Russians Say Tests 'Bring World Closer To Abyss Of Nuclear War'

No Candidates So Far For Commission Post

With less than 36 hours remaining before the filing deadline, there were no potential candidates recorded at City Hall today for the office of City Commissioner in Ward 2.

An election has been set for May 29 to fill a vacancy left by the recent resignation of Newt Secrest, who was elected commissioner in Ward 2 in April of 1961.

The deadline for filing for the post will fall at midnight Saturday. Candidates are required to file with the City Secretary in City Hall.

Since City Hall is closed on Saturdays, City Secretary Ed Vicars said today anyone wishing to file after 5 p.m. Friday will have to "hunt him up."

Vicars said he would not be in the office on Saturday.

City Atty. Bob Gordon explained today that in the event no official candidates are filed by the Saturday midnight deadline, the election would be held as scheduled on Tuesday, May 29.

However, he said it would be purely a "write-in" election and no names of candidates would appear on the ballot.

According to the City Charter, Commissioner Secrest would still hold the office until a successor is elected to fill the vacancy.

Actually, Secrest would not be required to attend commission meetings, but could be excused by other commissioners if he so requested.

More charges were expected. A congressional investigation is being pushed as an outgrowth of the toppled Estes agriculture empire, once estimated to be worth gross of $150 million.

Gen. Will Wilson plans to present evidence to a grand jury a few days seeking an indictment on charges Estes violated antitrust laws.

The indictments handed down Wednesday night technically accuse Estes of felony theft of more than $50 from six Reeves County farmers. One farmer, Allen C. Potts, was listed in three of the indictments against Estes.

Dist. Judge J. H. Starley set bond at $22,500, noting that Estes already under $100,000 bond on a federal indictment.

John Dennison, an attorney for Estes, said he would post the bond today so that Estes would not have to be arrested. Dist. Atty. R. B. McGowan Jr. of Monahans said he expects trial on the charges to be held no later than early this fall.

Approximately 1,000 notices will be mailed tomorrow from the city tax office in City Hall drawing attention to public hearings on tax valuations to be held before the Board of Equalization May 14 and 15.

Tax Collector Aubrey Jones said today the notices are going to taxpayers who have had an increase in real or personal property valuations.

Anyone having a desire to show cause why the new tax valuation figure should not stand is invited to appear before the board Tuesday, May 14, and Wednesday, May 15. The board will deal with personal property valuations.

Billie Sol Is Indicted On State Charges

PECOS, Tex. (UPI)—Farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes was under indictment today on state charges stealing $828,577 from six West Texas farmers by selling them phantom fertilizer tanks.

The eight indictments handed down Wednesday night by the Reeves County grand jury was the latest action against the 37-year-old boy wonder financier who already has been indicted by federal grand jury on charges of fraud.

The tax collector stated that property owners also will have an opportunity to meet with tax officials in the collector's office May 1 and 2 to discuss real estate valuations and May 3 and 4 to discuss personal property valuations.

"This advance conference," Jones said, "will give taxpayers chance to discuss and eliminate possible errors in advance of an equalization board hearing."

Jones said tax officials will be happy to discuss any new appraisal figures and answer questions pertaining to the new valuations.

"In many instances," Jones said, "we will be able to save money for the taxpayer through explanation of the appraisals in advance of the equalization board hearing."

The Board of Equalization public hearings will be held on May 14 and 15 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon each day in the City Commission room at City Hall.

U.S. Pushes Ahead With Nuclear Testing In Pacific

BAN BOMBERS ROUTED — Members of the Japan University Student Association (Zengakuren) staged a "ban-bomb" demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo, but were met and driven off by waiting police riot squads. About 500 police, armed with pistols and clubs, anticipated the demonstration and surrounded the Embassy. In a series of "football-like" rushes, they broke up the demonstration. There were no serious injuries reported. (NEA Telephoto)

Ranger-4 Slams Into Moon

Attempt Is Slated Today To Fire First International Satellite Into Earth Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States, fresh from two space shot successes, today scheduled an attempt to fire the world's first international satellite into orbit around earth.

The 132-pound moonlet, dubbed "UK-1," was tucked in the bulbous nose of a three-stage Delta rocket on a launching pad here. U.S. and British scientists hoped to put the satellite into an orbit 200 to 600 miles above the earth.

America scored an historic space triumph today when its Ranger-4 spacecraft boomeranged into the far side of the moon.

Rough weather built up today in West Texas and threatened tornadoes, large hail, severe thunderstorms and damaging winds.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued two alerts. One forecast tornadoes, hail and wind storms in a triangular portion of the northern Panhandle.

marking the free world's first hit on the lunar surface.

"It definitely hit the moon," claimed Clifford J. Cummings, lunar project director of Jet Propulsion Laboratory as jubilant scientists exchanged pats on the back at this desert tracking station.

JPL Director William H. Pickering exulted, "Naturally, we are very pleased... It is a great delight."

The wayward Ranger plunged to destruction on the moon's hidden side at 7:49 a.m. EST to achieve what scientists hailed as a "tremendous guidance success" toward future space exploration by man.

"It is the first step toward man eventually walking on the moon," exclaimed Cummings.

The space feat was the first hit on the lunar surface.

The commission said the series would produce much less radioactive fallout than the 1961-Soviet series which included a 58-megaton blast, the largest explosion man ever made, and triggered the U.S. atmospheric tests.

The United States is expected to explode nothing larger than 10 megatons in the two to three dozen tests planned. Weapons-to-be tested include intercontinental and submarine-launched ballistic missiles with nuclear warheads.

Legal experts said conclusions released by the Coast Guard Wednesday apparently would have little weight in the court. The voluminous Coast Guard report came after five months of investigation.

In the final judgment, the report said, skipper Julian A. Harvey murdered his wife and three other passengers, then scuttled the Bluebelle in the Bahama Islands last Nov. 12.

He was rescued the next day, only to commit suicide four days later when another survivor was found on a tiny life raft in the ocean — 11-year-old Terry Jo Duperrault.

The girl's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Duperrault of Green Bay, Wis., Harvey's wife, Mary Dene, and 14-year-old Brian Duperrault were slain by Harvey and went down with the Bluebelle, the Coast Guard concluded.

Terry Jo's sister, Renee, 7, drowned, as Harvey presumed Terry Jo would. Renee's body floated to the surface and was found with Harvey in the dinghy he used to save himself.

Electrical engineering is the career Webb has chosen and he will enter Texas Tech, Lubbock, this fall, majoring in electronics.

Webb has been a member of the school football and track teams for the past four years, member of the National Honor Society and in 1961 was awarded first place in the West Texas State College American History Contest.

The Pampa boys are among over 1,000 students from various cities throughout the United States to receive similar awards. The scholarships awarded the students will range from $400 to $6,000 for the four years of college, according to the scholar's finances, scholarship officials said.

Our Statement Says We Won't Be 'Duped' Again

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International
GENEVA (UPI) — Russia charged today that resumption of American atomic tests "is bringing the world nearer to the abyss of nuclear war."

The United States said it had resumed testing "with the utmost regret and deepest reluctance" but had no other choice because of Russian resistance to a test ban treaty with adequate international inspection controls.

U. S. delegate Arthur H. Dean circulated a statement among the delegations to the 17-nation general disarmament conference before this morning's plenary session.

In it, he said the United States had acted because it refuses to be duped or victimized again by the Soviet Union which broke the previous voluntary moratorium with its own test series last Sept. 1.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin came back to accuse the United States of "challenging the whole world" with its explosion of a nuclear device in the air over the Pacific. He said Russia would seek unspecified sanctions against the United States for its action.

Zorin said the United States "is guided solely by a policy dictated by a military psychosis."

"The United States has thrown away its mask," the Russian said. "The United States is unleashing a fresh arms race, and is bringing the world nearer to the abyss of nuclear war."

