Dominican Riot Yanks Again Group Quelled Travel Over Berlin Road By Army Forces

SANTA DOMINGO, D. R. (UPI) — The opposition general strike aimed at toppling the government appeared to be collapsing today in the face of stern military support for the Balaguer regime.

Shops started opening downtown and the comparative handful of people on the street were quiet and not attempting to halt traffic as in past days.

A light military plane flew over the city dropping copies of the armed forces' ultimatum calling for an end to the political crisis on government terms.

International telephone communications were restored this morning and public transportation resumed.

President Joaquin Balaguer warned Thursday night that continued opposition to government formulas for a provisional government could mean "disaster and a new dictatorship" for the Dominican Republic.

Mr. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echevarria, new chief of the armed forces, warned opposition leaders the army would not tolerate any further disorders like Thursday's effort by a howling mob to storm the Dominican "White House."

Rodriguez' warning appeared to mean that his troops, who have been using tear gas, noise bombs and shots in the air to disperse mobs, would in future use all-out military force against rioters.

(In Washington, the State Department called for "moderation and responsibility" in Dominican efforts to achieve democracy. It promised U.S. "encouragement of responsible, peaceful efforts to secure freedom for the Dominican people.")

Russian Refusal To Discuss Arms Ban Ends Parley

GENEVA (UPI) — U.S. and British chief negotiators headed back for their home capitals for consultations today, deeply disappointed in the Soviet refusal to negotiate a controlled ban on nuclear weapons tests.

After just four days of renewed talks, the conference here, entered its fourth year, was hopelessly bogged down.

U.S. chief negotiator Arthur H. Dean and British delegation chief Joseph Godber both announced Thursday they would return home today in view of the Russian position.

Other members of both delegations remained behind to carry on the formalities.

They will continue at the next meeting on Tuesday to press Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin to agree to a treaty banning nuclear tests under effective international controls.

The Soviet Union's "new approach" is for a paper agreement without any controls. In view of the way the Russians shattered that moratorium after three years, the West has rejected this outright.

The United States and Britain also are opposed to Soviet efforts to link a nuclear test ban to the overall problem of worldwide disarmament.

JFK's Nuclear Test Decision May Come Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Informed sources today forecast a presidential decision in a matter of weeks on U.S. resumption of above-ground nuclear weapon tests.

President Kennedy has said the decision will hinge on a study of the record-setting tests conducted by Russia this fall. There is evidence the President has received conflicting recommendations.

Proponents of further U.S. testing assert that Russia in her recent series of important strides toward development of an effective anti-missile missile which this country must match.

Astrochimp Due To Return Today

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — "Astrochimp" Enos was scheduled to return to Cape Canaveral today for a final series of tests expected to indicate that man can survive physically and mentally during periods in space.

Enos, a 5½-year-old chimpanzee from the jungles of the French Cameroons in Africa, soared twice around earth in a bell-shaped Mercury capsule. But problems in cooling and controlling systems forced scientists to bring him back to earth one orbit sooner than had been planned.

Law-Defying Communists Face Speedy U. S. Move

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department was preparing to move more swiftly today against the U.S. Communist party, whose officers defied a midnight deadline to register as tools of the Soviet Union.

The government was expected to move first against the party itself, rather than its leaders. U.S. attorneys were expected to seek an indictment against the party today.

The party as a whole ignored a Nov. 28 deadline to register as an arm of Russia, as required by the 1950 Internal Security Act. That shifted the burden of registering to the party leaders, who resuffed their high command in delaying meetings in New York Thursday.

The deadline was midnight Thursday night, and it passed without either the party or its officers indicating a change in their vows to defy the order.

After a 10-year court battle, the Supreme Court last June upheld the Subversive Activities Control Board's order.

Technically, the leaders could register by mail postmarked no later than midnight Thursday night. But Justice Department lawyers were not expecting any sudden switches. They were girding themselves for prompt court action.

No arrests of individual Communists could be made without indictments—and presentation of evidence for these would take some time.

The party has been accumulating liability for daily fines of $10,000 for each day they fail to register since Nov. 28. Consequently, the government could ask fines totalling $100,000 if it got an indictment today.

Party officers are liable for fines of $10,000 and five years in jail for each day they fail to register. A third step in the timetable places the burden of registration on individual party members by Dec. 20. They would be subject to the same penalties for each day of non-compliance.

But prosecution of officers and members presents government lawyers with a host of legal problems—of which the Communists are expected to take full advantage.

First, the government will have to prove the identity of officers and members, a difficult and time-consuming process.

Secondly, the party argues that members would open themselves to prosecution under the Smith Act by registering. They argue that this would be in violation of the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination.

Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, writing the opinion of the majority in last June's decision, conceded that the matter of self-incrimination might be involved in registration by members or officers.

Oilmen To Hold Banquet Session Saturday Night

OILMEN from Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Perryton and other Panhandle areas will gather in Borger Saturday night for the annual banquet and election of officers for the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

The banquet, high point of the year API activities, will be held in the Benavistia Cafeteria, and is being looked forward to by many oilmen as well as newcomers to the area.

A social hour is scheduled for 7 p.m. and the banquet will start at 7:30 p.m.

Featured on the entertainment program will be the Yellowjackets, one of the outstanding barbershop quartets in the Southwest. The group has appeared in many cities throughout the mid-continent area and most recently billed an engagement in Dallas.

API officials said tickets for the banquet are $5 if purchased prior to Saturday night. At the door tickets will be $8. They are still available from Leonard L. White, secretary-treasurer, West Pampa RePressing Association; Joe Daniel, 3rd vice chairman; Cabot, A. S. Knox, 2nd vice chairman; Gulf Oil Corporation; Paul Wiley, 1st vice chairman, Texas; or Martin F. Ludeman, chairman, Ludeman Urges Secretary Selling Tickets to Turn in all unpaid tickets by Saturday noon to Secretary Leonard White in order that final reservations may be made.

Both Rogers and Thompson would hold major committee assignments. Rogers is a member of the Commerce and Interior Committees and Thompson is a member of the Agriculture Committee.

Many letters are reported going to the Texas delegation in Washington from Pampa, Amarillo, Borger and other cities throughout the 18th district over the support of Rep. Rogers and his appointment to the committee post.

Gunman Is Held For Killing Pair At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—A gunman on a drunken spree killed his girl friend in an uncompleted suicide pact, fatally wounded a man who "smared off" and raped a woman acquaintance before he was captured.

Julian Price Webster, 28, surrendered with a slug and a grin Thursday night saying, "Well, guess you got me."

Webster was arrested shortly after he had attacked Joycelyne Hedges, 33, who was so distraught she shot at a policeman who came to her rescue.

Webster admitted in a written statement that Thursday morning he shot and killed Mrs. Helen Best, 33, an attractive divorcee.

He also admitted shooting Byrd Robertson of Vernon, Tex., twice in the head some 10 hours later. Robertson is a business partner of William E. Best, a Wichita Falls building contractor who divorced Mrs. Best several years ago.

Robertson died early today after emergency surgery at a hospital.

It was not too hard to spot Webster. He was driving Best's big white sedan, and pulled up in front of an all-night grocery. He tried to purchase some shotgun shells while an off-duty highway patrolman was inside.

