Pampa Officers Hunt For Clues In Robber Case

Pampa police today had only meager clues to check in the search for two youthful "masquerade" bandits who robbed the safe at Caldwell's Drive-In, W. Francis and Hobart St., of between $1,700 and $1,800 early Sunday morning.

The robbers had waited for Loyce Caldwell, owner of the drive-in, a buffetaria and another drive-in here, and his son James, 23, at the Caldwell home, 1310 Hamilton. When the two Caldwell's entered the house, the bandits met them at gun-point. The men had handkerchiefs tied around their faces. A light was on in the den.

The younger Caldwell immediately picked up a dictionary and threw it at one of the men. They grabbed him and tied him up with a nylon cord and told him to lie on the floor.

Next, Loyce Caldwell told police, they discussed with him about getting the money. He told them it was all in the safe at the drive-in. They ordered Caldwell and his son into the car, placing James in the back seat and his father in the front seat. One of the hold-up men sat with James in the back and the other rode beside the elder Caldwell with a knife pressed to his side and ordered him to drive to the drive-in.

Once there, one bandit remained guard over young Caldwell in the rear seat of the car and the other accompanied Loyce Caldwell into the drive-in office where he forced him to open the safe.

After robbing the safe, Caldwell said the young bandit asked him if he had any money on his person. Caldwell said he had about $75 or $100 in a wallet.

"Is it insured?" the bandit asked. "No," replied Caldwell.

"We don't want it, then," the robber said.

After the robbery at the drive-in, the two bandits accompanied the Caldwell's back to their home where both were tied up. James Caldwell said the bandits untied him once and retied him when they decided the cords were too tight.

"They didn't want to hurt us," he said.

The elder Caldwell told police the voice of one of the men sounded familiar, but he couldn't recognize it. The Caldwell's said they did not get a chance to see the faces of the men at any time because they were threatened.

The Caldwell's said the men were wearing grotesque attire in addition to the masks over their faces. One of them wore a winter-style red cap that came down over part of his face, ears and neck.

According to Caldwell, "they (See ROBBERY, Page 2)

Strike Poll Planned By Auto Union

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers union this week will begin asking 500,000 workers at the industry's Big Three if they are willing to strike Aug. 31 if no progress is made by then in current new contract negotiations.

The answer from most of the workers is expected to be "yes." The strike votes were ordered Sunday by the UAW's 24-man executive board after a five-hour meeting to review the status of negotiations with the auto industry.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the board authorized the poll because of a "lack of progress" in talks with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

The board turned down a request to poll 25,000 American workers about a walkout because AMC "has made a serious proposal to our union" and has shown an "evident willingness to bargain in an intelligent meaningful manner."

Reuther set a deadline of Aug. 29 — two days before Big Three pacts expire — for "progress" at the bargaining table.

The executive board will meet again that day, Reuther said, and "if progress is not made the board will be obligated to give consideration to setting a strike target to be effective on the day of termination of the present agreements."

GM, Ford and Chrysler have made no counter-proposals to the UAW's demands. All three firms are preparing offers but they probably will not be presented until after the strike votes are counted.

Mississippi Plans Mass Racial Case

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — About 170 convicted "freedom riders," cheered as heroes by more than 1,000 Mississippi Negroes Sunday night, were scheduled to make a mass court appearance this afternoon under police protection.

The riders arrived here from throughout the nation Sunday to appeal breach of the peace convictions. Cheering, singing, shouting Negroes hailed them at a "freedom rally" later in the evening.

Set for call were 182 cases in which riders were arrested after ignoring segregation customs in travel facilities, convicted of breach of the peace and later released on appeal bond. At least 170 had shown up Sunday night and more were expected to be on hand today.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and himself a convicted rider, told the crowd at the rally that the movement had about "run out of steam" but Mississippi officials saved it by demanding that the riders appear together in court.

"We can always count on the state of Mississippi to help us out," he said. "The freedom riders now must continue no matter how much it costs."

The rally was held in a private auditorium in the Negro section but several police stood guard as the racially mixed riders and the Negro audience moved in and out of the building.

Most of the riders were lodged at nearby Tougaloo Christian College for Negroes where they held a planning session prior to the rally and received instructions to stay clear of further arrests.

Farmer said CORE had estimated that the weekend trip to Jackson would cost as much as $45,000.

They will have to return again for their trials, which will be held before a jury, two a day five days a week beginning next week. CORE attorneys were denied permission to appear in place of the riders today for setting of the trial dates.

School Visitation Plan Set By Pampa Board

Members of the Pampa Independent School Board are going to familiarize themselves with the problems of school principals and teachers through regular monthly meetings at the various schools throughout the city.

This decision was reached at the board's regular monthly meeting in Pampa Junior High School today after the suggestion was made by Elmer Wilson, member.

"I believe it will give us a better opportunity to become acquainted with the needs of the individual schools and the problems of the personnel," Wilson said.

Jack Edmondson, school superintendent, said he thought it was a splendid idea and that the school administrative department would welcome it.

"It will help the board members, I am sure," Edmondson said, "and it will please our school personnel to know of the additional interest shown by the board."

Board members indicated a regular schedule of visits to the school would be set up, and that the visits probably would follow the regular meetings with members going from the board session direct to the schools for a luncheon meeting.

