Estes Pleads Not Guilty To Federal Fraud Charges

★★★ In Estes Inquiry Senator 'Rules' Against Suicide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan has decided by dint of pointing a rifle at his chest that the man who may have held the secret of the Billie Sol Estes case never killed himself.

The chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee Thursday found that another thread in WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan said today that disclosures in the Senate's investigation of Billie Sol Estes revealed a breakdown in the Agriculture Department's machinery for operating the nation's farm programs.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Oklahoma agriculture officials said Thursday they protested some of Billie Sol Estes' cotton allotment transfer practices as early as February, 1961.

But the Oklahoma officials maintained their complaints were apparently not acted on in Washington.

Wayne Winsel of Altus, chairman of the State Committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service since March, 1961, said his committee and the preceding committee both protested transfers from Oklahoma to Reeves and Pecos counties in Texas.

But after fiddling with a duplicate of the death weapon Thursday, McClellan concluded that "no man committed suicide with a weapon like this."

It left unanswered, he said, the questions of "why, how and maybe by whom."

It also left unanswered the subcommittee's question of the mo-

'True' Telephone Conversation Due In Telstar Work

NEW YORK (UPI) — American Telstar scientists, unruffled by French-British oneupmanship in space, today planned to relay the first "true" transatlantic telephone conversations via the tiny, orbiting sphere.

Eugene McNeely, president of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T) is scheduled to chat with Jacques Marelet, French minister of post and telecommunications. A British official also will converse with the Andover, Maine station.

The feasibility of the calls was proved Thursday night when the Britons, still simmering over a French first in sending television to the United States, broke into technical tests on the 24th orbit and made telephone contact with AT&T men at Andover.

Their gallic counterparts drew abreast on the next orbit when they also reached Andover by telephone. American officials cooperated tolerantly in both experiments.

The transatlantic callers said "How do you do?" and "Do you hear me?" to each other, matching in oratorical power the historic first sentence uttered over the telephone, in 1876. At that time Alexander Graham Bell bellowed a command along the wires to an assistant in the next

Three Co-Defendants Enter Guilty Pleas

By JAMES T. YOUNG
United Press International

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Three co-defendants with Billie Sol Estes in a 29-count federal indictment today pleaded guilty to mail fraud. Estes pleaded innocent to the same charge.

The co-defendants are Coleman McSpadden of Lubbock, Tex., and Ruel W. Alexander and Harold E. Orr, both of Amarillo, Tex. They are officials of Superior Manufacturing Co., which turned out the fertilizer tanks allegedly involved in the 37-year-old Estes' schemes.

Estes was scheduled to appear later in bankruptcy court. He admits to being $38 million in debt and the court was expected to throw him into involuntary bankruptcy.

He, McSpadden, Alexander and Orr appeared today before U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomson to plead to an indictment charging 16 counts of mail fraud, 12 of interstate transportation of fraudulent documents and one of conspiracy.

After the first count was read, Estes pleaded innocent and the other three pleaded guilty. They told Judge Thomson they realized the seriousness of the charges.

"You realize this (one count) carried a possible sentence of five years and a $1,000 fine?" Judge Thomson asked.

"We do your honor," the three replied.

"In other words," Judge Thomson said, "you plead guilty because you are guilty."

"Yes, sir," McSpadden, Alexander and Orr said.

Bulletin

TROON, Scotland (UPI) — Incomparable Arnold Palmer shot a course record 67 and a 69 today to win the British Open golf championship for the second straight year with a record 72-hole total of 276 strokes.

Palmer's winning margin of six strokes over Kel Nagle of Australia was the largest since 1949, when Bobby Locke of South Africa defeated Harry Bradshaw of Ireland by 13 strokes in a 36-hole playoff.

The only casualty of the pageant was Miss Wyoming, Anne Bonner, who was disqualified because a preliminary contest was never held in her home state. Officials said Miss Bonner wasn't to blame. But she packed up and flew home Thursday afternoon.

Ban-The-Bomb Advocates Stage Moscow 'Silent Vigil'

MOSCOW (UPI) — A handful of Western ban-the-bomb advocates staged a "silent vigil" protest against big power nuclear policies in Red Square today, but had their banners yanked away from them by Soviet women who opposed their demonstration.

The demonstrators called off plans to picket the American embassy in the face of Soviet opposition. Instead, they marched into Red Square with three banners unfurled to protest nuclear tests by both East and West. Originally, 40 planned to demonstrate but only 20 showed up. The clash in Red Square came as the Soviet Union served official notice that it feels free to conduct another series of nuclear tests.

The demonstrators were followed by a group of Soviet women who took the banners away, rolled them up and stalked off.

"They are undecorous," muttered one woman as she walked away.

The demonstrators included representatives from the United States, Canada, Denmark, Norway, Japan, India and Lord (Bertrand) Russell's British "Committee of 100," which frequently has committed acts of civil disobedience in England for its anti-nuclear cause.

The marchers are among the 2,000 delegates to the Soviet-sponsored World Congress for Peace and Disarmament which has been meeting in the Kremlin all week. A stream of speakers has denounced American and Soviet nuclear tests and the armaments race.

When the "ban-the-bomb" group announced its plans Thursday, Moscow city authorities described the demonstration as an act of rudeness and said participants might be "deported."

Mixed Emotions Are Felt About Secretary Ribicoff

EDITOR'S NOTE: When the Kennedy cabinet took office 18 months ago, there were predictions that Abraham Ribicoff would be one of its brightest stars. The following dispatch, based on interviews with Ribicoff and his critics, explores how well he has lived up to these forecasts.

By LOUIS CASSELS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Abraham Ribicoff is ending an 18-month run as secretary of health, education and welfare with what show business calls mixed notices.

Some critics say the handsome ex-governor of Connecticut didn't live up to his advance billing as the smoothest political operator in the Kennedy cabinet.

Others say he has turned in a very creditable performance, considering the difficulties of his role.

Ribicoff's own appraisal is: "I've done the best I could. I've given this job everything I had."

Ribicoff is going home to Connecticut to run for the U.S. Senate. He hopes to be back in Washington next January to resume, as a senator, some of the legislative battles which he was

Churchill In Rally From His Infection

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill, rallying from a bronchial infection which developed during his hospitalization for a broken leg, spent a comfortable night and his condition remains "steady," a hospital spokesman said today.

Churchill's wife said after visiting the ailing statesman at Mid-desex Hospital Thursday night: "I think he is much better this evening than he was this morning. He was smoking a cigar while I was there."

Churchill, 87, was rushed to the hospital two weeks ago today after a fall in his Monte Carlo Hotel suite at the beginning of a vacation on the French Riviera. Doctors inserted a small pin through the broken bone in his thigh to help hasten the healing process.

The chest condition developed at mid-week, hospital spokesmen said.

Dr. D. Evan Bedford, one of the physicians attending the wartime leader, was quoted by the London Daily Mail as saying: "There is nothing to worry about. I heard just after tea time that Churchill is doing very well."

CoC Group Plans Events

A number of upcoming events were discussed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Activities Committee this forenoon in City Hall.

Sam Jacobson, committee chairman, said reports were given by several members of the chamber's Industrial Promotion Committee on plans to "advertise and tell the Pampa story" to the rest of the nation.

There also was discussion of the Miss Pampa Contest to be held Aug. 10, at which time a young lady will be selected to represent Pampa in a number of other contests throughout Texas, including the Wheatbread of the Nation competition at Perryton in August.

Pampa also will be represented in the Miss World contest to be held soon in Amarillo. This contest separate from the Miss Pampa Contest, it was stated.

Additional plans for "Lucky Days," July 19, 20 and 21, also were discussed and it was announced that nearly three-score merchants already have announced participation in the event.

Money Bill Deadlock Is Subject Of Session

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Feuding delegations from House and Senate Appropriations Committees meet today in an effort to lift the roadblock stalling passage of major money bills.

The fight between the two branches is over where and under whose chairmanship so-called conference committees would meet for their efforts to draft final versions of the bills needed to keep the wheels of government turning.

Under a compromise worked out with the help of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson the deadlock may be broken at today's session.

The compromise calls for the protocol conscious committees to meet on "neutral ground" between the two chambers and for chairmanships of the joint committees to be based on seniority. Taxes — The Senate Finance Committee was sharply divided today over President Kennedy's plan to raise taxes on American firms operating overseas. Under the present law American subsidiaries may pay off, indefinitely all U.S. taxes on foreign earnings, or until they send the money back to the parent firm. The split over the plan was evident Thursday when the committee turned down a motion to set the measure aside.

Medical Care — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted today that the vote on the Social Security financed medical care bill would be close. Javits, one of five Republicans sponsoring the bill, said the outcome was in such doubt that he refused to make any predictions.

Comprehensive rates, however, did not come under the plan, and are affected only by loss experience such as caused by Hurricane Carla and other severe weather.

The board said rates for bodily injury and property damage liability coverage will vary mostly $1 or so — up for some drivers and down for others. The liability rate chart shows the biggest change for drivers in the two maas much as $166 next year under the new rates — depending on whether a person was a safe or reckless driver.

Not all safe drivers will get increases in premiums, the board figures showed. In El Paso County, for instance, an average insurance bill for the main types of insurance would go down $1.

Point of Controversy — The premiums for liability and collision insurance are affected by the board's July 5 decision to abolish the controversial "merit-rating" insurance plan.

President's Trip Is Postponed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has postponed his trip to troubled Brazil until Nov. 12, but his press secretary — already there — said it had "nothing to do with Brazil's political crisis."

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger went to Brazil Thursday to make advance plans for Kennedy and his wife, who were scheduled to go to the South American nation late this month.

CANDIDATE VISITS — Bill Hayes of Temple, Republican candidate for Lt. Governor of Texas, is interviewed by Miss Wanda Huff, Daily News Staff writer, as he stops in Pampa during his two-day visit to the Top O' Texas area. Dr. S. B. Syper, 1701 N. Hobart, Hayes' Gray County campaign manager, arranged a breakfast in the Coronado Inn this morning. Hayes will continue his campaign tour in a visit to the Rio Grande Valley and San Antonio area. Violators Will Get Greatest Cut In Insurance Rates

By WILLIAM CLAYTON
AUSTIN (UPI) — Drivers who have had traffic violations or collisions in the past few years will get the greatest cut in rates in their automobile insurance bills.

United Press International learned Thursday the final rates the board was to announce today. Liability rates effective Aug. 1 had been announced earlier. The new rates cover comprehensive, and $50 deductible collision, as well as liability.

