UN Secretary's Death Increases Crisis In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The Congo crisis worsened today as a result of the death of Dag Hammarskjold. Katanga forces and United Nations troops battled sporadically for control of Elizabethville.

Fatal UN Air Crash Is Probed

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI) — The body of United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold rested in a lead-lined casket in a small Ndola hospital today while investigators sought the cause of the plane crash that killed him on his last peace mission.

The only survivor of the crash, Sgt. Harold Julian, a U.N. security guard from the United States, said he heard "explosions" just before the big four-engine DC-8B crashed early Monday in a wooded area six miles from Ndola Airport.

Houston To Get Huge Space Flight Plant

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The Space Agency today picked Houston, Tex., as the site of a $160 million laboratory which will serve as "command center" for manned flights to the moon in this decade and to the planets later.

Construction of the center is expected to get under way late this year or early next.

Red Cross Asks $2,954 Storm Disaster Fund

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa Red Cross Chapter announced Pampa has received an assessment of $2,954 for Pampa's part in the Hurricane Carla Disaster Fund.

Collections, which have been mailed to national headquarters from Pampa, total $532.00 to date, Mrs. Shotwell said.

Hurricane Awaited On Coast

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Hurricane Esther aimed its 150 mile an hour winds today at the battered down North Carolina coast and its whirling center was expected to pass near Cape Hatteras, N. C. late tonight or early Wednesday.

The Miami Weather Bureau warned residents in low lying areas from Cherry Point, N. C. to the Virginia capes to seek high ground with suitable shelter immediately.

The bureau said the "large and dangerous" hurricane will cause gale winds along the North Carolina and Virginia coast this morning and hurricane force winds late this afternoon or tonight.

Gale warnings were hoisted north of the Virginia capes to Cape May, N. J. and over the south half of the Chesapeake Bay.

"Residents in those areas should be ready for quick action in case it is necessary to issue hurricane warnings," the bureau added.

A 4 a.m. CST bulletin located the fierce storm near latitude 30.7 north, longitude 71.8 west or about 360 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and 580 miles east of the Georgia-Florida boundary. Esther was moving on a northwest course at 14 m.p.h., sending hurricane force winds 170 miles in the northeast and 110 miles to the southwest.

As the season's fifth tropical storm moved up the Atlantic, military installations along the Eastern Seaboard put evacuation plans into effect. Ships in naval bases at Jacksonville, Fla., Charleston, S.C., and Norfolk scurried to safer waters. Naval and Marine aircraft were flown inland.

The Navy removed personnel from one Texas Tower off Nantucket Island, Mass., by helicopter Monday and said another tower off Chatham, Mass., would be cleared by surface vessel today. Texas Towers are tall, steel structures in the Atlantic off the New England coast which serve as part of the nation's defense and navigation systems.

The Miami Weather Bureau said Monday that research planes dropped chemicals on Esther during the weekend which "tended to reduce the storm intensity or movement."

Pampa Woman Fatally Injured In One-Car Highway Accident

DEATH SCENE — This is the automobile in which Mrs. Chester Nicholson, 323 Bear, was killed early today on Highway 152 near Skellytown. Mrs. Nicholson lost control of her vehicle and skidded into an embankment after passing another automobile during a rain storm. Jack Morton, Highway Patrolman, is shown here picking up the windshield of the automobile which was blasted out by the impact.

Daniel Rebuked By State Solon Over Storm Aid

GALVESTON (UPI) — State Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston Monday criticized Gov. Price Daniel for not moving faster in helping victims of Hurricane Carla and renewed his demand for an immediate special session of the Texas legislature.

"Other than the promise of Texas highway department equipment, the state of Texas has not established any rehabilitation program to even attempt to fulfill our state responsibility," Stewart said.

He said the legislature should go into an emergency session to meet the states "financial responsibility to aid the disaster-stricken areas."

Stewart said the state constitution provides for "the grant of aid in cases of public calamity" and pointed out one thing the legislature could accomplish was to remit taxes such as ad valorem levies and the sales tax to stricken areas.

He said the only comment he has received from Daniel is that the governor is "studying the request" for a special session.

"State's rights means state's responsibility," Stewart said. "State's rights are not the rights to do nothing."

"I am sick and tired of politicians who bleat about state's rights on the campaign platform but when the time comes for state action, and state financial responsibility, are the first ones to cry out for 100 per cent federal aid."

Commissioners Delay One-Way Street Plan

Pampa's City Commission has requested that the firm of Kock, Fowler and Grafe, Inc., Dallas planning engineers, send a representative to Pampa to discuss with the commissioners a private contract for a continuation of the urban planning project.

Action of the City Commission was announced at this morning's regular meeting of the commission at which there was further discussion of the urban project. At present the city owes the planning engineers an undetermined sum on the original contract which was in effect until it was recently set aside and arrangements made for the negotiation of a private contract with the planning engineers.

The engineering firm had requested that the city send a representative to Dallas. In reply the City Commission asked that the engineering representative come to Pampa so that the full membership of the commission could participate in any further discussions with reference to the matter.

Another important discussion arose this morning when it was proposed by the Traffic Commission that Frost street be designated as a one-way street from Francis south to Foster to pass the city water office in City Hall. The water office plans the installation of a drive-in window and the making of a portion of Frost street a one-way thoroughfare would be an accommodation to citizens, the traffic commission contended.

The proposal also included making Russell street north from Atchison street to Francis a one-way thoroughfare.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, Police Chief Jim Conner and Floyd Imel expressed opposition to the proposal but also expressed willingness to go along with any plan in the public interest. Action on the proposal was delayed until the next meeting of the commission next Tuesday.

Joint Airborne Exercise Slated

TAIPEI (UPI) — American and Nationalist Chinese paratroopers will participate in joint airborne exercises in southern Formosa this month, it was announced Monday. The U.S. Formosa Defense Command here said the eight-day maneuvers will start next Monday.

Lola Nicholson Killed As Auto Skids Off Road

Mrs. Chester (Lola) Nicholson, 48, 323 Bear, was killed, apparently instantly, early this morning when the automobile she was driving veered off the highway near Skellytown and ramed into an embankment. Mrs. Nicholson was believed to have been thrown through the windshield of the car. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital to which she was brought in a Duenkel-Carmichael Home ambulance.

Mrs. Nicholson left home about 7 o'clock this morning, according to information obtained by Patrolmen Jack Morton and Bob Loving of the Panhandle Highway Patrol unit. The accident occurred about 30 minutes later. She was enroute to her work as a bookkeeper for the Lindsey Furniture Co. in Borger. She had been employed by the company since 1951.

Patrolmen Morton and Loving said that their investigation disclosed that Mrs. Nicholson passed another automobile near where the Sante Fe railway spur crosses Highway 152 at Skellytown. As she passed the automobile in front of her car and attempted to pull back into the right lane, she apparently lost control.

There was a rather heavy down-fall of rain at the time, the patrolmen said, and Mrs. Nicholson's car apparently skidded out of control. The compact 1959 Opel rammed into an embankment beside the road. The windshield was blasted out and Mrs. Nicholson apparently tumbled through it.

The Highway Patrol did not announce the names of the witnesses to the accident who were in the car Mrs. Nicholson passed. Immediately behind Mrs. Nicholson's car was one or two men in a pickup truck who also witnessed the accident, the patrolmen said.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home and will be announced later.

Mrs. Nicholson, born Jan. 14, 1913, was the widow of Chester Nicholson, Pampa automobile dealer, who died Aug. 31, 1959. She had been making her home with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bessie Nicholson, age 90.

Cold Front Due To Hit State Soon

Canadian and Pacific cold fronts bolted toward Texas today and the Weather Bureau said the masses of cooler air should arrive in the state sometime Wednesday or Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said the two cold air masses would probably merge into one front by the time they reached Texas. Generally, temperatures were expected to be lowered 10 to 15 degrees with passage of the fronts.

As predicted the cold front was preceded in Pampa and vicinity early this morning by rainfall, reported rather heavy in some nearby sections. Rolling thunder, an apparent herald of the coming of fall and winter, followed frequent but unimpressive lightning.

Rainfall in Pampa this morning totalled .27 inch as of 11 o'clock.

The rainfall was reported early in the morning at Dalhart and moved into the Pampa vicinity and in the downtown area about 7:45 this morning.

A slight warming trend in the state was expected until the masses of cold air arrive.

Texas enjoyed another mild, dry fall-like day Monday. Galveston recorded the low maximum with 77 degrees. Presidio had the highest temperature not only in Texas but the nation with 97 degrees.

Skies were clear over most of the state except for the Panhandle region which was cloudy. Overnight temperatures ranged from 55 at Lufkin to 75 degrees at Victoria.

School Boy Kidnaps 40-Year-Old Texan

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — A sixth grade boy only 10 or 11 years old kidnaped a 40-year-old man with a stolen shotgun today and ordered him to speed off westward in a stolen truck.

The boy left behind a Boy Scout manual with the name of an Arlington, Tex., youngster in it. The man he kidnaped was Alton Compton.

The boy went into Compton's Handley Hardware store and told the owner, Frank C. Compton, 69, Alton's father, that he was in the sixth grade and writing a theme on hardware stores for his teacher.

He said he wanted to look around to get material for his theme. Compton told him to go ahead.

Compton went off to the bank and when he returned found the boy holding a shotgun, stolen from the back of the store, on Alton Compton.

"Dad, this boy is robbing us," Alton Compton said.

"The boy took my son out the back way and made him drive away in our pickup truck," the elder Compton said.

He said he was too badly shaken to determine at once whether the boy took anything except the shotgun.

"I thought at first the boy was kidding," the elder Compton said.

Confused UN Assembly Elects President Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's death plunged the opening day of the 16th General Assembly into shock, sorrow and confusion today.

Ambassador Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, outgoing assembly president, planned to gavel the delegates of 99 countries to order on schedule at 2 p.m. CST.

