DeMolay Week has been declared for the State of Texas and a proclamation signed by Mayor W.B. LeVeque designates this week as DeMolay Week in Muleshoe.

An organization was recently formed for the first time in Muleshoe.

The order of DeMolays is for building better citizens out of teenage boys is the goal of the Order of DeMolay, an international youth organization founded on March 18, 1919, in Kansas City, Mo., by Frank S. Land and nine teenage youths.

The organization was named for Jacques De Molay, the last Grand Master of the Knights Templars, who was burned at the stake by King Phillip of France on March 18, 1314, as a martyr to loyalty and toleration.

Today, members of DeMolay strive to carry on the fine ideals for which DeMolay gave his life -- loyalty and service to God and fellow men.

Frank Land served as the Secretary General for DeMolay until his death on November 8, 1959. By 1920, the Kansas City chapter had grown to 3,000 members, and chapters were soon instituted from coast to coast and in several foreign countries. Today there are over 2,500 active DeMolay chapters and nearly three million boys have taken their obligations at the DeMolay altar.

DeMolay membership is open to any boy of good character who is between the ages of 14 and 21. Although DeMolay chapters are sponsored only by Masonic bodies or individual Masons, it is not necessary that a boy be a son or a relative of a Mason to belong to DeMolay.

The Order of DeMolay is a non-profit corporation with the international office located in its own four-story building in Kansas City, Mo. Under the guidance of the Grand Secretary, a small office staff acts as the clerical and administrative group to maintain a central office of record and promote the growth and development of the organization.

The youth movement is governed by an International Supreme Council composed of over 200 outstanding Masons located around the world. They meet in annual sessions to review and approve the actions of the staff.

DeMolay's slogan is "Building Better Citizens." Its ritual is what sets the organization apart from other youth groups. The ritual was written in

Girl Scouts Mark 55 Years

Girl Scout Week Set: Local Origin Recalled

More than 5,000 girls of the Caprock Girl Scout Council will join more than three million Girl Scouts throughout the country in celebrating Girl Scout Week, Sunday, March 12-Saturday, March 18. "Values to Hold... Worlds to Explore" is the theme of Girl Scout Week and of the Girl Scouts' 55th birthday, March 12. This date marks the anniversary of the first meeting of the first troop organized in Savannah, Ga., by Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the movement in the U. S. A.

Since that first troop of a few girls, more than 20 million members have made the Girl Scout Promise to their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness and thrift.

This year Girl Scouts are focusing their attention on "Worlds To Explore." Troops across the country are being encouraged to explore the world of themselves and that includes fashion, food and fun as well as their futures.

Special days are earmarked through Girl Scout Week to illustrate the various aspects of the Girl Scout program. Members of Caprock Council will observe the week in a variety of ways.

In observance of Girl Scout Sunday, March 12, thousands of Girls Scouts will be attending religious services in uniforms. Jewish girls will celebrate Girl Scout Sabbath on Friday, March 17.

Many Schools throughout the West Texas area are joining in the celebration of Girl Scout Week.

This 55th birthday is being celebrated this week, not with pride but with an eager anticipation of many more to come.

There's been a long, long trail winding from the 1912 era of the middle-class to that of the 1967 mini-skirt. Girl Scout hemlines aren't that far up, of course, nor are those of most young women. But the organization's mode is on the move, and it has been through each changing generation.

Consider for a moment, the Girl Scout's new triennial theme, "Values to Hold... Worlds to Explore." The values still are the solid values found Juliette Gordon Low instilled in

A full week of activities has been planned for the 120 members of the Muleshoe Girl Scouts in observance of Girl Scout Week.

Highlights of the activities will be attending church and a district celebration.

Girl Scouts are to attend the Church of their choice Sunday, March 12 in uniform to kick off the week.

The District celebration will be held at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge Saturday when the local troops will be on hand to greet troops from Friona, Littlefield, Earth, Bovina and Anton.

Sister Troop has been designated and will meet for lunch. Keith Hansen, manager of the arrangements of the outing and will show films to the girls. A hike over the refuge has been planned.

Girls are to be at the Scout Hut at 10 a.m. Saturday with a sack lunch to take to the Refuge. Mothers and leaders will provide transportation.

Other activities are scheduled for the individual troops.

The glow of Girl Scouting was first visioned here in 1932 when a Mrs. Weaver, with two less girls than the organizations founder, Juliette Low, began regular meetings in the courthouse.

