Pampa Child Killed, Members Of Family Injured In Accident

Three members of the family of 16-month-old Arby Lynn Gee of Pampa, who was killed in a traffic accident near Liberal, Kan., late Wednesday afternoon, were still in critical condition this noon in hospitals at Liberal and Amarillo.

The dead baby's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arby Gee, 125 Faulkner St., are in Epworth Hospital at Liberal where they underwent surgery last night.

Three-year-old Eldon Doyle Gee, who suffered severe head injuries in the crash of the Gee's family car and a Liberal sanitation truck, was removed this morning from the hospital in Liberal to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for special surgery.

The 24-year-old father and 19-year-old mother were reported making satisfactory progress today although their conditions still were reported critical.

Mrs. Gee suffered chest injuries in the accident and her husband was hospitalized with severe head injuries.

According to Kansas highway patrolmen, Mrs. Gee was driving the family car. The collision happened, when the loaded east-bound sanitation truck turned left in front of the Gee car to go north on a side road.

Officers said the truck rolled over on its side after being struck by the car which was demolished in the collision.

The accident occurred one mile northeast of Liberal, in southwestern Kansas, on SH 54.

Authorities at the Miller Funeral Home in Liberal said arrangements were being made to remove the body of the dead boy late today or tomorrow morning to the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home here for funeral arrangements.

Monday In Race For Commission

Indications for a spirited race for county commissioner in Precinct 2 mounted today as a fourth candidate tossed his hat into the ring.

He was Dean Monday, 1913 N. Banks, auto salesman, who announced he will be a candidate in the May primary election.

Three others already have announced for the same office. They are City Commissioner L. P. Fort, G. L. Lunsford, currently serving as County Commissioner in Precinct 2, and Clyde Organ, farmer.

In making his announcement today, Monday said:

"If elected I will run the county's business on a conservative basis and make the taxpayers' dollars do the most good for them. I will give each and everyone fair consideration of all their problems and do my very best to solve them."

Mrs. Gladys Pafford of Lefors, filed yesterday for a place on the ballot in the May Democratic primary.

She is seeking re-election as Justice of the Peace in Precinct 1, Lefors. Mrs. Pafford is asking for a second four-year term.

Pampans To Hear General Walker

Many Pampa citizens are expected to hear Edwin A. Walker, former army general, Friday night when he speaks in the Amarillo City Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The recent speech by Tom Anderson, editor of Farm and Ranch magazine, in Amarillo will be re-broadcast at 8 p.m. today on KPDM.

General Walker retired from the army without pay last October as a result of a dispute over "muzzling" policies by the defense department.

Since his resignation General Walker has made a number of patriotic speeches in Texas and elsewhere.

ASKS RATE INCREASES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Post Office Department has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve an average 8 per cent increase in parcel post rates and a 13.8 per cent hike for catalogs.

Feud Over Banks Stirs U.S. Aides

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new conflict has developed between the comptroller of the currency and Justice Department trust-busters.

The dispute, second clash involving the two agencies in less than a year, is over who should move against banks accused of conspiring to fix their service charges.

Comptroller James J. Saxon, who has been in office less than two months, feels his agency should handle such cases. But the Justice Department filed an unprecedented civil suit in Newark, N. J., Dec. 26 accusing three small New Jersey banks of conspiring to set identical charges for checking accounts, drafts and other services.

Saxon's predecessor, Ray M. Gidney, also clashed with the antitrust division. Gidney, a hold-over from the Eisenhower administration, was forced to resign after he incurred the displeasure of the trust-busters by approving a number of bank mergers.

Two of the three New Jersey banks named in the Dec. 26 suit are national banks, and subject to regulation by Saxon. He has assigned bank examiners to make an independent investigation of the Justice Department's charges.

On Dec. 27 the Justice Department also subpoenaed 16 Dallas, Tex., bank officers to appear before a federal grand jury with records relating to their bank's service charges. In addition, it has initiated investigations in California, Minnesota and Missouri.

Senators Reject Attempt To Adjourn Legislature

Irked Driver Deserts Bus, Jams Traffic

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—"Bus 392, where's your driver?"

That is what puzzled police asked themselves Wednesday when they were called to the busy intersection of Forbes and Shady Avenues to investigate reports of an abandoned bus.

Frank C. Seitz, 51, an employee of the Pittsburgh Railways Co. for 15 years, walked away from his bus at the intersection after a group of high school students became unruly.

"I could not put up with it any longer," Seitz told police.

"They filled the bus to the doors," he said. "I couldn't get another passenger aboard. They carried on in a sinful, shameful way."

They just "laughed at me," Seitz said, when he told them to close the windows and stop smoking.

When police arrived at the intersection they said traffic was "getting pretty jammed up." They notified Pittsburgh Railways which dispatched a tow truck to remove the bus.

Seitz, along with Gilbert Tietel, president of the bus drivers' union, is scheduled to appear before company officials today.

President Plans Talk To Solons

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—President Kennedy plans to trim his stay in Florida by 24 hours and return to Washington late Friday, it was learned today.

The Chief Executive has been here since Dec. 19 when he rushed southward to the bedside of his father a few hours after former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy suffered a stroke. The elder Kennedy is on the mend and the President has decided to work in Washington Saturday before flying to Columbus, Ohio, for a political speech that night.

Originally the President had planned to remain here until Saturday afternoon, then fly direct to Columbus for a Democratic fund raising banquet marking the birthday of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

After Kennedy devoted much of Wednesday and Tuesday to conferences here with his chief defense advisers, White House sources said the President requested an alternate travel plan which would take him to Washington before going to Columbus.

One of the President's closest associates, Theodore C. Sorensen, special counsel to Kennedy, arrived here Wednesday. He and the President planned to devote most of today to the nearly completed drafting of Kennedy's State of the Union Message. Congress returns Jan. 10 and Kennedy will deliver the message Jan. 11 or 12. He has scheduled a news conference for Jan. 15.

Scientists Work On Astro-Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Scientists working to put a U. S. astronaut into orbit this month were expected today to iron out rocket troubles which have pushed the shot at least one week deeper into the calendar.

The difficulty cropped up "almost overnight" during a routine check of the Atlas booster rocket fuel tanks, and forced the $400 million Mercury program to give up plans for sending astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. on the orbital voyage on Jan. 16.

Measures Asked By Daniel Are Put Into Hopper

AUSTIN (UPI)—State senators today overwhelmingly rejected Sen. George Parkhouse's attempt to defy Gov. Price Daniel and adjourn the new 30-day session of the legislature.

The 23-6 vote against the Dallas Senator's adjournment resolution also crippled a similar resolution planned by Rep. Charles Bailman of Borger in the House.

Parkhouse, his voice rising with anger, called the session "a political meeting on the taxpayers' money."

"People are sick and tired of the legislature being down here spending money," he said. "All of this is designed to take care of the governor's program so he won't have to run for re-election. I don't care if he does run."

Parkhouse's brief but fiery tirade won the support of Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells.

Deadline Nears On Poll Taxes; Only 758 Sold

Although there are just 23 days left in which to pay the 1962 poll tax or get an exemption, Gray County Tax Collector Jack Back said today that only 758 taxpayers out of some 10,000 eligible county voters had taken care of the chore.

Deadline for the purchase of 1962 poll tax receipts is Jan. 31. "The rush probably will start about the middle of the month," Back said.

The tax collector said so far 43 poll tax receipts and 315 exemptions had been issued.

Under Texas law voters must have a tax receipt or an exemption certificate in order to cast a ballot in the 1962 elections.

Half of Gray county's offices will be up for grabs in the coming May primary election and there also will be elections on the state level.

In order to vote a citizen must be 21 or over, must be a U. S. citizen, and must have lived in the state one year preceding the election day and must have resided in the county six months.

All citizens 61 or over must obtain an exemption certificate to vote, even though they are not required to pay the $1.75 poll tax.

Reds Spend Millions On Cuban Army

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Communist nations have pumped $60-$100 million worth of military hardware into Cuba, emboldening Fidel Castro to build the Western Hemisphere's second biggest army, according to the State Department.

A report issued Wednesday night said Castro's regime is so closely tied to the Sino-Soviet bloc that he probably could not wriggle away even if he wanted to.

The 23-page report, issued one year after the United States severed diplomatic ties with Castro, said 80 per cent of Cuba's foreign commerce involves trade with the Communist world.

The U.S. report is a detailed summary of Cuba's links with communism. It was prepared to lend support to U.S. arguments that the hemisphere nations should denounce Castro and impose economic and diplomatic sanctions on his government.

The report includes available information up to August, 1961. Thus it does not refer to Castro's "I am a Marxist" speech of Dec. 2.

The document gives this summary of Cuban Soviet bloc ties:

Military — Communist arms, which began to arrive in mid-1960, amount to "tens of thousands of tons" valued at $60 to $100 million. The arms shipments included "considerable numbers" of Mig jet fighters, Castro's combined a. r. m. d. forces, probably 250,000 to 400,000 soldiers, and militia, 10 to 15 times bigger than those of previous Cuban governments.

Barbara Stanwyck Leaves Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress Barbara Stanwyck was enjoying the comforts of home today following a siege in the hospital over the Christmas and New Year's holidays. She was released Wednesday from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital where she was treated for a virus infection which attendants termed a "bad chest cold."

Reward Offered In Slaying Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. John Patterson posted a $500 reward Wednesday for information leading to the conviction of the slayer of a prominent Mobile Negro leader. Mobile Circuit Solicitor Carl Booth had requested the reward to aid in the investigation of the death of Alfred S. Crishon, found beaten to death in his car Friday night.

Town Announces Curb On 'Twist'

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The city recreation department said Wednesday it has forbidden the showing of "the twist" at Tampa's community centers. A department official said the nation's newest dance craze was considered unwholesome for children and teen-agers who use the centers.

Two Children Die In Auto Accident

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Two children were killed and their mother was injured today in a two-car wreck on the west side of Wichita Falls.

Police identified the dead as Ricky Whetstone, 4, and his sister, Vickie, 2, children of Mrs. Mary Whetstone. Mrs. Whetstone was injured but her other two children Debra Kay, 3, and Mark Wayne, 8 months, escaped injury.

House Committee Report Defends 'Abolition' Film

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report defending the controversial film "Operation Abolition" as a superior documentary that exposes Communist techniques with punch and clarity has been issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The 80-page report said the Communists had organized an effective campaign to discredit the film, which details disturbances against committee hearings held in San Francisco in May 1960.

