two outstanding Gulf Coast area high school track stars were signed to pre-enrollment agreements Thursday by Texas A&M.

They are Jim Sebastian of Houston Lamar, who has traveled the 880 in 1:56.0 and Lewis Poland, a pole vaulter from Channelview. Poland was this year's dean of American trainers, has class AAA pole vault champion with a 13 feet, 8 inch vault to his record.

Kaycee Deals Tuttle For Giel, Bertoia

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics, continuing their youth movement, Thursday traded veteran center-fielder Bill Tuttle to the Minnesota Twins for pitcher Paul Giel and third baseman Reno Bertoia.

The 31-year-old Tuttle was hitting .262 in 25 games, with seven runs batted in. He hit .256 last year, after leading .300 in 1959. He is recognized as one of the best defensive outfielders in the major leagues.

Giel, 28, is 1-0 for 1961, and had a 2-0 record with Pittsburgh last year. He has worked 19 innings in relief this season and owns a 9.95 earned run average.

Bertoia, 26, has a .212 average in 25 games with the Twins, including eight runs batted in. He hit .265 in 121 games with the old Washington Senators last year.

'61 Is Year For Record Performances

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—This is a year for record-breaking track and field performances, as two world records have been bettered and two others equaled during the 1961 season, according to latest figures released by the NCAA.

The record-setting has been turned in by Tennessee A&I broad jumper Ralph Boston and Oklahoma State pole vaulter George Davies. San Jose State's Dennis Johnson, Villanova's Frank Budd and Oregon's Harry Jerome have each tied the 100-yard dash mark, and Abilene Christian College's 880-yard relay team has equaled the world record in that event.

Boston's broad jump of 27 feet 1/2 inch broke his own world, American and intercollegiate mark of 26 feet 11 1/2 inches set last year. Davies' vault of 15 feet 10 1/4 inches broke the world and American record of 15 feet 9 1/4 inches set by Don Bragg last year and smashed the intercollegiate mark of 15 feet 8 1/4 inches recorded by Occidental's Bob Gutowski in 1957.

Johnson has tied the world 100-yard dash record of 9.3 seconds on four occasions and Budd and Jerome have each done it once. Abilene Christian College's 880-yard clocking for the 880-yard relay equals the world, American and intercollegiate record set by the same school in 1958.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Tower Goes To Senate

Wherever Texans gathered this week, the talk turned to the "Republican" victory and what it means.

There are almost as many theories as there were votes. One interpretation holds that it was a deliberate affront to Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn who needed some comeuppance.

Another theory holds that the liberals went fishing rather than vote for the Democratic nominee.

"One group of liberals — what might be described as the intellectual wing — advocated the election of Tower to serve notice on conservatives that there is no place for them in the Democratic party."

One group held that the election of a Republican was, per se, a good thing inasmuch as it would give Texas a two-party system. This theory is of doubtful validity. Winning a battle does not win a war; and it remains to be seen if the Republicans can weld a political machine of enduring significance in Texas.

We are happy with the election of John Tower, whom we supported, and we wish him well. If he acts the way he talks, he will be a good senator.

Economic Myopia

Those afflicted with economic myopia seem committed to believe that a "planned economy" is a superior economy.

"Since all of us know that we must do a certain amount of planning for our own lives and in respect to our own occupations and our own property, it appears to many that a central planning agency which will professionally plan for everyone, would be far more reliable and practical than the kind of helter-skelter planning which must ensue when every farmer, village inhabitant and urban citizen does his share of planning, much of it at cross purposes.

Those who fall into this error are looking at the economic verities in a manner wholly unrealistic.

To plan an economy means that a number of things must come under immediate and total control of the planner.

Production must be planned because it would be disastrous to produce either more or less of any product or commodity than was desired. And this means the labor would have to be controlled because it would be foolish to hire more persons or fewer persons than could produce the exact right amount of goods and provide the right amount of services.

But, right away, the realist will have taken note of the economic myopia indicated in this central planning program. And he will say: "This is all well and good, but how do the planners know what to plan for me to satisfy my needs six months from now, when I myself don't know what I will want to purchase at that time?"

And the planner will have to respond with: "YOUR wants are really no important. We must not only plan the labor force and the production output, but we must plan your desires for you, too. We will so plan everything that we will be able to provide for you what you OUGHT to want, even if you don't want it."