Traces of the history show that for outings, the girls went with their lone leader to a spot most familiarly known to old timers as "Hart's Tank" for recreation. (Hart's tank was at one time one of the younger sets recreational spot, located on a farm two miles on the Friona Road belonging to the late E. R. Hart.)

City Patrolman David Cunningham left this week to attend a four weeks police training school at Big Spring, sponsored by the Texas A & M Extension Service.

The school deals with basic police methods and deals with various phases of law enforcement.

City manager Albert Field said this training would update the City force here, Chief of Police Harold White has attended DPS school in Austin. Patrolman Jim Kinser attended the Big Spring school in October and Cunningham will graduate March 31.

The banquet and program is not limited by denomination nor race and Methodist Men extend their invitation to attend.

In preparing for the banquet Methodist Men ask that those planning to attend call the church office.

Then the glow faded and then vanished until it was rekindled in 1946 when Mrs. T. R. White, Mrs. W. R. Bowers and Mrs. Henry Scarbrough organized a troop consisting of some 20 girls.

This Troop was registered with the Roswell, N.M. Council. Meetings were held in the homes of the three leaders and continued to grow.

The Caprock Girl Scout Council was organized January 8, 1957 at the old Caprock Hotel in Lubbock. The following year, Muleshoe's Scouts joined that Council.

The first Neighborhood chairman under the Caprock council was Mrs. G. L. White followed by Mrs. Irvin St. Clair, Mrs. Dale Fischergrabe, Mrs. Ernest Kerr and Mrs. Charles Mayhugh.

The first Girl Scout House here was donated by Irwin St. Clair in 1958 and is known as "The Little Hut."

Liano Estacado Civic Club started sponsoring the Girl Scouts in 1959 and have accomplished many things toward the maintenance and improvement of the Hut, donated a refrigerator, installed a telephone and pays utilities.

A series of educational and directional meetings are scheduled for several counties in the Texas South Plains between March 15 and March 28 by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Elbert Harp, a farmer of Abernathy and GSPA President, said that farmers have done the best job ever in supporting the organization and this is a series of meetings to inform them of the programs and projects currently being worked on by GSPA and to seek added direction on new activities for grain sorghum betterment.

Y.F. Snodgrass of the GSPA staff will be discussing the possibility of changing county loan rates on sorghum as well as the new labor laws affecting producers.

Rudie Tate of the GSPA North Plains staff will talk on current new developments in livestock

1919 by Frank Marshall, a prominent Mason and newspaper man in Kansas City, it has been termed ageless, and is divided into the Initiatory and DeMolay Degrees.

The Initiatory Degree is one of solemnity and consecration, during which the initiate dedicates himself to uphold the virtues of filial love, reverence, courtesy, comradeship, fidelity, cleanliness and patriotism.

The DeMolay Degree is a dramatic and historic portrayal of the trials, tortures, and martyrdom of Jacques DeMolay, and teaches a lesson in fidelity and comradeship. As the officers of a chapter, boys are taught responsibility and given the opportunity to express themselves before a group of fellow youths. Although DeMolay rituals and meetings are deeply reverent, the organization does not advocate any particular creed, but teachers only a profound faith in the one living and true God. DeMolay has a three-way program designed to benefit the individual DeMolay, the chapter, and the community.

Various awards are given to individuals for achievement, and Merit Bars are awarded for distinction in civic service, athletics, music, dramatics, religion, and other fields. Special keys are given for obtaining so many new members. The Degree of Chevalier is the highest honor an active DeMolay can receive. It is earned by outstanding service to a chapter and to fellow DeMolays. The top honor in DeMolay is the Legion of Honor. This is conferred on Senior DeMolays, over 25, for outstanding service to their community and their fellow men.

International and jurisdictional membership, ritual, efficiency and athletic competitions are held for the chapters. Each chapter is encouraged to have a balanced program of social activities. Each social event, like all other DeMolay activities, is supervised by an adult advisor of the chapter. Chapters and individual DeMolays are also required to observe certain obligatory days annually. These include Devotional Day, Patriots Day, DeMolay Day of Comfort, My Government Day, Educational Day, Parents Day, and Frank S. Land Memorial Day.

The participation of DeMolay chapters in community projects has been extensive and is sometimes carried out on an international basis. Tonnage traffic safety programs have been especially successful. These involve campaigns aimed at making safe drivers of all teenagers. Such efforts have received high praise from the National Safety Council.