He said he would go ahead with the election of the assembly's new president, Mongi-Slim, senior diplomat from Tunisia. Slim was assured of election when Dr. Ali Sastroamidjojo of Indonesia announced Monday he was withdrawing as a candidate.

Hammarskjold's death overshadowed the main business of the assembly — including the ques-

Castro Claimed Planning To Nationalize Children

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government is preparing to nationalize the children of Cuba, refugees here said today.

Members of the DRE organization, an anti-Castro student group, gave United Press International what they said was a copy of a decree soon to be published in Havana authorizing the government to take children from their parents at the age of 3.

The draft decree, said to have been smuggled out of Cuba, says children of that age are to be put into state institutions for "physical and mental education and training for citizenship."

Children aged 3 to 10 would be allowed to see their families at least two days a month. Young Cubans over 10, however, "could be assigned to the most appropriate place for cultural instruction... taking into account the interests of the nation."

This provision of the draft decree recalled reports that the Castroites are shipping youngsters to Russia for Communist indoctrination.

The decree also forbids underage Cubans to leave their homeland, either on their own or with their parents.

Ramsey Becomes Member Of State Rail Commission

AUSTIN (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey took the oath of Texas Railroad Commissioner yesterday and warned "if the trends toward foreign oil imports continue, we commissioners may really be out of a job in the near future."

Ramsey stepped down as presiding officer of the Texas Senate after an unprecedented six terms as lieutenant governor. His vacancy will be filled by Sen. Bruce Reigan of Corpus Christi, who as president pro-tem of the Senate will preside until the next election or until the next special session of the legislature.

Ramsey was appointed to the three-member agency by Gov. Price Daniel Aug. 17. He was named to fill the vacancy created by the death of Olin Culberson. He must run for the remainder of Culberson's unexpired term next year.

More than 1,200 persons were in the Senate chamber for the 20-minute ceremony at which state Supreme Court Justice Robert administered the oath of office.

Brief speeches were made by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center and Reagan.

Radio-Activity Increase Bared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sharp increases in ground-level radioactivity occurred over the weekend in 13 eastern and northern states as a result of Russia's nuclear tests, the U.S. Public Health Service reported today.

Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff said, however, that he was assured by the PHS that radiation levels of this range do not pose a public health threat unless sustained over a long period of time.

New Satellite Circling Globe

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI)—A 25-foot-long Discoverer Satellite, the 21st of its family to orbit successfully, today circled the earth at about 18,000 miles an hour.

Discoverer XXII was fired Sunday, and the Air Force announced an hour and a half later that it had attained orbit around the globe.

The purpose of the launch was to gather additional data on effects of radiation in outer space, the Air Force said. A capsule containing scientific instruments was attached to the satellite's nose cone. It will be detached within four days by a radio signal from the ground.

Snare-trailing planes and surface ships with recovery equipment will attempt to catch the capsule in the Pacific near Hawaii.

Eight capsules have been recovered so far in the program.

GM Back In Limited Production

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp., driving for an end Wednesday of a crippling eight-day strike, tried today to settle local plant contracts and remaining national problems still holding up full agreement.

GM, the world's largest auto maker, was back in limited production but nearly 200,000 workers had not yet returned to their jobs. Settlements had been reached at 75 plants, with 44 to go.

UAW president Walter P. Reuther and GM vice president Louis G. Seaton tackled the four remaining problems the union is pressing — an anti-discrimination clause, more union commitment to process grievances, and an end to compulsory overtime and foremen working union jobs.

They were expected to bargain through the night in hopes of wrapping up a new contract in time for a meeting of the UAW's 280-member GM council Wednesday. If the council approves the package, GM could resume full production by the end of the week.

The first vehicle to roll off a GM assembly line in a week was produced Monday in Pontiac, Mich. — a light duty pickup truck made by the GMC truck and coach division. GM said car production would begin today at the main Oldsmobile plant in Lansing, Mich.

Adenauer Seeks To Retain Rule

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer summoned leaders of his Christian Democratic Party today in his battle to remain as West Germany's leader despite the loss of an absolute majority in parliament.

Leaders of West Germany's other two major parties also held separate strategy sessions on a new coalition government that is expected to be formed next month.

West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt arranged to meet with other Social Democratic Party officials and Erich Mende planned talks with his Free Democrats.

Although Adenauer captured the most votes, he actually emerged as the loser in Sunday's elections because his Christian Democrats lost their absolute majority.

The Free Democrats (FDP) increased their seats in parliament from 41 to 56. Although they are the smallest of the "big three," the balance of power rests with the Free Democrats.

The Social Democratic Party now has 190 seats to the Christian Democrats' 243. Brandt and his followers want an all-party coalition government, but both the Christian Democrats and the Free Democrats have flatly rejected their bid.

The Free Democrats are willing to support the Christian Democrats—but only if Adenauer bows out of the picture. They are backing another Christian Democrat, Adenauer's running mate, Vice Chancellor and Economics Minister, Ludwig Erhard.

Trial Of Lawyer Gets Under Way In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI)— The state yesterday opened its case in the murder trial of Jack Mackin, a Fort Worth attorney charged in the slaying of a swimming pool contractor.

Attorneys finished four days of selecting a jury Saturday and seated a panel of 11 men and one woman to hear the case. Both sides expect the trial to be completed this week.

The district attorney, meanwhile, has filed charges of jury tampering against James Russell Clardy, a used car dealer also charged in connection with the slaying.

The charges arose from testimony Friday by Richard Dum Abbott, 22, a reserve deputy sheriff and student at Texas Christian University who said he was a friend of Clardy's.

Eight-Day Oil Output Schedule Set For October

AUSTIN (UPI)— The Texas Railroad Commission today followed the advice of a majority of oil purchasers and ordered an eight day oil production schedule for the month of October.

The commission set daily production at 2,633,214 barrels, a decrease of 48,490 from the average September production.

Commission Chairman Bill Murray said the decrease resulted from proration over a 31 day month, rather than a 30 day month, but said the decrease would be made up by new production.

John Crutchfield, representing Corpus Christi independent producer, also recommended an eight day schedule, but said his group would have asked for nine days had not Hurricane Carla shut down the refineries.

Texas Armored Guard Will Get Call To Service

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two National Guard divisions, the 32nd Infantry Division of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored of Texas, are being called to active duty, it was learned today.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was expected to issue the formal announcement at a news conference scheduled this afternoon. McNamara also was expected to announce reopening of one or more army training camps.

The two guard divisions, along with National Guard outfits in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, had been alerted September 6 to be ready for possible active duty.

It was understood the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania guardsmen would not be called immediately.

The Wisconsin and Texas divisions will increase the Army's ready combat strength to 16 divisions.

There have been reports the Guard divisions might be sent overseas if it was decided to hold the army's airborne troops in reserve in the United States.

Crossword Puzzles
Cause Cross Words

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a crossword puzzle nut. That's the first thing she goes for in the newspaper, and heaven help anyone who bothers her while she is working a crossword puzzle.

She has work books of crossword puzzles, and is always on the lookout for more. She even takes them to bed with her. If she gets stumped, her disposition is ruined. I can't even get a kiss from her until she's finished her crossword puzzle. How does a husband buck competition like this?

FOUR-LETTER-WORD MEANING DOPE

DEAR DOPE: Only a big sinner would surrender to a lot of little sinners. The 5-letter word that should give a woman a feeling of complete achievement, satisfaction and pleasure, is HUBBY — not HOBBY.

DEAR ABBY: I have a son six months old, and I want to take him for a hair-cut, but every time I mention it to a friend or relative they tell me not to because they say it will keep him from talking at an early age. Is this true? Also, how old do you think a boy should be before he gets his first hair-cut?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: There is NO truth in the story that a hair-cut will deter a baby from talking at an early age. A boy should have his first hair-cut when he starts to look like a girl wearing boys' clothes.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, I was a widow with two children, and he was a widower with three. We have been married four years now and

I have adopted his children and he has adopted mine. We all have the same surname and are a very happy family. My only problem is inquisitive friends who constantly ask, "Which children are yours and which are your husband's?" I am sometimes asked this in the presence of the children and this puzzles them because they know they all belong to both of us. How should I handle this?

TONGUE - TIED

DEAR TONGUE - TIED: When faced with this rude question reply, "They are all OUR children." If the curious persist, call a halt to it by adding, "Why don't we skip it? It's not very important."

CONFIDENTIAL TO GRANDMA OF TWELVE: If all the sins of your own lifetime were contained in one big stone, could you lift it high enough to throw at an unwed mother?

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

CLEAN BEFORE STORING

Vacuum or dust with a stiff brush all crevices, cone or wicker furniture before washing and storing. And wash with well-wrung-out sponge or cloth. Too much dampness tends to warp such furniture.

A good many American women are returning to business once their children are grown. This mature woman knows how important good grooming is in the business world. She has her hair styled but she knows how to care for it at home.

Good Grooming Habits Important To Career Gal

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper-Enterprise Assn.

American women, whose children no longer require full-time attention, are putting their new-found leisure to profitable use. Many are going back to school to explore new interests or to brush up on neglected skills. They've found that sitting on the sidelines once the children are grown up is dull fare, indeed.

If you're a member of this admirable group, you know how important it is to work out a schedule that will enable you to handle efficiently your household duties, give you time for study, personal grooming and congenial hours with your family.

Unless you budget your time wisely, you run the risk of feeling unable to cope with your new responsibilities.

Your grooming program will be particularly important, for if you haven't kept up with the latest fashions, hair styles, and make-up, you may feel at a disadvantage surrounded by people much younger than yourself. This doesn't mean you should try to dress like a teen-ager. Nothing could be more fatal to your appearance.

But as a smartly dressed, well-groomed woman, you can prove to the young people how attractive mature charm can be.

Cleanliness is the basis of beauty at any age. And it won't take much time out of your busy day to be scrupulously clean.

