

Six Joint Bills Advocate Civil Rights Pledges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats yesterday introduced six joint bills in the Senate and House aimed at carrying out the civil rights pledges of the 1960 Democratic campaign platform.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee announced that Kennedy had asked them last September to prepare the legislation.

The six measures included constitutional amendments eliminating poll taxes and literacy tests as voting requirements for federal elections. Another would require school boards operating racially segregated public schools to submit a plan for desegregation, including "first step compliance" by June, 1964.

The bills also would make permanent and stronger the civil rights commission due to expire Sept. 3; authorize the attorney general to initiate civil injunction suits in federal courts to bar denial of civil rights on grounds of race, creed or color; and provide administrative and court remedies to assure fair employment practices.

Holmes: The Senate, operating under an agreement to limit debate, was virtually certain to vote on President Kennedy's nomination of Julius C. Holmes to be ambassador to Iran. The agreement, worked out last week, provided for an additional two hours of debate, and then a roll call vote. Some senators opposed Holmes for his part in post World War II tanker deals.

Hearing Granted On Failure To Produce Records

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court yesterday granted a hearing to the Rev. Theodore R. Gibson, who refused to produce records of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for a Florida investigation committee.

Gibson is president of the NAACP's Miami branch. His case will be heard at the next court term starting next October.

Gibson's contempt conviction was upheld Dec. 19, 1960, by the Florida Supreme Court. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $1,200, with an additional six months imprisonment if the fine went unpaid.

The court also upheld a ruling by a special three-judge panel barring New Orleans and Louisiana officials from interfering with the operation of public schools in the city. The decision also had ordered the city to turn over daily to the parish school board the taxes collected for the schools by the city.

The Florida investigation had been in progress since 1956 by a succession of legislative committees looking into possible Communist infiltration of the NAACP.

One maternal death now occurs in every 2,500 live births.

Board Revamps School Boundary For Junior Highs

A realignment of the Pampa junior high school boundary for the 1961-62 school year headlined yesterday's extended meeting of the Pampa Board of Education.

After Assistant Supt. Jack Edmondson presented detailed forecast figures of enrollment, the school board approved the boundary line change which will effect next year's seventh graders only. Those students who will be in the eighth and ninth grades next year were not effected unless they request a change from Robert E. Lee to Pampa Junior High.

The boundary line will continue to run down Red Deer Creek to Starkweather, south to Browning and east to the city limits; and from Red Deer Creek to Hobart, south on Hobart to Alcock and then west on Alcock to the city limits.

Seventh graders in 1961-62 who reside north of that line will attend Lee and those south will go to Pampa Junior High.

The approved change moves the boundary line four blocks north, east of Starkweather and west of Alcock for next year.

The change was prompted after Edmondson pointed out that maximum enrollment at Robert E. Lee is between 900 and 950 students, and that to maintain maximum enrollment without overflowing, it would be necessary to move the boundary.

In other business yesterday, the board approved a request by the Merchant's Activities committee of the chamber of commerce for permission to use the Pampa Junior High playground as a parking lot this summer for the second straight year.

John Kootz, city manager, pointed out that the arrangement worked well last summer and urged that it be resumed this summer and the board agreed.

The junior high school health program was continued for the remainder of the year on a trial basis; bills totaling $12,942.56 were approved for payment; approval to advertise for bids for school bank depository was given and discussion of legal counsel and collection of delinquent tax services for the schools was tabled in other business yesterday.

Also, a discussion on the first ten pages of the proposed policy bulletin for the school system was held, to be completed in a special meeting later this month and approval was given to seek information from the Dallas schools on an American Heritage course being taught there.

House

Members refused to suspend rules for final passage, and the bill was high on the docket for consideration today.

The committee's bill gerrymanders the conservatives the hardest while giving four new seats to Harris County, two to Dallas, and one additional seat each to Potter, Lubbock, Taylor, Nueces, Travis, and Hidalgo counties and sets Midland and Ector counties aside as separate districts.

Under the bill 25 members of the current House will have to campaign against a colleague if they seek re-election in 1962.

Secret Says No Discrimination Against S. Side

City Commissioner Newt Secret, of Ward 2 on the North Side, took exception today to a remark made during the regular weekly commission meeting in City Hall that the South Side of Pampa was being discriminated against.

