'Medical Aid For Aged' Discussed By Twentieth Century Study Club Panel

Mrs. G. F. Branson was hostess to members of Twentieth Century Club on Tuesday afternoon in her home, 2125 Christine.

"Medical Aid for the Aged" was the topic discussed by panelists, Mmes. Lloyd Hicks, Walter Pung, Bob Andis with Mrs. W. R. Campbell as moderator.

In opening remarks Mrs. Campbell commented that she would continue with the study of Congressional Action by contrasting the controversial bills or approaches to medical aid for the aged.

Panel members brought out that the Forand-type Bill would be compulsory, compete with and stifle voluntary health insurance; give regardless of need; limit its aid to give only hospitalization, nursing home care and some surgical care. "It would result in poor medical and hospital care and would also be very expensive and result in Federal Government responsibility and control," panel discussion pointed out.

While the Kerr-Mills Bill would be voluntary; would supplement voluntary health insurance; and give only to the needy the type of care needed. The expense would be controlled; the quality of medical care would be better and the responsibility and control would be at the local and state level, were the remarks evaluated by the panel.

In summary, Mrs. Campbell suggested three responsibilities of

Dear Abby...

Is It The Beginning ... Of The End?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: Below is a letter about women's shoes which provoked more than 100,000 replies in less than one week. And the letters and postcards are still pouring in.

"Dear Abby: I am sick of hearing the beefs about pointed shoes for women. The reason we sell so many is because you women must WANT them.

(Signed) She Salesman

"Dear Shoe Salesman: Please don't tell me what we women want. We take what we can get. I am convinced that the sack dress, those goofy mile-high hair-dos (that no woman can comb herself) and those hideous, pointed-toe shoes were designed by men who hate women and want to make them look as ridiculous as possible. If there is a national shoe manufacturers' association, please give me the address. I would like to send them all the mail I receive from women who protest the new shoe styles. A letter (or postcard) to this column will help — and I lead all the rest.

Abigail VanBuren"

The response, in my opinion, is overwhelming evidence that the majority of women DO NOT want the stylish pointed toes and needle heels that have been forced upon them. Thousands of girls and women have written to say they now have corns, bunions and blisters blooming where they never bloomed before. Physicians, podiatrists and chiropodists have written to applaud my campaign for the return of sane footwear for women.

I have heard from a few (very few) women who say they LIKE the pointed shoes. Fine! Let them wear them. But there should be something equally fashionable on the market for those who cannot wear pointed shoes but have bought them out of desperation.

In addition to torturing the human foot, the "stylish" shoes have been responsible for countless accidents when the tiny steel-tipped heel gets caught in escalators, shag rugs, cracks and gratings. And the damage to floor surfaces from the stiletto heels can no longer be dismissed as trifling.

I am sending the bale of mail on female shoes to the National Shoe Manufacturers' Association.

342 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y., with the following (and concluding) plea:

"Please do what you can, when you can, gentlemen, to liberate the captive feet of womanhood. It is not fair and it is not fun to hurt from the ground up in the name of fashion."

Sincerely,
Abigail Van Buren

Intriguing Drama Slated By Theater

Ever since women secured the right to vote, they have been considered "emancipated." But is there really a "double standard"? Can a wife take a lover and be excused with a wink of the eye? These intriguing questions are the core of Somerset Maugham's "The Constant Wife," sophisticated comedy scheduled May 10-13 at Amarillo Little Theatre.

Oma Link Rowley is directing the drama.

In "The Constant Wife" on Broadway, Ethel Barrymore made a comeback (after several disappointing seasons) as the "modern" wife, Constance Middleton, who dares to subject her husband to the same treatment he deals her. John Middleton has had an affair with Constance' best friend. But when Constance decides to spend six weeks in Italy with an old beau, John is upset.

In the hands of the brilliant English dramatist, Somerset Maugham, "The Constant Wife" is a delightful and thought-provoking drama in the tradition of Maugham hits which have included, "Lady Frederick," "Jack Straw" and "Mrs. Dot."

The Amarillo Little Theatre production of the play will be the last drama offered by ALT this season. Tickets, which go on sale at the boxoffice May 7th, are priced at $1.75 per adult and $1 per student and enlisted servicemen.

