Miners Work Feverishly To Rescue Trapped Boys

Youths Believed Locked Behind Rock Barricade

PHILIPSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A search for two boys believed trapped for six days in an abandoned clay mine intensified today after a friend of the youngsters told police they maintained makeshift living quarters there.

Ten-year-old Billy Webster told state police Sgt. Donald Fisher the boys kept a mattress, table, candles and food in the honey-comb of tunnels stretching out for some 15 miles underground.

The announcement was made as expert miners worked feverishly with jack hammers to clear a barrier of rocks and frozen dirt blocking access to an area where they believe the boys are trapped.

They encountered the blockade after entering a tunnel through a 36-inch wide vertical shaft bored behind a rockfall they fear is hiding the fate of Wesley Lowe, 13, and Larry Husted, 10. The boys were last seen near the mine Sunday afternoon after leaving their homes in nearby Osceola Mills for a hike.

Rescue workers drilled alternate entrances to the mine when they encountered a rockfall just inside the mouth. Thursday, they finally succeeded in smashing through rock and soil with a huge drilling rig brought from Pittsburgh, 130 miles west of here.

The delicate job of shoring the shaft with oak timbers was still underway today.

"Hope grows dimmer every hour," said William C. Glasco, assistant fire chief in Osceola Mills. "They (the rescuers) got a lot of stuff to move before they find out if the boys are there—and if they're all right."

Glasco said youngsters in the area frequently played in the mine, located in the midst of rugged terrain gouged from open pit coal fields and thick with forests and wildlife.

"They might be able to survive 10 days," Glasco said, "if they've got air and they missed the rockfall."

Officials said there was no gas in the mine.

Witness Claims Pinball Machines Not National Evil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A pinball machine maker's representative told the House Commerce Committee today that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has not proved that free plays on the machines are "a national evil."

Martin M. Nelson, representative of the Bally Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, appeared before the committee to testify against Kennedy's proposed bill to make it a crime to ship certain types of pinball machines, roulette wheels and other gambling devices across state lines.

Kennedy claims that organized crime gets much of its bankroll from such machines.

But Nelson said the bill would "inflict untold harm upon a legitimate industry and upon many thousands of small business people who depend wholly or in part on coin-operated equipment, including pinball machines, for their livelihood."

Indonesia Calls For 'Sacrifices'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — The Indonesian government tightened economic controls today and warned the people to prepare for "sacrifices" in the campaign to wrest West New Guinea from the Dutch.

Atty. Gen. Gunawan said there would be harsh penalties for hoarding and corruption.

C-C SPEAKER — Sidney B. Smith, above, a product sales manager for the Celanese Chemical Company, a division of Celanese Corporation of America, New York City, will be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce at 12 noon Monday in Coronado Inn. Smith will speak on the topic, "Developing a Favorable Climate for Industrial Expansion."

Five Arrested As Police Crack Huge Dope Ring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police searched for caches of narcotics today on the basis of cracking open an international ring Thursday and seizing $3.5 million in heroin in a Brooklyn ceiling—the biggest haul of illegal drugs in the city's history.

Several arrests were made, including the booking of two Frenchmen, one identified as a Marseilles television entertainer. Weapons, including a Japanese submachine gun, and ammunition also were seized.

The crackdown, spearheaded by a force of 50 police and federal agents, came with such swiftness that one of the principals, Joseph Fuca, 60, was caught with his shirt off.

Investigating detectives said questioning provided a series of tips about other widespread narcotics activities in the city. Officers checked them today and more arrests and narcotics seizures were expected.

The payoff came Thursday when the agents invaded a three story tenement and noticed fresh plaster in a basement room.

Digging away, officers found 22 packages of pure heroin, each weighing one-half kilo (about 1.1 pounds). The biggest previous haul, police said, was a cache of 14 one-half kilos of diluted heroin found several years ago.

Hidden farther back in the ceiling were the submachine gun, two shotguns, a rifle, a bayonet and a supply of ammunition. Later another smaller cache of heroin and two pistols also were seized.

Police said the heroin was smuggled in from France aboard a luxury liner by one of the Frenchmen. They said the two Frenchmen used Montreal as a base of operations in dealings with the United States, traveling back and forth to New York.

Among those booked were Jacques Angelvin, 35, of Marseilles, identified as a bistro owner and an entertainer who has his own TV show; and Francois Scaglia, 43, of Paris. Angelvin was held as a material witness and Scaglia on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Congo Premier Reported Safe

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — The United Nations said today leftist former Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga still was safely under house arrest in Stanleyville.

At the same time, informed sources reported the capture of Col. Joseph Pakassa, whose troops were believed responsible for the New Year's Day slaying of 19 priests and the brutal murder of 13 Italian U. N. flyers last year.

The sources said that according to reports from Stanleyville, Pakassa had been brought there. The reports could not be confirmed here.

Soviet Position In Berlin Still Target For Rusk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, an ear cocked for rumblings of dissension in the Kremlin, intends to continue the diplomatic effort to crack the rigid Soviet position on Berlin.

Rusk said Thursday there had been no softening of Russia's Berlin demands in recent Moscow talks between U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

But, he added, Thompson would be instructed to hold at least two more sessions with Gromyko to try to find "a real change in the situation or a basis for negotiation."

Rusk, who told congressmen earlier that "something" apparently was going on within the Soviet hierarchy, said at a news conference that he just did not know whether it was having any effect on Soviet action in the Berlin talks.

Other officials said the Russians might be stalling any move in the Berlin negotiations until there was some decision in a reported power struggle between Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Communist party leaders urging a tougher policy.

Rusk told newsmen he detected no particular "easing of tension" over Berlin despite less Soviet inactivity in recent days, and thought it still was a "dangerous situation."

Rusk said Khrushchev was still demanding the U.S. give up control of West Berlin and permit it to become a demilitarized "free city" surrounded by Red territory.

Fighting Erupts In Oran Streets

ALGIERS (UPI) — Government security troops fought European demonstrators in the streets of Oran today in a battle involving guns and grenades.

First reports said "several" persons were wounded.

The battle came in the wake of earlier terrorist attacks and a street incident in which six persons were killed raising the death toll in Algeria since New Year's Day to 331.

In France itself, President Charles de Gaulle postponed the promised return of two French divisions from Algeria because of the expanding wave of anarchy and bloodshed sweeping this North African land.

At the same time, more than 500 security police swept through Paris in raids against the illegal Secret Army Organization (OAS) and arrested at least six suspected members.

War Vet Loses Fight Over His Fallout Shelter

DECATUR, Ill. (UPI) — A Webster Borchers lost his fight with the city and "big brother" Thursday night when a jury found him guilty of building a bomb shelter without a permit.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated 7½ hours in reaching the verdict, and Judge Harold Pate fined the war veteran $10.

Borchers still has to get a building permit for the private fallout shelter in his backyard, authorities said.

In testifying, Borchers said city regulation of the shelters was evidence of "big brother is watching you" government and that such regulation was impractical.

WASHINGTON OBSERVER'S WINDOW:

Spenderama Will Continue Until Voters Realize Money Is Theirs

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Politicians often tell the voters that the federal government's big-time spending is caused by the cost of national defense. That, of course, is an alibi.

The next time any politician tells you that, tell him you believe he is mistaken and demand that he prove himself right by simple arithmetic. If the politician's figures seem to prove that he is, indeed, right, tell him his figures are wrong. You will be right about that.

For example, in the 1963 fiscal year budget submitted to Congress Thursday by President Kennedy, all categories of spending turned upward. A pamphlet published with the budget invites comparison between the fiscal year 1956, midway in the two Eisenhower terms, and fiscal 1963.

National defense costs in fiscal 1963 are budgeted to be $11.9 billion greater than in fiscal 1956. If spending for international affairs and finance is included in national defense costs, the increase is $13.1 billion.

Non-defense spending has that licked. Non-defense spending comprises all federal spending not marked for national defense and international affairs and finance.

