Wilson Loses His Bid For Re-Election

H. Creel Grady Jr. and Floyd Watson were elected to the Pampa Independent School Board of Trustees in Saturday's school election. Elmer D. Wilson failed in his bid for re-election.

The vote was:
Watson, 1,496
Grady, 1,202
Wilson, 1,103

Watson led the ticket with a plurality of 294 votes over Grady, who topped Wilson by 99 votes.

Grady and Watson will be sworn in when the election is canvassed by the board at its regular meeting at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in the Pampa Junior High School.

The two new members of the board will fill vacancies left by the expiration of the terms of Wilson and Warren Fatheree. Each will serve a three-year term. Grady is an accountant and Watson, a banker.

Five Pampans received write-in votes. They were L. P. Fort, 2; I. V. Huval, 2; Jack Hood, 1; Jimmy Thompson, 1, and D. W. Sasser, 1.

Only one school board seat will be up for election next year. The term of Dr. Ray M. Hampton will expire in April, 1963.

Arthur Rankin, one of the judges in Saturday's election, reported that ten voters, apparently a bit confused when they dropped in their ballots, also dropped their poll tax receipts into the ballot boxes.

These will be returned to their rightful owners, Rankin said.

Pampa's new school board, starting tomorrow, will be made up of Grady, Watson, Dr. Hampton, John Gikas and R. D. Wilkerson. Gikas and Wilkerson still have two more years to serve on their first term.

Wilson, in a statement issued late Saturday night, said:

"I want to express my appreciation for the support given me Saturday night."

Tito's Right Hand Man Is Arrested For His Writings

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Milovan Djilas, fiery 49-year-old partisan who once was President Tito's right hand man, was arrested Saturday, apparently for continuing his heretical writings on Communism.

Informed sources said security agents seized the former Yugoslav vice president at the modest three-room apartment where he has been living with his wife and two children. Since his release from imprisonment for writing "The New Class" an indictment of Communist leaders which was published in the United States but banned in Yugoslavia.

The sources said he was arrested because of his latest book, "Conversations with Stalin," based on long talks with the late Soviet ruler.

(In Briarcliff, N. Y., William Jovanovic, president of Harcourt, Brace & World Inc., said his firm has the proofs of the new book but that publication was postponed indefinitely Friday. He declined to give a reason for the postponement. Jovanovic's firm published "The New Class.")

There was no immediate official statement on his arrest or charges against him.

President Steps Into West Coast Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Saturday invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in a first step towards halting the 22-day-old west coast maritime strike.

He issued an executive order setting up a board of inquiry, which will hold its first meeting here at 10 a.m. Monday. This could lead to a federal court injunction calling for an 80-day cooling off period.

Kennedy said he was acting because continuation of the strike would "imperil the national health and safety." The island state of Hawaii has been particularly hard hit and officials there have sought Kennedy's action on grounds that vital food supplies were being cut off.

The board will investigate the strike and then issue a report. On the basis of this, the President can request the attorney general, Robert F. Kennedy, to seek a federal court injunction calling for the cooling off period.

The strike concerns a wage contract dispute involving west coast shippers and the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the Pacific Coast Marine Firemen, Oilers, Water-tenders and Wipers-Association, and the Marine Cooks and Stewards Union.

The three unions walked out March 16 against ships operated by the Pacific Maritime Association. Almost half the 120 vessels involved have been tied up. Others will be idled as they reach port.

Hawaii Gov. William F. Quinn had appealed to Kennedy four times to use his powers to end the strike on grounds it was having harsh effects on the island's food supplies.

It was reported the unions and the PMA were about $6 million apart on a three-year contract. The employers said they had offered wage and pension increases and fringe benefits amounting to about 11 per cent.

The unions are asking about 18 per cent.

Hearing Set Tomorrow On City Commissioners' Recall

County Judge Bill Craig is expected to act on the request for a recall election on Pampa's four ward commissioners at an informal hearing scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow in the county courtroom of the Gray County Courthouse.

Judge Craig has been asked by Atty. Walter T. Norman of Berger, representing the Citizens for Better City Government, to order the election.

The City Commission last Tuesday ordered a recall election on Mayor E. C. Sidwell and set the date of the election for Tuesday, April 17.

At the same meeting, the commission voted not to order an election on the four ward commissioners, acting on the advice of counsel that the recall petitions did not carry sufficient signatures.

Attorney Norman contended last Thursday, in asking Judge Craig to order the election, that the commission erred in failing to call the election on the commissioners, as well as the mayor.

The point at issue which is expected to be argued before Judge Craig tomorrow will deal with interpretation of the recall section of Pampa's City Charter.

Atty. Clayton Heare, employed by the City Commission to advise them on recall election procedure, gave an opinion to the commission.

Rogers Suggests Congress Should Get FBI Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, said Saturday that security information the FBI gathers on government employees or job applicants should be made available to Congress.

He has introduced a bill calling for federal agencies to submit information gathered on any person "whose retention or employment as an officer or employee of the United States would not be consistent with the interest of the national security."

He said the bill was intended to let Congress "know what is going on" with regard to employment.

"It will provide a most effective bulwark against possible infiltration of undesirable regardless of ideology," he said.

Rogers conceded that many persons doubted the need for the measure, but said it was justified because it dealt with "the country."

The disclosure of Western Electric's profits rounded out the subcommittee's case against the "single manager" method of procurement used by the Army to get the complex Nike off the drawing boards and into firing position around major U.S. cities and defense installations.

Instead of contracting separately for Nike components, the army assigned overall management responsibility to Western Electric, a subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T).

It also channeled all Nike contracts through Western Electric.

Western Electric produced most of the electronic gear, or 39 per cent of the total job. It subcontracted the rest, $889 million worth, to Douglas Aircraft Co.

Douglas produced the Nike's airframe and designed further components. It let subcontracts for the Nike launcher-loader to Consolidated Western Steel Co. and awarded subcontracts for storage and transport trailers to Fruehauf Trailer Co.

This structure of contractors led to profit pyramiding, according to the investigators, because contractors on the top layer of the pyramid "marked up" work performed by the subcontractors below them.

Western Electric's profits of $169.3 million in the 17-year period represent only 7.3 per cent of the $2.5 billion price contract. But Western Electric's earnings were not the only profits from the $2.5 billion outlay.

Douglas' fees of $63.9 million on its $699 million worth of Western Electric subcontracts also must be charged as a percentage of the contract.

Billie Sol Takes Bankruptcy And Admits $22-Million Obligation

EL PASO (UPI) — Fertilizer tank magnate Billie Sol Estes, under a fraud indictment, admitted in a Federal court petition Saturday that he owes $22 million. He asked that a receiver be appointed to run his businesses and salvage as much as possible for creditors.

Attorneys for Estes, joined by 12 of the nation's largest finance companies, filed a debtor's petition in the court of U. S. Dist. Judge R. Ewing Thomason.

Thomason named Emil C. Rassman, prominent Midland, Tex. attorney and businessman, as receiver but Rassman declined the appointment.

Rassman said he was "firmly convinced there is definite opportunity to salvage the situation to the satisfaction of all parties concerned." But he said he felt "because of the enormity of the task and its potential effect on the lives of so many of our good citizens" the receivership should be assumed by someone in a position to devote his full time for the "years" it would take.

Thomason did not name a new receiver immediately. He said earlier the petitioners were hopeful of a solution through submission of the petition.

"Everybody was for it," Judge Thomason said, "with the hope that by reorganization they can save some of these businesses."

The judge gave Estes 30 days in which to file a complete schedule of assets and liabilities. He also granted a general stay order designed to halt the growing number of lawsuits being filed against Estes.

The petition was filed under the Federal Bankruptcy Act, but is not a bankruptcy petition.

Judge Thomason said Estes claims that under the debtor's petition he can pay out more than he could under bankruptcy. "It was done for the purpose of reorganization with the hope of keeping some of the businesses going, and salvaging as much as possible," Thomason said.

Estes and three associates were indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury at El Paso charging 57 overt acts of fraud. Texas

More Charges Are Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department said Saturday it is requesting reports on the Billie Sol Estes fraud case "for evaluation as to possible additional criminal charges."

Assistant Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Miller wrote Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., that he is asking the Agriculture Department to supply reports of its inquiry in the case "as promptly as possible."

Tower had asked both departments to keep him advised in the case.

Miller said an eight count indictment was returned by a federal grand jury charging Estes and others with mail fraud, interstate transportation of fraudulent securities, and conspiracy.

"These charges are based on the schemes by the defendants to defraud farmers in West Texas and twelve finance companies in and out of Texas to obtain and discount chattel mortgages in excess of $20,000,000 on non-existent anhydrous ammonia tanks," Miller's letter said.

HAVANA (UPI) — Seven American treasure hunters shipwrecked last Thursday off eastern Cuba are being given "the red carpet treatment" in a luxurious Havana mansion and probably will be sent back to Miami on Monday or Tuesday, the Swiss ambassador reported Saturday.

Ambassador Emil Stadelhofer, who handles U. S. affairs in Cuba, said after a conference with Foreign Minister Raul Roa the Americans could not leave until "the revolutionary government makes that decision" but that no undue delay was anticipated.

They were not under guard but were asked not to leave the mansion. Stadelhofer reported the Americans had been flown to Havana from Oriente Province—scene of general unsuccessful invasion attempts in the past—where they were taken into custody after their ship, The Pisces, struck a rock and sank in 52 feet of water within 18 minutes.

He visited the mansion Saturday and reported to newsmen the Americans were in "tiptop condition."

He said the hilltop house was luxurious with a magnificent view and a number of servants and that the skindivers appeared happy with their treatment.

The Americans were allowed Saturday to telephone relatives in the United States; George S. Patton, leader of the expedition and captain of The Pisces, telephoned his wife in Pompano Beach, Fla., that they were being given the "red carpet treatment."

Fred Dickson, Jr., one-time member of the Yale swimming team, telephoned his father Ered Sr., with some details of the wreck which occurred in the windward passage between Cuba and Haiti while the party was en route to Jamaica on a treasure-hunting expedition.

Stadelhofer said the Americans told him their vessel ran into bad weather and high waves Thursday morning before dawn and that it sank about 4 or 5 a.m. They said they lost part of their equipment but salvaged some of it in a lifeboat in which they made it to shore.

They landed near the town of Baracoa on the northeastern tip of Oriente Province and at least one of the group arrived with only a bathing suit. Stadelhofer said one of the men lost his passport but that the Swiss were giving him a temporary one so he could fly to Miami.

Stadelhofer said the Americans were not under military guard but had been asked not to leave the house. "To me, that is less than house arrest," he said.

He said the Americans told him their questioning and the Cuban government investigation were carried out "in a nice way" and that they were given clothing, shoes, food and cigarettes.

Stadelhofer said Roa had gone to his office in the foreign ministry to receive him on a Saturday morning to explain all the details of the case and to promise the group would get the best possible treatment.

There was some discrepancy in details of how the Americans got ashore. Stadelhofer said they told him they went ashore in a lifeboat but Dickson told his father all seven swam ashore at Oriente.

'Corker' Of A Fight Is Seen Over School Aid

By GEORGE J. MARDER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is going to be a corker of a fight in Congress next year on federal help to schools in so-called impacted areas.

These are areas where armed services based or other defense installations swell a town's normal population and place an added burden on its schools.

The squabble will center on the meaning of the word "suitable." The Kennedy administration has written its own definition in order to end federal aid to schools which refuse to mix Negro and white students.

The administration is merely saying that schools which practice segregation are not "suitable" to teach the children of federal workers and servicemen. Therefore they won't get any federal money.

But it will not start withholding funds until the fall of 1963. Before then, however, the impacted area law comes up for renewal in Congress which may have a different slant on the word suitable.

The administration has looked long and hard for some way to start denying money to schools which continued to practice segregation in defiance of the Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation edict.

A few weeks ago, Abraham A. Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, held out hope to liberal legislators that the search would be fruitful.

He told them of plans to stop racial discrimination in a specialized education program subsidized by the government—a program to conduct special language and student-guidance courses in colleges, mostly for teachers.

The government notified the colleges that hereafter, in order to get federal help for these courses, they would have to sign contracts promising no racial discrimination.

But the mandate had an extremely limited effect. Only $14.5 million in all was involved, and most of the schools didn't practice segregation anyway.

But then attention focused on the word "suitable" in the impacted area law, one provision of which authorizes the commissioner of education to arrange for suitable free education for the "impacted" children.

Heretofore the word was interpreted to mean that the school building was all right, the equipment acceptable, and the standard of education adequate.

Ribicoff acknowledged that Congress did not have desegregation in mind when it wrote the word into the law in 1950. And he frankly conceded that Congress had no intention to make it apply to a segregation problem, even after the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

Since 1954, Congress has renewed the statute several times, with the word suitable unchanged in application.

South Would Have Objected

The fact is that if the law had been made a vehicle to deny funds to segregated schools it probably never would have been passed. Southern legislators would have seen to that. The mere threat of such an amendment has been enough to sidetrack a school aid bill.

Nevertheless, Ribicoff, admitting that Congress didn't mean it that way, says the education commissioner must decide for himself what is suitable. And starting with the fall term in 1963, he is going to rule that segregated schools aren't suitable for federal families.

This puts not only the schools but Congress on notice. Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have wanted to cut the expense of the impacted area program, but it has had a broad base of insistent support in Congress.

This base will either disappear or weaken in the South when the program comes up for renewal next year. Meantime the Department of Justice is planning to file suit in the South—perhaps Florida—to try and compel a

Liz Plans Las Vegas Divorce?

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor will divorce singer Eddie Fisher in Las Vegas, the city where they were wed nearly three years ago, a hotel owner said today.

Joe Wells, owner of the Thunderbird Hotel, said "negotiations between Rome and New York" were discussed to have the divorce action filed in Las Vegas and that he is preparing a suite for the actress to use during her six-weeks of residency.

Fisher, 33, and the 30-year-old actress were married here May 12, 1959, by two rabbis who performed a double-ring ceremony at Temple Beth Sholem in a traditional Jewish ceremony.

A few hours before, Fisher had appeared before Judge David Senoff to end his marriage to actress Debbie Reynolds.

Exchange Student Gives Program At Friday's Kiwanis Club Meeting

Modern day Greece was described to Pampa Kiwanians at their regular weekly luncheon Friday by Kathy Poppathanassopoulou, foreign exchange student at Pampa High School.

Miss Poppathanassopoulou said she had been particularly impressed by the difference between Greek and American schools.

Teachers are stricter, the school week lasts six days, the classroom hours are shorter and when you finish high school that's all there is to it. There is no graduation week activity or commencement exercises.

Besides that, one has no choice of subjects. They all are assigned to pupils as they advance and it may be necessary for a student to carry as many as 12 subjects the same year. Classes in Greek high schools do not move from one room to another at the end of class periods. The pupils stay in the same room all day and the teachers change.

Miss Poppathanassopoulou described Greece as about one-third the size of Texas in land area with a population of 9 million persons in a country which is three-fourths mountainous.

"Everything is so crowded," she said. "There isn't enough space for all the people who are crowded into the city areas. Houses have no yards. There is but little space between them. Streets are narrow."

The exchange student also explained that there are very few standard-sized cars in Greece. The private family cars are either German or French imported models.

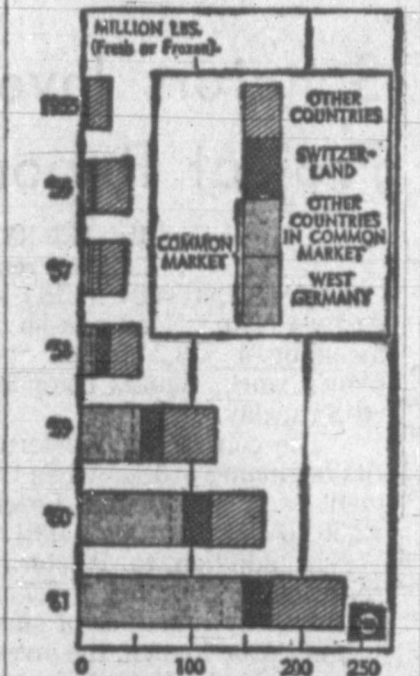

"The streets in the cities are so narrow there is not room for the large cars," she said.

Miss Poppathanassopoulou said she is enjoying her stay in Pampa where she is making her home with Dr. and Mrs. Julian Key. She will be graduated from Pampa High this year and will return to her home town of Patria, near Athens, in Greece.

Approximately 42 per cent of the U.S. Army personnel is overseas, in some 90 different countries or areas.

'KID GALAHAD'S' INSPIRATION—Lola Albright is making it big as costar with Elvis Presley in the new film, "Kid Galahad." She has sworn off bad scripts which hobbled her earlier career, refuses to depict namby-pamby women. In "Kid Galahad," she plays what she calls a "man's woman."

POULTRY EXPORTS—U.S. exports of fresh or frozen poultry increased almost five times between 1958 and 1961—from 48 million pounds to 236 million. About three-fourths of this increase has been to Western Europe in response to a rising standard of living there. Data from U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Watson

(Continued From Page 1) urday, I felt my first term experience equipped me to be of further service, but Mr. Watson and Mr. Grady are both good friends of mine and capable of serving the board well. I would ask that they be given the same fine support that has been given to me.

PERRYTON Dr. Roy Sanford, with 697 votes, and Milton Ford, with 604, will serve on the board of trustees of the local school district as the result of the election held here Saturday.

Other candidates in the election received, respectively: Bette Linquist, 275; Gary Conley, 461; and there were seven write-in votes for four persons: A total of 1,015 voted Saturday and 28 voted absentee.

Ford is a new member of the board and Dr. Sanford was seeking re-election. He was president of the board this past year. They will be sworn in on Tuesday night's meeting of the board.

In voting for the County School Board, Harley N. Elledge was elected for precinct two, and Robert Githens was elected in precinct four. Both were unopposed.

MCLEAN Voters in the McLean school district elected three board members in Saturday's school trustee election to serve three-year terms.

Nine names appeared on the ballot. The top three were Guy Beasley with 217 votes; J. M. Hathaway, 157 votes; and Ted Simmons, 131 votes.

Others in the race were Ernest Watson, 86 votes; Jack R. Lissman, 92 votes; Robert L. Willoughby, 59 votes; A. J. Dwyer, 22 votes; and Farris Jay Hess, 122 votes.

There were two write-in votes for Spencer Sitter.

A total of 345 ballots were cast in this year's election, according to election officials.

MIAMI What most thought would be a mere re-election of two school board members running without opposition, became a live issue here Saturday as two write-in candidates received wide support.

A vote of around 50 had been expected by County Judge Ed Haynes, but there were 221 votes cast.

In the independent school board election, two men were elected to serve three-year terms. Those two elected were Randall Gill with 155 votes and Wallace Locke, 169 votes. Both candidates were unopposed on the ballot.

There were three write-in votes for the board positions. They were: Troy Hopkins, 53 votes; Elmer McLaughlin, 54 votes; and David Turner, two votes.

In the County trustee election, candidate-at-large, William W. Riley was elected with 198 votes. There were five write-in votes in this election. They were R. A. Flowers, Leo Paris, Ralph McLaughlin, Tom Morris and Elmo Gill, who each received one vote.

For the precinct one County school board election, James W. Seitz was elected with 191 votes. There were six other votes cast with Ed Haynes receiving one vote; Walter Coffee, two votes; Rene R. Ratliff, one vote; and Charles Clark, two votes.

CANADIAN A total of 222 votes were cast in Saturday's school board election here with two men named to serve three-year terms.

Those elected were Dr. R. H. Snyder, with 152 votes, and Ben Mathers, who received 104 votes. Snyder is past president of the school board and Mathers will be serving his first term.

