Balloon Rocketed Into Space Destroys Itself

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States rocketed a 13-story "super echo" balloon into space and inflated it today, but the balloon came apart at the seams and destroyed itself prematurely.

An $4-foot Thor rocket hurled the balloon into the sky at 6:06 a.m. and aimed it toward a point nearly 1,000 miles above earth.

The huge silvery sphere inflated, and drifted slowly across the sky. But within 20 minutes, the federal space agency said, the balloon fell apart.

Officials said the trouble apparently was the result of a malfunction in the ejection system.

After the balloon had drifted slowly to the east it suddenly seemed to speed up and then began falling in pieces. As the debris plunged into the atmosphere, five separate smoky trails could be seen on the dawn horizon.

The space agency said early indications were, however, that the balloon reached its planned altitude of nearly 1,000 miles despite the mishap.

It was not known immediately what effect the accident would have on U. S. plans to put a similar "rigidized" balloon into orbit (See BALLOON, Page 3)

11 Escapees Are Captured After Break From Jail

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI)—Eleven prisoners armed with knives and broom handles escaped from Bernalillo County jail Sunday night, but all were rounded up in New Mexico before dawn today.

The last five were found by sheriff's officers. They were hiding under a truck on a main street here.

State police recaptured two escapees at Santa Fe, N. M., two at Socorro, N. M., and two at Carrizozo.

None resisted arrest, although the two at Socorro were taken only after police shot out the tires of a stolen car they were driving.

All 11 were federal prisoners.

An elderly Socorro-area gas station attendant said he had been kidnaped by three of the escapees and driven in a stolen federal car 11 miles south to San Antonio, N. M. He said he was told to walk home from there.

Albuquerque police reported a gas station break-in. State troopers picked up two men to the north at a Santa Fe roadblock and were checking their explanation that they had been skiing.

"Their clothes didn't look right for this story," a trooper said.

The break began when 13 men overpowered a jailer and under sheriff Ben Padilla in the third-floor cell block. A trusty said he rushed in and was overpowered.

The men used the trusty's keys to get to the elevator. Taking knives and a meat cleaver from the jail kitchen, they broke for the main floor door when Sheriff Lester Hay spotted them and shouted "where do you think you're going?"

"We just broke out of jail" was the reported reply. Hay and a visiting Grants, N. M., policeman grabbed two of the prisoners. The others escaped—all but one coatless—into 19-degree weather.

Indonesian Ship Hit; Holland's Cabinet Called

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (UPI)—The Dutch navy said it sank two Indonesian motor boats and sent a third fleeing in a naval battle off the south coast of Dutch New Guinea today in what a Dutch official said appeared to have been an unsuccessful invasion attempt.

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI)—Dutch and Indonesian navy vessels clashed in waters off New Guinea today and the Dutch sank two Indonesian motor torpedo boats, the Defense Ministry announced.

The Dutch cabinet met within minutes to discuss the situation, officials said.

A spokesman said the engagement took place off the New Guinea south coast. He added that it was not clear how many ships were involved.

Asked whether the clash implied that a state of war now existed between Holland and Indonesia, the spokesman replied: "No comment."

Indonesia and Holland have been at odds over the future of the western half of the island of New Guinea, which The Hague calls Dutch New Guinea and the Indonesians call West Irian.

Indonesia claims the area as part of its territory, and has been threatening to invade and seize it in recent weeks.

The Dutch have said they are willing to negotiate the issue.

The engagement took place at 10 p.m. Indonesian time (7 a.m. EST) in Dutch territorial waters, the ministry said. It said the Indonesian vessels were heading for the Dutch New Guinea coast.

"Units of the royal Netherlands navy engaged Indonesian motor torpedo boats south of the Buru Mountains in Dutch New Guinea at 2200 hours (10 p.m. Indonesian time)," the spokesman said.

"We do not know how many Indonesian vessels are involved, but when challenged they continued their course to the coast of Dutch New Guinea. The Navy had no choice but to open fire."

The reported battle was the high point of weeks of Dutch-Indonesian tension over the fate of Dutch New Guinea, which Holland retained when it granted Indonesia independence in 1949.

Indonesian President Sukarno has declared his country's intention to "liberate" the territory by force. Indonesia has been stepping up its military preparations and psychological warfare.

Plane Sale To Reds Is Protested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has objected to Britain's recent sale of six Viscount turbo-prop transports to Red China and has warned a U.S. firm against furnishing navigational equipment for them.

The U.S. position was explained by Assistant Secretary of State Frederick G. Dutton in a letter to Sen. Kennedy B. Keating, R-N.Y., who had complained about the $10.6 million transaction.

Keating made public his letter to Secretary of State Dean Rusk protesting what the senator called a "completely unjustifiable deal" with the Chinese Communists and Dutton's reply.

While the United States had put forth its "objections," Dutton said "under the agreed international procedure the right of decision lay with the British government."

"The American parent company of the British firm which ordinarily supplies the navigation equipment to Vickers for the 'Viscount' has been cautioned against supplying such equipment for the aircraft destined for Communist China under any new or existing orders from Vickers without a United States Treasury Department license," he said.

"The British, Dutton said, felt that the political effect of a Communist purchase of free-world planes would have 'considerable impact.'"

Scores Are Killed In Weekend Of Terror Attacks In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—A weekend of terror attacks by rival Moslem nationalists and European settlers left scores dead and wounded across Algeria today.

Police figures showed that 31 persons were killed and 76 wounded Sunday alone, bringing the total number of casualties since New Year's Day to 236 dead and 288 wounded.

The bloodshed is the result of a vicious circle of attacks and counter-attacks on each other by Moslem rebels and the settlers' Secret Army Organization (OAS).

