East-West Arms Talks Postponed

GENEVA (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said Saturday East-West disarmament talks, hoped for by the end of the month, will be postponed, probably until the fall.

The indications were that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wanted to place the disarmament problem before the world assembly before starting full dress negotiations with the West.

The original July 31 target date for the disarmament conference is "almost certainly out," sources said.

The Communist hits came in the wake of the decision reached in Washington between the United States and Russia to end the current round of preliminary arms cut discussions and resume the bilateral talks in Moscow July 17.

The West opposes the Soviet plan because it smacks of the "troika" pattern which aims at a three-way split of international executive and administrative councils that would paralyze decisions with a veto.

Roy E. McKernan Funeral Service Scheduled Today

Obsequies for Roy E. McKernan, prominent oilman, 1305 Charles, who died at 6:20 a.m. yesterday, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Vincent dePaul Catholic Church with Father Edward J. Cashman officiating.

A rosary was said at 7:30 last night in St. Vincent's church. The body will be sent to his hometown, Ellipticville, N.Y., for a requiem mass on Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Holy Name Mary Church with Father James McCarthy officiating.

Mr. McKernan was a partner in the Murphy-McKernan Drilling Co., associated with Ed Daley and Mrs. J. F. Murphy of Sapulpa, Okla.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. McKernan served overseas in France. He moved to the Panhandle area in 1926 in charge of drilling operations for the Murphy-McKernan Drilling Co. He returned to New York City in 1928 to marry Julia McCarthy and they moved to Pampa in 1929.

Mr. McKernan was educated in Ellipticville schools and attended Niagara University, where he participated in basketball and baseball. In 1942, he served as president of the Pampa Oilers Baseball Club.

Survivors are his wife, Julia of the home; one brother, Harry of Ellipticville; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Sam McKernan of Olcott, N.Y.; a cousin, Mrs. L. J. Daley of Pampa; 19 nieces and nephews.

School Aid Bills Seem Near Death

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A bill to give federal aid to parochial schools appeared dead Saturday. It probably carried down to defeat with it President Kennedy's big public school aid program.

Another $1.4 billion would go to finance expansion and extension of the defense education program, scheduled to expire July 1, 1962.

Some Democratic congressmen called Kennedy's bill are complaining privately about what they call "ransom" tactics by some of the parochial school bill's Catholic supporters.

Both bills are pending before the 15-man House Rules Committee.

Reps. James J. Delaney, N. Y., and Thomas P. O'Neill, Mass., have balked at clearing the public school bill without progress on parochial aid. Delaney has served notice that he won't vote to send Kennedy's bill to the House floor unless the parochial bill is cleared first.

Tribesmen Join In Border Rush To Stop Iraqis

KUWAIT (UPI) — British troops, armor, planes and ships landed Saturday in Kuwait to meet the threat of an Iraqi invasion. Tribesmen from two neighboring Saudi Arabia and Kuwaiti volunteers using sharp lances and air conditioned Cadillac massed along the border.

The invasion threat arose last Monday when Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem said he would invade the oil-rich sheikhdom of Kuwait despite its newly proclaimed independence from Britain.

Another $1.4 billion would go to finance expansion and extension of the defense education program, scheduled to expire July 1, 1962.

Amarillo Man Buys The Pampa Hotel Property

Thomas Dawkins of Amarillo, assistant manager of Wolfkin Village here, confirmed late yesterday that he and interests which he represents, have bought the Pampa Hotel, 121 S. Russell St., and plan to open the hotel and its adjoining motel about Sept. 1.

The hotel and motel contain 120 rooms. The four-story hotel proper has a spacious lobby, dining room, lounge and barbershop. The motel, across the street from the hotel, has a swimming pool.

The Pampa Hotel is a Pampa landmark and had been in operation here for many years until it was closed last December and Jefferson Standard Life took up the mortgage. Owner at that time was John Wiewora.

The hotel was offered at a sheriff's sale late in December but the high bid of $150,000 was rejected when it fell below the minimum $175,000 bid required. It was subsequently placed on Jan. 3 and at that time the mortgage holder, Jefferson Standard Life, bid it in for $75,000 and announced that it would be put up for sale later.

Dawkins said the hotel has not been allowed to deteriorate as a result of neglect. It has been well maintained and a housekeeper have been on duty at the hotel ever since it was closed.

Everything has been kept shipshape," he said, "and it can be placed in operation with very little remodeling."

William E. West of St. Matthews Episcopal Church and the National Anthem by the band.

The show is free and the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event, expects all attendance records to be broken. Young stated.

Importance Of Freedom Urged In Talk To Pampa Kiwanis Club

Importance of guarding our freedoms as guaranteed by the Constitution was stressed by Cameron Marsh, Pampa High School principal, in a talk Friday afternoon to members of the Pampa Kiwanis Club.

"Freedom was what our founding fathers had in mind," Marsh said, "when they drew up the Declaration of Independence 188 years ago.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that when we mark the anniversary of that independence next Tuesday, we will not lose sight of what we as Americans can do to protect those freedoms from the inroads of communism and the other isms that seek to destroy us."

Marsh reviewed the tribulations attendant upon the drawing up of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. In pointing to the Constitution as the prop which guarantees our freedoms he said that the American way of life is supported by the pillars of political and economic freedoms which are guaranteed by the Constitution.

"I sincerely hope," Marsh said, "that next Tuesday we will look beyond the firecrackers, the Roman candles, the outings, the recreational programs and all the other trimmings — and think about that freedom which Thomas Jefferson and the others had in mind back there when they wrote our Declaration of Independence.

Visitors at Friday's meeting included Bill Tidwell, J. L. Edmondson, Bill Byerly, Douglas Boyd, Jerry Bonsal, all of Pampa; Robert Troup of Memphis, Tenn.; Wayne Calhoun of Tulsa, Okla.; and Jimmy J.roe of Amarillo.

President Bob Alford announced there will be a meeting of the Kiwanis Club directors Thursday night in Lovett Memorial Library.

Navy Believes Destroyers Best Defense Against Russian Subs

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For many years — virtually since the end of World War II — the United States has been engaged in a "cold war" which has threatened several times to erupt into a "hot war." One of the biggest threats is the Russian submarine. Day and night, America's "cop on the beat" — the destroyer — is on patrol to defend against sneak attack or open assault in the event of a clearly declared war. This is the story of that relentless vigilance.)

By EDWARD V. MCCARTHY
NEW YORK (UPI) — U.S. Navy destroyers quote the frightening statistic that when Adolf Hitler started World War II he had only 57 submarines and that, at this very moment, Russia has more than 100 active undersea boats.

And, as recently as March 8, Admiral Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations told the House Armed Services Committee: "The total power of the Soviet submarine force is increasing."

The admiral added the grim warning that the Soviets now have in operation a number of submarines believe to be capable of launching ballistic missiles, although, as far as is known, none of these are nuclear-powered.

"It is almost certain that the Soviet Union is actively engaged in a nuclear submarine construction program," Burke stated.

The U.S. Navy believes one of the big answers to the Soviet submarine threat is one-two punch which is packed in task forces comprised of one aircraft carrier and from six to eight high-speed destroyers equipped with fantastic new weapons and tracking devices.

Some of these devices still are top secret, but they can be discovered — and they bode ill for enemy submarines trying to penetrate our coastal patrols in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Take, for instance, a neat little gadget which soon will be operational which goes under the name "DASH" — short for drone anti-submarine helicopter. This helicopter is unmanned and is controlled by radio from the destroyer which carries it.

In a hypothetical case, the destroyer, using electronic devices, locates an enemy submarine some distance away. Instead of wheeling about and racing for the submarine, which would have been done in the old days when depth charges were fired directly over a sub, the destroyer can innocently continue its course away from the undersea boat.

But, the DASH is launched in the direction of the submarine. When it reaches the area where the submarine is believed to be, it fires a torpedo. This is no ordinary torpedo. It doesn't have to be aimed directly at the sub.

If it lands anywhere reasonably near it, the torpedo has devices which guide it right to the submarine, blasting the unsuspecting occupants still listening to the destroyer moving away from the area.

DASH also can carry, in place of the torpedo, a nuclear depth charge.

