Mongolia Move By Kennedy May Have Hit Block

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Admin istration plans to establish relations with Communist Outer Mongolia have bogged down in threats of congressional reprisal and Nationalist Chinese protests.

A State Department official said no decision has been made yet on whether to recognize the Mongolia peoples republic or support its admission to the United Nations.

American officials in Moscow conferred with the Mongolian ambassador there twice last month on the tentative plan to open an embassy in Ulan Bator, capital of Mongolia, which is sandwiched between Siberia and northern China. The plan's advocates claim it would give the United States a aaluable listening post in central Asia and demonstrate U.S. "reasonableness" in admitting nations to the Unted Nations.

It also would clear the way for admission of Mauritania to United Nations, sources said.

Border Patrol School Shifted To Port Isabel

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced Wednesday location of the Border Patrol academy of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at an abandoned Navy installation at Port Isabel, Tex. The academy presently is located at Ft. Bliss in El Paso, on a temporary basis.' In a letter-to El Paso Mayor Ralph Seitzsinger, Kennedy said the move to Port Isabel was in the best interest of the government and the taxpayers.

He said the portion of the Port Isabel base which the academy will use cost $3.6 million to build, and has a market value of $462, 000. The cost of building a new academy would be at least $2 million, exclusive of land costs, Kennedy said.

The move of the academy does not imply a curtailment of Imand Naturalization Service at El Paso, Kennedy said. Only the school including about 50 students and six training officers will move. The immigration and naturalization service staff of 275 men will remain at El Paso.

> So the world's richest government, the servant of the world's best fed, best clothed and best housed citizens, is off to a good start toward another deficit. It will be the 28th such deficit since 1930. The politicians and political parties which operate the U. S. government as the servants of the citizens, do not believe the citisens are willing to pay for the kind of government they demand.

U.S.D.A.

Good Beef Lb.

The politicians will not increase taxes to pay the bill. They fear that the citizens would throw them out of office if taxes were raised. The citizens might even do that because the citizens are a dull-witted lot when it comes to taxes, government spending and federal pie in the sky.

This pie in the sky is a kind of political free lunch which is not free at all but a direct charge against the citizen taxpayers, present and future, especially future.

What the dull-witted citizens fail to understand is that supporting the U. S. government with borrowed dollars instead of with tax dollars is more costly for the taxpayers than would be a big, honest increase in taxes. These many years of deficits have imposed a capital levy on the American people. Deficits have rotetd the value of the U. S. dollar down to 46 cents—a capital levy of 54 per cent.

Frankly, I never believed those stories about the park. How could the flight of pop flies, caughtain the wind, make butterflies appear " to be models of predictable movement? I figured it was all publicity. Or, at worst, an alibi for losers. But Tuesday's telecast took the wind out of my sails. There's a wind at Candlestick

Park, all right, and it saved the game from being a complete bore. Until the breeze appeared, the contest was dull. The breeze, like the true star of the show delayed its appearance. In fact, it was nowhere in evidence when the flag was raised before the game and just hung there, flapless. Announcer Russ Hodges noted, "There's very little breeze stirring."

At that point, I started to think Candlestick Park had some apologies due it. But in the third inning, Hodges reported, "A bit of a breeze is starting to stir." No further word until the sixth, when Mel Allen said, "the wind is starting to spring up a bit, blowing from left to right."

By the seventh inning, sleeves were flapping on player uniforms and in the ninth, dust, paper cups, newspapers began blowing across the infield and ballplayers began leaning into the wind.

The Americans managed to lose in the 10th, 5-4, but thanks to TV. we all know the truth about Candlestick Park. It's windy and it's fun to see them try to play baseball there.

Roberts, who was aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet when it was sunk in the Pacific in 1942, said he considered his report necessary because of recent international developments. He called the report "routine."

Roberts is commanding officer of the Bureau of Weapons Training unit at Dallas Naval Air Station. He said he would report to the commanding officer there that he is ready for active status and the report will be forwarded to Washington,

Report Asks 'New Trail' JARMAN For America's Indians JARMAN

WASHINGTON (UPI)-A Ken- University of Arizona anthropolo nedy administration task force to- gists. Acting Commissioner John day called for blazing a "new O. Crow accompanied the task trail" along the new frontier for force on field trips to reservations American Indians, who got short throughout the country.

shrift on the original frontier, In a report to Interior Secre tary Stewart Udall, the task force said what this country is attempting to do for underdeveloped countries it 'can and must also do for the Indians here at home."