The battling has become so open that the archbishop of Algiers, Leone Etienne Duval, went on television Sunday to appeal for special prayers for peace.

"In the grave hours we are living through, we must remember that prayer is the most effective action," the archbishop said. "God will not abandon those who turn to him. May God save Algeria."

Within hours of the time he spoke, OAS commandos had shattered an Algiers cafe with hand grenades and machine gun fire, killing 7 Moslems and wounding 20.

Shortly afterward a group of Moslem gunmen in a car sprayed the passing automobile of a European family with machine gun fire, killing the father and two children and seriously injuring the wife and another child.

Tension all across this great North African territory has been rising since the middle of last week when the rebel provisional government issued a statement in Morocco calling for a stepped-up campaign against right-wing groups who want to keep Algeria French.

Tariff Slash Accord Near

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today was reported about ready to sign a broad tariff-cutting agreement with the European Common Market that would reduce duties up to 20 per cent on some products.

A State Department source said U.S. officials were near agreement with representatives of the six-nation Common Market at talks in Brussels. He said the formal pact probably would be signed in Geneva within a few days after technical details have been worked out.

Representing the United States in the Brussels negotiations have been Howard Petersen, special assistant to President Kennedy, and Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy.

The new agreement, being negotiated under authority of the Reciprocal Trade Act, provides for the United States to reduce its tariffs in return for Tariff concessions from the Common Market. It is the product of 17 months of negotiations.

The trade agreements law, which expires June 30, limits any U.S. tariff reduction to 20 per cent. Kennedy has said he will ask Congress to approve a more liberal program, giving him authority to eliminate some duties and cut others up to 50 per cent.

The last obstacle to the U.S. Common Market agreement was cleared this weekend when the European countries—France, Italy, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—agreed on a common agricultural policy.

According to Washington sources, this had the effect of assuring the United States that its shipments of farm products to the six nations would not suffer under Common Market policies.

Family Of Ten Dies In Flames

CENTER RIDGE, Ark. (UPI)—The Conway County sheriff's office reported today that a family of 10 perished today in flames that destroyed their home.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paladino and their eight children.

Firemen had removed eight bodies from the ruins of the home and were searching the debris for the other two, the sheriff said.

The house, a two-story home located in the Catholic Point community near Center Ridge in north central Arkansas, was already razed by flames when the fire was discovered and reported by Frank Rossi, a neighbor.

The sheriff's office immediately asked for an investigation by the state fire marshal's office. Investigators were dispatched to the scene from Little Rock.

General Assembly Back In Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly plunges today into debate on Angola, an issue which could lead to Portugal becoming the first member to quit the United Nations.

The 14-nation world parliament was summoned back to work after a three-week Christmas recess to complete its 16th annual session which started last Sept. 20.

The new sitting, expected to last four to six weeks, faced three major debates: The Angola question, the future of Ruanda-Urundi and Cuba's repetitious "aggression" charges against the United States.

Central Congo Claims Victory

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Lefist Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga was held under house arrest in Stanleyville today and was formally censured by the central Congolese parliament.

The action apparently cleared the way for Premier Cyrille Adoula to dismiss him from the government and extend federal control over Gizenga's Oriental Province.

Combined United Nations and Congolese troops kept Gizenga under guard and disarmed his soldiers.

Gizenga's sudden power collapse followed a weekend of heavy fighting in which 14 soldiers on both sides were reported killed.

The vote in parliament against the self-proclaimed heir to the late Patrice Lumumba was 67-1 with four abstentions and 65 of the 137 deputies absent.

British Smallpox Scare Spreading

LONDON (UPI)—The death of a sixth suspected smallpox victim sent frightened Britons to vaccination centers today under the urgent prodding of health authorities.

The scare was centered chiefly in Yorkshire, where a middle-aged man died Sunday in Otley Hospital.

If doctors confirm that smallpox took his life, the man will become the sixth confirmed or suspected victim of the disfiguring disease since Jan. 7.

Right now, authorities think the smallpox was brought to Britain from Pakistan last month. Four deaths in Britain have been established as due to smallpox.

She's Surprised

BJRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Jane Burns, who became 100 years old today, declined to offer a prescription for long life but commented, "I'm surprised I've lasted this long."

Wreck Victim Still Critical

GROOM (Sp) — Mrs. Alvin Ruby Bell, 45, who was injured Saturday in an automobile accident on the outskirts of Groom, remains in a critical condition, according to a Groom Hospital official, Her grandson, Jackie Gill, 2, also injured in the accident, was reported to be much improved.

Mrs. Bell and the Gill infant were sole survivors of an accident in which seven persons were killed. They were riding in a station wagon, whose driver was apparently asleep when it hit a parked truck on U. S. Highway 66 on the outskirts of Groom. The truck driver, Richard D. Campbell, was in a restaurant across the street.

Except for the driver of the station wagon, Clayton Aldridge, 28, of Kennett, Mo., all victims and injured were members of two related Kennett families.

If it comes from a hardware store we have H. Lewis Hdws. (Adv.)

Skin-Diver Survives Shark Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A husky skin-diver was attacked and mauled by a 15-foot shark Sunday off the Farallon Islands 30 miles west of San Francisco.

"He toyed with me like a dog playing with a bone," said Floyd Pair Jr., 29, of North Sacramento, Calif.

Pair suffered numerous cuts, but doctors said his condition was good and he would recover.

Thieves Prey On Parked Cars

Police today are investigating six reports of stolen merchandise from private trucks or automobiles over the weekend. In one of them all four tires were taken from an automobile parked in the owner's driveway.

William T. Fraser, 102 W. 14th St., reported to city police at 8:25 a.m. Sunday, four tires and rims on his 1958 sedan were stolen sometime Saturday night.

