

Churchill Supports Pact Against Reds

Leader Says Western Europe Must Unite For Showdown With Russia

Weather Blitz Blankets Area In Light Snow

A weather blitz, that came up on the weather man's blind side, left this area blanketed under a light snow Friday morning.

Minimum reading of 24 degrees made streets and highways icy and there were reports of a few mishaps.

The U. S. Weather bureau measured the snow at 3 of an inch, or .02 of an inch of moisture, too small to be of consequence for ranges or fields.

L. M. Murphy, Midland, escaped with minor injuries when his car skidded from U. S. 80 some 12 miles west of here at about 3 a. m. He was given emergency treatment at Cowper-Sanders hospital and released.

Police reported a minor collision at W. 5th and Ayford at 9 a. m. They also handled a call to the Texas highway patrol on a reported mishap east of Istan, about 15 miles of here. No details on this were available at noon.

The snow Friday was the second of the week and of 1948, and the sixth of the current winter season. Only a trace was recorded Monday morning as a storm moved to the east to cover the eastern part of the state with its heaviest fall in years.

Forecast for tonight was partly cloudy skies and much more biting temperatures with readings down to 15. Saturday was due to be not quite so cold.

Arctic Blast Lashes Texas

By The Associated Press

An arctic blast bringing snow in some sections and sudden temperature plunges blew into Texas last night and by mid-morning today had covered the state.

The weather bureau said the northern moved through the Panhandle faster than had been anticipated and had hit Brownsville and Houston by 9:45 a. m. The temperature was still 45 at Houston, however, and the cold won't be felt there until this afternoon or to-night.

Snow fell in as widely separated points as the Panhandle, Lufkin in East Texas, College Station, Midland and Wink in West Texas.

Light rains were falling in the Beaumont area where the cold mass of air bumped into the Gulf air.

The northern blew in with brisk winds. Light snow blanketed much of the Panhandle plains and in Amarillo 1.2 inches was measured. A light rain preceded the snow and highways were icy.

A hard one-inch crust of snow covered Odessa and surrounding territory this morning after a midnight to 6 a. m. fall and the temperature dropped to 22 degrees.

In the Midland territory two to three inches of "wet" snow covered the ground but the fall had stopped at 8 a. m. Ranchers welcomed the moisture. The lowest temperature during the night at Midland was 24 degrees.

LONDON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Winston Churchill declared today western Europe must unite quickly and demand a showdown with Moscow before the Russians develop atomic weapons, possibly in a year or so.

"I believe the best chance of preventing war is to bring matters to a head and come to a settlement with the Soviet government before it is too late," Churchill told the House of Commons.

"You may be sure the present situation cannot last. There are very grave dangers in letting everything run on and pile up until something happens and the matter passes all of a sudden out of your control."

The conservative party leader endorsed the labor government's proposal for unification of western Europe as a barrier to the spread of communism. But he appealed to his political opponents to rise above party in fostering the plan:

"In trying to make a united socialist Europe, you are on the same level as trying to make a united communist Europe."

Chances for reaching an agreement with Russia are better now than "if we waited until the Soviet government had got their atomic weapons developed," he said.

Churchill recalled that when the present Parliament convened he predicted Russia would have the atom bomb in "three or four years." Now "two years have already elapsed."

Churchill appeared fully recovered from his recent illness. He spoke 45 minutes in a firm, clear voice and his sallies kept the House alert.

In urging a common approach to Russia, Churchill said the western democracies should seek unity among themselves "at the earliest possible moment," then take the initiative in seeking a settlement on "realistic terms."

Churchill read portions of a speech he made 15 months ago in which he said everybody was worried whether there would be another war and in which he "expressed no opinion."

Since then "the situation has deteriorated—and especially in the last six months," he said.

In a move for national unity behind Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's plan for western European consolidation, Churchill announced:

"We give all our support to this policy. "I think the British people, as a whole, will recognize the foreign secretary as representing an important element in their decent way of life and also as one who possesses strong and brave qualities above personal interest or factional clatter."

Eisenhower Refuses Any Nomination

New Hampshire Entry Prompts Flat Statement

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower said flatly today: "I am not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office."

The army chief of staff's statement referred to entry of his name in the New Hampshire presidential primary March 9.

"Ike" wrote Leonard V. Finder, publisher of the Manchester Union-Leader, that for two reasons he had heretofore "refrained from making the bald statement that I would not accept nomination."

The first, Eisenhower said, was that such an expression would "smack of effrontery."

A second and deeper reason, the general added, was a "persistent doubt that I could phrase a flat refusal without appearing to violate that concept of duty to country which calls upon every good citizen to place no limitations upon his readiness to serve in any designated capacity."

Eisenhower said it is his conviction that "unless an individual feels some inner compulsion and special qualifications to enter the political arena—which I do not—a refusal to do so involves no violation of the highest standards of devotion to duty." He continued:

"It was only the possible misinterpretation of my attitude that caused me concern and so long as I could believe that mere denial of political ambition would prevent serious misunderstanding and misdirected effort, I was reluctant to say more."

"It would seem almost superfluous for me to add that as long as I live I shall hold myself in instant readiness to respond to any call by the government to military duty."

Eisenhower is scheduled to go on terminal leave from the army around February 15 and in June will become president of Columbia University.

Copyright Laws Revision Might End Disc Dispute

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—A move to revamp the nation's 39-year old copyright laws in an effort to end the dispute between James C. Petrillo's Musicians Union and the record-making industry drew GOP support in the House today.