Other projects that have been carried on include charitable fund drives, blood donations, get-out-the-vote drives, help for the needy, park and city cleanup campaigns and patriotic programs.

Each chapter is supervised in all of its functions by an adult advisory council. One man is designated as the official "Chapter Dad" to handle the supervision of chapter meetings and to counsel the members. Another helping hand for most chapters in the Mothers' Clubs. These now number over 1,900. The Mothers' Clubs primarily help the boys to raise money for their activities, and they usually handle the purchase and repair of robes and regalia. DeMolay publishes an international magazine called The Cordons, which serves as a medium for distributing information from international headquarters and furnishing information on chapter activities.

DeMolay does not attempt to take the place of the home or church, but rather supplement them. The organization's purpose is to offer the teenage boy of today: (1) a wholesome occupation for his spare time; (2) worthwhile associates; (3) the best of environment; and (4) an interesting and complete program of all-around youth development.

"As we are not allowed to accept anything for our services, or any re-payment of any fashion... we accepted the thing the man brought along with his expression of deep appreciation... then taped the cigarettes and cigars to the wall in a more private spot in the office, as a reminder of someone who was grateful enough to take the time and effort it took for this man to return to show his deep appreciation. Even though it is our job to help secure employment for people and many say "thank you" seldom does a case just like this occur" Scarborough continued.

"We won't be forgetting this Negro man, he said."

her original band of 12 girls; to seek and carry forth the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service. And the worlds to explore? Tangible worlds, of course--of home, community, nation, other cultures, other lands. But perhaps, more important, the world of Girl Scouts value themselves.

There is a lot of questioning and questing going on among all of today's youngsters. Girl Scouts are no exception. And being more than three million strong they represent a mighty force among American youth. So when they explore yesterday's values in the light of today's needs, they may come up with some meaningful answers for all young people.

Now 55 years later, across the nation candles are being lighted during this week to celebrate the birth of this organization.

Extension Announces AG Program

COLLEGE STATION--A state wide effort which could add an estimated $300 million annually to the agricultural income of Texas is now underway.

For several months specialists of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service have been preparing production and management guidelines to be used in a three point educational program. The educational effort is aimed at increasing farmer and rancher income; increasing their production efficiency and gearing production to produce the quality of products demanded by the market.

John E. Hutchison, Director for the Extension Service, in announcing the program said the guidelines combine all of the best practices available from research and from proven demonstrations on the production of crops and livestock. A $300 million increase in agricultural income can be achieved, and is in fact conservative, if producers will put the suggested guidelines into practice and weather conditions are favorable, he added.

The guidelines, for the most part, include the "what and when to do" for the most efficient production and cover 20 important crop and livestock enterprises, Hutchison said.

He said the state's county agricultural agents took the specialist prepared guides and working with the county program building committees and sub-committees, adapted them into county programs of action. The finalized guidelines will be reproduced and copies distributed to all producers of economically important crop and livestock enterprises in each county. The crop production guidelines will be distributed first, he added.

Hutchison concluded that this was an effort to make sure that all producers of economically important crops and livestock have available for easy reference the best production guidelines known. This program can greatly increase agricultural income in the state, increase net income to producers, and maintain and improve the competitive position of Texas producers, the director concluded.

Richland Executive Committee Honors Teachers Thursday

Scouts Show First Aid To Members

PRESENTED LEI—Mrs. Haney Poyner is presenting Mrs. Glen Harlan, Richland Hills Librarian, a lei at Thursday afternoon's teacher appreciation Hawaiian tea given in the community room of the Muleshoe State Bank building. Members of the Richland Hills P-TA hosted the occasion. Looking on is Mrs. James Macha and the president of the P-TA, Mrs. Bob Free.

Milton Oyler is presented a cake from Mrs. Mickey Pierce expressing appreciation.

School Nurse, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Mary Maddox, speech therapist for the Muleshoe schools, enjoy the appreciation party Thursday.

Martha Jane Chapman, David McVickers, Mrs. Jack Beddingfield, Barbara Woodard, Jan Jinks and Robert Green present skit.

The executive committee of the Richland Hills P-TA honored their teachers with a Hawaiian party Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the community room of the Muleshoe State Bank.

Teachers were greeted appropriately by Mrs. Bob Free, Mrs. Haney Poyner and Mrs. James Macha, who were attired in grass skirts.

Upon arrival to the islands, each teacher in keeping with tradition was presented a lei. The island was enchanting with its palm trees, birds and soft native music playing in the background.

