MOTHER'S LITTLE HELPER — This little cutie is Debbie Sue Brown, 5, of Clarkson, Wash., and doing dishes is fun for her. Debbie Sue is 1962's March of Dimes poster child. She was born with an open spine which was corrected by surgery, made possible by March of Dimes funds. Today Debbie Sue can walk without braces but wears half leg braces for corrective purposes following the operation.

Special Pampa Highway Meet Called For Friday

A special meeting of the Pampa City Commission has been called for 9 a.m. Friday in City Hall to act on a resolution asking the state Highway Department that SH 273 be retained as an alternate or business route through the city, according to an announcement today by City Manager John Koonz.

The resolution was drawn at the suggestion of District Highway Engineer Charles W. Smith, Amarillo, when it developed at a meeting here last Tuesday that SH 273 through Pampa might not be included in the department's proposed highway development program for Pampa.

The district engineer pledged at the Tuesday meeting that the Highway Department would cooperate with city officials in their highway plans and urged that the city make a request for maintenance of the business route.

County commissioners and a chamber-of-commerce highway officials also have been invited to attend Friday's special meeting.

The city manager said the commission also would take action on bids from three firms to install a drive-in window for the water department on the south side of City Hall. The bids were opened at last Tuesday's city commission meeting.

CROP Drive Set for Halloween Eve

Earl Cooper, general chairman of the Pampa Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), announced today churches throughout the city will work together with school organizations on Halloween night, Oct. 31, in a community drive to collect funds, to be used by the Church World Service overseas in areas of distress.

CROP, sanctioned by the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, this year replaces the UNICEF drive, Cooper said.

The CROP drive will be held Halloween night with youngsters up to the sixth grade canvassing the city from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. High school students and volunteer church workers will solicit funds from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. throughout the city.

CROP is a community food appeal of Church World Service that serves only as a food collection agency for overseas distribution, Cooper stated. All money collected in Pampa will be sent to the state headquarters in Austin where it will be distributed by the Church World Service in overseas distressed areas.

The CROP program is headed in Texas by the Texas Council of Churches and is composed of representatives of 11 denominations as well as several farm, civic and labor organizations.

Pampa churches and school organizations participating in the Halloween night CROP drive are, the First Methodist Church, Harrah Methodist, St. Paul Methodist, First Baptist, Hobart St. Baptist, Calvary Baptist, Nazarene Church, Church of the Brethren, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Highland Christian, First Christian, Lamar Christian and Macedonia Baptist Church. School organizations participating are the Pampa Key Club and the Pampa High School sophomore, junior and senior classes.

U.S. Nuclear Blast Designed For Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What does the United States hope to learn when it stages the world's first nuclear explosion aimed at harnessing the atom's violence for ground peaceful purposes?

President Kennedy Wednesday announced plans for the underground test. He invited all members of the United Nations, including Russia, to observe the experiment, scheduled in about two months.

A nuclear device equal in power to about 5,000 tons of TNT will be set off 1,200 feet underground in a rock salt bed 25 miles south east of Carlsbad, N.M.

Scientists hope to determine: —If heat generated by underground nuclear explosions can be tapped for production of electrical power by plants on the surface; —If such explosions can be used to manufacture valuable radioactive materials for use in industry, agriculture, medicine and science.

—New facts about the nature of nuclear energy and the fission process which is the basic reaction of atomic weapons and power reactors.

—Widely varied information of vital importance to future uses of nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes and to seismology, including seismic detection of underground weapon tests.

Foreign observers are welcome to go to New Mexico and attend scientific briefings on the experiment and its results, but they will not be permitted to examine the nuclear device.

Annual C-C Banquet Set For Tonight

Nearly 400 persons are expected to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce membership banquet at 7:30 p.m. today in the cafeteria of Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

William J. Bird, San Francisco, principal speaker at the banquet, arrived by plane in Amarillo at 11:30 a.m. and was met at the airport by E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager. They arrived in Pampa shortly before 1 p.m.

Bird is western vice president of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., representing the company in 12 western states.

New officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce for the 1961-62 year will take over the reins at the conclusion of the banquet session when E. Roy Smith, 1960-61 president, turns over the gavel to Gordon Lyons, incoming president. Other top officers to assume their duties will be Lucian Young, vice president, and Aubrey Steele, finance director.

A feature of the banquet will be the presentation of awards to two of Pampa's outstanding citizens for contributions during the past year to youth development and to civic development in the community. These awards will be presented by Nevt Secrest and Floyd Watson.

Special guests will be introduced by Lucian Young. Entertainment will be by Dr. N. J. Ellis, tenor soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Wanda Gill. Dinner music will be by Maxine Milliron, organist.

Some State Areas Have Heavy Rain

By United Press International
Cold Canadian air, which set off six-inch rains and caused flash-flooding Wednesday triggered more showers today that dampened almost every part of Texas.

There was no prospect of rain in the Pampa area.

Six inches of rain was measured in the vicinity of Poteet, Tex., south of San Antonio late Wednesday. The Weather Bureau issued flash warnings for the Nueces and Rio Rivers and both streams got out of their banks briefly.

San Antonio got .69 of an inch of rain in the 24 hours ended at 6 a. m. and Alpine received .61. Austin got .04, Houston .04, Victoria .01 and Corpus Christi a trace. Del Rio had 1.51. Traces were also reported at Galveston, Laredo and Midland.

Dalhart recorded an early morning low of 28 degrees and it was 37 at Amarillo and 43 at Lubbock. Brownsville's low was 73 degrees. Highs Wednesday ranged between 58 at Dalhart and 87 at Laredo.

Rayburn Visited By Vice President

DALLAS (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson visited Sam Rayburn for nearly an hour Wednesday and said the cancer-stricken House speaker wants to visit him at his ranch.

"He expressed a desire to visit the ranch when he gets better," Johnson said. "He said he was very happy to see good friends around him."

The vice president chatted with Rayburn shortly after he underwent his second treatment with a two-million volt x-ray machine. The speaker was scheduled to have a third treatment today.

The latest hospital bulletin said Rayburn had a "comfortable" day and that there was nothing new to report in his condition.

Pampa Geologist Loses His Leg In Hunting Accident

Eddie Collum, 632 N. Nelson, who was seriously injured in a deer hunting accident in Colorado Saturday, is reported out of danger after lingering close to death for several days.

Collum, 25, was shot by an unidentified hunter while hunting in desolate Colorado territory with relatives. He was wounded in the leg, which had to be amputated to save his life.

Details of the accident indicated that Collum was not shot by a member of his party. He was apparently wounded by another hunter with a high-powered rifle.

Collum and his party were in a sparsely populated area when he was felled by the bullet. He was taken 100 miles to the nearest doctor in Montrose where his condition worsened Tuesday morning.

Tuesday night, Venus Collum, his father, took him to Grand Junction via ambulance where doctors amputated his leg. Doctors told the family that he would have died if he had stayed in Montrose two or three hours longer.

The injured man is a recent graduate of West Texas College and is a geologist for an Amarillo oil company. He is married and has one child.

Yanks With Loaded Guns Defy Red Berlin Guards To Escort Auto To East

Commisses Foiled In Attempt To Stop Crossings

BERLIN (UPI) — The U.S. Army sent three jeeps of armed soldiers, with guns loaded and cocked, past Communist guards today to escort an American civilian sedan into East Berlin.

For the second day in a row, U.S. troops drove into East Berlin to show American determination to keep the divided border open to Western traffic.

Five tanks and four armored personnel carriers roared up to the border when the civilian car first was stopped at the crossing point this afternoon. They stood fast as the jeeps—one in front and two behind—escorted the vehicle past the Red guards.

The combat-clad soldiers in the jeeps carried M14 rifles with fixed machineguns cocked and loaded. The convoy went through the zig-zag maze put up by the Communists to slow traffic.

Once past the checkpoint and the Communist guards, the civilian car moved away from the east and disappeared into East Berlin. The jeeps came back at high speed and a few minutes later, the civilian car also returned.

Earlier, the Communists stopped a U. S. official in civilian clothes who was carrying a message from Berlin's American commandant to the Soviet commander. He was permitted to cross into East Berlin only after he changed into an Army uniform.

The later incident came at mid-afternoon.

Five tanks and four armored personnel carriers roared up to the border. Four jeeps of U.S. military policemen, wearing bullet-proof vests and steel helmets, fixed bayonets on their M-14 rifles. One of the tanks was going so fast it shot about five yards into East Berlin before it was stopped and turned around.

West Berlin police cleared the streets in the area of automobiles, and pushed back a crowd of about 500 spectators about a block.

Nobel Prize Awarded To Yugoslavian

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Ivo Andric of Yugoslavia, one of postwar Europe's outstanding-epic writers and a former career diplomat, today was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature for 1961.

The Swedish Academy of Literature said Andric, 69, was chosen for "the epic force with which he has depicted themes and human destinies from the history of his country."

Andric's best-known work is the novel, "The Bridge on the River Drina."

It is the last part of a trilogy depicting his country's history between the time of the Turkish conquest of the Balkan peninsula in 1389 and the creation of the independent monarchy of Yugoslavia after World War I.

No Verdict Yet Reached In Spy Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal court jury began its second day of deliberations today in the trial of Irvin C. Scarbeck, former diplomat accused of passing secrets to Communist agents.

Jurors resumed their attempt to reach a verdict after a night's rest in the courthouse where they have been locked up since Oct. 11.

The jury failed to reach a verdict during 7½ hours of deliberation Wednesday.

In his final instructions to the jurors, Judge Leonard P. Walsh told them to ignore Scarbeck's affair with a 22-year-old Polish girl in deciding whether he passed U.S. secrets to Communist agents in Warsaw.

"That is not the charge in this case," the judge said.

Scarbeck's lawyers have contended the former diplomat cooperated with the Reds to keep them from sending his mistress, Ursula Diacher, to an army brothel.

