AL SMITH, 'NO CANDIDATE', FLAYS NEW DEAL

Both Sides Claim Victory In Bloodiest Battle OWNER AND 2 MORRO CASTLE OFFICERS GUILTY

EXECUTIVE OF COMPANY WILL BE SENTENCED

CAPTAIN AND ENGINEER CONVICTED BY JURY

NEW YORK, Jan. 25. (AP)—An executive of the company which owned the Morro Castle and two officers in charge when the vessel burned off the New Jersey coast in September, 1934, with a loss of 12 lives were convicted of criminal negligence tonight by a federal jury.

They were acting Captain William F. Warms, Chief Engineer Eben S. Abbott, and Henry E. Cabaud, vice president of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship company.

The conviction carries with it maximum fines of $10,000 each and prison terms of 10 years. The corporation also faces a possible fine of $10,000.

The defendants were continued in jail of $2,500 until Tuesday morning when sentence will be imposed.

The trial, which began last Nov. 12, was the epilogue to one of the most disastrous chapters in the annals of the sea. It sought, as did several preceding inquiries, to answer the questions asked ever since the world awoke more than a year ago to read with horror the stories of that fire at sea.

What caused the fire? And who, if anyone, was to blame?

Government and civil investigators almost as soon as the blistered decks of the floating pyre began to cool threaded their way through conflicting eye witness accounts of what had happened.

Facts were difficult to establish but on one thing all witnesses questioned were agreed—panic had raged with the fire.

Charlie Thut in Announcement of Clerk Candidacy

Charlie Thut yesterday authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the office of county clerk subject to the action of the Gray county voters in the democratic primary of July 25.

In making the announcement, Charlie—as he is known to thousands in this county—said that he was deeply appreciative of the friendship and support given him at the polls in the past, and that he hoped his services and familiarity with the many duties of the office would continue to merit such approval.

He added that although improving business conditions were adding to the business handled in his department, he would see personally as many voters as his spare time will permit.

J. M. Dodson Is Candidate for County Judge

J. M. Dodson is announcing today his candidacy for the office of judge of Gray county, subject to the Democratic primary, July 25. He is a property owner in Pampa and was formerly president of the Pampa National bank.

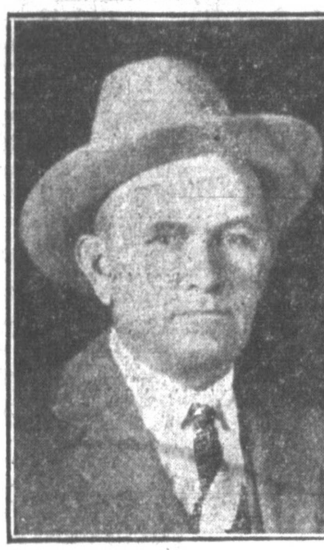

Mr. Dodson has taken a part in the activities of Pampa and the county and cities his business activity of the past as properly fitting him for the business of the office of county judge.

ARTISTS HIRED TO DO MURALS AND STATUARY

Centennial Hall of State Will Be Decorated

AUSTIN, Jan. 25. (AP)—Two noted artists, Pompeo Coppini of San Antonio and Eugene Savage of New York today were commissioned to execute principal decorations in the $1,000,000 state hall at the central Centennial exposition in Dallas.

John V. Singleton, chief of the board of control's Centennial division, said Savage, Yale university artist, was chosen to do large murals while Coppini was selected to fashion the statuary.

Six Texas heroes to be honored, selected by the board, were: Stephen F. Austin, founder of the first American colony in Texas; Mirabeau B. Lamar and Thomas J. Rusk, the statesmen; James W. Fannin and William B. Travis, the defenders; Sam Houston, the soldier-statesman.

Sharp disagreements among historians beset the board in making the choice. Several hundred chose Austin, Houston and Travis. No two could agree on any six.

Statues eight feet high and placed on raised bases were designed to reflect proportions of the large building for which contracts recently were awarded. A long pool was designed for the building's entrance to reflect its tower.

The board said Coppini, a resident of Texas for 20 years, had executed 40 public memorial statues, including the war memorial fountain entrance donated to the University by the Major George W. Littlefield family.

Mammoth murals covering more than 6,000 feet of space were designed for the state's Centennial building. Singleton said they probably would be the largest in the United States. Two will be 31 by 80 feet.

Centennial Stamp To Go on Sale at Gonzales March 2

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Postmaster General Farley announced today that the special 3-cent Texas Centennial stamp would be placed on first-day sale at the Gonzales, Tex., postoffice March 2. It will be available at other offices a day or two later.

Commemorative of 100 years of Texas independence from Mexico, the stamp, the same size as the special delivery stamp, will be printed in purple ink and will be enclosed in a double line border. Within upright oval panels on either side will be portraits of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin.

In the upper center, over a large white star, will be the inscription, "United States Postage, Texas Centennial, 1836-1936," arranged in three horizontal lines.

TO BUILD DAM
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Secretary Ickes announced today construction of the Alamogordo dam on the Pecos river near Fort Sumner, N. M., would start within 30 days. The announcement came following the award of the contract to the Hallett Construction company, Crosby, Minn., for $1,132,947.

NEW FARM AID BILL SCORED IN CONGRESS

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LATEST PLAN IS ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Fresh attempts to construct a temporary AAA replacement program with subsidies for "economic" use of land today struck another wall of bi-partisan opposition that forecasted further drastic revisions.

The Jones-Bankhead bill as modified by the agriculture department expanded rather than curtailed questioned powers sought for the secretary of agriculture under the original draft.

It was debated at a stormy closed session of the senate agriculture committee, and so loud was the cry of "unconstitutional" from the lips of both democrats and republicans that Chairman Smith (D-S-C) deferred action until Secretary Wallace could appear Monday.

He will be asked for legal advice as to whether the redraft would stand up under the Supreme Court's AAA decision.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), co-sponsor of the legislation, appeared to be virtually alone among committee members in contending it was constitutional and feasible.

As made public by Smith, the new bill was far from the completely revamped measure that had been predicted.

The policy declaration was broadened to include as one of the aims a continuous and stable supply of agricultural commodities adequate to meet domestic and foreign consumer requirements "at prices fair to both producers and consumers."

This change alone was described as increasing the constitutional.

6 Army Fliers Killed in Crash Near Honolulu

HONOLULU, Jan. 25. (AP)—Unofficial sources turned the spotlight tonight on night formation flying as army authorities investigated the spectacular air collision which cost six lives and two big fighting planes here last night.

Aviators who refused to be quoted directly said night formation flights, familiar to Honolulu residents, probably are the most unpopular of any sort with military fliers.

With a roar heard 10 miles away in Honolulu the two army planes came together last night somewhere between 500 and 1,200 feet above Ford Island, Hawaii's military air base. They fell in flames, striking the ground with a mighty crash and a burst of fire.

Two men jumped and came out alive. The dead, all badly burned, were: Lieutenant William G. Beard, 28, San Francisco, pilot of one of the planes; Staff Sergeant Bernard F. Jablonowsky, 32; Private John B. Hartman, 27, Chicago; Private Bruce Taylor, 26, Puyallup, Wash.; Private Truman J. Gradner, 27, 505 East South Avenue, Olney, Ill.; Private Gordon M. Parkhurst, 43, Yorkville, N. Y.

GRAY COUNTY PRECINCTS GO DRY IN VOTE

ALANREED AND McLEAN VOTE 202 TO 50 AGAINST LIQUOR; INJUNCTIONS SOUGHT

South Gray county re-affirmed its aversion to liquors yesterday, voting dry in a local option election, 202 to 50.

Alanreed's box, No. 4, had 49 dry votes and 3 for liquor. In No. 17 at McLean, 83 persons voted dry and one wet. No. 3 of McLean had 65 dry votes and 30 wet. County Clerk Charlie Thut collected the vote results.

In five days, the commissioners court will canvass the election and declare the result. Liquor dealers will have 30 days from that date to dispose of their stocks.

However, a possibility that the election may be void was seen yesterday. Judge Newton P. Willis, acting in behalf of clients, sought an injunction to stay the election on the grounds that the boundaries of precinct 5 at McLean were incorrectly drawn in 1933. The injunction was denied on the ground that if the election was a nullity, the applicants would not be harmed.

When the commissioners court meets Tuesday, the precinct boundaries will be re-stated, Judge C. E. Cary said last night. The election cannot be canvassed at that time, however.

When the new precincts were created a few years ago, No. 5 was split, but not re-defined.

Otis Hendrix Is Now in Race for Constable Here

Otis Hendrix authorized yesterday the announcement of his candidacy for the office of constable of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 25.

Mr. Hendrix has lived in Gray county for the last 24 years, is a taxpayer, and is well known throughout the county. He served for a short time as a deputy in the sheriff's department and resigned to care for other interests. A more complete statement of his candidacy will be made later.

Weather Due To Be Much Colder

(By The Associated Press.)
Texas dug in Saturday night as sharply lower temperatures were forecast for Sunday.

Weather observers warned the mercury might drop to two degrees above zero in the northern Panhandle, and that by Sunday night a killing freeze might envelope the winter garden truck farming area nearly 600 miles south. A low of 30 degrees was forecast for Corpus Christi, which is south of the winter garden area and just north of the citrus-growing Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Dallas and Fort Worth were expected to find readings of from 12 to 20 degrees on awakening Sunday morning. The thermometer was down only to 40, however, at 7 p. m. Saturday at Dallas.

Austin reported a reading of 64 degrees, but the temperature had dropping 10 degrees in an hour and a low of 26 to 30 was forecast. Temple reported 42 degrees, and the mercury dropping.

CELEBRATIONS ARE HELD IN TWO CAPITALS

TWO FASCIST COLUMNS WIPE OUT, SAY ETHIOPIANS

(By The Associated Press.)
The biggest and bloodiest battle of the young African war has just been fought in the rugged passes of northern Ethiopia, with reported thousands slain. Both Italy and Ethiopia claimed victory.

In Addis Ababa the government court said that Makale, advance point of the Italians in the north, had been encircled. Two fascist divisions sent to relieve Makale were wiped out, officials added.

The battle, a communique stated, "finally ended in victory for Ethiopia with two important Italian fronts taken."

In Rome, the opposite was claimed. An official communique said the fascists had smashed Ethiopian forces planning an attack upon the northern army.

The Ethiopian dead were placed at 5,000 and Italy's at 743. Italians hailed it as their second major success in ten days. The other was a reported victory on the southern front.

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 25. (AP)—Ethiopia claimed victory in "the biggest battle of the war" today.

Two fascist columns trying to save the troops in Makale were wiped out, the government asserted, adding that thousands of Italians and Eritreans fell in the fighting.

A bitter battle which has raged for days on the northern front "finally ended in victory for Ethiopians taken," a communique stated.

This capital turned from a sober to joyous one tonight. Ethiopians began a wild celebration of victory. Jubilant officials said, aided by rain, they would not only drive the Italians out of Makale but out of the holy city of Aksum and Addis Ababa.

ROME, Jan. 25. (AP)—Italy rejoiced tonight over what she called her second great victory in Africa within ten days; but her joy was marred by the encircling aspect of the defensive Mediterranean pact reached by five sanctionist nations under the leadership of Great Britain.