The patrolman radioed police and they converged on the car a few blocks away.

Miss Hedges said she did not remember shooting at the policeman. The bullet missed him by several feet.

Webster entered Best's home Thursday night when Best and his partner, Robertson, and Miss Best were there.

Commies Drive To Open UN Door To Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Communist world today launched its biggest effort in years to replace Nationalist China with Red China in the United Nations.

The United States and other Western countries were confident they could block it.

A General Assembly debate expected to last two weeks was scheduled to start with the three big voices—Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin, U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang—in that order.

For the past 11 years, the United States has led a successful defense against attempts to oust the Chinese Nationalists from the United Nations in favor of Communist China.

In developments Thursday night—Russia used its 98th vote to block a Security Council recommendation for the admission of Kuwait as the 104th member of the United Nations. All other 10 council members supported the shendium's application. The veto meant the council will not recommend the application to the assembly which elects new members.

Trombone Stolen From City Church

Theft of a trombone from the Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1700 Alcock, was reported to police today by the Rev. Bob Marsteller, pastor.

The trombone was taken from the church some time between Sunday night and Wednesday, the Rev. Marsteller said.

Rep. Rogers Makes Strong Bid For Important Committee Post

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa is making a bid for a place on the all-important House Ways and Means Committee and Washington reports say President Kennedy is taking an interest in the contenders for the vacancy being created by the resignation of Rep. Frank Isard, Texas Democrat, who on Dec. 15 will become executive director of the American Petroleum Institute.

Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston is the other leading contender for the post, it is reported.

Rogers is openly bidding for the post and has asked Thompson, who rates seniority consideration, to yield to him on the seniority point.

Thompson has been a member of the House since 1947 and Rogers' tenure of office dates from 1951.

Troubled Mississippi Town Set To Enforce Integration Order

MC COMB, Miss. (UPI)—Police were prepared to enforce federal integration orders today if more "freedom riders" arrived at the bus terminal where five Negroes were beaten by a white mob two days ago.

"We are determined to suppress violence," said Mayor C. H. Douglas, who conferred with top Justice Department officials after the first group of "freedom riders" were attacked here Wednesday. Douglas vowed Thursday the city would enforce federal laws prohibiting segregation of travel facilities.

If the mayor's plan is successful, it will be the first instance of compliance with an integration order in Mississippi since the arrival of riders from New Orleans was expected to arrive here today.

Douglas said there would be no angry crowd of whites on hand, as there was Wednesday. He said anyone who did not have a minimal without good reason will be required to leave.

The mayor announced the plan in a news conference at which he revealed that four young white men had been arrested for participating in Wednesday's violence. Charged with disturbing the peace, they were released under $100 bonds.

Conversations with white persons in the business district of this southern Mississippi city of 16,000 Thursday night indicated anger over the integration moves, touched off when a panel of three federal judges recently granted injunctions against McComb officials. The injunctions were aimed at integrating the terminal.

"There's going to be more trouble. Peace won't take this quietly," said a druggist whose comments were typical.

$13,882 Needed By United Fund

Pampa's United Fund still needs $13,882 to reach its $58,746 goal.

Today's total was increased $117 to $54,942, according to George Newberry, general campaign chairman.

The Christmas season officially swung into action in Pampa this afternoon with the annual Santa Day parade scheduled to get underway at 3:30 p.m.

Parade attracted thousands of persons to the downtown area to watch the parade as it moved from S. Cuyler and Craven streets along the line of march.

Highlight of the afternoon was to come at the end of the parade when Santa Claus, who rode the pagent atop Pampa's brand new fire truck, was to meet all little friends on the Court-house lawn.

Santa was scheduled to present boys and girls with some 4,000 candy canes while the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Band under direction of Joe DiCosimo played Christmas music.

Other bands in the parade this afternoon were the Pampa High school, Pampa Junior High and Wheeler High School Band units.

The parade also featured commercial and religious floats entered by merchants, clubs and organizations in Pampa.

Prizes were to be awarded for the best floats exemplifying the Christmas theme.

Schools were dismissed early this afternoon to permit school children to attend the Santa Day parade.

Police and Sheriff's officers were on extra duty in the downtown areas to help handle the crowds expected to watch the parade and to direct traffic. Helping Santa Claus at the Courthouse Lawn party and band concert for the kiddies was a corps of St. Nick's workers under the direction of Ed Anderson.

The parade was scheduled to move from S. Cuyler and Craven north to Browning, west on Browning to Frost, south on Frost to Foster and west on Foster to Foster street where it was slated to disband. Parade Marshal was Wesley Langham.

Hedges were inside discussing plans for a business trip to Dallas and Houston.

Webster said he wanted to go, according to police, but they told him no. He walked to his car and came back with a revolver and a rifle.

"I killed Helen at 7:10 this morning," Webster boasted to them, police said. "And now I'm going to kill you all."

Best said Robertson then "smartered off."

"I don't like you . . . I think I'll kill you," Webster said. He shot Robertson in the head with the revolver and then with the rifle.

He put the gun to Best's throat and ordered him to get him more bullets. Best kicked a chair into Webster and made a dash for the door.

Webster shot twice at him with the rifle, but missed both times. Best ran to a neighbor's house and telephoned police.

Police went to Mrs. Best's home and found her body. There was a note written by Webster saying he had killed her at 7:10 a.m. because she had "asked me all night to do it." He said later they had talked "for months" of a suicide pact.

'Safety Sunday' Set By Governor Daniel

AUSTIN — Sunday, December 10, has been designated by Governor Daniel as "Safety Sunday" to mark the opening of the annual Statewide Christmas-New Year's traffic safety campaign.

In a special proclamation, the governor said that "experience indicates that the solution to the traffic problem lies in the hands of the individual driver, and urged all citizens to join in a united effort to awaken the conscience of every driver."

The governor urged pastors of all Texas churches to "remind their members of their personal and moral responsibility to drive carefully, obey the traffic laws and to protect the sanctity of human life in our State."

"Safety Sunday" has been observed by a steadily increasing number of Texas churches and church organizations since it was first proclaimed by Governor Daniel in 1948.

The idea originated with the Safety committee of the McAllen Rotary Club, and the McAllen Chamber of Commerce in 1948, both headed at that time by a

Highland Baptist Topic Announced

Sunday, during the 11 a.m. Worship Service of the Highland Baptist Church, Rev. Joe Allison will read the Scripture as found in Ephesians 2:1-22 and speak on the subject, "Why I Am a Baptist."

The subject for the 7:30 p.m. Worship Service will be that of "Separated from the Authority of Sin." At the Evening Worship Service, the Scripture as found in Romans 2:12-23 will be read.

Roy Harper, Minister of Music, will conduct the choir and congregation singing.

The Bodleian Library of Oxford University contains about 1.5 million books

McAllen civic and traffic safety leader, L. D.M. Hoot Harris. At his suggestions, the Governor designated the annual "Safety Sunday" on the second Sunday before Christmas as each subsequent year.