After the jury went out Scarbeck's wife, Karen, 37, told reporters it was not easy to sit through testimony about her husband's unfaithfulness, but "I plan to stick by him."

"We had some really wonderful years together," she said.

The judge allowed Mrs. Scarbeck to see her husband prior to her departure for her home in Dusseldorf, Germany. She said she hoped to return to the United States with her three children.

Mrs. Scarbeck said she planned to rejoin her husband if he was acquitted and to "wait for him if he is found guilty."

Eight Nations Urge UN Nuclear Appeal To Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Eight small nations alarmed by spreading radioactive fallout today urged quick-General Assembly action on a U.N. "solemn appeal" against Russia's planned 50-megaton nuclear explosion.

The eight nations were sponsors of the appeal, which was approved overwhelmingly Wednesday night by the main political committee.

The sponsors asked that the full assembly, which must take final action, give the item top priority.

It was not immediately certain that the assembly could fit the item into its morning session. Officials said the schedule was so full that no further action was planned on the membership of Mauritania and Outer Mongolia which were recommended for membership by the Security Council Wednesday night. They were accepted in a package deal that was expected to have the indirect effect of keeping Communist China out of the United Nations for at least a year.

The package deal culminated patient behind-the-scenes negotiations of several months. The 11-member council first voted 9-0 to admit Communist Outer Mongolia, with the United States abstaining and Nationalist China not participating. Then it voted 9-1 for Mauritania, with Russia abstaining and the United Arab Republic opposing because of Morocco's territorial claim to Mauritania.

Russia did not try to hide its anger over the political committee's nuclear decision, and many delegates were skeptical that the "solemn appeal" would do any good toward preventing the 50-megaton blast.

The vote of 75-10 with one abstention climaxed a daylong procedural wrangle in which the Communists were defeated on several filibustering points of order. Cuba sided with the nine-nation Soviet bloc and Mali abstained.

The overwhelming vote reflected (See APPEAL, Page 4)

Plains Area Gins Damaged By Fires

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Winds up to 46 miles an hour fanned at least 11 fires in the South Plains Wednesday night, causing thousands of dollars damage to both stored cotton and cotton gins.

A warehouse of the Caprock Fertilizer Co. at Littlefield also burned. The warehouse contained both liquid and dry fertilizer. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Fire authorities said the winds came at a time when the cotton gins were burning burrs that are extracted during the ginning process. The wind whipped the fire from the burning pits to gins and cotton storage areas.

Five fires were reported at gins in Brownfield. There were two fires at Seagraves, two at La Mesa, and one at Lubbock.

German Treaty Threat Reiterated By Russian

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union pressed today for negotiations with the West on Berlin and Germany but gave no indication what, if anything, was negotiable in its own position.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko sounded the latest call for talks Wednesday at the 22nd Communist party congress and Soviet broadcasts and newspaper reports played it up big today.

Gromyko said the Soviet government "spares no efforts to find a common language with the Western powers on the question of a German peace treaty" but he gave no hints as to specific items the Russians might consider negotiable.

He said that if no agreed solution was reached, Russia would sign a peace treaty with East Germany alone.

Nevertheless, observers considered the tone of the speech relatively mild and they noted he mentioned nothing about a year-end time limit.

Gromyko said that in his talks with Dean Rusk earlier this month in New York and Washington, the American secretary of state said "he fully shared the aspirations of the Soviet government for peace and on behalf of the American government Rusk expressed hope there will be found ways to secure peace throughout the world."

The seriousness of the Berlin situation still was being submerged in a flood of news about the Communist party congress which is nearing the end of the "debate" on Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's report and the new party program.

After the windup of the parade of speakers today or Friday, Khrushchev is expected to sum up the results, undoubtedly touching once again on the sins of the Stalinist "anti-party" group of Soviets and Albania's Communist leaders.

$23,400 Raised In Fund Drive

Pampa's United Fund drive total climbed to $23,400 today with a report from E. L. Green Jr., chairman of the oil and gas division, that $5,700 had been collected so far in his division's advanced drive which started Sept. 1.

The fund's total goal is $38,746.

George Newberry, general campaign chairman, said today that the total goal of all advanced gifts workers is $38,000. The remaining $30,000 to meet the overall goal must come from individual contributors and small business concerns, he said.

"We have a tremendous job ahead," Newberry said. "As of this morning we still are some $45,000 short of our ultimate goal."

The first report meeting of fund solicitors who began work last Monday afternoon has been scheduled at a luncheon meeting in Coronado Inn Monday noon.

"It is important that fund workers attend this luncheon and make their reports so we know where we stand," Newberry said.

23 Persons Hurt In Plant Blaze

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y. (UPI) — A flash fire injured at least 23 persons and caused an undetermined amount of damage today to a top secret government work area at the Wurlitzer plant in this Buffalo suburb.

Some of those injured apparently suffered serious burns. Several of the injured were carried from the building in stretchers to waiting ambulances.

AMERICAN STYLING INFLUENCE? — The new model Russian passenger car, "Chaika," is shown in Moscow. Wings and hood have been redesigned by the Gorky factory, and the Chaika faintly resembles some U.S. cars: Double headlamps; slight tail fins, covered rear wheel well, chrome body trim, smart grill, and a buggy whip-type radio antenna.

Belgrade Parley Was No Triumph For Khrushchev

BELGRADE (NEA) — "Don't kid yourself. The United States will never fight for West Berlin."

The speaker was Gerhard Edelmann, chief editor of Radio East Berlin, and Walter Ulbricht's top propagandist. He spoke with blunt assurance.

Edelmann's statement emphasizes again the conviction of the East German Reds that they can continue to apply their "salami slicing" tactics against West Berlin without fear of reprisals.

There is no doubt that East Germany was encouraged by the support of a separate Soviet-German peace treaty and for a divided Germany which is received from some delegates at the Belgrade conference of so-called non-aligned nations.

The big surprise of the conference was President Tito. Everyone expected the Yugoslav leader to follow the lead of Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, and condemn Moscow's resumption of atomic testing. Instead Tito launched an attack on West Germany and chided the Russians gently — chiefly because their announcement of nuclear testing coincided with the opening of the Belgrade "peace" conference. (It was also Marshal Tito's birthday.)

Many of the uncommitted nations used a double standard in judging the acts of Russia and of the Western allies. They were quick to condemn France for Bizerte, for instance, but completely ignored Russian and Chinese acts of aggression in Hungary, Berlin and Tibet.

Thus, they missed an historic opportunity to emerge as a real balance in a world beset by fears of war.

To be sure, the comments and actions of all the non-aligned statesmen did not undermine "neutrality on the side of Russia." India's Prime Minister Nehru emerged as a far-sighted genuinely neutral statesman. He urged the conference to forget past grievances against the "colonists."

The colonialist theme was played like a broken record by ambitious politicians, such as Indonesia's Sukarno, Ghana's Kwame Nkrumah and Cuba's Oswaldo Dorticos. But Nehru urged the delegates to stay truly neutral and to use whatever moral credit they have in an effort to mediate between East and West in the cause of peace.

Although the Belgrade conference was intimidated by Nikita Khrushchev, it was by no means a triumph for Moscow. The Russians regard as enemies all nations or any group of nations which try to steer an independent course, which do not take their orders from Moscow. Khrushchev's pose as a champion of the underdeveloped countries was severely undermined by the fact that even a man like Nasser condemned Russia's resumption of nuclear testing.

Parrot's Death Blamed On Grief For Old Tomcat

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Grief over the death a week ago of an 18-year-old tomcat named Blackie was blamed today for the death of Loretta, a 98-year-old parrot owned by Mrs. Anna Fitzsimons.

Mrs. Fitzsimons said Tuesday night the parrot used to sit on one shoulder and the cat on the other while she watched television.

"Loretta never said a word and wouldn't eat at all after Blackie died," she said.

Supply-Demand Factor Swaying Market Prices

NEW YORK (UPI) — The biggest reason stocks are selling so high in relation to earnings, according to L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co., is simply that "too many want to buy and too few want to sell the same stocks."

It's not a matter of how fast earnings are increasing, or how many times earnings a stock should sell, he says, but a bigger demand for stocks than the available supply.

Since Wall Street looks for somewhat larger-than-usual year-end switching operations, it seems likely the remainder of October will fail to develop any clear-cut price pattern, according to Thomson & McKinnon.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. says investors have become sobered to the fact the economic recovery will be more "orderly" than meteoric, despite all the bullish figures and forecasts.

Standard & Poor's tells clients that as a result of the market's September correction and its subsequent measured advance, stocks seem to be in a good position to respond to the more favorable business, earnings and dividend news believed to be in the offing.

Dependence
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rockefeller Brothers Fund estimates that at least 4.5 million Americans are directly dependent upon foreign trade for their livelihoods while another 15 million U.S. jobs depend on raw materials imported from other countries.

This means one of every four Americans depends wholly or in part upon foreign trade for his job, the Fund concludes.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, our drug called ODRINEX. You must lose ugly fat in 7 days or your money back. # Northern Area Nations Seeking Fallout Shields

By United Press International

Nations of the Northern Hemisphere today explored ways of protecting themselves from radioactive fallout from continued Soviet nuclear tests.

There was wide disagreement about just how much radioactivity the Soviet tests would spatter over the earth and about the degree of harm it would do.

But governments were concerned enough about public health to order detailed investigations and, in some cases, to take immediate protective measures.

The Soviet Union served notice that the worldwide outcry would not deter it from completing its test series.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin told the main United Nations political committee Wednesday that his country would not be stopped from "taking measures to reinforce our defense capabilities."

Nevertheless, the committee voted 75-10 for a solemn appeal to Russia to call off its planned 50-megaton blast. Only Cuba joined the Soviet bloc opposition.

Britain and Holland began storing food and dried milk.

Norway started installing radiation sirens.

Health officials from all 50 United States met in Washington for a two day conference to study what might be done in case radioactivity does reach harmful levels.