Udall endorsed the report, under preparation for five months. He said preparing the "new trail" will require the collaboration of Indians, state and local governments, and the American people. The new trail, the report said, must lead to 'equal citizenship, maximum economic self sufficiencity and full participation by Indians in American life."

The task force laid out a 77page blueprint to accomplish these objectives for the half million Indians who are still under some kind of federal supervision: Assistant secretary John Carver said some of the task force recommendations were already under consideration in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Others will bbe taken up from time to time. The most all-encompassing recommendation was that the federal government change the emphasis in Indian policy from ending federal supervision (termination) to tribal and individual Indian development.

"The task force believes," the report said, "it is wiser to assist the Indians to advance socially, economically and politically to the point where special services to this group of Americans are no longer justified.

"Then, termination can be achieved with maximum benefit for all concerned. Furthermore, if development, rather than termination, is emphasized during the transitional period, Indian cooperation-an essential ingredient of a successful program-can be expected."

Chief among the economic suggestions of the task force was creation of a reservation development loan fund. Task force members said they had no idea how large this fund should be. It would be used to help reservation Indians attract industry,

The task force also recommended that the interior secretary be given authority to force economic use of Indian lands that have been divided through the years into uneconomic units, or where ownership is held in common. The task force was headed by W. W. Keeler, Bartlesville, Okla., vice president of the Phillips Oil Co. and principal chief of the Cherokee Nation Other members are Philleo Nash, former lieutenant governor of Wisconsin; William Zimmerman Jr., former assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, and James E. Officer.

A major cause of fatigue is one generally known and generally ignored: a lack of sufficient sleep. If you feel this way (left) on the job, it's time to check on the amount of rest you're getting each night. No matter how tight your schedule in the morning, take time for breakfast (center). You need a glass of orange juice and an egg, at the very vitamin intake each day to ward off fatigue.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK - The first time I ever saw Dr. Harold Taylor he was President of Sarah Lawrence College. He was at Arnold Moss's house in New York for a New Year's Day collation and was wearing a nicely-worn, Britishaired tweed jacket with the reddest wool vest I ever saw. What's more, the weskit had bright brass buttons. Naturally, he had trousers with this outfit: not carefully creased, but casually worn gray flannel. He looked like a novelist and not a college president, which only interested me the more, and we had about an hour's conversation acruss a spread of themes and I enjoyed every moment of it. I can't testify for him.

He vanished into the groves of academe for some time. And now he is back in view, but only briefly. Once weekly, to be exact. The powers at ABC-TV have persuaded Dr. Taylor to become the Sunday star of a new series, "Meet The Professor." They thought they wanted an intellectual glamour boy - but didn't dare put it to him in those terms. I think he would have thrown chairs at them. At least chairs. They said he could do a helpful and useful thing by talking on a variety of subjects on an intellectual level and make a dollar for himself, in addition. The report is that the dollar gambit didn't put a gleam in his eye, but he was interested in the suggestion that he could carry the teaching idea into tele-

I had hoped that Dr. Taylor would describe Sunday television as an intellectual desert and that he had a camel and would travel across it in the hope of improving things. He did nothing of the sort. He took it because he sincerely feels that commercial TV has not come to terms with the intellectual individual, and of course vice versa, and his work on TV might bring about that rapproachment.

"The intellectual's view of commercial TV," he says, "has been that it is a medium for making as much money as possible by corrupting the public taste."

the past tense. He now believes that there is some integrity in TV's trying to elevate itself and what it doles out into all those millions of lighted cabinets the country across. Dr. Taylor did not slap at TV with one hand and cozen his own kind with the other. He added that the public's impression of a college professor is either of a Mr. Chips or the worn notion of an absent-minded, baggy-trousered savant. "I rather hope to bring about

Would some other network now like to get into the act and bring a few intellectuals into view? I promise they won't curdle the

Hankerings

It was not long after that that Dr. Taylor resigned from his job at Sarah Lawrence for the best and soundest of reasons: he believed himself to be a teacher, he wanted to go on being a teacher, he felt that teaching was an important, enthralling job of work, and being a college president throttled any such ambitions or desires. A college president is an administrator and money-raisernot a teacher. He wanted to be a teacher - and quit to resume

The reports are just coming in now and they are that the doctor has not blinded any citizen with rays flashing from his Phi Beta Kappa key. He has instead completely charmed the citizens by a simple attitude, use of a good mind and an obvious air that he is not in an ivory tower gazing down in scorn at the less gifted peasants. What he is trying to do, and is accomplishing, is to show the people that a professor is a human being and accessible, wears clean shirts, has something interesting and not necessarily formidable to say and can say it en-

No such spot exists at the moment. I read about one now and then but experience has shown that when one gets to an alleged Heaven on Earth one always finds something is lacking.

