Group Pushes For Recall Vote On 3 Commissioners

Mayor Sidwell Is Retained, 2 To 1, As 'The People Speak' In Recall Election

Committee Asks Election Be Held Without Delay

The "Citizens for Better City Government," defeated yesterday in their attempt to have Mayor E. C. Sidwell removed from office, today renewed their efforts to have the three remaining city commissioners recalled.

The CBCG, through its chairman, Lewis Hackley, issued a statement this noon calling on the City Commission to set an election date for a recall election on Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Leon Holmes and E. P. Fort.

The Citizens Committee stated it hoped the Commission would call the election "without any further legal expense to the taxpayers by appealing the District Court decision" of last Friday night. At that time District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich ordered the election called on all four remaining city commissioners. Commissioner Secret resigned yesterday, leaving only Simpson, Holmes and Fort. Attorney Clayton Hears of Amarillo, representing the Commission, immediately served notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. That is where the matter stands today.

Here is the statement, in full, issued this noon by the Citizens for Better City Government:

"In the election yesterday there were over 4,000 votes cast, and this appears to be a record number of ballots cast in a city election in Pampa.

"The original by-line of the Citizens group was to 'Let the People Speak', and this was done forcefully and conclusively.

"It is regrettable that such sums of city money was spent to delay this election when it could have been held at an earlier date with less accusations and counter-accusations.

"Sidelines of this election prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that the city officials of Pampa should work toward bringing the city charter up to date.

"A very fine cause will be served too, if the tremendous interest displayed in yesterday's election will carry forward by having the folks who voted put in an appearance at commission meetings in-so-far as they can give of their time in order to stay currently informed on the actions of the governing body.

"We hope that the city governing body will set the recall election on the commissioners without any further legal expense to the taxpayers by appealing the District Court Decision."

Deadlock Hurts Politically United Europe Dreams

PARIS (UPI)—The dream of a politically united Europe faded today with the foreign ministers of the six European Common Market nations deadlocked over Britain's entry in the Common Market.

The ministers wound up a one-day meeting Tuesday without making any formal plans for resuming their talks or for a six-nation "little summit" conference which they had hoped to set up for this spring in Rome to sign a treaty for a "union of European peoples."

The six Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — have made little progress since they started work last October on a blueprint for a politically united Western Europe.

Their deadlock became complete after Belgium and The Netherlands told the conference Tuesday that they would not sign any political unity treaty until Britain becomes a Common Market member.

Basically, the trouble remained that Belgium and The Netherlands want a closely integrated Europe, whereas France and, to a lesser extent, West Germany and Italy, merely want a loose confederation of sovereign states.

UN Peace Army Proposed By US

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today said the nations of the world have a "heavy responsibility" to lay a foundation for world disarmament.

Kennedy told his news conference the U.S. disarmament plan laid before the 17-nation conference in Geneva today is the "most comprehensive" series of proposals the United States or any other nation has ever made.

He said he hoped it would have a "constructive influence" on the progress of the Geneva talks.

The plan proposed to cut the world's arms by almost two thirds in six years. It would replace national armies with a United Nations peace force in about a decade.

The President also said his administration does not harbor any ill-will or hostility toward steel companies that first raised prices last week, then lowered them following government pressure. He said there was no room for feelings of "vindictiveness" or public recriminations.

Announced that he has directed the Army to cancel the court-martial of a reserve private first class for sending his senator a telegram critical of the chief executive. The soldier is Pfc. Larry D. Chidester, now stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Said he also had ordered, in keeping with the Easter spirit, Waggoner Carr is due tomorrow.

Waggoner Carr, Lubbock, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, will arrive in Pampa at 11 a.m. tomorrow for a three-hour campaign tour of the city. The public is invited to attend an informal reception for Carr at 1:15 p. m. in the county courthouse of the Gray County Courthouse, according to Dist. Atty. Bill Waters.

More Astronauts To Be Picked Next Fall

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The space agency said today that 5 to 10 additional astronauts would be picked next fall to join the seven Mercury pilots in training for future flight programs, including trips to the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) also said a third group of astronauts would be recruited some time after 1965.

The new group may include civilian as well as military jet test pilots. Candidates have until June 1 to file their applications with Director Robert R. Gilruth of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex.

NASA officials said candidates must be under 35 as of next fall and be no taller than six feet. In addition to being experienced jet test pilots, they must have degrees in physical or biological sciences or in engineering.

NASA officials said the qualifications demanded for the new space pilots automatically rule out women candidates. They said no women now flying could meet all the specifications.

The new astronauts will work with the seven pioneer astronauts

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Railroad Commission today granted the request of 10 of 12 oil purchasers and ordered a continuation of an eight-day oil production schedule during the month of May.

Production in the state next month will be an estimated 2,710,825 barrels daily, a decrease of 49,425 barrels because of the change from a 30 to 31-day month.

Two of the 12 purchasers at the monthly oil hearing asked for seven days of production. They were Sinclair Crude Oil Co., with nominations of 109,000 barrels daily, and Phillips Petroleum Co., which nominated 118,497 barrels daily.