These non-defense items are such as: interest on the national debt, almost $10 billion, up $2.5 billion in eight years; agricultural subsidies, rural electrification and related projects, $5.8 billion, up $1 billion; housing and community development, up $8.2 million; health, labor and welfare will cost $2.8 billion more in fiscal 1963 than in fiscal 1956; education, up $1.1 billion.

The peak of World War II spending was in 1945, the sum, $96.3 billion. The spending trend was down from there through fiscal year 1950, the year the Korean War began. Fiscal 1950 spending was $39.5.

Dwight D. Eisenhower believed in and was committed to the idea that federal spending could and should be held to $60 billion a year. He never came closer to that figure than $64.3 billion in fiscal 1955.

The conclusion to be drawn from the government's spending and deficit record is that the men and the machinery of the federal government are unable to control government spending.

This spenderama will continue until the voters realize that the money the politicians spend actually is put up by the voters. Or, if it is not put up as spent, it will have to be put up sometime by future generations. It may be that the voters are not very smart.

Electricians Win 25-Hour Work Week

NEW YORK (UPI) — Construction electricians, who won a 25-hour work-week which could affect labor negotiations across the nation, returned to strike-stalled New York building projects today.

The five-hour, five-day week gained by the 9,000 members of Local 3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, is the shortest in the country for trade union craftsmen, according to a Labor Department spokesman.

Curtain Time Eight O'Clock Tonight For Presentation of 'Arsenic And Old Lace'

Dear Abby

By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How does a 17-year-old high school boy get his parents to realize he is not 2 years old? Last Saturday night I came home later than I said I would. It wasn't my fault. The kid who owned the car wanted to go for a ride and I couldn't get home without him. When I got home, my folks had all but called the cops looking for me. I was only an hour and ten minutes late.

It's all over school and I feel like a baby. My parents have grounded me for a whole month. I gave them my word if they let me off this time it would never happen again. They refused. Don't you think the punishment is unfair or too stiff?

GROUNDED

DEAR GROUNDED: If you told the truth, the discipline is excessive. If you lied, you are getting off easy. Personally, I believe your story.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I would like to know why some men never get married. We know several bachelors who are from 35 to 60. They are very nice men, but if they go with a girl for a while and she gets serious, they quit dating her. These bachelors say they never expect to get married. It's not that they can't afford it, either. Most of them have good jobs and drive nice cars and have money in the bank. Is there some way to change the mind of a man in this category?

TWO OLD MAIDS

DEAR TWO: Bachelors who have been lured, hornswoggled or roped into marriage make the worst husbands. It's better to be an old maid than to wish you were one.

DEAR ABBY: I think I've spoiled my husband. I would never go out in public with my hair in pin curls, but what's wrong with being that way in the morning? I have been married eight months. At first I would slip out of bed after my husband fell asleep and put my hair up in pin curls. Then I'd get up half an hour before he did and take my hair down and comb it. Later I have been too sleepy to get up early and take the pin curls out, and boy, have I been catching it! He says I am ugly. Don't you think a woman has a right to appear before her husband in the morning with pin curls?

YOUNG WIFE

The curtain on Pampa Little Theater's first presentation of the current season "Arsenic And Old Lace" will go up at 8 p.m. tonight in the Pampa High School auditorium. A second performance will be given tomorrow evening in the high school with an 8 p.m. curtain.

"Arsenic And Old Lace," written by Joseph Kesselring and produced by special arrangement with the Dramatist Play Service, Inc., is being directed by Mrs. Jack O. Miller.

Members of the cast are Martha McComas as Abby; Don Pope as The Rev. Dr. Harper and Lt. Rooney; Glenn McConnell as Teddy Brewster; Harry Rawlings as Officer Brophy; Homer West as Officer O'Hara; Marie Jones as Elaine Harper; Frank Hatcher as Mortimer Brewster; R. L. Studebaker as Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Witherspoon; Neeley Joe Ellis as Jonathan Brewster; Jim Douthit as Dr. Einstein.

The entire action of the mystery-comedy takes place on a September afternoon, evening and early morning in the Brewster home in Brooklyn. The time is the present.

Escheat Battle Ends In Victory For Gov. Daniel

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas legislature's long fight over an abandoned bank accounts bill was all but ended today and victory was in sight for Gov. Price Daniel.

All representatives have to do is approve a few changes—senators made on the House escheat (abandoned bank account) bill and Daniel will have realized his major goal of the third special session.

Senators voted the bill by voice vote Thursday. Daniel hailed the measure as being "even stronger" than the House version which passed last week.

The House worked by itself today. Senators quit until Monday after passing the bank bill.

Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth was expected to push for final passage of his bill to budget $78,500 for 12 new juvenile parole officers. The bill won tentative approval Thursday.

But the bank bill, senators sent the House two other measures Thursday for approval of amendments.

The Senate passed a bill to reorganize the State Board of Water Engineers as the Texas Water Commission, and a measure to appropriate $270,000 for the expenses of a third special session.

The water board bill passed 27-3 and was returned to the House for concurrence on a section placing employees of the Texas Water Commission under the state's job classification plan.

Daniel said he liked the abandoned accounts bill because dormant accounts under $25 will be turned over to the state after one advertisement to find the missing owners, and because banks will have to continue looking for owners of larger dormant accounts. The bill preserves the right of the state to bring escheat proceedings if no owner shows up after a reasonable time.

Sens. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Hubert Hudson of Brownsville opposed the bill.

Forecast Calls For Little Warmer In Pampa Saturday

A mass of bitter cold air swept deep into Texas today. Rain and drizzle fell across the southern two-thirds of the state, but snow and freezing rain tapered off in the north.

Insofar as Pampa is concerned, there was a promise today that it would be "not quite so cold tonight and a little warmer tomorrow."

But the figures still are on the cold side. The mercury hit a low of 2 above zero here in the early morning hours. Tonight's low has been set by the weather bureau at 5 above. More light snow and continued cold is predicted for tonight with a slight warming trend tomorrow. It was 15 in Pampa at noon today. Tomorrow's high is expected to jump to around 30.

The cold wave was similar to that which put the entire state into deep freeze nearly two weeks ago.

A massive high pressure system of frigid Canadian air covered the entire center portion of the United States. By early morning, the front stretched from south of Texarkana to south of San Antonio.

Weather forecasters said the new front would bring extreme cold to most of Texas, but that the bitter weather would not be as long-lasting as the front which brought record lows and killed some 40 persons last week.

The temperature plunged to near zero at Dalhart early today. The minimum in Pampa was 2 degrees. Overnight lows ahead of the front were cool, but nowhere near the bitter cold behind the air mass. Lows ranged upward to 58 at Brownsville.

Readings were expected to remain below freezing as far south as central Texas today, with a hard freeze expected across the northern half of the state tonight and sub-freezing readings over all but the extreme south tonight.

Lows of near zero were predicted in Northwestern Texas again tonight, with readings from 10-15 across the rest of northern Texas.

Pampans Named To Leadership Crusade Posts

Two Pampa Baptists have been named to leadership positions in the churches phase of the Texas Baptist Crusade for Christian Education. They are Rev. T. O. Upshaw, Pastor Chairman for the Palo Duro Association; and John Gikas, Layman Chairman for Palo Duro Association.

The leadership for each of the 17 Baptist districts in the state is the responsibility of a pastor, layman, and woman co-chairman. Each of the 172 associations have a set of similar officers. Together these district and association chairmen are responsible for the carrying out of the crusade program.

The purpose of the crusade is to strengthen the denomination's schools by encouraging more Baptist students to attend Baptist colleges, to participate in the Baptist Student Union at what college they might attend, and to consider prayerfully church related vocations as careers and by raising $28-million for buildings and equipment on Baptist campuses.

Texas Baptist schools are Baylor University, Waco; Decatur Baptist College, Decatur; East Texas Baptist College, Marshall; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; Howard Payne College, Brownwood; Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton; San Marcos Baptist Academy, San Marcos; University of Corpus Christi, Corpus Christi; and Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. Also included in the crusade are two new Baptist colleges at Dallas and Houston.