The inference came up when Mrs. Juanita McLaughlin of McLaughlin's Furniture Store, 406 S. Cuyler, indicated there was possible discrimination against South Side business houses in the matter of a parking order issued some time ago to install parallel parking instead of angle parking.

Mrs. McLaughlin said she felt it was no more necessary to have parallel parking in the 400 - block of S. Cuyler than it was to have parallel parking on Cuyler near the First National Bank corner. She said it amounted to discrimination against the South Side business places.

"I do not believe the former commission or this commission," Commissioner Secret said, "has ever practiced discrimination against the South Side."

"If the time ever comes that I feel the commission is discriminating against anyone, that will be the time I am ready to leave the commission," he added.

Talk Honor Won By Cecil Tedrow

Cecil Tedrow last night won the Pampa Toastmaster's club award as the "best speaker." "A Farmer Comes To Town" was his subject.

W. A. Morgan won the honor of being the "best evaluator."

The club meets Monday nights at Coronado Inn.

Equipment Taken From Lease Area

Sheriff's officers received a report yesterday afternoon that a fire extinguisher, three compressors, paint guns and a magneto were missing from the McConnell Lease west of the city. The lease is held by Cabot Corporation.

Storm

temperatures began to warm back up, winds died down, and the Weather Bureau said it would be the first good day for fishermen in more than a week.

The cooler air from a Pacific front began shoving through Texas yesterday, sweeping away clouds and a storm system that has spawned violent spring turbulence over the state for the past several days.

Most sections of the state had cooler overnight temperatures. Temperatures ranged from 38 degrees at Lubbock to 71 at Brownsville.

As the low pressure system that triggered the storms moved eastward early yesterday it triggered a tornado at Seymour, and a violent windstorm at Plano, near Dallas, that at first was thought to be a twister.

Little damage was reported at Seymour, but the wind cut a swath through the heart of the Plano business district and caused damage estimated at more than $100,000.

Commissioners

ing-in-the-block be changed back to angle parking.

Mrs. Juanita McLaughlin of McLaughlin's Furniture Store, 406 S. Cuyler, and Carl T. Harris, 400 S. Cuyler, urged the commission to consider making the change-back, asserting that the parallel parking system was hurting business. Commissioners said they would consider the request and confer with members of the City Traffic Commission which made the original recommendation to use parallel parking in the block because of heavy traffic near a main highway intersection.

Another parking matter was brought before the commission by William Hulsey who owns two houses on Mary Ellen near Sunset which he says he is unable to rent because of the city's order for no parking on either side of the street along Central Park. The commission said it would also study the situation there and report on both parking matters at next week's meeting.

Astronaut Now Sees Speedup In Space Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cmdr. Alban B. Shepard Jr. said yesterday the astronauts were "very much pleased and encouraged" by his space flight and would press ahead now with the greatest possible speed.

Appearing before a jammed news conference after his triumphal arrival in Washington, Sheppard said the Mercury project leaders felt several significant things were learned from his historical suborbital flight last Friday.

One of these, he said, was that—as the man in the space craft—he actually could exercise control over some of its devices in retroactive firing and re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

He was introduced by Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Mercury project, who said that the flight was "extremely productive" and had yielded "a large amount of test data."

Gilruth said Shepard had been "extremely cool during that long countdown" and had done a fine job test flying the vehicle.

Gilruth called it "an extremely tense but productive flight." He added there would be "many tough flights ahead."

Sheppard said there were few secrets about the project, a fact that a free society was entitled to know what was going on.

Biologists Plan 'Fish-Age' Study

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Utah biologists hope to get the fish's point of view in a project underway by the state Department of Fish and Game.

Director Harold S. Crane says 14 biologists and key field personnel are being instructed in the use of diving lungs, diving suits and flippers. Use of diving gear will save time now spent in making gill net samples and taking bottom samples with miniature dredging equipment from boats.

Crane says the fish-eye approach was motivated by the desire to study bottom types and food supplies of the state's fishing waters, the spawning activities, movement of fish and behavior in general.

"possible consequences" of granting bases in the British Isles to the forces of West Germany. The sharp Soviet warning demonstrated the versatility of Nikita Khrushchev's foreign policy in that it followed by less than 48 hours Soviet-British agreement on a joint peace effort in Laos.

