

Mergers Talked As Episcopalians Open Convention

DETROIT (UPI) — Mergers with other Protestant faiths seemed uppermost in the minds of Episcopalians meeting in their 60th general convention here today.

But actually before the House of Deputies today was a resolution urging withdrawal from the World and National Council of Churches. The resolution alleged both bodies were under Communist influence.

Action in the past two days has been toward church union rather than withdrawal from religious organizations.

Wednesday the House of Bishops approved discussions with the Presbyterian Church, which could later include the Methodist Church and the United Church of Christ, on the possibilities of merger.

Thursday the House of Deputies approved a broad resolution dealing with the principle of merger with all Christian faiths.

The two proposals passed by the separate legislative bodies must be reconciled before there is an official Episcopal position on merger talks but the temper of the convention seems to favor the discussions.

RECEIVES EAGLE AWARD — David Cain, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Cain, 1826 Williston, was presented his Eagle Scout badge during the Troop 14 Boy Scout Court of Honor held recently in the First Presbyterian Church. Young Cain was presented the Eagle Badge by Warren Fathere, troop scoutmaster. Thirty eight Boy Scouts also received rank and class badges during the Court of Honor. (Daily News Photo)

Quartet Arrested In $100,000 Arts 'Hiackina' Case

NEW YORK (UPI) — A truck driver's tale of hijacking, involving nearly $100,000 in art objects and merchandise, was described as a "phony" Thursday by FBI officials who announced they had arrested four men in the case and recovered the stolen goods.

One of those arrested was Michael Jimenez, 36, the truck driver, who allegedly gave the FBI an account of what authorities later termed a bogus hijacking. He was charged with theft from an interstate shipment, a federal offense.

The others arrested were Vincent Gressi, 39; Angelo Governale, 36; and Joseph P. Repetti, 46. The arrests were made after several hours of investigation and questioning.

The FBI said Repetti and Gressi, in whose possession the valuable objects assertedly were found, face charges of theft from an interstate shipment. Governale was accused of acting as liaison man between the thieves and the driver.

Officials said Jimenez told them an "unusual story" of being knocked unconscious for three hours and then finding himself tied hand-and-foot in the cab of the truck.

MOST COURTEOUS DRIVER — Miss Camilla Warden, 17, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Warden, 1029 Varnon Drive, has been named "most courteous driver of the week" by the police department and the Altrusa Club. Miss Warden, pictured above with Patrolman Preston Bailey, was observed Thursday at 7:55 a.m. by the policeman travelling north on Hobart. She observed the 15 mph limit through the Horace Mann school zone and resumed the 30 mph speed limit after leaving it. Miss Warden was graduated from Pampa High School this past spring, where she participated in the Drivers Education course with Terry Culley as instructor. (Daily News Photo)

Singer Planning To Seek Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Legal representatives of singer Rosemary Clooney confirmed today she plans to file for divorce from Jose Ferrer, her husband for eight years, and end another of Hollywood's "ideal" marriages.

Miss Clooney, 33, was reported to have told friends she had not been getting along with director-actor-producer Ferrer "for a long time."

"This is final," she was reported to have said to the friends.

The Ferrers have five children and have long been considered one of the entertainment world's happiest couples. Several other apparently ideal Hollywood marriages have gone on the rocks in recent years, including Robert Wagner and Natalie Wood, Glenn Ford and Eleanor Powell and Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds.

A representative of Miss Clooney's legal counsel said, "You would not be wrong in saying she will file for divorce pretty darn quick." He indicated the action probably would be today in Santa Monica Superior Court.

Ferrer, 49, directing the movie "State Fair" in Dallas, Tex., refused to comment and Miss Clooney was not available to comment.

It is her first marriage and Ferrer's third. He previously was wed to Uta Hagen and Phyllis Hill.

One TV network biography said the Ferrers were "one of Hollywood's most devoted couples."

In a 1959 interview, Rosemary expressed her love for lots of children.

"I want all the children I can have," she said. "When Joe (Ferrer) and I were first married I thought six would be a nice round number. But, golly, now I realize I only have two more to go, and that isn't enough."

Effort To Kill Labor Imports Measure Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate rejected a move Thursday night to kill a compromise bill to extend the Mexican Farm Labor Program for another two years.

A motion to table—and thus kill—the bill was offered by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. It was defeated by a 40-34 roll-call vote. Final action then was put off until today.

McCarthy fought to restore a provision that would empower the labor secretary to set higher wages for both domestic migrant farm workers and Mexican braceros imported to work on American farms.

The provision, originally adopted by the Senate, was stricken by House-Senate conferees last week when they approved a compromise bill resolving differences between versions approved by the two chambers.

The bill would extend until Dec. 31, 1962, the existing program permitting the importation of Mexican seasonal farm laborers. It would tighten up the program by stipulating that Mexicans could be used only for seasonal labor and only if domestic labor was not available.

More 'Plotters' Held In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Local newspapers report arrests were continuing throughout the country in connection with the Sept. 15 uprising in several rural areas.

At the same time, the papers complained, no information was being given out concerning the extent of the plot.

The afternoon daily Ultimas Noticias reported that the number of prisoners being held for investigation at military encampment No. 1 here had "increased substantially" each day.

Federal security agents reportedly are combing the country for arms and munitions deposits but no seizures have been reported yet.

Police Seek Man In Stabbing Case

Police today were attempting to locate a Shamrock man, wanted for stabbing James Leon Sirles 519 Oklahoma, during an altercation shortly after last midnight on the street near the Legion Drive-In in South Pampa.

