

Kennedy Thinks Government Should See We're All Physically Fit

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy today threw the "full support" of his administration behind a national youth fitness program which he said "will enable our athletes to win the Olympics" and also improve the nation's health and physical vitality.

Speaking Tuesday night at a dinner of the National Football Foundation and the Hall of Fame, the President said, "The sad fact is that it looks more and more as if our great national sport is not playing at all—but watching."

"We have become more and more, not a nation of athletes, but a nation of spectators," he added.

"I do not say this in order to decry excellence in sports or anywhere else," Kennedy continued. "But excellence emerges from mass participation. This is shown by the fact that in the Olympic Games we are steadily falling behind the nations which stress broad participation in a great variety of sports."

The United States has maintained its traditional superiority in track and field in the Olympics but has lost the unofficial team championship to Russia because of points piled up by Soviet athletes in gymnastics, wrestling and other sports considered "minor" in the United States.

"Let me say that this administration intends to give full support to the Olympic development program," the President said. "We will not subsidize our athletes, as some nations do. But we will, through greater participation and improved physical fitness, produce a standard of excellence which will enable our athletes to win the Olympics—and do so on an amateur basis."

Kennedy said progress toward this goal already has been made by the President's Council on Youth Fitness, which is under the direction of Bud Wilkinson, athletic director and football coach at the University of Oklahoma. He said Wilkinson and the council staff "have worked out a basic physical fitness program for our elementary and secondary schools in cooperation with the nation's leading educational and medical organizations."

The President urged organizations "to help establish more programs for participation by Americans, male and female, young and old."

"In short," he explained, "what we must do is literally change the physical habits of millions of Americans—and that is far more difficult than changing their tastes, their fashions or even their politics."

Kennedy received the annual Gold Medal award of the football foundation.

During the dinner, 10 men were inducted into the Football Hall of Fame: Glenn Davis, Army half-

UN Jets Roar Into Action Against Katangese Forces

DEFIES ORDERS — A Dominican youth, right, defies the orders of a soldier as hundreds of demonstrators paraded through the streets of Santo Domingo protesting the government of President Joaquin Balaguer. The strike against Balaguer's government has led to efforts to form a Coalition government.

More Soldiers Rush To Quell Congo Uprising

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UP)—Fierce fighting between United Nations and Katangese troops raged into the second day today and U.N. jet fighters roared into action.

The United Nations command said five Swedish "Flying Barrel" jet fighters from LuLabourg strafed the Katanga air base at Kolwezi.

In Stockholm, the Swedish military said six Indian Canberra bombers also took part in the raids against the Katangese.

(In Leopoldville six U.S. Globemaster planes, put under U.N. military control in the Congo for the first time, took off early this morning, ferrying men and material to U.N. troops in Katanga.)

Two heavy battles were going on in the Elisabethville area today—one in a residential area and the other at the old airport, now unused, near the site of Tuesday's battle.

U.N. officials said at least 43 persons had been killed and 20 wounded Tuesday. The figure was certain to rise today.

Katanga Information Minister Albert Nyembo claimed U.N. forces were in "total confusion and flight" and that Katangese troops had driven the United Nations out of its headquarters in the city to a small house near Elisabethville Airport.

Brigadier Singappa Raja, the Indian commander of U.N. forces in Elisabethville, told newsmen that the cease-fire is "finished" and that aerial and troop reinforcements are on the way from Leopoldville.

"Early this morning Katangese troops directed heavy Sten gun and rifle fire at a United Nations

Refugees From East Berlin Tell Story Of Train Ride To Freedom

BERLIN (UPI)—A young East German train engineer "borrowed" a Communist passenger train Tuesday night and turned it into a cannon ball express that sped him and 24 refugees to freedom in West Berlin.

The engineer celebrated his 29th birthday today surrounded by his entire family who accompanied him on the wild ride.

The daring trainman, whose longest previous run was estimated to be an internal East German trip of some 50 miles, turned his Walter Mitty-type dreams of escape into reality in Berlin's most sensational flight to freedom of the cold war.

The refugees made their escape when the engineer, Harry Deterling, assisted by a fireman friend, powered the locomotive past the scheduled last stop at the East German station of Albrechtshof.

Here is the story that was pieced together early this morning from the refugees.

The trainmen had heard that the rails which previously led from Albrechtshof into West Berlin were scheduled to be removed as part of the Communist's border-sealing operations.

The two dreamed of driving a train through their families and friends through heavily armed police guards to the West. They began their detailed plan last week.

The engineer decided to adopt Communist measures to hoodwink East German authorities, by playing the role of an "eager-beaver."

He told his boss he would like to get additional experience by running the train on a link that switches from his normal route into Albrechtshof.

The boss was pleased with his subordinate's willingness to gain additional experience and agreed to try him on a different run.

The engineer was given Tuesday night's run, but was assigned the fireman who normally stoked his train on the regular run. He told the regular man to take the day off, telling him he had a friend who would pull the duty for him. The regular fireman happily agreed.

The engineer's family and friends purchased tickets and piled aboard the train. When the well-stoked eight-car train reached Albrechtshof, it sped on through at a speed of 50 miles an hour to Spandau in the British sector. The Communist border guards

Tariff Slash For Free Europe Urged By JFK

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy today called for replacement of the reciprocal trade act with broad powers to permit him to lower tariffs for free Europe and build an extraordinary economic NATO to combat Communist encirclement.

"If the West is to take the initiative in the economic arena, if the United States is to keep pace with the revolutionary changes in its trading world—if our exports are to retain and expand their position in world markets—then we need a new and bold instrument of American trade policy," the President said.

Kennedy, speaking to the 66th annual congress of American industry held by the National Association of Manufacturers, also commended the European Common Market, but said he was not advocating that the United States join the market.

Reiterated his pledge to submit a balanced budget in January.

Said the balance of payments on overseas trade was still to America's disadvantage, but not a cause for alarm.

Said he would press for investment tax credits to spur business. Called on labor as well as management to do their part in encouraging wage-price stability.

Kennedy, who flies to Florida later today for a speech Thursday before the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach, is seeking a more liberal U. S. tariff policy to replace the reciprocal trade act which expires next June. But some persons, including NAM members, oppose the plan on grounds that low tariffs would hurt U. S. industries.

Speaking of the trade law, the President said "it must not sim-

Two China UN Seats Proposed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Support developed in the General Assembly today for the "two Chinas" concept—a U.N. seat for the Communist Peiping regime and one for the Nationalist government of Formosa.

Both the Chinese Communist and the Chinese Nationalists have refused to acknowledge the possibility of both regimes as legitimate governments, and the Soviet Union and the United States, their principal backers, have never discussed it formally.

Jaja Wachuku, Nigeria's foreign minister, who is considered here as a reliable spokesman for much of African opinion, put the idea forward seriously Tuesday. Before that, Swedish Minister of State Mrs. Ulla Lindstrom, while favoring Communist China's seating, declared that such action would leave the problem of Nationalist China still to be solved.

More was expected to be heard of the idea when the China debate continues in the assembly this afternoon, with Ghana, the Ukraine, Australia, Cuba and Japan listed to speak.

New Dominican Plan Proposed By Government

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI)—Negotiations between the government and the opposition were expected to continue today despite President Joaquin Balaguer's illness and the reclosing of the opposition radio.

Mediators Nicolas Pichardo and Emilio Rodriguez Demorizi visited Balaguer Tuesday night after conferring with leaders of the opposition UCN party. A new government proposal was reported under consideration.

The president stayed home Tuesday for "medical treatment," perhaps connected with the liver ailment that sent him to the hospital over the weekend.

UCN president Viriato Fiallo, while withholding details of the new government offer, said it was "more favorable" than the proposal for the formation of a junta government dominated by the opposition which Balaguer advanced earlier this week.

Fiallo indicated that negotiations would continue for the time being but that they would soon be halted unless the opposition "Tropical Voice" radio returns to the air.