The 10 firms seeking eight-day production and their nominations: Indiana Oil Purchasing Co., 225,000; Socony - Mobil Oil Co. Inc., 222,500; Sun Oil Co., 101,250; Shell Oil Co., 160,300; Cities Service Oil Co., 82,500; Atlantic Refining Co., 78,520; Texaco Inc., 147,000; Humble Oil and Refining Co., 368,535; Standard Oil of Texas, 34,450; Gulf Oil Corp., 207,000.

in "support operations" for Project Mercury but will not participate in what is left of the Mercury program.

They will, however, join the Mercury pilots in training for the next flight program, Project Gemini. In the Gemini program, expected to start in 1964, two-man spacecraft will fly in orbit around the earth for periods up to a week or more.

DETROIT (UPI)—Congress has quietly started another investigation of the auto industry's use of speed and horsepower to sell new cars, it was learned today.

Chairman Oren Harris of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee began the inquiry with letters to the presidents of all the major auto companies.

The Arkansas congressman asked the auto executives to furnish his committee with copies of all recent advertisements which

Man Shares The Views Of Excommunicated Wife

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Bernard J. Gaillot Jr., whose excommunicated wife dramatically knelt before a Roman Catholic archbishop Tuesday, said today he shared his wife's views on segregation and should be excommunicated with her.

Gaillot, 44-year-old parts clerk, expressed his views in a letter to Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel today. He asked the archbishop for a reply.

Mrs. Gaillot and two other segregation leaders were excommunicated by Archbishop Rummel for what was called their disobedience to the church.

Mrs. Gaillot, president of Save Our Nation, Inc., which insists that the Bible demands segregation, broke into a pilgrimage on the Notre Dame Seminary campus Tuesday. She fell on her knees before the 66-year-old archbishop and asked God to "have mercy" on the prelate for his integration stand.

She asked the archbishop to admit he erred in excommunicating her.

The archbishop did not answer. A group of women making the pilgrimage through the seminary began reciting the Rosary. The archbishop then walked to his residence.

Spokesmen on both sides declined to make official statements as the 8 a.m. shift reported for work at the sites encircling Roswell.

Malcolm Damon, business agent for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW), said he thought most of the members of his union "would be back by noon."

"I prefer not to make a statement until then," he said.

Col. Robert Barrowclough, task force commander for the overall project at Walker Air Force Base, said he understood several workers walked out again Tuesday night "over the same thing."

But he said he still didn't know if they would be out today.

John Connally Visits Thursday

John Connally, Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas, will campaign in Pampa Thursday.

The Fort Worth gubernatorial aspirant will arrive at Perry LeFors Field at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and proceed to Coronado Inn for a coffee in the Cibola Room between 4 and 5 p.m.

Also on tap during Connally's visit here will be the filming of a segment of an upcoming television program, according to Jimmy Thompson, Gray County Democratic Party chairman.

"I sincerely believe that all the remaining commissions will have the same vote of confidence given them if and when their names are placed on the ballot," Sidwell said. "Let us continue to examine and solve our city problems in an open and above board manner, always bearing in mind that a city government should be designed and operated for the benefit of all the people."

"I humbly and sincerely solicit the continued support and cooperation of all Pampa citizens in the days to come. Thank you."

Mayor Sidwell received approximately 500 more votes yesterday than he did when he was elected mayor one year ago this month.

The five-year-old stand against racing was taken by the Automobile Manufacturers Association after Congress warned that car-makers were placing "excessive stress on horsepower and speed" and indicated federal controls might be necessary.

But the industry has found it difficult if not impossible to follow the spirit of the agreement. "People like to see cars like they own win races," one auto man said.

"How the cars do can help or hurt sales."

So, despite the AMA ban, auto-makers are still sponsoring racing teams in one way or another, according to Studebaker President Sherwood Egbert. The horsepower race is still on, too.

Pontiac now offers a 420 horsepower engine. Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet also are in the 400-plus class. One engineer predicts 730 horsepower supercharged passenger car engines before too long.

The industry points out, however, that despite the big powerplants, cars today are safer than ever. Carmakers spend millions yearly on new safety features. And they cite figures showing that in 1960, the last big year of the horse and buggy, the death rate was five times higher than now.

Over 4,000 Turn Out To Register Verdict

Pampa voters went to the polls some 4,000 strong yesterday and registered their verdict by giving a better than 2 to 1 vote of confidence to Mayor E. C. Sidwell.

The decision was made in the case of the "Citizens for Better City Government" versus the mayor. The case originally had been filed by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, which circulated petitions for the mayor's recall.

The recall effort was rejected by a city-wide total vote of 2,700 to 1,292. It was turned down in all four of the city wards. The vote by wards against recall of the mayor was:

Ward	For	Against
Ward 1	639	1,000
Ward 2	487	941
Ward 3	73	290
Ward 4	93	469
TOTAL	1,292	2,700

Mayor Sidwell heard the results of the election as he lay in a hospital bed at Highland General Hospital where it was reported this morning that he probably will be confined until sometime next week. Mayor Sidwell is suffering from an attack of pneumonia. He was admitted to the hospital Monday.

The mayor issued a statement thanking the people of Pampa for their overwhelming vote of confidence at the polls yesterday.

Yesterday's turnout of voters was one of the largest in Pampa's balloting history. Actually, 4,014 voters cast ballots but only 3,992 were valid. Twenty-two ballots were declared "mutilated" by the election judges.

Mayor Sidwell's statement follows: "It is gratifying to receive the overwhelming vote of confidence the Pampa voters have given me. We are reasonably sure that the majority vote would have been much larger had it not been for the confused form of ballot that was necessarily presented. The charter was so designed and we were not permitted to deviate from it."