Frank Hill Is in Race for District Clerk

The NEWS has been authorized to announce the candidacy of District Clerk Frank Hill for re-election to the office he now holds.

Frank will seek the nomination in the democratic primary of next July 25.

In seeking the office, Frank said he was desirous of continuing his services to the public and court, and he believed that familiarity with the duties of the office qualified him to do the work with accuracy and speed. He said he was seeking the opportunity of serving the people with the courtesy and thoughtfulness which he has strived to make evident in his daily routine.

Here, in his favorite portrait, is Great Britain's new monarch, King Edward VIII, on whom the burden of sovereignty over one-fourth of the world's peoples fell with the death of his father, King George V. As sportsman and world traveler, the former Prince of Wales often was pictured in informal snapshots. This picture was made on one of the few occasions when he consented to pose for a formal portrait.

Only 25 Tickets To BCD Banquet Monday Not Sold

With a dining room capacity of 325 determined, the city-wide banquet of Monday evening at the First Baptist church, sponsored by the B. C. D., is now open only to 25 more persons, it was announced last night.

Already, about 300 tickets have been sold. President Gilmore N. Nunn said. Persons desiring to attend should call the B. C. D. office at once to reserve tickets. The price is 75 cents a plate. The event will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. and move swiftly through an interesting program built around Pampa's possibilities. Both men and women will attend.

C. Herbert Walker, local civic leader, will be toastmaster. A report on B. C. D. activities for 1935 will be made by M. A. Graham, immediate past-president. A short important business session will follow the principal address.

Featured speaker of the occasion will be R. L. Thornton of Dallas, noted banker and current chairman of the Centennial executive committee. Mr. Thornton is in great demand as a speaker, and members of the Board of City Development can be expected to hear him.

Clara Higgs and his local orchestra will play at the Schneider. At the other balls will be the band regularly playing there on the date. Tickets are being printed and will go on sale at downtown drugstores Monday at noon. Posters will be distributed through this area and tickets sent to some nearby towns.

The balls will be largely local in character, according to Clarence Kennedy, co-chairman. Seventy per cent of the net proceeds will remain here for work with underprivileged children. Thirty per cent will be sent to the national headquarters of the movement started by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Tickets are already in demand, although not yet on sale.

Flames Destroy Abandoned Coupe
A 1931 Chevrolet coupe was destroyed by fire before the fire department could reach it about 7 o'clock last night. The vehicle was burning fiercely in the middle of the road north of the city on Kentucky avenue. The alarm was turned in by W. M. Lewright, who saw the blaze from his home.

No one was near the burning car when firemen arrived. They extinguished the blaze with chemicals and water and then towed it to a garage. The car was registered in Carson county and bore license number 151-606.

The interior of the car and wood in the rear compartment was burning fiercely when the firemen arrived. The crank was in the motor as if the car was being started when it caught fire, but firemen failed to find the owner at a late hour.

Three Killed in Crash in Texas

ITASCA, Jan. 25. (AP)—Three men were killed instantly today when a sputtering airplane fell in a dense fog on a farm six miles southeast of here.

The dead are: Ralph C. Kirk, Grand Prairie, Texas, pilot; Albert H. Boren, Dallas, architect; George W. Carter, Dallas, salesman.

CLASS WAR IS SEEN AS AIM OF DEMOCRATS

LIBERTY LEAGUE HEARS FORMER CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Warning of dangers of class war and bureaucratic suppression of American liberties under the new deal, Alfred E. Smith demanded tonight that the democratic party "reestablish the principles" of the platform upon which President Roosevelt was elected.

That platform, he said, except for regulation of the stock exchange and repeal of prohibition, had been "thrown in the wastebasket."

He charged before his cheering audience at the American Liberty league dinner that the administration was substituting socialism for democracy.

"That is why," he said, "the Supreme court is throwing out recent laws three letters at a time."

Removing himself as a possible candidate for party nomination, he flayed the new deal for extravagance and haphazard legislation.

The democratic convention at Philadelphia, he said, probably would be called upon to endorse the new deal in terms of Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland. He ridiculed the idea, indicating that he himself probably "would take a walk" during the presidential campaign.

No Happy Warrior
His jaw set, he sounded like a warrior but not a happy one. He bespoke himself distressed and distrustful.

Much as has the president on behalf of the new deal, he pitched his opposition on principles above partisanship.

"In the name of heaven where is the independence of congress?" He asked, reminding that this is a government founded on the executive, the judicial and the legislative, independent one of the other.

"Speaking for the rank and file," he said, "we don't want any executive to tell congress what it is going to do, or congress to tell the executive what it should do, or the Supreme Court telling either what it should do or the executive as congress should do."

He spoke of the process of constitutional amendment, developing change of the American method the thesis that if any fundamental should be wanted by the people, that was the way to do it.

"There is a blind alley to loyalty," Smith submitted by way of assuring that he would not change his convictions because of having campaigned 21 times as a democrat.

The unbalanced budget and pyramiding deficits concerned him especially.

"This debt is going to be paid by the great rank and file," he said, adding it would be paid in increased cost of living and increased taxation.

No Ax To Grind
He reviewed the platform plank, citing chapter and verse of his contention that the intended purpose had not been realized.

"How can you balance the budget?" See AL SMITH, Page 6

Sheriff Talley Seeking Second Term in County

Earl Talley yesterday authorized the announcement that he is a candidate for a second term as sheriff of Gray county, subject to the democratic primary of next July 25.

Mr. Talley said that in his first term he is trying faithfully to discharge the duties of the office with courtesy and fairness. He expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of citizens, which has made suppression of major crime. Conditions in the county are the best since he has been in office, the sheriff added.

"I have been deeply grateful for the public confidence which placed me in this office," Mr. Talley said, "and I am asking a second term in the belief that I am in a position to give even better service in another term."

Character Education Is Called Vital In Present Density Of Populations

Dr. Hill Calls Upon Teachers to Set High Standard

Speaks Here

Teachers' College in Big Expansion Of Plant

Increasing density of population is making character education of tremendous importance. Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas Teachers college at Canyon, told teachers of the Pampa independent district and visitors yesterday in an address in the city auditorium.

Although, he emphasized, the schools must assume a large share of this responsibility, they cannot do their task effectively without cooperation of parents, churches and other influences. He declared that teachers must set standards of conduct above the general average and should not feel strained in accepting this ideal.

"Knowledge alone is not sufficient," he said. "Education has been too much intellectual."

Dr. Hill said that there were moral values in very well-taught subject. And emotional reactions, he added, are very important in character building. He said that the moods, emotions, and backgrounds of students must be more perfectly understood.

Turning to the complexities in modern self-government, he said that morals and conduct were perhaps as good as in former times, but that the standards of isolation were not sufficient in urban communities. Newspapers, radio, and fast travel, he said, "make us more aware of human failings."

He said that true democracy and Christianity were identical in many particulars, and similar standards of conduct were required. Human liberty is not inherited, he declared, but must be earned by each generation, under changing conditions. Dr. Hill gave high praise to

Dr. J. A. Hill, above, president of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, spoke to Pampa teachers here Saturday and was given a luncheon by former students of the college.

Supt. R. B. Fisher and the Pampa schools.

Before his talk, a journalism class of the high school taught by Delmer Ashworth gave a dramatization to illustrate that straight thinking is fundamental in character education. The students discussed their political ideas and traced the origin of their opinions.

The program was arranged by Miss Anna Louise Jones, high school teacher.

The high school orchestra directed by Winston Savage played popular tunes at the opening.

West Texas Teachers college at Canyon is making plant improvements which will reach half a million dollars in cost before completion. Dr. J. A. Hill, president, told former students of the institution at a luncheon given in his honor Saturday at the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Hill accompanied him. Principal L. J. Stone presided. Short talks were made by many of those present, and by Supt. R. B. Fisher, President C. T. Hunkapiller of the school board, and Olin E. Hinkle.

Dr. Hill said the expansion included street paving, fencing, completion of Buffalo courts for athletes, completion of the first boys' dormitory built on a Teachers college campus in Texas, 50 per cent expansion of Cousins hall, the girls' dormitory, and pending construction of an outdoor swimming pool tennis courts, a score of cottages for married student couples, and expected construction of a library building, a second dormitory for men, and an addition to the museum. Most of these are PWA or WPA projects. The school plant will exceed two millions in value when the buildings are finished.

The school has added graduate work for the Master's degree, has installed a department of commercial work leading to the Bachelor of Business Administration degree, and is to raise its teacher-training standard to require two years of general subject before preparation for teaching begins. The first two years of work will be of a type similar to pre-med, pre-law, and pre-engineering courses.

In the approaching summer term, distinguished educators and business men will be brought to the college for intensive studies of current educational and national problems. In a sense, the summer term will include a clinic on present problems. An art colony will be established in the Palo Duro canyons.

LONDON TO TALK TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 25 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon is expected to outline his views on national issues Wednesday night for the first time since mention of his name as a presidential possibility. The Kansas governor will address the annual Kansas day dinner-rally of republicans of the agricultural midwest. The speech will be broadcast over a national radio hookup (NBC).

Texas is the greatest quicksilver producing state in the Union.

FULL REPORT ON FIRE LOSS RECORD MADE

273 Fire Hazards Are Found and Corrected

Pampa's insured fire loss for 1935 is estimated at $1,674,928 in a detailed report just filed. The value of buildings and contents involved was estimated at $215,990, on which the insurance carried totaled $173,990.

Buildings involved were valued at $110,550 and insurance thereon was $87,590. The insured loss for the year on buildings was $1,085,59. The report says. Contents of buildings involved $105,350, on which there was $86,400 carried in insurance. The insured loss on contents was $789,39.

There was, however, a carryover insurance loss in December of about $1,200.

The department made 66 runs, according to Chief Clyde Gold, during the year. There were 1,146 mercantile inspections made and 273 fire hazards found and corrected. There were 112 public building inspections, with no hazards found. Total inspections were 1,258.

Other activities included such things as lectures to Scouts, schools, and all company groups, cooperation with the Panhandle Safety Council, clean-up weeks, etc.

Premiums paid and losses incurred in the last four years were listed as follows: 1932—$48,414.50 in premiums, with $7,892.35 fire loss paid. 1933—$42,339.48 in premiums, with $1,290.80 insured loss. 1934—$55,955 in premiums, $1,371 insured loss. 1935—$50,000 in premiums, estimated, $1,974.98 insured loss. Total, $196,708.98 in premiums, $12,429.13 insured loss.

Rice Accuses U. S. Of Interference

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Elmer Rice today issued a statement charging his resignation as regional director of the federal theater project in New York City was forced by "the attempt of the United States government to stifle freedom of expression in the organs which it has itself created."

Jacob Baker, assistant federal administrator of the WPA, accepted Rice's resignation last night following dispute over material in the playlet "Ethiopia," an item of "the living newspaper."

Baker imposed an order, according to Rice, forbidding the impersonation in the playlet of rulers and members of the cabinet of foreign countries.

Larry Lawrence, small son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lawrence, is ill of Bronchitis at home.

EARLY MILLING METHODS TO BE SHOWN IN EXHIBIT—CASE DONATED TO CANYON MUSEUM

CANYON, Jan. 25—Walter C. Barlow, president of the Great West Mill & Elevator company of Amarillo, has donated a new archeology case to the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum. In it have been placed articles which illustrate the development of the milling industry in America from pre-historic times to the present. For the first four mills of this great west region did not have their beginnings within the cement walls which house them today, nor in the wooden buildings of the early Anglo-Americans.