Although the Reds were aided by "uninformed or irresponsible non-Communists," the vast majority of audiences liked the movie, the committee said.

It said the film had alerted millions of Americans to the dangers of subversion, particularly youths who are now special Communist targets.

House Committee Report Defends 'Abolition' Film

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report defending the controversial film "Operation Abolition" as a superior documentary that exposes Communist techniques with punch and clarity has been issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The 80-page report said the Communists had organized an effective campaign to discredit the film, which details disturbances against committee hearings held in San Francisco in May 1960.

Although the Reds were aided by "uninformed or irresponsible non-Communists," the vast majority of audiences liked the movie, the committee said.

It said the film had alerted millions of Americans to the dangers of subversion, particularly youths who are now special Communist targets.

U.S. Space Programs

essential preparation for the moon program. Astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grisson and a chimpanzee named Ham took rocket rides aboard a Mercury spacecraft. Another chimp, named Enos, rode a Mercury cabin twice around the world in orbit.

As the year came to an end, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. was poised for a three-orbit trip early in the new year.

Russia apparently developed her rocket muscle further in 1961. The spaceships which carried Gagarin once and Titov 17 times around the earth weighed about five tons. An experimental craft launched into orbit early in the year weighed seven tons. In the fall of 1961, the Russians fired into the Pacific several rockets which some U.S. experts believe were boosted by first stages in the million pounds of thrust class.

An official listing shows that 1961 the United States made successful orbital shots to six Russia. Some of the U.S. launches, such as Transit IV-A and IV-B, put more than one package into orbit.

Scientifically, the Russians reported little accomplishment in the old year. They hurled a spacecraft toward Venus but lost radio contact, making the shot of little value.

It provides a fine from $300 to $1,000 and/or a jail sentence up to six months for violations, plus civil penalties up to $100 for each day of violation.

Reps. Ted Springer of Amarillo and Paul Haring of Goliad, who were members of a special House committee that studied bank practices, joined Hughes as cosponsors.

Talks Scheduled On Disarmament

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Russia, after nearly a year of haggling, have tentatively agreed to start 18-nation disarmament talks in Geneva March 14.

The agreement depends on approval from eight unaligned nations which would be included in the talks with five Western and five Soviet bloc countries.

The talks would resume in expanded form, the 10-nation general disarmament talks which broke off June 27, 1960, in Geneva, when Russia walked out.

In 1960, the talks included the United States, Britain, France, Italy, and Canada for the West and Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania on the Communist side.

For the renewed talks, Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Sweden, Nigeria and the United Arab Republic would be added to that list.

The 18 nations would discuss disarmament of conventional weapons and manpower.

The United States, Britain, and Russia have been negotiating separately for a nuclear test ban since 1958. Those talks are to resume Jan. 16 in Geneva.

GOLDEN Cheese Sauce provides delicious finishing touch to these wedges of cabbage that are hot from the saucepan.

Flavor And Nutrition Reward From Cabbage Covered With Cheese Sauce

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Treat cabbage gently and it will reward you and your family in flavor and nutrition. It is rich in vitamin C. Slice it with a very sharp knife. If the leaves are bruised in cutting, some of the vitamin C is lost. Also, cook only for a short time.

CABBAGE WITH GOLDEN CHEESE SAUCE
(Yield: 6 servings)
2-pound head cabbage.

1-inch boiling water in saucepan.
1 teaspoon salt
Golden Cheese Sauce
Remove outside leaves of cabbage and cut head into 6 wedges. Place in saucepan with boiling water and 1 teaspoon of salt. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and boil 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes or until crisp-tender. Sprinkle with additional salt and black pepper to taste. Serve hot with Golden Cheese Sauce.

Boned Lamb Has New Mint Flavor

Here is a recipe for a dinner menu:

BONED LEG OF LAMB WITH MINT STUFFING
(Serves 6 to 8)

1 (5-6 lbs.) leg of lamb, boned
Lemon juice
Pepper
1-3 cup light or dark raisins, chopped
1 small clove garlic, minced
1 small onion, chopped
1/4 cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons California Rose wine
3 cups soft stale bread crumbs (Or use 8-oz. pkg. stuffing mix.)
2 or 3 tablespoons chopped mint or parsley
Pinch of dried rosemary or oregano
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup grated sharp American cheese
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
3/4 teaspoon salt or salt to taste
Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over low heat until slightly thickened. Combine egg yolks and lemon juice and mix with the sauce. Heat 1 minute. Stir in cheese, black pepper and salt. Serve over cooked hot vegetables.

GOLDEN CHEESE SAUCE
(Yield: Approximately 1 1/2 cups)
1/4 cup butter or margarine

3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup grated sharp American cheese
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
3/4 teaspoon salt or salt to taste
Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over low heat until slightly thickened. Combine egg yolks and lemon juice and mix with the sauce. Heat 1 minute. Stir in cheese, black pepper and salt. Serve over cooked hot vegetables.

Heavenly Apple Pie Topped With Coconut

In the fall and winter pie-baking gets back into full swing. With apples in abundance, you'll find the fragrant aroma of apple pie. It features a glorious topping of coconut, corn flake crumbs, brown sugar and butter or margarine. For that perfect, melt-in-your-mouth crust, Reba Staggs, home economist, reminds you to use lard as the shortening.

COCONUT-APPLE PIE

PASTRY
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

APPLE FILLING
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
5 cups thinly sliced apples

TOPPING
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1-3 cup cornflake crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons brown sugar

A BREATH of winter coolness is introduced into salads by succulent winter pears. Dip in lemon juice for tang.

Baked Ham Marinated In Savory Orange Sauce Fine Party Fare

Spice, wine and fruit add distinction to a canned ham in this new, accommodating recipe. It's fine for a party because most of the preparation is done a day ahead of time — the ham marinates overnight in a mixture of fruit juice, Port and seasonings. As the ham bakes, basting produces a fine glaze, and the remaining marinade makes a savory sauce to accompany it.

Food For Family Must Be Planned

Though the holiday season is over and the fancy cooking does not seem as imperative as before, there is still the family meals to plan and prepare.

White appetites are still keyed to fancy repast, why not try these Meat Balls in Sour Cream Gravy.

1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon dill seed
1/4 teaspoon salt

Third Of Bread Loaf Makes Sandwich Hearty Enough To Satisfy Teenager

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A third of a loaf of French bread, corned beef, Swiss cheese, pickles and sweet onions — these are the makings of a sandwich to satisfy any teen-age appetite. You might add olives, green onions, radishes, celery and potato chips just to be sure.

TEN-PIN BASKET SANDWICHES
(Yield: 6 servings of 1-3 loaf per serving)

2 (1-pound) loaves long narrow French bread
24 (1-ounce) slices corned beef
24 (1-ounce) slices process Swiss cheese
8 dill pickles, sliced into thirds
3 Bermuda or Spanish onions, medium-sized
Cut loaf into alternate 3/4 and 2-inch slices, almost to bottom crust. Start cutting 1/2-inch from end of loaf, making 24 slices in all. Remove narrow sections (3/4-inch) in each loaf, but do not cut through crust. Cut each onion into 8 slices. Fold slices of Swiss cheese, placing one in each bread cavity so that fold is on bottom. Wrap a corned beef slice around a slice each of dill pickle and onion; insert between folded cheese slices. Cut each loaf into thirds; place on shallow baking pan. Heat in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 minutes.

Outlawed Reds Blamed In New Year Uprising

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—The Portuguese government has blamed the unsuccessful New Year's Day revolt on the country's outlawed Communist party. Well-informed circles said the uprising was the first step in a Red plan to overthrow the regime of Prime Minister Antonio Salazar.

A communique issued by the army said the attack by 40 or 50 rebels on the army barracks at Beja in southeastern Portugal "was an act planned and carried out by the Communist party as part of a general strategy, the details of which the authorities are now unraveling."

The informed sources said the plot failed, because the government had received information of possible trouble and moved crack security units to strategic points.

The sources said the attackers won their first objective—capture of the barracks itself. But the second move—the distribution of arms and ammunition from the barracks to 20 or 30 Red cells in Alentejo province—was foiled, they said.

The rebels' plan, according to the sources, also called for cutting off Lisbon from southern Portugal and using the south as a base for guerrilla warfare throughout the nation.

They said the rebels occupied the barracks, but loyal soldiers in the neighborhood immediately sealed off the area.

The rebels chose the Beja barracks, the sources said, because they knew it contained large stores of arms and ammunition. Several truckloads left the area but were trapped immediately by royal forces.

Some of the truck drivers were captured. Then the loyal soldiers advanced to the barracks and recaptured the buildings after a brief battle.

The sources said the rebels hoped both to overthrow the government and to prevent Portuguese troops from being sent to Angola, by keeping them tied up with a guerrilla war.

The Army Ministry said in a communique that five officers involved in the Beja insurrection have been branded "unworthy of wearing the same uniform" as Portuguese soldiers overseas and have been cashiered from the service.

The announcement said two of the five officers, Capt. Francisco Vasconcelos Pestana and Lt. Alexandre Hipolito Dos Santos, entered the barracks through a fuse.

Pestana and Dos Santos identified themselves to the sentry and were passed inside. When the sentry tried to stop "about 30" of their followers, Pestana and Dos Santos jumped him and tied him up, the announcement said.

Foreign Venture Companies Given A Mild Warning

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the latest studies on the importance of overseas business to major United States corporations shows some impressive figures, but sounds a mild warning to companies which may be contemplating a foreign venture.

Prepared by McKinney and Co., Inc., international management consultants, they study analyzed information from 100 major U. S. industrial corporations on trends of their operations at home and abroad and how much money could be made. The 100 companies, together represent 40 per cent of the total investment overseas by U. S. companies.

Marvin Bower, managing director of the company, commented that data showed investments outside the U. S. have provided a higher return than domestic investments.

"However," he wrote, "the survey data also suggest a note of caution on further overseas commitments. The rate of profitability abroad has in the past been high enough to permit a wide margin of error."

"The profit rates abroad are falling off and as the margins narrow, decisions will have to be made on the basis of much more sophisticated analysis than heretofore has been applied in many cases."

A wide range of return on investment was shown. A quarter of the firms showed a return of more than 25 per cent; but 17 per cent showed a return of less than 5 and another 18 per cent earned less than 10. And for 27 per cent, rates of return on investment were lower than earnings at home.

Debbie is a victim of "open spine," one of the birth defects on which research is done through March of Dimes.

