

Would You Like To Be A Justice?

By The AP Feature Service With the retirement of Justice Sutherland, there's another job open on the Supreme Court. It's up to the President to decide who gets it. If he should happen to pick you, would you take it?

1. A Justice gets $20,000 a year, enough for anyone to live on comfortably. For instance, Justice Owen D. Roberts, in the role of country gentleman, doesn't have to farm for a living.

2. A Justice enjoys prestige second perhaps only to that of the President. As evidence of his prestige Justice Stone is shown examining a bust of himself. Not every living man is considered worth a good bust.

3. A Justice, if he behaves, can hold his job for life—no campaigning for votes. To an politician like Justice Black (being congratulated by Vice President Garner on his appointment) it must be quite a relief to be on the receiving end of handshakes from now on.

SEARCH FOR NAVY BOMBER IS ENDED SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 10 (AP)—The huge navy force which searched for four days for a missing patrol bomber in port today, its hunt temporarily, at least, at an end.

Navy authorities made no official announcement whether the hunt has been dropped. The planes vanished last Wednesday with seven men aboard. Twelve battleships were scheduled to move out to sea this morning to resume gunnery practice, and it was reported their planes would maintain a lookout for the bomber.

Japs Occupy North China Port City

Forces March Into Tsingtao Without Opposition

TSINGTAO, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Japanese navy tonight occupied this rich North China port without firing a shot. Landing parties of Japanese marines marched in without meeting the slightest opposition.

Patrols On Duty First of the forces of occupation to arrive was a contingent of 400 marines which landed at Shatzekow, 15 miles from here, and marched in afoot.

Shortly afterward Japanese troop ships entered the harbor and began disembarking additional marines. Five Japanese destroyers lay offshore.

The Japanese posted patrols and began lowering the white flags which, in accordance with previous Japanese demands, had been hoisted on Flagstaff Hill and public buildings in token of surrender.

The only signs of Chinese hostility were the acres of dynamite, burned and looted Japanese cotton mills and other properties which the Chinese military destroyed before abandoning the city ten days ago.

100 Million Damage Destruction of Japanese properties was estimated at $100,000,000. It was the signal for the invasion of Shantung by Japan's land and sea forces now nearing the stage of complete conquest.

The entering marines were supported by naval airplanes which roared overhead in groups of three. Before the Japanese arrival of a few Americans and other foreigners, on advice of their consuls, concentrated at the Edgewater hotel, outside the zone of possible trouble.

But after the peaceful occupation Americans and others returned to their homes. The Japanese previously had warned foreigners to concentrate for safety.

PASTORS ARE BEING FREED BY NAZIS

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—Only 19 of the 94 Protestant pastors jailed for opposing Nazi church control remained in custody today, the others having been quietly freed over the holidays.

Some were paroled for Christmas and subsequently told they need not return to jail. Others were freed later in small groups, with little publicity.

Among those still confined was the outspoken Rev. Martin Niemöller, held since July 1 without trial.

Green Estate Case Reopened

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Legal representatives of Texas continued today in their efforts to prove, for tax purposes, that the late Col. E. Green was a resident of Texas.

Three other states—Massachusetts, Florida, and New York—have advanced similar residence claims in hearings before Special Master John Spaulding Flannery.

Texas seeks $5,328,543.11 as taxes on the estate. Florida and Massachusetts each claim slightly more than that amount, while New York asks $7,000,000.

Attorney General William McCraw of Texas, presenting the case for his state, said Colonel Green, son of the famous financier, Mrs. Getty-Green, always had claimed Texas as his home. He added that should all four states be permitted to establish residence proof, the taxes would more than eat up the estate.

As the New York hearing opened today Texas was represented by McCraw, assistant Attorney General R. B. Duke, Madden Hill and Robert McKinnis and Comptroller George H. Sheppard.

In the present hearing, Texas is petitioning for an order showing Green to be a resident of that state. The respondents are the states of New York, Florida and Massachusetts and Mr. Byrns Ann Wilkins, sister of the deceased.

THE SPORTS PARADE

Red Cunningham, the big footballer who was made to sound even bigger by newspapers in nearby towns during football season, has gone into training for the Golden Gloves boxing tournament here but is going to have to take a Turkish bath or two if he hopes to scale down to the light-heavy class he hoped to enter.