In the new case are shown several examples of the metate and mano, the earliest known corn-milling devices of the Southwestern Indians. The metate was usually a flat slab of stone about 24 inches in length and 18 inches in width and 4 inches thick. The mano, or rubbing stone, was used with the metate. These two implements were among the very earliest used by man. With these he ground seeds, corn, meats, nuts, berries, and roots.

Still another type of early mill is the mortar and pestle. The mortar was a round hole often worn into a boulder and the pestle was used in crushing the grain in this hole. Numerous examples of mortars are to be seen in Palo Duro state park.

In imagining the operation of any of these early mills, an Indian woman is pictured with the maize grinding the Indian corn or maize with the mano or pounding it in the mortar with the pestle, now and then raising herself for a moment's rest and perhaps with one hand brushing away the overhanging hair from the forehead, and with hands on hips, bending back to stretch herself and ease tired muscles.

The Barlow case also contains specimens of household articles found in an early home of the Basket Maker Indians in a cave near Guadalupe Peak. It is believed that the Indian man who first practiced agriculture in the southwest. Their descendants learned the art of building pueblo houses.

From the array of arrow heads in the case, the story of the Indian warrior can be constructed. At first he did not use a bow and arrow, but hunted with short spears hurled with an unusual contrivance known as the atlatl or dart thrower. Then came the bow and arrow. The arrow was usually made of flint, and the bow and arrow proved to be a satisfactory weapon until the coming of the white man with his guns and other metal articles. The Indians were quick to adopt the white man's utensils. A steel arrow head on exhibit in the case was probably made from a barrel hoop or frying pan. It is a well known fact that most of the frying pans sold to the Indians by the whites in the early days were not used for cooking purposes, but for making arrow heads.

Among other articles in the display is a rabbit stick used somewhat like a boomerang to kill small game, and a hammerstone bound in rawhide which was used as a hammer, sledge, maul, and club head; one of its most important uses was that of breaking large flint objects by the percussion method.

Much of the material on display in the Barlow case was found by archeologists on Wolf Creek, Oculine county, the site of one of the Panhandle Culture Pueblo buildings, and in Palo Duro canyon which was inhabited by Indians from the earliest times and in which the archeology students of the West

Have You Enough Electric Outlets?

If not you should get an electrician to estimate the cost of installing more of them in your home. Of course, this estimate will cost you nothing.

Work of this kind does not cost as much as you probably think it does, and really without enough outlets you can't expect to get the maximum benefit, and pleasure you have a right to obtain from your electric appliances.

... this tested way

When mouth, nose and throat are frequently cleansed by the double-strength antiseptic action of M-31 Solution, germs have less chance of doing serious damage. Colds and similar diseases strike less often and less severely. Tests prove it. Used full strength, M-31 kills germs; half strength, sweetens breath.

NEVER MIND THE LADY

Chapter 30

MORNING FLIGHT

She appeared at dinner to take her place at her father's wifeless board, but having started things off, she found it no great task to leave the dining room and go up to her apartment.

She dropped into a chair and stared out of the window. Hum of conversation from the terraces below, the sound of motors in the drive and laughter—and Puff Harrington dancing from one man to another.

And Allaire could have sworn Terry Willett really loved her. He'd fought for her and he'd been so proud of it. Proud! She nearly laughed. He'd fought for Puff too, and gone to Night Court.

A mouthful of fog. Yes, her father had warned her. Steering an impossible course amid parties, and horse shows, and bachelor cotillions, toward the glow of rivers to cross and battles to win. And now Ray was laughing.

She yanked off her silver satin slipper and hurled it savagely out the window.

"That's for you, Willett!" she said furiously.

The gesture seemed to snap something in her. She sank back as if exhausted. The gesture had been silly, insane, and she hated to make silly, insane gestures.

She'd made one before when she sent Terry away when she knew she loved him. Sent him away in his hour of need, the Cartaret minister had said.

Hour of need! It seemed a spar, that phrase, in the floating wreckage. A spar that any woman would seize. A strong man had needed her, one of the greatest honors vouchsafed to woman. And she'd sent him away, relinquished all claim to him, sent him to Puff on the rebound.

She'd driven him to Puff Harrington. "It was my fault," she repeated stubbornly. "Mine."

But he had come back to fight a battle for her, to sweat and be hurt and run the gauntlet of an armed and desperate snake. Allaire clung to that fiercely. She had sent him away, but he had come back.

She went to the phone and called Shorty Hasbrouck at the Washington landing field.

"Shorty," she said clearly, "this is Allaire West. My foot still in the shop. Can you fly me down to Miami tomorrow morning?"

"Sure," said Shorty. "How early?"

"With the sun," said Allaire.

She hung up and stood lost in thought. There'd be a big argument around here; might as well get it over. She picked up the house phone and called the butler's pantry.

"Blythe, see if you can find my father. I want to see him right away."

Contact! A group of three people stood on a landing field and watched a little red and black Stinson rising into the early morning sun. Rayburn West, Nell West, and George Fox.

"What got into her?" Ray sounded dazed. "After what she knows about him?"

Fox turned and faced them. "It's very simple," he told them steadily. "You starved her for affection when she was young and she's grown up with all that affection stored and accumulating and waiting to get out. And she's made it over lock, stock, and barrel to Terry Willett."

He took a deep breath. "And if you ever prayed in your lives before, you'll pray that her courage and love and fight won't go to waste, but will see her through. Because, if she's his special shoe, she's putting all her chips on one turn of the wheel and the odds are against her."

He turned away from them. What did they know of battle?

Proprietor! And the coffee chutes were humming again. Coffee! Thousands of bags of it. The Great God Coffee! Hail to Coffee!—it had broken the grip of the revolution. The last mines were being taken up out of the harbor so that

Eldon Dyer of McLean Enlists in Marine Corps

Eldon C. Dyer of McLean enlisted in the marine corps at New Orleans Wednesday, according to word received from Lt. E. A. Robbins the recruiting officer there. He will go to Parris Island, S. C. for the preliminary training course. While there he will be thoroughly schooled in the duties and life of a marine. Three weeks will be spent firing the service rifle, pistol, machine gun, and other infantry weapons used by the marine corps. It is not known what his first assignment will be after training has been completed. Many young men go into aviation, radio, mechanics or other specialist lines. Others go to foreign lands or aboard some battleship or plain carrier for duty.

Prior to his entry into the marine corps Dyer lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Dyer, in McLean, he was graduated from McLean high school last year.

Applicants to fill existing marine vacancies receive their preliminary examinations in their home localities and those selected for service receive their final examinations at U. S. Marine headquarters, 535 St. Charles St., New Orleans, La.

TCU President Is Traitor, Says A Woman Writer

PORT WORTH, Jan. 25.—President E. M. Waits of Texas Christian university has been accused of being a traitor to his country in a letter received from a Louisiana woman. She makes the charge because he accepted the Sugar Bowl football trophy, which was made 100 years ago in England.

The writer, "a descendant of one of the first converts to the religious principles of Alexander Hamilton," protests against the trophy on the grounds that it emanated from George IV of England.

"If America has fallen so low in patriotism as to accept such an insult to the memory of George Washington," the letter reads, "then you should have required that the loving cup of George be wrapped in a darling British flag."

The protestor further suggests that "it would be far better that you accept a piece of Mayan pottery, Haiti's Selassie coconuts, a vase from the ruins of Pompeii, or a bathtub from Greece, all of which would be less insulting to George Washington than a memento that dates back to the early struggles of a young republic."

15 Per Cent of Dirt Moved at City Race Track

About 15 per cent of the dirt has been moved in construction of the race track at the municipal fair-ground park. In all, about 55,000 yards must be moved. Workmen are moving 300 yards daily.

The track has been re-staked to a 5-8th mile oval. The fence will be started as soon as the grading is completed.

At the bridge site east of the Sam Houston school, about 40 per cent of the dirt has been moved to change the water course and eliminate a traffic hazard. Steel will be here probably tomorrow, so that pouring of footings can begin. City Manager C. L. Stine said yesterday. Difficulty in getting materials of the type specified is being experienced. For example, crushed rock was written into specifications, but that delivered from out-of-town is largely round. Also, asphalt sent for the tennis court is being rejected as unsuited to the need.

Plans are being completed for a grandstand and gymnasium at the park site. Date of construction is uncertain.

Gray-Wheeler Physicians to Meet Feb. 17

Members of the Gray-Wheeler County Medical association will meet here again on the third Tuesday in February, it was decided at a dinner session at the Eagle Buffet a few days ago.

The main discussion was on re-appearing fever. Talks were made by Dr. A. J. Streit of Amarillo and T. P. Churchill, Amarillo laboratory specialist.

Dr. G. R. Walker of Mobeetie, president, was chairman. Others present included:

Dr. J. S. McCray, McLean; J. W. Koch, Shamrock; H. N. Nicholson, Wheeler; C. B. Batson, McLean; and V. E. von Brunow, C. C. Wilson, H. L. Wilder, W. Purviance, K. L. Buckner, J. W. Kelley, W. B. Wild, and C. D. Hunter, of Pampa.

Three Dalhart Men to Talk on Townsend Plan

A large crowd is expected to hear Dalhart speakers at an organization meeting of the Townsend Old Age Pension club Monday evening in the city auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

Three prominent men of Dalhart will discuss the Townsend plan. They are J. N. Johnson, district organizer; District Attorney E. M. Richards; and J. S. Bailey, city attorney. The public is being invited to attend.

WOULD CLOSE WATERS
AUSTIN, Jan. 25. (AP)—The game fish and Oyster commission voted today to recommend closing of all Texas waters to shrimp fishing in July and August to increase the number of shrimp. Scientific sterilization was approved by 21 of 30 of Brazil's most prominent physicians and biologists who were circularized. Dr. Renato Kehl told the first Inter-American Conference on Mental Hygiene held here.

CENTENNIAL CATTLE SELECTED
MARFA, Jan. 25. (AP)—W. B. Mitchell was elected president of the Highland Hereford association at the annual meeting today. W. L. Stangel, in charge of the livestock division of the Texas Centennial celebration, flew here from Dallas to arrange for an exhibition of Highland feeder cattle at the Centennial stock show, in recognition of the grand championship award won by them in the Chicago international show last year.

POLO TEAMS TO PLAY AGAIN TODAY; PLAINVIEW WINS SATURDAY 9 TO 2

LARGE CROWD DUE TO WATCH DURING RIBBERS

PAMPANS ENJOY FIRST TASTE OF ROUGH SPORT

Pampans got their first local glimpse of polo yesterday afternoon and liked it, despite the fact that football weather prevailed when the crack El Rojo team of Plainview met the newly organized Pampa team. Team work and a better knowledge of the game favored the visitors, who won, 9 to 2.

The same two teams will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Pampa polo field, half a mile north of the city on Hobart street. Admission will be 25 cents for children and 40 cents for adults. Cars will be allowed to park around the field, where an excellent view of the field can be obtained.

The teams battled on almost even terms for four chukkers, then condition and experience started to favor the visitors. Captain M. C. Overton of the Pampa club sent his entire list of reserves into the game and Plainview took advantage of the inexperienced players in making several points in the last two chukkers.