The radio, which had been forced to suspend broadcasts for a week, returned to the air Tuesday night only to be closed again four hours later by Col. Guariones Saladin, the director of communications.

60-Year-Old Lefors Man Hurt In Crossing Crash

A. C. Sander, 69 Lefors oil pumper, was reported in serious condition in Highland General Hospital this afternoon from injuries sustained when the pickup truck he was driving was in collision with a Fort Worth and Denver train.

The accident occurred about 9:15 a.m. today on a crossing one-half mile northwest of Lefors, according to W. R. Combs, Lefors constable.

Constable Combs said Sanders was pinned in the seat of the car and was pulled from the wreckage by a Lefors ambulance driver.

An attending physician at the hospital said Sanders received a fractured skull and brain concussion and suffered several fractured ribs.

Constable Combs said the accident apparently occurred as Sanders was driving from one lease to another on his job as a pumper.

Sanders was driving the truck south and the train approached from the southeast, according to the constable who said Sanders' apparently was blinded by a bright sun.

Reds Bare Big Military Budget

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today announced the largest peacetime military budget in the nation's history to counter the "aggressive" actions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Soviet Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov, addressing the opening of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet, said the country planned to spend 13.4 billion new rubles in the military budget for 1962.

At the Soviet official rate of exchange of $1.10 to a ruble, the figure meant the U.S.S.R. expected to spend the equivalent of $14.47 billion on its armed forces.

(Western officials have said in the past that the Soviet budget can be misleading because of the artificially set Soviet rate of exchange and because military expenditures can be hidden in the budget for the state-controlled heavy industry.)

The 1961 budget called for a military outlay of 9,255 billion rubles ($10.18 billion).

Garbuzov said the sharp military budget increase had been forced upon the U.S.S.R. by what he termed the "aggressive NATO bloc." He accused NATO of working to boost and perfect its own armaments.

Prominent on the platform at the Kremlin today was Marshal Kliment Voroshilov, publicly disgraced by Khrushchev last October rather than face television that infringe upon free speech.

Protests Of Bad TV Shows Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Television viewers probably will get "just what they deserve" unless they organize to complain loudly about poor programs, according to Federal Communications Commission Chairman Newton Minow.

Minow said television stations do not deliberately put on bad programs, but he said broadcasters tend to underrate the taste, knowledge and understanding of the public.

He made the remarks to an audience of about 200 Tuesday night at a panel discussion on television programming. Minow, who stung the industry earlier this year when he called television a "vast wasteland," was particularly critical of children's programs.

Television's opportunity to broaden children's knowledge is "so often frittered away," Minow said.

"Too often television is used as a baby sitter and that's all," he added.

The government's role in improving television is a delicate one, he said, because it borders on censorship. He said he would rather have bad television than infringe upon free speech.

Accidental Dose Of Drug Blamed In Death Of Prominent Socialite

BOSTON (UPI) — The mysterious death of Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot, bride of a socially prominent Boston artist, was blamed today on an accidental overdose of a drug prescribed for her husband.

Hugh Cabot III, who married the former Elizabeth Peterson of Bethlehem, Pa., last September, said he was informed by the medical examiner, Dr. Michael J. Luongo, that death was caused by a "massive" overdose of the drug.

Luongo has completed an autopsy but has yet to file an official report on the cause of death. Cabot said the drug, which he had been taking for a perforated ulcer condition, was in a bottle

"exactly like" a bottle which contained vitamin pills his wife frequently took.

"I believe it was a mistaken overdose," Cabot said. Why she took such a large dose remained unexplained. She had no history of illness.

The body, of the 25 year-old woman was found by her husband early Monday in vacant rooms above their own Beacon Hill apartment. She frequently went there to meditate and to care for some plants, he said.

Cabot told police his wife left their apartment Sunday, leaving a note which said she had gone out to "walk and pray." When she failed to return Sunday night he notified police.

Ceasing To Smoke May Halt Cancer, Physicians Learn

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Evidence which they believe shows that lung cancer among smokers can be prevented by giving up smoking was reported yesterday by two physicians.

Drs. Oscar Auerbach and E. Cuyler Hammond of the East Orange, N. J., Veterans Administration hospital reported they have found what they believe to be pre-cancerous lung cancer cells disintegrate and disappear in smokers who stop smoking.

Rep. Joe Kilgore Planning To Visit Camp Polk Group

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., announces he will go to Fort Polk, La. to investigate complaints of members of the 49th (Texas) Armored Division, probably Dec. 15.

Kilgore said increasing complaints about food, housing, equipment and training by members of the 49th prompted his decision to make a personal check of the matter.

"I understand that there has been what I would call minor shortages of personal equipment and even some training equipment," Kilgore said.

Regarding complaints about the lack of leadership ability on the part of non-commissioned officers of the National Guard unit, Kilgore said he would "be surprised if such a situation exists."

"I think it might be true that some of the reservists attached to the organization who have recently been on active duty might have a higher degree of proficiency than some of the guardsmen who have been training just on weekends," he said.

"But in the main, I would think the guard would be well equipped to receive the reservists and integrate them into the organization."

"I think that history may well record that the callup of the reservists has made a major contribution to show the Russians

OLEANDER'S CHRISTMAS EVE

Trial Date Set For Prosecutor

WOODVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—The second trial on an effort by the state to have suspended Jefferson County Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin permanently drummed out of office has been postponed until next year.

It was scheduled to be held Monday before Judge H. A. Coe of the 88th District Court. But he reset it for March 20, 1962 because the Woodville courthouse is being remodeled.

Judge Coe got the case on a change of venue when a Beaumont jury became deadlocked over a verdict last July.

Technical Woes Menace Manned Orbital Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—

The slim mathematical chance that America can rocket a man into orbit this year is slipping away in another wash of technical troubles, this time in a capsule built to carry the astronaut.

Scientists on the $400 million Mercury program, working in shifts on an around-the-clock basis, were carefully checking and re-checking capsule No. 13, which is to carry John H. Glenn Jr. on the free world's first orbital voyage within a few weeks.

The 1961 manned orbit hopes received another blow Monday when one of a series of check-outs turned up a problem, in the capsule, its seven miles of wiring and delicate control system. Sources would not reveal the exact nature of the troubles.

Officials already have reserfed Dec. 20-29 on the Atlantic missile range for a possible manned orbital try this year.

Glenn, oldest of the seven astronauts at 40, already has moved into special living facilities for the nation's spacemen at the cape. But unlike the one-week stays of astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom before their sub-orbital flights, Glenn appears in for a visit of several weeks.

Minding His Safety — Bob Allred, 33, was able to fly a plane before he got his driver's license. He has logged more than 4,000 hours in every type of prop-driven plane.

Texas Ranchers Resent Labor Department's Swimming Pool Fiat

SLATON, Tex. (UPI)—Mayor L. C. Lemon called a meeting of ranchers today to map plans to fight a U.S. Labor Department ultimatum to allow Mexicans to use the municipal swimming pool.

"This is out and out blackmail," the mayor said.

He said the Labor Department threatened to cut off Mexican farm labor in the area if the migrant workers (braceros) are not allowed to use the pool.

Lemon said he and other city officials want to meet tonight with 31 ranchers who would be affected if the Labor Department forbids use of braceros around Slaton.

"We may call a mass public meeting later," Lemon said.

Both city officials and the Labor Department said the order has nothing to do with integration of Negroes into any city-owned facility.

Lemon and city councilman Harry Stokes said the city would fight the order "not because of the integration angle, but because we resent a government bureau trying to ram something down our throats."

Stokes said one rancher urged the city "just tell them (the Labor Department) to go to hell."

The order to open the swimming pool to Latin Americans or be blacklisted as a community eligible for braceros was signed by Tracy C. Murrell of Dallas.