The Japanese parliament adopted a resolution calling for an end to nuclear testing and the science and technology agency issued special instructions to citizens on safeguards against fallout.

Among the instructions, the Japanese people were told to take a bath when they get wet from rainfall which may be radioactive, to filter rainwater and to wash all vegetables thoroughly before eating.

The Dutch director of public health, Piet Muntendam, warned in a radio broadcast that further Russian atomic test explosions would "endanger public health."

when Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U. S. commandant, dispatched the message to Col. A. V. Solovoyev, his Soviet counterpart.

A spokesman declined to disclose the contents of the message. But Watson visited Solovoyev on Wednesday to protest East German harassment of American traffic. Solovoyev rejected the protest and Watson informed Washington of what he called a "potentially serious" situation.

It was believed today's message was a relay from Watson to Solovoyev of Washington's reaction to the Russian's statement that the United States must obey East German border regulations.

The Russian-speaking messenger Irwin Firestone, civilian head of the U. S. military police liaison section, was refused passage because he would not show his identity card to Communist police.

After 25 minutes of discussion, Firestone returned to West Berlin, donned a uniform and then was passed through the Communist checkpoint. He is a major in the Army Reserve.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said the United States will "urgently" take up the issue with Russia.

Col. Solovoyev renewed the Soviet stand that "sovereign" East Germany has decreed its police must check the identification papers of all civilians entering East Berlin.

The Soviet position was a possible forerunner of what the Western Allies will face when Russia signs a peace treaty with the East German Communist regime.

The Soviets have said that when a peace treaty is concluded, Allied rights in Berlin would

Speaker Says Reds Expect To Control Country By 1975

Pampa Rotarians were told Wednesday that the threat of communism is a continuing reality that needs to be responded to with conviction and determination to win. The day's speaker was Griswold Rogers.

Rogers pointed out that the timetable of the Communists is such that they expect to have domination over the United States by 1975. The extent to which the encirclement of the United States has taken place in the last fifteen years is a demonstration of the determination of the enemy to make this program a reality, Rogers said.

The speaker further stated that the United States needs to galvanize itself and take the initiative if we expect to win. Otherwise, Communist expansionism will continue at a rapid pace.

Another view expressed was that Khrushchev successfully carried the day with his doctrine of peaceful co-existence and abandoned his deadline for a German peace treaty because it promised to embark him on a course which could lead to war.

Experts here also foresaw further humiliation for Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Mikhai G.

Cheddar Cheese Milk Price Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal milk marketing order amendment lowering the price for milk used in cheddar cheese went into effect today in the Texas Panhandle.

The Agriculture Department said the amendment would become effective with publication in the Federal Register today and extend through February, 1962.

Gainesville Man Speaks To JC's

Edward H. Phelps, director of Public Relations for the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation Inc., Gainesville, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Jaycees.

Phelps spoke on the Camp Sweeney Diabetic Health Center near Gainesville and presented a film depicting life at the camp for diabetic boys and girls.

The Jaycee of the month award for September went to Bob Blakey for his work on the hospital-ity booth set up over the Labor Day weekend.

Guests at Tuesday's luncheon were Wayne Holcomb and William R. (Bill) Brown.

end automatically and West Berlin would be turned into a "free demilitarized city."

Under the treaty, East Germany would try to exercise "full sovereign rights" over all land, water and air access routes to Berlin. To fly to Berlin, for instance, the East Germans would demand that Western Allies conclude an agreement with them for landing rights in the city.

American tanks and troops which moved up to the border and other combat stations in the tense city Wednesday returned to their positions but were ready to move out again on short notice.

Analysts See Possible Communist Bloc Split

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's bitter attack on tiny Albania could precipitate an important split in the Communist bloc, according to Soviet affairs experts here.

This is one admittedly speculative judgment based on a study of proceedings at the 22nd congress of the Communist party now being held in Moscow.

Another view expressed was that Khrushchev successfully carried the day with his doctrine of peaceful co-existence and abandoned his deadline for a German peace treaty because it promised to embark him on a course which could lead to war.

Experts here also foresaw further humiliation for Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Mikhai G.

Red Cross Group Hears Mike Fort

A Red Cross principal-teacher sponsored breakfast was held recently in the First Methodist Church basement with 30 members present.

Wendell Attmiller, principal of Travis Elementary School, gave the invocation and L.C. Davis presided over the business meeting.

Teacher-sponsors were introduced by Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa Red Cross Chapter. Mrs. Shotwell also gave the Red Cross financial report for the past year.

Mike Fort, president of the Pampa High School Red Cross Chapter, spoke on the reason for belonging to the Junior Red Cross. Fort stated the high school Red Cross gave $50 and the Elementary Red Cross gave $50 for the Children's Fund during the past year.

If this happened, experts said, the big question would be whether China would continue to support Albania or move to closer ties with Russia.

Experts did not rule out the possibility that Red China, Albania, and perhaps some Communist parties in underdeveloped countries would form a far-left faction in the Communist world.

Wheat Program Deadline Dec. 1

Intentions to participate in the 1962 wheat stabilization program must be filed before Dec. 1, it was announced today by Evelyn Mason, manager of the Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

In a notice sent to Gray County farmers, the ASCS office said that even though a farmer has already had 10 per cent removed from his wheat allotment, it is necessary that an intention be filed.

A farmer, if he so wishes, may divert an additional 30 per cent from his allotment, Miss Mason said. An intention form must be signed in order to receive payment and to obtain wheat price support.

Farmers who have an appeal pending, the notice stated, should wait until they hear from the appeal before signing up for the program.

Miss Mason also announced that in a recent election Floyd McLaughlin was elected to replace W. E. Jarvis. Other members of the Gray County committee for the next term are Paul R. Bowers and Leamon Andrews. The committee will operate ASCS programs in Gray County.

There is growing opinion here that Khrushchev realized the Western Allies could not come up with a common Berlin negotiating position in time for year-end talks. Therefore, if he forced a year-end showdown he would find the West with its "hardest" position of non-compromise. Then he would face the choice of backing down or letting the conflict proceed to possible armed showdown.

In the Washington analysis, Khrushchev's bitter denunciation of Albania, his tiniest satellite, and Red China's support of that country could be a prelude to eventual expulsion of the Albanians from the Warsaw Pact. This is the Communist world's version of NATO.

While his car was parked on the north side of the Garden Lanes Bowling alley, 2111 N. Hobart, somebody stole the battery, he reported to police.

The theft, he said, was discovered at 11:25 p.m., when he got into his car, stepped on the starter — and nothing happened.

It is estimated that two-thirds of the world's population live in under-developed areas.

Strike Causes Milk Famine In New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Families in New York City and Long Island were seeking ways today to circumvent a spreading milk deliverers strike which has reduced the supply of fresh milk to a comparative trickle.

The flow of milk into the area, inhabited by nearly 10 million people, was cut-off Wednesday when two Teamsters Union locals joined a walkout started by one local Tuesday after no agreement could be reached on a new contract.

The strike threatened to spread to northern New Jersey and one county in Connecticut.

Negotiations recessed late Wednesday night and were scheduled to resume today. Both sides reported slow progress in the talks.

An agreement between the union and the milk industry assured the daily delivery of 400,000 quarts of milk to schools, hospitals and nursing homes. However, that represents a small amount compared to the normal daily shipment of about six million quarts in the metropolitan area.

Ordinary households faced "no milk today" signs posted at grocery stores and no home deliveries. A spokesman for the milk industry said Wednesday night some reserve supplies still were cooling in store refrigerators, but they were dwindling at a rapid rate.

Joe Holland Rites Pending

Funeral services are pending for Joe Holland, 40, who died Monday in Highland General Hospital, where he had been a patient for some time.

He was born Aug. 22, 1920 and was a pipe-fitter by trade.

Survivors are his wife, Louisa of the home, 444 Hughes; two sons, Joe Michael and Gregory, all of Pampa; his mother, Mrs. Macie Holland of Edwardsville, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Charlotte Genet of Collinsville, Ill.

Arrangements will be announced later by Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin accused the eight sponsors of hypocrisy and aiding the "aggressive policies of the West."

The sponsors were Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Norway, Pakistan and Sweden.

Bacon Gets Into Act As Halloween Spirit

When the weary trick-in treaters ring their last doorbell at your house, you had better be prepared with special treats. Whether they be ghosts or clowns, the masqueraders will no doubt be hiding a hearty appetite beneath their masks. The masks are bound to disappear when the treats begin with brown - sugar cured bacon.

Bacon means "treats" when served with vegetables and combined on a bed of fluffy, white rice. The "Trick" is to select the bacon that you can always depend on for highest quality protein — the bacon with the sweet smoke taste. The brown - sugar cured bacon bearing the two most trusted words in meat is purchased in an easy to open, easy to use, easy to store container. To retain its high quality, bacon should be stored in the coldest part of your refrigerator and used within 5 to 7 days of purchase. The popular method of cooking is to pan - fry. The unseparated slices of bacon are placed in an unheated skillet and the slices separate as the bacon is frying. Broiling is another cooking method. When a pound or more is used, baking is an easy method of cooking the bacon because it does not require watching or turning. Whichever method is used, the irresistible fragrance of the brown - sugar cured bacon will prompt action from all bacon - smiting spoons.

Inflated balloons marked with faces and draped with squares of cheesecloth add a ghostly atmosphere to your Halloween party. A gay black cat of heavy cardboard or wood is the holder for

  - Goblin' Good Bacon Surprise
  - Yield: 6 servings
  - 1 pound sliced bacon
  - 1 cup uncooked rice
  - 1/2 cups sliced celery
  - 1 cup sliced onions
  - 1 cup sliced mushrooms
  - 2 cups water
  - 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 1/2 teaspoon leaf marjoram
  - 2 cups shredded cabbage
  - 1 cup sliced green pepper
  - 1/2 cup diced carrots
  - 1 tablespoon soy sauce
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Cook rice according to directions. Keep rice hot. Fry the bacon until crisp. Remove bacon from pan. Keep warm. Drain off all but 3 tablespoons drippings. Brown celery, onions, and mushrooms in bacon fat. Blend water with cornstarch and marjoram. Stir into vegetables. Simmer, covered, for 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and half of the crisp bacon broken into pieces. er. Make a ring of rice on platter. Cook, covered, until just tender. Pour bacon mixture in center. Garnish with remaining bacon slices.