A large crowd is expected to see the teams in action this afternoon. The Pampans have now had their first baptism of fire and are expected to put up a better game this afternoon. The chief trouble with the local players was their desire to ride the ball instead of keeping the other fellow from getting to it, and allowing their own players to come from behind. The Pampa mounts were obviously superior to Plainview's ponies.

Plainview's ace was "Butter" Stephenson, who was a star both offensively and defensively. His mallet work was almost perfect and he rode his man out of position with uncanny skill. Riding a paint pony that failed to be a polo mount in looks only, Stephenson was all over the field. He passed accurately to his teammates and on defense hit long and true. Once he lifted his mallet high above his head to block a Pampa ball as it started true and high for the goal.

Bob Crenshaw led the Plainview scoring with three goals, two on nice individual jaunts and the other on a pickup from Norris, who was on the scoring end of two goals. Humphries slipped two between the posts and Stephenson added a like number.

Arthur Dwyer, who played a great game for the Pampa team, scored first for Pampa when he took a dead-on pass from C. H. Huff to push the ball between the posts. The rest of the chukker was scoreless, with the Pampa team getting into its stride near the close. Both teams played hard in the second period with the Pampa players having the advantage. Several penalties were dishd out so hard was play.

Continuing to press, Pampa scored late in the third chukker when the entire Pampa team took a hand in working the ball up the field. Dwyer getting credit for the point. Plainview went into the lead at the opening of the fourth period when Pampa drove out from the end zone and Crenshaw intercepted.

Playing steady with interference working smoothly, Pampa evened the count a minute later on some nice stick work on the part of Overton, Cooper, and the final pair on the scoring, Dwyer and Huff.

From then until the end of the game Plainview controlled the situation, riding hard and hitting true, while keeping the Pampa players from getting clear shots on the goal.

Dr. Overton, Pampa No. 1 player, did some excellent work holding off opposing players. Dwyer and Huff rode the ball well. Huff's horsemanship showing up exceptionally well. Cooper's backhanded work was outstanding.

Leon Mount played stellar defensively while in the game. Wylie Reynolds, captain of the New Mexico Military Institute team two years ago, entered the game without practice and his horsemanship was commendable. Bill Harwell and Hub Burrows also got in the tilt and showed much promise. They are new to the game.

Officials were: Referee, Phillips of Plainview; umpire, Stewart of Texline.

MEDALISTS TE SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25. (AP)—Ky Lefoon, sharp shooter, came from Chicago, and Jimmy Thomson, one of the longest hitters in the business, tied for medal honors today in the San Francisco match play open championship in a 36-hole qualifying round that saw many of golf's notables fall by the wayside.

An "anti-treating" ordinance was adopted by the Tacoma, Wash., city council, making the buying of an intoxicating drink for another person a misdemeanor.

HARVESTER GRID TRAINING TO BEGIN SOON UNDER PREJEAN

Football equipment will be un-patched and repaired this week in preparation for spring training which will begin soon under direction of Assistant Coach J. C. Prejean. Date of opening practice for those who have played no previous football will be set soon.

Coch Prejean said yesterday that practice would be held on nice days because of the early start. After a few weeks with the "greenies," the rest of the prospects will be called to practice.

MISSISSIPPI STATE'S COACH WANTS TO WIDEN GRID FIELD

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25. (AP)—Major Ralph Sasse, head coach of Mississippi State, wants to widen the football playing field from 160 to 200 feet.

Here today on a "little vacation" Sasse said he planned to offer a proposal to that effect to the National Football Coaches' association at Pittsburgh, Feb. 1, when the nation's leading mentors meet to discuss rule changes.

"What the game needs is more room," he said. "It needs more room for forward and lateral passes that have speeded up football tremendously."

"During the past few years rules have been put into effect to liberalize passing—and with little result because the rulemakers didn't go to the basic reason—the size of the field."

"Take the Canadian game of rug-by for instance. It's played on a wide field, designed that way so passes will have plenty of room for a diversified game."

"After all there's no reason why the width of a football field should be 160 feet."

Sasse said he planned to put the wider field to a practical test this spring. Mississippi State's practice field already is being widened to 200 feet.

Cunningham Is Booped at Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, the world's fastest miller, was roundly booped by many in the 1929 crowd at the Boston garden tonight when he nosed out Joe Mangano, former Cornell captain, in the K. of C. mile run, feature of the Prout Memorial games.

The Kansanan, running his first mile of the indoor season, was timed in 4:17.7.

Many of the spectators became incensed when Cunningham appeared to cut over and block Mangano on the last run.

Mangan had to break his stride and was forced to fend off Cunningham to prevent a collision. This mishap, which occurred about 20 yards from the finish line, failed to daunt Mangano and he trailed by less than six inches when the world record holder broke the tape.

American Mail To Kaiser Heavy

DOORN, The Netherlands, Jan. 25. (AP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm will be 77 years old Monday, but the commemoration of this anniversary will not be observed until Jan. 31.

The delay is due to his official and personal mourning for the death of his cousin, the late King George of England, his enemy during the world war.

Postoffice functionaries here have been working overtime for the last two weeks as they are forced to do every year during the second half of January to handle the steady stream of letters of congratulation from all over the world.

Reserves Lose Lead; City Cagers Take 25-24 Game

Less than three minutes before the end of the game Friday night the City Cagers beat the Reserves 25 to 24, but when the final whistle blew the harvester basketball team left the floor with a 25 to 24 victory, and felt lucky to have won at all.

The harvester first string was going like a house afire in the fourth period when Coach Odu Mitchell, apparently confident that the second string could at least hold the lead, jerked the first string and sent in Bailey, Keyser, Nix, Nobilit and Kitchens, to replace Stokes, Green, Moore, Hartman and Albert Ayer, the starters.

In a minute and a half, the Bulldogs had scored 9 points; Nix had committed two glaring fouls by hacking the Borger sharpshooters and the reserves had almost played their way back into the game, with 50 seconds to go. In that time, Davies, Bulldog forward, sank a key basket from near center.

Thereafter, the Harvesters were able to hold the visitors who appeared to have hit an unbeatable stride. Coach Mitchell was justified in sending in his reserves. The Subs had not failed to hold any lead piled up by the Harvesters.

There have been times in the last few weeks when the subs looked as good as the first string, but they cracked with a re-scounding roar Friday night. Early in the season, the reserves allowed big leads to be eaten up, but in the last few weeks they had shown remarkable improvement.

More than likely they had acquired in a big way a consuming complex, or mania, that has afflicted the Harvester starters to a smaller degree lately—the craze to score on every play.

Winn the mania to be a scoring star even if the price is the loss of the game. Last night it was noticeable that some members of the first string and most of the reserves flung the ball at the basket in an attempt to score.

The game emphasized the absolute need for all members of the team to get the phrase "high-point man" out of their minds, and to settle down to team-work, sound and reasonable passing and defensive tactics.

The Harvester first string looked well enough Friday night but it had looked better. Some of the boys lapsed into a trot in the Turkey and Borger games—a trot that observers thought the boys had gotten into when they were apparently has not yet become aware that the only thing that matters in athletic games is teamwork, and not which athlete scores the most points.

Due largely to the commendable and accurate passing of Green, Keyser, Moore, Hartman and Albert Ayer, the team stood under the basket and nearby and threw the ball thru the net eight times. Besides that he made two free shots for a total of 18 points. Moore was hotter than he has ever been; he played all out and he did not let any of his man scores but guarded the other players' opponents. Moore seemed to be putting everything he had into the game.

Stokes Green fought doggedly and brilliantly for victory in the Turkey game, and against Borger he turned in a performance that Jones, Strickland, and Ayer whammed the backboard every time they got a chance, and this enabled Moore to grab the rebound and score. The boys played a finer caliber of basketball than they did in the Turkey game, when they lost 23 to 20. Jones and Ayer completely smothered the two Borger forwards Davies and Trotter in the first half. Davies scoring one point and Trotter three. ### Miss O'Keefe Will Be Bride Of Coming Week

Newspaper Woman in Panhandle to Wed Mr. Conner

PANHANDLE, Jan. 25.—Miss Irene O'Keefe, assistant editor of the Panhandle Herald and well-known newspaper woman of this section, will be married Wednesday to Mayo D. Conner of Amarillo, it was announced last week.

An elaborate shower at the Panhandle Inn was given Monday by Misses Jim Mcensley, B. E. Bradshaw, Richard Orr; Misses Louise Rorex and Louise Orr, to honor the bride-elect. More than 100 friends of Panhandle, Berger, Pampa, and Amarillo were present.

Miss O'Keefe is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel O'Keefe and the late T. A. O'Keefe, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. O'Keefe of Pampa. Mr. Conner is the son of Mrs. Emma Conner of Panhandle. He is in business in Amarillo, and the couple will live there.

CLARENDON, Jan. 25.—Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Claire Marie Braswell and Harold Chun, both of Houston, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell at Paducah, last Friday. Miss Braswell and her parents were until last year prominent residents here, and are well known over the Panhandle. The couple is at home at Mt. Belvieu, where he is with the Gulf Production company.

BORGER, Jan. 25.—Announcement of Miss Geneva Griffin's engagement to Porter Pierce of East Texas was made at the home of Mrs. Wallace Hooks Monday. The marriage will be in Canyon on Feb. 1. Miss Griffin is a teacher here.

M'LEAN, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Leon Steger, a recent bride, was honored when Mrs. R. L. Appling and Mrs. T. H. Holloway entertained a shower Tuesday at the Appling home.

WHITE DEER, Jan. 25.—A zone meeting of Methodist Missionary societies of the North Panhandle will convene here Friday. Misses Canadian, Panhandle, Higgins, and White Deer societies will be represented on the all-day program.

LEFORS, Jan. 25.—Miss Vivian Gantz and Delmas Justice were married Monday evening in the Holiness church here. Miss Gantz has been pastor of the church the past two years, and Mr. Justice is an evangelist in that denomination. They will reside here.

WHEELER, Jan. 25.—Wednesday Study club elected officers this week for the coming season. Mrs. Cora Hall was named president and Mrs. Melvin Howe vice-president.

SHAMROCK, Jan. 25.—Announcement has been made of the marriage on Christmas eve of Miss Rachel Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ellison of Shamrock, and J. T. Green of Amarillo, son of Mrs. J. Nathan Green of Wheeler. The couple is at home in Amarillo.

Two Lodges Have Installation of Officers Jointly

At a joint public installation for the Subordinate Lodge of Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs Friday evening, officers for the two groups took their posts at the coming year. Carl Baer and Mrs. Dewey Voyles, district deputies for their respective lodges, acted as installing officers.

Mrs. G. T. Bunch took office as noble grand of the Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Joe Brown as vice-grand, Mrs. B. E. Walker as treasurer, and Mrs. P. F. Blankenburg secretary. In the Subordinate Lodge, J. W. Crisler was installed as noble grand, C. H. Blair as vice-grand, John Kilian as financial secretary, E. C. Rupp as recording secretary, Emory Noblitt as treasurer.

All these were elected officers. Appointed officers installed for the Rebekahs were Mmes. Walter Spoonmore, Carl Baer, Joe Schneider, Otis Brinkman, John Killian, Freida Baer, O. G. Smith.

Subordinate Lodge installed as appointees, John Hall, Joe Brown, Al Eldridge Elrod, Otis Brinkman, A. C. Jones, Bernett Lunsford.