If the food is good then the beds are of straw or close to it. If food and beds are adequate, then the plumbing is a throw-back to the Middle Ages, or the spot is as inaccessible as a Tibetan whistle stop.

As for ever finding a vacation place that is both perfect and uncrowded, one might as well set out in search of the Venus de Milo's missing arms, or a perpetual motion machine in good working order.

If such a place existed, either here or at home, word would travel fast, and the place that was half-deserted one year would be packed from dining room to cabana the next. Three years ago we found a near-ideal spot on the southern Adriatic coast but when we revisited it a few weeks ago the little town was as crowded as though Jackie Kennedy were about to arrive for a visit. And

For a few dollars a day a man can't have everything. The difficulty of suggesting a spot is heightened by the fact that the amenity which ranks first with one person might well be far down on the list of another.

If a man likes extraordinarily fine food, he can put up with a hotel that has beds like a board to get it. But if he likes his sleep. he'll be unhappy even if the kitchen is a three star one.

For some travelers there is no such thing as too much peace and quiet, while others want a decent share of excitement. Some men run toward a deserted cove, others away from it.

I know of one spot right here in Italy that lacks but one thing to make it the ideal spot. The hotel is more than comfortable. It is smack - bang on a lovely beach. The service is efficient and friendly. The town is historic and interesting.

But - and this is a major drawback for many - the food is on a par with what I imagine a Chinese army mess hall to be. It is ample, goodness knows, too ample. But there soon comes a time when it is impossible to look another cobblestone-hard roll in the face, to swallow another bite of rissole. to eat another bite of pasta swimming in a tired tomato sauce. If it were possible to fast for two weeks, the place couldn't be beat. But a week is about as long

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN

I've been asked two important questions about drugs that are frequently administered.

"I'm an asthmatic," writes an Arizonan, "and I have been taking cortone tablets for 31/2 years. My doctor died and I've just gone to a new doctor who ordered me to stop taking my tab-

"According to him, it would be harmful for me to continue taking these tablets, which have helped me a lot, until I'd had shots of ACTH which he is now giving me. I spoke to a neighbor about the change and she says there's no difference between the tablets and the shots.

Is this so?" The answer is yes, and no. Let me explain what your new doctor is doing, quite correctly. The effects of both preparations are the same, as your neighbor maintained. But the manner of their action is different.

The cortone tablets produce their effects through a process of substitution. They do for you what your adrenal gland would do if it were functioning perfectly. They're like a wheel chair that might take you where you wanted to go if you weren't able to walk.

On the other hand the ACTH (Adreno - Cortico - Trophic Hormone) actually stimulates your very own gland to increase its output of the substance you need. Instead of taking the wheel chair where you want to go, it makes you walk there.

Now, if you use the wheel chair tablets too long, you weaken your gland to a point where it is unable to function at all. And you apply too much stimulus to the gland with the ACTH current, you may cause it to collapse from sheer exhaustion.

That's why an experienced physician, like your new doctor, likes to alternate the two methods of accomplishing the same ends.

You ride a bit in the wheel chair, and then you walk a bit. So that you avoid both dangers: That of weakness, from disuse. And of exhaustion, from over-

"Is it a fact that tranquilizers often cause shaking palsy?" asks a troubled wife whose husband has been so afflicted.

I'm afraid so. Indeed, so many tranquilized patients are now experiencing the manifestations of shaking palsy (Parkinson's disease) that a prominent drug manufacturer is featuring a new drug whose principal effect is to control the symptoms of what is now cailed drug-induced Parkin-

These symtoms include muscle weakness, mental listlessness, emotional flatness, speech and writing difficulties and, eventually, the pill-rolling tremor of the fingers that's so characteristic of the disturbance.

Since the director of the Delaware State Hospital estimates "frequency rates of from 50 to 90 per cent" for drug-induced manifestations of Parkinsonism, after three to six months of treatment, it would seem high time to discontinue the use of tranquilizers for minor disturbances súch as mere restlessness, nervousness and emotional instability that might be better treated through the exercise of self discipline.