Automobile insurance bills will go up as much as $14 or go down

as much as $166 next year under the new rates — depending on whether a person was a safe or reckless driver.

Seventy-Three Finish Summer Reading Project

With the summer reading program at Lovett Memorial Library more than half completed, 73 children have completed the reading requirements and will receive certificates when school starts in September.

Travis with 151 children enrolled and Baker with 80, are still in the lead. Two children from Lefors and one from Miami are registered.

The following children have completed the reading requirements since June 28: Angela Allison, Kathy Collingsworth, Susan Higginbotham, Bobby Wayne Phillips, Lori and Gwen Rogers, Horace Mann, Becky Burris, Carla Sue Emerson, Steve Horn, Gail Holler, Nicki Hunt, Bonnie Moore, Renita McAdams, Carol Ann Parker, Baker, Janet Gay Black, Marshall Lindsey, Bert and Curt Morrison, St. Vincent, Charles and Claude Coombs, Judy Crosby, Gary and Judy Elliott, David Griggs, Marcie and Steve Holcomb, Lynn Fletcher, Linda Jo Starbuck, Janice and Dona Stoddard, Cindy and Miki Scott, Eddie Ray Williams, Travis; Billy Irvin, Randy Paul, Steven Plunk, Sam Houston; Kathy Gallman, Jan and Joe Zuerker, Woodrow Wilson; Cynthia Gill, Susan and Karen Parish, Austin; Jim Tom Pepper, Lamar; and Judy Ann McLaughlin, Miami.

Librarians who are directing the summer reading program, Mrs. Winifred Crinklaw and Miss Diane Zachry, wish to remind those who have turned in booklets that they may be picked up at the desk, to add additional books to their list. Only one certificate will be issued; however, Miss Zachry supervised the construction of a special window display to show the standings of schools participating in the reading program.

Dallas, Fort Worth Polio Vaccine Project Will Use 86 Public Schools

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas County Medical Society is planning to make use of some 86 public schools where county residents may receive Sabin oral anti-polio vaccine during mass inoculations July 29 and Aug. 5.

Dr. P. E. Luecke told a news conference Wednesday immunization sites had been selected and the medical society awaited school board approval. Each distributing center is to serve from 10,000 to 15,000 persons, he said. A companion drive will be held the same two Sunday afternoons in Fort Worth, sponsored by the Tarrant County Medical Society.

In both cities, persons who receive the oral polio vaccine on cubes of sugar will be asked to contribute 25 cents or more.

"There is no charge for the vaccine," Dr. Luecke said. "We don't want anyone not to come because they are ashamed not to pay."

Dr. Luecke said about one million doses of the Sabin vaccine will be bought by the medical society, at an average price that may be as low as three cents. He said private physicians charge $2 to $3 for administering the vaccine at their offices.

Two other types of anti-polio vaccine will be distributed to the public in similar drives in the fall, Dr. Luecke said.

Will Keep Records
He said each center would be staffed by 35 persons, including two doctors. Records will be kept of the names and ages of persons who receive the vaccine.

INVERTIVE MIND—Rod Kleis, 13, of Holland, Mich., rides a modern-day version of the old-time "boneshaker" high-wheel bicycle. Rod's bike has an inverted frame to which are attached welded pipe extensions. That's riding high.

The Show Went On, Even After Professor Was Bitten By Snake

EL PASO (UPI) — The show must go on — and in the case of a Texas Western University biology instructor it went on 12 minutes after he had been bitten on the hand by a rattlesnake.

H. Glenn Hampton, 34, the instructor, was out of danger today — but his hand was badly swollen.

It all happened this week when Hampton began a lecture on a closed educational television circuit.

He laid out several snakes indigenous to the Southwest on a table before the television cameras. One serpent was a small prairie rattler.

While a teacher education class of 60 persons watched from television receivers in another building, Hampton put the snake through its paces. He had it coil and strike. Then he put a cloth over its head and tried to pick it up. The snake slipped its head from the cloth and bit him.

There were 12 minutes to go in the lecture. Hampton calmly wrapped a handkerchief around the wound and commented that he had cut his hand. He then completed his lecture without his audience being aware of what had happened.

Hampton sucked venom from the fang wounds and went to a nearby hospital where it was a hour before doctors could find the proper anti-venom.

"I was just trying to stretch the snake out and now it's got me stretched out," Hampton said.

Virgil C. Hicks, chairman of Texas Western's Department of radio and television, said Hampton put on a good show.

"It was a terrific demonstration," he said. "Teachers watching TV could look down the mouth of the rattlesnake without any danger to themselves. But we are deeply concerned about Mr. Hampton."

Man Is Cited As Habitual Criminal

STEPHEVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—James Hugh Leggett, 33, of Abilene was found guilty of burglary this week and sentenced to life imprisonment as an habitual criminal.

The jury found Leggett guilty of burglarizing the Evans Company of Stephenville. He took $180.40.

Dist. Atty. Sam Cleveland introduced evidence of two previous convictions of Leggett — one for burglary and one for assault to murder. Both offenses happened in Lubbock County.

Leggett pleaded guilty to three other Erath County burglaries after receiving the life sentence.

"I've been stealing all my life," Leggett said. "You don't learn how to do something like this in five minutes. I can't blame anybody but myself."

He has confessed to more than 1,000 burglaries in 87 Texas counties. He said he may have pulled 1,500 jobs.

The Bodleian Library of Oxford University contains about 1.5 million books.

His Temperature Was Above Limit Of Thermometer

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Harold Clark, 51, was taken out of his ice pack and off the critical list Thursday when his temperature dropped from at least 108 degrees to 99.

Doctors placed Clark in ice when his temperature rose so high that it could not be recorded on a thermometer that reached 108 degrees.

Clark apparently damaged the temperature control center in his brain Wednesday night when he fell out of a second floor window at a hotel, doctors said.

Nurses at Peter Smith Hospital said Clark was talking about the rigors of waking up in ice today. Clark was reported in fair condition.

Telephone Company May Call To Help You In Direct Distance Dialing

Pampa customers may get a call from the telephone company this week to make sure they understand how the new Direct Distance Dialing system, which comes to Pampa on July 23, works.

George Newberry, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. manager, said telephone operators are presently attempting to contact every customer in the Pampa exchange to make sure they know how to dial their own Long Distance calls. Newberry also said that a team of expertly trained telephone personnel is calling on all Pampa businesses, who regularly make a certain number of out-of-town calls per month, in person to make sure all business men and women know how to dial their own calls.

"Actually," Newberry said, "dialing a DDD call is very simple. You just dial '1' to reach the long distance machine, then the three digit area code for the city you're calling and the telephone number in that city."

"However," he added, "we know from past experience that people are sometimes reluctant to try something they are not sure of. So, we have this special customer training program to help them."

Newberry also stated that some customers, both business and residence, may be missed in the canvass.

"We're doing our best to reach all of them," he said, "but we know there are bound to be some that we won't be able to reach."

Newberry emphasized that customers who aren't sure how to dial an out-of-town call from their telephone should check the instruction pages in their telephone directory or ask a telephone operator.

Girl Scouts Add Two To Area Staff

Officials of the Quivira Girl Scout Council announced today the hiring of two new district advisors, which now brings their staff of advisors to three.

Advisors serving the area include Miss Pat Dial, Pampa; Miss Beatrice Decker, Borger; and Celia Fowler, Pampa.

Miss Dial, 21, is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dial, 505 E. Kingsmill. She graduated from Pampa High School in 1958 and graduated from the University of Arkansas this spring with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology. She has been assigned to work with District III which includes Memphis, Shamrock, Clarendon, McLean, Lefors, Miami and Canadian.

Miss Decker, 21, graduated from Texas Women's University, Denton, this spring with a Bachelor of science degree in sociology. She has been assigned to the Borger area, which includes Hutchinson and Armstrong counties.

Celia, 23, daughter of Mrs. Lillie Mae Fowler, 600 Powell, who has worked for the Council six months has been assigned to district II which includes the Pampa area and Ellis County, Oklahoma.

All the advisors will be working in adult leadership training.

Keesee Is Sentenced To 5 Years

AUSTIN (UPI)—Korean War hero Sgt. Bobby Joe Keesee, who said a man posing as a Central Intelligence agent duped him into a crime spree that ended with a flight to Cuba, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and fined $2,500 Thursday for interstate transportation of a stolen car.

"That was a pretty rough sentence," Keesee said.

Federal Dist. Judge Ben H. Rice Jr. passed sentence, Keesee, 28, of Amarillo, was convicted Tuesday. It was the first trial of 152 counts lodged against the AWOL Army sergeant. He is AWOL from Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

Defense attorneys said they would not appeal.

The enraged Britons struck back with their own show during the 16th orbit.

Thursday night, reports of technical difficulties with the satellite were circulating. AT&T said the trouble was "minor" and concerned "signals from remote microwave stations to the satellite."

"There is nothing wrong with the satellite," an official at Ansover said. "The satellite itself is in great shape. Things on the ground we can fix."

Russians Warn They Feel Free To Do Testing

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union served official notice today that it feels free to conduct another series of nuclear tests.

The warning came in an official statement to Tass news agency by the Foreign Ministry.

The statement recalled what it said were "hundreds of experimental blasts" in the West, and claimed each one serves to perfect existing weapons and create new ones.

"Under these conditions not only morals and right, but also the interests of general peace and security require that the Soviet Union should be the last to conduct nuclear tests," the statement said.

The statement came virtually on the eve of the East-West disarmament talks scheduled to resume Monday in Geneva. It followed a similarly firm line reaffirmation of Soviet policy on Germany and Berlin in a Tass statement released Thursday.

The statement today charged that the U.S. government had been forced to enter negotiations on a nuclear test ban and had done everything to foil them by placing "absurd demands" on the Soviet Union.

Association, in stirring up wide public interest in the issue. They are convinced that this interest will pay off, perhaps next year, in enactment of the bill.

Shrugs Off Criticism

The debonair, 52-year-old political veteran tries to shrug off the criticism of his legislative record.

"You won't find Abe Ribicoff being a cry baby," he said. "In this business you take your lumps and go on from there."

But a moment later he spoke, with more than a trace of bitterness in his voice, about the usefulness of "scapegoats" in politics. And he said, only half-humorously:

"If you work out a program that passes, the senators take the credit. If your program doesn't pass, the secretary is a bum."