Prisoner Claimed He's On Furlough To Pick Up Loot

LYNN, Mass. (UPI)—A convict who claimed he was furloughed from a Mississippi prison to pick up $500,000 in burglary loot was arrested today on a prison escape charge.

Kimble Berry, 24, arraigned in district court shortly after he was taken into custody, was ordered held in $5,000 bail and his case continued to Jan. 31.

Berry's lawyer, Francis E. Riley Jr., said he will appeal to Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe to prevent Berry's return to Mississippi.

Berry claimed he was released from Parchman State Prison, given a gun and a 1961 Cadillac and $20 on condition he recover the negotiable securities and cash from a Keiser, Ark., bank.

Police Chief Thomas Costin said the arrest warrant charged that Berry escaped from the prison on or about last Dec. 15.

Appliance Boom
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—One marketing survey shows the small town market is teeming with home appliances of all types.

The survey, by Grit Publishing Co., shows that 92.6 per cent of the families in small towns own washers; 26.1 per cent own dryers; 39.5 per cent own food freezers and television sets.

Fidel Excommunicated From Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A Vatican official said today that Cuban Premier Fidel Castro "can be considered to have been excommunicated" from the Roman Catholic Church.

Attorney General Asks New Power In Crime Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today he would ask Congress to provide new weapons for the federal government's war on gamblers and racketeers.

But the President's brother gave every indication that he had decided not to recommend new civil rights legislation this year despite pressure from Negro leaders.

The attorney general said in an interview that he again would seek passage of a law that would ban interstate shipment of all slot machines and pinball machines used for gambling.

He said he also would renew his request for approval of a bill to grant immunity to some witnesses and compel testimony in investigations of extortion or pay-offs in labor-management dealings. This would help the government prosecute the biggest offenders, he said.

Kennedy, claiming progress in Justice Department campaigns against organized crime and racial segregation, said his Cabinet job has "more of a fascination than I expected."

Kennedy said he was proud of the department's role in advancing civil rights with a "minimum of disruption" and violence. He credited state and local cooperation despite strong pressures to maintain segregation in travel facilities and schools.

"Success has come...by discussion and working quietly," Kennedy said. He made no mention of any need for new legislation.

Archbishop Dino Staffa, canonist to the Vatican secretariat of state, said that anyone who expelled a bishop was automatically excommunicated from the church under canon law.

Castro expelled the auxiliary bishop of Havana, Msgr. Eduardo Boza Masvidal.

The archbishop, specifically asked by newsmen whether Castro had incurred expulsion by his action against Masvidal, said that "whoever impedes the functions of a bishop in the carrying out of his work incurs according to canon law automatic excommunication."

Castro, he said, "can be considered to have been excommunicated."

Leaders of the Iron Curtain countries have been excommunicated, as was former Argentine Dictator Juan Peron when he took action against priests.

But the Vatican official's confirmation of Castro's excommunication came at a surprising time. Only Tuesday it was learned that Cuba had appointed a new ambassador to the Holy See and that Pope John and Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos had exchanged New Year's greetings.

Earlier, a high Vatican source said the question of automatic excommunication for Castro, born a Catholic and educated as a Catholic, "is a matter of his own personal conscience and of his confessor."

This source said he knew of no excommunication decree signed in the Vatican concerning Castro. But he said a decree would not be necessary for automatic excommunication, which can be incurred in various ways of violations of specified articles of canon law.

Dear Abby... Lovebirds Can Fly High As Possible

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an intelligent girl. I hold down a good job, but need a little help with my love life. I have been going with a very eligible man for several months. I know he is crazy about me, and he is the man I want to marry. He can give me everything I want in life - social position, financial security, and the works. I am having trouble getting him even to talk about marriage. I have given him all the encouragement a man could want. I have led this horse to water. Now, how do I make him drink?

DEAR MAD: Freeze them out with a chilly reception and it will be a hot day in December before they pull that stunt again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AMY F., FATHER O'H., and MRS. D. D. K.: I am returning your money. Sorry, but I do not sell my own books. If your local bookstore doesn't have DEAR TEENAGER ask them to order it for you.

Are things rugged? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and don't forget a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

ANXIOUS TO WED DEAR ANXIOUS: You can't - so take off the spurs, sister. This "horse" could turn out to be a camel.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is married to a very peculiar girl. Last month my husband suddenly fell ill and we rushed him to the hospital for an emergency operation. I wrote our son telling him about it, but we heard nothing from him. Finally, when his father was out of danger, I telephoned our son to tell him the good news. He said he didn't know his father had been sick!

Then his wife wrote us a nasty letter saying she never gave our son the letter because she "didn't want him worrying about any of his folks," and "please not to write him any more bad news." Can you imagine the nerve of that girl? What do two elderly parents do in a case like this?

BADLY HURT DEAR HURT: Call your son, person to person, and let him know what is going on. If he wants to put up with this kind of censorship from his wife, there is nothing you can do. But if he is interested in knowing of your welfare, ask HIM how you may reach him without any interference.

DEAR ABBY: Once in a while a member of our family will go to bed early to get some much needed sleep. Then someone will drive by, and even though it is as late as 10:00 p.m. it will ring the bell saying, "The lights were still on so we knew everyone was still up." I think this is a whole lot of gall. What do you do with callers who don't know any better than that?

JUST PLAIN MAD

University Built On Texan's Spirit Grows

By Patricia McCORMACK SAN GERMAN, "Puerto Rico (UPI)—FOUND: A solution to the classroom shortage cheap enough to make taxpayers cheer.

Impatient Inter-American University here, 50 years old and growing like Topsy, turned out the chickens rather than turn away students two years ago.

The coop was fumigated and partitioned into classrooms. A sign declaring the place "education hall" made the transition official.

"Old Doc Harris would have expected us to do that," Dr. Ronald Bauer, president of the university, said in an interview. "Education is all here. When your enrollment spurts from 600 to 4,200 in six years, you try to do your best with what's at hand."

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Full name: Dr. John William Harris. At the start of the century, he sensed the need for education in Puerto Rico. He started a school. It failed. He tried again and failed a second time. The third time the tottering beginnings of a great university took root.

Dr. Harris loved his Texas. He rode about the campus on a horse. He wouldn't even doff his 10-gallon hat for a mortar board during academic processions.

"The spirit of old Doc Harris will always haunt this place," Dr. Bauer said. It's not as though Dr. Harris didn't leave enough reminders around.

In the president's office there's a big glass case—the kind that once held penny candy. The shelves have been removed to make room for the saddle that Dr. Harris once sat on—and for his cowboy boots and worn 10-gallon hat.

The building in which the president's office is situated ranks as another reminder of the Harris spirit. It was built by students in keeping with a Harris belief that students must help to improve their school.

"Students still build buildings around here," Dr. Bauer said. A part of the Harris credo was that an educated man or woman must learn to do something for others — without getting paid for it.

Bauer said Harris was impatient with anyone who thought of Puerto Ricans as ignorant, almost uncivilized people.

"Once," he said, "a fellow educator from an eastern university wrote to Dr. Harris, asking for a native Puerto Rican costume for a pageant of some sort. "An angry Will Harris replied—"The native Puerto Rican costume is an Ivy League suit." He was that kind of man."

Dr. Harris died in an auto crash in Texas in 1936. He was 80 at the time. In keeping with his will, he was cremated and the ashes returned to a resting place in "the steps" at the university.

The steps are all that remain of a farmhouse that served as home and classroom for faculty and students from 1912 until 1926. Dr. Harris wanted them to stand forever, a symbol that the original spirit of the university continues even today.

At graduation time, the commencement speaker stands at the top of the stairs. Students must climb the stairs to receive their sheepskins.

"Someone once said the steps, standing there all alone lead nowhere," Dr. Bauer said. "But Dr. Harris always said they can lead anywhere a student wants to go."

"The last time he was here, we sat on the steps and he talked about his last resting place. He said he wanted the students to dance around the steps and he suspected some might even hold hands on the steps and that was exactly what he wanted—a gay monument."

Harris also wanted the spirit of the steps to inspire head, heart, and hand.

A plaque on the steps quotes the following from the Bible: "What doth the Lord require of the but to do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with the Lord." — Micah 6:8.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: My husband and I are attending a Masonic Lodge installation shortly. He is going in as Worshipful Master (highest office) and will be dressed in formal evening clothes (white tuxedo and tails). As long gowns are so impractical these days, I am wearing a street-length chiffon dress. The color is moss green, blue and darker green all over rose design (quite subdued). It is constructed over a moss green taffeta slip.

What color evening bag, gloves and shoes? My jewelry is to be a matched set of rhinestone necklace, bracelet and earrings. My coat is moss green with brown beaver trim. This is a most important occasion for my husband and I want to be in good taste. Please advise me soon as possible.—Mrs. C. E. S.

Dear Mrs. C. E. S.: Since this is an important occasion for your husband, the first thing you must do is buy a full-length evening gown. If your husband were wearing a dinner jacket, it would be possible for you to wear a short dress. But not as it is. I talked your problem over with Samuel Winston. He says: "That short dress is incorrect. In its place, I suggest a slim formal gown with lines that will lend themselves to alteration when the big evening is over. Then, have the dress shortened and wear it for informal parties."

To this, I add another piece of advice. Try to find a silk crepe dress in black or garnet or brown, one that is extremely simple. With it, silk pumps and small silk evening bag. White kid gloves, of course, and a small fur wrap or a very plain black coat that lends itself to evening wear.

And I'd leave one of those pieces of jewelry, possibly the bracelet, at home. An entire set is too much.

Dear Gaile: Since I did not like the four skins on my mink scarf, I have had two removed. Do you think it would be possible to have a hat made from them? If so, could you inform me as to where I might have this done and approximately what the cost would be? Thank you.—Mrs. B. D. M.

Dear Mrs. B. D. M.: I put your question to designer Sally Victor, who says: "It is absolutely impossible to estimate the cost of such a project. The final cost depends on many things, among them the design of the hat and the condition of the skins. I suggest you take them either to a department store (most have millinery workrooms) or to a good milliner. Tell her what you want done and ask for an estimate."

New Year's Eve Vows Said By Coats-Killebrew

CANADIAN (SPL) — Miss Kay Coats, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ansil Coats of the Higginbotham Community near Seminole, and J. A. Killebrew were married on December 31 at three o'clock in the afternoon in the First Methodist Church in Denver City.