He said the Soviet Union and the eight so-called non-aligned participants in the conference had made great efforts to solve the nuclear problem, but the U. S. tests "are the true answer of the Western powers and have shown their hypocrisy."

Two Pampa High School seniors are among 54 students from schools throughout the state who have been awarded 4-year merit scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

James L. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Webb, 428 N. Wells, and William D. Eads, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eads, 1111 Coffee, are the recipients of the award.

National merit scholarships are sponsored by business corporations and similar sources which provide funds for the awards.

Eads will major in electrical engineering at Rice University and plans a career as an electronic engineer. He was awarded the scholarship by the Columbian Carbon Merit Scholarship.

Young Eads ranks in the top five of his graduating class, is active in school council work, member of the National Honor Society and vice president of the high school Red Cross club.

Webb also ranked in the top five of his graduating class, received an honorary merit scholarship.

Plane Dropped Bomb In Yesterday's Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States pushed ahead today with atmospheric nuclear tests in the Pacific and sought to counteract criticism sparked by the first blast.

The initial test was conducted Wednesday when a Task Force 8 airplane flying over the Pacific dropped a medium-yield bomb that exploded in the air near Christmas Island.

Preparations were going ahead for additional and larger tests.

Wednesday's explosion, the first nuclear blast this country has touched off in the air since 1958, was believed to have unleashed the force of at least 100,000 tons of TNT.

Russia threatened to walk out of the Geneva disarmament talks, India protested and Japanese students had to be chased away by riot police when they marched on the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo. Most of Western Europe stood by the United States.

The State Department announced that the "decision to test was taken reluctantly and with awareness of our responsibility as the most powerful defender of the free world and in the absence of an effective treaty to halt such tests."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to have further comment at his news conference today. He said in a speech Wednesday night that the United States has accepted "as a matter of necessity the maintenance of a military force of such undeniable power that no rational decision could be made to attack the free world."

"It is a burden we gladly bear and would as gladly lay aside as soon as possible," he said.

The Atomic Energy Commission, in a brief announcement, said the first detonation of "operation Dominic" was set off at 10:45 a.m. EST Wednesday.

The AEC did not say whether it was necessary to evacuate from Christmas Island the 400 native copra pickers who, along with lizards, sand crabs and large jumping mice, are its only inhabitants.

The commission said the series would produce much less radioactive fallout than the 1961-Soviet series which included a 58-megaton blast, the largest explosion man ever made, and triggered the U.S. atmospheric tests.

The United States is expected to explode nothing larger than 10 megatons in the two to three dozen tests planned. Weapons-to-be tested include intercontinental and submarine-launched ballistic missiles with nuclear warheads.

2 Men And Woman Are Found Dead

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two men and a woman were found shot to death early this morning in a late model sports car which rammed a home in suburban Elmwood Park.

The driver of the auto was identified as Phillip Scavo, 37, a baker and truck driver with a 21-year police record. Police said the gray 1961 Thunderbird with red leather upholstery was registered to him.

The other man was tentatively identified as Ronald Saco. He was identified by tracing a miniature license plate replica on his key ring.

The relationship between him and the driver, if any, had not been determined although officers said Phillip Scavo was known to have a brother.

The woman was tentatively identified from a driver's license as Mary Ann Mortarano.

All three had been shot at close range with 38 caliber revolvers, police said. Elmwood Park police first reported the three had been machinegunned.

Neighbors reported hearing shots and noises "like kids dragging" before the auto spun around and crashed rear first into the home of Rudolph Kornfeld.

Phillip Scavo was shot once in the left side of the neck, police found. The other man was shot once in the right shoulder and the left side of his face was badly lacerated, either in the accident or from a beating, police said.

County Republicans Could Deal Demos Costly Misery In The General Election

By FLETCHER ROBERTSON
Daily News Special Correspondent
Republicans will have a chance to play a little dirty pool and give the Democrats a bad (and costly) time in the November general election if they choose to take advantage of the letter of the law.

Here's the deal and how it could be worked:

The Texas Election Code says that a party candidate receiving a majority vote in a primary or runoff election shall be certified and his name placed on the general election ballot.

They run from $1 to more than $1,000.

It would be a different story for a Republican candidate who gets on the ballot as the party's nominee via a write-in vote. An entirely different story. He would get a free ride up to the time of the general election campaign. Of course, he would have to break loose and spring for the cost of his race in the November election if he intends to make a showing. Still his total bills would probably be much less than his Democratic opponent's.

It is entirely within the realm of possibility that the GOP could get a solid citizen — somebody who would be a formidable opponent — on the ballot as the party nominee on a write-in vote.

In Gray County, some 30 offices will be filled in the general election. The Democrats, of course, are in there pitchin' for all of them, but the GOP has fielded candidates for only 15 of them.

It probably sounds a little far out, but the Republicans could get a write-in candidate on the ballot for a position where the Democratic opposition appears a little weak and maybe take the race. It could happen. Anyhow the field is wide open for the GOP to give it a whirl.

And, that's what may be done in Gray County.

Certainly there is no objection to it from Clayton Husted, Gray County Republican Executive Committee chairman.

Husted had this to say about it today:

"Anyone voting in the Republican primary who has a good man in mind for any particular office is invited to seek write-in support for him. If he can draw enough votes to show strength, the party will certify him and help to elect him in the general election in November."

Legal experts said conclusions released by the Coast Guard Wednesday apparently would have little weight in the court. The voluminous Coast Guard report came after five months of investigation.

In the final judgment, the report said, skipper Julian A. Harvey murdered his wife and three other passengers, then scuttled the Bluebelle in the Bahama Islands last Nov. 12.

He was rescued the next day, only to commit suicide four days later when another survivor was found on a tiny life raft in the ocean — 11-year-old Terry Jo Duperrault.

Cooperation Is Asked In Battle Against Storms

Coordination of law enforcement agencies throughout Gray county was urged yesterday by Tom Gibson, Amarillo weatherman, to speed up alerts in case of an approaching tornado anywhere in the county.

Gibson and Larry Main, Amarillo meteorologist, explained to some two dozen city, county and state officers at a meeting in the Courthouse yesterday the proper procedures to follow in event a tornado is detected.

Gibson's lecture was illustrated by slides showing various cloud formations and an explanation of tornado habits.

All officers in Gray County were urged to be on the watch for storm clouds and give speedy notification of their course of travel.

Gibson also announced that certain improvements are being made in the Amarillo Weather Bureau offices to accelerate the distribution of advance information to various communities in the Panhandle area.

Yesterday's meeting was held under sponsorship of Bill Leonard, Gray County Civil Defense Director, who today also asked for public cooperation in the spotting of storm clouds by notifying state, city or county police.

Noted Humorist Is K-F Club Speaker

Edmund H. Harding, who has been called the nation's number one humorist for almost a decade, proved it to his audience here Tuesday night.

Harding spoke before the meeting of the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club in Pampa High School Auditorium.

The humorist kept his audience "in stitches" with his fast-breaking joke - telling and story weaving.

The fun-filled evening left local club members agreeing that Harding's "reputation of national dimensions is second only to that of the immortal Will Rogers."

The "Grand Old Fellow of the Platform" says, "I don't know how many more years I can keep going, but there's nothing gives me more pleasure than to help others have some, too."

Rogers Protests Use Of His Bill In The Senate

Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa Democrat, fired off a telegram yesterday to Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, Montana, and Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, Illinois, complaining of their tactics in using his bill as a device to bring the controversial literacy test measure to the Senate floor for consideration.

Rogers said the Senate leaders were using a private bill he sponsored to help a Memphis farmer to promote passage of civil rights legislation.

Rogers, an arch foe of civil rights legislation, made it clear yesterday that he was not happy with the Senate for taking advantage of a private citizen and of himself in pushing legislation which he does not espouse.