Superintendent Edmondson also invited board members to attend the teachers' meeting to be held Tuesday, Aug. 29, in Robert E. Lee Junior High School prior to the opening of school for class assignments on Wednesday Aug. 30. Actual class work will start on Thursday, Aug. 31.

Edmondson told board members it would be his policy to keep them informed of the various school programs.

"I am going to do my best to interpret our school program to you and keep you informed at all times," he said.

Edmondson said when the board meets next Monday to consider appointment of a new assistant principal for the Senior High School he also would have a report on implications of the new teachers' pay raise bill on the Pampa school system.

The board today accepted a tax adjustment of $1,100 from a bankrupt firm which owed some $1,600 in back taxes and penalties. It also approved renewal of a $25,000 bond for Homer Craig, school business manager.

July bills in the sum of $5,600.08 were approved for payment.

A reminder was issued that a public hearing on the annual school budget has been set for 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 24 in the Junior High School.

A three-year contract was approved for Pritchard and Abbott to serve as school tax engineers.

Regretful Thief Returns Stolen Auto Hubcaps

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) Henry Thees called police Sunday and asked them to call off the search for his stolen hubcaps. He said someone had returned them during the night and scrawled "sorry" in the dust on one of them.

All Berlin Tense As Germans Jeer Troops Guarding Border

Reds Use Army Tanks To Block Flights To East

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist police and troops backed up by tanks and machineguns blocked thousands of angry East Germans today from going to their jobs in West Berlin. A ring of men and steel all but halted the blood of refugees.

West German officials said today that more than 1,500 East Germans had fled safely to West Berlin since the Communist border clampdown Sunday.

The whole city was tense on both sides of the Iron Curtain for fear an incident would grow into mass violence and mushroom into catastrophe.

The East German Communists lined up a dozen T34 tanks, four armored cars and hundreds of soldiers, railway policemen and riot police around the Friedrich Street elevated and subway station before dawn.

This is the station where thousands of East Berliners have been used to catching their westbound trains. Today they found the main doors blocked by wooden barriers. Travelers had to use side doors and only a handful — presumably party functionaries on official business — were allowed through.

Hundreds of commuters who turned up at the barriers were waved away. Many others, already forewarned, did not even try to get through.

The ones who were turned back stood in groups muttering among themselves but attempted no violence against the troops bristling with guns.

Thousands of Red troops stood guard at critical points and patrolled East Berlin's streets under orders from the Soviet-controlled Warsaw Pact powers to establish "effective control" around West Berlin.

Heavy reinforcements of Soviet troops were deployed on East German territory just outside the city, ready to rush in and crush (See BERLIN, Page 3)

U.S. To Lodge Protest Against Border Closing

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Confronted by serious new developments in Berlin, President Kennedy headed home to Washington today to discuss Russian moves with Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Kennedy left from Otis Air Force Base, Mass. by Air-Force jet transport plane after a pleasant weekend of boating and relaxation with his family at their Hyannis Port home on Cape Cod.

The President's appointment with Thompson was the only item on Kennedy's calling list today. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Thompson is heading back to Moscow after consultations with State Department officials in Washington, and Kennedy wants his "views on the current situation — Berlin and other matters."

Sunday, Kennedy was briefed on the worsening Berlin crisis by his military aide, Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton. The President then approved a statement that the United States would lodge a strong protest against East Germany's crackdown on travel between the Communist zone and West Berlin.

The statement, by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, said that "limitation on travel within Berlin is a violation of the four-power status of Berlin and a flagrant violation of the right-of-free circulation throughout the city."

But Rusk said there was no indication that East Germany's curbing of travel at the East-West Berlin border was aimed at the "allied position in West Berlin or access thereto."

$600,000 Worth Of Art Stolen

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France (UPI) — The latest sensational art robbery here has brought to $3,590,000 the estimated total haul of France's six major art thefts since the beginning of last year.

Police said today that the sneak thieves who broke into the Vendome Pavilion exhibition hall and stole eight Paul Cezanne masterpieces probably entered through a second floor window while a police guard was being changed before dawn Sunday. A woman caretaker slept through the robbery, according to detectives.

Harried police refused to estimate the value of the latest haul, but insurance sources said the eight moderns were worth a minimum of $600,000.

The two guards carried submachine guns. Despite their submachine guns they got away with what is considered the impressionist master's most famous canvas, "The Card Players." The Cezanne masterpiece had been on loan from the Louvre gallery in Paris.

The other stolen paintings also are considered collectors' items. They included "The Skulls," "Reflections in the Water," "The Sitting Peasant," "The Leg of Mutton," "The Keyrie Tower Landscape," "Still Life with Apples and Teapot" and "Sister Marie," a portrait of Marie Cezanne.

Congress Ponders Foreign Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign aid was the subject of debate in both houses of Congress today with leaders hoping to complete action on President Kennedy's program by the end of the week.

The House was set to begin debate over its $4.5 billion bill while the Senate resumed consideration of its $4.3 billion version of the same measure.

Vandals Fail To Burn Down Famed Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Police said today vandals tried to burn down the historic Alamo, but it was either the work of kids or a "rank amateur."

Detective T. M. Barnes said the attempted arson at the Alamo, cradle of Texas independence, did little damage.

He said someone waded up newspapers and stuffed them around the back door of the shrine, but the fire "burned only a little way" into the door and went out by itself.

State's Solons Resume Debate On Election Bill

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas lawmakers went back to work after a 36 hour cooling off period suggested by the governor and lieutenant governor hoping tempers were under control enough to finish work on election and school legislation.