"They ought to call this the department of controversy. There are powerful, well-organized interests which oppose nearly every program we administer. I feel sorry for the guy who succeeds me in this job."

Russians Expected To Push For Cold War Review During Meeting

GENEVA (UPI)—Communist diplomats said today they expect Russia to push for a wide ranging cold war review at next week's East-West ministerial talks here, with increased pressure for a Berlin settlement.

They cited Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's speech before the Moscow Peace Congress earlier this week as an indication of what the Soviets have in mind. Khrushchev touched on Berlin, disarmament, defense costs, nuclear tests and rocket strategy.

Foreign ministers of the nations participating in the 14-member Laos conference are to come to Geneva to sign a peace settlement for the Southeast Asian kingdom July 23, according to present plans.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are expected to gather in Geneva a few days ahead of the signing ceremony for exploratory talks on Berlin peace prospects.

The Communists now are suggesting that once these talks start they be expanded to the over-all German problem, the nuclear issue, all aspects of disarmament and what they term "the overall issue of peaceful coexistence."

What the West appears to have in mind is primarily to elevate the Berlin peace "probe" to the ministerial level, to determine in talks with Gromyko: "Where do we go from here?"

New Telephone Directories To Be Mailed Here

The new Pampa-Skellytown-Lefors telephone directory will be mailed to telephone customers today, George Newberry, Southwestern Bell manager, announced.

According to Newberry, the new directory will contain 76 white pages with 10,800 listings and 172 classified pages. He said that over 17,000 copies have been printed, and while all of them will not be mailed at this time, he expects they will be used before the 1963 directory is published.

Newberry pointed out that many telephone directories used in pay telephones and other public places "wear out" from constant use and that these must be replaced periodically. He also said the telephone company receives requests from people living out of town for copies of the telephone book.

Telephone users are cautioned to check their old directories thoroughly before throwing them away. "People often keep important papers, out of town telephone number lists, and even pictures, in a telephone book," he said. "Then when the new directory is received they throw the old one away before making sure that any keepsakes or important papers are removed."

Only about one-fifth of the world is covered by any regular observational or weather-reporting system.

Police today were searching for a Pampa youth described as a "real, cool cat."

In fact he was trying to keep so cool last night that he drove up to the Wagon Wheel Drive Inn, 303 N. Hobart, clad in nothing more than a T-shirt.

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The trend in fall fashions for women is back to the figure — if you can see it under the massive swathing of fur.

Use of fur for trimming is so profuse in the new collections that they're now referring to wall-to-wall carpeting of the stuff. Fur trimmings have been going great along Seventh Avenue, heart of the New York garment center, for the last five years. They're going even greater this year.

Look at the hem of a dress or coat — fur banding. Expose a suit jacket lining — fur. The collar of a coat — fur. An extra accessory for the slim, basic costume is a fur boa around the neck which is detachable — (the boa, not the neck). Or, if all else fails, wrap a skinny strip of mink, fox or sable snake-fashion around your wrist in lieu of the regular bracelet.

No single fur rules as the supreme favorite. Furs range from hamster and opossum to mink, sable and chinchilla. In the higher-priced clothes collections, the thing to do is use fur, but don't show it — much.

At Monte Sano & Pruzan, for instance, fur line coats of ensembles. Confession to the woman who feels if she's wearing mink or nutria and wants to show it: Make the coats reversible.

Monte Sano & Pruzan is one of the firms which Wednesday showed new lines to reporters in town for the New York Couture Group's semi-annual "Press Week."

Donald Brooks, the 1962 winner of the American Fashion Critics Award to be presented formally in September, stuck with what has become a Brooks trademark and has made Mrs. John F. Kennedy one of his customers through retail outlets. This is the simple, uncluttered silhouette. The Brooks silhouette generally was chemise, skimming easily over the body. In some instances, skirts had the hint of flare; in others, he marked the waistline a bit with a cummerbund inset of fabric.

Highlights of other collections shown Wednesday.

Cecil Chapman — All the evening clothes from this designer-manufacturer set out to make a girl look like a girl, with almost always more neckline exposed than covered. Few can match Chapman at the art of draping fabric around curves. The halter proved to be her favorite method this season for neckline treatments.

Mollie Parnis — This designer and manufacturer whose customers include Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the former First Lady, set the theme of her show with the announcement that the silhouette would "clearly mold the figure without marking the waistline." Then she went right ahead and marked the waistline throughout the collection with narrow ropes of self-fabric belts, with cummerbund waistline treatments, and with fabric bow fronts tied at the middle.

Rosalie Macrini — This firm, which makes evening clothes, never has deserted the defined waistline. The new collection uses wide, crushable satin belts with oversize buckles to keep the mood.

Originals — The coat with the fitted look moved in at this firm, which makes coats only. It showed in both single-breasted and double-breasted versions. Sleeves were longer than in previous seasons, but they still bared the wrist. At this firm, as in many others, the checkerboard look in fabrics abounded. Some of the checks were an easy three inches square.

Countess Alexander — Showing her initial collection as a member of the Couture Group, this designer of late day and evening clothes sponsored the long slim dress, the theater costume with fitted over-burlesque look, and fitted jackets scarf-tied on one side of the neckline.

Here We Go Again... Milady Will Be Striving For Slouch Look This Fall

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Designer Larry Aldrich leans on the slouch as the newest major fashion trend.

The manufacturer spoke repeatedly of slouch or swagger looks, as he unveiled his fall and winter collection for the approximately 250 fashion reporters attending the New York Couture Group's semi-annual press week.

Slouch is another way of describing dresses which have an easy fit, with such traditionally casual additions as turtle neck tops "slouched" over straight line skirts. Tops in many instances are cinched with waistbands similar to the type on the Eisenhower field jacket.

Aldrich included a whole batch of pullover slouches in combinations of cashmere and flannel or worsted plaid or plain. These are slips of dresses topped by over-blouses which have the lean and casual look of pullover sweaters—a deep V-neck showing a high, round neckline of the straight dress beneath.

One of the futures Aldrich and his chief designer, Marie McCarthy, are banking on is the fitted, full-skirted dress. Samples of these showed in fitted blacks, no waistline defined as a rule, but with the bosom accented.

In New York collections in general, the trend in daytime clothes is to show off the natural lines and curves of the body. Even the bulkiest of fabrics are arranged to be figure-conscious somewhere.

At Harvey Berin, designer Karen Stark continued her tradition of the narrow silhouette for day in challis, wool broadcloth and English chiffon wool.

The Berin "triple" is a practical costume in three parts—an easy sheath skirt with sleeveless overburlesque, and buttonless jacket with wide V-revers.

Almost all is late day and glittering evening fashions at Edward Abbot's. Known for its cocktail sheaths which fit like a second skin, the firm continued the same shape into fall in crepes, jerseys, velvets, and a whole maharajah's trunk of jeweled fabrics.

Dear Abby....

Lady Should Keep Nose Out Of Garbage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a lady in our neighborhood whom we have nicknamed "The Inspector" because she makes a habit of inspecting everybody's trash. She actually goes around to the back yards and pokes into trash cans to see what she can learn about the neighbors. She is not hard up and never takes anything — she is just nosy. She once told me she knew who the beer drinkers, gin drinkers and wine drinkers were. And also what kind of medicine people use and all sorts of other information that is none of her business. What should we do about her?

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I started to dream in color. I know that I dream in color because, after I wake up, I can remember the colors I have seen in my dreams. I have told this to some people and they laugh at me. They say I am only imagining my dreams are in color and that everyone dreams in black and white. I wonder if any of your readers THINK they dream in color? Also, what does it mean if I really do?

DEAR ABBY: Please settle this: My wife says that when a man reaches 35 he should no longer send his mother a gift on her birthday or on any other occasion. I say a man is never too old to remember his mother. Who is right?

DEAR RAY: Yes, it IS possible to dream in color. But according to my authority on dreams, no one knows what it means or if it has any significance.

DEAR ABBY: Is it considered good manners to say, "I've heard a lot of things about you" when you are introduced to a person?

DEAR WONDERING: That all depends upon what you've heard.

National Guard Unit In Return To Battle Dress

NORTH FORT POLK, La. (SpI) — Guardsmen of the Texas 36th Division went back into their battle dress here this week to finish up two weeks of tactical training.

After a spit-and-polish-Division Review Saturday, the 8,000 troopers of the Texas infantry outfit climbed back into their field fatigues and back into the tough task at hand.

The two weeks of maneuvers marks a climax to the past 50 weeks of home armory training. National Guardsmen from Pampa were praised for their performance during the first week by their division commander, Maj. Gen. Selden Simpson of Amarillo.

"We should strive for even a better second week," he told his commanders.

The local unit, one of 100 that make up the combat famed 36th Division, is Company B, 1st B.G., 142nd, Inf., which is commanded by Capt. Lawrence Hurdle.

Training outside the state for the first time in 11 years, the men of the 36th have found it a hot and humid go weather-wise. And the training itself, with the Army Training Tests primarily the chief objective, has been just as tough.

The 8,000-membered division will return to their home bases beginning Saturday.

When the Guardsmen are not training under simulated combat conditions in the field, they are firing on the ranges with their rifles, mortars, rockets and heavy howitzers.

Daily duty here has been a far cry from the usual 8-to-5 civilian shift. It most likely will start long before dawn, and sometimes ends well after midnight.

Night problems are just as important in their training as the daytime training.

Due to the intensive field training, and the limited use of its ranges, the 36th has split up its field training into two shifts.

Some 5,000 of the T-Patchers hit the wild woodlands of the Louisiana post this week. The field training last week involved the other 3,000 Guardsmen.

NEW FREEDOM, NAMES—More woe for the mapmakers in their efforts to chart the changing face of Africa. Newly independent former trust territories of Ruanda and Urundi have adopted the African equivalents of their old names. The former Ruanda is now the Republic of RWANDA. Urundi is now the Kingdom of BURUNDI.

ARRESTING—You could zoom right past this highway patrolman near Watsonville, Calif., and he'd never chase you. "Policeman" is a dummy and the patrol car is also phony. The pair do a good job of slowing down speeding motorists, however. Philanthropist Harvey E. West of Placerville, with permission of California officials, has placed a number of the dummy cars along roadsides. They are moved around to different locations so that motorists won't know for sure whether a patrol car is dummy or real.

Text: "Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of way-faring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men".
JEREMIAH 9:2.