In another theft, Paul Stanford, 428 Naida, reported someone stole a cutting torch, 60 feet of hose and a set of gauges from his pickup truck sometime Saturday night while it was parked in the driveway of his home. Total loss to the equipment was $100.

McIlhany Backs Farm Road Program Fight

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. Price Daniel was confident today the Texas House will pass his farm road maintenance program and reject a drastically revised version recommended by the House Agriculture Committee.

House debate was scheduled on the revised bill, which cuts Daniel's program 40 per cent. Senators passed Daniel's plan, 26-2, last week. The bill will be carried by Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, who introduced Daniel's program.

Legislation to protect dormant bank accounts and regulate small loans, the other major issues of the third special session, has passed the House and awaits Senate action.

Daniel said he was optimistic about the chances of the bank accounts bill although the Senate Banking Committee has been hostile to the measure. He predicted the committee will give the bill a favorable report early this week.

He was mum about the bill to regulate small loans, which passed the House last week and is awaiting a Senate committee hearing. The success of the loan legislation depends on how well the industry is satisfied with the bill.

The governor, in a statement Saturday, promised to submit pet local bills for lawmakers' consideration if they act this week on the three major issues.

Also ready for House action is a bill to reorganize the State Board of Water Engineers along the lines of the State Highway Commission. A Senate committee will hold a public hearing on its version of the bill late today.

The farm road maintenance bill, written by a "country boy" subcommittee, was designed to provide more money for new farm road construction rather than repairs.

Daniel asked that 50 per cent of the bond assumption surplus fund—currently about $25 million—be earmarked for maintenance. The subcommittee cut it to 30 per cent the first year with a gradually increasing scale, climbing 2 per cent a year, until it reaches 50 per cent.

President Faces Question Barrage This Afternoon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy faces a barrage of questioning today on subjects ranging from his legislative program to foreign affairs at his first news conference of 1962.

The President was scheduled to meet newsmen at 4 p.m. EST. The news conference, his first since Nov. 29, was not being televised or broadcast "live" but the networks were recording it for later use.

The President, who returned to the White House Sunday from a brief weekend at Middleburg, Va., faced a heavy work week preparing additional messages to be sent to Congress.

He planned to send his budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 to the House and Senate Thursday. This will be followed by the annual economic report and other messages on specific subjects.

Dear Abby....

Don't Sell Turkey Gobble Up Gobbler!

By ASIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Every Christmas my husband gets an 18- to 20-pound turkey from his boss. Our problem is that neither my husband nor I care for turkey that much and there are just the two of us. Once I roast it we have to eat it up and you know how sick you can get of turkey after a while. We aren't so well off that we can throw or give it away. Would it be all right to sell it? That doesn't seem right somehow.

TROUBLED DEAR TROUBLED: Don't sell it. Why not roast it and invite some friends in? Or cook it and freeze what you don't eat. Or get a cook book and discover how many ways there are to fix turkey. There's turkey salad, turkey soup, turkey hash, creamed turkey, stewed turkey and cold turkey. If you prepare it properly, you'll gobble it up in no time.

"It was organized in September, 1941. Memberships are $7 per year for single memberships; $10 per year for double memberships in one family and $1 per year for student memberships. The group plans four productions; in January, April, July and October. But we will guarantee that you've never seen this mystery-comedy presented as it will be presented by Pampa Little Theater on Friday and Saturday nights in the Pampa High School auditorium. As you may remember, the setting is in Brooklyn. And any resemblance between our actors' Texan accents and Brooklynese is purely coincidental!"

Battle Lines Form For Fight On Medical Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic leaders in the Senate and House have served notice they will wage a strong fight for President Kennedy's proposal for medical care for the aged.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that if the medical care plan is blocked in the House, it would be offered as a Senate rider to some other House-passed measure.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert predicted the proposal for putting medical care under the Social Security program would pass if it came to a vote. He said he would do all in his power to bring about a House showdown.

However, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck, who appeared with Albert on a TV interview, emphasized he would fight the measure. He said the proposed program would be "highly discriminatory."

Mansfield said he agreed with the administration's feeling that there was "great need" for the medical care bill. He added, "I hope most sincerely, and I anticipate we will, have the chance to be recorded on it."

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee has made it clear he will not take up a medical care bill until a measure comes from the House. Mansfield's statement was the first direct word that the leadership might by-pass Byrd's group.

Mansfield, in a radio-TV interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., also said he doubted Congress would act on civil rights legislation this year. He ruled out any changes in the Senate's anti-filibuster rule.

FTC Slaps Order On Dallas Firm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has ordered Automotive Jobbers Inc. of Dallas and its member firms to cease demanding and accepting "discriminatory and illegal prices, discounts, allowances and rebates" from automotive suppliers.

The FTC ruled that AJI is not, as represented, a bona fide automotive supply purchasing company. Instead, the FTC said it is an organization of automotive jobbers created for the purpose of forcing suppliers to accede to the members' demands for lower prices.

Examiner Edward Creel, who conducted preliminary hearings, pointed out that by exercising their collective bargaining power, AJI member firms were able to force suppliers to sell to them at a discount.

Balloon

over the poles within three months as America's newest communications satellite.

The space agency already has laid plans for a possible second "up and down" shot similar to the one today to test the inflation of the balloon.

It was still dark at the cape when the stubby Douglas Thor, one of America's most reliable space rockets, roared into life and lifted into the sky. The rocket traveled steeply ahead of the fiery red exhaust trail.

Scientists here said their television receiver showed brilliant splashes of light - reflected sunlight from the balloon's aluminum surface. The balloon was plainly visible through cloudless skies from the southeast Florida coast.