He weighs 185 now and is gaining every day. He claims he's not eating regularly but one look at "Clarence" will tell you that one meal a day would suffice.

One man is campaigning in San Angelo at the present time, according to Blundy Cross of the Angelo blade but there may be more of that city's young athletes who will compete here. The youngster in training (he's fighting at Wichita Falls this week) is Noah Valdez.

Blundy issued an invitation for local fighters to take part in the boxing tournament to be conducted there later in the month. The Angelo tourney will be sanctioned by the A.A.U.

Several boys of the Citizens Conservation camps of Lamesa will probably enter the tournament here, it has been announced by T. A. Holt, camp advisor.

Boxing instructions are conducted by all CCC camps and the Lamesa camp is expected to supply some strong competition.

Ellis Bend and Johnny Owens crawled into the ring of the Big Spring Athletic Club yesterday to give an exhibition for the boys gathered around the ringside and both gave a good account of themselves. Bend formerly fought in the CCC camps, Owens is being coached by his father, Frank Owens, former navy contender for the welterweight championship.

Coach Floyd Burnett is to be lauded for the excellent showing of his basketball team since taking over the coaching reins at Garner in northern Howard county. The job his Billies did Saturday night is another example of smart coaching.

Burnett sat around and watched his lads take a licking at the hands of Wayland Jr. college Friday night but he saw glaring weaknesses in Plainview's defense and had his boys out before the game Saturday night pouring instructions into their ears. Result: The Billies made exactly three times as many points as before and won by a comfortable margin.

It's going to be a merry three-way fight between Garner, Coahoma and Forsan for county honors. Coahoma showed vast improvement in taking consolation honors at the Colorado tournament while Forsan's two victories over Wilson left nothing to be desired.

Reports say that Pat Murphy's high school grid machine for the coming year will be much larger than during the '37 season. The line will probably average around 175 pounds and the backfield will come in at about 165, which is not so light for a high school team.

All members of the advisory council of the Big Spring Recreation department are reminded once again of their scheduled meeting in the city courtroom at the Murray auditorium Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

'PLOWBOYS ARE SISSIES'—FEMS NEVER LOSE

KILDARE, Texas, Jan. 10 (AP)—Out of pine-shackled East Texas comes one of the sports world's really amazing stories—the five-year reign of a girls basketball team that won 114 consecutive games.

Five years ago, in the fall of 1932, a group of 11-year-old girls started tossing a basketball at an old hoop nailed up on an improvised court. To this day they haven't been defeated.

Cosch C. C. Alexander, who banded together that group of girls at Oak Grove, a small oil community, still has the same bunch. He moved over, at the start of this season, to Kildare school. The girls just picked up and moved with him.

Winners of 108 straight games at Oak Grove, the girls have tacked on 11 more since donning Kildare spangles. Several times they have surged over the 100 point mark in lopsided victories.

Who is the star of this phenomenal team? They're all good, but Mary Watson, a forward, is the basket ringer. Mary, who has never played on a defeated team, buried 69 points in the mesh in one game and against Atlanta ran up 63.

The girls, still at an average age of less than 17, haven't picked soft spots. Twice they have toppled over the College of Marshall sextet, once they whipped Texasarkana Junior College and the victory over Greenwood, Louisiana girl champions, was overwhelming.

So far this season they have averaged 65 points per game, holding the enemy to an average 15 points. Just how good is that Kildare team?

To be exact, Alexander's boys team—runners-up in a recent East Texas tournament—took the court against the lazzies in a scrimmage game. In 10 minutes the boys walked off the court. The girls had swamped them.

THE BEST KIDS PROMISE THEY WILL BE BETTER

JOHN, 8, AND MARJORIE, 10

"We Are Going To Be Olympic Swimmers" CLEARWATER, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—A winsome little miss of 10, who swam a quarter of a mile up the Detroit river when she was only 23 months old, will tell you now that "you haven't seen anything yet."

She is Marjorie Best, who with her brother, John, two years younger, has competed in the water with other children from London to California without losing a race.

"But just wait until we really grow up," says Marjorie. "We are going to be Olympic swimmers."