Honey On Sauerkraut Is Delicious But Honey On Sardines . . . Ugh!

Professor Mykola H. Haydak of the department of entomology and economic zoology on the St. Paul campus, is willing to talk about bees and honey any time, any place. But he is more than usually enthusiastic today because the applications are beginning to come in for his nationally known correspondence course in "bee-keeping. It means very little to him financially, but he loves to get new people started in bee-keeping.

Lamb Patties Are In Festive Style

An unusually tasty combination for lamb patties is offered by Reba Staggs, well known home economist, who points out that these are distinctive enough to serve at a party or any festive occasion.

- Wrapping each patty in a bacon slice is a nice touch, and the combination of flavors in the patties puts them into the epicurean class.
- FIESTA LAMB PATTIES
1 pound ground lamb
8 slices bacon
1 cup crushed corn flakes
1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes
1 egg
1 small onion, minced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Combine lamb, corn flakes, tomatoes, egg and seasonings. Shape into patties 3/4 to 1 inch thick. Wrap slice of bacon around each patty and fasten with a wooden pick. Place patties on broiler rack and pan so the top surface of the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. When the patties are nicely browned (10 to 12 minutes) turn and continue broiling until the other side is brown, about 8 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.
- with lettuce in salad bowl. Mix rest of the ingredients in skillet. Cook over low heat until well mixed and flavors are blended, and toss lightly. Serve immediately.

I have not eaten in combination with honey and I can recall only one with which it is not good. Sardines. Honey with sardines is terrible. It's simply awful.

"But with sauerkraut! Ahh, that that is a different story. My wife, who is a splendid cook and a researcher, has a recipe: sauerkraut with a little salad oil, a little French dressing, and honey. It is delicious."

Prof. Haydak is not only interested in the taste of honey but in its nutritive value. He once lived for three months on milk and honey (three tablespoons per quart) plus an occasional glass of orange juice for vitamin C. He reported at the time that his ability to work was normal and that no sluggish or tired feeling developed. Haydak points out that: Several studies have shown that infants subsist far better on a formula using honey than one with syrup.

The list of beneficial vitamins, minerals, proteins, sugars and acids in honey is a long one. A study with Eskimos shows refined sugars cause tooth cavities but honey does not.

"Honey," he says, "should be in every American home. And presumably, in every dish of sauerkraut and every glass of beer. But not in sardines."

Get Goblins Ere They Get You

The goblins'll get you if you don't get to them first. So treat them to their own tricks . . . fun to eat goodies made in haunting images.

- DOUGHNUT GOBLINS
1 dozen small round gumdrops
1/2 dozen plain doughnuts
3 ring gumdrops
- Cut 6 round gumdrops in half and arrange as eyes on the doughnuts. Place a whole round gumdrop over center of each doughnut for the nose. Cut ring gumdrops in half and then cut jagged edge with paring knife or scissors to represent teeth; place on doughnuts in position of mouth. Yield: 6 Doughnut Goblins
- The beret has returned to fashion favor. This year, it's made of chinchilla and worn tilted to one side.

Big Apple Favorites Of Family 'N Friends

What's your idea of dessert? Something warm and spicy, recalling the treats that used to emerge from grandmother's kitchen — or an elegant creation, frothy and shimmering on a crystal plate? Either way, apples are the best answer as an autumn dessert.

Dutch Apple Bran Cake is the honey kind of dessert or snack to team with mugs of coffee or marshmallow-capped cocoa, popcorn or a big bowl of unshelled nuts. Whole bran cereal gives the simple cake a nutlike flavor that combines appealingly with a cinnamon - sugared apple topping. Served warm or cold, squares of Dutch Apple Bran Cake will be a hit with young and old alike.

A dessert to bring forth — with deserved pride is Sour Cream Apple Torte. Baked between a crunchy mixture of almonds and sweetly spiced corn flake crumbs is a meltingly smooth lemon custard layered through with tart apple slices. The torte is relatively simple to make, and it may be served either warm or cold. Give it the finishing touch of a garnish of whipped cream or sour cream and a scattering of silvered almonds.

- DUTCH APPLE BRAN CAKE
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup whole bran cereal
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1-3 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, well-beaten
1-3 cup milk
- 2 cups pared, sliced apples
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2-tablespoons butter or margarine
- Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; mix with whole bran cereal. Blend butter and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing after each addition. Spread in greased 9 x 9-inch pan.
- Arrange apples on top of batter, pressing slightly into batter. Combine sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Yield: 9 servings.
SOUR CREAM APPLE TORTE
2 1/2 cups pared, sliced fresh apples
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup sour cream
4 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt

2 cups corn flakes or 1/2 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup blanched shredded almonds

Cook apples in heated butter in a covered fry pan until tender, stirring occasionally. Combine sugar, sour cream, egg yolk flour, lemon rind and lemon juice. Pour over apples. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture thickens; remove from heat. Cool. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff but not dry. Fold into curd mixture.

If using corn flakes, crush in fine crumbs. Combine sugar, cinnamon, corn flake crumbs and almonds. Spread half of crumb mixture in bottom of greased 8 1/2 inch baking pan. Pour in filling, cover with remaining crumb mixture.

Vegetable Platter Mealtime Boon For Homemakers During Busy Times

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Perfectly seasoned and cooked vegetables, in contrasting colors, served together on a large platter, give a lift to any meat. In these recipes, new, excellently flavored corn oil margarine is used.

GREEN SNAP BEANS
(Makes 4 servings)
1 pound green snap beans
2 tablespoons corn oil margarine
Water
1/2 teaspoon salt

Select fresh crisp beans. Wash, remove strings and ends. Cut into 1-inch pieces or leave whole as preferred. Cook covered in a small amount of water 20 to 30 minutes. Add margarine and toss to dress beans lightly. NOTE: For frozen beans cook according to package directions and toss with margarine to season.

BROILED TOMATOES
Wash and dry tomatoes. Slice in half. Sprinkle tops of each half with 1 teaspoon brown sugar and 1 teaspoon dry bread crumbs. Dot with corn oil margarine. Place on broiler rack 3 inches from heat. Broil until tomatoes are tender and lightly browned, about 10 minutes.

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES
Wash, then dry, unpared baking potatoes. Rub well with margarine. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) until tender, about 45 minutes. Cut slice from top of each potato; carefully scoop out potatoes and mash. For each potato add 1-tablespoon margarine, 1-tablespoon skim milk, 1-teaspoon minced chives or a little grated onion and salt and pepper to taste. Beat until fluffy. Pile mixture lightly into potato shells. Brush tops with melted margarine and place under broiler just until lightly browned. NOTE: If a soft skin is desired, wrap potatoes in aluminum foil before baking.

Kennedy Regime Claims Russia Lags In Missiles

EDITOR'S NOTE: A team of United Press International military writers — Charles Cordry in Washington, Alvin B. Webb in Cape Canaveral and Stanley Hall in Los Angeles, have assessed in depth comparative U.S. and Soviet missile strength and the significance of recent developments. Here is their report.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration appears to have concluded that it is Russia rather than the United States which faces a "missile gap."

"Missile gap" is the term long used to describe the plight America would be in the early 1960's when, it was held, Russia would have superior numbers of long-range ballistic missiles. It came to symbolize, to many, an overall American military lag behind the Soviets.

President Kennedy said as a senator in August, 1958, for example, that the "deterrent ratio... will in all likelihood be weighted very heavily against us" in 1960-64. He said those likely would be "the most critical years of the gap."

There were widely circulated predictions in 1958 that by the end of 1961 Russia would have 500 to 1,000 intercontinental ballistic missiles while America would have 70.

The fact today is that America now has 45 ICBMs and will have 63 at the turn of the year. It also has 80 Polaris missiles at sea aboard five nuclear submarines. A sixth such sub with 16 missiles is at or near Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Soviet Union is estimated to have, not 500 or 1,000, but between 50 and 75 ICBMs.

A detailed new assessment of relative U.S.-Russian missile strength will be given Congress early next year during testimony on the new defense budget.

With this assessment and other facts of military power in mind, the administration now has proclaimed flatly and with illustrative details that the United States has overwhelming nuclear superiority.

That is America's short answer to Russia's campaign of black-mail, multi-megaton explosions and Pacific missile shots.

It was given in a remarkable speech last Saturday by Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric to a group of more than 100 corporation moguls assembled at the stately Homestead Hotel in Hot Springs, Va.

The speech, approved by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, was more reminiscent of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's final State of the Union message than of the 1960 Democratic platform.

Eisenhower said the "missile gap" showed every sign of being a fiction, like the "bomber gap" some years before it. The Democratic platform had contended "... Our military position today is measured in gaps — missile gap, space gap, limited war gap."

Lumping missiles, bombers, artillery and other vehicles, Gilpatric said the United States has "tens of thousands" of nuclear delivery vehicles and more than one warhead for each vehicle. He said that even after receiving a surprise nuclear attack American forces could retaliate with at least as heavy a blow as the Soviets' first onslaught, perhaps a greater one. Self-destruction would be an aggressor's reward for attacking America, he said.

The American ballistic missile program involves the greatest construction and engineering undertaking in U.S. history, in the Air Force's view.

The Defense Department reckons that in eight years, through the current fiscal year, more than $20 billion has been invested in ballistic missile research, development, testing, production and construction of land bases and submarines. More than $12 billion of that has actually been paid out and the rest is committed. And much more will be needed in the years ahead.