"In other words, we will decide that every man, woman and child in this nation would be entitled to

Individual desires and wants, due to human nature, are in a constant state of flux. We don't know what we want from day to day or even from hour to hour. And a desire once satisfied, may re-occur and may never re-occur. Only the individual can make these decisions satisfactorily for himself. Even an electronic brain could not compute it successfully if individual decisions are to be valued.

When we human beings have gotten rid of much of our present economic myopia we will be in a better position to understand such things as a planned economy, a wage and planning, and the scores of other schemes which seek to substitute committee judgment for individual control and individual management. Finally, we are going to have to learn that there is no substitute for individual decisions. And however nice it might appear to be on paper if only everyone would behave the way the central planners think they should, the fact is they never will. Thus, a planned economy is a snare and a delusion. And we ought to stop being so impractical and get down to a realistic way of handling our own affairs. This can only be done individually.

HOW TO ACHIEVE UNITY

In a public appeal following the Cuban debate, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller (R-NY) said the American president "regardless of differences."

Certainly, there is no question but that in any great international crisis the American people stand as one in opposition to the communist enemy. In line with Stephen Decatur's toast in the early days of our nation, "our country, right or wrong," it has been an accepted principle of American life that politics stops at the water's edge. But that does not mean the complete subjugation of responsible criticism; in fact, that is one of the rights we fight to preserve. This country needs a loyal opposition just as much as it needs loyalty itself. Opposition — of any kind — is not tolerated in totalitarian countries.

No totalitarian nation will ever be able to shatter the essential unity of the United States. But this mood of patriotism must not be used as a shield for those who want to force distasteful schemes on the American people. It cannot be used as an excuse to silence dissenters who question government by handout and the spread of welfare state ideas and programs.

Indeed, there seems ample evidence that the American people are more ready to display real unity than are the leaders of the New Frontier. The latter, instead of seeking ways and means of uniting the American people, seem determined to push programs that can only lead to sharp divisions in the country.

If the administration, for instance, wants to stress national unity rather than national differences, it should halt pressures against any section — special group in the nation. Unity can be best achieved in the United States by putting cold water on the plans of the "civil rights" fanatics.

National solidarity would increase if the U.S. Supreme Court will show less favoritism toward communists and fellow travelers and more understanding for citizens that want to guard this nation against communism and socialism.

A new spirit of unity would be created if the Secretary of the Interior would call off his plants for pushing federal power projects over the objections of a great many Americans who want free enterprise to be strengthened, not weakened.

The President could gain a broad base of national support if he were to eliminate the wasteful spending overseas that deprives Americans of needed capital and that gains the USA no friends abroad.

The plea for unity ought not to be addressed to those who are working for national sovereignty, free enterprise and thrifty public administration. The plea ought to be addressed to those officials and groups that persist in trying to divide the American people, to introduce factional strife into the life of the nation. Those parties and political cliques that scream "minority rights" at every opportunity, talking up social schemes that are unacceptable to millions of Americans — these are the forces that create disunity in the United States.

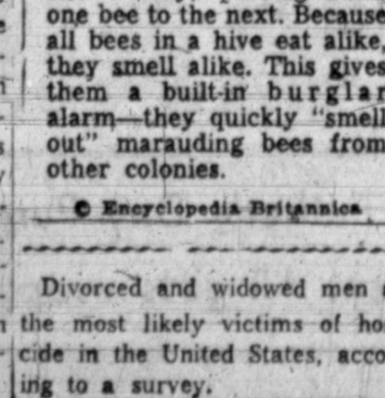

The country must close ranks if it is to defeat communism overseas. But this cannot be completely achieved while those who appeal for "unity" are bending every effort to create socialism at home.

Bogging for minority votes, pandering to the political prejudices of Big Unionism, giving free rein to the spenders and the appeasers — these things are destructive of that united Americanism that is desperately needed by the United States as it faces the Soviet challenge.

Individual desires and wants, due to human nature, are in a constant state of flux. We don't know what we want from day to day or even from hour to hour. And a desire once satisfied, may re-occur and may never re-occur. Only the individual can make these decisions satisfactorily for himself. Even an electronic brain could not compute it successfully if individual decisions are to be valued.