J. A. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Killebrew of Canadian. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. M. Brooks pastor of the church. Wedding music was furnished by Buddy Wilks.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin with a v-shaped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The gown was designed and made by the bride. A crown of seed pearls held her tiered veil of silk illusion. She carried a red feathered carnation atop a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Massengale of Littlefield was maid of honor and Miss Carolyn Williams of Hereford was bridesmaid. They wore red velvet dresses designed after the bride's dress. White headbands and white gloves complemented their costumes. They carried cascades of white carnations.

Bob Killebrew, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, Ushers were James Coats, brother of the bride, and Charles Miller of Lubbock.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. Mrs. George Springer and Mrs. Joe Woosley of Seminole were the hostesses. Miss Massengale served the wedding cake and punch.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a dress of beige wool, which she had made and red accessories.

Mrs. Killebrew was a graduate from Seminole High School and is a senior Home Economics major at West Texas State College.

Mr. Killebrew was graduated from Canadian High School and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and West Texas State College at Canyon. He is now employed at Lubbock, where the couple will make their home.

Fastidious care is an absolute essential for hand beauty. This girl uses a firm nail brush each day to keep grime from settling under her fingernails.

Recipe For Lovely Hands: Devote As Much Time To Them As To Make-Up

By ALICIA HART Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Women who devote sufficient time to make-up, hair styling and clothes often astonish others by the fact that they have neglected their hands. Quite often, rough skin, rugged cuticles and nails of varying lengths turn up at store counters, luncheon tables and places of business.

A beautiful ring is wasted if it sparkles against grubby or neglected skin. Daily hand care makes it possible to have pretty hands no matter what your age.

Begin with warm, soapy water and a flexible nail brush. After chores that leave the hands really dirty, wash and brush them carefully. Then push back the cuticles as you dry them in a soft towel.

The weekly manicure should be enough if you're faithful to your hand care. But if, for any reason, your polish becomes chipped.

LEFORS (SPL) — Mrs. D. M. Christian of Avenger, a former Lefors resident, was guest of honor at a coffee recently in the home of her sister, Mrs. W. G. Hughes.

Refreshments were served from a table covered in a pink and white crocheted cloth.

Attending were Mrs. Ralph Carruth, Charles Roberts, Doyle Harris, Daniel Rose, J. B. Martin, Miss Ruth Martin, David and Melita Harris, and Jackie and Eddie Rose.

Nightly use of a rich hand cream or lotion is absolutely essential. If you want this cream to be twice as effective, invest in several pairs of inexpensive white cotton gloves and don a pair over the cream when you go to bed.

The gloves make it possible for the cream to do a really thorough job. And, of course, they're easy to wash. Once you've formed the habit of using them, you'll wonder how you ever got along without them.

Take It From Kathy

by kathy peterson

Dear Kathy: I read your column about wearing bright nail polish. You said red is used for stop lights, warning flags and signs that carry messages involving danger. You said that red screams "Look at me, please look!" Do you think that anyone who wears a red dress, red shoes, etc., is screaming "Look at me, please look, I'm dangerous?"

You also said that 13-year-olds do not usually have well-groomed nails and hands. I disagree with both ideas! Please reply.—Fourteen-Year-Old With Well-Groomed Hands.

Dear Fourteen-Year-Old: Slow down! Don't confuse the issue by misstating the case.

Red is used for important signs and danger signals because it stands out and demands attention.

Winter Party Tips For Younger Set

Planning a wintertime party for your youngsters? Be sure to include them in the excitement of getting ready for the party and it's good training, too.

Set aside a study table or desk where they can work away at placecards, small gifts and simple decorations. Give them a plentiful supply of paper, crayons, colored Kleenex tissues, yarn, and ribbon to create their own imaginative designs.

Once the guests have arrived and the party is underway, see that there are enough activities to fill the time until food is served. You might begin with a balloon race. The group splits into two teams. Each player gets a red or green balloon, depending on his team color. At a signal, lead players on both teams must blow up their balloons, sit on them and break them, before the next player in line can blow his. First team to break all balloons wins the contest.

After this excitement, stage a quiet-down game, perhaps having each child draw his own version of a typical winter scene. See that everyone gets a prize for something — most original drawing, best coloring and so on.

The party table should be attractive and gay, but set with a carefree paper tablecloth, paper plates and cups, and casual napkins. Kleenex towels, hand decorated by your children, can make excellent placecards.

Cleanup time after the festivities are over will be minimal, since all the paper products used are disposable. In fact, you'll probably be through before the children are out of the door and merrily on their way with new treasures.

KEEPS'EM BUSY

Rainy day boon for mother: an inexpensive magnifying glass. Children will keep delightfully busy exploring their possessions for sights hitherto unseen.

P.S. Applause for your well-groomed hands.

Legislators Told $15.5 Million Is Ready To Spend

AUSTIN (UPI)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert told the state legislature yesterday that some $15.5 million is available for them to spend.

His estimate of tax receipts over current appropriations for the 1961-63 biennium indicated that there would be enough money available for a farm to market road appropriation, of $15 million, and sufficient funds to advertise Texas to tourists.

Calvert estimated that revenue for the present fiscal year ending Aug. 31 would be $373 million and tax collections for the 1962-63 year another $387 million.

Calvert said a general revenue deficit of $6.3 million was foreseen for Aug. 31, 1963, except that the "bookkeeping bill" passed by the 56th Legislature three years ago provides more than $21 million, leaving the $15.5 million for the legislature to spend.

The sales tax revenue estimate was unchanged at $326 million for the two-year period, Calvert said, because the state has not had,

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Grasp the thistle firmly is advice to be taken only by a courageous man, such as President Kennedy.

The President grasped the thistle firmly when he ordered an all-out oratorical attack on the challenges of his policy of supporting the United Nations in its Congo adventure.

He grasped firmly again with announcement that Congress would be asked to okay purchase by the United States of up to $100 million of United Nations bonds. The money would help bail the U. N. out of approaching bankruptcy.

The Kennedy administration has invited an angry dispute in and out of Congress and probably will get it. The United Nations will be in the middle. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads up the Republican opposition to U. S. U. N. policy in the Congo. He is not alone.

Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Carl T. Rowan came out slugging last week in a speech defending that policy and denouncing its opponents. Rowan said a Belgian propagandist in New York had spread around $140,000 for the circulation of myths and misinformation about the United Nations in the Congo and in the secessionist province, Katanga.

"Spread around" were Rowan's words. The meaning is not precise nor is the implication precise that there was money spread around in such manner as to be disgraceful to the receiver as well as to the dispenser.

Bearing in mind that Nixon has made the Congo issue his own, one paragraph from Rowan's speech is especially notable for its unqualified language. Rowan said of the sources of opposition to U. S. U. N. Congo policy:

"In the United States we have a conglomeration of archconservatives; people who oppose the income tax; avowed defenders of racial segregation; opponents of fluoridation of water; those who want to destroy the Supreme Court, largely because of its ruling on school segregation, and so forth."

Those are hot words. They are likely to fire up the debate when Congress considers Kennedy's request for authority to buy U. N. bonds. The President has confronted the Congress with a vote of confidence in the United Nations. That is a firm grasping of a prickly thistle, if ever there was.

So closely is United States foreign policy tied to the United Nations that congressional refusal to bail out the United Nations is almost inconceivable. It could happen, however, because the prestige of the United Nations is low, low in the United States.

There was Goa. The U. N. Security Council refused to challenge Indian aggression against Goa to the delight of the U. N. assembly's Afro-Asian bloc. This caused Lord Home, the British foreign secretary, to say:

"If the United Nations emphasis is taken off the first duty of the United Nations peace-making and security, and laid on . . . the eradication of colonialism, then the United Nations . . . would sow the seeds of its own destruction."

New TV Shows Feature Stars In "Off" Roles

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Tired of hearing your favorite entertainers introduced simply and insignificantly as "the ever-popular star of stage, screen and TV?"

Then "Your First Impression" should be your box of tea-bags. This new daytime show which NBC-TV uncensored Tuesday offers you intros like "Let us now meet the talented, sensitive perfectionist — Gisele Mackenzie." Now, there's an introduction that sings. It's deep, real deep. And it is fashionable, for it caters to the little psychoanalyst that dwells in all of us.

Appropriately, "Your First Impression" began its life on the same day that another daytime show, CBS-TV's "Password," made its nighttime debut. Both game shows, in their own styles, offer viewers a chance to watch stars reveal bits of their off-stage personalities as they react to word-association pressures.

This trend squares with my belief that viewers are hooked by the commodity Jack Paar made popular—the emotional strip tease. This premeditated, cunning approach to entertainment now is being housebroken and turned into panel shows, or "Parlor" games.

"Your First Impression," where nary a point is scored or a dollar given away, has George Kirgo, Linda Darnell and Dennis James on the panel this week. Bill Leyden is the moderator. The panel must try to guess the identity of the celebrity seated behind them, silhouetted in an isolation booth, by adding up the guest's instant responses to words and sentences.

Examples: Guest Gisele Mackenzie finished the phrase, "Nobody knows that sometimes . . ." with this phrase, ". . . I cry a little." All three panelists got her. Walter Brennan, confronted with "My friends think I'm . . ." replied, ". . . a tightwad."

It's almost refreshing to see actors exploiting each other for the edification of the star-struck viewers among us instead of exploiting the unfortunates who flocked to "It Could Be You."

Kirgo and James are permanent panelists on the show. Kirgo is supposed to serve as the blunt-talking grouch, but he comes over like a Dale Carnegie version of Oscar Levant. Dennis James, a quick-thinking pro, is aboard to tidy up the place when the words stray into negative-type associations.

If the panel, or Leyden, ever forget their manners or drop the kiddy coloring book line of fire, they'd set off some daytime bombshells with "Your First Impression."

ant aftertaste as it made its transition to a nighttime slot on CBS-TV. Watching Carol Burnett and Garry Moore struggle with the word "confidential" was a rare, fascinating treat. It's a slick game but I wish they'd stop pretending the show is live, not pre-taped. Who are they trying to kid?

There's this wife and mother who gets busy writing the annual PTA revue, see? Now, in the ordinary TV situation—say, "Ozzie and Nelson" or "Donna and Reed" or "Pete and Repeal"—this would be a fun occasion. On ABC-TV's "Alcoa Premiere" Tuesday night, this premise was turned into a touching story.

"The Cake Baker" starred Shelley Winters as the wife who accepted the writing job in order to avoid a breakdown. Though overdrawn in spots, especially near the finish, the half-hour was provocative and well-acted.

The Channel Swim: The opening night concert at Philharmonic Hall in New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts will be carried live by CBS-TV on Sunday, Sept. 23. The program will feature the New York Philharmonic, Leonard Bernstein conducting, with noted vocal soloists and chorus.