The sphere was a part of the same space program that put the 100-foot diameter Echo I balloon into orbit Aug. 12, 1960, in an experiment that proved radio signals could be bounced from special "radio mirror" satellites in space.

Echo I is still ranging from 550 to 1,300 miles above earth. But its ability to reflect signals has decreased about 60 per cent, indicating the comparatively flimsy skin has crinkled.

The "super echo" launched today had an aluminum and plastic skin about twice the thickness of a cigarette pack wrapper, or about four times thicker, four times heavier and 35 feet larger than Echo I.

Winter Takes New Wallop At Mid-U.S.

By United Press International
Winter launched another offensive through the center of the nation today, hitting the Midwest with heavy snow, Dixie with driving rain and the northern plains with sub-zero cold.

The storm whipped out of the southern Rockies, ahead of the second major polar cold wave in a week. It dropped up to 8 inches of snow along a line from Kansas City through Chicago and into Michigan.

Thunderstorms accompanied an inch or more of rain in many areas of the Deep South.

Hollywood Pays Tribute At Final Rites Held Today For Ernie Kovacs

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Hollywood pays its final respects today to Ernie Kovacs, clowning, high-living comedian who left behind a beautiful wife, three children and perhaps little of his personal fortune.

A close friend of the 42-year-old cigar-puffing comedian indicated that his widow, actress Edie Adams, "will not be well-off financially."

"It's no secret among those who knew Ernie that he's had financial problems," said the friend, an intimate associate of the mustachioed comic.

"He lived big, spent huge sums of money—and a year and a half ago when he finally got new advisors, he was deeply in debt, and it had been building. His financial situation was the result of bad business advice through the years when success came to him," the friend continued.

"When the new advisors came in, he had a large debt to pay the government. I don't know how much the insurance will cover. But it's safe to say Edie will not be overwhelmingly well-off."

RSPCA Fighting To Stop 'Bloody' British Bullfight

LONDON (UPI)—History—in the shape of a bullfight—may be made in Britain this year, but not if the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals can help it.

The RSPCA has locked horns with the London-Taurino Club, which wants to bring bullfighting to Britain.

The club, formed two years ago under the leadership of bearded artist George Erik, is determined to stage a real Spanish "corrida" with the bulls to be killed by top Spanish matadors.

The RSPCA is equally determined there should be no bullfight of any sort, not even one staged without killing an animal.

The RSPCA claims it has the law on its side and cites the Animal Protection Act as proof.

The Taurino Club fears that when it announces its plan for a bullfight the RSPCA will try to get a high court injunction to stop it from going ahead.

The club says in that case it will shift the venue of the fight to a point outside Britain, but not in Spain, Andorra, tiny state in the Pyrenees, has been suggested as a possible site.

The first steps already have been taken to arrange the program and several leading matadors have been approached. Two of them, Antonio Bienvenida, one of the all-time greats, and the younger but top rank fighter, El Viti, have accepted the invitation.

The club is concerned that there should be no legal difficulties for the matadors. It will only stage the fight here in London if it gets the legal go-ahead and knows that the bullfighters don't face the danger of arrest.

One thing seems certain. The attempt to promote the fight will arouse a lot of tempers and passions. When the idea was first suggested, it was taken up in the House of Commons by several members anxious to stop it.

Since then the club has flourished and now claims nearly 1,000 members.

About one thing the club is determined—the world must know there are in Britain a large number of people who believe bullfighting is a true art and not just a bloody pastime for Spaniards.

Police Guarding Chicago Negro

CHICAGO (UPI)—Police today guarded the home of Negro Walter Speedy, 42, where a dynamite bomb was exploded last week in an apparent attempt to discourage him from moving to a white neighborhood.

Speedy told police he discovered the bomb on the porch of his home after his dog began barking. He threw the sputtering sticks of dynamite into the street just seconds before they exploded.

Police said the family, including five children, could have been seriously injured if the bomb had gone unnoticed.

Unitas Passes West Past East Team, 31-30

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts is a tough man to beat—he proved it again Sunday when he tossed a touchdown pass in the last few seconds to give the West a 31-30 victory over the East in the 12th annual Pro Bowl.

Unitas went into an adagio dance to escape the clutches of the East's Andy Robustelli of the New York Giants. He tossed a low pass cross-field to John Arnett of the Los Angeles Rams who was all alone in the end zone. The 12-yard touchdown pass tied the score at 30-30—and Detroit's Jim Martin supplied the winning point with a conversion kick.

The scoreboard clock showed 14:58 gone in the fourth quarter—two seconds to play.

Up to the time Unitas threw his cliff-hanger pass it looked like Cleveland fullback Jim Brown was going to be a hero for the East. But he turned out to be a goat of sorts.

Brown galloped 70 yards to a touchdown in the fourth quarter—before Unitas' caper—and the East went ahead, 30-24, on Philadelphiaian Bobby Walston's conversion kick.

A few minutes later Brown fumbled and the West's Bill George of the Chicago Bears recovered the ball on the East 41-

Jacobs Wins At San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—In the game of golf, youth must be served—at least on the 1961 winter tour.

Tommy Jacobs, 26, defeated Johnny Pott, 26, Sunday for the championship of the $25,000 San Diego Open.

Jacobs dropped in an 11-foot birdie putt on the first layoff hole to beat Pott after the two had tied after 72 holes with seven-under-par 277s. Jacobs fired a 65 in Sunday's final round—six under par—and Pott carded a 69.

Last Monday, 23-year-old Phil Rodgers won the rich Los Angeles Open. In both events the young fellows trounced such established stars as Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Cary Middlecoff, Doug Ford and others, including many members of the British and U.S. Ryder Cup teams.