Members in the House tied up the second special session Saturday night and refused to adopt two conference committee reports on bills that favored the Senate's concept of the legislation.

Gov. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey agreed that it would be better to wait until today to finish the job.

The Saturday session was rowdy. Representatives roamed the lower chamber calling for new conference committees. They cheered and jeered, calling for their "rights."

The major issue of the second special session — an annual $810 teacher pay raise — was passed and sent to the governor Friday.

Lawmakers expect another special session to be called later to deal with the loan shark problem.

The session deadlocked Saturday night when the House rejected conference committee reports on a bill to provide runoff elections and a measure to delay state payments to the teacher requirement fund.

The House wanted sweeping changes in state election code. It passed a bill that would require special elections and runoff for every state and district office vacancy when the unexpired term is more than one year.

The governor currently fills all vacancies, except legislative and congressional, by appointment. Senators voted only to provide runoffs in special elections.

Strategic Wheat Plan Presented To Farmers

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said today some of the nation's multi-million-bushel wheat crop will be moved to big cities for emergency use in case they are subjected to nuclear attack.

Freeman announced the new program at the 43rd annual convention of the Missouri Farmers Association. He flew from Washington to this city in the heart of America's farm belt to spell out details of the plan.

Freeman calls it "the strategic reserve program." He said the plan is to relocate surplus supplies of wheat in 191 metropolitan areas of 100,000 persons and more "which are assumed by civil defense authorities to be target areas."

Freeman said the plan carries a price tag of $47.2 million. "This is the first step taken by the Agriculture Department in the proposal for a strategic reserve program."

Freeman said the department has worked out a "detailed program which will provide a four-month supply for each person in each of the 191 target areas."

Statements On Bill Conflict

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn tell conflicting stories about a bill pending in the legislature to require runoffs in special elections for U. S. representative.

Daniel said, "I want to set the record straight that no one either in or outside of this state suggested or requested that I include this subject in the work of the second-called session." He made the statement Saturday.

Rayburn, contacted in Dallas Sunday, said "I'm just as strong for that bill as I can be; in fact, I urged Gov. Price Daniel to submit it to the legislature."

The bill would require a candidate to receive a majority vote to win a special election for Congress. The measure is designed to prevent a lone Republican from garnering a plurality and beating a field of Democrats.

Soviet Troops Foiled 1953 Revolt Of 12,000 East German Workers

BERLIN (UPI) — Eight years ago this summer the Soviet zone of Germany exploded into violence. The situation then was similar to the one that is building up in East Germany today.

In March, the Red regime revised the work norms in a manner which effectively cut wages between 30 and 40 per cent, and just under 59,000 refugees left. All during March, April and May of 1953, workers' delegations attempted to get the norm revisions canceled. But on June 16, workers awoke to read in their newspapers that even their trade union leadership agreed with the new norms and the resulting wage cuts.

Pressure built up all day long, with workers forming into protesting and demonstrating groups.

On the morning of June 17, 12,000 workers from the Henningdorf steel works started for the center of East Berlin's government quarter. Along the way, they were joined by thousands more. Their goal — the overthrow of the regime.

They tore the hated red flag from atop the Brandenburger Tor at 11 a.m. At high noon, the first shots rang out.

Fighting raged through the afternoon. Many public buildings were burned.

But the Soviet army put the fire out by nightfall, although there was a flicker here and there for another week.

According to the best estimates, 267 demonstrators, 116 Communist officials, and 18 Soviet soldiers were killed, and 1,067 demonstrators, 645 Communist functionaries and 126 Soviet soldiers were wounded.

Forrest-Holmes Vows Are Repeated Sunday

Miss Marijann Forrest and George Delles Holmes Jr., both of Dallas, were united in marriage at 4 p. m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church of Midland. Rev. Joe B. McReynolds officiated for the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Arlo Forrest of Midland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Delles Holmes Sr., 637 N. Hobart, Pampa, and the late Mr. Holmes.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father the bride wore an original gown of pure silk, peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The molded bodice of re-embroidered lace, featuring a wide, scalloped neckline and lace sleeves that tapered below the elbow, extended below the fitted waistline to give a peplum effect. A bias banding of silk edged the peplum and a flat bow of silk accented the center front waistline. The face of the bodice was encrusted with hand bending of seed pearls and crystals.

The wide sweeping skirt of silk flared from the waistline in deep unpressed pleats that swept into a cotillion-length train. Her veil of pure silk illus on fell in tiers from a pillbox coil, fashioned from draped silk and encircled with tiny bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and seed pearls.

MATURE PARENT No Noble Roman Ever Ate Better

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the first of three articles which will appear during her absence taken from the book "The Lord," by Romano Guardini, house chaplain to Pope Pius XII. Copyright 1954, Henry Regery Co.)
(EXCERPT NO. 1 FROM ROMANO GUARDINI'S "THE LORD")

In the child, life beings with all its primeval freshness regardless of the adult installed and his adaptive measure.

Thus, in spite of natural affection, there is often a trace of secret, unconscious resentment in the attitude of grownups toward the child. Yet, the necessity of becoming a little child has been set up as the standard of Christian being and rightly so. What does Jesus mean when he sets up the child a model?

One of his texts is: "And whoever receives one such little child for my sake receives me." To receive means to accept, to make room for, to respect. Unconsciously we reserve such regard only for the person who is able to prove himself, who accomplishes something, is useful and important.