"A lodging-place that I might leave my people." There is no flight for him into quiet religious contemplation; he cannot withdraw from the circle of interests in which his countrymen are dwelling. He may pass hours or months in solitude, but he will not be away from the event which are befalling them; he will be more deeply occupied with them; he will be contemplating them with a closeness an intensity to which the mere actors in them are strangers. The poor young priest of Anathoth can in no way sever himself from the policy of nations and rulers: Judea, Egypt, Chaldea, every tribe and power of the earth must be about him in his closet, must enter into his most inward personal experiences and sufferings.

It is this childlike tenderness which adds to the severity of his denunciations, to the bitterness of his grief. He was not one of those stern characters which bear without repining the necessary evils of life. He who was to be hard as brass and strong as iron, who had to look with unmoved countenance on the downward descent of his country, yet longed that his "head were waters, and his eyes a fountain of tears, that he might weep day and night for the daughter of his people." He whose task it was to run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, like the Grecian sage to see if he could find a single honest man — to live, as it were, in the market-place as a butt of scorn, alike from the religious and the irreligious world — he was, by his own nature and inclination, the prophet of the desert, longing for a lodge in some vast wilderness, that he might leave his people, and avoid the sight of their crimes.

Oh, for a lodge in some vast wilderness, some boundless contiguity of shade, where rumour of oppression and deceit, of unsuccessful or successful war, might never reach me more! My ear is pained, my soul is sick, with every day's report of wrong and outrage with which earth is filled.

As I sit apart by the desert stone, like Elijah at Horeb's cave alone, a still small voice comes through the wild, like a father consoling his fretful child — which banishes bitterness, wrath, and fear, saying — "Man is Distant, But God is Near."

Palmer Headed For Golf Title

TROON, Scotland (UPI) — Arnold Palmer appeared headed for his second straight British Open golf championship when he shot a course record five-under-par 67 in the third round today. He widened his lead over Australia's Kel Nagle to five strokes.

The muscular 32-year-old U.S. Masters champion, who started the final day's play with a two-stroke lead, shot a 35-32 on the morning third round while the Australian carded a 34-36-70.

That gave Palmer a total of 148 for 4 holes; Nagle had a 212. After an intermission for lunch, the two contenders teed off again on the sun-baked 7,045-yard Troon course for the fourth and final round.

Palmer's third round included six birdies, four of them on the morning nine holes. He strayed over par only once.

The score of 67 was two strokes lower than the old course record which Palmer shared with other players during the early rounds of this tournament. The Troon course recently was lengthened to its present distance.

In a typical Palmer finish, he ran off birdies on four of the last five holes on the third round.

Young Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., shot a 35-37-82 for a three-round total of 217 strokes.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who started the final day nine strokes behind the lead, shot a 36-36-72 on the third round. Snead's round included one birdie and one bogey. He shot par for the last 13 holes and had a 54-hole total of 221.

Jack Nicklaus, the U.S. Open champion from Columbus, Ohio, shot a third-round 74 that gave him a 54-hole total of 226. Nicklaus was the first of five American survivors to complete his third round.

Don Essig III of Indianapolis shot a third-round 34-45-79 that gave him a 227 total.

In the 1960 British Open at St. Andrews, Nagle equaled the tournament record with an aggregate score of 278 to beat Palmer by a stroke. The likeable Pennsylvanian started that final round four strokes back of Nagle.

Palmer, though, was in the driver's seat this time. He shot three-under-par 69 Thursday to reach the halfway mark of the hole tournament with a 140, and gave him a two-stroke lead over Nagle, who fired his second straight 71 in the second round. The two leaders were paired for today's final grind.

Rodgers, a freshman pro from La Jolla, Calif., was locked in a four-way tie for third place, five strokes off the pace. The red-haired Californian carded a 70 in the second round for a 145 total.

Essig, former U.S. public links champion from Indianapolis, carded a second-round 72 for a 148 aggregate; Snead, who won this tournament back in 1946, had a 73 for 149, and Nicklaus, the current U.S. National Open champion, barely qualified for the final 36 holes with an 80-152.

Three Yanks were eliminated after the second round. They were former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, who had a 74-153; Jack Isaacs of Langley Field, Va., 78-154, and world Seniors champion Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., 77-156.

Littler wasn't the only "name" golfer who failed to survive the cut. Others included former champions Gary Player and Bobby Locke of South Africa, Dai Rees of Wales, the British Ryder Cup captain, and Irish Joe Carr.

El Paso Is Safely Atop Texas Loop

By United Press International

Infielder Gerald Robinson hammered two long home runs Thursday night to put El Paso safely atop the Texas League standings with a 7-5 victory over second-place Tulsa.

The loss dropped the Oilers 1½ games behind El Paso. In other league games, Amarillo trimmed Austin, 5-4, and Albuquerque downed San Antonio, 6-2.

Robinson cracked a three-run homer in the 4th inning and whacked a solo shot in the 8th inning. The Oilers, trailing, 7-0, going into the final frame, rallied gamely with five runs but fell short.

Jose Santiago pitched a seven-inning shutout for Albuquerque in its victory over San Antonio. Amarillo scored two runs in the 9th inning to edge Austin.

Tonight El Paso is at Tulsa; San Antonio is at Amarillo; and Albuquerque is at Austin.

AFL Carries Anti-Trust Suit To A Higher Court

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The American Football League has carried its $10,700,000 anti-trust suit against the National Football League to a higher federal court.

Warren Baker, attorney for the AFL, filed notice Thursday asking the 4th District U. S. Court of Appeals to review a ruling by Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen, who rejected arguments that the NFL had the power of monopoly on professional football in the United States.

Judge Thomsen ruled on May 21 that the new league had not been damaged because the NFL expanded into Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The AFL also claimed in its suit that the NFL tried to keep the new league from acquiring players, stadiums and the sale of television rights.

The trial started Feb. 26 and testimony was heard intermittently until April 26.

Indians Are Closing In On Yanks In AL Race

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

As General Custer said: Here come those blanket-blank Indians again!

It was no joke for Custer then, nor does it seem to be one for Ralph Houk and his New York Yankees now.

The guy right up there in front leading the Indians' second-half attack is Chuck Essegian. He's no stranger, having struck several key blows in Cleveland's cause during the first half of the season.

Essegian boosted the Indians to within four percentage points of the first-place Yankees when he blasted a pinch three-run homer in the ninth inning Thursday night to beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-4.

Baltimore took a 3-1 lead into the ninth but pinch-hitter Willie Tasby tied the score with a two-run single. Then, after the Tribe put another man on base, Essegian came off the bench and drilled his 14th homer off Billy Hoelt.

Gary Bell, third of six Cleveland pitchers, was the winner. Tribe manager Mel McGaha employed three hurlers in the bottom of the ninth when the Orioles scored once and filled the bases before Frank Funk nailed down the final out.

The Los Angeles Angels held off the Yankees, 5-4, Washington downed Minnesota, 7-4, in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, and Kansas City beat Boston, 5-4, in the opener of a doubleheader but dropped the 11-inning nightcap, 5-4.

The Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their half-game lead in the National League with a 3-0 victory over the New York Mets, while San Francisco's second-place Giants topped the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3.

Pittsburgh hurled Houston, 6-4. Milwaukee stopped St. Louis, 8-6, and the Cincinnati Reds rapped the Chicago Cubs, 8-4.

Rookie Dean Chance of the Angels saved Ted Bowsfield's victory over the Yankees by halting a four-run rally in the seventh inning. The Angels ripped into Whitey Ford for four runs in the first inning when Felix Torres tripled with the bases full and Torres drove in another run with a sacrifice fly in the third.

Jim Kind connected for a two-run homer off Minnesota starter Jack Kralick in the eighth to tie the score at 4-4, then belted another two-run homer off loser Ray Moore in the 10th to bring the Senators their victory. Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew, Chuck Cottier, Earl Battey and Harry Bright also hit homers. Dave Stenhouse went the distance for his seventh victory.

Juan Pizarro limited the Tigers to two hits in winning his eighth game for the White Sox. Joe Cunningham's sixth inning homered tied the score at 2-2 and Nellie Fox singled home the winning run off loser Don Mossi in the eighth.

The A's won their opener from the Red Sox on George Alusik's pinch single with two out in the eighth.

Four Teeing Off Today In Tourney

TOWN OF TONAWANDA, N.Y. (UPI) — Three little guys and a rangy Arizona tee off today in the 36-hole semi-finals of the National Amateur Public Links golf championship.

The little guys are the 1961 titleholder, Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., Warren Strout of Speedway, Ind., and Hung Soo Ahn of Honolulu, Hawaii. The man from Arizona is blond Wayne Breck, a 25-year-old construction worker from Scottsdale.

The first semi-final match sent putter against putter, Sikes against Strout. The long-hitting Breck will test the equally distance-stroking Ahn.

Sikes, a 6-foot, 140-pound University of Arkansas senior aiming for his second consecutive Public Links crown, scrambled past erratic-putting John Joseph, Hayward, Calif., 1-up, to gain the quarter-finals Thursday. Then he demoralized 37-year-old Hubert Farmer, Toledo, Ohio, 7 and 6, in his most impressive showing of the tournament.

The stocky, 5-foot, 8-inch Strout, a 38-year-old electrical engineer, defeated University of Wichita junior Lamont Kaser, 1-up, and 31-year-old Herb Howe, Minneapolis, Minn., 2-up in his two matches.

ninth, but Bob Tillman's two-run homer highlighted a five-run Boston rally in the 11th inning of the nightcap. Lou Clinton hit a pair of homers in the second game and drove in two other runs with an 11th inning triple for the Red Sox.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax recorded his 14th victory for the Dodgers against the Mets although he had to depart after seven innings because of a finger injury. Koufax yielded three hits and struck out six, while Larry Sherry held the Mets hitless over the last two frames. Ex-Dodger Roger Craig was the loser.

Willie Mays collected three hits and Jose Pagan homered in the Giants' victory over the Phillies. Jack Sanford won his 10th with help from Stu Miller in the eighth. Jack Hamilton absorbed the loss.

Smoky Burgess' three-run homer, Dick Stuart's two-run homer and Bob Skinner's solo homer powered the Pirates to victory over the Colts. Alvin McBean scattered nine hits for his ninth victory while Jim Golden suffered his eighth loss.

Hank Aaron brought the Braves from behind against the Cards with a grand slam homer in the ninth inning after his kid brother, Tommie, started the rally with a solo homer. The defeat was charged to Lindy McDaniel, who relieved Larry Jackson in the ninth. Claude Raymond was the winner.

