It seems a more than safe assumption that leaders of Southeast Asia were unanimous in delivering to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson a single warning message.

That would be: There can be no further retreats such as has occurred in Laos if the United States wants to retain its friends in that area of the world, or, what is worse, save them from being swallowed up quickly by the Communists.

The Laos debacle has shaken badly Southeast Asia's faith in the United States and in SEATO, the organization that was founded specifically to save nations from the fate which now appears about to overtake Laos.

The experience was all the more a shaking one, coming as it did immediately after Secretary of State Dean Rusk's promise that the United States would not permit the sacrifice of Laos.

Southeast Asia nations feel that sacrifice already has been made, regardless of what may occur at Geneva.

Japanese government leaders have been quoted as believing that the whole of Southeast Asia within 24 months if Laos is written off.

Both the Philippines and Thailand have made no secret of their disappointment at SEATO's failure to take strong action against the Communists in Laos, and Thailand even has hinted it may have to re-examine its whole alignment with the SEATO forces. American diplomats in Thailand say the Thais already have had down-to-earth talks with the Russians, with a view toward improving relations between the two countries.

There also is talk that Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat, bulwark against communism in Thailand, might be permitted to resign so that a neutralist government could take over in the manner of Burma and Cambodia.

It is no secret that Red China long has been preparing forces to infiltrate Thailand.

It can be reported with authority that influential persons in the Philippine Foreign Office feel if Laos falls, the Philippines should adopt a more "flexible" attitude toward the Reds.

It may be that the United States will get a second chance in Southeast Asia. But as of now it has a long way to go to recapture the former faith of its allies.

Jury Finds Payola Defendant Guilty

NEW YORK (UPI) — Disc jockey Peter Tripp was convicted yesterday of having taken up to $35,000 in "payola" from record makers and distributors.

The technical charge of which Tripp was found guilty was commercial bribery.

A three-judge court found the disc jockey guilty of 35 of 39 counts that charged him with taking payola in exchange for playing the record-makers' selections on his local radio program. The court fixed June 30 for sentencing. Tripp faces a maximum term of one year in jail and a fine of $500 on each count.

Real opera is said to have had its birth in 1600, when "Euridice" composed by Peri and Giulio Caccini, was produced.

Association Formed To Sponsor Outdoor Theater At Canyon

CANYON (Sp) — An association was formed in Canyon recently to sponsor the building of an out-door theater in Palo Duro State Park. The theater would be run on the pattern of summer theaters across the nation. The proposed play for the theater would be a historical drama concerning some phase of the Canyon's history. Paul Green, noted historian, author, and Pulitzer Prize winner and John Parker, historian, director and professor of drama at the University of North Carolina, were in Canyon to discuss the possibility of writing the play for such a theater. Green has several plays of the same type in production across the nation. He calls them "shrine dramas". They are written about actual historical happenings. The present association, is planning to form into a non-profit corporation and issue revenue bonds to finance the venture. The present seven member board with Mrs. Ples Harper as president is serving for the organizational period of six months. At the end of that period elections will be held and the board memberships will be open to the area.

The next meeting of the board will be the second Sunday in June and they hope to have as their guests at that time, interested people from all towns in the Panhandle.

The estimated cost of the theater and opening for the first season is $150,000. Judging by the other successes of Green our location is favorable and he seemed to think that our story material about the Canyon was available and interesting. In other locations these plays have become primary points of tourists interest. Members of the association will visit all towns in the area before the next meeting and attempt to create interest in the project of the organization. Members of the board are Mrs. Ples Harper, Pete Cowart, Jerry Lagrone, Mrs. Dorothy Neblett, Raymond R. Hilliard, William A. Moore, and Aven, Lair.

Stock Exchange Probe Expected To Have No Influence On Prices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street has agreed that the Securities & Exchange Commission's investigation of the American Stock Exchange operations would have no long-term influence on stock prices.

But most of the experts agreed the investigation — expected to be the broadest and deepest into a stock exchange operation since the crash of 1929 — would have some effect on some issues. They differed in the degree to which it would be felt.

Officials of the American Exchange said they welcomed the investigation and they felt "unwarranted inferences" had been made in some quarters as a result of action taken by the SEC against a father-and-son team of stock specialists who were expelled from the exchange May 4. But it was accepted without question that in stock trading circles, the American Exchange had been drawing unusual attention recently from investors.