By 1965, without any raising of present goals, the United States will have 834 intercontinental ballistic missiles, most of them in a hard-to-knock-out underground sites, and 464 Polaris missiles in 29 atomic-powered submarines—a total of 1,298 long-range missiles. Of that total, Kennedy administration defense budget increases accounted for 202.

The land-based force will comprise 126 Atlas missiles of two types with ranges of 7,360 and 8,000 miles; 108 Titans of two types with ranges of 8,000 and 9,775 miles, and 600 solid-fuel, fast-firing Minuteman missiles with 1,380-mile, 1,725-mile and 2,875-mile range.

Today there are Atlases operational at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Warren AFB, Cheyenne, Wyo., Offutt AFB, Omaha, Neb., Fairchild AFB, Spokane, Wash., and Forbes AFB, Topeka, Kans. Another squadron at Warren AFB and the first squadron of Titans at Lowry AFB, Denver, Colo., are due by year end.

While the missile force is building up, the big punch continues to be carried by the 1,465 jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command. They include 855 B47 medium bombers, 570 intercontinental B52s, every one of which can lug close to 50 megatons of nuclear bombs, and 40 supersonic B58s.

In another six months there will be 60 more B52s and 40 more B58s. Many of the B52s carry, besides their nuclear bombs, hound dog jet propelled missiles which have atomic warheads and can fly 500 miles after release from their mother planes.

At the nation's $1 billion missile "shooting gallery" at Cape Canaveral, the testing program on early missiles is largely completed and the swing is to the new generation. These include the Titan II, the longer range, faster-firing version of the Titan; the underground-launched Minuteman, which goes into service next summer, and the Skybolt bomber-launched missile slated for service in the mid-60's.

The Skybolt, to be used by both U.S. and British air forces, will have a 1,000-mile range and will vastly complicate Russia's missile defense problem. A B52 or British Vulcan can carry four Skybolts.

Tests on the longer-range Polaris missiles also have started. In a closely related field, Gilpatric said in his Hot Springs speech that planners were at work on "military uses of space." That could herald a renewed effort on military man-in-space projects.

What many experts consider the early forerunner of future man-in-space vehicles, the X15 rocket ship, is slated in a day or so for its most gruelling speed run to date. Air Force Maj. Robert White is to aim for 4,100 miles an hour, the first time man has exceeded the fantastic pace of more than six times the speed of sound in a winged vehicle.

Drive Slated Against Interstate Gambling

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's going to be always difficult, and many times impossible, to convict criminals under the new national anti-crime laws.

Justice Department men say too many things will have to be proved. The evidence will be shadowed more often than not.

But officials running the new nationwide drive on organized crime have a plan. They believe: —All organized crime — narcotics, prostitution, racketeering, extortion — depends on organized gambling for funds.

—Organized gambling depends on interstate communications — by telephone, U.S. mail, telegraph, airplane, bus, train, automobile.

Kicking hard at communications will hit gambling itself, says Edwyn Silberling, the tough, experienced head of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department of Justice. He reasons that if you hit gambling hard you strike a tough blow at all organized crime in cities, towns and counties all over the U.S.

That blow hits extortion, bribery of public officials and labor racketeering. It cuts the protection for murderers and burglars. The Justice men therefore will use a variety of techniques to harass gamblers.

When a gambler has a phone and uses it interstate, they will try to persuade the phone company to take it out.

When an interstate news wire service operates primarily for gamblers or other racketeers, the Justice men will try to persuade the company, from whom the lines are leased, to cut the service.

Gamblers need paraphernalia, special equipment, special paper they can destroy quickly. Manufacturers of these things are known. Justice men say it will not be too difficult to stop these companies from sending such betting equipment across state lines.

Agents are running checks on known hoods crossing state lines. Pressure can be brought on the ... men, some can be discouraged from continuing; some will talk about their bosses to save themselves.

A tight watch is being kept for minor racketeers and messengers, other hoods who have gotten raw deal from the big shots. These men sometimes talk, if they find themselves in a bad spot with the law.

The Justice Department men believe that they "have in the new laws, one way or another, quite a bevy of possibilities."

It is illegal under federal law for a racketeer to cross a state line in pursuit of his profession. Loan sharks or gamblers will be breaking the federal law if they bring in strongarm men from out of state to enforce payment from their debtors.

Edward Silver, the District Attorney of Brooklyn, N.Y., testified before the State Investigation Commission that there had been several unsolved gangland homicides connected with gambling in recent years in his jurisdiction. Attorney General Robert Kennedy believes that it would be in keeping with past practices if the men doing the killings "had come from out of state."

A messenger carrying numbers racket profits from one state to another is breaking the federal law. This has particular application because a surprising number of sizeable cities are right on or near state borders. A considerable number of bookies have set up their headquarters in small border towns, to conduct their illegal activities in the big city right across the border.

This has made it difficult for police to arrest them. They apparently have not been breaking any law in the small town where they've been headquartered. Yet that's where they've kept the evidence that would be necessary to arrest them in the big city across the state line.

A hood sending a check or money order, a bond or deed, as payment to a partner in another state through the mail is breaking the federal law.

To Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Pyron, Pampa, on the birth of a girl at 10:24 a.m. weighing 5 lbs.

While asserting military superiority over the Soviet Union, the administration views Soviet technology with extreme seriousness, as Gilpatric pointed out. It has taken steps to expand the missile program, accelerate work on missile-defense measures and protect U.S. retaliatory forces through mobility, concealment and hardening of underground sites.

While the Russian 30-50 megaton explosion is regarded as a terror measure rather than a necessary military test, the Soviet rocket shots in the Pacific are something else again.

The seventh of the current series of 7,500-mile shots was launched two days ago. The three-stage rockets are said here to be operational intercontinental ballistic missiles, somewhat improved over those used in earlier Pacific tests.

As far as known, the Soviets have not yet demonstrated a solid fuel missile with the rapid-firing, easier handling characteristics of the Minuteman.

There is no great puzzlement among experts that the Russians do not have the hundreds of intercontinental missiles critics once predicted they would have by now. They have had their development troubles, just as America has.

And they could have produced such numbers of such enormously expensive weapons only by imperiling all other national programs.

Dear Abby.... Wreck Of Car Could Damage Son

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old son worked during his summer vacation. He delivered for a drug store at night, and took care of neighbors' lawns during the day. He saved about $300.00, and he wanted to buy an old wreck of a car with it. His Dad saw the car and said it wasn't safe to drive. Besides, his grades are just average, and we don't want him to get a car. He says he earned the money himself, and should be allowed to do what he wants with it. Is he right or are we?

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school girl who gets mostly A's. Some of my close friends always ask me if they can copy my homework. I don't want to lose their friendship, but I don't think it's fair that I should sit home doing homework while they're out somewhere, and then give them my answers. Can you tell me how to handle this problem so I won't appear to be mean and selfish?

STUDENT: Handing out homework is a poor way to show friendship. If your "friends" don't do the work themselves, when test time comes, they'll be stuck. Tell them firmly that you are sorry but can't do their work for them. If you lose their "friendship" because of this, it was a shallow friendship from the start.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JEFF: Watch out! When that girl selects her target, she MRS. it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

WORLD OF FASHION — Woodrow Wilson's PTA will present a "fashion show" as a feature of its annual Fun Night Friday in the school auditorium with two showings planned at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. for an admission of 25c. The "lovely models" pictured above were imported from down town Pampa especially to show original "Doris Fashions" and hats by "Mr. Shaun." Models left to right are Maxine (Max Gibson); Alexandra (E. A. McLennan); Jo Anne (Johnny Weeks); Mimi (Burl Graham Jr.). A string band, composed of Bill Sims, Creed Smith, Kirk Smith and Shelby Ruff, will provide pre-performance and intermission entertainment. Sandwiches, pie, cake, ice cream, coffee and pop will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 5:30 p.m. Three amusement booths will be set up in classrooms. (Photo, Aubrey Jones)

Houston PTA Plans Family Night Friday

Sam Houston PTA will observe its annual Family Night at a dinner to be held Friday evening in the school cafeteria.

Dinner will be served from 5:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. with the following menu: chicken - spaghetti, green beans, sweet potatoes, salad, homemade pies, and drinks.

Tickets are being sold by Sam Houston students at $1 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Parents and interested friends are urged to attend due to the fact that this is the only fund-raising project for the PTA budget.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Following dinner, parents are invited to visit in their children's classrooms with the teachers and view the work of students, which will be on display.

Worthwhile Hears About ECA Work

Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Lester Reynolds on Friday afternoon in her home, 420 Crest.

Mrs. Reynolds, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Shelby Hood, president.

Meeting opened with the club prayer followed by roll answered by "Some Important Things About Texas Government."

It was announced that a Red Cross class will be taught at the courthouse annex beginning Oct. 23 through Oct. 31 with the exception of Tuesday meetings. Mrs. Walter Moel is the instructor.

Mrs. Gene Barber presented a program on the Exceptional Child Association program in Pampa and told of the three classes being taught here in Travis Elementary School, Sam Houston School and of the newly added junior high classes in Pampa Junior High School. She informed the group that the state pays the salaries of teachers, who instruct these classes.

Merton Home Demonstration Club members were guests. Representing that club were Mmes. Jack Howard, T. G. Groves, Clyde Edmondson, and Vard Smith. Worthwhile Club members attending were Mmes. Pearl Ferguson, Stella Wagner, Boyd Brown, Roy Tinsley and W. G. Kinzer.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostesses assisted by her daughter, Miss Yvonne Reynolds. The refresh-

★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

The so-called Hollywood bed can present an unfinished look if it's used without a headboard.

One clever homemaker used a pair of iron garden gates, painted black, against her white bedroom wall. They were attached to the wall with hooks, rather than to the bed, and created the look of an expensive headboard.

When bedroom walls are plain, a panel the width of the bed may be applied to the wall from floor to ceiling. This could be of figured wallpaper, or of the same fabric as the bedspread. For a single Hollywood bed, I have even used a shutter panel as a headboard. Other headboard possibilities are use of Shoji and fretwork screen panels.