The president of the P-TA Mrs. Free, welcomed the teachers and expressed the committee's appreciation of the dedication to their children. This was followed by the invocation by Mrs. John Watson, School Curriculum Director. Mrs. Mickey Pierce read an original poem she composed for the teachers. It reads as follows: Dear Teachers we think so much of you, we knew there was surely, something we could do. We talked of gifts and presents galore, but you deserve so much more.

Suddenly it came to us out of the clear blue why not send all of you to Honolulu.

Oh! yes, this we agreed, was our pleasure until we consulted Mrs. Cowan, our treasurer. You're all so wonderful and so nice, please be reassured the only thing that stopped us was the price.

So we got our heads together and decided on this party, (Confidentially) wouldn't it tickle the kids to know some of us were tardy?

Now sit back, relax, and be at ease, picture us among swaying coconut and palm trees. I want you to just look at that clear, blue water, which of the little canoes did you decide to charter?

Over to the left stands the active volcano of Mt. Loe and in the foreground, native women preparing a dish called poi. This climate seems so peaceful and mild, now, really aren't you sorta lonesome for just one, noisy, restless child?

We are having such a good time, isn't it true? But really don't you feel sorry for the teachers back home in Muleshoe?

I can just see all of them sitting there in school, trying to teach all of those kids the Golden Rule.

Well! our trip is almost to an end, 'ere there old Pete, I see his head just around the bend.

From the beautiful appointed tropical tables complete with monkeys atop the palms, delicious refreshments were served consisting of fruit cups, individual cakes decorated with palm trees and lime sherbet punch. The climax of the evening was the presentation of a cake to Milton Oyler, principal of the school. The cake was unique, being a replica of the Richland Hills School, with children on the playground, play ground equipment, automobiles in parking areas, school buses and even the bicycle racks were added to complete the decor. The presentation was made by Mrs. Pierce who was head of the decorations for the afternoon.

John Tower

I'd like to discuss with you a matter of American foreign policy that is soon going to come before the Senate for decision. It's the so-called Consular Treaty with the Soviet Union. You probably have heard before about this Consular Treaty. It has been a matter of discussion between the United States and Russia for nearly a decade. Finally, after years of sporadic talks, a draft Consular Treaty was agreed upon in the spring of 1964. However, because of the worsening situation in Vietnam and the Soviet support of that situation, our Administration did not think it a good idea to seek Senate ratification of the Treaty during that election year, or the election year of 1966.

This year, however, despite continued Soviet involvement in Vietnam, the Administration is mounting a vociferous campaign for ratification of the treaty.

A look at the provisions of the treaty might normally be expected to bring us to a quick decision about whether or not it would help United States interests. But, this is an unusual treaty. Most of what it proposes to do could already be done under existing executive authority.

The Consular Treaty would formalize once again some hoped-for, safeguards for U. S. travelers in Russia --- safeguards originally agreed to by the Soviets way back in 1933, but never honored by them.

The Consular Treaty also would permit the two nations to exchange consular offices --- those are offices dealing with business and with promotion of increased bilateral trade. And, the treaty would make the personnel of those offices immune from arrest on charges of espionage. The Administration already has authority to exchange consulates, but it does not want to do so on its own responsibility.

DISSECTION—Bryan Brady won first place at Junior High Science Fair with his project Dissection of the Pig. Brady had streamers running from each part of the pig to a backboard labor of each organ. He is in the seventh grade.

PROTOZOAN—Logan Puckett won second place in the High School Science Fair with his display and explanation of protozoans. Some 15 Fair displays will be shown in Lubbock competition.

At any other time in history, this treaty might not be such a bad idea. Certainly, our FBI is capable of handling a limited increased spying threat. Ours is an open society, anyhow, but a few more Americans stationed in the Red's closed society might really learn something we wouldn't otherwise know. With increased tourism to Russia there might be some advantage, also, to making the Soviets agree again to the tourist safeguards they once agreed to but consistently ignore.

So, it is not really the specifics of the treaty that are of overriding importance, but the timing of it.

A Consular Treaty in peacetime is one thing. But a Consular Treaty in wartime is something else again. The only real significance to this treaty is its intended use as a building-block in new bridges of trade and cooperation with the Communists. Yet, it is offered at a time when we are fighting a war against a bitter Communist enemy who is supplied with oil, missiles, mortars, trucks, weapons and advice by the Soviet Union.