Last Friday, the American Exchange for one of the few times in its history topped the "big board," the New York Stock Exchange, in the volume of shares traded — 5,439,000 against 4,841,336 for the NYSE. On the preceding day, it hit 4,840,000. They were the biggest volume days since Oct. 25, 1929.

More importantly for the public, from those same investigations was born the SEC, which announced its new inquiry Monday at the close of trading for the day.

The SEC through its enabling legislation set up what were regarded as "strong safeguards" for the investing public, and one thing investigators in the current inquiry seemed sure to aim for was an answer to the obvious question: How could such manipulations as are charged to the father-and-son team of Gerald A. and Gerard F. Re come about with the SEC regulations what are?

The SEC ordered the Re expelled from the exchange 10 days ago and revoked the registration of their firm, Re, Re & Sagarese. The SEC investigators accuse the Re's of rigging nine stocks which resulted in a loss of millions of dollars to unsuspecting investors.

The exchange suspended the Re's when the investigation began. The SEC penalties were the most severe it can impose.

'Ham', America's Astronaut, Seems Forgotten 'Celebrity'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Once he was the toast of the nation and a name familiar to newspaper readers on five continents, including Australia.

Millions saw him on television and thousands more saw him in a motion picture which was hailed as one of the most important documentaries ever filmed.

Now he is all but forgotten, a has-been doomed to obscurity and dependent on the government for his daily sustenance.

And that shows how fleeting fame is, for his rise and fall as an international celebrity were telescoped into a few short weeks. I am referring, as you already may have guessed, to "Ham," America's original astronaut.

I got to thinking about Ham Wednesday as I was witnessing, courtesy of the House Space Committee, the first public showing of the official film of last week's man-in-space flight.

It so happens that I also was on hand last February during the first public showing of the film taken on Ham's trail-blazing trip. Ham at that time was at the height of his glory, little realizing

Personal Incomes Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New evidence that the economy scored a strong, widespread gain in April was reported today by Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

Hodges announced sizeable increases in personal incomes, especially wages and salaries, and in factory sales and new orders.

Individual incomes reached a record annual rate of $410.3 billion, up $2.3 billion from the March rate and $4.1 billion from the February pace. Wage and salary payments advanced sharply, with more than half their increase in manufacturing.

New orders and sales of durable goods each advanced 4 per cent in April, an unusually large increase.

These statistics supported earlier government reports of a snappy 2 1/2 per cent April rise in industrial production and an unusually large pickup in non-farm jobs.

Mexican Labor Union Agitation Curbs Pondered

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The secretary general of the powerful Confederation of Mexican Workers indicated here there are signs of recent agitation among Mexican labor unions by elements interested in the Cuban situation.

Fidel Velazquez said that means to keep workers from pressure by agitators will be discussed at a meeting here late this month of state secretaries of the confederation.

"There are forces pledged to agitate the forces of production of the country," Velazquez said. He said it is necessary for Mexican workers to know the true situation regarding U. S. and Soviet intentions toward Cuba.

"The confederation is against the policy of both the U. S. and the USSR in relation to Cuba," he said. An earlier statement indicated his group supports the official Mexican government stand of non-intervention.

Ray Chastain, outgoing president presided over the meeting, and reminded everyone that May 20, Memorial Day, is the deadline to complete the cemetery project, and urged all that could do work.

The flag salute was given by Jay Bussell L. D. McCaley led the invocation, and Earl Atkinson led singing, accompanied by Betty Williams, pianist.

FOR BETTER LISTENING

NORTHOLT, England (UPI) — Teachers felt sorry for the pupil who turned up at Elliott's Green School wearing a hearing aid.

When another came in with a hearing aid, and then another, the teachers got suspicious.

The "hearing aids" were ear-phones hooked up to transistor radios.

Embezzlers Must Pay Income Tax, Supreme Court Decides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has ruled that embezzlers must pay federal income tax on their loot.

By a 6-3 vote, the court Monday overruled a 1946 decision to the contrary. An opinion by Chief Justice Earl Warren said the 1946 opinion had been "thoroughly devaluated" by later reasoning.

At the same time, the court reversed the tax evasion conviction of Eugene C. James, Chicago labor official, found to have embezzled more than $738,000 from 1951 through 1954 from his union and an insurance company with which the union did business.

The vote on overruling the James conviction was 8-1. Justice Tom C. Clark cast the minority vote.