The special Statewide proclamation was requested by J. Lloyd Evans of Dallas, state vice-president for religious activities of the Texas Safety Association. This year, Evans will formally present the governor's proclamation at a series of regional conferences on "Religion and Traffic Safety" to be held in Abilene, Midland, Lubbock and Amarillo. The association and the governor's Highway Safety Commission will make a statewide effort to secure the cooperation of as many Texas churches and pastors as possible.

"Safety Sunday" is an important phase of a year - end campaign designed to hold the 1961 Texas traffic death toll below the tentative estimate of about 2,280 recently announced by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, has just announced an intensified law enforcement campaign throughout the State in an effort to hold down the expected traffic toll during the past two months of the year.

Governor Daniel recently told the Texas Municipal League convention in San Antonio that traffic deaths in the cities have been slowly rising during the past few years while traffic deaths on rural highways have been steadily reduced. He appealed to city officials to put new emphasis on traffic control inside the cities.

The governor said one of the most intensive year - end traffic safety campaigns ever undertaken is now being planned through the cooperation of the governor's Highway Safety Commission, the DPS and other State and citizen support agencies. Full details will be announced in the near future.

Foreign Missions Offering Slated

A church-wide special offering for foreign missions will be launched Sunday morning at Central Baptist Church, known as the Lottie Moon Christmas offering for foreign missions, it is named in honor of Miss Lottie Moon, pioneer Southern Baptist missionary to China. The church has set $1,100 for its goal this year. Offerings will be accepted through the month of December.

"The Mission of the Church" has been selected by the pastor, Sherman O. Upshaw, for his sermon subject Sunday morning at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday school will begin at 9:45 a.m.

Sunday evening the pastor will be speaking on the subject "Road to Ruin". Training union will begin at 6 p.m. with the evening worship service following at 7 p.m.

The special offering is being started Sunday as a climax to a week of prayer, which ladies of the church have engaged in through this week.

The monthly deacons' meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 3. The YWA's GA's, RA's, Sunbeams, and the Sunday school officers and teachers will meet Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. Prayer service will follow at 8 o'clock.

Pastors Shifted By Methodists

The following pastoral changes have been announced for the Abilene District of the Methodist Church by Dr. Woodrow Adecock, district superintendent:

Big Church In Rural Area Looks To Future

By CLAIR COX
NEW YORK (UPI) — The congregation has shrunk by 100 members, but the church is more prosperous than ever.

The new $157,000 church building seats a congregation of 300, but is seldom filled.

Although it is situated in rural America, the church has one of the finest choirs to be heard. Byglard Lutheran Church, located near Fisher, Minn., is indeed a study in contrasts.

It would have cost well over $400,000 to have built the same modern church structure in a big city, and the country dwellers do not need anything so extensive today.

But they built for the future, not next year, but next century.

When the Byglard congregation was organized in 1874, it was named after the part of Norway from which the area's first settlers came. There have been four church homes. The first two were abandoned when they became too small. The third, a 40-year-old building, burned down in 1959. The fourth, built to be the last, was completed recently.

Membership in the church numbers 105 families. There are 100 fewer members than in the 1920's but the church is richer. This is because its members are both more prosperous and more generous. They spent heavily on the new church because they feel the population explosion is going to reach this area some day and they want Byglard to be ready for it.

The new building has a

1st Presbyterian Will Have Guest

The first Presbyterian Church will have as their guest minister Sunday, the Rev. J. Edwin Kerr, McLean. His sermon subject will be "God's Ambassadors and Their Message."

There will be a Vesper Service by the Presbyterian Women's Association Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary. The Rev. J. Edwin Kerr will conduct the installation of Officers and the Prebytery Anns will present the Christmas Worship Service led by Miss Phyllis Casey and Mrs. Betty Peoples. Mrs. Helen Conway will sing "O Holy Night" accompanied by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder at the organ. The congregation is cordially invited.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

C. C. Campbell
St. Mark Methodist Church

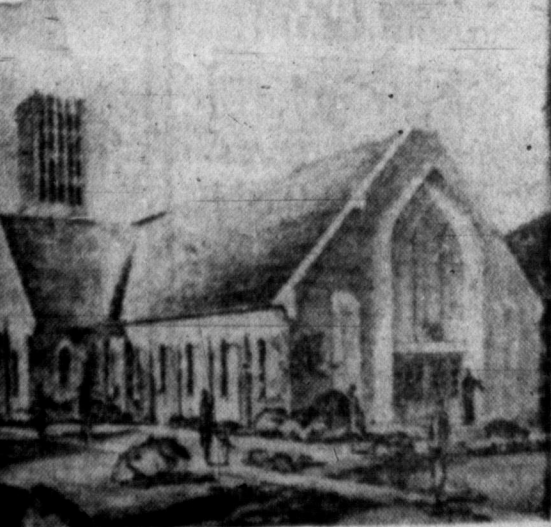

Theme: Under the Good Shepherd's Care.

Text: "And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice." John 10:4.

Christ the Shepherd — we the sheep of His flock. It is the tender relationship, sweet, idyllic, beautiful. A shepherd — he is kind, and patient and gentle, if he be a shepherd worthy the name; he is also one of the most absolute rulers the world contains.

The sheep, I suppose, stands as the type of most utter helplessness, making blunders whenever there is the slightest chance of making them, running into danger as if it loved it, about the most pitifully incapable thing on God's earth. The Shepherd, though he rule kindly, must preserve the strictness of his rule. And in Christ's view we are the sheep who do not know the way and have no life except what He, the Shepherd, makes for them. He is the Good Shepherd; and that means that He will be running over with graciousness, compassionate with the wounded and the tired ones; but if He is the Shepherd, we are the sheep, and that means that to take all from His is the only thing we can safely do. So when Christ speaks of himself as the Shepherd of the sheep, he wants us to combine in our thought about Him these two things—his absolute, authoritative superiority, and His sweet, familiar, condescending care.

The figure suggests the constancy of a man's dependence on Christ, its persistence, its permanence. The sheep are never educated to a point where they can do without a shepherd's care. Our attachment to Christ is not simply a new beginning for us, a means by which we obtain a fresh start. As dependent as we are today, so dependent must we always remain: in this matter of the true life there is no strengthening of faculty which will at last enable us to do without shepherding and accomplish everything for ourselves: Christ does not take us in charge in order that he may train us to stand alone. He is the Shepherd whose word or care is never done.

Sufficient Rest Essential Beauty Aid, Costs Nothing

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are two essentials to good looks that many women overlook. And oddly enough, both are free — yet both are priceless.

One is sufficient rest. The other is cold water. Read odd? It isn't. A good night's sleep followed by cold water (NOT ice water) splashed on the face and neck, can work wonders for your appearance. Both should be a matter of habit.

Women who otherwise display good sense often show none at all about getting enough rest. And women who think nothing of spending five dollars for a jar of face cream never think of using cold water as a free and marvelous astringent to tighten slack skin and aid in shrinking coarse pores.

If water were bottled and sold as a cosmetic, a good many women probably would get around to buying it. The fact that it's free makes them ignore it as a beauty aid. And the same thing is true of a proper night's rest.

A foundation liquid or cream can be a real boon to a skin that's less than perfect.