The victory here for Jacobs went to a young man who needed the money. Jacobs officially won only $7,000 on the tour last year. He picked up $3,500 for this event—which made him also eligible for a minimum prize of $1,000 in the Tournament of Champions in May.

So the touring professionals headed for the $50,000 Bing Crosby pro-amateur tournament in Pebble Beach this weekend without anything resembling a favorite in the crowd.

The third-round leader here, Mike Souchak, ruined his chance to get the big money by bogeying the 16th and 17th holes. George Gayer and Art Wall tied for third place, each with 278, and picking up $1,650. Souchak, Jay Hebert and Bob Goalby finished next at 279, each getting $1,200.

Former amateur king Jack Nicklaus shot a fine final round of 67 for a 282 and $350. But Rodgers, who collected $7,500 for his win in Los Angeles, finished a stroke out of the money.

Coach Is Fired, Hired At Once

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—J. Neil (Skip) Stahley was fired Sunday night as head football coach at the University of Idaho but was retained as athletic director of the institution.

Stahley has held the dual post for the past two years. The board of regents gave Stahley authority to begin an immediate search for his successor in the head football coaching post. Stahley came to Idaho in 1954. In the last three years his teams have recorded only four wins. A 2-3 mark this year was preceded by two years in each of which the Vandals won but one and lost nine.

LIGHT FANTASTIC—This looks like a blocked punt in football, but actually it is a wild dance executed while Iowa was beating Pennsylvania in basketball in Philadelphia. Andy Hankins, center, of the Hawkeyes drove in for a shot, but was given trouble by the Quakers' Sid Amira, left, and Dave Robinson. Terpsichore was never this rough.

Aggies Can Take Lead In SW Cage Play With Steer Win

By United Press International
Coach Bobby Rogers' Texas Aggies get a chance tonight to step out in front of the Southwest Conference basketball pack and take an undisputed lead which is certain to stand for at least two weeks.

It won't be easy, however, for the Aggies—who have won 19 in a row at home—must leave the friendly confines of AggieLand and meet arch-rival Texas in unfriendly Gregory Gymnasium at Austin.

A victory in this one—the only game on tap all week as the teams take time out for semester exams—would boost the Aggies' league record to 4-1 and break their out of a four-way tie at the top with defending champion Texas Tech, Southern Methodist and Rice at 3-1.

A loss, however, would drop them into a three-way deadlock with Arkansas and Texas for fourth place at 2-2.

Either way, the status quo will remain until Jan. 30 when the teams recover from the battle of the books and return to the title chase with Texas Tech at SMU.

Rice at Arkansas and TCU at Baylor. There'll be an occasional practice game next week, but this week is left open for studies and exams.

Last week saw SMU, which pulled a shocker of its own by turning in a crucial road victory over Arkansas 77-70 for the undisputed lead, drop a 75-55 contest to the Aggies at College Station to set up the present four-way tie.

Baylor threw a scare into both Tech and the Aggies, but couldn't quite make the upset hold up, and TCU suffered the same fate against favored Arkansas before bowing 64-61. The Aggies stopped Baylor 54-52 and Tech beat the Bears 55-51 by blanking them 8½ minutes.

Rice's young Owls, beaten 85-66 by Tech at Lubbock, stomped Texas 89-64 when they got the Longhorns at Houston and stayed in the thick of the title scrap.

One game—Texas at TCU—fell victim to last week's snow and ice and will be played later, probably at the end of the regular schedule in early March.

Moore-Fullmer Fight Looming In Real Big Money Match In Future

NEW YORK (UPI)—An Archie Moore-Gene Fullmer light heavyweight title fight is being negotiated today because of Fullmer's publicly hurled challenge after being presented with the "Fighter of the Year" award.

During his acceptance speech after receiving the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque at the annual dinner of the Boxing Writers' Association Sunday night, middleweight co-champion Fullmer declared: "I'd like to fight Archie as soon as possible."

Fullmer stressed: "I am recognized as champion (middleweight) in NBA territory but not in New York. But Moore is recognized as a champion (light heavyweight) in New York. I'd like to prove to the people of New York that I'm a real champion by fighting Moore for his title, preferably in New York."

Gene, 30, pointed out that his own portion of the 180-pound crown would not be at stake when he attempted to win 46-year-old Moore's portion of the 175-pound championship.

NCAA Planning Show Of Force

CHICAGO (UPI)—College track coaches today planned a show of force in the cold war between the AAU and the NCAA overcontrol of international competition in track, gymnastics and basketball.

The executive committee of the U. S. Track and Field Federation, newly organized by the college coaches with the blessing of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, approved a track meet to be held this year and named a committee to pick the site and date.

There was no doubt the meet would be scheduled on the same days as the AAU national championships, strictly to demonstrate to the International Track Federation that the college group, represented by the new federation, controls track in the United States, and not the AAU.

It was likely the USTFF event would be held on the West Coast, closely following the NCAA championships slated June 15-16 at Oregon.

The track coaches' action followed closely an NCAA convention vote authorizing its policy making council to seek federal support, from either Congress or the White House, if necessary to break a drawn-out deadlock with the AAU in the NCAA bid to obtain a "voice and a vote" in control of international competition in track, basketball and gymnastics.

Sunday, the council voted to continue the committee on AAU relations, headed by UCLA athletic director Wilbur Johns, and authorized the committee to determine whether it needed federal support.

NCAA Group Hopes To Cut Injuries

MIAMI-BEACH (UPI)—The NCAA football rules committee opened its annual three-day meeting today at the Monte Carlo Hotel with proposals for reducing player injuries tops on the agenda.

For the first time in several years, the committee had no plans to ask for revival of unlimited substitutions—even though committee chairman Robert R. Neyland, an adamant foe of free substitution, is ailing and absent.