Other names which appeared on the ballot were: W. H. Houchin, 67 votes; Norman Burton, 21 and Bryan Eckles, 91 votes.

Holdover members of the board are Gilman Flowers, Gilbert Dickens and Logan Owens.

LEFORS Three men were elected to the Lefors Independent School District Board of Trustees in voting here Saturday.

They were Edward Vincent with 140 votes; R. E. McDonald, 132 votes; and Bob Fish, 132 votes. Ben White got 76 votes and Jim Pennington, 42.

The new trustees will be sworn in at a meeting of the board Tuesday in the school cafeteria, following an initiation dinner.

McDonald and Vincent were elected for second terms and Fish is a new member of the board. A total of 182 votes were cast.

Pampans Will Take Part In Welfare Meet

Three Pampans will participate in the one-day Regional Conference of the Texas Social Welfare Association to be held in Amarillo Wednesday in the Herring Hotel.

The conference, which begins at 9:30 a.m., is open to all lay and professional persons interested in learning more about health recreation and the state welfare programs.

Mrs. Nina Spoonmore, director of the Gray County Welfare Department, will address the convention delegates on Gray county projects and activities while taking part in a panel discussion.

Speaking on the medical vendor program will be John B. Hessey, Pampa, area supervisor, state department of public welfare.

Mrs. Jack P. Foster, past president of the Pampa Altruism Club, will speak to the group on the social needs of the aged.

Topics to be discussed at the sectional meetings throughout the day include Welfare Service in the Panhandle, Young People's Problems and Needs, Family and Personal Problems, Aging, Rehabilitation and Rehabilitation, and the Veteran and his Community.

Commissioners (Continued From Page 1) commission that only the recall petitions on the mayor carried sufficient signatures.

Petitions for the mayor were required to have signatures totaling 30 per cent of the total vote in the last city election. This was obtained by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, which circulated the petitions. The mayor's recall petition needed 743 signatures and carried a total of 768.

Petitions for recall of the ward commissioners were submitted with only 30 per cent of the total vote cast in each ward in the last city election. Attorney Heare said in his opinion that the ward commissioners also were required to have signatures totaling 30 per cent of the entire city vote in the last election.

Heare contended that once a ward commissioner is elected he conducts business for the entire city. He also held that the recall section of the city charter was not changed when the city changed its form of government in 1945 from the at-large system to the ward system.

The recall election ordered for Tuesday, April 17, will have the lone issue of recall of the mayor on the ballot. It was pointed out Saturday that it will not be an election where there are candidates. No opposing candidate for mayor will be on the ballot.

Voters will be asked only to vote either FOR or AGAINST the recall of Mayor E. C. Sidwell.

Estes (Continued From Page 1) Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has accused Estes of violating the state's antitrust laws and has ordered courts of inquiry next week at Amarillo and Plainview.

The indictment against Estes alleges that he conspired to commit fraud through an anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tank scheme.

Estes, 37, was arrested March 28 at Pecos and jailed under $500,000 bond, believed to be the largest in Texas history. Last Monday, following a hearing at El Paso, Judge Thomason reduced the bond to $100,000. Estes posted bond and was released.

He returned to his home at Pecos and has been in almost constant conference with his managers and advisers, seeking means of keeping his businesses running and paying off his debts.

Estes, who has a strong following of loyal supporters in West Texas, has pledged to pay off every dime he owes.

The finance companies who joined with Estes in filing the debtor's petition include some of the nation's largest. Among them are CIT Corporation of New York and Pacific Finance Co. of Los Angeles.

Nine civil lawsuits have been filed against Estes. The latest came today when Hubert P. McClure of Midland asked that $608,178 in notes and mortgages be cancelled. It was filed at Pecos.

Estes' three associates also under fraud indictment are Harold Orr and Ruel Alexander, both of Amarillo, and Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock.

The concern for Patton and his six companions stemmed primarily from the fact that the Cuban government, in announcing their presence on Cuban soil, had described them as "apparently frogmen."

Premier Fidel Castro's government has previously charged that U. S. "frogmen" cleared the invasion approaches for last year's abortive Bay of Pigs attack.

Patton's boat was stocked to the gunwales with all sorts of gear, including underwater blasting paraphernalia and a two-man submarine to seek and pry loose any treasure that was discovered.

Had the boat and its strange provisions been captured by the jittery Cuban navy, it could have jeopardized the chances of the crew's return to the United States.

But Mrs. Patton said the crew would fly home either late Saturday or Monday—just as soon as the Swiss embassy could arrange flight clearance and transportation.

The woman said her husband informed her that he and his companions all were in good spirits and good health, except for a few scratches they suffered when they brushed against coral rocks while scrambling ashore.

Mrs. Patton said her husband asked her to notify his insurance company that the boat had gone down. Exactly what happened to

There were no other official Cuban comments on the case.

A Statement to the People of Pampa

By Mayor E. C. Sidwell

Since I have been Mayor of the City of Pampa the Commission has never met behind closed doors to discuss city problems. So long as I am mayor it will not do so. I favor a sound, honest, open and above board, conservative government.

I am opposed to special privileges to anyone, whether by tax discrimination, water rate discrimination, job discrimination or discrimination by special grants of taxpayers money. I am for all of the people of Pampa and not a favored few.

The people should be kept informed and have the opportunity to listen to all debates and discussions. I have the utmost confidence in the people of Pampa making the right decisions when they know the facts.

I am opposed to by-passing our city with main highways, thereby destroying our downtown business and industrial sections, allowing these areas to become blighted. Approximately 40% of our city taxes are derived from these areas. Highways 60 and 273 should not be relocated but should be improved. This is contrary to the recent plan set forth for Pampa highway development.

I believe that people who receive services from the city, whether within or without our boundaries, should in some way participate in the overall tax burden. I believe that bond issues supported by all who receive services is a healthy situation.

I believe that to have a sound economy we must have cooperation between the city and all employers and employees and not special situations set up for the benefit of a favored few.

I concur with the Mayor of Dallas who recently stated that, "our noses just don't fit the swill barrel of Federal handouts." I have confidence in the people of Pampa who are my friends and neighbors having the knowhow, the faith and the courage to do the right thing and use the right judgement in operating our city, and they don't have to turn to people planners on the bank of the Potomac or any other area if and when there is a decision to be made or an action to be taken.

We have many repairs to make in our City Charter and we have ordinances to be enacted to permit us to carry on the every day practice of good city government on a common sense basis. We have made some progress as of now and with cooperation from our citizens we can continue to improve.

One year ago you gave me your vote of confidence. The important thing now is just to express the feeling of your own heart at the polls. Be sure to vote by absentee ballot or in person, Tuesday, April 17th.

I solicit your support and vote of confidence and promise you my best effort toward good government, without subscribing to a favored few policy.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Movieland's top stars share the spotlight with Oscar Monday night at the 34th annual Academy Awards ceremony.

A crowd of 2,500 will attend the ceremonies in Santa Monica civic auditorium. Several thousand on-lookers are expected to line sidewalks and streets outside the auditorium hoping to catch a glimpse of their favorite star.

But the main Oscar audience is the millions of fans who will watch the show on television and read about it in newspapers.

Bob Hope is master of ceremonies for the ABC-TV show scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. PST (10:30 p.m. EST).

More than 25 Oscars and five honorary awards will be given out by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to actors, actresses, directors, producers, writers and other industry members.

The award for best actress will be presented by Burt Lancaster. Contending for the award is Audrey Hepburn (Breakfast at Tiffany's), Piper Laurie (The Hustler), Sophia Loren (Two Women), Geraldine Page (Summer and Smoke) and Natalie Wood (Splendor in the Grass).

Last year Elizabeth Taylor won this award for her role in "Butterfield 8." Miss Taylor's victory, following her serious illness, gave the 1961 awards ceremony real life drama.

Joan Crawford, an Oscar winner for "Mildred Pierce" in 1945, bestows the best actor accolade on one of five nominees, including Charles Boyer (Fanny), Paul Newman (The Hustler), Maximilian Schell (Judgment at Nuremberg), Spencer Tracy (Judgment at Nuremberg) and Stuart Whitman (The Mark). Lancaster won this honor last year for "Elmer Gantry."

Fred Astaire opens the secret envelope which contains the top motion picture award. Contenders are "Fanny," "The Guns of Navarone," "The Hustler," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "West Side Story." In 1961 "The Apartment" won.

Nominees for best supporting actress are Fay Bainter (The Children's Hour), Judy Garland (Judgment at Nuremberg), Lotte Lenya (The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone), Una Merkel (Summer and Smoke) and Rita Moreno (West Side Story). Rock Hudson presents this Oscar, earned in 1961 by Shirley Jones, (Elmer Gantry).

Miss Jones will also be on stage Monday night to hand an Oscar statuette to top supporting actor. In that race are George Chakiris (West Side Story), Montgomery Clift (Judgment at Nuremberg), Peter Falk (Pocketful of Miracles), Jackie Gleason (The Hustler) and George C. Scott (The Hustler). Peter Ustinov won last year for Spartacus.

Rosalind Russell will be the first to congratulate and hand an Oscar to the winning directors. Contending are J. Lee Thompson (The Guns of Navarone), Robert Rossen (The Hustler), Stanley Kramer (Judgment at Nuremberg), Federico Fellini (La Dolce Vita) and Robert Wise and Jerome Robbins (West Side Story). Billy Wilder scored last year for "The Apartment."

Ex-Pampan Will Be Honored By College

PLAINVIEW (Sp) — R. Earl O'Keefe, Amarillo civic and church leader and former Pampa resident, is to be honored by Wayland Baptist College at the Fourth Merit Award Banquet Monday night (April 9) at Col. Slaughter Memorial Center, together with Dr. F. B. Malone, Sr., distinguished Lubbock physician.

For 26 years he has been a deacon in Amarillo's First Baptist Church and a member of the finance committee for many years.

His first serious business venture was in 1918 when he left Texas Military College to return to Panhandle to assist his father in wheat farming operations. He is a graduate of Panhandle High School and attended West Texas State College.

In 1925 when he was only 24 years old, he became co-founder of Panhandle Insurance Agency and remained as general manager until 1957. In 1930 at the age of 29 he became the co-founder of Southwestern Investment Company in Pampa and until 1961 he was president and general manager of this company which now has branches over a widespread area. He is now chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

A third business in which in 1928 he became a co-founder was Western Building and Loan Association, now Security Federal Savings and Loan Association, Pampa. For 17 years he was co-founder of Western National Life Insurance Company of Amarillo and until March 1960 served as president and director but is now chairman of the board. In 1948 he founded his last business, Commercial Insurance Company of Amarillo for which he is still chairman of the board.

Since 1959, Wayland has honored men and women who have devoted both time and money to the youth and cultural development of the Panhandle Plains area. Last year Grady Goodpasture, Brownfield, also a Wayland trustee, was honored guest. Some 160 persons have accepted invitations to this fourth banquet to which friends of Wayland, friends of honored guests, trustees and faculty were invited. Mr. Bennett, the speaker, was a long time member of the Texas Baptist Education Commission and of the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas before being selected to the presidency of East Texas Baptist College.

O'Keefe is being honored by Wayland not only for his long time interest in the college but also for his endeavors in behalf of youth through his church and civic organizations. He is a Wayland trustee and has served on a variety of committees. He is also a member of Wayland Associates, the group of West Texans banded together to provide the college's capital needs. He was joined in 1956 by Mrs. O'Keefe in giving the O'Keefe Duplex to house married students.

Since 1902 the O'Keefe family has been a part of the civic, church and cultural life of the Panhandle area. R. Earl O'Keefe has been no exception. He was named "Man of the Year" in Amarillo in 1959 and received the Boy Scouts Regional Chairman Award in both 1959 and 1960. He has been a member of the Regional Executive Board of Boy Scouts of America since 1936 and has served as area chairman for Boys Clubs of America. In Pampa and Amarillo he has served as president of the Rotary Club. He has also been president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Oil Appeals Board To Assume Larger Role In Import Control

By ALEX ADWAN
United Press International
TULSA (UPI)—The oil import appeals board, which once limited itself to correcting technical errors, is going to play a bigger role in the import control program, the National Petroleum Refiners Association predicts.

NPRA, was in the board's finding that Socony was the only one of the established importers to comply with the President's request. Two members, chairman D. Otis Beasley of the Interior Department and Eugene P. Foley of the Commerce Department, concurred in the finding.

The new board, appointed by President Kennedy, has granted increased quotas to several refiners stating they were losing money. NPRA said in its news bulletin. The Eisenhower board rejected all appeals claiming exceptional hardship.

The Defense Department member disagreed. "I'm sure that many other of the so-called historical importers can demonstrate 100 per cent cooperation and compliance with the government's specific requests to reduce imports during the three-year period in question," said member Paul H. Riley.

Last week, according to NPRA, the board disavowed a policy that it had refused to recognize exceptional hardship except when it found that the refiner was losing money on its over-all operation. This, said NPRA, appeared to make the board a relief agency.

The board recently rejected a New York jobber's appeal for a gasoline import quota, sought on the ground that he was at a disadvantage in competing with gasoline made from foreign crude.

The board started another controversy by granting Socony Mobil a higher quota on the ground that it had been penalized by the administration because it had complied with the President's request to reduce imports under the voluntary program.

The board said the exchange of quotas between east coast and inland refiners equalizes the competitive effect of imported crude. And it added that crude oil imported into the area east of the Rocky Mountains is only about 9 per cent of the total demand.

DOGS TOO BIG
PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UPI)—Charles J. Murr, 56, resigned after two days as the first dog catcher in suburban Upper Darby Twp. because "the township and the dogs are too big."

"There's no fooling the dogs," he said. "They let you chase them all over but by the time you get the net out they're gone."

Several Thousand Acres In Gray County Brush Control Program

There were several thousand acres of brush sprayed in the Gray County soil conservation district during 1961, according to a recent announcement by David R. Petty, Gray County range conservationist.

Several co-operators have started brush control work this year through the Great Plains and Asc Program.

Petty said many brush control experiments in the past have shown that three-fourths of the same sagebrush on infested rangeland can be killed by one proper application of 2,4-D. Also forage and beef production can be increased 50 per cent to 75 per cent if deferred grazing is practiced for at least one summer growing season after the sage is controlled. Chemical control is cheaper, faster, and usually more effective than mechanical control.

Chemical control of sand sagebrush is effective only when the plants are in full growth and after they have reached full leaf. Adequate rainfall and good growing conditions are essential. Spraying shortly after a heavy rain is advisable, he continued.

Without control of sagebrush or any other undesirable species, only slight improvement in forage yield can be expected on many ranges even after good grazing management has been practiced, for 15 to 30 years. Where there is no seed source available it may even take longer. Seldom is over-seeding justified without removing the sagebrush first, because the grass seedlings cannot compete with the sagebrush for soil moisture.

Some good rules to follow in the control of sagebrush are: where there are dense stands preventing good grasses to grow control measures should be used, where good grazing management will be provided following control, and where seeding will be done promptly, if needed.

One of the most important rules is good management after the sagebrush has been controlled. The main purpose of management is to encourage the maximum production of good grasses. Otherwise, repeated control measures must be taken at added expense.

There are many farmers and ranchers already applying control measures through the Great Plains Conservation Program. If anyone is interested in controlling sagebrush or any other undesirable species on their rangeland and would like assistance in any way they should contact their local Conservation Service. Soil Conservation Service technicians will be glad to give any assistance they can and explain how one may get federal cost-share if they so desire.

BRUSH CONTROL — Shown here is a brush control demonstration on the Vera Dial Dickey Ranch, located on the McLean-to-Lefors Highway. Approximately 90 per cent of the sagebrush has been killed here by using the proper applications for weed control.

Group Has Two-Step Suggestion

WASHINGTON (Sp) — Two steps to a lasting national policy on oil imports were urged in a statement filed with the Office of Emergency Planning by the Independent Petroleum Association of America recently.

In a statement calling for assurances necessary to encourage long-range planning and investing to provide adequate petroleum supplies for the future, the 8,000-member national association of independent oil and gas producers specifically urged OEP's Petroleum Study Committee to:

"1. Recommend to the President that the Government's Oil Import Program be revised promptly to stabilize imports in relation to domestic crude oil production and reduce all imports, excluding residual fuel oil, by approximately 250,000 barrels per day.

"2. Recommend to the President that Congressional action to strengthen the national security provisions of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (H. R. 9900) be supported by the Executive Branch of the government."

The IPAA statement was in response to an earlier announcement by the OEP director that such submission of views and recommendations would be received and considered in the Petroleum Committee's study of the oil import problem.

M. G. Rogers Is Elected A.P.I. Vice-Chairman

OKLAHOMA CITY — M. G. Rogers of Pan American Petroleum Corporation, Pampa, was elected a district vice-chairman of the Mid-Continent District of the American Petroleum Institute at that organization's district meeting here Friday.

Jack Marshall of Continental Oil Company, Oklahoma City, was elected district chairman.

It is estimated that there were 124 million life insurance policyowners in the U. S. at the start of 1959.

Backstairs At The White House

There seems to have been a slight surge of criticism recently directed at some aspects of President Kennedy's relationship with the press, including broadcast, as well as printed media.

Two national magazines (U.S. News & World Report, and Reporter) currently have articles which between them attempt to diminish the importance or news value of Kennedy's press conferences, and also, to raise questions about advisability of direct presidential contacts with specific reporters.

Without attempting to evaluate criticism or answer questions, it was somewhat coincidental that when these articles were attracting particular interest here, two incidents at the White House added to the discussion.

One morning last week, the President scheduled a meeting with about 150 members of state committees of farmers who help administer the federal agriculture program.

With administration farm legislation running into tough opposition in Congress, this was an important meeting for Kennedy.

Since the conference was to be on the lawn outside the President's office, television reporters, cameramen and sound engineers asked to set up their equipment to record the President's remarks.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was out of his office at the time, but the television crews were told nothing doing—no sound movies. Furthermore, newsmen assigned to the White House were not permitted to cover the meeting until the President had started speaking.

It turned out that he made a bell-ringing speech in behalf of his farm program, the kind of words he would like to see in the nation's newspapers and on home viewing screens.

Highly annoyed television men tried to determine the origin of the no-sound decision. So did radio men. Wire service reporters were not in position to send their stories until the White House could come up with a stenographic transcript telling what the President said at the start of his speech.

Thus it was more than two hours later before stories of Kennedy's farm policy talk could be "Living benefits" paid to life insurance policyowners during 1958 amounted to a record high $4.3 billion dollars. These payments were issued as matured endowments, disability payments, annuity payments, policy dividends and surrender values. The "living benefits" paid by the life insurance companies accounted for 59.8 per cent of the year's total benefit payments — an increase of nine per cent over the previous year.

It was on this same day—last Wednesday—that the White House forgot to announce that Kennedy was having a vitally important meeting on foreign trade with Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and a group of 25 American business, labor and farm leaders.

The publicly announced list of presidential engagements made no mention of the meeting, one purpose of which was to generate public steam behind a nationwide campaign for greater export trade.

Thus it was somewhat of a surprise to reporters and camera crews who were supposed to spread the news when Hodges and his select group of high-powered executives swept into the White House lobby.

There seemed to be no ready explanation of the foul-up on the farm speech other than someone inside the White House simply did not think Kennedy's remarks should be recorded on film. As for the incident involving Hodges and his export trade committee, a member of the staff said only, "We goofed."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—It seems unwise to spend any amount of time bemoaning the lackluster technical behavior of the market, says Thomson & McKinnon.

There is no great danger of a serious lasting correction, the firm says. It thinks it would be a serious mistake to sell common stocks out of fear of the unknown and recommend rather the holding and buying of strong equities of leading manufacturing and service enterprises.