This ambition is shared by the children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Best, who taught them to swim almost before they could walk. The father, a swimming coach, is anxious for the youngsters to become old enough to compete in recognized meets and races.

They are continuing the gentle, playful method of training which enabled the little girl to swim 25 feet unassisted before she was 23 months old. The institution may become a little more rigorous as the children grow older.

In her Detroit river feat, Marjorie made the quarter mile distance upstream in 18 minutes. Then she cavorted in the water nine minutes longer while photographs made pictures.

When she is not in the water, Marjorie plays with her dolls and gets a lot of fun out of making clothes for them. Football and baseball are John, Jr.'s favorite sports—next to swimming.

Romani May Be Able To Set A Few Records If He Conditions Self

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—A warning to Glenn Cunningham and Don Lash: Watch out for your world records when Archie San Romani gets in condition. The curly-haired convict, who has set a record for an international reputation, didn't think he was at his best Saturday night. Yet he hung up a new American citizen's record for 3,000 meters, and nipped the great Lash in a driving finish in the Knights of Columbus meet at the 13th Regiment Armory.

Archie, who was clocked in the brilliant time of 8:27.4 with Lash and Joe McCluskey, New York A.C. veteran, also under Joie Ray's 15-year-old American citizen's record of 8:31.5. Lash, losing the decision in a hair-line finish, was timed in 8:27.5, while McCluskey, running one of the best races of his long career, was beaten in 8:30.8.

"Maybe I was in a little better condition than I thought," said San Romani after the race. "I had no idea we were going that fast. If I had a little more experience at the distance I believe I could have beaten Nurm's world record."

Peeries Paavo hung up the international standard of 8:26.4 on Madison Square Garden's banked track in 1925.

Sharing the record-breaking with San Romani Saturday was Robert Rodenkirchen, young New York A. C. sprint star, who clipped a tenth of a second off the long standing indoor record for 100 meters when he was clocked in 10.7 seconds to nose out Marty Glickman of Syracuse.

NAME COACH TODAY

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 10 (AP)—The University of Georgia athletic board will meet today to announce formally the appointment of a new football coach, already named unofficially by reliable sources as Joel Hunt, assistant at Louisiana State for five years.

The new coach will succeed Harry Mehre, who resigned recently after directing the Bulldog gridiron activities for ten years.

Twice they have toppled over the College of Marshall sextet, once they whipped Texasarkana Junior College and the victory over Greenwood, Louisiana girl champions, was overwhelming.

Thomson Wild But Still In Front At LA

Olin Dutra Closes In With 67, Hines Is Throat

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Jimmy Thomson was still in front today as the 13th annual Los Angeles open golf tournament swung into the final round over the Wilson Memorial course.

Thomson, the big gun from Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, held a lead of but three strokes over three dangerous rivals.

The trio was Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N. Y., Lloyd Mangrum of Dayton, Ohio, and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill.

Thomson, who cracked the Wilson par 71 with a 65 and the companion Harding course par 72 with a 66 in earlier rounds, showed signs of faltering yesterday when he took a 74 for the Wilson layout for a total of 205.

Today's final 18 holes was over the championship Wilson course. Biggest local threat was Olin Dutra who carded a 67 yesterday, to land four shots back of the leader. Olin's brother, Mortie, of Detroit, Mich., shot a 67 for a total of 215.

Willie Goggin of San Francisco, fell back to the 209 bracket, but with Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Lawson Little, offered a real threat today.

Teams Shape Up Evenly

Halas Says Bears To Give Better Showing In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Jan. 10—When Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins meet the Chicago Bears in Dallas, Sunday, January 23rd, in the Cotton Bowl, the air will be filled with passes.

Baugh, conceded the greatest passer in the country today, and gets a lot of fun out of making passes by setting a league record in yards gained by forward passes, however, strange as this may sound, the Chicago Bears out-scored the Redskins during the season via the air route—17 touchdowns to 11.

Roy Bulvid, who completed 17 out of 25 passes had the highest average in the professional league circuit, and Bernie Masterson's 26 completed passes for an average of 23.6 yards per pass was unsurpassed, so "Slingshot Sam" will have plenty of competition when the two teams line up against each other.