The Texas farmer, James M. Norman, is seeking relief from the government for crop insurance claims he was paid and which the government subsequently ruled he should not have been paid.

Rogers stated his private bill in Norman's behalf is being used as a channel for a civil rights bill without regard for the rights of the farmer.

In the wire Rogers sent to Mansfield he outlined the history of the Norman case, stating that under the circumstances it would occur to him that prompt action on the bill affording Norman relief would be more in keeping with the full protection of the individual citizen than for the measure to be used as a conduit for a highly-controversial measure.

At issue in the Senate is an administration-backed civil rights bill making a sixth grade education proof of literacy for any federal election.

"The Senate went ahead yesterday and used the Norman bill to gain consideration of the literacy test legislation," Rogers said.

Russians Announce Satellite Launched

MOSCOW (UPI)—Moscow Radio said today Russia has launched a new satellite named Cosmos IV. It said further details would follow.

"This was the fourth Soviet satellite in its current series of scientific exploration of space around the earth."

Satellite

But they conceded it was a "lucky accident" on the part of the Ranger which failed in its prime mission of taking lunar pictures and landing a 300-pound space capsule on the face of the moon.

The Ranger crashed in unknown lunar terrain after missing the illuminated half of the moon by some 900 miles and then looping back into the far side at 6,000 miles an hour under gravitation pull.

It made the 238,857-mile journey to the moon in 63 hours, 59 minutes, 43 seconds. Because the spacecraft's electronic brain failed early in its voyage, JPL's Goldstone tracking station, secluded in the desert, was forced to follow its path with the tiny, weak 50-milliwatt radio in the space capsule. The tracking station did the job with its huge antenna, weighing 270,000 pounds and with 85-foot reflecting dishes.

Even as the countdown began for the nation's third major space launching of the week, America's new Ranger-4 probe was on the last lap of a 230,000-mile flight to the moon.

Scientists said the 730-pound space craft was on a collision course with the moon, and was expected to boomerang into the hidden "far side" lunar surface about 7:51 a.m. EST today.

Ranger-4, launched aboard a 10-story rocket Monday, was the first of three space shots this week.

The second was Wednesday's spectacular successful flight of the Saturn super rocket, believed to be the largest space booster ever built.

The Saturn was fired on a 15-minute "up and down" flight to a peak altitude of about 65 miles. The rocket was deliberately blown up, releasing 95 tons of water which formed a huge cloud of ice crystals at the edge of space.

New 4-H Project Started Tuesday

A completely new 4-H project was launched Tuesday night at the first meeting of the 4-H Automotive group held under the direction of Phil Ragland.

The 4-H Automotive program is designed to help older youth achieve and enjoy the fullest opportunities of safe and efficient automobile drivers.

In the next few months the nine boys enrolled in the auto program will be studying subjects such as: highway safety, what makes a car run, how the fuel system works and many other topics of interest.

This is one of the new 4-H programs devised to serve the increasing number of city youngsters enrolling in 4-H Club work.

Cecil Regier, assistant County Agent, stated there is room for three more boys in the class and if there is enough demand there will be additional classes started.

Right Time Is Now For Hawaiian Luau

have just returned from

Hawaii — islands of orchids, sugar, pineapple and pleasant people. They like to give parties which they call luaus.

Here's a more or less restrained version of one we were invited to on the beautiful island of Kauai.

LUAU MENU

- Batter Fried Shrimp
- Barbecued Spareribs
- Roast Fresh Loin of Pork
- Roast or Candied Sweet Potatoes
- Lemon Flavored Spinach
- Gingered Applesauce
- Luau Cake
- Tea or Coffee
- LUAU CAKE

- 1 package de luxe yellow supreme cake mix
- 1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) pineapple slices
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon rum extract
- 1 lime, thinly sliced for garnish (optional)

Prepare and bake cake according to directions for two 8-inch layers. Cool in pans 10 to 15 minutes. Turn out on rack for thorough cooling. Drain syrup from pineapple into a saucepan. Cut pineapple slices into thirds and set aside. Stir sugar and cornstarch into syrup in sauce pan and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until filling is thickened and clear. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice and rum extract. Cool.

Arrange one cake layer on serving dish and spread with three-quarters of the filling. Cover with half the pineapple. Top with other cake layer. Spread lightly with remaining filling and decorate with remaining pineapple. Refrigerate cake to firm filling if necessary. Top pineapple slices with lime sections and garnish with the fronds of a fresh pineapple.

Mint Chiffon Pie Froth Refreshing Dessert For Springtime Of The Year

You won't want to pass mints with coffee when you serve this pie.

For mints are an essential ingredient of the chiffon beauty as frothy and refreshing a dessert as you could choose for the springtime of the year.

Like all true chiffon pies, the filling is basically a custard with gelatin added to help "set" it. Egg whites and whipped cream are folded in to insure fluffiness.

But the real surprise lies in the discovery that a small package of After Dinner Mints provides the cooling, satisfying flavor captured in the filling. It's easy to do, too. The mints are simply dissolved in the hot milk used in making the custard. A little green food coloring intensifies the attractive color of the pie. And tufts of whipped cream and more mints garnish it.

Here's the way to make it:

- MINT CHIFFON PIE (Six-Seven Slices)
- 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cups After Dinner Mints (4-ounce package)
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Few drops green food coloring

- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 cup whipping cream, whipped
 - 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup of the milk for 5 minutes. Scald remaining milk. Add mints; stir until dissolved. Gradually beat a fourth of the milk mixture into beaten egg yolks. Stir into remaining milk mixture. Cook over moderate heat until slightly thickened. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in salt, vanilla and food coloring. Chill until partially thickened. Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar. Continue beating until whites will hold a soft peak. Gradually add sugar; continue beating until stiff and glossy. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into pie shell, spreading evenly. Chill until set. Before serving, decorate with sweetened whipped cream and mints.

Of course, it's fun to cut through a crisp crust and dip out the first steaming spoonful of chicken pie. But it's even more satisfactory to cut your biscuit topping in wedges, placing it on top of the casserole of chicken and baking it until the biscuit topping is golden brown. And if you put a little chopped parsley or water-cress in the flour mixture, you will add color and flavor to the biscuit wedges. One secret of a successful chicken pie is to cut the ingredients into generous-size pieces. The pie will be more attractive and appetizing. Hash-size ingredients are very unattractive. With the pie, you will want a tossed vegetable salad or plenty of relishes — small sweet gherkins, stuffed olives, raw carrot sticks and crisp radish roses would be attractive. For dessert, you might have chilled, canned apple sauce or the new spice or minted pineapple chunks. Just put the can in the freezer for an hour or so and serve the chunks frosty and semi-frozen.

- CHICKEN PIE WITH WATER-CRESS BISCUIT TOPPING
 - 1/4 cup chicken fat
 - 1/2 cup finely diced celery
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 1 can (3 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms
 - 2-3 cup chicken broth
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1-16 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
 - 2 cups coarsely diced cooked chicken
 - 1 cup diced cooked carrots
 - 8 small cooked onions
 - 1 bunch watercress
 - 2 cups biscuit mix
 - 2-3 cup milk, about
- Melt fat in small saucepan. Add celery and cook over low heat about 3 minutes. Blend in flour. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth. Combine chicken broth, mushroom broth and the 1 cup milk. Stir into fat-flour mixture and add salt, pepper and kitchen bouquet. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Combine sauce with chicken, carrots, onions and mushrooms. Bring to a boil and place in shallow round baking dish, about 8 inches in diameter. Meanwhile, cut off watercress stems and reserve for use in soups. Coarsely cut the watercress leaves and combine with biscuit mix. Lightly stir in the 2-3 cup milk. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 20 times. Roll into 7-inch circle. Cut dough into 6 wedge-shaped pieces. Arrange on top of mixture in baking dish. Bake in preheated 425 degree oven until biscuit wedges are browned and done, about 15 to 20 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

 - 1 teaspoon instant minced onion
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 3 tablespoons lard or drippings

Raw Eggs Are Not More Nutritious

Q—Isn't it true that eggs are more nutritious eaten raw?

