California Fires Take Heavy Toll

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Twin multimillion dollar fires which destroyed 456 homes and blackened more than 14,000 acres in the Santa Monica Mountains were in check today unless the winds shift.

The Topanga Canyon blaze was contained late Wednesday night and mopping up operations continued throughout the morning.

The Bel Air-Brentwood blaze was contained Tuesday.

Fire officials said both fires could flare up if winds shifted radically — but crews were being relieved on the Topanga blaze early today.

"After the way things went earlier, the only way to describe the present situation is lovely," one fireman said.

"Actually it is a matter of semantics," a fire official explained.

"The (Topanga) fire is completely bottled up, and after the way things went earlier, the only way to describe the present situation is lovely," he said.

Wednesday an army of firefighters, heavy equipment and airplanes dropping borate fought back a hotspot in the Topanga Canyon area. Flames flared up in Santa Ynez Canyon near Pacific Palisades but the line was held by 2,000 firemen.

Residents in the community were packed early Wednesday morning and ready to leave on a moment's notice.

Loss in the Bel Air fire alone was expected to range between $50 million and $100 million. Fire officials said a final check showed 447 homes were destroyed in that blaze and countless others burned.

Final loss figures were expected to exceed the $100 million figure after watershed and vast personal property damage totaled.

One of the first official estimates came from Phil Simkins, regional manager of the General Adjustment Bureau here, and W. V. Stevin, assistant general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Both said total insured losses in the two fires could run as high as $24 million. That was based on claims submitted for only 211 homes destroyed and 172 partially destroyed.

Homes belonging to such Hollywood personalities as Burt Lancaster, Joan Fontaine, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Joe E. Brown, composer Lukas Foss and Nobel prize winner Willard Libby were claimed by the giant Bel Air blaze which swept through one of the most exclusive areas in Southern California.

Slayer Of Boy Put To Death

HUNTSVILLE (UPI) — Fred Thomas Leath, 38, died early today in the electric chair at Huntsville State Prison with a smile on his lips and a Bible clutched in his left hand.

Two fingers marked his place in the Bible, at the 23rd Psalm, which says:

"Yea, though I walk in the valley of the shadow of death... He did not make a last statement. But a few minutes before he walked from his cell on death row to the execution chamber, he recited the 23rd psalm from memory. It was his last words on earth.

He had eaten an unusually sumptuous last meal.

Leath walked into the chamber at 12:02 a.m. He smiled at newsmen and witnesses. Three minutes later the first charge of electricity slammed into his body. He was pronounced dead at 12:09 a.m.

Rev. Ray Worley of the Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth and chaplain at the Tarrant County jail, stepped forward and took the book from Leath's hand.

Leath was convicted of killing Charles Henry, 15, a Fort Worth boy who had gone to Leath's room.

77 Dead Listed As Toll In Crash Of Big Plane

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A huge Constellation flying young Army recruits to a South Carolina training camp developed engine trouble Wednesday night and 77 of its 79 occupants died in the fiery crash that ended an emergency landing attempt.

The pilot and flight engineer walked away from the flaming wreckage that became the funeral pyre of happy-go-lucky inductees from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland.

Many of the next-of-kin in the Lehigh River Valley, where the Pennsylvania recruits lived in the towns of Allentown, Bethlehem and Easton, were indignant because they were not notified of the crash by Army or Selective Service authorities.

"Who can I call to find out for sure?" asked John D. Schuller of Bethlehem. "Why wasn't I notified? Can't anyone tell us? Is he living or dead?"

The four-engine plane, chartered by the Army from small Imperial Airlines of Miami Springs, Fla., crashed into a heavily-wooded area about two miles from the main runway of Richmond's Byrd Airport. The impact shook houses in the area and cut a swath through 20 to 30-foot trees.

Two engines on one wing of the airliner went dead during the flight from Newark, N. J., to Ft. Jackson, near Columbia, S. C., and the pilot was trying to make a landing on the two good engines. The plane circled the airport once but plunged in the swampy area during its final approach.

"The explosion shook my whole house," said Mrs. Carl G. Pierce. An Imperial spokesman told United Press International there were 79 persons on the plane, according to the pilot's flight plan—five crew members and 74 Army personnel.

The two survivors were Ronald Conway, 29, of West Hollywood, Fla., the pilot, and William F. Poythress, 30, of Miami, the flight engineer.

Imperial headquarters in Miami Springs said the other three crew members were James Greenlee, Miami, first officer; Peter Clark, 28, cabin attendant; and Linda Johns, 20, stewardess.

The crash, the second worst for a single non-military aircraft in U.S. history, left the three-state home area of the inductees in a state of shock and sadness. Thirty-one of the recruits were inducted at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"They were pretty cheerful and happy-go-lucky," said Irvin Family, civilian chief clerk at the Wilkes-Barre induction center, who shepherded them into the service a few hours before the 9:20 p.m. crash. "They were all joking about the warmer southern temperatures."

(In Havana, Premier Fidel Castro hailed the installation of Arosemena as a "victory over Yankee imperialism... (it) must have hit the Yankee State Department with the impact of a 65-megaton bomb.")

Jubilant leftists urged Arosemena to confiscate the property of former officials and to set up special tribunals to try them for alleged misappropriation of funds.

Local and regional officials in Guayaquil, the cradle of this week's revolution, already had been replaced by supporters of the new regime.

Armed sailors stood guard at the big Pacific port after the bloody riots which precipitated this week's political crisis were lifted Wednesday night. The city was reported quiet.

Day retraced just one sentence from his Oct. 24 statement reinstating Westley W. Law, a Negro integration leader, as a letter carrier in Savannah, Ga.

Stricken from the original statement was Day's assertion that "I would not want a person with Law's record of conduct delivering mail to my family's home."

Left standing was Day's comment that Law was an "unsuitable" employee and the Cabinet officer's implication that he had yielded to political pressure in reinstating the carrier.

Day eliminated the sentence after Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday he thought Day might like to recast his Oct. 24 statement.

The postmaster general had said he was restoring Law to duty because he did not want "to provide further ammunition for the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr of Law."

Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., and the NAACP said Law had been fired by the Atlanta regional director of the post office because of his anti-segregation activities.

Law is head of the NAACP in Georgia. He has led a voter registration drive and spearheaded a boycott against Savannah merchants.

Kennedy's news conference remarks came in response to questions from newsmen. They apparently were a surprise to Day who at first said he would have no comment.

JFK Wants $50 Billion For Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration appeared to be preparing today to send military expenditures rocketing toward the $50 billion-a-year mark to insure continued supremacy over Russia.

At the same time, the prospect of renewed U.S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere loomed larger as President Kennedy's advisers pressed their studies of the recent series of Soviet tests.

Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that "the Soviet Union tested while we were at the table negotiating with them. If they fooled us once, it is their fault; if they fool us twice, it is our fault."

The President, who claimed from 1958 through the 1960 campaign that U.S. might was deteriorating seriously, said Wednesday on the basis of latest intelligence estimates that America "would not trade places" with any country.