Rebekahs Fete Youth Clubs

Mrs. Henry Mayo, noble grande, conducted the Thursday evening meeting of Pampa Rebekah Lodge No. 355 with Miss Grace NeCase as vice grand.

Plans were made for a dinner-dance for Junior Odd Fellows and Theta Rho Girls' Club, which was held Saturday evening in the Odd Fellow Hall. Committee members in charge of the affair were Mmes. Nellie Mae Staetgen, Linzie Johnson and H. H. Wharton, food; Mmes. Ted Mastin, E. E. Safford, Nelda Monday, Golda Bennett, decorations; Mmes. Tom Beard, Roy Kretzmeier and Harold Thornhill, entertainment.

It was reported that Joe Sternbridge was ill in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Brighten sick visits were reported made by lodge members.

Ross Neugin, team captain, reported on the recent Panhandle Association meeting held in Perryton, where the degree team made a score of 963. He announced that the Association meeting will be held in Dalhart next April. Approximately 30 members attended.

It was announced that a Secretary's School, conducted by Mrs. Myrtle Russell of Electra, secretary of the Rebekah Assembly, will be held in Perryton on May 5.

Mrs. Ted Mastin won the Friendship Gift.

Macaulay On 'Democracy'

Those people who come forward perpetually, clamoring for a blind faith in the democratic process might take heed of the words of a very wise man, Lord Thomas Macaulay, in a letter written 74 years ago to his friend, H. E. Randall, had this to say:

Paralysis

An idle mind, like an atrophied muscle, both result in a kind of paralysis.

Health Needs Freedom

The Health Information Foundation of New York City makes periodic appearances upon our desk with informational bulletins relating to man's valiant struggle against ill health, disease and other enemies.

In a recent bulletin the following tidbit appeared: A group of 100,000 males born in 1900-02 could expect to put in an average of 3,106,000 man-years of work during their lives.

Reduced to non-statistical language, this simply means that in a little more than half a century, the various persons and agencies which are concerned with man's health have worked to extend the period of man's work-life by about one-third.

In 1900 a male infant could look forward to 31.1 years of labor whereas the male infant of 1958 could look forward to a work life of 42.3 years, a gain of 11.2 years. This is surely a pertinent fact and one of vital implications.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, May 1st, the 121st day of the year with 244 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1873, penny postal cards were put on sale for the first time by the United States Post Office.

In 1883, William Cody, better known as Buffalo Bill, staged his first wild west show.

In 1904, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, marking the 100th anniversary of the purchase of the Louisiana territory, opened in St. Louis, Missouri.

A thought for today: American writer Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "Nothing can bring you peace but yourself."

These evils, I will frankly own to you that I am of a very different opinion. Your fate I believe to be certain, though it is deferred by a physical cause.

Without socialized education, how would the poor get their schooling? Without the socialized post office, how would farmers receive their mail except at great expense?

Nuclear Parley At Stalemate, Delegate Says

GENEVA (UPI)—The nuclear test ban conference stands at a crossroad today with the United States and Britain searching for a means to break the Soviet-created deadlock over a Western treaty proposal.

The 30-month old negotiations recessed Friday until next Wednesday because of the Russian May Day celebrations. All three sides have scheduled full reports back to their governments during the brief respite from the conference table.

But the 30th meeting Friday came and went with chief Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin still adamant on a demand that any control commission for a test ban treaty should have three equally powerful officials in command, each with veto power over inspection on suspected treaty violations.

The West contends that a control commission with equal Western, Communist and neutral veto power would be meaningless.

The Anglo-American draft treaty proposed on April 18 called for a neutral controls administrator. Arthur H. Dean, the New York lawyer who heads the U. S. negotiators, told a news conference he would report back to Washington that the Russians have not been negotiating seriously.

He said the United States would not walk out—"we are willing to stay as long as they."

Informed sources said the future of the conference, which resumed March 21 after a recess, is now up to President John F. Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

At this point they feel that there are four courses open to the West: Stick to the conference table at all costs.

Resume nuclear weapons testing, which has been suspended since Oct. 31, 1958.

Call for a suspension of the talks and take the Western draft treaty before the United Nations to show the world that the West is ready to sign immediately.

Set a time limit on the talks.