A—No. The method you use to cook eggs only slightly affects their total utilization. So cook and enjoy them. Most people don't like raw eggs. Do you?

Q—Isn't it dangerous to eat when you are taking sulfa drugs?

A—There is no factual basis for this belief. Your doctor may order a modified diet because of illness, but not because he has ordered a sulfa drug.

Gay Linens Spruce Up Kitchen

Saucy red apple-patterned kitchen terry cloth ensemble adds an inexpensive, cheerful touch to a blue-and-white color scheme. Ensemble includes toaster cover.

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

New kitchen linens do liven up the workaday world of pot-watching and dish-washing. I am no spendthrift in the kitchen towel department but some shocking events woke me up to the sad state of affairs in our kitchen. When a frayed potholder was scorched, I realized in surprise that the little girl who gave it to me had grown up, graduated, and was on her second job. Perhaps we needed a new pot holder.

Almost immediately afterward, the kitchen towel supply was seriously depleted by an event of great note. To the absolute amazement, excitement and surprise of all, an elderly pinto mare we bought last May gave birth to a fine colt in the snow.

In the process of rescuing and reviving the colt in the basement, the veterinary asked for "clean rags" and Merri handed over the kitchen towels. As she pointed out, which is more important, a colt or a kitchen towel?

Miss Cascaus Feted At Surprise Party

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Barbara Cascaus was surprised with a birthday party on the occasion of her 17th birthday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haiduk. The guests met after school and went in a group to the Haiduk home. Birthday cake and punch were served to Linda Payne, Jane Bates, Ann Harlan, Patsy Silkwood, Elma Milton, Donna Moore, Peggy Horner, and Rosalie McAllister.

Because of the hard usage, kitchen linens — dish cloths, towels and pot holders — need occasional bleaching to remove stubborn stains. When possible, hang them outdoors for drying so that sun and air can fluff them up.

Some of the terry towel designs are so arranged that the towel can be sewed into simple curtains, placemats or table runners.

Because I like terry towels for general duty and soft linen for the cut glass and old china, I was pleased to find both in co-ordinated colors though different designs. If you park appliances, such as a toaster, on open counters the concealing cover will protect from dust and scratches. If your children, like mine, insist on using the kitchen sink for washing up, try to keep one set of towels just for drying hands and a separate set for drying dishes.

Dear Abby... Smoking Habit Goes Up In One Big Puff!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and chewed up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in 4 years.

OLLIE'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: One day, twelve years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit. This is what I did. The moment I walked into a room, I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING." After that I couldn't very well bum a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk. It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 92 and feel fine. W. H. E. (Ontario)

DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination) got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know I haven't smoked, or even had the desire to, since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

AN ORDINARY GUY

DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had a lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him constantly and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint, drop instead.

GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of willpower, but if I could do it (I was a 4-pack-a-day smoker for 32 years) anybody can.

WILLPOWER WILL

DEAR ABBY: A psychologist once told me that in order to break a habit, substitute another one. So instead of reaching for a cigarette, reach for a piece of gum, a carrot stick or a piece of licorice. It really works. When you finally get your sense of taste and smell back again, you will never go back to smoking. It happened to me after 30 years.

SUBSTITUTOR

DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started to smoke them at the age of

Skellytown PTA

Selects Project

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Skellytown Parent - Teachers Association met recently in the school cafeteria with Mrs. Foresett Lilley, president, directing the meeting. During the business session, Johnny Willson, treasurer, reported $113 was made by the PTA sponsored basketball game. Mrs. Lilley has selected as her project buying educational film strips for the grade school. There will be one hundred dollars allowed for the purchase of the films. A committee was appointed composed of Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. H. L. Guerin and John Evans to select and order the films.

Mrs. J. Supten of Phillips reviewed the book "To Kill a Mockingbird." Cartoons were shown to the children in the school library by Ross Coleman.

TOYS IN THE TUB
Youngsters will get more enjoyment from bathtubs if you provide playthings for their bath. Any little boy would like to pretend he's a skipper and will love a captain's cap and a fleet of plastic "yachts" to sail over the soapy suds waves.

Common Market May Help In Fight Against The Communists

EDITOR'S NOTE: The European Common Market, with six western European nations participating, has had impressive success since its formation three years ago. A special reporting team of UPI staff correspondents in the countries involved predicts in the following dispatch, the second of three, that the combine may grow to a point that would thwart Communist ambitions for expansion.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The European Common Market, already a recognized world force, ultimately may increase its membership to include 300 million people. As such it would speak with a voice equal to either the United States or the Soviet Union.

Joined with the United States, it would present an unconquerable wall to Communist ambitions for expansion, and the two then could pour vast new sums into aid for under-developed nations which also are a Soviet target.

Largely because of this new European economic union, which includes lowering tariff barriers, the United States is reviewing seriously its own foreign trade structure, particularly its tariffs.

The Common Market nations are West Germany, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Great Britain, impressed by the economic miracle occurring within the six and fearful of being left behind, has applied for full membership even if means the loss of some jealously guarded British sovereignty.

Greece became an associate member last year and has received promises of aid amounting to $125 million in the next five years.

Norway, Denmark and Ireland are expected to ask full membership, and associate memberships may be sought by Sweden, Austria, Switzerland and Spain.

Because they are beginning to speak as an economic whole, the six already have destroyed the Soviet Union's hopes of undermining each separately.

Early this year, with notable achievements behind them, the six passed an important landmark.

At 5:29 a.m. on Sunday, Jan. 14, after negotiations which left the participants exhausted and nearly ill, the Common Market went into its second stage.

From now on, no member of the six would be able to veto a majority decision.

The agreement settled also the touchy question of agriculture, the rock upon which the unity of the Common Market might have broken.

Agricultural agreements covered grains, pork, eggs, poultry, fruit and vegetables and wines.

Another agreement set up a timetable for equal pay for equal work by men and women. All discrimination is to be ended by Dec. 31, 1964.

Phase No. 2 of the Common Market also looks forward to free movement of capital and a common transport policy, as well as a continuing lowering of internal tariffs.

Occasionally, at least temporary hardship results.

In mid-March silent miners in Belgium's coal-mining belt watched as King Baudouin embraced the aged mayor of the village of Mauraige.

Among the onlookers was Desire' Dubois who at the age of 40 was told that the pit where he had worked all his adult life was to be closed as uneconomic and that he would have to find another job.

For Desire', with a wife and four children, the picture appeared worse than bleak.

With others, he had participated in bitter protest demonstrations. Baudouin came to Mauraige to witness new skills being taught to the miners under common funds made available through the six-nation community. These funds and the new skill that Desire' Dubois now is learning as a paver are making the future less bleak.

He now notes that he sees his children at every meal. And his wife sees him off to work in the morning without the fear that he will not return. Within the Common Market, former enemies have linked hands to expand cooperation and sales organizations.

One of these is Jean Cahan-Salvador, president of the French "Nord-Aviation" aircraft company.

Nord-Aviation has joined with German and Italian firms to build a new military transport plane. German workers are now building "Noratlas" transport planes under license.

"Aircraft construction essentially is an international concern," said the slow-speaking Cahan-Salvador. "This is especially so in Europe where each of the countries is too small to provide a large enough market."

The chain-smoking Cahan-Salvador has only one wryly humorous complaint. Dealing with foreigners, he believes, consumes time and money.

"This," he says, "is especially true when we deal with Anglo-Saxons. They use a different system than the metric one and have a different way of thinking and reasoning."

The confidence with which Cahan-Salvador speaks is echoed by other businessmen.

"The era of small nations is over," says Henri Pigozzi, director general of Simca, one of France's largest auto makers. "We've got to think about what will sell in Germany and Italy—not just France."