Bache & Co. says one of the possible prerequisites for an important upward move would be an extreme in terms of selling. The firm says it now appears that we are close to such a situation and it may not be too long before an important sold-out condition is upon us, setting the stage for a significant short term rally.

According to Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co., the days ahead might include a selling climax but this would from a technical standpoint, be looked upon as a very healthy development.

Dominant factors behind the present market weakness apparently are related to fears that near-term business prospects are not as bright as they might be, according to Jerome Peck Associates, Inc. "For our part we are convinced that business prospects are still quite bright, as is witnessed by the present encouraging trend of automobile sales."

The Clark, Dodge & Co. market letter states it must be recognized that the market's present mood of little response to good news and considerable response to bad news suggests that the correction and consolidation has not been quite completed.

Cities Service Completes Large Leasing Deal
Cities Service has reported completion of what is believed to be the largest oil and gas leasing deal ever made in the State of Mississippi.
Leases covered by the contracts and agreements include 352,000 acres in 16 southwestern Mississippi counties and slightly more than 2,100 acres in St. Tammany Parish, La.
In announcing the exclusive right to exploratory and development operations on the lands, Board Chairman Robert L. Kidd of Cities Service Petroleum Company said the leases were in areas considered prospective for both Wilcox and Cretaceous sandstone production.

Hunsaker Suffers Brain Injury In Heavy Fight

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (UPI)—Heavyweight prize fighter Tunney Hunsaker Saturday was given only even odds to live after suffering a brain injury similar to one that brought death three days earlier to former welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret.

The "Kid" was buried Saturday following services at Miami, Fla.

Hunsaker, 32, was fighting for his life in the Bluefield Sanitarium. He was counted out with only seven seconds remaining in his 10-round last night at Beckley, W. Va., against Joe (Shotgun) Sheldon of Cleveland, Ohio.

It marked the first time he had been kayoed in 36 pro fights since 1958. He lost on technical knockouts three times.

Hunsaker was floored twice by Sheldon before the final knockout. Ringsiders reported that the fighters had exchanged punches from toe-to-toe range during the final three rounds.

After being counted out by referee Cotton White, Hunsaker was revived by smelling salts and sent to his corner. But one of his attendants noticed that something was wrong and boxing physician Dr. J. B. Anderson was called into the ring for an examination.

Hunsaker talked briefly with a doctor, then collapsed. He was taken to a hospital in Beckley. When his condition failed to improve, he was transferred to the sanitarium here.

Early Saturday, Dr. E. L. Gage performed brain surgery that removed two tumors. The surgeon said the injured fighter suffered a subdural hematoma—an injury that permits blood to accumulate under a membrane that covers the brain.

"I still can't predict how he's going to do," Gage said later. "He still has a long way to go. He might have a 50-50 chance to live."

The doctor said Hunsaker appeared to have overcome a good bit of paralysis following the operation. "If there has been any change, I would say it has been in the right direction," Gage announced.

The injured fighter was still unconscious more than 12 hours after his collapse.

Only the day before his bout with Sheldon, Hunsaker commented during a radio interview on ring injuries and deaths. He compared them with highway accidents and said the ring figures were "not bad" considering the number of fights.

It was recalled that Hunsaker hated to lose in the ring. Late last year, he fought an inmate from the Moundsville (W. Va.) state prison named Tommy DeJarnette. At the time, Hunsaker was police chief of Fayetteville, W. Va., where he lived with his wife and two children.

DeJarnette won by a technical knockout in the eighth round. At Hunsaker's insistence, a return bout was arranged and the two met at Beckley last Jan. 24.

Hunsaker knocked out DeJarnette in the opening round.

In Friday night's contest against Sheldon, Hunsaker weighed in at 200 pounds compared with his opponent's 192.

A State Boxing Commission official said Saturday that Hunsaker had passed his pre-flight examination and that a preliminary investigation indicated all rules and regulations of the commission had been adhered to.

According to unofficial records at Beckley, Hunsaker turned professional in 1958 after winning 12 to 14 amateur bouts—eight by knockout.

His pro record showed 25 victories, 8 losses and 3 draws. He had won 13 times either by knockout or TKO and was a technical knockout victim three times himself.

Matson Sets Loop Mark In Shot Put

Randy Matson set a new district record in the shot put Saturday afternoon, in the annual District 3-AAAA track and field meet in Lubbock with a toss of 60 feet 10 inches.

The throw eclipsed the old record of 55 feet six inches set by Robert Hodges of Tascosa last year. Matson will advance to the regional round next weekend in Odessa.

Matson also finished second in the discus with a throw of 155 feet eight inches.

The Harvesters finished fifth in the meet with a total of 47 points. Teams in the order of their finish included Tascosa first, 150%; Palo Duro, 90%; Amarillo and Lubbock high tied, 74%; Pampa, 47; Monterey, 38%; Borger, 19% and Plainview, 0.

Other boys placing for the Harvesters included Bill Martin second in the high jump with five feet eight inches; Kenny Hebert, third in the 100 and sixth in the 180 yard low hurdles; Ralph Palmer, third in the 440; Travis Tucker, sixth in the 220; Danny Mathis, sixth in the discus. The 440-relay team also finished fifth in the 440 relays.

Shantz Gets Starting Nod For New Colt 45s

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bobby Shantz, the little southpaw who once brought the old Athletics of Philadelphia 24 wins in one season, will take the mound Tuesday afternoon when the Houston Colt 45s for the first time bring major league baseball to the South.

A capacity crowd of 32,000 is expected at colorful, new Colt Stadium when the infant 45s start playing in the National League for real against the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs named Don Cardwell, who led the senior league's oldest operating club with a 15-14 record last year, for opening day chores against the Colts.

season, our worries are over," Richards said.

Hal Smith, veteran catcher purchased for $125,000 by Houston from Pittsburgh in the National League player pool, will be Shantz' battery mate Tuesday.

Richards said some time back he felt Houston's best chance in the National League would be to build up a good defense to go with the Colts' big ballpark, which is 360 feet down left and right field lines, and 420 feet in center field.

Craft this spring has attempted to stress defense and with this in mind he has named his starting infield with Norm Larker at first, Joey Amalfitano at second, Don Buddin at short and Bob Aspromonte at third.

Spangler, who played with the Milwaukee Braves last season and Amalfitano, the former San Francisco Giants second baseman, were $125,000 bonus choices of the Colts in the player pool.

The Colts made a fine showing in spring training, winding up with a 14-7 record and the Cactus League championship. Their opponents in the Arizona practice league were the Giants, Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox, Los Angeles Angels and the Cubs.

Richards, manager at Baltimore the past four seasons, praised field manager Craft and said Craft has proved beyond doubt that he is a fine manager. He has done a wonderful job with the club. The spirit is real good and they should play together real well.

Even in Texas, where Texans like to boast of the biggest or best of everything, no one expects the Colts to even finish their first season in the first division.

Texas Southern Sets Five Marks In Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Southern University Saturday established five College Division records in the Texas Relays, a performance unprecedented in the 25-year history of the meet.

Kansas smashed University Division records in the distance medley relay and two-mile relay and Nebraska tied the meet record in the open 480-yard shuttle hurdles relay, broke the four-mile relay standard and won the 100-yard dash mark to give the Big Eight schools a slight edge in the University Division.

Texas Southern, set an all-Negro school from Houston competing for the first time in the Texas Relays, set new standards of 7:30.6 in the two-mile relay, 40.5 in the 440-yard relay, 1:23.7 in the sprint medley relay, 1:23.7 in the 880-yard relay and 3:09.0 in the mile relay.

Rice's Fred Hansen cleared 15 feet, six and one-half inches in the pole vault to break a 15-1 record set last year by George Davies of Oklahoma State. His leap was the best ever recorded by a Texas Collier.

Ablene Christian, winner of four of the five University Division relays last year, won the 880-yard handoff in 1:23.6, the 440-yard relay in 40.9 and the mile relay in 3:10.0.

Texas Southern's fabulous showing stunned the crowd of 12,000 and won the unanimous vote of sports writers as the outstanding team in the meet.

Kansas' Bill Dotson, who had a 3:03.9 mile anchor in the distance medley relay and a 1:49.6 anchor in the 880-yard relay, won the outstanding performer award.

The Jayhawkers, holders of the American indoor records in both events, posted a 9:46.4 in the distance medley, breaking a 9:51.5 set by Ablene Christian last year, and had a 7:27.7 in the two-mile relay, clipping the 7:30.8 record set by California in 1958.

The Cornhuskers from Nebraska tied one of the meet's oldest records, a 58.9 set in 1941 in the 480-yard shuttle hurdles relay, and earned one second off of the four-mile relay mark with a 17:01.8. Ray Knaub brought Nebraska home in the 100-yard dash in 9.6.

Geoff Walker of Houston finished the grueling 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:11.8, breaking the old mark of 9:14.2.

Records also were established in the Junior College-Freshman mile relay, shot put and pole vault and the high school 120-yard high hurdles.

Malvin Houston, Wesley Black-

mon, Ray Saddler and Lester Millburn teamed to break Texas A&T's mile record of 3:13.5 finishing 40-yards in front of second place McMurry in 3:09.8. Saddler had a sizzling 46.3 on the third leg.

Texas Southern won by 25-yards in the 440-relay with a 40.5 to topple East Texas State's 1960 mark of 41.0. Homer Jones, Barney Allen, T. J. Bell and Overton Williams handled the sticks.

The old two-mile relay record of 7:34.9 set by Howard Payne last year toppled when Texas Southern's Maurice Hobson, Walter Hunt, Saddler and Major Adams 30-yards in front in 7:30.6.

Saddler, Jones, Bell and Adams won by a whopping 45-yards in the sprint medley relay, turning in a 3:21.5 and shaving a second off of East Texas' 1960 record.

Texas Southern won the 880-yard relay in 1:24.0, finishing 30-yards in front, after setting a 1:23.7 record in the preliminaries Friday.

Texas' Ray Cunningham took the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.2, John Camien ran a 3:53.5 to win the open 1500-meter run, and Ralph Alspaugh of Texas and Charles Frazier of Texas Southern finished in a 10.6 dead heat in the invitational 100-meter.

Colin Ridgway, the lanky Australian competing for Lamar Tech, failed again in his attempt to break his 7 feet one-half inch state high jump record, sharing first place with Gene Johnson of California at 6-8. Russ Seitzinger of Hardin Simmons took the discus with a throw of 164 feet, six and one-half inches.

Bob Swafford of Texas Tech won the 400-meter hurdles in 52.6. Donald Smith of Missouri won the shot with a put of 57 feet 10 inches. Bill Miller of McMurry sailed 24 feet 11 inches in the broad jump, and Wichita's Philip Johnson took the javelin with a throw of 335 feet 5/8 inches.

Texas A&M edged Oklahoma State's American indoor record holders in the University sprint medley relay, winning in 3:21.4. Ablene Christian repeated as 880-yard relay champion in 1:23.6.

Pampa Downs Bulldogs After Defeat By Rebels

Mike Clark turned in a scintillating one-hitter Saturday afternoon as the Pampa Harvesters downed the Plainview Bulldogs, 1-0 in the second game of a double header in Amarillo.

The Harvesters lost the first game to Tascosa in extra innings, 3-2 in the eighth frame.

Clark pitched beautiful ball, giving up but a single while walking three and striking out seven men. It was his fifth victory of the year. He has lost two.

The Harvesters picked up their lone run in the sixth inning when Gerrel Owens walked and came home on Howard Reed's double. John Arthur had the only other hit for the local nine, also a double in the low hitting contest.

In the first game, the Rebels picked up the winning run in the bottom of the eighth after Glover had issued two walks and hit one batsman to load the bases. A single to deep shortstop then scored the tie-breaking run and sending the Harvesters down to their second-loop loss of the year. Pampa is now 1-2 in district and 7-5 for the year.

Glover also turned in a tremendous job on the hill in the opener, giving up but three hits while walking three and striking out nine. Glover is 2-2 thus far.

The Harvesters big bats boomed out with back to back home runs in the first inning, with Glover and John Arthur belting round trippers over the left field wall to give the Harvesters a 2-0 lead.

The Rebels came back, however with two runs to tie it up. It was the Rebels initial victory in loop play after an opening season loss.

Dee Wright also picked up a double in the fifth inning for the Harvesters only other hit in the first game.

In other results Saturday, Monterey won over Amarillo, 3-2; Lubbock beat Palo Duro, 1-0 and Borger and Plainview were rained out in their scheduled morning game.

The Harvesters journey to Palo Duro Tuesday in their next diamond outing.

Jerry Thomas and Don Collins lost out in the finals of boys doubles Saturday in the District 3-AAAA tennis meet in Lubbock to the doubles team of Pat Wilman and Mike Jones, 2-6, 4-6, 0-6.

The Harvesters doubles team had advanced to the finals with doubles victories over Ernest Maggard and Steven Stokes of Plainview, 6-2, 6-2 and then won over Wayne Simmons and Champy Ridgeway of Palo Duro by default 7-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The girls doubles team also lost out in the finals of the B division. The girls lost out to the Lubbock team, 1-6, 2-6. They advanced to the finals with a victory over Plainview by default.

Monterey won the title with Pampa finishing fifth in the one day affair.

Golf Team Winds Up In Sixth Place

Pampa's golf team came in sixth in the district meet Saturday with a three-round team total of 930 strokes.

Borger was first with 944; Monterey was second with 955; Tascosa, third, 956; Plainview, fourth, 965; Palo Duro, fifth, 966; Pampa, sixth, 990; Amarillo, 1001; and Lubbock, 1014.

Stephen LaCrone was low medalist over the three rounds with a total of 218 strokes. Martin Reeves of Palo Duro was second with 227. Leonard Hudson of the Harvesters tied for 5th win a total of 234 strokes.

Lary, Koufax To Lead Two Loops

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers and strikeout king Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers will head a flock of 20-game winning pitchers in their respective leagues this year, it was forecast today by the UPI board of baseball experts.

With both leagues playing expanded 162-game schedules, no fewer than 15 National League pitchers and 13 American League hurlers were nominated as possible members of the usually exclusive 20-win club. Only four pitchers—Warren Spahn and Joey Jay in the NL and Whitey Ford and Lary in the AL—reached the 20-mark in 1961.

Lary, who won 23 games last season, was picked as a likely 20-game winner again by 15 of the 24 experts while Koufax, who struck out an all-time single-season high of 269 batters in the NL last season enroute to an 18-victory campaign, was selected by eight experts.

Ford, who had a 25-4 record and was the major leagues' pitcher of the year in 1961, was the choice of 12 experts while Yankee teammate Bill Stafford was named by seven.

Stafford, an efficient, hard-throwing right-hander sometimes compared to former Yankee ace, Allie Reynolds, had a 14-9 mark last season despite a slow start.

Other AL pitchers who received strong support as potential 20-game winners were Jim Bunning of the Tigers, Camilo Pascual of the Twins and Juan Pizarro of the White Sox. Scattered support went to Milt Pappas and Chuck Estrada of the Orioles, Ralph Terry of the Yankees, Don Schwall of the Red Sox and Jim Coates of the Yankees.

Larry Jackson of the Cardinals ranked second to Koufax as a possible 20-game winner, according to the UPI experts, and strong support also went to Johnny Podres of the Dodgers and Warren Spahn of the Braves.

Others who got scattered support were Bob Friend of the Pirates, Jay, rookie Ray Washburn of the Cardinals, Juan Marichal and Mike McCormick of the Giants, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and the Cardinals' Ray Sadecki and Ernie Broglio.

Washburn, who had a 16-9 record and a 2.34 earned run average for the San Juan-Charleston club of the International League last season, also was picked by the board to be the NL's rookie of the year. Outfielder John Powell of the Baltimore Orioles was selected as the AL's rookie of the year.

Pender Regains Middle Crown

BOSTON (UPI)—Challenger Paul Pender regained his share of the middleweight championship Saturday night with a decisive unanimous decision over British titlist Terry Downes, the Cockney bookmaker who became champion when Pender retired in their last fight.

Downes, blood-gushing from his nose and a deep gash over his left eye, was on the short end of all three scoring cards. There was no suggestion of a close "Boston decision" wherein the local fighter is favored.

Trinity Wins Net Match

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Trinity University's powerful tennis team smashed Rice University Saturday, 6-0, without the loss of a set.

The victory was Trinity's 12th straight in match play. Trinity owns a 61-3 individual record this season.

Frank Froehling, who moved up to the No. 1 singles spot this week defeated Fritz Schunck, 6-3, 6-1. Chuck McKinley downed Neal Marcus, 6-4, 6-3; Butch Newman whipped DeEdward Greer, 6-3, 6-1 and Rod Susman bested Frank Bertram, 6-4, 6-2.

In doubles competition, Froehling and Cliff Buchholz outgunned Schunck and Greer, 6-0, 6-4, and McKinley and Newman beat Bertram and Marcus, 6-4, 6-2.

Palmer Still Leading Action In Masters Golf Tournament By Two

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer put on one of his famous stretch finishes Saturday, shooting four birdies on the back nine, for a three under par 69 to turn back the challenge of Dow Finsterwald and hold his two stroke lead in the Masters Golf Tournament.

Palmer's 37-32 over the 6,980-yard par 36-36-72 Masters course gave him a 54 hole total of 205, 11 strokes under par.

Finsterwald, the 1958 PGA champion, was the hottest of them all, though, on this cloudy day as he shot a seven under par 32-33-65 which gave him a total of 207.

He had started out the day six strokes behind Palmer, the 4-1 pre-tourney favorite, but picked up four strokes.

Closest to the two leaders was U. S. open champion Gene Littler, who shot a third round 36-35-71 for a total of 210.

Only one player left on the course, defending champion Gary Player, had a chance to catch Palmer. Player, who started out the day only two strokes behind Palmer, was four strokes back with three holes to go.

Palmer did not start to turn it on until Finsterwald made a run at him.

Arnie started out badly, pushing his drive into the trees on the first hole and winding up with a bogey. He then carded eight straight pars to wind up the front nine in 37, one over par.

That left him a stroke ahead of Finsterwald.

Playing ahead of Palmer, Finsterwald birdied the 16th. So did Palmer. And from that time on, Palmer never was headed.

He also birdied the 12th, 15th and 18th holes and came home in four under par 32.

Finsterwald tried to keep pace. He birdied the 13th to close the gap to one stroke and also birdied the 17th, to again get within one stroke of Palmer.

But Finsterwald had to work hard to salvage a par on the 18th while Palmer birdied it.

Palmer sank a 30 foot putt for his birdie on the 10th and a three footer for another birdie on the 12th. He put his three iron second shot on the green of the par five, 520-yard 15th hole and two putted from 30 feet.

On the par four 420-yard 18th, where he lost the Masters last year, Palmer laid his seven iron second shot on the green of the 420-yard hole, 18 feet from the flag, and ran the putt home.

Just before he putted out on the 18th, Palmer spotted Finsterwald standing at the edge of the green. He raised both of his arms in salute to Finsterwald's fine round, which was only one stroke off the course record of 64 set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1940.

With eight golfers still left on the course, Julius Boros was in fourth place with 214. He shot a third round 36-36-72.

Gay Brewer was a 215 with a 37-33-70 Saturday.

One stroke back at 216 were Lionel Hebert with a 39-35-71 Saturday; Ken Venturi with a 35-36-71 and Mike Souchak with a 36-35-74.

At 217 were two three-time Masters winners, Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret and amateur Charles Coe.

Snead had a 34-36-70 Saturday. Demaret a 35-36-71 and Coe a 35-36-71.

Three SWC Coaches Favor Spring Play

AUSTIN (Sp) — Three Southwest Conference football coaches are concerned with the possibility that spring football may be abolished in junior and senior high schools.

University of Texas Coach Darrell Royal, Abe Martin of Texas Christian and Jess Neely of Rice all have gone on record as being opposed to the proposal to eliminate spring training in the high school program.