Coach George Halas of the Bears had movies taken of the entire Bear-Redskin championship game. He has studied them at length and believes he has solved the "Baugh puzzle." The Bear squad was also given an extensive "peek" at the action as a part of the program to muzzle "The Texas Ranger."

A view of statistics will show how closely matched these two teams are. The passing attack of the Redskins was only a trifle better than that of the Bears, the former completing 99 out of 222 attempts and the latter making good on 96 out of 147 heaves. Each club intercepted 17 passes, and while the Bears made more scores due to their aerial attack, the Redskins outgained them 1,315 yards to 1,014 yards.

Halas said: "One of the reasons I am so anxious to play the Redskins again before the regularly scheduled league games next year is the fact that due to adverse weather conditions under which the championship game was played in Chicago, on Dec. 13 our team had little chance to show itself to a full advantage. I believe we can beat the Redskins any day in the week on a dry field, and I want to play them again while Sammy Baugh is still hot."

"In the game played in Chicago, our running attack could not function properly because the field was covered with ice, and was so slippery, consequently our attack and the Redskins' as well, simmered down to the forward pass. Our team admits that the Redskins' passing attack is the best—it must be so with Baugh in the line-up, and our running attack is far superior to anything the Redskins have to offer and our passing attack is far from weak. It will be a great game, but I believe we will take this time," Halas added.

GOES TO CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10 (AP)—Hearley W. (Hunk) Anderson, former Notre Dame football star and assistant coach at the University of Michigan, was named assistant football coach of the University of Cincinnati last night, acting Athletic Director Charles Milham announced.

Anderson, who coached the team down to the forward pass. Our team admits that the Redskins' passing attack is the best—it must be so with Baugh in the line-up, and our running attack is far superior to anything the Redskins have to offer and our passing attack is far from weak. It will be a great game, but I believe we will take this time," Halas added.

CALLING THE CAGERS: II

SOUTHERN HISTORY SHOULD REPEAT

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 10 (AP)—Repetition of a 2-year-old struggle between Washington & Lee and North Carolina for Southern conference basketball supremacy is in prospect for the 1938 season.

The W. & L. Generals posed out the Tar Heels in the finals of the 1937 championship tournament to win the title. The same two teams figured in the 1936 finals with North Carolina annexing the crown.

Both universities boast powerful squads again this season and will be heavy favorites despite a general improvement in the quality of teams in the 15-member circuit said uncertainty as to the effect of the new center-jump rules.

Washington & Lee's hopes of remaining on the throne are centered around two all-Southern performers, giant Bob Spessard, center, and Earl (Kit) Carson, forward. Spessard, a 6-foot-7-inch star, tallied 295 points in 18 games last season. Five lettermen are available of

Boys Take Drill With Herman Fuhrer Sunday Afternoon

Friday, Jan. 21, and Friday, Jan. 28, have been declared the dates for the Herald-Cosden Golden Gloves boxing tournament to be conducted in the City Auditorium here, it was announced by Ray Simmons, promoter.

Monday morning. Simmons contacted the boxing instructor of Sul Ross college, Alpine, to arrange for competitors from that area to make the trip here and will probably receive entries from as far west as Ft. Bliss and El Paso.

Meanwhile workouts of the local hopefuls continued at the Big Spring Athletic Club. A dozen or more fighters of all divisions gathered with Herman Fuhrer, local wrestling promoter, Sunday afternoon and received their first drill in fundamentals.

Fuhrer was due to meet with them sometime again this week for more lessons. Roadwork and bag punching was on the schedule this week as the warriors got down to serious work for the meeting.

Bob Feller Is Respected By Jerry Walker

Chi Gardener Says Cleveland Will Be Real Contender

LAKELAND, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—Gerald Walker now a Chicago outfielder to the chagrin of Detroit fans, said today he did not care to be in the major leagues indefinitely if Bob Feller was going to be around.

The 1938 pennant race, Walker said, should find the Yankees' supremacy challenged by Detroit, Chicago and the Cleveland Indians.

"Cleveland's got this Feller and I'm telling you that he's a man—not a boy," said the popular player who batted for a right near .335 average last year.

"I've seen Grove, Gomez, Row and the other fast boys, but none of them could be any faster than Feller," Walker said.