"The Common Market is comparable to the opening of the American West," says a banker in Paris.

An Italian official declared: "The economic tying-together of Europe already has made it possible for Italy to plan realistically for the absorption of its unemployed."

Friday: The forces that brought the Common Market in being.

Television Review

By RICK DU BROW
 Med Press International
LYWOOD (UPI) — The irascible Bob Hope scored two first Wednesday night on TV. He managed to come in a nonpartisan joke involving the Birch Society, and he published Frank Sinatra about a personal matter. In his spare time, he took out Kennedy, Mrs. Kennedy and U.S. Steel.

In his opening monologue, Hope noted that the top Oscar awards went to an Italian, Sophia Loren, and a Swiss, Maximilian Schell, and added:
 "Where's the Birch Society when we really need 'em?"
 Introducing Sinatra, Hope said the singer "comes to us from an engagement with practically everybody." A little later, in a fast exchange with Sinatra, he added: "Don't snarl at me. We're not engaged, you know."
 Sinatra, who has developed into a masterful showman, teamed with Hope for the song-and-comedy highlights of the hour, which also featured former sarong girl Dorothy Lamour, who proved again she can't sing, as if it really ever mattered.
 Hope's monologue had its usual ups and downs because of his shotgun rapid-fire technique. But he did manage to comment that when President Kennedy tossed out the first baseball of the season, he threw it at the president of U.S. Steel; and that Kennedy was so angry, he had the Atlantic Fleet anchor off Pittsburgh.

Also on hand was Janis Paige, who did an indifferent dance number but shared a good sketch with Hope about a television show based on "Romeo and Juliet." It began with an announcer saying, "As you remember, when we last saw Romeo and Juliet they had just finished taking the poison."
 Sinatra, however, was the difference. In his exchange with Hope, he said Dean Martin would have won an Oscar for a recent Western but his horse got stoned. Hope, commenting on Sinatra's present round-the-world trip for underprivileged children, asked, "Are you gonna pick up Jackie's laundry?"
 Overall, the show stood up better than any other Hope had this year.

CBS-TV's "Circle Theatre" Wednesday night presented a dramatized story about the development of the X15, the first piloted spacecraft, but strangely it lacked impact — perhaps because there was little new to add to what we have read in the newspapers all along.
 There was an attempt to show how dreamers pushed the idea from the start against the usual obstacles; but it was difficult to get interested in the characters as human beings because we only saw them in connection with the X15.

The achievement, of course, is magnificent; and the documentary shots were fascinating; but the script did not give the actors a chance to do more than follow an obvious, predetermined course, with no surprises.
 The Channel Swim: Cara Williams and CBS-TV agreed on a new comedy series. NBC-TV's "Tonight" show switches back to New York next week for the first time since Jack Paar left. Mary Griffin will host.
 Ann Sheridan checked into Hollywood to do a "Wagon Train" for ABC-TV. NBC-TV's "Catholic Hour" presents a four-part series next month on America and communism. Two daytime CBS-TV shows, "The Brighter Day" and "The Secret Storm," will expand to half an hour June 18.
 A space camera able to produce live pictures of objects in orbit will be used by the television network pool to cover the Mercury-Atlas 7 manned shot planned for next month. One-hour programs by Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz will be repeated come summer as a replacement for CBS-TV's Danny Thomas and Andy Griffith shows.

ACTOR DISPLAYS TEMPER
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Host Mike Wallace, taping a segment of the "PM" television show Tuesday night, asked actor Burt Lancaster to comment on reports he has a quick temper.
 Lancaster got up and left the studio in a huff.

JUNGLE JOBBER—A Jet Packet 1600 rears back on its hind legs, above, while being unloaded in the jungles of Surinam. The modernized version of the famed "Flying Boxcar" was transporting gold dredging equipment, below, to a roadless area of Dutch Guiana where airplanes are the only practical means of communication. Visible atop the fuselage of the Stewart-Davis Jet Packet is an auxiliary jet engine whose 1,600 pounds of thrust enable the plane to fly from small fields even with one propeller engine out.

Overall, the show stood up better than any other Hope had this year.

STARTS FINAL TRIALS

YORKTOWN, Va. (UPI) — The world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, the NS Savannah, leaves here today for three days of final acceptance trials.
 The 22,000-ton vessel surpassed engineers' expectations in preliminary tests earlier this year. If final tests prove satisfactory, the Savannah will be turned over to the States Marine Lines for a maiden voyage from Savannah, Ga., to New York.

Convention Set For Super Market Men Next Month

Financial Review
By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Representatives of an industry who helped make the shopper's cart a part of the American scene put on a hefty conclave next month to review the past, present and future of a $37 billion enterprise.

The four-day convention at Chicago of the Super Market Institute is expected to draw about 14,000 representatives of all segments of the food industry. The SMI calls it the 25th birthday meeting of the non-profit organization. It has 800 member companies with 16,000 retail food outlets.

While their growth of the past is known, members of the institute know that there are problems ahead; even at present, the patterns of trade are changing. Super markets, which themselves started out primarily as food stores, have added shelves of general merchandise; discount stores have entered some parts of the grocery and soft goods lines. While not confined to suburban areas around major cities, supermarkets got much of their early impetus in such areas; now, some economists see a drift back to the city areas by parts of the population in the late 60's and 70's.

In a lengthy review of the history of the supermarket, the SMI traces back to Texas where, as could be expected, the idea of something big and fast-moving caught on early. J. Weingarten opened a large market operation, resembling a super market, around 1918. A competitor, Henke and Pillot, Inc., according to the SMI story, had set up a basket carrier that ran on a track against the walls of the store, to help the shopper get out with the more-than-arm-load lots.

Weingarten decided he could better the idea, and an associate named Ellis D. Turnham, used a toy express wagon as a starting point. He took the handle off, fixed the front wheels in a stationary position; arranged the body so a basket would fit into it. The customer pulled the conveyance by using the handle of the basket.

BILLIONS FOR DEFENSE — The House of Representatives last Wednesday passed H.R. 11289, making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 1963. The final vote was 388 yeas, with no nays. Fifty members were recorded as not voting, but this does not mean there might have been votes against the bill. In fact, this bill had, in my opinion, received unanimous support from every Member of the House of Representatives.

On several occasions in the past there have been situations where a few Members voted against the defense measure. They are no longer Members of the House of Representatives. The bill, as finally passed, contained appropriations totalling $47,839,000. This means that approximately sixty cents of every tax dollar paid by the taxpayers of this country will go for the actual present defense needs of this nation.

This figure does not include appropriations in other associated areas of defense and veterans' benefits. When these are added, total tax requirements for the current year, present defense needs, future preparedness, amounts approximately seventy cents of every tax dollar.

The amount of money involved in the defense appropriations bill staggers the imagination. In fact, it is almost impossible to conceive that amount of money. It is indeed most difficult for the human mind to fathom the many intricate expenditures involved.

Tremendous sums of this money go to private corporations and individuals in the form of contracts affecting every segment of our economy. It is impossible to fully and completely spell-out the exact requirements as to many of the objects and services to be obtained. Hence, much faith must be vested in the discretion of the military components of our nation.

Great confidence must be entrusted to those charged with the handling of our defenses in the world, both in our own country and in foreign countries. The amounts of expenditures to be made will in many cases be the result of negotiations between the Defense Department and private contractors.