The unmanned helicopter is a particular joy to the navy simply because it does not have to have a pilot.

The United States has no Kamikaze pilots. Even in all-out war, we want every assurance our fighting men have a chance for survival.

With a manned helicopter, operations in bad weather are extremely hazardous at best. Flying one to the submarine contact, firing a torpedo and then landing on the home destroyer would be rough.

With the drone, if conditions are such that the helicopter cannot be brought back to the destroyer and safely landed — it is expendable without loss of American life.

This science-fiction way of knocking out the enemy is a long way from the first American destroyer-types, which, in 1864, were 30-foot long steam launches equipped with spar-torpedoes in their bows, sent out against Confederate iron-clads.

The first real destroyer, as such, was the U.S.S. Bainbridge (D-1), launched in 1901.

This vessel was a 420-ton ship which carried torpedo tubes, 3-inch guns and had a speed of 28 knots.

Today, destroyers of the Forrest Sherman class are 2,650 tons with a speed of "over" 30 knots.

Their armament includes one automatic rapid-fire 5-inch dual-purpose gun mount forward and two aft, along with several automatic 3-inch anti-aircraft guns; anti-surface and anti-submarine torpedoes; hedgehogs; depth charges; long-range radar; and sonar equipment; and combat information centers crammed with electronic gear.

So much attention has been focused in recent years on nuclear weapons, inter-continental ballistic missiles, air-to-air missiles, etc., that the old "tin-can" — as a destroyer is known to sailors — is virtually forgotten or ignored by the general public.

The tin-can, so-called because of its light armor, hasn't been forgotten by the Navy, however. Burke told the armed services committee:

"The planned active fleet of 817 ships on June 30, 1961, will include 381 warships, 232 combatants and 204 auxiliaries. The warships include 14 attack carriers, nine anti-submarine carriers, 14 cruisers, one command ship, 225 destroyers, five fleet ballistic missile submarines and 112 other submarines."

"As can be seen, the destroyers outnumber all other warships in our navy."

Aside from the daily function of ferreting out and keeping enemy submarines away from our Atlantic and Pacific shores, the destroyer squadrons have another key role, one which would be activated in time of war.

Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz pretty well summed up the thinking in 1948 when he said "... it is the function of the Navy to carry the war to the enemy so that it will not be fought on United States soil."

To do this means conveying men, material and arms somewhere else.

Waiting to knock out these convoys will be Soviet submarines. The destroyers, and swift aircraft carriers, are the shield which can get the convoys safely overseas with their precious cargoes.

Recently, a new type of destroyer has been seen charging through the high seas.

It is the guided missile destroyer. Destroyers in this class carry a twin-missile launcher on the fantail which features automatic loading.

All destroyers are being gradually converted to carry anti-submarine torpedoes of a new type known to the destroyermen as "underwater guided missiles."

Another new device is a deep-diving sonar designed to search beneath the "sound barrier" which exists in certain parts of the ocean where there are marked temperature changes which deflect sonar signals.

Another type of sonar being installed for long range submarine detection has been described by Burke as "really good, and they get — under certain conditions — fantastic ranges."

To go along with the information provided with the new sonar equipment is what the Navy calls the ASROC. This is a long-range anti-submarine rocket system which can deliver a homing torpedo payload far out to where the unsuspecting submarines have been detected.

AEC AWARD — Dr. Hans A. Bethe, nuclear and theoretical physicist, has been named to receive the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Enrico Fermi Award for 1961. The award consists of a gold medal, a citation and $50,000. Dr. Bethe is professor of physics at Cornell University.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

National Council Study

The phenomenon of Christian Socialism, as such, was given birth in 1848, the same year Marx published his "Communist Manifesto," by F. D. Maurice and Charles Kingsley in England. The Social Gospel, a euphemism for the term Christian Socialism, grew as a movement in the early 1870's and received its great impetus around the turn of the century, by Walter Rauschenbush and his Brotherhood of the Kingdom.

By the early nineteen-hundreds, most of the leading Protestant denominations had established organizations to implement the Social Gospel ideology. In 1908, the Federal Council of Churches came into being, with a program of joint "social action" as one of the most important reasons for organization. The Federal Council could claim the membership of most of the leading Protestant denominations, even though a hard core of southern denominations avoided it like a plague.

So blatant was the Federal Council's support of the Socialist ideology and so ringing the criticism of its fellow-traveling leadership that for these and other reasons, the Federal Council, along with several lesser known organizations, merged in 1950 to form the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

The last ten years have found an increasing protest among Protestant laymen, in particular, for the Council's advocacy of state intervention to order the affairs of men. In many instances, the line emanating from the National Council has closely paralleled that of the Communist conspiracy and, too often, some of its leadership has been affiliated with an embarrassingly large number of Communist front organizations.

Though some clergymen with churches affiliated with the National Council have called into serious question some of the Council's positions, it has not been unusual for the concerned layman, on changing his pastor regarding this situation, to be brushed aside as an apostate, leaving him a bit bewildered as he learns that those who challenge the National Council are "apostles of discord" among other epithets.

The cold reality of the situation will out, however, and elsewhere on today's editorial page, we are reproducing comments upon and, in succeeding days, excerpts from a special ten-month study made by the vestry of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Shreveport, Louisiana, on the National Council. The report itself is 12,000 words long and its documentation requires an additional 16,000 words of appendix.

The National Council of Churches as an entity of political action deserves serious examination, for its implication of speaking for 34 Protestant Communions and 39,000,000 Protestant members cannot be ignored in the light of its advocacy of the omnipotent state and its incredible identification of this as a "Christian movement." The dehumanizing effects of government intervention have already debilitated our national character to the point that any organization assisting in this activity, regardless of its name or professed motives, deserves the public eye.

Extensive Report Examines National Council Of Churches

(Editor's Note: Following is a news story that appeared April 23, 1961, in the Shreveport Times, summarizing the report made by the vestry of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Shreveport, La., dealing with its extensive investigation into the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States. Actual excerpts of the report will be run on the editorial page over the next three days.)

The vestry of St. Mark's Episcopal Church has passed a resolution calling for the withdrawal of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States from the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Action by the vestry came immediately after approval of a committee of prominent Shreveporters, all members of St. Mark's.

St. Mark's is the largest Episcopal church in the diocese of Louisiana.

Completion of the study required 10 months and it is believed to be the most extensive investigation of the NCC ever made.

The document criticizes the general board of the council for allegedly departing from matters of religion by political pronouncements on questions of "baffling constitutional law." In addition, it challenges the authority of the council to express itself in such cases as "representative of 39 million American Protestants."

The report draws the conclusion that the NCC has become a "Protestant political hierarchy" operating under the pretense of promoting Christianity. And it declares that the council actually is seeking one political world rather than striving for unity among Christians.

Although concluding that the NCC itself is not Communist in nature, the report declares that the organization definitely has been an aid to the Communist conspiracy. It points out that many of the top officials including its past presidents, have been involved in numerous Communist front or pro-Communist propaganda efforts.

The vestry committee cited a number of instances when the council has issued pronouncements paralleling Communist propaganda. The report rapped the activities of certain individual NCC officials, commenting that they either "wittingly or unwittingly" have furthered causes favorable to Communists.

The report is critical of the church organization for alleged lobbying activities and it denounces a reading list, recommended by NCC for use by its churches, for obscene language in the books. Mentioned specifically are passages from "approved" reading material which employ descriptive phrases even more lewd than vulgar terminology usually found in the worst of pornographic literature.

The committee also raises objections to the reading list because of the affiliation of a number of the authors with Communist front organizations. And it points out that at least two of the authors have been identified as active Communists.

DETAILED INFORMATION
There are 33 pages of detailed information on every phase of NCC activity in the document. Also, the report is accompanied by an appendix of more than 16,000 words which includes much of the information derived from the vestrymen's research and the evidence for their case against the council.

The committee was appointed on June 13, 1960, by St. Mark's vestry to determine to its satisfaction whether the NCC is subversive.

Members of the committee were: Joseph L. Hargrove, well-known local oil man, oil consultant and a partner in the firm of Hargrove Oil and Gas Co.