Then he outlined steps his administration had taken and said, "we are going to ask for additional funds for defense next year."

Informed sources explained the reference to additional funds applied to the expanded defense budget that Kennedy will submit to Congress in January. Best estimates now, it was said, were that the new military blueprint would call for spending on the order of $50 billion in the year starting next July 1.

Speaker Rayburn Now 'Less Alert'

BONHAM, Tex. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn remained weak today and his doctor said he was "less alert."

Dr. Joe A. Risser, Rayburn's family doctor, said the 79-year-old Rayburn's condition is still serious. The speaker has widespread cancer.

Rayburn had been growing stronger the past few days and his appetite had been good. But his appetite waned Wednesday.

Castro Hails Leftist President In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI) — Extreme leftist President Carlos J. Arosemena, in apparent control of Ecuador, has selected a new cabinet to govern this strife-torn nation.

An air attack which broke up an army blockade of the national Capitol Wednesday clinched Arosemena's victory over deposed ex-President Jose M. Velasco Ibarra and Chief Justice Camilo Gallegos Toledo, chosen by the army as Velasco's successor.

Election Of Two Solons Scheduled

AUSTIN (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls resigned Wednesday, effective Dec. 15 and Gov. Price Daniel immediately set a special election for the congressional seat for Saturday, Dec. 16.

Daniel also called a special election for the same date to fill a vacancy in the Texas House of Representatives created by the resignation of Rep. Tony Koriath of Sherman.

The two districts partially overlap in Cooke County.

Secretary of State Frank Lake said the filing deadline for both elections is midnight Nov. 15.

Icard will become executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, Koriath resigned to go to work for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Lake advised that the special election for Congress will come under a new runoff law requiring a second election if no candidate receives a majority of the votes.

He said this country has a total of 176 missiles — at sea and

UN Votes 71-11 To Call On Russia To Resume Nuclear Treaty Parleys

General Assembly Adopts U.S.-British Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A 71-11 vote of the General Assembly brought the world's moral pressure on Russia today to resume talks with the United States and Britain on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests.

Russia doggedly insisted that it would not renew negotiations on a test ban treaty except as part of an overall settlement of general and complete disarmament.

Only Cuba joined the 10-nation Soviet bloc in voting against assembly approval Wednesday night of a U.S.-British resolution urging resumption of the test ban talks.

They were broken off by Russia at Geneva just before the Soviet Union started its current series of atmospheric explosions.

The main political committee, which recommended the call for new talks by a 67-11 vote late Monday, prepared to vote today on two or more aspects of the nuclear test question.

One was a resolution sponsored by 41 African countries urging prohibition of tests in Africa and proposing that the continent be declared a nuclear-free, neutral zone. Russia supported the resolution and the Western powers were silent.

The other was an 11-power Afro-Asian resolution demanding that the use of nuclear weapons be declared a direct violation of the U.N. charter, contrary to international law and the laws of humanity, directed against all mankind and a crime against civilization.

In Washington the nuclear treaty was one of the subjects of conversations between Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and President Kennedy. Kennedy and Nehru are expected to issue a communique today in which the nuclear treaty will be mentioned.

Kennedy was expected to declare the United States' readiness to sign a nuclear test ban treaty, including inspection controls, with Russia at any time.

The communique, diplomatic sources predicted, also will report agreement on the necessity of preserving West Berlin's freedom and Western access to the Communist-encircled city.

Kennedy paid high tribute to Nehru Wednesday and took sharp issue with those who see Communist motives behind the Indian leader's neutralist policies.

He acknowledged differences with Nehru and said they would not always agree in the future.

Eisenhower Named Head Of 'Peoples' Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has called upon Dwight D. Eisenhower, his predecessor, to head a reorganized "people-to-people" program.

The former President has been a driving force in the private program, which was started in September, 1956, to foster better relations between Americans and the rest of the world.

Eisenhower will be chairman of a new board of trustees being set up to coordinate the wide range of people-to-people programs, which has recently been operating with 26 committees handling various phases of the work.

In announcing the new organization at his press conference Wednesday Kennedy said he was delighted that Eisenhower had agreed to serve.

The purpose of the renewed project, the President said, would be "to foster contacts between citizens of the United States in every way possible."

"The new organization will provide a private centralized coordination and fund-raising leadership for the activities and projects of the people-to-people program, which has been a matter of great interest to General Eisenhower," he said.

In a statement issued at Gettysburg, Pa., Eisenhower said: The announcement by the President... is gratifying because it indicates his approval of this worthy civilian effort. I will be delighted if I can do anything to further the work of the many thousands who are engaged in this program."

Eisenhower said he would make a speech concerning the program in Kansas City Friday.

Following Kennedy's announcement, the U.S. Information Agency announced that "100 outstanding Americans" will serve with Eisenhower on the board of trustees. Eisenhower also will be an ex officio member of the group's executive committee.

Howard Buckingham, Kiwanis talent committee chairman, said each of the four all-male quartets has headlined shows in many cities throughout the southwest.

Featured quartets are: The Songsmen from Tulsa, Okla., The Pioneers, The Spectacles, and The Sundowners, all of Amarillo.

Each group, Buckingham continued, will sing a variety of songs including barbershop, modern, blues, spirituals and religious numbers.

All proceeds from the program will be used by the Pampa Kiwanis Club in their work on the underprivileged children and girls and boys projects.

The program Saturday night, Buckingham said, is the club's main promotion event of the year.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased from any club member or at the door prior to curtain time.

Government officials decided at the last minute Wednesday that the queen was not likely to be endangered by the growing political opposition in Ghana to President Kwame Nkrumah. Four bombs have gone off in the city in the last few days.

Some of the 165 seats were removed from the plane to make room for a lounge, dressing room and dining room.

Reports from Accra said the city had taken on a holiday air with Ghanaians pouring into the flag-bedecked capital from all parts of the country.

Queen Elizabeth Flying To Ghana

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II flew off for an 11-day visit to Ghana today apparently unperturbed by fears for her safety in the West African country. The British government assured her subjects there was no danger.

The queen and her husband, Prince Philip, took off in a specially-fitted BOAC Boeing 707 jetliner 63 minutes late because of fog that drifted around London Airport.

Wife Of Pampan To Display Art At Show Sunday

An exhibition of water colors, ink sketches and works by Robin Gantz will be held Sunday, November 12, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building, Canyon. The exhibit is sponsored by the Department of Art, West Texas State College. Approximately 100 sketches will be on display. Many of which will be for sale. Robin Gantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sumner, Amarillo, and wife of David Gantz, Pampana, began painting while attending high school in Amarillo. Following graduation in 1950 she attended West Texas State College, Canyon, where she studied art. While a college student, Mrs. Gantz designed the cover for a divisional magazine of Phillips Petroleum Co. and was a recipient of an art scholarship given by the art connoisseur of Amarillo through the college department. The paintings featured in the show represent a year's work, painted both independently and under the supervision of college art instructors.