There is no doubt much room for criticism of the Congress in making available vast sums in order to meet possible needs. However, the Congress is faced with two alternatives: we either make available the necessary funds to meet unforeseen as well as foreseen needs and depend upon the integrity of our military establishment, or we refuse to entrust these people with any discretionary powers, and thereby run the risk of too little and too late.

sums to meet the defense requirements of this country. By the same token, the Executive Branch of the government would be derelict in its duty if it did not watch each and every expenditure of the taxpayers' money with a vigilant eye. Almost all of the mail which I receive condemning Federal expenditures begins from the predicament that the writer is not against spending all necessary sums for defense. I think we are all in agreement on that philosophy. The issue is the word "necessary." It is in this area that great responsibility lies on the shoulders of the military. The Congress and the people of this country must depend upon those in the military establishment, both the civil ser-

A Look At The gubernatorial Candidates

G.O.P.'s Jack Cox

This is the second in a series of portraits of the eight Democratic and Republican candidates for governor of Texas.

JACK COX BIOGRAPHY
By United Press International BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (UPI)—Until a year ago, Jack Cox was a Democrat—a strong enough Democrat to poll 619,834 votes against Gov. Price Daniel in the 1960 Democratic primary.

Now he is a Republican, and a strong enough Republican to be considered a near shoe-in to win the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the 1962 May 5 primary.

Cox, Breckenridge oilman, conservative and native West Texan, was born just outside Breckenridge Aug. 20, 1921. He was one of five children.

He attended Breckenridge public schools and the University of Texas, and was graduated from North Texas State College with a bachelor's degree in government and the school's light heavyweight boxing championship.

He joined the Navy in World War II and saw action in the Pacific. When mustered out as a lieutenant senior grade in 1945, Cox returned home and made three unopposed bids for the state Legislature.

He retired from the Legislature in 1952 to devote more time to his automobile agency and service center in Breckenridge. He sold that business and went into the oil business. In 1956 he and a partner formed their own independent oil business, and he remains a vice president in that organization.

Cox is active in civic work in his home city, and belongs to the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks and the Lions clubs. He served six years as an appointee of former governor Allan Shivers on the Texas Commission for Higher Education.

Since 1959, he has served as Texas representative on the American Legion's National Americanism Commission. Cox was named winner of Freedom Foundation Awards in 1958, 1959 and again this year.

Cox announced last year that his conservative philosophies no longer allowed him to support the Democratic party, and that he was switching his allegiance to the GOP. He later announced he would seek the Republican nomination for governor.

He is married to the former Joyce Smyrl of Breckenridge, and has a teen-aged son and daughter. He is an elder in the First Christian Church of Breckenridge, where he teaches a Sunday school class.

Wagering On Horse Races Condemned

DALLAS (UPI)—Ten Dallas County police chiefs in a joint statement have condemned pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in Texas, an issue to be submitted as a referendum in the May primary elections.

Police Chief Carl Hansson of Mesquite released the statement. "Increased lawlessness and organized crime activities inevitably result in areas where there is race track gambling," the statement said.

"The huge profits from race track gambling attracts a following of undesirable characters in many categories."

It was endorsed by police chiefs Forest Keene of University Park, Dan Lewis, Carrollton; W. D. Green, Farmers Branch; Henry C. Ashley, Garland; Fred Conover, Grand Prairie; W. H. Naylor, Highland Park; Charles Wirasnik, Irving; W. E. Playford, Lancaster; and J. W. Golden, Richardson.

The group said Police Chief Jesse Curry of Dallas, Sheriff Bill Decker and Dist. Atty. Henry Wade have already publicly expressed their opposition to the pari-mutuel race track gambling amendment.

CAMPAIGNS IN PAMPA—Charles Ballman, center, was in Pampa yesterday where he was honored at a reception in the Coronado Inn. Ballman is now serving his third term as State Representative and is seeking the post as State Senator for the 31st Senatorial District, on the Democratic ticket. He is a resident of Borger. Shown here with Ballman at the reception are left, Mrs. Ballman, who is acting as campaign manager, and Mrs. Delane McHone, Miami, who was official host. He was to have been in Shamrock and Wheeler today on a hand shaking tour. (News Photo)

It's The Law In Texas

LAW DAY

For the fifth consecutive year, Law Day has a special significance in this country. May will again be observed as LAW DAY U.S.A. This is a special day dedicated across our nation to observance of the fact that we have government of law instead of man. It is particularly appropriate that Americans set aside this day each year to demonstrate to the world—and to ourselves—that our belief in individual freedom under law remains strong and unshakable.

Why is it that some men are able to live in freedom while others cringe under a rule of tyranny? We owe our rights and freedoms to our state and national constitutions, our laws, and our courts. In others lands, there are no rights and people are subjected to the edicts and whims of individuals unhampered by legal restraints.

Most of us tend to take it for granted that an individual is free to think for himself and that his rights are protected by law. We now without actually admitting it that our whole way of life is governed by this rule of law.

Law is the intangible force guaranteeing all of us freedom, peace and progress ideals which have been, and are, dependent upon the adequacy of our legal system and the protection awarded the individual by our courts.

On May 1st then, this year and every year, with the nation's attention focused on LAW DAY U.S.A., it behooves us to re-educate our belief and faith in this rule of law that is the birthright of all Americans.

It is this liberty and equality under law that distinguishes our system of government from communism. Without laws and the courts, these freedoms we take so for granted would be meaningless.

Our respect for law is vital to the continued growth and strengthening of our nation; our thoughtful observance of LAW DAY U.S.A., in a real sense distinguishes America from those who today live under tyranny; it is our answer to communism. LAW DAY U.S.A. is the American way.

The Untouchables

One of the odd things about life in this country today is that as our numbers grow, more and more people seem to pay less and less attention to their fellows.

A strapping man sees a woman take a dangerous fall a few feet from him in a supermarket. He makes no move, but stares as if watching the whole affair on television.

A woman stands within earshot but unnoticed by a gunman holding up a store clerk. She could slip out and call the police. Instead, she frowns a moment, picks up her shopping bag and shuffles indifferently away on her own business.

In the crowded motoring world, try counting just one day's crop of careless parkers, or drivers who drift aimlessly across white guide lines, or others who slash in front of you and then protest — if challenged — that they "haven't done a thing."

Among our mounting millions are altogether too many folks who move about as if they were in a private little capsule insulating them from all others. It's time they broke out and joined the world.

Socialized Legal Services?

Considering the current movement to collectivize every facet of our existence — schools, farms, banks, industry, et al — it looks as if our "bureaucratic benefactors" have been guilty of an error of omission.

Why not socialize the legal profession? Put the lawyers under federal collectivization as agents of a socialized legal service bureau. Citizens would then be entitled to complete legal services, at standardized fees, under government supervision.

Why not? If such a scheme is "good" for doctors (as in the proposed federal medical care plans), it should be "good" for lawyers, as well.

It may be that our lawmakers — most of whom are lawyers by profession — could not risk the economic repercussions of such legislation?

Certainly, their non-politically-engaged colleagues would not tolerate such "demeaning" wage status.

Of course, the astute members of the legal profession already have made a start toward socialization, in addition to their having accepted state licensing. Through their promoting public defenders' offices to provide (or subsidize) legal services for "indigents," the first step, has been taken. This is comparable to the setting up of tax-supported hospitals and "free" medical services through local, state and federal health departments.

However, we suspect most lawyers would be as loud in their objections to complete socialization of their profession as most doctors are in the inexorable drive of the bureaucrats toward state medicine.

Possibly, the lawmaker-lawyers themselves could not "make ends meet" on a standardized government salary. After all, they have their expenses, to say nothing of their ambitions.

They might even be placed in

UN AND OUR CONSTITUTION

Life Lines

The Constitution of the United States is so drawn that if its provisions are observed, the rights of the individual are accorded protection. The Charter of the United Nations — which the Mistake and their dupes would substitute for our Constitution — contains no clear and specific provisions for the protection of the individual human being. The terrifying fact stands out there is no Bill of Rights, no right to vote as individuals, and no protection against the tyranny of the One World Government that is the aim of the United Nations.

Much of our sovereignty already has been lost. Unless there is a sharp reversal, Americans will be a people without a nation.

The powers delegated to the Federal Government by the sovereign people of the United States are either being usurped by the United Nations or granted to that organization by forces within our own governmental set-up.