"I sincerely believe that all the remaining commissions will have the same vote of confidence given them if and when their names are placed on the ballot," Sidwell said. "Let us continue to examine and solve our city problems in an open and above board manner, always bearing in mind that a city government should be designed and operated for the benefit of all the people."

"I humbly and sincerely solicit the continued support and cooperation of all Pampa citizens in the days to come. Thank you."

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—Capt. Joseph P. Kauffman was sentenced today to 30 years at hard labor by an eight-man military court for passing U.S. defense secrets to Communist East Germany.

Kauffman also was ordered dismissed from the service, equivalent to a dishonorable discharge, and will forfeit all pay and allowances.

The sentence is subject to automatic review both here and in Washington.

After the decision was read, Kauffman saluted the court, perhaps for the last time. U.S. military prisoners are denied the traditional privilege of saluting.

The Air Force officer appeared more composed after being sentenced than before. His civilian attorney, George H. Latimer of Salt Lake City, Utah, led him to the side of the courtroom where they talked in low voices.

The conversation could not be overheard but Kauffman repeatedly shook his head. Then he was led away through a rear door. As he went out, Latimer called to his escort, "Let him cover his face."

Kauffman, a 43-year-old Air Force captain, was convicted Tuesday night on charges of passing military data to the Reds, agreeing to work for and be trained by the Communists, conspiracy to provide information, and failure to notify his superiors of his Communist contacts.

The court deliberated for 3 hours and 55 minutes before deciding they wanted to hear some testimony again. After listening to tape recordings for two additional hours, the court retired and 25 minutes later reached a verdict. Kauffman was found guilty on all charges.

Kauffman, a native of Rutland, Vt., admitted meeting Communist agents in East Berlin, but said he was forced to agree to the meetings before they would release him from custody. He said he was removed from a Berlin-bound train in late September, 1950.

Congress Probes Automobile Speed, Horsepower

DETROIT (UPI)—Congress has quietly started another investigation of the auto industry's use of speed and horsepower to sell new cars, it was learned today.

Chairman Oren Harris of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee began the inquiry with letters to the presidents of all the major auto companies.

The Arkansas congressman asked the auto executives to furnish his committee with copies of all recent advertisements which stress horsepower and speed. Harris, a Democrat, said he understands the industry has abandoned a 1957 agreement not to advertise performance and instead to stress safety in today's cars.

Spokesmen for the auto firms would not comment on the latest government move except to say "We are conforming with the request and getting together examples of our advertising."

Some of the ads bear out Harris' contention that the industry is again stressing horsepower and speed. A Chevrolet ad lists the horsepower of a big new V-8 engine at 400 and a Dodge ad proclaims that the "Dart 440 handles like a perfectly set-up race car."

Another ad says that world driving champion Phil Hill is "a Buick buff" and soon will be driving the firm's new "Wildcat" luxury sports car.

THREE KILLERS

AND A SURVIVAL PLAN

One after another, thousands of persons this year will fall to the relentless statistics of cancer. A major killer of women... uterine cancer... can be caught if women would just spend a few minutes of their time. Another... cancer of the lower intestine... strikes men and women indiscriminately. Again, the weapon to fight this disease is at hand. Many authorities now believe that the chief cancer killer of men... lung cancer... also can be headed off.

Your personal plan for survival against these three assassins starts tomorrow in The Pampa News.

Now A Campaign To Stamp Out 'Singing-Alonging' Gets Underway

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alexander Wiley, the leading philosopher of Chippewa Falls, Wis., has come forth with a message that I regard as nothing short of inspirational.

Speaking as a member of the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee, he opined that what we need to meet the challenges of our times are more "angry young men."

Where, he asked, are the youths "burning with an unquenchable fire of patriotism, of creativeness, of a will to build a better world, not just for themselves but for all humanity?"

It may be that I am neither young nor angry enough to answer the call, but nevertheless I was stirred by Wiley's words.

I had been thinking of doing something to help build a better world, and his statement has galvanized me into action. So without further hesitation, I hereby launch my 1962 campaign to stamp out singing-alonging.

Let me make it clear that this has nothing to do with my 1961 campaign to stamp out folk singing. Having failed so gloriously in that venture, I am now at peace with folk singing.

My new campaign is directed at the so-called sing-along cult, the high priest of which is Mitch.

As long as singing-alonging was confined to a weekly television show, I had no quarrel with it. If people can try to harmonize with a television set without feeling foolish, then live and let live.

What raises the practice to the status of a national menace is the distribution of sing-along phonograph records.

I first saw the clear and present danger of singing-alonging several months ago at a party. I was cringing behind a bowl of cheese dip, knowing that the moment was close at hand when the hostess would suggest a game of charades.

Instead, she made her way triumphantly to the record cabinet, extracted a long-playing disc and began passing out sheets of paper printed with song lyrics.

"Come on, everybody," she called in a train station soprano. "Let's have a sing-along."

Sing-along records, I discovered that night, are carefully pitched beyond the range of party guests, but not enough so as to discourage them from trying.

Lester Pindie ruptured a tonsil on "Home on the Range" and his wife hit a note during "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" that shattered my highball glass.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's 10-year plan to force-feed $20 billion into the economy of Latin American states is a sitting duck for any sharpshooter so inclined.