Penalty Against Griping Soldier Ordered Voided

FT. DEVENS, Mass. (UPI)—A soldier whose punishment for writing a "gripe" letter was rescinded by the secretary of the Army said today he was "quite pleased" with the action.

Sp. 5 Willard M. Miller, Jr. 21, got in trouble last Friday after he wrote a letter to a Boston newspaper complaining that he had been recalled despite having served 45 months active service.

The Army meted out company punishment, which restricted Miller to his quarters, but it was rescinded Monday by Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr.

"I am quite pleased with the Army's action," Miller said. "I felt it was my right to express my opinion to the press. My only purpose in writing the letter was to inform the public of the fact that there are men here who have served more than six months active duty."

Maj. Gen. William J. Verbeck, commanding general of Ft. Devens said Miller was restricted to quarters for "violating a rule that says all public information must go through Army channels. Stahr disagreed, and said the rule does not apply to a private letter that has no relation to classified matters."

Officials Make Second Appeal To Help Traffic

City Manager John Koontz today joined with Police Chief Jim Conner in a second appeal to downtown merchants to ask their employees not to occupy parking places in front of stores in the business district.

"The city is trying to cooperate in every way possible to alleviate the annual holiday traffic problem in the downtown area," Koontz said, "and we hope we can get store employees to understand the importance of the parking situation."

The city manager suggested that store employees park their cars in outlying districts or on parking lots and walk to work.

"This will leave parking spaces open for shoppers," he said.

Bureau Counsel Opposes Plane Route Proposals By Examiner

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The bureau counsel for the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) filed exceptions yesterday to a hearing examiner's recommendations on realignment of local air service in the Southwest.

The bureau counsel has the authority to make separate findings in CAB investigations in the economic field in the public interest.

Hearing examiner Herbert R. Bryan recommended re-routing local service in parts of Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico. His recommendations were based on air service needs of several communities because of the advent of the jet age.

Herbert K. David, the bureau counsel, listed his exceptions in a five-page summary. He said he would back them up with detailed briefs if the board wanted him to.

David recommended that a whole new investigation be instituted for the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Bryan recommended that Braniff should continue to serve Brownsville, and that Trans-Texas should not.

"The bureau . . . intends to recommend that an investigation be instituted to determine whether Brownsville, Harlingen, and Mission - McAllen - Edinburg should be served by a regional airport at Harlingen and to determine which carriers should serve such an airport," David said.

Other exceptions to Bryan's recommendations:

—That a Trans-Texas route between Houston, Austin, San Antonio; San Angelo and Midland-Odessa operated in conjunction with existing Trans-Texas service between San Antonio, San Angelo and Midland-Odessa would "eliminate any necessity for subsidy."

—That a Trans-Texas Dallas-Albuquerque service route in conjunction with a Dallas-El Paso service would entail "only a slightly higher subsidy" than the Dallas-El Paso service by itself. He said the current subsidy is about $245,000 annually.

—That a recommended route segment of Trans-Texas beyond Midland - Odessa should be changed to have terminal points at El Paso and Albuquerque and intermediate points at Hobbs, Roswell and Alamogordo.

—That a recommended Trans-Texas route between Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth, should be changed with Fort Worth and Houston as the terminal points and intermediate points at Dallas, Waco, Temple and College Station-Bryan.

Rev. Longino Rites Planned

MCLEAN (Sp) — Funeral services for the Rev. Hugh A. Longino will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the McLean Methodist Church with the Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor, officiating.

Rev. Longino, a retired Methodist minister and former pastor of the McLean Methodist Church, died Tuesday morning in a Knox City Hospital.

He had lived in McLean since his retirement until August, when he moved to Mundy. Rev. Longino had served as minister of the McLean Methodist Church for six years in the 1940's.

Survivors are three sons: Ted of Dallas, Hugh of El Paso, Harold of Denver, Colo.; one daughter, Mrs. Lanora McGuire of Roswell, N.M. and 11 grandchildren.

Interment will be in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Lamb Funeral Home.

Border Flare-Up Claimed By India

NEW DELHI (UPI)—India, already embroiled in a border flare-up with Red China, said today that Portuguese troops from Goa crossed the border and fired into Indian territory earlier this week.

The dispute with Portugal over Goa coincides with an India-Red China conflict over India's northern border with Tibet. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told an angry parliament Tuesday that Red China had threatened to send troops into Indian territory. He vowed India would "resist and repel" them.

Gift of comfort comes in a king-size wing chair with fabric featuring a dark green pattern with birds in bright red.

Italian provincial cabinet is a gift for the home at Christmas. In walnut, it combines ample storage space with a stereo phonograph. Controls are in one drawer; turntable is concealed under section of top. Radio and TV units could be added. Sound is radiated from back of the cabinet by reflectors, which use the wall as a diffusing agent.

German Christmas table has beige lace cloth over bright red linen, modern sterling flatware and brown-on-white Mayfair-patterned china.

RUTH MILLETT

"There is one minority in America — the aged — from which none of us can escape alive," says the author of a new book, "A Brighter Later Life."

From the way the aged are treated in America today you would think the young and even the middle-aged never expected to be old themselves.

Instead of making an effort to integrate the aged into our existing communities we are setting up whole communities for the aged — where they can be put out of sight and out of mind.

Instead of telling young married couples what an important role grandparents can play in the lives of young children, the experts on family living keep telling them to be on their guard against interfering grandparents.

Instead of letting men and women work as long as they are physically and mentally capable of holding their jobs we retire them arbitrarily when they reach 65.

Instead of including the aged in the social life of our communities, we form golden age clubs for them and tell them to go along and amuse themselves.

Instead of using the aged as the backbone of community projects — putting their leisure time to good and worth — while advantage we give the jobs to the young and the middle-aged.

Instead of respecting the wisdom and the courage and the experience of the aged and learning all that we can from them, we act as though there is nothing they could possibly teach us, simply because they are old.

That's the attitude toward our aged minority and it's pretty short-sighted considering it is a minority from which none of us can escape alive.

★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

Are you constantly apologizing for the appearance of your home. If so, it's time to get busy. Look around with a critical eye.

Be prepared for unexpected guests. Avoid frantic moments by replacing limp curtains now with new, crisp ones — or touch up scarred woodwork — try a new furniture arrangement.

The size and cost of house and furniture are not really important. But it is important to make the most of what you have. Many people live with more grace and charm in a one-room efficiency apartment than others in a 20-room mansion. Never be guilty of making excuses for your home.

Dear Polly: I have Early American furniture and want the living room in red, white and blue. Drapes are Wedgewood blue; short and with pleated valances. Carpeting is blue to match.

I would like oyster white walls. Sofa and courtng bench are to be slip covered in different prints. Would it be poor taste to hang a gold spread eagle over the sofa.

—Mrs. R. P. B. Dear Mrs. R. P. B.: You're off to a good start. Do have the red a dull shade often called "barn red." I suggest a documentary print with an off-white ground, with red-and-blue design for the large sofa; and possibly a wing or other upholstered chair.

The small sofa would be pretty with a blue-and-white check or plaid fabric. Perhaps the seat of a small chair could be plain red. An eagle would be nice over the sofa. If used alone, choose a large one. A smaller one could be part of a picture grouping. Or, it could be surrounded with blue-and-white historical plates.

Dear Polly: I have a comforter filled with a synthetic and covered with an all-accrate fabric. Do you think it will wash. When we went on vacation, my husband turned off all the electricity by mistake. The freezer defrosted. Everything spoiled. After two months, there is still a horrible odor. We have used baking soda, turpentine, ammonia, bleach, charcoal and aerosol deodorant. It still smells of bad meat. Have you any suggestions — P. P.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

TOUCH OF MINK

It doesn't take lots of mink to be in-fashion this winter. You can have a circle of mink to be worn daytime or evening; a boa, an ascot, a scarf or a shawl collar.

Any one of these can cost you less than $100.

Dear Abby....