The One World Government already partly established within the United Nations is even now exercising the following powers granted to the Federal Government alone by the Constitution.

1. The sole right of Congress to declare war and to prosecute it to a speedy and successful conclusion.

2. The sole right of Congress to establish post offices. The United Nations has its own post office.

3. The sole right of Congress to levy taxes upon all American citizens. All employees of the United Nations are free from Federal taxation.

4. The sole right of Congress to coin money and regulate the value thereof. This right was first abrogated to the Chief Executive in 1933. It was nullified a second time by the Bretton Woods Monetary Agreements, without which the concept of the United Nations could never have been brought to birth.

5. The sole right of Congress to supervise immigration. The United Nations may now admit and is admitting whomever it pleases.

6. The right of Congress to levy duties on imports. All goods and material imported by the UN or its employees come in duty free.

7. The right of the Chief Executive, with his Cabinet, led by and with the consent of Congress, to direct and regulate foreign affairs. This right has been more or less completely usurped by the State Department, which now acts jointly with the United Nations, of which it has become an integral part in the determination and direction of our foreign policies.

8. The right of our soldiers to serve in wars solely declared by Congress and only under our own banner, the Stars and Stripes, and to be under the command of none but American officers.

9. The right of the United States to remain master in its own house. Our foreign policy already has been largely lost to the United Nations, and control of our domestic policy has been severely eroded.

This does not by any means exhaust the list of powers rightly belonging to the United States which has been seized by or given to the United Nations.

The basic and incurable flaw in the UN, so far as our nation is concerned, is that it purports to reconcile governments founded on irreligion and immorality with governments established on religious belief. It attempts to reconcile slavery and freedom, and that simply cannot be done.

We cannot keep our constitutional form of government by committing national suicide.

We cannot save the world by bankrupting our Nation.

Our Nation not only is supposed to commit suicide by subjecting itself completely to the United Nations but also is called upon to pay for its own funeral services. To meet the expenses of the United Nations, the American people, are being taxed for purposes not allowed by the Constitution, any amendments to it, or any laws enacted in accordance with it.

From the first, the United States has paid the lion's share of the operating costs of the UN and its numerous specialized agencies. Now, we are told, the U.S. Government must buy $100 million worth of UN bonds, which, as we are told, must be issued because some of the other UN members notably Soviet Russia, have not paid the share of UN expenses allotted to them. It doesn't take a genius to figure out that they are not likely either to pay their share of the interest and the cost of retiring the UN bonds that the United States is being asked to buy.

It would be difficult to dream up a worse investment for the

Pegler Says: 'General' Walker Demoted To 'Mister' In Washington

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Maj. Gen. Walker was badly rough-housed by the Washington elite of our free press who covered his testimony on ulterior forces at work in the American Army zone in Germany. They were especially nasty in their concerted cancellation of his military honorific earned in closer proximity to battle than the combined experience of Eisenhower, Marshall, Bedell Smith and Clay who never are denied ruffles and flourishes.

These journalists called him Mister Walker for resisting the unremitting campaign to inflict ruthless authority on the world. Almost invisible, dappled with the camouflage of many political cults the enemy has shed Communism for the time being at least. It is now "liberal," "progressive" and "democratic" but never uncompromisingly American.

How will this defrocking affect General Telford Taylor, the court-room soldier of the Truman regime who prosecuted German war criminals at Nurnberg in association with the bloody-handed Russian accomplice of Adolf Hitler, but defended Harry Bridges in San Francisco? Is he still a general?

How about Brig-Gen. David Sarnoff, of NBC, whose fine-print in Who's Who stretches from here to hell-and-gone? Did he ever lead troops even in the NRA parade up Fifth Avenue? Shall we now call General Sarnoff "Hey You!"

And Colonel Oveta Culp Hobby of the Wacs? How about "Toots"? Some strange eraser was used on General Walker's ordeal before the Senate Committee. I fine-combed the New York Times and Herald Tribune but caught no mention of Max Ascoli and his forthrightly magazine called The Reporter. Now that is strange because other papers reported that General Walker did mention The Reporter and they gave Ascoli the courtesy of this sneering rejoinder: "I am sure he never looked at a single copy of The Reporter — or, if he looked, didn't understand how he was graduated from West Point."

I was not disappointed, for one gets used to such things, when Sen. Symington, who was present, failed to speak up on this. He is an authority on The Reporter and Ascoli. He joined the late Senator Bridges and a half-dozen others in a loud personal attack on Ascoli in the Senate in 1954. He knows enough about Ascoli to have kept General Walker in business. But he seems to have turned his back on this pro-American as he did a few years ago when Joe McCarthy proved absolutely right in the case of Annie Lee Moss, a Negro woman who had been employed in the Pentagon. Momentarily the anti-McCarthy cabal confused matters with a fake issue of mistaken identity. But later inquiry showed that McCarthy had been right. Symington could have vindicated General Walker. So could Vice President Johnson and Senator Dirksen. Why didn't they? What has happened here?

Max Ascoli came to this country as a refugee from Mussolini's revolution. Senator Bridges said in that fierce debate that Ascoli arrived on the magic carpet of the Rockefeller Foundation, which is tax-exempt, so that American citizens had to pay his fare. Then he nestled in the New School for Social Research where Mrs. Roosevelt's protegee, Hans Eisler, also found comfort until it was safe to go back to East Germany as culture director of the Communist state.

This is long before Mussolini joined Hitler and adopted anti-Semitism. The Duce's objection to Ascoli was entirely political, not religious or "racial."

In the United States Professor Ascoli got waivers on his Number One wife and married a rich daughter of Julius Rosenwald. After that, both of them gave political contributions to Arthur J. Goldsmith, the cheese-cloth dragon of the Waldorf Tower, for use against certain Senators. Ascoli's magazine plastered New Hampshire with tear sheets against Bridges and peppered Nevada with evil attacks on Senator Pat McCarran, a benign, religious man who wanted to screen European immigrants. Ascoli didn't like that. He hadn't been screened to a painful degree himself. The Reporter got subsidized circulation all over our European zones. We paid for that.

Later, Ascoli's Italian handiwork company got a loan of $4,600,000 from the Export-Import Bank and Senator Bridges said in

Unemployment Is Still Big Factor In Economy

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Unemployment is still the stickiest factor in the economy and the Kennedy administration's worst headache.

March figures just released show unemployment dropped by 160,000 to 4.4 million and total employment rose by 500,000 to 68.3 million, as compared to February levels.

This is encouraging. But the unemployment drop is only half-way from the 7 per cent level of May 1961 to the desired level of not over 4 per cent.

One curious aspect of the present situation is that the total labor force of 73 million workers is no higher than it was a year ago. The labor force figure is expected to rise again to over 76 million, as it did last June when high school and college graduates began looking for jobs. But unemployment rates may go up again, too, unless there is a business pickup.

Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg cites several possible reasons for no steady increase in the labor force.

One is that the campaign to prevent school dropouts may be doing some good. Another is that the increase in Social Security benefits may be inducing more older workers to retire. A third reason is increase in call-ups for the armed services.

The one most discouraging aspect of the situation is that the number of long-term unemployed — those who have been continuously without work for 15 weeks or more — is 1.5 million. Those who have been without work for 26 weeks or more number 700,000. Both figures are lower than they were a year ago, but Goldberg admits they are still too high.

Department of Labor's bureau of employment security recently released results of a survey of the long-term unemployed as of last May's peak.

Its most significant revelations are roughly that two-thirds of the long-term unemployed were men with a median age of 43, heads of families who had been out of a job for more than six months in the last three years and who had exhausted their state unemployment benefits.

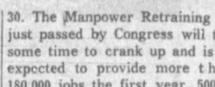

This last mentioned factor indicates the necessity of President Kennedy's request to Congress for renewal of the 1961 Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act for another year, through March 31, 1963. Payments to a total of 2.5 million long-term unemployed are expected to total over $1.1 billion by this date.