Take your daily bath whenever you feel you'll benefit most from a soothing soak in a warm tub, and keep your face fresh during the day with an occasional soap-suds-facial. They require just a few minutes of your time.

Another essential on your beauty program is frequent defuzzing of legs and underarms, and this, too, can be handled quickly.

Your hair, of course, plays a predominant role in your appearance, for your hair style can date you. Keep it in clean, shining condition, and have it styled simply enough to care for at home in one of the new, short coiffures.

Use big rollers when you set your wave to produce a soft curl. You'll find that using large rollers instead of bobby pins saves time as well. Setting your hair will be much less tedious.

Try out the new shades of make-up. They take no longer to apply than the colors you've been using for years and can give you a brand-new look. Go lightly, though. Make-up should look natural, not garish.

You've devoted years to your children's welfare, and now's the time to give mom a break. Your beauty program will give you confidence in your appearance, and classes, and your family will be proud of the new you.

MATURE PARENT

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My two boys have just come home after spending six weeks with my ex-husband and his new wife. Their father sent them home after the 9-year-old ran away when his father told him that there was no hope of any reconciliation between him and me now that he was remarried. My ex-husband blames me for encouraging the child to hope that we might get together again. Mrs. Lawrence, I've done no such thing. I...

ANSWER: Your son may not be so interested in a reconciliation between you and his father as he is in knowing that he is not responsible for your separation. He may have run away from his father's home because the end of hope of your reconciliation was also the end of hope of releasing himself from blame for causing your divorce.

As I have said before in this column, children of divorce often blame themselves for causing their parents' trouble.

Such a guilt-burdened child cannot ask us to relieve him of it. His sense of mysterious responsibility for our marital failure is too frightening to be allowed to come into his full awareness.

So he will indirectly ask us for relief from it by insisting on a parental reconciliation that will absolve him of blame for separating his father and mother.

Parents often fail to understand this, and will say, "No, you must get it straight in your head that your mother and I don't love each other any more and don't want to live together again" when the child persists in demanding that they come together again. So the real question he's asking remains unanswered. Nobody says:

"Look, you had nothing whatever to do with our decision to get a divorce. Nothing you ever did to us made us quarrel. We quarreled over what we did to each other."

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER
Senior Citizens Center

Senior Citizens welcomed several newcomers to the Center for the first time on Thursday afternoon. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Simmons, 632 N. Nelson who were celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary, and G. T. Jackson of Miami. There must have been others among the large number present, whose name we were unable to get.

We missed Mrs. J. L. Love, Mrs. Bessie Nicholson and Mrs. Katie Vincent, who were unable to attend.

It was nice to have as special guests John Koonz, city manager and L. P. Fort, city commissioner, who visited with us in celebration of our fifth anniversary.

Other guests were Mrs. G. G. Grant of Melrose, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Frost of Caney, Kan., who are visiting Mr. Frost's father, Uncle Billy Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sidwell had as their guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Phillips, old friends from Winfield, Kan.

Mrs. Bill Davis was a guest of Mrs. Myrtle Enloe last week, during which Mrs. Enloe and Mrs. Davis went to Amarillo for a combination business and pleasure trip.

Norman Zahn of Atchison, Kan. is visiting with his brother, A. B. Zahn, 832 N. Somerville. He came to our meeting on Thursday to enjoy the games and fellowship. He always attends our meetings when in Pampa.

N. T. Applegate was reported quite ill and recently underwent surgery in Worley Hospital.

M. M. Norris is still in Highland General Hospital, but Mrs. Norris, who did such a wonderful job in helping to plan the anniversary party between trips to the hospital, was able to be present. Senior Citizens themselves were hosts this year and there were a few over 100 people present. Ice cream, coffee, mints, and pies of every flavor and types were provided by the Senior Citizens.

Mrs. Norris' granddaughter, Betty Richardson got a group of her high school friends, Karen Griggs, Peggy Brice, Nancy Burke, Nancy Andrews and Priscilla Dobbins, to come down after school and help the Altirus members serve. Mrs. Norris' daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, provided a lovely floral arrangement of white gladiol and Beauty Buds for the refreshment table.

The Rev. Roy Curtis, interim pastor for the First Christian Church, made a courtesy call during the afternoon and we hope he will come again.

Mrs. Mollie Hetchcock was back at the Center on Thursday following a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Brydie Osborne in Wichita Falls. Let us all pray for peace. Love, Mrs. Wagner, guest reporter.

Mrs. Jack Howard Hostess To Club

The Merten Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Howard 1400 E. Browning for an all-day meeting.

The program opened at 10:30 a. m. with a report from the THDA state convention given by Mrs. Roy Tinsley, a member of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club.

A salad luncheon was served at noon.

In the afternoon, Miss Lou Ella Patterson, home demonstration agent, gave a program and showed films on "Posture, Patience and Perseverance."

Miss Patterson demonstrated how housework could be done easier and less tiring, if one worked using the right posture.

Guests were Meses. Bennie Roach and Linda; J. T. Crawford and Jamie, Roy Tinsley; W. G. Kinzer, Boyd Brown, N. B. Cude, Shelby Hood and Miss Patterson. Members present were Meses. Douglas Flynn and Debbie, A.M. Nash, Vard Smith, T. G. Groves, and Jack Prather.

It was announced that the next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Douglas Flynn, Sinclair-Merten Camp on Sept. 18 at 1:30 p.m.

FLAVOR DIFFERENCE

If you wonder why an egg-containing recipe changes flavor from time to time, look to the eggs. Top-quality eggs tend to give consistent flavor results.

Orientation Acquaints Parents With Studies

Mrs. Macfield McDaniel, president of Stephen F. Austin PTA, opened the first unit meeting of the new year on Thursday night by welcoming parents and teachers. New members in the unit were introduced. Dr. Bob Sybert gave the invocation.

Mrs. Jim Campbell, secretary, read the recommendations of the executive board, which met at 1 p.m. on Thursday. Members approved the recommendations that 1) the budget submitted by Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer's committee be accepted; 2) that Mrs. McDaniel and D. V. Biggers, school principal, be the unit's delegates to the state PTA convention to be held in Houston Nov. 29 through Dec. 1; 3) that Mrs. George Snell be elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. G. M. Martin as parliamentarian.

Members were invited to take the Procedure Course offered Sept. 18 by the City Council PTA in the First Methodist Church. It was announced that Mrs. F. C. McConnell, state vice president, would explain the state PTA's stand on Federal Aid to Education at 9 a.m. preceding the course at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Foster Elder urged members to participate in the City Council PTA's study course on Civil Defense to begin Oct. 5 in Lamar School. "The Need For Civil Defense" will be the topic instructed by Mrs. Robert Skinner Jr. of Amarillo. She announced there will be seven study courses led by Mrs. Skinner on consecutive Thursday mornings from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. in various schools.

Chairmen of all standing committees were introduced by Mrs. McDaniel and they, in turn, gave committee reports.

Jack Edmondson, school superintendent, was introduced as a special guest. Following the business meeting, parents went to their respective children's room for a continuation of the evening's program. Each teacher gave a 30-minute talk explaining the purposes and objectives of her classroom work for the coming year. Each classroom held a question and answer period conducted by the teacher.

Mrs. W. D. Price Jr. announced that year books would be distributed at Family Night planned for Oct. 20.

Mrs. Charles Lanehart, membership chairman, stated that presently there are 461 members and that the membership drive would be intensified on Family Night.

Maynard Johnson introduced Frank Heare, new cubmaster of Pack 110, which is sponsored by the Austin unit.

Mrs. Rex Little, faculty member, won the door prize, a cake baked by Mrs. Kenneth Reeves.

Faculty members, introduced by Mr. Biggers, were presented corsages by Mrs. Lanehart. The corsages, fashioned of gold ribbon and PTA seals, were made by Mrs. C. C. Dunham.

The orientation program was praised by the parents and was considered a prime factor in the outstanding PTA attendance, according to Mrs. McDaniel.

Refreshments were served to more than 400 members from a table arranged by Mrs. William T. Fain and Mrs. C. C. Dunham, co-chairmen of the hospitality committee assisted by Mrs. D. S. Tracy and Mrs. E. H. Ousley Jr.

Children of parents attending the PTA were entertained with movies in the cafeteria.

Interests In Children Discussed At Mann PTA

Mrs. Howard Holt, program vice president, introduced Mrs. James Lewis and McHenry Lane, high school curriculum coordinator, as the guest speakers at the Thursday afternoon meeting of Horace Mann PTA.

Mrs. Alvin Reeves
Mann Prexy

In remarks pertaining to "What I Expect Of A Teacher", Mrs. Lewis said, "Before I answer that question, I would ask myself, will I be willing, when the teacher calls, to go to the teacher and accept what she says? Will I be behind my child? Will I accept the fact if my child is not outstanding? Don't expect the teacher to do what you can't accomplish at home. Accept children as God gave them to us, instead of what we want them to be. I expect the teacher to be a kind person and a good person. I expect her to be of deep-seated religious faith. I want her to love my child and my child to love and respect her in return. Don't expect more of the teacher than you are willing to give your child."

Mr. Lane went on to say, "Set a high moral standard for yourself and your child. As a parent you have a responsibility for their work habits, health, rest, environment, saying no and being there when you are needed. You have a responsibility of teaching them to cooperate and to give them the desire to cooperate. Understand your child. Understand the teacher. Understand the school program. Without understanding you are ineffective."

A devotional by Sam Beger, "Ruth Millett" Gardening has become a fight between you and the bugs, and no matter how much you water, the ground seems forever dry and thirsty.

You have days of thinking that if you hear the question "What can I do?" just one more time you'll scream. And it has become harder and harder to keep your voice low and reasonable when you are called on to settle a childish squabble.

You have plenty of clothes in your closet but when you really want to look your best every dress you try on looks a bit limp and dispirited.