This is the Alliance for Progress plan. It is under aggressive Republican attack. Republican fire is centered on Brazil where AFP is in enough trouble to make it an especially inviting target.

Trouble is that Brazil's President Joao Goulart is not a sturdy ally of the West against the Soviet Union but more a neutralist. Further, by federal or individual state action, foreign properties in Brazil have been seized and there may be more of that. Adequate compensation for these expropriated properties has not been agreed upon.

So, if you want to wound AFP, shoot at the most inviting target in Latin America. Brazil probably qualifies. Moreover, Brazil is the Latin American state believed by President Kennedy to be the most important in the AFP effort.

One of those "as Brazil goes so goes all of Latin America" situations. White House visitors in recent months have come away well aware that Kennedy regards AFP success in Brazil as the keystone of U. S. foreign policy in the western hemisphere.

AFP is about 13 months old. Kennedy originally proposed $20 billion in loans and grants over 10 years; long term loans up to 50 years at low interest or no interest at all. The AFP charter provided that: "For their part, the countries of Latin America agree to devote a rapidly increasing share of their own resources to economic and social development and to make reforms necessary to assure that all share fully in the fruits of the AFP."

Latin America is dragging its heels on this promise to reform its social and economic institutions. That is another inviting AFP target for the interested sharpshooter. The administration has been indirectly conceding its disappointment in this respect. More recently, AFP Director Teodor Moscoso has been counseling patience, in effect urging that the sharpshooters lay off AFP, despite difficulties arising around the program.

Moscoso would be more persuasive if he bodily told the American people that the plan is not perfect, that disappointments are inevitable but that the alternative to cataclysmic trouble in Latin America is for something like AFP to take hold and to function. The hard fact is that the ill-housed, ill-fed, ill-clothed of Latin America are ripe and ready for communism. Juan Peron proved that in Argentina.

The objectives of AFP are as vital among the national defense objectives of the United States as are the astronomical efforts at Cape Canaveral. The only sound and sensible objection to AFP is that the politicians do not dare levy taxes to pay for it. If they did levy taxes the knuckle-headed voters probably would roust them out of office.

The Texas Highway Department has announced a construction project on State Highway 70. The project is in two sections, one begins at the north end of the Canadian River Bridge and extends north 4.1 miles, another begins 8.5 miles north of the Ochiltree County line and extends north 5.7 miles.

The work consists of grading, structures, lime stabilized base and asphaltic concrete pavement. The Highway Department and the contractor, Gilvin - Terrill, Inc., of Amarillo, stated that construction will begin April 25, and plan completion by July 1.

G. K. Reading, supervising resident engineer of the Texas Highway Department in the Pampa area, explained that traffic would be routed through the project with as little inconvenience to the public as possible. Every effort will be made to carry traffic safely and efficiently through the construction zones. The construction area will be zoned for a maximum speed of 45 miles per hour. Motorists are requested to observe traffic signals, warning signs and speed zones.

The various problems of handling traffic was discussed at a meeting Tuesday morning in the resident engineer's office in Pampa. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Texas Highway Department, Gilvin - Terrill, Inc. and officers Vernon Cawthon and Lawrence Macha of the Department of Public Safety.

Fire Hits Pampa Family's Home For Second Time

Tragedy struck the family of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ray, who reside five miles south of the city yesterday, when their home was destroyed by fire for the second time in three years.

Mrs. Ray told firemen that three years ago in December, their home located three miles west of Pampa was destroyed by flames and they lost everything except the clothes they were wearing.

Yesterday at 3:36 p. m. firemen were called to the Buck residence when an oil field worker driving by noticed the wood frame house on fire.

Firemen said when they arrived on the scene the house was so badly damaged they could not save the structure.

Mrs. Ray told firemen she left the house at about 1:30 p. m. to do some shopping in town and then to pick-up her four children at school.

She said when she started home about 3:30 p. m. she saw some smoke and flames from the house, and when she arrived she could not enter the house and everything was lost. No one was in the house when fire broke out.

Her husband, an employee for Pampa division of Cabot Corporation, was at work at the time of the fire.

The house was located on the Jess Hatcher farm and was owned by T. F. Hontsche, Abilene. The Ray family had been living in the house for about three months.

Firemen said cause of the fire is still unknown.

Sidwell

the statement that he was not in accord with other members of the present city commission and felt he could not "conscientiously continue to be a part of the decisions of this group."

Secret had been in disagreement most of the time with Mayor Sidwell and Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort on matters of City Hall policy.

The recall matter was born late in February of this year on the day following the request of the City Commission for the resignation of City Manager John Koozt. The ball was started rolling at a meeting of the board of directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which reached a decision to circulate recall petitions on the mayor and all four city commissioners.

The petitions were placed in circulation March 1 and filed with the City Secretary March 27. In subsequent actions the commission decided sufficient signatures were on the petitions to call an election on the mayor but not enough to ask recall election on the city commissioners.

This became the issue in a court fight which was taken to County Court where Judge Bill Craig said he had no authority to act, then passed on to District Court where Judge Lewis M. Goodrich ordered an election called on the ward commissioners. This matter now has been carried to the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce dropped the recall case as an organization when the recall petitions were filed. The fight then was taken up by a group called the Citizens for Better City Government, headed by Lewis Hackley as chairman. It was the CBCG group which carried the fight into court, seeking to have the election called on the four commissioners as well as the mayor. Since then Commissioner Secret removed himself from the picture.