A Soviet note accused Britain of supporting West German elements seeking revenge against Russia for Germany's defeat in World War II, and said such a policy would lead only to "the continuation of the arms race and the sharpening of tension and suspicion between states."

Germany, in the front line of Western defenses against expanding communism and full member of NATO, is hard pressed for training areas for her growing army and air force.

NATO allies, including France, have been figuring ways to give West Germany military bases, rocket testing grounds, training camps for tanks and supply bases.

The British offer of bases was a part of that move. Russia charged that Britain "is linking the fate of her country with the militarist and revenge-seeking circles of Western Germany and with their aspirations."

The protest led to a suspicion that Khrushchev is about to return to his favorite subject, Berlin and a separate peace treaty for Communist East Germany.

Of all the people on earth, it is probable that the Russians fear the Germans most, not only for their technical skill but for their amazing energies and recuperative powers.

The Russians fear that the Germany which was levelled in 1945 and has rebounded to become the most prosperous nation in Europe also eventually will resume her drive for living space in the East.

That the Soviet Union's own aggressive policies in behalf of expanding communism has forced Allied support of German rearmament does not enter into Soviet considerations.

Yanks, Angels Work Out Swap

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Pitcher Ryne Duren, a near-sighted fireman, and Bob Cerv, who never got started on baseball's "new frontier," swapped teams today as part of a six-player trade between the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Angels.

Officials of both clubs insisted they were well-satisfied with the deal that saw the Yankees give up Duren, relief pitcher Johnny James, outfielder Leroy Thomas and an unnamed player for Cerv and Tex Clevenger, another relief hurler.

Jensen Returns, Slams Home Run

By United Press International
It looks like 1959 all over again for manager Walt Alton, who has only to signal to the bullpen and the Los Angeles Dodgers' rivals "is dead."

It was Larry Sherry who came marching out of the bullpen in '59 when the Dodgers won the world championship but this year it looks like it will be Dick Farrell, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 210-pound fireballer obtained May 4 from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Farrell, who throws even harder than Sherry, demonstrated his overpowering stuff again Monday night when he pitched the last four innings of the Dodgers' 4-3, 10-inning victory over the Phillies. Farrell yielded four hits and struck out four giving him a string of seven shutout relief innnings, during which he has fanned nine batters, since joining the Dodgers.

The Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, despite a homer by "prodigal son" Jackie Jensen in the only other big league game of the day or night. San Francisco at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Rookie Willie Davis and veteran Gil Hodges shared the honors with Farrell as the Dodgers scored their third victory in four games and moved to within two games of idle first-place San Francisco.

Davis, the highly-touted rookie whose life story is being shown on television this week, hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning that enabled the Dodgers to tie the score at 3-3. Then Hodge, pinch-hitting for first baseman Norm Larker, lined relief Chris Short's first pitch to right center for a double that scored Wally Moon with the decisive run.

The Phillies had taken a 3-0 lead against Stan Williams in the fifth on three walks, a safe-bunt by pitcher Dallas Green, Johnny Callison's single and Charley Smith's sacrifice fly. It was the seventh straight loss for the Phillies.

Farrell, a native of Boston, has won three games and lost one this season. Over a period of four big league campaigns he has a 30-25 record and he was acquired by the Dodgers last week to be

APPOINTED AD
LEXINGTON Va. (UPI)—Clyde L. (Duke) Ellington has been appointed director of athletics at Virginia Military Institute. He is a 1943 graduate of VMI where he starred in football and baseball.

Rupp Among Guests

TYLER (UPI)—Some 700 friends and followers, including Adolph Rupp, University of Kentucky basketball coach, will pay a civic tribute tonight to Floyd Wagstaff, the most successful junior college coach and athletic director in the nation.

Rupp will be guest speaker. Wagstaff is concluding his 15th year as head basketball and football coach and athletic director at Tyler Junior College.

His football teams have compiled a remarkable 137-26-4 win-loss record in 15 years. His basketball teams have won over 670 games, two national tournament championships and a flock of regional titles.

The NJCAA selected Wagstaff as its nationwide Basketball Coach of the Year in 1960. He has been honored six times as Texas' Junior College Coach of the Year, and three times by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Jack Curtice, president of the American Football Coaches Association and Stanford University coach, will speak at the annual all-sports banquet of the Texas Tech Red Raider Club in Lubbock Tuesday night, May 16.