When we human beings have gotten rid of much of our present economic myopia we will be in a better position to understand such things as a planned economy, a wage and planning, and the scores of other schemes which seek to substitute committee judgment for individual control and individual management.

Finally, we are going to have to learn that there is no substitute for individual decisions. Pegler Says:

'Missile Gap' Aggravated By Union Racketeers

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

It has been about 19 years since a hot-eyed reporter-columnist of the same name as mine raised a wild outcry against criminal practices of unions in the war-effort racket by collusion of the Roosevelt administration and the American Federation of Labor and the CIO. From Cape Cod to San Diego, from Kansas City to New York, hither and yon, this frantic nuisance yowled and squawked. He squawked about the overtime racket, the fee and permit racket, the compulsory insurance racket and the extortion of billions of dollars. Unskilled strangers were fired off their war jobs as soon as their exorbitant initiation fee were paid off by installments and replaced by other faceless gullibles on the same terms. Jobs were sold and deferment from the military draft was an authorized union concession.

This is not to say "I told you so," although I did tell you so a thousand times. The occasion for this reminder is the disclosure that at Cape Canaveral the "missile gap" was aggravated and exploited by typical, greedy, licensed union racketeers of the Democratic party's constituency. The graft and sabotage were so flagrant that Senator McClellan, a negative man, finally was moved to say that the government had been bilked. Bilked, he said — a loud word, coming from him. There was at the moment a dramatic contrast between the vermin of "labor" and the sublime character of the young officer who had just made our first flight from Canaveral into space and back.

All the rackets of the 'Forties were complicated with patriotism and the material of treason. Draft boards were warning men to get out of "non-essential" jobs and into the "war effort." And racketeers bestrode the roads to the plants selling permits without which they were barred from war jobs and sent to the army. Union officials wrote their own deferments. It was a vile arrangement but only a minor phase of a colossal wrong. Yet, the good people, the people who did the fighting, could not arouse their moral fury. Hitler was monstrous, and the dictatorship of brown shirts over human beings an evil to be fought to death in Europe. But the wild mobs of the UAW under the Reuthers at home were democracy in action.

In 1944, Roosevelt touched off his campaign against Tom Dewey with an oration that fittingly insulted American ethics and intelligence, and two young combat naval officers were beaten up by drunken henchmen of the Teamsters Union for expressing disgust. Public revulsion was only momentary.

Ever since, for all the palaver about the Taft-Hartley and other diversions, the Democratic party, with Republican acquiescence, has refused to correct the defect in government rather than any lack of law that permits Canaveral and all such enormities.

There were 15,000 strikes in the "war effort," costing lives in battle and taxes in needless expense beyond any computer's power to guess. This was so although Kennedy's party had given the racketeers a closed shop monopoly in exchange for a promise not to strike.

The election returns did not expunge the Kennedy brothers' protective attitude toward the corrupt nature of some unions throughout the McClellan hearings and in the concurrent futile efforts of a few decent Americans, notably Sen. Barry Goldwater, to bring the jackals to heel. But meanwhile, popular conduct, first observed in Goldwater's own Arizona, is beginning to show an independent mind repudiating the established forms of unionism. Some new body-of-labor is beginning to stir in the womb of political evolution. In the Arizona state convention of the AFL-CIO, formal admission came from the rostrum that membership in all unions throughout the state had dropped one percent in a year. In Michigan but for compulsion and the power of Kennedy's national and state machines, the decline easily could have been greater.

Traveling in Europe Poses Many Problems

By HENRY McLEMORE

NICE, France — Notes From A Traveler's Logbook: Most of the time a tourist is grateful for the English translation on French menus, but occasionally he would be happier without it. . . I was smacking my lips over a fish course today until I noticed that I was eating "culet of old dogfish with tomato sauce" . . . That cooled off my appetite in a hurry . . . Young dogfish, okay, but old — well, it's not quite the same.

To get along with French coffee the American must make himself stop thinking of it as coffee, and comparing it with coffee . . . It must be looked upon as an entirely new drink . . . Using this approach, French coffee becomes acceptable, and an American can, by shutting his eyes, and holding his breath, usually manage to get down half a cup at breakfast . . . Not always, but nearly always.