The child can prove nothing. It is only beginning; it has not yet accomplished anything; it is still only a hope. The child cannot force the adult to take it seriously. Real people are the grownups; the child counts only as a fraction.

This opinion is not to be found solely among stern realists and egotists, but also — indeed, often to a greater extent — among affectionate, motherly or pedagogic types. The form it takes here is that of excessive protectiveness.

The usual attitude of the adult toward the child is either one of friendly or unfriendly disregard, all too evident in the forced playful tone which he feels obliged to assume toward the young one. To this Jesus says: You do not receive the child because it cannot enforce respect. For you it is unimportant. But let me tell you, wherever there is something defenseless, there am I a divine chivalry protects that which is unable to protect itself and declares: I stand behind it!

The child cannot compete with the ableness, experience and greater knowledge of the adult. It is defenseless when a grownup wickedly poisons its mind, confuses its conceptions of right and wrong, plays upon its helpless senses and destroys its natural modesty or reverence.

In other words, the child is utterly at the mercy of the unscrupulous adult whom Jesus warns: BEWARE! Where you see only a weak creature is, in reality, a divine mystery, as delicate as it is holy. He who lays impious hands upon it does something terrible that it would have been better for him to have been put away before like a dangerous animal.

You wouldn't believe it. Not aboard an imperial barge on the River Tiber, but on a sleek power cruiser on the Hudson River we lunched recently like one of the emperors of ancient Rome. We were guests of Fred Ruprecht, chef of the sumptuous Fort...

In the small gallery of the 52-foot Chris Craft "Prince B and B," he prepared an elegant luncheon. Women (and men) who must prepare meals in tiny kitchenettes will envy Fred Ruprecht's sleight of hand. On deck, while we sailed up the river, we were served caviar in little pastry shells, prosciutto ham with shrimp clinging to the crust, with a zesty cocktail sauce well-iced in the scooped out shell.

Then came lumps of crabmeat "Baked in the Imperial Manner." First the sauce: mix mayonnaise and Hollandaise, using a little more of the Hollandaise. Chop a green and a red pepper very fine. Add to sauce. Place fresh crabmeat lumps (or canned or frozen crabmeat) in long shells or ramekins. Pour the sauce over it. Place under broiler until lightly browned.

Still pointed upstream, we continued with sliced tournedos of beef with fresh mushrooms, and leaf spinach in tartlets with sauteed cherry tomatoes. The chef's recipe: Steam spinach; chop coarsely with a shallot and a suspicion of garlic. Nestle spinach in the flaky pastry sheets. The river-riding salad was hearts of artichoke and tiny French asparagus with a slightly tart vinaigrette sauce.

As we headed back toward the city, Chef Ruprecht, as proud as any ceasar, prepared, flamed and served "Crepes in the Classic Manner." No noble Roman ever ate better. Six bells and all ashore.

Dear Abby... It's Either Too Hot Or Too Cold!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last week it was so hot we could hardly stand it, so I asked my husband to please turn off the furnace. He didn't want to do it and said it was on so low that it didn't make any difference. My daughter (who is visiting us with her two babies) finally got him to turn it off.

The next morning the temperature dropped to 50. I wouldn't have said one word about turning the furnace back on had it not been for our two grandchildren, who are 5 months old and a year and a half. They both had colds, so I begged and pleaded with my husband to turn the furnace back on, and he said he wasn't going to turn it on until next winter. Do you think he was right or was I?

MAD
DEAR MAD: You were right. And come next winter give that old mule plenty of heat.

DEAR ABBY: To the "City Girl" who wrote: "My husband is one of those devoted sons who always DRAGS me to see his parents." Its a shame a woman has to be DRAGGED to visit her in-laws. Can't married couples realize how much they mean to their parents — particularly in their later years? They have very little left in life but their children. So many married children want to "live their own lives," and exclude their parents. If they could only realize how much they owe their parents, and how much happiness they could bring them by being a little more attentive.

Abby, you can reward this, and say it better. I haven't had much education, but I just had to have my say on this subject.

LOOKING AHEAD
DEAR LOOKING: There's no need to reward your letter. You said it well.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I should be ashamed to write this letter, but I must have an answer. I am 27 and have been married to a good man for five years. We have two adorable children. Please don't think I'm crazy, but I still undress in the clothes closet. Is there anything wrong with this? My husband has never laughed at me or complained, but I feel so childish.

Profile Hat Rated Fall's High Fashion

NEW YORK (NEA)—Your profile is what counts this fall when you go shopping for a new hat. Even when you buy a brimmed Mostofthehatstyle, it meant to sit straight on, tilt it to one side.

Most of the hats you see this fall will have the tilt built in. Coche, turban, toque or roller, they'll all make the most of a pretty face. No hat ever invented is as flattering as the profile hat. High, soft crowns that have been draped, tucked or arched are typical of autumn. Some have a true global roundness. But all of them take on character through manipulation.

Furs and fabrics that look like fur spell out a look of luxury this year. Felts with a fluffy angora surface cannot, at a short distance, be distinguished from fur. Even mink and sable have taken on some unusual hues.

Velvety blacks and rich browns are, of course, sound fashion. But you may also pick from brick, carnelian, gold, coral, gray, green and orange shades. Magenta a purplish red shade will be high fashion.