The lists of things that need to be done seem to grow longer no matter how many you knock off each week.

There are a lot of things you should do around the house that you keep putting off.

The days seem long and a little too much alike.

The vacation trip you took not so very long ago seems a long way back.

You are in and out of your car so many times each day chauffeuring children here and there that there never seems to be any time for yourself.

You begin to wonder what is the matter with you.

Nothing is the matter with you except that it is the end of summer. It happens that way every year — doesn't it, in the last weeks before the youngsters go back to school, before the heat wave finally breaks, before the start of fall activities?

So it's nothing to worry about at all. There's nothing wrong with you that the beginning of a new season won't cure.

school principal, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Alvin Reeves, unit president, extended a welcome to new members and invited them to have an active part in PTA work.

Mrs. Holt outlined the programs for the year: OCT. 12, 2:15 p.m., Civil Defense; NOV. 9, 7 p.m., Open House; DEC. 14, 2:15 p.m., Dr. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of First Methodist Church guest speaker; FEB. 8, 2:15 p.m., John Kootz, city manager, guest speaker; MAR. 1, 2:15 p.m., guest speaker from Amarillo Airforce Base; APRIL 12, 2:15 p.m., Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, Red Cross executive secretary, guest speaker; MAY 10, 2:15 p.m., Mrs. Essie Mae Walters, Robert E Lee Junior High counselor, guest speaker.

Mrs. Sam Goom, fifth grade teacher, won the door prize, a cake baked by Mrs. E. R. Southard.

Mrs. Reeves reminded members of the Leadership Procedure Course held Monday in the First Methodist Church and of the series of study courses on Civil Defense, being sponsored by the PTA City Council, beginning Oct. 5 through Nov. 16 on successive Thursday mornings in different schools beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Interest In Migrant Workers Forms Topic For United Church Women Meet

United Church Women of Pampa met Friday morning in the Lamar Christian Church for a program on "Migrants."

St. Paul Methodist women presented a program led by Mrs. Bill Sargent assisted by Mrs. Joe Anty. Mrs. Jack Riley, Mrs. Horace West and Mrs. Don Stevens.

The program discussed the needs of migrant workers and what must be done to help improve the living conditions and opportunities of these workers.

Mrs. Stevens told of migrant camps in Plainview, Levelland, Lamesa, Lubbock and Hereford. She stated that the Texas Council of Churches has helped in these camps with volunteer school and camp medical care, visiting and volunteer Christian education teachers.

It was pointed out that at Hereford, a new building has been added to the camp recreational center; provided by business men and church volunteer workers. The Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of St. Paul Methodist, gave the devotional and closed the meeting with prayer.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Dean Burger, president, it was announced that the Ministerial Alliance is working in cooperation with the United Church Women in setting up a church school for the exceptional children of Pampa. Plans are not completed, but it is hoped that it will be in operation the early part of October; the date and place to be announced later.

The district meeting of the United Church Women will be held Oct. 2 in the First Christian Church with Mrs. John Nutting in charge of arrangements. There will be a called business session for the Pampa Council after the district meeting to present a slate of officers for next year's work.

Storm-Damaged Highway Repairs To Cost Millions

CENTER, Tex. (UPI)— State Sen. Wardlow Lane said yesterday that it will cost the State Highway Department at least $5 million to repair Hurricane Carla's damage to roads and bridges and clean up after the storm.

Lane, who is a member of the Texas Legislative Budget Board and chairman of the Senate's State Affairs Committee, released a preliminary report compiled by Vernon A. McGee, Legislative Budget Board director.

In addition to McGee's report, O. B. Ellis, director of the Texas Board of Corrections, reported that losses to the prison system "are heavy."

"The damage to physical property will run into a lot of money," Ellis reported. "There is no way to estimate it at this time, but it is going to ruin our operating budget."

Only three convicts took advantage of the hurricane and the blackouts it caused to escape, he said. These three slipped off at Harlem.

McGee's report included these points:

Public Schools — Commissioners J. W. Edgar and Warren Hitt will inspect schools this week. Money for transportation to emergency school locations can be provided under minimum foundation laws. Federal disaster relief may be the main fund source for rebuilding schools.

Highways — It will cost about $2 million to reopen highways, replace signs, check bridge and foundations strengths and haul off debris and dead cattle. It will take $3 million more for major repairs and reconstruction. About half of Karankawa Bay causeway is gone. Approaches to Aransas Pass causeway are destroyed. The Bolivar-Sabine Pass highway is gone.

Game and Fish Commission — Seabrook Laboratory is gone; losses will total about $12,000.

School for Cerebral Palsied Children — Light water damage. Better-trained youngsters transferred to John Sealy Hospital at Galveston.

Galveston Medical Branch — Worst damage appears to have been to air conditioning equipment in hospital.

Drop In Crude Demand Looms

AUSTIN (UPI)— Both the U.S. Bureau of Mines and major oil purchasers today estimated a smaller market demand for Texas crude oil in October.

The State Railroad Commission meets today to decide the number of days to allow oil production next month. Continuation of the present eight-day schedule would result in an average calendar day allowable of 2,883,214 barrels — down 48,490 from September production during the 30-day month.

The Bureau of Mines estimated October market demand at 2,460,000 barrels daily, a decline of 80,000 barrels.

Nominations from purchasers totaled 2,457,565 barrels, some 26,748 less than in September.

Status Quo Tax Situation Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has some bad news and some good about the affect on taxes of America's military buildup to meet the Berlin crisis.

Dillon says there is virtually no chance of a tax cut next year. But, he added, no tax boost would be needed unless additional mobilization was ordered.

The government will wind up the current bookkeeping year next June 30 about $8 billion in the red, he said, adding that President Kennedy was sticking to his pledge to present a balanced budget for the following year.

Storm Insurance Caution Voiced

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has advised victims of Hurricane Carla "not to panic" into accepting quick and cheap insurance settlements.

He said the first thing for victims to do is to get "sound estimates of damage by experts" and if the insurance companies refuse to pay there "is no substitute for a good lawyer."

Yarborough made the suggestion in a telegram to Mayor Dave Smith and four members of the city council of Groves, Tex., a community of 17,000 persons in Jefferson County which suffered severe damage in the hurricane.

Smith and the council had asked Yarborough for advice on what could be done to get fair settlements for damage.

"Advise them (residents) not to panic into quick and cheap settlements if offered by claims agents on a quick and easy basis," Yarborough said.

He stressed, however, he was not intending to condemn "any company or business, but if denial of liability is attempted I have confidence that courts will give justice."

Video Quiz Case Slated To Resume On September 25

By WARD CANNEL
NEW YORK (NEA) — Pre-recorded, the theme song plays softly. The taped credits roll and videoland's hardest show begins its annual re-run under the same old title: "The TV Quiz Scandals of 1958."

It is now three autumns since a grand jury first inquired into the big money quiz shows. It's two years since Charles Van Doren spilled the beans to a congressional subcommittee. It's just about a year since the 1960 grand jury took another look — and handed up 19 names for prosecution. And so, this year's re-run is scheduled for New York's Special Sessions Court on Sept. 25. But in the austere, pine-oiled halls of justice, this reporter can get 3-to-1 odds that the show will probably run again next year and maybe the year after that.

Why? Because the question is not — and never has been — who did wrong or who was corrupted by whom. That kind of question, as every viewer knows, can be answered in 30 minutes with enough time left over for three commercials.

The charge against these 19 is two counts of perjury: lying to a grand jury and making inconsistent statements under oath. But the district attorney's case — comparing two sets of grand jury testimony — is not as simple as it looks. To wit:

—It was not a crime in 1958 to coach contestants. So, this first grand jury might not have been taking testimony under legally-administered oath.

—By 1960, the second grand jury may well have been acting illegally in questioning potential defendants without granting them immunity from self-incrimination.

The DA, of course, is not limited to building his case on the record. He can take another route the legal profession sometimes uses — arguing from the facts. Now, this would mean calling Albert Freedman, a former official in the old Barry and Enright company that produced the quiz shows involved: Twenty-One and Tic-Tac-Dough. Freedman knows whether the contestants were coached.

But he may be quite hard-to-find and his testimony also might confuse the court with issues like morality and ethics. It could open the way to tedious days of testimony from sponsors, ad agency people, network officials, and possibly even from Barry and Enright themselves.

In this strange light, it is perhaps surprising that three of the 19 — Vivienne Nearing, Henrietta Dudley and Bruce Vanderporten — have pleaded guilty. It is not surprising that they received suspended sentences.

Nor is it curious that many of the others, including Van Doren, Henry Bloomgarden, Elfrida Von Nardoff, etc., are waiting to see how the first case is decided in Special Sessions before either pleading guilty or going to court to defend themselves against unjust accusation.

For the DA, now preparing a case squeezed dry of significance but still costing the public some $75 for each day it remains in court, the prospect of prosecution is something less than thrilling. "I feel for him (the DA)," one of the defense attorneys said. "I've got my whole office trying to find a way for him to drop the charges gracefully or get the cases postponed for another year or two."

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—American Communists are winding up this week to throw their Sunday punch at, no less, the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Communist Party, U.S.A., is organizing a new Communist front. Its name: The National Assembly for Democratic Rights (NADR). This front is to be born in a New York mass meeting scheduled for Sept. 23-24. The purpose: To establish a mass movement for the penetration of political, labor, racial, religious, educational, professional and other organizations in the United States.

If the Communists can get their show on the road they hope to influence all such penetrated organizations to join in a nationwide movement to reverse anti-Communist decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court. The Communists want to reverse last June's decisions by which the court sustained the Smith and McCarran Acts relating to control of subversion in the United States.

This is a life or death matter with the CP, USA. If the two acts are enforced the Communist Party may have to go out of business in this country. NADR is the biggest mass movement launched by American Communists since they rallied public opinion some years ago seeking to prevent the execution of the Rosenbergs, a pair of Commie spies.