Sirles, according to police, was stabbed in the left shoulder. He was taken to Highland General Hospital and released after emergency treatment.

Police said the trouble between Sirles and his assailant, who fled the scene, happened about 12:45 a.m. today.

New Marketing Plan Organized

NEW YORK (UPI) — With all the energy that a six-foot-six, 42-year old Navy veteran can pack into a job, Arthur I. Melvin of Oak Brook, Ill., today is pushing an idea which he believes is a creator of business and a maker of jobs.

Melvin, the executive director of an organization called Partake, Inc., and a growing number of businessmen he has recruited as advisors or area directors, aim to bring together the business with a product or service to sell and a franchise holder to get it the widest distribution possible.

"We think," said Melvin on a trip to New York "that we can help solve the problems of economics by catalysis—in other words, by the agency that brings together the producer and the biggest market."

Dealing in franchises is not new to the business world, of course. But Melvin, whose concern was incorporated last February, has gone at it with the idea of approaching concerns in all fields of production and service, particularly those who are convinced of the soundness of their product but lack the know-how to get into a broad or national market.

He aims to get area directors into 300 major metropolitan marketing areas and 50 more to direct the job in states not covered by the metropolitan directorships. He is convinced that the organization can spread overseas, and one member of his advisory board now is examining prospects in the British Isles and in Scandinavia.

"It's not easy to become an area director, either," Melvin said. "We don't want the 'coupon-clipper' who's just looking for something to peddle. We give them a good questionnaire. Then we interview them. We're looking for leaders."

Judge Concoives 'Blue Law' Idea

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (UPI) — Criminal Court Judge John H. McKenna believes he has found an answer to Indiana Blue Laws violators who "harass the court" by demanding jury trials.

"We'll just docket these jury cases for the week before Christmas. I don't think they'll like that so much," McKenna said.

Park Service Feuding Denied By U.S. Aides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. Forest Service Chief Richard E. McArdle said today that both the Forest Service and the National Park Service were "in the recreation business" but denied the agencies were feuding.

"There is no feud," McArdle said in remarks prepared for a National Forest Land Use Conference. The American Forest Products Industries, Inc., is sponsoring the two-day meeting.

McArdle and National Park Service Director Conrad L. Wirth appeared together in a panel discussion on "Use of Public Lands." They agreed that a rapidly growing population was placing an increased demand on the forests for outdoor recreation.

But, despite McArdle's denial of still more of the agencies, the two men once again revealed a basic difference in their approach to recreation.

McArdle subscribed to the view that "multiple use" of natural resources requires recreation to share national forests with commercial use.

Wirth contended that some areas, despite their commercial value, should "be preserved for their recreative effect on man's body, mind and soul."

McArdle said: "I see no reason to transfer normal multiple-use type of national forest land to park status simply to have a park."

Wirth said: The reserving of still more of our natural heritage for the good of all for all times is an urgent matter."

McArdle declared that the Forest Service intended to move "more aggressively" toward increased recreational use of the national forests but assured industry that timber production

Dispute Causes U.S. And Russia To Halt Exhibits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A cold war quarrel has resulted in cancellation of a Soviet medical exhibit in Oklahoma City and a U.S. transportation exhibit in Moscow, which were scheduled to open Saturday.

U. S. officials accused Russia Thursday of switching schedules, reneging on a $5,000 bill and submitting unreasonable bills for some very highly paid "liaison officers."

The Russians said the United States owes it $30,000 and accused this country of "delay."

Soviet officials told State Department representatives at a meeting that Russia was withdrawing its Oklahoma City exhibit and would not permit this country's Moscow exhibit.

The State Department had told the Russians earlier they could not open their exhibit at the Oklahoma State Fair ground unless they first submitted a copy of the contract Russia signed with a U.S. firm to arrange the exhibit.

Solons Report Buried Fallout Cellars Best

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration used "extremely loose" arithmetic when it estimated that a Defense Department Shelter survey would save 10 to 15 million lives in a nuclear attack, according to House investigators. The House Government Operations Committee said, however, that it did "not mean to deprecate" the survey to find shelter spaces in existing buildings. The committee, in a report to Congress, also warned the public against "fly-by-night" operators of bomb shelter schemes. It called for a $20 billion program to protect civilians from a nuclear holocaust.

Space Station Shot Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States will soon be able to launch a manned space satellite to gather military and navigational information, former missile chief Gen. John B. Medaris says. Speaking at a meeting of the American Rocket Society, Medaris said, "if we are to have parity with the Russians in outer space operations, such a space station will be necessary."

Woman Is Held As Bank Bandit

NEWTON GROVE N.C. (UPI)—Carl Thomas Dixon understandably was excited when his bride of less than two months brought home $6,800 in cash. The money, all in $10 bills, was an inheritance, Dixon said he was told by his slender, attractive wife. FBI agents who visited the Dixons at their Clayton, N.C., home Tuesday night were disbelieving. The same amount of money, in $100 bills, had been robbed from the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company here a few hours earlier by a woman bandit. Agents took the "inheritance" evidence and arrested Peggy Ray Dixon, 20, on a bank robbery charge. She waived a preliminary hearing Wednesday and was ordered held under $15,000 bond.

Fallout Shelter Program Favored

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has indicated he will push for compulsory fallout shelter construction in New York state. Rockefeller, who since his election in 1958 has advocated fallout shelters for all homes and business, told a news conference here Wednesday he would call the state Civil Defense Council into session soon to review the civil defense situation. "I consider compulsory measures calling for construction of fallout shelters. Legislature would be asked to consider compulsory measures calling for construction of fallout shelters."