European hotels make much of including breakfast in the price of a room . . . They consider it makes a real bargain . . . The European, or Continental, breakfast doesn't provide sufficient energy to allow one man to lift one feather one inch off one floor . . . Its sole purpose is to provide the waiter with an excuse for another tip . . . It takes one minute to prepare it and half that to eat it. European razor blades are so dull that a child could be given a basket of them to play with . . . To shave with them is to become a beatnik whether one wants to or not . . . I have been in France little more than a week and already I have the making of a beard that an old-style family physician would be proud to own.

To convert kilometers into miles, divide by eight and multiply by five . . . To be taken for somebody of importance in Italy, and thus ensure prompt and efficient service, a man should either wear or carry a hat . . . Don't ask me why, but it's true. Small French towns have more visual charm than small towns anywhere else, and there is one every mile or two . . . And all of them, even the smallest ones, have a bookstore and a bicycle stop.

Mystery: How do the German tourists, who travel on small motorcycles and scooters, make it over the Alps? . . . Whole families in one machine, too . . . They must take turns pushing the machine up and over the mountain passes.

Where does one go to find the antacid toward Americans that provides notable relief of anxiety?

This does not mean to say that the occasional woman may not need gland treatments to help relieve disturbing hot flashes. But glandular therapy must be only a single factor in an overall program that includes explanation and reassurance. It must be interrupted one week in each month or so and discontinued as soon as the hot flashes appear to be controlled, sooner if it causes a return of bleeding.

To be sure, explanation and reassurance are more time-consuming than the administration of a "shot." And neither contributes to the revenue of pharmaceutical manufacturers. But they're good medicine, nonetheless. And I advise those of you who need them to cherish their effects and give good karma with new motors. Excellent business last year. This season just beginning. Reasonable price. T. E. Moran, 716 Monroe, Berger, BR 3-2266.

Bills Are Signed By Gov. Daniel

AUSTIN (UPI) Gov. Price Daniel signed the following bills Wednesday.

—Amending liquefied petroleum gas code removing certain persons from licensing, by Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, to take immediate effect.

—Concerning the adoption, filing, publication, and distribution of rules and regulations of state administrative agencies, by Rep. Tony Korioth of Sherman.

—Removing real estate brokers from the occupation tax, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs, to take immediate effect.

—Providing that none of the provisions of the liquefied petroleum gas code shall apply to any pipeline company, by Rep. Bob Hughes of Dallas, to take effect in 90 days.

—Regulating the sale of eggs, by Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress, to take effect in 90 days.

—Providing that remaining money appropriated to department of corrections may be expended for certain other purposes, by Sen. Neville Colson of Navasota, to take immediate effect.

—Making it a misdemeanor to fail to release party line for emergency calls, by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan, to take effect in 90 days.

—Apportioning the state of Texas into representative districts and naming the counties composing each district, by Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, for effect in 90 days.

World's largest ship and the Navy's first nuclear-powered carrier, U.S.S. Enterprise, opens a new era at her launching. She can steam around the world 20 times without refueling.

Women Urge Safety In Lawn Mower Use

Mr. X saw the piece of wire peering innocently out of the grass but paid it no heed.

"A little piece of wire can't do any harm," he muttered to himself, and continued to push his rotary-bladed power mower.

For Mr. X... the tiny wire almost proved fatal. The rotary blade hurled the wire directly into Mr. X's heart. Only immediate open heart surgery saved his life.

"This incident happened in Dallas not long ago," a spokesman at Highland General Hospital said today.

She continued: "People who cut their lawns with power mowers should first make an effort to rid the area of nails, wires, bones and other small obstructions." The majority of power mower accident cases we treat each year are caused by a laxity in good grounds-keeping before hand.

The hospital spokesman warns potential power mower users that the three worst months for mower accidents are June, July and August.

"So far this year I haven't heard of a single case," she says, "but we're keeping our fingers crossed." In 1961 the spokesman pointed out that approximately 12 persons were treated for power mower accidents. "Many of these were pierced by flying objects — notably nails," she said. Also high on the power mower-prone list are badly mangled toes and fingers.

Mrs. Morris Bybee, assistant manager of the Craftsman Lawnmower Service, vigorously supports the hospital's views on keeping the lawns relatively free of objects.

"I'm speaking from experience," she says. "I've had my legs literally blistered by small objects thrown out by our rotary-bladed power mower."