Patriotic Americans were bewildered by the massive propaganda launched and sustained for weeks in behalf of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg. The Communists attracted thousands of non-Communists to their cause. They must have the assistance of thousands of non-Communists to make a mass propaganda operation function. The non-Communists become a front or screen behind which the hard core party members operate to manipulate public opinion.

The CP, USA rather confidently expects to persuade thousands of soft-headed Americans to support this newest campaign to get the party off the hook of the McCarran and Smith acts. Within a week of the Sept. 23-24 mass meeting in New York, local organizers of National assemblies for Democratic Rights will pop up all over the United States. They will be in your city!

Local mass meetings will be set up where the people are fat-headedly ignorant of what is going on. These mass meetings will adopt resolutions patterned on the resolutions to be adopted this week in New York. If the Communies can bamboozle enough suckers they might, maybe, stir up enough fuss to persuade the court to reverse its decisions. Both were by 3-to-4 scores.

Falling that, the Communists would hope to persuade Congress to repeal the Smith and McCarran acts, of which there is not much chance. The Communists would fall flat on their faces in this effort if the preachers, labor leaders, racist politicians, educators and all others would greet the local organizers with a mighty heave out the nearest window or door.

The American Communists got such a heave-ho as World War II was ending when they attempted to set up a mass penetration operation in the name of the Win that Peace Conference. Newspaper publicity killed that before it got going. Here's some more of the same.

Johnson Inspects Hurricane Area

GALVESTON (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson inspected the devastation left by Hurricane Carla, from a helicopter and from an automobile yesterday.

With Johnson were Gov. Price Daniel, Albert Gruenther, head of the American Red Cross, U. S. Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston, one of the hardest hit cities and other congressmen from Texas.

Johnson flew from Washington in a jet plane and landed at Houston. There, he and his party, it totaled about 20 persons, not including newsmen, boarded four helicopters and flew over the Galveston Bay area, looking over Seabrook, La Porte and Kemah.

The helicopters landed at Scholes Field, Galveston. There Johnson transferred to a motorcade for a closer look at Galveston Island, battered not only by the hurricane and its tides, but also by a tornado, which killed at least six persons.

Johnson said little. He climbed out of the helicopter, shook hands with the people waiting for him and climbed into the waiting automobile.

"I've come back again," said Thompson, who was in Galveston last week. "We've come here to work."

School Board Accepts Curfman's Resignation

Trice To Take Over Direction Of Grid Squad

Meeting in special session Monday night the Board of Education of the Pampa school system unanimously accepted the resignation of Babe Curfman as head coach of the Harvester football team. This morning L. J. Edmondson superintendent of schools, announced that it had been decided that Weldon Trice, athletic director, would immediately assume direct charge of the team. Trice will be in charge during the remainder of this season, or until such time as a new coach is employed.

Other side, Edmondson said calmly. Fatherree commented that "no matter what, we had this business to transact and it was necessary we get to it, but it has been a difficult matter."

Gikas, turning to Edmondson assured him that the members of the board "are all behind you", to which Edmondson responded that "it was not an easy matter to decide."

Board Member Dr. R. M. Hampton also was present. Elmer Wilson was out of town.

In his letter of resignation Curfman said:

"Dear Mr. Edmondson: "As to our conversation Sept. 18, with mutual agreement to pay off my contract through Feb. 28, I hereby tender my resignation as head football coach at Pampa high school."

"Sincerely, "R. A. Curfman."

Edmondson, in announcing this morning that Trice would be in charge of the team, said that this action was decided upon Monday night at a meeting of Trice, the coaching staff and school administrators, following the board meeting. He said the staff members did not desire "the responsibility at the present time." Dwaine Lyon is line coach and Eusal Ramsey backfield coach.

In a further statement with reference to the situation this morning, Supt. Edmondson said: "Certainly we regret the way things developed, but we sincerely hope it will be in the best interest of all concerned."

Curfman came to the Pampa school system in the spring of 1958 from Trinity College where he was assistant coach.

Curfman Monday afternoon said: "Let's get the truth. I didn't resign on my own free will. I don't want it to sound like I got mad and quit. I'm not a quitter."

He explained that Cameron Marsh, high school principal, called him at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night and "told me to meet him at Jack Edmondson's office at 8 o'clock Monday morning. When I got there, I said, 'what's the deal,' and he (Edmondson) told me, 'We are paying you off. We want you to sign a statement handing in your resignation.' I wrote out a statement saying that I would resign my coaching position with the school paying my contract until, February 28, 1962."

Curfman who came to Pampa in 1958 posted a 5-25-1 mark in the three years and this season The Harvesters currently have a 13-game losing streak on the ledger. Injuries however crippled the team last fall. The team has also been handicapped by lack of depth and inexperience.

WELDON TRICE ... to direct gridmen

Action of the board Monday night concluded day-long activity in connection with the coaching situation. Edmondson, presenting Curfman's letter of resignation to the board, frankly told the members that he had requested it, and that he had agreed that Curfman's contract, due to expire February 28, would be paid off. A little less than $4,000 will be paid Curfman in terminating his services.

Warren Fatherree, chairman, presided at the board session. After Fatherree stated the purpose of the meeting, Supt. Edmondson presented the letter of resignation as submitted by Curfman.

Jimmy Wilkerson moved that the resignation be accepted. The motion was seconded by John Gikas and carried unanimously. There was a brief moment of discussion.

Edmondson explained that "we will meet the obligations of this contract as agreed upon by my having asked for his (Curfman's) resignation."

The superintendent also explained that no successor had been chosen and that Trice would "assume responsibility."

Gikas told Edmondson and the other board members that he had been contacted by interested persons during the day and that the resignation of Curfman had been favorably received.

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Scoring aptly may be the result of Saturday's nationally televised showdown between Arkansas and Mississippi, the defending champions of the Southwest and Southeastern conferences.

That prospect is shaping up despite the fact that most meetings between the inter-sectional rivals in recent years have feathered a minimum of point-making.

Arkansas is reported to have a top backfield this fall, and the word is that Ole Miss—despite the loss of All-America quarterback Jake Gibbs—has nearly as much punch as its recent powerhouses.

A sell-out crowd of 46,000 will be on hand for the match, first ever played in Jackson's new stadium. American Broadcasting Co. (ABC) will televise the game nationally with the kickoff set at 2:30 p. m., CST.

Mississippi coach John Vaught, whose Rebels squeaked by with a 10-7 disputed decision in Little Rock last year, said Saturday's contest could be just as close. "Arkansas definitely has improved," he explained. "Especially on offense."

Ironically, a former Ole Miss recruit is the main cog in Arkansas' point-making machine. Left halfback Lance Alworth signed with Mississippi but switched his allegiance to Arkansas. Shifty and fast this hard charger has few peers at bringing a crowd to its feet on kickoffs and punt returns.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Perryton And Dalhart To Clash Friday Night

By United Press International
Most of the 45 perfect record survivors appear safe as the Class AA schoolboy football schedule moves into its fourth week, but at least two games match members of the select group and a handful of others meet undefeated teams from other divisions.

Defending champion Denver city, boasting a string of 18 victories, hosts thrice-beaten Abernathy and isn't expected to have the string snapped.

Childress is at Electra and Grapevine at Lancaster in the two games matching undefeated untied Class AA teams. Childress and Lancaster will be favored to remain unscathed.

Morton takes on once-tied but unbeaten Class A Farwell; Katy meets potent Class A Waller; Bellville faces Class AAA's highly-rated Lamar Consolidated; Yoakum Shiner, and Sinton tackles strong Class A George West in other games matching AA teams against unbeaten outsiders.

The remainder of the schedule involving unbeaten teams, with the AA teams listed first, includes:

Dalhart at Perryton, Tulia vs. O'Donnell, Floydada vs. Dimmitt, McCamey at Iraan, Quanah at Paducah, Haskell at Abilene Wylie, Hamlin at Rotan, Anson at Cisco, Hamilton vs. San Saba, Dublin at Eastland, Jacksboro at Graham, Plano vs. Duncanville, Paul Hewitt vs. Hughes Springs, Liberty-Eylau at Talco, Terrell vs. Ennis, Mineola vs. Shelbyville, Marlin vs. Rockdale, Teague at Groesbeck, Brady at Coleman, Cameron at Elgin, Hearne at Crockett, Giddings at A&M Consolidated, La Grange at Taylor, Little Cypress at Merryville, La. Needville at Tidehaven, Boling vs. Wharton, Sweeny vs. Clear Creek, Palacios at West Columbia, Ganado vs. Hallettsville, Luling vs. Bastrop, Pleasanton at Schertz - Cibolo, Cameron City at Three Rivers, Devine at Refugio, Hebbornville at Carrizo Springs and Premont at La Feria.

Three once-tied teams also are in action this week. Pine Tree meets New London, Cameron tackles Elgin and Woodville meets Livingston.

Hillsboro is the only one of the 45 perfect record teams idle this week.

Ole Miss, Arkansas To Battle

FRACTURED MESSENGER

Cubs Rip LA Flag Hopes

By United Press International
It's now or never for Roger Maris, the brash young man who seeks to dethrone Babe Ruth as baseball's home run king.

Needing two homers to tie and three to break Ruth's 34-year-old all-time record of 60 homers in a season, the 27-year-old Maris faces his "moment of truth" tonight in the New York Yankees' two-night doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles. He must hit at least one homer tonight to have any practical chance to break the mark in a single game Wednesday night, which brings him to the end of the 154-game limit prescribed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

The struggle of one man against terrific odds and pressure obscures even the facts that the Yankees can clinch their 11th American League pennant in 13 years tonight and that the Cincinnati Reds have reduced their pennant-clinching magic number in the National League to seven. A sweep of tonight's doubleheader does it for the Yankees, while the idle Reds went four games ahead when the Chicago Cubs beat the Dodgers, 5-3, Monday night.