Crisis In Berlin Partly Ascribed To 1948 Bobble

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—On June 24, 1948, on order of the Soviet Military Administration, all rail traffic from West Germany to Berlin was stopped. Highway traffic had been halted June 12. This completed the land blockade of Berlin.

The Russians started this blockade in an attempt to prevent West German currency reform. It was a part of continued Red harassment to prevent economic recovery in West Germany.

The Allied airlift kept Berlin free. Britain, France and the United States stayed in Berlin. They were able to go ahead with West German recovery. The Russian pressure created the basic conditions for the formation of a unified West Germany and the Bonn Republic.

Once the Soviet Government saw its blockade had become a liability to Soviet policy, the blockade was lifted in May, 1949, the Reds abruptly shifted to a new "peace" policy.

Despite the defeat of their blockade, the Soviets made important gains. They detached East Berlin from the rest of Berlin. They integrated its population and industry into the Red East German zone. They were able henceforth to cut down on the amount of contact between West Berlin and East Germany.

In the Berlin crisis of 1961, the Russians have made similar gains. They have, for the first time, effectively sealed off the border between East Germany and West Berlin. The carefully built up crisis over Germany and the U.S. reaction—a stronger arms buildup—gave Nikita Khrushchev an excuse for resuming the testing of nuclear weapons. Under the cover of the Berlin crisis, the Reds have been able to screw tighter the police-military control of East Berlin and East Germany.

There is some opinion in the Department of Defense that, in part, the 1961 military crisis over Berlin is in part a result of U.S. refusal to take stronger action in Berlin in 1948.

In July, 1948, Gen. Lucius Clay in West Germany recommended that the U.S. advise the Soviet Military Authority that under U.S. rights in Berlin the American Army would move an armed convoy to Berlin. This convoy would have the engineering material necessary to overcome the "technical difficulties" the Soviets seemed unable to solve. Washington turned down that suggestion.

This U.S. refusal to insist on holding the roads open in 1948-49, these military men believe, has caused the Soviets to figure they might be able to take further risks in Berlin without facing a show-down.

High placed officials in the State Department say privately the U.S. is in no position to stop Khrushchev from following through with a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Nor, they say, is the U.S. in any position to force the Reds to open the border with East Berlin for Germans. There is no way the State Department now knows to prevent the Russians from designating East Germans as their agents in controlling the roads and the train routes between West Germany and Berlin.

Traditional Turkey Will Highlight Holiday Feast

The smell of burning leaves and the cheers from the football stadium remind us that the Thanksgiving celebration can't be far behind. And, with plans for Thanksgiving our first thoughts turn to the highlight of the occasion, the turkey.

This noble bird deserves your finest consideration and care in selection. For a turkey which you will be proud to carve at the table, Martha Logan of meat head-

Modern Cooking Method Leaves Time For Stuffing

The modern turkey, already stuffed, so that the homemaker need remove only the wrapper before the bird goes into the oven, leaves plenty of time for preparing such good old-fashioned dishes as Indian Pudding.

INDIAN PUDDING
Yield: 6 to 8 servings
3 cups milk
1-3 cup yellow corn meal
1/2 cup dark molasses
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup cold milk

Heat 3 cups milk in top of double boiler. Add corn meal, molasses, sugar, salt, spices, and butter. Cook over hot water, stirring occasionally, for about 25 minutes or until mixture is slightly thickened. Pour into a 1 1/2 quart casserole which has been rubbed with butter. Add cold milk. Do not stir. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for about 2 1/2 hours. Serve warm with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.

Easy But Elegant Peach Mousse

A simple dessert becomes a conversation piece when it's made in a fancy shape, as this handsome molded peach mousse testifies. Almond flavoring and the tang of lemon enhance the fresh-fruit flavor of frozen peaches in whipped cream. For less formal occasions the same mixture may be molded in the freezing tray of the refrigerator.

Molded Fruit Mousse
1 package (12 ounces) Birds Eye Sliced Peaches, thawed
4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup whipping cream

Crush thawed fruit thoroughly; add sugar, lemon juice, salt and extract. Then whip cream and fold into the fruit. Spoon into 1-quart mold or freezing tray. Cover with waxed paper. Place in freezer or freezer compartment of refrigerator. Let stand 3 1/2 to 4 hours, or until firm.

To unmold, wipe mold with a cloth, which has been dipped in hot water. Then remove waxed paper. Loosen edges of mousse carefully with a sharp knife. Cover with cold serving platter and turn mold and platter together. Lift off mold. Serve at once or place in freezer or freezing compartment of refrigerator until ready to serve. Garnish with additional sliced peaches and mint leaves, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

the bread stuffing used in the turkey that is stuffed when it is purchased. The roasting time may be reduced somewhat if the frozen already-stuffed turkey is held at 40 degrees F. refrigerator for 48 hours.

Combine rice, orange juice, and salt in a 3-quart sauce pan. Bring to a boil, stirring once or twice. Lower heat to simmer. Cover pan and cook 15 to 20 minutes or until liquid is absorbed. Remove rice from heat. Stir in almonds and honey. Serve hot with turkey.

TURKEY SKILLET SUPPER

Holiday Favorite For Festive Menu

If you want to add another autumn and holiday favorite to your festive menu, here's a recipe for a sweet potato puff from Kitchen Aid. It's guaranteed to score a hit with everyone:

SWEET POTATO PUFF
(Serves 6)

4 to 6 medium-sized sweet potatoes
1 egg, separated
3/4 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/4 cup of milk
1/2 cup crushed, drained pineapple

Cook sweet potatoes in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain and remove skin.

Place egg white in mixing bowl and whip until stiff but not dry (about 1 minute), turning mixer gradually to highest speed. Remove white from bowl and reserve.

Place sweet potatoes in bowl and turn mixer slowly to medium speed, beating until smooth (about 1 minute). Add butter, seasonings, milk, egg yolk, and pineapple. Turn gradually to medium high speed and beat until thoroughly mixed (about 1 minute). Scrape bowl thoroughly.

Add beaten egg white and turn to very slow speed. Fold into potato mixture, about 1/2 minute. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole and bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until browned.

Cold Snap Calls For Tasty Chili

As amazing as the product itself is the idea of dumping dried kidney beans into the chili pot; to finish as a complete dish in a little over 1 hour:

CHILI CON CARNEY FRIOLLES
(Chili with Meat and Beans)
saute in skillet

1 lb. ground beef
1 tablespoon shortening
Add
1 package UNCLE BEN'S Quick-Cooking Kidney Beans
1 small onion (chopped)
1 clove garlic (crushed)
2 to 3 teaspoons chili powder
1/2 cup cold water

Stir well, bring to a boil and cover. Lower heat and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Then add the following and cook about 20 minutes longer, or until beans are tender:

1 can (1 cup) tomato sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire
1 teaspoon sugar

Yes!... there is a difference in milk

Italian Mystery Man Wields Wide Powers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the world's most powerful, controversial and least known industrialists in Enrico Mattei, president of Italy's state-owned Combustible Fuels Corporation. His activities at home and abroad have brought charges that he is stifling private enterprise and that his oil dealings with the Soviet Union threaten to throw the European economy into Russian hands. Mattei and his supporters say his operations are beneficial. In the following dispatch, UPI Rome correspondent Gary Hampton describes Mattei's background and power and the controversy raging around him.)