"The Milton Berle Show," with Jack Benny and Laurence Harvey as special guests, is scheduled for Friday, March 9, as an NBC-TV special.

Producer David Wolper has started production of "D-Day," a full-hour TV documentary about the Allied invasion of Europe on June 6, 1944 . . . Contrary to earlier reports, when "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" returns to CBS-TV next fall in an expanded full-hour format, it will not be in a Sunday night time slot.

Jayne Mansfield and Jackie Cooper play "Password" on CBS-TV Tuesday night, Jan. 16.

Caution Urged As Watchword For Investors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hardheaded thinking and increased caution should be the investment watchwords for 1962, according to Roger E. Spear, president of Spear & Staff, Inc.

In a basically bullish forecast for the first half of the year, Spear predicts that the Dow-Jones industrial average probably will not fall below 680-700 and, barring unforeseen adverse developments, will hit a high in the 780-800 area, some 10 per cent above the present level.

Standard & Poor's "outlook" says the stock market enters the new year with prospects pointing to record highs in business, profits and dividends, all of which could lead to still higher share prices. Nonetheless, it foresees a more labored advance with wider corrective swings than in 1961 and thinks that investment programs should be tempered with caution.

In a basically bullish forecast for the first half of the year, Spear predicts that the Dow-Jones industrial average probably will not fall below 680-700 and, barring

Eight Pee Wee Teams Vying Tonight At 8

About 70 boys will don the gloves starting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Pee Wee elimination tournament in the first phase of the annual Golden Gloves tournament. Matches will be held at the Optimist club boys building.

The tourney, which will continue through Friday, will narrow the field down to two boys who will fight for the championship next weekend in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Eight teams are expected to enter the tourney, with Perryton having one of the strongest teams in the meet. Perryton won the Pee Wee Regional tourney last year and have strong contenders in each weight class.

Other teams expected to participate in the tourney include Dumas, Borger, Hereford, Lefors, Liberal, Kans., Pampa Optimist Boys Club and Tri-City, which includes Pampa, Wellington and Shamrock.

The usual one pound over the designated weight division will be allowed, according to Gifford Dunham, tournament director.

All boxing coaches are urged to submit their boxing team members as soon as possible. Included in this information should be the weight division the boys expect to enter and also a list of the coaches that will accompany the boys.

Weight-in will take place at the Optimist Club Boys' building from 12 noon until 5 p.m. Tickets for the Pee Wee bouts will be 25 cents for children under 12, 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults. Tickets may be purchased at the Gate-Valve Shop or the Hardin-Roth Truck Terminal from Jan. 4-13.

Tickets which have not been sold or called for will go on sale at the Optimist Boys Club ticket office at 8:30 p.m. each evening prior to the fights.

Two special feature awards will be presented by local radio stations. Station KPND will present the A. C. Sanders Memorial Trophy and Station KHHH will present the sportsmanship trophy.

Falk Looks More Like Stock, Bonds Man Than Diamond Coach

DALLAS (UPI) — Bibb Falk looks much more like a stock and bonds investment man than he does a college baseball coach with one of pro baseball's finest records behind him.

Strangely enough, the 62-year-old Falk has a successful acquaintance with stocks and bonds as well as with the game of baseball.

Falk, a tall, distinguished-looking figure with no sign of baldness marring a thick head of pearl gray hair, quit major league baseball at the peak and moved in to succeed W. J. (Uncle Billy) Ditch is producer of collegiate champions at the University of Texas.

For his almost constant touch with success, Falk last week became the 31st figure to be installed in the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

Falk grew up in Austin, home of the University of Texas, and starred in both football and baseball in high school before moving on to the university for more success.

He was an all conference tackle in football and in two seasons was never beaten as a pitcher and doubled as a heavy-hitting outfielder or first baseman.

"He would beat us one day as a pitcher then come back and beat us the next with his hitting as an outfielder," said retired Dana X. Bible, who was a coach at Texas A&M in Falk's playing days (1919-20), although he later became coach and Falk's athletic director at Texas.

Falk's baseball future was so promising that the Chicago White Sox lured him away from the campus after Falk's junior year with a $3,500 bonus—believed to be one of the first, if not the first, "bonus baby" deal that has mushroomed into such a thorny problem for the game. In contrast to Falk's $3,500 bonus, some of the youngsters he's developed in recent years have commanded $25,000 to $50,000 bonuses. And, the majors are still luring them away before graduation.

One of Falk's top prospects, Casey Wise, gave up college after his freshman season to join the majors. Falk went from the campus direct to the White Sox in 1920, stayed on the bench for all but seven games that season then became a regular in 1921 to launch a 12-year major league career in which he compiled a .314 lifetime average.

He played 1,354 games with Chicago and Cleveland, batted .309 or better five successive seasons from 1923-27 and had his best year in 1924 when he hit .352 for the Sox and led the league in assists with 28, still a superlative figure for a left fielder.

He managed Toledo one season after leaving Cleveland in 1931, then coached the Indians and Boston Red Sox and served the latter as a scout until 1940.

That's the year he took over for Ditch. In 19 seasons, his Texas teams had a 350-129 won-loss record, won 13 Southwest Conference titles outright and shared a pair of others and won two NCAA crowns.

His rivals said the acid-tongued Falk coaches like a pro manager rather than a "fire-up" college coach—and gets results. Falk isn't considered frugal, but he saved and invested his major league salary wisely. He has never married.

Friends say it's easy to locate Bibb. He's either in his office, on the practice field, at Barton Springs swimming pool or at his broker's office.

Everyone plays in this event. Los Angeles (UPI) — The golfing tourists do a little prepping for the $45,000 Los Angeles Open today when they pair with celebrities and amateurs in the $5,000 pro-am event on the Rancho course.

The competition also will introduce national amateur champion Jack Nicklaus into the pay-for-play ranks.

Some of the top names in the entertainment world will be paired with the golf pros, who include Cary Middlecoff, Gary Player, Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Doug Ford, Jay Hebert, Bob Goalby, Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros, Dutch Harrison, Mike Souchak, Jerry Barber and Jackie Burke.

REJOINS NHL CLUB

Conerly Is Still Mum On Decision

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—After 24 years in football, Chuckin' Charley Conerly of the New York Giants said today it would be "another couple of months" before he decides whether to make it an even quarter of a century.

Conerly, who in 14 years as a professional has had more ups and downs than a ferris wheel, long has said that he would not stand in anyone else's shadow when he appeared to have reached the end of the trail. There are many who thought he did this year as he surrendered his No. 1 post to Y. A. Tittle.

"I really don't know what I'm going to do and won't know for another couple of months," Conerly said. "Even if I decide to retire, I don't know what I'll do then."

The betting among the football gentry, massed here to compete in the National Football League players golf tournament at the Hollywood Beach Hotel golf course, is that Conerly will be back.

"He's making about $31,000 a year," said one. "So maybe he'll have to take a cut. But that's a lot of money to pass up, particularly when there isn't anything particularly lucrative in the offing."

Conerly is the first to admit that a grid-less future is rather mystifying.

"It's all I know," said the 40-year-old Mississippian in a low voice, digging the toe of his driver into the turf beside the first tee. "Aside from two years in service, it's about all I've ever done."

But the man with the lined face and the snow showing on the shingles admits that maybe the time at long last has arrived.

"After all," he said slowly, staring at the ground, "it's a tough game. Each year it takes you just a little bit longer each week to get over the bruises you picked up in Sunday's game. And each year it's just that much harder to get the legs in shape. And you don't play anything without those legs."

Conerly is the oldest performer in the National League. His career spans 24 years: four years in high school, four in college interspersed by two years in combat with the Marines and 14 years with the pros.

There have been so many games in the crowded Conerly career that Chuckin' Charley doesn't have any one game which stands out in his memory.

"Just too many of them," he commented laconically. "I remember the good seasons best of all, like in 1956 and 1959. But I'll tell you one thing, you like to forget things like that playoff game we just lost to the Packers. I still don't know what happened. We got behind real quick and it seemed that nothing we tried would work."

Conerly took a practice swing with his club and then, called to the first tee, said almost to himself that he needed more time to decide his future course.

"I know I don't want to coach," he said. "But that's about all I do know."

"Except," he added in parting, "that I hate to think of it all coming to an end."

Evansville Tops Small Colleges

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evansville College of Indiana held a shaky grip on the top spot in the United Press International small college basketball ratings today with Tennessee A&I and Grambling, a pair of "little giants," only a whisker behind in the closest balloting of the season.

The Purple Aces, beaten by major schools Yale and Pittsburgh in their own tourney at Evansville last weekend, were the top pick of 11 of the 35 coaches who make up the UPI rating, board in widely scattering voting for a slim 21-point lead over Tennessee A&I and 29 over Grambling.

The Tennessee Tigers drew seven first-place votes, while Grambling, picked by the UPI rating board to win the 1961-62 small college title in pre-season balloting, was the No. 1 pick of 10 coaches. The totals for three teams with points awarded on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first to 10th were Evansville 285, Tennessee A&I 267 and Grambling 259.

Sauer New Titan Offensive Coach. NEW YORK (UPI)—George Sauer, with 15 years coaching experience behind him at three schools, has signed as offensive coach of the New York Titans.

Sauer has been out of football since 1958, when he went into the insurance business in Texas. He was coaxed out of retirement by Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, the new head coach of the Titans.

Following a collegiate career at the University of Nebraska, Sauer played with the Green Bay Packers for three years, at Kansas for two years, and at Baylor for 10.

Pampa Hoping For Home Advantage

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Paul Dietzel today faced threatened "immediate legal action" if he sought to terminate his contract as head football coach at LSU to take an offer for a similar job at West Point.

Meanwhile LSU faced the prospect of being stripped of its coaching staff. Dietzel was considering the Army offer, which reportedly included taking four assistants with him. Also his chief assistant, Charley McClendon, was said to be among top prospects for head coach at Kentucky.

But the way was far from clear for Dietzel to switch over to Army if he wanted to. A member of the LSU board of supervisors Wednesday night threatened going to court to hold Dietzel to a contract here.

Board member Tom Dutton of New Orleans telegraphed Army Secretary Elvsi Stahr and West Point officials that he would sponsor a resolution asking court action at any board meeting, considering a request to release Dietzel from his contract.

"If and when the question comes before the board, I believe there will be very substantial opposition to Dietzel's release from this contract," Dutton's telegram read.