MY TASK

Lord what wilt thou have me to do? Acts 9:6

When Saul of Tarsus met the Lord on the road to Damascus and had personal conversation with him, Saul asked a very meaningful question: "Lord what wilt thou have me to do?" The question implied two truths: the Lord had a right to command him; and the Lord had something for him to do.

As soon as we are saved, we too should seek the same guidance, for our Lord does have a right to command, since we are no longer our own; but His, We have been redeemed from sin with His own precious blood. The question that often disturbs the heart of the young christian is, "How may I know what the Lord wants me to do?" Our Master reveals His will to us in various ways.

HE MAY SPEAK DIRECTLY TO OUR HEARTS. He spoke to young Samuel in the night-time, calling him by name. He spoke to Moses as he went about his daily work, calling him by name through a miraculous manifestation of His presence. Through the ages He has laid his hand on chosen men and called them to special tasks. At such times men are made peculiarly conscious of His will concerning their lives. We speak of such a revelation as a special call to service.

HE SPEAKS TO US THROUGH THE OPPORTUNITIES THAT OPEN BEFORE US. It is said that at the age of sixteen Cotton Mather adopted the maxim, "An opportunity to do good implies the positive duty to do it" and made it his rule in every relationship of a long and well spent life.

When the whole heart of the world is aching and when the souls of men are dying for just a little bit of love, no one, regardless of how poor in every capacity he may be, can step from his own door without finding opportunity to serve the Master.

HE SPEAKS TO US THROUGH OUR TALENTS. In every measure we can answer our own questions ourselves, "Lord what wilt thou have me to do?" What are the talents with which the Lord has endowed me? He expects me to use every one of them in His service, and for glory in the healing of the nations.

"The weakest among us has a gift, however seemingly trivial, which is peculiar to him and which worthily used, will be a gift to his race forever" — John Ruskin.

If I have strength, I owe the service of the strong;
If melody I have, I owe the world a song;
If I can stand when all around my posts are falling;
If I can run with speed when needy hearts are calling
Or if my torch can light the dark of any night,
Then I must pay the debt I owe with living light.

Dear Abby...

Don't Pressure Daughter To Marry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 25. She is not an outstanding beauty, but she is attractive and intelligent. She has turned down a few good proposals of marriage. When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says, "Don't rush me."

other women not be as stupidly big-hearted as I. If a sitter wants to entertain her boy friend, let her entertain him in her own home.

DISGUSTED

CONFIDENTIAL TO KAREN: "Cheap" talk is expensive.

Is there any way I can speed up marriage for her? I am 48 and would like to see some grandchildren before I die.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: I love to eat and I look it. I guess you could say that I am just plain FAT! Will jumping rope help me to lose weight?

Miss Taylor Feted At Birthday Party

DEAR FAT: Yes, if you SKIP desserts!

LEFORS (Spl) — Darla Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Taylor, celebrated her fifth birthday with a party on Sept. 11, with her mother as hostess.

DEAR ABBY: I found a "strange" bath towel in my laundry. I do not send my washing out, so I was completely baffled as to how it came to be in my house. One night last week my husband and I went out, and we left our child with a sitter. The sitter is a rather quiet high school girl who came well recommended. She asked if I objected if she had her boy friend over while she sat. I agreed, as I trusted her. My husband developed a bad toothache, so we came home earlier than we intended. It seemed her boy friend was just leaving when we came home. When he saw us he turned scarlet, and left hurriedly. When I went into the bathroom it was all steamy, and I found a bath towel just like the one that was left here before. Need I draw any pictures? Please warn Guests enjoyed riding bicycles during the play period. Birthday cake was served with ice cream after guests sang to the honoree.

Favors of birthday hats, candy sticks and balloons were given. Guests were Jan McPherson, Mike Dunn, James Wells, Lonnie and Conni Teel, Cathy Spradlin, Bryan Marlar, Valencia and Donita Hill, Tonya and Valton Kirk, Pamela, Roger, LeJana, and Jimmy Crutcher, Bob Roy, Randy and Susan Klein, Sheila Taylor, Mrs. R. L. Klein, Mrs. Frank Kirk, and Mrs. Allen Crutcher.

Shopping trips or day-long excursions to an amusement park often means youngest members of the family must tag along. A well-made, easy pushing stroller with a padded, adjustable seat and a shading canopy (left) will help to keep a baby comfortable. Big basket behind seat is for packages. A lightweight but strongly made high chair (right) can be folded and carried along to picnics or family dinners.

Keep Baby Comfortable While On The Go, Go

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Our national enthusiasm for "going places" extends to the very youngest member of the family. Mobility becomes as important for baby as it does for the parents. The alternative to taking him with us is to leave him behind with a reliable baby sitter. I don't know how your sitter list looks but my list is getting shorter and the available are charging more for doing less (I've been charged 75 cents an hour with no dish-washing or cooking). The luxury of a baby sitter is reserved for gala adult occasions. In the spirit of "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em," many a mother has put aside her dreams of unencumbered shopping trips or afternoon excursions and concentrated on finding the best and easiest way to transport her little dumpling. At least once you'll make the mistake of trying to carry the baby while you shop. This will teach you that after a half hour's pressure on your arm a 13-pound baby hefts like 130 pounds.