Jack Curtice of Stanford, retiring president of the Football Coaches Association and head of the coaches' rules committee, said three of the coaches' six proposed changes would be aimed at reducing injuries.

Curtice said the coaches wanted "more emphasis on the penalty for piling on a player after he is down," and planned to ask for elimination of the face mask.

U. S. SKATER WINS

OESTERSUND, Sweden (UPI)—Jeanette Ashworth of Wilmington, Mass., won the 1,000-meter meters skating event in the Oestersund international meet Sunday with a time of 1:42.4.

Strange Things Afoot In 3-AAAA Cage Race

Strange things are afoot in the District 3-AAAA cage race this year, even at such an early time in the cage schedule.

Riding atop the loop heap are three teams, Monterey, Tascosa and Borger, each with 3-1 records.

Next are Palo Duro and Lubbock with 2-2 records. Bringing up the rear are Pampa, Amarillo and Plainview with 1-3 marks.

To make things more complicated, Monterey bumped off Borger, Tascosa upset Monterey and Pampa, which has been having their share of lumps lately, downed Tascosa in an earlier game.

Lubbock, which started off like they were going to have a hard cold winter with two successive losses, have rallied to post two victories and a possibility of coming up to join "the fellers at the top" with a victory in their next encounter.

Pampa can really make the sportswriters hang up their typewriters if they should shoot down the Plainview men from Monterey Tuesday night in the Harvester fieldhouse. This is in the realm of possibility since the Harvesters own a victory over Tascosa, the "giant killers" who polished off Monterey.

But, such reasoning is highly improbable since this isn't the Southwest conference, where such things are common place during the grid season. As everyone knows, everybody goes around beating everyone else during the course of the season and forcing psychiatrists to see their patients more than usual during the autumn months.

Pampa, Lee In Two Cage Tilts

Pampa and Lee Junior highs will do battle Tuesday afternoon in a pair of cage tilts.

The eighth grade game will be at Pampa junior high gym starting at 3:30 while the ninth grade skirmish will be at Lee junior high, also at 3:30.

MEET IN FEATURE

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI)—Larry Carney, unbeaten Lowell middleweight with a record of five straight knockouts, will meet Peachy Davis of Hartford, Conn., in an eight-round feature at Mechanics Hall Friday night, it was announced today by promoter Sam Silverman.

Still, Coach Terry Culley and his warriors aren't looking at the records right now. They're taking their two Frank Merriwell finishes in stride and are working harder than ever to really upset the jolly applicator and throw the district race into a bigger muddle than ever before.

With Wayne Kreis, Randy Matson and Bob Neslage, paving the offensive attack and Gordon Balch and Lloyd Balch playing stalwart defensive ball, the Harvesters will be tough to cope with the rest of the season, especially on their own hardwoods.

Kreis and Matson both are up among the loop leaders in scoring and are strong candidates for all-district honors if they continue at their present pace in the hectic district race.

Shades of the Southwest conference if the Harvesters should beat down the attack of the Plainviewmen Tuesday night.

Progress At U.S. Expense

Congressman Bob Dole of Kansas says if the Russians are ahead in the so-called space race, the taxpayers of the United States have contributed heavily to the financing.

A recent report by Dole was printed in the Statesman. He pointed out that in 1960, the United Nations cost of operation was $334.7 million, of which the United States paid $146.2 million and Russia only $18.2 million.

Dole ran a breakdown of some of the major funds as disclosed in U.S. News & World Report. The list showed that in many instances, while the United States has been paying nearly half the costs, Russian contributions have been nothing. These include the Congo expedition, the Palestine refugee programs and food and agriculture programs, in which the Russians refused to pay a single cent.

Then says Mr. Dole: "The shocker however, is that while we pick up the tab in 1960 for 43.6 per cent of all U.N. expenses compared to Russia's 5.43 per cent, member nations on our side continued to dwindle. In October, 1952, it was estimated 70 per cent of the member nations were on the U.S. side but by Feb. 7, 1961, the percentage dropped to 36.5. This is due in part to the increase in new members from 60 countries in 1952 to 99 in 1961. The question is will Russia bankrupt not only the U.N. but the U.S. and us as individuals?" "In the field of 'foreign aid' we have poured approximately $84.1 billion in over 80 different countries for countless programs while Russia has expended only a little over $3 billion, mostly loans. We must also remember the real value of Soviet agreements, as expressed in dollars, is also misleading, as the dollar equivalent is usually calculated according to the Soviet 'Official' rate of exchange which is very artificial. The real value of $3 billion Soviet loans would only be a about one-fourth that sum, or $750 million, it is estimated.

"While the Russians reap the benefit of 'space successes' worth more in propaganda to 'emerging nations' than our billions in 'aid,' it's not difficult to calculate we have made a substantial contribution to their remarkable successes. While we have poured out billions the Communists have spent equivalent amounts advancing in space and increasing military strength — while we attempt to dominate with dollars, Russia dominates with propaganda — when Russia rattles the saber, we unlock the Treasury — while we talk tough about Berlin, the Communists make gains in Cuba, Brazil, Laos — while Russia crushes 'free' people, we raise funds to send Dictator Fidel Castro tractors — while the Commerce Department approves sales of surplus food to Communists and support grows within the Administration for recognition of Outer Mongolia and Red China, regulations to permit easier flow and distribution throughout our country are relaxed and 'stern' notes are issued to Castro about 'hijacking' U.S. planes."

The Human Factor

Spending money for bigger highways, overpasses, safety devices, and so on, will never remove the factor of human carelessness. Only individual responsibility, carefully nurtured will reduce or eliminate accidents.