"He's learning fast, too, and that's one reason I'm glad I won't be around the big leagues indefinitely. Feller is good for another 15 years and he's going to make plenty of batters suffer."

GRANT FIGURES IN CUP TALK

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—Notes to the United States Davis cup committee: Betsy Grant is out for the team again.

Betsy added Bobby Riggs of Chicago—this country's No. 2 player—to his list of victims in the Miami Billmore tournament yesterday.

It took him five sets and all his stamina to do it, but Grant won the tournament and permanent possession of Col. Henry L. Doherty's trophy. The score: 3-4, 6-7, 5-6, 6-3.

Race Ticket Sales Open With Rush

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—The track is bleak and bare and the mile-long grandstands and infield garages at Indianapolis' automobile course resembles a "desert of villages," but it's speedway time again.

The sale of seats for the annual 500-mile race, to be held May 30, opened today and T. E. (Pop) Myers, general manager of the speedway, fairly expended optimism as he looked over a stack of orders for tickets which have been arriving by mail for weeks.

Norton Leads Ponies Along Flag Trail

Texas Plays Frogs, Owls Oppose Aggies This Week

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer

Crippled defensively, but dynamic offensively, Southern Methodist shook the dust from an eastern trip and prepared to open defense of its Southwest Conference title against Baylor's Bears at Waco Tuesday night.

One victory in three starts in the east wasn't the best average the Mustangs could bring home, but they proved to be a mob of cage fans, including 10,000 in Madison Square Garden, they knew where the basket hung.

J. D. (Sniper) Norton, slender Methodist forward, was high point man in the Gettysburg win and defeats from Long Island and Temple, wishing them in with the same form that gave him runner-up honors in the individual race last season.

Bill on the sidelines with a football injury was Charlie Sprague, rugged guard. Coach Whitley Bacus expected Sprague, sorely needed on the defense, to be ready within a couple of weeks.

Conference Opener It will be the conference opener for both Baylor and S.M.U., but critics pointed to a Methodist win. Baylor has better than an even average in pre-season games but has been able to find the basket as regularly. The Methodists play their second game of the week against University of Texas at Dallas Friday night.

After the Dallas date, Texas, winner of its first game against T.C.U., moves into Fort Worth Saturday night for a return date with the Christians. In the only other game of the week, Rice invades College Station for a Saturday night game against Texas A. and M.

Southern Methodist's most feared rivals, Arkansas, jumped away to an early lead by dropping the Texas Aggies in a pair of weekend games, 45-33 and 33-22.

Capt. Don Lockard's great goaling in the first game which brought in 18 points, was too much for the Aggies, but on Saturday night the farmers put Guard Walt Roberts on the Parker case and throttled that threat. However, they neglected Guard Jack Robbins and he sneaked upcourt during the fading minutes, to lead an Arkansas rally that wiped out a 21-14 Aggie lead and brought in a Parker triumph in the last 10 minutes. Erratic shooting killed Aggie chances.

Osborne and Chovanes, a pair of fancy forwards, draped 22 points between them to smother Christian hopes as Texas pulled in a 33-21 winner.

The Arkansas scoring pair, Robbins and Lockard, held the early individual scoring lead with 23 points each as a result of negligent Aggie guarding.

Billies Smash Wayland 24-10

GARNER, Jan. 10 — Breaking through the troublesome defense the opposition threw up in weird contrast to the performance they put on Friday night, Boyd Burnett's Garner Hill Billies managed to break even in a two game series with Wayland Jr. college's basketball representatives by winning the Saturday evening battle, 25-10.

Held to eight points the first night, the Billies threw such a barrage at the basket Saturday that the visitors never had a chance.

Froman, sinking three field goals and four gratis tosses, took high point honors for the evening while Reck and Bourland tied for high score for the losers with four points each.

The outcomes was "iced" at the half period at which time the Billies were leading, 15-8.

READING AND WRITING

By JOHN SELBY

'JEAN SIBELIUS: HIS LIFE AND PERSONALITY'

It would be a pleasure to report that Karl Ekman's biography of Jean Sibelius, published today, does justice to the composer. Ernest Newman provides the foreword, and even he apologizes for the book, saying that it is in no way a "final" biography, but that nevertheless it contains a "mass of information" about the man.