It conceals minor imperfections, lends an illusion of natural rosy coloring and generally tends to make a woman look prettier. But it must be handled with care.

Apply it with light fingers. Once it's on, let it set for 5 or 10 minutes, as you do your lipstick. Then buff it lightly with a wadded-up cleansing tissue.

This will prevent the excess from coming off on dress and coat collars. It also makes for a more natural look.

But above all, don't apply it just to your face, neglecting your neck. It will be shockingly evident to others what you've done. For some reason, a good many women seem to think that the neck is invisible.

Perhaps this comes from peering closely and anxiously at the face in a mirror. When you do this, step back and have a good look at your neck, too. Then give it the same care you give your face.

The woman who spends all of her time on her appearance is as bad as the woman who neglects herself entirely.

The ideal is the happy medium: the woman who aims to look neat, attractive and as chic as time and money will reasonably allow.

Avoid the extremes: one can make you look hard and silly; the other can make you look a trump.

HH Canasta Club With Mrs. Newhouse

CANADIAN (Spl) — Mrs. Bright Newhouse of Miami was hostess recently to the H. H. Canasta Club in her home.

Guests included Mrs. Jack Moore and Mrs. Virginia Martin of Miami and club members, Mmes. Coy Holman, Bill Zenor, O. G. Riley, Virginia Whipple and Vernon Morse.

The evening was spent at games of canasta. Plans were made for a Christmas party, the date to be announced later.

The hostess served a refreshment plate during the social hour.

The round of holiday parties calls for several switches in make-up from day to evening. Be sure to remove stale make-up completely with warm soapsuds before applying new.

Never Do Patch Job On Make-Up New Make-Up Over Old Ruinous

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most women will be changing make-up at least once, from daytime to evening, on many days during the holidays.

Since these are especially busy days whether you keep house or go to business, it's a temptation sometimes to do a patch-up job on make-up and let it go at that.

Well, don't give in to temptation for two very sound reasons. One is that you won't look your best and the other is that it's ruinous to your skin to do this. Never put on more make-up over the day's dust and soil.

Actually, the best preparation for having a good time at any party is to lower, yourself into a warm tub for five minutes. Do an especially thorough job in sudging your face and neck. Rinse, pat dry and put on fresh lingerie. You'll feel like new.

If you've time for a rest, even ten minutes, put on your robe and stretch out on the bed. This will do much to smooth out tired lines and restore the sparkle to your eyes.

If you're wondering how to preserve your hairdo through a bath and a nap, just remember to keep the bath water warm, not hot. Run in the cold water first, then add the hot. You'll avoid clouds of steam. Leave either the bathroom window or the door open a crack to admit air while you bathe. Your hair should maintain its set beautifully.

Dear Abby.... "Self-Respecting" Left High And Dry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been seeing a married man for three years. I was married and had children when this started. He led me to believe that he was happiest when he was with me, and was miserable with his wife. I took trips with him, and spent time in motels with him. My husband found out about us and divorced me and took the children. I didn't fight it because I thought this man would divorce his wife and marry me, but everything changed overnight. His wife forgave him, and he dropped me without explanation. Now he seems happy with his wife. How can any self-respecting wife forgive a man for something like that? Also, how can I make him see what he owes me? He broke up my home.

DEAR HIGH AND DRY: It is easy for a "self-respecting wife" to forgive a man for something like this. All it takes is common sense and a determination to keep one's family together. He owes you nothing. You broke up your own home — he merely helped.

DEAR DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: This is a "job" for your husband. He should tell them, in a nice way, that their visits should be less frequent. It's a touchy business which can result in serious problem later if it isn't corrected now.

DEAR TERRY: Your guy has "I-strain." Perhaps his condition will improve with age.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not unique. It's that age-old in-law problem. My in-laws couldn't be nicer, but I am getting sick and tired of seeing them.

GARY WILHELM

Wilhelm Featured In Saturday Night Bout

Gary Wilhelm, the Pampa Optimist polished boxer, will take on Gilbert Gonzales of Plainview in the feature bout Saturday night at 7:30 at the Boy's Club Building. Wilhelm, a well-known Panhandle boxing artist, will spot a weight advantage to Gonzales. But Gary, a former national A.A.U. runner-up in 1960, will be a slight favorite over the Plainview fighter in the open class bout.

Another top attraction will be the open class battle between Pampa's slugging Dickie Willis and Pancho Villa of Plainview. Villa is supposed to be a whiz kid from California. The 155-pounder was the Arizona state Golden Gloves champion in his division in 1960.

Willis already has an upset win over Amarillo's Manny Perez to his credit.

The tentative fights scheduled are:

Roy Lumpkin, Pampa vs. Erwin Garcia, Plainview—75 pounds

Schwall Named Top AL Rookie

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Pitcher Don Schwall of the Boston Red Sox, who won 15 games even though he was brought up five weeks after the season started, was named American League rookie of the year today in one of the closest races in the award's history.

The 22-year-old right-hander received seven of 20 votes cast by the Baseball Writers' Association of America, barely beating out Kansas City shortstop Dick Howser, who collected six votes.

Schwall's distinction followed closely a similar one by outfielder Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, who was voted the National League rookie of the year. Williams, 23, was named on 10 of 16 ballots and became the first member of the Cubs ever to gain the award.

Willingham Stars As McLean Cagers Win

MIAMI (SpI) — Lanky Ken Willingham popped in 49 points in two games Thursday to lead the McLean Tigers to a pair of convincing triumphs in the first day of the Miami cage tournament.

The 6-3 senior, a star quarterback on the Tigers football team, pumped in 28 points to lead McLean to a 66-48 triumph over defending 2-A champion Canadian in the night game.

Earlier Willingham poured in 21 points as the Bengals romped past the Miami Warriors 48-39 in the tourney opener.

Scotty Daugherty and Mark Arrington were the big guns for Miami with 10 points each. The loss was the first of the season for the class B Warriors.

In other games Thursday, Miami trounced Canadian 53-46 and Spearman battered McLean 51-31 in girls' games.

Dalhart-Quanah Play At Canyon

By United Press International
Dalhart and Quanah, two Class AA schoolboy football clubs meeting with the best success in their history, open the weekend championship playoff schedule this afternoon with a quarterfinal game at Canyon.

Before the weekend is over, the field of 32 survivors will be pared to 16—four in each of the four classifications, playing through to state titles.

Quanah's Indians have made it to the playoffs three times previously, and Dalhart's Wolves once, but both clubs never got any further than the bi-district round as they lost their first games.

Both have two playoff victories to their credit this time and Dalhart owns a 29-8 upset over defending state champ Denver City that propelled it into this week's quarterfinals.

Undeclared-untied Quanah, however, will be the slight-favorite over the once-beaten Wolves.

The winner moves into the northern bracket semifinals against the winner of the Jacksboro-Hooks game at neutral Commerce—one of nine playoff games scheduled tonight. Jacksboro is favored in that one.