Whatever may be argued, it cannot be denied that Berlin was the center of the activities and conduct that brought about World War I. It was the center of activities and conduct that brought about World War II. In both instances the city and the country were in full control of the German people and a German government. Although it may be said that the same exists today insofar as West Berlin is concerned, it must be admitted that the influence of other countries on West Germany and West Berlin is much more pronounced under the present circumstances than it was before.

WHY make your own move? Let us

t is time to remember that it is advertising's job not merely to make sales but to make sales at a profit, not only for the opportunistic moment, but day-in and day-out, with a reasonable degree of consistency and a prudent concern for the future market position of the company.

Accordingly, the new market-oriented management will insist that advertising give a far more disciplined account of itself.

There is no medium where elements of muddle or blur or foggy interpretations are stripped away as forthrightly as in newspapers.

There is no medium where the sales performance rating is expressed as bluntly in terms of naked truth as in the tangible reality of newspaper re-

We are about as subtle as a thunderclap, and about as private as a trumpet lesson, but Macy's knows by 3 o'clock what its ads in last night's newspapers did for the children's underwear department, and Marshall Field can tell you within 24 hours how many men's cashmere coats the newspapers sold for them.

♦ ♦ In Conjunction With Your ♦ ♦ Present Business or OWN A NEW BUSINESS WITH AN EXCLUSIVE MARY CARTER PAINT FRANCHISE GRANT OF TEXAS

Be a part of one of the fastest growing paint firms throughout Texas and the Southwest, Only a few select areas still remain open for franchise. Already over 50 franchises have been granted in Texas, and these dealers are realizing huge profits through a continuous FREE paint offer. With every gallon or quart sold, a gallon or quart is given away absolutely FREE of extra cost,

THIS FREE OFFER COSTS YOU NOTHING

These franchises can be granted in conjunction with your present business as a separate department, or as an entirely new retail paint store selling Mary Carter paint products. exclusively. In either case you receive an exclusive franchise, therefore, you will be the sole distributor of Mary Carter products in your area. It is normal for our retail outlets to turn their inventory over eight to ten times yearly. Our products are manufactured in Conroe, Texas for Texas use and are formulated to resist the extreme climatic conditions of the great Southwest. The rapid acceptance of these Mary Carter franchises by Texas businessmen is due largely to the specific benefits that are granted to each franchisce. These benefits help the dealer to realize immediate profits. The following are only a few of the benefits granted: There are no franchise fees or royalty payments; your advertising is co-oped 50/50. A minimum skeleton stock is your only investment outside of your operating capital. Paint experience is not necessary since you will be thoroughly trained by our own personnel, at our expense. Our franchise grants are very flexible to your needs and your trade area. For instance, if you already have a business, add a paint department to capitalize on your customer traffic and make huge profits. Groceries, hardware, feed and seed and many other dry good line outlets have increased their profits by opening a Mary Carter paint department, You, too, can increase your income with a Mary Carter franchise for an inventory investment of $3000 or less depending upon your needs and the size of your trade area. If you are not in business now, you can open your own full line Mary Carter store with an inventory investment of $5000 or less in direct relationship to your needs and your trade area. This flexible program enables more businessmen in Texas to qualify for our franchise grants.

Mary Carter franchises have received wide acceptance by businessmen not only in the Southwest, but throughout the nation. This is best illustrated by the fact that we have over 600 retail branches in 36 states. Our paint franchises are unlike any others offered by competitive paint companies. You risk nothing except time and overhead since your inventory is refundable. We are able to offer this guarantee since our success story is unparalleled in the paint industry. We welcome a visit by you to any of our retail branches in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and neighboring states, so that you can see the success of our dealers and learn how you, too, can increase your income with a minimum amount of investment. Be a part of this fast growing Texas corporation. Our franchise grants. are the envy of the paint world, consequently they are highly coveted. You may qualify for one of the areas still open for franchise in Texas. Upon request, literature will be forwarded to you free of any obligation.

the U. S. Agriculture Department's Soil Conservation Service warned that above normal rains have created "a major flood threat." Heavy rains during the past few days have caused an estimated $750,000 damage to Harris County's vegetable crop. Sam Dorre, manager of the Farmers Cooperative Marketing Association in Houston, predicted