Feathers are big fashion this fall. Fluffy ostrich is clipped to look like fur. Or curled. Coqu feathers blend with velvet.

Altogether, the mood of these hats is that of the 1930s. But with a 1961 tilt.

Learn what good taste is and measure everything you wear by its standards.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynal)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

East Berlin Revealed As City Under Siege

By JOHN A. CALLCOTT
BERLIN (UPI)—East Berlin is a city under siege.

I saw the soldiers, tanks and armed police, I felt the fear.

A 90-minute taxi ride through East Berlin showed me as many police and soldiers on the streets as civilians. Through the cab windows I saw a police state at work.

My West Berlin cab driver had hedged when I told him to cross the border. He bit his lip, paused, then slid into his seat and said: "I want to see how it looks to-day."

The cab rolled up to the Brandenburg Gate, one of the main doors in the Iron Curtain. "Where are you going?" snapped an East German border guard.

The cab driver opened his mouth to answer when he heard something go "whoosh...swish...whoosh..." A few feet away East German police had turned a water cannon on Western news photographers. "Where are you going?" asked the guard again.

My cab wanted no trouble. "To the Trade Ministry," he lied. The guard looked into the cab's trunk and let us pass. The cab rolled into a sea of armed men.

About 2,000 "peoples police" and "workers militiamen" were posted on the Communist side of the gate. Five Russian T34 tanks, manned by East Germans, sat there like giant toads.

We rode into Unter Den Linden. Militia swarmed over the sidewalks and roadway.

The militiamen blocked our path.

"Can't you move aside?" my cabbie asked one formation.

"You shut your mouth," snarled a militiaman.

We moved around a corner into Leipzigerstrasse. We found no civilians. We ran into 15 tanks and four armored troop carriers. The crews milled around tents beside their vehicles.

Wilhelmstrasse, the street where Hitler started and ended his war, was sealed off. A Communist policeman refused to say why. He angrily waved us on. I stopped the cab when I spotted a strange sight — two civilian walking down the street.

The two Russian gasoline trucks and a few ancient cars did their best to form traffic. My cab glided back into West Berlin through the Friedrichstrasse crossing. A knot of West Berliners stood on the free side.

One of them shouted "pfui" at a Communist guard, who replied with a vulgar gesture.

My cabbie asked me not to mention his name. He said, "I don't want trouble when I go in next time — if there is a next time."

both looked like they were going to a masquerade.

Caldwell also told police that $150 was missing from a desk in the Caldwell home where the bandit pair apparently had gone early to await his return after closing the drive-in.

Mrs. Caldwell was out of the city over the weekend, visiting relatives in New Mexico.

After returning the Caldwell to their home and tying them up, police theorized the pair left by a rear door and leaped over a back fence.

The Caldwell also told police the men pulled off their handkerchief masks after they got in the car for the trip to the drive-in, but said they still didn't get an opportunity to see their faces because of the continued warnings.

Pampa Man Fined In Assault Case

Robert Lee Luster, 1410 Alcock, was fined $100 and costs today in county court when he pleaded guilty on a charge of aggravated assault.

According to officers, Flowers was stabbed by Luster, in the neck, back, left arm and stomach. Flowers was reported to be in good condition today by Highland General Hospital officials.

any possible rebellion as they did when East German soldiers failed to handle the workers revolt of June 17, 1953.

The 11,000 Allied soldiers in West Berlin were placed on alert. Their helicopters hovered over the western sector of the city to pinpoint potential trouble spots.

The Communists, again under direct Warsaw Pact orders, were careful not to interfere with traffic or communications between West Berlin and West Germany — separated by 110 miles of Communist territory.

The harsh restrictions, begun early Sunday morning, were aimed solely at plugging the hole through which more than 150,000 Germans have fled from east to west this year, seriously jeopardizing the East German economy and the prestige of the whole Communist bloc.

Sunday the Communist forces used tear gas, smoke bombs, high pressure water cannon and clubs to break up groups of jeering East Berliners.

They even lobbed tear gas bombs across into the American sector at a crowd of booing West Berlin youths and then charged into the group with truncheons. Eyewitnesses said they pulled one young West Berliner back across the line with them.

Tens of thousands of West Berliners mocked the Red troops from their side of the line. As dusk fell Sunday night, about 30,000 of them waved lighted torches of hope for their countrymen living in the Red regime.

On the eastern side of hastily erected barbed wire barricades, Red police, militiamen and troops charged in flying wedges and threatened to fire on crowds of hostile East Berliners who shouted their defiance at the communist show of force.

West German officials were openly fearful that the East Germans, finding themselves virtually imprisoned, might try to revolt against the hopeless odds of the 20 Soviet divisions occupying the Russian zone of Germany.

Pledge Of Money Ends Latin Issue

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay, (UPI) — A pledge by the United States to make $1 billion in quick emergency aid available to the "alliance for progress" today assured the success of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference.

The U. S. delegation yielded Sunday to Latin American demands for concrete pledges of immediate financial assistance when it co-sponsored the resolution to provide funds by the end of next March.

The United States also promised to take "rapid action" on requests from the hemisphere's neediest nations for emergency crash spending.

A high U. S. official said, "It seems to us all significant issues at this conference have been solved. As we see it now, the key problems have been managed and there is general agreement."

The official said it remains to be seen what Cuba — which is ineligible for alliance funds — will do about signing the final declaration of Punta del Este.