Two of tonight games are in the big Class AAAA competition—Fort Worth Paschal at Denison and Galena Park at Houston Milby; two in Class AAA—Gainesville-Corsicana at Dallas and Angleton at Nederland; two in Class AA—Jacksboro-Hooks and Brady-Dayton at Taylor; and three in Class A—Albany-Forney at Weatherford, Groveton-Waco Connally at Bryan and Hull-Daisetta vs. Three Rivers at El Campo.

The weekend's spotlight attractions come off Saturday afternoon at San Angelo and Corpus Christi. Class AAAA favored Wichita Falls is at San Angelo, while the Ray High Texans, favored to be the southern bracket finalist, host San Antonio Jefferson.

Potent Dumas takes on Breckenridge in a northern bracket AAA feature at Childress Saturday afternoon, while AAA's only perfect record team, San Benito, plays at Del Rio Saturday night.

The AA brackets will be completed Saturday night when Sweeny, whose 6-6 record includes six forfeits because of an ineligible player, plays Donna at Freeport.

The fourth Class A semifinalist will be decided at Plainview Saturday night when Wink and Kress, both undeclared and untied, are scheduled.

Robert E. Lee's Rebels chalked up 8th and 9th grade conference victories Thursday afternoon but the Pampa Reapers lost their district opener.

Coach Mack Choate's Lee 8th grade chalked up win number two for the season by smashing the Phillips 8th graders 55-9 and coach Joe Perryman's Rebel 9th graders nudged the Hawks crew 38-31 in an important conference battle.

Borger Austin overpowered the shorter Pampa Reapers to the tune of 33-23 in another conference battle.

Robert Howard and David McDaniel accounted for 28 points between them as the Lee 9th graders captured their second win of the season against a lone loss to the White Deer B. team.

Howard pumped in 15 points and McDaniel chipped in with 11. Lee held a 23-19 halftime lead after trailing 10-9 in the first period.

Gary Crossland and Kenneth McWilliams fired in 12 points apiece to pace the Lee 8th graders. The Rebs romped to an insurmountable 21-1 halftime advantage.

Jacque Gill led the Miami girls to their win over Canadian. She tallied 29 points but Sharon Per-tree of Canadian topped that with a whopping 34 points.

Tournament action tonight will find McLean playing Miami at 8 p.m. and Canadian meeting Allison at 7:15 in girl tilts with the Miami boys clashing with the Allison boys at 8:30.

Arkansas And Texas Hog All-Conference Positions

DALLAS (UPI) — Co-champions Texas and Arkansas swept up eight of the 11 berths on the 1961 United Press International All-Southwest Conference football team with their two running aces leading in the balloting.

The Cotton Bowl-bound Texas team placed five on the honor roll, while Sugar Bowl-bound Arkansas got three, Gotham Bowl-bound Baylor and Bluebonnet prospect Rice and upset-minded Texas Christian one each.

Texas scabback James Saxton was the only unanimous choice of the 22 conference scouts and UPI sports writers who voted on the team, while Arkansas' peerless Lance Alworth polled 108 of a possible 110 points with only one second-team ballot marring his perfect score.

The two halves, plus Arkansas and Jimmy Collier, were repeaters from the 1960 UPI mythical team, but there will be none of this year's top 11—make it again because they are all seniors.

Texas quarterback Mike Cotton, who held a comfortable lead over the giant Sonny Gibbs of TCU—the only team to beat Texas, and Rice fullback Roland Jackson rounded out the first-team backfield.

In addition to Collier, the honor line included Bob Moses of Texas at the other end; Don Talbert of Texas and Bobby Plummer of TCU at the tackles; Herby Adkins of Baylor and Dean Garrett of Arkansas at the guards, and David Kristynik of Texas at center. Jackson had the closest call, barely nosing out Baylor's Ronnie Bull for the fullback slot.

Bull was one of three 1960 UPI all-conference stars failing to repeat. The others were end Johnny Burrell of Rice, who slipped to the second team along with Bull, and Baylor quarterback Ronnie Stanley, who skidded to the honorable mention list.

Rail and two other fullbacks, Ray Poage of Texas and Lee Roy Caffey of Texas A&M, joined TCU's upset-pilot, giant Sonny Gibbs, on the second all-conference backfield.

The second team line included Burrell and Buddy Iles of TCU at ends, Robert Johnston of Rice and Wayland Simmons of Texas A&M at tackles, Johnny Treadwell of Texas and Ray Schoenke of SMU at guards and Bill Hicks of Baylor at center.

All — SWC Team: ENDS — Bob Moses, Texas and Jimmy Collier, Arkansas. TACKLES — Don Talbert, Texas and Bobby Plummer, TCU. GUARDS — Herby Adkins, Baylor and Dean Garrett, Arkansas. CENTER — David Kristynik, Texas.

QUARTERBACK — Mike Cotton, Texas. HALFBACK — James Saxton, Texas. HALFBACK — Lance Alworth, Arkansas. FULLBACK — Roland Jackson, Rice.

Harvesters Gun For Fourth Win

LAMAR, Colo. — "We had better get started in the first quarter tonight," were the words of the Pampa Harvesters co-captain Lloyd Balch.

And Mr. Balch could not have been more accurate in his statement. For the Pampa cagers, who have staged three late rallies to roll undefeated in three games will play the Lamar, Colo. Savages tonight at 8 p.m. at Lamar and again Saturday night.

Lamar is the defending class AA state-champion in Colo. and the Savages have four starters returning from a club that turned in a 16-7 season mark to capture state laurels. The AA division in Colo. is equal to the AAA bracket in Texas.

Tonight's tilt will be the first real test of the Harvesters strength. Pampa has rolled over three opponents — and none of the wins were easy — but the opposition probably can not match the caliber of Lamar.

Pampa thumped Phillips 57-51 Tuesday night to make it three in a row after clawing Vernon 49-39 and Hereford 67-57. All three victims are class AAA outfits.

Against Phillips, the Harvesters were down 16-7 in the opening period and did not catch up until the third quarter. The Hawks were shorter and lost three starters on fouls but still almost managed to upset Pampa.

Once again it was the fine floor play of junior guard Keith Swanson that pulled the Harvesters through. He sank five of six charity tosses in the fourth period and was credited with four assists on other scoring plays.

Terry Culley, the head Pampa mentor, said Thursday that every-one was ready to go at full speed including Randy Matson, who had a mild touch of the virus Monday. Matson is the club's leading scorer with a 21 point average. He scored 22 against Hereford in the opener, dunked in 21 against Vernon and Phillips held him to "only" 20.

The 6-6 Pampa post man is also so the leading rebounder as he had gained 16 against Vernon. Bobby Neslage, a 6-2 senior returning from a club that turned in a 16-7 season mark to capture state laurels. The AA division in Colo. is equal to the AAA bracket in Texas.

Time To Wake Up

One of the mysteries of the times in the United States is why such large percentage of butchers, bakers and candlestick makers, figuratively speaking, turn socialist when elected to public office. Before they become public officials, they would have screamed their heads off at the suggestion of the state or federal government setting up shop in competition with them. But once they don the dress of officialism, too many of them change and vote to have the government compete with or eliminate their neighbor's business.

The Dallas Morning News recently said editorially, "The nation's doctors... stand against government (socialized) medicine. In this fight they have been in the front lines since the 1930's, and what they are doing is the biggest story in your lives: Will you and your children remain free, or will the government take you over?"