Just what effect yesterday's expression of opinion by the voters in the mayor's case will have on the court litigation against the other three commissioners remains to be seen.

Meanwhile, it also remains for the mayor to order a special election to name a successor to Commissioner Secret in Ward 2. This action still is pending because of the mayor's illness.

The City Commission is scheduled to meet Friday and indications were today that the mayor would be unable to attend because of his confinement to the hospital.

Egg Flower Bouquet To Greet Easter Day

Spring arrives with a burst of color — yellow, lavender, rose, violet — the colors of the first spring flowers and of the gaily used Easter eggs that also salute the season. Your own salute to spring can be this colorful and original Egg Flower Bouquet — easy to make, and the perfect centerpiece or party decoration for the Easter season.

So the bouquet can be packed away and used again next year, these graceful egg flowers are made with "blown" eggs. You will need seven eggs for the arrangement. To blow eggs, make a hole the size of a small pea in each end of an egg with a sharp pointed skewer or manicure scissors. Be sure to puncture the inner membrane. Holding the egg over a bowl, blow through one hole until the contents come out the other. (The raw eggs can be used for scrambled eggs, cakes, or custards. They will keep for several days if refrigerated in a tightly covered container, or can be frozen for even later use.) After blowing, rinse the eggshells in cool water and drain well.

To dye the shells, prepare dye bath as directed on the Easter Egg Coloring Kit of your choice. Spoon the dye bath over the shell to assure an even color. Drain well. Color the egg flowers in a variety of bright spring colors or, if you prefer, in varying shades of just one color to complement a specific color scheme.

Run a pastel pipe cleaner through the holes in the egg, twisting the end of the cleaner into a small circle to cover the hole at the small end of the egg, which will be the top of your flower.

The flower petals are two paper muffin cups — and the flower stems are colored soda straws. With your manicure scissors, make a hole in the center of the cups and insert the pipe cleaner with egg flower in the hole. Push the cups up under the base of the egg. Glue the pipe cleaner into a colored soda straw with quick-drying household cement.

For the leaves, cut long slender strips of green construction or crepe paper and cement a green pipe cleaner lengthwise along the center of each.

Arrange both the egg flowers and the leaves in a flower holder, or in modeling clay. Then place your bouquet in your favorite low basket, bowl or flower container.

This Egg Flower Bouquet was designed by the Paas Company, a Division of Plough, Inc. All material for coloring eggs, as well as additional fun decorations for the children to use are included in Paas Easter Egg Coloring Kits on sale in stores everywhere.

Dear Abby.... What Kind Of Business Reasons??

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband travels and he spends a lot of time in a certain small town. I never could understand it because he doesn't get enough business out of town to stay there overnight the way he does. He has told me about a divorcee he takes to dinner when he is there, but he says he sees her for "business" reasons. Do you really think he is seeing her for business reasons?

WONDERING WIFE
DEAR WONDERING: I don't know. What's her business?

DEAR ABBY: Our son is in his third year of college and hopes to go on to Law School. His grandparents are financing his education as we are unable to. He is a fine boy and we are all very proud of him. He has fallen in love with a girl he met at school. We have met her and think she is wonderful. His grandparents do not like the match because she is an adopted girl and her mother was unmarried. They think the girl is not "good enough" for our boy. They have threatened to cut off financial help if he doesn't break off with her. We say the girl can't help what her mother did. How can we solve this?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR WORRIED: How foolish can some people be? Give your son your blessings and if the grandparents want to withdraw their financial help, let them. Many young people are getting educations without the help of their grandparents. If your son wants an education badly enough, he'll find a way.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl. My problem is that I can't date a boy unless he passes inspection by my parents. I don't mind this, but their way of looking him over is to invite him to our house for supper. As soon as he walks in he is attacked by 4 inquisitive kids. (My younger sisters and brothers.) They ask him questions like, "Did you come to see Linda?" "Do you love her?" "When are you going to get married?" This is very embarrassing. I lost two very good guys this way. What should I do?

VICTIM OF LARGE FAMILY
DEAR VICTIM: Give your little sisters and brothers some basic training. Youth is no excuse for asking guests embarrassing questions. If children are old enough to talk, they are old enough to learn when to be quiet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WALLY:
If you want to assure yourself of a miserable life, marry a beautiful girl you can't trust.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Provocative Program On Perfume Presented At ESA Chapter Meet

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Episcopi Sigma Alpha Sorority held its April social meeting in the City Club Room with Mrs. Charles Rosenthal, Mrs. Jerry Ray Boston and Mrs. Eugene Bentley as hostesses.

Following a brief business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Bob Windle, Mrs. Jack Plummer presented a program on perfume, cologne and the artful use of cosmetics.

She told the group "never invest in a perfume until they had worn it for 30 minutes as perfumes are not equally complimentary to all ladies." Mrs. Plummer stressed that cologne is definitely for the morning hours and perfume is to be used in the evening hours. "One should use less perfume in summer than in winter as body heat amplifies the scent."