Everyday Living To Be Theme Of Science Lesson

Conflicting demands of everyday living can be resolved through spiritual understanding of God as divine life.

This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" which is to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections from the Bible will include this verse from Psalm 40: "I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy law is within my heart."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 184): "Truth, Life, and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statutes."

The Golden Text is from John (17): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Rock

Religion In America

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The church will have little impact on modern society until Christians begin living every day the faith they profess on Sunday morning.

That conclusion emerged from an "evangelism workshop" held in Chicago recently by the United Lutheran Church.

The Lutherans wrestled with a problem that affects all denominations: How to make Christianity a live option for the millions of "friendly unbelievers" who now look upon it as a harmless but irrelevant survival from the past.

Such discussions among church people often end with a ringing appeal for Christian laymen to be more outspoken in talking up their faith among their friends and neighbors.

But this one got off the beaten track. Its consensus was expressed by the Rev. J. Bruce Weaver of New York:

"The world has heard enough of Christian words; what the world now needs is to see some Christian deeds."

The Rev. Mr. Weaver did not suggest that Christians should stop preaching the Gospel. He simply said they'd better start giving a few demonstrations of what they're talking about.

Dr. Donald R. Heiges, dean of Chicago Lutheran Seminary, said that being "active" in the institutional affairs of the church is not the only demonstration required of a layman who wants to convince his unbelieving friends that there is something to the Christian faith.

"A Christian is called to glorify God in and through his field of labor," said Dr. Heiges. "And he can't do this by substituting piety for competence. It is not enough that a Christian engineer, for example, be 'sincere,' faithful in church attendance, and a leader of family worship in his home."

"He will not glorify God unless he is also technically proficient. All the prayers of himself, his family and his congregation cannot be counted on to save the suspension bridge he designed from collapsing into the river if he has not provided adequately for the stresses and strains of a 100-mile-per-hour wind."

Theologian Frederick R. Wenz of the Lutheran seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., suggested that Christians should look upon their Sunday morning assembly as a "rehearsal."

"On Sunday we worship God in practice session among ourselves," he said, "in order that we may more skillfully worship Him the rest of the week dispersed among other people."

'Cheer Up' To Be Sermon Subject

Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak at the morning worship service Sunday at 11 o'clock. He will use "Cheer Up, The Worst Is Yet To Come" for his sermon subject.

Joe Whitten, Minister of Music, will direct the Church Choir in singing an anthem, "Open Our Eyes" by MacFarlane. Miss Eloise Lane will play "If Thou But Suffer God To Guide Thee" by Thompson for the organ offertory.

At the 7:30 evening worship, Jack Parker, minister of education, will be the guest speaker and will use "The Eyes of Jesus" for his sermon subject. This message will have a special emphasis for young people of the church and college students. The church choir will sing a hymn anthem and Miss Lane will play "The King of Love," an Irish melody, for the evening offertory.

Sunday evening will be a most important time for the Training Union attendance contest with Borger. The Pampa church has set 400 as a goal.

'Thirsty Soul' Is Central Baptist Topic For Sunday

"Come, Thirsty Soul" will be the title of the message to be delivered by Rev. T. O. Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church, in the worship service at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The Woman's Missionary Union will conduct mission study in the Anderson Business Woman's Circle Monday evening, the June Petty Business Woman's Circle meetings Wednesday morning.

Missionaries Are Much More Than Gospel Teachers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The modern Christian missionary must be prepared for many tasks besides preaching the Gospel.

The numerous jobs performed by missionaries are revealed in a "Help Wanted" announcement from the Methodist Board of Missions.

It says the Methodist Church has 238 openings for overseas work in 1962.

The announcement says that in addition to ordained clergymen, the Mission board is looking for specialists in agricultural and home economics, business and secretarial work, urban church development and social work, directors of Christian education, educational administrators, theological faculty members, teachers, doctors, nurses and therapists.

Among the qualifications for missionaries, the Board listed:

Protestants Ask $15-Million For '62 Overseas Aid

NEW YORK, N.Y. — A record-breaking total of $15,250,511 has been set as the goal for the 1962 United Appeal of Protestant Churches in America for support of their world-wide programs of assistance to hungry, homeless and destitute people overseas.

This — an increase of nearly $500,000 over 1961 — was announced at Church World Service, which sponsors the United Appeal in the interest of its member communions.

Funds realized through the United Appeal will support both individual denominational programs of assistance and cooperative projects carried on overseas through Church World Service and related interdenominational organizations.

Highlight of the 1962 United Appeal will be the One Great Hour of Sharing observations on Sunday, April 1, at which special services will be held in thousands of American churches, with offerings dedicated to overseas ministries.

More than 94,000 individual congregations — the total of the denominations and communions concerned — will be involved in the 1962 One Great Hour of Sharing, the fourteenth annual concerted appeal of major American denominations working together to relieve suffering abroad.

Recent designation of One Great Hour of Sharing by the Methodist and Episcopal Churches as their official overseas aid appeal makes this effort representative of approximately two-thirds of all American Protestant congregations.

The overseas ministries made possible by the United Appeal embrace both relief efforts in emergency situations springing from natural disasters — floods, fires, earthquakes, etc. — and in continuing services of material aid under the poverty-stricken and underprivileged, programs of education and self-help assistance and ministries of resettlement and rehabilitation among the refugee millions of the world.

Walter Rogers Reports

THE NEW SESSION

On January 10, 1962, the House of Representatives of the United States Congress convened for the second session of the 87th term of Congress. The session commenced with the usual handshaking and greeting among the Members returning to the Nation's Capital for further consideration of the old problems, and attacking the new. The oath was administered to the new Speaker by the man who has served longest in the House, to-wit: the Honorable Carl Vinson of Georgia, Chairman of the Committee on Armed Services. The new Speaker then administered oaths to the new Members replacing those who had passed away or resigned. The year 1962 has already claimed one Member of Congress in the passing of my good friend, John Riley of South Carolina. John was a southern gentleman in the best traditions, a man of staunch character and great ability. It will be most difficult for the people of South Carolina to replace him.

Since this is the second session of the 87th Congress, it is not necessary for all of the Members to be sworn again, nor to reconstitute the several Committees of the Congress. Hence, work can be started without delay. The Committee Chairmen have already begun to outline the year's work and set meetings of the Subcommittees and the full Committee. It is hoped that by doing this the unfinished work of the last session may be quickly concluded and the new work for this session can be attended with dispatch. This would make it possible for this session of Congress to adjourn some time in mid-summer, rather than being held over until the fall. The wives and children of the Members have been most anxious that some plan be worked out so that the Members could spend some time with their families during the summer vacation period. For a number of years it has been impossible for the families to make the usual vacation plans while the children were out of school. This situation finally developed into a mild revolt last year by some of the Members' wives. Although this revolt was unsuccessful, the feeling is still prevalent and it may be expected that some action is had. It is my feeling that Congress could adjourn by July 15th. If this is done, it will mean that work must be pushed without delay in all of the Committees.

There is no doubt but that there will be many heated debates during this session on the several subjects mentioned in the President's State of the Union message. There are also a number of bills left on the calendar from the last session which will prove equally controversial.

On the subject of international matters, you can expect to hear much from the Select Committee which we in the Congress last session formed for the purpose of looking into shipment of goods to Red and Red-satellite countries. In fact, information will be forthcoming within the next few days as the opening salvos in clearing up this problem and in putting a stop to practices that should not be followed.

There will be opportunity for action on three measures passed by the House last year. One of these, H.R. 4469, bars the employment on waterfront facilities and U. S. merchant vessels of persons who refuse to appear to answer questions on Communist affiliations or commit perjury before any Federal agency. Another, H.R. 3247, clarifies the term "organized" as used in the Smith Act to make it apply to continuing as well as original Communist activities. This bill will plug up a legal loophole that the Communists were trying to avail themselves of. Another, H.R. 8465, which prohibits shipment of articles imported to the United States from Cuba. This measure passed the House and it is hoped that it will become law this year.