Henry Linam, prominent Shreveport oil operator and former president of Standard Oil of Venezuela.

Charlton Lyons Sr., Shreveport financier who has long taken leading roles in oil and gas circles, political and civic enterprises.

John M. Madison, an attorney, vice president of the Caddo Parish School Board and active leader in Shreveport civic and legal organizations.

Charles T. McCord Jr., another prominent oil man who is owner of McCord Oil Co., president of Wilcox Crude Oil Corp. and has participated in many local civic activities.

James A. Van Hook, a prominent attorney and also an active worker in civic projects, including a term as chairman of the Community Council.

WITHDRAWAL URGED
The resolution urging withdrawal of the Episcopal Church from the NCC was approved after the vestry acted on the report Friday afternoon. It urges that the bishop of Louisiana "immediately take such steps as may be necessary and expedient to cause the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America to withdraw from the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States."

Their investigation included a thorough study of files on the NCC compiled by various persons through the years. Also, the committee invited Dr. Quinter Hiller, assistant general secretary of the NCC, here in person for an eight-hour session of questioning which was transcribed by a court reporter.

Portions of the transcript have been included in the appendix.

The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. (commonly referred to as the NCC) was formed in 1950 as a merger of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and seven smaller religious organizations. In the present membership are most of the major historical bodies of American Christianity except the Roman Catholic Church.

vote, for all Protestantism in the state of Louisiana. Those representatives both are members of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A. Inc., in Louisiana a Negro branch of the Baptist Community.

PRONOUNCEMENTS
On examining past positions taken by the General Board, the committee found that all of the following pronouncements were approved as "representative of 34 Protestant Communions" with less than a majority vote:

An agenda of what the United States government should do as action for peace.

An official position on the use of nuclear energy.

A protest against too much secrecy in the American government concerning control of armament and the use of space.

A demand for freeing all Japanese war prisoners.

A statement on ethics in industrial relations.

A pronouncement dealing with health services.

According to the report, the NCC on May 18, 1954, issued a pronouncement on technical assistance to foreign countries as representative of 39 million American Protestants, after a vote of only 31 for. There were six dissenting votes and no abstentions.

The most recent pronouncement by the general board was concerned with federal aid to education and was passed at the Syracuse meeting on Feb. 22, 1961. The pronouncement is particularly significant in that it is the only one of about 40 studied by the vestry committee, in which a majority of the voting membership was recorded.

PURELY POLITICAL
Delving further into past activities of the council, the local group uncovered numerous other pronouncements on "purely political problems" such as ethics in agriculture, international aid and trade, immigration and permanent universal military training which it opposed. All the pronouncements were issued as representing the thinking of American Protestants.

The report notes that the NCC always acts in controversial political matters on the general ground that they involve Christian principles. However, the document questions the "right," either moral or constitutional of the council to determine the Christian position in any matters of political, legislative or governmental nature.

The vestrymen point out that there is no question of freedom of the pulpit. But they declare that by its political activities, the NCC has carried political discord into the many facets of Protestant Christianity, "building fires of destruction under the tenets of Christian Faith, Fellowship and charity."

'HARMFUL AND DANGEROUS'
Elaborating on other ways in which it found the council "harmful and dangerous," the committee indicated that the size of the organization's professional staff largely is responsible for far-flung activities of the NCC. And they expressed the opinion that the staff is controlled by a "hard core" of professionals, many of whom have never served pastorates.

According to figures obtained from Dr. Miller, there is a total of 6,000 NCC employees including executive and administrative officials and personnel of the various departments and divisions of the council.

mentous amount of propaganda — professionally handled publicity, speeches, reports, General Board and Assembly pronouncements. In addition, workers are available for lobbying activities such as appearances before Congressional committees, the Attorney General's Office.

And all evidence indicates that the propaganda follows lines set by the General Board although presented as representative of the thinking of 39 million American Protestants, they concluded.

Discussing the charge of Communism within the NCC, the committee commented that to its knowledge, the council never has been listed by the four major governmental bodies which investigate such matters: the House Un-American Activities Committee, the Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, the Attorney General's Office and the California House Un-American Activities Committee.

PARALLELS CONSPIRACY
However, the report lists the following examples of utterances and activities of the council as closely paralleling those of the Communist conspiracy:

The Cleveland Conference which urged the seating of Red China, the abolition of universal military training and the abandonment of such military alliances as SEATO.

Proposals for alterations to the House Committee on Un-American Activities, which the report indicates ultimately would destroy it.

Criticism of the film "Operation Abolition," exposing Communist instigation of the student riots in San Francisco in 1960.

Efforts urging the repeal of the McCarran Act which restricts immigrants and also was opposed by the Communists (the vestrymen point out that the act serves to bar the entry of more Communist spies into the country).

According to the report, the NCC takes a stand in direct contrast to its position on the McCarran Act by opposing the entry of Mexican migratory workers in California.

But the committee also supplies the information that the fight against Mexican "braceros" is being led by the AFL-CIO which donated $200,000 to the NCC.

AIR FORCE MANUAL
The report also refers to a manual distributed by the U.S. Air Force last year, dealing with Communist infiltration into the churches, and said the NCC made no attempt to refute the charges despite an invitation by Congress.

After the publication of the manual, Chairman Walter of the House Un-American Activities Committee invited top officials of the NCC to appear before the committee to refute the accusations. However, the local group was informed by the House committee that the invitation was not accepted.

The report expresses the opinion that the instance involving the manual merely is indicative of the general attitude of the NCC.

The vestry report deals with criticism of individual leaders of the NCC in regard to their action by its members. And they tie which have furthered Communist causes, and the appendix which serves as a lengthy enumeration of the activities of Dr. Edwin T. Dahlerg, immediate past president of the council who has been a frequent critic.

Fireworks For The Whole Family

Un-American Activities Committee which also have been attacked by Communist front organizations.

LOBBYINACTIVITIES
Turning to the areas of criticism of the council, the vestry committee stated that Dr. Miller admitted that the NCC does participate in activities which can only be defied as lobbying. And they indicated that examples of such activities include official opposition to sit-to-work laws.

According to the report, the council curiously is studying a document which it prepared on "The Ethical Aspects of Inflation and the Economics of Defense Bonding and Disarmament." After project mentioned in a churlish program on the role that churches can play in the use and preservation of natural resources.

Reflecting the opinion that the "hard core" of professionals has extended influence into every branch of the NCC, the report laments (even at the United Churchmen) the organization is the spr of such projects as the W Day of Prayer observance annually in Shreveport and throughout the nation.

How, the vestrymen uncovered evidence recorded in the Work for the Fifth General Assn., December, 1960, to support theory. They relate that the Church Women have offered testimony on the extension of Reciprocal Trade Agreement and foreign aid; have statements on immigration, labor, appropriations for UNF and appropriations for Technical Assistance projects.

In addition, instances are cited which the women's organization supported the establishment of a Development Loan Fund of the United States of America, the UNF and the International Communist Assn. of the United States and has adopted resolutions asking for the repeal of the Un-American Activities Act.

BANDIED LAY COMMITTEE
They recall that in 1955, the General Board disbanded a lay committee which objected to the NCC in regard to their action by its members. And they tie which have furthered Communist causes, and the appendix which serves as a lengthy enumeration of the activities of Dr. Edwin T. Dahlerg, immediate past president of the council who has been a frequent critic.

The information, which was furnished by the House Un-American Activities Committee, cites as listing Dr. Dahlerg as an informant of the National Committee to Repeal the McCarran Act, which labeled "subversive." Also reveals that he signed a letter to the Citizens' Committee for Harry Bridges and other Communist front organizations and he is credited with formulating a conference of the North Atlantic Pact.

PACIFIST ACTIVITIES
The report also points out the he drew criticism for pacifistic activities as a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Church Mission.

The vestry committee a point of explaining that Dr. Dahlerg's membership in organizations never has been proved. But they state that only denial is in the letter on file with the committee.

In the appendix, the vestrymen express the opinion that Dahlerg's failure to "clear" or confirm the allegations set on all 34 communions of the NCC. And they describe the council's course in the matter as "responsible" in that it stepped actively into the situation.