Chairman Hartley (NJ) and two Republican colleagues on the labor committee, Reps. Kearns (Pa) and Landis (Ind), told newsmen they favor such a step.

Kearns said he will introduce a bill early next week to give royalty rights to musicians who make phonograph records.

Under the present copyright law, written in 1909 while the phonograph industry still was in its infancy, recording musicians have no legal protection for their products.

Under the Taft-Hartley labor law the union is forbidden to negotiate for a welfare fund for the general benefit of all union members. The law specifies that any such fund must be distributed only to "participating members"—those who actually do the work.

Union witnesses have testified that only about 5,000 of the federation's 225,000 enrolled members actually "participate" in record-making.

Six Holidays Agreed Upon

Big Spring retailers agreed Friday morning on six business holidays for the year, and went on record favoring cooperation in making monthly reports to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

As for holidays, only one major change was involved—the observance of May 31 as the holiday to honor the dead of all wars, and hence the abandonment of the traditional observance of Armistice Day.

This would make the holidays as follows: May 31, July 4 (Independence Day), Sept. 6 (Labor Day), Nov. 25 (Thanksgiving), Dec. 25 (Christmas), and finally Jan. 1 of 1949. The total number of business holidays remains the same.

Charles H. Wright, Austin, representing the university's bureau of business research, explained the mechanics of the reporting and how these confidential figures are used in compiling cumulative totals which reflect trends for business—retail, wholesale, construction, etc.

Lewis Price, chairman of the chamber of commerce retail committee, said that action of the group Friday would be explained in reporting forms and copies of the bureau's Texas Business Review. They will be urged to cooperate in the reporting service so more accurate information may be had on local trends.

Strike Paralyzes Most Of Bavaria

GERMANS PROTEST FOOD SHORTAGES — A local trade union chairman addresses a crowd of 30,000 German workers massed in Main Market Square, formerly Adolf Hitler square, in Nuernberg Jan. 21 during a demonstration against food shortages. Sign beside the speaker says "We demand the unity of Germany." In background is historical Church of the Lady. The Bavarian Trade Union Federation called for a 24-hour walkout of almost all workers to begin at midnight, Jan. 22. This could affect nearly 1,000,000 workers in the American zone state. Million German Workers Take Part In Action

Food Shortage Is Protested By Walk-Out

MUNICH, Germany, Jan. 23. (AP)—Most of Bavaria was paralyzed today by a general strike of up to 1,000,000 workers. They were called out by union leaders to protest food shortages.

The strike started at midnight and was to last 24 hours. Indications in many areas were that it would continue through Saturday and Sunday. It was the largest mass labor walkout in Germany since the war.

No violence was reported by early afternoon in any major cities—Munich, Nuernberg, Wuerzburg, Augsburg, Passau, Coburg or Hof. Strikers occasionally were rough with small stores which stayed open in two areas, but generally the Bavarians used the strike as a day of rest.

Some 90,000 Munich workers demonstrated here in Adolf Hitler's old parade grounds, marching with Red banners demanding "liberty." U. S. military government observers said communist elements took part.

Hundreds of angry German commuters stormed U. S. military trains trying to get to work. Rail authorities finally put on emergency trains.

Communications and industrial plants in 26 cities and scores of towns were idle. The strike call had excluded workers for the military government and military establishments, switchboard operators, police employees and workers in hospitals.

Lawrence Wilkinson, director of the U. S. military government economic division, said in a broadcast last night that $750,000,000 worth of food, will be imported at the expense of the U. S. and British governments into the two western zones this year. This marked a 50 per cent increase over last year and an expense to the United States alone of $600,000,000.

The strike, called by the Bavarian trade union and supported by the communists, began in Munich at midnight when employees of street car lines and German railroads walked off their jobs.

Communist elements in Bavaria have been quick to take advantage of the walkout, which affects all trade union members except those working for public services and the American military government.

MIDDLE-EAST QUESTION

Cut-Off Feared From Vital Oil

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Fear that the United States may be cut off from its Middle East oil supply by the current strife over Palestine was expressed today by Chairman Short (R-Mo) of a House Armed Services subcommittee.

Accordingly, Short said the government should start hunting for new oil resources in Central and South America and press work on synthetic fuels.

Without disclosing what testimony his group heard during four days of closed-door sessions with military leaders, the Missouriian told reporters he regards the United Nations decision to partition Palestine as "a grave mistake," and added:

"We on the subcommittee want to know whether the United States delegation consulted with our military authorities before this country threw its weight behind the partition proposal."

"That decision has made our position in the Middle East very insecure. There are 350,000,000 Moslems seething and bitter."

Short continued: "We are trying to prod the Army, Navy and Air Force to get the State department to work on developing new oil operations in Central and South America so we won't be completely starved for oil in the event of another conflict."

Announcing that the subcommittee will hear testimony next week on experiments with synthetic fuels, Short said:

"We cannot just sit on our hands and wait until another war comes, then try to develop synthetic oil. We have to get it now."

Heads Of GOP Near Agreement On Plan For Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Senators Vandenberg and Taft appear today to be nearing agreement on a plan to run the European recovery program outside the state department with the President umpiring foreign policy decisions.

Taft, head of the Senate Republican Policy committee, told a reporter he is favorably impressed by a series of suggestions Chairman Vandenberg has made to the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

In questioning a witness yesterday, Vandenberg asked about the possibility of having a separate Marshall Plan administrator who would sit with a committee consisting of the secretaries of state, treasury, commerce, agriculture and defense on all matters of policy.