What's To Explain About Clergy Attire?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is this world coming to? I was shocked when my daughter's girl friend told me that last summer their priest put on bathing trunks and went swimming with the church choir! Also that he removes his collar and wears sports clothes on fishing trips, outings and picnics. Whether Roman Catholic, Episcopalian or any faith, are they permitted to do such things? Please comment, Abby. And perhaps the clergy would like to explain themselves.

MRS. SHOCKED

DEAR MRS. SHOCKED: You have a "short" in your thinking. I don't know of any diocese or religious order that requires priests to wear clerical clothes at all places, under all circumstances. Such decisions are left to the discretion of the priest. I have never heard of any objections to a priest wearing a sport shirt while on a picnic, an outing or fishing. And you certainly can't expect him to go for a swim in his collar!

DEAR ABBY: My husband died in mid-summer. Would it be in poor taste to send Christmas cards or send gifts this year?

WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Certainly not. Those in mourning should not withhold their good wishes to others.

DEAR ABBY: Am I wrong to tell my 14-year-old freshman daughter that she does NOT have to accept a date with the first boy who asks her? She insists that if she refuses the first boy, she cannot accept a date for that night at all!

On several occasions she has accepted a date with the first boy who asked her, and has been sorry because an hour later a boy she wanted to go with asked her. There were times when she turned down a date because she didn't care for the boy, and when a boy she really liked asked her, she turned him down, too, because she had already refused the first one. Please straighten this out. She won't listen to me.

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: A girl need NOT stay home if she rejects the first boy who asks her out. Boys choose the dates they want, and girls have the privilege of accepting or declining. However, if a girl ACCEPTS a date with a boy (a drip or a dream) she must either go with him or stay home.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED SICK: PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE tell your parents.

You are both under age for marriage, but when you are really in trouble, you will find that your parents are your best friends.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: I read your column diligently and would appreciate it if you would please give me some much-needed advice. I have a two-piece dress which I have had altered. The skirt is straight cut in keeping with styles these days. But I am told that the material itself is out of date. I'm sending you a sample of it. Would you please tell me what you think of it yourself? — Mrs. A. H.

Dear Mrs. A. H.: I consulted with David Crystal of New York on this one. After seeing the fabric sample you sent, Mr. Crystal has this to say: "As you have already purchased this dress, it would be a shame not to wear it. But, in future shopping, keep in mind the marvelous range of fabrics in great variety of textures and colors now available. They are a dream to care for and a joy to wear.

"Of course, there will always be classic favorites that women will love and wear, such as silks, wools, velvets and linens. But new miracle fabrics have been created to meet the needs of a modern, American way of life. And crease-resistant, easily washable, drip-dry fabrics are a must in every woman's wardrobe."

Dear Gaile: During a woman's pregnancy, she is more self-conscious than ever about her appearance. And, at present, this is my problem. I have quite a few maternity separates from past pregnancies and am in doubt about when certain fabrics should be worn. Two tops are black with silver metallic threads. One is red with metallic detailing. These

The Christmas shopper will be confronted by such a staggering array of alluring gifts for the home that decisions will be difficult.

It's well to remind oneself that gifts which reflect a warm and deep affection for family or friends, and an appreciation of their tastes, will be cherished. High or low prices are not the test of value.

In many homes this year, the family gift will reflect a growing understanding of fine music, and of the excellent recordings that enrich our knowledge of literature and languages.

Stereo phonograph units have been corralled into handsome pieces which makes them harmonize better with other living room furniture.

A notable new one, for example, combines unique, top-quality cabinets of fine woods and excellent design. What's onique is that inner cabinet space is left free for storage.

And, instead of loud speakers there are fluted plastic reflectors on the back of the cabinet. Sound is radiated from the back and the wall diffuses the sound.

Record storage cabinets styled like popular furniture are enjoying a brisk sale.

With so much new furniture designed with individual tastes and sizes in mind, this may be the Christmas the family chips in and gives dad a he-man-sized chair to call his own. In one collection designed by John Van Koert, there are several chairs designed with masculine comfort in mind, including a high-backed wing chair of kingly proportions.

Just made for a mother's boudoir are jewel-bright, velvet-upholstered chairs, foam-rubber padded "gossip" benches or snug little rockers.

Miniature chairs in popular, traditional styles are designed for the youngsters.

Hospitality is the hallmark of many families. Gifts for them range from informal handsome, sup-and-snack plate sets in white china, designed for a large mail order house, to elegant modern sterling silver designs.

More plentiful is colored glassware in amethyst, emerald green, ruby and cobalt, available in small and large sets.

Coffee sets for Irish, Italian, French, and American coffee multiply, with some silver-rimmed glass cups for Irish, slim demi-tasse cups in colored china from Italy and decorated tapered cups imported from France being shown.

Table linens, which include plastic place mats resembling linen and organdie so closely one must feel them to tell the difference, promise festive holiday tables. Clear, bright colors are often flimed by a lace-overcloth or nylon net for a party table setting.

Bubbling fountains, with self-contained water systems, are coming down in cost. A fountain in the family room could be the focal point for household plants. Garden-minded friends will take pleasure in rare bulbs, potted plants and the new, indoor table-top greenhouses.

Sending flowers or plants is the solution to some gift problems, and you can see what the bouquet you wire will look like. Top floral designers have compiled a catalogue of best-liked arrangements which most florists have on hand. Prices start at six dollars. Arrangements cover a variety of occasions as well as gift-giving.

Red Guns Still Ruling Hungary, UN Aide Finds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Communist regime of Hungary still is so shaky five years after the revolt of Budapest that it needs the continued support of Soviet troops to stay in power, according to Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand.

Munro, special United Nations representative on Hungary, made the statement in a report he submitted Monday to the General Assembly in preparation for a forthcoming debate on the issue.

Coincidentally the report was a move by Hungary's Red regime to improve relations with the United States.

Hungarian Deputy Premier Gyula Kallai told newsmen in Budapest Monday that his government is ready to talk about Josef Cardinal Mindszenty as part of any negotiations with Washington.

Mindszenty took refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest when the anti-Communist revolt of 1956 collapsed. He has been there ever since. Hungarian police maintain a constant watch, ready to seize him should he try to leave the building.

Munro said the attitude of the Hungarian and Soviet governments toward the United Nations and toward the Hungarian people is one of absolute defiance.

He said the Budapest regime has refused to let him into the country as a U.N. representative and the Soviet Union has refused to withdraw its troops in compliance with a General Assembly demand.

"There is still no rule of law in Hungary, nor are the Hungarians permitted to exercise the right of self-government," Munro said.

Munro reported that during the past year Hungarian authorities have reverted "with persistence" toward policies and practices of the type that stirred up the 1946 revolt.

He said they have put on pressure for higher industrial production, forced collectivization of agriculture and instituted a hard-hitting "atheist" propaganda campaign.

Retiring McLean Fireman Honored

MCLEAN (Spl) — Leo Tibson, a member of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department for 20 years, who retired recently, was guest of honor at a steak dinner for the department.

He was presented with a watch in appreciation of his association with the department by firechief Boyd Meador.

Those present, besides firemen, were: County Judge Bill Craig, Pampa; John Haynes, McLean city mayor; and Thuit Johnson and Nat Lunceford, Gray County Commissioners also of Pampa.

During the business meeting, Boyd Meador was re-elected firechief, to the post he has held for 15 years. S. A. Cousins and Wilson Boyd were elected assistants.

Electronic Alarm Rifled By Burglar

DALLAS (UPI)—The efforts of United Waste to make itself burglarproof were, you might say, wasted.

Officials of the company hired Smith Detective Agency to install an elaborate electronic alarm system.

A burglar promptly stole two tubes out of the system control box.

FPC Considers Gas Rate Case Testimony Plea

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Federal Power Commission has under consideration today a request by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to let testimony showing the economic importance of the oil and gas industry on the Permian Basin stand as it is.