When Dietzel and McClendon arrived here Wednesday from Miami, Fla., with their Tiger quad that beat Colorado in the Orange Bowl Monday, Dietzel said little and McClendon said nothing.

Dietzel and LSU athletic director Jim Corbett both confirmed the Tiger mentor had not asked to be released from the remaining four years of his contract at LSU.

But Corbett said the matter of Dietzel's status would be cleared up within the next few days.

Lewis Named Top Junior College Head

DALLAS (UPI) — D. L. (Red) Lewis, track and field coach at Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, today was named Texas Junior College Coach of the Year by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Lewis, who guided his team to the 1961 national JUCO championship to mark the second Texas team ever to win that crown, was a solid choice of the association membership for the honor—one of six voted each year by the writers.

Earlier, the association had revealed Darrell Royal of Texas as the Senior College Coach of the Year, Norm Cash of Justiceburg, Tex., and the Detroit Tigers as Pro Athlete of the Year and Earl Scott of Donna as High School Coach of the Year.

Lewis polled 42 of the 106 first-place ballots cast in the preferential-type voting. Floyd Wagstaff of Tyler JC, perennial winner of the award, received the second largest number of first-place votes, 22, but was actually fourth in the voting behind Phil George of San Angelo JC, and James Self of Paris JC, who received 17 and 12 first-place votes respectively.

Tom Steigleder of Henderson County JC, Athens, was fifth with 13 first-place votes. Royal, already voted the nation's grid coach of the year by his fellow coaches, polled 83 of the 112 first-place votes to outdistance Polk Robison of Texas Tech, Red Pierce of Sam Houston State, Abe Martin of Texas Christian and Joe Kerbel of West Texas State.

Royal, Cash and Lewis will be honored next month in Dallas at the annual Sports Achievement Dinner, while Scott's award will be presented at the coaching school in Lubbock next August.

Welu's 463 Leads All-Star Bowlers

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Former All-Star champion Billy Welu of St. Louis led 38 men into opening competition in the 21st annual All-Star Bowling Tournament today at Miami Beach Convention Hall.

The balding Missourian showed the way in a two-game exhibition Wednesday by leading the males with games of 234-229-483.

The men took a back seat to the women, however, as the marathon 11-day tournament got rolling.

Joan Holms, former Illinois ice skating champion who is now a star bowler in Chicago, and Helen Duval, a professional bowling instructor from Berkeley, Calif., each totaled 483 in their two game matches to lead the 144 women bowlers.

Indoor Track Makes Texas Board Debut

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Indoor circuit experiments by an Austin man, Harry Phillips. The portable track will then be moved on to other sites.

The track also has an eight-lane runway of 224 feet to handle the 60-yard dash and hurdle events which, along with the 300-yard race, shape up as the highlight events.

Entries in the 60-yard dash include Southwest Conference champion Ralph Alspaugh, North Texas State's Bill Argo and Richard Bothmer, Texas A&M's Robert Martin and McMurry's John Lewis. Semifinals will be necessary in this event and the hurdles due to large entry lists.

Texas Tech's Bob Swafford, Texas' Ray Cunningham and Bob Sewell, Texas Christian's Bobby Bernard and Victoria JC's Charlie Ennis loom as the top threats.

Alspaugh, along with the famed Andrews High national scholastic champion Ted Nelson, are due to face Young in the 300-yard run. Nelson now is a freshman at Texas A&M and will be running unattached.

Russell Joins Wilt On Squad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Big Bill Russell took his place alongside Wilt Chamberlain today on the East team which will meet the West in the National Basketball Association's annual All-Star Game at St. Louis Jan. 16.

The Boston Celtic ace was one of 12 players named Wednesday to round out the rosters of both squads for the popular inter-league affair.

The starting fives for both the East and West teams were selected earlier by the league's writers and broadcasters.

On the starting team for the East will be Chamberlain, Dolph Schayes of Syracuse, Richie Guerin of New York, and Tom Heinsohn and Bob Cousy of Boston. They will be opposed by Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles, Bob Pettit of St. Louis, Walt Bellamy of Chicago and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Admiral's Voyage negotiated the six and one-half furlongs in 1:16 3-5 under a strong ride by Braulio Baeza. The 3-year-old son of Crafty Admiral returned $4.60, $3.60 and $3.00. Wyncam paid $15.60 and $9.40 and Poland China paid $8.80 to show.

Harvesters Seeking Initial 3-AAAA Cage Victory Here

District 3-AAAA cage action got into full swing Tuesday night with all eight teams seeing action.

And when the dust of the gym floors had cleared, Palo Duro, Monterey, Borger and Tascosa were all deadlocked in first place with 1-0 records.

Bringing up the rear were Pampa, Amarillo, Lubbock and Plainview, who found themselves with 0 - 1 marks for their first night's endeavor in district competition.

Coach Terry Culey's crew, who lost their opening encounter to Palo Duro, 75 - 63 were gearing themselves Wednesday for their clash with Tascosa in the Harvester fieldhouse at 8 p.m. Friday night.

Tascosa won their opening tilt with Lubbock by a hair, 37 - 36 to get started on the right foot. The Amarillo school had to come back strong in the third period to overcome a first half deficit to post their victory.

Culey used three reserves in Tuesday night's game in an attempt at getting the Harvesters off on the right foot. Seeing action for the local crew were Ronnie Chase, Keith Swanson and Mike Stewart. Stewart chipped in two points to get into the Pampa scoring column.

The last time the locals played at home, they swept the two-day Top O' Texas tourney with wins over Elk City and Dumas.

Coach Culey is hoping for that good old home court advantage again Friday night.

Lakers Down Warriors In Pro Contest

By United Press International "We're going to miss Elgin Baylor," Los Angeles Laker coach Fred Schaus said a few days ago; "but we're not going to fall apart because we have guys like Rudy LaRusso and Hot Rod Hundtley who are going to take up the slack."

It appears today Schaus knew what he was talking about. The Lakers played their first Baylor-less game Wednesday night against the visiting Philadelphia Warriors and LaRusso's 33 points — his all-time high as a pro — added to Jerry West's 44 helped push Los Angeles over the Warriors, 124-123. Hundtley got 10 points as a spot player.

Baylor, the National Basketball Association's second highest scorer, was recalled to active duty in the Army on Tuesday.

Los Angeles got a bit of unexpected help when Philby's NBA scoring leader, Wilt Chamberlain, was ejected from the game with eight minutes left. He was called for two technical fouls, one right after the other. When he continued arguing after being ejected he got slapped with a third technical. However, he picked up 26 points before leaving.

Delmar Award To Go To Shirley

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bart Shirley, 22, former University of Texas football and baseball star, will receive the first annual Jimmy Delmar award at Houston's second annual major league baseball dinner next Tuesday.

Shirley, from Corpus Christi, was an infielder with the Class AA Atlanta Crackers last season. He will be honored as the outstanding Texan in the minor leagues.

Mixed Emotions To Usher Forth Reception Of Diamond Contracts

United Press International note of management. Bavasi previously had indicated a belief that the Dodgers lost the 1961 National League pennant in the wee hours of the morning and that punitive action could be expected.

Dodgers in line for healthy increases, however, are NL strike-out king Sandy Koufax, 18-game winner Johnny Podres, 328-hitting Wally Moon, shortstop Maury Wills and rookie relief star Ron Perranoski.

Vice president Chub Feeney of the Giants said that Orlando Cepeda, whose 46 homers led the NL in 1961, would receive a "good raise" and also indicated that Willie Mays might jump from $85,000 to $90,000. Most other Giants, however, are advised to open their envelopes carefully lest they receive second-degree burns.

The New York Mets, one of the NL's two new teams, also sent the Red Sox revealed they out contracts

Tech, Hogs Win Clashes

By United Press International Defending Southwest Conference basketball champion Texas Tech and dangerous Arkansas proved again Wednesday night there is no place like home when it comes to playing league games.

Tech, ranked 13th nationally, roared past Texas 77-66 before 9,500 fans at Lubbock. Arkansas squeezed by pesky Texas A&M 64-59 at Fayetteville with 5,000 rooters looking on.

The contests were the first league battles for all four clubs. Tonight, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian meet at Fort Worth and Rice visits Waco to tangle with Baylor in other conference lid-liters.

The Red Raiders bolted to a quick 24-10 lead over a rattled Texas team. Before the Longhorns could gain their composure, it was too late.

Roger Hennig and Sid Wall, a pair of ballhawking forwards, baffled the Steers with their shot-making and ball-stealing tactics. Wall came off the bench to hit three quick buckets in the first half, and finished the game with 11 points. Hennig, a tall lean senior, pumped in 18 points to lead all scorers and repeatedly swiped the ball from Texas.

Jim Heller had 15 points for Texas.

The Razorbacks, outscored from the field, dominated the boards and cashed in on 24 of 23 free throws. Texas A&M's All-America candidate Carroll Brüssard was the night's top scorer with 21 points.

Arkansas, leading only 26-24 at halftime, kept one step ahead of the Aggies in the second half on the accurate shooting of Tommy Boyer, who scored 12 of his 19 points after the intermission.

Musial To Get Speaker Award

HOUSTON (UPI) — Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal great, will receive the second annual Tris Speaker award at Houston's major league baseball dinner next Tuesday.

Musial holds more baseball records than any other living player. He has a total of 340 base hits in his career, ranking behind only Speaker, Ty Cobb and Honus Wagner in that department.

Dickie Kerr, a longtime friend of Musial's, received the Speaker award last year.

Blanda Recipient Of Rice Trophy

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Quarterback George Blanda of the American Football League champion Houston Oilers, has won the first Grantland Rice memorial trophy as the top player in the AFL.

Blanda, who led the Oilers to their second consecutive AFL crown, was chosen to receive the award Jan. 8 at the 15th annual March of Dimes sportscasters-sportswriters dinner here. The trophy will be an annual award to the league's outstanding performer.

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

The public schools of this country are being systematically used by the advocates of one-worldism and for subordinating the United States to the decisions and ultimate control of the United Nations.

Irrefutable proof of that is found in many text books, especially histories, that are officially approved in certain states.

For example; the California State School Board and the state superintendent of instruction approved for use in the California public schools a book entitled "The Story of American Freedom" by Edna McGuire and Catherine Broderick, published by McMillan Co., of New York.

On page 327 of this book it is noted; "in the early morning of Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese planes attacked Pearl Harbor" also other islands in the Pacific and British colonies of Asia.

The next day the United States declared war on Japan... Germany and Italy declared war against the United States, Congress declared war on them and "the Second World War had begun."