The Congress should also address itself to continuing and vigorous action to ferret out a possible infiltration of Communists or Communist sympathizers into the Federal government or any organizations doing business with the Federal government. This is a continuing job and one that must be of primary concern at all times. Several measures which I have introduced can be effective weapons in this battle to aid and assist the security agencies of our government in fighting this battle. I expect to prepare and introduce others as the needs of the enforcement agencies are made known.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR SIN?

During the trial of Jesus, as recorded in Matthew, chapters 26 and 27, there are some very interesting statements as to what three men did with their sins. I refer, of course, to Judas Iscariot, Pontius Pilate and Simon Peter.

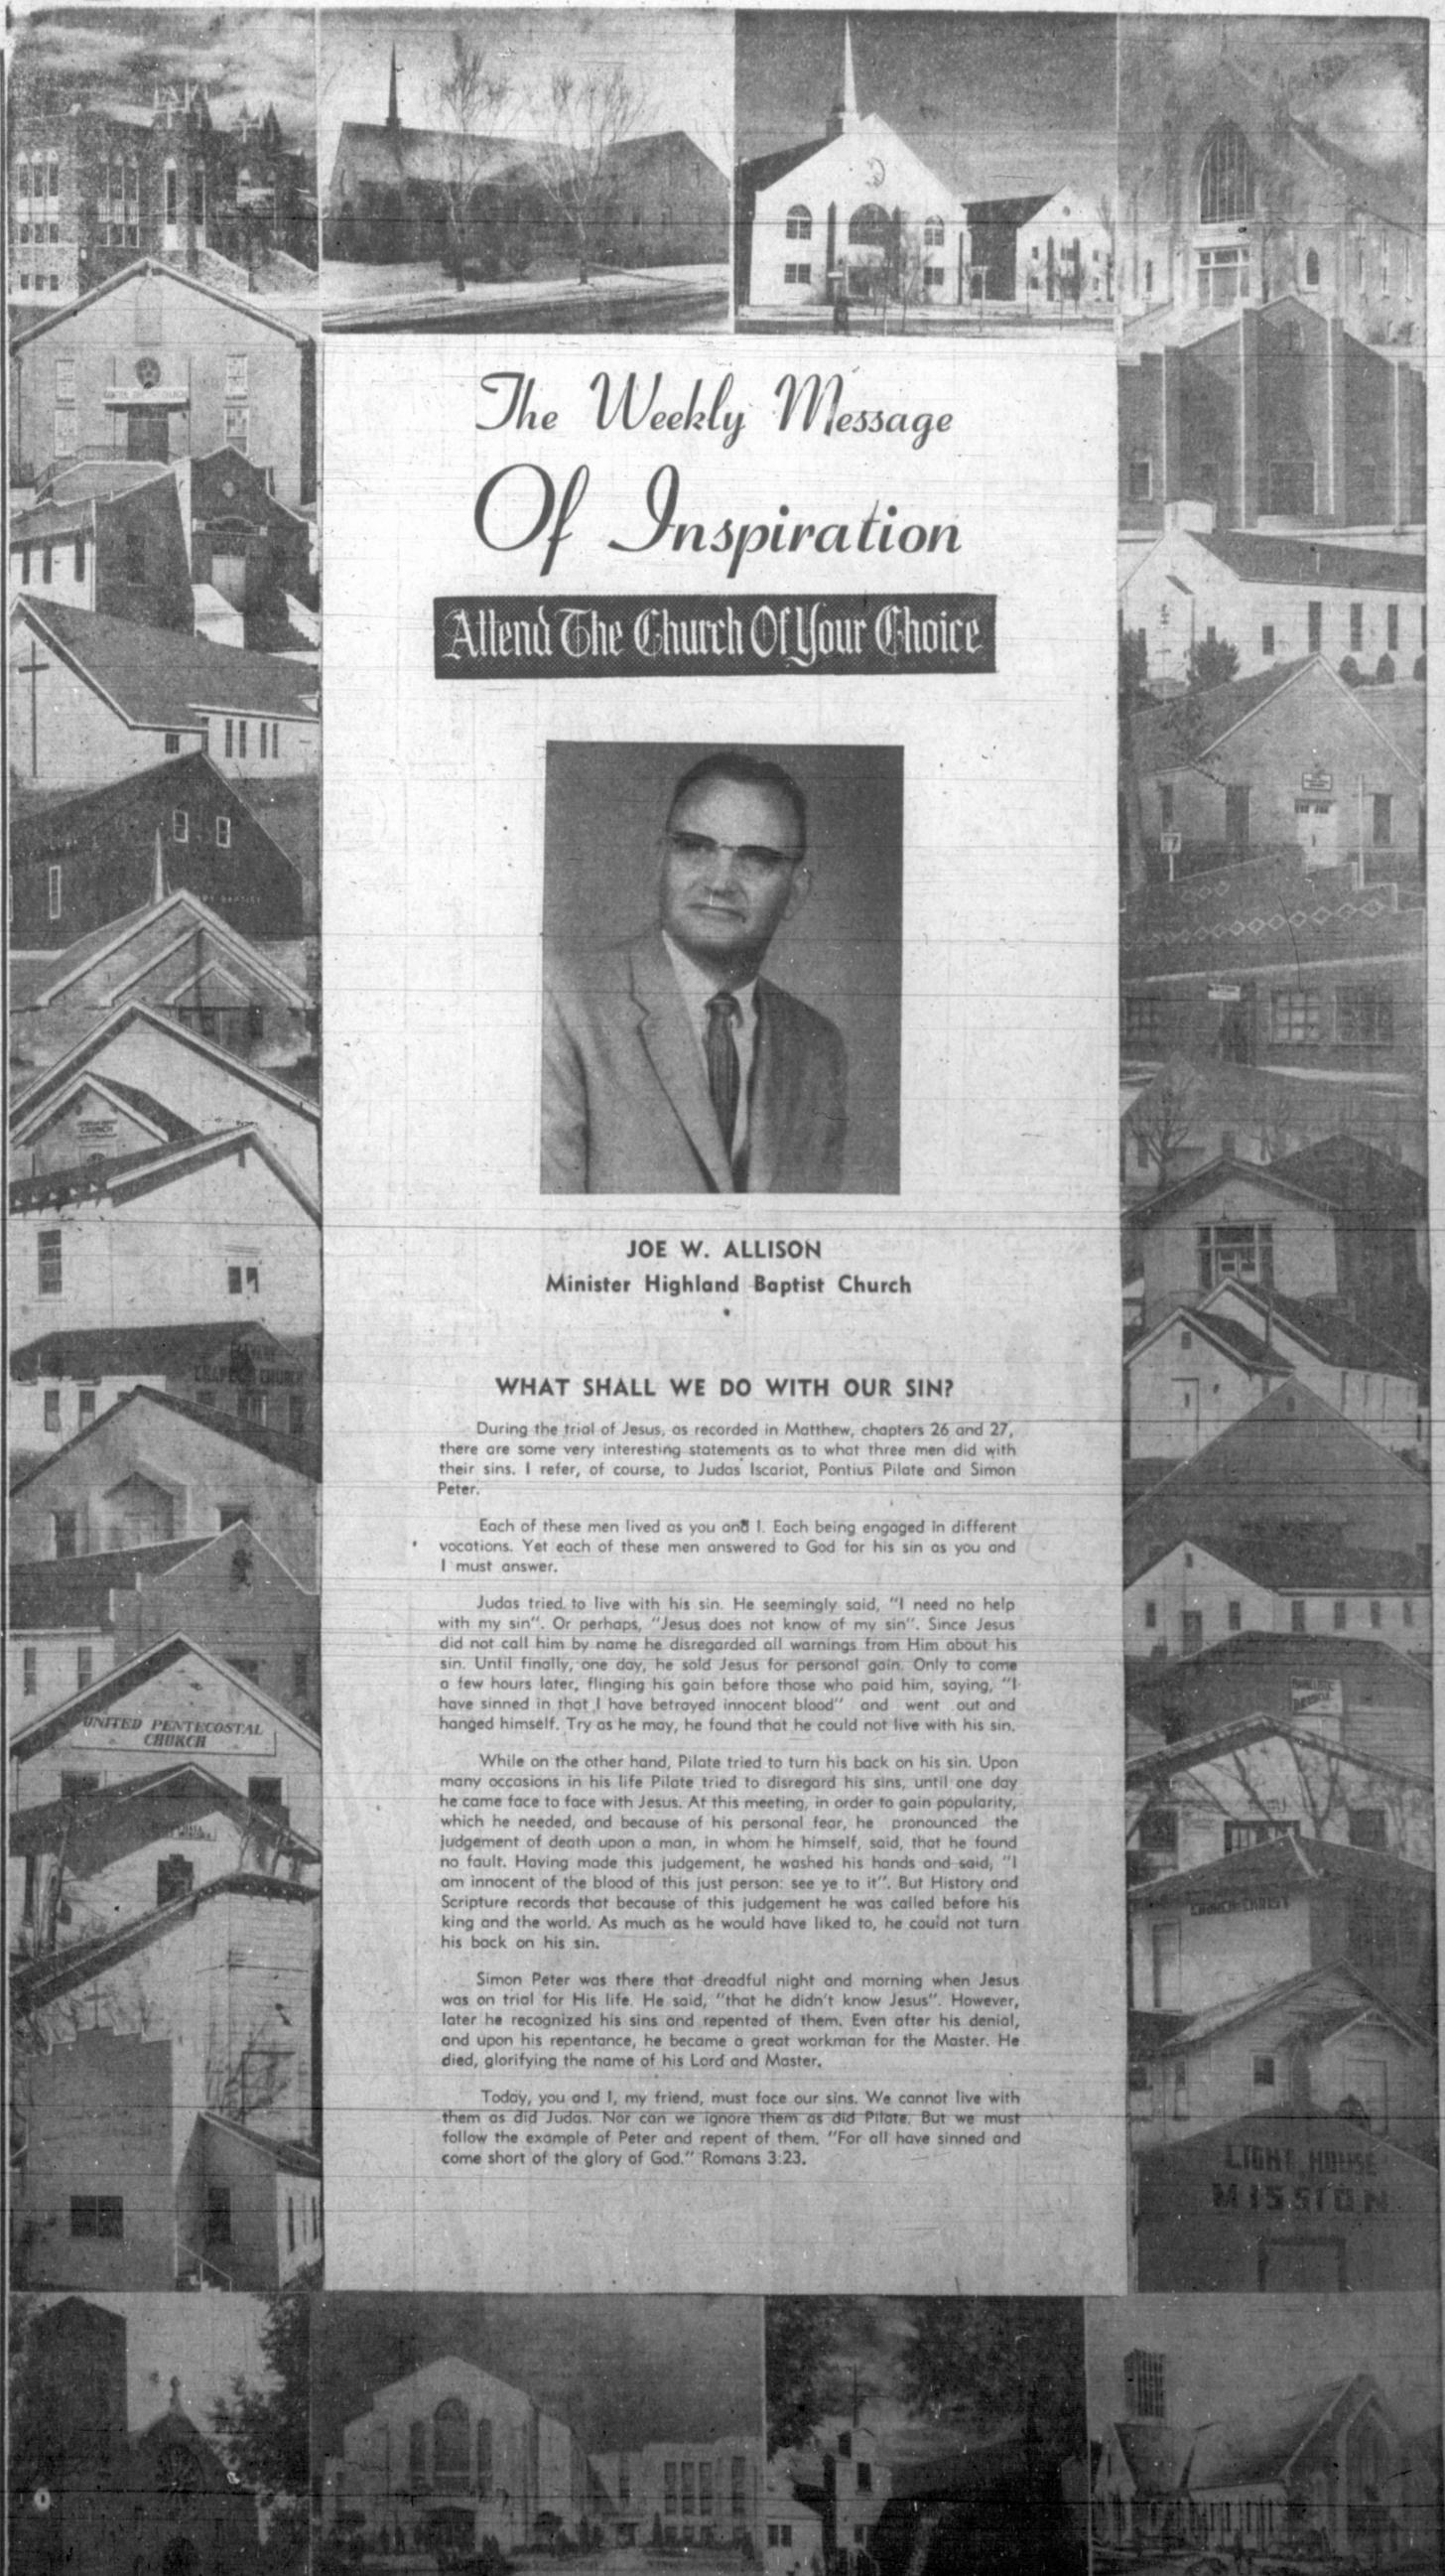

Each of these men lived as you and I. Each being engaged in different vocations. Yet each of these men answered to God for his sin as you and I must answer.

Judas tried to live with his sin. He seemingly said, "I need no help with my sin". Or perhaps, "Jesus does not know of my sin". Since Jesus did not call him by name he disregarded all warnings from Him about his sin. Until finally, one day, he sold Jesus for personal gain. Only to come a few hours later, flinging his gain before those who paid him, saying, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed innocent blood" and went out and hanged himself. Try as he may, he found that he could not live with his sin.

While on the other hand, Pilate tried to turn his back on his sin. Upon many occasions in his life Pilate tried to disregard his sins, until one day he came face to face with Jesus. At this meeting, in order to gain popularity, which he needed, and because of his personal fear, he pronounced the judgement of death upon a man, in whom he himself, said, that he found no fault. Having made this judgement, he washed his hands and said, "I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it". But History and Scripture records that because of this judgement he was called before his king and the world. As much as he would have liked to, he could not turn his back on his sin.