If this group disagreed, the Michigan senator said, the President would become the "ultimate umpire." But Vandenberg said the administrator must have "a very large area of independent decision" in actual operation of the European aid program.

"That's just about what I had in mind in suggesting the administration be given cabinet rank," Taft said. "I think an arrangement of that kind could be made to work effectively."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Working With The Lord

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 25 is II Corinthians 5:20; 6:10; Hebrews 11, the Memory Verse being I Corinthians 3:9.)

"We are God's fellow-workers." "We ALL have work to do of some kind or another—our God have even if we are very little children. We do little things for mother and father, we run errands and help set the table, etc. As we grow older we do odd jobs for other people; we help teach at school; we do little things for neighbors and friends and more for our parents; and finally when we leave school we take jobs for which we earn money.

But to work for God—that is something bigger and more inspiring. Years ago this writer heard a sermon titled, "Co-Workers With God," and it was one of the most inspiring I ever heard. This lesson shows us some ways in which we can work with God.

Ministers of the gospel are surely (or should be) co-workers with God. Paul, in his II epistle to the Corinthians, tells his friends what a true minister and missionary should be. We quote his own words: "Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed." "But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses." "In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labors, in watchings, in fastings; "By purmess, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned. . . . "By honor and dishonor, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; "As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed; "As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things." "That is what working with God means. These men who traveled about to bring Christ to all the known world had nothing from our standards—no homes, no families, no money, often no place to stay. They were reviled and persecuted, but they were happy. They shared everything with one another. Through beatings and imprisonment, even death, they kept their joyful spirit and if they lived, went on with their work. Those who lost their lives, lived on in the hearts of those with whom they had been in contact and their example was revered and followed. Paul had suffered much persecution, and in the 11th chapter of II Corinthians, verses 24 to 33, he tells of his hardships.

In his epistle to the Hebrews Paul gives us a wonderful sermon on faith. He begins by saying, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." Then he cites instances of great faith in the history of the Jewish people: "It was by faith Abel offered a more acceptable sacrifice to God than Cain, and even though he died, he is known as the good son, while Cain is branded as the first murderer."

Noah's faith in God was justified when he, "moved by fear," built the ark and saved himself, his household and the beasts of the earth. Abraham's faith was so strong that at the Lord's command he offered his only child, Isaac, as a sacrifice. Isaac's blessing of his two sons, Esau and Jacob was also an act of faith. Paul writes, and then Isaac "worshiped, leaning upon the top of his staff."

"By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the children of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season."

"Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt." "This same faith took Moses through the period of hopes, despair and final triumph when Pharaoh let the people leave Egypt. This same faith carried them all, under Moses' leadership, through the Red Sea and 40 years of wandering, to the promised land. Later through faith the walls of Jericho fell down; and Paul quotes countless other instances where faith—working with God—triumphed. Truly, when we are fellow-workers with God, we too can win over obstacles and disasters innumerable, because we have faith.

Those attending were Mrs. Mabel Spears, Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. T. A. Rogers, Mrs. Harlan, Mrs. Ethel Bartlett, Mrs. W. R. Puckett, Mrs. R. H. Snyder, Mrs. George Melear, Mrs. Mary Ellis, two visitors, Mrs. R. C. Hatch and Mrs. H. C. Jenkins, and the hostess.

Refreshing Exception To The Rule

An exception to the rule is generally news, and in many instances it is refreshing news.

Such is a case in 70th district court during the past week.

A fair share of persons billed for criminal offenses come to trial in good time, but with annoying frequency there are many delays in bringing a defendant before the bar of justice. There always is the necessity of capture or arrest; the formality of charging and grand jury action; then the possibility of seeking continuance because of absence of key witnesses, etc.

But in the instance we have in mind, the accused was sentenced in court within 36 hours after the offense had been committed. In fact, it was not but a short time after officers had been notified of a theft that they had made a pick up, obtained a statement, had ushered the suspect before the grand jury, which quickly returned an indictment. Only about 14 hours had elapsed. Before another full day had passed, the defendant was before the court, entering a plea of guilty and receiving his sentence.

Of course, this is the exception, but to those accustomed to seeing the mills of justice grind—slowly—it is a diversion and a reminder that extremes can work in two directions.

New But Not Startling Proposal

William Green, veteran president of the American Federation of Labor, has advanced his own proposal for checking inflation. While much of it agrees with the President's 10-point program, Mr. Green makes one notable exception and addition.

He makes exception to the stand-by authority for wage controls asked by the President. He adds the proposal that an extra hour per day be added to the work week, extending the week from 40 to 45-hours.

The last five hours, he specifies, would be at over-time pay. Applied on an industry-wide basis to 16 million industrial workers, he thinks this would mean at least eight million man hours per day of additional production.

In espousing the cause of additional production, Mr. Green is on firm ground, for bringing the supply of goods into balance with the demand certainly is one of the best means of combatting inflation. However, his proposal is not particularly startling, for it is not radically different from what is possible or actually being practiced.

What he has in mind, aside from more goods being produced, is that the take-home pay also will be raised. But what he does not mention is that the cost of goods produced on an overtime basis increases about 50 per cent over the cost of those produced on regular time. So, unless management is shrewd enough to cut some corners, not a lot will have been accomplished except speeding the cycle of more money and higher prices.