Wilson was joined by New Mexico Atty. Gen. Earl E. Hartley in the legal move. They filed an answer and an objection to a motion by California and Wisconsin and other out-of-state intervenors to strike part of the testimony at a recent rate hearing.

The questioned testimony was by Dr. John R. Stockton of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research and Ralph L. Edgel of New Mexico. Both had presented evidence like for you to please bring me a doll dressed in red with an extra pair of pedal pushers, pots and pans set and a pair of house shoes, or anything else you would like to bring me.

The attorney general argued that the current Federal Power Commission proceeding is the first of its kind involving establishment of an area rate for natural gas. They said the rulings on evidence "can have no possible application to the evidence offered in the area price hearings."

California and Wisconsin based their request on a Supreme Court ruling that the FPC could not consider the economic effect on a producer in determining whether to reduce existing rates.

Cuban Refugees Granted Asylum

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Twenty-seven Cubans who fled Fidel Castro's Communist regime have been granted political asylum in Mexico, the Interior Ministry announced.

The refugees, who escaped from a political prison in the province of Pinar Del Rio, made their way to the Yucatan Peninsula in a small boat.

The announcement by the Interior Ministry gave no details as to when the Cubans escaped nor where they identified.

'Dogs Down Dimmitt; Warriors Take Two

Mighty Borger spilled Dimmitt 65-47 Tuesday night to rack its third straight victory of the young cage season as district 3-AAAA teams captured three wins in four outings.

Palo Duro chilled Levelland 57-50 and Monterey crushed Abilene Cooper 58-25 while Lubbock was losing to Abilene High 45-41.

Gail Simpson pumped in 17 points as Borger romped to its second win of the campaign over Dimmitt, runner-up in the AA finals in 1960. The Bulldogs trounced the Bobcats 69-52 in their initial clash.

Simpson now has scored 61 points in three games to pace the well-balanced Borger attack.

Miami teams scored a pair of triumphs Tuesday night over visiting Mobeetie. The Warriors carved out a 61-24 win over the Hornets in a boy's game while the Miami girls nipped Mobeetie 54-32.

Scotty Daugherty poured in 20 points for the Miami boys and Mark Arrington and Tim Flowers added 10 each. The Warriors were never in danger after posting a 21-11 halftime lead and a 43-23 third period advantage.

Jacque Gill pulled the Miami girls through to victory with a brilliant 37-point performance as she outdueled Anna Gudgel and Mary Gudgel of Mobeetie, who scored 28 and 18 points respectively.

In other local games, Panhandle swept a twinbill from Groom winning the girls' game 34-24 and beating the boys 31-23.

Don Craig led the Groom Tigers with 10 points and Janice Babcock paced the Groom girls with 15 points.

Ann Acker and Harry Drake pumped in 34 and 25 points respectively for Perryton teams against Gruver. Perryton captured the boy's game 55-46 and Gruver won the girl's tilt 45-40.

White Deer smashed former coach Bob Moore's Phillips Blackhawks 65-26 in a mild upset. Carl McAdams hit 18 points and Gerald Bickel added 17 for the victorious Bucks.

Mike Stewart Awarded 'Fighting Heart'

A 'FIGHTING HEART' AND A QUEEN—Mike Stewart and Miss Betty Enright hold the plaque which has Mike's name inscribed on it after he was named recipient of the "Fighting Heart" award at the annual Pampa High School football banquet Tuesday night. Miss Enright was elected Football Queen by the team. She is a senior cheerleader and Stewart is captain of the 1961 Harvesters. Miss Enright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Enright, 2520 Christine and Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Stewart, 1221 Garland. (Daily News Photo)

Betty Enright Named As Football Queen

Mike Stewart was named recipient of the "Fighting Heart" award and Miss Betty Enright was crowned Football Queen at the annual high school grid banquet Tuesday night honoring the Pampa Harvesters and Shockers at the Robert E. Lee Cafeteria.

In a colorful background of dazzling brilliance with large PHS in the school colors — green and gold, parents and supporters honored the teams' 66-members — 31 Harvesters and 35 Shockers.

Beri Huffman, freshman grid mentor at Texas Tech, was the guest speaker and the emcee was Paul Brown, president of the Quarterback Club, which sponsored the banquet.

But Stewart was the center of attraction as Athletic Director and Coach Weldon Trice presented the Pampa senior with the coveted award and Mike received a standing ovation from the audience.

Stewart, captain of the 1961 squad and a versatile backfieldman, was obviously touched by the honor. He made a brief speech in which he paid thanks to the coaches for choosing him.

Miss Enright was chosen by the football team as Queen and Stewart crowned the pretty cheerleader. Other candidates for the honor were Miss Donna Walsh escorted by Robbie Robison and Miss Ruth Guthrie escorted by Stewart. Jimmy Hoyler escorted Miss Enright.

In choosing the "Fighting Heart" winner, Trice listed several ingredients the coaches considered necessary for a player to deserve the award.

Trice said the award should go to "a boy who puts the team before himself, follows training, plays at any position where he is asked to play without complaint and has the respect of his teammates."

"He should be a leader off the field as well as on the field. He should put out that extra effort to win and be one who plays according to rules of the game and rules of life."

The Pampa mentor also explained that the recipient of the "Fighting Heart" honor was not chosen on ability alone, but as "the one who gives the most he got with what little ability he may have." Trice acclaimed the "Fighting Heart" award as the best honor in Pampa High including all-state and all-district selections.

Pete Cooper was the initial winner of the award originated in 1948. He also won it again in 1949 to be the only double winner. Jimmy Storms was the 1960 selection for the laurels.

Dr. Joe Donaldson introduced the speaker — Huffman. The Texas Tech coach made a short, but impressive speech in which he cited the need of physical education in public schools more than ever before.

After opening with a few anecdotes, Huffman said, "Athletics build character and a great lesson in discipline is learned in athletics." He also emphasized the importance of good grades.

Speaking directly to the team, Huffman related, "There is no place for mediocrity today. A person must excel in whatever he or she does. The boys and girls are being honored who make A's in schoolwork."

Brown presented the Pampa coaches — Trice, Dwaine Lyon, Norman Phillips, Eural Ramsey and Deck Woldt — with gifts saying, "Everyone likes to win, but I want a coach who can make a man out of my boy and we have the coaches."

Brown told the football team, "You have won a reputation over the entire Panhandle as a hustling, fighting group of players. It's not whether you win or lose, but how you played the game. We are all proud of you."

Among the guests present were Gene Mayfield, grid coach at Borger, and his wife, and Mrs. Terry Culley, sponsor of the Pampa cheerleaders.

Members of the Harvesters wore jackets owned by the school which are used each year for this special occasion. The jackets are green and gold trimmed and are also used on long road trips when the team stays overnight.

Decorations were arranged by the football mothers and the guests were treated to a fine barbecue dinner which was served by the Robert E. Lee homemaking class.

Introductions of guests were made by Charlie Robison and Rev. Glyn B. Adsit, pastor of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation.

Lefors Drops Two To Stinnett Teams

LEFORS — Stinnett swept a pair of games from the Lefors Pirates Tuesday night by winning the girl's game 42-35 and the boy's tilt 59-45.

Anthony McCool led the Lefors boys with 19 points and Donna Graham was high scorer for the Lefors girls.

The Rattlers ran off with the boy's game as they posted a 28-22 halftime margin.

Cincinnati Notches Cage Win

By United Press International

The University of Cincinnati basketball team has developed a sticky defense to match the high-rolling attack that carried the Bearcats to the NCAA championship last season.

Coach Ed Jurker's bombers limited Miami of Ohio to 11 points in the first half Tuesday night en route to a 63-30 victory.