Warren's opinion said James could not be held to have acted "wittingly," as the law specifies, so long as the law contained "the gloss placed upon it" by the court's 1946 decision.

Warren said there has been widespread recognition of the taxability of "unlawful gains of many kinds." These, he noted, include protection payments to racketeers, ransom payments to kidnappers, bribes, money derived from sale of unlawful insurance policies, graft, black market gains, lottery receipts, income from race track bookmaking and illegal prize fight pictures.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The amateur photographer has become a part of the American scene, and no one could be happier than the photo finishing industry.

With the added amount of leisure time and the increased sales of cameras, more Americans are taking more pictures than ever before.

Photography has grown twice as fast since 1950, according to Benjamin Berk, president of Berkeley Photo, Incorporated.

He noted that the industry at present is in the midst of the biggest season of its best year. Easier photography continues to come in, and with Mother's Day, Father's Day, graduation and vacation pictures in the offing "we are geared for the greatest volume we have ever handled," Berk declared.

Interestingly, about two-thirds of Berk's volume is in amateur color photography. Amateurs are far ahead of the professionals in use of color, but even the pros are moving increasingly toward color now.

The industry's dollar volume of black and white processing has increased by 10 per cent since 1956, while color processing has forged ahead nearly 70 per cent.

Berk noted that nearly twice as much money is spent on color processing as is spent on black and white, with especially strong volume in 8mm movie film and in negative color film made to fit all amateur cameras, such as agfa-100 and coloroid.

Total photo finishing volume is increasing by about $23 million each year and now amounts to about $375 million.

Contributing to the great growth of the photofinishing industry has been the electric eye camera which has made photography simpler for the amateur and increased his chances of seeing more pictures to the roll, according to Bernard Deitchman, president of Scopis, Inc.