"They feel spring training not only cuts down on grid injuries, but at the same time does not hurt the boys' grades," according to L. W. McConachie, executive vice-president of the Texas High School Coaches Assn., "that athletes make as good grades or better during competition."

Royal said the lack of spring training would cause more injuries.

"If a school doesn't have spring training, harder work must be concentrated in a shorter period of time in the fall, and that increases the possibility of injury," said Royal, the 1961 Coach of the Year.

They also feel that large schools should keep spring training for the same reasons that the smaller schools have abolished it — they require more activity to reach their larger student enrollment.

"One-sport boys need spring training to develop their skills over a longer period of time," Martin, the veteran TCU coach, observed. "Spring training is needed in the large schools to discover athletes and to give individual attention to a large group."

Neely, long-time Rice director of athletics and head coach, noted:

"Spring training is the only opportunity the high school coach has to work with boys without the pressure of a scheduled game coming up at the end of the week."

Neely added: "Most of our younger boys need spring training to prevent injuries in a stepped-up fall program."

McConachie also cited President Kennedy's plea for more physical training.

"Our president is concerned with the lack of physical fitness and competitive spirit among our young men today," McConachie said.

"Proposals of de-emphasis are only inviting participation and not competition," Martin said. "We have the greatest game in the world to teach to young men to make them genuine competitors and Americans of the caliber to deal with Communism."

Texans Sign Merz To Grid Pact

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas Texans of the American Football League announced Saturday the signing of former Iowa all-American Curt Merz.

Merz was the second defensive end the Texans added this week. Bill Hull, a 6-6, 245-pound end of Wake Forest, is already under contract.

The Texans traded Paul Miller, veteran defensive end, and defensive back Jack Johnson to the New York Titans for the rights to Merz.

Whispering Pines Is Slated For Greatness Among Golfing Clubs

PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI) — The pros are tearing it up at the Masters today but the most concentrated collection of amateurs in golfing firmament are gathered in this spot known as the golf capital of the world.

The reason is that in Pinehurst there are nine championship courses within a seven-mile radius. It is gently rolling country, with the scent of pine heavy on the soft spring air, and to this fairway fraternity playing the game is much more important than being a spectator.

Their newest mashie mecca is a brand new course called "Whispering Pines" and it promises before too long, to take its place among such top courses as Oakmont, Pa., Pebble Beach, Calif., and the Augusta (Ga.) National.

Whispering Pines has the gimmick to do it, too, with plans being formulated to put on the world's richest golf tournament. Moving into the fairway forefront with such startling rapidity in a golfing community such as this is tantamount to the Casey-Stengel led New York Mets planning on winning the National League pennant in their second year.

But the professional clan soon will be beating a path to Whispering Pines' plush doorstep if a Pittsburgh promotional genius named O. John Valentine pulls off his coup.

Valentine is working on a $150,000 tournament — with $25,000 as the first prize.

Considering that Whispering Pines opened only last week, such plans may seem a bit premature. But the course, laid out by golf-architect Ellis Maples, who has designed some 30 courses throughout the South, already is an emerald beauty of breath-taking perfection.

"We made this course for the average golfer to enjoy," Maples explained. "It plays about 6,800 yards but we can stretch it out to a long 7,200 for championship play."

The golf course, later to be expanded into a 36-hole layout, is the focal point of a community dedicated to relaxed living. At Whispering Pines, where able Avery Beck is the pro, there are two large lakes which cover 500 acres and have been heavily stocked with bass. Fitting in around golf course and lakes are 700 homesites.

An unusual facet of developing the homesites was that one buyer had his heart set on a scenic point of land stretching out into one of the longneaded pines where early settlers had buried some 30 of their dead. One of the stories reads:

"To the memory of John Ray, a native of Scotland, born 1744 & died October 7, 1791."

The man who wanted that point of land guaranteed to maintain the graves. He erected a $25,000 home on the point — and that tiny graveyard in his back yard at long last will be tended.

If Whispering Pines does come up with the world's richest tournament, as it promises, it will be an ironic twist of fate that the Scots settled here almost two centuries ago, but it took a game from their native heath to really conquer this pine-studded wilderness.

Spahn Will Start For Milwaukee

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — After rain washed out the final Florida exhibition game for the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday, manager Johnny Keane announced that Larry Jackson and young Ray Washburn would be his pitchers against the New York Mets in the first two games of the season.

Jackson will hurl the opener Tuesday night.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies cut their squad to the 28-man limit required by opening day when they sent pitcher Dwight Sieber to their Buffalo farm club Saturday on a 24-hour recall basis.

The Phillies were rained out of their final Florida exhibition game Saturday against the St. Louis Cardinals, but hope to meet the Redbirds in their scheduled contest Sunday at Atlanta.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts Saturday named 40-year-old Warren Spahn, the greatest winning southpaw in National League history, as the Milwaukee Braves' opening game pitcher against the San Francisco Giants on Tuesday.

Spahn did not pitch well this spring until Friday, when he hurled eight strong innings against the Cleveland Indians. However, Tebbetts said he had made up his mind to start Spahn before Friday's showing.

Spahn, who will be 41 on April 23, had a 1-4 record this spring. His next regular season victory will be the 310th of his big league career.

Texans Sign 'Twister' To Pro Grid Contract

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas Texans of the American Football League have signed the best-known "twist dancer" in Dallas to a three-year contract. And, they're proud of it.

The "twister," is better known around pro football circles as Herold Headrick, a friendly fellow during the week who becomes a holy terror on Sunday afternoons.

That is when the Texans play football and that is when Headrick is employed as the finest linebacker in the AFL.

This isn't exactly an unsupported claim. It is a considered opinion of a majority of the AFL's coaches and players.

Sid Gillman, the successful coach of the two-time Western Division champion San Diego Chargers, called Headrick "one of the best linebackers I've ever seen" the first time he saw the former Texas Christian University product. And, Gillman hasn't changed his opinion.

Hank Stram, Headrick's coach, has a simple description of his prize linebacker.

"He's simply great," said Stram. "I'm waiting to find something he can't do. He ran back two interceptions for touchdowns last year. And I'll bet he made at least two behind-the-line tackles in every game."

"And, did you ever see a guy who can get hurt, be carried off the field, and then come back five minutes later to do the best job in the business?"

Stram didn't say it, but he could have. Headrick also does a great "twist." The dance, that is, "It's relaxing," said Headrick.

It's not quite so relaxing now, however. For, no matter where Headrick goes—to a bowling alley, to a friends house or to former teammate Ed Berné's night club—he's asked to do the twist.

"The guy is really good," said Berné, who has opportunity to see all sorts of twisters. "Why, if we didn't ask Sherrill to perform, the whole audience would be down on us."

One of Headrick's biggest fans, both on and off the field, is New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle. The feeling is mutual. One of Headrick's twist variations is called "the Mickey Mantle."

Mantle and Headrick became fast friends earlier this year when the Yankee outfielder was present at a place where Headrick was doing his bit. "The Mickey Mantle," which consists of a few swings with an imaginary baseball bat while continuing the "normal" gyrations of the dance, was born that night.

While Headrick claims he relaxes by doing the twist, he is far from relaxed on the football field. A bundle of nerves, the Texan star is a virtual wildman the day of a game. When he isn't knocking down enemy halfbacks, he's on the sideline instructing officials and quarterbacks.

Headricks teammates have a healthy regard for him. One of them summed up their feelings recently.

"It's hard to explain Headrick. Everything is natural for him. Other people have to work to learn a position, Headrick was as good as anybody the first day he put on a uniform. Today, he is further ahead of the competition at his position than anyone in the league."

Boat Owners Should Perform Motor Check

Boaters who are getting their motors out of storage or find the outboard is sluggish in its first spring runs will do well to give the motors a maintenance check before minor troubles turn into major repairs.

August Schulze, shop foreman for Bill Gaston's Boats and Motors shop in Austin, said the best time to take care of boats is in the fall, before the winter storage.

"But for those who have waited until now, the first thing is to check the foot of the motor for greasing the gear case," Schulze says. "The foot should be checked for any accumulation of water. The gear case should be drained and refilled with oil."

Next, Schulze says, the motor tuning can be checked by removing the flywheel and checking breaker points, coil and condensers. The points should be clean, and the gap right. Care should be taken to replace the flywheel correctly — not too tight or too loose.

Removing the spark plugs before checking the motor is a good idea. Plugs can be checked for excessive burning, cracking or fouling. Plugs still in good condition can be cleaned and regapped for continued use. But bad ones should be thrown out to start the season with new plugs.

Fuel system maintenance is important. Boaters should take the filter in the gasoline line out to clean it. If the filter is good, the carburetor should have a minimum of sediment in it. If the fuel was not drained from the motor last fall, gum deposits may have formed in the sediment bowl and must be washed out in neutral spirits or clean gasoline.

Linkage should be inspected and oiled. Points to check are the throttle, shifting mechanism and cables.

The boat's propeller can be a key to many worries. It should be checked for nicks, which can be repaired to avoid loss of performance.

Lights and the battery should be checked for proper operation. Finally, the motor's starter rope should be pulled slowly to check for free operation. When spark plugs are replaced, a good guide for those who do not have torque wrenches is to tighten them to finger tightness, then turn them three-quarters of a turn more with a spark plug wrench.

Tigers Whip Yanks, 10-6

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers broke out of an eight-game losing streak Saturday by whipping the New York Yankees, 10-6 before a local record crowd of 7,984.

After a shaky first inning in which the Yanks scored three times, starter Jim Bunning steadied and worked eight innings. Detroit was blanked for three innings by starter Ralph Terry but scored six times against loser Bud Daley in the middle innings.

Two-run homers by Rocky Colavito and Mike Roark brought Detroit its final runs against Jim Coates in the seventh.

The Yankees completed the Florida phase of spring training with a 17-10 record and a total attendance of 147,025. Detroit won eight, lost 17.

Big Catches Expected In Bass Meet

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI) — If weather is right, fishermen look for a record number of big fish to be caught here next week in the 1962 State Bass Tournament.

The meet is being held on West Texas waters for the first time, Thursday through Sunday, on North Concho and Nasworthy Lakes.

Both have been producing many large fish, and close observers are predicting that if the winds aren't up, catches during the four-day meet will be excellent.

Biggest bass ever caught in the meet's six-year history weighed 7 pounds 1 1/2 ounces. It was caught by Gordon Schmitt of Midland in the 1960 tournament on Lake Whitney.

Schmitt will be one of the favorites in this year's tourney, along with Bob Hill, Murray Muston, Bert Johnson and George Raven of Austin; Earl Cunningham of Brownwood; Bernard Stracener of Sweetwater; Bobby Jones of Abilene; Tom French of Lubbock; Vick Wolski of Waco; Jack Connally of Lorena; Jack Allen and Pearl Olds and K. I. Smith of Houston.

NET DIRECTOR
 EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Harry S. Meng, tennis coach at Pan American College, will be director of tennis at the Raquette Lake Girls Club at Raquette Lake, N.Y. this summer.

Meng, who turned professional Jan. 1, had an NIAA championship tennis team at Pan American last year.

NFL Resorts To 'Brain' For Schedule

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League resorted to an "electronic brain" for drawing up its 1962 schedule and came up with a few new twists for next season.

For one thing, the Eastern Division's top three clubs of last year — the New York Giants, Philadelphia Eagles and Cleveland Browns — will play one another in an early round-robin during the first three weeks of the season.

For another, the Baltimore Colts, who traditionally have wound up their season on the West Coast for the past nine years, will close at home in 1962. Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Tuesday that the 98-game, 14-week schedule will open on Sunday, Sept. 16, and run through Dec. 16. This is the same span as last season when the NFL expanded to 14 clubs.

The schedule includes one Saturday night game, two nationally televised Saturday afternoon games from the West Coast late in the season and the annual Thanksgiving Day clash between the champion Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions.

As in past years, each team will play games against two clubs from the opposite division. And it appeared that the Browns, St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Forty-Niners drew the toughest inter-conference matchups.

For years, the NFL schedule was made up by the commissioner and his aides, employing the trial and error methods of fitting together a jigsaw puzzle.

The task was complicated by the 14 NFL teams sharing their park with a major league baseball club, cold weather in certain cities toward the end of the campaign, and the demands of working out the 14 inter-conference games at an even ratio of one to one.

This year, for the first time in its 43-year history, the NFL used the data processing facilities of the Service Bureau Corp., a subsidiary of IBM, to determine the maximum number of schedules possible taking into account several given sets of basic conditions.

"The IBM equipment quickly proved the validity or non-validity of our scheduling pattern in many instances," Rozelle said, "and at the same time incorporated suggestions of its own which saved many hours of trial and error."

"One time we watched it compute and list in printed form a dozen schedules in eight minutes," Rozelle continued. "We can't even type one in that time, and in the early stages of making a schedule it sometimes takes us days just to come up with one playable arrangement."

Film Ready Of Cotton Bowl Classic

DALLAS — College football's stirring climax to one of its greatest seasons — the New Year's Day meeting of Texas and Mississippi in the Cotton Bowl — is now available for a "second" showing throughout the country, the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association advised Saturday. Played before a national television audience, the spectacular game is ready for "replay" in the form of a 24-minute highlight film.

Thrilling football and all of the excitement associated with this great bowl classic are featured in this film presentation. Recorded in color, the 1962 highlights are narrated by Eddie Barker, an announcer of long standing in Southwest Conference football.

Featured among the game highlights are Quarterback Mike Cotten of Texas, who was selected as the game's outstanding performer, and Quarterback Glynn Griffing, whose remarkable passing and ball-carrying generated suspense and excitement throughout the contest. Also, spotlighted in the selected sequences of play is the alert ballhawking of the Texas defenders, the deadly blocking and tackling of both teams, the touchdown plays and the big gains that led to the scores.

The narration begins with a brief history of the Classic that honors one of Texas' great industries with a name and a symbol. Next comes the replay of events that make the Cotton Bowl week a festive one, such as the Texas Sportswriters' Hall of Fame luncheon, the gala New Year's Eve party and the inspir-

Scribe Foresees Sir Gaylord Derby Win

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Fearless Fraley's farewell reflections at the end of a Florida safari:

Sir Gaylord will win the Kentucky Derby if his ankle heals in time for a couple of warmup races.

I know a guy who thinks it's a great gag to slip a baby alligator in your swimming pool.

And he considers one under three feet a "baby."

One "friend" is out to get even with a barracuda, live.

Freddie Hutchinson of the Reds acts like he can't believe yet that last year really happened.

Particularly October.

I'll take Sam Snead over Ben Hogan in his head-to-head series, which has to be one of the most widely-wagered events of the year.

Catch a snook and you're hooked on that kind of fishing for life.

I got to think that this is the year the Dodgers make it.

And (yawn) the Yankees.

I still think an owner should have to announce if it isn't "shooting" all out with his horse.

Too many of them dog it with their dogs until the spot and the price are right, meanwhile burning up the suckers' money.

It comes out like four-footed wrestling.

Guys who wear the collars of their sports shirts turned up make me feel a little queasy.

The greatest hurdles the trotting hopefuls have to clear to get legal in Florida are the jai alai and dog track operators shooting at the same night-time betting buck.

It beats me how football-wacky Ohio comes up with such a basketball lock.

Golf's newest betting dodge is to give a guy a stroke a hole, but he has to win every hole.

Halve one and he loses.

Arguing with immature ball players embarrasses me.

After all, I've been privileged to know real pros like Joe DiMaggio.

When you see Arnold Palmer crunch a drive you feel that the ball has to wind up lopsided.

I always feel cheated at the pony parlors if my horse never even gets a call.

And if you have to go to the dogs, they make it easy for you at Florida's Greyhound garages.

Maestro, have the band play "Manhattan," please.

Nagle, Leonard Added To Colonial Golf Entries

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Australian Kel Nagle, runnerup by a stroke the past two years, and Canadian Stan Leonard, a consistent money winner the past six years, were added Saturday to the field for the 17th annual Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament May 10-13.

Their selection brought to 48 the number of places filled in the invitation-only 54-player field for the $40,000 tournament.

Nagle had the tournament's first hole-in-one last year en route to a record-equalling 65 on opening day. He fired a 67 the final day to finish a stroke back of champion Doug Sanders' 281 and had shot a 281 in 1960 to wind up a stroke shy of Julius Boros' winning 280. Leonard, eight-time Canadian PGA champ, has been out of the

Indians Are Out After Yankees Scalp In '62 Diamond Season

EDITORS NOTE: This is another in a series of dispatches sizing up the prospects of the major league baseball teams.

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International
TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—You can tell most of the Cleveland Indians without a scorecard, but just where they will be playing this season is a different matter.

For Mel McGaha, the strict manager who took over from folksy Jim Dykes on the final day of the disappointing 1961 season, has numerous combinations with which to work the old "who's on first?" routine.

One thing is certain — at least in the mind of McGaha. The Tribe is entering the 1962 campaign with the idea of beating out the New York Yankees for the pennant.

"Last year is forgotten!" McGaha snaps when reminded that Cleveland finished fifth, 30 games behind New York and did not win a game in Yankee Stadium. "This is 1962. We're going after first place. It defeats your purpose when you think any differently."

The Tribe apparently needs more fire at the top and McGaha can provide it. Attendance is sagging and sideline chatter is that it would have been even worse last year without dynamic Jim Piersall in center field.

Now he has been traded to Washington while Johnny Temple, the second baseman, was dealt to Baltimore, and Vic Power, the first baseman, to Minnesota. Left fielder Tito Francona — who figures to become the first baseman again in the mixmaster setup — has said that Cleveland should not depend on a Piersall for its attendance.

"We're going to be pennant contenders and that should bring out the crowds," Tito declared.

The club also could use another Bob Feller to build up the gate and left-hander Sam McDowell eventually may be it. A fast-baller whose curve still needs work, McDowell compiled a 13-10 mark for last place Salt Lake City in 1961.

"But center field?"

"We aren't worried about it!" McGaha says. "There is Ty Cline, very fast, and Don Dillard and Chuck Essegian ready to play it, or Woody Held, our shortstop, who came into the majors as a center fielder."

If Cline makes good, and he batted .290 at Salt Lake last year, Francona may stay on in left field and Willie Kirkland in right. The infield also would be set if Jerry Kindall, which the Indians obtained from the Chicago Cubs in exchange for pitcher Bobby Locke, played up to expectations.

That would give McGaha a near veteran arrangement with Bubba Phillips at third, Held at short and converted catcher Gene Green at first. If Green doesn't work out, then Francona will play first and Essegian will take his spot in left field.

But a whirl of the dials could even-dispatch Phillips to center, and put Mike De La Hoz at third. The Indians seem in good behind the plate with steady John Romano backed by Harry Chiti and the movable reer.

McDowell is the hot rookie of the crop. Cleveland needs a left-handed pitcher and some pundits claim that lack of southpaw hurling was what ruined the Indians in Yankee Stadium.

Discounting McDowell, who may be back in the minors anyway for more seasoning, McGaha has a "big four" consisting of right-handers.

They could be lead by Dick Donovan, who was 10-10 with feeble Washington last year and paced the American League with an earned run average of 2.40. Donovan was acquired in the deal that sent Piersall to the Senators. Or the staff could be led by Pedro Ramos (11-20) picked up a couple of days ago from Minnesota in exchange for Power.

The rest of the key hurlers are Barry Latman (13-5), Jim Perry (10-17), Gary Bell (12-16) plus reliever Frank Funk (11-11).

Pitching Coach Mel Harder has said that this could be the year for Bell, a hurler of much potential, to gain some maturity that could make him arrive.

The fiery Temple was traded to Baltimore for Chiti, pitcher Art Kay who might beef up the bullpen, and utilityman Buddy Barker.