Dear Polly: Please help me with kitchen colors. New cabinets are birch and the floor is mint green, pink and gray. Walls are to be light pink. What color counter tops? What about curtains? Color and kind? Would a black wrought iron dinette set be right? —Mrs. B.

Dear Mrs. B: I hope I am not late in suggesting mint green walls; they would be smarter with birch cabinets than pink. White counter tops would be my choice. Have cotton curtains with stripes of mint green, pink, black and white.

Black iron furniture sounds good to me. Do cover the chair seats with the striped curtain fabric.

Dear Polly: We need three new living room chairs. Walls are off-white, carpet is beige and brown tweed; the divan is turquoise, and one chair is gold leather. Am ordering off-white draperies if you think this is all right. What colors for the chairs? Also need two lamps for ends of divan. Should they match, and what color? —M. C.

Dear M. C.: Add a Greek Key braid in gold or brown to those off-white draperies. One chair could have an off-white cotton slip cover banded in the same braid. The other new chairs could match. They might be covered with a plaid or floral print in brown, gold, off-white and turquoise. A pair of really important lamps with brass bases and plain brown shades would be a good choice.

COLOR HARMONY

To make your nails look longer than they are, use a pastel-colored polish. A dark shade will reduce apparent length. If this means that you must use a less bright polish than the shade of your lipstick — harmonize, don't match the shades.

It was announced that the next meeting will be with Mrs. L. M. Bryant on Nov. 3 at 2:30 in the Pioneer Natural Gas camp, south of the city.

Ruth Millett The Secret Ingredient

... Executive Ability

Don't waste time wondering what the woman who seems to accomplish twice as much as you with half the effort has that you don't have. The answer is bound to be ORGANIZATION.

Two housewives can keep busy for the same number of hours a day. One will accomplish everything she has to do without feeling rushed or pushed. The other ends the day tired and frustrated, with half the things she meant to do left undone.

Both are hard workers. Both are conscientious homemakers. The difference: One is organized like any successful executive. The other has never thought of home-making as a job that requires planning and executive ability.

The housewife executive doesn't burden herself with chores and responsibilities that can and should be handled by other members of the family. She divides the work, and expects each member of the family to do his share.

Because she starts that system when her children are small, she doesn't waste energy through the years being a servant to her family.

The housewife executive is always looking for better and easier ways of doing things. She makes the most efficient use of every new piece of equipment she gets, instead of merely installing a new labor-saving device and then not changing her routine to make the best use of it.

The housewife executive organizes her errands, marketing, and shopping so that she can accomplish the most with the least amount of time and effort spent, instead of jumping in her car a dozen times a day to run errands.

The housewife executive plans her days a week in advance but keeps her schedule flexible enough to allow her to change it to suit herself, and to meet unexpected demands on her time.

The housewife executive puts first things first. She does the hardest jobs when she has the energy to tackle them, instead of dreading them all the while she puts them off.

It is organization and executive ability that enables a woman to run her home, instead of letting her home keep her on the run.

Invitation To Wine Tasting Party One Of Newest Indoor Sports

By PATRICIA McCORMACK NEW YORK (UPI)—Wine tasting ranks as one of the newest indoor sports.

When you answer an invitation to a wine tasting party, you bring an empty stomach and a rare ability to translate le menu in a way that marries food and wine.

A commentator speaking in a mixture of French or some other language and English explains what happens.

Almost as though you're fencing, you're supposed to hold the glass of beverage up to the light, squint the eyes and decide whether the color suits you.

Right If Clear That gymnastic is to determine whether there is anything about the color of the wine that upsets your sense of what's right. What's supposed to be right is the wine. It's right if it is clear. You can see the light through it. When you do, look awed.

Next, you're supposed to grasp the base of the glass—delicately holding it between thumb and index finger, no matter how tall the stem of the glass.

You whirl it a bit to get the beverage going in circles. Once it's swirling to please you, you bring the batch of stuff to your nose and inhale. The nose is supposed to tell you it is pleasant enough to taste.

Sips Wine Once that phase of it is over, you sip a bit but you don't gulp

it. You sort of hold it in your mouth and swish it between your teeth, letting it run back and forth over your taste buds. Otherwise, you can't grasp the taste in the approved manner.

After the tasting comes the part, a sit-down session, showing how wine can be married to food.

At a recent wine-tasting the first course was a bit of wine followed by a scrambled egg pie. In French the latter was called les quiches a la riveuwhr.

Next came a spot of another kind of wine and la poularde a la creme. Chicken, that is, cooked with a spot of wine. The side-dish: avec des nouilles alsaciennes, noodles.

Next came a salad and, a bit of goose liver, there was, in addition, the speck of wine on the salad.

I'm a sophomore in high school and I want very much to be a nurse. My parents say "No!" What should I do to change their minds? Karen.

Dear Karen: Hope you aren't one of the people guilty of making up one's mind before you have the facts. You'd have a giant-sized problem if you were completing your senior year and all set to start that career! As things stand though, there's enough time for both you and your parents to find a happy solution. Karen. Do something positive about it — take the necessary science courses and prove you can handle them well. Without this aptitude you would be lost in nurses' training. It's a good general background for any career.

As soon as you're old enough your parents will probably okay a job as nurses' aide since this is an excellent chance to get a broad view of nursing. You see things as they really are — not at all like they appear in the movies. Give your parents credit for a little experience. Check out their career suggestions. If, after doing this, you still are serious about a nursing career, they will know that you have thought it out and not made a snap decision. Just remember, "Taint a crime to change your mind." One last thought — if your high school offers guidance counseling,

Hebert Reaches 2nd In Punting

Pampa halfback Kenny Hebert advanced to second place in the district 3-AAAA punting leaders last Friday although the Harvesters were idle.

Hebert, the salty sophomore who raced 80 yards with a kick-off to beat Amarillo, has punted 15 times for a 35.6 average. He is second only to Palo Duro's capable quarterback, Rickey Nix, who was a 37.3 average for seven tries.

Otherwise, Pampa doesn't have a player in the individual statistics leaders of any phase. And the Harvesters are seventh in total offense, but sixth in rushing, back to eighth in passing, seventh in total defense, seventh in rushing defense and also seventh in pass defense.

Amarillo's Sandies — although beaten in their last two games — including a 3-0 shutout at the hands of Monterey, continue to lead in total offense and rushing. The Palo Duro 'Dons, however, are a close second in both category.

The Sandies versatile halfback Ronnie Williams moved into the top spot in total offense on the individual side. He jumped ahead of Tascosa's Eddie Whiddon, the leader since the opening of district 3-AAAA play.

Gordon Nelson, the fleet Palo Duro halfback, held his rushing lead although he gained just 49 yards against Plainview. Borger's Davis Hill is second with 355 yards.

The statistics are:

| TEAM STATISTICS |       |       |       |

Houston And Alabama Tilt Head Action

The University of Houston gets a chance this weekend to prove that early-season ratings were no mistake, despite having only a 2-1 record to show for its five games so far.

The Cougars tackle unbeaten Alabama in Houston to highlight the weekend grid schedule for non-Southwest Conference teams. The fourth-ranked Crimson Tide is a 13-point choice over Houston.

In the Lone Star Conference, leading Sam Houston State travels to San Marcos to take on upset-minded Southwest Texas, which tied Lamar Tech 7-7 last weekend.

Tech, in second place, will try to keep its title hopes alive when they host third-place Howard Payne in Beaumont. East Texas plays Sul Ross at Alpine and Stephen F. Austin will host injury-ridden Texas A&I in the Lumberjacks' homecoming game at Nacogdoches in other Lone Star action.

West Texas State will close out its five-game home season against Arizona at Canyon. West Texas is in third place in the Border Conference, and Arizona is no longer a member of the loop.

Arizona State and New Mexico State will vie for the lead in the Border Conference, with the Sun Devils playing Hardin-Simmons at Temple, Ariz., and the Aggie invading El Paso to play Texas Western.

North Texas State, the state's only member of the Missouri Valley Conference, travels to Ohio to place its waning title hopes on the line against Cincinnati.

Other games involving independent Texas colleges will see Trinity hosting Arlington State at San Antonio; Corpus Christi at home against the University of Nuevo Leon in Mexico, and Texas Lutheran traveling to Portales, N.M., to meet Eastern New Mexico.

Ablene Christian will journey to Hattiesburg, Miss., to play rough Mississippi Southern and Austin College will meet William Jewell at Liberty, Mo.

FARID SALIM IMPRESSES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Argentine middleweight champion Farid Salim is impressing most observers with his exceptional hand speed as he trains for his Saturday night fight with Teddy Wright of Detroit.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Madison Square Garden remarked Wednesday, "I think this Salim is going to be a great favorite. He's got the fastest hands I ever saw on a middleweight."

SCORES RIDING TRIPLE

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (UPI) — Jim Del Vecchio scored a riding triple at Narragansett Park Wednesday, including the first half of a $379.60 daily double.

Del Vecchio won with Plymouth Rock ($5.80) in the first, Hot Box ($10.60) in the fifth and Wealth ($10.70) in the ninth. Plymouth Rock combined with Miss Nana Lee ($58.20), the winner of the second race, for the big double.

Texas Schoolboy Clubs Eye Playoff

Perryton Hosts Quanah In 5AA

Several Texas schoolboy football playoff berths will be decided this Friday in the upper four divisions when loop leaders meet in important games as the 1961 campaign draws close to the inevitable end.

There will be the usual amount of district champions settled on the last day of the regular season but winners could be decided in several districts Friday.

One of the top clashes in the state pits McKinney against Gainesville in 7-AAA, with the winner almost certain of clinching a playoff berth.