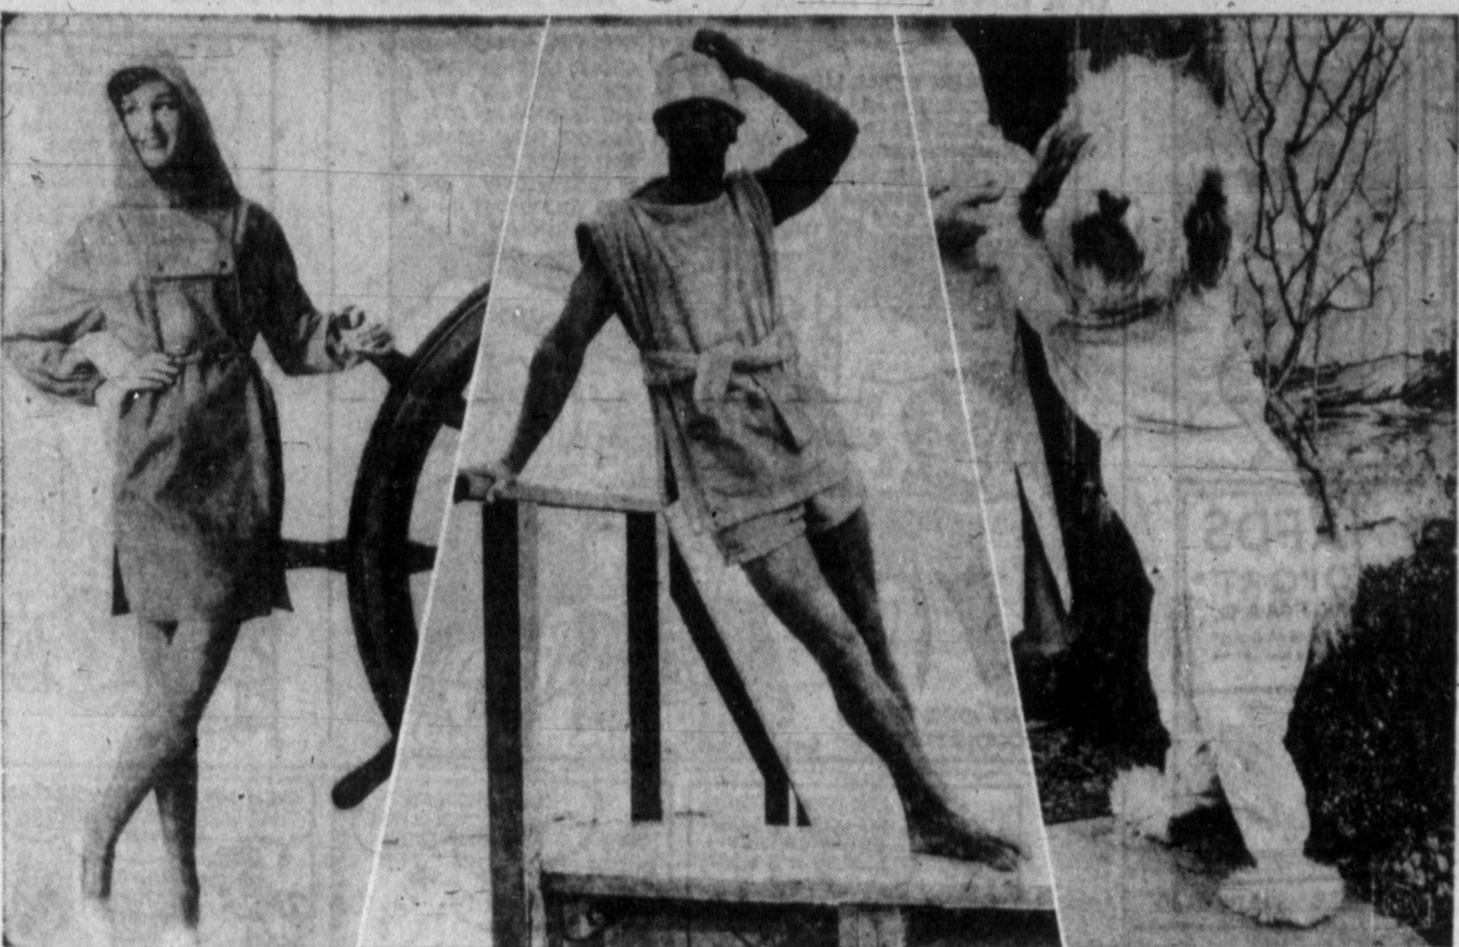

He also noted that there are 40 million cameras tucked away in American homes awaiting warm weather and sunny skies. And that's not counting another five million motion picture cameras.

The president of Kling corporation said the increasing popularity of color also has attributed to the growth of the photofinishing industry. He added that with the new fast color films, and use of the flash, color photography has become an around-the-clock hobby.

The photofinishing industry is seasonal in nature. And within season, volume usually runs high at the beginning of the week and tapers off slightly toward the week's end.

The Spring season, late Summer and early fall, and Christmas are the best times of the year for the photofinishers, but the lows the industry used to experience between these periods have gradually diminished.

Although there are more than 3,900 photofinishers in the United States, fewer than 500 of them process more than 10,000 rolls of film a month.

Chemical Sprays Used On Farms Vital Problem To U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commissioner George P. Larrick of the Food & Drug Administration is a man with approximately 6,000 problems, some of which cannot be seen with the naked eye. Half of his problems are caused by the 3,000 chemical preparations that farmers spray on fruit and vegetable plants to ward off insects and diseases.

The other half are caused by the 3,000 chemical preparations that food processors use to make various grocery items more attractive to consumers. "You didn't have to mention it," Larrick replied. "You mean the cranberry deal?" asked Rep. John E. Fogarty, a Rhode Island Democrat who believes in being specific. "I didn't mention it," Larrick replied.

"You didn't have to mention it," Fogarty said. "But that is what you were referring to, isn't it?" "That is exactly what I was referring to," Larrick conceded. The commissioner also told the subcommittee that the high price of modern drugs has been attracting underworld elements into the pharmaceutical field.

Some of the criminal types who in the past might have made counterfeit money now find it more profitable to make counterfeit pills. Others have taken up medical bootlegging. Larrick's agency, using modern detective methods, has learned to identify counterfeit pills by comparing them with genuine samples under a microscope.

"We look at the markings that are put on them when they are stamped out—just like a fingerprint expert can identify a person by his fingerprints," he explained.

As just one example of what can result from the sale of impure or impotent medical products, Larrick cited the case of a 71-year-old woman who began taking vitamins each day. Eventually, she had to undergo surgery. During the operation, doctors found 31 undissolved capsules in her stomach.

Accident Proneness Considered As Cause Of Many Fatal Mishaps

AUSTIN — Accidents killed 93,000 Americans last year — including more than 5,200 Texans. How many of those people died because they were "accident prone?" asks the Texas State Department of Health. Continuing the Department says:

"There is no way of knowing, of course. 'Accident prone' is a phrase coined by the experts — psychologists, industry men and others on the theory that many accidents result from the victims' emotional make-up.