By GARY HAMPTON
ROME (UPI) — Enrico Mattei often is called Italy's new Caesar. A shadowy figure who stays out of the limelight and is said to take few persons into his confidence, Mattei is equally wooed and feared, respected and despised by the governments and industrialists of both great powers and small countries.

As president of Italy's state-owned Combustible Fuels Corporation (ENI), he is so powerful that his Milan headquarters has been styled "the real capital of Italy."

ENI was set up in 1926 by Benito Mussolini to find methane gas in fuel-poor Italy to supply the industries he hoped to create. It failed and, shortly after World War II, the government ordered ENI dissolved. The job of winding up its affairs was given to a then obscure member of Parliament — Enrico Mattei.

But Mattei, an imaginative former chemical engineer who during the war became leader of 8,000 partisans fighting the Germans and the Italian Fascists, had other ideas. He persuaded the government to maintain ENI and further, in 1953, to bolster it with a $48 million investment.

Only eight years later, ENI today is worth an estimated $1.6 billion, has become one of the most dynamic industrial complexes in Europe and operates all over the world.

In Italy, ENI has spread into many diversified activities. One subsidiary produces about 1 million tons of fertilizer annually, another about 90,000 tons of synthetic rubber.

ENI also is entering large scale production of sulphur, plastic chemicals and asphalt. It owns an iron foundry, a tanker fleet, a string of motels, restaurants and bars. Now Mattei is constructing Europe's largest atomic energy plant.

When accused by Italian industrialists of creating a new state socialism and invading sectors of the economy that should be left to private initiative, Mattei replies that capitalists had decades to develop these markets but failed to do so. He says his operations spread employment. Mattei's theory is that Italy — and other countries — must make long-term, even unprofitable business investments from public funds or be overtaken in industrial production by the Communist countries.

But it is Mattei's dealings in Russian oil that have aroused international concern and brought charges by his critics that he is an accomplice of the Soviet Union in its oil "dumping" economic offensive against the free world.

A year ago, Mattei reached an agreement with Russia for the importation into Italy of 12 million tons of crude oil between 1961 and 1966. About 4 million tons of crude and 700,000 of fuel oil were scheduled for delivery this year.

Mattei never has disclosed the price he agreed to pay for this oil. Some sources claim it is as much as 4 per cent below the average "world" price. All agree that EI has used Soviet oil — bought at prices fixed by political considerations and not on a competitive basis — to enter the European market in a big way and damage the interests of the world.

Bank At Canadian Invites Public To See Painting

CANADIAN (Spl) — About 25 years ago Robert R. Young, then a financial tycoon on Wall Street and later President of the New York Central Railroad, presented the First National Bank in Canadian with a Remington picture entitled "The Trail Herd."

Young, owner of the bank prior to 1939, presented the painting to the bank in honor of the early founders, Robert Moody and D. J. Young, his grandfather and father.

The picture bears a bronze identification card reading:

the following names: Cap Miller, Fred Remington, Bill Cuddy, Cap Johnston, Mike Farrell, and Arthur A. Session. These names might have some meaning for some people. The picture apparently was displayed by the American Art Association in the Anderson Galleries in New York under Lot No. 59, however in 1939, came from the Long Island home of Mr. Young.

Robert R. Young was born and reared in Canadian and several of his boyhood chums are still living there and one, Frank M. Chambers, is now a director of the bank.

H. S. Wilbur, president, has issued a special invitation to all interested in Remington's work to

Writer Turns To Tea After 'Coffee Bout'

By HARRY FERGUSON
LONDON (UPI)—The cold war between Miss Georgina Drake and this correspondent is over. My surrender consisted of buying a half-pound of Darjeeling tea from her and then proving myself by assuring her it was much better than coffee.

Miss Drake is an elderly lady who wears a blue smock and stands behind the tea and coffee counters of a store in the King's Road. She will begrudgingly offer you some coffee but her heart is really in persuading people to drink tea. The bitter lesson I have learned in my hour of defeat is that an American living in England sooner or later is going to buy tea whether he likes it or not. Otherwise, you are a social pariah and a traitor to the Anglo-American alliance.

The difficulty with Miss Drake began several months ago when I dropped in and casually asked for a pound of coffee. From under the counter she brought up a bag of unground coffee beans.

"Instant coffee," I said. An incredulous expression came over Miss Drake's face and there was an awkward silence. Then slowly she reached down and came up with a large jar of instant coffee, but added immediately: "And now what type of tea would you like, sir?"

Each time I went in to purchase instant coffee, the atmosphere chilled a bit more. We preserved the formalities by talking about the weather and the health of the royal family, but Miss Drake continued to get in some indirect plugs for tea.

"Horrible thing at the Ford factory, wasn't it," she would remark. "Of course, sir, the union wagers are absolutely in the right; you simply cannot drink a cup of tea in five minutes."

She was referring to an industrial dispute at the Dagenham Ford factory. The workers wanted a tea break of 10 minutes, but management wanted it limited to five minutes. This should have been the tip-off that Miss Drake eventually would triumph over instant coffee.

Lie it or not, an American encounters tea everywhere. They offer it to you for breakfast, lunch, at odd hours of the afternoon and at dinner.

Even food is referred to as "tea." A Devonshire cream tea means you spread thick Devonshire cream on scones. And, of course, drink tea. A high tea is when you eat cold meat and bread and jam—with lots of hot tea.

With each jar of instant coffee Miss Drake became more distant and formal. Then abruptly the crisis came to a head.

"Sorry, sir," she said. "We are out of stock on instant coffee at the moment. Shipment has been delayed. You really should try tea, what with the cold weather setting in. Would you like Ceylon, Assam or Darjeeling? I really believe I will recommend Darjeeling."

Quicker than you can say Sir Thomas Lipton, she had my money and I had her Darjeeling. Miss Drake beamed and gave me instructions on brewing tea. She inquired if I had a caddy, and I replied in the negative, wondering what golf had to do with it. She handed me a small tin box,

Cities Service Buys Property In Argentina

NEW YORK — Acquisition by Cities Service Company of a major interest in the operation and development of substantial crude oil producing properties in Ar-

These properties are producing an average of 23,000 barrels per day, which is approximately 10 per cent of Argentina's present oil production. Cities Service acquired its interest by exchanging its common stock and notes for all assets of L. R. Development, Ltd. The latter company owned the majority interest in a contact with the Argentine government oil company, Yacimientos Petroliferos Fiscales, for exploration and development of the oil reserves from an area of more than a million acres in the Argentine. The original contract with the Argentine government was negotiated by Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades and Company in 1958.