This is quite true; it does. Apparently Mr. Ekman is not a particular friend of Sibelius, but rather a man who desired to write a biography, and persuaded his subject to talk long with him. There are no references, or slight ones, to any contact Ekman and Sibelius may have had outside their "official" relationship. Also, Ekman has elected to report his conversations with Sibelius within quotation marks, which is a serious error for two reasons. It confines Ekman, and it confines Sibelius. It does not take into account the inflection of the narrator's voice, his surroundings, the gestures which may (and often do) change the meaning of words.

In other words, this book is apparently the product of a literal, not to say over-serious mind. As for the information—Sibelius' ancestors are traced sketchedly. His own career is sketched sparsely. We learn where he went, the outlines of what he did, and are told that he met certain persons and wrote certain works. His gradual acceptance in his homeland, his music and his home life are almost ignored. Indeed a rapid reader might not know that Sibelius had children if it were not for the pictures.

In the case of Saint-Saens these signs of omission and this dull writing would not matter—Saint-Saens does not matter. But Sibelius does matter, and that greatly. He is just reaching his true musical stature in American eyes, and he has done this against the mistaken feeling in some quarters that he is the sort of person one sees in Ekman's book—a "strong" personality but one rather cold and rather dull. The music contradicts this view; perhaps it would be better to go to the seven symphonies for a Sibelius biography.

TAKE THE CHARGES TO THE COURT

Representative Martin Dies of Texas stated he would move for a congressional investigation of charges made by Mr. Ickes, secretary of the interior, and Robert Jackson, an assistant attorney general of the United States, that "big business dominated by sixty families has brought about the latest economic recession in an effort to 'liquidate' the New Deal."

This paper, as a rule, thinks little of legislative investigation, which seldom produces anything except expense accounts, but it agrees with Mr. Dies that this is a case which should be made to supply proof.

Mr. Jackson is an officer sworn to prosecute violators of the laws, and United States has laws to punish conspiracy and other acts in restraint of trade. It would seem that Mr. Jackson would go to a grand jury rather than to a microphone, and present his proof.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

(Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

HANDS OF ESAU

On Thursday morning, Mr. Frank Kent echoed what has been the opinion of most commentators when he said "Neither Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, nor Robert Jackson, young Assistant Attorney General, have evinced any visible discontent with the President's message on Monday."

With this viewpoint this column is in disagreement. The President's press conference on Tuesday did not, in our opinion, reverse the implications in either the Jackson or Ickes speeches. It simply carried forward one step further a policy which now begins to assume recognizable features. The Government does not intend to "break up" monopolies in the trust-busting manner of Theodore Roosevelt, nor is it in the least influenced by the ideas of Senator Borah. It intends to use the unquestioned existence of "Big Business" in this country, which is the inevitable result of mass production, as an argument for extending government regulation to all business, with promises to the "little man" that this regulation will turn out to be in his interest rather than in the interest of the big fellows.

This column is convinced that there is a program. From just what group it emanates, and just what its sponsors are, is not quite clear. It is certainly not the program of a consensus of the Cabinet. These are not the ideas of Mr. Hull or Mr. Roper or Secretary Perkins or of Marriner Eccles, or Mr. Morgenthau. It is certainly not the program of the Democratic Party. It is certainly not the program of the United States Congress. But it is a program that in default of any other may yet be pushed through by direct agitatory appeal to the American public under a barrage of confusing propaganda.

There ought to be at this moment a clarification of the basic conflict between Economic Liberalism and the Social Fascism of this Administration. We are enormously misled by the absence of any kind of colored shirts, and by the widespread belief that programs of National Socialism emerge historically from the "Economic Royalists." A year ago in this column, we telephoned Professor Paul Einzig's description of the Corporate State to 1200 words which were so remarkably descriptive of the basic thinking of the anonymous socialist who are all that is left of the New Deal, that it was startling.