"Studies by agencies interested in health and safety have shown that relatively few people are responsible for a high percentage of accidents. Conclusion: a person who has had one accident is more likely to be involved in another one than a person who has had none at all.

"State Health Department studies confirm this. For example:

"An industrial firm tries to reduce accident rates among heavy equipment operators by ordering a painstaking investigation into every mishap. Everything from shop environment to operator reaction time is checked.

"The accidents continue despite an intensive educational campaign. But when the operators with bad records are transferred to other jobs, accidents involving heavy equipment fall to one-fifth the former rate.

"The transferred operators? They keep on having accidents on their new jobs and at home.

"The experts have traced definite personality patterns among accident-prone people. Almost invariably they are impetuous, following impulses without deliberation or planning. Their decisiveness is, in reality, a drive for independence and self-reliance.

"For the most part, investigators have found they have a history of neurotic traits in childhood. They simply reach a point, in their failure to handle an emotional situation, when an unpleasant happening becomes a physical and emotional necessity.

"Result: an 'accident.'

"But, while admitting that such a thing as accident proneness exists, Texas health officials still prefer to stress environmental hazards and biological conditions such as fatigue, temporary stress - produced inattention, impaired vision or hearing or underlying disease as the major culprit in accidents.

"Too much emphasis on accident proneness, they feel, tends to obscure the need for correcting defects in industrial equipment, slum housing, inefficient traffic systems and inadequate playgrounds."

U.S. POPULATION INCREASES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau estimated today that the nation's population on April 1 was 182,952,000.

This was an increase of 2,948,000 compared with the population on April 1, 1960.

Both figures included U.S. servicemen abroad.

Americans spend about 1.7 billion dollars annually for dental care.

Waterflooding Will Be Theme At API Session

The API Panhandle Chapter will hold its last Spring meeting tomorrow, May 18, at 8 p.m. in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn. The main part of the program will be a symposium on waterflood equipment and problems affecting waterflooding operations in Gray, Carson, and Hutchinson Counties.

Key personnel of companies with active waterflood projects in this area will take part in the symposium which will be moderated by Paul M. Wiley, program chairman.

Martin F. Ludeman was elected chairman of the Panhandle Chapter API at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, according to an announcement by the Executive Committee Chairman, M. G. Rogers. The resignation of former chapter chairman, Max A. Bolick who is being transferred to Great Bend, Kansas, was accepted at the same time.

Ludeman said the waterflood symposium tomorrow night will be one of the most timely and informative programs of the year, and that due to wide local interest in the subject, the public is invited to the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Meet Slated On Jobless Insurance

A meeting of employers in the Amarillo area to discuss new developments in the Federal-State unemployment insurance system will be held at 9:30 a.m., May 24, in the Shamrock Auditorium of the First National Bank building, according to J. J. Pickle, commissioner.

Pickle said the one-day meeting is being arranged at the request of and in cooperation with a number of state and local organizations whose members have a direct interest in the programs carried on by this commission.

Pickle points out that this meeting is for top management as well as for those who prepare tax forms. "We will be dealing with facts and figures which should be helpful to employers in planning for the future," he concluded.

Feller Wows 'Em

LL Kickoff Is Big Success

Amarillo Slips To 3rd In TL

By United Press International
Valley dumped Amarillo into third place in the Texas League Tuesday night behind San Antonio with a 5-3 victory, while Tulsa climbed out of the cellar, whipping Austin, 3-0, on Lou Vickery's five-hitter.

Little League season was ushered into Pampa last night amid rain, hail and other weather conditions.

It could have been a dismal failure. It wasn't. Shortly before 6 p.m., old Sol popped through the clouds and the opening game festivities went off as scheduled. Star of the show, naturally, was Rapid Robert Feller, who arrived in the city a little after 5 p.m. via private auto from Amarillo. "This always seem to happen to me," moaned Rapid Robert as he observed the tear-filled skies.

Later, while addressing an estimated crowd of some 500 spectators, Rapid Robert delivered a short but to the point speech which seemed to more than satisfy the hardy souls who had braved still threatening skies to hear the former Cleveland Indian pitching great.

Frequently, the crowd joined in with loud applause, especially when the articulate Mr. Feller, gave out with the lively anecdote. His talk had its serious points too.