Free Your Feet For New Foot Health

By SIMON J. WIKLER, D.S.C.
Most Americans have poor feet and are unaware of it. Because of poor feet, countless Americans have posture distortions, are easily fatigued and become prone to degenerative illnesses.

I have discovered that it is easy, instead, to have strong, healthy feet.

In 1933 I graduated from Temple University School of Chiropractic, trained as a foot specialist. I had been taught to pare corns, calluses and ingrown toenails, and to bandage and pad feet. But such treatment never cured anyone. Foot specialists could not prevent foot trouble, because its causes were not known.

From 1935 to 1943 I was a member of the Lancaster Pennsylvania General Hospital staff. In the clinic and in my office, most of the people who visited me had fallen arches to some degree.

Treating their arches through massage and bandaging brought temporary relief of some but could cure none.

Foot trouble seemed to bring about fatigue and pain throughout the body. I was told, as chiropractors are told over and over again by weary patients, "When your feet hurt, you hurt all over."

In the early 1930s, Americans by the tens of thousands made pilgrimages to Canada for the "miraculous" foot manipulations of Dr. Mahlon Locke. There was such an interest in foot manipulation as a cure for fatigue that Temple University gave a course in it. I took the course and I still use foot manipulation with good results. But I realized from the start that it could not cure foot trouble — nor reveal the causes.

Dr. Ralph W. Dye of Sandy Lake, Pa., in the late 1930s, introduced a new method of correcting foot disabilities by continuous adhesive bandaging. His method of bandaging forced the patient to walk from heel to toe instead of rolling off the inner side of the foot as do people with fallen arches. With this treatment, cold, bloodless feet received warmth through greater muscular activity; toe numbness disappeared; posture improved.

I could no longer doubt that poor feet contributed to poor posture and associated illnesses. Soon after, I came upon conclusive evidence about the cause of foot troubles.

While visiting shipyards during World War II, I noticed that the newly recruited female construction workers wore the same loose-fitting high-topped shoes as the men — and they worked with more ease of movement than I had ever seen in American women.

It seemed that their feet actually thrived without the support I had been taught they needed. I accumulated more evidence to reinforce this observation. As I traveled about the interior of Puerto Rico, where many of the people are habitually barefooted, I was amazed to find that they all had straight, undeformed toes.

In medical libraries I read a number of studies which, together with what I had seen, proved to me that habitually barefooted people do not acquire our foot troubles. It was evident to me that some feature of shoes was causing foot trouble. But what was it?

I found the answer back in the United States, by working with a boy, 2½ years old. His toes were being forced together in narrow shoes and he walked with his feet pointed outward in the typical posture of a child with fallen arches. He tired easily, always wanted to be carried, and fell frequently when walking.

Remembering the healthy feet and strong toes of the people who were constantly barefooted, I suggested the child wear no shoes for the rest of the summer.

I had ample opportunity to watch the boy's feet as he walked about that summer. I could not help wondering what, during his first two years of life, had ruined his feet. For months I watched every movement of his toes, each twist of his ankles.

Then an amazing thing happened. He finally stopped leaning on his arches; he started to walk straighter and more normally.

At last I began to understand the cause of fallen arches — and the origin of foot trouble.

With his toes continually pressed together in his shoes, his body had to improvise a brace — instead of leaning on his weakened, squeezed-together toes, the inner sides of his feet were turned outward for balance. I realized then why people persist in leaning on their strained inner arches, and why they have to push off painfully from their arches instead of their toes, at the end of each step.

Going barefoot had made this boy's toe area broader and stronger. When he stood, his stronger toes were now able to spread out, giving him a broad forward area on which to support his weight. Now he used his toes in standing and walking. His fallen arches were cured.

With better foot balance, he rarely fell. He no longer begged to be carried, and he seemed tireless in his activities.

That was 10 years ago. I have since examined thousands of children's and adults' feet, both in the United States and in foreign countries, determined to learn to what extent shoes can disable naturally healthy feet. I have conducted numerous tests in accredited hospitals and published my observations in widely distributed medical journals.

There is now no question in my mind but that the Major Cause of Foot Trouble Is the Type of Shoes We Wear.

DEAR MRS. A.: This is not your problem. It's your sons'. He will learn (if you let him) how to get along with boys his age.

DEAR ABBY: I want your opinion, and the opinion of other mothers, on whether a five-year-old boy should learn to fight back. Our boy comes home crying almost every day with the story that one of his playmates "hit" him. My husband has told him that he must learn to "fight back." I say that he should walk away. I have gone to the mothers of his playmates and they tell me I am wrong, that little boys must learn to protect themselves. I have tried keeping my boy in his own yard, but he wants to play with the other boys. Yet he can't get along with them. Is there any solution to my problem?

DEAR ABBY: I am a qualified switchboard operator, but my husband refuses to let me work. Our children are 14 and 16 and are in school all day. I am bored with bridge and clubs and would like to get back into the business world. On the surface it appears that my husband is being "nice" to me, but I am on to him. He doesn't want me to have any money of my own.

He is very tight with his money, and when he does give me a few dollars I have to account for every dime of it. I am sick of being controlled by him in this way. What do you think I ought to do?

WANTS TO WORK

DEAR WANTS: Talk it over with your husband and try for a compromise. A full-time job is no breeze. Why not consider part-time work?

This Angler Is No Fisherman!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A gentleman friend with whom I have been keeping company invited me to go fishing with him. Perhaps I should explain that I am a widow in my middle forties and he is a bachelor in his middle fifties. I packed a nice picnic lunch for us and we drove about 70 miles to this little fishing-village where he said the fishing was so good.

When we got there, much to my amazement, he had forgotten the fishing equipment. What do you think he had in mind?

NO FISH

DEAR NO: He was angling for something — but it wasn't fish!

Plans were made for an Open House tonight at B. M. Baker at a meeting of the PTA held Tuesday at 1:30 in the cafeteria.

Each year, during National Education week, the PTA holds Open House for parents with each student preparing special projects to be exhibited in the rooms.

Open House will begin at 7 p.m. tonight with each teacher present in the rooms to visit with parents. The general PTA meeting will start at 8:15 p.m.

Open House is always a special event for B.M. Baker School since many fathers, who are usually unable to attend PTA, are in attendance that night. The November meeting is always known as "Dad's Night".

Following the general meeting in the auditorium, doughnuts and coffee will be served in the cafeteria. All parents of B. M. Baker students are urged to visit school during this week in observance of National Education Week.

Pitt, Kansas Snares Small College Lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten notches in six weeks—that's the story of the rise of Pittsburg (Kan.) to first place in the United Press International small college football ratings.

It's a rise but on a record of eight straight victories in which Pittsburg has out-scored its rivals, 257-38. And it may be certified next weekend when Pittsburg closes out its season against Omaha.