Gainesville is the state's sixth ranked AAA eleven while McKinney is rated 10th. Other important battles in the state's second largest class matches Lamar Consolidated against Bay City in 10-AAA and unbeaten Belton opposite La Vega, conquerer of champion Brownwood, in 9-AAA.

Brownwood is the top-heavy favorite to represent the northern bracket in the play-offs while the southern division finalist could come from the Belton-LaVega or Lamar-Bay City winner.

Four times class AAAA champion Wichita Falls; and a favorite once again, opens district competition with a weak Irving club. The undefeated and powerful Coyotes have won six in a row without serious trouble.

Miami Plays Booker For Grid Crown

MIAMI (SpI) — Undefeated and untested Miami puts its three year reign of the district 2-B eight man grid race on the line Friday night when coach Bill Hines' Warriors play the Booker Kiowas, also unbeaten, at Booker at 7:30 in the final regular season game of the season.

It will be a battle of giants when the two perfect mark clubs clash. Miami, winner of 42 of their last 46 games, will pit its stingy defense against the high-scoring Booker club.

Miami chalked up 11 straight wins in 1960 in gaining the district and bi-district championships before losing to Jayton in regional play. Booker suffered only two defeats last year — yep, both were to the Warriors.

Highland Park clashes with defending champion Sherman in a 7-AAAA contest with the winner tabbed for the playoffs. The latter has lost only once this season — to champion Corpus Christi Miller 20-6.

Denver City and Albany, defending AA and A title holders respectively, are expected to keep their winning streaks through another weekend. The Mustangs are idle while Albany's Lions play Santa Anna.

Quanah, the state's fourth ranked AA eleven, faces Perryton in 5-AAA in a game likely to decide the district champion. Other important contests in this classification matches Paul Hewitt-Hooks in 13-AA, Terrell-Grand Saline in 15-AA, Hearne-Cameron in 19-AA and Sweeney-Boling in 25-AA.

There are 16 unbeaten teams in this class and each is in a different district.

The big battle in class A will be waged at Sonora when they host Eldorado in a 6-A contest matching unbeaten clubs, although the latter has been tied.

Wink, rated a serious challenger to Albany's crown, plays Rankin in 7-A. Stinnett meets Stratford in 1-A. New London hosts Judson in 18-A and Crowell can sew up the district 11-A title by beating Chillicothe.

Hull-Doaetta, the southern bracket power, takes on off-beat Orangefield.

Pep Rally, Bouts Top Activities

Pampa High School will be a scene of — not studying or quietness — but bedlam Friday morning at 7:45 a.m. as the student body and anyone else — parents, ex-students or Harvester followers — will hold a pep rally in the girl's gym.

The Rhythm Masters, a well known musical organization from Pampa High, will provide the music for the rally and there will be a sock-hop for the students. This kind of activity is rare at Pampa High, but the faculty and students are showing their spirit in an effort to boost the Harvesters to an upset win over Palo Duro Friday night.

Tonight at 7:30 at the Boy's Optimist Club, the Pampa boxing club will host teams from Hereford and Lefors in a triangular meet.

There will be approximately 14 bouts and the admission is 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Cotton Bowl Tickets Application To Start

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Tickets, at least 25,000 of them, go on public sale by mail today for the 1962 Cotton Bowl game, which probably will pit the winner of Saturday night's Texas-Rice game against a prominent inter-sectional power.

The Cotton Bowl Athletic Association stages its annual order-by-mail sale for the next 13 days to dispose of the 25,000 seats which are available to the general public in the 75,504-capacity bowl.

Applications postmarked prior to midnight November 7 will be

Texas And Rice Hit By Injuries

By United Press International — H. L. Daniels practices until sunset every day to fulfill an ambition. If Southern Methodist football coach Bill Meek knew what it was, he would probably have a hard time getting a good night's sleep from now until Saturday.

Daniels is a sophomore fullback on the surprise team of the year in the Southwest Conference — Texas Tech. He kicks field goals when necessary. Last week he beat Baylor in the closing minutes with a 34-yarder, 19-17.

Injuries in Houston were giving Rice coach Jess Neely troubles too. He said senior guard Walter Ligon is "definitely out" of the Texas game and possibly for the season. Ligon reinjured a leg injury in practice this week.

Starting center Dan Malin also was on the doubtful list. Guard Johnny Nichols who sprained an ankle in the SMU game was expected to be ready.

Coach Jim Myers installed another second teamer on the Texas

A&M first unit. That makes eight of last week's second unit players on the first team this week. Myers moved Sam Byer into the starting fullback role.

Arkansas gridders went back to school for the second straight day — going over fundamentals.

"We are doing things over and over again and I think some of it is paying off," coach Frank Broyles said. The Razorbacks play Northwest Louisiana State Saturday.

Texas Christian, idle this week-end, ripped through another lengthy offensive and defensive drill.

Northern Michigan Tops Small College Rankings

NEW YORK (UPI) — Northern Michigan, faced with a possible forfeiture of its games this season, today widened its lead over Mississippi Southern in the United Press International small college football rankings.

The Michigan school raised its record to 5-1 last weekend by routing Illinois State Normal, 47-6, and thus gathered 14 first-place votes from the 35 coaches who comprise the board.

The NAIA is investigating Northern Michigan's star fullback, Gene Valesano, who may now be competing in his fifth season and thus may be ineligible.

Mississippi Southern, a 20-0 winner over Arkansas State last week, received 10 first-place votes. The point total showed Northern Michigan in front with 334 points compared to 209 for the Southerners.

Rodriguez And Lima Top Pro-Am Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The younger generation, ignoring the temptations offered in the world's greatest gambling city, are giving the seasoned pros the works in the 15,000 Sahara pro-amateur golf tournament.

As the final day of competition got underway today on two courses, there was only one well-known player among the top eight.

Hamilton. Each of the three amateur partners aided by getting a net eagle on the round.

Tied at 137 in the race are Al Balding, the top pro from Toronto, Ont., and George Bayer, Pasadena, Calif., and at 138 came Tommy Jacobs, Palm Springs, Calif., Jerry Frillman, Park Ridge, Ill., Hulen Coker, Colorado, Calif., and Priddy.

Packers' Dowler Called By Army

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi is rapidly learning the meaning of the phrase "it never rains but what it pours."

First came the news that Paul Hornung and Ray Nitschke had been called to active duty. Then, Wednesday, the XIV Army Corps confirmed that flanker back Boyd Dowler has been activated also.

That made three starters off a team that won the Western Division championship last year.

A bit of sunshine started peaking through the gloom this afternoon, however, with the announcement that Hornung may be rejected for military service because of long standing trouble with a vertebrae in his neck.

Officers of the center admitted Hornung had been given a physical, but refused to divulge details of the report that was forwarded to the surgeon general for a ruling.

Wogs Clin Cubs In Frosh Battle

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Christian Wogs survived a last ditch rally by the Baylor Cubs Wednesday night to win 22-16 in a first-swinging Southwest Conference freshman game before an estimated 25,000 fans.

TCU started fast and built up a 15-0 lead before Baylor could score. The Wogs points came on a 72-yard dash with an intercepted pass by quarterback Randy Howard of Dawson. Halfback Larry Bulaich bolted over for two points. Later in the second quarter fullback Bobby Barker roared 51 yards for a touchdown and the extra point was added.

Then, the Cubs caught fire. Quarterback Bobby Maples sailed a pass into the arms of halfback Jerry McKay on a 51-yard pass-and-run touchdown. Joe Gerald passed to McKay for two points and it was 15-8 at the half.

In the fourth period, the Wogs lengthened their lead to 22-8 on a nifty 19-yard scamper by Howard. Baylor came right back with a two-yard scoring scamper by fullback Ramsey Muniz. Gerald passed to Osborne Knudson for two points.

Texas Students Vote To Accept Negro Athletes

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Integration at the University of Texas moved another step forward today with students officially on record in favor of dropping the color barrier around intercollegiate athletics.

And Gwen Jordan of Houston became the first Negro to be elected to the student assembly.

Student leaders announced early today that a referendum on whether Negroes should be allowed to participate in varsity sports passed by a vote of 5,132 to 3,293.

It was a record vote in a fall election on the Texas campus.

The vote is a sounding board of student opinion and has no effect on school policy. The board of regents at the university had no immediate comment on the results of the election.

SELL 450 HORSES

YONKERS, N.Y. (UPI) — About 450 horses were sold for a total of $700,000 during the three-day old Glory Harness horse sale which ended Wednesday at Yonkers Raceway.

The top price at the auction was $25,000 paid for Irish Grattan, a 3-year-old chestnut son of Irish Hal.

Trick Or Treat

Report:

New CIA Scandal Brewing over Operations Of 2 Agents 'too Ill' To Return to U.S.

WASHINGTON — There is another blockbusting scandal brewing inside the Central Intelligence Agency that may be even more explosive than the agency's inept handling of the ill-fated Cuban invasion.

Two of the agency's top covert operatives overseas have suffered "nervous breakdowns."

They are refusing to return to the U.S. to face questioning on their own undercover operations and business ventures.

For security reasons, the only details of these intriguing cloak-and-dagger stories that can be published at this time are as follows:

CIA Agent No. 1 — This intelligence agent, who operates normally in Europe, is now in London, being treated. He claims to be suffering from a fatigue and a bad case of nerves.

CIA Agent No. 2 — This covert operative, who has held key post within the CIA here, is believed to be involved in a major illegal business transaction.

As far as this column can ascertain, neither of these CIA operatives has tried to defect to the Soviet Union, as rumors now persist in the Capitol.

The two cases are included in the "unfinished business" that retiring Director Allen Dulles is secretly discussing with John A. McCone, the new head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Also, the Justice Department is investigating the case of CIA Agent No. 1, after it was brought to their attention by sources other than the CIA.

He has asked top CIA officials why they have fallen down on major political events within Russia. His most pointed question: "Why hasn't the CIA succeeded in getting a single agent inside the Kremlin?"

National intelligence estimates of the CIA examined by McCone show that their agents have done a poor job in analyzing Soviet psychology.