Don Cardwell, who had lost six straight games to the Dodgers, pitched a seven-hitter for his 14th victory as Los Angeles manager Walt Alston gambled and lost with rookie pitcher Phil Ortega, who made his first big league start. Ed Bouchee hit a three-run homer and three singles that paced the rout of Ortega in 5 1-3 innings.

Orlando Cepeda's two-run ninth-inning homer gave the San Francisco Giants a 3-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves, who lost their seventh straight game. Stu Miller, soft-balling relief ace of the Giants, received credit for his 13th win. The homer was Cepeda's 41st of the season.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer and Dick Groat's two-run single paced a five-run seventh-inning outburst that carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-6 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals. Rookie Larry Foss gained credit for the win in his first big league start aided by Harvey Haddix and Elroy Face in the late innings.

Roger Maris Shoots For Home Run Mark

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Roger Maris swings for homers No. 59 and 60 and a share of baseball's most cherished record tonight with a possible New York Yankee pennant-clinching playing second fiddle to the climactic moments of the young slugger's struggle with the ghost of Babe Ruth.

Time, past performance and spacious Baltimore Memorial Stadium — not to mention pitchers Steve Barber and Hal Brown—all will be against the 27-year-old Maris, whose limit of 154 games runs out after tonight's two-night doubleheader and Wednesday night's single game. The Yankees play 162 games this season but Commissioner Ford Frick has ruled that the 60-mark must be reached within 154 games to be officially recognized.

"I haven't had good luck in this park this year," said Maris as he faced the ordeal of suspense. "But if I hit 'em good, they'll go out of this or any other park. I'm relaxed and I'll be swinging for all I'm worth for Nos. 59 and 60."

Maris has not hit a single homer at Baltimore this season—he cleared the right field fence against Brown in mid-July but the game was rained out before five innings were played—and has made only two hits in 15 tries for a .133 average against Oriole pitching here. His only "official" homer off Baltimore pitching this year was on May 21 in New York.

The distance from home plate to a 14-foot-high fence measures 309 feet on each foul line and the seven-foot center-field fence is 410 feet away. The stands curve half-moon like away from the foul lines creating a spacious outfield area that is a sharp challenge to any long ball hitter. Only 101 homers have been hit in the park so far this season.

Barber and Brown are two of the best pitchers on the deep, capable Oriole staff. Barber (16-11) is a 22-year-old left-hander who throws so hard his teammates say he "can throw a strawberry through a locomotive." Brown (10-5) is a 36-year-old right-hander who throws low-breaking curves, screwballs and sliders to spots. Most likely relief pitcher, should either be kayoed, is Hoyt Wilhelm, whose dancing knuckleball is the despair of most free-swingers.

Despite all the obstacles, Maris teammates think he has a genuine chance to equal or surpass Ruth's 60-mark in the required three games.

"He hits 'em in clusters,"

Quarterback Club To Meet Tonight

The Pampa Quarterback Club meets tonight at the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Highlighting the session will be a scouting report on the rugged Dumas Demons, the Harvesters Friday night opponents, and a film of the Phillips Blackhawks-Pampa game of last Friday.

Coffee and cake will be served. There will be plenty of football involving Pampa teams this week. The Lee 8th graders travel to Perryton Thursday afternoon to battle the Rangers junior high at 4 p.m.

Pampa Junior High hosts the class A Gruver "B" squad here at 4 p.m. Thursday. The Robert E. Lee 8th graders host Perryton's 8th here also at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The fourth game scheduled for Thursday is a 7:30 p.m. game between the Pampa Shockers and the Phillips "B" club.

Friday the Robert E. Lee 7th grade and the Pampa Jr. High 7th grade clashes at 3:30 p.m. at Harvester stadium.

Olympic Swimmer Enters College

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Swimmer Jon Konrads, Olympic Games gold medal winner and present world record holder in the 1,500-meter freestyle, has enrolled as a freshman at the University of Southern California.

Konrads attended classes Monday for the first time, following two other Aussie aquatic stars, Murry Rose and Jon Henricks, to the USC swimming team. Rose is current Trojan swimming captain.

Konrads competed in the last two Olympiads, edging Rose in the Rome games in the 1,500-meter freestyle by just two seconds.

Another Olympic Games swimmer, Bob Bennett of North Hollywood, Calif., also entered USC on Monday.

Terps, Duke Have Strong Grid Teams

By United Press International
Word that Maryland is loaded, that Duke again will be one of the nation's strongest and the bright star of Roman Gabriel at North Carolina State feature the South's 1961 football prospects.

First games this weekend likely will do a lot toward telling how well the Atlantic Coast Conference stacks up against other football powers.

For example, Maryland plays Southern Methodist at Dallas, Tex., North Carolina State faces Skyline co-champion Wyoming at Laramie and Clemson faces Florida of the Southeastern Conference.

Wake Forest, with the thinnest manpower supply in the ACC, goes to Waco, Tex., to unveil what Coach Billy Hildebrand hopes will be a better balanced attack against the Baylor Bears.

In the Southern Conference, Virginia Military and Virginia Tech again look like favorites. Richmond and Davidson both expect improvement.

Duke kicks off defense of its Atlantic Coast Conference championship against South Carolina at Columbia, S. C., this weekend. South Carolina in the past have proved troublesome for the Blue Devils, and Coach Marvin Bass would like nothing more than to begin his new regime as Gamecock boss with an upset. Duke, with plenty of backfield talent but inexperience in the line, lost a key player, swing end Ed Chestnut, for the season over the past weekend when he suffered a knee injury in practice.

The Blue Devils will field a typical Bill Murray Duke-T attack guided by quarterback Walt Rappold and featuring fullback John Timnell and halfbacks Mark Leggett and Jack Wilson. Senior Art Gregory at tackle is Duke's standout lineman.

Maryland, though, has been picked as the team to watch in the ACC — with Terrapin followers expecting the best squad since the glory days of the late Jim Tatum at College Park.

Maryland Coach Tom Nugent figures he has a solid defense this year to go with his tricky offensive formations to be directed by quarterbacks Dick Novak and sophomore Dick Shiner.

Gabriel, six foot, four 220 pound senior tabbed almost a unanimous pre-season All-America, will lead the North Carolina State Challenge.

Ivy Loop Coach Tells Problem

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pros and con jobs as you listen to the Monday mourning quarterbacks: For a man who professes not too much concern, Cornell coach Tom Harp has the crying towel dripping wet with his season opener two Saturdays away.

"You can't get ready without spring practice," he says of his highly regarded Ivy League contender. "We started with 65 questionable bodies and have 47 in reasonably good condition. But I'm not too concerned. I've got a three-year contract and my dad owns a restaurant in Ohio."

One of his horses is George Tebbets, a nephew of Milwaukee manager Birdie Tebbets. They're built-alikes, with George at five-nine and 210 pounds — but George's is all muscle.

The New York Giants lost their opener to the St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League mayhem marathon but coach Alie Sherman's wife can't be too unhappy.

Allie tried to relax by playing tennis with her the day before his first game as head coach. "I must be out of my mind," she told him. "Knowing how superstitious you are, if you'd have won you'd probably have me playing tennis all the way into December." Allie explained his post-game sa voir faire by saying, "If you get shaken by a loss you're in for a long, tedious career." ... or a short one ...

You gotta have heart but quarterback Frank Tripucka of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League claims that Al Frazier of Florida A. & M. has too much.

"He's too good a competitor for his own good," Tripucka said. "When he's trapped at the sidelines he tries to run over the opposition and that's a little hard to do against the big guys in pro ball — particularly when you only weigh 170 pounds like he does."

Tripucka, incidentally, explained that the Broncos lost to Boston because of the three All-Americans — "fumble, stumble and fall."

Frankie Filchöck, the Denver coach, was unsympathetic to Tripucka's complaint that he was being rushed when passing. "You quarterbacks are getting too old and just can't get out of the way," he needed. "You can't expect to pass from one yard behind the line of scrimmage."

Oakland Raiders Fire Grid Coach

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders sold Eddie Erdelatz down the river—but they'll be open for business at the same old stand on Sunday when they tangle with the Dallas Texans at Candlestick Park.

"And there are no plans or proposals to shift the franchise elsewhere," said a Raider spokesman.

Erdelatz was fired Monday by the four-man tribunal operating the club and Marty Feldman was named in his place. The owners probably were smarting more than Eddie was from the 55-0 pasting his team took from the Houston Oilers in the season's opener and the follow-up 44-0 licking last Sunday from the San Diego Chargers.

Houston and San Diego were the most powerful clubs in the league last year and look stronger than ever this year. And Dallas is right in the same class.

So new coach Feldman, who was Erdelatz' assistant, steps right into the hot water.

The Raiders have announced an advance sale of 5,000 tickets. And they expect about 10,000 for the battle — if the weather is good.

"This club has adequate material to compete in this league," said Feldman after he was handed the task of trying to build a winner. "It's too late to make any major changes. So we'll try to jell the Raiders into a representative club."

PAMPA YOUTHS ON OMA TEAM — When showers dampened the practice field at Oklahoma Military Academy, Claremore, Okla., this week, these four high school students from Pampa continued their football drills in the hallways. All four are on OMA's starting team this year. Left to right, they are Robert B. Gotcher, son of Mrs. Audrey Gotcher; Randy H. Haralson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Haralson; and G. M. SWC Teams Practice For Opening Games

By United Press International

When the Texas Longhorns switch from offense to defense against the University of California at Berkeley this Saturday it will be like a Chinese fire drill.

Tackles will play guards, one guard and the fullback will back up the line and the center and other guard will play tackle. Coach Darrell Royal said he likes to have his big tackles in the middle of his defense to stop the power plays. And he likes to have the agile players on the ends for pursuing.

"So far we've found that our centers play better defense in the 'down' position in the line rather than in the upright linebacking position," Royal said. "But we're not married to this system and it could be some time that our personnel would be such that we would go back to the center fullback linebacking."