New Burglary Counts Filed Against Pair

Two additional burglary counts were filed today against Leroy Driver and Jimmy Parks, the two suspects being held in county jail, pending investigation of a long series of burglaries and safe robberies in Pampa and other Texas cities.

In the new counts the pair is charged with acting together in the burglaries of the Pampa Coca Cola Bottling Co. office and the White House Lumber Co.

Bond in each case was set at $5,000 by Justice of the Peace J. W. Graham. The men now are being held for grand jury action, each under $10,000 bond.

Pampa To Host Jaycee Session

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will be host to the winter tri-regional convention, in February of the Texas Jaycees.

The Pampa Jaycees, who attended the summer convention in Plainview this past week-end, were successful in their bid to bring the winter convention to Pampa.

Clubs in the Panhandle and West Texas areas are represented at the tri-regional meetings.

The travel trophy, awarded to the club which traveled the most miles with the largest delegation, was presented to the Pampa Jaycees.

Auto Generator Reported Stolen

Aubrey Osborne, 1117 N. Starkweather, reported to Pampa police Sunday night that someone had stolen a generator from his car.

Osborne was watching television and as he readied for bed he noticed the hood up on his car, which was parked in front of the house.

Negro Arrested In Assault Case

Police late this forenoon were investigating the report of a Perryton man and his wife that the 32-year-old woman was attacked by a Pampa Negro Saturday night in the "flats."

Police said the couple had taken the colored man to the area at his request. They charged that when the husband got out of his car, the colored man took him in another car and drove him outside the city limits and pushed him out.

According to the woman, the Negro then returned to her car and attempted to attack her. She fought him off, she said, and ran from the car.

Police later arrested the suspect and he was being held in city jail today. Police Chief Jim Conner said shortly before noon today no charge had yet been placed against the suspect.

Negroes At Dallas Urged To Pour In White School Bids

DALLAS (UPI) — Gloster E. Current, director of branches for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People urged Negroes to "flood" the Dallas School Board with applications to attend white school this fall.

Current spoke Sunday to a group dedicated to the "peaceful, desegregation of Dallas schools" and said they have the full support of President Kennedy's administration.

He said Kennedy is repaying Negroes for helping elect him by "speaking out against discrimination and bigotry."

Asst. Police Chief Charlie Bauchelor Jr. also spoke. He said Dallas police are ready to "maintain law and order" when the school system begins desegregation under federal court order. But he said he hopes that specific riot control training the department has been undergoing will not be necessary.

He promised "swift action against troublemakers on 'either side' who 'might seek to prevent others from complying with the law.'"

54th YEAR MONDAY, AUGUST 14, 1961

SMU Star Cops Texas Amateur Tennis Crown

DALLAS (UPI)—Willie Wolff of Southern Methodist won the men's singles crown Sunday and teamed up with Mustang teammate Tommy Howarth to capture the doubles title in the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation tennis tournament.

He won the singles championship from James Schupetz of Denton, taking the first set 11-9 and winning on a default after a 7-7 deadlock in the second.

Wolff and Howarth defeated Jack Turpin and Walton Miller 5-7, 6-1 and 6-4 for the doubles title.

Georgia Shoenaker of San Antonio won the women's singles championship 6-2, 6-2 from Nancy Penon of Dallas. Miss Penon teamed with Nancy Jeffett to take the doubles crown 6-2, 6-9 over Virginia Love and Marilyn Hoover of Corpus Christi.

Ricky Williams of Austin was a double-winner in the 18-and-under division. He beat Kenny Wickert of Fort Worth 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 in singles and teamed with Bill Driscoll to beat Wickert and Ted Gorski 7-5, 6-1 in doubles.

Jill Philbrick of Lubbock did the same thing in the girls' division.

She blanked Billie Jean Domingue of Port Arthur 6-0, 6-0 in singles and she and Kay Botik beat Marcia Metoskie and Jean Lewis of Dallas-6-2, 7-5 for the doubles title.

Five more losses will mathematically eliminate them from the National League pennant race, and if the Phils happen to lose those next five in a row they will break the modern major league mark of 20 consecutive defeats jointly held by the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics.

On the less morbid side, the New York Yankees increased their American League lead to 3½ games when they beat the Washington Senators, 9-4, in the nightcap of Sunday's doubleheader after losing the opener, 12-2.

Minnesota drubbed Detroit, 13-5, in the opener, Chicago downed Kansas City, 9-3, and Los Angeles nipped Cleveland, 8-7, in the other AL games.

In the National League, where the Pittsburgh Pirates handed the Phillies their 16th straight loss, 13-4, the Los Angeles Dodgers preserved their 2½ game lead by blanking St. Louis, 8-0, Cincinnati defeated San Francisco, 8-1, and Milwaukee beat Chicago, 8-3.

Bennie Daniels of the Senators stopped the Yankees on five hits in the opener, with Maris belting his 44th homer in the fourth and

Yanks Up Lead; LA Tops Cards

Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are sweet 16, but the party will be all over for the Philadelphia Phillies the moment they lose five more.

Maris and Mantle each have hit 45 homers, so either one of them needs only 16 more to break Babe Ruth's record of 60 which has defied all challengers since 1927.

The forlorn Phillies, losers of 16 straight already, also are on their way to a record, but an entirely different sort.

Bill Tuttle hit a grand slam homer and a single to drive in six runs for the Twins against the Tigers.