"So when doctors fight to protect themselves, they are fighting to protect you and your right to invest in a business of your own and run it as a free enterprise."

"Through the years... The News has warned that the Tennessee Valley Authority was only the starter of a government effort to control the utilities. Now the government manufactures a fourth of all power. We warned that 'minor' federal programs, like school lunches, were only a springboard... to federalized schools. Were we wrong?"

"We warned that bureaus like CAB and FCC would eventually be used to control the affairs of private airlines and programming for TV and radio stations."

Yes, your turn may be next unless you oppose the extension of federal and state competition with private enterprise.

Capitalism Vs. Colonialism

We hear a great deal, these days about the "exploiting" of backward peoples and the capitalistic colonialism supposedly villainous and attributed to American capitalists primarily.

Socialist thinkers usually phrase their criticism along these lines: "Private enterprises from various countries (usually America) exploit the natural resources of these countries which is robbery." In place of such private enterprises, the socialists argue in favor of government intervention to end "colonialism."

Let us see what happens when private enterprise moves into a foreign nation.

The first thing that occurs is that hundreds of thousands, usually millions of dollars are brought in for purposes of investment in land and resources. Secondly, costly machinery and power tools are imported. Finally, native labor is hired at wages usually far in advance of the going wage rate of the particular nation involved.

What is the purpose of this costly outpouring of money, machines and top management? To exploit? To lay waste? To plunder? Is the purpose to INCREASE costs of production in such a place? To what end?

Do the daring adventurers in foreign lands seek to cut their own throats?

On the contrary, having sunk a lot of capital and capital goods into a foreign country, the only possible way out for the enterpriser is for him to produce an astonishing array of goods and services and to sell them at a price that will produce a profit for him.

Is such an investor, anxious to quit the country as quickly as possible? If so, why does he go there at all?

As a matter of fact, any investor or enterpriser in a foreign place goes there only because he expects to become so reliable, so trustworthy, so dependable, when it comes to producing needed and wanted goods, that he expects to stay. Forever, if possible. He cannot afford to make even the initial investment unless he has some hopes of remaining to earn some profits as a result of his daring.

International investors in foreign places are the most enduring and the most reliable of all organizations extant in any such location. The capital is invested in poor countries with the hope of making those countries rich in products and in productivity. Modern techniques are introduced, natives trained and paid well, know-how and prosperity are spread everywhere. And customers come, VOLUNTARILY, to buy things they didn't even know could be produced.

This is NOT colonialism, it is capitalism. And it is, it must be profitable for all concerned or it cannot endure.

Now let us examine colonialism. Definitely, it is governmental dependency. It is the kind of "assistance" proffered to a nation thru its government and by means of another government. It is politically dominated and controlled.

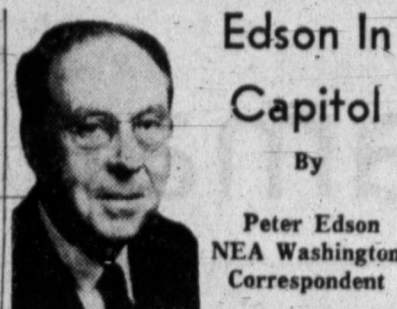

When colonialism exists, the "aiding" country decides what products already made in that country are usable in its country. These it agrees to purchase with taxpayers' money. In exchange, the "aiding" government decides what it has in surplus. It may be something that is not needed in the country being colonized. But, no matter.

A treaty exchange agreement will be entered into whereby the production of the colonial nation may be exported and the surplus of the colonizer imported.

Russia has been one of the major sustainers of colonialism. Virtually every one of its offers of "foreign aid" falls into this classification. Unfortunately, America is not far behind in this practice. For the American government, in its economic interventionism, is neither better nor worse than any other.

Fortunately, however, from America there also comes a great surge of private productive capital and know-how unmatched by any other nation on earth. It is world-wide capitalism for which the nationals of every country on earth are starving. America should never be a party to any colonizing scheme.

Edson In Capitol

By Peter Edson NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There is one new element in the triennial congressional wrangle over renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements act. It is Britain's application for membership in the European Common Market set up in the Treaty of Rome by Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, Ireland, Norway and Denmark also want in and other western European nations want association.

Many Americans seem completely disinterested in this subject, believing it doesn't concern them. But they are going to hear a lot about it in coming months, so they might as well listen.

And when people like Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman start shouting that a European Common Market agricultural policy might reduce exports of U.S. farm products, it touches every home in the farm belt.

In industrial and trade circles, the fear is that if all the European countries go in for economic unification, they will create the world's largest mass market of over 200 million people. The bugaboo built up is that this will hurt America's $5 billion export market in Europe and create a new competitor for U.S. exports in other parts of the world.

The pitch is therefore made that President Kennedy should be given new authority to negotiate with the Common Market on tariff rates to protect the U.S. economy.

Closer association of the United States with the Common Market is advocated in a report to the Committee by former Undersecretaries of State Will Clayton, D. Tex., and Christian A. Herter, R. Mass.

A subcommittee of this group under Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., is opening hearings on foreign economic policy. A House Education and Labor subcommittee under Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., is opening hearings on the effects of imports and exports on U.S. unemployment.

These are but warm-ups for next year's full dress hearings on renewal of reciprocal trade agreements legislation before the House Ways and Means Committee under Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D. Ark.

Kennedy is expected to announce his trade policy early in December. The administration bill to carry out the President's program will be the business before the Ways and Means Committee. After testimony from all the administration mouthpieces, opponents will get their inning.

Opposition strategy is to amend the administration bill, in committee or on the floor of the House and Senate, or to have bills they don't like recommended for reconsideration.

During the last session some 75 representatives introduced resolutions to have Congress go on record against any further cuts in U.S. tariffs. There were also a number of one-item protectionist bills introduced.

A dozen congressmen backed a bill which would have narrowed the discretion of the Tariff Commission on what constitutes injury from imports. It would also have withdrawn presidential power to override tariff Commission decisions.

None of these proposals made any headway in the last session of Congress in spite of almost weekly speeches by Representative Dent, Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey, D. W. Va., and others advocating higher tariffs and opposing freer trade.

One other tack which the opposition to a more liberal trade policy may take next year is to move for a one-year renewal instead of the usual three. This would be a political move to keep business men who are potential campaign fund contributors from clamming up for the 1962 elections.

The excuse for postponing decision on further reciprocal trade agreements extension until after the congressional elections next year is, to wait and see whether Britain and other European countries join the Common Market and what effects there will be on American exports and imports.

FUEL FOR A-SHIP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Savannah, world's first atom-powered merchant ship, has been stoked with enough nuclear fuel to run it for 3 1/2 years. The Atomic Energy Commission and Maritime Administration said Wednesday 32 fuel elements of uranium weighing about 17,000 pounds had been put into the Savannah's reactor at Camden, N.J.

Massachusetts Democrats, Some Kennedys Against Ted Now for Senate; President Urges Lesser Prize

WASHINGTON — Edward (Ted) Kennedy, politically ambitious 30-year-old youngest brother of the President, is the center of a very significant family tug-of-war.