The Longhorns held a light workout Monday and Royal said injured quarterback Duke Carlisle probably will be ready when the Longhorns face California.

At Rice, sophomore Johnny Nichols of Galena Park was moved up to right guard on the No. 1 team. Nichols replaced senior letterman Walter Ligon. The Owls tackle highly-rated LSU Saturday in Houston.

It also was promotion day at Southern Methodist. Third string halfback Billy Gannon was promoted to the No. 1 unit. SMU plays Maryland in the Cotton Bowl Saturday.

Baylor polished their offense in preparation for their Saturday night football opener with Wake Forest at Waco. Coach John Bridgers promoted two sophomores from the fifth team to the third team and traveling squad. They were Bill Simpson, end from McAllen, who was moved to tackle; and Dwain Heath, a Fort Worth back who went to end.

Injuries at Texas Christian forced head coach Abe Martin to make two changes. Martin said Dale Glasscock, a senior letterman from Temple, and halfback Donny Smith, from Taylor would be assigned to the No. 1 unit against the Kansas Jayhawks at Fort Worth Saturday. Glasscock will replace Lynn Morrison of Cleburne at left end, and Smith will start for halfback Bud Priddy of Kaufman.

Texas A&M worked on pass defense and offense. Coach Jim Myers praised the passing of quarterbacks Jim Keller, Ronnie Brice and John Erickson, but said the pass defense "looked ragged." The Aggies play the University of Houston Saturday at College Station.

In personnel changes, Myers moved Jerry Hopkins back to first string center and Bobby Evans was switched from left end to right end.

Texas Tech, a touchdown or more underdog to Mississippi State in Jackson, Miss., this Saturday, went through conditioning drills.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles had a deep frown on his face Monday as his Razorbacks worked out. Quarterback Billy Moore hobbled through the workout with a knee injury. He has fluid on the inside of his right knee and trainer Bill Ferrell said it would be a couple of days before he could tell how it would affect Moore.

Broyles hopes to use Moore, second string quarterback, against Mississippi Saturday because he wants to redshirt Fred Marshall who would replace Moore.

Wise Flushing Scores Upset Racing Win

By United Press International

Wise Flushing proved most of the 23,448 fans at Belmont Park wrong Monday when he scored an upset victory over Ring Around, the 8-5 favorite, in the $10,000 Harrison Handicap for 3-year-olds.

The triumph was the second straight for the chestnut son of Flushing II-Allegheeny, who returned $16.50 to his few backers. Ring Around, the only stakes winner in the field of seven, finished three-quarters of a length farther back.

Larry Adams was up on Wise Flushing, who was clocked in 1:42 4-5.

At Atlantic City, Lil Fella, usually a front-runner, staged a strong stretch run to nip Elkcam Stable's Opus by a head in the feature race.

Lil Fella, ridden by Howard Grant, paid $4.40 as the favorite six-furlong feature at Bay Meadows while Roman Colonel finished first in the Hawthorne Park Feature, paying $3.60.

Opposition Urged

Garth A. Shoemaker, president of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, urges that the people of this country voice their opposition to the multi-billion dollar proposals to provide medical care of the aged under the Social Security program. And he supplements this with some compelling arguments.

Enactment of these proposals would be accompanied by an increase in the Social Security tax, along with a raise in the taxable wage base from the present $4,800 to $5,000 a year. The result, says Mr. Shoemaker, might be a combined employer-employee tax of almost 10 per cent on that wage base by 1969.

Moreover, he pointed out, this is a matter of special urgency to people in the lower income brackets. Many of them currently pay as much or more in Social Security taxes, deducted from their pay checks, than they pay in federal income tax. As an example, a

'Safe' Research

Dr. Marshall Brucer is a nuclear scientist attached to the Oak Ridge government project. Dr. Brucer doesn't like the "ridiculous restrictions placed upon experimental science by the government."

Of course, from our point of view, the government is the worst possible agency to conduct any kind of research or to do anything else that can be, is being, and ought to be done by private firms or individuals. And so we can only observe in passing that Dr. Brucer would probably have better luck if he had a better employer. But apparently the nuclear physicist is beginning to come to this conclusion all by himself.

What he particularly stirred Brucer's wrath is the enormous safeguard imposed upon all scientists who are trying to learn truths. He says that current restrictions on research are preventing the development of early detection tools which could be made, and which conceivably might save thousands of lives.

Apparently, the government has decreed a minimum dosage by doctors of cobalt-60 in the treatment of lung cancer. Dr. Brucer says that he, himself, takes up to four times more than the maximum dosage permitted on a daily basis and that he would gladly take up to 100 times the dosage permitted.

And he maintains that if scientists were not bound hand and foot with stupid governmental restrictions they could develop many ways of saving lives thru early detection of lung cancer and other diseases. "I call it the maximum ridiculous dose," says Dr. Brucer. "If nobody gets hurt, nothing is done."

"If the same attitude had prevailed when the automobile was being developed in the early 1900's we would probably never have had the car. If allowed the same safety margin in a car as is permitted with radio-active materials, we would have a maximum permissible driving dosage of 52 feet per week at about one-third the speed of a slow walk."

The test of true research, as Brucer sees it, is that mistakes can be made and from these mistakes invaluable lessons can be learned. The way the government ties the hands of the research scientists, no risks are permitted, hence, nothing is learned.

Good research, we are inclined to agree, can never proceed along any preordained lines nor with any written guarantees of success. But this is precisely why government should not be in a position either to conduct research or to prevent others from conducting it. Men have risked their lives before now in order that science might learn. When this risk is voluntarily assumed, curtains of ignorance are rolled back.

If government arbitrarily orders such risks, it is tyrannous. If it arbitrarily prevents such risks, it is equally tyrannous. The only possible avenue of productive research is the avenue of freedom. When men are free to experiment and to run the risks they believe incumbent upon them, future generations come along who can benefit by this research.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN
Q—Ten years ago my skin was a dark gray. Over the years, it has become darker until now it is almost a navy blue. What could cause this?

A—The most likely explanation at this far distance is a deposit of silver salts. Have you ever made extensive use of nose drops containing silver salts (Argyrol, Protargol, etc.)? Or have you ever taken pills containing silver salts, once prescribed fairly widely in the treatment of stomach ulcers?

Since you make no mention of disturbances, related to your heart or lungs, I assume your strange discoloration may be from one of these or related causes. If so, discontinue exposure to the source and put your mind at ease since it is unlikely that the silver will produce any manifestations of a more serious nature.

Q—I am the mother of a 17-year-old girl who has contracted rheumatoid arthritis of knees and feet. My daughter made high school grades that would enable her to go to college, but with the burden of her illness, we cannot afford to send her. I wonder if you could give me some information about some arthritis foundation that might make it possible for her to go to college.

A—The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation at 18 Columbus Circle, New York City, 19, N.Y., would have this information if it is available anywhere.

Q—I have a problem with my 2-year-old. To state it simply, he rocks. He has been doing this regularly every day and night since he was six months old. He rocks back and forth when he sits. He lifts his leg up and down in a steady rhythm to put himself to sleep. He rocks from one foot to the other when he stands. He rocks when he's asleep and sometimes lumps his head against the bedstead or wall. Yet he is happy and normal in all other respects. Have you any idea why he does this?

A—I'm sure I don't know. But maybe you are raising another Elvis Presley. If so, what worries you now may prove to be a future gold mine.

Q—My husband is a truck driver who drives through the night most of the time. He tells me that whenever he gets sleepy, he stops at coffee stands where he can get pop-up pills. Can these do him any harm? Is it safe for him to continue driving after he takes them?

A—The pills your husband takes are probably a brand of amphetamine or some close relative of this drug. At this moment, the government has assigned a large squad of inspectors from the Food and Drug Administration to put a stop to the bootlegging of these pop-up pills that are useful when prescribed for specific medical complaints but most harmful when misused in the manner you describe.

To illustrate the extent of this abuse, the government has estimated that the annual production of these pills is sufficient to make over five billion tablets each year or the equivalent of 25 doses for every man, woman and child in the United States. The largest part of this output goes to the public through illicit channels such as the truck stops your husband patronizes.

Since occasional use of these drugs may become "the accomplice of highway tragedy" and continued use may lead to addiction as well as adverse effects on blood pressure, heart conditions and diseases such as diabetes, you would do well to caution your husband before difficulties arise.

Morale Shattering Effect of Newburgh Hankerings

WASHINGTON — One of the most revealing documents being circulated at the Western foreign ministers' meeting here is Khrushchev's secret plan for the signing of a "Peace Treaty" with East Germany.

Prepared by West German intelligence, it forecasts that the actual ceremonial signing of the treaty will take place in East Berlin, probably at the Caecilienhof Castle, where the tripartite Potsdam agreement was signed in 1945 by the U.S., Russia, and Great Britain.

This foreboding event, in which Russia, East Germany, and the other Warsaw Pact powers are to participate, is now scheduled for the end of a December "Peace Week" — a festival to be added to the list of major Communist holidays in the Soviet Zone.

Details of the "Peace Treaty" timetable were given by Siegfried Wagner, head of the cultural department of the Communist Party Central Committee, at a meeting of party functionaries in Weimar, now the East German center of culture. Wagner's speech, along with other information about this conclave, were obtained by the West Germans.

Choice of the Caecilienhof Castle, once the home of noted German empresses, is a symbolic Kremlin gesture intended to convey the idea that all previous agreements, including occupation rights and the Western position in Berlin, will be without validity in the future.

Also, the Soviets plan to claim to the world that the "Peace Treaty" permanently establishes Communist domination to the border of West Germany.

MOSCOW CONFERENCE — According to this West German intelligence estimate, the foreign ministers of the Warsaw Pact powers will convene in Moscow in November to go over the final draft of the Kremlin's "Peace Treaty" with the puppet East German regime.