The activities of Don P. Blake, another past president of the NCC, also are specifically as furthered as favorable to the Communist cause. He drew criticism for a petition to Congress as a newspaper advertisement demanding the abolition of the House

The vestrymen review briefly several of the books for adults which employ the most obscene language to describe intimate sexual activities in lurid detail. They also discuss extensively the authors of several of the recommended books, pointing out that at least five of them either are active Communists or affiliated with Communist front organizations.

According to the report, the author whose works are most numerous on the list is Langston Hughes, who was identified before a Congressional investigating body as an active Communist. He is listed as a member of at least 19 subversive organizations. In addition, he is the author of a blasphemous poem included in the appendix, which is entitled "Goody Christ."

Among the authors of other books on the list is Margaret Halsey, listed as a member of at least three organizations which have been cited as subversive. She also is listed as a supporter of Communist book shops, a signer of the Communist Party nominating petition and a sponsor of the World Peace Conference.

Also authors of NCC recommended literatures, Victor Perlo, Herbert Aptheker and W. E. B. DuBois, all have long records of association with Communist organizations, according to the report.

The vestrymen related that they questioned Dr. Miller extensively about the list and that he admitted that its release was a "mistake." However, they indicated that his attitude expressed embarrassment rather than regret.

They also quoted a letter from Dr. Roy Ross, general secretary of the NCC as follows: "I think that the greatest harm that may come out of the issuing of the book list is the misuse of it by enemies of the council who have distorted the nature of the list and who have misrepresented the purpose for which it was issued."

The report concludes that Dr. Ross' statement typifies the attitude of indifference to the effect on others which is characteristic of professional administration of the organization. And they state that rather than serving as a great cohesive power as it was intended, the NCC by its actions is splitting the churches wide open.

(Over the next three days, excerpts of the 12,000 word report will appear on the News' editorial page.)

The number of scheduled commercial airlines in U.S. at the beginning of 1959 totaled 1,717, up from 437 at the beginning of 1941.

Pegler Says:

Why Justify AFL-CIO Crimes, Pick On KKK

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — On my travels in the South of late I read in some of the northern papers that the Ku Klux Klan was battling people around in riots fomented by interlopers from New York and Chicago. One picture showed a white man with a nosebleed and a dramatic smear of gore on his wrist, his collar and the front of his white shirt. This is a common picket line sight of course. But it was a terrible slaughter, a massacre, almost a pogrom in these surroundings and there was circumstantial text to the effect that fiends in human form had used ball bats and iron pipes on cut-rate Gandhis, most of them white men. I will bet you that if a 220 hitter in the Little League should clip any normal man with an official junior bat that man wouldn't even twitch, still less get up, but let us proceed —

I used to have a very harsh opinion of the Ku Klux Klan. In the twenties when Charlie Sweeney, an Irish Catholic Reporter for The World under the great Herbie Swope, exposed the Klan in Atlanta, Macon and Augusta, and little Sidney Whipple was yapping defiance in the Denver Express, I barnstormed the country all I could and often denounced the Klan fearlessly. Herbie Swope got practically all the credit for that, but his role reminded me of a story of Charles H. Chapin, the tyrant city editor of the old Evening World somewhat before Herbie Swope's time, who was said to have belittled to a reporter on the phone, "threw you downstairs, did he? Well, you go back and tell that swine he can't intimidate the New York Evening World."

I never was much afraid of the KKK even in Kissimmee, which in those days was one of the toughest dirt-road towns in the country but without the renown of Cripple Creek or Cicero. In Kissimmee, whiskey specimens of swamp life would crawl out of the primeval slime at dusk and quietly yank some neighbor out of his home and paddle back into the everglades and either strimp him up for buzzard bait or weight him down with old iron to nourish the alligators and a special brand of snapping turtles which can snap a crowbar in half with one clamp.

I always heard that this was the doing of the KKK although there never were any convictions, and it may have been a case of false witness. It is very dangerous to hazard a doubt of the perfidious nature of the Klan even though indictments were rare and convictions more so. Years later, in France, the Communists would knife a German soldier on a quiet street in the dead of night and ten members of the resistance would be picked up at random in a process like the fearsome military punishment called decimation and put to death by German firing squads to throw the fear of God into the population. Then the Communists would kill another German soldier and so forth and so forth.

Now in these recent fracas down south there was no evidence to say nothing of proof, that the KKK let any blood or even made a typical CIO phone call in the dead of night to terrify any innocent victim. Nevertheless, the Ku Klux Klan was presumed to have resorted to awful wickedness and so I began to study the cards in my hand.

How come you so angrily deplore brutality, bloodshed and denial of civil rights by a suspect vaguely called the KKK but never have raised your voice against the mobs of the United Auto Workers, the several sailors' unions, the steel workers and a hundred other terrorist bands of your own personal political constituency and your august brother Jack's? Bobby, what has the KKK done, even assuming that it did paste a few people in the snoot who went down south looking for trouble, that these unions of your political adherence have not done to the nth power?

I think that puts the questions neatly but I would like also to lay it down that as far as the evidence goes, the KKK is innocent in all this noisy mischief down south whereas many of the unions of the Democratic political organization are actually organized gangs of thugs fairly comparable to Hitler's Brown Shirts. None of these things has the slightest respect for the constitutional rights and "civil liberties", which the administration pretends to cherish when "freedom" rioters are slapped around. And the very spirit of all this is a denial of the right to vote in union matters, the right to fair and speedy trials on fake charges before kangaroo courts, the right to work at lawful jobs and the right to receive, in full pay which they have earned.

I have never heard a charge against the KKK in all the years from the 20's which has not been generally made against the AFL-CIO and their components. And all such crimes are justified on the ground that these monsters with blood on their hands, in claiming to act for workers with no power to repudiate them, had thus ennobled their crimes.

Representation in both bodies is determined for the most part on each Communion's total membership.

The vestry report notes critically that an extremely small representation is required for a quorum (20 votes) to conduct business for the General Board.

Consequently, the report states, a mere eleven and a half per cent of the total voting membership of the General Board, if it is from twenty-nine and a half per cent of the Communions, is a quorum and can conduct business. And it stresses the fact that only 11 votes are required for a majority of such a quorum.

The Vestrymen describe the General Board as a body created through a somewhat "nebulous" chain of authority that has resulted in only two representatives, each possessing only a half of Nowadays the ladies envy a wife whose husband does yard work and other chores. Indian women had nothing but contempt for such a husband. They called him a "squaw man." Primitive Indians considered it woman's work to care for the household, dress skins, and tend the crops as well. The women wanted it this way.

Pampa's Colts, Borger Braves To Meet Today

Baseball fans in the Pampa area should find no complaint on the holiday menu being served to them through July Fourth.

The Optimist Colts will host the Borger Braves at 4 p.m. today in Optimist Park. Jimmy Walker has been given the nod to start the game on the mound for the Colts. Pampa will be the scene Tuesday, July Fourth, of the Tri-State

All-star game. Starting players for the two All-Star teams are expected to be announced tomorrow.

This should be a special magnet for fans, not only in Pampa, but from all cities in the league.

Last night the Optimists played the Graham-Hamey Plow team of Amarillo out at Optimist Park and whipped the Amarillo nine 10 to 2 in a game that lasted until nearly 11 o'clock.

Nick Curtis was on the mound for the Colts and allowed 6 hits and struck out 17 batters. Tom Reed started for Amarillo.

Friday night the Colts lost a heart-breaker at Woodward, Okla. The final score was 7 to 5 in favor of the Oklahomans. Costly errors by the Colts gave Woodward an unearned victory.

Kippy Williams pitched good ball, allowing only four hits until the 7th when he was relieved by Ken Parker who retired the side. Then in the 8th with one out, Parker walked two men and was relieved by Secret who gave up a scratch hit and a good solid double to let two runs score.

There were a couple of threatened donnybrooks on the Friday night game over some of the calls but the umpires' decisions stood and the record book reads 7 to 5, Woodward.

Holiday Fun Scheduled At Country Club

Pampa Country Club has scheduled a full day of outdoor activities for observance of the fourth of July at the club.

Golfing will be in progress all day beginning as early as the golfers desire. A special event, Scotch Foursome, are slated to begin at 1 p.m.