The Kennedy administration has before Congress proposals to make this extension of benefits to a maximum of 33 weeks permanent legislation. But with House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees so tied up with tax reform, trade expansion and medical care for the aged under Social Security, they will not have time to take care of the unemployed except by another temporary extension.

Bureau of Employment Security's labor market survey shows that most of the long-term unemployed are found in 20 of 63 major industrial areas and 105 of 203 smaller areas which have had substantial unemployment, above the national average of 6 per cent, for the last several years.

These are the areas on which the administration is concentrating to reduce the hard core of unemployment.

Under the Area Redevelopment Act passed last year it is expected that 600,000 workers will be provided with new jobs by June 30. The Manpower Retraining Act just passed by Congress will take some time to crank up and is not expected to provide more than a 150,000 jobs the first year, 500,000 in the next two.

The $600 million three-year public works program which Kennedy recently asked Congress to approve will be channeled principally into the 75 to 100 labor surplus areas which have had unemployment of 9 per cent and over for more than a year. It may provide on-site jobs for 200,000 unemployed construction workers a year.

Channeling more government contracts into areas of substantial and chronic underemployment will also provide some help. The Trade Expansion Act, if approved by Congress, is expected to provide 450,000 jobs within five years, less maybe 90,000 jobs which will be lost to foreign competition.

Whether this whole combination of government programs, by themselves, can get total unemployment down to the desired 4 per cent level is doubtful. But if they can provide a stimulus to private industry, that may turn the trick.

Cub Scouts At White Deer Meet

WHITE DEER (Sp) — The Cub Scout Pack meeting was held recently in the school cafeteria with J. C. Williams, Cubmaster, presenting the awards.

Boys receiving awards were David Guinn, Mike Hudgins, Mike Williams, C. W. Freeman, Nelson Britten, Steven Waltz and Mike Reno. Plans were made to take the Scouts to visit a television station in Amarillo.

A picnic was planned for sometime in May. Mrs. Hudgins, den mother, directed Den 1 in a skit entitled "Trains". The next Pack meeting will be held May 14 in the school cafeteria.

ON WAY-UP

NEWTON, Iowa (UPI)—Police-man John Kerr is going places. Saturday he was appointed sergeant on the Newton police force. Monday, he was named police chief.

LET'S TALK POLITICS

LESTER A. JONES
Democratic State Representative—87th District Candidate

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

I am a Democratic Candidate for State Representative from the 87th District. This is the eighth in my series of weekly newspaper columns and radio speeches.

I have said in previous newspaper columns that the present representative of this district has become more obligated to the lobbyists in Austin than he is to the people of the 87th District. This has now been proven beyond any doubt by the invasion of this district by these Austin lobbyists. They have asked sponsorship of local groups and have been refused this sponsorship. That made no difference to these lobbyists. They came right on into this district on their own to tell you how to vote in a local election. The most effective way of telling these lobbyists to stay out of a local election is to vote for Lester A. Jones on May 5.

The present representative of this district takes much credit for our road system. Let's look at the condition of our road system as late as January 3, 1962. The governor addressed a joint session of the House and Senate on that date and his address is entered in the official House Journal. A few of the remarks contained in this address are: "On the farm-to-market road question, I vetoed the second-year Colson - Brisco program in the sum of $15 million because there was no provision made by statute for maintenance of farm-to-market roads."

"A proposal which I submit in bill form by which the Colson-Brisco program of $15 million per year for construction would be restored and continued, and that maintenance funds would be provided . . . freeing the primary highway system of a present maintenance load of $18 million per year." I maintain that the legislature had this system so fouled up that the governor of this State had to write a bill to provide adequate financing of the farm-to-market road system.

If robbing Peter to pay Paul—using primary road funds to support the farm-to-market road system denotes "a proven leader in drives for improved road systems," I personally need a little more explanation of how that works. I cannot call this confusion an example of fiscal responsibility. As your representative, my solution to expanding our farm-to-market road system would be direct. We should provide adequate funds to continue progress of the farm-to-market road system without interfering with our primary and interstate highway system.

My next newspaper column will not introduce any new issues. I believe in fair play in all things. Introducing of new issues or charges at this late date would not give my opponents adequate time to inform the people of this district as to their stand. I have used official documentation in my campaign and I will place my future in your hands on the merits of each issue I have discussed during the past eight weeks.

A detailed talk on this subject will be made on radio Friday of this week.

TEMPLE OF THE SUN—The unusual structure in the foreground of photograph above houses the world's largest solar telescope, now nearing completion at Kitt Peak National Observatory, 40 miles southwest of Tucson, Ariz. The structure stands 110 feet high; the diagonal shaft is 480 feet long, 280 feet of it underground, as shown in diagram. Sunlight will be reflected from a heliostat (flat mirror) to parabolic mirrors inside the shaft and into the observation room. The telescope will have a focal length of 300 feet and will form images of the sun nearly a yard in diameter, which may either be photographed or directed into spectroscopes. The big instrument will permit studies of the sun in greater detail than has ever been possible. Domes of the observatory's 84-inch and 36-inch stellar telescopes are visible in the left background of the photograph.

Dentist Asks Government For Pay To Stay Out Of Denture Business

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Almost everyone agrees that our founding fathers showed great prudence in guaranteeing the right of a citizen to petition the government.

But over the years the exercise of that right has sometimes taken forms that the founding fathers possibly did not envision.

I have at hand three recent communications from supplicating citizens which would have left the Constitution framers in the dark but which somehow seem to illuminate our times.

The first petition, received by Rep. Morris-K. Udall, D-Ariz., was drafted by Tom Bahti, an Indian trader who describes himself as "a patriotic American interested only in keeping America strong."

"He adds, however, that he 'wouldn't mind making a little money while pursuing these noble goals.'"

"It has come to my attention," Bahti wrote, "that Russia may begin a crash program to outproduce the United States in Hopi pottery and Navajo rugs, two important fields in which we have always maintained a consistent superiority."

to become Communists if we did not subsidize them.

"A patient told me recently that he was getting paid for not growing corn, so perhaps it would be simpler if you would just send me the money and I could go into the non-making-dentures business."

The third petition was devised by George Q. Lewis, director of something called the "National Laugh Foundation." He is sounding out Congress on the possibility of providing hospital care for "sick" comedians.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in his new book, "Why Not Victory," published today:

"Strategically our program must be directed toward the removal of Communists from power, whether they hold it 99 miles off our southern coast or in distant Laos and Viet Nam."

NEW YORK — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, urging this country to send teams of lecturers abroad to help fight communism:

"I believe that if we get busy and enter this battle for the minds of tomorrow's leaders with all the skill, vigor and dedication at our command, we will win hands down."

Recent Change In Benefits By Social Security

Due to a recent change in the law, a person can earn more money and still be paid some social security benefits, according to Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

The change has to do with earnings over $1200 a year. For the first $500 of earnings over $1200 the total family benefits for the year are reduced by only one dollar for each two dollars of earnings. For every one dollar of earnings over $1700 for the year, the total family benefits for the year are reduced by one dollar.

However, regardless of the total earnings during the year, benefits are payable for any month in which the earnings are no more than $100 in wages or salary or in which the person does not render active services as a self-employed person. Also, the full monthly benefits are payable starting with the month in which the wage earner or self-employed person is age 72 regardless of the earnings.

Because of this change, Geldon said, it is important that all 65 year old workers check with their social security representa-

BURGLAR PROOF JAIL?
WAUKESHA, Wis. (UPI)—Keshia County recently completed construction of a new half-million dollar "escape-proof" jail courthouse.

Deputies reported Tuesday that Lawrence Warrick, 30, was a spoon to dig his way through two cement walls.

They may be eligible for some payments even though regularly employed.