One of the best steps that can be taken is to raise the abnormally low level of efficiency during regular hours and to first of all kick up production in this period. Then it will be logical to follow up if more man hours are needed.

Attlee Clear On Russian Motives

Britain's socialist prime minister, Clement Attlee, used just one crisp sentence Wednesday in rejecting a proposal in the House of Commons that be organize a meeting with President Truman, Premier Stalin and the heads of other Allied states in an effort to prevent further deterioration of the international situation.

Said Mr. Attlee:

"While I am anxious to take any steps which might lead to improvement of the international situation, I do not feel that a conference of this kind would be likely to advance matters at present."

Naturally one looks sympathetically on all legitimate efforts to further peace. However, this proposal by a member of Parliament strikes me (and apparently struck Mr. Attlee) as indicating a misunderstanding of the exact nature of the conflict between Russia and the western Allies. Since that lack of understanding is widespread it's well that we take a look at it.

Why wouldn't such a conference "be likely to advance matters at present"? Well, the cold fact is that Soviet Russia is in process of waging an offensive against the democracies for the spread of communism, and has not the slightest idea of abandoning it. This column has emphasized that point before, but it takes a lot of repeating. So let's pin it down again.

We are in the midst of the world revolution which the bolsheviks projected when they won their revolt in 1917 and established a Soviet regime in Russia. A couple of years later they set up the comintern, or general staff for world revolution, which was active until 1943 when Moscow announced that it was abolished. The recently created Cominform, which comprises the communist parties of nine European countries and was organized under direction of Russia, is widely believed to be in effect a revival of the Comintern. Its immediate object is announced as defeat of the Marshall Plan for rehabilitation of western Europe—a defeat which would advance the Red cause immeasurably.

Don't forget that the last world war was precipitated when Moscow signed a non-aggression pact with Hitler, and they agreed in advance to divide Poland between them. Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop testified at his war crimes trial at Nuremberg that Moscow also offered to join Hitler against the western Allies, but said that the Russian price was too high. Anyway the war started, but Hitler became suspicious of Moscow's intentions and attacked Russia.

Chaos which was exactly suited to the spread of communism. Even before the conflict ended, Russia was busy establishing communist governments in eastern European countries occupied by Soviet troops. As a matter of fact most of the Red advance was achieved by the time peace came. Since then Moscow has been consolidating that ground and laying plans for conquest of western Europe.

Realizing the importance of unity, Soviet Russia is now engaged in trying to weld eastern

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Battle Over Lynchings In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—There's been a lynchings in this country every year since 1882.

There have been 44 lynchings since 1936. There was one last year. Almost all those lynchings have been Negroes. Most lynchings were in the South.

From time to time there's been talk in Congress of passing an anti-lynch law to let the Federal government step in instead of the states, punish lynchings.

But there's a big difference between talking about such a law and passing one.

Congress now is talking of such a law. Once again it may not go beyond talking.

Since 1900 more than 200 bills have been offered in Congress to make lynching a Federal crime. Most died quietly in inattention.

A few times congressional committees have held hearings on anti-lynching bills, listening to witnesses argue for and against them.

Several times a committee has approved such a bill and sent it up to the full House or Senate for a vote. The last time was in 1938.

Even when the House passed it, southern Senators managed to kill it when it came before the Senate for a vote. The last time was in 1938.

Right now a subcommittee of the Senate judiciary committee is holding hearings on three anti-lynching bills.

If it approves one of them and sends it up to the full Senate, the southerners probably will try to kill it again.

The arguments for and against an anti-lynching law center around the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution, sections 1 and 5.

Section 1 says no state shall "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

(Lynching deprives a person of due process of law; trial by jury.)

Section 5 says Congress can pass any laws necessary to be sure that section 1 works.

The main argument against an anti-lynching law is this: it would be unconstitutional by giving the Federal government power to interfere in a state's own problems.

This argument is based on the 10th amendment of the Constitution which says that the powers not given to the United States by the Constitution belong to the states.

The three bills now being considered by the Senate subcommittee were offered by Senator Wagner of New York, a Democrat, and three Republican senators: Hawkes of New Jersey, Morse of Oregon, and Knowland of California.

Briefly their bills say this:

1. Anyone helping in a lynching could be fined up to $10,000 or jailed for 20 years.
2. Any officer who failed to protect a prisoner from a lynch mob could be fined up to $5,000 or jailed for five years.
3. The next-of-kin of a person lynched could sue the city or town where it happened for as much as $2,000.

Congressmen Are Tough To Unseat

This is a tip to anybody planning to unseat a congressman.

Several Texans have announced recently that they are going to run against incumbent congressmen. The inference is that they plan to win.

Well, it can be done; it has been done. But it takes a lot of doing. If the incumbent doesn't have all the advantages, he has most of them.

The Hatch Act notwithstanding a pretty good machine is built by the congressman with appointments to postmaster, and rural route delivery positions.

Although the law prohibits political activity by these employees congressmen do not make enemies of the men they appoint to postoffice jobs.

Another hill to buck if you want to run against the present congressman from your district is the franking privilege.

With the franking privilege, members can mail anything which they deem "official business" or which has appeared in the congressional record. Congressmen are allotted 25,000 envelopes per month for mailing documents. They can get more. Some do.

There is no law that keeps congressmen from making campaign speeches on the floor of the House or Senate. Once they have done it they can mail it to their constituents absolutely free. Their name is on the envelope and in as many places as they wish to put it in the speech.