The Second World War began Sept. 30, 1939, two years and two months before Pearl Harbor.

Mentioning the Axis Powers, Germany, Italy and Japan, the authors of this book note that "on the other side were the United Nations."

The authors list the United States, Britain, Russia and China, but say also "many smaller nations fought with the United Nations."

This is intentional distortion of truth: The U.N. charter was not signed until June 26, 1945, and was not officially in existence until ratified by China, Oct. 24, 1945, many weeks after World War II had ended.

But these fiction writers, misnamed historians, say that American troops landed in North Africa, November 1943 and fought with "men of the United Nations."

Just to keep the U.N. in the students' mind it is mentioned seven times on page 327 of this so-called history book that "United Nations" troops were engaged in various parts of the world during World War II—when no such organization existed.

These are but a few of the purposeful efforts to de-emphasize the United States and convey the impression that the U.N. successfully defeated the Axis Powers.

Similar attempt to minimize the American contribution to the prosecution of World War II is observed in another so-called history book (approved by California officials) entitled: "This is American History," published by Houghton Mifflin Co. On page 616 of this book the authors refer to World War II and note: "... hard fighting Russian forces had stood practically alone against the might of the German Army. They had not only turned back the savage German thrusts but regained much of their lost territory."

No mention of Britain, France or the tremendous amount of war materials sent Russia by the U.S.A. to turn the tide of war.

There are many other alterations of fact in these examples of crudely worded propaganda for the Soviet and the U.N. Yet some of our people are so naive as to believe that the "one-world" communist conspiracy has not infiltrated and influenced both the publishing houses and educators in some of our so-called sovereign states.

individual agreement made by a Union Republic with a foreign power would have to be in conformity with the federal republic's declared position. But taken out of context, the Russian Constitution's provisions 15-a and 15-b appear to be most liberal and lenient. Actually, they are meaningless, to our view.

Article 22 was amended as recently as December of 1958. It merely lists the members of the "Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republics."

Article 23 has been repealed and no trace of it exists in the present copy of the constitution. This introduces a practice in Russia which we do not follow in this country. In our own case, for example, the 18th amendment has been repealed. Any copy of the Constitution of the U.S. together with amendments will still show the 18th Amendment as written plus the listing of the 21st Amendment which repealed it.

Articles 24, 25, 26 and 27 list certain autonomous regions that belong within certain Union Republics.

Article 28 states that administration of these regions is handled by the Union Republics in which they belong.

Article 29 has been repealed. This concludes Chapter II. We will continue with Chapter III of the Russian Constitution in tomorrow's edition.

Bill Shirer's Hitler-Nazi Fantasy On Imaginary Side

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

William Shirer has made a prosperous career of anti-German writings. He was a competent journeyman reporter on the continental scene in the prewar years when editors and readers in most countries had to rely on the individual journalist for emotional control, honesty as to facts, and objective impartiality in his interpretation of information.

Shirer's professional see was then shifted to New York where F. D. Roosevelt was busily establishing his own version of National Socialism under the spiel of the New Deal. The same public that wildly adored Hitler's German National Socialism rapturously embraced Roosevelt's American National Socialism.

William Shirer seems determined to play out this string which is his right of course although not without dissent. In a magazine article he has now prepared an imaginary extension of the Hitler-Nazi story which conjures the demolition of our country by Hitler's armies, landed in Iceland, Labrador, Newfoundland and Washington on the north; and from Brazil, "the Caribbean" Florida and New Orleans on the south. Meanwhile, the Japanese would have conquered and occupied our West as far east as the Rockies. The United States lies dead.

The fantasy follows the literary license which Col. E. House invoked for his fictional conquest of the United States by a rebellious West Point lieutenant of infantry prior to the First War. House later became Woodrow Wilson's penitentiary political agent in Europe. His experience was a contrast with that of General Edwin Walker, of the 24th Infantry Division, who recently was cashiered for preaching patriotism to American troops. Woodrow Wilson rather enjoyed House's prophecy of the suspension of the Constitution by a juvenile adventurer and F. D. Roosevelt consulted House after his first nomination.

Mr. Shirer assumes that Hitler would have rejected the friendship of the United States toward a conqueror who stood fast on a military line against Soviet Russia. He assumes that we owe him the courtesy of believing his own unsupported excerpts from German secret archives, which are unknown to most Americans, and possibly to all of us except William Shirer.

And, finally, he seems to preach that even though Hitler and the Nazi state are reduced to dust, we have come through the holocaust of the second war unharmed by the conquering empire of Soviet Russia. The examples of Alger Hiss, the protégé of Felix Frankfurter; of the eager delivery of our nuclear scientific secrets to Moscow; the establishment of the Kremlin's beachhead in Cuba; our defeat in the Korean War and the frustration of General MacArthur at the very hour of victory—all these disasters seem to have no value for Mr. Shirer.

But it is a nice, comfortable business. He may reasonably look forward to a wealthy life until he dies full of honor from the book trust and the cult of those who can't exhaust their loathing of the looked cross but rarely mention the hammer and sickle.

After that, it is any man's guess where my trail leads to. I wander through a picture of a luscious bathing beauty, fight my way through a town that is nothing but Spanish moss, tear along a road whose highway numbers are obscured by orange groves, and head west for an abandoned sugar mill guarded by a bearded Spaniard with a steel hat on. Leaving the Spaniard behind, I move on to a picture of a large shrimp, and then turn slightly north to wander through what must be miles of cotton and peanut plants.

After this picture is behind me, I go south a bit and pass through a lighthouse, a shipbuilding yard, two monuments to someone's bravery, and a bed of oysters. From the bed of oysters I make my way to a large praline, which I hope means that I am nearing New Orleans.

After New Orleans, the map calls for me to head to a (a) mammy, complete with bandanna and banjo. After that I am confident I can make Vicksburg. Just follow the States' Rights Party buttons.

I'll let you know how I make out. That is, if you care to know.

Hankerings

By HENRY McLEMORE

Billions for defense but not a cent for a decent road map.

For years my influential voice has whined for road maps which were practical and serviceable, so consequently they have gone from bad to worse.

The only improvement that has been made is that they are now easier to fold. It used to take four strong men, willing to run risks, to get one of the things back together so it would fit in the glove compartment of a car. Now only three strong men, willing to run risks, are needed.

This slight gain, however, has been more than offset by a wild outburst of coyness and cuteness on the part of road-map manufacturers. They have taken to illustrating their maps with pictures of the flora and fauna, the flossam and jetsam, and the fish and fowl of the countryside they portray.

I am going to drive to Vicksburg, Miss., next week and have been studying road maps to see how best to get there. Truthfully, I don't believe I will make it unless I throw away the maps and use the old-fashioned method of stopping every mile or so and asking the way. And you know what that brings forth: People always react as if a stranger in their town knew as much about the place as they do. Directions always go something like this:

"You say you want to get back to Highway 16, huh? Well, that's easy enough. Just go down to Oak Street... No, better go a block past Oak and turn right. Then cut in by the Baptist Church and take that little alley that'll bring you out by the old Gerold place. Go on straight for two blocks, turn right on Ivy, cross the railroad tracks, and you know where the three roads come together? Well, take the one on the right. That'll get you back to the highway."

I have blundered across this country in this fashion too many times not to long for a road map that is as clear as spring water and is completely devoid of anything fancy. The maps I have gathered for the trip to Vicksburg, with all their colorful pictures, are pretty but mighty near useless. From my own, which is marked by a racing car, I proceed to a place which is illustrated with leaping dolphins. I, guess, is Marineland. Then I go to a spot on the map marked by an old fort and some ramshackel buildings, which, I take it, is St. Augustine.

U.S. military aid officials report that most of the sales have been for small arms, trucks and other transport, communications, equipment, spare parts and repair equipment. But even this material could be used in a limited war.

Communist bloc economic aid to Indonesia is estimated at $650 million, $350 million of which came from Russia. Additionally Indonesia is believed to have bought on credit about $400 million worth of arms. It includes Russian jet fighters and bombers, several destroyer escort vessels, submarines and landing craft.

Indonesia has claimed to have 500,000 men in its armed forces, but the number may not be many more than 300,000, including an air force of 10,000 and a navy of perhaps 15,000 men. Forces not needed for internal security in the 3,000-mile-long archipelago might not be more than 10,000.

Defending primitive, mountain-and-jungle western New Guinea, the Dutch have about 3,000 army, navy and air force personnel, and perhaps 50 modern planes and limited naval craft.

But it is conceivable that even this small force could elude any invasion attempt over the long distances involved.

The southern 1,000-mile coastline of western New Guinea is 200 miles from the closest Indonesian islands of Ceram and the Moluccas. They in turn are 500 miles from the Celebes and 1,200 to 1,500 miles from Indonesia's main naval and supply base at Surabaya on the eastern end of Java.

To conduct an amphibious military invasion over such distances takes sophisticated military planning, plenty of transport and lots of supplies.

President Sukarno's strategy may therefore continue to be an attempt to take western New Guinea by making a lot of noise about it, without an actual invasion.

In addition to 2,000 Indonesians trained in the U.S. under technical assistance programs, an undisclosed number of Indonesian such cooperatives are "free" in the fullest sense—that is, free from the burden of contributing their share to the support of government that protects them.

New Guinea Threat Puts U.S. Right In The Middle

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The United States finds itself in another box over Indonesia's renewed talk about taking West Irian, western New Guinea, a way from The Netherlands by force. Aid has been given to both countries and the desire is to continue good relations with both.

Far more aid has been given to The Netherlands than to its former Indonesian colony, which became independent in 1949. Total aid to the Dutch has amounted to $2.4 billion economic and $1.25 billion military. Practically all of the military aid has been for strengthening NATO defenses and little if any has been moved to western New Guinea, which is the last Dutch holding in the Southwest Pacific.

In contrast, the United States has provided $362 million in economic assistance to Indonesia and only $4 million in military aid.

The latter was authorized in 1952 for small arms and transport equipment to strengthen internal security forces when the new government was threatened by Communists.

But what bothers the United States now is that it has sold undisclosed millions of dollars' worth of military equipment to Indonesia under a 1958 open-end contract still in force. And these arms might be used in an attack on western New Guinea.

There is a provision in the agreement that none of these arms are to be used, for aggression against another country. But there is no way in which an inspection can be made to prevent misuse of American arms.

And there is no punitive provision in the contract by which the U.S. might take action after misuse. The most that could be done would be to cut off future sales.