At a meeting of the National Policy Committee at "Goodwood," held in Richmond, Massachusetts, in September of last year, Dr. Mordell Ezekiel of the Department of Agriculture, one of the leading blueprint boys of the Administration, made this policy perfectly clear. He proposed "that a plan be worked out which would reward industry for expanding production and payrolls according to interlocking concerted programs, and penalize non-expanding industry. Expansion programs to be drawn up by code authorities representing functional interests. This plan might be drawn up first for each larger industry and then coordinated through inter-industry code authorities. The program would be based on contracts between the Government and cooperating concerns similar to the original A.A.A. contracts, but would provide for expansion of production rather than contraction."

This is essentially the program enumerated by the President on Tuesday. Any such program of course, presumes an extension of government control, in the same manner, over labor organization, and in the President's message to Congress he hinted that this is also contemplated. He is against the power of labor unions being sanctioned unless they accept obligations. But there is no proposal to amend the Wagner Labor Relations Act, but rather the thought is somewhat vaguely formulated that labor, business, and government should be intimately integrated in a system which in the long run government would control.

Since then the President has indicated that he is opposed to certain features of the A.F. of L. organization and that the Administration throughout has consistently leaned toward advocating industrial unionism rather than craft unionism. Why? Because craft unionism runs against the idea of the vertical Labor Front, which alone could be integrated in a Corporate system

GOES TO BAYLOR U.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 10 (AP)—Dr. J. C. McElhannon, dean and director of the department of education of Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers College, Durant, submitted his resignation to the state board of education today, effective immediately.

A. L. Crable, state superintendent, said Dr. McElhannon had accepted a position at Baylor University, Waco, Tex., at a substantial increase in salary. At Southeastern, he received $3,600 a year.

Dr. McElhannon came to Southeastern last fall from a Huntsville, Tex., teachers college. And it is challenging and it will continue to challenge the Administration's attempt to follow up its failure to deal with its own depression, by trying to foist on the American people a program of "democratic" Fascism.

DARE TO DREAM BY ALICE MARIE DODGE

Chapter 31 "YOU'RE GONNA GET HURT!" The hum of her neighbors' cars had scarcely died away when Nelda heard the grunt of a motor approaching the house. As the car stopped she recognized it as belonging to Jose. He leaped out, agile and graceful as a panther. "Look! Look!" he cried, extending a slip of paper to her. "W-what is it?" she quavered. "Tied to these." He held out a large piece of concrete. "Break Jem's window." She took the paper to the headlights of his car and read: "This is just the beginning. Better stop working in the fields. You mean this was thrown through a window where one of your men lives?" she asked. "Yes. Break window. Jem and his brudders. Scared. Won't work any more." "Won't any of your crew work tomorrow?" "Mebbe."

Cutting Lettuce

Dawn was whitening the sky when she rose next morning. She put on one of Jack's old white shirts and a pair of his discarded trousers. On her head she thrust a large floppy hat of thin straw that she'd once worn on vacations at fashionable beach resorts. She was in the field ready to start to work when Jose arrived with 10 grinning men. "Now," she said to Jose, a pang of authority in her voice, "I'm ready to learn how to cut lettuce." "Yes, Mees." He bowed respectfully. "Like thesea." He knelt down and cut a mature head with a long, pronged knife. She saw that no special skill was required and was soon busily at work. The Filipinos, she noticed, stayed as far away from the highway as they possibly could. She knew that they feared a repetition of yesterday's shooting. She took that section of the field for her own operations, for there were many fine heads of lettuce in it. Once when she stood upright to take a rest she saw two women driving along the highway in an old sedan with no top. She was surprised when the car backed up and stopped abreast of her. "Hey, you!" the woman at the wheel called strictly and brightly. "You're gonna get hurt if you don't stop lettin' them scab pack your lettuce!" Liz warned. "I told you I'm going to sell my crop."

"Let's rush her!" Liz cried. "Come on." The other struck out at Nelda. Liz made a grab at Nelda's hair, but desisted abruptly and, putting her hands to her back, gave a howl of pain. "You hit me!" she shouted at her companion.

"I did not!" the other woman shouted back and ceased hostility to gaze in amazement at Liz. Then she gave a jump and clutched herself in the back. "Who did that?" she demanded. "Look!" Liz screamed and pointed to the highway where Manuel stood with a singshot in his hand, a threatening look in his eyes.