Miami was held scoreless for 12 minutes during the first half before Dave Mack connected on a hook shot. During this Miami drought, Cincinnati reeled off 23 points. Jurker yanked his first stringers after the Bearcats opened a 33-11 halftime lead, but even the subs outscored Miami, 30-19, in the second half.

Third-ranked Wake Forest outscored North Carolina State from the free throw line in gaining a 77-65 victory and Art Heyman's 28 points sparked sixth-ranked Duke to a 117-72 triumph over Davidson.

Wake Forest and N.C. State each totaled 27 field goals but the Deacons converted 23 of 33 free throws to State's 11 of 16. Len Chappell scored 28 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. For Wake Forest, which held a 37-29 halftime bulge.

Sophomore Jeff Mullins teamed with Heyman in swamping Davidson, scoring 24 points and adding six rebounds. Duke was particularly hot in the second half, converting 38 per cent of its shots.

Bill Jarman accounted for almost half of Davidson's output with 35 points.

Ninth-ranked West Virginia tallied 54 points in the second half in walloping VMI, 90-56, a last second basket by Pete Krause gave North Carolina a 54-52 victory over Clemson. Gary Daniels' 24 points carried the Citadel to an 83-76 triumph over William and Mary, and Furman downed Wofford, 80-68, on a 31-point performance by Jerry Smith in other major southern games.

Tom Bowman's 21 points helped Butler to a 77-55 victory over New Mexico State. Texas A&M converted exactly half of its second-half floor shots in whipping Houston, 64-49.

Aggies Maul Houston

By United Press International
Southern Methodist and Texas Wesleyan at Austin. TCU meets Tulane at New Orleans, Baylor tackles Memphis State at Memphis, and Rice travels to Tallahassee, Fla., to battle Florida State.

SMU's zone defense held Oklahoma to only 19 points, in 77 field attempts, less than 25 per cent. The Mustangs connected on 18 of 50 field goal shots. Forward Harvey Chaffin led the Sooners with 15 points.

The Aggies found the range in the second half against Houston after leading at the intermission 25-22. A&M pumped in 14 of 28 second half field goals.

Bennie Lenox of A&M paced all point makers with 20 points. Jack Thompson was high for Houston with 16. A&M and SMU each have won two games without a loss.

Three Returnees On 1961 Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Press International Wednesday announced its 1961 All-American football team, the 11 finest players in the land as chosen by a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

The unusually heavy and powerful squad lined up this way:
Ends: Gary Collins, Maryland, and Pat Richter, Wisconsin.
Tackles: Bill Neighbors, Alabama, and Merlin Olsen, Utah State.
Guards: Joe Romig, Colorado, and Roy Winston, Louisiana State.
Center: Alex Kroll, Rutgers.
Quarterback: Sandy Stephens, Minnesota.
Halfback: Ernie Davis, Syracuse, and James Saxton, Texas.
Fullback: Bob Ferguson, Ohio State.

Ferguson, Davis, and Romig also were members of the 1960 UPI All-America team. Ferguson, a 217-pound battering ram who blasted opposing lines for a 5-yard-per-carry average this season, paced the voting for backfield positions and Romig, although the lightest man in the massive line at 200 pounds, polled more votes than any other line man.

A total of 334 writers and broadcasters took part in the voting and ballots were compiled on a basis of 11 points for a first-place vote and six points for a second-place vote.

Ferguson received 277 first-place votes and 24 second-place votes, thus being mentioned on 90.1 per cent of all ballots cast. Davis was next with 250 first-place votes and 32 second-place votes for a total of 282 ballots, 84.4 per cent. Romig had 222 firsts, 45 seconds, for a total of 267 and a percentage of 79.9 per cent.

On points, Ferguson had 3,191, Davis 2,946, Saxton 2,841 and Romig 2,712.

Unlike one year ago however when Navy's Joe Bellino, paced a runaway in the ballots, there was close voting this year for almost all positions. Especially narrow voting was produced at ends and for the fourth spot in the backfield, finally won by Stephens in a contest with Pat Trammell of Alabama.

It is an all-senior lineup except for Richter, a junior.

The line, ranging in size from the 6-foot, 5-inch, 265-pound Olsen Down to the 5-10, 200-pound Romig, averages a stunning 227½ pounds per man—13 pounds more than last year's line. The presence of the 164-pound scatback Saxton in the backfield, reduced the overall team average to 218 pounds per man, but even so that is four pounds more than the 1960 squad.

The players making up the second team were:
Ends — Bill Miller, Miami (Fla.), and Greg Mather, Navy; tackles — Bob Bell, Minnesota, and Jim Dunaway, Mississippi; guards — Mike Ingram, Ohio State, and Nick Buoniconti, Notre Dame; center — Larry Onesti, Northwestern; backs — Pat Trammell, Alabama; Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State; John Hadl, Kansas; and Lance Alworth, Arkansas.

toronto (UPI) — Floyd Patterson will never be stripped of his world heavyweight title, so Sony Liston, the top ranked contender, today was warned not to count on winning the crown by default.

The warning was issued by Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, who also hinted he would seek court action if Liston refuses to "remove the obstacles" to a proposed title match with the champion next March. He did not disclose the nature of the "obstacles" that had to be removed by Liston.

"If Liston thinks he can get that title without fighting Floyd for it," said D'Amato before leaving for New York, "he'll find he's making a big mistake — in spite of any assurances he may have from the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission and National Boxing Association."

D'Amato apparently was referring to the NBA's September edict that Patterson must defend his crown against whoever is top contender before March 13, or risk having the NBA half of his title vacated.

At the time of that edict, Liston was under suspension, by both the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission and the NBA for two brushes with the law. He later was reinstated by Pennsylvania, with the NBA concurring. Then the NBA returned him to the No. 1 spot among heavyweight contenders.

"He was inactive for a long while," irate Cus declared. "But the NBA rules do not apply to him. He was not lowered in the NBA ratings — like other fighters would have been, — because of his inactivity."

With disdain in his voice, D'Amato continued: "This Liston has been going around for months, shooting off his mouth and telling what he'd do to Floyd if he ever got him in the ring. Now, we're asking him to put up or shut up. We're asking him to fight — if he'll first remove the obstacles to that fight."

'Reaction' From Britain

There is a group of sound free market economists gaining stature and strength in Britain. This fact is most encouraging. Banded together in an organization called the Institute of Economic Affairs, some of Britain's leading lights in the field of economic understanding, are making themselves heard and felt more often than before. Recently to come to our desk from across the Atlantic is a new book introduced and edited by Ralph Harris, himself a splendid thinker in this field who has already co-authored (with Arthur Seldon) a definitive work on the subject of "Advertising in a Free Society." This book is called "Radical Reaction," and is available in London for 25 shillings. The volume brings together in revised form six essays first published in the "Hobart Papers." The authors contributing are mostly unknown to this side of the water, but all are men of deep understanding and deep conviction. They are making a sterling contribution to economic thinking in Britain and one can hope that their influence will someday make itself felt on these shores. Graham Hutton has the first position in the book. He makes a survey of the general economic landscape in Britain and optimistically calls his contribution: "All Capitalists Now." If one may take his observations at face value there is a wide disenchantment with "nationalization" in Britain and a general willingness to rely on the free market. Mr. Hutton mars his efforts by making government a partner in the operation of business enterprise. But at least he has removed government as the principal arbiter of economic affairs and is to be congratulated for that achievement. The second paper, from the pen of Professor B. S. Yamey, takes up the practice called "resale price maintenance" in America. He would refer to his practice as "fair pricing." He shows in indisputable logic that this practice inflates costs and prices, restricts choices, and obstructs the technical processes of retailing. Resale price maintenance in Britain is not quite the same as fair pricing in America for in the former case, the practice has