Feller, still looking lithe and trim in his tailored baseball uniform, admonished the Little Leaguers to refrain from the use of alcohol and tobacco if they wanted to be a good ballplayer. "My father one day asked me a favor," Bob related. "He asked me never to use tobacco or alcohol until I was 21 — and I never did. To this day I still don't smoke."

Feller pointed out to his youthful listeners that there were several more important things than making money.

"Health is very important to growing boys," he said. Each of you should eat three squares a day."

In conclusion, Feller advised his young audience to always maintain a strong character. "Character is like a shadow," he said in illustration. "It always follows you around."

Feller was introduced by Bob Izzard, of KGNC TV of Amarillo, the master of ceremonies. In introducing a "legend of baseball," as he put it, Izzard spied off a short anecdote that best explains the place the ex-major league fireballer has in the hearts of the average little leaguer.

"Two boys were playing catch one day," Izzard related, when one of them rared back and fired his Sunday pitch. "The other boy, after catching the harder-than-anticipated heave, hollered back: "Who do you think you are—Bob Feller?"

Tuesday afternoon, every single boy who sat enthralled at the seat of the pitching master, would probably have wished this last remark was so.

After his brief speech, the fireballer entertained his appreciative audience with a 15-minute demonstration on the finer points of pitching. With Newt Secrest, past president of the Pampa Optimist doing the catching honors, Feller showed the gaping throng that he could still rare back and fire that hard one. Indeed his curve ball was a thing of beauty, breaking sharply down and away.

Other Highlights: Mrs. Inez Carter and M. K. Brown received a bouquet of roses and plaque respectively for their outstanding service to Pampa's baseball program. Brantly Hudson Jr., Scout Executive, Adobe Walls Council, received the plaque for Mr. Brown, who was unable to make the ceremony.

Pampa Mayor E. C. Sidwell gave a short talk, welcoming the famed Feller.

"We're proud of you, Bob Feller," he said, "and hope you can pay us a longer visit soon."

Feller departed for Amarillo immediately following the kick-off ceremony. He said he planned to catch a plane from there to Chicago, staying there briefly before traveling on to Cleveland, his home.

Handicap Rivals Each Win Race In Whitestone

By United Press International
Udaipur and All Hands, probable rivals in the $100,000 Metropolitan Handicap, enjoyed encouraging workouts for their Memorial Day engagement by capturing the two divisions of the $10,000 Whitestone Handicap at Aqueduct on Tuesday.

Udaipur had much the tougher struggle in winning his division, outstriking the persistent Divine Comedy by a neck at the wire. Hedy Woodhouse, aboard Udaipur, was content to rest in second place for most of the seven furlong event and timed his move perfectly to bring the 4-year-old son of Nasrullah home in front.

All Hands moved ahead at the quarter-mark of his division, and under Eddie Arcaro stayed there all the way to score by three lengths over Natural Bid.

It was only the second victory of the year for both Udaipur and All Hands. Udaipur was clocked in 1:22 4-5 and returned $9.20 and $3.50. All Hands, timed in 1:23 paid $5.00, $3.20 and $2.30.

Veteran jockey Raph Neves rode Oil Royalty to victory in the $15,000 added stakes at Hollywood Park. Ross O'Neill was second and Amri-An was third. Oil Royalty negotiated the six furlongs in 1:09 3-5 and returned $15.40, $8.20 and $5.00.

Green Trunk bred to a two and one-half length victory over Hestia in the featured $10,000 allowance race at Garden State, paying $5.80, $3.20 and $2.40. The 4-year-old daughter of Spy Song was timed in 1:11 4-5 for the six furlongs.

Tommy Lee had four winners at Pimlico, scoring aboard Becky ($24.60) in the second, Ryna Beth ($8.20) in the third, Weather Prophet ($8.60) in the sixth and Sooty ($11.40) in the eighth.

Little Shooter paid $6.80 in winning the feature at Suffolk Downs. Cherryville ($8.00) won at Washington Park and Phil Lippy ($12.60) scored at Pimlico.

Sanford Regains Pitching Touch

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jack Sanford, determined to prove that he hadn't "lost it" as a starter, turned back the Chicago Cubs with six hits Tuesday night while pitching the league-leading San Francisco Giants to a 2-1 victory.

The burly right-hander, who had failed to get through the second inning in his last two starts, bested hard-luck Dick Drott to post his second win of the year against three losses. It marked the ninth win in 11 games for the Giants while the Cubs now have lost 10 of 11.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Basketball Association (NBA) will welcome back Baltimore as a franchise holder starting with the 1962-63 season.