This Moscow conference will follow the wind-up of the Soviet Communist Party Congress which convenes on Oct. 17. On or before that date, Khrushchev is expected to send invitations to all nations that were involved in the fight against Germany in World War II to attend the December conference in East Berlin.

In their talks this week, the Western foreign ministers are debating what action they can take to blunt the effect of this Kremlin move to force the U.S., Britain and France to recognize the Communist East German regime.

One proposal, which is being pushed by the British, is to take the Berlin crisis to the United Nations. The plan is to get the U.N. to call on Russia, the U.S., Britain and France, to negotiate a new West Berlin status and a U.N. "presence" in that city pending eventual unification of the two Germanys.

The plan provides that the U.N. would replace Western troops with a U.N. police force. Also, some of its specialized agencies such as the International Refugee Agency would be set up in Berlin.

Despite strong opposition from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of State Rusk is leaning toward accepting a compromise version of this plan. He is under instructions by President Kennedy to explore it fully.

The President's "military" advisers are said to argue that the plan is almost a blueprint for Khrushchev's objective for West BERTINORO, Italy — Its a good thing that Bertinoro's Feast of Hospitality lasts but one day. Were it a two-day affair I'd have to go back to Rome in a moving van. Never has one man eaten so much, with so few stops, than I did yesterday on this little town's centuries-old festa.

I told you the rules and regulations of the festa, I think. If I didn't, here they are.

When you get to Bertinoro you symbolically hitch your car or scooter or truck, or whatever it happens to be, to a ring on the 14th Century Column of Hospitality in one of the town's squares. Each ring belongs to a family, and the families offer food and hospitality to the stranger, just as they started doing in the 14th Century.

I must have drawn the best possible ring. It belonged to a couple in their fifties, Signora and Signora Gian Franco Bianchi, and they welcomed this stranger as if he were six prodigal sons. They have a son in Chicago and wanted to know right away if I happened to know him, and when I said no, they showed me an album of pictures of him, starting at age three, and said was I sure I'd never met him.

While I told them all about Chicago they told me all about Bertinoro, and between the swapping of information Signora Bianchi would slip away to the kitchen to work on dinner.

The wonderful odors that swirled through the house would have kept a man in strength, and the dinner was fit for a prince and extensive enough for a regiment.

I have no idea of all the things that were on the table, and brought to the table, but I remember melon and prosciutto, cannelloni with a bubbling cheese sauce, pollo di avola, insalata verde, pestelli, and bottles of barolo and grappa, and figs, peaches, apples, nuts, home-baked bread, coffee, ten sorts of cheese and, I believe, two kinds of soup, one thick enough to skate on and filled with everything that grows in a garden.

We sat down to dinner around two in the afternoon and the shadows were long when we got up from the table. At the end of the first two hours of eating I thought I had finished, but I got my second stomach, so to speak, and started again.

The fact that my hosts spoke just about the same amount of English as I do Italian didn't slow us down conversationally one bit. We talked about everything in the world, and proposed toasts how you want your money distributed upon your death. For you to consider, the four main types of trusts are: —The living trust, one which you can create in your lifetime. You might wish to make this trust revocable, meaning that at the end of a set period, the property in trust will be returned to you. In some circumstances a tax advantage can be gained. An irrevocable trust means you surrender the right to end the trust. In this case you could still enjoy the income of your property during your lifetime.

Even if your total worth is no more than a few thousand dollars, you should be aware of the different types of trusts and how you might decide whether a trust would benefit you.

A trust is a legal instrument and must be drawn by an attorney. It provides for the care and management of property by another. You can designate anyone as trustee, but usually the trust service is performed by a bank.

Most commercial banks are geared to perform trust services and the decisions made are usually made by a team of experts, experts in real estate, securities and taxes.

As for all services, there are charges for creating and operating trusts. Usually these fees are set by state laws.

Before setting up a trust you should seek careful advice from your lawyer, a banker, even an accountant.

You should know your exact net worth and include here any pension fund money for which you may be eligible, proceeds from insurance policies should you die.

You should look at your current tax bracket and appraise how your estate might be taxed. One of the chief reasons for setting up a trust today is to reduce the tax load both on current income and on estates.

You should appraise whether your assets are working for you at their peak and know exactly

Civil Rights Commission Proposes Voting Standards

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Establishment of national legal standards for the right to register and vote, designation of six years of formal education as minimum qualification to determine a voter's literacy, denial of the right to vote to convicted felons and equalization of election districts within each state highlight the new recommendations of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, under chairman John A. Hannah of Michigan.

This late in the session, neither President Kennedy nor the Congress will have time to read or do anything about the three fat volumes of hearings, findings and recommendations which the Civil Rights Commission has just dumped in their laps.

There are four more volumes to come, covering civil rights in education, employment, housing, administration of justice. Material may be here for recommendations which the President may make to Congress next year on new civil rights legislation. But this may be the commission's last gasp.

For unless bills now before Congress to make it a permanent organization and strengthen its authority are passed before adjournment, the commission will die on Nov. 8.

A two-year extension of its authority is a possible compromise. But even this may be bypassed if Congress gets an idea that the commission's latest findings present an extremist program.

Its volume one, "Voting" contains some bitter reading in the latter half under the heading, "Civil Rights in the Black Belt Counties."

But the remedial measures proposed do not constitute a shotgun approach aimed at the head and heart of the South. It is aimed more at all 50 states for the purpose of equalizing and standardizing "The Right to Vote," correct living conditions in the North, too. The poll tax is barely mentioned and no change is urged.

Recommendation on qualifications of voters gets away from the old concept of a constitutional amendment to bar states from denying the vote except on the basis of reasonable age or residence requirements, legal confinement or conviction of a felony.

Instead, the commission recommends that Congress legislate under sections 2 and 5 of the 15th amendment that these restrictions shall not be applied in federal or state elections to deny the vote on the grounds of race or color. This goes beyond the commissions 1959 recommendations only in the felony provision.

Recommendation 2 is brand new in that it would provide a national standard of literacy as a half the Americans who ever lived, and most of the Italians.

The wonderful couple wanted me to spend the night, but I was afraid they'd want me to have some supper, and that was too much.

It took us almost as long to say goodbye as to eat dinner. We almost wore out the front steps. I left with a drumstick to munch in case I got hungry, and an affection for the family that had shown me that the Column of Hospitality was built as much of human kindness and warmth as of marble.

Recommendation 5 calls on Congress to direct that Bureau of the Census make nationwide compilations of voting statistics. This is to provide accurate facts on which to base election reforms. This is changed wording for a 1959 commission recommendation on which the Congress has taken no action.

Recommendation 4 is that Congress consider legislation to require that all voting districts within each of the 50 states shall be substantially equal in population. It would also seek to restrict "gerrymandering," in which political district lines are changed so as to give disproportionate strengths to various groups of voters within the district.

This is not a brand-new idea. Senator Joseph Clark, D-Pa., now has a proposed constitutional amendment before Congress which would require substantially equal legislative districts, but it could not be made effective till after the 1970 census.

The commission recommends faster action by legislation which would give Federal courts jurisdiction over suits to enforce equal districting within a state, without depriving state courts from taking jurisdiction in such cases.

Use Trust to Manage Estate Before, After Death
By FAYE HENLE

In this fast-moving world, people of modest means as well as the wealthy are using trusts to help them safeguard and manage their property as well as for settling estates.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
As Nikita Khrushchev piles straw upon straw in the hope that the camel's back will bend but not break, the pattern of his campaign becomes clearer. He seeks not only to bend the will of governments. He also aims especially at peoples.

Thus Communist radios beam special language broadcasts which warn British businessmen, French laborers or Italian vineyard workers that they may die in a world holocaust because of the mistakes of their governments.

In an interview, Khrushchev refers to Britain, France and West Germany as his "hostages" in a nuclear war.

Soviet propaganda aims the same message at Iran, which is a member of CENTO pact nations barring the Communist path to the Persian gulf.

The use of forged documents is a familiar Communist tactic and this was one of the pressures they applied against Iran.

This consisted of documents purporting to show that the West planned to drop nuclear bombs along the Soviet-Iran border to create a "death zone" if war broke out.

Despite immediate action by the CENTO pact nations—Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain—and by the United States to prove the document was forgeries, the Soviet Union has continued to circulate the claims.

It also has repeated a familiar charge that the United States intends to attack Russia through Iran.

Soviet officials in Tehran, the nation's capital, talk openly of invoking a clause in Russia's 1921 treaty with Iran.

This clause gave the Soviets the right to occupy Iran if Russian security demanded.

It actually was invoked in 1941 and Russian troops continued to occupy northern Iran until United Nations pressure finally forced them out in one of the U. N.'s first great victories in 1946.

The Russians also have attempted to set up a separatist state of Azerbaijan which would be carved out of northern Iran.

The Iranians have declared the 1921 treaty null and void, but at the same time have gone out of their way to assure the Soviets that their own intentions are peaceful.

Easy Victory Won By East Berlin's Red Candidates

BERLIN (UPI)—Residents of East Berlin were marched to the polls Sunday housing block by housing block and Communist Mayor Friedrich Ebert announced that 98.71 per cent of the "eligible voters" cast their ballots 99.86 per cent for the Communist single list of candidates.

West Berlin police said that during the hectic night at least 10 persons reached West Berlin, including one Communist people's policeman (Vopo) who grabbed a fellow officer's gun and leaped over the barrier.

During the night, Vopos moved in on a crowd of East Berliners near the border and drove them back with tear gas bombs and warning shots. A loudspeaker toured the streets, blaring: "Citizens of the capital of the German Democratic Republic. Leave the streets. Close your windows. Don't let yourselves be provoked. The people's police are keeping order and guarding your security."

The Communists turned searchlights along the East Berlin houses and against Western photographers trying to photograph the incident.

The official Communist Party newspaper "Neues Deutschland" hailed the East Berlin vote as another part of the "march to a peace treaty."