The women studied her silently. "I'm trying to earn enough money to enable me to finish college," she continued. "You can't know how I've watched my crop from the time it first came up." "Well—" Liz offered, "it ain't you're fightin' so much as it is the scab owners."

"That's it!" the other woman said. "You see if we let lettuce get into the sheds for them scab workers to pack we won't win our fight."

"That's why we have to get tough," Liz added. (Copyright, 1937, Alice M. Dodge)

Asserts Year Will Be A Good One For Texas Farmers

AUSTIN, Jan. 10—From J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, to Texas farmers went the advice today to "cheer up." McDonald said the ground contained ample moisture to make prospects bright for a successful farm year and that farmers had an abundant supply of feed on hand.

"Considering all known factors," he said, "and the expectation that congress will pass constructive agricultural legislation there is reason to believe 1933 will be a good year for agriculture and general business throughout Texas and the south." He warned, however, "it is imperative that the greatest diversification be practiced this year, planting liberally of feed and food crops and utilizing to the fullest extent the national soil conservation program."

RECIPROCAL POLICY CREDITED WITH GAINS IN COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The state department credited a portion of the $1,499,000,000 increase in America's foreign commerce in the first 11 months of 1937 to Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade policy to day.

"There are definite indications that the trade agreements program is helping to promote mutually beneficial trade between the United States and other countries," the department said.

Observing that it was not possible to separate completely the factors contributing to the general increase, the department added:

"It is significant x x x not only that our exports have gained relatively more to the agreement countries as a group than to non-agreement countries but also that imports of American products into the agreement countries have generally increased more than have imports of the products of other countries."

"In other words, the relative position of the United States in those markets has improved."

This country now is preparing to negotiate a commercial pact with the United Kingdom—a project regarded as the most important in Secretary Hull's program to expand international trade by breaking down tariff barriers.

Statistics made public by the department showed that the total two-way trade with the 14 nations with which agreements were in effect during all of 1936 rose from $1,719,330,000 in the first 11 months of 1936 to $2,262,517,000 in the same period of 1937, an increase of 31.5 per cent.

Trade with all other countries increased 35.5 per cent during the same period—from $2,784,378,000 to $3,699,537,000.

N. JERSEY TO DRIVE UNSAFE AUTOS OFF THE HIGHWAYS

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 10 (AP)—An army of special-inspectors states inspectors climbed over and under thousands of New Jersey autos today as the motor vehicle department started compulsory tests to drive unsafe cars from the highways.
All "rattle-traps" were doomed, but E relic of pre-war days that had been kept in shape stood a better chance than a sleek 1938 deluxe with cock-eyed headlights or lazy brakes.
Thirty-day jail terms and $300 fines for recalcitrants were written into the law which went into practice effect today with the opening of 28 inspection stations.

Liquor

will be in line for the permits.
He cited a ruling by E. F. Pruechte, liquor control board advisor, to the effect that "a business establishment so called drug store, but which has not compounded prescriptions under the supervision of a regular pharmacist" during the past two years and which place was engaged only in the sale of patent medicine and the like will not be qualified under the law to receive a medicinal pharmacy permit."
Morris listed subsection 18, article one of the Texas liquor control act on the same point: "Any pharmacy for which a permit is sought must be a bona fide pharmacy; must employ and have on duty at all times a registered pharmacist and must have been in operation as a pharmacy for at least two years in the particular political subdivision in which a permit is sought."

Business

(D-SC) Du Pont said his company made about $7 a share on its common stock in 1937 as compared with about $6 in 1936.
Tax Uncertainty
He gave figures from memory, however, and asked committee not to "hold me to them."
Du Pont asserted, however, that tax uncertainty, the fear of higher prices due to the rising public debt, uncertainty as to the value of money, the number of strikes, and "fear of changes in and the multiplication of the legal rules under which business must operate" had contributed to "the present fog" of business.

of these, or any other license applications, may be filed now, Morris pointed out.
Should the court hold against contentants in the hearing Wednesday, all alcoholic beverages (from beer to whiskey) will become illegal in Howard county midnight Friday.
The commissioners court, canvassing returns of an election in which Howard county voted dry by a 118 majority, fixed that date for the termination of legal liquor sales in the county.