Kindall, Temple's replacement, is sharp defensively but comes into the American League with a .242 batting average. McGaha points out, however, that Kindall led the National League's second baseman in slugging percentage.

Incidentally, Kindall also can play shortstop and first base. McGaha has banned clubhouse card games, may take out the clubhouse phone, and also is ready to "take out" anybody who

'Hazel' Moves Into Number Three Spot in Nation's Television Ratings

By RICK DU BROW United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The television series that awes the boys at the networks is not "Ben Casey" or "Dr. Kildare"—but "Hazel," which has bolted into the No. 3 spot in the national ratings behind "Wagon Train" and "Bonanza."

What has "Hazel" got? Shirley Booth, and nothing else. But she's enough. If you tuned in the NBC-TV show Thursday night, you got a pretty good sample of why.

The crisis this time was that after arranging a pajama party for a group of teen-age girls, she is told she isn't wanted at the affair because she's too old.

cerned with cooking and cleaning and keeping the family and neighborhood kids happy. Little else counts with her. She is full of warmth and simplicity, but she can be a con artist, with a knowing earthiness that stems from the rough-and-umble of the big city rather than the blarney of the suburbs.

Thursday night, amid all those beautiful people associated with the grist-mill domestic television comedies, she was the only thing approaching reality, strumming a ukelele and croaking a song magnificently like a waterfowl maid at midnight. I don't know how a happy water buffalo looks splashing around, but I'll bet Miss Booth came close.

When Miss Booth isn't on "Hazel" is dead. It is not as loud as "I Love Lucy" or as rapid as "Ozzie and Harriet." It is just depressingly cute. But when she's on, her craftsmanship has been so effective that she has slaughtered her position: "The Gertrude Berg Show," which has been cancelled by CBS-TV, and "Margie," which ABC-TV may not renew.

Film 'Diamond Head' Weathers Storm

By ERSKINE JOHNSON Hollywood Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn. KAUAI, Hawaii (NEA) — Instead of "Diamond Head," they should have been refilming "Rain." But who could have predicted an unseasonal "Kona" storm — 14 inches of rain in three days? It was as curious for Hawaii as the "Genuine Ivy League Aloha Shirts" on dancers in Honolulu and the native dancers now putting the "twist" into their hulas.

The rain turned Kauai's rich red earth into mud and smudged red ink on Bresler's carefully prepared budget. But it was a big budget for a big movie and it could bend. Shooting schedules were juggled along with the budget, and when the hot sun and blue skies returned even red ink would fade.

There were other days, however, when Bresler would have blown his top over rain, mud, delays and a horse that couldn't tell the difference between a grass skirt and a pitchfork of hay.

They were the depression days of the early '30s when movies were made in Hollywood — and no one made "B" westerns of quality faster than Bresler. He was on his way to the big time of "Diamond Head" then. He produced Bob Steele westerns — 92 in a row — on seven-day schedules for $10,000 each.

To save 50 cent casting bureau "service" charges on extras, Bresler personally picked and hired them. On outdoor locations in San Fernando Valley he started shooting close-ups before sun.

Don't Condemn The Barrel

Not so many years ago the nation's stock exchanges were, so to speak, in the nature of private clubs. Only a handful of people bought and sold securities. The change that has taken place in recent times is revolutionary. It is estimated that 15 million people now own stocks. Three-fourths of them are in the medium or low income brackets—under $10,000 a year per family. So the stock market has become a mass market. This gives great significance to the grave charges that have been brought against one of this country's exchanges—charges that include price rigging and other derelictions—and which, so far, have resulted in the resignation of a number of exchange's top executives. An intensive investigation is underway.

Leaders and Followers

Natural leadership derives from the qualities of leadership which exist within the leader. It does not derive from the followers of that leader. Some men have many followers, and yet they are not leaders. Some leaders have few if any followers and yet, they truly lead.

How To Get Things Done

That one last winter snow probably has not yet decided to skip the Top O' Texas. You never can tell. There have been some dandies here in April. But, before we say a final goodbye to winter, an item of note has come to us from Milwaukee, Wis. There, in that inland port city, Old Man Winter was a rather rough visitor this year. Enormous drifts of snow stacked up all over the city. The government snow-removal teams had done a mighty poor job of keeping streets open. Actually, many streets had been virtually blocked by huge escarpments built up on both sides of roads. Traffic wound precariously through the choked arteries and transportation had been reduced to a crawl. But a glimmering of initiative and freedom was duly noted in the Milwaukee newspapers. It seems that one Charles L. Haubrich, a shop-keeper, had become impatient with the delays and the procrastination of government equipment and shovellers. So, on his own cognizance and at his own cost, Mr. Haubrich hired some landscaping trucks and ordered that the snow in a four-block strip on North Green Bay Avenue, where he has two businesses, be taken away. In three nights, the private snow removal teams cleared the streets and the sidewalks, and a passage in the four-block region was restored to normal. The bill submitted for the effort came to $1,750. That is a great deal of money and Mr. Haubrich thought a number of businessmen in his vicinity might be prevailed upon to pay for a part of this snow removal since they were as largely benefited as he was. In the four-block area are 180 merchants. He began to approach them with the idea that they ought to reimburse him on the basis of a 50 cents charge per front foot. "I'm not a philanthropist," Haubrich said. "And there would have been too much delay if I'd gone around to get the money (from merchants) first. It would have been June, and the snow would have been gone. Now the snow is gone, and I can take my time collecting. I'll probably run into some guy who won't pay, but it's only money." "I'm glad I did it, especially when I drive to work each morning down Green Bay Avenue after backing Third Street traffic." Now there will be scores who will rise to claim that Mr. Haubrich's collection of funds on an ex post facto basis is a lost cause. They will tell you, now that the snow is gone, the businessmen will take advantage of the

In this age when so many articles are disposable after having been used once, we may next have a throw-away automobile. Anyway, as an experiment, the U.S. Army is building an all-plastic car whose parts will be so cheap that even a faulty engine would be thrown away instead of being repaired—and still represent a saving in money, if not time. Here it is only early spring, but right now there are enough turkeys in cold storage to provide two Thanksgiving dinners for every man, woman and child in the U.S. In fact, there is such an abundant supply that such items as boneless turkey rolls, turkey sausage, turkey mince meat, and smoked boneless turkey may soon be on the market.

A nerve originating in the brain, called the vagus, is known as "the worry nerve," and plays a large part in causing stomach ulcers. It's because the vagus stimulates the stomach to secrete an unusual amount of stomach acids.

Today's favorite gag: YOUNG DOCTOR—"Well, how are your broken ribs this morning?" PATIENT—"Pretty fair, but I've had a stitch in my side since I woke up." YOUNG DOCTOR—"Well now, that's excellent. That shows the bones are knitting." . . . Fool-proof photography: In a new home movie projector, there are no reels, no threading of film, and no sprockets. The film is encased in a cartridge which is inserted in the machine. By and large, a married woman has more chance of becoming a widow than dying, because, in the first place, married men have a higher death rate than married women of the same age; and secondly, women in the majority of instances are married to men older than themselves.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. The management of the Seattle exposition turned it down, but we still like the idea of the fellow who proposed what he called a "Screamatorium," described as a soothing and relaxing attraction to consist of a number of small, sound-proof rooms in which a patron could yell as loud and long as he wished. And for a slight extra fee it was proposed to give each customer a supply of cheap glassware and electric light bulbs to smash. . . 3. Thomas Carlyle, for all his philosophic wisdom, made one bum guess, in case he expected it to stick. Nearly a century ago he wrote: "Providence has given to the French the empire of the land, to England that of the sea, to the Germans that of the air." And now look! . . . 4. Don't look now, but a dead haddock may be running your automobile. Anyway, nearly all geologists agree that the petroleum now pumped out of the earth was originally living matter of past ages—and probably fish.

Country editor speaking: "A Vacation You Can Afford" is the title of a new travel folder. How interesting! We didn't know anybody ever took that kind."

All of which serves to illustrate one of the points we have tried to make repeatedly. Don't spell the individual short. When government fails and when organized efforts don't even begin to function, keep in mind that ONE MAN who is determined to do the right thing, probably isn't going to be deserted by others who admire courage and forthright action and will back it up.

Who knows just how rapidly the snow might have been removed at the outset, if only so many hadn't been waiting for the tax boys to do the job.

Bill—So you really think your memory is improving under treatment. You remember things now? Will—Well, not exactly, but I have progressed so far that I can frequently remember that I have forgotten something, if I could only remember what it is.

Take-over of U.S. Utility Holdings Considered By Brazil; Goulart to Sound Out JFK

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The fate of the $1.2 billion in private U.S. utility holdings in Brazil will be at stake when President Kennedy receives Brazil's President Joao Goulart at the White House this week.

The President has advanced warning that the man he is betting on to help "save" Latin America from economic chaos and Communism will sound him out on a proposal calling for the nationalization of all private utilities and banks in Brazil.

This massive government take-over is being pushed by Francisco Clemente San Tiago Dantas, the pro-Soviet Foreign Minister and one of President Goulart's most influential advisers.

Dantas, a former leader of the Fascist Integralista party, let his closest confidants in the Brazilian embassy here know prior to President Goulart's arrival that the young Brazilian leader had agreed to raise the expropriation issue with President Kennedy.

According to Dantas' private message, President Goulart will argue that the most important step the President can take to promote better relations with Brazil will be to facilitate the sale to local authorities.

He will claim that the "public is demanding" the seizure of these foreign investments although there is no indication in the non-Communist Brazilian press that this is the case.

Already, Dantas has sent word to the State Department that President Goulart was very pleased with President Kennedy's press conference statement that nothing could be more unwise than congressional action to halt aid to Brazil or other countries because of expropriations of U.S. property there.

The President made the statement in discussing repercussions of the seizure on February 16 by the government of the Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul of a telephone company owned by the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation of New York.

He took the position that cooperation with President Goulart is the best policy for helping Brazil regain economic and political stability despite the unfortunate seizure.

THE GHOST RETURNS — This policy statement has now come back to haunt the President in preparing a strong case to present President Goulart against a take-over of U.S. investments there.

Diplomatically, the pronouncement put the President on record against using any threat to cut aid to block seizure of the U.S. property. Such an aid-withholding warning could have been the President's strongest weapon to deter any seizure since President Goulart is seeking upwards of $1 billion in U.S. aid to meet his government's budget deficit over the next three years.

Instead, the President is now planning to warn Goulart that the take-over of U.S. properties would discourage further investment of private U.S. capital. As a final argument, the President will demand that U.S. firms be fully reimbursed for their holdings if President Goulart insists on going ahead with the nationalization.

UNEASY TRUCE — Congressional leaders are so uneasy over President Goulart's visit that at first they balked at a request from Secretary of State Rusk to have him address a joint session of Congress.

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER
L. H. D.

The welfare state was conceived by good people who wanted to help the unfortunate. In some measure they succeeded, but the program is so destructive of character and self-reliance that the number of substandard, incompetent and unfortunate has grown rapidly at an over-accelerating rate.

Desertion and illegitimacy are rewarded handsomely, and are already out-of-bounds and increasing. The reason is apparent.

If a mother with dependent children earns anything at all in any type of part-time occupation, the sum is deducted from her welfare check. If any of her children earn anything at odd jobs that likewise is deducted. Few things are more injurious to children, or adults, than this encouragement to idleness. It lasts all through the teens and up to age 21.

The Aid-to-Dependent - Children program not only encourages idleness, but it is a powerful force operating to separate married couples and destroy families. Let us say that a man brings home $300 a month. There are seven children in the family and the mother discovers that she can collect nearly $350 a month from A.D.C. if her husband abandons her or she gets a divorce. Thus by separating, the total family income is increased more than 10 per cent.

Whether the couple seeks a divorce or the father merely disappears, the mother may collect more for herself and her children than the father earned. In either event, the husband may return as often as he wishes for such association with his family as may be considered mutually desirable. Somer or later, however, the family will be destroyed. Meanwhile, the children are being taught to live in an atmosphere of lying and deceitfulness. They grow up thinking it is right to live from the labor of others. Even in their teens, they branch out to collect incomes of their own by the same method. Four generations of these A.D.C. "clients" are now living from the public bounty.

There is no mystery about the population explosion. It is directly changeable to the "something-for-nothing" policy of the welfare state.

A long range effect of welfare statism is even more serious. It encourages an alarming population growth from the lower strata while levying the cost upon the wiser, more prudent and more competent portions of society. Because they are inordinately taxed, the latter limit the number of their children and then find themselves paying for the large families of the imprudent, the unwise, the incompetent, the substandard, the wasteful and chiselers.

Wake up America, and wake up world—for the axe has been laid to the roots of civilization! When the wealth of the competent is seized to maintain the incompetent, society is in the process of social degeneration. In a legal sense it is not stealing, but in a moral sense, it is just that, and no society can prosper if it so disregards the moral law. If society countenances the practice of allowing some to live from the labor of others, the drones will rapidly increase in numbers until industrious people of integrity and competence are crushed.

No people can long remain free and self-governing under the so-called welfare system existing in our country. We are now in the process of destroying self-government and bringing tyranny and totalitarianism upon ourselves. Eventually, it will be welcomed as the only means of avoiding the disintegration and chaos that people seek developing before their eyes.

The first step toward recovery is a return to the moral law of God. The second is to begin again to nourish integrity, self-reliance and patriotism in our homes, schools, churches, and by the spoken and printed word throughout the land.

West German Politicians Shape Up For The West

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The most reassuring news the Kennedy administration has received in a long time came from Dr. Erich Mende, leader of West Germany's Free Democratic party, on his official visit to Washington, just ended.

Immediately after the German elections last September, in which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's absolute parliamentary majority was broken by the Free Democrats, there was much fear that Germany's alliance with the West might be endangered.

There were even some reports that Mende might take the lead in making a new deal with Soviet Russia. Speculation on this was heightened after Germany's ambassador to Moscow, Hans Kroll, made overtures to the Kremlin. But he is being recalled and the reports on Mende are proved all wrong.

In his talks here, Mende gave assurances to President Kennedy, the State Department and the Pentagon that his 67 Free Democrats in the parliament and the 243 members of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union are in complete agreement on domestic and foreign policies.

There is, moreover, a coalition agreement between these two parties and the opposition Socialist Democratic party which will assure continuance of Germany's alliances with the Western powers for years to come.

The most important development in the last German elections, according to Mende, was that 93 per cent of the West German people voted for one of these three parties. This marked a complete change since 1949, when there were 12 parties, ranging from Communist to neo-Fascist.

Credit for this stabilization of the German political situation is given to Soviet Russia. Its Berlin and anti-German policies united the West German people into three major parties.

The coalition is now so strong that even the Socialists are supporting the German army. After the war the Socialists opposed rearmament and tried to make West Germany a neutral state.

The coalition is so strong that it is now claimed the 47-year-old Mende has a promise in writing from the 86-year-old Adenauer that he will step down as chancellor at an opportune time. This could come in June when the Christian Democratic Union holds its annual party convention.

There is a movement on to allow the chancellor to retain his title as party leader, but to elect a party manager who would be come its active head. Josef-Hermann Dufosse, minister of interior in North Rhine-Westphalia has been prominently mentioned for this post.

Vice Chancellor and Economic Minister Dr. Ludwig Erhard is still favored to become chancellor when Adenauer steps out, but former Foreign Minister Dr. Heinrich von Brentano and other Christian Democrats are in the running.

Even with a change in the chancellorship, Mende gave assurance here of continued, united German support of American leadership in the free world and opposition to Russia. Any possibility of another Treaty of Rapallo, which in 1922 allied Germany with Russia, is now completely ruled out.

On the Berlin question, Mende reported here that the ideal solution would of course be re-establishment of Berlin as capital of a united Germany. That being impossible because of Russian opposition, the best solution is maintenance of the status quo to save the two million Germans in West Berlin.

This involves continued stationing of Western troops in Berlin, guarantees of free access to and from West Germany and guarantees of the city's viability, which Bonn now supports.

To give in to Russia on Berlin, Dr. Mende declared, would merely mean that the Communists would use it for further incursions in western Europe.

On the question of arming West Germany with nuclear weapons, Mende declared that the present coalition government favors furnishing rockets to the German army, with control of the nuclear warheads by American or NATO forces.

The three German parties were reported agreed that any disarmament must be accompanied by political solutions for existing problems in Central Europe.

Creation of a so-called neutral zone in this area could be considered only if it could be extended east to the Volga River in Russia, or to a line running from Archangel on the Arctic to Astrakhan on the Caspian Sea. Since that would include Moscow, Russia will of course never agree to such a proposal.

The American Way

HOW TO KILL A FREE PRESS! (EDITOR'S NOTE: Guest columnist Raymond C. Baker is a former newspaperman who knows what skyrocketing costs are doing to America's free press.)

The United States postal service, largest single revenue-producing enterprise in the world, is only slightly more modern than the extinct buggy whip factory and far behind the old model-T Ford in research and development.

As strange as this may seem in a nation that leads all others in technological development, the postal system is hardly as modern as the average mom'n pop grocery store, to say nothing of the up-to-date super market.

During the past 12 years, the post office has spent about 33 cents—repeat, 33 cents—out of every $100 of appropriation for research, development and mechanization. This compares with an average for all industry of $3 out of every $100 of budget for research and development, exclusive of mechanization which is considered capital investment.

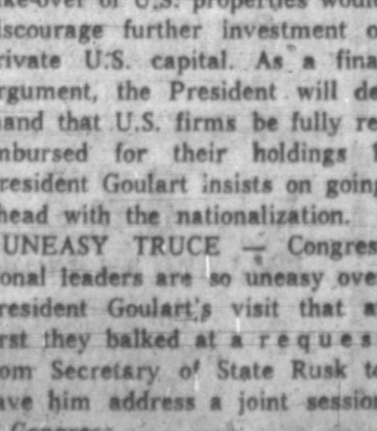

Some industries, such as chemicals and electronics, spend much more for research. Postmaster General Day is back this year asking Congress for a $4.5 billion budget. But he is earmarking only $11.6 million of this fantastic sum for research and development and another $27 million for mechanization, a pittance, obviously much too leisurely to achieve savings and reduce expenditures and postal rates.

Instead of a large scale modernization program, the Postmaster General is back before Congress with the hardy perennial—increased rates to make up an $850 million gap between receipts and expenditures.

On the Berlin question, Mende reported here that the ideal solu-

A. BRUNS, PASTOR
ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

LUKE 18, 31-33

Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of Man shall be accomplished. For He shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: and they shall scourge Him and put Him to death: and the third day He shall rise again.

Jesus spoke these words to His disciples shortly before His death. With these words Jesus would prepare His friends for that moment when He would bow His head and die. This most important event in the history of the world was immediately before them. Of course Christmas is important but immediately before them was the fulfilling of the purpose of His coming into the world. For this the disciples must be prepared, but in spite of what Jesus said and did, they were not well prepared to meet the temptations set before them: Peter denied Him — Judas betrayed Him — they, one and all, forsok Him and fled with the approach of danger. — As the disciples, so we alone must be prepared for the wonderful Easter morn. Only when we have seen and felt our sins and guilt as the real cause for which Jesus was born, bled and died on the cross, will Easter mean to us what it is intended. That is why many churches observe the Lenten Season, beginning with Ash-Wednesday and ending with the Saturday before Easter. This period is observed differently in the various congregations, but the purpose shall always remain the same: to bring the attention of our hearts and consciences most forcefully that it was our sin and guilt which brought the Savior to the earth, forced Him to die on the cross. Only then when we have the proper understanding of the relationship between our iniquities and the Savior's death, will we be in a position to appreciate and rejoice in the resurrection of our Lord who raised was again for our justification. This assures us that our redemption is complete, God is reconciled and we have access to the Father's forgiving heart. When we have been assured of this what else can we do than that which St. Paul enjoins on us all: He died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him who has died for them and rose again? (2 Cor. 5:15).