They also indicate that the CIA gave insufficient warning of Russian interest in Africa and the decade long build-up of Russian influence among African leaders.

Persons close to McCone predict that he will discard the CIA's strong "Ivy League tradition," under which top officials are hired from the "right" schools and the "right" firms and from those who had the "right" social friends.

For instance, records of the agency show that under Dulles, the CIA held a strange attraction for many wealthy socialites and college graduates who could take it easy or strike it rich in other fields.

Of the 20 highest officials, 17 are graduates of Harvard, Yale, and American University. Dulles acknowledges that five of his top twenty are independently wealthy, earning as much from outside sources as they do from CIA.

McCone, who is going to direct a major overhaul of the agency, is planning to change all of this. He is going to hire as his top in the military and the FBI.

INSIDE THE CIA — Top officials in military intelligence believe that the Russians have succeeded in planting a number of operatives inside the CIA.

Representative Francis Walter, D. Pa., chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, is telling congressional friends that he plans to a gain push for a fullscale investigation of the CIA when Congress convenes in January.

Walter was unsuccessful in trying to get House leaders to back a similar probe earlier this year. However, if and when Majority Leader John McCormack, D. Mass., becomes speaker, Walter believes he will support his request.

Walter is shocked by the tremendous sums of money that the CIA has given Communist Dictator Tito since his alleged break with Stalin in 1945.

If he wins approval for his investigation, Walter plans to look into the agency's estimates on the situation inside East Germany. These estimates, according to persons who have read them, have all been drafted to discourage any U.S. effort to stir up unrest in that Soviet controlled regime.

For instance, one CIA estimate states, "We believe that it would be next to impossible to convince the USSR, and the East German regime, or the East German people that the West intended or had the capability to support widespread anti-regime activities."

Should We Strengthen The U.N.?

By DR. V. ORVAL WATTS

INSTALLMENT 5 COMMUNISTS IN THE UNITED NATIONS

Everyone knows, of course, that the Soviet Union has a permanent seat and veto in the Security Council. Not so many know it has 2 seats in the UN Assembly for 1 for the United States.

But these delegations in the Council and the Assembly are only the beginning of Communist penetration of the UN and probably the least important part of it.

For example, 2 judges out of 15 on the International Court of Justice come from Communist states, only 1 from the United States.

In addition, by agreement and energetic effort, Communists hold hundreds of key posts in the Secretariat of several thousand employees who do most of the real work of the UN.

Throughout the Korean War, as well as before it and afterward, a Communist has been the First Assistant Secretary-General for the Department of Security Council Affairs.

This widespread Communist infiltration into the UN working force is all the greater because in few countries except the United States are Communists barred from government jobs at home or abroad, and few places offer a Communist a better opportunity to carry on his subversive activity than the UN.

These UN Communists are disciplined agents of a world-wide conspiracy, dedicated to world conquest by any and every means.

Permeating the UN Organization, these enemies of mankind are in a position to press and push their subversive and divisive line into every discussion and resolution, every report and publication, every plan and action of the UN and its host of agencies.

Hankering

By HENRY McELMORE

I had not planned to make an analysis of Khrushchev's speech to the 22nd Congress of the Communist Party until I was warmed by a kindly colleague that I had better if I wanted to get ahead.

International affairs are a big stuff these days," he told me. "You have to get in the swim or flounder on the bank. The fact that you have never been to Russia makes no difference. You know as much about what goes on in Khrushchev's mind, or behind the locked doors of the Kremlin, as anyone else. Cut loose boy."

Sound advice, and I took it. To simplify the job, I broke Khrushchev's speech into sections. First five hours, second six hours and on and on for succeeding days.

Even such a novice as I at international affairs could not help but notice right away that K's speech was long. He would never do as the speaker at a Kiwanis or Lion's Club luncheon. Everybody's business would go to pot before they got back to work.

For a while, I thought he was going to break Castro's mark for long-windedness, but he stopped two hours short of "The Beard's" record, probably as a gesture of friendliness toward the land of hot sun, sandy beaches, and firing squads.

The West must not forget that K is a great water drinker. In weighing his attitude toward West Berlin, the Free World leaders must never lose sight of the fact that K drank 22 and 3/4 bottles (pint) of mineral water during his address. That's most significant. It could be that he plans to drown our grandchildren, not bury them.

A point that must not be overlooked is that the Soviet Premier did not once remove a shoe during his talk. This could be very meaningful. Russia's chiropodists are ahead of ours, perhaps. And a country that has the best chiropodists often has the best technicians in other fields. America needs to make a sweeping study of its chiropodists, so say I.

No one could overlook Khrushchev's unwillingness to ignite a 100-megaton bomb for fear it would break all the windows in Russia. To me (an old international hand by now) this was the most significant part of the entire speech.

Khrushchev loves windows. Now we know his weakness. The thought of a broken window pales him, causes him acute distress. Men, women, and children may die by the millions from fallout, and he can take it. But the sight of a shattered window pane — no.

So, the West's answer is obvious. Build an Army geared for window smashing. Assault troops armed with BB guns and slingshots. A Corps of small boys equipped with baseballs and bats. Mass such troops on the border and make it clear that one aggressive move on the part of Russia and its putty frame in all Russia. Many of us experts believe this would keep the Russians a bay. It is certainly worth the consideration of our military leaders.

The speech proved that Khrushchev, no matter the rumors, has complete control over his countrymen. Otherwise, half of the congress members would have left when he started the fiftieth hour of his talk. Only fright or loyalty or both would keep a man in his chair for that long.

The development of new and efficient small businesses is one of the basic props to a competitive economy. However, to subsidize small business by arbitrary government policy gunfencing before the shrine of smallness makes no more sense than to discriminate in favor of bigness.

Unless or until we are prepared to let free market forces and the movement of goods perform much of the work of maintaining competition, government policy probably will continue to be inconsistent and self-defeating. In turn, this does not add that respect for government which it should have, but must earn.

Daughter — Mother, I just took a splinter out of my hand with a pin. Mother — A pin! Don't you know that's dangerous? Daughter — Oh, no, Mother, I used a safety pin.

Elsie — Willie and I have been down stairs in the dining room. Mr. Smith, we've been playing Husband and Wife. Mr. Smith — How did you do that, my dear? Elsie — Why, Willie sat at one end of the table, and I sat at the other, and Willie said, "This food isn't fit to eat!" and I said, "It's all you'll get!" and Willie said, "Damn!" and I got up and left the room!

Talking To Composer Kept Writer Buzzing

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hank Fort is a member of the female sex. Of that I am certain. Beyond that, however, the details are somewhat blurred.

The difficulty is, you see, that Hank is also a sort of perpetual motion machine. Interviewing her is like trying to get a grasshopper and a Mexican jumping bean to hold still for a group photograph.

But in Washington she is noted mostly for her ability to compose songs for any occasion. She is, therefore, in big demand on the social circuit.

She not only knows most of the capital's celebrities but has saluted a goodly percentage of them with special compositions, usually written for parties. Those who have been thus honored include:

Perle Mesta ("Protocol"), Sen. Estes Kefauver ("The Long Tall Guy In The Coonskin Cap"), Speaker Sam Rayburn ("We Salute You, Mr. Sam"), Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson ("Lady Bird")

New Discoveries Made Concerning Mongolism

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy's drive to improve the lot of retarded children highlights new scientific answers for critical questions pertaining to mongolism.

One question is: Do the parents of one child afflicted with mongolism have a greater-than-random chance of becoming parents of a second such child?

Another question is: Can science now identify the parents of one mongolism child with the highest risk of becoming parents of a second?

These new answers come from the Institute of Child Health of the Hospital for Sick Children in London which over the past few years has made a number of notable contributions to scientific understanding of the causes and handling of retardation.

A tiny but stable percentage of live births are of babes afflicted with mongolism. That percentage is the random chance which all parents are presumed to be subject to. Two statistical studies, one in 1934 and the other in 1956, indicated parents of one mongolism child ran no greater than the random chance of having a second.

Texas committee, formed to attract the moon-shoot program to White Sands.

and the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy ("Don't Tell Joe"). In addition, she has saluted such groups as the National Democratic Women's Party ("We Want Jenny"), the American Field Service ("Our Little World"), and the Press Photographers' Association ("Say Cheese").

Hank, herself doesn't know how many songs she has composed. But she can tell you the details of how each came to be written. To me, her greatest achievement was the song she did for a dance at a home for unwed mothers. The title: "It's Leap Year."

Pershing Stamp Ready Nov. 17

A new 8-cent regular postage stamp design, portraying General of the Armies John J. Pershing (1860 - 1948) will be released in New York, New York, on November 17, 1961, to coincide with the opening of the 13th Annual A.S.D.A. Show at the 71st Infantry Regiment Armory, according to O.K. Gaylor, Pampa postmaster.

Each envelope must be marked, in pencil, in the upper right corner indicating the number of stamps to be affixed (singles, pairs, blocks, etc.). An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. The outside envelopes to be clearly marked "FIRST DAY COVERS 8 cents PERSHING STAMP" Orders for first day covers must not include requests for uncanceled stamps.

Storm's Disaster Area Expanded By Kennedy's Order

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy made four more Texas areas eligible for disaster relief today and allotted $8 million to provide help.

He acted in response to a request from Texas Gov. Price Daniel. His order represented an expansion of a previously authorized program, in which he allotted funds Sept. 16 for hurricane relief in Texas areas.

Those added today included Victoria County and three Harris County subdivisions—the Channelview Independent School District, the Harris County Fresh Water Supply District Eight at Baytown and the Harris County Water Control and Improvement District 55 at Seabrook.

The federal program of aid for "major disaster" areas allots funds for the reconstruction of public facilities.

Business As Usual WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. merchandise licensed for shipment to communist countries jumped 800 per cent, a $6.3 million increase in recent weeks despite the Berlin crisis.