Kinds Of Bomb Shelters

A popular television personality who has been airing his opinions about bomb shelters (he's again demonstrated the other night the great lack of understanding about the various types of shelters and their functions.

The television gentleman told a story about a Los Angeles scientist who had built a bomb shelter at his home in the area recently hit by the disastrous fire. The TV entertainer thought he had a case to prove the inadequacy of fallout shelters when he noted that instead of running for his shelter as the fire approached, the scientist cleared out of the area.

"Depending on the dose of radiation, death comes slowly, with pain and agonizing sickness, over a period of weeks." —(It is likely that the victim) would vomit incessantly and suffer almost continuous bloody diarrhea for days."

"If your children lived to reproducing age, they would undoubtedly pass on genetic mutations to their descendants. The mutations would show up as defects and deformities of one kind and degree or another."

"Of the 200-odd bomb products in fallout, most have such short half-lives that radiation would have fallen to 'safe' or acceptable rates in a matter of days. Two weeks is a maximum time for the protection of most people."

"The common assertion that all food remaining after a nuclear attack would be radioactive is simply not true. Canned, bottled, jarred or packaged foods would still be safe."

"It is sad, too, that we ever needed stacks against inland blast and fire. They are meant to be safe places to live until the radioactive particles have had time to decay, estimated at not longer than two weeks."

Whether or not to build a bomb shelter is every man's decision. Before he makes up his mind, however, he should understand that fallout shelters are

The Doctor

Says:

By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN
QUESTIONS TO ASK DOCTOR ABOUT YOUR HYPERTENSION

We've discussed the recording of blood pressure, the variables that influence the height of systolic readings and we've suggested a definition of what constitutes an abnormally high level.

We decided, somewhat arbitrarily, that diastolic level in excess of 90 mm.Hg. is undeniably excessive. And, equally arbitrarily, but not without a good deal of backing and filling, we set 200 mm.Hg. as an undeniably excessive level for systolic pressures.

Let's say now that you've been told your level is 200 or above. Just what does that mean in terms of your capacities and life expectancy? And once again we do a bit of head scratching. And here's why:

Of the six million Americans labeled "hypertensives" by statisticians (medical and otherwise), an estimated 80 to 90 per cent have what is called "benign" or "essential" hypertension.

That means they have no evidence of significant organic disease of heart, blood vessels, kidneys, internal secretory glands or any other body tissue that might be convicted of causing the hypertension.

It means, too, that they are in no particular danger of having the hypertension damage any of these organs.

And it means, finally, that their only medical requirement is continued observation (most particularly to note a rise in diastolic levels) and attention to general rules of hygiene (weight reduction, kicking tobacco habit, easing of domestic and on-the-job strains and daily exercises for muscle fitness).

Not, you will note, powerful anti-tensive drugs with their frequent and often incapacitating side effects. Not tranquilizers. Not punishing diets. Not mutilating surgery. Not fearsome recommendations resulting in a state of anxiety so intense as to send the systolic reading even higher.

Just what we used to call "skillful neglect."

Of the remaining 20 to 10 per cent of the hypertensive population, again only a relatively few are in genuine danger. These are the ones with a diastolic level of 100 mm.Hg. or more; a diastolic tension higher at each visit; definite evidences of pre-existent or accompanying organic disease of heart, blood vessels, kidneys or internal secretory glands; definite evidences of organic damage inflicted by the hypertension on "target" structures and productive of complications such as angina pectoris, coronary disease, "little" and "big" strokes, kidney troubles, visual defects, etc.

And, for these victims of "malignant hypertension," intensive treatment with powerful drugs, punishing diets and even surgery may be justified for the preservation of health, usefulness and even life itself.

In the first of these columns, I told you I'd suggest the questions to ask your doctor in order to find out "how high is up?" with specific reference to hypertension.

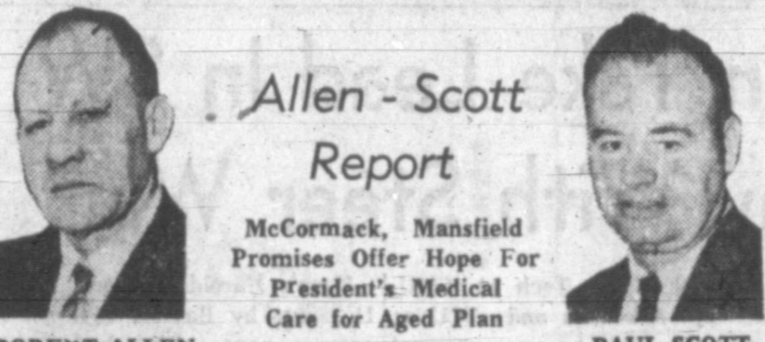

Well, here they are: —What is my systolic level? —What is my diastolic level? —In view of my heredity, sex, age, weight and the conditions of the test, do you regard these levels as high for me personally? —If they are above the statistical average, are they above what you would expect my normal level to be? —Are they higher today than they were previously? —Do you find a cause for my hypertension? —Do you find organic damage due to the hypertension? If so, have I a serious form of hypertension and what are your recommendations for me? —And, if I have no evidences of organic damage, would you put me in the class of those with benign or essential hypertension? —And, if benign, do I need to be greatly concerned about myself and will I need special medications, diet, precautions, etc? —For a copy of Dr. Hyman's leaflet "Anticipating Retirement," send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care of The Pampa News, Box 489, Dept. B, Radio City Station, New York 18, N.Y.

—Turning on the heat—The crucial importance of bringing the medical care bill to a vote in the Senate and House was pinpointed by Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert Humphrey, Minn., at a White House conference. "If this legislation reaches the floors of Congress," Humphrey declared, "it will pass. Every member of the House and more than one-third of the Senate are up for election this year. Public sentiment for this measure is overwhelming. Every poll in every part of the country proves that. The only way this bill can be blocked is to prevent it from being voted on. We must see to it that does not happen."