Aggies Eye Halt To UT Flag Hopes

AUSTIN (UPI)—The high-riding University of Texas and Texas A&M meet in the first of a three-game series today in which the Cadets hope to stop the Longhorns' headlong flight to the conference's baseball crown.

Today's game will be a make-up of a 6-6, 10-inning tie played between the two teams March 17. Texas leads the conference with a 9-1 mark. The Cadets are 5-6 in conference play and can do no better than a mathematical tie for the championship.

HOUSTON (UPI)—Colorful Roy Harris of Cut N' Shoot, Tex., will tangle with Bob Clewoux of Canada, May 23, in a heavyweight rematch in which Harris will attempt to avenge his "most embarrassing defeat."

The 10th ranked Clewoux knocked Harris out in Montreal last year in a match which Harris calls "the worst I ever had."

World Series Triple Crown

NEW YORK (UPI)—A world-wide series of triple crown races was proposed today by E. E. (Dale) Shaffer, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

"An international triple crown should be easy to arrange for older handicap horses, with races annually in Europe, the United States and Australia or Japan," said Shaffer before leaving for Paris on the first leg of a visit to racing organizations in all parts of the world.

The Kentucky breeder-owner also is "hopeful of forming a world Thoroughbred racing association" during his tour to help in organizing more international classics.

Ken McBride received credit for his second win of the season and Conley suffered his second loss.

Buddin helped the Angels to score three unearned runs in the second inning. Outfielder Ken Hunt homered in the third and got the first of three consecutive singles which produced two more Los Angeles runs in the fifth. Two errors by Angel centerfielder Albie Pearson and Buddin's double highlighted the Red Sox' three-run rally in the fifth.

OLEAN, N. Y. (UPI)—The basketball future of St. Bonaventure University was grim today as the Bonnies lost their coach, Eddie Donovan, and their top sophomore player—19-year-old Fred Crawford.

Crawford learned today he has tuberculosis which confined his teammate and roommate, All-America Tom Stith, to a hospital last week.

Donovan was signed Monday to a two-year contract as head coach of the professional New York Knickerbockers in the National Basketball Association.

The 6-4 Crawford was hospitalized Saturday after a preliminary test showed possible signs of tuberculosis. His doctor said the entire Bonnie team was examined after the report on Stith.

Further X-rays seemed to confirm the report but the doctor waited until all laboratory tests were completed Monday night before revealing that Crawford, too, had pulmonary tuberculosis.

"Fred will be lost to the Bonnies next season," the doctor said. "But we hope to have him back by the 1962-63 season."

Crawford will be transferred Wednesday to the same Mt. Morris, N. Y., sanatorium where Stith was taken last week.

Crawford, like Stith, had complained of being run down since the end of the basketball season. The doctor said the preliminary tests revealed Crawford has had this condition only a short time.

Stith went into St. Francis General Hospital here April 28. The following Monday his case was diagnosed as definitely pulmonary tuberculosis.

Last Friday he was transferred to Mt. Morris. His doctor said confinement would be for at least three months with indefinite treatment.

Red Watson and Howard Musgrave, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of Harvester Bowl this week became the first professional bowlers in Pampa's first history upon receipt of certification papers from the Professional Bowlers Assn.

Watson and Musgrave received their papers upon recommendation from Buddy Bomar, who conducted a bowling instructors school in Amarillo recently which both Pampans attended.

In order to keep their PBA membership, both bowlers will have to compete in at least two tournaments a year. Watson is scheduled to appear in a pro reg tourney in Dallas on May 19 and Musgrave has entered tournaments at Shreveport and Houston later this month.

Three Former Winners Remain In Running

DETROIT (UPI)—Billy Golembiewski, of Detroit, 1960 American Bowling Congress master's tournament champion and runnerup in 1958, lost out in his hopes to repeat here today.

Golembiewski was soundly trounced by his teammate Joe Joseph, 950-800, Monday afternoon and was eliminated by Bill Gaume of Canton, Ohio, 772-738, Monday night.

Three other past champions remain in the running for the title. Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Mo., ran his victory streak to three with a 909-816 victory over Detroit's Thern Gibson.

Coaches Retain 'White' Clause

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas High School Coaches Association announced Monday it has decided to continue its policy, for the present at least, of naming only white youths to its annual all-star football and basketball games.