John Roseboro drove in three runs against the Cardinals while batterymate Stan Williams scattered eight hits to register his 11th victory for the Dodgers.

Wally Post and Vada Pinson were the Reds' big guns against the Giants. Post drove in four runs with a homer and a double while Pinson accounted for two more with a homer and a single.

It was a different story in the nightcap. Maris hit his 45th during a three-run first inning rally and Cleve Boyer added a two-run homer in the eighth as Jim Coates scattered 10 hits for his ninth victory.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., veteran by dropping a five-foot birdie putt on the seventh extra hole.

Maxwell said he was "as excited about winning this tournament as anything I have ever won."

"But this was a case where the better golfer didn't win," Billy added. "Kroll was playing great golf and he figured to take it. I guess I just got lucky."

On the seventh hole of the sudden death playoff, both Maxwell and Kroll sprayed their drives into the rough. Kroll's approach shot caught the lip of a bunker and bounced back into the trap.

Maxwell made a neat recovery, his ball dropping only five feet from the pin. Billy then canned his putt to end the marathon struggle.

Maxwell's victory, his third of the year raised his 1961 earnings to $26,858.

Joe Campbell of Chattanooga, Tenn., who shared the third round lead with Kroll, shot a 73 to Kroll's 72 that earned him third place at 272.

AHEAD OF 'BABE'
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees each walloped a homer No. 45 against the Washington Senators to go 16 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace of 1927.

TIED IN RACE—Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris are tied again in their race to break Babe Ruth's home run mark. Maris hit two round-trippers Sunday and Mantle connected for one to raise their total to 45 for the season. They are 16 games ahead of the Babe's 1927 pace. The Yankees' sluggers have 38 games left on the schedule in which they can set a new record.

Maxwell Takes Eastern Open By Nipping Kroll

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Fort Lauderdale, Fla., veteran by dropping a five-foot birdie putt on the seventh extra hole.

Maxwell said he was "as excited about winning this tournament as anything I have ever won."

"But this was a case where the better golfer didn't win," Billy added. "Kroll was playing great golf and he figured to take it. I guess I just got lucky."

On the seventh hole of the sudden death playoff, both Maxwell and Kroll sprayed their drives into the rough. Kroll's approach shot caught the lip of a bunker and bounced back into the trap.

Gold Sox Down Sens

By United Press International Joe Pepitone, Amarillo's hard-hitting lanky center fielder, swatted Roger Clapps' offering over the fence for a two-run homer Sunday night that clinched a Texas League victory for the Gold Sox in the third inning.

Amarillo went on to whip Austin 6-1 and gain back a full game over second place Tulsa (3½ behind) which lost to Victoria 3-1. San Antonio edged Ardmore 3-2.

Bob Lasko held the Senators to three hits, while Amarillo pounded out 10 against Clapp and Phillip Niekro who took over in the fifth.

Larry Stubing put Victoria ahead with a two-run homer in the fourth that won Clark Johnson's four-hitter. Johnny Lewis homered for the Oilers' only run and Paul Toth was loser.

San Antonio launched a nine-hit attack, including Craig Sorenson's solo homer. Ralph Prince twirled a six-hitter and managed to survive a two-run sixth inning for the victory. Alex Castro was loser.

Dixie D Flashes To Ruidoso Win
RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. (UPI)—Dixie D, owned by J. T. Dilard of Big Spring, flashed to a two and one-half length victory Sunday in the 870-yard Albuquerque Tribune mixed feature race at Ruidoso Downs. Flying Tom Tom was second.

Chuck McKinley Takes Net Title

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (UPI)—Revenge was sweet for Chuck McKinley and Karen Hantze in the Eastern Grass Court tennis tournament.

McKinley, the chunky Davis Cupper from St. Ann, Mo., won the men's crown Sunday with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Frank Foehling of Coral Gables, Fla., who upset the Missouri in the recent Pennsylvania championships.

Miss Hantze won the women's title for the second straight year by downing Edda Buding of Germany, 6-2, 6-4. The 19-year-old blonde from Chula Vista, Calif., lost to Miss Buding in the National Clay Court final last month.

Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and William Bond of La Jolla, Calif., won the men's doubles final by defeating Crawford Henry of Atlanta, Ga., and Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 6-4, 10-12, 6-4, 6-3.

The women's doubles crown went to Mrs. Margaret du Pont and Margaret Varner of Wilmington, Del., who defeated Miss Hantze and Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

Caroline House Wins Philadelphia Title

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Caroline House, 15, of Los Angeles, won her third event in the AAU's women's national outdoor swimming championship by taking the 200-meter free style in 2:18.9. The Vester Boat Club of Philadelphia won the team title.

More Scrimmage Set For Cowboys

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (UPI)—Tom Landry, head coach of the Dallas Cowboys, had a surprise for his National League charges today.

He went back to a two-day workout schedule as the Cowboys returned to their training camp for another two weeks.

"We have some things to work on," Landry said.

He explained this was not only because the team lost 30-7 to the Green Bay Packers in an exhibition game in Dallas over the weekend, but also because he has new plays and routines to give the club.

Several rookies were expected to be cut off the roster today or Tuesday after Landry and his coaching staff have a chance to study movies of the Green Bay game. But he said there would be no "big change" in personnel until after the squad holds a full-scale controlled scrimmage next Saturday.