Swimming activities for boys and girls will get underway at 11 a.m. (not 1 p.m. as stated in the club bulletin.) Speed races in 25 and 50 yard distances in separate divisions for boys and girls eight years and under and 12 years and under, will be held as well as an underwater swim for distance open to both boys and girls.

To be included in the swim activities is a greased watermelon contest, gold fish chase and clown diving.

The club's fourth of July activities will conclude with a barbecue to be served at 8 p.m.

Pampa All-Stars Among Entrants

LUBBOCK (Sp) — The Pampa All-Stars are among the eight entrants in the northern division regional National Baseball Congress tournament slated in Lubbock July 24-31.

Ten teams are being planned for in the double elimination tournament. If more enter, playoffs will be played a week prior to the meet to cut the field back to 10.

Those already in the field are Pampa, Borger, Graham - Home of Amarillo, the Irrigation League All - Stars, Hamlin. Goodfellow A-F of San Angelo and two clubs from Lubbock. The Lubbock Rangers are defending champions.

Deadline for entering the tournament is July 8. Any team from the Pampa area is eligible to enter. Entry fees, which are $25, should be mailed to Dick Walker at the Lubbock Park and Recreation Dept.

LL Batter Has Perfect Night At The Plate

Jack Thompson had a perfect night at the plate Friday night in the Little League game between Sealest and Celanese played at Optimist park.

Thompson hit four for four, getting a single, a double, a triple and a home run. There was one man on when he hit the home run. Patterson was the winning pitcher. Valasquez was the losing moundman.

All-Stars Are Chosen By Majors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers and Frank Bolling of the Milwaukee Braves, neither ever before chosen on a major league All-Star team, led the American and National League voting for the 1961 starting teams announced Saturday.

Commissioner Ford Frick's poll of players, managers and coaches for the eight starting positions on each team showed a 75 per cent turnover from last year.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Ed Mathews of the Braves were the only holdovers from the National League's 1960 starting team, while Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris were the only American League repeaters.

Each starting team had two "rookie" starters. Besides Cash, the AL newcomer was catcher Johnny Romano of the Cleveland Indians, and on the NL team, Bolling and shortstop Maurie Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers were honored for the first time.

Here is how the teams will line up at the eight positions for the two All-Star games, to be played at San Francisco, July 11, and at Boston, July 31:

National League	Position
Smoky Burgess, Pirates	C
Bill White, Cardinals	1B
Frank Bolling, Braves	2B
Ed Mathews, Braves	3B
Maurie Wills, Dodgers	SS
Orlando Cepeda, Giants	LF
Willie Mays, Giants	CF
Roberto Clemente, Pirates	RF
American League	Position
John Romano, Indians	C
Norm Cash, Tigers	1B
Johnny Temple, Indians	2B
Brooks Robinson, Orioles	3B
Tony Kubek, Yankees	SS
Rocky Colavito, Tigers	LF
Mickey Mantle, Yankees	CF
Roger Maris, Yankees	RF

The Yankees thus led in number of starting players with three. The Tigers and Indians each had two representatives on the AL team and the Braves, Pirates and Giants had two each in the NL.

The All-Star managers—Danny Murtagh of the Pirates and Paul Richards of the Orioles—will select the pitching staffs and the reserve players early next week. These will be announced by the respective league presidents.

J. Hatcher Wins Jaycee Golf Crown

John Hatcher, 17, of 616 Bradley Drive, won the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Golf Tournament held at the Pampa Country Club June 28, with a 27-hole score of 110. Leonard Hudson, 16, 2429 Mary Ellen, won second place with a score of 114. Fred Howard, 16, 616 Bradley Drive, won third place with a score of 127. Jim Deaton, 13, 1332 Terrace, defeated Richard Ellis, 12, 1913 N. Dwight, in a sudden death playoff for fourth place. Both ended the 27 hole with a score of 137.

By winning the first four places in the tournament, Hatcher, Hudson, Howard, and Deaton will be eligible to participate in the Regional Tournament to be held at the Pampa Country Club July 12. The winners of the Regional Tournament will be eligible to participate in the State Tournament on July 28 in Lake Jackson, Texas.

All the contestants will be the guests of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting Tuesday, July 11, in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Gulf Fishing Enthusiasts To Compete

By United Press International Promising, that's the outlook in a word for coast fishing during the long Fourth-of-July weekend. Everything points to an active session of fishing on the Gulf and in the bays and surf.

The Weather Bureau in Houston credited a high pressure area in the Gulf with pushing back any kind of front coming from inland. Stable winds from the south at moderate rates were forecast.

A chance of showers was called for, especially in the early morning. But the overall forecast was favorable to the angler.

Despite heavy rains for two weeks, Gulf Coast fishing had nearly reached its summer peak this week. Some veteran fishermen gave the rains credit for the activity.

From all along the coast, anglers and camp owners were enthusiastic over prospects this weekend.

Two big fishing tournaments were scheduled for the weekend. The 14th annual Freepoint Fishing Fiesta, with over 1,900 entries expected, rates as one of the nation's biggest. For Galveston Bay anglers, there was Baytown's annual tourney.

At Freepoint, prizes were set for 23 classes ranging from tarpon to crab.

The four-day tourney includes the area between San Luis Pass and the Bernard River. Any fish taken by a registered entry in this region would be eligible for a prize.

Anglers operating out of Freepoint are expected to find everything working in their favor this weekend. Kingfish were numerous. Snapper up to 20 pounds were reported this week. Catches of ling, including a 32-pounder, were caught.

Big bonito were caught on all party boats out of Freepoint this week. Mackerel and some dolphin were also taken.

In Christmas Bay, some reds and speckled trout were caught. Excellent water conditions around Galveston jetties paid off well in mackerel, trout and big jackfish. The mackerel run was intense, anglers there said. Five-pound trout was the rule this week at the jetties.

Alfred Brown made the play of the night for the winning Mohawk crew with a shoe-string catch of a line drive to right field in the fourth inning.

Mohawk Defeats Rotary 8 To 2

Gary Molberg chalked up win No. 5 when he defeated Rotary's Little Leaguers Friday night at Optimist park by a margin of 8 to 2. Molberg struck out 13 batters and allowed only two hits. He was also the game's leading hitter, annexing two singles in three trips to the plate.

Alfred Brown made the play of the night for the winning Mohawk crew with a shoe-string catch of a line drive to right field in the fourth inning.

Mohawk moved into a tie for first place with Rotary by virtue of the victory. A five-run outburst in the fifth inning sewed up the contest for Mohawk. Robbie Walters hit a line drive double that produced two runs during the outburst.

Texas Miss Wins Open Golf Title

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (UPI)—Pretty Miss Mickey Wright, the battering blonde from Dallas, roared through blistering heat Saturday with a three-under-par 69 and a closing 72 for a 293 total which gave her a third U. S. Women's Open golf championship.

Hard-hitting Mickey, a 26-year-old native of San Diego who won the title in 1958 and 1955, blasted 230-yard drives and putted with a shoplifter's touch as she surged from four shots off the pace to the top of the women's golf world.

Starting the final 18 holes she held a two-shot lead over petite Betsy Rawls, the tournament-hardened veteran from Spartanburg, S. C., who has won the title four times. But the five foot, nine inch 150-pound Mickey kept her high-strung nerves under control to win going away as Miss Rawls finished with a 38-38-76 for 299.

Tigers Score 11-8 Victory

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Rocky Colavito's double and Jake Wood's triple highlighted a four-run explosion in the 11th inning that carried the league-leading Detroit Tigers to an 11-8 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

The victory, fourth in a row for the Tigers, enabled them to maintain their two-game lead over the Yankees and was credited to Bill Fischer, fourth Detroit hurler.

The Orioles slammed 17 hits to the Tigers' 12, and had three homers—the 19th and 20th for Jim Gentile and the 11th for Gus Triandos. But Baltimore had to rally for two runs in the last of the ninth, both driven in by Dave Philley's pinch single with two out, to send the game into overtime tied, 7-7.