The Kansas school was ranked no better than 10th in the first weekly UPI ratings six weeks ago but came steadily "through the pack" to eighth, seventh, third and last week to second place. Pittsburg reached the top on the strength of its 35-0 triumph over Emporia (Kan.) State last weekend.

The 35-coaches who compose the UPI board scattered their votes as usual but the nine first-place votes given to Pittsburg were the highest any school has attracted this season. Pittsburg wound up with a total of 241 points to top Northern Michigan's 210 and Southeastern Louisiana's 204.

Stung out behind the top three, in order, were Mississippi Southern, Baldwin Wallace, Fresno State, Wheaton, Florida A&M, Idaho State and Butler, Mississippi Southern fell from first to fourth place after suffering a 7-6 loss to North Carolina State, a major college, last weekend.

Butler was the week's newcomer, replacing West Chester (Pa.) which suffered a 40-13 defeat at the hands of Villanova, another major college.

Lehigh headed the second 10 group, with Delaware and Lenoir Rhyne tied for 12th place. Northwest Louisiana was 14th, with Amherst, Humboldt (Calif.) State and Whittier tied for 15th place.

Following them came Texas A&I and Northern (S.D.) State, with Central (Okla.) and Chattanooga tied for the 20th spot.

Chasing Rabbits Helped Saxton

AUSTIN (UPI)—James Saxton of Texas, the Southwest Conference's leading ground gainer, developed his speed chasing jack-rabbits but shamelessly admits he has a sister who could outrun him.

That may be some consolation to the defenders with the dust-irritated sinuses who have futilely pursued Saxton on touchdown runs of 80, 78 and 56 yards this season.

A slight, 165-pounder, Saxton claims he used to run down jack-rabbits while working as a ranch hand during the summer. "Pretty soon they would get tired and I would dive and catch them with my hands," he said.

But just a few years ago his sister Martha was the sprint champ.

"I know," Saxton said. "She used to chase me—and catch me."

Darrell Royal, coach of the Longhorns, doesn't care.

"He's a hell of a runner," Royal said. "He makes a tackler look like he is not sincere about his job."

A senior on the Texas team, ranked No. 1 in the United Press International poll, Saxton has gained 535 yards on 62 carries so far this season for an 8.6 average. He has also scored 50 points.

Saxton has only played 107 minutes during the seven consecutive Texas victories. The limited performance has prompted Texas sports writers to say he may be the only all-American to fail to letter.

But Saxton does not care how Darrell Royal uses him "as long as we are winning."

... Alworth Ready For Action

Arkansas' Hopes Take Upward Turn

By United Press International

The Arkansas Razorbacks' hopes for staying alive in their bid for a share of a third South-west Conference football crown took an optimistic turn today.

The Razorbacks, who play Rice at Houston Saturday afternoon with the loser to drop out of contention for the title, earned glowing reports on the basis of Wednesday's workouts.

Lance Alworth, the triple-threat halfback, was at full speed for the first time in two weeks, and Tim Langston may be healthy enough to start against the Owls, the overall defense looked sharp in contrast to sloppy play Tuesday, and quarterback Billy Moore and George McKinney were passing in fine form.

They took heart, too, in the report that Rice uses a standard defense similar to the one faced by the Hogs against Mississippi—one which they had seen before.

Coach Frank Broyles and his staff, however, lost some of their optimism when they looked at films of Rice games. They know the Owls are tough.

Meanwhile, at Houston, Coach Jess Neely scrimmaged his first two unit reserves for nearly an hour with halfback Butch Blume, who scored 30 points against Texas Tech last week, riding the sidelines with bruised ribs.

Pass defense was the order of the day at Austin, where the nation's number one team, the Texas Longhorns, prepped for their Saturday battle with Baylor.

Quarterback Mike Cotten still wore a bandage on a sore elbow but took part in drills. Fullback Ray Poage still loomed as the only casualty.

Two players climbed off the injury list at Baylor as guard Robert Burk and halfback Tommy Minter returned to practice after missing the last three games.

The Bears were limping at several positions, however, as they polished their offense for the game against Texas.

The Texas Aggies stressed passing—both on offense and defense—at College Station, while the Cadets Saturday rivals, the Southern Methodist Mustangs, went through light scrimmages at Dallas with starters Billy Gannon and Rene Medelin donning pads for the first time this week.

A tremendous weight disadvantage bothered Coach J. T. King at Texas Tech as the Raiders drilled for Boston College. Saturday's inter-sectional foe at Lubbock, He pointed to a Boston College line that averaged 223 pounds from tackle to tackle.

TCU, which faces UCLA Friday night, may not have the services of ace pass receiver Dale Glasscock. Coach Abe Martin said if Glasscock's shoulder separation doesn't mend in time, he will switch quarterback Ben Nix to the terminal slot.

Lefors And McLean Vie For 2-A Crown Friday

LEFORS (Spl)—Coach Dunny Goode's unheralded Lefors Pirates journey to McLean Friday night to engage the McLean Tigers in a tilt to decide the district 2-A champion at 7:30 p.m.

The winner will enter the first round of the state playoffs against 1-A champion Gruver. McLean rates a slight favorite because of its impressive record and home field advantage.

Coach Derral Davis' Tigers have used the passing of senior quarterback Kenny Willingham and the running of all-district halfback Jim Watson to rack up 273 points enroute to an 8-1 record.

White Deer's Bucks were the villain to mar the McLean record. The Bucks rolled over the Tigers 20-6 in a non-conference battle.

Lefors is the defending district champion although the Pirates were upset 13-6 by McLean in district play last year. The Bucks have a record that isn't too flashy but it is respected.

The Pirates have a 5-3-1 log with the three losses coming by a total of 13 points. They have a stingy defense led by tackles Marvin Todd and Jerry Harrington, ends Jerry Nichols and Wayne Coleman and middle guard Larry Ables. Only 66 points has been scored against Lefors.

Both clubs will bring a 3-0 conference mark into the fracas. McLean holds wins over Clarendon 26-6, Memphis 13-12 and Canadian 35-6. Lefors turned the trick over the same opponents. The Pirates won 22-0 over Clarendon, 13-0 past Memphis and 18-8 by Canadian.

McLean has the top offensive record and the Tigers have allowed just 82 points. Lefors has only scored 106 points to go with their fine defensive mark.

The Pirates have lost to Shamrock 6-0, Stinnett 14-12 and Stratford 12-7.

Halfbacks Ronnie Line and Rodney Airington and fullback Scott Dunham are the Pirates' offensive guns.

The season records are:

McLean 28, Shamrock 22, McLean 42, Wheeler 16, McLean 49, Groom 0, McLean 6, White Deer 20, McLean 42, Claude 0, McLean 32, Wellington 0, McLean 13, Memphis 12, McLean 33, Canadian 6.

St. Louis Hawks Lose To Lakers

By United Press International

Two come-from-behind victories highlighted Wednesday night action in the National Basketball Association.