A question and answer discussion followed her talk.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively appointed with a yellow linen cloth centered with a Spring straw-hat holding a tree branch hung with butterflies, birds and colorful flowers and lighted with miniature golden lights.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. Don M. Groff, Walter L. Worley, L. Worley Jr., Parks Brumley, Mur-

Cincy Owner Blames O'Malley Crackdown

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Bill DeWitt, president of the Cincinnati Reds, today put the finger on owner Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers as the man responsible for the strict crackdown on the pitching balk rule.

O'Malley's Dodgers, who have the best baserunners in the league, figure to benefit most from the strict enforcement of the rule, according to DeWitt.

A total of eight balks were called in the National League this season through last Sunday's games. Four of these were against Cincinnati pitchers. During the entire 1951 season, 32 balks were called in the National League and 22 in the American.

Major league rules require that pitchers come to a full one-second stop after making their stretch with men on the bases. In recent years, umpires have been liberal in their enforcement of this rule.

Pitchers have been permitted to stretch and deliver the ball to the batter with practically no pause.

"I noticed that Walt Alston (Dodgers manager) began complaining late last season that opposing pitchers weren't coming to a stop and his Maury Wills couldn't get a good lead off first base," DeWitt said.

"Now all of a sudden the umpires have started calling balks," he continued. "So you have to draw conclusions."

"I think it's the O'Malley influence. He wants the one-second rule enforced so the pitchers won't interfere with his base running."

"I'm going to watch if they enforce the rule alike for all teams," DeWitt said. "If they don't, they'll get a complaint from us."

Fred Fleig, National League secretary who acts as President Warren Giles' liaison man with the umpires, denied that O'Malley had influenced the stricter enforcement of the rule.

He admitted, however, that before the start of spring training National League umpires were urged to be "more consistent" in calling balks.

"We are simply trying to call the balk as we see it under the playing rules," Fleig said. "We tried to get our umpiring staffs indoctrinated in being consistent on the rule."

Eight Netters Letter Winners

Eight members of the Pampa high school tennis team will receive letters this year for net play during the past season.

Boys receiving letters include Don Collins, Jerry Thomas, David Price, Bill Vandover and Charles Ashby.

Girls receiving letters this year include Elaine Hawkins, Jerry Edmondson, and Donna Walsh.

Collins and Thomas were one of the strongest doubles teams in the district this year and Collins was one of the top singles players in the loop. Hawkins and Edmondson were two of the top girls doubles players in district play, also.

Collins and Thomas made one of their strongest showings of the year when they advanced to the finals in the District 3-AAAA meet in Lubbock.

Hawkins Cops Scoring Title In ABL Loop

CHICAGO (UPI)—Pittsburgh's Connie Hawkins won the individual scoring title of the American Basketball League, final statistics revealed Tuesday.

Bill Bridges of Kansas City topped the rebound title.

Hawkins scored 2,145 points for a per game average of 27.5, both figures high in the league. Second in scoring was Cleveland's Dick Barnett with 1,314 total points and an average of 26.2.

Dan Swartz of New York, who started the season with the now defunct Los Angeles team, and finished with New York, was third with an average of 24.8 and 1,738 total points.

Bridges grabbed off 1,059 rebounds, far ahead of Hawaii's Bill Spivey, who had 875 for the season.

Reed Singles In Final Frame For Winning Blow

By DICK KABE
News Sports Editor

Fans who watched the Pampa Harvester baseball team play Tuesday afternoon almost got to see their first local night game of the year.

Howard Reed's single in the bottom half of the 12th inning gave the Harvesters a slim 2-1 victory over the Borger Bulldogs and broke a 1-1 tie which had prevailed ever since the first inning.

Mike Clark and Joe Robinson hooked up in a pitching duel supreme for the entire 12 innings, with Clark the victor in the marathon contest. Clark notched his second loop win of the year against two setbacks.

Clark fanned 13 men and walked but one during his extended tour on the hill. The stylish right-hander was also stingy with the hits, allowing but six the entire game.

Robinson, who beat the Harvesters in a non-district affair earlier in the season was the loser. The fireballing right-hander had an incredible 20 strikeouts to his credit while walking two. Robinson allowed nine hits.

The game lasted exactly three hours with the sun waning in the west when Reed poked a single into center field in the final extra inning to send pinch runner Larry Gregory roaring home from second base with the winning run. Gregory had gone into run for Dee Wright, who was on second.

After Ricky Stewart had reached first on a single, Wright was safe on a fielders choice, forcing the little third-sacker to second base. Mike Clark then sacrificed Wright down to second for the second out of the inning.

Gregory then came into run for Wright to set the stage for Reed's winning blow.

Both teams countered with single runs in the first inning. With two gone, Billy Jarret was safe on an error and Bert Barron followed with a triple to right field to give the Bulldogs on early 1-0 lead.

The Harvesters came back with a single run in their half of the inning, however to tie it up. With one out, Kenny Hebert singled and stole second. Jerry Glover then brought the fleet-footed outfielder home with another single to tie it up at 1-1.

From that point on, the game rocked along into a real pitching duel, with both teams threatening time and again with runners as far as third, but the short-lived rallies never materialized and the fans set back to watch the longest game of the year for the local nine this year.

Leading the Harvesters with the timber were Reed with 2 for 6, a single and a double; Hebert with 2 for 5, a single and a double and Glover, who also connected with a single and a two-base hit.

Mike Stewart had the only other extra base hit for the Harvesters, a triple in the sixth inning.

The win for the Harvesters was their third in loop play against four losses. The Bulldogs are now 3-2 in district play.