A top quality stroller doesn't cost a great deal more but it will give a lot better service. It is far easier to maneuver indoors and out and, eventually, the resale value is higher. New since my stroller-pushing days is the addition of a heavy-gauge steel package basket back of the stroller seat. Padded stroller seats support a baby's back and some of them tilt back to sleeper position. Also of service to the mobile mother are folding high chairs and folding play pens with soft nylon netting sides. I can hear the groans from dad when he is asked to load this equipment into the car for a day's outing with the kinfolk. Memories of trying to balance a wiggly baby on my knee while feeding him and then hopefully expecting him to stay on a blanket on the grass are still vivid because both actions are utterly unsuccessful. This may sound silly but try the baby in the car seat before you buy. Once I bought one which was well-built and fit the front seat perfectly. But it didn't fit the baby — much too snug! My present day excursions with children don't require the special equipment you need with a baby but do require even greater patience. A shopping trip is absolute anathema to a nine-year-old. His sole conversation is "When are we going home?" His footsteps falter, he lags behind; the whole effort of hoisting himself over to Boys' Wear seems too exhausting for his strength. Of some help I find it to carry along comic or riddle book for him to read while I finish shopping. My five-year-old, on the other hand, regards the large department store with the spirited enthusiasm of a Hillary in the Himalayas. Off she dashes to scale the escalators, dodge behind counters, peer under the dress racks, whirl through revolving doors. You meet a lot of floor managers this way but it's a nerve wracking introduction.

ises, she must really want to do those things. Help her a bit, Dot, and I'll bet you will have results, not postponements.

Dear G. D. D.: You wouldn't put on a Halloween mask and make believe you were "really" a ghost. Why put on lipstick and make believe you're "really grown-up?" Your mother is right. I'd say 13 is soon enough.

Q—Mother is a wonderful person and I love her very much. She has good intentions but never manages to do what she has promised. For example, she has said that she will make me a white pleated skirt but she never finds time. It is always next week — next week — and nothing happens. Dot.

Dear Dot: Has a friend ever said, "To be helpful, I'll do this while you do that?" Have you ever thought to say, "would you have time to cut my skirt? I'll do the dishes?" I'll bet she would be shocked and that skirt really would be made tomorrow. You didn't mention brothers or sisters or social obligations but if she prom-

Purse-String Lesson Important As 3 R's

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The opening of school brings with it children's negotiations on their allowances. With the cost of school supplies, clothes, food, transportation and a proliferation of special fees and dues assaulting our beleaguered budgets, it's as good a time as any to discuss who will pay for what. Money management or how to stay solvent is an important lesson for a child to learn, but it's a hard one to teach. How large should a child's allowance be? What should it cover? How early should you start? These familiar questions have no pat answers.

Dad looks over the spending and saving plan of the junior miss who is learning how to manage income and outgo and stay solvent. Her budget must cover luxuries like the telephone as well as school necessities.

In one group of typical sixth graders which I checked, some children received no allowances, getting money as they needed it from their parents, others received $5 and $6 a month to spend as they chose. Neither formula suited our family.

Although not intended as a hard and fast set of rules, I read suggestions made by experts in the publication of the American Bankers' Association to check against our own family practices. For example, they advise starting a child on an allowance as soon as he can tell one coin from another. A modest, regular allowance should cover stipulated items and it should be essentially "using" or spending money. An allowance, in their opinion, shouldn't cover necessities unless you deliberately allow for them.

Never make an allowance dependent on good behavior, they counsel. Permit no begging for extras. How he spends his money is up to him. Well and good, but I curb the amount of candy that may be bought and I've docked allowances to help pay for past-due library books. I don't give extra money but I let them earn it. As they grow older and take on more responsibility, their allowances should increase. At the beginning of school, we supply the basic necessities (notebook, pencils, etc.) but the frills and extras must come from allowances.

Part of the value of the allowance is to encourage a child to save as well as spend. The youngsters who can save money look ahead to future purchases and find it so difficult to budget purchases when they become teenagers.

I was surprised by the generous weekly minimum allowances suggested by the bankers' group, and I hope the children don't get wind of them. They say: give 25 cents a week to children under six years old, 45 cents for the six-to-11-year-old, 90 cents for the 12-to-14-year-old and at least $1.50 for the over-15-years group.

By-teen-age, a spending or saving plan should be set up, such a plan the young person divides expenses into major categories for school, clothing, personal care, recreation, donation transportation and hobbies. Dad may help her figure her come from allowances, part-time jobs and gifts. Some set amount should be ticketed for regular saving. Bankers suggest that adults save 10-20 per cent of take-home pay. At this point, a savings account which pays interest on money may be a good idea.

Ruth Millett

Establish Minimum
Date Age For Teeners

Is the time ripe for parents all over the country to adopt a minimum dating age for their children?

Dr. David R. Mace, executive director of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, writing in a national magazine, says of the trend toward earlier and earlier dating:

"I believe we have no time to waste. We must reverse this trend by establishing an age below which dating is outlawed by universal social custom. To me, the most logical and defensible age to start with is 15, the age at which most youngsters make the transition from junior to senior high school."

Then individual parents could say to their own 12 and 13-year-olds: "You can start dating when you are 15 — and not before." Without the usual come back "All the other kids in junior high school can have dates," the parents wouldn't get much of an argument. Actually the majority of young teen-agers probably would just as soon not start dating so early. The reason they want to now is because "all the other kids do" and they don't want to be "different."

If parents are ready for such a plan it shouldn't be too hard to get a minimum dating age established. It could be done school by school, neighborhood by neighborhood, group by group.