The Los Angeles Lakers, down 10 points at the end of three quarters, rallied for a 124-118 win over the St. Louis Hawks, and the Philadelphia Warriors came from 11 points behind near the end of the third quarter to edge the Detroit Pistons 132-128.

In the third game, the New York Knickerbockers coasted to a 130-108 win over the Chicago Packers.

Wilt Chamberlain with 58 points topped the night's activities, but it was rookie Tom Meschery's tip in shot with 9 minutes left which put the Warriors ahead of the Pistons to stay. Don Ohlo with 27 points, and Walter Dukes, with 20, almost pulled an upset, but Detroit's usual big scorers, Bailey Howell and Gene Shue, were well contained.

The one-two punch of Jerry West and Elgin Baylor proved too much for the Hawks to handle. West tallied 42 points and Baylor 39 for an 81-point combination—which was 1 point more than the combined total of St. Louis' big three, Bob Pettit, Cliff Hagan and Clyde Lovellette.

The Knicks couldn't miss as they rolled to a 39-20 first quarter over the Packers and then coasted to a victory. Richie Guerin scored 33 points and Johnny Green had 30 to offset a disappointing 17-point performance by Willie Naulls for the Knicks. Center Darrell Imhoff showed some of the defensive potential which gained him fame, at the University of California by holding the Packers' rookie sensation Walt Bellamy to 23 points.

Steers-Texas A&M Tickets Sold Out

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—The fact the game is to be televised nationally won't keep the annual Texas-Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day football game from being a 42,000 sellout.

The Texas A&M ticket office said Wednesday only about 400 tickets remain unsold, half of them in the south end zone bleachers and the remainder in "box seat" chairs on the cinder track behind the goal posts.

Bearcats Go After LSC Title

By United Press International

Sam Houston State's bid for the Lone Star Conference championship highlights this week's play among non-Southwest Conference football teams.

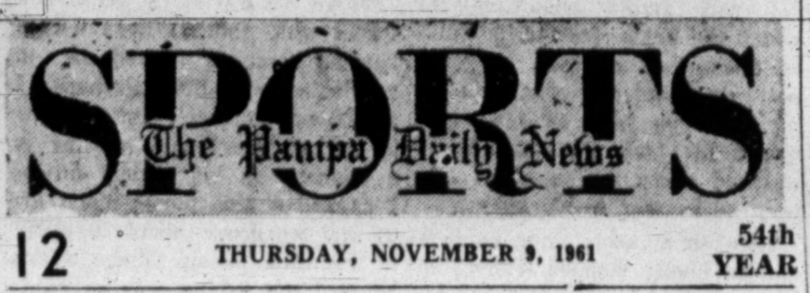

The Bearcats can clinch their first title since 1956 by defeating S.F. Austin State's Lumberjacks in an afternoon game at Nacogdoches. A victory would give Sam Houston a 6-0 loop record and put it out of reach of runnerup Lamar Tech, which has a loss and a tie in league play.

Lamar Tech, which closes its conference season against Sam Houston next week, plays host to East Texas at Beaumont Saturday night and hopes for a victory plus an S.F. Austin upset of the Bearcats.

In other Lone Star Conference action, Howard Payne visits San Marcos against Southwest Texas and Texas A&I plays Sul Ross at Alpine in night games.

In the Border Conference, Texas Western hopes to derail favored Arizona State's title hopes at El Paso in the only league action. West Texas goes to San Antonio for an afternoon date with the Trinity team which upset New Mexico State last week, while Hardin-Simmons tries to snap a 20-game losing streak against McMurry at Abilene in a night contest.

Borger, Pampa, Lefors Hold Boxing Card Tonight

Hebert Retains Top Punt Mark In 3-AAA Loop

Kenny Hebert, the Pampa sophomore, flash, retained his clinching leadership in the district 3-AAA statistics last Friday as he boomed out 59 and 43-yard punts to his average of 37.4 for 17 boots.

Pampa's senior quarterback Butch Crossland stayed in eighth place in passing with 174 yards on 10 completions in 25 attempts. Lubbock's dandy quarterback, Tom Middleton, took over the total offense lead as he rushed for 136 yards and passed for 76 more against Pampa to raise his total to 636 yards.

Gordon Nelson continues to lead the loop in scoring with 80 points on 10 touchdowns and 20 extra points. He tallied the tying touchdown against Tascosa last Saturday and then added the clinching extra points as the Palo Duro Dons upset the Rebels 14-6.

Palo Duro held onto the total offense top spot teamwise despite a tremendous offensive show put on by Lubbock last Friday. The Dons have averaged 324.1 yards per tilt and the Westerners, who accounted for 565 yards against Pampa, is second with a 312 yard average.

Ronnie Nix, Palo Duro, remains the passing leader with 357 yards on 19 completed aeriels in 41 tries.

Ford Cops Cy Young Honors

BOSTON (UPI)—Southpaw Whitey Ford was the busiest pitcher in the major leagues last season and today was owner of the Cy Young Award as the year's outstanding hurler.

The 33-year-old Ford, key to the New York Yankees' victory drive but nearly lost in the home run avalanche of his teammates, was selected on 9 of 17 ballots by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The award was announced here Wednesday night by Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe, national secretary of the BBWA.

The writers, noting that only 17 of the 18 voters cast ballots, said World Series play—in which Ford broke Babe Ruth's record of consecutive scoreless innings—was not considered since ballots were cast before the series.

By winning 25 and losing 4 and pitching 283 innings to land New York to its first pennant under Manager Ralph Houk, Ford became the busiest pitcher in either league.

His nearest challenger for innings pitched, according to unofficial statistics, was Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers, who worked 275 innings and finished third in the balloting.

Second in the voting with six ballots to nine for Ford was the veteran Warren Spahn who, during his 12th season with 20 or more victories, hurled himself into the select circle of 300-game career winners.

Spahn also came close to breaking a precedent by being the first two-time Young award-winner since he previously took the award in 1957. Other winners have been Vernon Law in 1960, Early Wynn in 1959, Bob Turley in 1958 and Don Newcombe in 1956.

High School Boys On Slate

A 16-bout program is scheduled tonight at the Pampa Optimist Boy's Club Building at 7:30 between teams from Borger, Lefors and Pampa.

This is the fourth program of the season for the local boxing club. Last Saturday, Pampa won five bouts, Lefors three, Borger two and Perryton six. On Thursday, Oct. 26, Lefors and Pampa each took six fight victories to four for Hereford.

The larger boys are expected to get into action tonight for Pampa. Among the local youths expected to be on the program are Dickie Wills, Pat McDonald and Ronnie Fletcher.

McDonald looked sharp in beating Mike Henjosa of Hereford, Oct. 26 in a 147-pound class bout. Cliff Dunham, the program director, expects McDonald to make fast progress and to make a bid for the Golden Gloves regional championship.