The association said it will hold its annual coaches school in San Antonio August 5-10, with the all-star basketball game to be played Wednesday, Aug. 9, and the all-announced Monday it has decided to continue its policy, for the present at least, of naming only white youths to its annual all-star football and basketball games.

The coaches association named 28 boys to each roster for the football game and 12 were named to each side for the basketball game.

The association said Negro athletes would not be considered for all-star games until they could be assured of the same treatment as that of the whites.

Such a decision was made, the association said, to avoid embarrassment to the athletes, the association and the host schools and cities.

The Eichmann Trial

A man named Eichmann is on trial for his life. Few civilized men or women can have much sympathy for him. As an ardent supporter of the Nazi monster, Eichmann was a key figure in the extermination of hundreds of thousands of persons. Many, if not most of these persons who were grossly abused and horribly butchered had committed the same crime of being born Jews. Murder, even for a supposed cause, is dreadful. Murder on the phony pretext of religious or racial difference is unspeakable. One is reminded of the personal bitterness of Julius Caesar over the resistance of Vergil, the resistance of Vergil to the sword of Caesar, and the thousands of Gauls when their resistance was finally shattered. One is reminded of the practice of Genghis Khan in the face of opposition when whole cities would be razed and not a single man, woman or child permitted to survive. One is reminded of the persecution of Christians by the Romans as gala spectacles in their gardens. One is reminded of the persecution of Jews by Christians during the middle ages and the pogrom of York, among many others. One is reminded of the senseless butchering of American Indians by white troops under government order, and equally, of the butchering of white settlers by Indians in many bloody uprisings. One is reminded of the reign of terror in France following the French Revolution when the cream of France's manhood went to the scaffold or the guillotine. Will this dreadful and appalling practice of human beings never draw to an end? Among all peoples on earth the Jews have been the target of persecution and cruel and inhuman treatment more than any other. Eichmann, in his participation and co-operation with Adolf Hitler, carried the record of man into the 20th century. Yet, we are not comforted by the Eichmann trial: He was not extradited to stand trial, but rather, he was kidnapped. He is not being tried by an impartial tribunal, but rather by the very people he wronged so dreadfully. He is not being tried under laws which were in existence when he committed his heinous acts, but in an ex post facto manner which turns the trial into an exhibition and reveals a single motive — not to obtain justice, but to wreak a terrible vengeance.

Contradiction

It's always a mystery. The government blusters and roars and takes the position that we citizens are unruly and haven't enough sense to come in out of the rain; but have you noticed? We ignorant and erratic citizens have enough sense to earn all the money the politicians ever get their hands on!

Goodbye Dreamsville?

President Kennedy at last seems to be acting in such a manner as to give rise to hope that he is aware of the perils of communism. There were — and are — many reasons to doubt that he acknowledged the danger. His advisors and appointees include many leftists. These Kennedy advisors are "idea men" — theorists who have never been concerned with practicality. Mr. Kennedy — and, of course, the nation — cannot afford the luxury of trying out some of these theories. War is upon us, and we must stand ever more solidly behind the tried which has proved true. The Cuban fiasco seems to have opened the President's eyes at long last to what so many have been saying for so long with so few listeners: The free world and the Communist world are engaged in mortal combat. Conferences are useless, because the only time the Communists ever make an agreement and keep it is when it furthers their cause — not the cause of world peace. Laos has forever put to rest (we hope) that old line about

An Eye Dropper Won't Save It

Allen - Scott Report:

Javits Medical Bill 'Leak' Triggers New Hopes for Kennedy Medical Care Plan

WASHINGTON — Hope springs eternal and proponents of medical care for the aged under the Social Security system have gained a glimmer of hope thanks to a Republican. Directly as a result of the carefully leaked intention of Senator Jacob Javits (R, N.Y.) to offer a medical bill of his own as an amendment to another Social Security measure, the House Ways and Means Committee is going to hold hearings on the hotly controversial legislation advocated by President Kennedy. Representative Wilbur Mills (D, Ark.), chairman, had slammed the door on such hearings on the ground the Committee is too busy this year. But he has changed his mind, and they will take place at a still unfixed date later this spring. These two backstage developments are hopeful gains for supporters of this legislation, but to what extent remains to be seen. They may be largely illusory, and amount to very little in the end. Hearings by the Ways and Means Committee could mean no more than that; merely a proceeding to let off steam. The line-up in this key group is still 16 to 9 against medical care for the aged as part of the Social Security system. A minimum of 4 votes will have to be won over regular to Eichmann, or however irregular the trial may be, the cause of truth will have been served. If humanity the world over will highly resolve never, even under governmental edict, to perform an immoral action, then the Eichmann case could yet be the end of the long record of bloody reprisal which has darkened the human record and prevented us again and again from attaining to the plateau of mercy and enlightenment. The outlook in the Senate is equally uncertain. "Senator Javits can force a vote on his proposal, but neither he nor anyone else knows what its chances are. He is claiming the support of an unspecified number of "liberal" Republicans. On the other hand, some "liberal" Democrats who strongly favor the President's measure are sharply critical of Javits'. Key difference between these plans is that Javits' would be administered by the states and the President's by the federal government. Javits hopes his strategy will compel the Administration to seek a Senate vote on its medical care legislation, but Senator Clinton Anderson (D, N.M.), its floor leader, is being very chary about that. "The President does not want an adverse vote on his bill this year," Anderson told a Democratic conference. "He would rather have it go over to next year, an election year, than try to ram it through and risk taking a licking this year. If we can line up enough votes to tack his measure onto another as an amendment, he is willing to have that done. But only if it's certain it can be done. Otherwise, he wants it to go over to 1962." Hoyer at the time of the Great Depression. But look who gets called on when the going gets rough. And whose advice would you trust when the chips are down? MacArthur's, Hoover's and the other "old heads," or that of the Harvard profs lost in Dreamsville?

NEW WONDER DRUGS

Space and nuclear techniques are beginning to play a role in medical research the treatment of cancer, heart, arthritis and neurological diseases. That's the latest report from the famed National Institutes of Health. A number of radioactive drugs are being used in treating acute ill patients, with still undetermined results. These significant experiments are being conducted in a select group of hospitals and clinics throughout the country States the NIH report. "In cooperation with clinicians and laboratory investigators, radioactive drug products are being developed and synthesized at NIH. Examples are the development of chromium 51 labeled human serum albumin; I 131 labeled gamma globulin; oral fat emulsion with I 131; and improvement of polyvinyl pyrrolidone; I 131 injection and krypton 85 injection. "From the field of space, the noted medical researchers are applying an electronic device originally developed for astronauts. It is an intricate monitoring system that NIH scientists are using to measure the blood pressure, pulse, temperature, respiration and arterial oxygen saturation of a number of patients at the same time. This offers "exciting possibilities in improving hospital care." "For the first time," continues the NIH report, "space medicine techniques for measuring certain vital functions have been adapted to hospital use. . . The monitor is small enough to fit into a small room, and constructed so that it does not require highly skilled technicians to operate. "The monitoring system is hooked into patients by a series of plastic wires. It contains an alarm that indicates which function has exceeded the tolerable range set for a patient. Once the alarm sounds, the attending doctor can quickly restore the patient's physiological functions with the necessary medication and treatment. "The great value of this physiological monitor is that it records all measures taken of a number of patients at the same time. The system has a 'print out' device which gives a permanent written record in alpha numerical form for each patient at whatever interval the scientists determine to be necessary." GRAVITY DOES IT — The shape and size of the body is directly influenced by gravity. That's the finding of medical scientists at Iowa University. Working under a grant from the National Institutes of Health, they have established that "Thigh bones of mice reared at four times the earth's gravity grow faster than other body tissues and assume a more circular cross section. The explanation of this is not definitely known, but the circular cross-section gives this supporting structure more strength with which to resist gravity. . . NIH experts have developed a new foam plastic splint, that is much lighter and more durable than plaster casts. It is also easily cleaned, and far more comfortable to wear. The splint is proving particularly helpful to victims of rheumatoid arthritis.