Simon Peter was there that dreadful night and morning when Jesus was on trial for His life. He said, "that he didn't know Jesus". However, later he recognized his sins and repented of them. Even after his denial, and upon his repentance, he became a great workman for the Master. He died, glorifying the name of his Lord and Master.

Today, you and I, my friend, must face our sins. We cannot live with them as did Judas. Nor can we ignore them as did Pilate. But we must follow the example of Peter and repent of them. "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Romans 3:23.

Walker Leads Braves Past Drake Bulldogs

United Press International
Chet Walker is demonstrating again this year that as he goes so go the Bradley Braves.

A 1960-61 All American in his junior season, the 6-foot, 6-inch Walker combines cat-like grace with perhaps the deadliest shooting eye in the country to make the Braves the current leaders in the strong Missouri Valley Conference and the nation's seventh-ranked college basketball team.

Walker, who has made good on 60 per cent of his field goal tries this season, showed again Thursday night how he can break open a game almost single-handedly with a spectacular display of shooting in Bradley's 77-65 victory over Drake at Des Moines, Iowa. The victory was the Braves' fourth straight in league play, keeping them ahead of both 10th-ranked Wichita and second-ranked Cincinnati in the league standings.

Walker connected on eight of 11 field goal attempts in the first half, enabling the Braves to lead, 43-34, at the half. The Bulldogs rallied with a bout five minutes left to play in the game but a three-pointer by Lavern Tart pulled Bradley away to a safe margin.

Walker had 26 points and Joe Strawder scored 20 for Bradley while Billy Hahn scored 22 for Drake.

Cincinnati retained its winning touch with a 62-54 triumph over sixth-ranked Duquesne at Pittsburgh, but Tulsa sprang a major upset at home when it defeated Wichita, 86-77.

Cincinnati, blowing cold and then hot as has been its pattern this season, fell behind by 12 points during the first half. The Bearcats cut the margin to 27-24 at the intermission but didn't take the lead for the first time until there were only nine minutes left in the game.

Ron Bonham paced the Bearcats' second-half drive with 14 of his game total of 15 points. Tom Thacker had 17 points for Cincinnati and soph Willie Somerset had 15 for Duquesne. The victory was Cincinnati's 13th in 15 games and the loss Duquesne's second in 14 games.