The pro league's expansion, though, won't stop there. The NBA owners voted to readmit Baltimore at their annual meeting Tuesday and then listened to a presentation from a San Francisco group, which also would like to join the league for the 1962-63 season.

The San Francisco bid was presented by Frank Walsh, a veteran California basketball promoter who was representing an unidentified group. The presentation, termed "interesting" by NBA President Maurice Podoloff, was taken under advisement until the owners meet again this summer.

"We've always been interested in San Francisco joining us," Podoloff said. "In fact, when we granted a franchise to Los Angeles last year, we felt that for the mere convenience of schedules, we eventually had to place two teams on the West Coast."

The NBA will expand to nine teams next season when the Chicago Packers join the league and may become a 12-team group in 1962. In addition to San Francisco, Pittsburgh also is seeking a franchise starting with the 1962-63 campaign.

Baltimore quit the NBA on Nov. 27, 1954, because of dwindling attendance. The team then was known as the Bullets and had to play its home games in a dingy arena.

However, the new Baltimore club will play in the 11,000-seat Civic Center, a new arena due to be completed before the 1962-63 season starts.

The ownership of the Baltimore franchise, which must meet the approval of the NBA board of governors, still is not settled. The new group was represented at Tuesday's meeting by Nathan Jacobson, one of the co-owners of the old club. However, as a representative of the Baltimore city commission, Jacobson cannot participate in the operation of the new franchise.

Rivals Keep Dealing Yankees Into Flags

NEW YORK (NEA) — When Frank Lane squawks about the Angels swapping Tex Clevenger and Bob Cerv to the Yankees, the old Kansas City trader is only pointing out that the New York club almost invariably gets what it needs without delay.

Rivals and occasionally a National League outfit keep dealing the Bombers into pennants.

In this case the Yankees sorely required a right-hand relief pitcher and a right-hand power pinch hitter. Truman Clevenger — the name sounds like that of an amateur heavy-weight fighter — fills one order; the burly Cerv the other. Ready make, just like that, and in this instance at little cost, if any.

That is unless the athlete still to be named in the Bronx package is someone like Pedro Gonzales, the young hitting and stealing second baseman now with the Richmond store. And anyone slightly acquainted with Roy Hamey and the Yankees knows that Senor Gonzales isn't going anywhere else unless an established star comes to the Stadium in exchange.

Going to the Angels, as you no doubt have heard, were Pitchers Ryne Duren and Johnny James and Le Roy Thomas, a left-hand hitting out-fielder, the kind that falls out of trees without much shaking.

First Casey Stengel and then Ralph Houk gave up on Duren, the fireball fireman of 1958-59. Those keeping track of such things for the Yankees report that the bespectacled Duren is not as swift as he was. Batters he formerly scared stand up to him. James lacks the hard one so necessary to handcuffing major league hitters.

On the other hand, the Yankee high command has been enamored with Clevenger for four years. The Washington Senators who became the Minnesota Twins, for whom Clevenger toiled through but that period, have stirred up no end of trouble for the Yankees, and the Fresno state College flinger appeared frequently enough to be remembered.

Clevenger was called upon from 30 to 55 times those seasons and thrice he struck out from 20 to 28 more than he walked. His earned-run average ranged from 3.92 to 4.35. In 12 outings and 16 innings with the Angels this spring he had an ERA of 1.69.

"It took Clevenger a little while to mature," said an American League manager. "He is a ripe plum, and the Yankees were there to pluck him as usual. He'll be a tremendous help."

Swim Star To SMU

DALLAS (UPI)—Richard Quick, one of the nation's best and most sought after high school swimming stars, accepted a scholarship to attend Southern Methodist University Tuesday night.

SMU swimming coach Red Barr said the Highland Park High School student took a scholarship made up of donations from former SMU swimming stars. An economy move recently curtailed Barr's regular scholarship fund.

Quick has bettered national records in the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard butterfly and led the state in six events in the schoolboy finals, including the 200 individual medley, 100-yard butterfly, 400 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 100 backstroke and 100 breaststroke.

Schools from Michigan to California had sought Quick.

Lane Triumphs In Odessa Bout

ODESSA (UPI)—Ninth-ranked lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., easily outpointed Manuel Gonzalez of Odessa Tuesday night in a 10-round light-weight fight.