Fletcher tangled with Calvin Sledge, Borger, last Saturday in a real crowd pleaser. The Pampa youth won a decision over the Borger boy in a bout that kept the spectators on their feet throughout the fight. Fletcher boxed in the 147-pound high school division.

Other boxers in the larger divisions from Pampa are Gale Hardin, 125 pounds; Glen Martin, 128; Glen Samples, 128; H. W. Jack, 147; Wills, 160; Gary Epperson, 180; Donald Ray King, 147 and John Harris, 180.

Borger will have Steve McCarthy and Philip Stone in the ring along with three other lads—McCarthy and Stone captured

Grid Coach At Houston To Quit Job

HOUSTON (UPI)—Harold Lahar, a coach who succeeded in building character at the University of Houston but failed to produce a national football power, tearfully announced his resignation Wednesday.

The resignation, effective Jan. 31, 1962, was accepted by athletic director Harry Fouke and university president Philip G. Hoffman.

Lahar, a University of Oklahoma graduate, came to Houston from Colgate five years ago and began his local career by upsetting Miami 7-0 in the 1957 season opener. The feat earned him the title of UPI Coach of the Week.

But Lahar's teams fell victim to the university's ambitious football schedules. This year, the Cougars were thumped by Alabama, currently No. 2 in the nation, and Mississippi, the top-ranked team at the time of the Houston game.

Announcing his resignation at a news conference Wednesday, Lahar spoke with tears in his eyes and at one point had to leave the room for about 10 minutes when he became choked with emotion.

Lahar tearfully said the University of Houston "stands on the threshold of fulfilling a great man's dreams." He referred to the late Hugh Roy Cullen, the university's chief benefactor.

Lahar had been criticized by some Houston fans for the Cougars' "colorless" play. Attendance at Cougar games had declined recently.

The team competes for fans with the professional Houston Oilers and the Southwest Conference Rice Owls.

The Cougars drew their largest crowd under Lahar for the first game of the 1958 season when 65,000 watched Houston beat Texas A&M, 39-7.

But local sportswriters consistently praised Lahar's relative successes in face of the institution's athletic financial troubles and limited recruiting. His emphasis on high character of his players was supported by the press.

Lahar said he had turned in his resignation on Sept. 30 after the Cougars were upset by Mississippi State, when he learned that renewal of his contract would depend on his team's win-loss record this year.

Red China Seems Near Split With Khrushchev

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — The world Communist movement appeared today to be headed for a major split, with Moscow and Peking openly contesting leadership.

Communist China, smarting under Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's blunt refusal to compromise in their ideological dispute on Marxism, has retaliated with a vengeance.

In the past two days, in blatant defiance of Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin and the Stalinist leadership of Albania, Communist China has:

—Praised Josef Stalin as the true defender of Leninism.

—Publicly supported the Albanian Communist leadership as "correct . . . glorious . . . (headed for) greater achievements."

Top Communist experts saw nothing yet to indicate anything so drastic as a diplomatic break between Moscow and Peking. But the contest has badly shaken the vision of "monolithic unity" the Communist world has tried to build up over the years.

Sino-Russian differences have troubled the Moscow-Peking axis for the past two years. A year ago they were patched up by a compromise reached at a Moscow summit meeting of Communist leaders from 81 countries.

The differences began to show up again a few months later and were brought to a head at the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress which has just ended in Moscow.

After wading through the doctrinal jargon in which the Communists clothe their ideologies, the differences seem to be reduced mainly to this.

—The Soviet Union has, at least publicly, proclaimed a long-range policy of peaceful coexistence with the West on the theory communism now has a strong enough foothold to defeat the "capitalist" West economically without war.

—Communist China continues to maintain an openly belligerent attitude toward the West and insists that communism should fan and actively support revolutions in newly emerging countries.

Some Communist affairs experts believe a natural rivalry lies behind the trouble in that the present center of the Communist world, Moscow, lies in Europe, while the Communist-Chinese would like to move it to Asia.

Both sides have been extending their spheres of influence — Communist China into the Balkans and Africa; Russia into Outer Mongolia, North Korea, North Viet Nam and Indochina.

As yet, Communist China is too weak economically to risk an all-out challenge to Russia.

Writer Declares Soviet Will Not Fight For Berlin

By LEON DENEN

NEW YORK (NEA) — Russia never intended — does not intend now — to engage in a military conflict over Berlin. Premier Khrushchev through black-mail hopes to get important concessions from the West without fighting a war.

This is the consensus of Yugoslav Communist officials who know every twist and turn of Soviet foreign policy.

At the Belgrade conference of nonaligned nations I also discussed the Berlin question with leaders of the neutralist countries of Asia and Africa and with top East Germany Communists.

They agreed that when the West merely stood by while East Germany's Walter Ulbricht built the concrete wall that divides Berlin Khrushchev won a major victory in his war of nerves. Gerhard Edelmann, chief editor of Radio East Berlin and a top East German Communist propagandist said:

"As far as Premier Khrushchev and the East German leaders are concerned the division of Germany and Berlin is now an accomplished fact."

A Yugoslav official told me: "Sure, the Russians want to negotiate. But from now on Khrushchev will negotiate about West Berlin only."

The Soviet Premier has now much to gain from a summit conference on Berlin. He obviously hopes to get some Western recognition for the East German Communist regime which also would "legalize" the division of Berlin. Khrushchev also will maneuver to detach West Germany from NATO and split the Atlantic alliance.

Before sitting down with the Soviet premier at the diplomatic bargaining table President Kennedy and the Western leaders will thus do well to consider again not only Russia's atomic strength but also her political and economic liabilities.

It is sheer folly to assume—as some of our diplomats seem to do — that only the people in the West fear an atomic war. The Russians, who lost 25 million men in the war against Hitler, also live in mortal fear of armed conflict.

I have before me confirmed reports of widespread anxiety behind the Iron Curtain caused by Russia's resumption of atomic testing and fear of war over Berlin.

There is panic buying in Poland and Czechoslovakia. East Europeans hoard large stocks of food, purchase gold and draw on their savings accounts.

There are not many men and women in Russia, Poland or Czechoslovakia who want to die for Walter Ulbricht. Khrushchev's East German puppet is undoubtedly the most hated man even among top Communists of Eastern Europe.

Why, then, did Russia insist on creating the crisis over Berlin?

Oddly enough it was Khrushchev himself who provided the answer in an important speech over Russian radio and television. His arguments have also been printed in the magazine Kommunist which is compulsory reading for top Communists throughout the world.

Here is what Khrushchev said: "If the U.S.S.R. decided not to sign a peace treaty with East Germany the capitalist powers would demand the liquidation of the socialist regime in the German Democratic Republic."

If the Western powers achieved that, Khrushchev said, "then, of course, they would set about taking from Poland and Czechoslovakia the territories returned to them under the Potsdam agreement."

Khrushchev in effect told the world Communist leaders that failure to gain Western recognition for Ulbricht's wobbly regime might eventually force Russia to abandon East Germany altogether.