Freedom And Economics

Economics is only understood if it is placed within a framework of individual freedom. The only purpose of economics is to provide a science of means wherein individuals will discover the proper way their varying desires can be fulfilled. To imagine that economics can exist in any other framework of reference is to imagine that human beings do not have individual desires. It is true, of course, that certain well read men, calling themselves economists, have come forward to pontificate on what they imagine human desires are, have been or will be, and hence to provide some system wherein these imagined desires can be met by central planning, collective production and governmental distribution. Alas, their splendid intentions have always been and always will be doomed to failure. It is not possible for any centralized agency, no matter how brilliant or how benevolent, to decide for human beings what their desires are or are going to be. The reason is that human beings themselves don't know. And even Univac can't solve that problem. It may be possible for statisticians to be kept and for elaborate charts to be drawn based upon past performances and future probabilities. Nor would we gain say the fact of limited usefulness of this type of procedure. But to assume that by this process human desires will be fulfilled is to assume a static world; and if the assumption is carried, but systematically, it will result in a sterile world from which change, inven-

The American Way

In the Sunday supplement of a Los Angeles newspaper was an article: "How the Reds Plan to Smash the UN." It is written by Petr Zenkel of New York, formerly deputy premier of Czechoslovakia, mayor of Prague and chairman, Executive Council of Free Czechoslovakia. This Zenkel calls attention to a booklet published in England by another Czech, purporting to show how the Reds bore into the government of a country and take over. Zenkel should know, for he was party to such a take-over. The very first line of his article is deliberate falsehood. He writes: "My native country was lost to the communists in 1948 without civil war." It was "lost" in 1945, not 1948. But for 13 years the communist collaborators have been trying to palm off that fiction on the American people. Their purpose is to absolve themselves of appalling crimes against humanity that are matters of known record while they were well paid officials of the communist regime of Eduard Benes in Prague, which began in May 1945, not in 1948. I witnessed the take-over in 1945. For three years these communist collaborators worked zealously for the destruction of all Western Christian civilization by communism. They never ceased praising Stalin, the god-head of the conspiracy. For example, in the Congressional Record of April 25, 1955, are many quotations of Petr Zenkel lauding Stalin. Among others he said: "let us declare war against the fear of Bolshevism and forbid at the same time the formation of any anti-Communist front whatsoever." Some of the barbarous edicts of that communist regime 1945-48 are signed by Zenkel. There is no known record of signed confessions and plea for forgiveness by any of those communist collaborators. The magazine article referred to, concludes with Zenkel's words that his country lost its freedom because he and his colleagues "lacked a thorough knowledge of Communist duplicity and conspiratorial tactics." Despite the Soviet's forty year record of such tactics, to which this Czech statesman was a party, he says he was unaware of them. How naive can we be! He and the Council of Free Czechoslovakia are being subsidized with your tax dollars by our State Department. Much documentation supporting that will be found in Dr. Kurt Glaser's new book "Czechoslovakia, a Critical History," by the Caxton Press. Every library and school should have it. Glaser presents truths, which many other authors find it convenient to omit from their histories.

Pegler Says: Gaming Still Illegal But Enormously Present Today

The idiotic American obsession with crap-shooting and the ten-cent policy racket continues to fatten the reputations of politicians in Congress and county seats through the old, reliable investigation or probe. Senator John McClellan, of Arkansas, has just issued two volumes of "hearings" by the Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, on the horribly subject of "Gambling and Organized Crime." Conclusions are not yet ripe but they tell us, of course, along with Tom Dewey many years ago and Davey Crockett Kefauver more recently, that gambling is a great evil which sends wan and pallid children to bed hungry in rooms with patches of plaster off the walls. These two green Congressional books have altogether 600 pages and they reveal in the glossy papers in circulation. These papers are dirt poor. They would pool pennies to buy a ten-cent slip. When Tom Dewey as District Attorney was popping his eyes at credulous reporters with highly incredible estimates of the probable profits which all this perjury, yielded to barons of that never-never land called the underworld, simple, two-times-two arithmetic showed that this was the stuff dreams are made of. The underworld would have to sell millions of one-cent and ten-cent tickets every day to vindicate this nonsense. But it was, after all, "official" and we could quote him. As one result, he thought for a few hours one November night in 1948 that he had been elected President. If gambling were legal as it is indubitably moral, we all might have the pleasant right to drop in on a crap game on the way home at night or to take mama around to play a little bingo, while Pop tried a few bets-at-faro or Klondike. It would cost no more than booze and there would be a chance of walking home with a bundle now and again as distinguished from a load. We are penny ante gamblers at worst. In Reno and even Vegas, there are nickel slots and ten-cent roulette. But in Monte Carlo the cheapest chip sells for two of the new francs, or 40 cents, and the Germans in gambling joints along the Rhine have a minimum of two marks or about 52 cents. Just as booting was immoral and dangerous under the 18th Amendment, so is gambling wrong though enormously prevalent among us today.

gent, can and will satisfy their deepest and sharpest desires with the least possible expenditure of energy or other things of value. It follows that the only possible climate in which economics can be functional is a climate of freedom. For without the freedom of choice each human being must have if he is to satisfy his deepest desires as a result of his own value judgments, economics cannot exist: To order, by force, the production of certain consumer items; to distribute them by force; to compel their acceptance — this is not economics, this is a negation of economics. By any name you choose to call it, it is a despotism. Economics and freedom go hand in hand. Remove a man's choices in respect to his energies, his properties, his money, and you have removed his freedom. Remove his freedom, and even tho he is supplied with food, clothing, shelter and other comforts or necessities, such a procedure has little relationship to economics as such.

Economics, then, is a study in motion wherein human beings, variable, unpredictable, diver-

The professional gamblers, such as Frank Costello, and long before him, the Reverend Edward Riley Bradley, of Palm Beach, were honest men who had to submit to extortion by politicians with a sworn responsibility to the public so that they could accommodate a popular desire. The same obviously goes for those who sell the policy slips for as little as one-cent, but usually for a dime, in Harlem and similar New York neighborhoods. Costello got his kindergarten start shooting craps in Harlem which then had a predominant Italian population, but soon went into policy because he had cold nerve, a lightning mentality for There's another side of the story to the latest ruckus stirred up by United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther. At the Industrial Unions Department conference here Reuther charged that if the building trades craft unions didn't stop their internal warfare against the IUD (of which he is also president) the AFL-CIO — of which he is vice president, — would bust up. The full answer to Reuther will be made during the Building and Construction Trades Department convention in Miami. Its principal officers are President C. J. Haggerty and Secretary-treasurer Frank Bonadio. There are 18 unions with about four million members in the building trades, and 59 unions with about six million members in the industrial unions. They have long been at war, mostly over jurisdictional disputes.

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER
L. H. D.