The President wants Ted to run for either the House of Representatives or a Massachusetts state office — preferably Attorney General.

But their father, former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, is strongly urging Ted to be a candidate for the seat held by Senator Benjamin Smith, 45-year-old Harvard classmate of the President. Smith was appointed to the Senate after the President was elected to the White House.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy had been siding with his father, but lately is veering away. In family discussions during the Thanksgiving holiday, "Bobby" held the President's interests were foremost and must be given primary consideration.

Importance of this inner family divergence of view is that it involves a potentially bitter primary battle with State Attorney General Edward McCormack — nephew of Representative John McCormack, now certain to be the next Speaker of the House. "Eddie" McCormack, tall, blond, handsome Annapolis graduate, is an unannounced but definite candidate for the Senate. Serving his second term as Attorney General, he won in 1960 by a majority second only to the President's.

A torrid primary clash between "Eddie" and "Teddy" could have far-reaching reverberations — in Massachusetts and elsewhere.

Regardless of who won, the resulting factional scar could cost the Democrats that seat in the November election, when the Republican candidate is virtually certain to be young George Cabot Lodge. He is the son of former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, whom President Kennedy defeated for the Senate in 1952.

Nationally, Ted's aspiring to the Senate in his first political venture would open the Kennedys to the charge of "creating a dynasty."

The President obviously is acutely aware of these risks.

That is why he is counseling that 30-year-old "Teddy" seek a less ambitious prize. In inner Democratic circles it's no secret that both Massachusetts and national party leaders favor that.

With very few exceptions, every important elected Democratic official in Massachusetts is against "Teddy" running for the Senate.

They think he should wait until 1966 — when he will be 35 — and tackle veteran Republican Senator Leverett Saltonstall, now serving his fourth term, who will then be 74.

Senator Smith continues to insist he still is in the picture. But that doesn't seem to be worrying either "Eddie" or "Teddy." Both appear confident he is not a serious threat. It's what they are going to do that is bothering them. And that apparently is up to the President — if "Bobby" is right.

Meanwhile, "Teddy," chairman of the Massachusetts cancer fund, addressed 78 meeting in its behalf the past month; and young Lodge, chairman of the state heart fund, spoke at 35 meetings.

POLITICALS — Senator J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., chairman of the influential Foreign Relations Committee, is convinced he will be opposed by Governor Orval Faubus. The latter, serving his third term, hasn't announced against Fulbright, but close Faubus lieutenants are passing the word he has decided to run for the Senate. The prospects for increasing the size of the House to save some Democratic seats will be definitely better under Representative John McCormack, Mass., as Speaker. He favors that in contrast to the backstage opposition of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. Rayburn's disapproval prevented such legislation from being considered this year. Massachusetts Republican Governor John Volpe will run for re-election. The strongest GOP vote-getter in the state, he has told young George Cabot Lodge that he will not oppose him for the senatorial nomination. Most likely Democratic candidate against Volpe is Lieutenant Governor Edward McLaughlin — who wants "Ted" Kennedy to run for Attorney General. That's what the President favors, too.

Hawaii will be the battleground of a dramatic senatorial contest if Democratic Senator Owen Long decides not to run for re-election. A long-time educator, he has indicated he may retire from public life. In that event, the Democrats are set to nominate Representative Daniel Inouye, 37-year-old decorated, amputee World War II veteran. Benjamin Dillingham, 45-year-old scion of one of the wealthiest families of the island, will also be in the race. Inouye, son of a Japanese immigrant, has the backing of labor and minority groups. Dillingham is the vigorous champion of business and financial interests.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — John Scarne is an old friend of mine who has so perfected his skill with playing cards that he can all but cause the 9 of spades to stand up all by itself and recite the Emma Lazarus poem inscribed on the base of the Statue of Liberty. I can't even stand up by myself and do it. I can start it, though. I can give you the first eight words of it, even though Irving Berlin, the song-master, once taught the whole of it to me patiently and pains-stakingly as a result of his having written a musical show called "Miss Liberty."

John having learned all these was to learn about cards, dice, chemin de fer, roulette, keno, blackjack, betting on athletic contests and similar games of chance and peril, then devoted his life, and still is devoting it, to exposing the chicanery and dishonesty of gambling. He learned all the slick tricks used by professionals setting out to shear the lambs. He became so expert at these exposures that Uncle Sam hired him during World War II to tour the training camps and embarkation centers to tell green boys away from home for the first time how to protect themselves from thieving gamblers.

Simon & Schuster now have put together all that he knows, or have put together in a book all that he knows, and the result is "Scarne's Complete Guide to Gambling," which he dedicates to "the 61,500 men and women gamblers and 10,000 professional gamblers who helped me gather the information contained in this book."

As a man who ventures a few bob in a gin rummy game now and then, this being an evil pastime taught to me at great personal cost in the capital of Gin Rummy — Hollywood — I always have liked to sit down at a table with John and hear him reveal the gaudy and sly tricks of the professionals, who thirst to fleece the chumps. In his new book, which gives you 669 pages for $10, or a bargain price of just over a penny a page, say roughly a penny an, one-hundred, he tells all that he ever told me.

John claims, and I never was in a position to dispute him, that gambling today involves a $6 billion dollar revenue (that's a billion, not million) and thus is the largest industry in the United States. He is not crusading in his book, taking the estimable point of view that if you want to gamble you probably will gamble and nothing he can say or do will dissuade you. Since you are determined, he offers you the exact and precise rules for more than 50 gambling games, offers the odds involved in each and even in detail the best playing strategy. He's like the man whose son was becoming a drunk; he hopes the kid, if he has to do it, will do it on the best whiskey.

In addition, John addresses certain facts and figures to legislators who are burning lamps late at night fashioning legislation designed either to curb or make more free the act of gambling. Most of these facts and figures never have been published before.

I customarily don't like to take a far out stance just for a friend, since I have some conscience about my obligations to readers and to print. But I'm not harming that ethic by saying that his new book is unquestionably the most book ever written on gambling. If gambling doesn't interest you or impinge on your life in any way, it probably won't fascinate you as a book. But even if you only pitch pennies at a crack or bet on which fly will light on the lump of sugar first, this is a book you could read with confidence and improvement of your game.

John devotes one long and entire section to horse racing alone, disclosing that horse racing is 6,000 years old and harness racing is 3,000 years older than flat racing. He also gives a nod to the supernatural that is present in betting, detailing how a horse player unpredictably can be "hot" one day and win everything in sight and turn around the next and lose it all on a "cold" day.

Friend or not, I recommend John's book to anyone who ever bets on anything for any reason. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Here's How To Beat Gift Giving Rap The Year 'Round

By HENRY McELMORE

I just had a birthday, and along with the ties, socks, bicycle clips, and watch fobs which I got as presents, there was a copy of a book I wish had fallen into my hands long ago.

Entitled "Gift Making For Beginners," it explains how by word and picture, with very little money, and not much more time, a man can make all the gifts he is called on to bestow in a normal calendar year.

There are chapters on Wedding Gifts, Birthday Gifts, Anniversary Gifts, Graduation Gifts, and, most appropriate for this time of year, Christmas Gifts.