Mrs. Daisy Eldridge, retiring noble grand of the Rebekahs, was presented with a past grand's pin. Mrs. Voyles made the presentation. P. F. Blankenburg acted as master of ceremonies for the program that began with an invocation by G. E. McKenna. Mrs. Jessie N. Ross, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, spoke on Odd Fellowship. Mrs. Martel Peters played piano numbers during the evening. Cake and coffee were served.

'BELT AND BUCKLE' SPRING FABRIC PRINT

PARIS (AP)—A "belt and buckle" print is something new in spring fabrics. A dark blue crepe is printed with the design of a red buckle and a short length of the belt instead of the overworked flower patterns which have been so long in vogue.

SKELLYTOWN, Jan. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dickey entertained the New Deal club Wednesday evening with three tables of bridge. Green and white was the color scheme.

Six games of bridge were played, at the close of which Mrs. Bill Price was awarded high for women and Carl Williams for men. Salad, fruit cake, and coffee were served.

Present were Messers, and Mmes. Wesley Black, J. C. Jarvis, Bill Price, Fred Price, Carl Williams, and Dickey. The club will meet next with Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Kingsmill Circle Has Study Session

KINGSMILL, Jan. 25.—The Kingsmill circle of Baptist Missionary union met in the Sunday school room Wednesday afternoon. A song service by the group opened the hour. Mrs. J. S. Smith gave the opening prayer.

The devotional from Luke 13 and the lesson discussion were presented by Mrs. Grover Lamb and her group. The benediction was by Mrs. Al Moore.

Present were Mmes. R. T. Jinks, O. D. Duke, Lamb, Moore, Carl Smith, J. S. Smith, Ted Swinford, E. E. Franks.

TAFFETA PATTERN RAISED

LONDON (AP)—The pattern on black taffeta material is being raised with the aid of rubber to impress the design for dressy wear.

YOUNG WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR SELF-CULTURE

MRS. WOOLEY TO BE DIRECTOR; MISS STARK HEAD

Organization of a chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, an international honorary sorority, was completed here Friday evening with a dinner at the Schneider hotel, followed by initiation of the chapter and installation of officers.

Mrs. Charles Wooley has been named director of the organization, Miss Frances Stark president, Miss Clotilde McCallister vice-president, Miss Anna Louise Clayton recording secretary, Miss Lorene Nicholson corresponding secretary, Mrs. Era Smythe treasurer.

The dinner was served at a table lighted by yellow tapers and centered with a large bowl of pale yellow roses, the sorority flower.

Organization of the Pampa chapter was effected by Misses Juanita and Lola Handley of Kansas City, international representatives who have spent the past two weeks here. Other chapters are to be organized in the Panhandle, to afford inter-sorority contact for members here. Ten other chapters are active in Texas.

The sorority is for young women between the ages of 20 and 30, and membership is by invitation only. Programs stressing appreciation of the arts will be given regularly under the guidance of Mrs. Wooley.

Explaining the aims of the organization, Miss Handley said that it is aesthetic in idealism, devoted to development of its members in the art of living.

The chapter here will be affiliated with the international organization, which has a membership approximating 7,000 in the United States and in Canada. International sponsors include Emily Nevada Blair, noted author and lecturer; Mrs. Wesley Halliburton of Memphis, Tenn., mother of the explorer and writer; Mrs. Sally Rogers McSpadden of Claremore, Okla., sister of the late Will Rogers; and wives of governors in many states, including Mrs. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico.

Child Labor Is Being Studied By Texas P-TA

"Fifteen state organizations which are interested in child welfare are cooperating with the labor brotherhoods in an educational campaign for the prohibition of child labor," according to Mrs. W. T. Decherd of Austin, chairman of the central committee, and representative of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in this movement.

"We are not working to have the child labor amendment presented further at any immediate special session of the legislature," Mrs. Decherd continued. "Our interest now is in finding out how various candidates would vote on this question."

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers is joining other organizations in observing the last week-end in January—the 25, 26, and 27 as Child Labor Days. During that period they hope to call attention to the fact that the lives of thousands of American children are still shadowed by the threat of industrial exploitation.

Leaders pointed out that the breathing spell granted to child laborers for nearly two years by the temporary industrial codes came to an abrupt end with the Supreme Court decision last May, and once again child labor is permitted in American industry.

WMU Member Is Presented Gift

KELLERVILLE, Jan. 25.—The Women's Missionary society met Wednesday at the Baptist church with 11 present. Two new members were welcomed.

Mrs. George Berlin was elected Royal Service chairman, and Mrs. John R. Phillips secretary-treasurer. The meeting time was changed from 2:30 to 1:30.

Mrs. Irvin Crossland, who is ill, was presented with a gift from the society.

Mrs. R. L. Carter and baby son, who has been named Bobby Wayne, are doing nicely at their home here. Mr. Carter is lease foreman for the Phillips Petroleum company.

CORK NEW MATERIAL 'WOVEN' INTO WOOL

PARIS (AP)—Cork is the next thing to be woven into wools. After feathers, hair, kidskins, and gold and silver threads have all been used, Rodier weaves a spring wool with thin lozenges of cork about the size of a penny woven into the wool. The material is a shadow plaid.

Most Outstanding Young Man

In selecting Governor James V. Alford of Texas for the national distinguished service award, the National Junior Chamber of Commerce paid a tribute to youth—at least youth in a political sense. The Texas governor is youthful in appearance and in viewpoints, besides being far under the average age of governors generally.

Not all of his administration's accomplishments can be termed permanent, but many laws which were near passage in other administrations and which never mustered the support for passage have been enacted with the aid of his influence. Some of these laws are the labor statutes to provide safer working conditions, Texas securities act, drivers' license law, old age assistance law, liquor laws, abolition of the fee system, and chain store tax. The department of public safety has been created and some blows struck against "big shot" gamblers.

A notable change in the pardon policy has been made. The board of pardons has been revitalized and given a system of advisory pardon boards in the counties. Gray county, for instance, has such a board headed by C. H. Walker as chairman. The county boards are advisory and are intended to be helpful to released prisoners. Mr. Walker is seeking work for men who wish to make honest livings and erase the stigma of past mistakes.

The governor has been consistent in his opposition to a general sales tax in the face of rising demand for its passage. Another strong policy has been that of states rights in connection with threatened federal control of the oil industry. He was a dominant force in writing the Interstate Oil Compact, which was the alternative to federal control. While he is not yet "out of the woods" on this issue, his position is stronger than it was at the start. Other unfinished business includes financing of the old age pensions.

Considerable publicity has been given to the activities of the new state planning board, which is seeking economic development of the state through utilization of its natural resources. The board claims to have brought to Texas about $100 for every $1 spent by the state on its operations. Currently, it is sponsoring through WPA a statewide mineral survey.

The drivers' license law—not all expected of it but a step in the right direction—will go into effect next month.

Not all of the Alford appointments have been exactly "happy," and some have paid political debts as in every administration, but on the whole he has received rather wide commendation for his choices.

These remarks are not to be taken as political in any sense. Governor Alford's position as he goes into the election year is so strong as to discourage most opposition. The chances for his defeat at the polls are remote indeed. The National Junior Chamber doubtless noted this fact in making its selection of a man in public office.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Washington is a city of coincidences, and the so-called long arm of coincidence has seldom been busier than in the recent series of explosions around, about, and under Senator Gerald Nye and the munitions committee.

COINCIDENCE NO. 1: The Democratic attempt to suppress the munitions investigation case a week or 10 days before the committee was scheduled to reveal certain negotiations as to proposed sale of airplanes to Russia in which a son of a leading member of the administration was to figure prominently.

COINCIDENCE NO. 2: The movement to strangle the investigation almost immediately preceded a turn of the spotlight to alleged methods by which the Treasury was said to have been of assistance to the Morgans after America entered the war—at a time when W. G. McAdoo, now a senator, was secretary of the treasury.

COINCIDENCE NO. 3: The onslaught began shortly before the committee expected to reveal names of certain American companies—especially oil concerns—and the values of their shipments of war materials to Italy.

COINCIDENCE NO. 4: Senator Tom Connally of Texas, who started the attack on Nye in ostensible defense of Woodrow Wilson's memory, happens to be an outstanding champion of oil interests here.

That's the way things happen here. Perhaps you remember the recent coincidence wherein Mr. Du Pont and Mr. Raskob, who were pounced on by the Treasury as a result of ancient income tax operations, turned out to be American Liberty League and very bitter enemies of the Roosevelt administration.

But even those who stress these various coincidences are willing to admit that Nye, despite his accumulation of supporting evidence, made a tactless blunder when he said that Wilson had "falsified" in denying knowledge of the secret Allied treaties prior to the Paris peace conference.

It's a matter of interesting speculation whether conservative Democrats would have come crashing down on Nye so enthusiastically if certain forces hadn't already been crouched to pounce as soon as they were given an opening—in other words, if it hadn't been for the "coincidences."

Rush Holt, 30-year-old senator from West Virginia, and Matthew Neely, senior senator from the same state, are not the least bit chummy any more.

The chief political job in West Virginia is that of collector of internal revenue and it is held by Walter R. Thurmond, Neely's spokesman and patronage boss.

Holt has declared that Thurmond must go. Among the bases of his attack is the fact that Thurmond was head of coal operators' associations in West Virginia in a period when scores of miners were killed in labor clashes.

Holt has a pile of books which contain references to Thurmond and a sheaf of resolutions against Thurmond passed by lodges of the United Mine Workers.

In recent weeks, the nation has learned that music goes "round and round," but that Joe Louis' opponents hardly average that many.

One thing about those hospital bombings: The Ethiopian under ether at the time can afterward boast about his embroidery pattern incision.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL.

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—More than anyone in recent years, Capt. J. W. McCormick of the Texas rangers probably approaches nearer in appearance, action and history of accomplishment the story-book type of that famous group of peace officers.

The story of his beating the Oklahoma gunman, Bud Ballew, to the draw in Wichita Falls a number of years ago possibly is recalled most frequently when his exploits are mentioned, but his record of fearlessness and aggressiveness in enforcing the law is founded on many other dangerous encounters.

The most recent was his cleanup in the vicinity of San Augustine, in extreme East Texas, where a lawless element apparently had gotten control. In recognition of his service he received a gift from the citizens of San Augustine which he said was "the best I ever got." It was a pair of silver-mounted six-shooters, which sparkled as he displayed them in Governor Alford's office.

The guns are single-action, .45 caliber Colts, and were matched by a handsome leather belt with ruby-lined silver buckle.

Capt. McCormick explained that it was at San Augustine he last found it necessary to draw "two guns."

"A man came at me with a shotgun," he said, "so I thought I had better pull both guns. There wasn't any shooting."

On a single action pistol the hammer must be raised for each shot, in contrast with the double action, or the automatic, either of which fires with the pull of the trigger.

Because it is not as easy to discharge, the single action weapon is very popular with officers, who find it handy now and then for knocking a man down.

In this connection Capt. McCormick explained some of the fine points of taking a man into custody without firing a shot.

"Never hit him with a gun above the cheek bone," he said. "It might break his skull. Just slap him below the bone. That'll smash his jaw, but won't kill him."

Later it was suggested that the captain might be at some disadvantage with a single action pistol if he met someone with a rapid-firing automatic and bad intentions. "No he won't either," a friend of McCormick said. "He don't need but one shot."