Detroit broke the tie in the 11th when Bill Bruton walked. Al Kaline sacrificed, and Colavito doubled. Norm Cash also walked and Colavito then scored when losing pitcher Dick Hyde threw wildly in an attempt for a double play. Wood's triple drove in the last two runs.

Video Stretched 'The Haven' Bit Thin For Writer

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — The current Federal Communications Commission (FCC) hearings on network programming have echoed with references to the "golden age" of TV drama.

A sample of what the so-called "golden age" turned out back in the mid-50s was dangled from CBS-TV's dramatic charm bracelet, "The U.S. Steel Hour," last night. It was a new production of Tad Mosel's "The Haven."

In harking back to TV drama's rump-sprung past, Shirley Booth and Gene Raymond starred in a story about an incompatible beer-and-brandy marriage. The story had a number of excellent scenes, but its premise was stretched too thin to be meaningful.

Miss Booth portrayed Eunice, a gum-chewing, beer-drinking, warm-hearted, slightly bawdy housewife who smothered her two children with companionship and worked her fingers to the bone to keep Howard, her brandy-sipping, sensitive, neat husband untrammelled by the trials and tribulations of family life.

Howard, played by Raymond, was the bookish, uncommunicative antithesis of Eunice. Eunice describes this relationship and the reason it wasn't making it with these words, "You think things and feel things that are away over my head, but I think I know what you mean."

During the family's summer stay at its lakeside cottage — a stay that Howard sought to avoid — Eunice discovers that her man had spent one wintry week, the week he was supposed to be in Terre Haute, at the cottage with another woman. The ensuing confrontation, complete with string section Schmaltring "Clair de Lune" in the background, cleared the script's exaggerations because closer together.

I'm willing to overlook some of the air and brought our couple of the sound, believable way in which Mosel handled the big scenes and flare-ups. He showed, I thought, exquisite understanding. Miss Booth was at her best during a scene in which she prettied up before the showdown with Howard. Otherwise, I thought she was about one rehearsal shy of being ready. In a role that was a bramble of patience, she crashed out her lines with impatience and a shortage of resignation. If only Director Don Richardson had been able to key her performance to the TV screen.

Gene Raymond, still looking in great condition, handled his assignment with understanding and restraint, although there were moments when he overplayed the anguish.

There's one more thing about these slice-of-life teleplays: The writer, actors, the set designer all strive for realism and then find their efforts being undercut by unreal props. In "The Haven," for example, nothing could show a label. Beer cans, milk container, even the phonograph record, all were painted or pasted over. Little things like that can and do mar carefully constructed moods.

But then, it was that way back in the "golden age," too.

The Channel Swim: "Continental Classroom" launches a new course in American government on NBC-TV next fall. Dr. Peter Odgaard, professor of political science at the University of California at Berkeley, will teach the college-level course beginning Monday, Sept. 25. The program airs from 6:30 to 7 a.m. local time.

Once-Ailing Cowgirl Saddled With Success

OKEMAH, Okla. (UPI) — Pretty Jane Mayo found life, health and a handsome living riding horseback.

The world champion cowgirl, 24, was stricken by a rare blood disease when she was a tot. Doctors predicted she would die before she was five.

W. H. Mayo, her father, bought tiny Jane a gentle horse — old Buck. The sickly tot learned to ride. And the fresh air and sunshine she soaked in while atop the horse brought her back to health. Today, the shapely lass rides a handsome horse named V. Sandy at breakneck speeds in barrel races at rodeos across the continent. She has won $30,000 atop V. Sandy.

Miss Mayo, who looks much too dainty to ride in a western rodeo, said she would rather rope and bulldog calves than ride in the barrel races. She even has ridden wild bucking broncs in some rodeos.

She credits Sandy with victories while barrel racing and roping. "A city boy could do better in a race on Sandy than I could do on an untrained horse," she said.

For the past two years Miss Mayo easily has won the world's championship for girls' barrel racing. In 1959 she was elected the all-around cowgirl, but a technicality cost her the title the following year.

During her career, six years as a professional and five years an amateur, she has entered most competitive events. She said the bruises are often and many. Once, she broke a leg.

"The hardest part of professional rodeo work," she said, "is the long drive between shows." She drives 60,000 miles a year. Her gasoline bill some months is $300.

Alcohol Effect

NEW YORK (UPI) — In 12 to 16 persons the drinking of one pint of bottled beer was followed in two hours by pronounced lowering of blood clotting time, Dr. G. R. Fernley reports in "Clinical Medicine."

Whisky in a dose of two ounces had no significant effect. Fearnley found that clotting time in both men and women was greatly prolonged on the days on which beer — one pint and two pints, cider or white wine were taken. The reduction of coagulation activity was greatest at two hours following ingestion.

Governor Daniel Speaks — Money Saving Steps Could Cut Tax Needs

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Gov. Price Daniel has taken a stand against able escheat laws, following an age-old principle of English common law that property without a legal owner belongs to all of the people. Texas has had this principle in its laws since the days of the republic.

The American Association, the Laws and the Council of State Governments have all recommended laws of this nature.

Some bankers and other opponents of the escheat enforcement proposal have tried to leave the impression that the state would be "confiscating" money belonging to someone else. Actually, the bill would provide a workable system for protection of the property, reporting and obtaining it through the courts. Only money which has been unclaimed for at least seven years, with no known owners, would be affected.

Other economy or general fund saving measures include: —Financing the Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road program from special earmarked farm-to-market road funds in the highway department for a period of two years, thus relieving the general fund of a $30 million burden during a two-year period. This would be temporary and would not reduce construction of farm roads even temporarily.

A $50-per-semester tuition increase at state supported colleges and universities, which would bring in $10 million more a year. This would pay only half of the increase proposed for our college appropriations. —Redefining scholastics as pupils in average daily attendance, for a saving of $190,000 a year; changing statutory allocation of certain tax revenue from the available school fund to the minimum foundation fund, for a saving of $562,000 annually; and increasing collections from families of non-indigent state hospital patients, which would yield at least $3 million a year.

I hope that some of these sound proposals will get more careful consideration in the special session than they received in the regular session, when pressure for a general sales tax crowded many good revenue and economy measures into the background.

Peg O' Pampa

LET'S DISPENSE with the social amenities to open the column this week and get right to the business at hand... if you've switched from winter hot to summer iced coffee, go fill your glass and settle down comfy-like and we'll fill you in on some choice items about the Pampa population and what they have been doing in these first few pleasant days of summer.

IT'S DELIGHTFUL to hear of Winifred (Tweety) Watson's summer nuptial plans... she is to be married on July 22 in the Baptist Church in Leeds, England, to Douglas Lee Boone, who is stationed in Germany... a boy she met and dated during school days in Snyder... Doug's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Boone of Miami, Okla., and, of course, Tweety's parents, the W. A. (Johnny) Watsons are going over for the wedding, and also to visit with Jonny's relatives who live in England... the Watsons and their bride-elect daughter will sail aboard the Queen Mary from a New York harbor on July 9... Johnny's folks are making most of the preliminary wedding arrangements in England while the bride-elect is en route, but the major problem for Tweety right now seems to be packing enough clothes for a year's stay in Germany, where the couple will live following a wedding trip... they do plan to make their home in the United States later on... Grace and Johnny plan an extended stay in Europe while they are there for it has been some time since he has seen his relatives... they will probably be away about three months... Tweety has been employed for the past four years in the Humble Oil Co. offices in Snyder and her dad has just retired as superintendent for the same oil company... speaking of Humble, they are transferring a delightful family away from us... The Walter Pangos are moving to Tulsa soon... nice promotion for Walter but a sad announcement to all of their friends... a lovely and fun-filled party with the same transferring theme was given Wednesday night in the Pampa Country Club for Cecil and Joan-Tedrow, who are moving to Wichita, Kan., where he will be associated as a sales engineer in the Schlumberger division office... also bid farewell at the same party were Randy and Faye Schultz, who are moving to Liberal, Kan., but since you must always look for silver in every cloud lining... moving in to take the Tedrow's place are the Ben Rays of Amarillo.