Pampa travels to Plainview Friday for their next loop encounter in a game slated for 4 p.m.

Water Shortage Looms At Park

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Ancient Mariner and all his shrinking boards had nothing on Walter O'Malley and all his thirsty hordes.

O'Malley, it seems, has built himself an imposing baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine with 56,000 seats and only three water fountains, one in the home dugout, one in the visiting team dugout and one in O'Malley's private box.

This dry fact doesn't go too well with thirsty fans, no matter how loyal they be to the Dodgers—or Angels.

A city councilman said Tuesday he was deluged by letters claiming there were no drinking fountains at the $18-million Dodger Stadium—even though there were plenty of beer spigots.

"Irate mothers are literally screaming over the fact there are no water fountains where children may drink," said Edward R. Oybal, chairman of the council's public health and welfare committee. "And of course, they can't drink beer, of which there is a plentiful supply."

Dodger officials admitted there were no drinking fountains, but said there are 221 cold water faucets for use with a cup in rest rooms and concession areas.

Roybal said concession operators have been driven "half crazy by mothers demanding drinks of water."

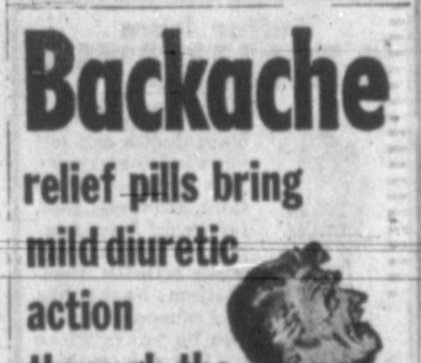

He further contended the absence of water fountains "does not meet the requirements of the city which requires that there be sufficient and suitable water drinking fountains at all places of public assembly."

A Dodger spokesman said if the cups create a litter problem they will be taken out and separate drinking faucets with automatic valves installed on each level.

Possible List Of Referees Released For Title Fight

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The Nevada State Athletic Commission Tuesday night released a list of "possible" referees for Saturday night's nationally televised lightweight championship bout between titlist Joe Brown and youthful challenger Carlos Ortiz.

Among the names mentioned by commission chairman Jim Deskin was that of Jimmy Olivas, University of Nevada boxing coach, and mentioned last week by Ortiz as the one man he didn't want to see referee the fight.

Harry Krause, who officiated the welterweight championship bout here between champion Gene Fullmer and the late Benny (Kid) Paret last November, also was mentioned.

Deskin said three of the candidates would be notified a day before the bout that one would be selected and the referee would be chosen several hours before the fight at convention center.

Brown Tuesday sparred four rounds, concentrating on defense and counter punching, while Ortiz drilled only out of the ring. Carlos however, will return to do some sparring today at his Flamingo Hotel headquarters.

Allie Reynolds, Former Mound Great, To Kickoff Loop Season

Allie Reynolds, former pitching great for the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees, will throw out the first ball and give a pitching exhibition May 15 at the opening ceremonies of the Pony league and Little League baseball season at the Optimist park diamond.

Reynolds will kick off the ceremonies at 6 p.m. and give a talk on pitching techniques at that time. Last year, Bob Feller, pitching immortal for the Indians, was the opening day dignitary.

Reynolds pitched with the Indians from 1942 to 1946 and then took over mound duties with the Yankees from 1947 to 1954 when the Yanks dominated the American league with their pennant winning and world's championship accolades, including Player of the Year, strikeout leader in 1943 and 1952 and earned run average leader in 1952.

Reynolds also carded two no-hitters in 1951. "The Big Chief," as he was popularly referred to, hung up his glove in 1954 and went into private business for himself in 1957 as president of the Atlas Mud company in Oklahoma City.

Yankees Vault Into First Place On Homer Blasts

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

No one's perfect, but that's the only way to describe Dick Donovan off his performances for the Cleveland Indians so far.

Donovan has made two starts and come up with a pair of five-hit shutouts back-to-back. That's not only par for the course but it's also the kind of pitching which makes General Manager Gabe Paul look like a genius for obtaining Donovan in a deal with Washington during the off-season.

The 34-year-old Donovan is a bit of a rut, the kind every pitcher would like to fall into.

He blanked the Boston Red Sox on five hits April 10 in Cleveland's opener and came back against the Red Sox Tuesday night to beat them, 5-0, with another five-hitter.

The two shutouts represent Donovan's entire total with the Senators last season. Even though he lost his first five games in 1961, the veteran Quincy, Mass., right-hander still led all American League pitchers with a 2.40 earned run average and this year it looks like he may even better that.

Owner of one of the best sliders in the business, Donovan's big trouble with the Senators, for whom he won 10 and lost 10 last year, was that he rarely was given much hitting support.

With the Indians he expects more and is getting more. Rookie Al Luplow and Willie Kirkland each hit homers. The loser was Bill Monbouquette, who pitched a 12-inning shutout against the Indians last week.

The New York Yankees moved into first place with an 8-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles, the Chicago White Sox blanked the Minnesota Twins, 8-0, Detroit walloped Washington, 9-2, and the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 5-3.

Pittsburgh's unbeaten Pirates made it six in-a-row by downing the Chicago Cubs, 10-6, in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the San Francisco Giants, 8-7, and the Houston Colts handed the New York Mets their fifth straight loss, 5-2, in 11 innings. Cold weather caused postponement of the Cardinals-Phillies game while the Reds and Braves were idle.