Jim King and Gary Havelone were the key men in the upset of the night as Tulsa handed Wichita its fourth loss in 17 games. Tulsa, which lost its three previous conference games, took the lead after three minutes and never was headed.

Havelone took scoring honors with 27 points but King played a brilliant floor game, in addition to scoring 22 points to win a standing ovation from the crowd. Gene Wiley, 6-10 center, led Wichita with 22 points.

Jofre Retains Partial Title

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Brazil's undefeated Eder Jofre, new undisputed world bantam-weight champion, assured the angry manager of Ireland's beaten Johnny Caldwell today he would gladly defend against Caldwell within 90 days at London.

Jofre, weighing 117½ pounds to Caldwell's 118, floored Johnny twice Thursday night and won a technical knockout at 2:10 of the 10th round, when manager Sammy Docherty threw in the towel to save the bleeding and half-blinded Belfast gamester from punishment.

Each boxer owned a portion of the crown when he went into the ring.

Docherty today charged that the record-breaking South American boxing crowd of more than 20,000 at the indoor Ibirapuera Stadium had been "outrageous" in its treatment of Caldwell.

"The crowd's tremendous booing and whistling at Johnny contributed greatly to his defeat," declared the irate Docherty. "I'm not saying that Jofre wasn't the better man last night — but he wasn't that much better, and it'll be a different story at London."

Jofre, 25, scored his 38th victory in 41 bouts that included three draws. He also registered his 12th straight knockout and the 32nd kayo of his career.

Caldwell, 23, suffered his first defeat after 25 straight wins as a professional.

Their contract calls for a return bout at London within 90 days.

Jofre went into the ring as a 2-1 favorite to defend the North and South American version of the 118-pound world title. Caldwell was recognized as world champion by the European Boxing Union.

Saban New Mentor For Bills Team

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Lou Saban, the only head coach in the American Football League to have had two clubs—sets out today to pull the Buffalo Bills up from the league cellar.

The 40-year-old, former Boston Patriots mentor was signed Thursday to a one-year contract, reportedly for $20,000 and fringe benefits. He succeeds Garrard (Buster) Ramsey, who was fired Jan. 4.

Saban said his first task would be to evaluate the present roster and staff. He said he expects to name his assistants within 10 days and indicated he may attempt to get some of his assistants from Boston to join him.

Saban was hired by Wilson as director of player personnel just 16 days after he was fired by the Patriots last season. He worked closely with Ramsey and General Manager Dick Gallagher in picking the Bills' draft choices this year.

Robin Signs With Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Robin Roberts accepted his second straight salary cut rather philosophically today and said he has given "no thought at all" to what he will do if he fails to make the grade with the New York Yankees.

The 35-year-old Roberts, who slipped all the way back to a 1-10 record with the Philadelphia Phillies last season after having been one of the National League's outstanding pitchers, signed his first contract with the Yankees for an estimated $32,000.

"We didn't cut him much," noted Yankee general manager Roy Hamey. "If you said about a thousand dollars you wouldn't be too far off."

The Yankees obtained Roberts last Oct. 16 for $50,000. Actually, they had made a bid for him before, about five years ago but were turned down by the Phillies, for whom he won a total of 234 games and lost 199.

Spahn Signs Pact Again

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Warren Spahn, 40 years old and the greatest left-handed pitcher in baseball, got a raise when he signed his 1962 contract with the Milwaukee Braves, but very few of his teammates can look for the same treatment.

President John McHale of the Braves, whose club finished fourth in the National League last season for its worst showing since moving here from Boston in 1953, confirmed today his Milwaukee players will be paid "only what they have earned."

Spahn, who created his own place in baseball's hall of fame when he won his 300th game last season, jokingly conceded Thursday the Braves "saw fit to hire me again."

McHale added that Spahn's new contract was "an improvement" over 1961, when the southpaw won 21 games for his 12th season of 20 or more victories, an effort exceeded by only two others in all of baseball history.

Spahn is the highest paid pitcher in baseball, with a salary believed to be between $60,000 and $70,000, and sometimes estimated as high as $75,000.

Saxton Will Ink Pact
With Texans

DALLAS (UPI)—Jitterbug James Saxton, Texas' All-American halfback, will sign a contract with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League, The Dallas Morning News said today.

Saxton also had been sought by the St. Louis Cardinals of the rival NFL.

"I've been debating whether to go in the NFL and leave Texas or go in the AFL and stay in Texas," The News quoted Saxton as saying. "I decided I would have the best future in Dallas. St. Louis stayed in contention with the Texans all along. I've looked over the contract and I'll come to Dallas about the 25th or 26th of this month to sign."

The 5-11, 165-pound Saxton, was the Texans' 10th draft choice. He was the 11th-round selection of the Cardinals.

He played on a Texas team that won 16 of 11 games, including a 12-7 Cotton Bowl victory over Mississippi. Saxton did not give an indication of the amount of money he would sign for.

Raiders Sign Up
George Boynton

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders, hustling to move up out of the American Football League cellar next season, have announced their 14th signing since the post-season draft.

The Raiders Thursday signed George Boynton, a 5-foot-11 190-pound halfback from East Texas State.

Coach Marty Feldman said he probably would be used as a defensive halfback.

Boynton was the No. 6 draft choice for the Raiders when he was a two-year redshirt in 1959. He was an All-America junior college performer at Ranger Junior College at Ranger, Tex.

Jets Fold In Cage Loop

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Losses at the gate—possibly $200,000—and illness were blamed today for the death of the Los Angeles basketball Jets.

Disclosure that the Jets were withdrawing from the fledgling American Basketball League came Thursday after three days of meetings between ABL officials and team representatives. The departure of the Jets left the ABL with seven teams.

The competition from a variety of sports, including the currently red-hot Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association, was admittedly a factor in the Jets' failure.

Pearlman Athletic Attendant
12 Years, Never Saw Anything

HIACLEAH, Fla. (UPI)—Life is one continuous up and down bet during his tenure at Hialeah. "I happened to see this horse's name and I liked it," he said. "So I gave one of the sportswriters four dollars to bet for me. I got $100 back so I figured I'd better quit while I was a winner. I'm $156 ahead of the horses and I'm gonna stay that way."

Nope, he didn't see that race, either.

"I was busy taking somebody up, or maybe it was down," he pondered.

Harry admits to being "crazy about baseball."

"Ever since I was a boy," he nodded. "My hero was Norman (Kid) Eberfield, who then managed Little Rock. He had players like Cholly Grimm, Travis Jackson, Rube Robinson and Jimmy Johnson. That Johnson oughta be in the Hall of Fame. He was the fastest man I ever saw."

"I used to go all the way up to Detroit just to see a big league game," Harry continued. "Ty Cobb was the greatest, but Babe Ruth was my favorite. I'll never forget a game at Detroit where Ruth was up in the ninth inning with one man on and two out and Detroit leading, 1-0. They tried to walk him, but he stepped up on the ball and hit a home run to win the game, 2-1."

There's a suspicion that if they were bunting, instead of punting, Harry's elevator might not give such good service. The halfbacks and the handicap horses he's content to leave to other folks.

Sandies, Harvesters In Battle For Loop Cellar

The battle of the cellar dwellers looms tonight as the Pampa Harvesters travel to Amarillo to meet the Sandies in a District 3-AAAA cage contest at 8 p.m.

The Harvesters, who stand 1-4 in district play will meet an Amarillo team which hasn't fared much better, sporting a 1-3 mark in loop play.

Amarillo lost their last outing to Lubbock's Westerners, 73 - 56 a week ago. They have been idle this week, with still another game on tap with Plainview Saturday night in Plainview. The change in schedule will do mid-term exams at the school.

Leading the Sandies will be big Chester Dunavin, who poured in 24 points against the Westerners in their losing cause. Dunavin is also up among the loop scoring leaders. Leon Pope will also be one of the key men in the Sandies attack, finding the range with 10 points in Amarillo's last outing.