SWC Coaches To Attend Luncheon
DALLAS (UPI)—Head coaches from all but one of the Southwest Conference schools plan to be in Dallas Wednesday to honor Cotton Bowl advisory committee members from 28 Texas cities.

John Bridgers of Baylor will be the only conference head coach unable to attend, and Bill Henderson, assistant athletic director at Baylor, will pinch hit for him.

The coaches will preview their prospects for 1961 and then participate in a question and answer period moderated by Blackie Sherrod, executive sports director of the Dallas Times Herald.

Cement Stocks Position Good, Broker Asserts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clark, Dodge & Co. says cement stocks may have fully discounted their anticipated 1961-62 earnings gains, but they still have longer-term appeal while providing attractive yields.

Most of these issues have acted worse than the market during the recent strong uptrend, the firm notes. But, it adds, they appear now to be in position to respond to the heavy demands of the road building program and a higher level of construction activity generally.

Larry Abrams of Elearns & Co. asks: What is the investor to do? Today's high prices render the market extremely vulnerable to sharp and possibly protracted corrections, he thinks — but on the other hand, if the actions of four money managers further aggravate inflationary fears, the market may continue rising for a number of years.

There is no completely satisfaction solution, Abrams concludes. He believes that the best possibilities for gain, coupled with relatively high downside protection, are available in stocks whose earnings are compounding rapidly and which sell at relatively low prices.

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the market argues otherwise with those who would characterize the current action as "a rich man's bull market." He says a glance at the list of new highs shows an expanding number of issues, not a contracting number, and interest is spreading far beyond the periphery of the D-J averages, embracing scores of other issues running straight through the list.

Lowly 'Sweeper' Women Get Low Pay In Karachi

KARACHI (UPI) — She walks with a swinging gait, bold of eyes, audacious in speech. She is a striking contrast to the demure, burkha-clad female of the more respectable Pakistani family.

The sweeper woman belongs to the lowest-level in Karachi's stratified society.

Dressed in gypsy-type clothes, ornate with cheap jewelry, and with a gaudy shawl thrown over her head or around her shoulders, the sweeper woman carries no deep-rooted social or traditional responsibilities as she stoops over a low broom, sweeping the street.

She is, perhaps, the most fraternal of all Pakistani females. She can cuss fluently, with no inhibitions. Bound by no retiring sense of modesty, she mixes freely with men, drinks country liquor, smokes — if she wants to — and breeds with effrontery despite government's steps to introduce family planning.

As a rule, most sweeper women take on more than one job. From an average Pakistani home where they sweep and swab floors and clean old-style commodes, they get from $1.50 to 2.50 per month.

The lucky sweeper woman employed by a foreign firm or an embassy gets anywhere from $15 to $25 per month.

To augment her paltry income, a sweeper woman learns to scavenge in garbage cans, salvaging paper and rags she either sells or keeps as utility items.

Usually the wife of a male sweeper, a sweeper woman has to apply all her wits and brash ingenuity into feeding a large family, enlarged by dependent relatives.

In a one-room shack, sometimes roofless, live anywhere from seven to 15 people. Food is restricted to bare staple necessities, wheat and lentils.

Sweeper children turn out undernourished, scrawny and unkempt.

Hygiene also is impracticable. Cooking utensils, if large enough are used for bathing. One sweeper woman uses the lid of her immense cooking pot to bathe her son.

Strangely enough the sweeper woman is not much of a social problem. Despite their number, well over 10,000, sweeper women are inherently honest, carefree and unambitious.

Foreign Commentary

By WILLIAM D. MILLER
TOKYO (UPI) — If Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev decides against going all the way in Berlin many Asians suspect that the Communists will quickly divert world attention by stirring up new troubles in the Far East.

The Communists have successfully pulled this play before.

There are several tinderbox areas in Asia which could be ignited into a world crisis. Most likely trouble spots are considered to be South Viet Nam, the Formosa Straits, Korea and Laos.

Of these, South Viet Nam is considered the most immediately threatening situation. Already Communist Viet Cong terrorists and guerrillas, directed by North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh and backed by Red China and Russia, have become bolder.

The Viet Cong bands are moving in larger and more aggressive forces in the rural areas. They have stepped up their activity in the very outskirts of the capital city of Saigon.

The anti-Communist government of Ngo Dinh Diem has answered by stepping up armed strength and a partial mobilization. The United States pledged all-out support, is pouring in aid and equipment, and actively helping in the buildup of regular, reserve and anti-guerrilla units.

South Viet Nam thus has the elements for a major showdown between powerful forces.

Another trouble spot the Communists could turn on as easily as the front burner of a gas range is the Formosa Straits.

The Communists engineered a major crisis there in 1954-55 over the Nationalist Chinese offshore islands. They finally forced a Nationalist withdrawal from the northernmost Taicheng group, aboard U. S. 7th Fleet transports.

The Communists set off another crisis with a 37,000-round artillery bombardment of Quemoy on Aug. 23, 1958. The siege went on for 44 days until, according to U. S. military observers, the Communists ran low on ammunition.

In June 1960 the Red Chinese again raked Quemoy with 170,000 shells to protest the visit of President Eisenhower to Formosa.

Korea, with two combat-ready U. S. infantry divisions and a greatly strengthened South Korean army would be hard pickings for the Communists.

Summit or no summit, the next three months are likely to be one of the busiest periods of diplomatic talk and travel in recent years.