Bishop's Video Show Failed To Impress Writer

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Comes now Joey Bishop to deadpan for gold in that rich vein known as situation comedy.

"The Joey Bishop Show," inserted into the Wednesday night time slot vacated by "The Price is Right" on NBC-TV, succeeded only in demonstrating that Bishop can kill time as well as anyone else in a flimsy, witless, and uninspired TV series. I trust that the price is right, at last.

The series, first sampled last March in a dreary pilot film that "The Danny Thomas Show" offered, finds Bishop portraying a trouble-prone intermuncio for a big-time public relations outfit. The opening episode introduced us to Joey and some of his associates. In the time-honored situation comedy tradition, the associates include Joey's jolly, widowed mom, his girlfriend, his good-natured sibling brother-in-law, and the hard-driving boss. Future episodes, we are advised, will round out Bishop's life with his married sister, teen-age sister and teen-age brother. Oh, what goodies await us!

The premiere had Bishop getting fired even before the show's titles came on. He then managed to get conned into recording his anti-boss remarks for a "Candid Camera" type TV show that his boss always watched. Next, Joey was re-hired. This meant he had to find a way to prevent his boss from watching that particular TV program. Everything turned out reasonably well, though, after a special news show pre-empted the candid camera program. Too bad "The Joey Bishop Show" wasn't similarly pre-empted.

Dialing and Filing: Thank you, Roger Maris, for filling so many TV nights with real drama. Wait'll next year. "Street of Love," Wednesday night's "U.S. Steel Hour" on CBS-TV, had an ending that surged with self-sacrifice. It served by a switch to a European-type parliamentary government which stripped the president of his power and rested it in the hands of a premier elected by Congress.

Market Position Calls For Close Watch In Buying

NEW YORK (UPI) — Under present market conditions, it can no longer be said that one can follow strength and avoid weakness as the best investment policy because the current divergence of the market is saying that the majority of strong issues have a definite time limit attached to that strength, according to Joseph E. Granville.

The E. F. Hutton Co. analysts points out that in the early stages of a bull market it can be said that issues behind the market are usually good buys, but late in the bull market "the greatest fallacy is buying issues which appear to be behind the market because if the technical indicators show the market to be actually a falling one, then the issues being purchased as depressed stocks become more depressed." The change in the market trend which started with the August shift in sentiment places a question mark now on even the strongest stocks, Granville concluded.

Thomson & McKinnon says although the market as a whole experienced a decline in the past week, six industrial groups made new highs — automobiles, auto equipment, electricals, foods, liquors and installment financing shares.

Firm To Exhibit Fallout Shelter

DALLAS (UPI) — Lone Star Steel Company has a new fallout shelter in production and plans to exhibit a model of it during the Texas State Fair.

E. B. Germany, company president, said the all-steel combination fallout and tornado shelter has been placed in the highest of three grade categories by the office of civil defense.

The shelter, designed to go underground, is equipped with four steel bunk beds, an air filtration system, a chemical toilet, electrical and telephone inlets, and a manually operated blower for ventilation.

The shelter is 15 feet long and 100 inches in diameter.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL LNEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

When Brazil's President Janio Quadros took the office from which he resigned in a fit of temper last month, he did so on a pledge of internal austerity and an independent-foreign policy.

The government replacing him after days of chaos which nearly erupted into civil war, is pledged to a similar program.

But it faces the same difficulties as those which plagued Quadros, and suffers the additional misfortune that it is completely satisfactory to no one.

When Quadros took office, he did so by virtue of the largest vote in Brazilian history. But the honeymoon was short. In less than a year in office, he vetoed Congress 19 times and quit after Congress overrode his 20th.

Mounting restiveness against tough austerity measures contributed to Quadros' troubles, but important other factors were his flir-tations with Castro's Cuba and Red China and a growing suspicion that he would seek ways to free himself of congressional restrictions.

If by his sudden resignation, he sought to obtain this latter point in a hue and cry for his return, he miscalculated.

From this, then, erupted the crisis exposing the deep divisions within Brazil which merely were patched over in the hastily-concocted solution.

Brazil's constitution clearly provided for the succession of Vice President Joao Goulart, a man totally unsatisfactory to leaders of Brazil's armed forces who suspected his Communist sympathies.

But the armed services also had one of the best records in Latin America for staunch support of the Constitution.

From this came the unsatisfactory compromise wherein the constitution theoretically was pre-

Picket Line Prognostication

That man Caudill. For the second straight week, Louis Caudill, circulation manager of the News, edged out sports editor Joe Lee Smith and classified department head Earnie Searle. Caudill hit on 18 of 24 games with one tie — the White Deer-Lefors contest. Smith posted a 17-6-1 mark and Searle had a rough week finishing 12-11-1.

However, Searle picked the upset of the week as he favored Dalhart to stop Stinnett and the Wolves did 22-15. Caudill says the top upset this week will be Carter-Riverside over Palo Duro and LSU over Rice. Smith picks Arkansas to upend mighty Mississippi and White Deer to stop McLean

Bucks And Tigers Clash Tonight At White Deer

The McLean Tigers and the White Deer Bucks lay undefeated records and state prestige on the line tonight when the two class A titans clash at 8:00 p.m. at White Deer.

Both clubs rolled into tonight's battle with undefeated marks but White Deer has a tie to mar its record.

For McLean, it will be the Tigers' first real test of the season. Coach Darrell Davis' juggernaut has powered over two class B teams — Wheeler 42-16 and Groom 49-0 — after copping a come-from-behind season opening triumph over AA Shamrock 28-22.