Printing of such speeches is furnished by the government printing office at cost, which is at a price no commercial firm could touch.

Remember, if you're running against a congressman your printing is done only by commercial firms.

Remember, too, that the congressman has a pretty good office staff which spends much time working for the boss' reelection. The government doesn't pay you for campaign aides if you're trying to unseat a congressman.

And this is important: people who contribute money to political campaigns know all the above

"I THOUGHT YOU WERE GOING TO TAKE ME ALONG"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Aid Can Build A U. S Of Europe

WASHINGTON.—The distance from Trieste to Paris is about half the distance between New York and Chicago. But the trip by the fastest train—the Simplon-Orient express takes nearly twice as long. One reason is that so much time is wasted with red tape at the border of each country. During the trip you are awakened no fewer than twelve different times by customs, passport, and monetary inspectors wanting to look at your baggage, stamp your passport or check on the amount of money in your wallet.

Each time you are awakened you say to yourself: "Abraham Lincoln was certainly right."

In other words, if Lincoln hadn't made the difficult and momentous decision that the Federal union must be preserved, travelers crossing the United States today probably would be showing passports at half a dozen state lines, and we would be suffering the same kind of headaches which have almost captured Europe.

Realizing the importance of unity, Soviet Russia is now engaged in trying to weld eastern Europe and the Balkans into one homogeneous unit—the only sensible way Europe can operate. In other words, the boys from Moscow are stealing our idea. If we are smart, we won't let them get away with it.

FORCE VS. PERSUASION

The Russians of course are trying to weld Europe together by force—ruthless force. Regrettably, Abraham Lincoln had to resort to force of arms. But there were many differences.

Most important, perhaps, was the fact that Lincoln was trying to preserve something already in existence, while the Russians are trying to create something which never before existed. And it's highly doubtful that by knocking people's heads together and by shooting peasant leaders who don't co-operate, you can make European nations work together for keeps in a United States of Europe.

What real success the Russians have had—and unquestionably they have had some—has been attained more by clever propaganda and sales arguments.

All of which is by way of saying that important as the Marshall plan is, we have to go further and use it to build up first a United States of western Europe, and later a United States of all Europe.

Bernie Baruch, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations committee earlier this week, called it a political, economic and defense union. But regardless of the name, something like this must go hand-in-hand with the Marshall Plan as an integral part of it, if our money is to build up permanent peace.

HOW TO EXECUTE PLAN

Building up such a union is not going to be easy, but there are several ways of going at it. One of them is in the actual execution of the Marshall Plan.

Personally, I share the anxiety of certain Republican senators that we have good business executives in charge of the Marshall Plan; and perhaps the most efficient way to build up Europe would be to tell the engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad to go in and reconstruct the French railways, while the New York Central would get the job of re-vamping the Italian railways—and so on.

This, however, would play right into the hands of the communists. It would give them a heaven-sent opportunity to scream that American big business was trying to get its hands on the throat of European economy. In the end such a plan would cause more political harm than economic good.

On the other hand, I suggested to one or two foreign ministers while in Europe that a pool of international experts to be set up under the Marshall Plan from which any member nation might draw in order to help rebuild its industries.

For instance, the automobile factory pool would consist of experts from General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, Kaiser, Rolls-Royce in England; Fiat in Italy; Citroen and Renault in France. And when an automobile factory in Italy, for instance, wanted to rebuild, it would draw on this pool of experts.

In most cases it would call on an American. But the fact that several countries were included in the pool would smother the communist cry of imperialism. Even more important, it would get European nations into the habit of working together.

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Anti-Berlin Charley

NEW YORK — "It must be the other guy he means."

That was one quick reaction abroad to a recent account in this column by a "Berlin Charley" of how American men and women take part in Germany's black market.

A letter from a newspaper colleague in the German capital reports that "Berlin Charley's" cynical picture "raised indignant flushes as well as embarrassed blushes" over there.

The indignant flushes, he said, were on the faces of the Americans in Germany who aren't in the black market and haven't resorted to the tactics the Nazis once used themselves to plunder occupied countries.

Presumably the "embarrassed blushes" belonged to those who are playing the black market.

My colleague objected, however, that accounts like that given by "Berlin Charley" failed to mention the thousands of conscientious American military government employees in Germany who never made a dishonest dollar.

He said, "a high military government official, commenting on the latest black market investigation which is now being conducted by Judge E. Earle Rives of Greensboro, N. C., as a special representative of Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall, served:

"Of course, there's a big market here as everywhere else in Europe, and many Americans are in it. So are other nationalities. But it seems to me I've also heard about a black market in the United States—automobiles and other things and that's in the richest country in the world.

"We have 150,000 Americans in Germany—a country beset by privation and want, where millions of people, distrustful of the currency, offer fantastic prices for food and cigars. Temptation is great—greater than any known in the U. S. But there are thousands of Americans in Germany who never yielded to temptation, and it can be proved for a comparable number of people in America."

"There are thousands of people here, Hal, who work six days a week at their jobs. They are tens of thousands who, on their own pockets, are feeding German families—and we do mean tossing a chocolate bar a frailein for favors."

New 'Road' In Offing

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—You can bet that Bing, Dotty and Bob will be hitting the "road" again before 1949 is out.

Each time the tri-starred film is made, the series is reported at an end. "Road To Rio" was announced as the absolutely final one. But it is doing so well at the theaters that there is already talk of a repeat.