WHAT WE'VE HEARD... pretty, dark-eyed, dark-haired Kristi Brown was in Stillwater, Okla. this week attending orientation sessions prior to entering Oklahoma State College next fall... Kristi will have some pretty, big foot-steps to fill for it's the same school that her dad, Howard, attended, oh, not so many years ago... Barbara Johnson is on her way to becoming a member of that badly needed group of young women in the nursing profession... she received her cap recently in a capping ceremony conducted by the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Lubbock and held in St. John's Methodist Church... the candlelighting ceremony marked her advancement from pre-clinical training to the freshman class... at the close of the ceremony, the hospital auxiliary honored the class with a reception in the church garden and Virginia Patten has just received a diploma from the Famous Artists School in Westport, Conn... she specialized in a home-study course in commercial art and illustration... heading the faculty at the school are Norman Rockwell, Albert Dorne and Jon Whitcomb... we always think of the Saturday Evening Post when we hear Norman Rockwell's name... did you see the illustration on this week's cover, which showed two neighbors, who live side by side... one was asleep on the porch with a paper over his face and his yard was in sad shape... the neighbor next door was industriously clipping a hedge that surrounded a neat, well-kept yard... does it remind you of anyone?

BONNIE HUTCHINSON'S sor. and family, the W. C. Hutchinson Jr.'s are visiting her this month from Lima, Peru... Bill has a most attractive brunette wife, two handsome sons, David and Michael and an interesting position in sales for the Miring Safety Appliance Co. of Pittsburg, Pa... they have been living in Peru for the past three years and will be in the States for three months... they plan to visit here with Bonnie until the latter part of July or early part of August then will go to New York to visit with Mrs. Hutchinson's mother... then a brief stint in the company's home offices in Pittsburg before returning to their home in Peru... the Fred A. Cary residence out on Fir Street was a hectic-happy spot last Sunday afternoon as families of the Cary-Tracy clan met for a reunion... they came from far and wide... una we heard that there were 35 for dinner... paper plates were used, we hope... for we're an old hand at being chief dishwasher following family reunions... sorta takes the joy out of reunioning... be that as it may, we know they had a wonderful day together.

WE NOTE THAT the Lefors Home Demonstration Club is up for an honor from the Lane Bryant Awards in recognition of an outstanding community service... they are semi-finalists for a $1,000 award to be given... and all because they took an unsightly plot of ground and by hard labor and diligent plating, made it into an attractive area, which they named Leforian Park... complete with trees, grass, playground equipment, barbecuing ovens' picnic tables... it's worth an evening's drive through pretty, rolling hills scenery down to Lefors just to see what willing hands and civic enthusiasm can accomplish... our congratulations.

SOCIAL EVENTS... Jo Ann and John Jones gave a birthday party for their dad, Dr. W. Calvin, on Monday evening in the Pampa Club and invited a few friends to help celebrate the occasion... among them the E. J. Dunigan Jr.s, and the A. A. Scunemans... while downstairs in the Starlight Room new officers were installed for the Altrusa Club in a beautiful, atmospheric Island setting... Leah Behrman with a group of other Altrusans went all out to make the occasion a most memorable one... this service-for-others club always does things in a big way and the Monday night affair was no exception... among the special guests were Ida B. Hughey, Betty Finkstein, Althea Curry, Alma Ash and Nell Tinnin... and a picnic to end all picnics was the Prairie Picnic given last Friday night by members of the Asbury Class of First Methodist Church... we are not actually sure where the picnic site was although we heard that Barry Bowman led a group of cars on a mile after mile trail, then on a long hike that led to a sandy clearing near the Canadian River... and the evening was not with incident... after a huge bonfire was lighted, there was the uneasy suspicion that coyotes might be lurking around the dark fringes of the lighted circle... and an inquisitive airplane pilot kept circling around the picnic area curious about the bonfire on the prairie in the late evening... some of the brave picknickers were Bob Black, Shirley Wilson, Ernest Upton, Becky Skelley, Charles Morgan and Betty Boswell... The T. H. Tarrents have a most memorable vacation... they stopped off recently in Oklahoma City to visit the state capitol, where Mrs. Tarrent's father, the late state senator Tom Hogg of Leedy, Okla. attended sessions... while they were there they were introduced in the Senate and made honorary members... their sons, Ricky and Larry, were made honorary page-boys and issued badges... and their daughter, Judy, not fitting into the category of page-boy, was made honorary district clerk... following all of this honor, they motored on to Joplin, Mo., where they visited with relatives and friends.

CAN YOU REALIZE that this is the first week in July???. There's to be a bang-up celebration on the fourth at the Recreation Park... see you there?

Love, Peg

Dear Abby...
Best Or Beast??
Lady Confused
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a man who was married before. He has been a perfect angel to me. He knows I dislike drinking, so he has not touched a drop since we started going together. He is always thoughtful and considerate, and I think he will make a fine husband. My problem is this: His ex-wife paid me a "friendly" visit. She told me he was the world's worst husband. She said he drank like a fish, chased around, and she could never believe a word he said. I am confused now. Should I believe his ex-wife or should I judge him from his actions with me?

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: If this man is good to you, it is apparent that you bring out the best in him. His ex-wife evidently brought out the beast. Judge him for what he is.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is overseas in the Service. My problem is he hardly ever writes! Sometimes two and three weeks will go by without a letter from him. I write to him almost every day, and I am getting tired of this one-sided correspondence. When he does write, he says he loves me and there is nothing to do over there, so there is nothing to write about. Is this possible? Do you think I ought to write and tell him if he can't do any better than this I am going to drop him?

THE GIRL AT HOME
DEAR GIRL: Write him all the home town news. Send him clips from the local paper and ask him what he thinks about what you've sent. But, for goodness sake, don't threaten to drop him. He needs your letters more than ever now.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I started to share an apartment with another girl. We get along fine except for one thing.

She has a fiancé who is a very large fellow. And so is his appetite. He comes to our apartment almost every night for dinner. On week-ends he sleeps on our couch.

My roommate and I agreed to split the expenses down the middle. This includes groceries. Do you think I should be paying for half the groceries when her fiancé eats almost all of them? (He drinks four bottles of beer in one evening.)

This is my first experience with a roommate, and I don't want to cause hard feelings. How should I handle this?

ROOMMATE
DEAR ROOMMATE: It would appear that you have TWO roommates — not one. Therefore, the expenses should be divided into three parts — like Gaul, (which is something your roommate has plenty of). Find another roommate. You are being had.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LONG TALL SALL": Don't expect him to call. Why should a man run after a train he's already caught?

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

 Other members of the houseparty were Mes. Kent McDonald, Dale Taylor, Everett Butler, Ross Nix, Erma Kaynes, Ovie Tipton, Eileen Butler and Janell McDonald.
 Mrs. Ross Nix of Groom, Mrs. Everett Butler of White Deer, aunts of the bride, made the heart-shaped mints for the reception.
 For a brief wedding trip, the bride traveled in a blue brocade dress with white accessories complemented with the white roses corsage from the center of the bride's bouquet.

 Mr. Purgason was graduated from Dumas High School in 1960 and attended Texas Technological College last year. The bridegroom has also been active in choir work. The couple plan to make their home in Dumas during the summer and return to Lubbock next fall, where the bridegroom will continue with his studies. During the summer months, he is employed by Shamrock Refinery in Dumas.
 Prior to the wedding, a rehearsal dinner was given in the bride's home on the Saturday before the wedding with both sets of parents and aunts of the bride as hosts. Mrs. Allan L. Smith of Richmond, Va. also assisted with hospitalities.
 The serving table was centered with an arrangement of white daisies arranged by Mrs. C. C. Dunham and Mrs. Milo Carlson.