Lefors scuffed up White Deer's spotless record last Friday by playing the Bucks to a 6-6 draw. The Bucks, former class A grid champs, whipped Groom 31-0 and blanked Canadian 19-0 in their first two outings.

Highlighting tonight's battle will be the high scoring McLean offensive machine against White Deer's stingy defensive unit. Quarterback Ken Willingham, halfback Jim Watson and fullback George Patton are the main cogs in a unit that has romped for 119 points in three games.

But the Bucks have only allowed one touchdown — by Lefors — in three games. Tackle Joe Gordzelik, guard Jimmy Lopez, tackle Frank Williams and center Wes Schultz heads up the rough and rugged White Deer defense.

Hard-running fullback Carl McAdams carries most of the load for the Huffman led Bucks on the offense. The 195-pound senior star has accounted for 38 of the White Deer 50 points scored this season and has rushed for 505 yards in three games.

Rounding out the Buck backfield foursome will be Rickey Lowe at left half, right half Johnny Spence and quarterback Jimmy Turmond.

The probable starters in the tough Buck line will be ends Carroll Russell and Larry Short; tackles Gordzelik, Williams or Philip Dittbarner; guards Mickey Heiner and Lopez and center Shutz. McLean will have a slight weight advantage over the Bucks.

RETURNS TO LINEUP — Junior letterman Jerry Glover will return to the Pampa lineup tonight at the fullback post. Glover has been out of action with a shoulder injury.

Lineup Changes Made By Trice

A revamped Pampa Harvester grid team travels to Dumas tonight in search of its first victory of the season against the rugged Demons at 8 p.m.

Athletic director and interim coach Weldon Trice stresses the fact that the contest will not start until 8 p.m. A misprint on Pampa schedules had the game time slated for 7:30.

Trice, who took over at the helm of the Harvesters Monday, made several changes in the lineup. Jerry Glover, who returned to action this week after being sidelined with a shoulder injury, will start at fullback and Kenny Hebert, who has been doing an excellent job at the fullback post, will switch to left half. Sophomore quarterback Ricky Stewart will direct the team and his brother Mike rounds out the backfield from his right half slot.

James Webb has switched from end to center on offense and Butch Crossland has moved into the first string defensive alignment at right half.

Dumas will also be looking for its first win of the season. Coach Burt Bartlett's Demons, ranked as high as fifth in pre-season AAA state ratings, dropped their first two games to a pair of district 9-AAAA toughies — Palo Duro 21-18 and defending champion Borger 21-0.

The Demons, district I-AAA title favorites, have six returning starters from last year's team including all state quarterback candidate and triple threat Mike Boxwell. Bartlett has seven seniors on the experienced eleven.

One starter, Kenneth Williams, a 200 pound junior tackle, may miss tonight's game with Pampa because of an aggravated back injury. The Demons are heavy and speedy with an average weight of 183 in the front line and a flock of fast backs.

Bartlett told the Dumas Rotary club, "We'll be fighting for our football lives. We expect Pampa to be playing its best game of the year."

The rest of the Pampa starting lineup has Keith Reimer and Corky Godfrey at ends; Carl Clark and John Brown the tackles; guards Danny Mathus and Dee Wright.

For Dumas it will be Kelley Baker, 205 pounds and Lucien Garvin, 160 playing the ends; tackles Williams and Jerry Glover, 200; guards Pate Carter, 167 and Freddie Gentzel, 175 and center Charles Stewart 170 in the line. Halfbacks John Whiteside, 160 and Ray Casas, 170 and fullback Dale Vick, 170 rounds out the first eleven.

TO DIRECT TEAM — Quarterback Ricky Stewart will be the man under tonight when the Pampa Harvesters tangle with the well regarded Dumas Demons at 8 p.m.

Miami Hosts Balko, Okla.

MIAMI (Sp) — Undefeated Miami guns for its third straight victory of the 1961 grid campaign tonight when the Warriors host Balko, Okla. in an eight-man grid game at Warrior Field at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Bill Hines' defending district I-B eight man champs have rolled over Turpin, Okla., 46-12 and the White Deer "B", in an 11-man tilt, 28-8. The mighty Warriors have now taken 37 of their last 41 games over a period of four years and are heavy favorites to repeat as district winners again this season.

Tailback Jim Flowers and halfback Mickey Kivlehen, the Miami touchdown twins, leads the high scoring Warrior machine. Both backs tallied twice each in the win over White Deer and the 155-pound Flowers romped for four scores and Kivlehen, a 185-pounder, marked up two tallies in the Turpin game.

Miami will have a 10 pound weight advantage per man over the visiting Bisons but Balko may have the edge in experience with 10 seniors on the squad. Balko has played Booker, a member of Miami's district, and the Kiowa edged the Bisons 49-38 on two late touchdowns.

The rest of the Warriors starting eight has Joe Wayne Holland and Harold Coffee at guards; ends Mark Arrington and Tim Flowers; center Don McLaughlin and quarterback Scotty Daugherty.

Phillips Club Trips Shockers 32-0

Phillips Blackhawks' B squad relied on a stingy defense and a forward wall of vicious blocking Thursday night to soundly trounce the Pampa Shockers 32-0.

The younger Hawks romped to their third straight lopsided win of the season behind an almost unyielding defense that limited Pampa to just 19 yards rushing in the first half and just one measly first down, which came with 15 seconds left in the half on a 35 yard pass from quarterback Larry Johnson to end Gary Davis.