Some do's and don'ts stressed by Mrs. Bybee on operating a power mower were:

DO'S: (1) Do wipe off spilled gas on the outside of the engine. (2) Do keep all nuts, screws, and bolts tight. (3) Do unhook the spark plug wire when working on the engine.

DON'T'S: (1) Don't fill gas tank when the engine is running. (2) Don't leave the mower unattended.

"This last don't is often violated," Mrs. Bybee said. Parents who have children should be especially careful of leaving their mower.

"Some mowers now have an ignition key setup just like an automobile," Mrs. Bybee pointed out. "This could prevent kids from accidentally starting the engine," she says.

And as a final reminder for those who have the pull cord starter: don't forget to first plant your brogan on the engine... or you just might get the mower on your foot.

Chances Termed Good For Stock Mart Price Hike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chances are better than 8 to 1 that the stock market will be higher in August than in early June, according to Spear & Staff, Inc.

Since 1897 there have been only seven years in which the Dow-Jones industrial average did not show a summer rally.

"Difficult as summer rallies are to rationalize," says Roger Spear, president, "the record is too strong to dismiss as mere coincidence."

Commenting on the Du Pont-General Motors situation, Laidlaw & Co. thinks that Du Pont shareholders can probably wait to find out about the actual divestment plan or about the extent of tax relief before deciding what to do with their stock.

Few Tears Shed Over Trujillo, Writer Asserts

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

Aside from those he protected, few tears will be shed over the death of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo.

His 31-year dictatorship aptly was called the most brutal and stifling dictatorship in all of Latin America.

For the United States, Trujillo has for years been a troublesome thorn.

Under prodding by fellow members of the Organization of American States (OAS), the United States broke relations with Trujillo's Dominican Republic last year.

But not before Fidel Castro and his Communist fellow-travelers had taken full propaganda value of the charge that by its years-long tolerance of Trujillo and his kind, the United States had proved it would ignore suppression of civil liberties in exchange for hemispheric stability.

In Latin America, with the abortive Cuban invasion still of fresh memory, the United States is seeking to re-establish its image of "good neighbor."

In crucial meetings in Paris and Vienna, President Kennedy seeks to convince both President de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Khrushchev of America's firm intent to defend the world against encroaching communism.

But at his back, the assassination of Trujillo could call for even more pressing, more crucial decisions.

Kennedy quickly demonstrated U.S. concern in his instructions to Secretary of State Dean Rusk to stick close to Washington.

The next few hours should tell whether the hapless Dominican republic now must be plunged into another blood bath at the hands of Trujillo's followers or of his opponents who have been given their greatest opportunity.

Haiti, long thirsting for revenge for the slaughter of thousands of Haitians at the hands of Trujillo soldiers, may be tempted to intervene.

So might Castro's Cuba. U.S. action will be of equal interest to Khrushchev and to Latin American leaders.

Chaos in the Dominican Republic can only complicate further the task of U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson when, as the personal emissary of the President, he visits South American capitals already torn by Castroism and threatened with upheavals of their own.

In Montevideo, Uruguay, where the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference is to begin on July 15, Red demonstrators fill the streets. From Communist embassies a flood of Communist and Castro literature spreads across South America.

In Venezuela, President Romulo Betancourt fights both Castroism and communism. Betancourt's is a desperate struggle for time to establish his agriculture and educational reforms and a true democracy. But communism is infiltrating the schools and Castroites are working quietly on the army.

In Brazil, impoverished northern peasants are close to open revolt and among them communism has made great inroads. President Janio Quadros has promised reforms and has the support of vast United States financial aid to support his bankrupt government. But both the promises and the reforms may be too late.

Bill Would Halt Deal With Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., had planned to introduce legislation today to bar the proposed tractors-for-prisoners exchange with the Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. Williams said his bill would make such an act a federal crime punishable by a $5,000 fine and three years' imprisonment. He called the proposal by Castro "an attempt at blackmail."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Wednesday that the United States still did not know whether Castro intended to carry out his end of the plan to trade 300 tractors for the release of 1,200 Cuban prisoners.

"Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, chairwoman of a private group raising funds to purchase the tractors said in New York that the tractors were available, could be shipped as soon as the deal was arranged."