I was surprised, as well as delighted, to find how easy it is to make a pin cushion Christmas gift for those of one's friends who would be pleased to find a pin cushion under their tree.

An old sock, cut off and sewn at the foot (but not sewn before stuffing it tightly with sand) makes a functional and, depending on the age, color and material of the sock, attractive pin cushion. When no sand is handy, oatmeal makes a fine substitute, as does crushed charcoal.

I have already made a batch of these cushions and they are neatly stacked, ready for wrapping and mailing.

For those who want to make a more elaborate present to give to a beloved friend, or to the boss, there is a detailed description of an alligator lamp.

It sounds as simple as can be. First, you buy one of those dried alligators at a souvenir shop — the ones reared up on their feet are best for reading — and then treat it exactly as you would an ordinary lamp base. Run a wire from his tail, through his middle, and connect it with a bulb in his mouth. Just be sure to have the bulb set well forward in his mouth. The first one I made I got the bulb too far back, and it lighted the inside of the alligator, and didn't throw enough light forward for one to read by. The cost is negligible for such an unforgettable present.

Have you ever thought of sending a friend a wheelbarrow for Christmas. Neither had I until I read the book. Now, as soon as I can buy or find a wheelbarrow of a suitable size, I am going to start a wheelbarrow. I gather that there isn't much more to it than building a square box, nailing on some handles, and mounting the box on a wheel. The book suggests a variety of colors.

No home has enough door stops, we all know that. And in the chapter on door stops, my new book covers the field. There are designs for square ones, oblong ones, rectangular ones and, believe it or not, a perfectly round one. The gimmick here is that the round door stop has a little square one to hold it in place.

The simplest and cheapest kind can be made from nothing but a brick, some heavy cloth to cover the brick with, and thick thread for sewing the cloth so it won't come off and expose the brick. I haven't made one yet. But I honestly believe even the most unskilled gift-maker could turn out enough door stops for a mansion in one good evening of work.

For the more ambitious, there are explanations of how to make garages for Christmas gifts, as well as bookcases and picket fences. However, there is no explanation as to the best and cheapest way to mail such gifts. A picket fence would be a mess to wrap and mail, at that.

I'm going to stick to door stops. Fast, cheap, sensible, and functional.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN

Here are the details of a physical fitness program. It will help to loosen your joints, whether normal or arthritic, and stretch your muscles and tendons so they don't creek like a barn door that is opened in the spring after a winter of disuse.

Turn on your radio to a musical program that's to your liking. Preferably (if you can find such), one that's free for a quarter-hour from commercials and the oh-so-jolly spiel of an oh-so-jolly disc jockey.

Now, standing before an open window, with or without clothes, put each joint through its normal range of motion.

And, do what you do slowly, but with maximum precision. Don't just flap away like a flag in the wind. Give the sort of firm beat that's given by the leader of a band or an orchestra.

Beginning at the neck, turn your chin to right and then left, perhaps 10 to 20 times. Then chin-to-chest and chin-in-air. Then make a sort of circle with your chin.

Next get to work on your shoulders. With arms outstretched, force them back as far as they'll go and then cross them in front as far as they'll go.

Then, with arms still outstretched, touch fingers to toes, and up and back as far as possible to limber the spine at the same time.

Next, still with arms outstretched, make circles. And finally, with hands clasped back of head, bring elbows together in front and then jam back as far as they'll go.

Now get to work on your back. With hands on hips, twist to right and left. Then bend to right and left. And finish with the upper half of your body by hitting your shoulders with clenched fists. Then, spread arms and fingers as far out as they'll go as if you were a candidate appealing for votes.

Before you start on your lower extremities, put your hands over your lower ribs. Then, as you blow out all the breath you can, crush the rib cage in as far as possible. And, when that's done and you start to gasp up, hook your fingers under the cage and open it up as far as you can while you expand your lungs to capacity.

For your leg work, you'll need apparatus. That is to say, a chair and a nearby couch or bed. Holding on to the chair with one hand, loosen hips by raising and lowering first one leg and then the other with knees stiff. Then to the side. And then the partial circle.

Now, with one hand on the chair and the other on the bed, squat down as far as you can and then straighten your knees as far back as they'll go. And finish off the standing exercises by rising up on heels and back on toes.

Finally, lie on top of your bed or couch with hands clasped behind head. Point toes up as high as you can and then bend them down and at the same time make believe you are trying to pick up something with them.

You may find that more trying than you imagine. But it's a very important exercise.

Then make circles with your toes to limber up the ankles. Repeat your breathing exercises and call it a day.

Cuba ranks fourth among nations of the world in iron ore reserves.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Friday, Dec. 1, the 335th day of the year with 30 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917, Father Edward Flanagan founded Boys Town for orphans or otherwise homeless boys.

In 1925, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Germany signed the Locarno Pact to outlaw willful aggression anywhere in Europe.

The 1953, the New York Stock Exchange announced that for the first time in history investors could buy stocks on an installment plan.

In 1958, fire swept through the Chicago parochial school of Our Lady of the Angels — killing 93 children and three nuns and injuring 100.

A thought for the day: The English writer Samuel Johnson said: "Gratitude is a fruit of great cultivation."

Chop suey, often regarded as a typical Chinese dish, was first concocted 65 years ago—in the United States. A visiting Chinese statesman served the new dish to his American friends. After dinner the chef was called in. Asked the name of his tasty dish, the chef said, "I call it chop suey—that's what we call hash in China." Hash or not, the Americans loved it—and the chop suey parlor became a U.S. institution.

Savings And Loan Stocks Are Good, Analyst Believes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerome Peck of Jerome Peck Associates, Inc. says while it is true that savings and loan stocks have in most instances doubled their price during the past year, "it is our opinion that they still represent extremely good value."

The analysts says the growth prospects, particularly of the California associations, "are very bright" and it would appear that gains for these companies next year will even exceed 1961.

Some other analysts, Peck says, believe that imposition of a tax rate of around 20 per cent will result in a curtailment of future profits gains, and that the companies may lower the rate of interest paid on deposits to absorb any future income taxes. Peck says this is unlikely, that earnings gains will "continue at an excellent rate," and that the present dip in these stocks provides an excellent buying opportunity.

Clark Dodge & Co. says earnings of nearly all the paper companies will be down this year and although next year should see some improvement, "it is doubtful that advances will be of such magnitude as to warrant purchases of these stocks." It adds that earnings uncertainties also leave it unable to recommend any lumber and plywood companies.

A report from the National Association of Investment Clubs shows that members of its 967 listed investment clubs have been realizing average earnings in excess of 17 per cent a year, compounded annually.

net's father W. O. Barnett and his sister, Mrs. C. B. Haire of Chickasha, Oklahoma.

Mrs. E. E. Crawford and Mrs. G. E. Huckins represented the Skellytown Home Demonstration Club at the council meeting in Panhandle. Mrs. Huckins is president of the council.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cade, Dick Chance and Jim McCann reported a nice time pheasant hunting in Nebraska over the week end.

Mrs. Nannie Forrester of Nona, is visiting her children, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Forrester and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Atkins and their families.