Crosby legends are the most persistent of all in Hollywood. Recently he was reported (1) to be entering the hospital for a check-up; (2) to be suffering from Virus X. He told me he knew nothing about either story "I feel fine," he said.

Bing is still hopeful that something can be worked out with Petrillo so that his transatlantic air show can continue. "It's tough break—just when the program was getting its stride," remarked. He's back in Hollywood for more scenes of "Candyman."

MULBRY CAUTIOUS

Mexican Papers Insist Baseball War Definitely Thing Of Past

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (AP)—Walter W. Mulbry, assistant to baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler, is combining a Mexican vacation with business and on the outcome of the latter venture hinges the possible return to organized baseball of such former major league stars as Max Lanier, Mickey Owen and Luis Olmo.

Mulbry, acting as the official representative of George Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs (the minors) stopped off in Mexico City and conferred with Alejandro Aguilar Reyes, commissioner of the outlawed Mexican league earlier this week.

The two discussed the problems between the U. S. and Mexican circuits and Mulbry described the talks as "friendly," although the Mexican league painted a rosier picture.

"Our talks probably will be the forerunner of other conferences. None of the problems are insurmountable," Mulbry said.

The Mexican league issued an even more optimistic bulletin yesterday, however, asserting, "absolutely all differences have disappeared between the U. S. Organized baseball and the Mexican league."

It stated further that the results of the initial meeting indicated "future and cordial friendly relations" and predicted that "an official treaty of mutual respect and collaboration is very possible."

The south of the border loop also reported that Aguilar had insisted that any treaty with the United States should not "prejudice" any players who had violated their Organized ball contracts by jumping to the Mexican league and that Mulbry appeared to concur.

Prejudice against barred players in the U. S. is one of the two basic problems open for discussion the Mexican league said. The other problems concern the future basis for obtaining foreign talent in Mexico.

In Minneapolis, where he was attending a booster dinner sponsored by the New York Giants for their Minneapolis American Association farm club, Chandler said, "I'd like to see baseball in both countries get together, but until I hear from Mulbry there's nothing to be said or done."

Asked if the suspensions of the banned players would be lifted if peace is made between the two circuits, Chandler declined to make a definite ruling but said he had no desire to "punish a man more than he has coming or give him too little."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

He's a bit shy of Bobbe Savage's all-time record but Eddie Houser is in a good position to shatter the scoring record he set last year.

Cap'n Eddie collected a total of 112 field goals and added 21 shots from the penalty line for an aggregate of 245 points in 23 games during the 1946-47 season.

The 15 he scored against Andrews the other evening ran Houser's total for this year to 171 points. Including the minimum of two games the Bovines will play in the Odessa tournament this weekend, the elastic-legged youngster has at least 11 games to play before he closes out his high school cage career.

Eddie averaged less than 11 points a game last year. His average currently is a shade better than 13 points, that despite the fact that he was slow in hitting his stride.

Savage accumulated 384 points in something like 25 games back in 1940. That record will probably stand for a long time to come.

BARRON PERFORMING CREDITABLY FOR HCJC JAYHAWKS

One of the most improved basketball players on the local scene is Jackie Barron, diminutive guard of the Howard County Junior college Jayhawks.

Jack wasn't a regular for the high school Steers last year and wasn't counted too strongly in Coach Harold Davis' plans at the college when the current season got underway.

However, he hustled, listened and learned by experience. If he had five or six inches more of height (he's only about 5-foot-6), he'd be one of the best players in West Texas.

Atwood involved in umpire rhubarb last season.

Bill Atwood, the newly named skipper of the Ballfinger baseball Cats, assumed the managerial reins at Sherman-Denison in the Big State league last year when Guy Sturdy was sidelined and fined on an order from the league president. Strangely enough, Sturdy got the old heave-ho more or less because of Atwood.

Bill was in a good way to get tossed out of a Sherman-Denison-Texarkana game by Umpire Frenchy Arceneaux because of a volley of insults he had fired at the umpire. Sturdy rushed in to take the play away from Atwood and was bathing Frenchy with vitriol when a policeman ankleed onto the scene, tapped Sturdy on the noggin' with a billy club.

Taking the attitude that might is right, the president ordered Guy in dry dock for a spell and the club shortly thereafter gave him his walking papers.

IS WEST PLAYING BUTTON GAME AT SAN ANGELO?

C. West, the San Angelo baseball club owner, perhaps could be identified as a master of the double talk. West informed the press earlier in the week that he had signed Billy Lacy to manage his ball team during the 1948 season. But did he?

He reportedly told intimates later that Lacy had been in contact with him but the job is still open. What is the real story?

Ken Grantham, which represented Big Spring capably in the state Golden Gloves boxing tournament without lifting a mitten (he advanced to the semi-finals through a bye and a default) is now stationed in Fort Worth with the U. S. Army Air Force.

He'll watch the state meet from the bleachers this year, from all indications. He's not campaigning at the moment.

Grantham got a shot at rugged Tommy Barron in the semi-finals after Herbert May, defending champ, elected not to crawl into the ring with Ken. He gave Barron a busy time before bowing out with an injured thumb in the second round.

Baylor Opposes Rice Saturday

Baylor risks its undefeated record and share of the Southwest conference basketball lead tomorrow night against the improving Rice Owls at Waco.

The Bears, only one of three leaders to play this week, polish off Texas Christian Monday to keep pace with the University of Texas and Arkansas.