Triples by Don Blasingame and Leo Cardenas sparked a four-run rally in the ninth inning that broke a 4-all tie between the Reds and Cubs. Joey Jay hurled a six-hitter for his 12th victory.

The swimathon began at 2 p.m. today with about 25 entries expected to take part in the 'round the clock' stay in the pool. The pool is heated and judges will be on the spot around the clock to make sure no one sneaks out of the pool when he is not supposed to.

The marathon endurance test is being sponsored by the merchants of White Deer and KHHH radio. Participants have to be from age 12-21. Pampa merchants will award rod and reels, transistor radios and a score of other prizes to the winner.

Old-Timers Vie Amid Nostalgia

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Old Lady of Coogan's Bluff welcomes them back Saturday and it's the last time they'll all see her together.

She's 71, the grand old dame of baseball, and looks surprisingly well considering her years. "But this year marks the end of the road for the ancient belle of baseball as she finally yields to progress."

So it will be a time for memories at the Polo Grounds Saturday when the Mets hold their first Old Timers' Day.

She still has some service ahead of her. There's the current baseball season to finish and then the New York football Titans will run their season. But by next spring the new Flushing Meadow stadium will be ready and the Old Lady of Coogan's Bluff will be dismantled.

There will be one there even older than she. He's Jack Doscher, who once pitched for the rival Brooklyn and who at 82 is the oldest living Dodger. Jack will pitch once more, throwing out the first ball to open the festivities.

Back, too, comes Rube Marquard, he who won 19 straight games for the 1912 Giants. And Mrs. John McGraw, wife of the Napoleonic manager, who knew him when.

The Mets being new this year, the Old Lady welcomes back the old Dodgers and the old Giants as her own. There are Hall of Famers Frankie Frisch, Carl Hubbell and Bill Terry of the "Jints," and Zack Wheat of the Brooklyn. And four new ones, Jackie Robinson, Bob Feller and two who served briefly with the Giants, namely Bill McKechnie and Edd Roush.

One of the Old Lady's brightest memories was that magic day in 1951 when her Bobby Thomson swung at a pitch by Brooklyn's Ralph Branca and sent it winging up into her welcoming arms to win the playoff for the National League pennant.

They'll both be back as members of those two teams hook up again in a two-inning contest.

Leo Durocher, one of the loudest of her managers, will pilot the "home" forces again. With him once more, 11 years later, will be Herman Franks, Sid Gordon, Jim Hearn, Monte Irvin, Dave Koslo, Jack Lohrke, Don Mueller, Eddie Stanky, Sal Yvars and Thomson, who now works for a paper firm.

Dressen, who called unlucky Ralph Branca in from the bullpen that day 11 years ago, will be back at the Dodger helm. And with him will be Cookie Lavagetto, Jake Pitler, Cal Abrams, Roy Campanella despite his wheelchair, Billy Cox, Carl Erskine, Gil Hodges, Clyde King, Clem Labine, Jim Russell and Duke Snider, who still is a menace with the visiting Los Angeles Dodgers.

When those ancient arch-rivals, the Dodgers, first came back this season, the Old Lady held court for the eighth largest crowd of her lifetime. For $5,704 fans turned out to boo and cheer and choke back a tear.

Despite the obvious commercialism of an "Old Timers' Day" game for a team which is in its infancy, sentiment probably will load her lap once again. Yet, while Al Schacht, the baseball clown, will be one of the umpires in the two-inning pre-game "contest," in the end it will be something in the way of a wake. For never again will all of them be together in the arms of the Old Lady of Coogan's Bluff.

Griffith Favored To Retain Welter Ring Title Against Dupas Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Welterweight boxing champion Emile Griffith, who has to live with the ghost of the late Benny (Kid) Paret on his ring record, is favored to retain his title tonight in a 15-rounder against Ralph Dupas, New Orleans veteran of 115 fights.

Griffith, favored at 5-12 in Las Vegas betting marts, is making his first start since his fists fatally injured Paret in a New York bout March 24. The weigh-in is at 1 p.m. EDT in Convention Center, where the non-televized bout will start 12 hours later — at 1 a.m. EDT, Saturday.

The Nevada Athletic Commission declined to waive the mandatory eight-count on knockdowns, and also retained the limit of three knockdowns per round. Champion Griffith, 23-year-old native of the Virgin Islands, gets a guarantee of $45,000 or 40 percent of the gate. Challenger Dupas, 26, gets a flat $10,000.

Dupas, who began fighting as a professional when he was only 14, has a record of 94-15-6. Griffith's mark is 29-3.

Griffith and his manager Gil Clancy insist he is not laboring under any emotional stress because of Paret's death.

Griffith, a broad-shouldered young fellow who has designed ladies' millinery in his spare time, speaks reluctantly of Paret's death.

"That was an accident," he said in an interview, "and I would have stepped back if I'd known he was so bad. You try to forget, but people won't let you forget. Every time I pick up a paper I read about it. I just want to show the public I'm a good fighter."

Mohawk Signs Wins Western Loop Title

Mohawk Signs wrapped up the Western league championship Wednesday night with a 5-4 victory over Hardin Roth at the Optimist park.

Mohawk won the game in extra innings on a home run by Larry Hasten in the bottom half of the seventh inning after both teams had battled to a 4-4 tie at the end of six innings of regulation play. The win gave Mohawk a final season record of 12-4.

Leslie Morgan was the winning pitcher, his seventh of the year against one loss. Mike Taylor was the losing pitcher for Hardin-Roth.

Leading the winners with the timber were David Schaub, a double; Leslie Morgan, a double; and Hasten, who poled the winning home run.

Morgan finished the game in fine fashion when he struckout the side in the top of the seventh inning.

Morgan gave up but one hit in carding the win for Mohawk and the championship.

Two Tied In Golf Tourney

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Two attractive blondes, lanky Mickey Wright and pert Barbara Romack, took par medalist honors and a two-stroke lead into the second round of the $10,000 Milwaukee Jaycee Open golf tournament today.

Miss Wright, San Diego, Calif., leading money winner of the LPGA tour, and Miss Romack, Grossinger, N. Y., looking for her first tournament victory in two years, both shot 70's in Thursday's opening round.

In being the only two to match par on the 6,13 yard, sun-drenched Tuckaway Country Club course Miss Wright put on a strong finish on the back nine and Miss Romack fired steady 35 going out and coming back. Miss Wright shot a 37 on the front nine, but recovered with birdies on the long 12th and 15th holes.

Bunched two strokes back with 72's were Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., winner of the Spartanburg, S. C. tournament this year; Joann Prentice, Birmingham, Ala. and Judy Kimball, Sioux City, Iowa.

Four competitors were knotted at five over par 75's. They were Kathy Cornelius, Lake Worth, Fla. Sandra Haynie, Fort Worth, Tex.; Andrea Cohn, Waterloo, Iowa and Patty Berg, Minneapolis, Minn.

Fear And Hate

We are beginning to believe that hate and fear can never exist without each other. The person who hates, is apt to fear what he hates.

The progress of the human species has occurred in those places and at those times when the light of knowledge supplanted the hates and fears which obsessed primitive man.

It is true, of course, that some things are fearful and even hateful.

But perhaps the greatest indication of unreason derives from fear or a hate of things which in themselves, are not fearful or hateful but are merely not understood.

The legitimate source of either fear or hatred would be immorality. We should learn to fear it in ourselves and to detest it when it manifests. And we should strive earnestly and with determination to root out of ourselves any possible tendency we have either to act, or to counsel action in others, which is in any respect immoral.

But there is no reason to fear or hate human beings on the basis of their nationality, their race, their religion or their condition in life. It is not men who are our problem, but the immoral concepts to which men still cling which provide the real problem with men.

Grant that some men will be of divergent nationality, race, or creed from our own. This, in itself, provides no problem. It is the immoral actions of such men, or the immoral actions of ourselves which create the area of peril. It is the thoughts of other men who may fear and hate us for our differences; it is our thoughts respecting other men whom we may fear and hate and, in so doing, drift to the standard of wrong doing.

The freest men we have ever met were men who had learned to put aside both hate and fear. They have a mental courage, and the courage springs from knowledge. Nor does it take them one bit more energy to put aside hate and fear than it would take were they to succumb to these limiting emotional drives.

Fear and hatred, sired by ignorance, react in tendencies toward socialization. Fearful man seeks to huddle with others who are also fearful, believing thereby that he can develop strength. He views strength as a physical thing deriving from close association and from a use of force.

But courage is singularly an individual matter, as is real strength. The strong man does not quail to stand alone, thereby revealing his courage. The fearful and the hateful dare not stand alone, thereby revealing the weakness of collectivization.

In union is revealed fear and weakness. In silence and in solitude, love and strength are born.

It is demonstrable that no man is ever able to control the energy of another. He may be fearful and hateful, but whatever his emotional condition he cannot control the energy of the man he fears or hates.

Inferior men, at this juncture, imagine that the cure to the hate and fear with which they are possessed, is to strike their opponent with even greater fear and also with greater reason to hate. It is as though they supposed fear could be overcome with more fear, and hate overcome with a deeper and more abiding hatred.

But the logical development of this irrationality is for an increase in the total amount of fear and hate in the world.

If fear and hatred are unwanted and detestable to you, they can only be supplanted and replaced by their opposites, not by more of the same. The answer to fear is courage; the answer to hate is love.

Courage and love go together much as hate and fear are twins. And they go together in the heart and mind of the man who will learn and, in his knowledge, stand alone and free.

This may appear to be a difficult route to follow, but the signs of progress are posted along the pathway leading to individualism. The collectivists, filled with terror and animosity, live no longer than free men. It may seem longer, but the free man has the advantage every time.

One man of knowledge and courage is forever superior to the mob. For the mob must have a leader and the individual is his own leader. He is fully equipped and prepared. The mob is merely the unsafe refuge, of those who are stricken with too much fear or hate to stand alone.

Nothing Is Free

Before you decide what you want out of life make up your mind that whatever it is, you must pay for it. Half the problem in attaining a goal is the recognition of the cost involved. There are no shortcuts to a constructive and successful life.

Superior Tactics

The Methodist magazine "Together" recites a singularly interesting tale in a recent issue. Neil M. Clark of South Stratford, Vermont, talks about the power of silence. And here is his story.

"An example of the devastating use of the power of silence occurred to President Woodrow Wilson in 1919. . . Wilson had left Washington early in September on a nationwide speaking tour to rouse popular support for the League of Nations. When he reached Seattle, his motorcade passed thru streets packed with chattering spectators. The president stood in his car, waving to acknowledge the ovation.