Floral leis Symbolize Altrusa Club Ceremony

The Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn was transformed into a tropical island for the installation buffet given by the Altrusa Club of Pampa on Monday evening.
 Fish-nets draped across the wall, back of a grass-covered platform, formed a backdrop for the floor-to-ceiling Jade Palms, flower-filled baskets hanging by rope chains from the ceiling, colorful butterfly prints, and a huge fish-centered just below the fish-nets. The stage was decorated with plumaris trees and rubber plants.
 Each of the dining tables were appointed with yellow cloths draped on the front with fish-nets caught up at off-center corners with flirty-fishes with long eyelashes.
 Each table was centered on the front edge with large candles encircled with fruit and lined with a row of greenery. Fresh coconut and lichee nuts in jeweled shells, colorfully wrapped pineapple candies completed the table appointments.
 Hawaiian music played softly in the background throughout the evening.
 Mrs. Clyde Vanderberg, outgoing president, presided as reports were given by committee chairmen.
 In a colorful, atmospheric ceremony, Mrs. B. M. Behrman installed new officers with the presentation of leis accented with fresh flowers as symbols for the office taken.
 Mrs. L. L. Harkins, incoming president, was presented with a rose lei symbolizing "love for the work of Altrusa." Mrs. Lorene Locke, vice president, was given a carnation lei symbolizing vision; Mrs. Clay Coston, recording secretary, a geranium lei for kindness; Mrs. Evelyn Mason, corresponding secretary, a Daisy lei for fact; Mrs. Bob Robinson, treasurer; Mrs. E. M. Keller, as director, a gladioli lei for thoughtfulness.
 Mrs. Irl Smith and Mrs. Roy Kay will continue terms as directors. Mrs. Vanderberg, as parliamentarian, was presented with an orchid lei for "good luck."
 Entertainment was provided by a group of Hawaiian dancers, Mes. G. W. Vance, John Gill, Charles Beard, Burl Graham Jr., Walton Wailey and Murray Castelberry. The dancers had been instructed by Mrs. Vance, who learned the authentic Hawaiian dances, while she and her husband lived on the Islands for several years.
 Awards of charm bracelets, for perfect attendance throughout the year, were presented to Mes. Clyde Vanderberg, Irl Smith and L. L. Harkins by Mrs. E. E. Etheridge, membership chairman.
 Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Grant Anderson, initiated Mrs. Lonnie Kenney, a chemist at Celanese Corp. of America, as a new member.
 Mrs. Lorene Locke was awarded the Information Quiz prize for having answered the most questions correctly throughout the year in a contest conducted by the Altrusa Information Committee.
 Following the installation, Mrs. Vanderberg presented Mrs. Harkins with the "gavel of authority" and the president's pin, which has been traditionally passed along from president to president throughout the years. Mrs. Harkins presented Mrs. Vanderberg with an original penciled sketch, which Mrs. Harkins had done of Mrs. Vanderberg, and with the past president's pin.
 Hostesses, dressed in colorful Hawaiian muumus, were Mes. Roy Kay, Frank Smith, Vena Lard, Irl Smith, Jay Flanagan, Vernon L. Hobbs, E. E. Etheridge, and B. M. Behrman.
 Approximately 62 guests and members attended.

Descendants of the late Judge Nephthal Tracy and Nancy Caroline Swindle Tracy of Perry and Henderson Counties, Tenn., came from three states for a reunion and family dinner last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Cary 1922-Fir during which seven first-cousins were reunited for the first time in 40 years.

Four of Judge Tracy's children came from Tennessee with their families to pioneer the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle. Judge Edward E. Tracy came to Clarendon in 1890 and after the Cheyenne-Arapaho Indian Territory of western Oklahoma was opened to settlement in 1891, he was joined by two brothers, Judge Daniel W. Tracy and John Bell Tracy, all settling at Cheyenne, Okla. In 1906 their youngest sister Mrs. David W. Cary moved with her family to Pampa. Another brother, Dr. James N. Tracy of Memphis bought land here, but remained in Tennessee. Descendants of another sister, Mrs. Josie Tracy Owen, also settled at Cheyenne, and her grandson A. Y. Owen, Jr. is area photographer for Life Magazine at Oklahoma City.

Those attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Royal E. Cary, New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Johnson, and Mr. Robert Henry Johnson of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. J. Tracy Cary and Miss Carolyn Cary of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert F. Tracy; Mr. Glen M. Tracy; Mr. and Mrs. Collier Tracy, and Mr. Kenneth Tracy of Cheyenne, Okla.; Mrs. Ollie Tracy Sides and Mrs. Vera Tracy Moore of Sayre, Okla.; Miss Ann Holman of Pittsburgh; Mr. Lloyd Deuel of San Antonio; and Mrs. C. E. Cary, Tracy D. Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Cary, Mrs. Doshia Anderson, Mrs. Lorene O. Locke, Mrs. Vera Lard, Mrs. Bernice Cunningham, and Ramon C. Wilson, all of Pampa.

Consider a Stole Big, bold chiffon scarves that serve as summer stoles are back in fashion favor. These come in stripes and box plaids as well as vivid or pastel colors.

All of last year's officers, including the national president, Mrs. Corrie Freeman of Little Rock, Ark., were re-elected and two posts on the executive board were filled. Mrs. Grace Willingham of Dallas was named to the Post I of the national board, which had been held for the past two years by Mrs. B. G. Gordon of Pampa. Post II was filled by Mrs. Ruth Foster McClain of Missouri.

De-Salting Sea Water Race On With Russia

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The race to desalt sea water is on. The Soviet Union has a high priority "rush" research program. The U.S. has just turned on full tilt its first million-gallon-a-day demonstration plant, at Freeport, Tex.

There's a new half-million-gallon-a-day plant on the Island of Guernsey. In 1962, little Israel is scheduled to begin operating a quarter-million-gallon-a-day plant with a radical new design to water a part of its Negev desert. Why the rush? In the U.S., technical men warn there will be a crucial national water shortage in less than 15 years. Industrial development of key areas, especially in the West and Southwest, already is being held back by the shortage.

Water shortages make it almost impossible to develop many of the key underdeveloped areas of the world in the Middle East and Africa. Parts of Russia are believed to be feeling the pinch.

Some government scientists now see the possibility of a wide-spread drive for building water desalting plants in the late '60s. This doesn't mean that turning ocean water into "fresh" will be cheap by then. But so many cities and so many industries will need waters so badly that they'll be willing to pay.

Right now, desalting plants around the world are turning out about 20 million gallons of water a day. They're in Kuwait on the Persian Gulf, in the Caribbean, California and in South Africa.

Costs of producing fresh water from these plants run from about $5 a thousand gallons down to $1.45 a thousand. The new plant at Freeport, it's estimated, will turn salt water into "fresh" at about $1 a thousand gallons. A larger version of the projected Israel plant would also produce usable water at around $1 a thousand gallons.

Natural fresh water costs all the way from a half-cent a thousand gallons up to $6 or $7 or even more. But most U.S. communities spend about 30 to 45 cents per thousand — and sell it to their consumers at 25 to 40 cents by absorbing some of the overhead. But 70 cents a thousand is not unusual. Some consumers just outside Washington, D. C., pay 75 cents.

Desalting scientists think they one day will get costs down to 42 to 48 cents a thousand gallons. They assume:

- Big plants will be ironed out of the methods they're working on.
- There will be a 50 per cent step-up in their decade-long $20 million research and development program.

- Some important technical breakthroughs will be made.
- Costs will be cut by selling some power and chemicals from sea water as by-products.

- A great part of these things can be accomplished in the next five to eight years.
- There are some technical men in the Department of the Interior who would be willing to bet the U.S. will be able to produce desalted water for as low as 40 cents a thousand gallons within 10 to 15 years, if savings from selling by-products are realized.

- These optimists are expecting some real breakthroughs. They point out that the five methods the U.S. is trying out in its multi-million dollar demonstration program are basically old ideas. They include distilling salty water by flash evaporation, a solar heat method reminiscent of the tea kettle. They include freezing water into pure ice and then skimming off the ice. One plan calls for purifying water through a series of membranes, using electrical currents. Another suggests using atomic power for the heat needed to desalt the water.

- Using ultrasonics, sounds so high pitched you can't hear them. Scientists hope that the powerful vibrations would somehow act differently on the salt and on the water, helping to separate the two.
- Bubbling some types of gas through the salty water. The right gases at the right temperatures and pressures form crystals with the water. The salt can then be washed off, the temperature raised and the gas bubbled. This leaves pure water.
- Exploding an atomic or hydrogen bomb underneath a body of salty water. The heat and the difference in temperature, the scientists say, could be used to separate the water from the salt.

The historic Liberty Bell was made in England in 1752 and later recast in Philadelphia.