The Strange, Silent War Of The Future

EDITORS NOTE: The United States is engaged in a grim race with Russia to develop silent secret weapons that could immobilize entire cities but leave them undamaged. The following dispatch describes what American officials are doing to develop such capability — and more important, devise means of protecting the nation against such an attack.

By DARRELL GARWOOD
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's a war of the future and the enemy — anxious to make slaves of the population — has just spread a strange gas over a large, unsuspecting city.

In the streets, people wander dazed and stare vacantly as an invading army rumbles in to take over.

There is no resistance. No one dies. No buildings are destroyed, and the population is easily overwhelmed before the gas loses its effect.

The U.S. government has an official name for something like this — CBR. In initial happy Washington this stands for chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

In the grim world of CBR, there is a possibility that gases and even germs may be employed to spare lives and property that otherwise would be destroyed in a nuclear war.

Both the United States and Russia know this.

The potentialities are such that the U.S. government is making an intensive and rapidly growing effort to find out what it is all about. It is a two-way street: to develop the weapons, then find ways to defend against them.

The responsibility for the U.S. program now is in the hands of Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, the white-haired, 53-year-old chief of the Army Chemical Corps. His office is in charge of CBR.

Stubbs currently is engaged in putting through a vast reorganization and expansion of the chemical service. Intelligence sources have indicated that Russia may be two years ahead in gas and germ research, and Stubbs' budget is doubling compared with a year ago.

Even so, at a level of about $200 million for the year beginning July 1, the CBR budget will be a mere drop in the bucket compared to the billions spent on nuclear forces.

But the subject Stubbs deals with could be as deadly on a mass scale as a nuclear attack. It also has advantages — if a field so grim can have "advantages" — over nuclear weaponry.

For example, the Army has told

Congress that considerable progress has been made on a gas that could disable the population of a city like New York for several hours — time enough for an army to march in and take over.

This has been described as "an effective gas which disorients a person, makes a person incapable of realizing what he is doing under the influence of the gas."

It was Stubbs who advanced the view that CBR warfare possibly could be used to spare lives and property, whereas a nuclear bomb would destroy both. He discussed the subject in an interview at his headquarters in a wartime temporary building across from Washington National Airport. He does not share the belief of some that CBR poses a greater threat to the human race than nuclear weapons.

"It should be remembered," he said, "that the effect to be achieved by chemical and biological weapons can be selective. They need not kill or even cause permanent injury."

This raised the possibility that a ruthless aggressor might want to save a country's population — as well as its industry — for work after a war. If so, Stubbs said, the enemy might be enabled to do so by great scientific advances in the so-called incapacitants. These are military derivatives of ordinary tranquilizers. "Complete recovery without treatment is one of the requirements for an agent to be considered an incapacitant," the general said.

He described a CBR compound which causes ascending paralysis, starting in the limbs, finally leaving breathing as the only muscular activity. Complete recovery occurs within a matter of hours.

Other compounds induce sleep, or cause confusion, irrationality or even hilarity.

Finn J. Larsen, civilian head of the Army research and development program, told the Senate Armed Services Committee recently: "This year we have a significant increase in the chemical and biological warfare program."

"In view of the advances in this field made by some of our potential enemies, I think that our program must continue to increase in the future if we are to develop adequate protection for our forces against the possible use of these weapons."

It was shortly after hearing Larsen's remark that Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., commented, "If we get down to a war of extermination, I hope the few people that are left will be living in the United States rather than somewhere else."

Marine Is 'Drummed Out' Of Corps

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Three years ago a Tennessee youth enlisted in the Marines. Today he is a civilian — a "drummed out" Marine who served as an example of the seriousness of a bad conduct discharge.

The youth, now 20 and headed for a new life and job in California, was put through a ceremony dating back centuries but which was only recently revived at the Norfolk naval installation's Marine barracks.

Two days ago, he told a friend "this isn't the easiest way to get out," and slowly walked onto the front lawn of the barracks.

As three drummers methodically beat out "The Death March," the youth, just released from the brig where he served a larceny sentence, heeded the orders of an officer and briskly stepped forward.

He faced four platoons of Marines wearing dress greens. Between him and the formation was a sergeant major. To the side stood the chaser — a Marine guard, a lance corporal about the same age as the prisoner.

The sergeant major read an order which climaxed the Marine's three years in the corps.

"Bad conduct discharge from the armed forces of the United States of America. This is to certify that — — — was discharged from the United States Marine Corps on the fourth day of April, 1949, by review of sentence of a special court martial. Signed, William C. Capehart."

The prisoner continued to look forward as he took the paper. "Escort this man from the con-lines of this United States Navy reservation," the officer said to the chaser.

The tall, lean young man was directed by the chaser to walk to the end of the formation.

With the drums rolling again he did a stiff about-face and walked past the four platoons.

As he passed the first platoon the enlisted men turned their backs. He kept walking. The chaser followed three steps behind.

After he had marched down the freshly cut lawn, all four platoons had their backs turned.

When he reached the gate, the drums stopped.

'Job Dictionary' Helped In Recent Steel Settlement

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A tool which aided in producing the recent steel wage settlement was a sort of job dictionary which helped, as it has in other years, to eliminate in advance points which might have been subject to negotiation in other industries, a consultant said today.

It was a job evaluation study, representing in its essentials what is determined as a day's work in a day's job at various levels among production and maintenance workers in basic steel, explained Douglas S. Keogh Jr., president of American Associated Consultants.

Under the new agreement, a joint committee has been established to study job classification manuals and bring them up to date by 1963, reflecting the realization that methods in basic steel production are subject to constant change, Keogh said.

"It's an instrument by which one job can be related to another," said Keogh. "It's a cooperative study between labor and management, and represents an effort to arrive at basic standards for a job."

"It represented a system which can transfer the necessary skills, the handicaps and other factors of any production or maintenance job in basic steel into a point system, and it is unique in that it wasn't just created, but grew out of the wage pattern as it historically developed in the steel industry."

Keogh said he was not certain whether the same idea could be applied to every mass industry.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Presents:

Woman Of The Year For 1962

Mrs. Ruby Capps
... mother, counselor, teacher

MRS. RUBY CAPPS, mother of a teenage daughter and son and Pampa Junior High School Counselor, has been named Woman of the Year by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and will be honored this afternoon by the sorority and her friends at a Yellow Rose Tea to be held in the Coronado Inn at three o'clock.

MRS. CAPPS has been credited with doing more to raise the moral standards of young people than any other one person. In working principally with underprivileged children, she is a dedicated person, whose counseling is available at whatever hour it may be needed. In giving more of herself than is normally required, as a teacher and counselor, day in and day out, the fruits of her labor are much in evidence. Though much of her efforts are put forth in a "behind-the-scenes" manner, thus, much of her good work will never be known as to its origin. She has been responsible for placing several boys in Boys' Ranch and has given assistance in countless numbers of ways to other underprivileged youths. Almost without exception, students returning from college find their way to her door either for a friendly visit or for the solution to some personal problem. It has been said by those who know her well that "hers is an unselfish devotion to duty and sincere expression of true brotherly love... giving so much and expecting nothing in return." And in the words of one of her former students... "she is a rare one."

UPPER RIGHT PHOTO — Two mornings a week at 8:15 a.m., Tuesdays and Fridays, will find Mrs. Capps directing the activities of the Pampa Junior High School Student Council as its sponsor. This year, the student council has assumed the project of beautification of the school campus by planting flowering bushes and shrubs. Pictured above at one of the Student Council's executive board meetings with Mrs. Capps are, left to right, Jim Arthur, Twillo Preuss and Paula Sealey. Seated just out of camera range were Betty Hinderliter, Jill Zuerker and Pat Ludeman.

LOWER LEFT PHOTO — Mrs. Ruby Capps is one of the most valuable spiritual leaders in the First Baptist Church, where she has been a member for 17 years. Each Sunday morning will find her serving as associate superintendent of the 17-year-old age group in Sunday School. She also does substitute teaching. Last year, she had a Sunday School Class composed of 7-year-old girls. Each Sunday evening will find her working with the 5-year-old group in the Baptist Training Union, where she has served for the past 8 years. The picture below shows Mrs. Capps reading a story to the five-year-olds, who are encircled around her just out of camera range.

LOWER RIGHT PHOTO The Woman of the Year for 1962 serves as co-ordinator in Pampa for the American Field Service program. Participating in the National program began here as a "dream" of hers in 1955, when she accompanied the Pampa High School Student Council to a national convention of student councils in Roswell, N.M. and heard a group of AFS students tell of their enthusiasm for the program. After much planning and thoughtful organizing, the "dream" became a reality, when the first two AFS students came here in 1960. Mrs. Capps is pictured above entertaining the two AFS students, who are currently studying in Pampa High School, Chris Jonsson of Sweden and Cathy Papatanasopoulou of Patris, Greece, at an All-American dinner of barbecued hamburgers, baked beans and cream cocoa-nut pie.

20th Century Allegro Has Records Program

Mrs. Ewert R. Duncan presented a program on "A Guide to Children's Records" at the Twentieth Century Allegro Club meeting on Tuesday, April 3rd, in the home of Mrs. J. W. Cundith, 1124 Crane, with Mrs. W. P. Bridges as co-hostess. Mrs. Duncan said, "Nearly all young children have a unique capacity for understanding and appreciating good music. Love of music is as natural in little children as is their love of play. This capacity for appreciation should be a prime consideration with any parent when he goes out to buy a children's record. Unfortunately, this innate good taste is too often debased. First, by parents who let their own lack of taste shape the child's concept of good music, and second, by record manufacturers who sacrifice taste and responsibility in their hunt for a fast sale. The youngster who at ten can sneer at concert music as music for "sissies" did not come by these prejudices naturally. They were drilled into them, perhaps unconsciously, by a generation of irresponsible adults.

Rho Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Talk Is By Exchange Student From Greece

The Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday, March 27, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Bill Duncan, 415 N. Somerville.

Mrs. James Trusty introduced Miss Cathy Papathanassopoulou, an exchange student from Greece, who presented the program for the evening. She is living in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Julian Key. Cathy showed pictures of her country and explained the differences in religion, schools and government here and there. After her talk, members were given an opportunity to ask questions they might have had about Greece.

A short business meeting followed the program. It was voted to donate some money to the Mental Health Association. Mrs. Cletus Mitchell presented a report of the Social Committee on the success of a barbeque which was held March 16 at Pam-Cel. Approximately forty-two members and guests attended.

Physical Fitness Program Is Given To Parent Education Club

Mrs. Boyd Taylor presented the program, "Report of the White House Council on Physical Fitness" for the April 3 meeting of the Parent Education Club. Mrs. Taylor presented numerous opinions and studies which stated that American youth today lags far behind other countries in physical fitness. Mrs. Boyd quoted Bonnie Prudden saying that "high school girls in Rye, New York, had a worse failure rate in fitness tests than the little old ladies in a retirement home." Mrs. Prudden went on to say that, "In 1955 our 6-year-olds had a 54 per cent failure on fitness tests, compared with a 4 per cent failure in Europe; today our rate is 82 per cent failure."

Mrs. Taylor read from the pamphlet prepared by the Parents' council on youth fitness; and emphasized the four recommendations made by this council to correct the inferior physical fitness of American youth. The recommendations were: (1) Pupils who have a low level of muscular strength, ability, and flexibility should be identified by a screening test as part of the health appraisal. Pupils so identified should be required to participate in a program of developmental exercises and activities designed to raise their physical performance to desirable levels. (2) At least 15 minutes of vigorous exercises and developmental activities should be included in the daily physical education period. (3) Valid test of physical achievement should be used to determine pupil status, measure progress, and motivate pupils to achieve increasingly higher levels of physical fitness. (4) The school should strive to provide a comprehensive program of health education and physical education for all pupils.

At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Taylor presented each member present with a copy of the fitness test prepared by the President's council on youth fitness. Mrs. Taylor suggested that each member test her own children and use the exercises on the test to increase the fitness of those children which ranked below the "excellent" point.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By FRANK D. SMITH
Why do Shoes have heels?

To assume that our feet need heels one must assume that God gave us a heel bone that is too short. It is hardly a safe assumption to make. Children get around beautifully in their bare feet. Their heelbones are just as long in winter as they are in summer. Primitive man had the best reason for wearing heels. He or Mrs. Primitive made his foot covering of skins, as we do, except that the only way they had to tan the leather was to chew it. In no time at all the heel wore through and once it was worn-out it was difficult to patch. Some jaw-weary caveman put the patch on when he made the shoe and when the patch wore through he still had a shoe that could be fixed. From that common sense beginning we have drifted upward until we raise the heel of a three year old a half inch, a six year old an inch, and the really stylish shoes for women hit three inches. One and a half inch heels used to be considered as necessary as a good strong corset. Fortunately young people have their feet on the ground. They wear heels for dress occasions but most of the time they are in their stocking feet around the house. They will miss the exquisite torture of bunions, corns, and hammer toes. It is too bad that boys do not go for freedom of feet as the girls do.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Cree was given a standing ovation in appreciation of her work and service as council president. Mrs. Cree adjourned the meeting with a verse of philosophy by Julian C. Hyer: "God answers prayer His way; To some it is 'yea', to others 'nay'; Despite how much we feel the need; How much we pray or beg or plead; In His good time and manner, He makes His reply to every plea; But with this we should end each one; 'Not my way, Lord, but Thine be done.'"

Dear Abby.... Congress Should Set "Old Maid's Day"

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and unmarried. I don't care if you call me an "Unclaimed Treasure" or an Old Maid. My complaint is that I have bought countless gifts for bridal showers and baby showers with no hope of getting anything back. Why doesn't the government declare OLD MAID'S DAY so girls like me can get even?

GIFT GIVER

DEAR GIVER: A beautiful idea. Write to your Congressman!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a family of 5 girls and 3 boys (all married with nice homes) who stick one brother with their 80-year-old father? He has made his home with us for 12 years. I am the "good" daughter-in-law. ("Sap" would be more like it.) He used to work part time, but now he is unable to work and is under my feet all day and all night. We asked if some of the others would take him for a few weeks and they flatly refused. I never have a free moment. He is in the living room 14 hours a day. He takes several naps every day but always on the living room sofa. I am ready for a nervous breakdown. Can you blame me?

HAD MY FILL
DEAR HAD: (And you were.) Since the father is your husband's, the problem should be handled by him. Your husband should gather his brothers and sisters together and ANNOUNCE that they are just as responsible for the care of their father as he is. There are enough of them to pitch in and give him all the comforts of a nice rest home; if they refuse to take him into their homes.

DEAR ABBY: If you are at a restaurant and someone stops by your table to say hello, but stands there and talks while your food is on the able, are you supposed to (1) go right on eating? (2) stop and let your food get cold?

VICTIM
DEAR VICTIM: If the person says more than hello and it looks like a long siege, invite him to sit down and say, "My food was just served and I would like to eat it while it's hot — I hope you won't mind." If this doesn't make him disappear, nothing will.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: I really enjoy and get a lot of good from your column. I live in a small town and have a question for you. I have a light gray coat and a beige hat. I'm wondering if these can be worn together for church and other functions. Someone told me once that beige and gray don't go together so I'm wondering.

Mrs. H. E. W.: This depends very much on the shades of both the gray and the beige. If the gray has a bit of beige coloring in it and the beige a bit of gray, they might team very well together. But this is what designer Louise Armour of William Fox has to say:

"Gray and beige CAN make a difficult color team. I think that I would replace the beige hat with a color such as soft yellow, turquoise, a clear pink or even white with a dash of color, perhaps red. Either a soft pastel or a vivid color would be lovely with the gray."

Dear Gaile: We are going on vacation to Miami Beach, Fla., and will stay at one of the hotels there. This will be the latter part of April. I have a black chiffon dress. The summer clothes I have are mostly blue, pink and white cottons. Can I use these? And what shoes should I take? I have some sandals in white and some others in natural straw. What are they wearing down south this year?—Mrs. P. S.

Dear Mrs. P. S.: I talked your questions over with designer Cecil Chapman. She feels that the black chiffon will be quite suitable but thinks you should leave those pastel cottons at home. This is what she says:

"I think you might be happier if you invested in some simple one-piece linen dresses in black, beige, turquoise, pink or a clear green. With these, simple shoes in white patent or white lizard worn with matching handbag. For the black chiffon, have peau de soie shoes in turquoise and pick up this color in a small evening bag.

"You'll need one or two simple cardigans to wear with linens and you'll need a small wrap for the black chiffon. Miami Beach is dressy and I think you'll feel happier if you follow this plan."

Dear Gaile: Will you please help me with my dress problem? On July 30th my son will graduate from the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. Would you please tell me what kind of dress to wear? I am middle-aged and stout. Tell me what color dress, hat, shoes gloves and bag to wear to the daytime ceremony. Also, there is a dinner Friday night.—Mrs. N. K.

Dear Mrs. N. K.: Designer David Crystal has a very complete answer for you on your fashion problem. He says:

"As you certainly want to look your best for your son's graduation, let's think in terms of a complete look rather than just a dress or suit.

"For the graduation itself, you want to appear cool and comfortable. I suggest a dress of care-free synthetic jersey with its own matching or contrasting sweater. The dress won't wrinkle or wilt. The matching jacket will come in handy if there's a breeze outdoors or air conditioning indoors. You might choose either navy or beige and have your accessories in white.

"For the dinner, black is your best bet. Have pure white kid gloves and black patent shoes and bag. The dress should be a pure silk shantung, one of the new wrinkle-free linens or possibly one of the miracle nylon wrap knit fabrics that are a breeze to care for and look lovely."

Please send your fashion problems to Gaile Dugas in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Following a welcome by D. V. Biggers, principal of Austin, Mrs. Cree presided at a business session during which she announced that the Spring PTA Conference for District 19 will be held in Perryton on May 1. "It is not a closed conference to delegates only. Anyone, who is interested is invited and urged to go," she announced.

Mrs. Cree also announced that a Parliamentary Procedure Course will be held on May 7 from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. in the Pampa Youth and Community Center. "Each member attending is to bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be provided by the City Council," she announced.

A Leadership Procedure Course is slated for May 15 from 9 a.m. until 11:30 in Travis School. All incoming officers and chairmen are urged to attend these courses.

Mrs. Brantly Hudson, as incoming council president, was introduced and she, in turn, introduced each of her officers and chairmen for the 1962-63 year.

Mrs. James Lewis, Texas State PTA Civil Defense chairman, was a special guest. She urged that units consult with council officers, who are qualified to assist with any problems that might arise during the year.

Peg O' Pampa

PAMPA ART CLUB provided a most delightful afternoon for its guests on Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library after arranging all of their beautiful paintings and crafts around the walls of the library and placing comfortable chairs and divans in two separate circles in the center of the large room for tete-a-tetes and sipping refreshments, they invited their friends in to see what they had been doing with their morning hours during club workshop sessions this winter, and, also what they had been able to crowd into those other leisure moments talented and creative women find to squeeze into a day when they are engaged in something.

Ruth Nienstiel fell the gigantic chore of co-ordinating the displays. she was general chairman and you know what that means. Hazel McCune and Ruth, also, must go the praises for the delightful centerpiece on the serving table, which they labeled "Spring" for it had to have a name!

Ruth had made the oblong, green ceramic container, which was filled to the brim with fresh, moistened dirt. A portion of the soil was brushed away and a mirror placed just below the surface to resemble a lake. spreading branches of a peach limb simulated a towering oak with tiny, tiny birds perched on its branches. beneath the "tree" were the first flowers of Spring. real jonquils. real aqua. real flowering quince. real crocuses. just on the edge of the lake was a small rock with a tiny, tiny frog poised ready to jump into the lake. fantastically delightful. another bit of whimsy noted was the small rock, which, by natural formation and erosion, had its center scooped out to form sort of a pot.