* Bill Skowron's seventh inning homer off reliever Dick Hall snapped a 3-3 tie between the Yankees and Orioles. Skowron with a homer and two doubles. Boyer accounted for two more with a homer and two doubles. Jim Coates hurtled four hitless innings in relief of Whitey Ford and was the winner.

Rookie Joe Horlen and Floyd Robinson of the White Sox did a thorough two-man job on the Twins. Horlen pitched six hit shutout for his first victory and Robinson drove in seven runs by tagging loser Camilo Pascual for a two-run homer in the first inning driving in another pair with a double in the fifth and clearing the bases with another double in the ninth.

The Tigers trotted out their heavy artillery against the Senators with home runs by Al Kaline, Bill Bruton, Dick Brown and Norm Cash. Jim Bunning stopped the Senators on seven hits for his first victory. Bennie Daniels, who stopped Detroit on five hits in last week's opener, suffered his first loss.

Three errors, two of them by veteran Eddie Yost, helped the A's to their victory over the Angels, who played their first game ever at Chavez Ravine. Yost had trouble judging the bounce of the ball on the new playing field and Ken McBride was charged with the loss although none of the four runs he gave up were earned.

Rookie John Wyatt, who held the Angels to four hits over the first 6 2-3 innings, was the winner. Danny McDevitt and Bob Grim mopped up.

The Pirates handed the Cubs their seventh straight loss by scoring six runs in the last two innings. Chicago tied a major league record when it used five pitchers in the eighth in a vain attempt to halt the rallying Buccaneers. Don Leppert drove in what proved to be the deciding run with a single in the eighth off Jack Warner. Lou Brock and Ron Santo homered for the Cubs and Leppert connected for the Pirates.

Harvey Haddix was the winner and Barney Schultz the loser.

Larry Sherry saved the Dodgers' victory over the Giants when he struck out Willie Mays in a pinch-hitting role to end a seventh inning rally and then induced Mays to pop up for the final out of the game with the tying run on base.

Willie arrived late at the ball park because he was tied up in court in connection with his wife's divorce. Don Drysdale, who gave up nine hits, including a homer by Ed Bailey, during the first 6 1-3 innings, was credited with his second victory. Mike McCormick, knocked out in the third, was the loser. He yielded homers to Tim Harkness and Frank Howard.

Casey Stengel watched the Mets' hopes for their first victory of the season suddenly dissolve when Don Buddin blasted a three-run homer for the Colts with two out in the 11th. Gus Bell sent the game into overtime when he tied the score at 2-2 with a two-out homer in the ninth.

Jim Bolden, who took over for starter Bobby Shantz in the sixth, was the winner and reliever Herb Moford the loser. Norm Larker of the Colts also homered off Met starter Jay Hook.

Austin Tops Texas League; Amarillo Still Is Winless

By United Press International
The Austin Senators stood alone atop the Texas League baseball standings today, but it took a hair-raising ninth inning rally to get them there.

Austin and Tulsa had spotless records going into their fray Tuesday night in Austin. Each had won four games.

The Senators, trailing by a 4-0 score at one time, scored twice in the final frame to trip Tulsa, 6-5. In other league games, Albuquerque outlasted Amarillo, 12-11, and San Antonio dumped El Paso, 7-4.

Tulsa jumped on Austin starter Herbert Hippauf for four runs in the third inning, and added a fifth tally in the sixth frame. The Senators cranked up their off-fensive guns in the third inning with a solo home run by outfielder Bill Shields. Austin then scored three times in the seventh and made its last-ditch stand in the bottom of the ninth.

Dave Eilers picked up the victory in relief. The loser was Arthur Mehuron.

Albuquerque, spurred on by Frank Cipriani's bases loaded homer in the fifth inning, tripped Amarillo despite its two homers. Richard Windle and Elvio Jimenez hit round-trippers for the losers.

Tonight Tulsa is at Austin, Amarillo meets Albuquerque away, and San Antonio is at El Paso.

Hawks Tie Maple Leafs At Two-All For Cup

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rudy Pilous, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, worried today about his own hockey team and not whether the Toronto Maple Leafs would play Johnny Bower or Dixon Simmons in the nets on Thursday night.

"We've played both of them," he said, "and it doesn't make much difference. If we're playing well, we can beat either of them. If we're not, they could play my grandmother and beat us."

Both Bower and Simmons faced the Hawks Tuesday night and it was a dismal night for both because Rudy's team was playing well. Chicago won, 4-1, scoring once on Bower before he had to leave because of a pulled muscle in his left leg, and adding the other three goals against his substitute. The Black Hawk victory evened the Stanley Cup series at two wins each and the next game was scheduled for Thursday night at Toronto.

"I know Toronto style," Pilous said. "They like to muscle you. All down through their farm system. When Murray Balfour and Bobby Baun got into that fight when the game began, we got a tremendous lift."

"We knew then we weren't backed down and they knew it too. I don't think it helped them but it helped us. They knew we'd fight them if we had had to."

The Balfour-Baun brawl, the first of many, during the 60 minute contest came only 17 seconds after the game began. Before it ended, Referee Frank Udvari handed out 24 penalties. This was five less than the record for a Cup playoff game and the time involved in the penalty box was 84 minutes.