Only this week we find that new, powerful Russian-made ground rockets were used to attack our Marines at Danang. The purpose of a Consular office is to increase trade. Yet our man in Vietnam would be poorly served, indeed, if we build bridges over which to send additional supplies to strengthen the Russians; so they will be better able to supply the North Vietnamese; so the North Vietnamese can prolong the fighting and kill more Americans.

Quite frankly, the North could not long continue this war without the help it is getting from the Soviets. As one who has been with our boys in the combat zone, I could never ask those boys to fight on while we help their enemies behind their backs.

Therefore, I will urge the Senate to refuse to even consider ratification of this treaty unless and until there is a meaningful truce in Vietnam, and until all parts of the Administration's "bridge - building" plans with the Reds are laid publicly on the table for all Americans to see and to evaluate.

U. S. ratification of this treaty would be interpreted by many as a concession to a country currently aiding the enemy. It might be interpreted as a psychological victory for international communism and could decrease neutral-nation respect for American wisdom and determination.

Regardless of the merits or demerits of the Consular Treaty's provisions, the suggestion that it be approved at this time is exceedingly unwise.

Let's talk about this treaty later --- after peace has been restored, it might make some sense then. It doesn't make sense now.

Done Enough

Elmer, age 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal Joe. "I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe, "and carried her books. I bought her an ice-cream soda twice. Now, do you think I ought to kiss her?" "Now, you don't need to," Joe decided after a moment of deep thought. "You have done enough for that girl already."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

by Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Three pieces of major legislation passed by the House now have landed on the Senate's doorstep.

These include:

Local option authority for financially-distressed Texas cities to levy a one-per-cent sales tax. (Vote: 85-63)

A stiff code of ethics for legislators and other state officials and employees. (Vote: 140-6)

Repeal of "emergency purchase" provisions to put teeth in Sunday closing laws. (Vote: 132-14)

Before passing the city sales tax bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, the House spent nearly three hours of continuous debate and waded through more than 30 amendment attempts.

Advocates predict a majority vote in the Senate, too. But no action is expected across the rotunda until after rules suspension cases with passage of the session's 60 day mark.

Code of ethics bill, by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, made its third trip through the House. Substantially the same bill has been approved by the Senate in two prior sessions but died in the Senate. Same fate is anticipated this time for what advocates term "one of the strictest codes in the United States."

Measure would require lawmakers to disclose personal interest in legislation, force legislators and state officials and employees to reveal substantial interests in private businesses and require identification of relatives on the state payroll.

Surprisingly, the strengthened Sunday closing law, introduced by Rep. Willis F. Whaley of Houston, cleared the House in seven minutes. Only one comment was made. Smooth sailing also is anticipated in the Senate. (What this law will do to tourist spending has never been mentioned.)

TIME OUT

First big break in one of the session's closest-fought contests -- over whether Texas should go on Daylight Saving Time -- came when the Senate state affairs committee approved the exemption bill.

Theater owners, restaurant operators and farmers backed the bill, by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, to continue Texas on Central Standard Time. (After April 1 the new federal Uniform Time Act goes into effect everywhere except where state legislators vote otherwise. Only one state, South Dakota, so far has passed an exemption act.)

Panel was unimpressed with arguments of television broadcasters, railroad and airline spokesmen that the state must stay in time with the rest of the nation.

Same bill, heard in House state affairs committee, was referred to sub-committee and has not yet emerged.

VETERINARY LABORATORY

Bill to create a Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory for Texas farmers and ranchers at Texas A & M University has been sent to the Governor for his signature.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. Bill Patman of Galveston, sponsors of the bill, said the laboratory will be located on property which will be given to the state by the A & M Board of Regents. Purpose of the laboratory is to give speedy and accurate analyses of samples from possibly diseased animals to help local veterinarians diagnose and treat the animals.

MIGRANT LIVING

House Public Health Committee -- considering a bill to set up state standards for farm-worker housing -- heard testimony last week from state officials of the insanitary living conditions of the 162,000 migrant farm workers in Texas.

Committee sent the bill along to a sub-committee, after such officials as Col. Egon Tausch of the migrant section of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission gave case studies of migrant conditions and pointed out that cases of infant dysentery often range as high as 30 per cent among the children of farm workers.

FEED LOT BILL MOVES

A feed lot license bill was approved by the House agriculture committee. Sponsor is Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury.

It sets standards of sanitation in livestock feeding operations under authority of the Texas Animal Health Commission and fixes annual licensing fees: $25 for lots that feed under 1,000 head; $100 for 1,000 to 3,000 head; $150 for 3,000 to 10,000 head; and $200 for over 10,000 head. Licenses are optional for lots feeding under 1,000.