Texas Farm Family Finds Being In Egypt With Exhibit Real Job

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Berg, Sr. of Panhandle found being in Egypt with the U. S. Exhibit of the Cairo International Agricultural Exhibition, which opened March 25 and closed Sunday, is a full-time job.

Manning a booth was not their only chore. They also visited farms, experiment stations, and the College of Agriculture of the University of Cairo, and conferred with agricultural leaders. At the exhibit the Bergs talked with visitors through interpreters, asking about their farms or their work and their villages, and in turn told about life in Texas.

"This was the part we liked best," says Mrs. Berg, "just visiting with the folks the way we do at church and at Farmers Union meetings at home."

State Residents Boost Durable Goods Purchases

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texans not only loosened their purse strings for Easter finery during March but they also boosted the long-suffering durable good market, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Retail sales climbed 18 per cent in March, a rise of 4 per cent over February after adjustment for seasonal variation. The increase was 3 per cent above the national adjusted level.

There were two contributing factors to the willingness to buy on the part of the consumer:

—Consumers are more nearly free of debt than they have been since last August.

—New claims for unemployment insurance dropped to the lowest point since last November and claims paid were lower than in mid-February, the high point.

The retail sales volume during March was estimated at $923 million, seasonally adjusted. In the March-to-March comparison, Texas sales registered a per cent rise. During the first quarter of 1961, sales fell 1 per cent short of the same period a year ago.

Durable goods, were up 19 per cent over February or 4 per cent after seasonal adjustment.

Supreme Court Eyed For Evidence Of Feud

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court meets today with observers on the watch for evidence that a feud is smoldering between Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Felix Frankfurter.

The court will announce opinions in some of the 50 or so cases now under advisement. Then it will start another week of arguments.

Last Monday for the second time in recent weeks Warren addressed some highly acid off-the-cuff remarks at Frankfurter, who sits at his left on the bench.

Some sniping among disagreeing justices has been a fact of life at the court over the years. But it has usually been confined to written opinions.

Soon after Warren took over as chief justice in 1953, it became evident that he and his peppery little colleague from Massachusetts were at opposite philosophical poles. The court's 5-4 votes bring out these differences sharply.

What has irked Warren lately is Frankfurter's habit of announcing dissents chattily instead of reading his opinion as written. In this way he uses more colorful language to taunt the majority.

Last week Warren rebelled at what he called "a lecture" appropriate for the justices' private conference room but not for delivery in public.

League Says Sales Tax Would Solve State's Financial Woes

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas lawmakers were told Saturday the House's 2 per cent general sales tax will solve the state's immediate financial dilemma with cash to spare.

A report by the Texas Research League and a new financial tactic by Gov. Price Daniel may make lawmakers reluctant to consider any more new taxation.

The Research League, a private organization sponsored largely by the contributions of Texas business, estimated Rep. Charles Wilson's sales tax would raise $265 million during the next two years.

To retire the $63 million deficit and take care of current spending not covered by taxation the state will need $159 million during the biennium.

The league pointed out that Wilson's bill would meet the needs and still leave $106 million for increased school aid and a medical care for the aged program.

Lawmakers could pass a $400 annual teachers pay raise at a cost of $64 million in the next two years, and a limited medical program at a cost of $3 million and still have money to spend, the league said.

Teachers demand an $880 pay raise at a cost of $144 million and an alternate $16 million medical plan has been suggested to take advantage of federal aid. Daniel sent a special message to the legislature this week pointing out they can pickup $73 million without passing any new taxes.

The plan hinges around his once-rejected abandoned property act, a 100 per cent increase in state college tuition, and a juggling of funds for farm to market roads.

Should lawmakers use the league's report and Daniel's plan as reasons for avoiding any more new taxes, it will leave many liberals out on a limb, including Wilson.

Wilson pledged to put a corporate income tax on business if the House accepted his sales tax. He has a 4.5 cent income tax ready for debate in the house Tuesday.

The young lawmaker from Trinity wouldn't attack Daniel's plan, but said angrily, "it certainly doesn't enhance my chances of getting the corporate income tax passed."

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street... as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.
There is no obligation—except to those you love.
WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU
With the help of your Metropolitan man—
1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.
2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.
3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points... whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.