OIL NEWS - - From Panhandle and Other Southwest Fields

MORE COURSES FOR WORKERS IN OIL INDUSTRY AVAILABLE UNDER LOCAL SCHOOL HEAD

MEN INTERESTED IN WORK MUST REGISTER

Details of new vocational training courses offered oil field workers were outlined by Supt. R. B. Fisher of the Pampa schools at the API sessions last week.

Starting of the courses is dependent upon the response of workers who must call at the office of Supt. Fisher and register their desire for the work. If the demand is great enough to justify the classes, the teachers will be designated and application made to the state department of education for funds.

With the support of the Panhandle API chapter, the classes will be directed by Supt. Fisher as general supervisor. Courses must be with such direction, where school boards permit use of their facilities as needed for the night classes. Cost of a course will be small, probably $5 to $8.

Any working man enter an evening school if the instruction given is such as will help him in his daily work or fit him for promotion to a better job. He cannot, however, enter a class to prepare himself to enter a new field. For example, a carpenter could not study to be an operator of internal combustion engines but a pumpjack could do so. The carpenter could take a course in blue print reading or oil field mathematics.

A class may be organized whenever a group of or more men express a desire to receive vocational training in a particular subject. A class may be conducted at any time the teachers are free. Classes usually meet twice each week for periods of two hours each. Each course requires up to 12 weeks of study for diploma.

Courses offered in petroleum studies have been prepared through cooperation of the state departments of industrial education in several states and the I. P. I. committee on vocational training of the American Petroleum Institute. Interest just now appears strongest in classes on paraffin problems, acid treatment, and blue-print reading and sketching.

On satisfactory completion of any one of the unit courses for oil field workers a man will be granted a certificate by the state department of industrial education. Satisfactory classroom work must be accompanied by attendance at at least 80 per cent of the meetings. Standard certificates are issued only to persons employed in the petroleum industry.

Similar work was done in this field last year, some of it under company supervision. Classes are under way in Borger.

But in order to start classes here, oil field workers must request the superintendent of schools to make them available by registering and indicating study preferences.

Persons selected to teach courses must have sufficient practical experience in the industry in the subject selected to insure an efficient course of instruction. Persons actually employed in the petroleum industry will be given preference. Those teaching shop courses must have had at least 7 years experience in the trade. Courses in theory and laboratory work must be in charge of teachers qualified either as tradesmen or technically trained men. Technical training must have been at least four years.

Visitors to the Texas Centennial celebrations this year will find grapefruit growing on trees in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, garden spot of North America.

GAS STRIPPING AGAIN COMING UNDER TABOOS

Some Plants Shut Down but Most Operate on Other Approved Bases.

Dissolving of injunctions under which gas stripping has been permitted resulted in curtailment of operations in a number of Panhandle plants Friday and yesterday.

In some of these operations were affected only as to popping off of processed gas, and other processing continued.

A hearing on the Cargray corporation injunction will likely be held January 29. In the meantime, it is not affected.

Recent gas well completions include: Anderson & Kerr No. 1 Wells in section 153, block 3-T, T&N survey, Moore county, was bottomed at 3,230; shot with 126 quarts from 3,135 to 3,225; completed for 39,340,000 cubic feet of gas on commission test.

Barnes & Greene No. 1 George in section 76, block 17, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was bottomed at 1,950; gas pay, 1,895 to 1,950; completed for 48,000,000 cubic feet of gas on commission test.

Smith Bros. No. 3 Johnson in section 34, block 24, H&GN survey, was bottomed at 2,529; oil pay, 2,405 to 2,520; completed for 2,230 barrels flowing with 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Saulsbury Oil Co. No. 1 Baden, in section 126, block B-2, H&GN survey, Gray county, was bottomed at 3,368; gas 2,630 to 2,855; completed for 11,900,000 cubic feet.

Saulsbury Oil Co. No. 1 McKnight, in section 178, block B-2, H&GN survey, Gray county, was bottomed at 3,254; gas pay 2,565 to 2,750 and did 6,160,000 cubic feet of gas on commission test.

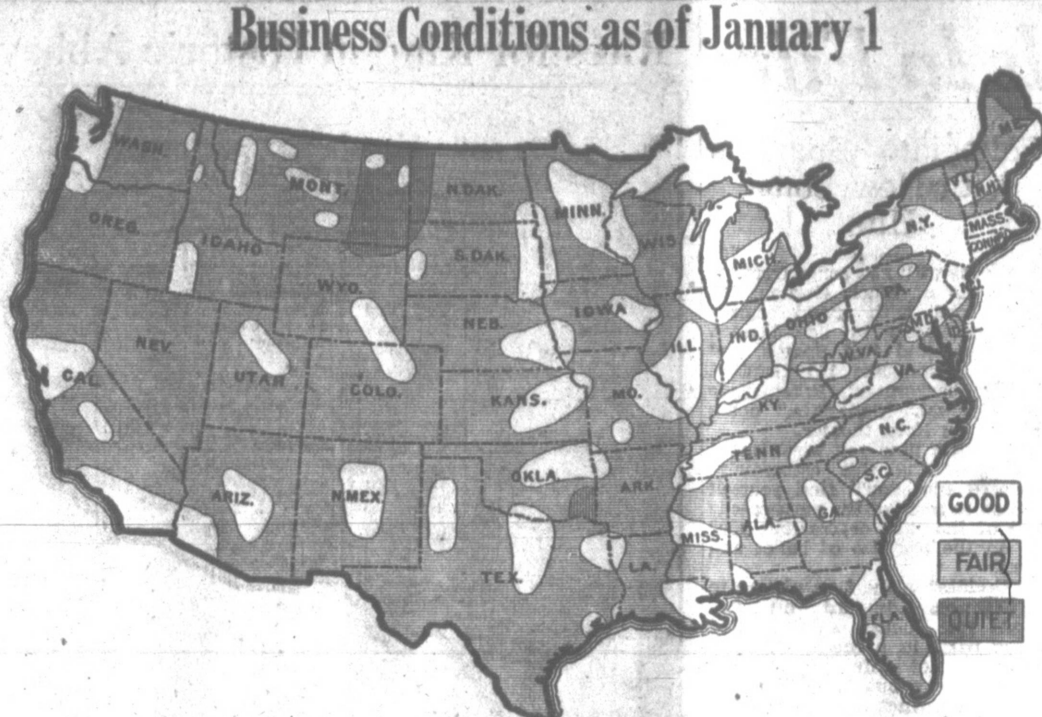

R. A. Burnett No. 1 Ida Ingerton "B", in section 327, block 7, ELRS survey, Hutchinson county, was bottomed at 2,710; gas pay 2,385 to 2,685 shot with 120 quarts from 2,685 to 2,695 and tested 12,249,000 cubic feet.

Texoma Natural Gas Co. No. 6-M R. S. Coon, in section 106, block 44, H&T/C survey, Moore county, was bottomed at 3,310; gas pay 2,820 to 3,120; completed for 8,983,000 feet of gas on commission test.

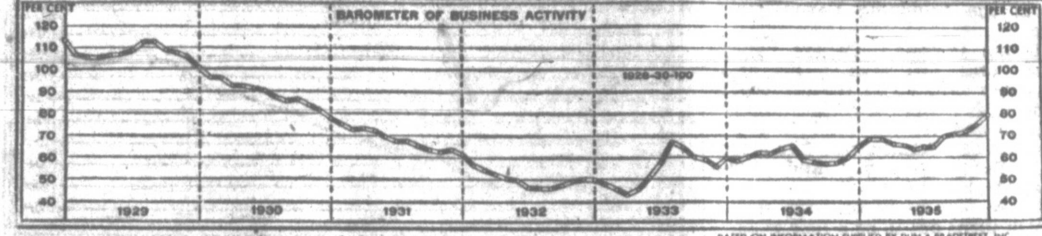

Dunbar O. & G. Co. No. 2 Stauffer in section 107, block 23, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was bottomed at 1,600; gas pay 1,560 to 1,593; shot with 250 quarts from 1,560 to 1,650 and completed for 1,750,000 cubic feet.

Gray County Production Co. No. 1 Lee Major, in section 22, block 24, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was bottomed at 2,375; gas pay 1,935 to 2,370 and completed for 47,800,000 cubic feet.

Mar. Oil company No. 2 Sitter "B" in section 28, block 24, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was bottomed at 2,600; gas pay 1,980 to 2,075 completed for 17,190,000 cubic feet on commission test.

This map represents business conditions in every state of the Union as shown in February, 1936, issue of "Nation's Business" official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The new year began on a cheerful note with business volume surpassing that of four preceding years.

The first four months of 1935 were rather colorless but as the crop season advanced the trade volume, the stock market and industrial operations expanded. The stock market advances were relatively greater in value than in dealings. Bank deposits and bank clearings were the heaviest since 1931.

Moving the automobile season forward set up a next to record output of cars which stimulated steel and iron making and bituminous coal mining. Electric power, rayon production and shoe manufacturing broke all records. Washing machines, electric refrigerators, plate glass and oil burners expanded. Cigarette and gasoline consumption hit new peaks. Machine tools and agricultural implements approached record volume. Railroads increased gross receipts and net operating income. More slaughter was the smallest in more than 40 years but value was the highest in four years. Failures were the fewest and liabilities the lightest since 1910. Commodity prices rose 9 per cent.

Fall wheat entered the winter with the highest condition and the largest acreage in more than three years. Good snow cover tends to support the idea that a larger crop is on the way.

No. 1 Wueter, 29,756,000 cubic feet. Martin & Hamilton No. 1 Plummer, 5,329,000 cubic feet. Cook & Flanagan No. 1 Farris, 20,723,000 cubic feet. Danciger No. 1 Massey, 65,869,000 cubic feet.

Hay Fever Has Ended Several Political Rows

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Political enmity collapses before the common understanding of fellow hay fever victims.

Take it as true from Governor Alfred, who should knot. Recently he wished the hay fever blight upon an acquaintance with contrariwise political views.

"For then," the governor said, "we would have something in common."

If then revealed he and former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, his political opponent, "have a big time talking to each other about our hay fever."

Once he befriended Mrs. Ferguson with a remedy.

"Why don't you use it yourself?" an acquaintance asked the governor, whose red eyes and sniffling bespoke a severe attack.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING AT TEXAS U. GROWS POPULAR

Graduates Make Records That Reflect Credit—Training Began in 1918.

AUSTIN, Jan. 25.—Vast strides of progress have been made by the relatively young department of chemical engineering at The University of Texas, it is pointed out by Dr. E. P. Schoch, a veteran professor of chemistry at the university and god-father, as it were, of the department.

Chemical engineering, which in recent years has come to spell training for oil refinery work, was added to the university curriculum in 1918. Since that time, the university has conferred 148 bachelor of science degrees in chemical engineering, 48 master's degrees and six doctor's degrees. Some significance should be attached to the fact that in all other engineering departments together, there have been 61 master of science degrees conferred since 1918, Dr. Schoch added.

For the third consecutive year, enrollment in the department of chemical engineering at this year is the second highest in the college of engineering. Of 1,066 engineering students now enrolled, 211 are in chemical engineering, compared with 173 last year and 120 the preceding year.