The Harvesters will be seeking their second win over an Amarillo school when they face the Sandies. They dropped their loop opener to Palo Duro, 75-63, but then bounced back to belt Tascosa on their home court, 53-49.

Randy Matson and Wayne Kreis, the "Mutt and Jeff" act for the local crew, will lead the Harvesters offensively with Bob Neslage, Gordon and Lloyd Balch, Gary Sikes and Mike Stewart giving a helping hand for the charges of coach Terry Cully. Matson led the locals from the floor against Monterey with 19 points, while Kreis, playing in a part-time capacity was held to five points. Kreis and Matson are both up among the loop leaders in scoring and are possible candidates for all-district honors.

Coach Roy Kieval will lead his warriors into the Amarillo arena against the Sandies B team in quest of victory number five in district play. They have lost one. Larry Clifton, Kenny Hebert, Donnie Ayers and Rickey Stewart will lead the Shockers offensive attack.

Game time for the B contest is 6:15 p.m.

United Press International
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The second crack at the gold that Bing Crosby dispenses gets underway today when 163 professionals and their very-amateur partners tee off in the second round of the $50,000 national pro-amateur golf tournament.

The leaders in the pro division are Phil Rodgers, 23; Joe Campbell, 26; and a youngster named Chuck Congdon, who is older than the other two put together—52.

They posted individual pro scores of 67s Thursday.

The leader in the pro-amateur division is a team composed of young Bob McCallister, Yorba Linda, Calif., and not-so young Albie Pearson, the diminutive outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels. They had a best-ball of 59-13 under par. And little Albie helped his partner 14 strokes to get this.

Crosby annually puts up the cash for this event, with $35,000 cut up among the individual pros; and another $15,000 for the pros who can get the most help from their amateur partners.

Some of the help doesn't amount to much. Or else the comedians distract the pros so much that very little gets accomplished. Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, rated the two best golfers in the world, paired dubs Thursday. Palmer, wired with comedian Phil Harris, had a 78 and Phil helped him to a best-ball of 89. AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Goals For Americans

While Dwight Eisenhower was president, he became conscious of the fact that Americans had apparently lost their sense of direction. They had little in the way of a national goal. This might have served as an excellent springboard for him. He might have attempted to show that our goal was freedom in the true sense. He might have sought to instill a concept of private ownership, private industry, private incentives, self-responsibility. It was this concept, together with the idea that our goal as a nation was simply to be a nation of free beings who could and would solve their own problems, which got us on the road to success early in our colonial history, and served us so well that we became the most envied nation in the world.

But Mr. Eisenhower firmly believed in collective thinking and in goals collectively determined. Therefore, in harmony with his policy of referring everything to committees, or to staff, or to advisers, he set up what was called "The President's Commission on National Goals," appropriated a few million to pay for all the time and paper to be wasted, and then sat down to wait for the outcome.

Mr. Eisenhower, meanwhile, has been retired to private life but the juvenile Mr. Kennedy has inherited both the job and the report of the commission. If you believe in freedom and in personal responsibility, this report is enough to make your blood run cold. The President's Commission was appointed to "develop a broad outline of coordinated national policies and programs" and to "set up a series of goals in various areas of national activity." It covered goals in fifteen areas of national concern. Principal among these were: (a) education, (b) the arts and sciences, (c) agriculture, (d) health and welfare, (e) world affairs. These five are enough to occupy us for a while.

Five-Year Plan

We are continuing here the subject opened above on goals for Americans. In its recent findings, the President's Commission undertook to probe the area of health and welfare. The commission recognized the "unhappy fact" that about one fifth of the nation is inadequately housed, fed, clothed, or in sub-standard health. To meet this "fact" the commission proposed that the remainder of the nation should be assessed to lower their standards so that the "unhappy" one fifth could be raised. This would require "adequate government programs at all levels." Of particular interest is this paragraph: "Leadership should be taken by participants, in their states and communities, under professional direction, in health, education and preventive public health action aimed at counteracting the growing problems of groups which oppose water fluoridation, preventive mental health programs, and vaccination programs." It is also instructive that "a substantial majority of the participants favored the federal social security approach in providing the elder citizens hospital and nursing home care, and in meeting drug costs." Favored also was federal legislation to create a type of national unemployment insurance. Also, a kind of federal "make-work" program was recommended for those who were out of work

WORTHY WORK: PREVENTION OF THE MENTALLY RETARDED

I've just had an interesting visit with one of our community-minded neighbors. She's captain of a team of 10 women, each of whom has volunteered to give a morning or an afternoon to the care of a mentally retarded boy.

This unfortunate youngster is the only son of a widow who lives on a nearby farm and who works five days a week in a local factory. She is understandably loathe to have her only child "put away," as she phrases it.

These good women have agreed to pinch-hit for her while she earns her living, for she is much too proud to accept anything in the way of gifts or money.

Now certainly this is noble and self-sacrificing work. It would indeed be most unkind to belittle what the members of this team are doing for the unhappy mother and the most unfortunate child. Yet at risk of criticism, I presume to draw your attention to how much greater the accomplishment might be if these efforts were directed at prevention. For, upon guarded inquiry, I learned that no direct measures are being taken by this particular group to encourage a program of prevention at the local community level.

Here are some of the measures that might readily be undertaken: Urge members of the PTA to expose teen-age girls to German measles (rubella) before they enter child-bearing years.

Establish a prenatal clinic. Encourage prospective mothers to avoid contact with any child having any infectious disease at least during the first three months of the pregnancy. Warn them, too, of the dangers of exposure to radioactivity except for an occasional film taken because of urgent necessity.

Recommend that each expectant mother give up cigarettes in favor of foods of high calcium, high vitamin, high iron content. Such as: milk and other dairy products (including cheeses of all kinds, ice cream and whipped cream desserts) eggs and egg recipes, beef and calf liver, pork and the less expensive cuts of beef or lamb, green, yellow and other deeply colored vegetables and fruits, vegetable, and citrus fruit juices, salads and greens. Note that no vitamin supplementation is required other than a single injection of B12 just before labor.

Encourage breast feeding as soon and as long as possible. Not only for economy and convenience but to avoid "infantile eczema" (hypersensitivity to cow's milk) and even the later development of curious and little understood disturbances such as non-specific ulcerative colitis.

And you don't need a fund-raiser, a drive, a big name to launch the drive, a committee of debutantes to sell tickets for whatever shindig is planned to raise funds, or an orator to orate to the bored husbands who have been dragged to the shindig.

recommended, taken from a much longer list:

- (a) A greater financial sacrifice by the nation, as necessary.
 - (b) An improved program of aid to underdeveloped nations, based upon research and evaluation of past and existing programs.
 - (c) Encouragement of the Peace Corps.
 - (d) Encouragement for all persons who wish to enter the government service in some non-productive capacity.
 - (e) Immediate establishment of an adequate and realistic Civil Defense program.
 - (f) Full support of the United Nations.
 - (g) Repeal of the Connally Amendment which limits the jurisdiction of the world court.
- In each and every case reported above, stronger and more costly government was found to be the answer to every problem and the only direction to be pursued in the establishment of national goals.
- This commission on goals has come forward with about all the recommendations necessary to wreck the nation and reduce the economy to babbling incompetence. Not a word was said about the importance of freedom; the importance of letting men make their own decisions and winning or failing on their own initiative. The President's Commission on Goals, has provided us with our first Soviet-like, five-year plan,

Every Year It Gets More "Super"

Pegler Says:

Good Thing There Was No UN A Hundred Years Ago

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If the United Nations had existed in the century just before this one, the great United States of America would have been a runty, rickety failure and the world would have been denied our great mechanical genius and spared our hypocrisy about "democracy" and political reverence for the fights of minorities.

We slaughtered many minorities of Indians in aggression into their own country in which they had been undisputed residents and owners since the memory of man ran not to the contrary. However, in fairness to us, let us agree they are better off than they were before we came. In some cases, they put up a wise but futile hostility after the first footstep of the aggressor from Europe. But in many other cases, probably most of them, they were disarmed of their prudence by curiosity or genuine hospitality. The survivors finally wound up on "reservations." These were actually internment camps, where many Indians starved or froze to death. Many of them still exist although the occupants are no longer confined by sentries and patrols. They may go to the white men's cities, such as Tucson, and their presence on the streets in the tourist season is a valuable, free display of atmosphere.