Arkansas won a non-conference game from Arkansas State last night, 76-59, but may have lost guard Ken Kearns for the remainder of the season.

Kearns fell early in the game and split his hand, and it required 10 stitches to close the wound.

Al Williams scored 28 points to top the game's individual scorers.

Roscoe Drops Out Of Meet

ODESSA, Jan. 23.—Field in the Odessa invitational basketball tournament was sliced to 11 teams Thursday when Roscoe withdrew from competition.

The Plowboys had been dealt a first round bye. Their departure automatically qualifies the winner of the Odessa-Monahans game for semi-final play.

Roscoe reportedly pulled out because of the illness of their coach, Al Nitch.

The tournament was to get underway at 12:30 today with Westbrook meeting Pecos.

Big Spring, a pre-tournament favorite, clashes with strong Andrews at 3 p. m. Other first round games finds Kermit playing the Odessa B team and Monahans opposing the Odessa regulars.

McCamey, Fort Stockton and Seminole drew first round byes. Big Spring was to get at Fort Stockton if it succeeded in clipping Andrews.

The balance of power appears to be in the upper bracket.

McCamey is the tournament's real dark horse entry. The Badgers have won 12 games in 14 starts. Their only reversals were suffered at the hands of Waco and Burkett.

Semifinal games are booked for 9:00 and 10:15 a. m. Saturday while the championship contest goes on at 9 p. m.

First round pairings (in order of draw):

McCamey vs. Westbrook vs. Pecos; Big Spring vs. Andrews; Fort Stockton vs. Seminole vs. Kermit vs. Odessa; B. Monahans vs. Odessa; Roscoe vs. Quarterfinal games are booked for 8:00, 7:15, 8:30 and 9:45 this evening. Semifinals go on at 9:00 and 10:15 a. m. Saturday; finals at 9 p. m. Saturday.

Local Juniors Meet Coleman

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 23.—First round opponent of the Big Spring Yearlings in the San Angelo Junior basketball tournament today was to be Coleman. The two teams were to take the floor at high noon.

A total of 20 teams are competing in the show, which will extend through Saturday.

Two Abilene teams advanced into the finals last year.

Today's preliminary schedule:

Upper bracket—San Angelo vs. Barnhart, 9 a. m.; Ballinger vs. Mason, 10 a. m.; South Abilene vs. McCamey, 10 a. m.; Coleman vs. BIG SPRING, 12 noon; Midland vs. Crane, 1:30 p. m.

Lower bracket—Lake View vs. Wall, 9 a. m.; Lamesa vs. North Abilene, 10 a. m.; Sonora vs. Brady, 11 a. m.; Odessa vs. Brownwood, 2:30 p. m.; Sweetwater vs. Junction, 6:30 p. m.

Hospital attendants said Andrews was enroute to Austin when his automobile hit a soft shoulder in the road and overturned three times.

Jacobs Insists He'll Resign With Champion

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (AP)—News that Promoter Mike Jacobs plans to "retire from boxing forever," coming on the heels of the verbal eruptions at the New York Boxing Writers dinner; kept boxing circles in a dither today.

Uncle Mike, who has been in semi-retirement since he suffered a stroke in the fall of 1946, announced at Miami Beach, Fla., yesterday that he planned to retire for good after the return Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott heavy-weight title bout in June.

"Joe and I are going to bow out together," Jacobs asserted, referring to Louis' previous statement that his next title defense would be his last. Jacobs has dominated the sport since he promoted his first bout 15 years ago.

There was immediate speculation as to the future of boxing in Madison Square Garden.

Ned Irish, executive vice president of the Garden which acts as co-promoter with Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting club, said he knew nothing of Jacobs' retirement plans.

Guests at the Writers' dinner Wednesday night still were discussing District Attorney Frank Hogan's "clean up" attack on the sport and the retorts by Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the State Athletic commission, and Sol Strauss, acting promoter for Jacobs, but there was no new statements from the principals.

Hogan had declared "boxing is corrupted by criminal elements and the more we dig into the sport the more corruption we find." To which Eagan had replied "If the D. A.'s office has evidence of a crime for goodness sake, indict the criminal" and Strauss asserted boxing had become "a political football."

Local Outlook For Mushball Team Is Dim

If a West Texas softball league is organized at the called meeting of the sport's enthusiasts here Sunday afternoon, it bids fair to go without a local entry.

Such a league would demand finances because of upkeep and there is no way to charge money for tickets here because there is no closed-in park.

In fact, the only playing field of major consequence is located at the city park and even that probably would not meet specifications for a league plant.

Representatives are due here from cities all over West Texas Sunday. The session gets underway at 3 p. m. in the Settles hotel.

HAWKS PLAY PRACTICE GAME WITH ACC BEES SATURDAY

Seriously crippled due to the loss of two regulars, the Howard County Junior college basketball Jayhawks play one for fun here Saturday night, clashing with the Abilene Christian college B string at the high school gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Tomme Elliott and Earl Lusk, who started most of the Hawk games, have checked in their suits. Elliott quit school to devote his full time to business. Lusk resigned to accept a job.

In their stead, Coach Harold Davis will probably use Jackie Barron and either Hugh Cochran or G. W. Kenemer. Only lack of experience hurts that trio.

ACC's reserves recently lost an eight point decision to San Angelo Junior college, the same club that dropped a six-point decision to HCJC here earlier in the season.