Under amendments, the Commission would have to act in 30 days on license applications.

Water Pollution Control Board and Air Control Board regulations would prevail in "matters falling within their jurisdiction."

Committee also approved a bill to raise fines and penalties (up to $200 per head) for improperly transporting animals from fever-tick quarantine areas.

LOCAL OFFICIALS' RAISE

County auditors and precinct officials would make substantial monetary gains under a pair of bills being sponsored in the House by Reps. Vergon Beckham of Denison and Dick Cory of Victoria.

office of TSTA in Austin. Lamoyne Harrell, state classroom teachers TEPS chairman discussed the need for more applicants for scholarships. The CTA insurance representative reported on the CTA insurance plans and that he would be in each school in the district to discuss the insurance.

Lana Holland, the CTA District Membership Chairman presented pins to the local presidents.

The program, a style show titled "A Trip Around the World in Parfait Tints and Party Pinks" was narrated by Jo Peoples who wore an all cotton dress which is to be modeled at the International Cotton Council and then be put in the Texas Tech Museum. Six students of Jean Johnson Success School for Women modeled dresses from Dunlaps.

Abernathy Classroom Teachers Association will be host to the noon dinner next year.

Which is heavier -- snow, sleet or rain?

Snow is lightest of three kinds of precipitation. Sleet is next and is much heavier than snow. Rain is the heaviest of the three.

Some people do not realize that a foot or two of snow is not an unusually heavy fall. Snow is so light that a fraction of an inch of rain is often the equivalent to more than a foot of snow!

Sleet is the most damaging and most dangerous of the three types of precipitation, causing slippery highways, foliage damage and adding excessive weight to wires, etc.

One can actually keep warm in snow, if he burrows down deep and takes advantage of its insulation -- in very cold climates.

Not So Wonderful Wife (with newspaper) -- I see, dear, that a German scientist has extracted albumin from coal. Husband -- Egg coal, I suppose.

Next meeting will be April 4 when election of officers will be observed and also initiation will be held. Officers are to wear their formal to the meeting.

ELECTRIC ARC—Richard and Clifton Meyers, Richland Hills were awarded third place in the Science Fair for their Electric Arc exhibit.

county commissioners courts pay mileage reimbursement to county auditors for travel in their line of duty. House Committee on Counties referred that measure to sub-committee for further consideration.

Cory's bill would allow commissioners courts to raise the salaries of justices of the peace and constables up to 20 per cent over what they now earn. Committee favorably reported this one back to the House floor where it now is awaiting action.

"We have seen in the last 10 to 15 years a vast improvement in bank facilities and an expansion of their services," the Senator said. "The same results can be obtained by providing the proper basis for establishing and developing livestock markets."

MOVIE REGULATION

Every incorporated city and town in Texas would be required to set up a "Motion Picture Classification Board" to preview every movie to be shown in that city and classify it as "suitable" or "not suitable" for persons under age 18 by a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Cordell Hull of Fort Worth.

Hull said that cities now have the authority for such regulation, but his bill would provide the board mandatory and would provide guidelines for classifying movies. Board would be composed of nine members appointed by the city's governing body for two-year terms.

LIVESTOCK MARKETS

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville and Rep. Charles Jungnichel of La Grange have introduced legislation to place greater emphasis on encouraging the construction, development and expansion of services and facilities of livestock markets in Texas.

Connally's bill would establish a charter-fee system to govern livestock markets and to create a seven-member Public Livestock Board in the state government to grant charters and supervise the markets where livestock are auctioned.

Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview has introduced a bill requiring public schools to offer courses in Spanish to students in the second, third and fourth grades.

Wayne's bill, now in the House Education Committee, would require that within five years after passage of the bill, every elementary school in the state begin teaching Spanish to students in at least those three grades.

It also provides that the State Board of Education furnish textbooks and recorded Spanish exercises to the school districts without cost to the students.

COURTS SPEAK

U. S. Supreme Court rejected a challenge of the Texas law which provides penalties up to $1,000 a day for operating slant hole oil wells.

High court wrote no opinion in ruling that it would not hear arguments on the state law dealing with violators of the prohibition against angle drilling across another property owner's or leaseholder's boundary.

A total of $304,800 in fines are involved in appeal. But petitioners claimed the state is seeking fines and penalties ranging into millions of dollars in 100 similar cases.