"Then, suddenly, the car entered a zone of silence. The crowd was as dense as elsewhere, but no band played, no voice cheered.

"It was a planned performance. The mayor had refused to allow members of the radical International Workers of the World to protest, the group planned the greeting of silence and preempted both sides of the street for five long blocks. As the presidential party passed, the mute mass of working men and their wives stood staring straight ahead.

"The effect on the worn pres-

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN
World Is Girls' 'Oyster'

With Pearls for the Taking
Here are some figures of interest to parents of daughters:
According to the Department of Labor, the number of working women now approaches 24 million. By 1970, the department anticipates, the army will number over 30 million.

Of women presently employed, more than half are married. And, of these 1 million or so, more than a million and a half are mothers with children 18 years old or younger.

Students at Smith College are being informed that the unmarried graduate may expect to work for 40 years of her life, the married graduate about 25 years.

The director of the Woman's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor advises young women that 9 out of every 10 are going to work for a livelihood.

In October, Barnard College, the woman's division of Columbia University, will join with seven other women's colleges in establishing a series of vocational workshops whose purpose is to help college-trained women to re-enter the labor market.

Despite the trend, a majority of undergraduate women at Michigan state University recently subscribed to the belief that "the woman's place is in the home." And most young women of my acquaintance appear to have little ambition beyond obtaining the little gold band that encircles the third finger of the left hand.

That these thoughtless youngsters seem not to understand is the plight they will face when they are forced into the labor market by economic necessity or by sheer boredom in later years when their children are sufficiently mature to leave the nest and their husbands have outgrown them as the result of the wage earner's continuing experiences and contacts in the world that lies outside the home.

In my experience, the origin of most neurotic complaints of middle and later life, too often blamed on the menopause and related "female disorders," rests in sheer boredom.

All of which is my way of advising the parents of daughters that there is more to the art of living than orange blossoms and wedding bells.

enormous gains he was able to make in spite of the active opposition of the British government in India. Not that Gandhi was correct. He was grossly mistaken in the economic field. As a confirmed economic socialist, Gandhi favored hand labor, opposed machine tools and did not want to see industrial progress come to India - and this in spite of the fact that India had a starving population, was utterly sunk in poverty and required, perhaps more than any other nation, the industrial revolution which might have set these people upon a road to progress and prosperity.

But Gandhi employed superior tactics, tho he may have done so for the wrong reasons. In a real sense he employed the tactic of silence. He did not fight back. And his magnificent detachment from a personal sense of peril never inspired him to take up arms or otherwise to commit an overt act against the protecting power of the British empire.

Faced with this advanced device, the British government was impotent to defeat the tiny, ugly saint. The more the British mustered their military and police might, the more they sanctified the Gandhi position. The contest was grossly unfair for the British government never really had a chance. It was relying on devices which had proved successful in days of barbarism but which were outmoded in modern psychological warfare. Gandhi declined to oppose them with their own weapons or upon a field of their own choosing. He employed his own weapons and his own tactics in his own way. And he carried the day, even tho it might have been better for the Indian people had he failed.

When we consider the fact that today's cold war is really a psychological war, we might do well to study superior tactics instead of making the same error employed by British politicians. Communism, our sworn enemy, is an idea. It cannot be defeated with guns. But it can be defeated with truth and with superior tactics properly employed.

It is worth a bit of study.

Pegler Says: He Finds, So Far, That Birchers Are Pro-American

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The John Birch Society is a strange, strong political force now in its fifth year which has attracted the most violent opposition that has been brought to bear on any independent anti-Communist power in all the years since President Roosevelt recognized Moscow. The House Committee on Un-American Activities is easily the Number One target of the Red smear and "liberal" hostility. But the Committee is an official body of Congress whereas John Birch exists by itself. Its address is simply Belmont 78, Mass. Its roster, accounts, and the approximate number of its chapters and members are internal secrets. It has no religious or racial qualifications, but it does reserve the right to blackball or expel any person suspected of being an agent of the Left.

Robert Welch, the president, a retired Boston manufacturer, has been investigated by the Society's opposition with the professional skill usually applied to such subjects. Thus far the Communists and the "liberals" have not been able to lay one single charge against him except that he is a dictator in a monolithic political group.

He freely concedes as follows: "We could point to the tremendous advantages of our monolithic structure in the troubled days ahead. Our members soon learned that there is nothing oppressive or coercive about our organization or our purposes. To accuse me of being a dictator when the only thing I can possibly do about a member who disagrees with our requests too persistently is to give him his dues back, is as silly as accusing our society of being 'fascist.' Our greatest present goal is the restoration and strengthening of our Republic and our ultimate goal is to bring about less government and more personal responsibility."

But the objection to the monolithic shape and the discipline comes oddly from the Left where the United Mine Workers and the Garment Workers Union, for flagrant examples, are actual dictatorships with purely decorative boards of executives who can be fired at the will of John L. Lewis or Dave Dubinsky. And, though Lewis is now drowsing toward the end of his career, Dubinsky is a personal - political henchman of the Administration.

His union recently opened a multi-million dollar apartment house in New York. The apartments incidentally are not for garment workers. They are for expensive so actually, the Union, not the poor needleworkers, gets the benefit. All unions conform to that pattern and most execu-

Edson In Washington Important News Reported On Agricultural Front

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) - While Sen. John L. McClellan's Government Operations Committee staff and the Department of Agriculture were marshaling their forces for the big show investigation of Billie Sol Estes shenanigans in cotton allotments, 800 members of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers spent four days in Washington quietly making some constructive reports about the farm problem.

The contrast couldn't be greater. The Estes hearings will run for weeks, get many columns of newspaper space, hours of radio and television time and will be on every tongue.

The agricultural engineers, who have 8,000 members in 70 countries, had their year's research and findings to discuss. They may have benefits for hundreds of millions of people for years to come. Yet they got no publicity at all.

Over 150 papers were presented. Many were too technical for most of us, and there isn't space here to review the others adequately. But highlights will give consumers an idea of some of the important things being done.

"More than three-fourths of the world's food is now produced by hand tools or animal-drawn implements," A. D. Faunce of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome reported. So the need for agricultural engineers who can teach modern methods to primitive farmers is great.

Since half the people added to the United States population in the last 20 years live in unincorporated villages, zoning of rural areas has been authorized by 49 of the 50 states to protect farming interests from the suburban sprawl.

There was a report on a United States Air Force housing project in Little Rock, Ark., where costs of heating by electricity have been reduced to $250 a year for each unit.

Research on protection of livestock and farm crops from radioactive fallout was reported by Department of Agriculture scientists. Poultry, meat and eggs were found to be dependable sources of fresh food because they resist radiation.

Idaho tests showed winter egg production just as high in windowless henhouses as in those with windows, if there is a good fan ventilation and electric lights.

A new electric pasteurizer has been developed by a Kentucky co-op to provide 100 per cent pure water for dairies. Another study revealed that 1/2 of 1 per cent impurities in water supply can run up bacteria count in milk.

An experimental tractor-mounted harvesting machine has been developed to pick "trained" apple trees. Citrus fruits are being harvested by circulating air blasts. And even cherries and asparagus are mechanically harvested.

Of incidental interest to Estes victims, it was reported that severe moisture and temperature changes cause more losses on stored grain than any other factors. Texas tests showed refrigerated air circulated through elevators reduces stored grain losses.

Studies in the Northwest showed sprinkler irrigation much cheaper than ditching because it does not require expensive land leveling.

Woman Swims 75 Miles Nonstop But Is Disappointed It Wasn't 100

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Britt Sullivan broke a record when she swam 75 non-stop miles in sea water recently — but she's down about it.

"I didn't make my goal — 100 miles," she ex-WAVE said. "That's failure any way you look at it."

Miss Sullivan, 27, intends to try for 100 again next month, plunging into the Atlantic at Long Island's shore in New York — the place where she met her Water-

Interviewed upon her release from Long Beach Memorial Hospital, the plucky "mermaid" said she also intends one day to swim the English Channel underwater, across and back.

The record stood at 31 1/2 miles before Miss Sullivan's feat.

"But I wasn't out to break a record," she said, "I wanted 100 miles. I didn't make it because I couldn't last more than three days and three nights in the ocean."

"I was out to prove that a human could survive such an ordeal by using a common sense approach."

A common sense approach included taking a hundred or so strokes at a time before allowing herself something she needed — food, a sweat shirt saturated with muscle ointment, a cigarette, a pep pill to keep her awake.

"Life doesn't offer challenges," she said. "This was a challenge I made for myself. It's hard to get along without challenge. You meet one successfully — and then you make another one."

Miss Sullivan said the experience was "soul-purifying." She explained it this way:

"At night when fear would seem to overtake me, I would think about big questions. For example, I would think about who's right: beatniks or the people who sit around waiting for the world to end on a certain day."

"I thought about the rat race and life."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — If historical precedent is any yardstick, then the Federal Reserve Board's action in cutting margin requirements to 50 per cent from 70 per cent should give the market a temporary boost, according to Thomson & McKinnon.

The action reflects Washington's concern over the market situation, especially the sharp drop in credit that is used to buy stocks, the brokerage house believes.

It has been indicated, it adds, that June will show the largest monthly decline in bank borrowing by stock exchange member firms on customer collateral since the war period.

Standard & Poor's says that carefully selected stocks merit accumulation by investors taking the long view. "Price risks are greatly minimized at this stage, with immediate prospects pointing to a further rise on technical grounds."

"Before we get into July, very far," says the Dow theory trader, "I would expect another vigorous burst of strength to new highs for the summer rally, and this gradually upward process should go on and on for the next three to six months, as I see it."

United Business Service contemplates the current market as an area in which to "bargain-shop" for the stocks of solid, growth-minded companies for long-term investment.

ARTY POLITICS—Neither a clock or modern art, this giant wheel was erected to help attract votes for the Christian Democratic Party in Italy's capital of Rome.

SMITH ELECTED PRESIDENT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Everett Smith of Scarsdale, N.Y., has been elected president of the American Bible Society.

The election was announced Thursday night by the society. Smith succeeds Dr. Daniel Burke, who resigned last month.

The new Bible Society president, a native of Seattle, Wash., once served as treasurer and president of the retirement fund of the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

New Tax Depreciation Schedules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The new tax depreciation schedules at a glance:

What They Mean
A $1.5 billion tax break affecting practically every firm, every businessman and every farmer in the country.