Booze always has been a difficult problem among the Indians as well as the Irish. Theorists suggest that pagan Indians, meaning those who have not been converted to sectarian Christianity, are more susceptible to alcohol because there is no voice within them to plead with them to shun the demon for the good of their souls. The pagan Indian knows that if he takes a tuft of the hair of the dog that bit him his tremors will be smoothed until tomorrow. But so does the Christian Nordic.

This is not banter. White men go berserk from booze on festive nights, notwithstanding ages of experience with alcohol. Indian natives in alcohol went on the warpath even as Princeton undergrads in Greenwich Village on Saturday night, and we called them savages and barbarians.

In sexual behavior the Indians are distinctly superior to all other breeds in the United States, according to the standards which we loudly profess but flagrantly violate. There are records, even photographs of Indian women maimed for adultery. The tribal law cut off the erring sister's nose. The male offender's ears were cut off and he was driven out into the world. Among white men he was merely embarrassed. The Caucasians inwardly regarded his offense as an amiable indiscretion: Among other Indians, however, he was an outcast. They are still distinguished among mankind for their control.

If the U.N. had existed in the 1830's to send detachments of Swedes, Belgians and Irish into the Cherokee, Seminole and Choctaw nations in the eastern part of our South, the career of our nation would have been frustrated and confined to a territory and a society which can only be conjectured. This clearly would have been a very bad thing for the United States although it might have spared us the Civil War and later involvement in the First and Second Great Wars and Korea.

In the 1850's the European powers of the U.N. would have voted against the War Between the States and Abraham Lincoln might have been hanged as an aggressor. General Sherman would have been guilty of "war crimes" in the unlikely event that the war had occurred notwithstanding the humane counsel of the continental powers. On principle, they both deserved it by their Hitlerian conduct.

We rolicked and roistered along through noisy decades to pull up a chair at Versailles and sound off sonorously on human rights, with special contempt for secret covenants secretly arrived at in the dark chancelleries of the old world. But we had taken a very small military part in that victory over an enemy who finally had overmatched himself. And our saint Woodrow Wilson dipped his forefinger in auds and drew meandering lines on a table. So we got Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and the Polish corridor. Many million desperate souls were thus cut off from their loved ones 20 or 30 miles away and forbidden to address one another in their native languages. In the Italian Tyrol, Mussolini, under Woodrow's mandate, even changed the German names on headstones to Italian versions.

Being versatile we arrived at secret covenants at Teheran, Yalta, Quebec and in the White House. And meanwhile we bought the Virgin Islands, complete with population, at a few dollars each on the hoof as we had earlier bought the Southwest from Mexico, also with people. They were not consulted in either case.

It is a fault of the American idealist of the liberal school that he is constantly clamping a toe-hold on himself and twisting and twisting until the pain is unbearable. Then he grabs the other foot. Thus, Felix Frankfurter speaks not mere respect but reverential awe for the like of himself because he enjoys the rare moral greatness to agree with Oliver Wendell Holmes, who laid it down absolutely that force was the final arbiter among men and that society had a right, because it had the power, to drive men to battle against beloved enemies and against their principles and to snuff out their lives by whim of the majority.

To Frankfurter, that is democracy and so say we almost all of us.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK, N.Y. — About once a year, when I feel my built-in felinophilia boiling up good and strong, I take a cab down to 29th St. and Lexington Ave. and call on Milan Greer, who was a radio and television producer who gave it all up to enthrone over, breed and, if he likes you, see cats. Never think I am being capricious about Milan — if he doesn't approve of you, your attitude or your ways, he wouldn't tell you a cat if you were starving for one of them. If he were starving for money, which he isn't.

He doesn't, for example, like people who coo over cats. Milan has a shoal of cats at his Victorian private house. About 15 of them run loose in a tiny Victorian drawing room, which is to the right as you enter the house, and they haven't yet

Incomprehensible as it may seem, Radio Free Europe and its collection agency in this country, "Crusade for Freedom" endeavor to convince potential contributors to their coffers, that the effective way to expose and oppose communism, is to employ identified communists or fellow travelers, then have them broadcast laudatory talks on Marx, Lenin and the blessings of Marxist socialism to the people behind the Iron Curtain. Just how that will defeat communism is somewhat mysterious, but there is so much about RFE and the "Crusade" which is intended to be mysterious: as for instance, the source of its income.

The foregoing appraisal of the RFE broadcasts to many of the captive countries was told me personally in Munich, Germany, last summer by George Brada, a former employee of the RFE studio in that city. Brada is not known in this country. About five years ago he incurred the displeasure of the Radio Free Europe executives in New York and in Munich by writing a series of articles about RFE which appeared in the magazine "Facts Forum" of Dallas, Texas. The articles quoted portions of the Marx and Lenin ideology which certain ones were putting into the microphones of RFE — of course for the purpose of combatting communism. Brada also related much concerning the personal affiliations and communist connections of certain ones then on the staff of RFE. He was also heard nationally at that time on the radio program of Fulton Lewis Jr.

Speaking several languages, Brada says he makes tapes of many broadcasts from RFE and also manages to get the typed texts of some talks beamed from the Munich studios.

"It would be incorrect to say that RFE does not tell the truth on many subjects," says Brada. "They do present the American way of life, but there is rigid screening of much that occurs in America. During the time that Sen. McCarthy was fighting communists in government bureaus, his name was never mentioned. Neither then or since. Sen. William Jenner, another active anti-communist was never mentioned in the RFE bulletins. Nor are black, long-haired Siamese in enough generations of careful, controlled breeding. This one leaped 3 1/2 feet from a shelf to my bride's right shoulder, never used a claw to stop his leap, never toothed into her new minic coat, never did anything but imply — 'I like you, I want to sit on your shoulder, I think you like me.'"

Milan reveals that at one time he hated cats. He took his dog to a vet, was shown and then given a Siamese named Cynthia and, since then, has never looked at another dog. I think dogs could vanish from the earth and not disturb Milan one whit. But cats! They are something else in his life. They are his total life and you can't, as I have said, buy one from him just because you have a whim to own a cat. Those Russian Blues, or the way, if the name intrigues you, come high. They cost $1,000. They are rare, probably are descended from the Archangel cat of Northern Russia and have something no other cats in the world have — utter silence. They never speak.

Feeling as he does, it is not strange that Milan has called his book "The Fabulous Feline." His place, after all, is called Fabulous Felines.

and Syria agreed to provide a $36 million a year subsidy to Jordan to replace the aid withdrawn by Britain.

A thought for the day: American drama critic, Percy Hammond, once said: "The female knee is a joint and not an entertainment."

There were 98,893 registered civil and commercial aircraft in the U.S. at the end of 1958, nearly 452 per cent more than at the end of 1940.

POLIO

HAS LEFT A TRAGIC TRAIL!

The Salk Vaccine Has Done An Effective Job In Combating Polio — But Persons
Previously Stricken, And Who Will Be Stricken With The Disease, Will Need Your Help For Years To Come.

THE 1962 MARCH OF DIMES

Helps Fight Two Other Afflictions By Giving
Aid To Victims Of Birth Defects and Arthritis

Why not sit down now and make your contribution? Mail it to The March of Dimes, Pampa, Texas. You'll also find coin collectors in various public places throughout the county for your convenience.

A Polio Prevention Program is possible today because through March of Dimes research, science for the first time has in its hand both a limited preventive agent and a vaccine which may provide the final answer to infantile paralysis.

But what about youngsters already crippled by polio, arthritis, birth defects and virus diseases? They are the ones who need your help, too, for it sometimes takes years of medical attention to bring these young people back to health. Give all you can now to the 1962 March of Dimes.