Prior to 1918, only one of the chemistry graduates of the university was employed in a Texas industry," Dr. Schoch declared. "Since then, practically all of our chemical engineering graduates found employment in Texas industries and 70 of them, or nearly 50 per cent, are now employed as refinery engineers."

"The University of Michigan has given every encouragement to its department of chemical and metallurgical engineering. Since 1929 it has conferred 43 doctor's degrees in that department. The department has a staff of thirteen members, all of whom have been constantly engaged in research work and in publication of new findings. One member of that staff alone had published 47 titles prior to 1930 and since then has published 35 articles, of which 28 have dealt with some phase of the petroleum industry."

Many of the chemical engineering graduates of the University of Texas have already attained high positions, according to Dr. Schoch, who has a complete record of the present and past professional status of each of the 203 graduates of the department. He cited a few of these, as follows: H. H. Meier, master of science graduate of 1927, director of refinery research for Humble Oil & Refining company; L. O. Crockett, chief chemist for Gulf Refining company; E. W. Ellis, master of science graduate of 1930, chief chemist for Panhandle Refining company; Harris Pruitt, bachelor of science graduate of 1935, chief engineer, Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil company; W. B. Logan, bachelor of science graduate of 1922, and Walter Ullrich, master of science graduate of 1925, designing engineers for the Texas company, New York City; Judson Swearingen, doctor of philosophy graduate of 1933, and Otto Garbes, master of science graduate of 1933, designers, builders, operators, and owners of the San Antonio Refining company plant.

It was further ordered, that, except as otherwise ordered, all of the provisions, directions, rules, regulation and orders set forth and contained in the basic order relating to the Panhandle gas field and the different zones thereof are adopted and continued in effect during the month of February.

It was also ordered that the daily allowable gas production computed on the basis set forth in House Bill No. 266, in the zones, for February, and thereafter until ordered by the commission, are to be as follows:

East Panhandle sweet gas field, 199,045,000 cubic feet per day. West Panhandle sweet gas field, 625,803,000 cubic feet per day. Panhandle sour gas field, 378,993,000 cubic feet per day.

It was further ordered by the commission that, effective February 1, no well producing both oil and gas shall be permitted to produce gas in excess of 8,000 cubic feet per barrel of oil produced unless specifically authorized by an order of the Railroad commission to vary therefrom. The gas-oil ratio is the relationship of the total volume of gas in cubic feet to the total volume of oil in barrels, produced from any specific well. Any well which, by reason of its location or mode of completion, is producing with a gas-oil ratio in excess of that authorized by the Railroad commission, will be allowed to produce daily a volume of gas equivalent to that of any other well producing from the same common source within the limits set by the commission.

FEBRUARY GAS ORDER ISSUED IN THIS AREA

December Order Continued As Basis—Oil-Gas Wells Are Limited to 8,000 Feet

From the evidence introduced at the recent hearing, together with that which was received by the Railroad commission at previous hearings involving the Panhandle gas field and which was re-introduced and considered as a part of the evidence at the hearings on January 16, the commission found and determined the following:

1. That the proration order of the commission dated December 18, 1935, entitled "Special Order Fixing Allowable Production of Sweet and Sour Natural Gas in the Panhandle District of Texas," should be hereafter regarded as the basic order relating to the proration of sour and sweet gas in the Panhandle district.

2. That, except as otherwise found, the findings of fact contained and set forth in that basic order are approved and adopted as the findings of fact which will serve as a basis for this order for the month of February, 1936, in that the commission finds that said findings are supported by the evidence received and considered at the hearing held December 16 and 17, 1935, and January 16, 1936, and from intensive and comprehensive study of these fields through its engineering staff, and from a personal study and investigation by the commission.

3. That the combined open-flow capacities, that is, the aggregate daily capacity to produce, of the gas wells in the East Panhandle sweet gas field containing 355 wells is 7,012,940,000 cubic feet per day; the West Panhandle sweet gas field containing 522 gas wells is 8,506,890,000 cubic feet per day; the Panhandle sour gas field containing 243 gas wells is 2,524,617,000 cubic feet per day.

4. That the reasonable market demand for sweet gas for uses permitted by House Bill No. 266, during the month of February, 1936, in the East Panhandle sweet gas field is 199,045,000 cubic feet per day; and in the West Panhandle sweet gas field is 625,803,000 cubic feet per day; and for sour gas in the Panhandle sour gas field is 487,705,000 cubic feet per day; and said amounts respectively, are the amounts that will be produced from said zones, with the exception of the Panhandle sour gas field, during said month to be utilized as permitted by the act.

5. That it is necessary to limit the production of dry sour natural gas to fifteen per cent (15 per cent) of the total potential of the sour gas area, in order to arrest the migration of dry sweet natural gas into the sour gas area. That to thus limit the production of dry sour natural gas to 15 per cent of the total potential of the sour gas area will tend to prevent the migration of the co-mingling of dry sweet and sour natural gas. That the available casinghead gas is more than adequate to supply the additional gas demanded for uses to which dry sour natural gas may legally be put.

6. That the commission, in keeping with its policy, established on the basis of evidence introduced at the statewide hearing on September 19, 1935, of progressively lowering the maximum gas-oil ratio in the Panhandle district until the most efficient ratio is reached, and that it is necessary to further restrict the daily volume of gas produced from oil wells in order that uniformity of withdrawals from the reservoir may be more nearly approached.

It was therefore ordered, that, except as otherwise ordered, all of the provisions, directions, rules, regulation and orders set forth and contained in the basic order relating to the Panhandle gas field and the different zones thereof are adopted and continued in effect during the month of February.

It was also ordered that the daily allowable gas production computed on the basis set forth in House Bill No. 266, in the zones, for February, and thereafter until ordered by the commission, are to be as follows:

East Panhandle sweet gas field, 199,045,000 cubic feet per day. West Panhandle sweet gas field, 625,803,000 cubic feet per day. Panhandle sour gas field, 378,993,000 cubic feet per day.

It was further ordered by the commission that, effective February 1, no well producing both oil and gas shall be permitted to produce gas in excess of 8,000 cubic feet per barrel of oil produced unless specifically authorized by an order of the Railroad commission to vary therefrom. The gas-oil ratio is the relationship of the total volume of gas in cubic feet to the total volume of oil in barrels, produced from any specific well. Any well which, by reason of its location or mode of completion, is producing with a gas-oil ratio in excess of that authorized by the Railroad commission, will be allowed to produce daily a volume of gas equivalent to that of any other well producing from the same common source within the limits set by the commission.

SEVEN MORE TESTS IN AREA ADD 2,868 BARRELS DAILY TO PANHANDLE'S POTENTIAL

New Locations Few for Week

First announcements touched a low in the Panhandle field last week in intentions to drill filed with the Railroad commission.

Gray, Carson, and Hutchinson counties had one each, as follows: Dawson & Tharp J. S. Morse No. 1, 330 feet from the east line and south line of section 6, block 26, I&GN survey, Gray county.

Continental Oil company S. B. Burnett "M" No. 1, 330 feet from north line and 330 feet from east lines of section 106, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

Harry Slekkol Canadian "H" Lease (J. A. Whittenburg farm) No. 5-H, 890 feet from north lines and 330 feet from west line of section 19, block 47, H&T/C Ry Co. survey, Hutchinson county.

Oil Test Near Wheeler to Start

That an oil test near Wheeler is assured was announced last week with headquarters at the C. W. Porter tract south of the city. The test, it was reported, will be 5 1/2 miles west of the court house square.

The location is described as 660 feet south and 660 feet west of the northwest corner of the SW 1/4, section 35, block A-8, H. & C. N. rail way survey. The test will be known as the G. W. Porter No. 1.

E. J. Turner, construction superintendent for the Phillips company, with headquarters at Whittenburg near Borger, made an inspection of the region Wednesday, giving final approval to the tentative location chosen a short time ago. C. E. Sturdevant, assistant to Turner, was there completing arrangements for drilling, which, it has been announced, will begin very soon. Within 30 days, it is said, actual drilling is expected to commence.

It will be remembered that The Times reported in its issue of August 1, 1935, a lease deal involving some 1,400 acres of Porter land in that sector. This includes the north half and the southwest one-fourth of section 13, block 27; south half section 37, and section 35, all in block A-8.

The lease transaction covering a period of one year, amounted to $11,000, and title was vested in L. L. Leedy of Oklahoma, who since then has transferred his interests to the Phillips Petroleum company, one of the most powerful development and production groups in the Panhandle field.—Wheeler Times.

TEMPORARY POTENTIALS ASSIGNED TO SEVEN OTHERS

Seven Railroad commission tests made during the last week added 2,868 barrels to the daily oil production of the Panhandle field. Of these, two in Gray added 802 barrels, two in Hutchinson added 699 barrels, two in Wheeler added 644 barrels, and one in Carson 723 barrels.

Commission tests of the week included: Carson County. Empire Gas & Fuel company D-1 Magnolia, section 109, block 4, I&GN survey, tested 723 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,056 and the pay at 2,990-3,095 feet was shot with 400 quarts.

Gray County. Gulf Production company No. 12 Thompson, section 128, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 309 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,280 feet. The pay was at 3,220-90 feet was shot with 400 quarts.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 10 R. H. H. H. section 130, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 330 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,230 feet. Pays were at 3,125-55, 3,155-75, and 3,181-96 feet.

Hutchinson County. Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 6 Watkins, section 13, block M-21, 700 barrels; Stanolind No. 2 Merten, 400 barrels; Kewanee No. 7 Arnold, 400 barrels; W. C. Jones' No. 4 Culler, 800 barrels.

Carson County. Magnolia No. 15 Fee 244, 400 barrels. Stanolind No. 7-A Watkins, 250 barrels.

Wheeler County. Skelly company No. 1 Johnson, 1,000 barrels.

Wheeler County. Skelly Oil company No. 1 Mollie Harvey, section 72, block 13, H&GN survey, tested 342 barrels daily. Total depth was 2,102 feet. Pay was at 2,074-2,102 feet.

Temporary potentials were assigned as follows: Gray County. Empire No. 2 Meers, 500 barrels; Empire No. 3 Cunningham, 600 barrels; Stanolind No. 1 Terry, 300 barrels; Stanolind No. 2 Merten, 400 barrels; Kewanee No. 7 Arnold, 400 barrels; W. C. Jones' No. 4 Culler, 800 barrels.

Centennial Names Monument Director

Appointment of Webb Roberts, of Dallas, an outstanding authority on commemorative monuments, as Director of Monuments, was announced this week in Austin by John V. Singleton, Chief of the Centennial Division for the State Board of Control.

Roberts will act as technical adviser and consultant to the Board of Control on the extensive program of installing more than 500 monuments and markers in every section of the State, to commemorate historical sites for the Centennial observance and thereafter. The work is financed as part of the Centennial Commission of Control program from the $5,000,000 State Centennial appropriation.

Roberts, born in Ball Ground, Ga., has lived in Dallas since 1919. He is a member of a family that is nationally famous as authorities in the monumental field, whose members have a combined experience of over 150 years in the work. The State Centennial monumental program ranges from simple, inexpensive commemorative markers all the way up to impressive $50,000 memorials. Each will commemorate some outstanding person or event who figured in the colorful pioneer history of Texas. Roberts will personally visit the site of each marker included in the vast program within the next few months.