Meanwhile fullback Mike Webb tore up Harvester Stadium for 124 yards with 101 yards coming on spurts of 57 and 44 yards setting up two scores.

Tackles Bob Malons and Bob Wakefield led the defensive stalwarts for the 'Hawks. Pampa got just two first downs and 36 yards rushing in the first three quarters before quarterback Gary Marlar got the offense to clicking in the final stanza.

Phillips dove 73 yards in eight plays on its first series of downs to take an early 6-0 lead with only 3:24 elapsed in the game. The big play was a 27 yard dash by fullback Ralph Opal. Halfback Terry Smith carried over from the two for the tally. A Pampa gamble on fourth down led to the 'Hawks second six points. Taking over on the Shockers 46, Phillips scored in seven plays as Opal hit paydirt from the eight.

Coach J. N. Wright's crew fumbled on its third series of downs but scored again the next time they had possession on a 24-yard pass from quarterback Lynn Alexander to halfback Don Mays to terminate a 37-yard march following a punt by Pampa's Clay Lively that was good for a minus seven yards.

The fourth Phillips tally came quickly after the 'Hawks recovered a fumble by Claud Middleton on the ensuing kickoff on the Shockers 21. Alexander tossed a 15-yard series to end Tommy Atkinson for the score. Wakefield converted and Phillips took a 25-0 advantage to the field house at haltime.

Webb raced 57 yards to the Pampa six early in the third quarter and three plays later bulled over from the one foot line for the marker.

Pampa threatened twice in the final stanza driving to the six and five only to lose the ball on a fumble the first time and downs the second time. A pass from Johnson that was tipped into end Ronald Urbanczyk's hands for a 33 yard completion was the big play in the initial threat. Lively twisted to the six on a fine run before fullback Curtis Fletcher fumbled to halt the march.

Gruver B Roars By Reapers 30-0

Coach John Hale's Pampa Junior High 8th grade Reapers started out like they were going to romp all over the Gruver B team Thursday but the visitors prevailed 30-0 in the outcome.

It was an afternoon of frustration for the Reapers who had a 70 yard opening game kickoff return by Ennis Penland called back for a clipping penalty. Later a dropped pass by a Reaper end in the open cost the losers dearly. A fumble and a blocked kick set up the last two Gruver touchdowns.

Pampa managed just two first downs against the rugged Pups defense. Quarterback Jim Arthur racked up both first downs on runs of 18 and 14 yards.

Center Darrell Luster and tackle Phillip Kleasner starred on defense for the Reapers. Pampa managed to stop the Pups power plays but it was the wide stuff that kayoed the losers.

Gruver scored suddenly late in the opening period on a 66 yard dash by halfback Bob Gillespie. Bill Cator, another halfback added after he was nearly knocked off his feet several times and went the final two yards backward.

Moments later Klein bulled over from the three on a dive play for the final marker.

Ramsey praised the team for its valiant second half effort claiming "They all did real good." He singled out Klein, Griffith, quarterback Johnny Robison and tackle Ronald Woodard for their fine play, especially on defense.

Lee 8th In 58-6 Romp

The Robert E. Lee 8th grade Rebels swamped the visiting Perryton 8th graders 58-6 here Thursday afternoon in the opening game of the 1961 season.

Halfback Lewis Meers, a 147-pound scabcat, accounted for 34 points with five touchdowns and a pair of two pointers. Quarterback Gary Crossland skirted right end on a 46 yard scamper for one tally. Lolan Ellis passed to Charles Heller for another score and back Larry Daniels tacked on the final six-pointer.

Maris Homerless As Orioles Stop Yanks

By United Press International

This could be the weekend that the Cincinnati Reds wrap up the National League pennant — and send the good burghers of the Ohio Rhineland on their first championship binge since 1940.

It was 21 years ago that guys like big Ernie Lombardi, Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer, Billy Werber and Ival Goodman helped hoist the NL flag over Crosley Field.

Now this 1961 edition of the Reds, almost a unanimous choice in the pre-season polls to finish in the second division, stands on the threshold of another World Series meeting with the New York Yankees, who whipped Cincinnati in four straight games in the 1940 classic.

The Yankees, with their 26th pennant tucked away, called on their reserves for Thursday night's only game at Baltimore. However, Roger Maris remained in the lineup and went hitless in four appearances as the Orioles downed the Yankees, 5-3.

The blond Yankee outfielder was handcuffed by right-hander Jack Fisher as he struck out, flied out to center, grounded out weakly to first and flied out to left field. Fisher allowed only three hits, including a pinch homer by Tony Kubek. Russ Snyder led the Baltimore attack with three singles and his first home run of the year.

In the only other major league action Thursday, the Minnesota Twins tripped the Washington Senators, 5-3. Only 1,498 fans watched the Senators bid adieu to Griffith Stadium. They are expected to move to the new District of Columbia Stadium next season.

The Twins pounded out 11 hits, including a triple by Harmon Killebrew and doubles by Bob Allison and Joe Alto'elli, in handing Bennie Daniels his 11th loss. Jack Kralick picked up his 13th victory although he had to leave the game in the sixth inning when he developed a blister.

Lefors To Meet Wellington Club

LEFORS (Sp) — Scrapy and underrated Lefors takes to the road tonight for their fourth game of the season when the Pirates invade Wellington to do battle with the AA Skyrockets at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Danny Goodie's Pirates pulled off one of the state's top upsets last Friday in playing highly regarded White Deer to a 6-6 tie. The defending 2-A champions will carry a 1-1 record into tonight's tilt. Lefors had previously blanked Panhandle 14-0 and lost to Shamrock 6-0.