Peggy Palmittier whimsically filled it with fresh dirt, placed a few bits of brightly colored glass under a spray of yellow flowers and labeled it "Painter's Pot" from two until five o'clock, Honey Hart, Vic Houchin and Rachel Pursley presided at the silver coffee service, which was served with a variety of cookies to more than 200 guests attending from Pampa, Borger and Amarillo.

A CONVERSATION PIECE on one of the coffee tables in the tete-a-tetes area was an artistic piece of laminated glass that "went wrong" Bethel Shirley, who had so many other lovely things on display, was entitled to this error, which she pensively titled, "What Happened?" artist do have a sense of humor about themselves! it would have been such a lovely serving piece had not the lower layer of glass exploded into odd and jagged shapes!

PAINTINGS, THIS YEAR, seemed to out-number the crafts since most of the Pampa Art Club members have been devoting themselves to that phase. lovely paintings in tempera, oils and water colors. Ted Hicks had a particularly charming picture titled "The Old Farm" and Rachel Pursley had hung two delightful charcoal of her granddaughter and grandson. we liked the oil by Francis Appleby entitled "White Roses" and a tempera, "Brass Urn" by Mont Cox (who was telling friends that her daughter, Anna Marie, has just accepted a position as a feature writer on a Lubbock paper). another series of paintings that were catching eyes was the oil by Mary Hills, "Racing Out The Storm" and "Aftermath" by Lorene Johnson, water color on texture.

Madeline Pursley, Olive Hills, Rachel Pursley and Mona Cox displayed some lovely china-painted pieces in pastels. and Dona Cornut had some beautiful work done with interesting glazes on greenware.

IN THE CRAFT DISPLAYS. piano keys were turned into an attractive ebony and silver necklace and earring set by Ruth Nienstiel, who also had made a twisted and twirled silver hairpin, which we can just see in her long hair. there was a gracefully designed ceramic and copper enameled ashtray by Leone Davies, who also showed a ceramic patio bell, which she had created and which should pleasantly summon guests to the picnic table when the Davies are "cooking out". lots of interesting things had been done with melted glass, Honey Hart had a most interesting looking bottle that had been filled with bits of pink glass then melted into an odd shape to form an ash-tray. Bethel Shirley had used a green wine bottle filled with bright bits of glass with a gold mermaid reclining in the neck of the bottle. the whole thing had been fired and melted into an interesting ashtray. Ann Heske decorated a miniature Christmas tree with sparkling octagon-shapes, which she had obtained by clipping from a furnace filter and had studded with bright baubles. and Hazel McCune had made a charming copper trivet. by twisting and curling copper strips into spiraling shapes.

ALSO IN THE CRAFTS display. Bernice Ward incorporated a practical item with an artistic flair with her house-number done in mosaic tile. there was a bit of interesting business appointing the display tables. again furnace filter frames had been put to artistic use as screens. the frames had been sprayed black and backed with sprayed foil and lighted from behind. Hazel McCune displayed a fiber painting mounted on cork and framed with a bamboo border. Doris Gregory had an interesting study done in brown and beige tones with poppy, alfalfa, mustard and parakeet seeds. an outstanding creation in glass and enamel on tile was hung by Robin Gantz. a three foot by five feet scene of Grecian or was it Roman fighters in colorful combat which was titled "Crossfire" at least for the duration of the exhibit. Floye Crites had modeled and fired a delicate bouquet of pink roses mounted on black velvet and framed in white Antique, which she plans to hang in her daughter's room. lucky girl! Wind-Turners were another bit of interesting art, which had turned into practicality. interesting shapes of laminated glass were hung within a frame on a strong cord. to sway and turn with the breeze. created by Peggy Palmittier, who also had on display a colorful creation of brushed glass fired on tile framed in gold. it's interesting to know the source of this crushed glass. she used crushed Milk of Magnesia bottles. Mexican blue glass. tail-lights from automobiles. a chlorox bottle. and when she needed a particular color of red, she bought a dime-store dish. which didn't exactly cost a dime! Viola Doggett used mosaic on burlap to form a distinctive picture of a willow plant, which she had also framed.

AT FIVE O'CLOCK, the Pampa Art Club members closed up shop for an hour or so. went home and got their husbands and brought them back down to see all of the artistic reasons that dinner had been late on several winter evenings. and why shirts had not been ironed on time. and why there had been a lack of cakes or pies for dessert. cause, just who had time to bake a cake or pie at the same time a piece of glass or a ceramic piece is in the kiln! we imagine they understood perfectly after their eyes had feasted upon all of the beautiful things they saw. An-artist-at-heart, Peg.

Regional Exhibition For Artists Set In Amarillo

A regional citation art exhibition, to be held in Amarillo May 3, will provide Panhandle area artists the opportunity to take citation awards and compete for state honors.

Plans for the exhibition, sanctioned by the Texas Fine Arts Association, were announced Saturday by Mrs. Mary Barrett, director of the Amarillo Art Gallery, 1322 Tyler.

The exhibition will mark the first time area artists have competed in a regional exhibition sanctioned by the Texas Fine Arts Association.

Association officials are "most anxious" to have area artists included in a regional exhibition and thereafter in the state-wide exhibition, Mrs. Barrett said.

Regional show winners will be given special citations and submitted to the TFAA for state citation by a judge-jury. All regional entries will become eligible for circuit exhibition by the association over Texas and throughout the United States.

All pieces selected for citation here will automatically compete in the state citation art exhibition, to be held June 2-30 at Austin's Laguna Gloria. The state show is held annually to enable area winners to be exhibited and recognized, Mrs. Barrett said.

The Amarillo gallery director said a qualified three-man jury to judge the Amarillo exhibition will be named at later date. The exhibition will be held at the Amarillo Art Gallery, 1322 Tyler. Exhibition entries will be accepted by Mrs. Barrett at the gallery through May 3. Entries will be limited to two per person. An entry fee of $1 per painting will be required for all entries.

MONUMENT TO WINTER—Airport employes at Traverse City, Mich., kept adding more pipe to an always-trickling water outlet all winter long. By spring, their project had turned into a towering mass of rock-hard ice 50 feet high.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The hint that President Kennedy may propose a reduction in income tax rates got lost in a dispute about next year's Treasury deficit.

This bait of future tax cuts was placed before the Senate Finance Committee which is considering President Kennedy's tax revision bill.

Congressional experts forecast a 1963 fiscal year deficit of $4 to $5 billion, depending on the final shape of the new measure. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said the budget for '63 would balance.

Dillon also said the administration hoped to submit to Congress later another tax reform package — including substantial readjustment of income tax rates — if the current bill becomes law.

Taxpayers will applaud this hint of rate reductions. The smartest of them would applaud louder and longer, however, if Dillon had said the administration would keep tax rates at present levels, undertake to reduce extravagant non-defense spending and use the proceeds to reduce the national debt.

The national debt of nearly $300 billion is disgraceful. It is a weak spot in the economy and further weakens the United States by contributing to the inflationary rotting of the dollar. The dollar is worth about 43 cents in comparison to its 1940 purchasing power.

If the White House and congressional politicians, continue to compel the government to live beyond its means, the debt will grow. The dollar will wither further and the United States will be far past the point of no return. The disturbing fact in all of this is that the national defense can be no greater than the U. S. economy.

Weakening the U. S. economy is just as effective a method of disarmament as weakening the armed services. This is why government economy and debt reduction are more desirable than a reduction in tax rates.

George Champion is chairman of the board of the Chase Manhattan Bank. His observations in a recent speech included some eye-popping statistics. For example: since 1955 personal income tax payments to the Treasury have grown from $30 billion to about $43 billion with no hike in tax rates. The personal income tax take since 1950 has increased by $25 billion, notwithstanding a tax reduction in the first Eisenhower administration.

Revenue increases without higher rates when there is more personal income to tax. Champion believes tax rates could be cut 10 per cent in the sixties and leave $30 billion available for debt reduction, but not unless government extravagance is curbed.

All of this is dull stuff. Your stake in it is merely the future of yourself, your kids, and their kids. Nothing, really.

Life Insurance Week Opens Monday

What life insurance means to the average American family will be stressed this week during the annual observance of Life Insurance Week in Pampa and the Top O' Texas area.

Bob Barnett of Perryton, president of the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters, said yesterday that it will be the purpose of the association here and throughout the state and nation to explain the vital role that life insurance plays in the American economy.

Locally, the message will be spread by a display of posters and distribution of materials relating to life insurance. Speakers will appear in the schools and at civic clubs. There will be radio appearances and talks by various association members.

"It is our plan to conduct an educational campaign," Barnett said. "One in which we can bring home to the public the importance of life insurance to the insured and his beneficiaries."

To get the week started, Mayor E. C. Sidwell of Pampa has issued a proclamation setting forth this week as Life Insurance Week in Pampa.

The activities will continue through Friday, reaching a climax with the association's annual banquet Friday night.

Speakers at civic club breakfasts and luncheons this week will include:

Members of the association also will appear during the week as instructors for classes in insurance at Pampa Junior High School and Robert E. Lee Junior High.

In commenting on the local Life Insurance Week, Barnett stated, "there are two main reasons for our sponsorship of this project: We hope to bring about (1) a greater appreciation and understanding of life insurance, and (2) it is our aim to stimulate interest among the general public in seeking the professional counsel of career life underwriters in making sure that life insurance programs are up-to-date and attuned to every family and business need."

INSURANCE WEEK PROCLAIMED — Pampa Mayor E. C. Sidwell, seated, is shown here signing a proclamation designating Life Insurance Week in Pampa starting tomorrow. Standing are members of the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters. Foreign Commentary

By ARTHUR J. DOMMEN
HONG KONG (UPI) — (UPI) — Many Asians and Americans are wondering why the United States supports the formation of a Laotian government that would include the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

They believe that a coalition government of the three Laotian factions — the pro-Western Royal government, the neutralists, and the rebels — might fall, sooner or later, to the Communists.

But one factor of enormous importance in the Communist world has emerged since China was lost to the Communists. It is that the United States is no longer dealing with a single center of Communist influence in the world.

There are two headquarters of the world Communist movement today, one in Moscow and one in Peiping. And they are becoming more and more independent of each other.

This independence is of the utmost importance for Laos.

While neither Red China nor the U.S. wants to commit its troops to a fight for Laos, Peiping is wholeheartedly supporting an active "national liberation movement" in Laos which conflicts directly with the interests of both Washington and Moscow.

The idea of a largely uncontrolled Chinese center of Communist expansion is a new and frightening one.

Even Chiang Kai-shek reportedly no longer regards the Chinese Communists as mere puppets of their Soviet masters.

Peiping, meanwhile, continually proclaims its backing for "national liberation movements," in South Viet Nam, in Thailand, in the Philippines, in Africa and Guatemala.

If recent economic difficulties have cooled the Red Chinese propensity for siding with "the people" against their governments, there has been no sign of it.

Peiping's view of how "imperialism" should be driven back by the two-pronged spearhead of "armed struggle" coupled with "struggle by negotiation" was set forth last month.

"To deal with imperialism's counter-revolutionary tactics," the Chinese leaders said in a people's daily editorial outlining the significance of the victory of the insurgents in Algeria, the Algerian patriotic forces correctly used the revolutionary double tactics of combining armed struggle with negotiation.

The editorial added:

"Under the hammer blows of the peoples forces, the imperialists and colonialists, driven into a corner, are often forced to accept peaceful agreements."

Then it warned:

"But when they think they can get away with it, they will violate and even scrap these agreements. There have been innumerable examples and lessons of this in the past."

In Peiping's view, the United States is "violating" the May 3, 1961, ceasefire agreement in Laos by continuing to arm and equip the Royal government's forces, now said to number 60,000 men. Peiping has been attacking the U.S. "double game" of verbally supporting a Laos coalition while at the same time arming the anti-Communists.

The number of persons covered by insured employer - employee pension plans rose to nearly five million at the beginning of 1959. The number of persons covered has more than doubled in the past 30 years.

The editorial added:

"Under the hammer blows of the peoples forces, the imperialists and colonialists, driven into a corner, are often forced to accept peaceful agreements."

Then it warned:

"But when they think they can get away with it, they will violate and even scrap these agreements. There have been innumerable ex-

Aggie Muster Is Planned For April 21

The annual Aggie Muster of former students of Texas A&M College who live in the Eastern Panhandle Area will be held at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, April 21, at the Tommy O'Loughlin Ranch, two miles southwest of Miami on Highway 60 to carry on a tradition that is 39 years old this year.

According to Martin Ludeman, president of the Eastern Panhandle A&M Club, the Muster is held each year by students and former students of Texas A&M to pay respects to fellow Aggies who have passed on and as a humble tribute to the Texans who won the freedom of the State at the Battle of San Jacinto near Houston 126 years ago.

The Eastern Panhandle A&M Club Muster will be one of the more than 500 similar ceremonies held by thousands of former students and friends of A&M over the world.

All A&M men and students in the area including Perryton, Canadian, Miami, Wheeler, Shamrock, Wellington, Pampa and other Eastern Panhandle towns are invited to join in one of the greatest traditions, to be found in American Colleges and Universities, Ludeman said.

The National Association of Life Underwriters represents almost 80,000 life insurance salesmen from coast-to-coast. There are 780 local life underwriter associations affiliated with the NALU.

You can give the gift of learning

You can now make certain that the child you love will have the money to go to college. Equitable's new Assured College Fund Policy provides four annual benefit payments during the college years for any child close to you—your boy or girl, grandchild, nephew or niece. Almost any amount you choose. And if you die before the last benefit payment date, the benefit payments due after your death will be doubled. This is the sensible approach to college financing—a portion to be paid by your Assured College Fund, the remainder out of your annual income. And if death cuts off your family's income, the policy picks up the extra financial burden. Find out more about the remarkable Assured College Fund Policy. Call or write:

The Life Underwriter's 'Code Of Ethics'

Your life insurance agent is a trusted family financial adviser. He is a person of character and professional skill. And if he's a member of the local life underwriter association, he subscribes to a Code of Ethics in his daily sales and service activities.

The local association of life underwriters is one of 780 affiliated with The National Association of Life Underwriters, Washington, D.C. Since 1890, the National Association of Life Underwriters has been primarily concerned with perfecting standards of competence and ethics of America's life insurance agents.

During its first years of service to the country's life insurance agents and to the public, the National Association furthered ideals and principles of life insurance selling related directly to individual efficiency. NAU also worked to improve the methods and personnel of the whole body of agents.

Today, these ideals and principles are gathered together in a meaningful Code of Ethics, which in attractive permanent form, is proudly displayed by members of life underwriter associations. If your agent is a member of the local association, he undoubtedly has a laminated or framed version of the Code in his office or on his desk.

The codification of these ideals and principles was encouraged in the years prior to World War I. That these ideals and principles be frequently set forth by papers and discussions at their meetings, and be disseminated through all available printed pieces.

2. That, as indicated in the last section of the Chart of Ethics, exclusive jurisdiction over charges and complaints involving any alleged breach of state law or ethical principle be given to a carefully chosen committee, with full power and the requisite funds.

3. That, having thus provided the most effective kind of machinery for really punishing lawbreakers and bringing moral forces to bear on offenders generally, the Association do everything to dispense with all other compulsory or punitive provisions in the field of ethics, beyond excluding of irregular companies as per the national constitution and, perhaps, making expulsion automatic upon conviction by court of insurance department.

This Chart of Ethics served the Association and the life insurance business well over the years. In 1935, however, NAU's committee on business standards, headed up by William M. Duff, president of the Edward A. Woods Co., Pittsburgh, developed a revised Code of Ethics. It was not intended as a set of rules governing the conduct of individuals, agencies, or associations. Rather it was presented as a declaration of principles covering most conceivable situations in life insurance selling.

The revised Code of Ethics was not the work of any one person; it was the combined product of many individuals and suggestions from many associations, even though a small cash prize was given to the Tulsa, Okla. Association for suggestions deemed the best of those put forth.

The report of Duff's committee was unanimously approved by the NALU board of trustees. But it wasn't until the following year, under the administration of President Lester O. Schriver, Aetna Life, Peoria, Ill., that the Code of Ethics and a Statement of Business Principles in tangible form appeared.

At the 1936 NALU annual convention, L. D. Fowler (speaking for Duff) displayed an advance abbreviated form of the Code of Ethics. It was later reproduced in the Association's official magazine, "Life Association News," and made into reprints suitable for framing.

Although the printed form of the Code of Ethics, has been changed several times since 1936, its phraseology, and significance, have remained constant. This fact recalls President Scovel's prophetic statement in 1918 that the Code would mark for agents "the best course for them to steer by."

Life Underwriters Working For Special Honors Through N.A.L.U.

All of us like to do business with someone who has achieved special recognition in his own line of work. It makes us more secure in the knowledge that we're dealing with a person who knows what he's talking about — and, as a result, our chances of getting a better deal are that much better.

That's why more and more of us have come to have higher regard for the professional ability of life insurance salesmen who gain one or more of the special honors made possible in whole or in part by the National Association of Life Underwriters, the trade association of career life insurance underwriters. The Top O' Texas Life Underwriters Association is one of 780 local life underwriter associations affiliated with NALU.

Just what are the professional honors your life insurance agent can win if he or she is a member of the local association?

First, he is eligible for the Million Dollar Round Table of NALU. This organization is composed of association members who place more than a million dollars of life insurance in one year. They are truly an elite group of successful life insurance salesmen in America.

Women members of life underwriter associations have a chance to qualify for the Women Leaders Round Table of NALU. The placing of $250,000 of life insurance in one year enables them to achieve this enviable status.

In 1959, more than 13,000 association members throughout the country won the National Quality Award. To gain this honor, your life insurance agent must belong to the local association and sell at least $150,000 of life insurance for two consecutive years with 90 per cent persistency.

The National Quality Award goes to those agents who give continuing service so that the business they sell stays in force to give lasting protection to policy owners.

Similarly, the Health Insurance Persistency Award can be won by association members who excel in maintaining health insurance in force.

Several members of the local association are authorized to place the letters "CLU" after their names on stationery, business cards, etc. CLU stands for Chartered Life Underwriter — the designation given to those relatively few life underwriters who successfully complete college-level study courses and examinations sponsored by the American College of Life Underwriters in Philadelphia.

The American College is one of several important offspring of The National Association of Life Underwriters, Washington, D. C. To become a CLU, a life underwriter does not necessarily have to be a member of a local association — but most CLU's are.

Many local life underwriters are proud of their participation in study classes in life insurance and accident and health insurance sponsored by the Life Underwriter Training Council (LUTC) and organized here by the local underwriters association.

This training is of a high school or intermediate level and fills in between basic courses sponsored by life insurance companies and the more advanced CLU study. In 1959, nearly 25,000 life underwriters throughout the country took part in LUTC training.

Additional recognition comes to the life underwriter who plays an active role in association affairs through election to leadership posts in local, state, and national associations, invitations to speak at association-sponsored sales congresses and meetings, preparation of articles for state and national life underwriter publications, and participation in the various community service projects initiated by NALU and its local and state affiliates.

It's The Law In Texas

DEDUCTIONS FOR TAXES AND MEDICAL EXPENSE

Most state and local taxes are deductible on your income tax return, but Federal taxes, such as income, Social Security, estate and excise taxes are not. The taxes most commonly deducted on your return are state sales taxes, real estate taxes, personal property taxes, automobile license taxes, state gasoline taxes, driver's license fees and city income taxes.