FDR'S BIRTHDAY BALLS WILL BE HELD IN PANHANDLE TOWNS

LETTER FROM WRECKED SHIP IS RECEIVED

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM THIS TERRITORY IS ASSEMBLED

Temple H. Deaver, general chairman of the president's birthday balls for Memphis, has announced the appointment of a committee to make arrangements for putting on a genuine "old time square dance" in Memphis on the night of January 30, the night of the birthday balls throughout the nation honor President Franklin D. Roosevelt with benefit birthday balls, proceeds of which will go to aid crippled children.

Homer Mulkey, Clarendon chairman for the Birthday Ball for the President organized this week that a dance will be held this month, in keeping with similar affairs over the nation. The annual birthday ball is staged on Thursday night, January 30, throughout the United States, but the local affair will be held on the following night, Friday, January 31, due to the fact that a good orchestra was not obtainable on the former date.

A record crowd is expected at the American Legion hall at 9 o'clock Thursday night, January 30, for the Carson county birthday ball in honor of President Roosevelt.

Stock Show Planned.
A representative group of business men and stockmen of the Groom community met in the lobby of Hotel 66 last Friday afternoon and made plans for the second annual beef show, J. W. Knorr, president of the Groom Fat Stock show association, presided at the meeting. It was decided to have the show on Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7, which will be just ahead of the Amarillo Fat Stock show to be held on Monday, March 9.

Banquet Plans Made.
Arrangements have been completed for the annual Clarendon chamber of commerce banquet to be held in the basement of the First Christian church Monday, January 27, at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement this week by J. T. Patman, in charge of arrangements for the affair. W. H. Patrick will be toastmaster for the evening, and H. H. Fennell, head of the Soil Conservation service in this district will be the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Fennell's subject will deal with soil conservation and erosion in this section, and he will explain what can be done to prevent the devastating erosion that has been occurring here during the past few years.

Law Library Bought.
Following talks by attorneys on the need of an adequate law library in the court house, Carson county commissioners' court has bought the library of J. Sid O'Keefe for $1,080. Included in the law library are 589 books and cases, appraised at 60 percent of cost, according to commissioners' court minutes District Judge E. J. Pickens, District Attorney W. L. McConnell, and County Attorney Frank R. Murray appeared before the commissioners' court and told of the need of a library.

Credit Directors Elected.
A. Callaghan of Panhandle, Byron Gist of Amarillo, W. E. Bennett of Amarillo, and O. H. Finch of Dalhart were elected to the board of directors of the Amarillo Production Credit association at the annual meeting of the association held in Amarillo January 13. These directors, together with the rest of the board and the secretary-treasurer will serve the borrower members of the association in the conduct of the PCA business in 1936.

Fire Damages Hotel.
Fire damaged the Servant hotel at Miami Tuesday morning about 1 o'clock and for a time threatened the entire building. Defective wiring is thought to have been the cause. The roof to the front part of the building and the ceiling of the front upper rooms were destroyed beyond repair. The annex on the north was not injured. The fire department was called out about 12:40 but difficulty in starting the engine delayed them for at least 20 minutes. The fire truck was at last pushed by hand and the boys did some quick and effective work, after arriving which saved the entire building from being destroyed. The furniture upstairs was greatly damaged by water but with very little expense can be repaired.

Enter Centennial Contest.
Carson county with seven entrants stands high in enrollment in district 1 of the Texas Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration contest sponsored by the Dallas News and the Semi-Weekly Farm News and conducted by the Texas A. & M. college. Fifty-four families in the 12 counties of the district have agreed to beautify their homes and yards to present Texas' best front for Centennial visitors. Prizes will be awarded to district and state-wide winners. Carson county entries are J. W. Ketchum and M. E. Callahan, Conway; J. V. Robinson, Lark; Mr. and Mrs. Troy Dowlen, Mr. and Mrs. B. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bob-

Music, Comedy, Girls In Film

It's Swell To Be Collegiate

'Collegiate' Sparkles With New Song Hits

Sparkling with new songs from the facile pens of Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, with grand comedy furnished mainly by Joe Penner, Jack Oakie and Ned Sparks, and with something like 150 beautiful girls for background, Paramount's latest musical, "Collegiate," opens today at La Nora theater.

What little time you won't spend laughing during this elaborately appointed film you'll find yourself listening to some of the most catchy tunes of the year or feasting your eyes on the beauties of ballet and chorus.

"Collegiate" is the first picture to give Frances Langford an important role though she has had singing parts in a couple of other films. She not only sings in her own lovely way, but she acts in this picture. Her principal number, "Will I Ever Know," should become an immediate favorite.

Jack Oakie is cast as the ne'er-do-well nephew of a rich old lady who bequeaths him a girls' seminary at the outset of the story, with the proviso that he must stay away from the brimming flagon for a year.

Lynne Overman, Oakie's handyman, and Ned Sparks, his anti-publicity agent, join the playboy in his hitch-hiking journey to the school and on the road they encounter Joe Penner, who has a nice car, plenty of money, and a bad case of amnesia.

These four barge into the school, which turns out to be a half-ribbon-and-bloomers institution, very dull and uninspired, where the either is still the leading musical instrument and the gavotte the favorite dance.

Here we find Miss Langford, wearing spectacles and generally unattractive, but singing a popular song amid all this Victorian atmosphere. Our quartet of Lotharios, after due deliberation, decide to take hold of the school and modernize it. In short, they decide to toss out everything that is old-fashioned and transform the place into a "charm school."

Miss Langford is in love with Oakie while Penner, in his campus rambles, comes across a lovely blonde, Betty Grable, a screen newcomer who possesses all the beauty that any one girl could desire.

The transformation of the seminary under Oakie's direction is remarkable. By accident and by mistake Penner determines that he really is a rich polo player and he is in a position to polo. Courses start in "fashionology" in swimming and diving, in make-up, in song-writing, and in other subjects designed to make the young women charming. Even Miss Langford gets into the spirit of things and switches from a prim little girl to a winsome attractive singer.

All this transpires with a background of catchy music and impressive dance ensembles. There can be no question that it is one of the most skillfully produced and directed musicals yet to come out of Hollywood, containing all the elements to bring success at the box office and satisfaction to the audience.

Crabbe As Cowboy
That young giant of a man, Larry "Buster" Crabbe, has developed into a screen cowboy of the first water in his new picture, "Nevada," produced by Paramount from Zane Grey's story, which opens today at the Rex theater.

Crabbe, world-famous as a swimming star before the motion pictures, snagged him, is a "root-tootin' cowboy fer sartin'" and this screen romance of old Arizona furnishes him with ample opportunity to demonstrate his adroitness with the shootin' irons as well as his ability to ride with the best of them. In short, the films have found an ideal man to revive the traditions of such old-timers as William S. Hart and Tom Mix.

Larry, in the picture, is known as "Nevada." Accompanied by "Cash Burridge," played by Sid Saylor, he rides into Arizona to become embroiled at once with a desperate band of cattle-rustlers. To make matters more difficult, Nevada falls in love with the daughter of a wealthy rancher—a role played impressively by the beautiful Kathleen Burke.

Film-followers who remember Crabbe's previous pictures, in which he demonstrated his greatness as a swimmer, will be pleased to learn that cowboys sometimes take to the water. In "Nevada" the producers have included a sequence which shows the star taking a swim in a

LOCAL THEATER PROGRAMS

The Pampa theater program for this week follows:

LA NORA THEATER
Today, Monday and Tuesday, Joe Penner and Jack Oakie in "Collegiate"; short subjects, "Scrappy Trailer," "I Wanna Play House," and newsreel.
Wednesday and Thursday, Miriam Hopkins and Noel-McCrea in "Splendor"; short subjects, "Parade of Maestros" and "Ah Evaline."
Friday and Saturday, Joan Blondel and Glenda Farrell in "Miss Pacific Fleet"; short subjects, "Hot Money" and newsreel.

Whiskers and Red Nails Tell World Of Tech Cram Time
LUBBOCK, Jan. 25.—"Oh, Tom, you haven't shaved!" will be a frequent exclamation from Texas Technological coeds this week and exam week, January 25 to 31. Receiving a custom started on the campus last year, men at the college will wear old clothes and refrain from shaving until exams are over.

Coeds are tying ribbons in their hair and painting their finger nails bright red to tell the world it is "cram" time again.

Last year a dance at the Men's Residence hall was barred to all boys who exhibited less than a week's growth of beard.

Texas abounds in caves and many of the largest are open for public inspection during Centennial year.

"fight" and inquired solicitously: "Are you all right? Are you sure you aren't hurt?"

"Now," said one of them, "nothing to it. I've already had two vertebrae broken. What burns me," and she gazed at her hand ruefully, "is I just had a manicure and now I've broken a fingernail."

western stream, and Larry is as superb as ever.

The picture has been nicely balanced and there are some magnificent shots, the panoramic fashion of the big cattle drives southward. Furthermore, liveliness is added to the story through the comic efforts of Raymond Hutton, the bombastic sheriff, and of Nevada's side-kick, Sid Saylor.

Several LePors residents attended services at the Christian church in Pampa Monday night.

Texas was the scene of the first of the series of cross country records. Cabeza de Vaca landed on Galveston Island on Nov. 6, 1528 and finally reached the Pacific ocean in eight years. That time has now been reduced to almost eight hours and the Centennial celebration in Texas this year will reflect that progress.

SHELTERBELT TREES TO BE SET OUT SOON

3,500,000 TREES TO BE PLANTED IN TEXAS

LINCOLN, Nebr., Jan. 25. (AP)—Federal shelterbelt officials announced today the first of 22,500,000 trees to be planted in six midwestern states during 1936 will be set out immediately in southwestern Oklahoma and northwestern Texas.

Relief laborers will plant the trees as part of a federal $75,000,000 attempt to control wind erosion and reduce soil moisture evaporation. Wages for the tree planters range from $45 to $27 a month for 130 hours of work.

Officials estimated the new program, which will add 1,494 miles of shelterbelt to the 125 miles planted last year, would cost $2,000,000 during 1936. They said the work would require 700,000 man days of labor.

The 1936 program includes: North Dakota—304 miles of shelterbelt, 5,000,000 trees.
South Dakota—274 miles of shelterbelt, 4,500,000 trees.
Nebraska—200 miles of shelterbelt, 3,250,000 trees.
Kansas—288 miles of shelterbelt, 3,750,000 trees.
Oklahoma—158 miles of shelterbelt, 3,000,000 trees.
Texas—200 miles of shelterbelt, 3,500,000 trees.

John D. Jones, public relations director, said planting would start immediately at Mangum, Okla.; Elk City, Okla.; and Chillicothe, Texas, and would continue until this year's program was completed.

Planting programs in other states were: Kansas, February 20; Nebraska, April 1; South Dakota, April 15; and North Dakota, April 25.

Planting crews recruited from relief rolls were assembled in Oklahoma and Texas, Jones said. He said wages would range from $45 to $47 a month in the Dakotas and Nebraska, about $36 a month in Kansas; and $27 a month in Oklahoma and Texas.

The main species of trees to be planted were Russian olive, American elm, Chinese elm, burr oak, cottonwood, hackberry, red cedar, and ponderosa pine.

A policy game similar to those enriching racketeers in the United States has been legalized in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, after promoters promised to give a percentage of the profits to the war invalids' fund. Drawings will be based on football results in England.