Dozen Foreigners Play At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23. (AP)—Almost a dozen visitors from foreign countries were on hand here today as the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament started.

Canada, with four, had the largest delegation among the 150 golfers who took off in the three-day, 72-hole grand over the 6,578-yard layout.

But South Africa's Bobby Locke was the best known of the visitors, sharing favorites honors with Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.

Coleman Rejects Hardin Grid Bid

ABILENE, Jan. 23. (AP)—A. M. (Tonto) Coleman, head football coach at Abilene Christian college, announced he had rejected an offer to go to Hardin college as head football coach and athletic director.

The vacancy at the Wichita Falls school was created when Thurman (Tugboat) Jones accepted an assistant's job at Texas A. and M.

ADULTS URGED TO SET PATTERN

Evans Tells Scout Leaders Youth Needs Good Example

Adults must set the pattern by shaping their lives in proper channels for others to follow if youth is to develop as parents and society desires, Joe M. Evans, El Paso, told Boy Scout leaders and their guests at the Buffalo Trail Council's annual banquet Thursday night.

Evans, a retired cowboy who now devotes virtually all of his time to religious and civic work and to writing, illustrated the theme of his address by telling how his grandson imitated his actions about the home. He related how the youngster placed his small cowboy boots beside those of the grandfather when he retired at night.

Mechanics Course To Be Discussed

Latin-American veterans of World War II who desire to take training in automobile mechanics under the GI Bill of Rights are eligible to attend a meeting at the Kate Morrison school at 8 o'clock Thursday, Jan. 29, at which plans for the course will be discussed. J. M. Hardin of Lubbock, a Veterans' Administration official, will serve as principal speaker at the meeting.

Present plans call for starting the school Feb. 2. A building at 815 West Third street will be used for the course.

Man Jailed Here After Shooting

Henro Gonzales, a Brady Latin-American, was jailed here shortly after he reportedly had all but shot away the toe of one Estima Paradez following an affray near a north-side tavern late last night. Onlookers told police Gonzales fired a half a dozen shots from a .38 pistol. One of the slugs struck the woman.

Gonzales, in a statement to the sheriff's office, claimed he was being threatened by several other Latin-Americans and obtained the gun to protect himself. He started firing, he said, when they threatened to rush him.

Wren Named Buffalo Trial Council Head

Lyman Wren, Snyder, who has been associated with Boy Scout work for more than a quarter of a century, was named president of the 15-county Buffalo Trail Scout Council at the organization's annual business meeting Thursday afternoon in the Settles hotel.

Wren, who holds the Silver Beaver award, highest recognition that can be accorded a worker at Council level, succeeds Guy W. Brennehan, Midland, who has served as head of the organization for the past year.

Brennehan will serve on the 1948 officer slate as a vice-president. New vice-presidents named at the session are Ed Neinst, Sweetwater, and E. W. Samson, Messina. They succeed Ed. Duffey, Monahans, and E. F. Edwards, Odessa.

Dr. W. B. Hardy, Big Spring, and Emmett Beauchamp, Pecos, were re-elected as vice-presidents, while J. T. Baker, Midland, was retained as treasurer, and Charlie Watson was re-elected commissioner.

Nomed to serve as national council representatives were J. M. Waddell, Kermit, E. F. Edwards, Odessa, E. L. Kent, Monahans, and Wren.

"Professional staff of the council includes P. V. Thorson, Midland, Scout executive; H. D. Norris, Big Spring, Assistant Scout executive; J. K. Polk, Sweetwater, field executive; R. Palmer, Pecos, field executive; Stuart G. Painter, Odessa, field executive; Mary Thorson, Midland, secretary and bookkeeper; Gertrude Witt, Midland, Registrar.

Break In Water Main Repaired

City water department crews fought water and cold for more than nine hours downtown Thursday before they brought a break in a water main under control.

Lee Nuckels, distribution superintendent, said the eight-inch main near the E. 3rd and Johnson intersection cracked for some unexplained reason as though it had been sawed in twain. It also cracked at another point near the break.

While crews dug to get to the break, pressure dropped off and late in the evening the city asked that patrons in that area cut off hot water heaters until service was restored. Two T & P trains were caused momentary inconvenience.

Nuckels said that a section of new pipe was installed and pressure restored shortly after 1 a. m. Friday, and that the break had been fully repaired by 2 a. m. Unless contraction figured some way in the matter, Nuckels could offer no explanation for the break, which sent large volumes of water gushing down the street.

20-30 Club Bids For Convention

Cecil Ivy, alternate to the 20-30 district convention in Monahans, Jan. 16-18, outlined briefly activities of the meeting before members of the local 20-30 club Wednesday evening.

Big Spring entered its bid for the district winter convention, Ivy said, extending an invitation to all clubs in attendance to be present for the local charter night Feb. 7 at Hotel Settles. Lubbock won the summer convention. During the Monahans session, district club representatives agreed to finance a trophy for the 20-30 club initiating the most members over a certain period of time.

In regular business, Ivy was elected chairman of a finance committee to study and work out finances in connection with the charter night banquet and dance. Bill Beauchamp was appointed chairman of program card details.

Election of the 20-30 board of directors from which officers will be named is scheduled for Jan. 28, members were reminded. Nominations to the positions will be restricted to members in good standing at the time of nomination, and vote will be subject to the same limitation.

Guests at Wednesday night's session included Bill Raymond, lieutenant governor of this district, and Steve Weightman, both of Lubbock.