Before me is a picture of the Big Three and some of their assistants at Teheran in late December, 1943. Churchill is grim but Roosevelt and Stalin wear smiles of satisfaction. An account in U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT tells why. They had much in common and were working together against Churchill. The President had even told the Kremlin dictator that the best solution for India would be to reorganize that country along Soviet lines. He also agreed that Russia should annex nearly half of Poland, but asked Stalin to keep the matter secret as Roosevelt had an election coming up in 1944 and he needed the votes of 6 or 7 million Polish Americans. He did not want it known that he had betrayed their country until after his dictatorship had been confirmed for another four years. After this explanation, Stalin was satisfied and shared with Roosevelt in the deception. Churchill protested, and asked for a fair solution of the Polish problem which he could submit to the Polish government in exile. Churchill also strove to keep the Balkans out of the clutches of the USSR, but Roosevelt took the side of Stalin and handed over the whole region to the Communist bosses. With respect to Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, Roosevelt like wise handed these three countries to Russia without objection, asking only that Stalin, keep the matter secret until after the 1944 Presidential election. It was at this conference that Roosevelt approved of Stalin's proposal to liquidate some 50-100,000 German officers after the war. Mr. Churchill took strong exception, but was overruled by the two cronies. No one can understand the present plight of our country, without carefully studying the strong pro-Communism of Roosevelt during his long domination of the American scene. Aside from Truman's firm stand in Greece and Turkey, neither he, nor Mr. Eisenhower reversed the trend toward the socialization of our own country, further appeasement and retreat before Communist aggression. How sinister that the present Administration continues to point to the Roosevelt years, as its model. Appeasement is only delayed piecemeal surrender. The Communist leaders of Russia and China, do not want peace. They have willed our destruction. Their advocacy of peaceful co-existence is designed only to quiet our fears and to enable communism to edge in a little farther in cultural, educational, economic and political affairs until they can either take us over with our consent or weaken us to the point of being able to destroy us by violence. If we are so blind that we cannot see their strategy and so weak that we cannot stop it, we do not deserve to survive.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's another side of the story to the latest ruckus stirred up by United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther. They have long been at war, mostly over jurisdictional disputes. Highlights of the building trades story: In the 1955 Miami agreement for merger of AFL with CIO, it was specified that new construction and major alterations should be the work of the building trades. Production work and running maintenance were to go to the industrial unions. In gray areas, past practice would determine jurisdiction. The next March there was a building trades strike on a construction job at Ford Motor Co. The auto workers claimed they had a restrictive clause in their contract with Ford. Under this the company had to offer work to unions of its own employees before it could let contracts giving work to others. The building trades contend that Reuther at that time said he considered restrictive clauses wrong and that they had been eliminated from all U.A.W. contracts except at Ford. It is claimed that Reuther offered to cancel this clause in the Ford contract if the strike was settled. The strike was settled and the clause went out. But in the new 1961 contracts with Ford and General Motors, it's back in. In 1958 a special committee of the AFL-CIO executive council under Machinists' Union President Al Hayes drafted a new agreement which both the building trades and industrial unions signed. The first provision called for new construction, major alterations and repairs to be work of building trades. Within 30 days, it is charged, the Steelworkers and two other unions washed their hands of the agreement because their members wanted to do construction work. And in July, at a meeting of the Hayes committee, Reuther served notice that the industrial unions were unilaterally abrogating the agreement. In its place, he proposed that different standards be introduced, based entirely on past practices. At the AFL-CIO convention of 1959 in San Francisco it was decided that a new attempt should be made to devise a terminal point. There were two other main provisions. Each case should be decided on its own merits without prejudice to the future. Existing jurisdiction of each affiliated union should be safeguarded. But ever since then there have

Hankerings

A reader writes to ask if I ever read books and, if I don't, then why, and, if I do, why is there never any mention of them. Yes, I read books. I am a member in good standing of half a dozen Carnegie libraries, and almost my first requirement of a neighborhood, is that it have a strong, established circulating library, whose proprietor isn't too strict about overdue books, and who doesn't charge for Sundays. I don't read three and-four a night, as one of my friends does. He is the victim of a speed-reading course and always has to take at least three books from the library at a time — one to last him home on the bus, one to hold him while waiting for dinner, and the third for reading in bed before he goes to sleep. My friend, by the way, is looking for a reading course that will slow him down. He envies those people who read with their lips, and with the tip of a finger following the line. Reading as he does — he reads two pages at a glance, and three or four if the paper is thin — he goes through a library like a rabbit through a head of lettuce. But back to my own reading. I have just finished a book by a man I want to recommend as The Man of the Year, not only for 1962, but 1963 as well. He is Guy Murchie, and his book is "Music of the Spheres," and in it Mr. Murchie has done the impossible. He has taken the solar system, among other things, and made it understandable, not only to the mind of the layman, but to the sort of mind I have, which is a full light year below that of the average when space and mathematics are concerned. All my life I have sought such a book. I have tried "Mathematics Made Easy," "The Sun Made Simple," "The Universe in Three Quick Lessons," and "Physics in Ten Minutes." But all left me not only cold, but bewildered. Mr. Murchie actually explains all the wonders of the world, and its surroundings, so that I not only understand it, but enjoy it. Mr. Murchie not only knows his subject, but he can write. He writes about big things in a language that befits his subject. "Music of the Spheres" is a book that makes wonderful, and wonderfully clear, a thousand things that heretofore baffled me. Octaves, the secret sex life of salt (honestly), the inspiration provided Einstein by a baby carriage, ocean waves, galaxies, and heavenly traffic laws. If you are ignorant, as I am, and want to know just how ignorant, buy "Music of the Spheres." You won't be anywhere near as ignorant when you have finished it. Next week's review: "The Return of Tarzan."

Solons To Probe State's Expenses

AUSTIN (UPI)—House Speaker James A. Turman has appointed seven lawmakers to the legislative committee looking for ways to cut state expenses.

The interim committee on saving taxes was created in the August special session of the 57th Legislature "to probe methods of cutting costs and eliminating waste and extravagances in Texas state government operations," Turman said.

The seven house members are Rep. George L. Preston of Paris, chairman, and Reps. Maco Stewart Jr. of Galveston, J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, Jake Johnson of San Antonio, Raul L. Longoria of Pharr, Olen R. Petty of Levelland and Vernon Stewart Jr. of Wichita Falls.

Postmaster Asks Cooperation In Yuletide Mailing

There are still 15 more shopping days until Christmas, but Postmaster O. K. Gaylor says it's Christmas every day in the post office from now until Dec. 25.

Gaylor offered some helpful hints on how to mail Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery. Use four-cent postage on Christmas cards. Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first. A personal message can be written on Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas, only a signature is authorized on cards sent at the three-cent, unsealed third class rate.

Avoid careless packing of gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile - Handle with Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipient's and sender's name and address on every package.

In conclusion, the postmaster said, "By taking a little extra care with Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones."

The Post Office is fully prepared for the big Christmas mail rush, Gaylor stated, but through cooperation in mailing early and often, as suggested by the National Improvement Mail Service program, there'll be less danger of some Christmas cards and packages not being delivered before Christmas.

Municipal Water Plant Specialist Honored By State

An official State Health Department citation was awarded this week to Otto Preuss, a pumper specialist with the Pampa municipal sewage treatment plant, for proficiency in plant management.

The impressively designed certificate of competency, signed by the state commissioner of health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, credit recipients with having demonstrated "skill and knowledge" of sewer treatment plant management and an understanding of the public health importance of the work.

Under the State Health Department's operator certification program, operators are carefully examined on their technical ability and on their knowledge of their work's influence on community health. Each must pass a stiff written test to qualify for certification.

The Texas general sanitation law requires that at least one plant operator per shift be certified by the state health agency, but other plant personnel and persons in related fields frequently seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to advance themselves professionally and to increase their efficiency as vital public servants.

"The recipients of these certificates are a credit to their profession and to their communities," sponsors of the certification program said.

Points-toward certification are earned through actual work experience and by attendance at annual district and state short schools sponsored and conducted by the Texas State Department of Health, the engineering extension service of Texas A and M College, and the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.

Two Airmen Held For Auto Theft

CANADIAN (Sp) — Two airmen from Altus Air Force Base, both escapees from the stockade there, were arrested in Canadian last week on suspicion of car theft.

Turned over to Federal Officers in Amarillo by Deputy Sheriff Bill Starr, the two were indicted for violation of the Dyer Act and are being held for trial in federal court.

They are Richard E. Gilmore and John H. Valentine Jr.

The car they were driving, stolen from Altus, was claimed by the owner here following the arrests.

Starr said that Game Warden A. V. Lowry of Jayton, who was on duty here for the deerhunting season, was responsible for apprehension of the two youths. Lowry spotted the wanted car, and notified the sheriff's office in Canadian by radio.

Mexico City Due Electricity Boost

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A new electric transmission line from the Apulco River north of here will boost the city's electric power, authorities announced today.

The 180 mile long power line from the Apulco generators will eventually be continued on to the states of Puebla and Veracruz, officials said.

The announcement said this was part of a nationwide project to expand Mexico's newly acquired electric industry, which was bought from several foreign companies last year.