How They Work
The schedules set forth the government's idea of what the useful life of a given piece of equipment is. If a businessman pays $300 for a tabulating machine which the schedule says has a useful life of 10 years, he can deduct a total of $300 from his taxable income over a period of 10 years for wear and tear on the machine.

The Effect
When the 10 years for wear and the businessman has deducted a total of $300 for the tabulator's depreciation, he would theoretically have saved the $300 to invest in a new tabulator.

The Difference
The new schedules give, generally, a much shorter useful life estimate for equipment than the old schedules, which were in effect for 20 years. Thus a businessman can replace his equipment using money saved from taxes — much faster than he could before.

What This Will Do
President Kennedy expects it to eventually provide more jobs through faster business expansion and modernize American industry so it can compete better with foreign industries.

Dairy Farmers In Milk Production Control Planning

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI) — The New Mexico Dairy Farmers' Association is drafting a plan to control milk production in most of New Mexico, and parts of Texas and Colorado.

The plan would supplement, but be separate from, the Rio Grande Valley Milk Marketing Order. Both plans aim at stabilizing milk prices for the producer.

The plan would allocate production quotas to individual farmers, said association President C. A. Reid, Jr.

Opposes Plan

Jim Zartman of Belen said he strongly opposed the plan. Zartman, a charter member of the Dairy Farmers Association, said "the plan is contrary to the idea of free competition. It comes close to the same kind of price-fixing that General Electric officials are in jail for now."

Association manager George Chadwick said the plan was designed to protect the individual dairy farmer. He said it would be based on past levels of milk production such as Creamland and a deduction on individual farms.

If the plan is adopted milk production would pay the association for milk they buy. The farmers would be paid by the association a price set by the federal milk market administrator here, Earl Boren.

Price Wars Strike

Boren's office now sets market-wide prices to pay dairy farmers, and to making periodic inspections. The milk order was issued after retail price-wars struck the state industry.

The order covers all of New Mexico except for three counties and four counties in Colorado, and El Paso. The base excess plan would apply in the same area if adopted.

Chadwick said an informal base plan is now in effect. Each farmer agrees to furnish a processor so much milk. If he delivers more than his agreed amount the processor pays for it at a reduced rate.

HE WARNED THEM

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — An enterprising motorist who was involved in an accident wasn't satisfied with an ordinary sign warning other drivers "If you can read this, you're too damn close."

On the back of his caved-in trunk he had written, "Didn't I tell you, you were too damn close."

NEW BOUNTY BONANZA

POINT MUGU, Calif. (UPI)—Fishing military hardware out of the sea may become the next bonanza for the space age county hunter.

The Navy's Pacific missile range headquarters here has announced a schedule of rewards for military equipment ranging from $100 for a wayward torpedo to $25 for a pilotless target aircraft.

Crop Acreage In Decrease

AUSTIN (UPI) — Several major crops in Texas are being planted this year to lower acreage than last, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says, and some production prospects are down substantially from a year ago.

The USDA said cotton acreage of 7 million acres is down 1 per cent, the wheat harvest of 49.1 million bushels is down 42 per cent, oat acreage at 806,000 acres is down 25 per cent and rye production at 38,000 bushels is down 21 per cent.

Barley production of 3.9 million bushels is a whopping 61 per cent down from last year, corn production of 26 million bushels is down from 31 million last year and peanut and soybean acreage are both down.

Flaxseed harvested acres are slashed by 86 per cent because of severe weather damage, hay production of 2.3 million tons is down 3 per cent, peach and pear production are down sharply, and milk production has lagged.

Rice Prospects Good

Brighter points in the Texas crop outlook are rice prospects, up substantially, and egg production, on an upward trend. Rice acreage is up 12 per cent and estimated production is 14.6 million hundredweight. Egg production in June maintained a high level.

A special commercial vegetable report by the USDA said harvest of early spring vegetables is all but complete.