"I'm counting on you gentlemen to take care of that," the President told the group of Democratic congressional leaders. "I'll help in every way I can, but it's primarily up to you."

"I believe it will be possible to get Ways and Means Committee approval of a medical care bill,"

Slightly Bent

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is starting the new session of Congress with one small glimmer of encouragement on his hotly controversial plan for medical care for the aged under a social security.

This hopeful development isn't much, but it's more than he's had before.

Speaker John McCormack and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield have given the President categorical assurances there will be showdown votes on this long-pending measure before Congress adjourns in the summer.

They went no further than this. But the President deems even that a big gain.

Significantly, however, he's received no promise of any kind from Representative Wilbur Mills, D. Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee that has jurisdiction over this legislation.

In the past, Mills has opposed it. He is giving no indication he has changed his mind.

But there is one important background difference that may count a great deal in the final outcome. This potentially weighty factor is pointedly indicated by the McCormack-Mansfield commitment that there will be showdown votes in the House and Senate on a medical care bill.

The late Speaker Sam Rayburn never went that far — for a simple reason: The noted Texan was personally opposed to the President's proposal.

Out of party loyalty, he did not fight the legislation. But he also did nothing for it. Particularly, Rayburn made no effort to get the bill out of the Ways and Means Committee. Mills had a free hand there.

As a result the measure was pigeonholed.

Under Speaker McCormack this situation is exactly reversed. Not only is he a strong supporter of medical care for the aged; but he is already setting the stage to get action on it by this session.

It was McCormack who engineered the appointment of Representative Martha Griffiths, D. Mich., to a Ways and Means Committee vacancy. She favors this legislation.

Atlantic Convention Hopes For More Unity In NATO

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A search for new ways and means to achieve closer co-operation and greater unity in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is to be made at the Atlantic Convention meeting Paris, Jan. 8-20.

The hope is that the 98 leading citizen delegates from the 15 NATO countries will come up with something more than high-minded resolutions emerging usually from such sessions, to which no one pays much attention.

The United States delegation of 20 is headed by former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and former Under-Secretary Will Clayton.

It includes Elmo Roper, William A. M. Burden, Eric Johnston, William F. Knowland and others of comparable stature. Britain, France and Germany have 10 delegates each. Canada 7, others fewer, down to Iceland and Luxembourg's 2.

This parley was dreamed up after the 1959 Atlantic Congress of 650 citizens of NATO countries in London. That group was too unwieldy, so it recommended this smaller gathering.

Both of these meetings were called by the NATO Parliamentary Conference, made up of representatives from the law-making bodies of the 15 NATO countries. Their assignment to the nongovernmental leaders is to find a fresh approach to strengthen the Atlantic Alliance politically.

The parent NATO is supposed to supply the military unity for international defense against aggression.

In the economic field, there is close co-operation through the new Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development — OECD. This will be strengthened by the Common Market, which is being enlarged and expanded to increase trade.

The Atlantic Convention is sure to talk about that, particularly since the two chairmen of the U.S. delegation are also authors of the Congressional Economic Committee's brilliant report on Foreign Economic Policy.

But major attention will be given to the weakest link in the Atlantic Alliance. This is that it cannot present a united front to the world, militarily or economically, unless these policies are backed by greater political unity.

There is no fixed agenda. The convention's function is exploratory, to find new answers. But among the problems it will tackle, these are considered important:

One admitted shortcoming of the present NATO is that its decisions must be made by unanimous vote. The smallest country can thus veto its 14 partners.

Some system of weighted voting may be considered to get majority decisions. It could be based on population, gross national product or NATO contributions.

This problem will become increasingly important if NATO is made a nuclear power, with missiles and warheads of its own under one-country control. To prevent misuse of these weapons, there must be civilian political control over the military. The problem is how to set it up.

This is only one part of the bigger question of what form of

The Nation's Press

POWER AND GLORY

California Feature Service

Perhaps the most ardent advocate of public power today is Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall. His every act since taking office has been directed against private initiative and for federal ownership. But now it appears that his zest for public power goes beyond even that. It includes himself.

Witness his recent brave venture of climbing Mount Fuji in Japan. And witness the reports from Washington which indicate that the personal press agent staff assigned to creating a powerful Udall image already costs $70,000. Seventy thousand tax dollars is a pretty stiff price—especially for making a mountain out of a molehill.

regional court — by passing the World Court which nations avoid because of Communist judges on its bench — might provide a new basis for establishment of world rule by law.

All these ideas are bound to arouse some fears that what is afoot here is some diabolical international plot to create a supergovernment to supplant the 15 separate governments in the Alliance not now working together too smoothly.

That is merely another problem which the Atlantic Convention in Paris and its successors will have to solve.

$93-Billion Tax Load Forecast For Fiscal 1963

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's new budget will forecast tax revenues of $93 billion in fiscal 1963 and proposed about $92.6 billion of spending, informed sources said today.

This would leave a narrow $40 million surplus—not enough to permit any significant reduction of the national debt, but enough to uphold the President's pledge of a balanced budget.

The budget, the President's plan for operating the government in the year starting next July 1, went to the printers early today. The President will send it to Congress next Thursday.

The revenue figure would be an all-time high. The spending would be a peace-time high, topped only by the World War II budgets of 1944 and 1945.

Whether the President's spending and revenue estimates are proven correct 18 months from now will depend in part on Congress and the economy.

Officials said the revenue prediction was based on optimistic assumptions about business and corporate profits. If this year's business pickup is not as strong as Kennedy's advisors expect, tax collections may fall below the mark.