While the ordinary real estate tax is deductible, special tax assessments which are levied against your property are not deductible if they are for improvements, such as streets, sewers or sidewalks which increase the value of your property.

The Texas tax on gasoline is 5 cents per gallon. Gasoline taxes imposed vary from state to state. Deduction for gasoline taxes should, of course, be based upon the specific number of gallons purchased in Texas and other states.

However, where this computation is impossible due to inadequate records, you can often arrive at a reasonable approximation of your gasoline taxes paid by determining the number of miles you drove your car in each state, dividing this figure by the number of miles you receive per gallon, and then multiplying the number of gallons used by the tax per gallon in the various states where you used your car.

In the case of the Texas sales tax, the Internal Revenue Service has issued a schedule of what it considers a reasonable estimate of sales tax based upon your income. If you do not have specific records this schedule should be used. Otherwise, you may be called upon to substantiate your deduction.

Medical and dental expenses incurred by you and your dependents are deductible as itemized personal deductions in the year you pay your medical or dental bill.

Generally, these expenses include fees of doctors, dentists and nurses, hospital expenses, eye glasses, false teeth, hearing aids and premium paid on hospital and medical insurance. Medicines and drugs are "medical expenses" only to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You also are entitled to deduct the cost of transportation primarily for and essential to the rendition of medical care. Medical expenses for which you receive reimbursement through hospital and medical insurance are deductible only to the extent that they exceed the amount received.

If you are under 65 years of age, your deduction for medical expenses is limited to those expenses for yourself, your wife and your dependents which exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. This limitation does not apply to expenses for yourself or your wife, if either of you are over 65. It also does not apply to medical expenses in the care of your or your wife's mother or father if the parent receiving medical care is your dependent and is over 65. A "dependent" for the purpose of the medical expense deduction is the same as in the case of exemptions, except the $600 limitation on gross income does not apply.

The deduction for medical expenses cannot exceed $2,500 for each exemption you claim (except the exemptions for over 65 and blindness) with an overall maximum of $5,000 on a separate return and $10,000 on a joint return. If either you or your wife are over 65 and disabled, the maximum is raised $15,000 and if both you and your wife are over 65 and disabled, the maximum is $30,000.

Climax of Insurance Week in Pampa will come at 7:30 p.m. Friday when the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters holds its annual banquet in the Terrace Room of Coronado Inn.

A Life Underwriting Training Council instructor, he is a veteran, having served in the Air Force during the Korean War.

Crowder entered the life insurance business as agent for the National Farm Life of Fort Worth, and was field agent for four years. Prior to that, he served five years as a county agricultural agent.

Crowder joined the staff of the Institute of Insurance Marketing, SMU, in September of 1958. He is 33, married, and the father of one son.

Bob Barnett of Perryton will act as master of ceremonies for the Friday night banquet. All officers of the Top O' Texas Association will be introduced.

A child born in the United States in 1957 had a life expectancy of 66.3 years if male, 72.5 years if female. The average life expectancy at birth has increased by 22 years since the beginning of the century.

The pattern of life insurance buying and ownership has been one of extensive growth throughout the world. Statistics available from 30 nations for the period 1950-1957 show gains in life insurance in force ranging from 35 per cent to 574 per cent. Measured by aggregate ownership of life insurance to national income, the three leading countries in 1957 were Canada with life insurance ownership equal to 146 per cent of national income, the United States with a ratio of 126 per cent, and New Zealand with 88 per cent.

American policyholders and their families received an all-time high $7.2 billion from life insurance companies in life insurance and annuity payments during 1958. This represented an increase of $571-million over the previous year.

5,000 Life Underwriters In Texas

The Texas Association of Life Underwriters, more familiarly known as TALU, is composed of 33 local associations throughout the state.

Each member of the Top O' Texas Life Underwriters Association is automatically a member of TALU and the national association. The TALU office is located in Austin and is one of the largest state associations in Texas, with a combined membership of approximately 5,000 selected career Life Underwriters on its rolls.

The TALU is governed by a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and 12 regional directors. Each year at annual conventions, officers and four new directors are elected by delegates representing the 33 associations.

The state headquarters office is staffed with a full time managing director, office secretary and membership secretary. A monthly newspaper, annual directory and handbook, legislative bulletins, educational information in regard to Chartered Life Underwriter, Life Underwriter training courses in both life and accident and health, are provided each member of TALU throughout the year, in addition to other services normally expected of a modern trade association.

The Leader Round Table of Texas, an honor group, is sponsored by TALU. This Round Table embraces some 500-600 members each year, depending upon how many agents are able to fulfill the rigid requirements for membership. The prestige enjoyed by its membership can be measured in terms of accomplishment when comparing the figure of 46,000 licensed underwriters in Texas to the 500-600 individuals able to qualify for this distinction. The State General Agents and Managers Association is also sponsored by TALU. This group's membership is limited to general agents and managers of Legal Reserve Life Insurance agencies who are members of TALU.

Top O' Texas Association Active Group

The Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters is comprised of some 40 members from Pampa, Borger, Perryton, Canadian and other towns and cities in Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Ochiltree, Hansford and Hutchinson counties.

Officers of the group are: Bob Barrett of Perryton, president; Bob Ewing of Pampa, vice president; and John McCausland of Pampa, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors is comprised of Jim Christy of Pampa, national committeeman; Jeff Bearden of Pampa, Preston Cox of Pampa, Robert Gable of Pampa; E. L. "Smiley" Henderson of Pampa, and Frank Smith of Borger.

New officers will be elected in May to take office July 1.

The premiums paid by policyholders for their protection under life insurance and health insurance policies and annuities accounted for 79.8 cents of the average 1958 income dollar of life insurance companies. The second source of income was the net earnings on invested policyholder funds—20.2 cents of the income dollar.

Over 300,000 Advise On Financial Matters

There are more than 300,000 life insurance agents in the United States. These men and women—for nearly 7,000 of them are women—are experts on family financial planning.

They are helping American families to put their plans in sound shape and build up a wall of protection against the financial repercussions which follow the death of the income producer.

Today's life insurance agents are far different from those of a generation ago. The old agent was primarily a seller of policies.

The modern agent is an adviser on family finances. He has to know the details concerning a broad array of policy types and how they relate to many things, including taxes, estate distribution, laws of inheritance.

Because life insurance is so universally owned and in a large number of cases is the sole wealth of the family, it is vitally important that the services of the life insurance agent be used to the utmost in working out the insurance and whole financial plan for the family.

The life insurance agent should be taken into the family's confidence on financial planning just as effectively as the doctor is brought in on matters of health.

When this is done, the agent, knowing the whole picture can prescribe the most effective and most economical life insurance plan within the means of the family.

The life insurance agent can often save a family much money and heartache by careful giving of pointers as to its protection. By setting up the most effective form of payment for policy benefits, for instance, a family can often draw much more than otherwise from a policy. This is where the agent can be especially helpful.

While the services of an agent are needed by all policyholders, they are strikingly valuable in the case of family programs large enough to be affected by taxes.

Here, important economies in both time and dollars can often be effected through the careful planning of agents.

The agent's service should be used continuously throughout the life of the policy for rechecking it year after year so that it will always be up to date.

Needs change and conditions under which payment should be made change and the policy often has to be changed to fit properly into the new conditions.

A man may change his job, move his residence, have an increase in income, marry, have children or in some other way alter the needs for insurance and call for some revision in policy provisions.

All this requires the rechecking know-how of the agent and his services should be called upon automatically every year or two, whether there is any apparent change or not. The new circumstances may have developed without the policyholder being aware of them.

This rechecking costs the policyholder nothing. It is a part of the service which comes with his policy. The agent is glad to come in every year or so and go over the insurance program.

And if the agent who sold the policy is no longer alive or living in the community, some other agent of that company will give this service.

Above all, if the policyholder is to get the most out of his life insurance, he should keep a close relationship with his life insurance agent and take him into full confidence on matters relating to the family program.

Characteristics That Distinguish The Underwriter

If your agent belongs to the Life Underwriters Association, he may achieve local and national recognition by winning the National Quality and Health Insurance Persistence Awards or being admitted to the Million Dollar Round Table or Womens Quarter Million Dollar Round Table, or being asked to contribute articles to trade publications or to speak at the many National Association of Life Underwriters gatherings.

He or she is encouraged to see the value of public service, to participate in individual or group efforts to make the community a better place in which to live and work.

By joining the association, your agent is adding his voice to an organization big enough to fight successfully to preserve the institution of private life insurance. NALU supports the free competitive enterprise system, battles against unfair taxes that would discriminate against you as a policyowner and life insurance, and opposes legislation contrived to undercut the traditional financial independence and security of the American home.

Perhaps most important of all the characteristics that distinguish the member of the local life underwriter association is his strict adherence to the NALU code of Ethics.

Among other essentials, the Code calls for: "always placing the client's interests first" . . . "to respect the client's confidence" . . . "to use all proper methods to render continuous service to clients and their beneficiaries" . . . "to present accurately and completely every fact essential to the client's decision."

Insurance In Force Shows Big Gains

The pattern of life insurance buying and ownership has been one of extensive growth throughout the world.

Statistics available from 30 nations for the period 1950-1957 show gains in life insurance in force ranging from 35 per cent to 574 per cent.

Measured by aggregate ownership of life insurance to national income, the three leading countries in 1957 were Canada with life insurance ownership equal to 146 per cent of national income; the United States with a ratio of 128 per cent, and New Zealand with 88 per cent.

The leading causes of death among ordinary life insurance policyholders during 1958 were: Diseases of the heart, Cancer, Cerebral Hemorrhage, accidents, other cardiovascular - renal diseases, pneumonia and influenza.

Because they don't know what you're about to learn over half these men will be permanently broke...will you?

Statistics prove that the typical breadwinner earns more than $240,000 during his working years. Surprising, isn't it, that the figures also prove that 54% of these men are stone broke at retirement age? Who are these men who are broke? To whom did they entrust the planning for their financial future?

You probably know people who are always out of cash by two days before payday. Maybe you're one of them.

Perhaps this is the best indication that real troubles will begin when steady income stops . . . when the "happy" years of retirement begin.

There is a way for such people to keep a sizable portion of their $240,000. There is a way for them to keep money working to make more money. And this program works . . . even for men who have tried to save money other ways and failed. The new Franklin Insured Savings Program shows you how to accumulate money fast . . . money that you can't steal from yourself. Learn how. Write today for the free booklet, "The Secret of the Top 5%."

Who are we? The Franklin is the largest legal reserve stock life insurance company in the world devoted exclusively to the underwriting of Ordinary and Annuity plans. In just 22 years, this 78-year-old company has grown from $177 million to over $4.4 billion in insurance in force.

Jefferson Standard Reports...

The accompanying statement of financial condition—and highlights of operations—for 1961 tell of another year of substantial progress by Jefferson Standard.

"During the year, assets increased to a total of $667,282,983. The Company's assets are invested principally in mortgage loans, bonds, stocks, and other highgrade securities.

In 1961, Jefferson Standard continued to maintain a position of leadership held for more than 25 years in its rate of earnings on invested assets—5.24% before income taxes but after all investment expenses.

The Jefferson Standard—guaranteeing 2½% on policies currently issued—continued to pay 4% interest on dividend accumulations and policy proceeds left on deposit. Since 1907, the Company has never paid less than 4% on such funds.

Prompted by a desire to provide security for themselves and establish a bulwark of protection against the uncertainties of the future, thousands of Americans have increased their ownership of life insurance with Jefferson Standard. More than $241,000,000 of new life insurance was sold during the year 1961—a new Company record in sales.

Total insurance in force now exceeds $2,100,000,000—a new high. As measured by volume of ordinary life insurance in force, Jefferson Standard ranks in the top 3% among the nation's more than 1,400 life insurance companies.

In this specialized and complex world of today, the job of fitting life insurance to individual and business needs requires the services of a trained life insurance agent. The man to see for this service is your Jefferson Standard "Mr. 4%".

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

A MATTER OF DEGREES—Commander Alan B. Shepard and Metropolitan Opera star Jean Madeira are all smiles as they congratulate one another in St. Louis, Mo. They had received honorary degrees from Washington University.

CHANGING OF THE CHAMELEONS—Kathy Warble moved as close to the glass enclosure as she could, and pressed her nose against the glass to get a better look at a colony of chameleons at the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago.

'JUMPIN' JIM'S' MEMORY BOOK—Robert Ryan (left) lends an attentive ear to U. S. Ambassador to France, James M. Gavin on "The Longest Day" movie location in France. At the time of the Allied landings on the Normandy beach, Ambassador Gavin was Brig. Gen. Gavin, portrayed by Ryan, who parachuted with his men into France in the early morning hours of D-Day in 1944.

BLOW YE WINDS, HI, HO—Ronnie Howard, 7, has trouble practicing on the Sousaphone as he prepares for his movie role in "The Music Man." It's like work. Ronnie depicts a youngster who lisps, until he learns to blow that horn.

BEAUTY RITUAL—Females are never too young or too old to care about the length of a hem, or the set of the hair. Mrs. Josephine Werner of New York didn't let her 106th birthday go by without the daily ritual of having her hair set.

CHOIR OF GARGLES—Gargling has become a daily routine for the school children in Tokyo, Japan, to ward off the dangers of influenza. Each Tokyo youngster is required to wear a mask covering nose and mouth in the classroom and to gargle at intervals through the day as a precaution against the flu epidemic that has hit the Japanese capital.

PANDA-RAMA—Chi-chi, a panda at London's Regent's Park Zoo, proves he's a solid swinger, even upside down. Normally, such nip-ups in the animal (and human) world occur when spring breezes blow, but the snowy weather is just what the doctor ordered for Himalayan-born Chi-chi. In any kind of weather, he prefers this relaxed position.

FOAM FORMS—Winter reaches its peak at Duaneburg, N. Y., where these "volcanoes" of frozen foam erupted through the ice of Bozenkill Creek. The strange formations occurred at the foot of waterfalls where the pools bubble through the ice holes.

SPHINX FELT—The inspiration of the silent Sphinx is felt in this hat from Florence, Italy. Done in red felt with comma-shaped cut-outs and a rolled brim, the hat curves around the face similar to an ancient Pharaoh's headgear.

HITCH-HIKER—Resembling a cat grabbing its kitten by the scruff of the neck, this huge crane in New York lifts a smaller crane into position to do some lifting of its own. The little crane went up and over with nary a whimper.

FEATHERED GAZER—Unleashing a defiant gaze to make visitors nervous, this captive vulture at the Chessington, England, Zoo is a real tough old bird.

A LITTLE OFF THE TOP—Ted Brighton, riding pillion on the equestrian statue of King Charles I, is brightening up the king's dome, as spring cleaning comes to London's Whitehall. Maybe the monarch wants a moustache trim.

LOSING HIS HEAD—The snow in London didn't prevent this practical joker from seeing the humorous side of a bleak day. With his head completely hidden by scarf and overcoat, he carried his snow man "head" under his arm as he waited at the bus stop. Grim faces under hats of snow were forced to smile at David Graves, the prankster.

PRETTY THINKER—Yvonne Pinnegar, 16, of Bexley, England, passed all the required Queens Guide tests in six months instead of the usual year. The title of Queens Guide is a high-ranking one in the Girl Guides, which is similar to the Girl Scouts.

TOGETHERNESS—One and one make one, as "Romgo" and "Juliet" float on the Rhine River at Basle, Switzerland. The one tandem ship shown here can be divided into separate units for loading or unloading and then put together as a single unit push ship. "Romgo" and "Juliet" weigh 1,080 tons each, and when cruising together, extend 385 feet.

Three Former Generals Still Face Regulations

By DARRELL GARWOOD United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Overlooked in the controversy over alleged military muzzling is the fact that three famous five-star generals still are on the active list and technically subject to Pentagon speech regulations.

They are Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas MacArthur and Omar N. Bradley.

Eisenhower is in a slightly special category because he does not take his $20,000-a-year Army pay. Instead he gets the $23,000 pension and the $50,000 annual office allowance provided for former presidents.

But that does not affect the question of what would happen if the Defense Department should decide to be technical and require Gen. Eisenhower, Bradley and MacArthur to observe military regulations.

For one thing, they would be obliged to submit their speeches and articles for clearance by the Pentagon's security and review section.

They would be under strict injunctions to avoid public discussion of foreign affairs or other matters properly in the province of the State Department and White House.

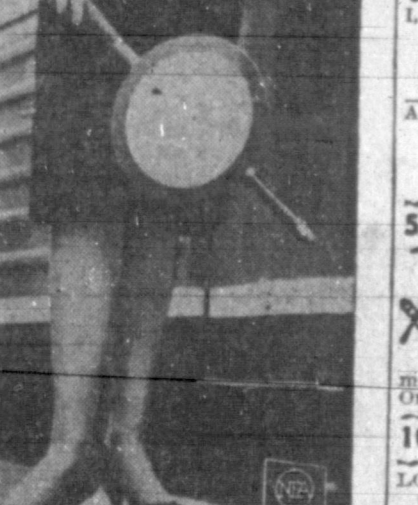

Judging by the case of former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, they would be in trouble if they engaged in controversial activities or tried to influence the votes of men in uniform.

The department's unofficial view is that "active duty" for five-star officers is merely honorary, and usually a means of paying them full salary instead of a pension. They are in other respects treated as retired officers.

SPARKLING GAME PLANNED

MUSCATINE, Iowa (UPI)—Jeweler Ed Hotka, 74, expects to play sparkling golf this summer. Hotka said he has installed a diamond on top of the head of his gold plated putter to provide a sighting target.

There's No Truth In Myth Husbands Can't Handle Home If Wife Is Away

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—American husbands usually are pictured in the Dagwood Bumstead image, gawky all-thumbs who couldn't survive 2 hours without their wives. This sort of household mythology suggests that a brilliant atomic physicist, capable of devising a formula that could blow up the world, couldn't mix an infant's formula without blowing up the kitchen.

How such a canard persists in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary is beyond me. The truth is that the average male can run a house just as efficiently, if not more so, than the average female.

I happen to know this because my wife recently left town for a visit with relatives, leaving me with three-fourths of our progeny to keep house for.

I'll concede that the one-fourth she took with her causes more than one-half of the problems at our place. But enough remained for a thorough testing of my courage, ingenuity, perseverance and patience in an unfamiliar assignment.

Although conditions were ripe for the old bumbling hubby bit, which is sure-fire cartoon material, in actual practice it worked out beautifully.

I managed the house and children, performed my own usual chores, did my regular work at the office and kept up my correspondence course in lion taming—all without a bit of difficulty.

In fact, I made a few discoveries which may be of value to the science of pediatrics, dietetics and cosmetics. These are listed below in what I hope is the proper technological form:

1. It is possible for pre-adolescent girls to subsist for five days running on a bowl of crinkle puffs for breakfast, a peanut butter and jelly sandwich for lunch, and a hamburger for dinner.

2. The hair of pre-adolescent girls will become unduly tangled if it is not brushed for three days. This can be temporarily remedied with scissors found, after a long search, in the sewing basket.

3. Pre-adolescent girls who hysterically proclaim that their hair has been ruined can be pacified by taking them out to dinner and sending them to a beauty parlor the next day.

4. Short hair-dos are becoming to pre-adolescent girls despite what their mothers say when they get back.

5. The soiled clothing of teenage boys tends to accumulate under the bed where it is not noticed until their mothers return.

6. Certain foods left out overnight will spoil and milk not brought in from the porch for two days will curdle.

7. Never trust a cookbook.

LAST LINK—The last link in the Pan American highway chain will soon be underway, crossing a 450-mile stretch known as the Darien Gap. The gap is a narrow land link between Central and South America. U.S. will contribute two million dollars to the engineering survey, an Alliance for Progress project. When completed the highway system can be travelled from Alaska to the southernmost regions of South America.