Cliches Of Socialism

By S. C. BOLES
President of Freedom Newspapers, Inc.
"Competition is fine, but not at the expense of human beings." There must be a reason why protection or the Welfare State is so popular and has made such headway in our country and throughout the world. Undoubtedly it is because many people believe it is the best way to relieve poverty and promote more general prosperity. If that is true, then why do they so believe? Could it not be because the material results of protection, in whatever form it takes, are both concentrated and obvious, while the costs, the consequences, are diffused, concealed, spread out in small amounts? Force is usually quicker and more noticeable than persuading — getting a person to think and reason. When the State gives a man material assistance or protection from competition, it relieves him immediately and temporarily of part of his problems. It is so concentrated and concrete, it is easy to see, while the taxes for this particular protection are diffused and indirect in most cases. Or when labor unions protect a worker from competition of other workers and he gets an increased money wage, it is easy to see. It is also immediate. In short, the benefits are concentrated and present and thus easy to see, while the costs, the disadvantages, are diffused and paid for in small amounts by many other persons and are thus harder to see. Superficially, the costs may seem to be postponed, as though the redistribution were yielding a societal advantage for a time; but this is strictly an illusion stemming from inadequate cost accounting methods. The actual costs, if they could be seen, are as real and as immediate as are the presumed benefits. The union member sees he gets more dollars in his envelope and thus believes he is benefited. What he does not see is that if he can get temporary material benefits by striking, many other workers will do the same thing. Nor does he see that the employer has to get all the money he pays in wages from his customers — other workers. If he is not able to collect all costs, including wage payments, and if there are no profits, or no hopes for profits, there are no jobs. This unemployment reduces production and increases prices. On the other hand, the more profits, the more competition between employers to hire help the higher real wages will be. Also, the more competition in selling the product, the lower prices the employees have to pay. This is continuous and diffused and thus harder to see. So all these extra labor costs are passed back to other workers, past or present, along with any extra costs that stem from lower production, unemployment, featherbedding, seniority, strikes, non-productive business agents, lack of individual responsibility, and so on. But these costs are diffused — a penny here and there on the hundreds of different items every one uses — and they are thus harder to see. Besides, they are lumped with all other costs so that it is difficult, if not impossible, to know how much they total. The same diffusion that takes place in labor unions' added costs takes place in every protection or subsidy by the government — federal, state, county, city, or board of education. The added costs in the form of taxes are diffused and scattered over thousands of articles. Most people look at immediate wages or prices they get for

Warning Issued To Homeowners About Gypsters

The Solicitors' Review Board of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce yesterday issued a warning to homeowners who are planning home improvements and repairs to watch out for gyp artists.

Wynn Veale, secretary of the board, said that although the vast majority of contractors engaged in the home improvement field deal fairly with their customers, there is a small minority on the fringe which uses shady practices to victimize the public.

To and Pampa home owners to AVOID BEING "taken in" on these shady deals, Veale listed some advice that should be taken before a contract is signed.

Probably the best of this advice, he said, is to make sure the company which you are considering is an established firm and not just composed of itinerants who "just happen to be in the area."

Among questions you might ask, Veale said, are these:

Was any "high pressure" used to induce you to sign a contract immediately, without giving you an opportunity to investigate?

Did the company or salesman tell you that your home would be used for advertising purposes - as a model job, or show - house, and that you would receive "bonus" payments or commissions on every sale resulting therefrom?

If any guarantee is given, is it included in the contract, clear and specific as to what adjustment will be made in the event of dissatisfaction?

Have you read and do you understand contract completely before signing, and are you to be given complete, readable copy signed by salesman or company?

"Ask a lot of questions and make certain everything is open and above board before you enter into any contract," Veale said.

Gonzales Pushes Fight For Home Rule Amendment

AUSTIN (UPI) — Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio won engrossment today of a proposed constitutional amendment to allow Bexar County to adopt a home rule charter.

But senators failed to give Gonzalez the two thirds majority to suspend rules for final passage of the joint resolution. The measure will be up for third reading Tuesday.

visited Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Black and boys.

Mrs. Delmer Tuggle and daughters, Della and Crystal of Dalhart returned home Wednesday after having spent a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stubblefield of White Deer visited relatives and friends in Groom recently.

It would allow voters in the 1962 general election to authorize Bexar County to revise its system of local government, eliminating duplicated services. The home rule charter would then have to be approved by county voters.

The vote on engrossment was by voice, and the move to gain final passage failed 11-17.

Sen. Robert Baker of Houston decided not to attempt to bring the University of Houston bill for final passage, after a check of votes showed him one shy of the needed two-thirds majority for consideration of the bill ahead of normal order.