Goodie is worried about the game feeling his kids may have a letdown after the tie with White Deer. Wellington has a heavy club and will carry a 20-pound per-man weight advantage over the Pirates.

Wellington blasted Hollis, Okla. 35-0 in its opener and was an upset victim last of Memphis 18-6. The report from Lefors scouts indicate that the Skyrockets have a razzle dazzle type of offense with a double wing T with a man in motion and a regular split T offense.

Halfbacks Ronnie Line and Rodney Airington are the big guns in the Lefors backfield with Larry Ables, a tackle, anchoring the rugged Pirates defense.

Rebs Nick Perryton

Coach Lester Ramsey's Robert E. Lee 8th Grade Rebels rallied from a 6-0 haltime deficit to overcome the Perryton Junior High Rangers 20-6 Thursday afternoon.

The victory avenged the Rebs' season mark at 1-1 after a 2-0 defeat at the hands of the McLean B team Saturday.

Halfbacks Ronald Klein and Keith Griffith paced the come-from-behind victory with some brilliant second half offense. Klein broke the ice for Robert Lee on a two yard plunge to tie the score in the third period. Griffith put the winners ahead to stay when he circled right end for the two points. Klein set up the tally with a 45 yard scamper to the Rangers' 25. Griffith tacked on the second marker early in the final 12 minutes on a brilliant six-yard romp after he was nearly knocked off his feet several times and went the final two yards backward.

Moments later Klein bulled over from the three on a dive play for the final marker.

Ramsey praised the team for its valiant second half effort claiming "They all did real good." He singled out Klein, Griffith, quarterback Johnny Robison and tackle Ronald Woodard for their fine play, especially on defense.

Writer Likes Windmills And Hopes They Remain

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is a dismal town indeed that can't find something to be proud of, particularly a town in Texas.

If, for instance, you ever drove through Stanton, Tex., you might think it was about as devoid of source material for civic pride as a town can be.

There isn't, in truth, much to catch the eye there except a large sign posted on the outskirts of the village. It proudly proclaims Stanton as "The home of 3,000 friendly people — and a few old soreheads."

Merkel, which is my home town, has an even smaller population than Stanton, and a larger percentage of soreheads. But we never lacked for civic pride either.

When I was growing up, the cit-

It is, I dare say, rather difficult for most people, except possibly natives of Holland, to feel nostalgic about windmills. But such a feeling came over me as I was reading a survey put out this week by the National Geographic Society.

The geographic reports that windmills have been rendered obsolete by the advent of electric pumps and are rapidly disappearing from the American countryside.

Such accidents were fairly common around my home town, but what happened to old man Zollinger, as I shall call him, was more of a rarity.

One day as Zollinger was calling a windmill, he chanced to look up just as some clouds were passing overhead. This gave him the impression the tower was falling, so he leaped for safety and fractured a fibula.

Zollinger never admitted that he was the victim of an optical illusion, but his wife told the story every chance she got.

that windmill repairing was itself somewhat of a sporting proposition.

A fellow who ventured up a windmill tower to effect repairs could never be sure that he wouldn't descend the hard way.

The wind might shift suddenly, spin the wheel around and sag him swan diving into the sagebrush. Or he might become bemused by the view up there and forget how small a platform he was standing on.

Musician's Art Found Like His Music - A Mess

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — With the current rash of art thefts around the world, Spike Jones is apprehensive lest bandits break into his home and make off with valuable paintings.

It was a nervous Spike who talked about the paintings as he held a shotgun and readied two miniature cannons in his private Beverly Hills defense arsenal.

Sitting in the den of his spacious home, a house which has "Stokowski" written on its front door, Jones pointed with pride to his Mona Lisa, Whistler's Mother and Blue Boy.

The paintings are mounted in expensive frames and each has an individual light. At first glance, they appear to be authentic.

However, when you get close, each picture becomes more con-

"Movements are afoot to save windmills as charming reminders of a pastoral past. I certainly hope the movement catches on back home.

I never thought of our windmills as being "charming" exactly, but they did make life more interesting. If they became extinct, we Merkel folks will have to find something else to brag about.

fused than Spike's music. The Blue Boy has Spike's face and wears sneakers. Mona Lisa is cross eyed and Whistler's Mother holds a racing form in her lap.

"These pictures are priceless," said Spike, looking over his shoulder. "They were painted by Earl Bennett who used to be Sir Frederick Gas in my band."

"Whistler's Mother looked like she lost every race," said Spike. "As for Blue Boy, anybody who dressed in that Lord Fauntleroy outfit should wear sneakers so he can run."

Spike admits that his art appreciation is similar to music the Jones band played for years — a mess.

"Whenever I go to an art exhibit I have to ask guards about the paintings," Spike confessed.

"But, I do try to ask at the right time. I look at paintings the same way I look at opera. If I was to watch Maria Callas sing, I'd think it would be great if a dog got loose on stage and started barking at her. At a symphony I can't help but think the tuba is a place to throw cigarette butts."

If Jones has any artistic preference, it's Salvadori Dali, probably because that surrealist paints like

Airline Offered Aid By Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The Mexican government has offered national airlines financial aid at low interest to help put the sagging industry back on its feet, it was announced today.

Communications Minister Walter C. Buchanan said the decision was reached after a complete study of the airlines situation, which he termed "critical."

The announcement came a day after the aerovias guest line petitioned the government for a permit to suspend work contracts on grounds of economic difficulties.