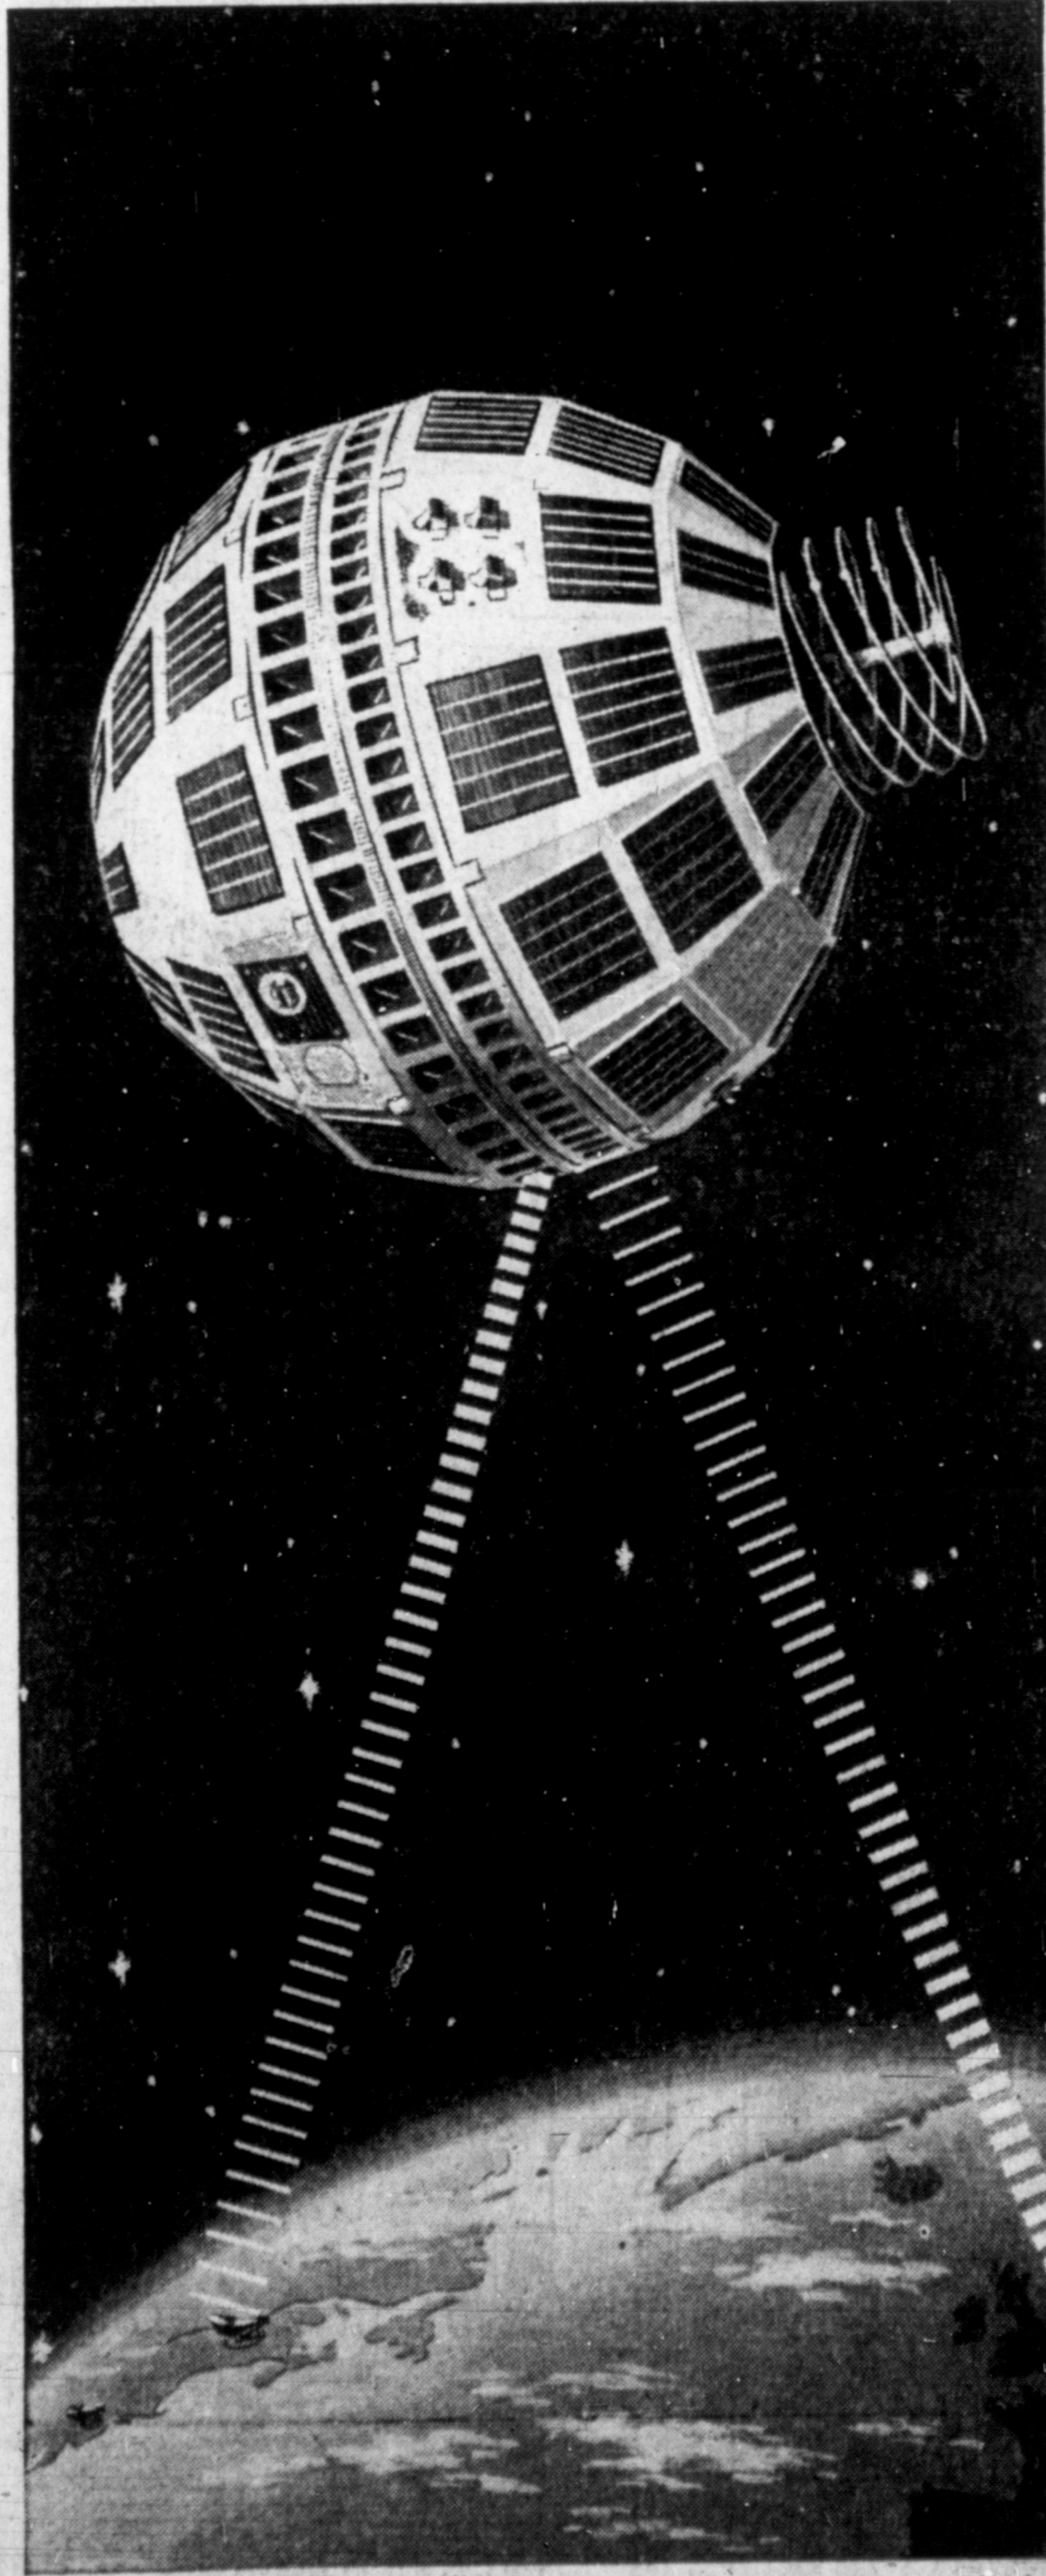

Good rains during June boosting prospects for late watermelons in the Falfurrias and Hebronville areas and helped soil moisture for late spring and summer vegetables.

Mid-summer production of cantaloupes is estimated at 225,000 hundredweight, substantially below last year. Early summer production of onions is getting underway and supplies are becoming available in good volume. Onion production estimated at 912,000 hundredweight compared with 931,000 hundredweight last year.

More Melons

Texas watermelons are heading for a 5.2 million hundredweight production, far above the 4.6 million hundredweight of last year. Rio Grande Valley harvest is virtually complete. Central Texas is expected to furnish supplies through July and East Texas production is reaching a peak. Growing conditions have been fair to good and rain is plentiful in Central and East Texas for late production.

Early summer Irish potatoes have made good progress and digging is at increasing volume. Production estimated at 1.7 million hundredweight will be substantially below the 2.2 million hundredweight last year.

New "TELSTAR" relays phone calls and TV pictures for first time!

Bell System microwave-in-sky satellite is latest communications triumph for America arising from telephone research

The world's first private enterprise communications satellite is now being used for dramatic experiments in relaying telephone calls and television internationally.

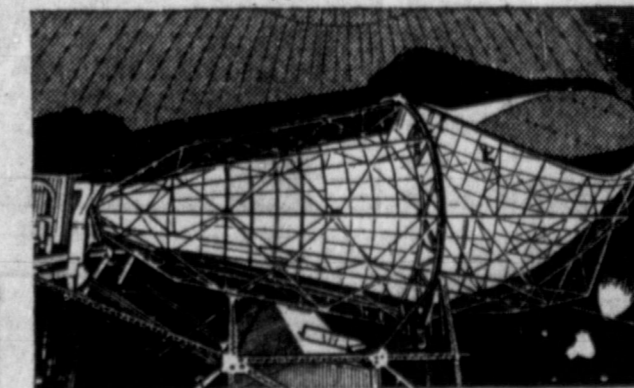

Its name: Telstar. It was launched from Cape Canaveral at Bell System expense by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Telstar receives signals beamed to it from a ground station, amplifies them and transmits them to another station on the ground below—perhaps an ocean away from the first one. The new satellite thus acts as a microwave relay station in the sky, enabling voices, TV pictures and data messages to leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way.

The ground stations in the U.S. now being used for Telstar were built by the Bell System at Andover, Maine, and Holmdel, New Jersey. Organizations abroad have built stations in England and France. The latter, a near replica of the station in Maine, is being assembled with Bell System cooperation. A receiving station in Italy will be ready late this year, and another in West Germany next year.

Telstar is a first major experimental step toward a world-wide satellite communications system that was first proposed as a practical venture at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Progress toward such a system would not have reached its present state without continuing research and development by the private communications industry, including six fundamental Bell System contributions—the transistor, the solar battery, the traveling wave tube, ruby masers, the waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations with innovations in circuitry.

Above all else, Telstar is the latest achievement in an unending Bell System quest—the search for ways to make your telephone service still better, more economical, and more useful.

INSIDE GROUND STATION "RADOME" AT ANDOVER, MAINE. Giant antenna (note man near rim of horn) concentrates signals to Telstar in a narrow, powerful beam. In the same antenna a receiver amplifies signals coming from Telstar ten billion times.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Francisco Franco's nomination of his successor and the makeup of the Spanish cabinet have been described as the most significant political move to occur in Spain since Franco's rise to power nearly 25 years ago.

In this case the extravagant phraseology probably is justified. In one stroke Franco eliminated the question "after Franco, what?" and at the same time eliminated a potentially dangerous split within his own government.

It was a victory for those "liberals" inside the regime who overcame years of lethargy and complacency to push through Spain's stabilization program in 1959 and who now seek Spain's Association with the European Common Market.

The new lineup still further reduces the influences of old-line Falangists, Spain's only legal party, who feared the changes inevitable through close association with a liberal Europe.

Toward Reunion

As it has moved cautiously but steadily toward a reunion with the Western family of nations, Spain has become a member of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund.

It is not a member of NATO, but, through its agreement with the United States, provides invaluable air and naval bases for Western defense.

Mid-1959 found Spain almost at the end of its financial rope. Its foreign exchange was down to less than $60 million. Then it devalued the peseta, restricted credits, went after a balanced budget and laid on new taxes.

The result was a howl of protest that the engineers of the new economic look had plunged Spain into her most serious economic

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — With props that cost about $1.98, Mary Fickett and Harry Reasoner of CBS-TV's morning "Calendar" show Thursday night marked themselves the most attractive team on television with a jewel of a special about daytime America.

Boosted by Lucille Ball's old sidekick, Vivian Vance, and by the comedy team of Bob and Ray, the show was a literate and lovingly whimsical hour that offered statistics such as the following:

Concerning the population explosion: "Nine out of 10 housewives explode four out of five days."

If all the 37 million homes in the nation were laid end to end, "they would look like a lot of American communities already look."

The above two facts were put forth by Reasoner, who, with Miss Fickett, bridged the entertainment and public affairs nature of the hour effortlessly.

Informal Atmosphere

Disarmingly, they began their expensive hour of nighttime prominence by sitting on a couple of stools. Reasoner indicated we might be interested in knowing what the special would be about.

"It'll be about an hour," said Miss Fickett, to which it was quickly added that these were not the kind of usual nighttime jokes we would get. And we didn't.

Near the start, we got a very funny, speeded-up film of woman at her daily work, accompanied by a rollicking country banjo score by Glenn Paxton, who wrote the original music for the special.

There followed a tongue-in-cheek and charming filmed sequence of a career girl's day—the career girl being Miss Fickett, from awaking to bedtime. Reasoner needed good-naturedly, noting that a career girl "burns with a fierce desire to achieve."

Dandy Description

Then, a little less good-naturedly, Reasoner, an Iowa boy who has kept the big city in its place, had some fine words about those women who try to crack men's fields. He described them as "deodorized, defeminized and depressing." In New York, he meant. Only some of them, of course. And certainly not Miss Fickett.

Reasoner also narrated a fond filmed remembrance of old-fashioned homes — where you, instead of an architect, decided what to do with rooms. And Miss Fickett was in a whale of a skit with Bob and Ray as a housewife invaded by all sorts of characters — played by the comedians. One of the characters was a doctor called to check up on her son. "If we go upstairs, that's extra," said the doctor.

Miss Vance did a phone monologue of a woman caught up in organizations. Robert (Captain Kangaroo) Keeshan talked about youngsters. And Miss Fickett and Reasoner recited a passage from "Tom Sawyer" — by heart. Almost.

The Channel Swim: Arlene Francis hosts NBC-TV's "Tonight" show next week. Leonard Bernstein was renewed for four "Young Peoples' Concerts" on CBS-TV in the coming season. ABC-TV will rerun the old "Father Knows Best" series on Sunday nights come fall.

MGM assigned the book "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" for development as a video series. NBC-TV's Shari Lewis gave birth to a girl. Gary Crosby stars Aug. 8 on CBS-TV's "Steel Hour" in a comedy set on a peaceful island during World War II.

Dick Martin, of the Rowan and Martin comedy team, plays Lucille Ball's bachelor neighbor in at least six episodes of her new CBS-TV series next fall. Rowan and Martin will continue as a team but do separate television acting parts.

Cuba ranks fourth among nations of the world in iron ore reserves.

crisis in 20 years. It split the cabinet.

But its advocates held on, and today Spain's reserves total more than $1 billion.

Liberal Victory

Chief among the opponents were the ministers of labor, industry and information and tourism. They departed in the recent shakeup and have been replaced by "Europeans," those who favor increased liberalization of economic policies and entry into the common market.

Taking over as Franco's designated successor is Gen. Agustin Munoz Grandes, a friend of the United States. As vice premier he is expected to ease the way in negotiations for a renewal of U.S. bases agreements this fall.

Free elections is a requirement for entry into the European Common Market and this could provide a bar to Spain. It also could provide a lever for political evolution.

TRIPS UNNECESSARY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., doesn't think it's necessary to send American comedians overseas on goodwill trips.

"Foreign nations already are laughing at America's foreign aid program," Saylor said in a statement.

He referred to the recent controversial trip to Afghanistan by a troupe of entertainers led by comedian Joey Adams.

COUNTRIES BUY BONDS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Jordan and South Viet Nam have bought some of the projected $200 million worth of emergency United Nations bonds, it was announced Thursday.

Jordan purchased $25,000 worth and South Viet Nam, which is not a member of the world organization, $10,000 the announcement said.