In April 1959, it was disclosed that the U.S. had sold Indonesia 15 B-25 bombers, 21 F-51 fighters, 15 commercial F-51s and 10 130-B cargo transports. There have been no further breakdowns on deliveries, nor on the value of total purchases.

U.S. military aid officials report that most of the sales have been for small arms, trucks and other transport, communications, equipment, spare parts and repair equipment. But even this material could be used in a limited war.

The American Way WILL AMERICANS DIE FOR GIZENGA?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Robert Morris, President of the University of Dallas, was formerly chief counsel of the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security.)

The open support that our State Department is giving to the U.N. invasion of Katanga will almost certainly lead to disaster for the free world.

The Central Congolese government for whom the invasion is undertaken in order to thwart what the U.N. calls the "secession of Katanga," is preponderantly Communist-controlled and Soviet oriented. The Communists have a majority in the Parliament, they hold the Deputy Premiership, the important Ministry of Interior, the Ministry of Justice and most important of all as far as the invasion is concerned, the Pro-Consulship over Katanga. Premier Adoula, under the pressure of the Communist-controlled Parliament, at Belgrade, and elsewhere, is more and more talking like a Gizenka man.

Moise Tshombe's position that his people want to be free and independent and particularly so from a Communist-controlled coalition, government is not only supportable but it is supposed to reflect the prevailing mood of our times. President Kennedy stated only recently that we are committed to the self-determination of all peoples.

The State Department's supplying Globemasters to assist in the crushing of Katangese freedom is an open conflict with our whole tradition of supporting liberty and freedom and inconsistent with the pledged commitment of our own President on behalf of self-determination for all peoples.

But what is even more tragic is that the conquest of Katanga will lead to the Soviet acquisition of the cobalt, nickel, uranium and copper mines that abound there.

Katanga has 70 per cent of the world's cobalt, needed for hydrogen bombs, and virtually the largest deposits of uranium, copper and nickel. Adoula has already designated a Communist, Bocheley-Davidson, to be the administrator of Katanga and it is obvious that commitments have been made to the Communist Czech technicians for these mines.

That the United States should thus be working to take these treasures from a Western preserve and make them available to our dedicated enemy is madness, undisguised.

By our crushing Tshombe, an avowed opponent of Soviet expansion and our support of the Communists in the Congo we are further setting a dangerous precedent that is already too vividly being recognized around the world. That precedent is that we are showing the world that if Tshombe or anyone else stands up against Soviet aggression he can expect opposition from us. Conversely if a government such as Adoula's or Cheddi Jagan's, for that matter, moves toward Communism, it will be supported by us.

Katanga is the gateway to Rhodesia and South Africa, both prime Communist targets. For us to dismantle the remaining bulwark against the Soviet line of march is a tragic mistake.

This pressure against Tshombe has its genesis in the Communist butchery of 13 Italian flyers, to divert the indignation of the world from this savagery the U.N. Security Council passed a resolution, backed by the Soviet Union, to use greater force against Tshombe, not against the perpetrator of the crimes, Gizenka. Adlai Stevenson's pusillanimous amendments to the Soviet-backed resolutions authorizing action against the butchery were, of course, vetoed. Ambassador Stevenson, nevertheless, voted for the Soviet-supported resolution and we are implementing it with our flyers and planes.

It was Gizenka who issued the ultimatum that the U.N. crush Tshombe or else. This ultimatum preceded the invasion.

The spectacle of Americans dying for Gizenka is not a pretty one and one that defies the conscience of our country. May our policy be reversed before it is too late.

Russian Propaganda

EIGHTH OF A SERIES—While this makes it appear that a counterpart of the National Guard exists in Russia, in actual fact the National Guard in this nation is carefully delimited as to what functions it may perform. The impression is created here that each Union Republic in Russia may take independent action with foreign powers and may back up such action with military might.

Our own view is that in these two additions to Article 18, we see the Russians very handily using their Constitution for propaganda purposes. There are other instances thru-out where the same conclusion is almost inevitable. We are wholly disinclined to believe in the sincerity of these two sub-articles. One of the reasons relates to the ensuing Articles, 19, 20 and 21.

"The laws of the U.S.S.R. have the same force within the territory of every Union Republic."

"In the event of divergence between a law of a Union Republic and a law of the Union, the Union law prevails."

"Uniform Union citizenship is established for citizens of the U.S.S.R. Every citizen of a Union Republic is a citizen of the U.S.S.R."

It is buttressed by 18-b, which reads: "Each Union Republic has its own republican military formations."

REA-financed cooperatives are described by an REA official as "free enterprise in the best sense of the word."

That may be correct from the standpoint of freedom from the ordinary financial burdens that true private enterprise must carry. They can borrow money from the government for much less than the government can borrow it, and they are accorded tax exemptions not granted private citizens and businesses.

If being exempt from obligations which others must assume in order to support government, and provide money to loan to REA cooperatives at less than cost is "free enterprise in the best sense of the word," then

U.S. Will Fly 6,000 Troops To European Points

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Six thousand U. S. troops will be flown to Europe in more than 100 huge transport planes for a four week exercise beginning Jan. 16, the Defense Department announced last night.

The announcement, coming on Moscow of U. S.-Russian exploratory talks on the Berlin crisis, implied that other troop movements to Europe may follow in later exercises.

Three 1,356-man Army battle groups are involved in the movement. Two of them will remain behind in Germany for further training after the completion of the maneuver Feb. 12. The exercise was designated "Long Thrust II."

The battle groups making up the bulk of the troops were identified as the 1st from the 22nd Infantry, the 2nd from the 39th Infantry and the 2nd from the 4th Infantry. All are part of the 4th Division stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The 39th and 47th Infantry units were designated to remain behind in Germany for a period expected to be several months.

"Other battle groups from the same division may be moved from time to time to Europe to participate in NATO exercises and remain afterwards for further training, thereby providing for rotation of other elements," the department said.

The announcement added: "These combat elements will be available to the supreme allied command for Europe in an emergency. The plan for periodic deployment and overseas training of the 4th Infantry Division battle groups has been coordinated with other NATO allies."

A portion of the troops will move by jet. Ten transports in the air armada assigned to the deployment are C-135 jet transports.

The Air Force said the overseas movement will constitute its "largest jet strategic airlift to date." Jet transports are only now coming into use.

McCormack Says JFK Program Has Good Chance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House leadership struggle appeared about settled today in favor of a team that promised President Kennedy "most" of what he wants from Congress this year.

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., has abandoned his race for election as House Democratic leader, leaving the field clear for the unanimous choice next week of Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla.

Albert, now Democratic whip, would succeed Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who will be tapped for elevation to speaker at a party caucus Jan. 9, the day before Congress reconvenes. McCormack, declining to discuss his expected election as successor to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, told newsmen he foresaw a "very successful" session of Congress.

He forecast passage of a number of Kennedy's legislative proposals and said others, including a controversial proposal to cut import duties and increase international trade, had a "good chance" for enactment.

Bolling was a close associate of Rayburn and sought election as leader on a record of consistent support for the "Fair Deal" and "New Frontier." He said he could do more for Kennedy than Albert could.

Some White House officials were reported anxious to see Bolling get the job. However, the White House took no stand in the race. Albert, as House whip during Kennedy's first year in office, also had a record of loyal administrative support.

Bolling's supporters had indicated he would go to the wire against Albert only if assured in advance of making at least a very strong showing. His thought was, apparently, that even if he lost, having run a good race would keep him in the picture for some later leadership contest.

Still undisclosed, and possibly unsettled, was the choice of a new party whip to succeed Albert. That choice is left with the speaker and the leader. McCormack declined to discuss this subject.

But speaking as party leader, the post he has held except for four years since 1940, McCormack predicted that Congress would approve such Kennedy proposals as bills to raise postal rates, create a department of urban affairs and retrain jobless workers.

He also saw good prospects for a college aid bill and said a determined effort would be made to revive the general aid to educa-

Schools May Get $2-Billion Worth Of Surplus Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is considering using $2 billion worth of surplus food in a five-year worldwide school lunch program for 500 million children, food for peace officials said Tuesday.

"This is very much under consideration," an official said.

Food-for-Peace director George McGovern, who proposed the idea to President Kennedy, plans to leave this month on a trip to discuss the proposal with officials in India, Pakistan, North Africa and elsewhere.

White House adviser Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. expects to join McGovern on the tour to help study the feasibility of expanding the current food donation program.

Administration sources said Kennedy may outline the plan in one of his early messages to Congress.

It would be patterned in part on the U.S.-aided school lunch program in Peru.

Colombia was reported to be making a study of the Peru program and McGovern was said to consider the program to be well suited for adoption in Northeast Brazil.

Under the Peru plan, the emphasis is on government-to-government donations. Most of the other current school lunch donations are through charitable organizations such as CARE and Church World Service.

Powdered milk would be a mainstay of the expanded program.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

When Fidel Castro chose to proclaim himself a "Marxist-Leninist until I die," the immediate question which arose was one of timing. Why had he selected this particular time?

Why also had he chosen to repeat it in terms just as forceful at least twice thereafter?

By openly proclaiming himself a Communist he had cut the ground from supporters who persisted in the belief that he was a high-minded agrarian and industrial reformer and he gave added ammunition to those who at Punta del Este, Uruguay, on Jan. 22 would seek to label his regime an aggressive threat to inter-American peace.

In his own explanation, Castro said:

"We have a tremendous advantage now. The fact that we can make our revolution utilizing all ideological resources..."

"Revolutionary theory has been joined with revolutionary deeds." Except for the most determined of his apologists, Castro many months before had made his course clear when he declared Cuba a Socialist state and abolished free elections.

To the peasants to whom he addressed himself, the question of whether they lived under a Marxist revolution or a Castro revolution would seem to be mostly academic.

Block committees spied on neighbors. Bus lines broke down for lack of repairs.

As Castro railed against the United States and marched his 500,000-man militia, coffee beans went unpicked and long lines stood outside butcher shops which contained no meat.

Slaughter of pigs had been banned and no cattle under 10 years old were to be killed. Cubans went without their traditional Christmas Eve Feast of sucking pig.

Since Castro exhibited no fear of any collective action which might be taken against him by the Organization of American States at Punta del Este and since no particular explanation was necessary for his own people, the possibility arose that Castro actually was addressing still another audience.

That audience would be other Communist nations to whom he had allied himself with more than 70 economic, technical and other pacts since 1960. In effect, he was warning them not to abandon him now.

Including approximately $80 million worth of military equipment, Castro had placed Cuba nearly $400 million in debt to Communist nations.

But he needed more, for shortages increased so did popular unrest.
